"The Boomerang" Will Be First Play of Summer Session

Out-of-door Stage Will Be Erected on Iowa Field

Mable, Langworthy and Hurley in Charge

An extensive program of plays has been arranged for the coming summer term for production by the class in dramatic production and the Out-of-door Players, according to Prof. Edward C. Mable, director of the University Theatre. "The Boomerang," a comedy by Winchell Smith and Victor Mages, which will be presented on Friday, June 27, is a meeting of the Out-of-door Players will be held in the Natural Science auditorium at 5 o'clock on Thursday, June 12. At this time officers will be elected and plans completed for the summer. A picnic for the members of the organization will be included in the list of summer activities.

An out-of-door stage for the presentation of the plays this summer has been arranged, according to Prof. Mable. It is to be constructed at the south end of the athletic field, and be so placed that seating arrangements for 4,200 spectators may be made.

In addition to Prof. Mable, Miss Helen Langworthy and Mr. George O. Hurley will direct for production of the summer's productions. Miss Langworthy has been an instructor in the speech department during the past year, and had an undergraduate career in dramatics. Mr. Hurley had been closely connected with the dramatic work of the past few seasons, and has assisted Prof. Mable in the summer work of the past few seasons.

Mr. Hurley will direct the first play of the season, "The Boomerang," a comedy which recently was produced at the University of Missouri. Miss Langworthy will have charge of the second production, "The Piper," a poetic English play which was written by Miss Josephine Peabody. It will be given Thursday and Friday, July 3 and 4.

The third of the season's offerings will be a dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island." It will be presented on Thursday and Friday, July 10 and 11, under the direction of Mr. Hurley.

William Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" will be the final offering of the first term. It will be produced under the supervision of Prof. Mable on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 15 and 16.

During the second term, the work will be carried on by Mr. Vance Morton and Mr. Kümmler. "Old Lady T" by Rachel Crothers, and "Robin Hood," by Owen Davis, will be presented.

Coming Conference Heralded by Radio

Shambaugh Broadcast First of Series Yesterday

The first of a series of radio talks on the Commonwealth Conference which will be held here from Monday, June 20th, to Wednesday, July 2nd, was given yesterday noon by Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, chairman of the Commonwealth Conference Committee.

Discussions of specific phases of the subject of the Conference which will be "Problems of the American Electorate" will be given on Wednesday and Friday of this week, as well as Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of next week.

The purpose of the Commonwealth Conference will be to consider, to weigh, and to discuss the problems that confront the voters, rather than to arrive at any uniform agreement upon the issues of the day. And so queries will be raised and opinions quoted with a view to stimulating thinking rather than to stating conclusions or to closing the mind to independent thought," said Mr. Shambaugh.

"It is perhaps needless to add that the Conference will hardly attempt an appraisal of the merits of individual candidates for office," Mr. Shambaugh brought out further the necessity for the voting public to be able to select competent public officials and the value which this conference will have in so instructing voters.

The Conference will be held in the old Stone Capitol and will be open to the public.

Baylor Students Attracted Here

Southerners Pleased With Work Given At University

A growth curve that spells an increase of over 1,000 percent within two years tells the story of the attendance of Baylor college representatives at the University of Iowa. During the year of 1922-23 there was one representative of the school here, last summer there were four and this summer the total has jumped to eleven.

W. A. Jackson, who is assistant professor of political science at Baylor, a college of about 2,500 students at Waco, Texas, began the experiment when he came here during the school year of 1922-23. He liked it so well that he remained for the summer school, and his influence was somewhat of a factor in bringing three of his former students, Aldon Lang, A. P. Cagle, and C. S. Fothergill, with him.

This year the four are back with an additional seven. One of the four, Mr. Fothergill, has brought his wife with him. Dean S. R. Spencer, of the Baylor college of liberal arts, is seeking his Ph. D. in physics here this term. L. R. Courtney, assistant professor in English at Baylor, is here with his wife and two daughters, Marion and Frances, who are also taking work. Miss Esther Hoar is taking work in the English department.

