First Day of Premiers' Parley Ends In Deadlock

THE ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION GIFT WILL HELP THIS DREAM COME TRUE

BREACH WIDENS BETWEEN ALLIES ON REPARATIONS

Great Divergence In Plans Submitted By Great Britain and France

By Hudson Hawley
(United News Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Jan. 2.—The breach between France and Great Britain over the German reparations problem was widened on the first day of the allied premier's conference.

Because of the great divergence in the plans submitted by Premier Poincare, France, and Premier Bonar Law, Great Britain, it was feared that this parley would end in the same way as several others—in a deadlock.

The outstanding features of the first day follow:

1. Admission by French officialdom that the French and British reparations plans are so divergent that it is practically impossible to effect a conciliation.

2. Insistence by Premier Poincare that his plan be made the basis of discussions.

3. Poincare's flat declaration that France cannot in equity or fact pay debts or the interest thereon so long as she is not reimbursed by Germany at least to the extent of expenditures in devastated areas.

It was stated authoritatively that Poincare considers the plan of Bonar Law as an impossible cure of reparations and one which practically overturns the treaty of Versailles besides obliterating the 1921 schedule of German payments. The premier does not believe that any French government could accept the Bonar Law plan without the French parliament's approval.

France's main grievance to British proposal is that the British would "grab" French gold deposits in London for the payment of inter-allied debts.

In case Bonar Law refuses to accept the French plan as a basis for discussion, Poincare is understood to be ready to act alone.

The main features of the British scheme for the general settlement of German reparations and European inter-allied debts follows:

1. Cancellation of all present reparations agreements.
  2. Reduction of German reparations to fifty billion marks with a four year cash moratorium.
  3. The issuance of a new series of

Big Ticket Sale Points To Large Crowd At Ball

Tickets for the Military Ball, to be held January 12 in the men's gymnasium have been selling very rapidly. The sale is in the hands of a committee of fifteen cadet officers. All tickets will be sold through them up to next Saturday, when the committee will meet and the tickets will be placed on sale at Whetstone's and at the Iowa Supply company.

The decoration committee has evolved elaborate plans for their part of the entertainment which they will submit for approval Saturday. The committee has made an effort to make the decorations different from the kind that are generally used for an affair of this kind. The uniforms of the cadet officers will add a contrast to the formal evening wear of the men.

Gable's orchestra, which made such a hit in Iowa City late last fall, have been engaged to furnish the music.

SARAH BERNHARDT'S DAYS ON STAGE ARE OVER

(By United News)
Paris, Jan. 2.—The news that Sarah Bernhardt will never again be able to appear on the stage is withheld from the famous actress because of fear that the result would be serious if she knew her exact condition. Friends intimate that her condition is far more grave than official bulletins have stated.

BRITISH READY FOR BREAK WITH TURKS

Show-Down of Conference At Lausanne To Come Today When Ismet Replies

(By United News)
Lausanne, Jan. 2.—Sessions of the Near Eastern Peace conference probably will be resumed Wednesday when Lord Curzon British Foreign minister returns from Paris where he has been conferring with Premier Bonar Law.

Bonar Law instructed Curzon not to make concessions to the Turks on the Straits or Mosul questions, it is understood.

Advices from the Angora Nationalist assembly indicate it has decided to maintain the full Turkish demands at the Lausanne conference.

Instructions of this nature are to be forwarded to Ismet Pasha, the Moslem representative at the parley.

The showdown of the conference is to come Wednesday when Ismet makes his reply to the allied demand that capitulations be maintained in force in Turkey.

Unless Ismet is empowered to make concessions it is believed the parley will break down as the British and other allies are adamant on the matter of the freedom of the Straits, and capitulation. Despatches from Angora state that the mobilization of the British fleet in the Dardanelles indicates that the British believe a rupture is imminent.

FACULTY VOLLEY BALL CLASS MEETS TOMORROW

The volley ball class for faculty members will hold its first meeting tomorrow afternoon at 5:00 o'clock in the men's gymnasium. This will be the first meeting of such a class in five years as it was discontinued through the period of the war. Stars of the former squad who are still connected with the university are Professor Piper, Dr. J. J. Lambert, Professor Bush, and "Dad" Schroeder, and it is expected these men will again don their gym clothes to battle as they have done many times before.

The class will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:00 to 6:00 o'clock and will have the use of the main floor at this time. On other days from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock the floor will be open for use by students or fraternity basketball teams.

Mr. E. F. Young was yesterday appointed city engineer by Mayor Emma J. Harvat.

LAW SCHOOL ASSOCIATION HONORS JONES

Organization of Leading Law Schools Elects Iowa Dean To Presidency

Henry Craig Jones, dean of the college of law, of the University of Iowa was elected president of the Association of American Law Schools at its twentieth annual meeting in Chicago, December 28, 29, and 30. Dean Jones has been secretary-treasurer of the association for three years. He succeeds James Parker Hall of Chicago.

