Ceremonies Today At 10 o'clock to Show Iowa Unity

Annual Induction Services Honor New Students

5,000 PERSONS EXPECTED IN MARCH TO IOWA FIELD

President Jessup Gives Short Address as Number of Program

INDUCTION CEREMONIES

The induction ceremonies have grown to be one of the most important University functions of the year. The great fact which should stand out in the mind of every student on this day is that no matter what college, or school or department or social or professional group he may be associated, or in what vast numbers of different ways he may be prominent on the campus, he is at all times a student in the University of Iowa.

PROCESSION

Order of March—Marchal, University Band, Students, Marshalled by Colleges, The Faculties.

ASSEMBLY

Iowa Field
University hymn—"Old Gold"
Parish Invocation—Reverend Robert R. Reed.
Vocal Solo—"Song of Praise"
Alliten—Professor Walter Leon.
Address—President Jessup.
Pledge of loyalty.
National hymn—"America"
Benediction.

This morning at 10 o'clock the third annual induction ceremony will be held on Iowa Field. There will be no classes from this time till noon and every student on the campus is requested to be in the procession.

President Jessup's statement points out the importance and the significance of this occasion and the reason why it is so urgent that every student attend. It is the only formal occasion when the entire university will join together in one body and it is hoped that it will impress the students with the unity of this institution.

5,000 Persons Expected

There will be thirteen University groups represented and it is very probable that there will be at least 5,000 persons in the line of march. A staff of twenty-five officers of the military department will be required for the leading of the procession and the seating of the body after it has reached Iowa Field.

Following is a statement issued by the faculty committee in charge of the ceremony: "The University procession which will march to Iowa Field to the third annual induction ceremonies promises to be the largest all-University gathering which has ever been held. The colleges of law, engineering, pharmacy, dentistry, medicine and commerce have already guaranteed 100 per cent attendance.

From the school of nursing every student and member of the staff who can be spared from active duty will participate and from the college of liberal arts will come the largest representation which has ever been in line.

Faculty in Parade

The faculties and staff will close the procession and it is expected, since the offices and libraries are to be closed that this group will be represented by even a larger number than is present at commencement.

The program will be very short and impressive. Every student in the University of Iowa should be present and should report promptly at 10 o'clock at the spot where his unit will be formed.

The program will consist of the University hymn, "Old Gold," sung in unison; invocation by Rev. Robert R. Reed, a vocal solo by Prof. Walter Leon, a short address by Pres. Walter A. Jessup, the pledge of loyalty, national hymn and the benediction.

In case the weather is unfavorable the ceremony will be postponed. If this is the case, placards will be placed on the campus in ample time for everyone to see them and classes will be held as usual. If the ceremony is not held today it will probably take place next Wednesday, although that is not certain at the present time.

Iowa City Air Mail Radio Station One of Many Between New York and San Francisco

The U. S. Air Mail Radio Station, located on the west side of the river between Iowa Avenue and the New Armory, is now running on a fifteen hour daily schedule and is continuously open to visitors between the hours of 3:45 a. m. and 6:45 p. m. The only limitations likely to be made on callers, states young P. E. White, chief operator, will affect University women only. There is nothing that bores him, more, he says, than to be forced to

Air Mail Planes Will Assemble at Iowa City Sunday

Ships Leave in Battle Formation to Meet at St. Louis

NIGHT FLYING PILOTS TO BE AMONG VISITORS

Central Division of Postal Service Has Record of 21 Weeks Without Default

Air mail planes from New York and San Francisco will assemble at Smith field south of Iowa City before flying to St. Louis to participate in the third national aeronautical meet, October 1, 2, and 3. Sixteen ships are expected to arrive here Sunday before noon. They will leave in battle formation at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Each plane will have a pilot and a mechanic. All the pilots who flew during the night flying experiments last month are numbered among those who will visit Iowa City Sunday. The other airmen will be representatives from the Eastern, Central, and Western divisions of the air mail service. The standard De Havilland "4" planes with 400 horsepower Liberty motors will be used by the postal department in the meet.

On October 3 a special air mail race will be the feature of the morning. In the afternoon the entries will compete for the Pulitzer trophy. This race is free for all planes that can make over 170 miles an hour. The winner of the contest will probably have to make at least 250 miles an hour.

Among the events of the meet will be races for small planes, parachute jumps, attempts at altitude records, and weight carrying contests. Five hundred planes are expected to enter the meet. These include ships from the United States army, navy and marine corps, the Italian army and civilian flyers from all over the country. One plane from Porto Rico is entered in the west.

Hugh S. Long, manager of Smith field, is highly enthusiastic over the record the central division of the air mail service has been making recently. This division extends from Chicago to Rock Springs, Wyo., and includes Iowa City. During the past twenty-one consecutive weeks the mail has been carried without a default. The division is attempting to make a record of six months of 100 per cent service.

More Severe Quake Shocks In Several Cities in Persia

TEHERAN, Persia, Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—Severe earthquake shocks again have been felt at Korman, where much damage has been done. Tremors also have been experienced at Bujnurd, Rafsanjan, Bain and Anar. It is reported that smoke is issuing from a mountain near Bujnurd.

Italians Cheer Mussolini as Corfu Transports Return

TARANTO, Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—Three transports have reached here loaded with troops and war material from Corfu. They were received with great enthusiasm. The regimental band played the Fascista Hymn "Glovezia." The soldiers were received triumphantly by the great crowds that gathered at the military port, cheering for Mussolini and Italy.

Employ Des Moines Architects

Proudfoot, Bird, and Rawson have been the architects of most of the buildings of the campus. This firm has a representative in Iowa City at present working on the plans for the new medical plant.

NO PARKING

It is desired that parking in the forenoon be prohibited on Jefferson street from Dubuque to Madison; on Madison street from Jefferson to Washington; on Washington street from Madison to Iowa Field.

Legislators Ask For Injunction Against Walton

Rule of Martial Law is Extended Into Murray County

HOUSE MEMBERS FILE CASE IN STATE COURT

Ask Temporary Writ to Prevent Gen. Markham and Guard from Interfering

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Injunction proceedings to restrain Adjutant General B. H. Markham and all members of the Oklahoma National Guard from interfering with the special session of the lower house of the state legislature were filed late today in state district court here.

Sixty-eight members of the house, more than a majority, were named in the petition as plaintiffs. Attorney General George Port for the state waived the summons on record. Charles B. McPherson, state senator, appeared for General Markham. Hearing was set for next Tuesday at 9 o'clock.

Asks Temporary Writ

The petition prayed the court to grant a temporary injunction pending a final hearing to "prevent B. H. Markham and his successors and each officer and enlisted man under his command and their successors from interfering with these plaintiffs, as members of the house of representatives, in assembling," and to prevent the military "from dispersing them again assembled."

The petitioners asked that the guard authorities be enjoined from "molesting or otherwise interfering with the plaintiffs in conducting the affairs of the house," and that upon final hearings the restraining order be made permanent.

Legislators Leaving

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—Pledged to return upon the call of Representative W. D. McBee, members of the lower house of the state legislature who were yesterday repulsed in an attempt to meet, began leaving the city late today for their home.

Before leaving the house members signed a pledge to re-assemble upon McBee's call provided it had been publicly determined by court decision that they were empowered to meet without call by the governor.

Military Rule Extended

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—Troops of the Oklahoma National Guard were ordered into Murray county tonight by Governor J. C. Walton, in response to an appeal from citizens of Sulphur, who charged local authorities with neglect in apprehending the perpetrators of numerous mob outrages here recently.

