Senior Breakfast Is Saturday Event Of Week's Program

Iowa, Track Tryouts, and Recital Today

Seniors May Bring Guests to Breakfast And Dance

Varsity, mixer, and eat—all are crowded into the annual senior breakfast which, as one of the high points in the commencement week festivities, will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at Red Ball Inn.

When the music begins at the suburban home of Mrs. Dunham, parents who are in Iowa City to attend the graduation exercises can see the student in his natural recreational habitat dancing to the syncopated strains of Bromo Sulzer's orchestra, for among the guests will be a number of out-of-town visitors. Seniors are not limited in the number of guests who may accompany them to the breakfast.

The committee in charge of the breakfast includes: Robert L. Block, L. A. Davenport, as chairman, and Charles Dawson, A. J. Davenport, Leonard P. Ristine, M. J. of Iowa City, and Bernadine Wendel, A. J. of Smithland. From any of the foregoing and from members of Staff and Circle, or at Whetstones, tickets for the breakfast are available at 75 cents. A hundred more guests can be accommodated at the breakfast than the number of tickets which went to yesterday afternoon had been sold.

The commencement program begins this afternoon at 3 o'clock with a double header—lowater Regatta at the City Park and the official Olympic track and field tryouts of the Mid Western Association of the Amateur Athletic Union to be held on Iowa Field. Coolidge To Pay Tribute Today To Lincoln's Memory

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 29.—(AP)—A simple but expressive tribute to the memory of the martyr president of the civil war by Calvin E. Coolidge, president chief executive of the United States will be paid in this city tomorrow morning.

Today a large wreath was received by W. T. Fay, custodian of Lincoln's tomb from the White House at Washington. The box containing the wreath was addressed to Lincoln's tomb and to the wreath was attached a card "The President." Custodian Fay will place the wreath at the foot of the tomb.

Registration for Summer To Break Vacation Lull

Quiet! Yes, but it won't last long. Registration for the first term of summer session begins next Thursday and advance indications point to a record breaking attendance. Many of the regular year students are staying over, others are snatching a week at home before they start their summer work, and an influx of summer attendants will begin to arrive before the end of next week. Officials predict that more than 3,000 students, the goal for the entire year in 1915, will be here this summer.

Students of Music In Recital Tonight

Forms Third Event On Commencement Program

Tonight at 8:15 Miss Audrey Camp, pianist, and Miss Jeanne Wolfe, soprano, will give a recital in the Natural Science auditorium. This will be the final recital of a series of thirty-two given this year by students in the department of music, and is the third event of commencement week.

Miss Camp graduated from the University last June and has been a graduate scholar in music this year with piano as her major. During the second semester she has also been teaching piano in the school of music. She has been heard in recital several times in Iowa City, and last summer she toured northern Minnesota and Wisconsin with the Acme Chautauqua. She was accompanied for the Women's Glee Club this year and presented a group of solos at their annual concert.

The presentation of two piano concerts on the same program will be an interesting and unusual feature of Miss Camp's part of the program. She will also play a group of Chopin studies.

Miss Jeanne Wolfe is also well known in Iowa City. She has appeared several times in recital and as soloist with the chorus and Women's Glee Club, and has for several years been the soprano soloist at the Methodist church. During the Glee Club's recent performance of "The Mikado" Miss Wolfe sang the leading soprano role. She also toured with the Acme Chautauqua last summer. This is her senior recital.

Miss Wolfe is this year holding a Juilliard scholarship in music. These scholarships are given by the Juilliard Musical Foundation, which has headquarters in New York City, and they are awarded throughout the country to students who show particular promise in music.

A particularly interesting number on Miss Wolfe's program will be the big duet from the first act of the opera "Madame Butterfly," sung by Miss Wolfe and Prof. Walter Leon, head of the voice department. Miss Wolfe will also give a group of songs and arias.

The program follows:

Concerto, op. 58, in G Major..... Beethoven

2. Andante con moto

3. Vivace

(There will be no pause between the second and third movements)

Chas. Webster Recovering From Bronchial Ailments

WAUCOMA, Ia., May 29.—(AP)—Charles Webster, member of the railroad commission, who was taken to a Des Moines hospital a few weeks ago to be treated for a bronchial ailment, is at his home here to recuperate. Mr. Webster will spend about a month here before again taking up his duties at the capitol. Should any important matters demand his attention, Mr. Webster announced he would transact them from his home.

"You and I," Last Production, Has Well Known Cast

June 2 Is Date Set For Commencement Play

Players Have All Appeared in Prominent Parts

"You and I," the commencement production of the University Theatre, which will be presented on the evening of June 2, has a cast well-known to theatre patrons for their numerous interpretations. All of the players have appeared prominently in previous theatre productions and their presentation of the charming comedy of Philip Barry's play is being anticipated with interest.

Maurine Shaw, of Des Moines, who is cast as Nanny has played many roles during the last three years. Her Julia in the unforgettable "Lilliom" will be remembered by all theatre patrons of the year past. She was prominent in the casts of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Copperhead," "The Famous Mrs. Fair" and "The Bath Road" of last year, and of "Mater" and "Clarence" in 1921-22.

Johnson Plays Lead

Gordon Johnston who plays opposite her as the husband and father who has never grown up, was the bashful, blundering husband of "To the Ladies," the young lover in last year's production of "The Copperhead," the doctor of "The Faith Healer," and has had prominent roles in "Lilliom" and "The School for Scandal." He received unusually favorable comment for his work in the premiere of "The Bath Road" during the drama league convention last year.

The role of Veronica Duane, familiarly known as Ronny, will be played by Dorothy McClellan. Her first appearance before theatre audiences was last year in the comedy character of Martha in "The Faith Healer." She has also played Mrs. Bates in "The Copperhead" production and Lady Noeline in "The Amazons." Paul Foley, who is the Ricky of "You and I," will be remembered for his roles of Sir Andrew Aguecheek in "Twelfth Night" and the young poet in love with Maria in "School for Scandal." His most recent interpretation is that of the love-sick Nicholas in "The Dover Road."

