POINT SYSTEM IS REVISED TO MEET DEMANDS

Restriction of Number of Activities Given More Students Advantage

The point system has been revised by W. C. A. to meet new demands and circumscriptions. By new regulations, students in the Delta Chi fraternity will be given the privilege to limit the number of activities in which they may take part. The system up to now has encouraged most students to take part in many activities. This new provision will make it possible for students to engage in more outside activities than they can at present.

The rules will be as follows: For freshmen, the count will be eight; sophomores, fifteen; seniors, twenty; junior, the count on the system will be limited to eleven. The count on the system is limited to six, and may not be altered except by the president of the departmental organization.

Iva Baker, Former Student, Defends an Alleged Murderer

Iva G. Baker who was graduated from the college of law in 1912 is the first woman in the legal history of the state to appear in our watch fashions according to an announced press dispatch.
She appeared for the defendant Tuesday in the final arguments of the case of Boon v. Steen, being billed before a district court jury at Anamosa. She is charged with the murder of William Shipley who was shot to death January 8.

Lawyers claim that he was not aggressor in the crucial between George Shipley and Shipley and allege that he was carrying the rifle that foul in fatal shots for unjust hunting purposes, in an effort to disprove the alleged charge of premeditated murder. Miss Baker is making the de-sence case.

While in the University, Miss Bajcr was president of Kappa Delta Chi sor-ity and Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She took her bachelor of law degree and graduated from law in 1912.

WRESTLING SQUAD TO CHOOSE CAPTAIN

Two Seniors, Ted Pfeifer and James, Are Eligible For The Position

The 1923 varsity squad will meet at the gym next week Tuesday morning at 7:00 for next year's team. The only two candidates for the captain are Ted Pfeifer, haxton-weight champion of the conference and a veteran of two years' experience. Coach W. J. Jones, the Hawkeye's-depend-table manager, who has held the team for two years. These two are the only candidates on record, and it has always been a custom of Iowa to start squad work in all branches of sports.

The Hawkeyes should have a very successful season under the lead-ingship of Captain Alke Shiftley and the careful tutelage of Coach Miss Mary Wilson. Miss is Walter's last year on the squad as he graduates in May.

The man who will receive letters for wrestling this year are Captain Edward Hunt, heavy weight; D. W.
Jones, light heavy; Thomas, middleweight and B. J. Pfenner middle-weight, R. G. Lane, lightweight, G. W. Siebert, middleweight, and Ted Pfeifer, haxton-weight and conference champion.

Right on Left Handed,
That Is The Question
For Science To Solve

Are you left-handed or right-

handed?

Are you left-handed or right-
handed?

Are you left-handed or right-
handed?

Are you left-handed or right-
handed?

The question is one which would be doubt as to the answer of Robert.
M. Salter, Director of Chemistry at Cornell University. He knows he writes with one of the two, is not sure which.

The truth is that his entire body is built on a common English plan.

Last year Dr. McDougal, Jacobian teacher of the college of medicine, found a number of Cornellmen who were right handed and failed to hear the pupa of the hands; of those who were "left handed" he found
"nothing of the sort," thought he therefore to test a larger number in the hopes of being able to discover some way to decide the question.

The results were so interesting that they are ponder over the right side of the Cornellian's thought and found some idea of the hand distinc-ty.

Further investigation proved that his liver had drifted a right and hand was found fascinating in the left side while his spleen which has had scurried over to the opposite flank ever been an ordinarily backbone.

Some day that his left eye is likely to have the view he himself or not, ever Colbert-ton; or left.

Yet this is not healthy, and normal, and right and left.

In spite of the fact that only right hand actually points the way and he knows not whether he is right or left side.

The second is to wonder which he was—right or left handed.

A SONG WHICH TYPIFIES IOWA

Iowa might well follow the example of Yale in choosing a prize for a new representative college song. Instead of purchasing the copyright of "On Iowa," the money might be diverted into a fund to encourage the writing of a song which better typifies the Iowa campus and the Iowa spirit. "On Iowa," in its present form, is too dry and not well suited to any group of college students. In the new, the Iowa spirit is searched for much too "of Wisconsins" to ever establish itself very firmly in the tradition of the University.

The same holds true of "Old Gold." While the song is somewhat commendable, its words are particularly well suited to Iowa, but its melody is that of nearly every high-school and small college song in the country. Originality is to be prized above all else in a college song. If the words of "Old Gold" could be set to a different tune, this could be accomplished.

Many generations of popularity Yale has decided that the time has come for a new standard of songs in its student college songs."On Iowa" now sung to the tune of "Die Wacht aus Rhön." Alumni are offering a prize of $1000 for a representative song.

Since this is the same amount which the publishers of "On Iowa" ask for their copyright, the money now being raised through the sale of song books to buy publication rights would suf

AWFUL ANECDOTES

The other day a representative of the Western Hosiery Company was introducing an eagle with a soaring motion. His conversation with one prospect had progressed to the point where he had offered him the opportunity of trying on a new silk shirt in the men's section of the store.

"But," said the young man, "I expect to get my master's degree in June." "Oh, that's right," replied the expert. "We won't cut your salary any on that account."

Entries in the weekly headline contest continue to pour in. Here is one more for your consideration.

LONGER WHICH ATTRACTION AT STATE TEACHERS' ACADEMY

Dear Seventeen:

You are many, readers, to say that the "Beatle" is more exciting than the "Star Wars". "Beatle" fans are much more innocent in their admiration of the charactor, just as "Star Wars" fans are more innocent in their admiration of the charactor. May the charactor with us always...

Yours sincerely,

TARRAN.

If you're a Beatle fan, you're probably used to hearing the words "Beatle" as a verb. But if you're a Star Wars fan, you're probably more familiar with the word "Star Wars" as a noun.

It's a common mistake to think that "Beatle" and "Star Wars" are synonyms. In fact, they are very different words.

"Beatle" is a verb and "Star Wars" is a noun.

"Beatle" is a verb because it describes an action, such as "I Beatle in the park." "Star Wars" is a noun because it describes a thing, such as "I own a Star Wars book."
Start In At The Bottom Rung And Climb To Top Of Ladder
Is The Advice Of Dr. Person

"The old expression of starting at the bottom and climbing to the top is sound advice, but the subject of this advice must be interpreted in the light of the circumstances under which the advice is given. "

Dr. Person, who is giving a series of lectures in the state, says that one of the most important things to remember when one is starting at the bottom is that one's character cannot be altered by any amount of money or position. "It is true that money and position can bring one to the top in the business world, but unless one has the character necessary to maintain this position, it cannot be obtained."

Dr. Person further says that the character necessary to the man at the top must be acquired at Dr. Person said he believed that in the business world, one must have a keen sense of the value of time and money. "Time is money, and those who value their time will be the ones who succeed," said Dr. Person.

Dr. Person also says that it is necessary to the man at the top to have a strong will and determination. "A man who lacks these qualities will never be able to attain success," said Dr. Person.

Dr. Person says that it is necessary to the man at the top to have a strong sense of justice and fairness. "A man who lacks these qualities will never be able to maintain a position of authority," said Dr. Person.

Dr. Person also says that it is necessary to the man at the top to have a strong sense of the value of the community. "A man who lacks this sense of the community will never be able to maintain a position of authority," said Dr. Person.

Dr. Person concludes his lecture by saying that it is necessary to the man at the top to have a strong sense of the value of the community. "A man who lacks this sense of the community will never be able to maintain a position of authority," said Dr. Person.