"Under the present reign of Ku Klux Klan officers in this county, conditions are deplorable and are becoming worse," the governor was told by the committee from Sulphur, which included Scott Ferris, nephew of former Congressman Scott Ferris, of Oklahoma, and the mayor of the town.

"Persons who are not members of the Ku Klux Klan," they declared, "are totally unsafe in person and in property and unless relief is accorded us and martial law is established in this county there will be trouble and possibly blood shed."

Dean Rienow Aids University Men in Finding Positions

Employment is urgently needed by the students at the present time in order that they may remain in school, is the announcement made by the office of the dean of men. This office has been in close touch with the situation because a student employment bureau, has been maintained by it in an effort to give the students the best possible opportunities of finding positions.

At the beginning of the school term there were three hundred men earning their board and one hundred more were working from one to three hours a day for cash, according to Robert Rienow, since school started more have found work. On the whole, employers of student help have expressed their satisfaction of the work done. They state that students are capable and dependable.

To augment its work in finding employment for students, the office of the dean of men has made investigations regarding the scholastic standing, health, dependability, and attitude of the students applying. The business basis upon which the work of the bureau is conducted makes it efficient in that all students taking jobs report the matter at once to the office and all the best positions are listed systematically.

Noted Editor Pays High Compliment to Iowan

In a letter to Frank Hicks, University news editor, from James W. Brown, editor of Editor and Publisher, he compliments the new Daily Iowan highly. An excerpt from the letter follows: "Thank you very much for the September 20 issue of The Daily Iowan. Please accept heartiest congratulations upon this issue. It is well written, well edited, attractively typed, efficiently put together and fairly well printed. The volume of advertising is encouraging. We shall have pleasure in bringing the issue to the attention of our readers."

Dean Kay Talks to New Members of the Faculty

In a speech Wednesday afternoon before the new members of the faculty of the colleges of liberal arts, education, and commerce, Dean Kay explained the points of relationship between instructor and student and the stand which the University of Iowa took in regard to them.

His speech dealt particularly with the ideals of the University, and the very close and friendly relations which existed among the different colleges of the campus. Contrary to the general opinion, liberal arts is in many senses professional training, Dean Kay pointed out. Geologists, chemists, botanists, and journalists, always regarded as members of a profession all receive their training in liberal arts.

Dean Rienow and Dean Burge explained their relations with the faculty and the steps which they took to aid the student body.

Law Students Open Activities of Year With Smoker

Membership of the Iowa law students association, held its annual smoker and reception to the freshmen class of the law college last night at 7:30 o'clock. A. L. Doud, president of the association, was in charge of the evening's reception, and welcomed the incoming class. Mr. Verral, LL of Brit, Iowa responded for the freshmen and Dean Jones presented the Dillon prizes, the junior prize to Mrs. Lois Griffin and the freshman prize to Mr. Kelly. Some two hundred men took part in the informal smoker.

Plans for the Annual Law Jubilee will be inaugurated shortly by the organization. The celebration this year's going to be the biggest ever, according to present plans.

Canes were affected by the senior Laws yesterday for the first time and will make their initial appearance at the Iowa-Oklahoma game tomorrow.

Freshmen To Take Mentality Tests Tomorrow Morning

Intelligence examinations for all freshmen will be held Saturday, September 29, at 8 a. m. Each student must be prepared with a lapboard and two lead pencils. The places of meeting are as follows: Liberal arts men at the men's gymnasium; liberal arts and pharmacy women at the women's gymnasium, and the pharmacy and applied science men in room 318 new chemistry building. All freshmen must report promptly at 8 o'clock.

Illinois Eleven Gets Practice Using Slippery Ball Thursday

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—Rain turned Illinois field to a miniature lake today, but Coach Bob Zuppke sent his team through its regular practice session, scrimmaging two teams against freshman eleven. The youngsters, who are given the offensive, failed to gain during an hour's tussle against the varsity.

Zuppke took advantage of the slippery field to spend the signal drill on pass formations. McIlwain, "Swede" Hall and Rokusek pulled down a number of long throws from Earl Britton.

Advance Military Men Must Sign Saturday for Courses

Captain Martin Ackerman of the R. O. T. C. of the University of Iowa made the announcement today that any person having completed the two years basic course in the military department, and wishing to take the advanced course, had until Saturday noon to sign up for the cadet drill during the coming year. He stated that some having conflicts because of the five one hour periods might be able to arrange their schedule to conform with the three period change two of which are two hours long.

Sixty-Piece Band Parades Saturday

Appears on Iowa Field for Iowa-Oklahoma A. & M. Game

The university band, now composed of sixty pieces, will make its first appearance of the year at the Iowa-Oklahoma football game Saturday. Director O. E. Van Doren is conducting practices daily in order to have his musicians ready for the game.

Besides the regular first band there will be a second band composed of about forty-five pieces. Most members of both bands have had experience before playing in orchestras or bands elsewhere if not here.

Several new uniforms the same as those purchased last year, will be ordered to accommodate the increase in the band this year. There is still room for several more pieces and anyone wishing a tryout should let Mr. Van Doren know as soon as possible. His office is in Close Hall and he may be located there any morning.

Freshman band practice will be held every Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and practice for upperclassmen will be at the same time on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Literary Societies Plan Activities

Two Met Last Night to Have Meetings During Week

Two of the women's literary societies, Hamlin Garland and Octave Thanet, met last evening to discuss plans for the coming year. The remaining societies, Athena, Erodolphian, Hesperia and Whitby, plan to meet sometime during this week or next to plan their activities.

Soon after all the societies have met the rushing of the sophomore candidates will begin. Each society will give at least one party to which the members will invite girls who have been especially active in last year's freshman literary society. Then at a special meeting of each society the rushes will be voted on and the bids sent out.

The six women's literary societies are under the control of the forensics council which is composed of three representatives of each society. The aim of the council is the promotion of interest in forensics and literary activity.

The regular bi-weekly programs provide training in extemporaneous speaking, artistic reading, short story and poetry writing. Intersociety debates are held, and for the last two years the societies have supported a women's inter-collegiate debating team.

Three of this year's university plays will be given by the women's and men's literary societies. "The Torch Bearer" by George Kelley will be given by the Hesperia and Zeagathian societies on October 24 and 25. "To the Ladies" by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly is the play that the Erodolphian society and the Irving Institute will put on October 22 and 23. "Captain Applejack" is the play chosen by Octave Thanet and Philomathean societies for April 9 and 10, 1924.

A women's literary society open to all freshmen women was organized last year. One year's activity in this society is necessary to make a freshman woman eligible to membership in one of the older societies. Marjorie Buhler is president of the women's forensics league. The presidents of the women's literary societies are as follows: Athena, Camilla Soper; Erodolphian, Beatrice McGarvey; Hamlin Garland, Edith Evans; Hesperia, Margaret Decker; Octave Thanet, Katherine Schneider; Whitby, Lois McAdow.

Another candidate was lost to the Gophers today when Don Coletterman was ordered by his physician to give up football because of high blood pressure. He played on the 1921 and 1922 elevens.

Not Considered Unduly Tragic

Heads of Government in Berlin Nettled Over Affair

Talk of Revolt in Bavaria is Scouted by Stresemann Government, However

By The Associated Press
Berlin, Sept. 27.—A state of emergency has been proclaimed by both the Stresemann government and Bavarian government presided over by Premier Von Knilling, and for the moment the situation in Germany is a complicated and uncertain one. No indication is manifested tonight, however, take an unduly tragic view of the turn of affairs created by the latest exchange of amenities between Berlin and Munich and the appointment as dictator in Bavaria of Dr. Von Kahr, who during his days as premier of that state, opposed the Berlin chancellor.