Fifty-six of the leading law schools of the country are members of the association. Membership is restricted to those schools that have at least 5,000 volumes in the law library, three full time teachers besides part time men, one year of college work required for admission to the school, and the school must not be operated for pecuniary profit. Three years of attendance at school must precede the granting of a degree. In the fall of 1925 membership schools must lengthen the pre-law collegiate requirements to two years.

Two years of collegiate work are already required before students can enter the college of law at the University of Iowa. The university law library has 30,000 volumes. Eight full time professors are on the law faculty.

The University of Mississippi's law school was granted membership in the association this year. There are now thirty-two state university law schools in the association. Among the leading member schools are Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Pennsylvania.

The honorary law school organization, the Order of the Coif, membership in which is based on student scholarship, met with the law school association this year. The order has only sixteen chapters in the United States, one of which is at Iowa. No new chapters were granted charters at this meeting.

Dean Jones, who has just been honored with the leadership of this association, is a native of Iowa having been born at Central City, Linn county. He received his early education in this state and he taught in different Iowa schools before going to Harvard university. His father was a Methodist minister in this state.

After graduating from Harvard Dean Jones practiced law in Chicago until 1911 when he became assistant professor of law at George Washington university. He was later dean of the law schools at the University of West Virginia and Illinois. He came to the University of Iowa last summer.

ACTORS COMPLETE SUCCESSFUL TOUR

University Players Present "Faith Healer" and "Mr. Pim Passes By"

The University Players under the direction of Prof. Edward C. Mable of the department of speech, presented the plays "Mr. Pim Passes By" and "The Faith Healer" in many Iowa towns during the holiday vacation. Both plays met with marked success and the respective casts were royally entertained in each of the towns in which they appeared.

"The Faith Healer" played in Ottumwa December 28 and 29 at the Grand Theater. The presentation was under the auspices of the American Legion post of that city, and the alumni and former students of the University entertained the cast at numerous social affairs. Clarence the next play to be given by the University Players has also been booked by the Grand Theater and will be presented there during the spring vacation.

MEDICAL UNIT GIVEN BIG SUM BY FOUNDATION

Believe Next Assembly Will Appropriate Amount Equal To Gift

With the University of Iowa in possession of a gift of $2,250,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, the money to be used for the improvement of the University's medical unit, and to be turned over with the proviso that the state legislature must appropriate an equal sum, influential men throughout the state are bending every effort to see that the appropriation is made. Although there have been no new developments in the matter since it was first announced on December 27, journalistic comment throughout the state has been entirely favorable toward having the legislature grant the necessary funds and all indications point to the measure going through with but little trouble.

The gift comes from the general education board and the Rockefeller Foundation jointly, and is the largest gift ever made to a tax-supported institution in the United States. It is for the purpose of completing the building and equipping of the new hospital and teaching laboratories. These will be erected on the site purchased at the time the children's and the psychopathic hospital units were built.

Dr. Abraham Flexner of the general education board and Dr. George E. Vincent of the Rockefeller Foundation, after acquainting themselves with the needs of the situation by personal visits to Iowa City, informed President Jessup that they would commend favorable action to

Murder Charge Not Worrying Leeper; Hearing Tomorrow

Robert Leeper, former University student and World war veteran, awaiting his preliminary hearing tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, faces the charge of murder of Mr. Roy Wertz, 325 South Dubuque street, with the utmost confidence in the belief that he will be acquitted. Wertz, father-in-law of Leeper, was shot under mysterious circumstances at his home last Wednesday morning and died about two hours later.

Leeper's confidence in his ultimate acquittal is equalled by County Attorney Edward L. O'Connor's confidence that he will be convicted of the crime. "Robert Leeper was arrested Saturday morning at 3 o'clock on a charge before the coroner's jury brought in their verdict saying that Mrs. Wertz killed her husband, Roy Wertz in self defense. Our actions speak for themselves. We have sufficient evidence," was the county attorney's statement.

Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity announces the initiation of Richard Dalton A2 of Iowa City and Vertle Bruce A2 of Indianola on Wednesday, December 27, at Chicago at the fifty-seventh annual convention of the fraternity. # NINETEEN DAYS SET ASIDE FOR REGISTRATION

January 15 to February 3 Are Dates Named; May Defer If Necessary

University registration for the second semester will be held from January 15 to February 3 inclusive according to a preliminary notice issued yesterday by H. C. Dorcas, University registrar. The non-professional period will last from Jan. 15 to January 25 while in the professional colleges cards will be made out from January 22 to February 3. Provision has been made whereby students who are doubtful as to whether they will pass certain courses may defer their registration. All fees will be payable at time of registration.

