PICK DEBATERS FOR TRIANGULAR CLASH IN APRIL

Select Six From List Of Twenty Two Who Tried Out For I.-N.-S.

The six intercollegiate debaters for the Iowa-Nebraska-South Dakota debate in April, selected from twenty-two candidates trying out in the liberal arts auditorium last night are Paul C. Bucy A2 of Hubbard, Charles E. Baker A2 of Iowa City, Buel G. Beems A3 of Anamosa, James M. Stewart L1 of Runnells, Charles R. Sellers A2 of Davenport, and Robert E. Birchard A3 of Davenport. The two alternates are Byrl A. Whitney A4 of Cherokee and Ernest G. Linder A2 of Oakland. The judges in the tryout were Prof. Glenn N. Merry, head of the department of speech, Prof. Jacob Van der Zee of the political science department, and Harry T. Wood, instructor in the department of speech.

The proposition for the tryout and for the I.-N.-S.D. debate is, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the League of Nations". Each of the twenty-two contestants last night delivered a five minute argument before the judges, and on the basis of analysis, organization, and delivery, the men who will compose the two Iowa teams were picked.

In points for the Delta Sigma Rho intersociety trophy cup, the Philomatheans amassed a large lead in this contest for they placed four debaters and one alternate, while the Zetaphians won one debater and one alternate, and the Irvings placed one debater. From the standpoint of entrants in the contest, the Philomatheans also lead entering nine, the Zets five and the Irvings five. Three contestants were non-literary society men.

The intercollegiate teams will immediately begin preparation for the I.-N.-S.D. debate in April on the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations. The teams are to be coached by Vernon L. Sharp L1 of Rolfe.

BARRY ISSUES BASE BALL CALL

Asks Battery Candidates To Report To Higbee This Afternoon

Baseball starts at Iowa today, when the varsity battery candidates report this afternoon, to M. L. Higbee at the varsity locker room men's gym for a chalk talk at 4:30 p. m. There will be several lectures this year before the men begin to work-out in the new armory.

Coach Barry, baseball mentor, who is busy winning a basketball championship, has secured M. L. Higbee, former league hurler, to coach the battery men until the basketball season is over then Coach Barry will take charge of the team.

Among the twirlers left over from last year's varsity and freshmen teams who are expected to report this afternoon are; Becker "I" man of the 1920-21 teams, Nichols, Fabricius, and Hoage, last year's varsity holdovers and Gage and Marshall from last year's freshman squad. Voltmer, another "I" man from the 1921 team, is at the present time out for basketball, he will report after the cage season. Duhm, star of the 1922 yearlings, is also out for basketball, but will report later. The receivers of known ability that are still in school and who will probably be out this afternoon are; Captain Barrett and Locke, from last year's varsity and Fisher and Nelson from the 1922 frosh.

SENATORS WAX WORDY IN SHIP SUBSIDY FIGHT

Sheppard Talks 6 Hours In Filibuster Without Being Relieved

Washington, Feb. 20—Rambling along in high gear the Senate filibuster against a ship subsidy bill held the right of way through a long session today and at a late hour the "gas tank" showed no signs of running dry. Senator Jones, sponsor for the bill, still maintained his threat to keep the senate in session all night, but other administration leaders were trying to dissuade him. John Sharp Williams started the second lap of the filibuster when Sheppard of Texas gave up the floor at six o'clock, after having spoken ten and a half hours, six of them Tuesday afternoon without, even a pause for a drink of water. He had no relief of any kind, not even a brief rest afforded by quorum calls, for the senate has changed its rule so that the speaker loses the floor when a quorum is called. LaFollette conducting his eighteen hour filibuster in 1908 was relieved by thirty calls which consumed a total of three hours time.

Sheppard read all the reports and proceedings of the various league of nations commissions. Assuming that he spoke at the rate of 100 words a minute, his speech ran 60,000 words.

CURRIER HALL WOMEN TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT

There may be an extra bit of powder on the Currier girl's nose when she comes down to dinner this evening, and a more sedate air will pervade the hall at this particular time;—it is faculty guest night. Here is the chance to become better acquainted with one's instructors or to make the good impression so necessary to congenial class work.

Each table in Currier entertains a faculty guest once every six weeks. Wednesday and Sunday dinners are guest meals, and one table in each dining room entertains the instructor whom the girls have selected. When men instructors are invited, their wives are also guests at Currier. After dinner, the guests are entertained in the parlor and other girls in the hall are given an opportunity to meet them. Meeting on a common social ground tends to promote better feeling between teachers and students and often helps to stimulate interest in the course.

Faculty guests on Wednesday evening of this week will be Prof. and Mrs. Young, of the department of Romance Language, and Prof. and Mrs. Carver of the department of English.

Registrar Begins Mailing Grades For Last Semester

Grades are now being mailed out to students who have handed in a stamped, addressed envelope at the Registrar's office with coupon one enclosed or with a card on which they have written the name of their courses, the section number and the hours of credit given. The Registrar's office began mailing the first of this week and expect to return all envelopes with the grades by the end of the week, according to a report issued from that office yesterday.

The purpose of giving grades out in this manner is to facilitate the sending of grades as well as to economize in time and money. Last year approximately one thousand students took advantage of this system and it is expected that about one-third of the student body will profit by it this year.

Deficiencies are also reported to all students who were in any way deficient in their first semester's work. But all students desiring grades must mail or leave a stamped and self-addressed envelope at the Registrar's office in which is coupon number one or a card with the course, the section, and the number of hours credit upon it.

Grades in the professional colleges are mailed out through the deans of the respective colleges in the same manner.

Fraternalities and sororities do not receive special notice but if desired they may get the grades all together by enclosing all members coupons in an envelope.

DENTISTS TURN OUT EN MASSE FOR BIG DINNER

Dental Custom Started Off With Bang; To Wear Special Vests

Three hundred students in the college of dentistry, their faculty and guests, attended the first annual dinner given by the Association of Students of Dentistry at the Pagoda Tea Shop last night.

