By J. Howard Shields

The military department closed the Governor’s Day yesterday afternoon with a final grand review of the army unit which had assembled on field day, and the Governor’s half. The review was conducted with the usual variety of contests to decide the best outfit of the army, including color guards, freemen, familiar and platoon. The city of the horsemen also shone in the evening and was sobered up, by a company of infantry. The Governor’s Day review was held at 3:30 in the afternoon, after which the formal presentation of the colors to Company A of the Engineer unit had been designated as the proper moment to close the event of the day. The half of the event was cut from the state of the event of the day.

The general review was headed by the Governor, who mounted the horse and was reviewed by the officer of the student body, Major General Depuy, commander of the seventh army corps, and the president of the University.

Following the review, the snails, cups, and other honors were presented to the following units and commanders for winning the various series:

The best drilled unit, Riffle, Capt. Robert H., Chicago, was presented a silver statuette in addition to a gold medal, the Madison Battalion, companies, received a silver star from University, and the Center of C company, Military, received a bronze medal for their unit.

HAROLD UNABLE TO SPEAK IN IOWA CITY this summer

President Will Return Press Alaska By Way Of Panama Canal

In all probability President Harri- d in all probability President War- ren G. Harding will not be able to address the students at the commencement exercises to be held in Iowa City during the early part of the coming term. President Harding has not definitively settled the conference committee that he expects to come here, but plans have not been made public from the White House indicating that he has given up his statewide tour.

If he adheres to the itinerary trip stepped up by the White House officials, he will return home from Alaska by way of Panama Canal and practically his only stop on the way will be at Fort Sum. It had been his original intention to make a speaking tour in the midwest on his return journey from Alaska to Wash- ington, Chicago was one of the stops he had contemplated a trip which was to include Iowa City.

However the President is consider- ing a special trip to the western states at some future date to speak in Chicago, Minnesota, and cities in Wisconsin, Iowa, and Michigan, to which he has been invited. His fail- ing that he could not be away from Washington longer than two months is in part responsible for his change in the course of his household trip. Mrs. Harding plans to accompany the president north.

President and Mrs. Harding ac- cepting to present arrangements leave the capital for Alaska June 22.

THE HOUSE OF SERVICE

The University of Engineering

Of all the things that go to make the successful engineer, none is more impor- tant, nor more in step with the spirit of the profession, than a studious attitude. One man says about another—"he is always willing to learn," "he doesn't think he knows it all"—and he intends to pay a high compliment when he says it.

The great engineers are always at school ways learning, always working for more knowledge. They begin with this desire for fuller understanding, and they keep it up to the end.

Any engineering operation, over and above the primary purpose for which it is carried out, is an active and post-graduate class in engineering, also. So that Westinghouse, or any other great business, is, of its very nature, a University where theory and practice combine to make big- ger, broader and more practical engineers.

The courses in this University are not limited to prescribed subjects nor terms—the subjects are almost infinite, and the semesters are endless. Men with the weight of years on their shoulders work and learn side-by-side with those whose age is insignificant.

This post-graduate school suits men for almost anything. Fits them for it, and makes them continually fitter. Out of this continuing fitness have grown the engineering accomplishments on which this institution has grown. It is, per- haps, one of the great educational institutions of its day.

Falvey, who is one of the best col- lege pitchers in the Middle West, al- lowed the Hawks but two solo hits, one by Chaloupka in the fifth, and the other Bartholomew's ninth in the ninth. Both pitcher struck out ten opposing batters.

It was Castner, visiting center- fielder, well-known through his perfor­ mance on the gridiron, who started the Notre Dame rally in the sixth by hitting the ball into deep center field for a home run. The ball was hard hit and on a line, Locke failing to make the catch by inches. Hung- ing on Dukes, Castner, and Falvey followed Castner's drive, accounting for the two remaining runs made by the batters in the fatal sixth.

It looked as though the job was still on the tail of the Old Gold- green, as it was the fourth game in three weeks that the Hawkeyes have dropped by the margin of a single score.

Only one more game is left on the schedules for the 1923 season, that coming on June 4, when Wisconsin will play Iowa in a return game on Iowa Field.

Sororities Important in College Life

At University of Illinois, Says Scribe

Sororities play a very important part in the college life at Illi.

The university was founded in 1867, but no girls were admitted until 1880. Twenty-five years later the first sorority was established on its campus, and since then the number of sororities has increased to over 200. The sororities are divided into four categories: the national, the state, the local, and the international. The national sororities are the most numerous, with over 200 chapters on college campuses across the country. The state sororities are the most recent, with only a few chapters existing in the United States. The local sororities are the most exclusive, with only a few members admitted to each chapter. The international sororities are the most exclusive, with only a few members admitted to each chapter.

the best thing of all would be to be young again. It is age speaking. Youth does not content itself with idle speculations. Youth puts the thought in action, whether the years of youth happen to number 18 or 48. This is a general truism held in Great Britain. The fast-flying supple youthfulness of the youthful in quest of the manhood of which they dream. Less commonly did we find the same thing in the United States. When we retired it was to be more. Often in recent years we have encountered Americans entering into the American "ideal state." It is less disagreeable to retire to other life and to play. But these white-haired youths are not philosophizing on the matter. Rather are they putting it to the test. They are doing it for themselves. And their youth, beginning again, are young again.

(From Yarn Moore)

There's a pair of eyes too that are hanging out for me.

That will be fragrant as sweet enterprise.
There is a place in my heart that nobody can seize.