The complete announcement in regard to registration follows:

The times of registration will be as follows:

1. "The Colleges of Liberal Arts, Education, Commerce and the Graduate college:

"Monday, January 15 to Thursday January 25, inclusive. Students will get their registration materials at convenient distributing points to be announced in the Daily Iowan and on the bulletin boards, on a given day some time before January 15. Students in the Colleges of Liberal Arts Education and Commerce who know, or have reason to believe, that they have failed, or are likely to fail, in one or more of the courses for which they have been registered should go, each student on the day appointed for his registration, according to official notice (which will later be posted), to the dean of men or the dean of women, who will be prepared to issue to them a DEFER REGISTRATION card on which will be specified the period within which he should be registered in order to avoid the necessity of paying the late registration fee, and in order to be finally admitted to his classes. Each student receiving such a DEFER REGISTRATION card should keep it in his possession to show (not to give) to each of his instructors as a temporary ticket of the expiration of the period of time admission to the latter's classes up to indicated on the card; and when he finally completes his registration this card should be handed to the tuition clerk just before he pays his fees.

2. The Colleges of Dentistry and Applied Science: Monday, January 22 to a Saturday, January 27, inclusive.

3. The Colleges of Law (forenoons only) and Pharmacy: Thursday, January 25 to Saturday, January 27, inclusive.

4. The College of Medicine: Monday January 29 to Saturday, February 3, inclusive.

"All students should watch the Daily Iowan and the bulletin boards for more explicit announcements.

Each student should immediately make adequate arrangements to be supplied with all necessary registration fees not later than the beginning of the period of registration indicated above for his college.

H. C. Dorcas, registrar."

Students Sidestep When Time Comes To Pay Back Loans

Every excuse under the sun is offered by the students who fail to pay back promptly the money which they have borrowed from the University loan fund. Some complain that overdue notices have failed to reach them because of the wretched mail service under the Republican administration (that is, if they happen to be Democrats, of course) or that an ancestor from whom they expected to inherit a fortune has died, cutting them off without a cent. They are never hard up for excuses, said William F. Cobb, auditor in the office of the University secretary.

Men borrow money much more frequently than women and are a little slower in paying back. Due to the financial conditions all over the country, the fund is proving very popular this year, 156 loans having been made since September 13.

"The fund seems to be much appreciated," said Mr. Cobb. "I am convinced that the hard times are to blame for the delay of some students in paying their debts. But it seems to me that a sound business sense should be developed here at college, and that students should do everything in their power to keep their credit good."

Bankers To Hold Convention Here January 22-25

The date for the opening of the bankers' short course to be given under the auspices of the Iowa Bankers' association and the University of Iowa has been set for Monday, January 22. Other dates considered had to be given up because of conflicts with other conventions which would impair hotel facilities.

The course will be of interest to students in the college of commerce as well as to the bankers of the state, as an opportunity will be offered for the students to meet men who will be their future business associates.

Arrangements are now being made to obtain men prominent in the various fields of banking to give technical talks during the three days of the course.

IOWA CHAPTERS SEND DELEGATES TO CONVENTIONS

DOPING THE DOPE

Walter Camp did a better job in picking his all-American team this year than he did last year, but we can't see John Thomas of Chicago as fullback. One good game does not make a player of all-American calibre, when he falls down all the rest of the season. Either Morrison of California, or Owen of Harvard would have made his team a better selection.

Last year Camp had a man at fullback who was noted for ability to run the ends. He didn't do anything like that this year.

That reminds us that on the honor roll of the all time Iowa team picked by two of our professors, a man was mentioned as a fullback who during his time in school always played tackle, showing how hard it is to pick a team and not make some mistake.

Locke was placed at quarterback on Camp's team, and also on Ecker-sall's outfit. He was placed at full-back on the team of the Athletic on the returns from 214 coaches from all parts of the country.

Of course, Walter's selection is the recognized one, and Iowa has had the place at quarterback for the last two years. Let's hope that we get it again next year.

While we are still on football it is interesting to note that Ohio State gave thirty "O's" to football players. This insignia corresponds to our block I.

Wilce used several men for each position in nearly every game. Coach Jones, however, believes in allowing the best eleven men to play the entire game. The sixteen letters giv-on this year is the largest number in several years. Last year only thirteen "I's" were issued, while in 1920, only twelve honor letters were awarded.

Basketball is on the boom at Iowa. The team is green but promising. We don't expect the boys to win the conference this year, although they may, but we do expect to get away from the habit of losing the first four games of the conference race, and then having to race like the dickens to catch up. That's what Iowa basketball teams have done in the last two seasons. Last year, after losing the first four games, Iowa only dropped two more during the season, and defeated two out of the three teams that were responsible for those first four games.

Look out for the Iowa basketball team next year. Every man on the team comes back again, and three of them have two more years competition.

The basketball guide has something nice to say about last year's Hawkeye basketball team. It says that "They were much stronger than their place in the percentage column might seem to indicate."

According to percentages, Iowa finished at the bottom of the first division. Purdue won with one defeat out of nine games, with Michigan second, with eight won and four lost.

The Notre Dame basketball team, which meets the Hawkeyes tonight, defeated Northwestern last evening by a score of 20 to 13. It's going to be a great game tonight. Better get over early and get a good seat. The boys will probably need some cheering to help them win.

Northwestern had won its first two basketball games, defeating Monmouth and Lake Forest colleges.

Notre Dame had won from Lewis Institute and Michigan Aggies, but had lost to Michigan, Illinois and Millikin college.