Although Herr Stresemann and his assistants were visibly nettled at the precipitate manner in which the Bavarian connection carried out, the Berlin government heads tonight professed the belief that they once more have become the victims of Bavarian "filocyniasies," and seemingly realized their own inability correctly to appraise Munich psychology, despite their past experience with Bavarian diplomacy.

Th talk of revolt and secession by Bavaria is scouted in official circles in Berlin, where the impression is given that the two governments are in complete accord with respect to common aims and that their proclamations in no way collide.

The central government's proclamation takes precedence over the Bavarian manifesto and alius establishes that General Von Lossow, of the reichs who has been appointed military commander in Bavaria, has been virtually military dictator for all Germany by the terms of the government's proclamation.

The two governments, it was added, are closely co-operating, and the political leaders here are confident that Chancellor Stresemann's adroitness as a negotiator will avoid any ruffling of Bavarian sensibilities.

There are about twelve thousand garrisoned in Bavaria and they are at the immediate disposal of Von Lossow and Von Kahr. They are augmented by the Bavarian police, and it is believed these can be relied upon in an acute emergency.

Conceal Their Satisfaction
There is, nevertheless, partially concealed satisfaction in political quarters in Berlin over what is termed the predicaments in which Von Knilling and Von Kahr find themselves, and it is viewed here as retribution of the leniency which permitted Adolph Hitler and Kindred, super-patriots, to gain a dangerous ascendancy over the more moderate nationalists led by Dr. Von Kahr.

The chancellor has notified the entente of the government's decision to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr and the Rhineland, and a special number of the official Gazette is published rescinding all passive resistance.

Iowa Roads Worst in Universe Is Opinion of Illinois Woman

The Anamosa Eureka printed the following extract from a letter written to a friend at Anamosa. The author of the message is a young lady who lives in Wheaton, Ill., and who travelled by auto to Estes Park this summer.

"Another thing I'm sure of, is that Iowa has the worst roads in the universe and I'm going to bring to suit against them if I ever have to go through those roads again when they are wet. Weren't we glad though when we saw Iowa cars stuck in their own mud and we saw stuck a few of them in that fix. It started to rain when we left Lincoln, Nebraska, and it kept it up until we got to Clinton. It rained just ahead of us all the way except a few times when it poured down on us. I've seen roads and roads but never such as you possess. We were lucky for cars were stuck or in the ditch but we had not a bit of trouble—except dizziness due to eternal zigzagging back and forth.

Sheriff Asks Court To Oust Guardsmen

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 27.—(A. P.)—The first court action to test Governor J. C. Walton's power to supersede civil authority by the military was instituted in the state supreme court today when Sheriff Bob Sanford of Tulsa county filed a petition asking the removal of National Guard forces from his office.

SOCIETY

Student Mixers
Many of the Iowa City churches have planned week-end parties and have few acquaintances in the city, and students coming to this university from other colleges, will be given an opportunity to meet new friends.

The Presbyterian will hold a reception in the church parlors on Saturday evening primarily for first year students. The committee has issued over three hundred invitations to freshmen in the university.

The Christian church will conduct a student party on Friday night, September 28. An entertaining musical program has been planned. Baptist students will hold their mixer on the same evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Unitarian church will give a party and dance in the church parlors Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Lutheran Club
The liberal arts drawing room will house the party to be given primarily for new students Saturday evening by members of the Lutheran Club. All Lutheran students are invited to attend. Chaperons will be Dean Adelaide L. Birge, Rev. C. Rollins Sherck, and Rev. Herman Brueckner.

This will be the opening party of the school year and will formally introduce Mr. and Mrs. Longly to the students.

Y. W. C. A. To Hold Tea
A large attendance of freshmen and upperclass women made the second of a series of informal teas held by the Y. W. C. A. yesterday a distinct success. It is expected that the attendance will increase when the girls realize that the teas are strictly informal and that all university women are invited.

The teas will be held every Thursday between three-thirty and five o'clock, so that as many women as possible may attend.

The social committee in charge of these teas is: Gall DeWolf A4 of Spencer, chairman; Wilhelm Grimm A3 of Iowa City, sub-chairman of committees on teas. Members of the social committee in charge of other functions are: Mary Goodykoontz A2 of Boone, chairman of committee on cozies; Mildred Miles A2 of Corydon, chairman of Chawwa Kai, annual Japanese festival committee; Lois Jackson A4 of Mechanicsville, chairman of committee on mixers.

Hinckley Praises University Players' Presentation of "The Bath Road"

The Iowa University Players again appear in the foreground of the dramatic world with a most enthusiastic criticism of Francis Neilson's "The Bath Road" in the Drama for August and September, which was given for the first time on any stage by the University Players under the direction of Prof. E. C. Mable.

The Drama was the first publication to give a printing of Mr. Neilson's romantic comedy and its special interest to read the criticisms of Thomas Ballou Hinckley, editor of the publication. Two actual photographs of the play accompany the criticism.

In commenting upon the production Mr. Hinckley says:

"The Bath Road" is a costume play of full length, requiring detailed care in costuming and setting and a sensitiveness period atmosphere, a delicate and difficult problem both to the producer and his players, whether they be amateur or professional.

In speaking of his own personal reactions to the performance he goes to say:

"Though familiar with excellent amateur work, I went to the performance with some misgivings—misgivings that were soon quitted for the presentation was of surprising competence. The acting in every part was as sincere and convincing, that of the hero, in a difficult role, meriting especial praise."

Women to Discuss Forensic Program

Council Members Will Meet Today
Literary Societies to Hold Rushing Parties In October

With the meeting of the women's forensic council at 3 p. m. today in room 115 of the liberal arts building, active plans for women's forensics at the university this year will begin. At this meeting the council will arrange the dates for each society's rushing party.

According to information received yesterday from Marjorie Buehler, president of the women's forensic council, all rushing parties will take place sometime in October. After each society's party has been held the bids for the new members will be sent out.

The Women's forensic council is composed of three members, elected for a term of two years, from each of the six women's literary societies. The council is the administrative body of the women's forensic league which is made up of the six women's literary societies. Control of all inter-society contests rests with the council.

This year's first inter-society contest is the artistic reading contest which will take place sometime during the first semester. Any woman student of the university is eligible to compete. Freshmen are especially urged to take part. Prizes of $10, $5, and honorable mention will be awarded to those who rank first, second, and third, respectively in this contest. Further information concerning the contest can be obtained from any member of the women's forensic council or from the department of speech.

Prizes for Contest

An extemporaneous speaking contest is also conducted each year by the women's forensic council. The participants in this contest are composed of one representative chosen from each of the six women's literary societies and one representative chosen by competitive tryout from the university at large. A short story contest and poetry contest are also held. These last two contests are open to all women of the university. The prizes for each of these contests are also $10, $5, and honorable mention.

In each inter-society contest, the society whose candidate is successful receives a certain number of points toward the silver loving cup which is awarded at the end of each year to a society which has gained the greatest number of points.

MILWAUKEE SENDS WAR MOTHER TO NAT'L CONVENTION

Mrs. Katherine Burns, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been chosen to represent her city at the national convention of war mothers to be held in Kansas City early in October. Mrs. Burns sent three sons to the war, two being killed and the third suffering from shell shock and wounds.

