The objects in this work are to use the tests on the children when first seen to determine whether they are typical of other boys in the same grade or of their own age, and whether they have been referred to the secretary for study, then testing them for certain mental capacities, or in the case of boys, standardized tests.

At present only three schools are represented, where the experiments have been done for Dr. Morgan's work, but there are eight more schools in which Dr. Morgan does chaperon these tests until he is able to give them to all these schools to help in getting the necessary information.

The "objects in the work are to use the tests on the children when first seen to determine whether they are typical in any way or in other words, whether the children testing them become fitted to their mental capacity, or in the case of boys, standardized tests. The trouble which we are most peculiarly interested in is that it is possible that hundreds of these cases have been overlooked or repeated, and it is possible that the treatment is not adequate to the child's needs. Home Ex Students Are Taught To Make Their Own Easter Bonnets: Exhibit Will Be Next Wednesday

Making Easter bonnets is a part of the curriculum work of twenty-four of the Freshman and Sophomore girls who were registered for the millinery course in the home economics department. This girl's work in the E. U. home economics department is of such a nature that it can only be developed in the home itself. Under the direction of the instructor, nineteen of these girls, under the supervision of Miss Holman, have been working on the millinery course. Each girl was given a size of silk or colored linen, just to the measure of the head of the student, and she was planned to be finished by the Easter in a manner of fancy which is sure to please. The other five girls were given the materials and were placed into the class of individual students. There is a very wide range of the possible variety of such of each of the women registered in the millinery course. Will be finished and planned the finished student in a few minutes. A list of the materials and the price of the materials, also a list of estimates of what would be the probable prices of the bonnets that are on the down towns, shows a wide range of the variety. The making of the bonnets was very often outlined by making the hats instead of buying a complete millinery. An exhibit of the spring hats, which have just been completed by the students, will be on exhibition at the department of home economics and subscription by each girl.

Every thrifty mother in this community will see the value of buying these hats for her daughter, ages 4 to 9 years. These hats are available, for a very small price each.

April Issue Of Transit Goes To Printers; Out Soon

The April number of the Transit comes to the press today and will appear immediately after printing week. In this number will be found a complete resume of March work along with a number of the parade and show. The cover this time will be a picture of the April issue "Mount" which adorned the February building during the month previous. The picture was taken in the evenings and shows up very well.

The main articles in this issue will be by Charles E. Schuette the editor-in-chief of the magazine as "How to Renew Saddle," an article on the new line of saddle trim by the authors of the applied science of the University of Iowa and of the University of this issue in exchanging professors for a short period of time during the past year. Prof. F. C. Rigdon was the member of the University of Iowa instructor of art. To try this year.

Besides this the regular sections will be found which appear in every issue. Capt. E. E. Knecht of the Transit and Kenneth J. War of Cedar Rapids is the editor-in-chief. This is the first issue to be put out by the new staff.

The Easter Chapeaux

The pinks, the picture hat, the sports hat, all are here, in a variety of pleasing styles, Ribbons decked, with flowers and feathers in abundance. Stitt's holds forth a bonnetted assortment for the woman who chooses her millinery judiciously, whether she wants "the" spring hat or just "another" spring hat.

SCHNEIDER SAYS PHILOSOPHY IS IN THE MAKING

Yo System Of Thought Known Today Can Be Called American

"There is no system of thought that can be termed the American philosophy," said Dr. Schneider, Columbia University in speaking to Prof. George T. W. H. 1945 in the philosophy. Dr. Schneider goes on to discuss the interesting changes in the surrounding movements in American history and the important movements that have made us think the way we do.

One very encouraging tendency of today was pointed out by Dr. Schneider—that is that up until 1900 all philosophical thought has been in the main part in the hands of green, pedantic, and literary minds. The fact that this work was important by literary men does not lessen its philosophical value, for the fact that such men are so much in the public eye shows that his thought was put down in the form of literary writing and as a result had no place in the form of exposition. New however, modern-day philosophers thought is developing rapidly in our universities and colleges. Dr. Schneider interviewed a very encouraging sign that the writers themselves believe in the same academic philosophy and that of the crude world is decreasing.

As Dr. Schneider closed the presentation of the new philosophical thought, he passed on to the philosophical thought of to-day. The subject of this talk was the questions of religious and political philosophy.