There should have been some great games last night, with Illinois meeting Butler, the team that defeated Wisconsin, and the Badgers scrapping with Marquette, a team that defeated Butler.

Butler will probably win from Illinois, but Wisconsin should win from Marquette.

About sixteen Wisconsin baseball players will make a trip South next spring for baseball practice. This trip will start on April 4, and will last about two weeks. Eight games will be played with Southern teams.

Iowa's baseball team has always been handicapped because practically every other university that has a good team gets started by taking a southern training trip. Men can't play baseball when the mercury is around the freezing point. Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, the baseball leaders of the conference, all take trips to the land of sunshine.

IOWA CLASHES WITH IRISH IN GAME TONIGHT

Tonight's Contest With Notre Dame Closes Practice Season for Iowa

With two practice games already chalked up as victories, Iowa's basketball team starts its final swing into the conference race, when the Hawkeyes take on the Notre Dame five tonight at 7:15 p. m. in the new armory. Although the Notre Dame team has had a rather unsuccessful practice season, the men have been improving and are expected to give the Hawkeyes the hardest of any of the three practice contests.

In its game against Illinois, shortly before Christmas, the Notre Dame team, beaten by about fifteen points in the first half, came back and ended the second half tied with the Illini. Only a missed free throw in the last seconds of play stopped Notre Dame from winning. In the overtime period, however, Illinois managed to score 8 points to Notre Dame's 5.

The men on the basketball squad returned to Iowa City on December 28, and practiced twice each day. Most of the practice was spent in offensive drill, but Coach Barry sent two of his teams through a hard fought scrimmage last Saturday. After each practice the men skipped rope and shadowed boxed in an attempt to increase their ability to handle the ball with ease.

The first conference game is with Chicago on January 6. Chicago lost to Vanderbilt last Monday by a score of 17 to 11. One of Chicago's forwards had just returned to the game, and the Maroons lacked a free thrower, making only about one free throw out of ten trials. Barnes, former Cedar Rapids high star, played a good game at running guard for Chicago. The Maroons will be going much better when they meet Iowa next Saturday.

Coach Barry will probably start the same lineup against Notre Dame that has been used in both the other games, with Janse and Laude, as forwards; Burgitt, at center; and Funk and Hicks, as guards. This team, although fairly green, has been working smoothly, and should furnish competition to any team in the conference.

The second team likewise has a number of good men who can be relied upon to take places on the first string without slowing down the team work. Barton and McGovney are a good pair of forwards; Swenson is giving Burgitt a run for the center position, and Duhm and Voltmer are a strong pair of guards. These men will probably get into the game tonight.

Tonight's game is probably the crucial game of the practice season. The Iowa team is, in the main, composed of green players, who have still to meet stiff competition. Neither Knox or Cornell were strong enough to test them, but Notre Dame will probably make them fight all the way. If the varsity can defeat Notre Dame tonight, and Chicago next Saturday, it should have acquired confidence enough to carry the fight to Michigan when the Wolverines come here on January 15.

McCord and Knight will be the officials.

HOLD A. A. U. SWIM HERE FEBRUARY 1

Expect Cream of Mid-Western Swimmers Will Enter Scheduled Events

The Mid-western A. A. U. indoor championship swim will be held here on February 1. There will be four events: The Mid-western A. A. U. Senior 220 yard free style championship for men, the mid-western A. A. U. Junior indoor 100 yard free style championship for men, the mid-western Junior indoor plunge for distance championship for men, and the Mid-western A. A. U. Senior indoor 100 yard free style championship for women.

This is the first time that a meet of this kind has ever been held at Iowa. It was only last year that Iowa was admitted to a membership in the A. A. U. Special A. A. U. medals will be given for the winners of each event. It is expected that the best swimmers in the mid-west will take part. The Omaha Athletic Club has already signified its intention of entering several men and also two women in the 100 yard free style for women.

This is the second of a series of meets to be held by the Mid-western Association of the A. A. U. The first was held at the Omaha Athletic Club, Omaha, Nebraska on November 11. Klingaman and Clark, representing Iowa, carried off the honors in the 50 yard dash, Klingaman taking first and Clark second. Klingaman established a new Mid-western A. A. U. record with the time of 25 3-5 seconds.

All entries must be sent to D. A. Armbruster, Swimming Coach of the University of Iowa before January 25. The meet will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock on February 1. Spectators will be allowed.

U. OF I. A. MEETS IN THREE CITIES

Decorah, Algona, Emmetsburg Hold Meetings During Holiday Vacation

One hundred and ten guests, including alumni, former students and students home for vacation attended a dinner dance at Decorah given under the auspices of the University of Iowa Association, December 28 at the Winneshiek Hotel. A similar affair was held at Algona December 27 in the form of a luncheon attended by 50 guests. Emmetsburg also had a dinner for the people interested in the University, having for their guests the university players in the cast of "Mr. Pim Passes By."