Hold First Meeting Of Chamber Monday

The first meeting of the Iowa City chamber of commerce will be held in the commercial club rooms next Monday noon in the form of a luncheon which will be served promptly at 12:10 o'clock. The program, which includes a very beneficial and interesting talk will begin at 12:30.

The board of directors of the commercial club will be elected this year by a very democratic method. A list of all members, about 540 names, will be mailed next Tuesday to every member of the club with the request that he check twelve names as candidates for the board. The twelve names receiving the highest number of votes will then be sent out on the following Tuesday, October 9, to the entire membership again, this time to vote on six out of the twelve nominees. The six thus receiving the largest vote will constitute the board of directors.

Along with these election slips, cards will be sent asking the receiver what problems he wishes the chamber of commerce to discuss and if possible, solve. The replies to these questionnaires will furnish material for the programs of the chamber for the coming year. In this way the entire membership of the club is enabled to plan the program which will be complete within thirty days after the return of the questionnaires.

The merchants' bureau of the Iowa City chamber of commerce, with H. B. Seldenbecker as president, I. Rothschild as vice president and D. W. Crum as secretary is doing very considerable work. Their meetings are held on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month in the various stores, as smokers and mixers. The bureau works in co-operation with the city council on such questions as sanitation, good roads, etc., and are ever fostering enterprises which are of interest to the merchants of Iowa City.

Conduct Initiation For 12 Members of Staff and Circle

Dean Burge Presides At Occasion

WOMEN HELP ACTIVELY IN WORK UPON CAMPUS

Roberta Anderson of Iowa City Heads Honored Group for the Year

An impressive formal initiation of the new members of Staff and Circle was conducted yesterday evening in the liberal arts drawing room by Dean Adelaide L. Burge, with the assistance of a number of Staff and Circle alumnae.

The twelve University women, who were elected by their classmates last year to make up Staff and Circle, are maintained to give the dean of women organized help among the students. This year Dean Burge has planned to use the organization in even more ventures than formerly. She has asked the members to become better acquainted with her work by spending one hour each week in her office. The Staff and Circle women have always been the leaders in all campus activities.

The women who were initiated yesterday evening, with their present activities are:

Roberta Anderson of Iowa City, president of Staff and Circle, who is on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, a member of Geneva club and secretary and treasurer of the student council. Besides this, she is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, of Erodolphian and president of the University P. E. O.

Victoria M. Boyles of Iowa City is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, vice president of Whitby, chairman of publicity in Women's association, judiciary committee in Women's association, W. A. A. board and Iowan staff.

Persis Carney of Greene is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, vice-president of Hesperia, secretary of University Playboys, and Geneva club. She is also on the board of governor's of the University theater and the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

Charlotte Fisk of Iowa City is a member of Delta Zeta, president of Y. W. C. A., in the Seal's club and on the student council.

Leona Hambrecht of Iowa City is a member of Erodolphian, of W. A. A., the Spanish club, on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and is chairman of the University sponsor system.

Verda James of Boone is president of Women's association, is on the judiciary committee of W. A. A., and on the student council. She is also a member of Delta Zeta, Whitby and the Morrison club.

Lola Sensor of Independence is a member of Delta Zeta, Athens club is on the women's forensic council.

Maudine Shoesmith of Guthrie Center is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, Erodolphian, the Geneva club and vice-president of Y. W. C. A.

Marjorie Turner of Coral is a member of Delta Gamma, Erodolphian, and is on the Y. W. C. A. council.

Bernedine Wendel of Smithland is on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet vice-president of French club, W. A. A., and a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Hesperia.

Emily Withrow of Mount Pleasant is finance chairman of Y. W. C. A., is a member of Gamma Phi Beta, Theta Sigma Phi, Erodolphian and is on the Iowan staff.

Jeanne Wolfe of Clear Lake is a member of Alpha Chi Omega, Hesperia, the University chorous and is a glee club soloist.

Assisting with the initiation ceremonies last evening were Mrs. Nellie S. Aurner, former dean of

Tennis Tournament Starts Saturday

Special "I" Medals To Be Awarded the Winners in Each Event

Final plans were completed for the University women's tennis tournament at the special W. A. A. board meeting last evening. Drawings for singles will be made Saturday and for doubles on Monday of next week.

So far only fifteen women have signed for the tournament on the bulletin board at the women's gym. "Perhaps it is due," said Victoria M. Boyles of Iowa City who is in charge of the tournament, "to the fact that information is not yet general that the tournament is to open to women in all colleges on the campus. It might be due to the fact that the time of the tournament has been changed to the fall instead of the spring as it always has been held then previously."

There has always been considerable difficulty in the past in running off the tournament in schedule time because of the scarcity of courts. This year Physical Director Schroeder has arranged to reserve one court which is to be at the disposal of the women during the 12 days of the tournament.

If possible promiscuous defaulting of a match will be avoided, and in order to make this ruling effective all postponements, when necessary must be made through the director of the tournament, Miss Boyles.

This year Frances Johnson A4 of Danville, president of W. A. A., has announced that entrance points to W. A. A. may be earned by entering the tournament. Ten points will be given for the mere entering alone, one hundred points will go to the winners and seventy-five to the runners-up in both singles and doubles. Special "I" medals will be awarded to the winners in each event.

Iowa Songs Set to Phonograph Music

Van Doren Assists in Making Records of Two Marches

"On Iowa," famous university march, and Director O. E. Van Doren's march, "Men of Iowa," which was featured at the concerts given on the campus and in the armory last spring, have been recorded by the Gennett Phonograph company. Mr. Van Doren, director of the university band, returned Monday from New York City where he directed the making of the two records.

The records were made in the Gennett company's New York studios by their concert band. The band is composed of some of the best musicians in New York.

In order to secure the best possible record of these two marches, the Gennett company secured Mr. Van Doren to direct their band. Mr. Van Doren said that the men, most of them foreigners, were exceptionally good musicians, and the only difficulty experienced came in playing "On Iowa," where they were prone to put the emphasis of "Who-wah-wah" on the final "wah." As an appreciation of Director Van Doren's efforts each member of the band gave him their autograph.

The record with these two marches will appear with the October issue of Gennett records and will be available at Iowa City music houses.

women and at present connected with the English staff in the University; Ethel Martin, who was a charter member of Staff and Circle and at present secretary to Professor Shambaugh; Helene Blaitter of the speech department, Josephine Daus of the French department, Jane Coventry and Margaret Hayas of the Art department, Maurine Yazyg of the Romance language department, Eula Van Meter, secretary to Dean Jones and Helen Peterson social assistant to Dean Burge.

MACHINE GUNS, TWO-GUN MEN AND MARCHING KLUXERS THRILL OKLAHOMANS AS WALTON'S WAR WAKES WARMER

Machine guns stationed at strategic points by Governor Walton, marching klansmen in full regalia defying the governor and famous two-gun men of the state joining the opposing ranks add color to the little war which governor's machine guns, in readiness to mow down his foes, is also shown. That the klansmen do not greatly fear the doughty governor is evidenced by the picture of marching Ku Kluxers in full regalia parading through the streets of Tulsa.

Frosh Don Military Carb for R. O. T. C. Session on Monday

All students in the basic courses of the R. O. T. C. must appear at class in uniform beginning Monday morning. The supply department has ample supply of uniforms for all those registered for the freshman and sophomore years.

The department has a stock of new uniforms besides a quantity of last year's clothing which has been renovated and made serviceable. The advanced course students will be measured for their uniforms some time in the near future.

