Cold Weather Slow, Second Shoutout; Duhm Starts

Playing in a frigid blizzard which only a few of large crowd of fans were able to brave, the Iowa Hawkeyes, led by the famous Coe College nine, tried to turn the tables on Old Mound yesterday afternoon. The freezeout came off, only one win, that in the fourth inning, when Coe went out for the third time with two down, but Duhm and.literal at the top and bottom. The game went on until after noon with the straining out Drake and hitting the final base, and the Hawkeyes, by 8-0, in five hours time.

The wins of the Hawkeyes were only the second in the Old Gold nation. The other was won by Iowa last year when the game was called in the 26th inning.

The Hawkeyes, who are tied for third place in the conference, have continued to bring in nothing but good in the tournament. Last week they won their first game and are now up on the ridge for another.

HONOR IOWANS

IOWA HISTORIANS' WORK IS PRaised

W. J. Moxley, New York Expert in Administration Here For Conference

"The work of the State Historical Society of Iowa has been of wellnigh inestimable value, not only to the present generation, but to the generations yet unborn. It is a work of supreme importance."

Mr. Moxley said that the work of the society was not only of service to the State, but also to the nation. It was a work of national importance, and its value was incalculable.

The conference lasted for three days, and during that time the members of the society made a detailed examination of the society's records, and discussed their work.

The society has been in existence for more than 50 years, and during that time it has published a large number of volumes on various topics, including the history of Iowa, the history of the United States, and the history of the world.

During the conference, Mr. Moxley made a number of suggestions for the future work of the society. He suggested that the society should publish more books, and that it should also make a greater effort to secure funds for the support of its work.

The conference was well attended, and the members of the society were much pleased with the work that had been done, and the progress that had been made.

The society will continue its work, and will make every effort to secure funds for the support of its work. It is confident that it will succeed, and that it will be able to continue its work for many years to come.
COX LAYS RUHR DIFFICULTIES TO UNITED STATES

THINKS AMERICA SHOULD MEDITATE SETTLEMENT PLAN FOR BOTH NATIONS

By United Press

Berlin, N. Y., April 3.—Responsibility for a large part of Europe’s troubles lies at the door of the United States government, James W. Cox, democratic standard bearer of 1920, once declared the solution of the reparations problem is by no means far off. ‘The French and British are waiting in the wings, and will act on a plan which settlement might be reached. ‘It is not as difficult as I thought it was in 1918, when the French and British were strong, and it is not as difficult as it would be now, if the French and British could agree.”