Suggestions for a senior tradition had previously been received by a committee of representative dentistry students, and Welton Knarr, chairman of the committee, announced that the winning suggestion called for the wearing of a distinctive form of vest. The prescribed vest, details of which are to be worked out later, will be worn by all seniors in the college of dentistry. Darrel C. Scott D4 of Lamoni, Horrel B. Wareham D3 of Iowa City and Leonard L. Shurtleff D4 of Sioux City were the authors of the winning suggestion.

The banquet last night was the first of its kind and was given to establish an annual custom in the college of dentistry. Every inch in the dining room of the Pagoda was utilized and it was from just such situations that the team "elbow sociability" originated. Although each man had to alternate with his neighbor in cutting his steak a good feeling prevailed. During the course of the evening faculty members and others on the program were heartily received.

The program consisted of short talks by Dr. Breene, Dr. Chase, and Major Titus, a whistling solo by Raymond Hanson, reading by Miss Katherine Ball, and a couple of three-round boxing matches arranged by Dave Fidler, University boxing instructor, and a wrestling match, and piano selections by Moose Bender and George Meehm.

Howard Denbo, president of the association, presided during the evening and asked that the lower classmen keep up the spirit of the school and perpetuate its traditions and customs.

GERMANS FEAR RED MENACE IN OCCUPIED AREA

Communist Propaganda Causes One French Regiment To Mutiny

(By United News)
Essen, Germany, Feb. 20—German and French communists are actively cooperating to undermine the Franco-Belgian Ruhr adventure, according to all indications.

Communist propaganda has already caused the mutiny of one French regiment, reports current today stated, and this detachment has been replaced by another.

The intelligence reports made to the French military authorities here in Essen state that secret military companies of communists are being formed throughout the Ruhr and the Rhineland and that arms in large quantities are being obtained from sources not yet revealed.

Efforts of the radical French and German propagandists who have been commissioned to undermine the morale of the troops have been become more open since many of the Ruhr local officials have been expelled and police forces of several cities either reduced or discharged.

The inhabitants of the region fear this new "red menace" as much as the French authorities because local officials hold that a general uprising would give Poincare the chance that he is looking for—a course of unrestrained ruthlessness in the occupied region.

Another fear of the populace is that Britain, if conditions become much worse than they are in the Ruhr and Rhineland will grant French permission to use all railroad lines through the Cologne area, and perhaps withdraw the British army of occupation, leaving the natives in that region also at the mercy of the French.

Railroad officials made it known today that they believe the French are preparing to expel about 300 railroaders who have been active in the campaign of sabotage and passive resistance, from the district.

CADET OFFICERS RECEIVE "COMS"

Phillips Will Report To Camp Humphreys Among Goes To Camp Holabird

Ransom G. Amlong S4 of Iowa City and Fred Phillips G of Elk Point, S. Dak., have received notice from President Harding of their appointments as second lieutenants in the regular army, these appointments to go into effect next month.

Amlong will report to the motor transport training school at Camp Holabird, near Baltimore, Md., and Phillips has been assigned to the engineer unit of the Camp Humphreys training school in Virginia. The two were included in the group of six Iowa cadets who took the preliminary examinations in Des Moines last October. Three of the six took the recent finals.

Though the commissions will go into effect immediately and the appointments require that the two men report for duty in thirty days, an effort has been made by Lieut. Col. Morton C. Mumma to extend their time at the University until June. Amlong lacks only twelve hours work in order to receive his degree at the spring convocation and Phillips, though a graduate student, would lose a number of hours credit by leaving school at this time. However, it is doubtful whether the military department at Washington will sanction the matter of allowing the men to report at a later date than their appointments state.

If the measure goes through the Soldiers' Home will also receive an appropriation of $200,000.

London Slums See Establishment of New Female Shylock

London, Feb. 19, (United News)—The female Shylock, picturesque and pernicious, has established herself as one of the most deeply-rooted evils of London's slum district, the collection of by-ways and back streets broadly known as the "East End". Exposure of the women money-lenders who prey upon the poor of their own sex has followed the suicide of a woman who ended her life because of obligations incurred to "the woman 'round the corner."

Every neighborhood in the East End, it develops, has its "woman 'round the corner," a suitor with a little ready money who extends relief to the desperate housekeeper. The housekeeper is a couple of shillings short in her rent, perhaps or has pinched "a few bob" from her house allowance to apply on the new hat she buying against "the old man's" wishes.

Accommodations is provided at the weekly interest rate of a penny on the shipping, which works out to the annual rate of over 400 per cent. Frequently the original borrowed shilling is paid over and over again in interest before the capital is cleared. The petticoated Shylocks who set up business with a few spare shillings are soon able to lend pounds.

Chicago Seeks To Raise Scholastic Standards To "C"

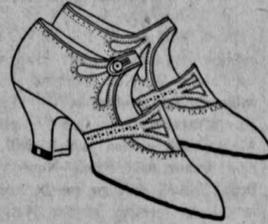

The Daily Maroon, Chicago, Ill.: Stringent rulings designed to raise the scholastic standards of the University have been adopted by the faculty it was announced last night by Walter A. Payne, University recorder and examiner. The new code consists of two drastic measures: first, to be eligible for initiation into a club or fraternity, the student must have seven grade points; second, a student will be placed on probation if at any time his work falls below a C average.

The adoption of the one grade point probation rule is seen as a further step in the policy of eliminating the incapable or indolent student. It provides that if anyone falls one point below C average his name is immediately placed on the probation list and if he does not bring his average up to C within three quarters he is eligible for dismissal.

PLAN BRIDE'S SHORT COURSE AT WISCONSIN

The Daily Cardinal, Madison, Wis.: "We have planned a one year bride's short course which will give the women of Wisconsin a general taste of all the departments of the school of home economics," was the statement made by Miss Jean Krueger, assistant professor of home economics.

"It gives the college girl a practical taste of home economics and is a broadening course that will do any girl a great amount of good whether she intends to marry or not," said Miss Krueger.

The first semester's work consists in food study, cooking and dietetics. The second semester embraces a knowledge of house management, architecture and sewing.

POOH-POOH-HOOEY TO UPHOLD L-A'S

Editors Seek To Reflect Life In College Of Liberal Arts

"The Pooh-Pooh-Hooey will uphold the traditions of the college of liberal arts as distinguished from those of the other upstart colleges," said a prominent member of Sigma Delta Chi yesterday, when interviewed regarding the impending publication. "Other colleges have annual celebrations—the laws, the jubilee; the engineers, Mecca week; the comics, the Mart—; and now the dents are offering a prize for the best tradition.