Mr. Jackson, who came here first, was a fellow in the department of political science during the regular term of 1922-23. "I came because of the strong political science department here," said Mr. Jackson yesterday. "The department has a wider and better variety of courses than can be found in many schools. After I came, I found I liked the general atmosphere of the campus, and decided to work here for my Ph. D. in political science.

"I suppose my influence, had something to do with the others coming here," said Mr. Jackson. "I told them of the work and the conditions here, and that would naturally interest them in the school."

Mahan To Direct Amana Excursion

Charge Of $2.50 Will Be Assessed Students

The first of a series of excursions to various points of interest in Iowa will be conducted Saturday, June 14, by Mr. Bruce E. Mahan, who will direct a party of students to the Amana Colonies. The trip will be made by auto and is open to any student attending the summer session.

A charge of $2.50 will be made to defray the expenses of the trip, which include fare and dinner at South Amana. Those interested are asked to register before Friday noon in Room 11, Liberal Arts. Those intending to take the trip should specify whether they wish dinner at the hotel at South Amana, so that arrangements may be made in advance.

Director Mahan wishes to secure the services of students who will be able to drive the Fords provided by the University for the excursion. Those who offer their services will be given the trip free. Owners of autos may make the trip in their own cars, but if they take passengers they must assume responsibility for them.

Other trips to be made during the summer are: to the Rock Island summer, June 2; to the Quaker Oats and Sinclair Parking Companies at Cedar Rapids, June 28; second excursion to mana, July 5; and trip to the State Penitentiary, Fort Madison, and dam and power plant, at Keokuk, July 12.

MUSGOOKE, Okla., June 9.—(AP)—The town of Riverton in south-west Kansas was destroyed by a tornado late today according to reports received here by the southwest Bell Telephone company. All the company's wire between Joplin, Mo., and Galena, Kansas, were blown down.

Excessive Rain Causes No Irreparable Harm to Crops

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 9.—(AP)—With a period of warm weather, Iowa crops and fruit will respond rapidly and not be irreparably damaged it was declared by the Iowa weather and crop bureau following the heavy rain which fell in practically every part of Iowa Saturday.

"The winter wheat, corn and oats, which had been most seriously effected, would show immediate improvement with continued high temperatures, it was declared.

The fruit crop and strawberry and other fruit bushes would also show improvement, it was stated.

"Iowa was on the verge of complete crop loss," a member of the bureau said, "and the rain was timely to the point that it turned possible failure to success for Iowa farmers."

State Parks for Those Who Are Studying Forms of Life

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 9.—(AP)—State parks are for use to those who desire to utilize the parks in the study of plant and animal life as well as geology and the fullest recreational facilities should be granted to those groups, the Iowa State Board of Conservation has ruled. Organizations were requested, as a matter of general policy, to communicate with the park custodian when the use of a park is requested for an extended period.

State Budget Board Operates With Increasing Effectiveness

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 9.—(AP)—Following the appointment of several assistants, the state budget board is operating with increasing effectiveness, it was announced at the office of the budget director, The board will withhold such matters as do not demand immediate attention until after July 22 at which time the budget director, Fred L. Mygals, will be approved. The board will have complete supervision over all taxing bodies in the state and its decision on matters referred to it will be final under the law.

Iowa City Street Railway Situation Remains Unsettled

Removal of Track a Business Move Says Schulze

"The Paving Program Would Cost Us $12,000"

A decision has not yet been reached concerning the right of the street car company to remove its tracks on Dodge and Church streets. The Iowa City Street Railway Company, through its president, Mr. J. O. Schulze, contends that though their franchise requires that they maintain five miles of transportation facilities in Iowa City, it does not specify electric conveyances. Thus they are within their rights to substitute gasoline busses or any other type of vehicle except those drawn by steam or horse power.

Mr. Schulze states that the removal of the tracks was merely a business move on the part of the company. He estimates that the 1924 paving program would require an expenditure of $12,000 which would amount to $1,500 a year in interest, depreciation and upkeep as long as the company exists. This he explained would eventually be borne by the public in either decreased service or increased fare. In order to avoid such a situation the company has substituted busses which have proven satisfactory on the Kirkwood line.