Under a new act of the military department, which went into effect last year, these uniforms will be given to the cadets for their period of two years' service in the course.

The class work for all the courses of the R. O. T. C. will begin in earnest next week. However, some of the Friday and Saturday classes will convene, but probably only to organize into platoons. The work taken up during the next few weeks by the basic courses will be the movement of the squad and the manual of arms. The first work taken up by the advanced course students will be a general review of I. D. R.

There will be no one o'clock classes in military drill this year, and most of the drill periods will be in the morning except for sections 9, 10, 19 and 20, which meet at 2:30 and 3:00 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Outside of Major Hooper taking command of the R. O. T. C. in place of Colonel Mumma and Warrant Officer Gibney being given charge of the rifle team in place of Captain Martin, who has resigned to study law, no changes will be made in the personnel of the military department for the ensuing year.

FOR FRESHMEN ONLY

HE WHO aims at nothing is sure to hit the mark. Frequently a senior who will graduate unheard of on the campus can run over the names of notorious fusers, keen dates, fraternity moguls, class office sinecure holders, R. O. T. C. martinetes, Y. M. C. A. deacons society stem-winders, amateur tragedians, student editors, Phi Beta Kappa grinds, and recognize among them fellow classmates of equal or less ability than his own.

Some seniors are non-entities; others are gods to their little coterie. The difference between them is not necessarily one of ability. The first aimed at nothing until too late; the second got started in time.

It is not too much to say that any freshman of average intelligence can be a well-known campus figure for four years from now. Ambition, of course, won't turn a flyweight into a two hundred pound lineman; desire will not give a girl an aristocratic nose nor reduce an inherited wastline or ankle. Any other than physical handicaps, however, can be overcome by a man of average ability.

If you want to make Phi Beta Kappa, start after the A's now. No amount of slaving in the senior year will offset the mediocre grades of the first two years. If the mastery of davenport and porch-swing technique fascinates you, practice petting the ignorant and measure yourself up against the sophisticated. If you want to act Macbeth, begin by being the voice off stage. If the editorship of the Daily Iowan is your aspiration, try reporting first. If your ambition leans to intercollegiate debating, first flood the literary societies with eloquence. To be a class president, make the football team, speak to everybody, and study machine politics. University prominence can be reached by the man of average ability. It does not take genius. If you think it does, try and find the look of genius in the annual Hawkeye hall of fame. A bit of ambition, some knowledge and hand-shaking, a friendly interest in who's who, and a plan of campaigning early laid out and persistently carried on, is the recipe for the making of a campus celebrity.

THE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

FOR many generations of human society, the dramatic interpretation of the story has had a fascination for the human mind. It is to this inherent characteristic in college students that the University Theatre makes its appeal. Together with athletics, debating, and literary activity, dramatic work has fully established itself in the student schedule.

Anyone who witnessed the work of the University Theatre last year cannot doubt its excellence. The plays were well selected, professional in interpretation, and finished in setting. The dramatic department at Iowa has developed a number of first-class amateur actors and the plays have not been selected with reference to the ease with which they could be presented.

The schedule of plays this year presents a greater opportunity for excellence in presentation and interpretation than ever before. Eight plays of recognized merit will be given, and in them can be found the humor of Sheridan, the fantasy of Franz Molnar, and the drama of John Galsworthy, together with a score of finely drawn characters in the various plays. No better investment can be made by any student than the purchase of one of the season tickets which are now on sale on the campus.

A WELL-ROUNDED INDIVIDUAL

(From the Kansas City Star) MODERN society—just the people among whom we mingle with every day, and Sunday, too—is pretty well sprinkled with half-baked individuals. Some of these are educated, as the common idea of education goes; while others are not. That, apparently, makes little difference, so far as the one-sidedness of the individual is concerned.

There are plenty of men, for example, who know how to make "good money," or to drive a motor car at a good pace, but who don't know how to hold a knife or fork correctly while eating. There are others who can put through a business deal in first class shape, who can live up to the reputation of being fine fellows, but who can't talk intelligently about any subject aside from their business, or "line," for the short space of three minutes. There are persons who would be successful in business or in professional life, if they paid just a little attention at the right moment to the matter of dress, to saying the correct word, or making the correct move at certain critical moments. There is an amazing lack, in spite of all our culture, college and education, of the well-rounded individual.

All of which gives especial point to an address to students of the University, of Missouri, when the institution opened a few days ago, by Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, the new president. Dr. Brooks did not talk shop to the students, new and old. He did not tell them to ply their books diligently and follow all directions of the professors. Not that those things were unimportant; but rather that some other things, too often neglected or taken for granted, were still more important. Those other things had to do with the life of the student out of the classroom. The life that fashions the individual in college or in high school, that makes or breaks the average student, to a far greater degree than anything that may be learned from books or professors.

The plea of Dr. Brooks to the young men and women was along the lines of broad development; about those things that make up the character and finally shape the destiny of the individual. His was for the cultivation of a sense of proportion about the value and importance of the co-called social side of life, for a sense of opportunity, of obligation and responsibility, of value and cost. It was a word of advice to them to "catch the relations of things," as Bacon put it a long time ago, to try to determine for themselves what is vital and what is relatively unimportant, and to take into account the fitness of things.

The individual who follows the kind of course outlined by Doctor Brooks is very likely not to give undue importance to any phase of his development or behavior. He is likely to take stock of his habits and behavior; to gather to the loose ends; smother down the sharp angles, and to work for that general, well-rounded development which carries a man farthest in the world, and creates a minimum of friction as the progress is made.

There is an ideal of education which should not be lost, no matter how large in modern training may loom the idea of preparation for success at earning a living.

The Sounding Board

TRI DELTS MOURN "SNUGGLE PUPPY"

(Daily Cardinal)

A little white stone, a bottle of flowers, and a mound, is all that remains to perpetuate the memory of the "Snuggle Puppy," the late Tri Delt cat. The deceased was found Sunday morning lying prone in close proximity to the Alpha Delta Pi house, which harbors a canine animal by the name of Lux. That cat, however, died of rat poison, it is rumored.

The unhappy owner of Snuggle Puppy walked in company with her sister in sorrow to the freshly dug grave at an early hour on Sunday morning, and Snuggle was laid to rest.

It is definitely stood that Lux was shut up in the Alpha Delta Pi house all Saturday night, and the unhappy Tri Delt cat came not to his untimely end through any violent measures.

Snuggle Puppy leaves behind him a host of friends, which he made during his sojourn on Langdon street, and deep is the sympathy that is extended to the owners in their moment of sorrow.

The announcement of half a dozen additional Beta pledges to the original quarry of twice that number reminds us of the story about the two freshmen who came down to the University from West Whiffletree some years ago. They started off at a riotous pace and soon three months had flown; then they set sail for Whiffletree for the Yuletide interim. On the train they met each other. Surprised at the encounter, one of them said, "Well, how have things been going?" "Oh, pretty well," the other countered. "I pledged Beta."

"You did," said number one. "Why I did too."

Again the Mason City Globe-Gazette gives us an inch. A news item from the Portland AA town affirms "a girl, aged 15, was slapped on the public sidewalk because the neighboring housewife was afraid to slap the child on her premises."

A great cry goes up every day around the Iowan office because "my stories did not get in this morning. We have come upon veritable co-ed Job. She told us that she had written a story every day and finally had the following "bulletin" printed: "Lilium tryouts will be held Friday."

The fact that some of the stories our reporters write don't grace the printed page grieves us beyond gift of expression. But the fact that some others do greet the eye when we unfold the paper, in the morning wins an unsolicited closed session now and then.

