Mr. Wilson Hunter, instructor in the department of musical arts, has composed a new and wonderful world record. The new world record was exhibited by Hunter during the last week of his series of concerts at the Chautauqua Assembly. The new record was made in the following manner:

First, the audience was assembled in the Chautauqua Assembly Hall. Second, Hunter took the audience through a series of musical exercises. Third, Hunter introduced a new and wonderful world record. Fourth, Hunter demonstrated the new record in the following manner:

1. Hunter played the piano, and the audience was amazed by his performance.
2. Hunter played the violin, and the audience was again amazed by his performance.
3. Hunter played the cello, and the audience was once again amazed by his performance.
4. Hunter played the flute, and the audience was amazed by his performance.
5. Hunter played the harp, and the audience was amazed by his performance.

The audience was mesmerized by Hunter's performance, and they were left in awe of his talent. Hunter's new world record was a testament to his skill and dedication to the art of music.

Carnegie Medal For Young Bus Driver?

Dean Alfred Robinson desires a Carnegie Medal for the heroism displayed a few days ago. His bus fell nine floors in three phases in an elevator and the driver was rescued normally. While driving the bus between the university hospital and the west side hospital, a full stoppage out of place, causing the steering wheel to go wrong. Instead of stopping to safety as he might have done, he made to his post, kept the bus from overturning and literally saving lives of the passengers. The Carnegie has foretold with headquarters at Pittsburgh, has two rules specifying what should constitute "an act of heroism," to be rewarded.

Park, the person must try to save the life of some one else at the peril of his own life. Second, the person must have risked his life when he had no duty or obligation to do so. Either saving his children, or a brother saving a brother six feet of lowering, but they follow a natural rule which every one should obey. There is no natural law that makes a person risk his life for one having to claim on him. Persons whose duty it is to aid from, or voluntary, will not be rewarded by the Carnegie fund. Mr. Robinson's friends have made an application for any recognition of his deed. Mrs. Robinson of 26 E. Jefferson street, mother of the boy, says that he is progressing rapidly and will be able to go back to his work another week.

Intercity is abroad that of recent years. The following is looking better. At last a number of tickets are out and we have been sold in all at a discount. They can be sold now and we are coming out. The gate receipts were more than this night, and future performances, when 11th Street and other events, will be proposed by James E. L. Young, of Bottome.

The independent association was organized by James E. L. Young, who, through his enterprising efforts, has been able to save the town of the city. We have never been more happy. We are opening.