The present system is not so economical as the electric power, but it will undoubtedly prove more satisfactory and the service will be more dependable than the electric power which was apt to be uncertain in inclement weather, according to Mr. Schulze.

Reports that the railway company was removing the tracks with the plan in view to replace them later and thereby replace the assessment also altogether unfounded. According to the state law a city railway company, when entering a street in which there is paving, must reimburse the property owners for the cost of seven feet of paving.

Suggestions that the council fix a license upon the busses which shall be prohibitive in nature are also impractical. Under the statute the council is granted the power to license but not to prohibit and no ordinance directed towards this purpose is legal, according to a supreme court decision.

Meanwhile the questions as to whether the railway company has a right to remove their tracks and whether they may or may not be assessed even when the tracks are removed are still unsettled.

The attitude of the council in the matter is that justice be done to the street car company which is a public service corporation as well as to the public itself. According to Mr. C. B. Russell, city attorney, "the cost of paving, which is now being laid in the streets where the tracks have been taken up will be assessed strictly according to the manner provided by statute."

Belting Assumes Duties as Iowa's Athletic Director

Professor Paul Belting arrived yesterday to take charge of the department of athletics for men and women. He will direct the summer coaching school, with the assistance of J. M. Barry, Gordon Locke, and Aubrey Devine.

Since the resignation of Conan Jones, President Jessup has brought about a complete reorganization of the university's athletic activities. The new program will include the direction of physical education for men and women under one department. Professor Belting has been doing educational work at the University of Illinois, and was selected by President Jessup from many applicants.

Col. Mumma Is Reassigned His Old Post as Commandant

Col. Morton C. Mumma, who is now in Des Moines on business, will return to Iowa City during the latter part of August. Upon his return, he will be reassigned to head the R. O. T. C. at the University, a position now occupied by Major E. L. Hooper who succeeded Col. Mumma as commandant here a year ago. Col. Mumma had served four years as commander of local unit, but in accordance with the army code, was transferred, being assigned to the 38th division. He is eligible again to return to his old post, since he has had no connection with the R. O. T. C. for a year.

Student Health Proffers Free Advice and Aid

Students who are sick and those who have medical or health problems should report at once to the department of student health, according to Dr. W. J. McDonald, who is in charge of the Iowa medical staff that devotes its time exclusively to the welfare of students. The doctor also called attention to the control that the department directs over sanitation about the university and declared that he wished any unsanitary conditions in rooming and eating houses be reported to his office.

The department offers free service to all summer session students and provides hospital care and X-ray service at cost. Vaccination is given for typhoid fever and small pox on request, and similar immunization against diphtheria is placed at the disposal of the student. Complete physical examination is also offered by the department.

Summer hours are announced as follows: on week days, except Saturday afternoon, 9 a. m. to 12 m., and 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.; on Sundays and holidays, 10 a. m. to 11 a. m. Those who are unable to reach the hospital annex, at the corner of Duquesne and Jefferson streets, one block east of the campus, are requested to call 887 during office hours and in emergency cases at other times, 2890.

Jap Officials Will Keep Faith With Us

Will Stick to Letter of Agreement Until July

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 9.—The state department was informed today by the embassy at Tokyo that the Japanese government intends to abide by the gentleman's agreement at least until the new immigration law becomes effective.

The information was given as a result that the Japanese cabinet had approved an appropriation of 150,000 yen to cover losses by Japanese steamship companies incurred in supplying passage on special steamers to the United States to Japanese who desire to arrive in this country before July 1st but otherwise unable to do so because of lack of steamship accommodation.

The attitude of the Japanese foreign office was set forth by the embassy as follows:

"Most of the applicants for passage to the United States are persons who have been visiting in Japan and are anxious to return now to the United States in order to avoid any question as to their status as returning emigrants under the changed regulations which come into force July 1st. The Japanese government is giving the same careful scrutiny to all applicants for passports as in the past.