For a month we have heard a peep from Magna Vox, the Minnesota senatorial marvel. Shortly after his noisome career reached a peak a couple of months ago he was hard to quiet. But words were never heavily freighted with wisdom. Apparently having spent a number of weeks in either reflection or research he now makes the announcement that half the existing laws ought to be dumped into the river. Consigning the statutes to the waters is an ancient pastime and not altogether a bad one but we doubt whether Magnus is the man to do the dumping.

W. A. A. Opening Party October 10

Association Invites New Women

Membership Expected to Reach 400; Year's Work Outlined

The thirteenth year of the Women's Athletic association was formally begun Tuesday evening when the first meeting of the board in control was held in the women's gymnasium. Extensive efforts will be made this year to extend the membership of W. A. A. and to make it one of the largest as well as one of the most popular organizations on the campus.

"We are very anxious to get all the former members of W. A. A. back into the organization this year," said Frances Johnston A4 of aDenville, president of W. A. A. "We also wish to appeal to the new girls in the University, and we especially desire to make them feel welcome to join the organization."

Opening Party October 10

The first large gathering of the Women's Athletic association will be held October 10, at which the opening fall party will be held. Every effort is being exerted to make this the peppiest party which W. A. A. has had. The University band will play, a number of feature dances will be given, as well as other forms of entertainment. Every girl in the university is cordially invited to attend the party, and freshmen girls are especially urged to come.

The women's athletic association is primarily an organization for the furtherance of athletic activity, although the group also endeavors to supply social life for the girls. This is done by the holding of a party once each month at which all members of W. A. A. are invited to attend.

Membership in the Women's Athletic association is dependent upon the winning of fifty points in some entrance sport such as hiking, canoeing, tennis or horseback riding. Awards of class numerals are made to girls who win individual swimming meets, track meets, or who make first teams. The winning of an "I" requires 1,000 points.

Sports Classes Begin

The association was formally organized on March 10, 1911, when eight girls met in Close hall, which at that time served as the women's gymnasium. Miss Alice Wilkinson, now Mrs. W. H. Bates, wife of the secretary of the university, was phy-

Iowa Awarded Junior And Senior A. A. U. Championships For Coming Sport Season

Midwest Section Of Union's Races To Be Held Here

Swimming and Track Events Scheduled for Iowa City

NO DEFINITE DATES SET FOR TWO EVENTS

Will Award Three Prizes in Each Race; Women to Compete Also

Proof that Iowa's athletic prowess has been nationally recognized is evidenced in the announcement that the University has been awarded the Midwestern Amateur Athletic Union junior and senior track and swimming championship meets for the coming year. Although dates have not yet been definitely set, Track Coach Breenahan is of the opinion that the track events will be held late in the spring. The swimming championships have been tentatively set for February 1.

The Midwestern branch of the Amateur Athletic Union is one of the most important branches of the national organization and its meets have always attracted the leading and larger number of athletes throughout the country. Three places will be awarded in each event in the track and field events, which will include the usual schedule of contests. The same holds true of the swimming championships, which will be mixed. Five aquatic contests are on the schedule, one of which is a women's competition. The events are senior 100 yards free style for men, and senior 40 yard free style for women.

Engineers to Erect Sign for First Football Game Soon

The electric sign for the Iowa-Okla. football game, to be erected on top of the engineering building on the northeast corner is a little late but the junior engineers promise to have it up some time today. They are not giving out anything in regard to what it will be otherwise than that it will be peppy and to the point.

For the past few years the engineers have erected signs for every football game, perhaps forecasting the outcome, using if possible the name of the opposing team in a slightly modified form for effect.

Mexican Population Dwindles

Mexico City, Sept. 11 (AP)—Preliminary figures from the 1921 census indicate that the population of Mexico decreased nearly 1,000,000 between 1910 and 1920.

The 1895 census showed 12,532,427 inhabitants; 1900, 13,607,259; 1910, 15,160,369; and 1921 14,196,312. Emigration due to a revolution is believed to have caused the decrease in population.

Golf Course Will Be in Shape Soon, Says Prof. Lambert

The University golf course will soon be in good condition. Professor Lambert, who is in charge of the conditioning of the course, hopes to have a full eighteen hole course in shape within a short time. At present, the links are not complete, the greens and fairways now all being ruled and the holes being incomplete.

The course was planned by Tom Bendelow of Chicago, one of the foremost golf architects of the country. Active construction is under the supervision of B. J. Lambert, chairman of the board in control of athletics.

When completed, the plan is to have an eighteen hole course beginning and ending in the vicinity of the radio station. This will necessitate the cutting down of the hill where the first hole will be and the draining of the flat land along the Coralville road.

Both men and especially women are urged to make use of the course after payment of the nominal fee of $5 per semester. For the good of all using the course it is requested that the etiquette of golf be religiously observed.

BUSTER KEATON

The Love Nest

Here are a lot of strange birds on the love nest. Buster plays disconsolate suitor who planned long career on whaling ship where life is shorter than bobbed hair on flea.

Then an extraordinary, timely story of present day girls—a fascinating feature that will appeal to every one.

James Young's Production of

"WANDERING DAUGHTERS"

with Marguerite de la Motte, Marjorie Daw, Noah Beery, William V. Mong

Extraordinary? Indeed it is! Not a preachment on conduct, but delightful drama based on the secret romances of two girls who stumbled into the whirlpool of the jazz age with unexpected results. It is from the story by Dana Burnet.

Fox News. Admission, afternoon 10c-33c. Evenings and all day Sunday 15c-40c.

Come early, first show in afternoon, 1:30. First show in evening starts at 6:30. Continuous on Saturday and Sunday from 1:30 to 11 P. M.

Net Candidates Meet Tuesday

Prospects for Top Notch Team Good

Four Regulars Back for Team; But Janse May Not Compete Again

Aspirants for places on the Hawkeye tennis team will meet for the first time Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m. at the men's gym.

Prospects for a winning combination for this year's team are good. The entire team, with the possible exception of Hector Janse, will be battling for places on the quartet which will undertake to place the Old Gold at the top of the heavy next spring. It is feared that Janse will be unable to partake in more than one sport this year, and in that event basketball has the call. His loss will be keenly felt as he was one of the bulwarks of the Hawkeye team last year, and ranks among the best in the state.

Three regulars from 1923 in the persons of John Dorsey, Henry Searle, Glen MacLoughlin and Captain Ted Swenson will be on hand when the call is sent out by Coach Jacob Van der Zee. These men were consistent winners on the 1923 aggregation, and should be towers of strength on the 1924 team. An imposing array of sophomores are eager to display their wares, the most promising of whom are Lawrence Brierly, winner of the frosh tournament last year, Robert Chaffee who spent the summer at Skokie learning the finer points of the game, and Julius Swartz and James Lutz, two of Des Moines' best. This quartet will offer a strenuous argument to anyone aspiring for a place on the varsity.

The stellar performers in the freshman class include Gordon "Hefly" Phillips, state high school champion in 1923, and James Lloyd, a Joliet college product who appears to possess all the qualifications necessary for a tennis player. Other men of known ability include "Bill" Sunstrom, Oskaloosa, John Fox, Cedar Falls, Harry Urdanger, semi-finalist in the Muscatine city tournament, and many others of more than ordinary ability.