Whimsical Carter Appears

Harvey Carter will play a whimsical part, that of Geoffrey Nichols, who will recall many of his successes in the same type of characterizations as Latimer of "The Dover Road." He was Sebastian of the theatre "Twelfth Night" production also.

Etta, who desires to be a lady, will be portrayed by Mildred Major, the Paula of the "Torchbearers" production. She was a member of the cast of "Mr. Pim Passes By" which went to Missouri University this spring.

Merwyn Eaton, the Sir Benjamin Backbit of "The School for Scandal," will play the eccentric and egotistic G. T. Warren.

"You and I" will be the final play of the year and will close the season's productions of the Theatre. Tickets for the play may be secured at the Iowa Supply Company store Saturday May 31, at 9 a. m.

Jap Embassy Gets Exclusion Protest

Contents of Document Kept Secret By Officials

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 29.—A formal communication from the Japanese government protesting against the exclusion section of the new immigration law reached the Japanese embassy here today for transmission to Secretary Hughes.

Decoding occupied embassy officials throughout the day and the document had not been presented at the state department nor had any appointment been made with the secretary for Ambassador Hanihara when the department closed this evening to re-open Saturday.

At the embassy no information as to the nature of the protest was forthcoming. State department officials also maintained silence. The question of making public the protest will be considered by Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Hanihara after the latter formally places the note before the American government.

The only information thus far available as to the form and substance of the Japanese communication is that carried in press dispatches, which have reported that the Tokyo government regards the exclusion provision as "discriminatory" and in violation of a commercial treaty.

Farm Bureaus Gain Many Members by Year's Campaigns

DES MOINES, May 29.—(AP)—Membership campaign conducted by county farm bureaus this year netted the bureaus hundreds of new members, the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation declared here today.

With the induction of the new members the interest of the bureau will be increased and its work broadened, it was believed.

There are many Iowa farmers who do not yet belong to the farm bureau in their county, it was stated, and the membership campaign will be continued unofficially in order to bring these into the fold. The state federation believes that the benefits of state farm work such as tuberculosis tests for cattle and other aids to the farmers will be carried through with a greater degree of success when farmers align themselves with their county organizations, which are usually in charge of relief and research work.

New Events Added To lowater Regatta

Mixed Doubles Races And Human Fish Arouse Interest

This afternoon at three o'clock is the time set for the beginning of the annual lowater Regatta which is customarily held on Memorial Day. Besides most of the events that were held last year there will be a number of interesting novelties on the program.

The first event will be the annual river swim from the island to the park bridge, a distance approximately equal to a half mile. The race will be close but the odds are a little in favor of Standish J. Lambert S2 of Iowa City who won the event last year and who also won the mid-western A. A. U. 500 yard race in which he established a new record.

The interfraternity doubles canoe race will attract considerable interest in that it is the last intramural event of the year. Following this event the intra-mural trophy will be awarded to the fraternity winning the most points.

Something new in the way of athletic contests will be the mixed doubles canoe race in which it will be seen whether or not a girl and a boy can make as good or better time than two girls or boys. The course is from the island to the float.

The mens double canoe race will again be given this year. Leon M. Penquist L2 of Colfax who has been the winner in the event for the last two years, winning last year with Eddie Rich, is entered this year with W. J. Coultas A1 of Emmetsburg.

Among some of the novelties chosen for their originality and interest evidenced in them are the fancy high diving, the Hobo race, an exhibition by an armless man swimming across the river and the human fish stunt.

Homer R. Dill, assistant professor in zoology, and well known as an angler, will pit his skill as such against some human fish who will for ten minutes try to thwart Prof. Dill's attempts to land him.

Students Suffer From Mad Dog Bite

Animal Runs Amuck Near L. A. Annex Yesterday

Attacking those who attempted to enter the building for their 8 o'clock examinations, a shepherd dog yesterday made himself guardian of the liberal arts annex. As a result eight or more students suffered torn clothing and bitten hands or legs from the zealous dog. Three of them, Thomas M. Kelly, of Emmetsburg; Arthur H. Boeke of Hubbard and Reginald G. Matthews of Ft. Sterling, Ill., went to the hospital to have first aid treatment.

It is believed that some of the students who were bitten failed to report to the student health department or to the hospital. Should this be the case, they are advised by the physicians to report at once to the out-patient clinic of the University hospital, or to the student health department or to Don M. Griswold, state epidemiologist.

After the dog had driven a number of students to shelter in the annex the dog was chased down the street and felled by the blow from a heavy club in the hands of a policeman. The officer dragged the apparently dead dog into the alley and shot him through the brain to make sure of the job. The dog sprang up at the impact of the bullet and started for the east part of town.

A pursuit was started, but the animal managed to elude his pursuers on East Lucas street, and had not been found last evening. Police officers are of the opinion that he crawled into some hiding place to die. As soon as his body is found, it will be taken to the hospital for examination. In case the dog proves to have rabies, steps will be taken to protect the students by pasteur treatment.

Fewer Cars Made During April Than In Previous Month

DES MOINES, May 29.—(AP)—April statistics indicate a slight recession in automobile production in comparison with March, a decline which is contrary to the seasonal gains usually in evidence during the spring months, a report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago declared. Passenger automobile production during April total 336,568, a loss of 3.2 per cent from March and 2 per cent from April, 1923.

With the April curtailment and shipments smaller than in March, stocks of cars in dealers' hands and in warehouses were withdrawn in response to retail demand, even showed a marked improvement over March, according to reports received by the bank from the seventh federal reserve district.

Week's Work Fails To Bring Solution Of Franks Murder

Chicago Police Admit No Light Has Been Shown Yet

Faint Chance That Dying Suspect Can Be Linked Up

(By the Associated Press) CHICAGO, May 29.—Authorities hunting the slayers of Robert Franks, school boy son of a Chicago millionaire whose body was found in a South Side swamp after ransom demands were made of the parents, stated tonight they were apparently little nearer a solution of the crime than when the body was found a week ago today.