"It behooves the college of liberal arts as the largest college in the University, to make some sort of a noise for itself, lest it be thought that we are backward in tooting our own horn. The Pooh-Pooh-Hooey should dispel any doubts that might be lingering as to whether the L. A.'s can create a furor."

The paper is now on the press, and will be ready for public dissemination tomorrow. A full-page chart which was rushed to the engravers at the eleventh hour will be a sensational feature, it is promised. Other illustrations will include half-tones of prominent Iowa City and University personages, some of them snapped in characteristic poses.

The Pooh-Pooh-Hooey reportorial staff is second in ability only to that of the Daily Iowan, it is claimed, and the editors expect that several big stories which broke in the last few hours will be copied by metropolitan papers. "The Pooh-Pooh-Hooey," admitted one of the editors, "cannot escape being a riot."

The Pooh-Pooh-Hooey will be on sale Thursday afternoon at all Iowa City newstands at 10 cents per copy.

ELLIS BUTLER CONTRIBUTES TO COMING FRIVOL

Famous Iowa Humorist Sends Two Articles; One Is "Ode To Iowa"

Ellis Parker Butler, the only home-grown, corn-fed, humorist the state of Iowa has ever owned, has joined the Frivol staff with a contribution which will appear in the Picaresque Frivol, out next week.

This information released yesterday by Margaret Wilson A3 of Iowa City editor-in-chief, comes as a surprise to the campus since the advent of well established humorists into the collegiate humorous field is uncommon. Mr. Butler, however, feels that his message to the students of Iowa should be held up no longer, and since he has been allowed the opportunity of advertising his new book, he "was glad to contribute the enclosed original poem to Frivol.

Incidentally, he tips off the students to the fact that they can become as famous as he, and suggests one or two ways to accomplish that end. The poem, entitled "Ode to Iowa" depicts what the author believes he owes to Iowa. Like Lincoln's immortal "Gettysburg Address," this too has been carefully worked out on an old piece of wrapping paper. It is more advanced than Lincoln's work however, since it was written with a typewriter.

The "none genuine without this signature" little pig beside his signature proves to the most skeptical that Mr. Butler wrote the poem for the University humorous magazine. The addition to this article for Frivol Mr. Butler also wrote "Pigs is Pigs."

This latter story is the one which gained Mr. Butler his start in the humorous field. Since then, he has written a score of sketches just as funny and just as absurd. A native of Muscatine, Iowa, he writes the scenes of some of his stories in and around that locality with, at times, no particular credit to the city.

Mr. Butler wrote an article some years ago about Muscatine, in which he said that he paid a visit to his old home town, and thought he would look up the house in which he was born. When he first sighted the place, he was disappointed with its run down appearance but on closer observation he was horrified to find the letters I C E on the door. He felt better, he said when he thought perhaps the letters stood for "In Commemoration of Ellis." So everything that Mr. Butler writes about Iowa, especially if the community is close to Muscatine, is likely to be of such a nature that it can be taken two ways.

Get Out Your Mittens Says Weather Man

In spite of the warm, fair weather yesterday the weather bureau of Iowa City warns to prepare for a cold wave which barring deviations of weather phenomenon and pressure areas, will reach here probably Friday, but more likely Saturday. Snow probably will come the middle of the week, but not to any great extent. The high pressure area has passed over this section of the country and we are now experiencing a "low", or area of better weather conditions.

The highest temperature Monday was 36; lowst temperature Monday night was 16 above; there was but a trace of percipitation; and there is still precipitation of -0.52 under normal.

The Indianapolis News claims that Indiana will beat Iowa in both games.

Indiana's wrestling team defeated the Illinois team 16 to 9.

Indiana Questions Use of Profanity In College Yells

The Daily Student, Bloomington, Ind.: After hearing opinions of University officials and Bloomington divines in regard to the use of the words "damn" and "hell" in yells, The Daily Student yesterday sought the opinions of students, faculty and coaches. A tolerant and amused attitude was taken by the majority of students. Faculty members were reticent. Coaches were opposed.

Russell Wise, senior president, said: "I personally don't see any objection to the use of the expressions. They aren't meant in any offensive way and they add a lot of pep to the yells. The fact that Purdue is doing it is no reason why we should abolish them.

Prof. Henri Bourdin of the French department said: "Being a foreigner the words referred to are not offensive to me. I had a liberal education in profanity while serving in the marines."

Coach Mann stated that he was much opposed to the use of profanity in yells and would like to see it abolished.

PURPLE UPSETS CONFERENCE DOPE

TRIUMPHS OVER INDIANA FIVE AT PATTEN GYM

Hoosiers Arrive Here Today; Look For Hard Battle Tomorrow

Northwestern upset conference basketball dope last night when the Purple team defeated Indiana 30 to 26. Indiana, wonder team of the conference during the past few weeks was expected to win an easy contest last night. Northwestern had lost six games and had won but two, while the Hoosiers had started on a winning streak with such teams as Purdue and Illinois among their victims.

The loss of yesterday's game will probably cause Indiana to fight just that much harder when the Hoosiers play here tomorrow night. Indiana reaches Iowa City today, and will probably practice at the armory this afternoon.

Wolverines Out

Wisconsin's victory over Michigan Monday night practically eliminated the Wolverines from high conference honors and placed the Badgers dangerously close to Iowa who has been leading the race for the pennant for the past few weeks.

The Indiana quintet, which has been enjoying a winning streak for the past couple of games went to defeat last night, being beaten by Northwestern 30 to 26. The Hoosiers took a late start in winning conference games but threaten now to displace those teams in the lead. They still have two games with Coach Sam Barry's quintet and have yet to play Wisconsin.

Maurie Kent's five's victory over the Hoosiers was an upset to the dopesters for it was thought that the Purple would be little competition for the powerful Hoosier combination. Indiana has at present won three games and lost three.

