GERMANY WILL BE TAXED

BY PAYING INDUSTRIALISTS

Make Announcement of New Offer; Will Put Up Railroads As Security

(From The News)

Bella, May 1—Germany proposes to pay its reparations by giving the allies heavy taxing powers. This was revealed Monday when further details of Germany's new reparations offer which is to be made today became known.

The government in a note to the allies and the United States will offer to sell for thirty billion gold marks, which is said to be less than an international loan.

The national railways of the country are to be offered as security for the loan.

Germany will promise the allies to institute financial reforms and to cease the insulators to pay heavy taxes to carry the reparations burden.

The fact that the national railways will be offered as security for a loan and the details of the industrialists is known to those that believe that the Americans and the reparations agreement are not merely back of the government's real intentions of the government to force the capitalists to bear a share of the tax burden—which both sides have been able to escape—will be altered as further evidence that they are working to put their support to the government.

The government plans to turn the thirty billion gold marks raised by the international loan over to the allies to pay any additional taxes that any international commission demanding that Germany should pay. Advice from Paris indicates that France will call a conference of all the major nations to discuss the German offer as soon as possible. The American and Dutch ambassadors were to arrive in Berlin today concerning the forthcoming offer.

NO LET UP FOR HAWKEYE NINE AFTER VICTORY

Coach Barry Driven Men For Three Combating Against Away From Home

There was no let up in activities on Iowa Field for the baseball squad yesterday afternoon after their well-earned victory over the non-scoring Illini crew on Monday. Coach George Barry took the two-hour practice period to teach his men through a long practice on hitting the ball, finding with a trigger-finger deal.

Phil, Len, Fred, and Dunn Hurwell, well-known on farewell touring, took turns on the string, running down to the vanity ajar, the men making the opportunitey to improve their swings and fundamentally to practice playing the ball.

Extra thanks were heard on the last night of the week.

No Javier's battle

SUNSHINE and blue skies greeted the Hawkeyes as they took to the field and in the field, with the necessity of turning into the stands, the fiery players should turn in several more tests but be certain the game is completed.

The Hawkeyes will battle with Minnesota at Minneapolis on Saturday, Michigan at Ann Arbor Monday and Notre Dame at South Bend on Tuesday. The trip will take up the greater part of five days. If Coach Barry's men come through with victories, the remainder of the men is practically assured.

Thirty Five Report

For First Practice Of Frosh Players

Uncle Sam's review interfered with freshman baseball practice last night, and only thirty-five were able to report for the workout on the freshmam field. The majority of those who did report regarded, and gave little promise of turning into the colors of players needed to fill blanks in varsity's party. Part of this past display, however, is undoubtedly due to the late start of freshman base ball.

Last year nearly ninety men reported for baseball, and a strong team which administrated several defeats in the country was formed. Those of the men on the varsity this year, Frankly, Gold, and Orland ka and free of the pitchers. Haskell and Dubz were numbers of the men.

All freshmen who are going on for baseball are expected to report today at the freshman field, as already as practice at 4 p. m.

laws to protect its interests. In the future it seems probable that there may be more strict licensing of pilots, and traffic regulations will be enforced. Already many cities have specified the minimum height at which planes may fly over them.

There are not enough airports in the air now to create a pressing demand for laws, but such men as Hoover are anticipating a great increase. The air cannot remain empty property when it is used for such essential government projects as official courier and mail carrying, and air law dabbling is a necessity.

CONTTEMPORARY OPINION

(Taken from the New York Herald)

TAKING THEIR SPORT MADLY

In the way of sporting in the land of England appears to have been reached the record on Saturday, when 280,000 persons jammed into the Wembly Hill Stadium to watch the final of the soccer championship while others thousands thumbed the gates, and there were 1,500 casualties, including many broken limbs. We have seen some great crowds at the Tate, the Rialto in the Polo Grounds and the Yankee Stadium, but all of them together would hardly hold the mad array that tramped over the pastures at Wembly. King George was present, and duties he was never before called upon to perform.

The terrific interest in association football in Great Britain is due to sectional rivalry, growing to a frenzy as the process of elimination goes on until within two teams are left to fight it out. In the tight little island nation does not forbid everylein obstacle to make an effort to see the fray.

Then there is the gambling factor. The British sporting papers on little and great occasions is given to betting beyond the American habit. Where their money is there will be their hearts, and ours also, as the race courses and tracks are running.

The Wembly shot suggests that it may become more hazardous to try to飕se sport stunts than to engage in it unless British stadiums are enlarged indefinitely. The sporting fever may run on so high over here, but it breaks out in a thousand marshalled fields from New York to California, a million and one spots, and everywhere.

Hough was Fine Student at Iowa

Death Yesterday morning by University Health Service

Edward Hough, former student and janitor at the University of Illinois, Monday, was a bright star in the annals of the University of Iowa, the dainty tomes of the registrar's office reeled today. Much of his marks book is reeled in the records annua- ries of 1889 and 1917. Mr. Hough was graduated from the University in 1892 with the degree of bachelor of philosophy.

Another interesting revelation of the records is the fact that Mr. Hough's lowest mark at the University was 88 and that was in literature, the field in which he did his best. A note written beside the mark, however, reveals the fact that the offspring of an examination might have something to do with it. In his junior year he received a mark of 89 in English literature. Mr. Hough began his college ca- reer at the University in 1891, coming from his home of North, Newton, Iowa. It's a tradition in educating high marks in Latin, mathematics, German, zoology, analytical geometry, English literature, French and German, botany, the classics, art, and in his junior year he had a mark of 89 in English literature.

Judge Hough, now a resident of Bloomington, was probably Mr. Hough's best friend in their student days. He had a reunion with Mr. Hough last winter and prepared a new song for the afternoon program, "We sang songs at the close of the commencement exercises of 1917 in Bloomington, Judge Hough was a member of trying societies, one of the university literary societies. He had abilities for a speaker, said Judge Byington, but he had great talent as a writer. His name appears in the files of the University Student Society as one of its prominent members.