There was slim hope that Charles Heath, Chicago druggist, found suffering from the effects of poison in a Louisville, Ky., hotel today, would be able to throw any light on the case, which is one of the most baffling mysteries with which the Chicago police have ever had to deal.

According to information received tonight from Louisville authorities, Heath is in a dying condition and may never be able to make a statement. Michael Hughes, chief of detectives, said he had desired to question Heath more because of his auspicious actions than through any belief that he is directly concerned in the kidnaping and slaying.

"Johnson" Asked Ransom
After swallowing poison Saturday, three days after the Franks boy disappeared, Heath was taken to a hospital. Detectives went there to question him because he answered in a general way a hypothetical description built up by the police of "George Johnson."

Johnson carried on the ransom negotiations with the Franks family. A message signed with this name was received by police in which it was stated Johnson expected to commit suicide. When they arrived at the hospital, however, Heath had vanished. After an investigation, little effort was made to find him. Detectives said his wife told them he took the poison accidentally and might have left out of sight. Two Chicago detectives expected to go to Louisville to question Heath tonight if they find he can be questioned.

Policeman Suspect Freed
A woman was arrested today with her two sisters. Later the two sisters were released, but the woman was held after police searched her apartment and found many newspaper clippings of the Franks case and about fifty bullets wrapped in paper. The woman, however, denied any connection with the case.

Thomas Gilfoyle, a former policeman, taken as a suspect last night, was released tonight on a writ of habeas corpus.

The police announced they had found an optical supply house that is believed to have sold the spectacles found near the boy's body. The house has four stores in Chicago and its records will be checked in an effort to gain more information about the glasses, believed to be the best clue available as to the slayers.

The lenses, the opticians said, are in no way unusual and were probably made to relieve eye-strain or headache.

Hold Tramp in Wisconsin
MARINETTA, Wis., May 29.—(AP)—Morris Lavine, who gave his home address as Chicago, and who arrived here as a tramp yesterday, is being held by the police on suspicion that he might have some connection with the killing of Robert Franks, 13 year old Chicago school boy.

Police Watching Heath
Charles F. Heath, former Chicago druggist, tonight was the center of attention here in the case for the kidnapper and slayer of Robert Franks, 13 year old son of a Chicago millionaire. Police stood over his bed, where he lies, unconscious, after having been found in

Rum Permit Sales Paid G.O.P. Debt, Detective Claims

Means Implicates Mellon in Intriguing Testimony

Investigated Ford To Get Basis For Anti-Jewish Stand

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 29.—Two sessions of the senate Daugherty investigation today served to let Gaston E. Means, detective, complete his alluring story of adventure and intrigue investigating—at the behest of the late President Harding, he claims—prohibition enforcement and Secretary Mellon's connection therewith.

Means asserted that the funds of the republican national committee were to have been benefited by whiskey permit sales, and in the course of his testimony drew in names of senators.

He said also that he had investigated Henry Ford by direction of Jess W. Smith, "to get the motive for his anti-Jewish stand and to learn his feelings toward the administration," and Gray Silver, Washington, agent of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Charged With Taking Bribe
But he tilted chiefly at Secretary Mellon with reference to liquor questions and the latter issued a statement late in the day declaring Means' testimony "too absurd to deserve notice."

Opportunity to cross examine Means will be given Mr. Daugherty's attorneys Saturday, and he will then return to New York to stand trial in federal court on indictments charging him with taking money from bootleggers.

Would Show Up Mellon
Means testified that well supplied with the cash he set up the "women's clean government league" and put H. L. Scatfe, a former department of justice investigator and his assistant, in charge with instructions to get in contact with Secretary Mellon. The purpose, he indicated, was to take up prohibition conditions and show "the treasury incompetent to handle the whiskey situation."

Jess Smith had supplied him, he continued, with documents purporting to show that Mr. Mellon had entered into an arrangement with Rex Sheldon and Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee, by which Sheldon was to be furnished permits for withdrawing whiskey from distilleries and warehouses." Sheldon was to sell these, he added, and turn over $25 or $30 received per case at bootlegging market prices to "pay the debt of the republican national committee."

Tiny Cars Tune Up For Racing Classic Today

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—A score and two of little speedsters almost as tiny as toy automobiles, but capable of marvelous speed, today received the careful grooming of pilots who will guide them in the twelfth annual 500 mile sweepstakes at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow.

Two additional machines will try at daybreak to meet the speed test of eighty miles an hour for ten miles that officials have prescribed for all entries in the race. Should they succeed, twenty four cars will line up at the start.

Dismal weather with frequent showers cast some gloom over the throng of speedway fans gathered here to ride the race. The weather bureau, however, said the day would dawn clear and crisp.

Students Paddle From Iowa City to Home in Ft. Madison

Two University students, Harry Diton, A2, and Delbert Hoffman, A1, left this morning from Fitzgerald's boathouse in a canoe and expect to paddle to their home in Ft. Madison, which is 125 miles from Iowa City. They are confident of making the entire trip in five days.

The canoers will take plenty of time in making the trip, and do not expect to experience much trouble with paddling the canoe as they are going downstream. They have taken enough provisions and camp equipment for the entire trip. The canoe is of medium build and very light.

Women Prominent In Iowater Races

Will Participate In Canoe Races and Swimming

The women's doubles canoe race in the regatta this afternoon will be hotly contested according to reports. Margarita McGoveny and Amy Benner, the winners last year, will defend their title against the determined assault of several other good teams. The other teams are: Gladys Brooker and Alice Roose; Mabel Quiner and Eva Prunty; Edna Spurgeon and Ann Doornick; Helen Monosmith and Helen Nicholson.