Varsity Off Form

The Hawkeye team has not been able to hit its previous stride since its rest and the game with Indiana Thursday night may be the corn state's downfall. Coach Jenkins' yearlings have, for the first time this year, been able to outscore the varsity in practice in workouts the past few days. The freshmen have been using Indiana plays and until last night the first string could not break through their defense. Practice last night showed the Old Gold team to be rounding into form however. The freshmen could not stop them and in the short workout the varsity had little opposition.

Women Swimmers Sign Up For W. A. A. Championship Meet

A number of entries have been made in the W. A. A. swimming meet next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the women's gymnasium and those in charge expect that many more women will sign up.

Catherine Wright A4 of Des Moines holds the record for the first event scheduled, the twenty yard dash, with a time of 12 3-5. The record time for the twenty yard breast stroke, 16 4-5, held by Helen Spencer A3 of Des Moines will probably be lowered by her next Saturday. The twenty yard back stroke record, held by Mable Quiner of Des Moines with the time of 17 4-5 seconds will probably not be broken.

Catherine Wright will undoubtedly set a better record for the forty yard dash with a time of 31 4-5 and the 100 yard dash with a time of 1:43 sec..

94 PREP STARS TO PARTICIPATE IN TRACK MEET

Twenty-one Men Entered by Cedar Rapids, Last Year's Winners

Late entries coming into the athletic office have boosted the number of men entered in the Second Annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet to be held tomorrow. The schools that have just turned in their entry lists are: Ames, Grinnell, Iowa City, Le Mars, Lu Verne, Mason City, Monticello and Davenport.

The meet this year has taken on larger proportions than was expected by the officials in charge. The added number of high schools in the meet will undoubtedly make the competition much closer and will insure the success of the contest. Cedar Rapids with an entry list of twenty-one men will try to repeat last year's victory. They have a number of stars from their winning team of a year ago and should come close to taking the major honors. They are not going to have soft pickings however, as several likely-looking cinder path artists are coming with the intention of cutting in on their point column.

The interscholastic track meets are coming to be more than ever a part of the University athletic events of the year. More interest is being taken by University students than formerly in the activities of the younger track stars, and with the large number of high school men coming to take part the attendance should be large. Many former prep-school stars will be on hand to encourage their proteges. As there is no University entertainment scheduled for the afternoon of the twenty-second a good crowd should be on hand to witness the meet.

RIFLE TEAM ADDS ANOTHER VICTIM

Iowa Squad Decisively Beats North Dakota In Week End Shooting Fray

Iowa added another to her list of victories when her rifle team defeated University of North Dakota by a decisive score of 1785 points to 1647 points last weekend. The delay in obtaining the results of the match, which officially ended last Saturday night, was due to the delay in getting the score from Grand Forks, N. D., where the University is located.

The score of 1785 to 1647 was made out of a possible 2000. The match was fired by ten men shooting in the kneeling and sitting positions with all scores to count in the final results. Such a margin of 138 points made by the Iowa squad over their opponents is a very wide one according to Captain Thomas E. Martin, rifle team coach.

Thus far Iowa has won matches over Yale, Nebraska, Oxford University, West Virginia and North Dakota. The score of the Iowa men in the Iowa-North Dakota match follows:

G. H. Hickox	187
D. W. Bray	187
I. L. Sorenson	185
R. W. Ballard	182
H. H. Weaver	176
E. R. Kinniard	176
George Fabricius (captain)	176
W. J. Dehner	175
F. D. Gibson	173
F. W. DeKlotz	168

GUISBERG; LANE, AND PETERSEN WIN TRYOUTS

Will Represent Iowa In Wrestling Meet At Wisconsin On Friday

Barnes lost to Gugisberg, in the 125 pound tryout for the Wisconsin wrestling meet last night at the men's gym. Gugisberg continues to hold his position as featherweight on the Hawkeye wrestling team by beating Barnes for the third consecutive time this year by holding the advantage for 3 minutes in last night's bout.

Lane, won from Jentoff, after Jentoff wrestled him to a twelve minute draw. However Lane won in the extra period by pinning Jentoff with a body lock, in the last minute of the three minute extra period. Jentoff displayed good form for a man new at the game, this being his second week of competition with another week or so of training under the careful tutorage of Mike Howard, he will be able to give Lane something to worry about.

Petersen had little trouble with Springer, the new welterweight aspirant, winning by a fall in less than five minutes of grappling. He also held the advantage throughout the bout never being in danger. Petersen will wrestle Jacobsen tonight, in the final welterweight tryouts for the Badger meet Friday, February 23.

The standing of the wrestling teams was given out last night. Ames Ohio and Wisconsin are tied for first place with three victories each, while Iowa and Indiana are tied for second place with two wins and no defeats.

The standing:

Teams	W. L. Pct.
Ames	3 0 1.000
Ohio	3 0 1.000
Wisconsin	3 0 1.000
Iowa	2 0 1.000
Indiana	2 0 1.000
Illinois	3 2 .600
Nebraska	1 1 .500
Chicago	1 2 .333
Michigan Aggies	0 1 .000

25 Men Ambitious To Pass Red Cross Life Saving Tests

The life saving class for advanced swimmers started Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock when twenty-five men reported to instructor D. A. Armbruster.

The class will continue during the remainder of the semester and late in the spring the standard Red Cross life saving tests will be given. All those passing the tests will be entitled to a Red Cross life saving certificate.

Last year there were eighty-five men entered in the class. Out of this number thirty-five passed their tests and received their certificates. Regular physical education credits are given those taking the course. Those wishing to enroll in the course should see Coach D. A. Armbruster and register with him for one of the classes.

The slogan of the life saving class is "Everyone His Own Life Saver". It is the intention of Coach Armbruster to make the tests harder this year than they were last year, this applies especially to the requirements for swimming ability. Some of the tests are as follows: To be able to tow a person to shore using four different carries; to retrieve an object weighing ten pounds in at least ten feet of water; and to be able to swim one hundred yards fully dressed. One of the final tests will be to break any hold which a drowning person could use and after breaking the hold to tow the person using one of the prescribed carries.

Parker, tipoff man on the Indiana team, is one of the smallest centers in the conference. He is only 6 feet and 6 inches in height,

Parker and Nyikos, the two new men on the Hoosier team, both shoot quickly, getting rid of the ball almost as soon as they receive it. Nyikos has been making four or five baskets in each game, while Parker has been getting at least two.

