THIRTY-FIVE TO PARTICIPATE IN GYM TOURNEY

Novice Gymnasts Will Compete in Series
5 of 6 Days Starting Tomorrow

Thirty-five university men interested in gymnastics will be participating in a meet Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The meet is open to the general public and admission will be charged. The object is to open it up to all undergraduates in good standing, without previous experience or any T. R. C. A. to those who have had experience in track, basketball, Turnverein, athletic associations or any other college or university organization providing they are in good standing.

The event of the evening will be exhibitions on the horizontal bar, horse, flying rings, parallel bars, vaulting and Indian clubs. Pastors will be counted as items, exhibitions and general ability. Each man will be allowed to enter in three pieces of apparatus work, with three exhibitions in each piece of work, making nine events for each team.

Those participating in the meet will be allowed to compete for honors of each group and also for individual honors of the whole meet. The event of the varsity gym team will count as Rutgers. Those who will participate in the meet are Coon of Correctionville and Ardeth Keokuk and Josephine Buis of Doon. Trager of Allison,....

DEAN SEASHORE WRITES ARTICLE IN THE OUTLOOK

Children Are Nation's Greatest Assets, Says Professor In Article

"The greatest asset in the possession of our nation is our children," Dean Seashore said in his article in the "Outlook". "For, in the opinion of many, these precious little ones are our greatest potential strength."

He declared that although extra-ordinary progress has been made in the health and education of our children, there is still much work to be done to provide for universal education and to raise the standard of living. Many of the children who would profit by educational advantages have been deprived of the benefits of age.

"The time is not too late," Dean Seashore wrote. "For, although many children are not yet ready for school, there are a large number who are."

The article concludes with a call for the parents to take greater interest in their children's education and to provide them with the best possible start in life.

Movie directors, please copy

IT is fiction and the movies all college men naturally fall into two groups. Those who pass their days and nights "Rah! Rah!" and snake-dancing; and those who never appear except with evening clothes— and cane.

The man who works his way through college simply doesn't figure.

Taking care of a furnace, running a laundry, waiting on table, tutoring, covering for a city paper, working in shop or office in vacation— all this may be lacking in romantic appeal, but it is an essential part of the college picture.

And a valuable part. The whole college is the-gainer for the earnestness of men who want to earn their way.

Valuable to the college, but even more to the men who travel this rough going. They learn an important lesson in Applied Economies— the amount of sweat a ten dollar bill represents.

If you are one of them you may sometimes feel that you are missing a good deal of worth- while college life. If you are not, you may be missing a good deal, too.

Iowa Alumni, Faculty, And Students Condemn Chicago University's Plan To Create New Highbrow Curriculum

City Sights Finish

That the program proposed by the University of Chicago to enroll, to drop athletics, and social life generally, to equal the fraternity and with, and to require shorter enrollment requirements, seems implausible, before adoption is the general volition of faculty members and alumni at this University. According to "The Daily Menorah," official student newspaper at the University of Chiicago, the plan is an answer to the opinion of faculty members and alumni. The plan believes that too many students are of "educated simpletons now being graduate college at this life gradually, to expel the frivolous ics. The or more academic requirements needs modification before adoption is the general volition of faculty members and alumni at this University. According to

Chester L. Weirbach, also with the geography department, here believes that too many students are of high value for educational pursues work under pressure. Very good work can be found for making Chicago a purely graduate school.

Professor O. R. W. Yen, head of the department of botany says