In the women's river swim, those competing will be: Amy Benner, Gladys Brooker, Esther Rawlins, Edna Spurgeon, Helen Monosmith, Helen Springer, Mildred Kenyon, and Katherine Richter.

Marjorie Kay, Esther Rawlins, Mildred Augustine, Joy Brady, and Katherine Richter will compete in the high diving.

The women are taking a large part in the regatta as is only natural considering the prominent place that the women hold as expert swimmers and paddlers. The latter faculty has been greatly developed among those sorority members who are on the probation committees. It will stand them in good stead in the canoe race, no doubt. Altogether the women's events will be a valuable addition to the program which is varied and interesting.

Tailored and Flowered Hats Both Favored

By MME. LISBETH.

Flower trimmed hats are always popular in the "good old summer time" and one marvels at the variety and color and also the naturalness of these ornaments. Possibly one thinks, too, sadly, about the child labor problem that the making of flowers involves in the sweat shops of some of the large cities. Tiny children of three and four years old are made to work long hours when they should be playing and resting because their tiny hands are dainty enough to fit the petals and stamens in the center of the flowers.

Not all flowers are made by these weary little workers, we are glad to say, and very few women can resist the lure of a colorful hat decked with gay posies. The hat illustrated above is of pale grey chip straw with a banding of flowers in pastel shades.

A tailored hat is a very practical adjunct to the summer wardrobe as well as to the winter one. It is the most appropriate accompaniment of a tailored suit or frock and may, indeed, be worn with more dressy ones. It may be worn earlier in the season and later in the fall than may the flower bedecked one, which makes another bid in its favor. The hat at the bottom of the picture illustrates this point and several others. It is a smart little black straw cloche with a tailored trim of black satin ribbon.

Noted Novelist Visits Iowa City

Miss Suckow Will Be Week-end Guest of Iowa City People

Miss Ruth Suckow, noted short story writer and novelist, will arrive in Iowa City today on a tour of eastern Iowa.

While in the city she will be a guest at the home of John Townner Frederick, assistant professor of English. Miss Suckow is known chiefly for her short stories which have been published in a number of magazines both of the middle west and of the east. By many critics she is regarded as the most promising of the younger generation of writers.

She is the author of "Country People," a book which has aroused much discussion locally. Miss Suckow will make no public appearances in Iowa City but will be entertained by literary groups during her stay.

From here she will go to the Amasa colonies. Her home is in Earlville.

Dorothy Dondore to Take Ph. D. Degree At Columbia Soon

Word has been received from New York City that Miss Dorothy Dondore of this city has just completed her work for the doctorate at Columbia University. Miss Dondore received her bachelor's degree from the University in 1916, being at that time elected to Phi Beta Kappa and being awarded the prizes for excellence in Old English and English Composition.

She is also a member of Pi Lambda Theta, honorary educational society. After completing her master's work in 1917 she was made instructor in the department of English, a position she held for three years. After leaving Iowa City several weeks ago, she spent some time in Chicago and Kentucky, where she read a paper before the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, and then continued on to New York.

There she has successfully passed the preliminary and final examinations. Her dissertation, an extensive survey of the literary treatments of the Mississippi valley, will be published in the fall.

Des Moines Bars Circuses During State Fair Week

DES MOINES, May 29—(AP)—City council today adopted an ordinance barring circuses, street fairs and other transient attractions from the city during the state fair period in order to center interest at that time on the state's big show. A $100 fine was the maximum penalty fixed for such exhibitions.

Edwards-Johnson
Announcement has been received of the marriage on May 26 of Miss Adelaide Edwards of Iowa City to Mr. Cecil Johnson of Charleston, Iowa. Both are alumni of this University. Mr. Johnson is a member of Pi Beta Pi fraternity.

Summer Writing Sought By "Lit"

Contributions Will Be Accepted Any Time During Summer

Literary aspirants! Will you get your inspiration in foreign lands, or in the golden west, or in the corn-fields of Iowa this summer? Wherever you get it, write it out and submit it to the Iowa Literary Magazine, General Delivery, Iowa City, by the next mail.

The editors hope to have at least part of the material for the first issue, which will come out the middle of October, selected by the time school starts next fall, and will give any contributions which come in during the summer careful consideration.

Although the first issue of Iowa Literary Magazine brought out several of the literati who had been hiding their lights under their respective bushels, the editors believe that many more inclined geniuses who have hitherto blushed unseen will now become appreciated.

Short stories, poems, book reviews, and essays will constitute the makeup of the magazine next year as they did the last issue. So when you are thoroughly rested up from your scholastic labors of the winter, choose the type of writing which is your forte, select the best idea you ever had, polish it up, and send it in.

Four issues of the magazine will be brought out next year under the guidance of Evelyn Harter, A-3 of Keokuk, editor. Harry Stevenson, A-2 of Council Bluffs, business manager, and several associates who will be chosen later.

Alumnus Outdoes Other Publications

Most Alumni Weeklies Have Higher Rate Than Iowa

Regardless of the high standard of journalistic and editorial content which the Iowa Alumnus continues to maintain, its price to subscribers is consistently less than alumni publications at other universities charge their readers.

Few universities even publish their alumni news in the weekly form which Iowa has in the past years adopted and where any organized effort is made toward publishing a magazine to feature alumni activities, the monthly magazine has been adopted as the standard form. Michigan, Minnesota, and Indiana, the only nearby Big Ten universities to edit alumni weeklies maintain a journalistic style similar to the Iowa publication but their subscription rates are a dollar or more a year above the price for the local magazine.

For monthly and weekly publications the price does not in general vary and in both cases a five dollar subscription rate is common to alumni magazine at other universities. eta toa ointaol aties. Michigan and Minnesota, both of which edit weeklies and with subscription rates of three dollars a year, approach the nearest to the Iowa magazine. However, Iowa can undercut them a dollar on subscriptions and on the other hand fulfill the same purpose.

