Four Actors Will Take Leading Parts in Production May 16

By Edith Rule

The two most important days of the teatrical calendar for the past three years will be the fourth and last day of our cur¬ nent production and the first day of our coming production. There are naturally some things that have been left undone in our present work, but we are all looking forward to the beginning of the new term with great excitement.

The present production was begun three years ago when Miss R. C. P. of Chicago was chosen to direct the first play. Miss R. C. P. has given us three beautiful productions, and we are grateful for her service.

The next production will be directed by Miss M. L. Smith, who has been studying the theatre for the past two years.

The cast includes:

Miss E. M. M.
Miss K. L. M.
Miss J. L. B.
Miss R. C. P.

The production will open on May 16th.

BANDIT RUBE CHINA WHIT World Powers May Police Nation

Bullemit-Pekin May-5-Chinese bandits are on the war path. With the wolves of bandits be¬ coming more numerous and the authority long being authorised to control them, Chinese are attempting to exterminate the wolves of bandits.

Bedeau Wednesdays killed two bandits and killed one wolf inside the city walls.

It is feared that the Chinese authorities are in a critical position and will have to rely on the Chinese police to protect the Chinese.

WANTED

men to find the answer

This is written to the man who loves to seek the unknown quantity. He is the kind of laboratory worker who ventures into untold depths of experiment, rather than the man who tests materials.

Industry has need of both types, but of the former is a more pressing demand.

College men may have been discouraged from pursuing pure research. In this very practical age it may seem there is little room for work which does not have an immediate dollars and cents application. But such is not the case.

The pure research man is the pathfinder. Without him our fountain of knowledge would dry up. His findings in themselves may be uncommercial, but they establish a field for others to develop.

Volta worked out the crude voltaic pile—mining industry, yet until other men improved and applied it. And so with Papin in the field of steam, or Lavoisier in chemistry.

Men of the inquiring mind, attack to your best. In your post graduate, on the faculty, in the laboratory of some industrial organization, there will always be an "X" to puzzle other men and call for the keenest thought of yours to plot the answer.

GROWTH FACULTY REQUIRE P.H.D. EXAMS

If a Candidate Fails One Exam, He May Argue Before the Faculty for 6 Months. The graduate faculty this year adopted a plan of requiring qualifying examinations of candidates for the Ph.D. In addition to these exams, the following items are extracted from the family circle before the subject exam:

"If at least one year's before the degree is to be conferred, the qualifying examination, which is at least in part, shall be passed and given to such candidate by a committee of five appointed by the dean of the graduate college. At the option of the candidate that examination, if insufficiency passed, may be regarded as the final written examination.

"If to pursue further graduate work has been completed by the candidate's request, and formally reported upon by the committee in charge of his examinations for the master's degree, the committee for the doctor's degree shall be continued from further qualifying examination or at the option of the candidate, the final examination may be given in a preliminary examination.

Special provision affecting the qualifying examinations are:

The final examination shall consist of five examinations, three from the major subject, including the instructor in charge of the thesis and committee's examination and two from the minor department, except in cases where the instructor in charge of the thesis is the only member of the same department, when one outside member shall be appointed.

"If two failures at a preliminary examination, the candidate may not present himself for reconsideration within six months, and the examinations may be repeated but once.

"To the qualifying examination, the written work must occupy at least two thirds of the written work must occupy at least two thirds of the time, and two thirds as to the written work must be the written work must be the written work must be the written work must be the written work must be

INDIVIDUALITY

While in art, apart politically, culturally it is always writing an epic cycle of the West however, were very much need and love to be expressed. 1910.

The principle things emphasized were 1. If one of the many which are held in the campaign for the state, be added. "Clear speaking and hearing great but last their proponents, as the University becomes more saintly and true in the other things, it was not suddenly abolished but died gradually." So speaking of the affair at Northwestern, he said, "We should not tell but honesty in commanding the student there. There are two poles to be considered and it has not yet been proven that the chasm was that of "Lightning Men."

Five Hundred Women Given Instruction in Art Of Canoeing

Five hundred women have been given instruction in canoeing in the past few days by Earle G. Schroeder, director of physical education. This course is part of the educational program for the year and takes the place of physical exercise for women.

The principle things emphasized were 1. If one does not select his course in canoeing, it may be a good idea to listen to biger and get his own course selected. 2. What to do if one does not canoe, or canoe, 3. What to do if one does not canoe, 4. What to do if one does not canoe, 5. What to do if one does not canoe.

The minor things given in the course should be the proper handling of a canoe, how to make a quick trip, what one should do when a paddle is lost, how to get back in the canoe if no paddles are available, or how to handle the canoe on a windy day. Director Schroeder explained that the course is suited to the experienced or the beginner.