"The Japanese foreign office is afraid that this situation might be misconstrued to the effect that Japan was no longer under the terms of the gentleman's agreement and it is therefore that the Japanese government intends to abide by that agreement at least until the new law becomes effective.

Houses Washed Away, 9 Killed in W. Virginia Flood

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., June 9.—(AP)—Nine persons were killed and a score of houses washed away in Mercer and McDowell counties today by a flood following a heavy rain storm that reached the proportions of a cloudburst. Sections of Norfolk and Western railroad line and side tracks to a number of mining operations were washed out.

Vice-President Nomination Fight Becoming Bitter

Coolidge's Victory for Presidential Nomination Seen

Iowans Propose Three Names; Minnesota Offers One

(By the Associated Press) BULLETIN CLEVELAND, June 9.—The Illinois delegation tonight in caucus unanimously passed a resolution to present the name of Former Governor Lowden for vice-president to the convention and that the Illinois vote be cast for him as a unit.

OXFORD, Ohio, June 9.—"I don't want the vice-presidency and I am not a candidate for this office, this decision is final and unalterable" early tonight former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois thus summed up his position on reports that he would be chosen for that office at the republican national convention.

CLEVELAND, June 9.—The first class contest over the vice-presidency has given the republican national convention its first smell of the smoke of battle.

The fall of the gavel at the opening session tomorrow will find President Coolidge's nomination virtually an accomplished fact and the major tenets of the party platform as good as agreed upon, but the race for second place on the ticket will still be anybody's.

Almost a score of full-fledged vice-president booms were actively under way tonight and the passing of the hour appeared to complicate rather than clarify the situation.

Hoover's Name Heard

The name of Secretary Hoover was heard more and more often in the swirl of convention speculation but no one seemed to know whether the tide was turning to him or whether it was only one of those unorganized drifts of opinion that gets no where.

Lowden, despite his reiterated refusal to be a candidate, still was declared in the running by those who are insisting that the party should put him on the ticket by an exercise of the draft.

Talk of Borah

The list of those whose names were linked with the vice-presidency in the day's discussion and gossip reaches large proportions. There was a revival of talk for Senator Borah of Idaho although his friends said definitely he would not accept. Senator Curtis was strongly endorsed by some scattered groups, although the delegation from his own state of Kansas voted 22 to 1 for Brigadier-General Charles E. Dawes with the outvote going to Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana.

There was much intangible talk of Dr. Marion LeRoy Burton of Michigan but it was conceded that his name could not be accurately assessed until he appears before the convention Thursday to make the nominating speech for Coolidge.

Maybe Kenyon?

Iowans talked of three possible candidates from their state, Judge W. S. Kenyon, Representative L. J. Dickinson, and former Representative John W. Good. Minnesota endorsed Charles H. March, and California pushed their boom for C. E. Chapman. Others whose partisans were at work among the delegations included Governor Hyde of Missouri, Charles C. Warring of Michigan, Senator Jones of Washington, Governor Dickson of Montana, Major-General E. Harbord, former chief of staff of the army, and Major-General Frank T. Hines, director of Veterans' Bureau.

Klan Candidate

For the most part the discussion of vice-presidential candidates proceeded with that calm which has been the characterizing feature of the pre-convention period, but it provided one sensation in the form of a statement given out and quickly denied endorsing Senator Watson of Indiana for second place on the ticket on behalf of Dr. H. W. Evans, Grand Wizard of Ku Klux Klan. The announcement was made by Milton Eirod, the former publicity director for the Klan, who said he spoke with the full authority of Dr. Evans, but the grand wizard denied he had made or authorized such a statement or taken any other part in the convention preliminaries and Senator Watson disavowed any connection with the incident or the Klan.

LaFollette Makes Defiant

One other splash in the unusual tranquil convention pond was contributed by the Wisconsin followers of Robert M. LaFollette who made public demand that the party platform formally condemn the official record of Albert D. Fall and Harry Daugherty.

Uprising Is Feared Down in Nicaragua

Emiliano Chamorro.