Dr. Libbie Cammack, Missionary in Africa, Returns for Reunion

Dr. Libbie Seymour Cammack, who for the past seventeen years has been a medical missionary in Africa, is the first alumna of Iowa to register in Iowa City for the alumni reunions which will be begun Monday as a part of the annual Commencement week festivities.

Dr. Cammack registered with her sister, Miss Edith Seymour of Fort Dodge, Iowa, who received her B. S. from the University in 1899 and a degree in pharmacy in 1905. The missionary sister who has had as her headquarters in Africa at Cumana in Angola, received her B. A. degree from the University in 1897, her M. A. in 1900, and her M. D. in 1904. Her husband, who is a former student of the colleges of liberal arts and law, is at present at Sebring, Fla., where he and his wife will spend the next two years recuperating. In the seventeen years that the Cammack family has spent in Africa, they have taken three short furloughs, but on this trip to America they expect to be in the states a couple of years.

The parents of Dr. Cammack and Miss Seymour are pioneers of Iowa City, coming here in 1854.

a rooming house this morning. Whether Heath had any connection with the case the authorities would not hazard a guess. He suffered from poisoning and is in a critical condition.

The circumstances surrounding his presence here, however, are causing police to watch him. He disappeared from a Chicago hospital mysteriously when detectives were preparing to question him about the Franks case.

Claimed He Was Attacked

He arrived here May 27, and, according to the management of the hotel, told of being attacked in Chicago by a gang of men because, he said, he had been taken for a dead ringer for Frank's slayer. "In his room at the hotel was found a Chicago morning newspaper of May 27, folded to the story of the Franks case, in which his name was mentioned. The story told of Heath's removal to a hospital after an attempted suicide.

Finger prints, a photograph and typewritten figures found on envelopes in his pockets were sent to Chicago tonight for possible identification.

I. C. H. S. Public Speaking Reorganized By Harry G. Barnes

The public speaking work in I. C. H. S. will be completely reorganized next year under the supervision of Harry G. Barnes. He will have charge of declamatory, debating, dramatics and in general all of the work in the speech department. The basis of the work will be done in three classes, namely, public speaking, debating and dramatics. This particular field will be enlarged so that more people may participate than in the past. It is probable that with this larger course the high school may enter more debates and declamatory contests in the future. The program of plays will be enlarged and it is hoped that this will give everyone who is interested in dramatics a chance to show his ability.

Booze Ring Hit By Indictments

Federal Grand Jurors Indict 26 for Violating Rum Laws

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 29—Federal indictments charging twenty-six persons with illegally possessing, transporting and selling liquor were returned here today, naming one lieutenant of police and his squad, warehouse officials and others as principals involved in an alleged "rum ring" which disposed of over $1,000,000 in liquor.

Forged withdrawal permits, and forged letters of verification aided the removal of the liquor. Assistant United States District Attorney E. L. Weist and John Byrne, said tonight. No reference to the forged permits or letters were made in the indictment, which also failed to name the owner of the liquor.

Prominent Men Named

Mr. Weist said those involved took the liquor from the Sibley warehouse to other warehouses where in turn it was delivered to police who disposed of it to dealers.

Those indicted are: Sackett H. Varrall, president of the Sibley Warehouse company; W. Carpenter, secretary; Lavant Morrell; Walter C. Cunniff, and Sheriff Cunniff, brothers of Colonel John V. Cunniff, war hero and former assistant district attorney; Abe Mendose, Abe Levin, described a whiskey broker; E. F. O'Brien, characterized as a "bootlegger," by the district attorney's office; the Harder Warehouse and Storage company; Dean O'Bannon, Thomas Decoursey, Charles King, John Gibbons, William Smith, Thomas Martin and Lieutenant Michael Grady, all of the detective bureau; P. D. Pinkusshny, Matthew Qual, a saloon keeper; C. D. Carlson, Martin Strugs, and Lawrence Mayer of Mayer Brothers storage company; William Walter, Emil Feindt and a man named Angelo, whose last name was not learned.

To Suspend Policemen

Notified of the indictments concerning Lieutenant Grady and his squad, Chief of Police Collins tonight said he would suspend the men immediately upon receiving official word. One count in the indictments, charge the police with delivering and escorting 500 cases of whisky through Chicago streets. Permit forms for withdrawing liquor were stolen from the prohibition department's office, it was said, and later presented at the Sibley Warehouse. It was reported that Major Percy B. Owen, prohibition director of Illinois, and William Q. Settle, chief deputy collector of internal revenue were among those called before the grand jury.

Classes in Craft Work Conducted By Vacation School

Boys and girls of Iowa City who enroll in the Daily Vacation Bible School to be held this summer will have the opportunity for elaborate craft work. Expert teachers are being engaged for this department of the school. Rug and hammock bead stringing, basket making, and cut work are among the activities being planned. Boys and girls who engage in wood work will have the use of jig saws and other crafts equipment. Looms will also be prepared for the rug and hammock work.

Mrs. Caroline Blair formerly director of summer schools in Alton, Illinois, is to have charge of the Daily Vacation Bible School. She is a specialist in craft work. She also expects to have classes in music and dramatics and a program of this nature will be given during the session of the school. The teaching force is now being mobilized, committees are at work on the best available texts and the school will be in full operation before the end of June.

Uteritz, Michigan, Named As Coach at Northwestern

CHICAGO, May 29—(AP)—Irwin Uteritz, one of Michigan's 1923 football stars, was tonight named as an assistant backfield coach on the staff of Northwestern University's athletic department by Coach Glenn Thistlewait.

Duke Duane has been re-engaged as a line coach with "Chuck" Carney as end coach, and Henry Penfield, Freshman coach, it was announced.

U. S.-Jap Dinner Reflects Strain

Exclusion Avoided But Depression Hangs Over Affair

(By the Associated Press)
TOKIO, May 29—The depressing atmosphere induced by the enactment in the United States of exclusion legislation applying to Japanese hung heavily tonight over the first important gathering of Americans and Japanese since the Immigration bill was signed at the farewell dinner of the American Japanese Society to retiring American Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods. It persisted despite the efforts of every one present to avoid the subject of exclusion.

