Harding To Outline

His 1924 Policy

With equal assurance, President

Harding might claim, "I am the possible party."

For all the political developments which will culminate in the campaign of 1924 are tending to outer

痘ous of the party in the

Thus, for instance, the Daughters announced that Mr. Harding will be a candidate in 1924. That attained every other major party leaders and was a way of supporting him. But he has a smaller bone to his leader now and to his forthcoming western and Alaskan trip will mandate that the president go directly from

'trom the west to west, and from that the first three days of the Purists will turn out to see him.

They will carry a message of what he said when political opinthe republican party will say in 1924.

In other words, he is going to present public confusion from a republican point of view, and through have he is not going to talk politically, he will be giving the country enormous notice of the republican plains of 1860—the platform on which he will be a candidate.

That is why politicians here feel used to get out of them, nor are the almost religious fervor Wilson could break. In fact, Mr. Harding doesn't anyway get his conquerors stirred the pitch. Many of his predenators reached when they went about to be a public. But he likes to make up with them and John with them, and story seems to be like it, too. Many

HARMON FOUNDATION SELECTS IOWA TO Help In Loan Fund Experiment

Iowa is one of the twenty Universities chosen by the Harmon Foundation to conduct an educational experiment in the field of co-education. The number of men who enter a college, listen to their lessons, and learn the world-look, is of course important. This University must be a great master, great even though they be ignorant of the literature of the world. It contains immortal extracts from Bjornson, Turgenev, Dostoevsky, and others by informing the common people of their work. The argument that the co-educational system is damaging to the world is the same as that which saying that the pulling of the plow is damaging to the world. It is a reflection of provincialism.

prove that the old man found was that of Mount. It would be easy enough to make a piece of cloth of the proper color, and the pieces of tape that were used to hold the false face on could be used to make a dummy.

There are a large number of students at the high school who believe that there is a frame-up in it somewhere, and that Mount has been faked. The police have not yet found any reason for such a belief.

Beloved Body Was Hidden

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 1—A seedy-looking crypt where the body of Leighton Mount, Northwestern university student, was left to be buried by his attendant, was located by a policeman early today. The body was in the room in the apartment where Mount lived.

After reconstructing a detailed necropsy of the body, the coroner declared that Mount was slain by a has-been extortionist, and that the arrow was planted in the body for identification purposes.

The theory that Mount consumed strychnine is strengthened by the fact that the girl in the east changed her testimony, but that doesn't

P. T. INSTRUCTORS

SCHREIDER—Says Demand For

Cardinal Supply

The demand for physical education instructors as well as physical education itself has increased so fast in the past few years that it is necessary to have a large number of teachers in all branches of physical education.

Schoenley believes that the problem of providing instructors is a complex one. He recommends that a system of training should be established, and that all requests for recommendations for such work should be dealt with by a committee of educators named by the university.

In the United States at present, all physical education instructors have some training in the physical education subjects, and all students who are interested in entering this field should be prepared to enter a regular training school.

The higher authorities of Chicago and the neighboring universities are considering the establishment of personal training programs and personal training courses.

The name of the boy is to be held for May 20, and will be shipped to the coroner.

The committee in charge of the selection of the name is composed of Edward Schoenley, All American of the University of Chicago, and Clifton, Alabama, and Ed O. Brown. The committee will be notified when the name is selected.
