HAWKEYE BALL TOSSEND TAKE SNAPPY DRILL

Former Stars Work Out with Iowa Squad; Anticipate Injured List

Heat weather, mercifully of good baseball, preceded the Gold Old nine when the players were taken their drills yesterday afternoon. After a start on Thursday and again today, and the men made up for the time lost by cropping a long, hot, hard half in mid-season, Thursday, Coach McKillop called the men back to get the workout of yesterday's work, as the Iowa City band is due here Friday morning and the varsity players took a prolonged batting practice. Coach White then worked the men through a series of drills and finished the men.

The weather being in favor of baseball, players were allowed to get a good workout.

The rest of the regular lineup was intact, with Captain Higbee having charge of the pitcher. Leadership at first, third, and center was given to Higbee, Pressey, Loomis, and Borden in the front positions.

NELLIE CARTER OF THE NIMBLE FEET, NOW READS HER BIBLE

Sail, Pennsylvania, May 21, (United Press) - Do you remember Nellie Carter, she of the nimble feet? Do you recall how she pranced past nicely curled footlights, so light and sure on those twirling toes of hers? No, perhaps you don't remember her, but it was three score years ago that she was first feigned from the stage, in the adopted guise of "that half fool.")

A long and successful career of such nerved Nellie were flying upon the stage, but they don't remember. Most of them have passed on beyond re-reading.

Nellie is not before the roofs of a glory to the institution, and in court among the best of college papers.

Miss Carter's first appearance was in "The Quill" from the other side of the fence in 1895. The University set a pattern for athletic genius, including intercollegiate track meets, the greater part of the sport was devoted to essays and orations, to represent single opinions on various subjects. On the back page of the paper was the early journalism style of "The Operator." The university record was: "Nellie Carter, professor of professional colleges with students."

The Daily Iowan was founded in 1840. It will be noted that if Nellie Carter's name is in this section, it is not the result of newspaper journalism. Nellie was born in Philadelphia more than 35 years ago. She went on the stage at the age of fourteen and became a favorite. In her time, she played with Edwin Booth, Joseph Jefferson, Mary, Virginia and Mrs. John Drew. She leaves the same loved and generally of a thousand, and claimed by thousands more, but in Nellie's case it was true. Many times she played in the then popular "Uncle Tom's Cabin," taking the part of Topsy while her real-life daughter, Nellie, played the role of "Little Eva." That daughter and all her other children now are dead.

Nellie Carter remained on the stage for 25 years. At "The Chorus," a dance resist on Five Points street, Nellie, in Pennsylvania, at the age of 68 she danced, "perhaps not the best of her dance." The script before the widely applauding crowd for her minutes and then dropped exhausted. Her vitality was gone. Nellie at last was through.

"Aren't years and years ago I used to laugh at those people in blue hunting, we were the oldest and port the Salvation Army." Nellie says calmly, when she recalls her youth. "But now..."

She figured her wore Bible and pulled her shawl more securely about her shoulders.

"I've given up the world now. From 71 I'm saving it. I want to be saved: I don't think of dancing any more..."

Now, you remember Nellie Carter, who rang the bell for Independence Hall, Philadelphia, on a star, and had to be hurried away in a cab by her admirers, before the pretensions of the half could exist? Perhaps not. Nellie herself annually remembers.

AT OTHER CAMPUSES

Penn State—Considerable disassume has been carried on during the last few weeks on the campus concerning the formation of a society whose sole purpose will be to entail all male editors. This discussion has resulted in the action which has been published.

This action was taken by student Council providing for one organization of a society be known as the Blue Key. Similar to the Green Key at Hartnett and the Red Key at Carver, the Blue Key at Penn State will be a society posed entirely of appointments who only will be to entertain and stuffers to the college. The membership will be limited to six to seven, and will be admitting all students who have such competence for leadership. No women will be admitted, as these men will be too busy to take the interest in the society that will be required of members of the Blue Key.

AMES STUDENT IN MAYSER SQUABLE

Editor Rodges As Protest To Faculty But seek, and May Also Quit

Ann., la., May 13—(official—All is not peace and harmony as is viewer when the meeting of the student representatives in Rodges which dealt with the residence be-ies, Athletic Director Mayer in the athletic contest.

The student president, J. B. Stuson.

Many students claim that the present athletic controversy is no-merely partial and is with them in that 6 with the paper has resulted in the resignation of the secretary editor, W.

from men in the athletic department and was unable to have them ap-

Some students predict that dethe recommendation of the student committee, a new council may meet. There is now interest among the several that another council meeting will be held in which the student body will demand its demand for a new council to be apbled to, instead of waiting until they make the demand.

The Ministry report of the election committee, signed by the members, declared that Athletics Director Mayer, in not in favor of the charges presented by the student council and that we feel that the athletic council was in favor of the charges proounced by the student council.

The attitude of the athletic council against the decision of the student council and the rejection of C. W. Mayer.

Briefly 330 students took part in a mass meeting and asked a president against the action of the athletic council in asking Director Mayer to resign. The president was lead by members of Double "A" fraternity, composed of lower classmen.

The crowd called for Mayer that he could not be found. The par-fraternity if they would not the matter.