An impressive moment during the dinner came when Viscount Kentara Kaneko, president of the society, arose and proposed the health of President Coolidge—less than 72 hours after word had reached Tokio that the president had signed the immigration bill.

Viscount Kanakao in paying tribute to Ambassador Woods and the work he had done in Japan, deviated a moment to compliment the newspaper of America on their attitude in the present difficulties. "In the 52 years since I was a school boy in Boston, I've followed the American newspaper," he said. "But I've never seen anything like the unbounded sympathy they have shown in this crisis for Japan. I never have seen any such consideration shown for any foreign country. It is unprecedented in the history of American journalism. The majority of the United States newspapers have stood for the right, and have been true friends in need." Ambassador Woods spoke briefly. "It is idle to pretend that these are trying times," he said, "but it is in such moments of stress as these that men are most truly tested, and their innate qualities revealed. At this moment I have nothing but praise for the attitude of the Japanese nation. The calm and dignity with which the Japanese are conducting themselves are worthy of the traditions of your great and noble nation."

REMEMBER AND HONOR

WITH the passing of years Memorial Day has assumed a far different role in American life than that for which it was first intended. The custom of decorating the soldier's grave was originally borrowed from the South. Over fifty years ago, General Logan expressed the hope that the day would be commemorated until the last Civil War veteran had passed.

Now the memories of the World War will perpetuate the day in American hearts. Today the North and South can join in honoring those who fell in France, those who fought and were privileged to return, those who served and waited for orders to move eastward.

America played no insignificant part in that vital struggle. Those who wore the khaki made no small sacrifice in the hour of their country's need. It is both fitting and proper that the nation should pause and honor the few who laid down their lives for the many.

Many years will pass before the veterans of the late war will rise to the undaunted spirit of the comrades in blue who faithfully appear each year in an untiring effort to fill the inevitable gaps of the fast disappearing files. Yet each veteran of the World War will experience an irresistible thrill as the flag and the band pass today. Automatically he will snap to attention. Thousands of memories of camps, convoys, and French mud will come flooding back. Decoration day is also his day.

To many of the American public it is just a vacation, a day when the general routine is interrupted, a day for frolics of their own and general hilarity. Yet the purpose of the day can not and will not be defeated by the insincerity and thoughtlessness of the few. The majority still believe in government, in the American government, and appreciate the sacrifices that have been made that this government might live. Regardless of creed, regardless of politics, Americans consider their heroes worthy of honor, remembrance, and commemoration.

The heroes in blue still hold first place in American hearts. Until the last, Decoration Day will remain primarily their day. But when the last is gone Decoration Day will continue. Their deeds, their memory will be honored, but also the deeds and the memory of all American heroes who have made sacrifices for this country worthy of sacrifice, this country that does not forget.

TO THE SENIORS

THE Sixty-Fourth Annual Commencement—our Commencement—is almost at hand. Its activities begin today, May 30, and extend over a period of five days. During this time the traditions and history of our class will be made, if it is to have any.

Of course, plenty of Iowa history has been made by individual members of our class, both athletically and academically, but there has been no unified activity participated in by the seniors of all colleges. At this time, therefore, it seems that we shall lose much of what is really worth while in a college education if we fail to get together and make this Commencement a success—something which we can look back upon with pride and cherish as a memory.

If we take these five days as an added vacation and loaf instead of backing things, our Commencement will mean no more to us than just a time at which we received our diplomas and left the University of Iowa, just another incident in our lives. But if we put into these five days the spirit and interest of a class which has attended the University during so successful an era as our class has, our Commencement will be the crowning achievement of our college days—as it should be.

RICHARD E. SHOPE.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION

IN RECENT years a large and increasing body of opinion in all western countries has been interested in the problem of how the mechanism of democracy can be improved. In the United States experiments have been made with the initiative, referendum and recall, with the direct election of senators, and with the commission system of city administration. In Europe and in other lands under the parliamentary system of government, interest has centered rather on the idea of proportional representation.

The central idea in the scheme of P. R., as it is usually called, is that the ordinary system of democratic election, whereby a single member is elected in each electoral district, produces an incorrect result. Where there are two parties contending it gives to the victorious side an excessive majority. Where there are more than two parties it often results in the return of candidates elected on a minority vote. And so the advocates of proportional representation recommend the adoption of the system of the transferable vote in large constituencies electing five or more candidates, so that those who command the greatest measure of support certainly get elected, but minorities secure representation as well.

At first sight there does not seem to be any answer to the arguments so advanced. But recently both theory and experience are beginning to go against the idea. In the first place the basic theory upon which P. R. is grounded has been challenged. It is the purpose of a general election to produce an assembly which is an exact reflex of all the currents of opinion in the community at the moment? Or is it to obtain the decision of the people as to which party and which policy it prefers and to return an adequate working majority to enable it to govern and to carry through its program? Manifestly the most important result is the second, and it will not help anybody to achieve the first at the price of losing the second.

But experience is also against the idea. Proportional election has been tried in Italy, in Germany, in Ireland, and in a modified form in France. And almost universally the verdict has been unfavorable. It has either resulted in the return of a multitude of parties none of them strong enough to undertake responsibility for government, which has, therefore, to be conducted by an immoral process of logrolling. Or it so overrepresents the minorities that no clear national verdict can be seen at all. Facism is partly the result of proportional representation which made it impossible for Italy to secure that strong government which was necessary after the war. Signor Mussolini has now inverted the idea of P. R. by an electoral law providing that the largest single party shall artificially be given a majority of the seats, precisely to obviate the abolition of the system. And the recent election in Germany has returned such a variety of minorities that it is doubtful whether the German people, through its Chamber, can give any decided answer on the question of the awes report.

Curiously enough, the Constitution of the United States, which is certainly one of the most democratic in the world, is an entire negation of the theory of proportional representation. While there is representation of minorities on the legislative side, the Chief Executive for four years must be unalterably of one party complexion, with no minority representation at all.

