Mme. Mrs. Mary Sanborn announced the marriage of her daughter, Alice, to Edgar Hoffman on Saturday, February 17 at Iowa City. Hoffman was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1922 and is a member of the American Bar Association. He is a member of the University of Iowa fraternity. The couple will live at their home in Chicago, Ill.

Meeting of students taking medical liberal arts and nursing courses in room 215, Library building, at 8 p.m.

Today, February 17 Regular meeting of Y. W. C. A. convenes at 4 p.m. art drawing room.

The University of Iowa fraternity with the ladies of Delta Xi Delta, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Phi Delta Kappa will hold their annual dinner dance last Tuesday evening, February 27 at 7:30 at the Hoffman hotel.

The-Fashionable Spring Styles are Here! Designs vary from the simple one-piece frock to the slim-fitting frock in pastel colors and the full-length frock in heavier material. The one-piece frock is the most popular style this spring, with the slim-fitting frock also gaining in popularity.

The Novel Suits

Half the business at Iowa is now being conducted by women. The demand for women's suits has increased considerably, and the styles are becoming more varied. The suits are made in a variety of materials, from cotton to wool to silk, and in a range of colors, from subtle pastels to bold primaries.

Dresses

Simplicity is the key note this spring and the experience of selecting the spring frock will be doubly exciting for this reason. While these and skirt dresses are more conservative, and those of trimming are in denim or linen or cotton, the latter type is very extravagant, they feature embroidery and fancy trimmings. The dresses will all be of the newer frocks that are emerging daily.

Suit dresses take on a new air with the sleeves, and the short outer shots are becoming more in demand. The jackets and the suits have become more important.

New World Loves a Lover

Unselfish love is the great developer of appreciative personalities. The love of sweethearts always commands admiration.

The love of sweethearts, a father for wife and family, a child for his parents, and that highest type of earthly affection—the mother’s love—are the greatest beautifiers of man and woman and the world at large.

A photograph for a loved one, is most refined and lasting method of expressing such affection "to the world."

Are you forgetting devoted friend, mother or family in this respect?

Work Of Church On Campus To Be Displayed Tonight

"The Church At Work on Campus," is the subject of the expositions before the Presbyterian Church tonight at 8 o'clock. Pictures of interesting student activities which make up the everyday life of students in all colleges of a great university, together with the most prominent buildings of the leading churches of the University of the Country will be shown. Members of religious organizations, church buildings and social centers, where the religious work is carried on are prominent features of the lecture. The chancel of the United States are at work in forty-five of the state institutions of higher learning. The Presbyterian church is carrying on work in forty-five of these. This church has full time University Pastors in seventeen states. In seven universitins the university pastor represents several denominations. In four centers there are student churches served by pastors, while ministering to the whole community. Work of this type is student work. In seventeen institutions there have been either assistant pastors or pastors of local churches who have given part time to university work.

GLAD THINGS

Yesterday we felt, or thought we felt, the first flush of spring. The sun was shining, the birds were singing, the flowers were beginning to bloom, and everywhere one looked the world seemed to be waking up to a new life. It was a beautiful day, and we are glad that it came.

A CRYING NEED

It is time that we come to our attention that the education, even that of the uneducated variety, do not adequately treat the subject of sports and games. They offer little help to the uninitiated and do not provide any knowledge of the language of the sporting page, and there would seem to be no way to do anything to encourage the young man who would like to supply this gap.

The best way to start is to compile a dictionary of a sort which should be as complete as possible and which should cover such common words as的心, heart, face, finger, front, and back.

This is what the "Journal" is for. It may be useful to a great many people.

Edition note—That the student body may become better acquainted with the University's student government, the Daily Iowan announces the following: The Daily Iowan is published every day of the academic year. The paper is edited by the student body, and the editor-in-chief is elected by the student body. The Daily Iowan is a non-profit organization.

O'REILLY POLICY: WE DON'T CARRY ANY LONGER A Legal and Literary Light

Written by GLADYS M. THORIN

Iowa's Seventy-Five Years (From the Tribune.)

The University of Iowa has flourished in the laboratory in which men of worth have developed their talents. Romance has been formed by those halls and made real by the people of literature, science and art. Randall Parrish, the popular writer, is now at work in the College of Literature and the University of Iowa can be justly proud. His novels and stories have been widely read and praised in all sections of the country.

Mr. Parrish was born in Hamlin County, Illinois, on June 4, 1913. His father was a teacher and his grandfather was a miner. He has been a writer all his life and has written many articles for newspapers and magazines.

He is a member of the Iowa and Nebraska Press Associations and the American Association of University Professors.

Parrish does not write from the standpoint of the author, but from the standpoint of a student. He has written many articles on war and on the place of the student in the world. He is a member of the American Association of University Professors.

During the war he wrote many articles for newspapers and magazines. He was a member of the staff of the New York Times and the Chicago Daily News. He is now working on a new book, "The Man in the Middle," which is due to be published next spring.