Two fouls were called on the crowd at Columbus during the Iowa-Ohio State game. Funk made both and Ohio State had another two point handicap to overcome.

IOWA GYMNASTS TO MEET ILLINI

Six Hawkeyes Will Compete In Second Meet Of Year Next Saturday

The second meet of the season for the University of Iowa gymnasium team will take place at the men's gymnasium next Saturday evening, at 7:30 o'clock when the University of Illinois team comes to Iowa City. The Hawkeyes lost to Minnesota a week previous by a slender margin. Six men will compete against the Illini Saturday night. These will be Captain G. W. Tompkins, T. P. Treynor, A. A. Sindelar, Lyle Bailey, C. A. Nicoll, and J. W. Blakley. These men do not represent a full team, but they are the only gymnasts who will be available that evening.

Captain Tompkins will compete in work on the horizontal bars, horse rings and parallel bars. Treynor will work on the horizontal bars, rings, parallel bars and tumbling; Sindelar, on the horizontal bars, horse, rings and tumbling; Bailey, on the horse, and Indian clubs; Nicoll, on the horizontal bars, and parallel bars; Blakley on the rings.

At the Gopher-Hawkeye meet at Minneapolis last week, Captain Tompkins was given all-around honors for his work over his competitors. Bailey was placed first at the same meet in competition with performers with Indian clubs. It will be seen that although the Hawkeye team is small some very good material has been developed.

The second and last meet for the gymnasium team will probably be refereed by men from Davenport and Cedar Rapids, although none have been chosen as yet. However, they will be all out of town men. "T" books will admit spectators to Saturday evening's entertainment.

After the two gymnasium meets are over, the Hawkeye team will compete in the conference meet March 16 and 17.

"DRIVING COURSE" OPEN NEXT WEEK

Material For Winter Golf Course Arrives; Offers Good Drive

The new "driving course" that has been creating a great deal of interest among golf fans should be ready for use by the middle of next week according to E. G. Schroeder, head of the physical education department for men, who has charge of the construction of the course.

All of the material necessary for the completion of the course has arrived, but it will take some time to set it up. A new coat of oil has been recently applied to the floor of the north room of the men's gymnasium, where the course will be located and a second coat will have to be applied before the job can be completed. The equipment that is in Mr. Schroeder's hands consists of a large, heavy canvas with pockets to catch the balls which will be stretched across one end of the room, and a grass mat to be used as a driving green. The driving distance will be about thirty-five feet.

The course when completed will accommodate but one player at a time, but if enough enthusiasm is shown by the golfers an attempt will probably be made to take care of more than one player at the same time. Mr. Schroeder got the idea of such a course from Princeton where one is in use at the present time. Northwestern University accommodates the students who play golf with two such courses.

By use of the course players can practice daily throughout the winter months and in this way retain their mid-season form, and be in good trim for the opening of the outdoor courses in the spring.

Staff And Circle Women To Inspect Rooming Conditions

Twelve members of Staff and Circle, honorary senior organization for women, are today inspecting rooms rented to University women students. Iowa City has been divided into six groups of thirty-four houses in each and two women will cover each division.

Information secured by this system of inspection regarding heat, light, ventilation, water, and other necessary accommodations will be filed for reference in the office of the dean of women to be used in filling applications, especially next fall. Cards like those used by the local Commercial club will be filed for each room visited.

The system aims to simplify the filling of applications for rooms. The work will be done under the direction of the Dean of women, Mrs. Adelaide Burge, and with the sanction of Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts.

The six groups scheduled to inspect in pairs are Dorothy Norton A4 of Keokuk and Mrs. Catherine Hamilton Devine A4 of Pasadena, Cal.; Ruth Van Law A4 of Marshalltown and Agnella Gunn A4 of Sioux City; Elizabeth Ensign A4 of Iowa City and Maurine Yaggy A4 of Davenport; Josephine Daus A4 and Jane Coventry A4 of Des Moines; Florence Smith A4 of Spirit Lake and Beatrice Gates A4 of Pierre, S. Dak.; Catherine Wright A4 of Des Moines and Margaret Altman A4 of Livermore.

DRY AS DUST

The professor who, with an idealistic bent of mind, can deal with young men and women students of today and still keep his faith in mankind is deserving of untold credit. His path is a stony one, neither appreciated nor rewarded. For if pupils fail to be imbued with at least some of the enthusiasm a professor holds for his subject, it is quite natural for him to conclude that there is something wrong with them, that his pearls of thought have been thrown to the swine. He grows cynical.

A discouraged English professor at the University of California recently braved the wrath of the undergraduate body by declaring that about 7,000 of the 10,000 students "should be attached to the handle of the pick or the frying pan." He finds students much more interested in dancing than in Chaucer or Shakespeare which is undoubtedly what hundreds of other professors have also discovered but have as yet not dared voice in public.

The one masterful touch in "Town and Gown" a recent book dealing with university life, is a chapter which treats of the ineffectual efforts of a professor of Russian literature to interest his students in Russian novels. He realizes why his course is called dry as dust and soliloquizes thus:

"Dry as dust?" And I live with Bazarov and Mademoiselle de Maupin and Ernest Pontifex and Julien Sorel and Raskolnikov. I am they. Dry as dust?"

"And you? You will go through life in a long, dusty procession. Yes, each one of you humped low over the wheel of a little, high automobile driving always to the next place. You will stop only to buy the cherry-colored refreshment that is advertised on the billboards and to buy the magazines with pink and cream covers. Dry as dust?"

ARTHUR BRISBANE—THE BLATANT

Arthur Brisbane, the hypocritical voice of the "great unwashed", turning out his customary bit of rot for his column "Today" which appears in all of Mr. Hearst's journals, probably scored another hit with the ignorant masses by excoriating the great amount of interest displayed by scholars in the recent Egyptological discoveries at Luxor.

Brisbane says in his usual puerile way that there is no use paying any attention to Tutankhamen whom he asserts was only a rich lord who wanted to "be somebody" and "to get glory." His fancy takes a strange flight after other misleading observations and he shifts to Prof. A. A. Michelson of the University of Chicago, recently awarded the Nobel prize for research in physics. Brisbane blatantly states that Michelson will be remembered when King Tut takes his place with Sitting Bull.