Before classes were adjourned for the Christmas vacation, the Iowa Memorial Union selected one or two students to represent their home county in organizing The University of Iowa Associations over the state. The gatherings at Decorah, Algona and Emmetsburg are only a few of similar gatherings, but the students chosen as representatives have not had time to report the meetings held in their respective districts. The purpose of these organizations is to promote the best interests of the University and to keep the alumnae closely in touch with university activities.

Gordon Locke was a guest and one of the speakers at the dinner dance given at Decorah. Camilla Sperate A2 of Decorah, and Leslie H. Schrub A4 of Decorah were the student representatives present. Tyrrell M. Ingersoll A2 of Algona, promoted a very successful luncheon given at the Algona Hotel. Sixty guests were present and officers were elected to direct the work of the organization. Dr. M. J. Henifick was elected president and Dr. W. W. Kain, treasurer and secretary. Hubert H. Matt L3 of Iowa City, president of the Union Council, says: "The few reports that I have received of the attempt to organize University of Iowa Associations are highly gratifying, and I would like to have all county representatives report to the Union office as soon as possible."

WORK

A course in the University, especially if it be in the college of liberal arts, illustrates at least one important fact about people—a great many of them have the wrong idea about work. They look upon it as a thing distasteful, a thing to be avoided—necessary, perhaps, but a necessary evil. Many students (and we say "many" after careful consideration) seem to think that all that is necessary or desirable is merely to "get by." To do more, they assume, is a waste of time.

But if it be true, as has long been asserted, that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, it none the less is a fact that all play and no work will eventually bore Jack to death. The people who are bored are the people who have nothing to do; a person well occupied with work has no time to become oppressed by ennui. "Happy is that man," said Elbert Hubbard, "who has found his work," and truer words were never spoken. Necessity is a strong force in helping some people find their work, especially if they are so situated that unless they labor they do not eat. But even if he is not obliged to work through necessity, man is so constituted that he is happiest when actively engaged in work that is congenial to him. More people, it is safe to say, are unhappy and discontented through too much leisure than through too much work.

But it may be asked, "Why do the poor classes so often envy the rich? Certainly not because they do not have enough work." The obvious answer is, of course, that they see only the external, visible signs of wealth; they have no way of knowing whether the idle rich they see are really happy or not. And it is rather better than an even bet that a good many of them aren't. Happiness, to paraphrase a rather hackneyed epigram, is not quoted on the financial page.

THE $2,250,000 GIFT

The announcement during the holidays of the gift of $2,250,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Educational Board to the college of medicine of the University of Iowa was hailed as one of the greatest events in the history of the University by students and alumni and also by friends of the University throughout the state. It is significant that the gift proffered Iowa is the largest sum ever granted a tax-supported institution in the United States.

The gift is well merited. The medical college of the University has long held a high place among schools of its kind in America. In fact it has been recognized as second to none by investigating commissions. The gift of the Rockefeller Foundation only serves to give added proof of this. The whole state has added its word of praise to the medical college of the University and there is small likelihood that the state legislature will fail to grasp the opportunity of meeting their part of the obligation.

The new buildings which will be made possible by the grant will help to relieve the strain on present hospital and laboratory equipment. They will add to the beauty of the campus. The medical campus on the west side of the river with its many buildings will in a measure fulfill the hopes of the founders of the University, that some day the Iowa river flow through the center of the main campus.

The gift should be interpreted not only as a boon to the medical college but to the whole University. There are many other deserving colleges in the University family which must eventually be recognized providing they continue to keep a high standard in their field. The growth by leaps and bounds of the University of Iowa in the past decade has placed it foremost among educational institutions in America. The Middle West is the proper location for the greatest university in the world, and some time not so far distant, we expect Iowa to be just that.

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Colleges by reason of the present day system of education turn out types rather than personalities. Their graduates are the product of large scale production, a condition which has arisen out of the attempt on the part of educational institutions to absorb the heterogeneous mass which yearly comes to them in increasing bulk for higher education.

In spite of the unfavorable situation which the student with a spark of genius is placed, the mill-system does not altogether limit him although it tends to. He can, if he chooses, develop along lines of his own regardless of the forces working against him. He can preserve his personality if he has the least amount of aggressiveness. On the other hand if he follows the line of least resistance, if he remains passive, he will be moulded to the conventional type and although he may acquire a little polish, he will lose something of far greater importance, his personality.

A University above all should teach a student to think and herein the majority of them fail. For it is only necessary to observe any representative group of students to convince one that Edison's statement that only two percent of the American people ever think, is also a fair estimate for American college students.

Mental stagnation and passiveness are the things which are discrediting higher education in America. They are the curse of our campus today. Few students are interested in anything outside of their own petty affairs. The serious things of the day which need their attention are dismissed without a thought.

If New Year's resolutions are in order we suggest that students drop their passiveness and resolve to think at least once during the coming year.

CHRISTMAS EVE

The Lover:

Taper, taper, burning bright,
Casting such a mellow light,
How your beams reveal each grace
Hidden in my lady's face!

The Scientist:

Taper, taper, flickering there,
Your illumination's fair;
Candlepower—not more than one;
Gases generated—none.