Plans for fall include matches with Coe, Grinnell, Cornell and possibly with Ames. The Ames team is very anxious to meet Iowa this fall, and have offered to make the trip as soon as it could be arranged. The meeting would be a very interesting one as Paige, the Ames captain, is the Iowa state champion, while Swenson, the Iowa captain, is runner-up. This pair met in the finals of the state tournament this summer and Paige defeated the Iowa leader in a sensational five set match. A return match should be interesting.

The courts are being rapidly put into shape, and new steel uprights and wire netting will grace the courts east of the men's gymnasium. Conference matches for spring include Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern, Wisconsin and Michigan, with others being tentatively arranged.

Literary Societies Plan Joint Mixer

All New Men Interested in Forensics Invited to Attend
Something new in a literary society mixer will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in Close Hall. Formerly, at the beginning of each school year, the three men's literary societies, Philathean, Irving Institute, and Zetathian each hold separate mixers on different nights. New men students were invited to come to these, and then to decide which one they prefer to become associated with. This involved much duplication of effort on the part of all concerned.

MAY BE DICTATOR OF GERMANY IF REVOLTS OCCUR

The program of the evening will consist of the following selections: Music by Robert Cooper L. of Newton; Debate between James M. Stewart L. of Rummels, and W. James Berry A.3 of Washington, D. C.; reading by Charles E. Baker A.4 of Iowa City; talks by Professor Glenn N. Merry head of the department of speech, and Daniel W. Holcomb A.3 of Iowa City; music by Leonard E. Hoffman A.3 of Vail, Iowa.

The mixer was planned by the presidents of the three men's literary societies: Euel G. Beems A.4 of Cedar Rapids, president of the Zetathian; Charles E. Baker A.4 of Iowa City, Irving Institute; and Floyd W. Miller L.1 of Wapello, of the various committees are as follows: Refreshment committee, Daniel W. Holcomb A.3 of Iowa and Robert E. Birchard L.1 of Davenport; distribution of refreshments; arrangement of halls, Paul L. Wagner A.2 of Davenport.

Year Tickets for Concerts Selling; Program is Full

Would you like to have a six dollar season ticket for the music concert series free? Here is a splendid opportunity to get one. The school of music is offering one season ticket free to every one who sells ten. They are easy to sell for there are several very good reasons why it is more advantageous to get the season ticket than it is to buy individual tickets for every concert. Season ticket rates are on dollar a concert while the individual tickets are a dollar and a half. "First come first served" is the motto for non-season ticket holders; no reservations are made for them. Furthermore the school of music promises a seventh concert at the end of the series if the ticket sale progresses satisfactorily.

Frances Johnston To Head W. A. A. Board This Year

Members of the W. A. A. board this year are Frances Johnston A.4 of Danville, president; Esther Flynn A.4 of Iowa City, vice president; Thelma Whimpey A.3 of Albia, secretary; Ruth Morris A.4 of Stockport, treasurer; heads of sport—Evelyn Crane A.2 of Holstein, basketball; Jennie Nydall A.2 of Sioux Rapids, soccer; Cora Van Beek A.2 of Sioux Center, fieldball; Victoria Boyles A.4 of Iowa City, tennis; Genevieve Harter A.2 of Keokuk, hiking; Evelyn Harter A.3 of Keokuk, horseback riding; Josephine Buis A.3 of Algona, baseball; Mabel Quiner A.4 of Des Moines, canoeing.

Other members of the board are the class representatives, Eleanor Walscheid, sophomore; Thora Drake, junior; and Helen Spencer, senior. Ruth Middaugh A.4 of Des Moines, will have charge of meetings; Evelyn Byrne A.3 of Dubuque is chairman of membership; Anne Dornick A.3 of Sioux Center will take care of finances; Cora Van Beek A.2 of Sioux Center will act as historian; and Amy Louise Benner A.4 of Keokuk will have charge of publicity. Ruthless Outlaws Reap Rich Harvest on Brazil's Border; Revive Daniel Boone Days

Rio De Janeiro, Sept. 20 (AP)—Frontier activities that bring to mind the stirring times of Daniel Boone are being reported in the local press from the Brazilian regions which border on Venezuela and the Guianas. According to these stories, and to reports that have been made from the trouble zones to the government, contraband runners, clandestine gold miners, and various kinds desperadoes have been crossing the frontiers into Brazil in increasing numbers and have been leaving trails of blood and ruin.

Year Tickets for Concerts Selling; Program is Full

The vast regions of the Amazon valley, which are but sparsely inhabited, contain many forms of wealth that are within the reach of ruthless outlaws who act in small groups, as well as in big and powerful organizations. It is reported that fortunes in gold and precious stones have been panned from the gravels of the northern streams of Brazil outlaw miners; that rosewood, mahogany, ebony, and other precious woods have been stolen from Brazilian forests, that cattle have been run off the poorly protected ranches, and the crops of outlying settlement farms boldly plundered by raiders. The reports add that these outlaw activities have resulted in many bloody clashes between local inhabitants and bands of frontier runners.

Ebert Issues Text of Proclamation Signed by All Members of Cabinet

Berlin, Sept. 26. (AP)—The text of the proclamation issued by President Ebert today and signed by all members of the cabinet is as follows:

"On January 11, French and Belgian troops occupied the German Ruhr territory against right and treaties. Since then the Ruhr and Rhineland have endured grievous oppression. Over 130,000 Germans, men, women, and children, have been driven from their homes. For millions of Germans the idea of individual liberty no longer exists."

"The occupation was accompanied by numberless acts of violence. Over 100 of our countrymen lost their lives hundreds of others are still languishing in prison. Sentiments of justice and patriotism were stirred by the illegality of the invasion. The population refused to work under the foreign bayonets. The whole German people is grateful for that fidelity to the German Reich and steadfastness that stood the test of the hardest times."

"The government of the Reich undertook to watch over its distressed compatriots so far as it was able. There was thus an ever increasing drain upon the resources of the Reich. The funds in aid of the Ruhr and Rhineland last week reached the sum of 3,500,000,000,000,000 marks, and an expenditure of at least double that amount was foreseen for the present week."

"The former production of the Ruhr and the Rhineland ceased and the economic life in occupied and unoccupied Germany became disorganized. It is most seriously to be feared that should the same line of action as hitherto be proceeded with, the creation of a regular currency, the maintenance of economic life, and existence itself would be impossible for our people. In the interest of Germany's future, as in that of the Rhineland and all members of the cabinet is as follows: In order to preserve the life of the people and the state we are today faced with the direct necessity of relinquishing the struggle."

"We realize that in doing so we are calling upon the inhabitants of the occupied territories to make sacrifices of moral character still greater than those in which they acquiesced up until now. Their struggle has been heroic, their self control incomparable. We shall never forget what the occupied territories achieved and what has been given up by those who preferred to leave their native country rather than be disloyal to the Fatherland."

"The government's first duty is to see that the prisoners are released and that those who have been expelled may return. The fight for the elementary rights of humanity comes before all economic and material concerns. Germany has declared her readiness to assume most severe sacrifices for the liberty of German subjects and German soil, but that liberty is for us not an object of negotiation or bait."

"It depends on the powers which have invaded our territory and on their allies by adhering to this idea to give peace to Germany or to bring about by rejection of this peace all the consequences which would ensue with respect to the relations between peoples. We invite the German people to stand closely together in the days of dire moral and the great material straits which are to come. Only thus will be frustrated all projects for dismemberment of the Reich, and the nation recover its honor, life, and liberty, which is its imperishable right."

