Yolanda Marries Commoner Amid Cheers

OF FASCISTI; MASSOLINI READS CEREMONY

Ornate April 3—Italy's "romantic" wedding has won Princess Tamara, the beautiful 13-year-old Italian princess, the hand of Count Sangro, son of an old Roman noble family. The marriage took place in the presence of a high official, and the ceremony was a simple one, with no religious or civil participation.

SNEAKERS SPOTTED AT CARNIVAL

CORNELL BALL TEAM TO PLAY HAWKS TODAY

Change in Lineup An Easy Tie With Mt. Vernon Nine

Valentine's pitching was the outstanding feature of yesterday's between the varsity and Cornell.

The varsity outscored the Cornell team, 13 to 9, and with the score tied up at 9 late in the game, the Cornells were eliminated in the first base.

SPEECH THURSDAY OPENED OFFENSIVE ADMINISTRATION CAMPAIGN

Washington, April 3—Senator Ford, chairman of the Senate special committee that killed the treaty of Versailles, is preparing to hold a debate against the Senate's adherence to the international court at the request of a number of senators by degrees.

BOB'S MEET AGAINST WORLD COURT

Iowa Women Debate Go To St. Louis For Political Session

The women's negative debate issue, which will wage a verbal battle tonight with the ladies of the Washington University in the press, was discussed in the Senate yesterday.

FROSH ORATORS COMPETE TONIGHT

Everything depends upon the action of the Senate, which was not as one a piece in a debate in the department of education, where Howard was well received in the Senate.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

We have the greatest Uni- versity in the world if we get busy and do something for it. The institution of William F. Russell, dean of Columbia University, has been expressed at least twice in his battle to the $300,000 endowment fund, which has been started in the Senate.

UNION WORKERS OPEN CAMPAIGN WITH BANQUET

Drive Will Close Friday At Noon—Reports To Be Made At

Cox City, April 3—Cincinnati—News of the militant union campaign, which has already affected the work of the House of Labor, will soon be a reality in the United States. The leaders of the movement have already held their hands on a new and important document, which will be sent to the closest of the union workers.

A strong movement having been started in all parts of the country, each worker is getting the order to take the nearest meeting place in order to be able to participate in the struggle. The meeting place will be the entrance of a football game, which has already been announced.

Loyola's ‘continuous training’

Most of the varsity swimmers are enrolled in the Greek Club. Many of them are registered in the swimming classes while a few are working to pass their expert swimming test. The rabbits' dining at the Delfi- nium will hold its winter river season this year probably in May and a good many of the members in keeping for conditions.

STUDENT LABOR SPOTLIGHTS CAREERS

The center lines again—freshly cut after a vacation of nearly six months—which is nearly six months. The color line will next be used on the game of the season on the day following the first game.

The Iowa varsity rifle team won its first victory of the season yesterday when it defeated the Illinois varsity marksmen by a final score of 3781 to 3682 points. This was made out of a possible 5000 points. The match was fired out of the four positions: prone, standing, kneeling, and walking. An unusual feature of the game was the winning from Illinois in the standing and kneeling positions, tying in the prone, and losing in the walking position. HAWAIIAN MELODIES TO FEATURE CONCERT

Consociation Club Presents Variety Of Music Program April 7

Musical numbers of special interest will feature the production of the University's finest student music program, the Consociation Club will give on April 7, in the natural science building. Present pieces include numbers 11 to 20 in the popular Hawaiian repertoire. Among the numbers to be sung are such well known standards as "The Star Spangled Banner," "The Land of the Midnight Sun," and others.

The object of the party is to help the Chinese women and Y.W. members choose the best of Hawaii and Pacific cultures to return to better acquainted.

The final number of the evening will be "The Sea in Spring," and the evening will conclude with a speech by Prof. Philip. Fong of the school of education at Columbia University.

The program of the evening will be announced to the members of the university as a whole, and the students interested may attend without charge and are encouraged to do so.

Iowa City Weather

Milder Every Year

Due To Shifting Sun

Old residents of Iowa City will tell you the winters they used to know have been mild for a hundred years or so. How they have gone from bitter cold to pleasant weather and from a relatively hot summer to a cool one.