The Flapper:

Taper, taper, growing dim,
Was there ever a boob like him?
If he weren't so doggone slow
He'd have kissed me long ago.

Well, here we are—back again safe and sound in the "Athens of Iowa," with memories of sweet encounters under the mistletoe—or without them, as the case may be. There was only one thing we wanted for Christmas and didn't get, but then, as Cecil B. DeMille so truly said, "We Can't Have Everything." And we got several things we didn't expect.

AIN'T LITERATURE GLAND?

Our literary critic rises to inquire whether rejuvenating an ancient plot by the use of skillful English could be classed as monkey talk.

"What do you want to know about California? Californians, Inc. will answer you," informs a brilliant climate advt. We'll say they will. So far as Californians are concerned, talking about their native state "is the fondest thing they're of."

UNCONSCIOUS EPIGRAMS

"When a man's in love he isn't worth a hang for anything."

We thought we had seen some hard-boiled conductors in our day, but the one on the inter-urban "limited" Monday far outstrips all others. He rang up fares so viciously that he broke the bell-rope. And gosh, but that made him mad! Especially when passengers handed him cash fares.

You have probably heard the famous story about tact and diplomacy, but the best example of tact we have seen is the literature Thos. Cook & Son send out. Several thousand words of vivid description (which arouse in you an intense desire to take the tour) are followed by the sad news euphemistically disguised as "Cost of Membership."

Walpole's Lecture Gets Laughs From New York Audience

Hugh Walpole, English novelist and lecturer, is to deliver the next University lecture here Wednesday, January 22, in the natural science auditorium. The subject of his lecture has not yet been announced, but recently he delivered a lecture to a large audience at the Broadhurst theatre in New York in which he criticised the so called realists, which provoked much laughter.

Hugh Walpole is the son of the Rt. Rev. G. H. S. Walpole, Bishop of Edinburgh. He was educated at King's School, Canterbury and at Emmanuel College, Cambridge. He taught school for a time and drew upon his experiences as a school master in his first novel "The Wooden Horse," written in 1909. After the publishing of that book he turned to literature as a profession. A few of his other books are "Marauders at Forty" in 1910; "The Golden Scarecrow," and "The Dark Forest" in 1916. He served with the Russian Red Cross in the European war.

BREESE SLIGHTLY HURT IN MORNING RUNAWAY

Robert Brees, a milkman living south of Iowa City, suffered a few minor cuts from broken glass when his milk wagon overturned at the corner of Washington and Clinton streets yesterday morning at 9:30. A street car frightened his team and they ran, for a block when the harness gave way letting the tongue of the wagon fall to the pavement. It swung to the side upsetting the wagon. Over thirty quarts of milk or nearly half the load ran down the gutter.

DEAN PHILLIPS TO SPEAK
Dean Chester A. Phillips of the college of commerce will speak at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 in liberal arts

THE "BAD MAN" IN THE FILMS

The Government of Mexico, quite properly, has announced its decision to have some part in the censorship of motion pictures originating in the United States and offered for the amusement of the people of the southern Republic. Objection is made to the portrayal of what the Mexican authorities insist is an imaginary character commonly known as the "bad man," a Mexican, armored and accoutered almost too picturesquely, and with deplorable tendencies to commit those atrocities from which thoughtful and considerate persons would instinctively shrink. This protest can hardly be attributed to class-consciousness or even to inordinate national pride. It is no doubt, prompted by the realization that such portrayal is a libel upon all Mexicans because of the tendency to delineate, in fiction as well as on the screen, the Mexican frontiersman as always an outlaw and an enemy of society.

The cowboys of the western United States, the Canadian-Indians of the provinces, and others elsewhere who are supposed to be representatives of a class, have been similarly caricatured for the amusement, if not for the edification, of their countrymen and of the world at large. But these have had no paternalistic government to come to their defense. They are still anonymously traduced and maligned, while they endure the affront in ineffective protest or in silence. But President Obregon and his Government seem to have found a way to protest effectively. Their voice is made vibrant with the effect it will immediately produce. They have placed an embargo on all offending productions of the motion picture studios, such as the people of the United States have placed a silent unofficial embargo upon these offenses which they regard as undesirable, vicious or degrading. One method is as effective as the other. It is only necessary to determine which will induce the more satisfactory response from producers, distributors and exhibitors.—Christian Science Monitor.

NOTED SOPRANO TO APPEAR IN RECITAL

Mrs. Cowden To Sing At Initial Concert of University Orchestra

Genevieve Rice Cowden of Kansas City will appear as soloist at the concert of the University orchestra, to be given at the natural science auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

She has appeared extensively in the middle west, on concert tours with the Minneapolis symphony orchestra and has been, on various occasions, joint artist with Rudolph Ganz, conductor of the St. Louis symphony orchestra.

The St. Louis Star says of her, "Genevieve Rice Cowden has one of the finest soprano voices heard on the St. Louis concert stage this season. It is semi-dramatic in quality, with a richness and sweetness that makes an instant appeal."