The truth is that the degree to which popular intervention in the work of government is an advantage varies with the intelligence and capacity of the electorate itself. At one end of the scale are those who believe that public opinion is always wise. At the other are those who believe that government should be in the hands of experts. Clearly neither of these extreme views is sound. The true theory of democracy is probably better expressed in the old phrase "government with the consent of the governed" than in any other. Mob rule is not government. Expert rule is not popular sovereignty. For success there have to be both government and popular consent to that government. Theorists and idealists from time to time have endeavored to find a better way, sometimes limiting the power of the people to interfere, sometimes trying to confer upon the people the duties which properly belong to their representatives. But experience seems to show that the old rule was the best, and that progress must come not by altering machinery so much as by improving the character and intelligence of the electorate which uses it.

THE LOST VISION

I who was once a child,
Delighting only in living,
And asking neither the where nor the whence of life,—
I who am now a man—
Why should I now lose faith
In the good of living?
Why do I question and doubt
And hunger for explanations
Of life's being?
Did childhood surrender forever
The vision?
Still I ask,
And still do I go unanswered.

Factories Output Not Increased For April, Says Report

Federal Reserve Bank Of Chicago Issues Monthly Data

Usual Acceleration Of April Lacking This Year

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 29.—The monthly business conditions report of the federal reserve bank of Chicago for the seventh federal reserve district, dealing with industrial employment conditions, says:

"There was a noticeable lack during April of the usual acceleration of activity within the manufacturing industries of the district. The reports indicate a slowing down in practically all industrial lines, but the curtailments are not large and outdoor work is amply able to absorb an extra supply of labor at this time. The situation is in strong contrast to conditions of a year ago when manufacturers were having difficulty in obtaining the necessary labor for their requirements and when there was a strong tendency toward making wage increases.

Earnings Decline 2.3 Per Cent

"The returns received by the Illinois state department of labor covering 300,000 industrial workers of that state showed declines for April amounting to 1.2 per cent in men and 1 per cent in earnings. For Wisconsin, as reported to its industrial commission by plants employing 89,000 men, the corresponding losses were 3.7 per cent and 4.3 per cent, respectively. In the states of Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, reports sent directly to this bank indicate a somewhat heavier curtailment, the average loss for approximately 38,000 men amounting to 3.7 per cent. The combined figures for all these states showed declines of 1.6 per cent in men and 2.3 in aggregate earnings.

"Of the various industries represented in these returns car construction furnishes the only noteworthy exception to the downward tendency. Stone clay and glass products also gained over the preceding month, but the change was less pronounced. Metals and metal products as a whole showed a decrease of about one per cent in both employment and earnings. The heaviest declines were experienced in the clothing and leather industries."

Savings Accounts Decrease

Referring to savings accounts and deposits, the report says in part: "The decline of 0.3 per cent in the amount of savings deposits from April 1 to May 1, as reported by 205 banks in this district, marked a reversal of the upward trend which has been in evidence in the two preceding months. The decreases are a reflection of the declines of 0.9 and 0.5 per cent in Illinois and Iowa, respectively, as the other three states showed increases of 0.2 per cent in Michigan, 0.4 per cent in Wisconsin, and 1.0 per cent in Indiana. All five states continued to show increases over a year ago, the aggregate gain amounting to 6.8 per cent."

O'Hara's Tribute To Dead Soldier Comrades

"THE BIVOUAC OF THE DEAD" was written in 1847 by Theodore O'Hara to commemorate the death of his comrades who fell in the Mexican war, and was read by him upon the occasion of their burial in the cemetery at Frankfort, Ky., after removal from Mexico.

No answer of the foe's advance
Now swells upon the wind;
No troubled thought at midnight haunts
Of loved ones left behind;
No vision of the morrow's strife
The warrior's dream alarms;
No braying horn nor screaming fire
At dawn shall call to arms.

Their shivered swords are red with rust;
Their plumed heads are bowed;
Their haughty banner, trailed in dust,
Is now their natural shroud;
And piteous funeral-tears have washed
The red stains from each brow
And their proud arms, in battle gashed,
Are free from anguish now.

The muffled drum's sad roll has broken
The soldier's last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall meet
That brave and fallen foe.
On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

The din and shout, are past;
No war's wild note, nor glory's peat,
Shall thrill with fierce delight
Those breasts that nevermore shall feel
The rapture of the fight.

Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead!
Dear as the blood you gave,
No impious footsteps here shall tread
The heritage of your grave;
Nor shall glory be forgot
While fame her record keeps.
Or honor points the hallowed spot
Where valor proudly sleeps.

You marble minstrel's voiceless stone
In deathless song shall tell,
Where many a vanquished age hath flown,
The story how ye fell.
Nor wreck, nor change, nor winter's blight,
Nor Time's remorseless doom,
Shall dim one ray of holy light
That glids your glorious tomb.

—Theodore O'Hara.

Cool Weather Hits Middle West Crops

All Sections West of Rockies Affected By Coolness

(By the Associated Press)
DES MOINES, May 29.—Continued cool weather was decidedly unfavorable for germination and growth of spring crops, particularly in all sections east of the Rocky mountains, the report of the United States weather bureau on weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending Tuesday, May 27, released here declared.

Winter wheat made satisfactory progress generally east of the Mississippi, but growth was slow in the western portions of the belt because of the general cool and dry weather in many places, the report stated. The dry weather was unfavorable for winter wheat in the more western states. The growth of spring wheat was slow, though the condition generally is satisfactory, the bureau believed.

Conditions were unfavorable for oats from the upper Mississippi valley eastward, with seeding seriously delayed in the northwest.

Corn planting is very late throughout the central states, the bureau announced, because of several weeks of unfavorable weather, and there is much complaint of poor germination. Planting in farther advanced in the trans-Mississippi states and germination improved in the lower Missouri valley.