"The government of the Reich undertook to watch over its distressed compatriots so far as it was able. There was thus an ever increasing drain upon the resources of the Reich. The funds in aid of the Ruhr and Rhineland last week reached the sum of 3,500,000,000,000,000 marks, and an expenditure of at least double that amount was foreseen for the present week."

First Meeting of Commerce Club Will Be Held October 3

The students of the college of commerce gather for their opening meeting October 3rd at 7:30 p. m. in the rooms of the Iowa City Commercial club. Luther K. Meyer, president of the club, will officiate. Plans are being made to entertain about two hundred men at the first meeting.

There has always been some question as to who is eligible for membership in the commerce club. Mr. Meyer says that any student registered in the college of commerce or who is working for a B. A. degree with an economics major is welcome to become a member. Any student who plans on entering the college of commerce and who is now a sophomore in the liberal arts college is privileged to attend all mixers and dinners of the commerce club.

Last year the commerce club was one of the most active of the large organizations on the campus. Practically all commerce students were members. Several smokers and dinners were held during the year which assisted in cementing a feeling of close acquaintanceship among the students. Several excellent speakers were brought to Iowa City last year by the Commerce club and added a great deal of enthusiasm to the study of business.

The officers of the Commerce club for the following year are Luther M. Myser, president; Glenn Houson, vice president; Glenn Houson, secretary; and Fred E. Skinner, treasurer.

Julia Reger Teaching in Austin, Minnesota, School

Old friends and classmates of Miss Julia Reger of Iowa City will be interested to know that she has a very fine position teaching mathematics in the high school at Austin, Minn.

Miss Reger graduated from the college of liberal arts of the university last February. During the past summer while at home, she took work at the University. Miss Reger attended both terms of the summer session, working toward her master's degree in mathematics.

The high school at Austin, Minn., is noted for its exceptionally high standing, ranking as one of the best west of the Mississippi river.

Women to Try for Glee Club Friday

To Arrange For Out-of-Town Concerts For The Coming Year

Try-outs for the women's glee club will be held Friday afternoon, September 28 at 4 o'clock in room 110, of the school of music. The try-outs will be held under the direction of Professor Walter Leon, head of the department of voice.

This year promises to be particularly interesting for the members of the club, for plans are being made to arrange some out of town concerts as well as the annual concert at the university. It is already planned to include in the program Debussy's cantata, "The Blessed Damozel," a unique setting of the poem by Rossetti. The plans for the program of the year are being arranged by president Jeanne Wolfe, A4 of Clear Lake; manager Judith Tornell A3 of Pilot Mound, and professor Leon.

Successful Fall Style Show Staged at Englert Theater

The fall style show presented Wednesday and Thursday at the Englert theatre was the most successful one staged here in the past three years, according to the general conclusions of all concerned in the presentation of the show.

The models, all young ladies of Iowa City, were charmingly gowned in lovely frocks, wraps and coats. Dark brown and black prevailed in street clothes, with lighter and brighter shades for afternoon and evening wear. Beads and fur were much in evidence in the afternoon gowns and satin cantons and silk crepes were the favorite materials.

Clothes were displayed by Osborn, Rothschild, Lundberg and Seidenbecker, Yetter and Ritestyle shop. So successful have these displays been that the head of the fall style show declares that it will be an annual event.

The models who took part were as follows: Strubs—Edyth Ingram, Riverside; Mable Arthur, Wellman; Anna Taylor, Isabel Crawford, Jean Strub and June Collins. Yetters—Mildred Horn, West Liberty; Mrs. L. H. Harmon, Naomi Siechter, Thelma Karston, Oxford; Mozelle Walker, and Dorothy Kempler. Rothschilds—Edith Smith, Kalona; Mrs. LaGrange, Jeanette Rothschild A2 of Iowa City. Osborns—Gertrude Sidwell A2 of Iowa City, Ruth Warren, Avis McFadden, Mrs. A. L. Richards, and Miss Henrietta Kromb. Solon. Ritestyle Shop—Leola Godske, West Branch. Phyllis Williams, Oxford, Anita Lucke A2 and Marjory Roland, Lundberg & Seidenbecker—Melinda Gies, Agatha Healy, and Cecelia Mumm, Lone Tree. Furniture for all the stage settings were furnished by White Bros., Pano by Harmony hall, flowers by J. Aldous & Son. Hairdressing was done by the Woodford beauty parlor.

Varied Opinions on Green Caps Expressed by Freshman Men

"What do you think of the green cap rule?" was a query put to several freshmen yesterday.

The answers, for the most part, savored of the old time expressions of "Oh, it's all right, and the style is a great improvement over last year," and "Oh, well, I suppose it helps us recognize each other."

Some of the answers, however, were amusing and original, and all were eagerly waiting for Friday, the day of the donning of the green caps.

D. Kelley, of Waukon: "I think the freshmen should wear the green cap because it upholds tradition and school spirit."

J. R. Jackson, of Mechanicsville: "Well, I suppose I'll wear it, although I'm not very keen on the idea of adding some more green to our natural greenness, which is evident enough."

Charles J. McLane, of Clinton: "It doesn't make much difference to me one way or another. I'll have to wear a cap anyway, and one is as good as another."

Freshmen who are wearing the green cap with the spirit of embarrassment and reluctance should hearken to the statement of Lowell Otte, Iowa's star end on the football team:

"Why, sure, they ought to wear it. It indicates good school spirit and an institution like Iowa has to have spirit to keep things moving along. When I was a freshman I was proud of my green cap, because it made me many friends, and I'll always look back on those days as the happiest in my college life."

Old Capitol Not Ready Till Dec. 1

Some Offices Already Occupy Historic Structure Before Completion

At the present rate of progress on construction work on the Old Capitol building, the main floors of that building will not be ready for executive occupancy for a period of at least two months. However, Mr. J. M. Wisk, superintendent of grounds and buildings, refused to make any official statement on the matter.

The main cause for delay in the work seems to be that the new window casings for the upper stories of the building have not yet arrived, and that other construction work can not be started until the woodwork is installed. Doorways as well as windows are lacking in the building.

All plastering in Old Capitol has been finished. Floors in the third story have been laid. Concrete flooring with mosaic divisions. The wood used in all the hallways. The wood on flooring in the main rooms has all been completed.

The basement is the section of the building nearest completion. The offices of the dean of men, the dean of women, and of the superintendent of grounds and buildings are already installed. However, flooring in the halls has not been laid and there is much electrical and

Lutherans Will Hold Convention at Madison

Madison, Wis., Sept. 26 (AP)—All Lutheran bodies in the United States except the Missouri Synod will be represented at the third biennial convention of the Lutheran Brotherhood of America, to be held here October 3-5, according to announcement by the Rev. J. A. Stub, president.

The principal organizations to send delegates, which are expected to number between 800 and 1,000 are the United Lutheran churches, Norwegian Synod, Augustana Synod, Luth. Synod of Ohio, Iowa Synod, and the Synod of Northwest. These bodies represent a total membership of approximately 3,000,000 embracing portions of the territory between New York and the far northwest.

The dominant note in a convention program is to be the man's place in the church.

Shun Modern Wives in Germany; Ban Bobbed Hair

Frankfort, On The Main, Germany, Sept. 8 (AP)—Germans do not want their wives too modern. That is quite clear from the advertisements for wives appearing in the best German newspapers.

A German wholesaler who has a flourishing business in Portugal, wants a wife between 18 and 22 who is able to adopt herself readily to the different conditions of life she will find in Portugal, but who is "not too modern" in her ideas. She must have bobbed hair, must be companionable, beautiful, good natured, and "thoroughly domestic" in her tastes.