House Burned, So A. T. O.'s Relegate Selves To Rooms

The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will occupy the entire second floor at 107 South Lucas street and the club rooms of Delta Sigma Pi, commerce fraternity and will eat in a private dining room at the Pagoda for the remainder of the school year. The fraternity formerly occupied the house of 324 North Clinton street, owned by W. E. Schneider of Iowa City, which burned beyond repair Thursday night December 21.

The exact cause of the fire is unknown but it probably resulted from an overheated furnace. Although no definite count of personal losses has been made, Angus Cotton M4 of Lone Rock, fraternity president, estimates a considerably greater loss than the $5,000 insurance policy carried by the organization.

Practically all the furniture was ruined either by fire or water and many note books were similarly lost. Most wardrobe trunks were burned and personal belongings completely destroyed.

If present plans materialize, the fraternity will build on North Dubuque street for occupation next year. Plans for the house are already drawn and work is expected to begin soon.

Philos Will Debate Zets for Sophomore Championship Jan. 11

On January 11, the Philomatheans debate the Zetagathians for the intersociety sophomore debating championship. The Philomathean team, by defeating the Irving sophomores on December 1, have won the right to contest with the Zetagathians for this year's championship.

The proposition to be argued on January 11 is, "Resolved: That a federal court similar to the Kansas industrial court should be established to settle disputes in essential industries."

The Zetagathians, represented by Floyd O. Racker A2 of Waverly, Paul M. Dwyer A2 of Oelwein, and Ernest G. Linder A2 of Oakland, will uphold the affirmative. They are being coached by Vernon I. Sharp L1 of Rolfe.

The Philomatheans, who will present the negative, are Harold F. Fristedt A2 of Burlington, Daniel W. Holcomb A2 of Iowa City, and Charles R. Seilers A2 of Davenport. James W. Stewart L1 of Runnells is training the negative.

ther notice is given in the Daily Iowan.

Skating on the rink is good from the interurban bridge up to the city park bridge, so that plenty of room on the rink is provided for large crowds such as skated on New Year's day.

The boathouse which is used as a shelter continues to be popular as a warming place and a place to put on skates. There is also skate service for sharpening and storing skates. Wraps may be checked and refreshments are served. A small price is charged for the checking and skate service, and the refreshments, but there is no charge for the privilege of using the rink and shelter.

The Iowa Supply company and Mr. A. H. Fitzgerald of Fitzgerald's boat house have charge of the rink.

IOWA DEFEATS YALE IN RIFLE MATCH DEC. 20

Hawkeye Team Wins by 496-493 Score; Deklotz Shoots Perfect Score

The Iowa rifle team won the closely contested dual rifle match, with Yale by a score of 496 against Yale's score of 493. Yale's score was received by telegraph the evening of December 20. The score is subject to revision by the National rifle association in case of dispute, but since no protest has been received from Yale, it is believed the score will stand as it is.

Thirty intercollegiate matches have been scheduled for this season. The Yale match was the first for the Iowa rifle team. It turned out better than expected in view of the short practice they have had. The Yale team began their season in November by making the highest score from prone position of the competing teams in the National rifle association meet held that month.

Fred W. DeKlotz of Filer, Ida., lived up to his reputation of last year by shooting a perfect score of 100. Both George Fabricus A3 of Lenox, this year's captain, and J. F. Phillips G of Elk Point, captain last year, fell short of a perfect score by one point. W. J. Dehner A4 of Iowa City and L. F. Jahnke L1 of Muscatine were ill when the match was shot, so their scores are not up to their usual high marks. The scores of the five highest men were counted for the total. The individual scores are as follows: DeKlotz 100, Fabricus 99, Phillips 99, Hartman 99, Smith 99, Bray 99, Jahnke 98, Gibson 98, Woods 97, Dehner 96.

Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and butler class, perilously near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeur stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is "something else again."

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserts, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus.

The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.

Students Flock To Ice Skating On Return Here

A mixed crowd of about 1,000 students, faculty and townspeople skated on New Year's day on the skating rink on owa river. Although this is the largest crowd which has skated on the rink in one day so far, a large number skated for the last few days when the weather has been cold enough for the skating to be good. Since the rink was opened three weeks ago, it has been proving more popular every day.

It is now being planned to hold races and hockey games, and also something in the line of exhibitions of fancy skating within the next ten days, providing the weather remains cold enough. A quarter-mile course will be marked out and prizes offered to both men and women winners in the different classes. Applications to enter may be made as soon as fur-

MANY FACULTY MEMBERS SPENT VACATION AWAY

Iowa Instructors Take Prominent Places In Meetings Held In East

*Many University professors and instructors spent their vacation attending meetings which were held at Ann Arbor, Chicago and New York and at which numerous members of the Iowa faculty were honored by appointments and elections to various offices.

H. C. Jones, dean and professor of the college of law, was elected president of the Association of Law Schools, which he attended in Chicago. Dean Jones was secretary and treasurer of the association for three years and is now entering on his fourth year as a member of the executive committee.