A revolution is expected to break out shortly in Nicaragua. Emiliano Chamorro is known to be concentrating munitions at Chontales, and President Bartolomeo Martinez, who as vice president succeeded to the unexpired term of President Manuel Chamorro in October of last year, is preparing to meet an attack.

Registration will continue throughout the week. Late registration has been found to be necessary since the first term begins comparatively early and students or teachers in other schools have not been able to arrive early.

Director Weller said that while registration is being continued for those who were unable to be here on time, school is actually going on, and students who are on the ground should attend classes whether they have registered or not. Work missed must be made up or credit will be deducted.

Late Registration Heavy; Record Summer Growth

20 Per Cent Over Last Year by Saturday

Early Start of Session Explains Tardy Situation

Although registration for the first term of the summer session had outstripped that of last year Saturday by more than twenty per cent, yesterday was the biggest day for those in charge of registration and the number of students who asked for materials greatly exceeded all expectations. The halls of the liberal arts building were crowded with students yesterday and throughout the day the line of students waiting to register extended from the checker's table past the north door. An equally heavy registration is expected again today.

Rockwell Changes McAadoo's Forces To New York City

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—Campaign headquarters for William E. McAadoo were formally transferred from Chicago to New York today.

David Ladd Rockwell, national director of the campaign, took over the McAadoo organization at the Vanderbilt hotel, from whence he will marshal his forces in preparation for the arrival of McAadoo on June 17 to assume personal command.

Mr. Rockwell's first statement from the new camp was a declaration that Governor Smith's letter of yesterday advocating revision of the Volstead act definitely labelled the governor "wet" and assured the nomination of Mr. McAadoo an "out and out dry." By the national democratic convention here, Governor Smith has at last made liquor a clear cut issue, said Mr. Rockwell. "We are glad he has committed himself, it remains for the convention to decide whether it will nominate a wet candidate or a moral candidate. Mr. McAadoo has always been a dry in compliance with the longstanding conviction of the democratic party. Seventy percent of the democratic states would go dry if a referendum were taken today. Governor Smith's opening the nozzles of the wet cause means more votes for Mr. McAadoo." Mr. Rockwell asserted that Governor Smith and Mr. McAadoo had taken identical positions for the Ku Klux Klan, since each, without having gone on record for or against the Klan, had reaffirmed the perpetual democratic platform plank guaranteeing to all them right to organize and fraternize, and to freedom of speech as well as of assembly.

Mr. Rockwell predicted that the convention would adopt a similar attitude to the Klan, for he said, if this organization should "not be an issue in the national campaign any more than should a secret society of fraternity which people might choose to criticize."

LaFollette Throws Down His Previous Fighting Challenge

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—Senator LaFollette, tonight, on the eve of the republican national convention, threw down his fighting challenge to the party gathering at Cleveland and told his supporters they represented the "mass of the common people of the country."

He specifically instructed the Wisconsin delegation to refrain from placing him in nomination as presidential candidate but urged a war without quarter for ist "platform of progressive principals."

Weekly Singing Session Open To Summer Session Students

Mildred B. Paddock, director of the summer school of music, announces that a class is open to anyone who enjoys singing. Rehearsals will take place every Tuesday evening from seven to eight o'clock at 110 School of Music building.

Jessup Will Open Weekly Assembly

Dismiss Classes For Gathering Tomorrow Morning

Classes will be excused at 10:25 and members of the faculty and student body will be present. The assembly lasts a half hour ending promptly at 11:15 after which the 11 o'clock classes will immediately meet.

"This regular weekly assembly is our opportunity for getting together. I want to urge every one to attend," stated Prof. C. H. Weller, director of the summer session.

The weekly assemblies furnish a series of addresses by leading men of the day with special music for each assembly. Mrs. Paddock, director of the summer session choir will have charge of the music for Wednesday. Walter C. Schaefer, student pastor of the Congregational church, will be the chaplain.

Summer Session Students Can Still Try for Orchestra

Renew Efforts To Honor Scott

Gift of Capitol Land By Pioneer Still Unappreciated

(By the Associated Press) DES MOINES, Iowa, June 9.—As the anniversary of the death of Wilson Alexander Scott, Iowa pioneer who gave the state of Iowa the ground on which the state capitol building stands, again nears, Iowa citizens are renewing their efforts to have a monument raised in appreciation of his gift to the state.