Without disparaging the discoveries of Professor Michelson it is safe to predict that when King Tutankhamen takes his place with Sitting Bull or Rain-In-The-Face many of the past winners of Nobel prizes will also have taken their seats beside them.

The discovery of the un-pillaged inner tomb of King Tutankhamen is the culmination of the greatest of all Egyptian discoveries. It brings to light a wealth of material invaluable intrinsically, artistically and historically. The tomb of the ancient King has apparently not been tampered with since he was laid to rest over 3000 years ago. It is only reasonable to expect that papyri will be found within the sarcophagus which may shed light on the beliefs of the Egyptians, on the story of the deluge and even on such specific historical facts as the stay of the Israelites in Egypt.

CONTEMPORARY OPINION

(New York Herald)

A THOUGHT FOR "MOVIE" HATERS

The army of "movie" haters is not exactly militant, but its hatred has a very grim quality. It will concede nothing to films except boredom. So it is with some trepidation that we rise to suggest a service which the "movie" may have rendered these self-same haters.

That is to compel the theater to improve. There seems to be a general agreement that never before has the New York stage reached so high a level of plays and productions as this year. There is Shakespeare superbly done. There are the Russians. There are a dozen plays fairly reeking with ideas. The bed-room farce has been replaced by downright drama ably constructed and setting forth an original theme in original fashion. Even the girl show has developed a sharp edge of satire. A dozen years ago we were graciously permitted to attend perhaps one Shaw play a year. This season it is as if the managers had scoured the Continent in an effort to produce nothing but drama appealing to the intellect so far have our box offices traveled since that distant day when Canada first spoke her lonely message to an apathetic city.

No, we do not argue that the "movies" have built up new audiences. Fresh sources have undoubtedly been tapped by the film; but that these raw recruits are already ripe for the theater and for the theater at its best we shall not urge upon the "movie" haters. What we suggest is that by presenting a certain kind of emotional spectacle exceedingly well and very cheaply the "movie" has forced the theater manager either to lie down and quit or to seize himself by his bootstraps and hoist his trade to a new level where the "movie" could not, try as it would, compete.

That level, it seems fairly clear, is the drama of ideas. In the spectacular field, in sentiment and slapstick, the "movie" is supreme. In melodrama it can give the theater a close run. When you come to the play of wit and thought it is left standing at the post. A scenario of Shaw would be nothing but captions; and captions are the bane of the "movie", an evil to be eliminated as far as possible. It is a plain business proposition that we sketch. Many a clever manufacturer of high-grade products has eluded disaster by improving his wares so that they were beyond the competition of cheap machine-made rivals. Has not just such a swift move been wisely and ably made by the theater managers of New York? Luckily, buyers stood ready and eager, composed, to a large extent, of our friends the "movie" haters, who found here a kind of entertainment that neither Douglas Fairbanks at his darest nor Mary Pickford at her prettiest could pretend to parallel.

Comment from the Student Body

INTELLECTUAL STUPIDITY

To the Editor:

The scientists have investigated as far as they can, and now they are standing in hopes that they will be able to go a little farther. It is hoped that men will obtain the knowledge which will enable them to know all things. The fact that men are able to dig into the earth and find fossils which have been deposited there years and years ago, is not any sign that many of the truths of the Bible cease to be truths.

Because some people disprove of Mr. Bryan's audacity and call him unduly reverent, is not to say that he does not speak any truth. If people were as eager to know the truth concerning the relations of man in respect to his neighbor, and every other individual of the world, the teaching of Mr. Bryan would not sound so strange to them.

Our modern intellectual stupids are able to trace the animal history of all living forms from the earliest times down to the present. After they have studied and written that, history look up in amazement and say, Wonderful! But they cannot see any purpose or cause for that which has been produced. It has come about because it came. Then because it came because it comes leaves man here because he is here. Then Man because he is here will stay because he cannot get away. Because he stays because he cannot get away, it matters not how he stays.

The spirit of men is the thing that interests Mr. Bryan and should interest every other human on the earth. Mr. Bryan has a principle which he lives by that if it could be tomorrow given to every human of the world, this old world would change in the twinkling of an eye. The spirit which Mr. Bryan fights is that spirit among men which causes every man to look upon his fellow man as his enemy. The scientists can see the brute and the fight but they cannot see the peace and love which is required of them for a peaceful existence here in the world.

The Bible teaches that which Mr. Bryan stands for in this world. The bible teaches humility, peace, love, mercy, forgiveness and the brotherhood of man. Mr. Bryan is humble peaceful, merciful, forgiving, and loves his fellow man. He does not hate the scientist but his doctrine. He believes that men must come under the scope of the Bible in their living and dealing of man with man. He believes that instead of men creating and carrying on the old idea of the survival of the fittest, they should by their intelligence adopt a system which will cause humanity to develop toward an equality of existence. He believes that solution lies in the teaching of the Master who laid down his life on the cross.

The people who criticize Mr. Bryan by pulling the intellectual mote from his eye are not able to behold the wonderful beam in their own eye. Science can not live without the bible teaching, but the teachings will stand long after scientific theory is dead. The reason that the Bible will not out last theory is that it deals with the orderly existence of man.

Men should be willing to learn from the bible rather than to try to destroy it. Then, as we learn of those methods we should act upon them. The world can not be conquered by men fighting against the humility of a right social order, and the right individual conduct in that order. Those are the principles of Mr. Bryan's fight in upholding the doctrine contained in the scriptures. Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life.

HELPING CRIPPLES

To the Editor:

Do you pity a man whose body is permanently deformed? Do you sympathize with him and want to help him? If you do, treat him as an equal, don't show that you are sorry for him. To a crippled person there is no more discouraging thing than to be looked down upon and pitied, because every person who is deformed prides himself on keeping up with the pace set by able-bodied persons. He likes to think that they regard him as an equal, that they do not single him out for any sympathy.