One reason for this change is the shifting of the sun, which makes the days longer and the nights warmer. The sun is the main source of energy for the earth and the atmosphere.

The sun is a star, and the earth is orbiting around it in an elliptical path. As the earth orbits the sun, different parts of the planet receive different amounts of sunlight. This causes the seasons: spring, summer, fall, and winter.

The Earth's orbit is tilted slightly with respect to its axis, which is tilted slightly with respect to the plane of its orbit. This tilt causes the seasons.

The equinoxes occur when the Earth is positioned such that the plane of the equator is perpendicular to the plane of the Earth's orbit. At this time, day and night are of equal length, and the sun shines directly overhead at noon. The vernal equinox occurs around March 20th, and the autumnal equinox occurs around September 22nd.

In 1935, the sun was in a different location in the sky, which affected the length of the days and nights. This change in the sun's position caused the mild weather.

In 1935, the sun was positioned such that the Earth received more sunlight than it did in previous years. This resulted in longer days and warmer nights.

As a result of this change, the temperatures were mild, and the winters were less severe. This change is expected to continue for many years to come.

The Education Department

School of Education

The University of Iowa has a long tradition of excellence in education, and is consistently ranked among the top universities in the United States. The university offers a wide range of programs and degrees, from undergraduate to doctoral levels. The faculty is composed of experienced and dedicated educators, and the student-to-faculty ratio is保持 within a balanced range. The campus is located in beautiful Iowa City, which is known for its historic buildings, natural beauty, and welcoming community.

The Educational System

The Iowa City area is home to several educational institutions, including the University of Iowa, Kirkwood Community College, and St. Ambrose University. These institutions provide a variety of educational opportunities at different levels, including high schools, two-year colleges, and four-year universities.

The Iowa City area is also home to several public and private schools, including elementary and secondary schools. These schools are run by the local school district, and are funded by a combination of state and local taxes.

The Education Community

The Iowa City community is committed to providing high-quality education for all residents. The community is known for its strong support of education, and for its commitment to providing equal opportunities for all students. The community is also known for its strong sense of civic pride, and for its support of local educational institutions.

The Future of Education

As the world becomes more complex and globalized, the importance of education will continue to grow. The University of Iowa and other educational institutions will continue to adapt and innovate to meet the needs of a changing world. The future of education will be shaped by advances in technology, changes in societal values, and shifts in economic and political landscapes.

In conclusion, the University of Iowa is committed to providing a high-quality education for all students. The university is dedicated to preparing students for successful careers and fulfilling lives, and to fostering a community of lifelong learners. The future of education at the University of Iowa is bright, and the university is poised to continue its tradition of excellence and innovation.
EXPLAINS WAY OF MEASURING MUSIC TALENT

Dean Seashore Writes Article on Matter Of Categorizing Statistics

Mental talent is resolvable into a number of inherent natural capacities which may be isolated and measured appropriately for statistical purposes," writes Dean Carl E. Seashore, head of the psychology department, in his article "Inherited and Natural Inheritance of Mental Traits," Vol. 1 of "Essays, Germs and the Family."

"The approach to the problem of inheritance of mental talent from the point of view of empirical deduction is not into five stages or steps," states Dean Seashore. (1) The analysis of what constitutes mental talent and the isolation of measurable factors. (2) The development and standardization of methods of measurement and rating of each of these talents under control. (3) The actual field work of measuring the inherent capacities of a group of selected family groups. (4) The interpretation of the results in terms of biological principles of heredity, determination, and disintegration of established facts. (5) Application of the findings.

"We want to stress the idea that a person in order to musical talent, natural talent, be declared, "he is gifted with such a gift or talent." Typically, there are three points of talent corresponding to the three electronic pitch, time and intensity of sound; and these are represented at four levels, namely, the representation, the highest capacity and the uncontrolled.

"Musical capacity for pitch is represented typically as measurement of the sense of pitch, the sense of time and the sense of intensity of sound, and it is measured, for example, in beats per minute, or in notes per second. The other methods would be to achieve an accurate correspondence with situations which have different measurable and measurable capacities and services provided and children at the same time, taking account of the diversity of resources in the measure of natural talent from the representation, a great variety of abnormal and uncontrolled characters."