Scott lies buried on Capitol Hill but no stone nor tablet serves to call attention to the final resting place of Iowa's earliest philanthropist. An Iowa historian, deploring the fact that Scott's gift to the state had gone unhonored, said recently: "Although the story of Wilson Alexander Scott's life reads like a chapter from a story book, embracing as it did the elements of bravery, fortitude, patience, forbearance and splendid generosity, the memory of the sturdy Iowa pioneer is unhonored, without even a tablet to mark his resting place, and known only to those few who delight in delving into the history of the days of long ago."

Built Cabin on Capitol Hill. In early 1848 Scott came here and purchased 500 acres of land from the government, the site which since has become the main business section of East Des Moines. Here, just south of the hill now known as Capitol Hill, Scott built his double log cabin and laid the foundation for his fortune.

For years he was a real estate trader but during the gold rush to California in 1849, when thousands of fortune hunters passed through Des Moines, Scott and a few others reaped substantial fortunes by selling supplies to the travelers.

When the Iowa state legislature voted to locate the new capitol at the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers, Scott was so pleased to find it would be located on his ground that he gave outright to the state the site on which the state building now stands. Later he and a few others provided the funds necessary to move the state documents from Iowa City to Des Moines.

A few have suggested that Scott's reason for this unprecedented generosity was that he hoped to reap a still greater fortune by centering the state interest on his property but this contention does not seem to find much foundation as Scott was known to have sold land at almost nothing in order to encourage pioneers to build near the new capital location. He also erected a huge brick house and invited members of the state legislature to be his guests.

Ruined by Generosity. But Scott's unlimited generosity served him badly when a period of depression suddenly came in the latter part of 1857 and he together with other men who had been prominent in early Des Moines prosperity, were almost completely financially ruined. He promptly arranged a band of men for a trip to the west in hopes of retrieving his lost fortunes but from this expedition Scott never returned. He was attacked by a disease near Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and died there.

A few Des Moines friends, remembering the Iowa pioneer's wish that he be buried on Capitol Hill, brought back his remains and buried them on a spot overlooking the Des Moines river.

Few who today walk near the glacial boulder, the only thing to mark Scott's grave, realize that beneath lies the body of a man who was largely instrumental in obtaining the state capital for Des Moines.

THERE are many things which cannot be taught that we grow into by experience. But, every mature person realizes had they, in their earlier career, set out to make preparations for future opportunities they would have been in position to embrace them instead of having to let them pass. Youth most often is impatient—expects results today or tomorrow. By experience we know to bring about a desired result requires work and sacrifice. ### The Installation of Bus Service on the North Dodge Street Line

BENEFITS YOU IN THE SAME MEASURE THAT IT EFFECTS A SAVINGS FOR THE STREET CAR COMPANY

Had the company decided to maintain Electric Car Service on North Dodge street, the interest on paying alone would have added $1500 annually to the fixed operating costs of the company. Other paying in the near future would have swelled additional overhead costs to $4000 annually.

The Iowa City Electric Railway Company has only one source of revenue—fares paid by the patrons of the street cars.

Additional fixed charges of operating have to be met by one of two methods:

- (1) An increase in street car fares.
- (2) A saving in operating costs which could be effected only with a "letting up" of the present high type of service rendered by the company.

The executives of the Iowa City Electric Railway Company do not believe that the people of Iowa City want increased fares, neither do they want a decided reduction in the universally good service that the street cars have been rendering this community.

We do believe that Bus Service on the North Dodge Street line will eventually prove to be just as highly satisfactory as that found on the Kirkwood Avenue Bus Line.

It has always been our purpose to provide the best possible street car service at a minimum fare. We have long realized that the company's prosperity can be measured only in the type of service we render the people of Iowa City. Rather than assume an additional fixed charge of $1500 per year, Bus Service on North Dodge street was decided to be most economical for the company—so it will prove most satisfactory for you.