In this University a surprising number of persons are crippled in some manner, a twisted foot, a deformed limb, or an arm or hand missing. They ask no favors, but are proud to keep up with the rest without being helped. Usually they try to conceal their deformities often they cannot. To the average student a cripple here is a common sight, but to the cripples themselves, they are a separate group. The deformed man imagines with dread that the occasional glances are not merely curious, but compassionate.

Crippled people have different personalities than others. They are quicker to notice a curious glance, and they readily recognize all that is behind it. They feel that any special privileges are evidence that they are pitied. A cripple seldom feels sorry for himself. He does not want to be considered a hero, because he is overcoming an obstacle. The only thing he dreads is that he will be isolated from the rest of the group, as he often must be in athletics. He wants to be one of the many, lost in the group, doing what the rest are doing, and getting the same treatment.

Dr. E. O. Hulburt Will Give Talk On Radio Today

Dr. E. O. Hulburt of the department of physics will give a lecture on the modern methods of high sensitivity of receiving, called "The Super Circuits of Modern Radio." This talk will be given this afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 301 of the physics building.

The methods of the regenerative, then the super-heterodyne and the super-regenerative circuits for radio reception will be described and explained and an experimental demonstration of regeneration and super-regeneration will be given.

At present these are the last word in modern high sensitivity methods of radio signals. The talk is not for those unacquainted with radio, but will perhaps interest amateurs and others who have had some experience in wireless communication. Dr. Hulburt said, "It will not be simple because it is not dealing with a simple subject, but it will be quite understandable."

Dr. Hulburt is conducting the course in radio offered by the department of physics.

HINDU STUDENT FORMERLY READ ENGLISH PROOFS

Engineering Student Was Proof-Reader For English Paper In Japan

Last year a proofreader on an English newspaper in Japan, this year a sophomore in the college of engineering at the State University of Iowa, is the unique classification of Makadeva Lol Shroff, a native of India. In Osaka, Japan, Mr. Shroff served both as instructor in foreign languages in an English college and as proofreader on the largest English newspaper there. Upon a friend's advice, however, Mr. Shroff decided to leave such opportunities behind and seek new ones at this University.

"I came to Iowa University because my friend like it so well," asserted Mr. Shroff in only slightly broken English. Five students from India are registered in the University; three in the college of engineering and two a candidates for the degree of master of science. Another Hindu, now attending the Iowa City high school, will enter the University next year.

"We do not find the studies in the engineering college difficult. In Japan students study always eight hours at home besides class work. Here we work mostly in class and study little at home. Only about two hours extra must I study now. But American customs are hard to learn. Always I must ask what and how to do and what not to do."

Osaka Manicchi, or The Daily News, an English daily newspaper printed at Osaka, Japan, where Mr. Shroff worked as proofreader, is the biggest paper of its kind in Japan.

The daily circulation is 50,000 copies or three times the combined circulation of the other five English papers. An all inclusive staff composed of Englishmen, Japanese and other foreigners numbers 300 people. The working hours for a proofreader there extend from 12 noon until 9 at night with a salary of from 200 to 300 yen, equivalent to $100 to $200. A bonus is added after a period of satisfactory service. The paper contains four pages with few advertisements.

Mr. Shroff, who is now 21 years old, was born in East India. He first studied engineering in an Indian college at Bhagalpur, Benares. Although most of the instructors in the college are natives of India, all speak the English language.

While attending the University, the Hindu students writes correspondence for Japanese papers. For one story printed about four months ago, he received the equivalent of $100 in gold. Mr. Shroff writes editorials chiefly concerning America and Americans.

There is a feeling of color obvious to the foreigner upon landing in San Francisco, according to the Hindu. Examinations are noticeably stricter for the colored immigrant than for the white man. Mr. Shroff states that this difference in attitude is only resented by the colored.

Pre-Dent Students Show Much Ability In Drawing Courses

Even though art and dentistry do not, upon first thought, seem closely allied, yet the pre-dental course at this University, offers a four hour drawing course in which Freshman students are strongly advised to register. This course in drawing combines three hours of free hand and one hour of instrumental drawing.

A casual observer, entering the studio of the pre-dents in the new studio annex building, would probably be surprised to find the men drawing models from real life, and the usual books, vases and fruit. One class is even engaged in modeling.

And yet this preparation is evidently considered essential by the National Association of Dentists, for in 1921, they recommended that the course be introduced into all first-class dental colleges.

"There are very good reasons for having taken the step," said Dr. Frank T. Breene, professor and dean of the college of dentistry. Mechanical drawing is invaluable in the dental anatomy and pathology courses. And the free hand drawing, besides giving the student the capacity for accurate vision, teaches him much which is important in the restoration of the facial expression. He has gained a clearer idea of symmetry, proportion and color, as well.

George L. Stout, who is an instructor in the graphic and plastic art department, says that some of the men show unusual ability. He says that a good art student is generally up in all of his work. Although none of the men registered in the course have decided to drop dentistry and go with art entirely, some students show unusual ability and many would make successful artists.

Northwestern Out To Stop Heckling At Cage Contests

The Daily Northwestern, Evanston, Ill.; A dangerous and exceedingly sportsmanlike practice is that of heckling the referee, is the opinion of those who, during the Iowa-Northwestern basketball game, heard the Northwestern fans disagree vociferously with the decisions of the officials.

Director of Athletics Dana M. Evans, with Captain Harold W. McKenzie, declared the act to be unjustified. The crowds cannot see all the fouls that are committed," Director Evans said, and Captain McKenzie, speaking for the members of the team, said: "It is disconcerting to the players on the floor when the crowds act in the manner in which they did at the last Iowa-Northwestern game.

The presence of all Zets, active, inactive, and graduate, is requested at Zet initiation tonight at Close hall at 7 p. m.

GLAPP RECEIVES CONCERT PROGRAM

Fifteen Numbers On Miss Case's Concert Here March 2

The program which will be given by Anna Case, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company at the men's gymnasium Friday, March 2, has been forwarded to Dr. Philip G. Clapp, manager of the University Concert Course which presents Miss Case as its fourth number.

The aria "Mi Chiamano Mimi" from the opera "La Boheme," by Puccini, will afford Miss Case opportunity to sing most brilliantly. Handel's inspired "Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me" is by many considered the most beautiful of that old master's compositions for the voice, and is admirably adapted to the delicacy and emotional quality of the artist. It is also of especial interest to note that the "Song of the Robin," words and music of Miss Case's own composition, will be the concluding number of the program.