Others who attended the meeting from the law college were: Percy Bordwell, who spoke at the round table conference on property, H. C. Horack, R. M. Perkins, who was elected as one of four members to the round table council on wrongs, Frank R. Randall, and Millard Breckenridge. Prof. J. Van der Zee, of the political science department, spoke at the round table conference on public law. The general topic was "A Course on Statute Law and Legislation."

The American Economic Association, the Sociological society, and the American Association of Instructors in Accounting, which were held in Chicago, were attended by: Prof. E. W. Hills, who spoke on "Accounting and Law," Prof. Frank H. Knight, who led the discussion on various theories on "Economic Theory and Practice," Prof. C. M. Case, who talked on the "Social Aspects of Coercion," C. A. Phillips, Charles O. Hardy, R. W. Stone, E. B. Reuter, C. W. Wassam, Fred E. Haynes, Walter W. Jennings, F. E. Walsh, Merle P. Gamber, Parks A. Nutter, W. J. Burney, Earle M. Winslow, Grace E. Chaffee, Herbert S. Crim, B. N. Davis, M. A. Gearhart, and Henry C. Simons.

Prof. Edwin D. Starbuck, of the philosophy department, attended the Philosophical convention in New York City. He was elected a member of the executive committee.

Prof. George W. Stewart, head of the department of physics and retiring vice-president, gave an address before Section B Physics of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held at Boston. In this address he gave the present status of atomic structure theory and what might be reasonably anticipated as to the nature of the progress in the near future. Professor Stewart also attended a meeting of the executive committee of Sigma Xi.

Dean George F. Kay, who attended the Geological Society of America held at Ann Arbor, was elected a member of the council, and attended the Conference of State Geologists held at the same time. Others who attended were: Dr. A. C. Trowbridge, who spoke on "Sedimentation at the Mouths of the Mississippi River"; Prof. A. O. Thomas, J. J. Runner, Dr. B. Coleman Renick, who gave an address on "The Correlation of the Pottsville and Lower Allegheny Formations in Western Pennsylvania," Benjamin Cox and Chester K. Wentworth, who gave a paper on "Late Tertiary and Pleistocene Terrace Plains of the Middle Atlantic Coastal Plain."

Three Johnson County offices changed hands yesterday when the officers-elect took up their new duties.

5 per cent, 32 year bonds, in two series, the first of fifty billion gold marks and the second of 17 billion gold marks, representing the interest on the first. France is to receive the first series, the second is to be distributed to nations that are indebted to the United States in a ratio to the amount owed America.

4. After the expirations of a four years moratorium, Germany is to start paying at the rate of two billion gold marks annually or an amount fixed by an impartial tribunal.

5. The project is to function on the condition that German stabilizes the mark, accepts allied financial supervision, and submits to the seizure of other revenues or other assets, or military occupation in case of defaults.

6. In case the proposals are accepted England offers mutual cancellation of Franco-British and Italian war debts and suggests that the Italian debt to France be cancelled on condition that the gold deposits held by England as securities for inter-allied debts be applied when returned to Britain's allies, toward a reduction of debts.

Also the suggestion is made that a certain amount of the first and outstanding series of German bonds be transferred to Paris.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES IOWA TWO MILLION

their boards on the request of the state board of education to assist in completing the plant. The estimated cost of the completed job is $4,500,000, and agreeable to these recommendations the two foundations joined in proffering a gift of $2,250,000, providing the state of Iowa over a period of five years agrees to complete the plant. This will require an appropriation of $450,000 a year for the next five years.

Up to this time the board of education had been at a loss to know how to meet the hospital needs and at the same time meet the ever increasing demands of the other departments of instruction in the University. This gift would seem to solve the problem, for the medical service can go ahead with only a small appropriation.

Another great advantage is that the completion of this new plant will release for other purposes all the places now used as nurses homes, hospitals, etc. These might well be utilized for dormitories for women.

The members of the board which made this gift are among the most eminent men in the world. The majority are educators and specialists: Frederick T. Gates, John D. Rockefeller, jr., Albert Shaw, Wallace But-trick, Edwin A. Alderman, Harry Pratt Judson, Wickliffe Rose, Jerome D. Greene, Anson Phelps Stokes, Abraham Flexner, George E. Vincent, James H. Dillard, Charles P. Howland, Trevor Arnett, John W. Davis, John H. Agar, Simon Flexner, Vernon Kellogg, Julius Rosenwald, Martin A. Ryerson and Frederick Strauss.

Men prominent in Iowa City are enthusiastic over the donation. W. O. Coast, business man and former member of the state legislature, says: "It is a wonderful gift and without doubt will make Iowa one of the leading medical schools in the country. I think the general assembly will act favorably on the proposal."

J. B. Vanhorn, president of the Citizens Savings and Trust company, "It is a remarkable gift and a wonderful thing for Iowa City. Much credit must go to President Jessup and Doctor Dean for their efforts in the project. It will give Iowa a name of being the greatest medical school in the country, if not in the world."