Germination was very unsatisfactory in Iowa, the report said. The weather was unfavorable for potatoes and truck planting from the lake region eastward. Pasture and meadows made satisfactory progress in most the eastern part of the country, but the drought serious in the more western states, the report declared.

public purchasing power due to decrease in working forces at manufacturing plants and in certain cases to wage revisions, and unemployment has been increased by labor troubles at some centers."

Before Alternating Current Dominated the Electrical Industry

What Engineering Owes to the Far-Sightedness of George Westinghouse

THE impregnable position now occupied by alternating current was attained only after a bitter struggle, for, due to its supposedly deadly characteristics, practically the entire electrical fraternity once opposed the progress of what was generally referred to as "Westinghouse Current."

Gaulard and Gibbs originated the alternating current system in Europe. Their system was impractical in many respects, but had been used with some success for lighting.

George Westinghouse became interested, and immediately recognized that the weakness of their system lay in the design and principles governing the transformer.

He devoted the resources of his organization to the development of the transformer. When he made it a practical unit, alternating current, with its vast commercial advantages, then became possible.

The beginning of the bitter struggle by George Westinghouse for the supremacy of alternating current goes back to 1885 and 1886. Remarkable progress has been made since then and voltages as high as 220,000 are in commercial use today.

Engineering owes much to the far-sightedness and fighting qualities of George Westinghouse.

"Babe Ruth" of College Baseball

Douglas Wyckoff

By NORMAN E. BROWN
 The big league scouts are now compiling their final report on this year's crop of college baseball stars and their capabilities and possibilities. According to both National and American league ivory hunters the crop looks as good as it did last season—when a goodly number of likely looking rah rah boys were grabbed off.
 One of the college diamond stars drawing much attention in the southeastern section of the country this season is Douglas Wyckoff, Georgia Tech first baseman.
 This fourth letter man, in addition to playing first in good shape, is ruining the outfield fences with his trusty fists. Of course he has been dubbed the "Babe Ruth" of the team in his first 55 times at bat he cracked out just 28 hits for a .509 average. A number of these were good for the circuit.
 Wyckoff is an all-round athlete. He was named as a member of most of all southern eleven because of his work on the grid team last fall. He is also a track and basketball star.
 He bats right handed and has the physical proportions of the one and only Babe Ruth.

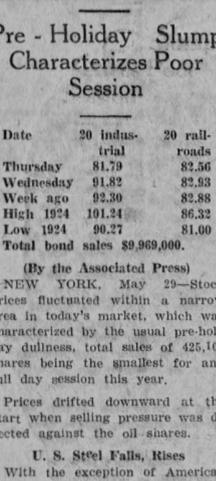

Stock Sales Dull; Prices Fluctuate

Pre-Holiday Slump Characterizes Poor Session

Total bond sales $9,969,000.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 29.—Stock prices fluctuated within a narrow area in today's market, which was characterized by the usual pre-holiday dullness, total sales of 425,100 shares being the smallest for any full day session this year.
 Prices drifted downward at the start when selling pressure was directed against the oil shares.
U. S. Steel Falls, Rises
 With the exception of American Can, which closed 1-4 cent lower at 102 1-2, all the so-called pivotal stocks showed small net gains at the close.
 U. S. Steel common dipped below 95 and then rallied to 95 1-2. Early heaviness of the independent steels were off on publication of trade advices from Pittsburgh that the volume of steel buying had not decreased in the last thirty days and might possibly have increased slightly.
 Railroad shares showed little change on the day.
Liberty Bonds Firm
 Call money opened at 3 per cent and then eased to 2 3-4, which is the lowest it has been since March 21, 1924, when it closed at 2 1-2 per cent.
 Liberty bonds were firm, the drop in call money to below 3 per cent and the further ease in time funds stimulating additional employment of institutional funds. Buoyancy of the second and fourth 4 1-4's reflected accumulation of these bonds for U. S. government account.

Committee Shown More Klan Action

Southerner Says He is Working to Oust Wizard Evans

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 29.—Ku Klux Klan affairs were aired today before the senate committee investigating the election of Senator Mayfield, democrat, Texas.
 F. F. Littlejohn of Pocomt, S. C., a life member of the Klan, told the committee that he was engaged at his own expense in an investigation of the organization for the purpose of profiting by a disclosure of irregularities within it, and that he was working to force Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans out of the Klan.
 H. M. Keeling of Dallas, Texas, described activities of the Klan in the 1922 campaign in Dallas county. Utilizing a separate campaign fund, which it created by an assessment of one dollar upon each of its members in Dallas county, the Klan, according to Keeling, instructed its members in most of the precincts how they should vote.

West Is Expected To Conquer East On Cinder Paths

Cambridge, Mass., May 29

(AP)—East and West will open the two-day battle for intercollegiate track and field supremacy tomorrow at Harvard Stadium, with the Pacific coast favored to triumph for the fourth successive time in the most keenly contested meet in years.
 Single handed against the east, University of California, was victorious last year, but this season the west has sent three powerful arrays into the field to fight for the forty eighth I. C. A. A. A. crown with the pick of athletic talent from 28 eastern institutions.
 Leland Stanford, returning after a year's lapse with a powerful squad of fifteen stars, has replaced the champions as the favorite of a majority of critics. Southern California with nine entries is the third Western team.
 Against this formidable opposition the east has pinned its main hopes on Yale, Pennsylvania, and Princeton.

Injunction Denied For Villa-Ash Go; To Fight Tomorrow

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice Benedict in Brooklyn today denied a motion for a temporary injunction to restrain Nostrad A. C. from holding fights in its open air arena. As a result the promoters announced the Panco Villa-Frankie Ash flyweight title fight, postponed on Tuesday on account of rain, would be held tomorrow night.
 Property owners in the vicinity of the Brooklyn bowl sought to have the injunction issued on the ground that bouts held there brought undesirable characters to the neighborhood and depreciated property values.