Charles Gelbert Sprossm will accompany Miss Case. He has appeared with her in other concerts given in this state, and she has frequently included his works upon her programs.

The program follows:

- (No longer let me languish)
- (a) Lamento from "Ariana" (no longer let me languish) Claudio Monteverde (1868-1643); (b) Lithuanian Song, Chopin; (c) Chantons les Amours de Jean (Old French), arr. by Weckerlin; (d) Sleep why dost thou leave me, Handel; (e) Patron das Macht der Wind, Bach.
 - (a) Chanson Douce, Augusta Ohrstrom-Renard; (b) L'insect Aile, Emile Nerini; (c) Princessen, August Soderman; (d) Old Swedish Folk Dance, 15th century.
 - Aria, "Mi chiamano Mimi" from "La Boheme," Puccini.
 - (a) Angelus, Augusta Ohrstrom-Renard; (b) The Night Wind, Roland Farley; (c) Rain, Pearl Curran; (d) Synnove's Song, Halfdan

STUDENTS' FRENCH PLAY IS SUCCESS

Ability Shown By Members Of Cast; Settings And Acting Are Distinctive

Le Voyage de Monsieur Perrichon was played last evening by students of the French department before an appreciative. The successful performance can be attributed both to the sincere work of the cast and the cooperation of the French department. Miss Olive K. Martin and Prof. C. B. Young of the department of Romance Languages directed the production.

Paul A. Foley A1 of Corwith did outstandingly good work in his interpretation of Monsieur Perrichon, the egotistical bourgeois. By his clever line reading, his gait and bearing, and his facial expressions, Mr. Foley succeeded in representing to the audience the comic touches in the play and in his characterization in particular.

Daniel, the self-important, sophisticated young Parisian, played by Dell M. Fuiks A2 of Iowa City and Armand, the obliging, unassuming young gentleman, played by William Baird A1 of Mason City presented a fitting contrast. They did especially good work in the inn scene at Montanvert.

F. Lowell Otte A2 of Sidney as Commander Mathieu had the dignity and self-assurance which his interpretation demanded; Iness E. Straight A4 of Bedford as the gentle, naive Henriette, and Ruth M. Moscript Au of Marshalltown as Madame Perrichon were well cast.

Mary F. Finlayson A1 of Des Moines, in the part of Jeanne displayed exceptional ability in both acting and line reading.

The settings, mannerisms of the people in the group scenes and the acting of the entire cast made the play distinctly French in character.

Lay Plans Tonight For Fifteen Mile Swim Next Spring

Plans for a women's endurance swim to take place in the Iowa river next spring will be discussed after the Seal's club dinner today at 6 o'clock in the women's gymnasium. The swim will cover a distance of fifteen miles.

A date will be set and the women who enter the contest will start swimming the day after. It is expected that several days will be taken in order to accomplish fifteen miles of swimming. The winner of the contest must complete fifteen miles of swimming in a shorter amount of time than any one else in the group of entries.

"This plan has been successfully carried out by the Omaha Athletic association where a great deal of interest was created," said Margarita McGovney A2 of Iowa City, president of Seal's Club.

The plans of the W. A. A. swimming meet to be held next Saturday at 2 o'clock in the women's pool as well as the passing of life saving tests by March 1 will also be talked over tonight.

Sarah Cox A2 of Iowa City and Eleanor Chase A1 of Clinton are in charge of the dinner.

IOWA ELECTS RHODES MAN IN DECEMBER

University To Pick Five Candidates: One Named Studies At Oxford

Election of one Rhodes Scholar for the state of Iowa will be held in Iowa City on December 8, 1923 according to a report issued by the secretary of the committee of selection in this state Mr. Jacob Van der Zee, associate professor in the political science department.

Each year one Rhodes Scholar is selected from each of thirty-two states. He is sent to England to study at Oxford University for a period of three years. During this time he receives a stipend of three hundred and fifty pounds each year. No restriction is placed upon a Rhodes Scholar's choice of subject.

Applications are due October 27, 1923. Between October 1 and October 7 a faculty committee will select five representatives from the University and from these five and any others who are selected by colleges over the state, the Iowa representative will be chosen.

Rhodes Scholars are appointed on the basis of their record in school and college. To be eligible, a candidate must be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried, must be between the ages of nineteen and twentyfive and must have completed at least his sophomore year in college.

A candidate may apply either in the state in which he resides or in the one in which he has received at least two years of his college education. There are other qualities to be considered besides scholastic attainment. They are: qualities of manhood, force of character, and leadership; literary and scholastic ability and attainments; physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

Last year's Rhodes Scholar was Charles Bowie who left last September and is now studying at Oxford.

The committee of selection in the state of Iowa consists of President Walter A. Jessup, chairman, Jacob Van der Zee, associate professor of political science and secretary of the committee; President Hoffman of Central College, Pella; J. H. St. John of Arlinton; and Professor J. W. Woodrow of Ames. Professor Van der Zee advises those who are contemplating making application for the Scholarship to begin thinking about it and though there are no examination requirements, the applicant has to consider a great many other things which the committee considers.

The Rhodes Scholarship is good for three years, the sum of 350 pounds or approximately $1500 to be paid each year to the holder of the Scholarship. This is ample to cover the expenses of the student. He is not bound to take any designated subjects. Application blanks may be obtained from Professor Van der zee and any information desired in regard to the Scholarship. Any college in the State of Iowa is eligible to send representatives to Iowa City as candidates for election on December 8, 1923.

MEDICS TO BE ALLOWED TO TAKE STATE EXAMS

Medical students will be allowed to take their state board examinations at the conclusion of this year's work, according to a letter received by George I. Nelson M4 of Cherokee, president of the senior class in the college of medicine, from Doctor H. Fegan, secretary of the Iowa State Board.

A law was recently passed which requires graduates to complete a year's internship in a hospital approved by the American medical association before they are allowed to practice. This is the first class which the law has applied to. License will be given to those passing this examination to practice one year as an interne, but license to practice in the state will be withheld until a year of internship has been completed.