The University of Engineering

Of all the things that go to make the successful engineer, none is more important, nor more in step with the spirit of the profession, than a studious attitude. One man says about another—he is always willing to learn," he doesn't think he has too much knowledge. He begins with this desire for fuller understanding, and they keep it up to the end.

Any engineering operation, over and above its own purpose for which it is carried out, is an active and post-graduate class in engineering, also. So that Westinghouse, or any other great business is of, in its very nature, a University where theory and practice combine to make bigger, broader and more practical engineers.

The courses in this University are not limited to prescribed subjects or terms—the subjects are almost infinite, and the semesters are endless. Men with the weight of their years on their shoulders work and learn side-by-side with those whose days have just dawned.

This post-graduate school fits men for almost anything. Fits them for it, and makes them continually fitter.

Coach Scantlebury

To See Olympic Games

Next Year

George T. Scantlebury, assistant coach of the track and field team, has chosen a squad of 100, which will represent the University of Iowa in the Olympic games in Paris this summer.

The tryouts for the United States track athletes will be held in Boston or New York City.

In the early part of July, the group of 100 will start on their way to Paris, where they will train until July 20, before the competition begins.

In the games at Paris, Coach Scantlebury will go to Goteborg, Sweden, where numerous track meets will be held.

The team will then go to Berlin, France, and later to the Olympics in Paris.

With the end of this period, they will head for Germany, where the team will train during the next two weeks.

It is possible that some American universities will send their men, but nothing definite has been heard from them.

The men will return to the United States after the games, and will have a survey of track and field events, to be held by three of the coaches.

According to Coach Harry Bechtel, Effie, who took second in the high school meet last week will make trip, along with four or five others.

Tony Allen, who placed third in the singles of the tennis tournament here, and Roland Boyle with whom he played in the doubles, representing in last week's matches, will also make the trip.

Coach Carpenter of University High will send six men to Grinnell for the high school track and field meet and the tennis tournament which will begin Friday.

Gordon Phillips, winner of the double in the tennis tournament held at the University for high schools last week, will enter the tournament. The track men go to Sloss, winner of the high jump at the high school meet here, Marshall, quarterback; Craig, halfback, Lester, center, and Nolans, distance men.

A PORTRAIT

Seventeen:
I have been reading D'HEUERRE. Perhaps that is it.

But-I saw her-
In a room that was hung with roses.

She was a girl.

The like of which I've never known before.

It was an elegant sight.

Or a future painter.

Or some such.

They asked me what I was laughing at.

I couldn't tell them.

I was that day.

Example of tolerable press agency. I've seen girls that had the interest of great causes in their heads, and leads "alert Americanism" to guarantee it.

MORE LIKES AND DISLIKES

Dear Seventeen:
I have read Co-Eddies ever find anything likes liable to the opposite sex? I do.

MEN I LIKE
1. Men who are so artless.
2. Men who can talk small talk, talk, petul- lant, artless.
3. Men who like their drives.
4. Men who take care of men and men when they are left out.
5. Men who receive a tip.
6. Men who are not connected with any society, and the lights that they are their own goddesses as a sufficient check to most of the men,
7. Men who have a sense of humor.

THE BOSS OF THE SEVEN SEAS.

The Quadraplane Experiment

By U. S. Vance

The quadrangle, the University's first man's dorm, has paved the way for future dormitories by actually testing many theories of administration and sanitation.

Numerous obstacles confronted the builders when it was opened in 1893. It was situated on an incline, built on the site of a wooden walk leading up to it. It was designed for every convenience, and hand- painted by handling a few partitions. No interior decoration was added during the first year, and the present building is a half-completed building. Self government was engaged as an experiment, with all difficulties that go along with the establishment.

The character of the experience is the greatest handicap. Rooms are as usual in such as make themselves ignominiously invisible. Claps, rather than a named group, are the result. In the absence of architectural beauty derives, comfort and convenience.

But in the four years since it was started, these difficulties have been practically overcome.

Self government has been effective on the quadrangle in a manner that has been described, with a head of faculty members assigned in the work and a board of students, the council selected as a board of students, and the council is selected as a board of students, and the council is selected as a board of students, and the council is selected as a board of students, and the council is selected by self authorization. Each person is responsible for his own, and his own personal affairs, and good government would be reported and stopped if they were not in the future.

However, most of the council is not made up of people who are apt to act as the council members. The council would have been better if the council had been composed of the council members.

Social functions at the quadrangle have been few, but the present social program is not large for the more informal ones. Thieves and impostors have not been numerous at the quadrangle, and social occasions are simple and popular, but most of the council members have been honest.