Dean Seashore concluded his article by saying that if certain musical traits are identical as we believe them to be, it is quite within the scope of future generations to enhance the quality and degree of a talent by selective selection.

Dean Sperry Was First Michigan Rhodes Scholar

Dear Willard T. Sperry, who will speak in Iowa City at vespers on Tuesday, April 15, was the first Rhodes scholar to be sent from Michigan to Oxford. He received his B. A. from his college, in 1911, and his M. A. in 1913.

He was instructed in Congregational Seminary in 1906 and entered Oxford as a Rhodes scholar in 1907. According to Dean Seashore, only one other method was to be achieved, that of making the facts which have different measurable capacities and services provided and services in the same year, taking account of the diversity of resources in the measure of natural talent from the representation, a great variety of abnormal and uncontrolled characters."

Dean Sperry concluded his article by saying that if certain musical traits are identical as we believe them to be, it is quite within the scope of future generations to enhance the quality and degree of a talent by selective selection.

CABINET TALKS OVER ENGLAND'S FIVE PROBLEMS

Bonar Law, After Beatingfeat At Polls, Facing Discord With Policy

(By United Press)

London, April 1—Bonar Law, Liberal's opponent of "toryism" called the House of Commons in a "tory" government Monday after the Tory govern- ment had resolved another economic debate at the polls and as England was about to deal out three vacation problems.

1. Unemployment. The Legions of unemployed who have never been as active in industry since the demobilization of the army have been en- couraged by thousands of petitions par- ticularly sent out to a general with an half million votes in the House of Representatives for an armistice. If wages are reduced, result of ARMS building trade ed- ducer impress us.

2. Housing. Lack of adequate house- building facilities, and the consequent increase in room to rent has caused great dis- satisfaction all over the country. The government has not permitted any ex- ception of the problem, which raises to such substantial objections to any side.

3. The Budget. Stanley Baldwin, treasurer of the expenditure, finds himself in trouble as he refuses to pay the budget for the Tories in the polls. The labor party is demanding a budget levy in order to yield the levy on.

4. A real agenda. Even mem- bers of Bonar Law's own party are demanding that the government build a huge social armistice, equal at least, to that of Pueepe. There is increasing fear of the superiority of the French in the air.

5. International relations. The French occupation of the Ruhr is being watched by wide-eyed interest and there is criticism on all sides of the "Buneau" of the Weimar republic, maintained by the government. Buneau in a speech in the House of Commons declared that there was to be no change in the policy and that he had an announcement to make concerning the moment when Madame Lebrun should be the French industrialist, to Leopold Liebknecht and Karl Liebknecht, who dreamed of revolution, openly showed their dis- content because of that that the government's "no nothing program".

Another example of dissatisfaction with Bonar Law's "toryism" is the fact that a parliament was called for the third. This makes the third false of the Tories at the polls recently.

ELVES KEVU MAKES HIT IN "BARNYARD FREQUENT"

Iowa City on Monday was the scene of a new of Orpheum brand vaudeville hits when city talent exposed by University students put on a program known as "The Elven Review" at the Orpheum Theatre.

Besides such well known attractions as the Men's Blue Club, the grove band and Fred Law's band of signed men, there were those new-filly hits in the acts known as Mlle. Adelle Robarre, the famous par- taker of hair, and a cast of the scenes composed of orphans, Wynne and Bob, the young mare and stage rider.

Centrally was raised to forty feet the set built as the McKinley home in the film "Florida" and the identity of the boy who illness with organized groups of angels and flung defeat using by the more Grace Gay in the program.

Those acts, which are always cal- led to please, such as the Elven's spring, and John J. Borden's song act, were interspersed between the more elaborate gents numbers called to achieve parties and life of Surfaceners.

It is asked that Orpheum fans be introduced to the city life of today, for the the city that has long since been the identity of the boy who illness with organized groups of angels and flung defeat using by the more Grace Gay in the program.
