SENATORS CARRY FIGHT TO FINAL

Ramsay MacDonald Hastens Parliamentary Elections

Smith Candidacy In Empire State Strengthens Davis

La Follette Reiterates Charges of Slush Fund

Says Butler Does Not Deny Raising of Money

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9—Coming out of the upper and western New York state districts today in a highly elated mood, John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee found reports awaiting him at his eastern headquarters here, which he said reflected increased strength lately attained by democrats in other sections of the country, where conditions previously had been reported as adverse or indifferent.

From the summary of the latest political developments presented to the candidate by Cllem L. Shaver, democratic national committee chairman, Mr. Davis drew the deduction that a changing sentiment favorable to the tickets to be headed by him was rapidly and generally developing.

Just how far-reaching the reported change in sentiment ultimately would prove to be Mr. Shaver said he was not prepared at this time to disclose. In the statement which he issued after his conference with Mr. Davis the chairman said:"

"Nor is this constantly increasing enthusiasm for Mr. Davis confined to New York alone. The splendid speech of Governor Smith in Boston, has aroused a similar aggressive spirit there. I don't for a minute concede Massachusetts.

In another statement issued by Mr. Davis before he left for his home in Locust Vallely to rest until Friday when he departs for Indianapolis the candidate declared: "New York state will be found in the democratic column November 4. The state national tickets will win by substantial pluratities."

More About Slush

DETROIT, Mich. Oct. 9. AP.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette independent presidential candidate, declared here tonight in his first campaign speech in the middle west that the use of money in doubtful states is only one of the many methods by which the republican national committee and its financial supporters are striving to save their candidate from utter defeat.

"Far more insidious, far more corrupt in its ultimate social consequences", he added, "is the use of the financial and economic power of business interests to intimidate and coerce citizens who are giving their support to the progressive ticket. This issue is between brought to bear upon business men, home owners, borrowers and employes—upon every class of citizens whose economic position enables these powerful interests to apply the thumb screw."

Reiterating his charge that the republican party is raising a "slush fund to win the election in doubtful states," Senator LaFollette asserted that the statement of Chairman Butler of the national committee, commenting upon the Scranton speech of the Wisconsin senator" does not meet the charge that this slush fund is being raised."

"He does not dispute the assertion" continued Senator LaFollelitte, "that it was to be used to control the election in doubtful states. He does not meet the charge that this plan was conceived at a conference at which he, W. T. Mellon of Pittsburgh and Edward T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia were present. He does not meet the charge that Pennsylvania's quota was $700,000. He does not answer the charge that the total amount was four or five million dollars."

HASHSLINGER'S STRIKE

LISBON, Oct. 9: (AP)—Lisbon hotel and restaurant employes have gone on strike to force their employers to grant them a percentage of the customers' bills, instead of the tipping system. The employes claim that this method is being used in all the other countries of Europe.

Fosdick Resigns His Presbyterian Post

Refusing to bind himself to the dogma of the Presbyterian church, the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, noted modernist preacher and a Baptist, has resigned as associate pastor of the First Presbyterian church of New York.

Plans All Set for Dad's Day Banquet

Tickets Placed on Sale At Whetstone's Drug Store

Arrangements for the banquet at Youde's Inn which will represent the grand finale of the Dad's day festivities Saturday have been completed, it was announced yesterday.

Tickets for the banquet are for sale at one dollar a plate at Whetstone's drug store. Those wishing to obtain a number of tickets should get them soon as they are selling rapidly.

Ample plans for the entertainment of those attending the banquet have already been made.

Decorations for the bonquet hall are arranged by a committee under the direction of Alma Buck, A4 of Britt, Iowa. The musical numbers are in charge of representatives of the Staff and Circle, headed by Judith Tornell.

Dean George F. Kay of the liberal arts college will preside at the banquet, and Bishop Francis J. McConnell, former president of DePauw university, will take part in the program that is arranged.

Although there is no certainty of his presence, it is likely that President Jessup may speak at the banquet. Charles R. Sellers, A4 of Davenport, president of the A. F. I., will also be speaker at the banquet

Co-Eds Turn Eyes Toward Candidates

Women Voters to Talk Politics Today At Meeting

The University branch of the Iowa league of voters will have an open program next Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the liberal arts assembly room. The discussion in general will be in regard to the means of voting for the absentee voters.

Monday afternoon at 4 o'cock in room 119, liberal arts building, the regular weekly discussion will be held by the members. The presidential candidates will be the principal topics for discussion.

"The aim of the university branch", said Else Ruste, president, "is to get every girl in the University interested in the present campaign and to enable her to cast an intelligent vote, and most of all to make them realize their responsibility as voting citizens."

The officers of the University branch are: Else Ruste, A4 of Charles City, president, Ester Marie Hansen, A3 of Battle Creek, vice president, Viola Lake, A4 of Iowa City, recording secretary, and Melba Carpenter, A4 of Iowa City, treasurer.

Thinks Party on Popularity Wave At Present Time

Set Date for October 29; King George Approves

Employment Policy of Labor Government Is Bad

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Events following upon the government's defeat last night have moved with quite unusual expedition. The prime minister today obtained royal assent to the dissolution of parliament which was porogued with the usual formalities tonight and immediately dissolved by the kings permission, the privy council for these formalities meeting at the unusual hour of 7 o'clock in the evening.

The king, as always, omitted no courtesy in meeting thelabor premier's wishes, despite he fact that the unaccustomed haste to get the formalities provided for by the constitution being sofewhat of a novelty.

Wave Popularity

MacDonald had two reasons for advancing the date of the elections as much as possible; first, a desire to avoid inconvenience to the business community and public interests generally; and second, the necessity of holding the general elections on some date which would not conflict with the English municipal elelcions, scheduled for November 1.

Mr. MacDonald and his parties conceive themselves as on a wave of popularity and therefore consdered it advisable to hasten the elections to the utmost.

The date has been fixed for Wednesday, October 29, and this choice was only possible through the House of Lords adopting the Irish bill unamended.

Parties Jealous

Undoubtedly the labor administration's failure effectually to deal with unemployment will figure largely in the conservative and liberal attacks upon the labor candidates, but to this the labor reply will be that they were unable through only a minority government to carry out their full plans for dealing with this problem. The elections will to a great extent turn on whether the country feels satisfied enough with the last eight months of the labor government to give labor a fresh trial.

Ramsay MacDonald and his party are convinced that the real motive of the conservative and liberal parties in forcing the elections was growing ealousy of the success of the labor administration, especially in foreign affairs in which it had been confidently exepected labor woud make its greatest failure. The laborites therefore believe their record in this respect will be sufficient to carry them on a victorioustide and that the quicker the elections are fought the greater will be their success.

Cable Describes N. O. L. Methods

Tells Candidates How To Make Ready at First Meeting

Prof. W. Arthur Cable outlined the methods of preparation for entering the Northern Orrtorical League contest, at a meeting of the candidates held yesterday in room 118 of the liberal arts building.

Professor Cable outlined three phases of preparation for the work. The selection of the subject, the writing of the oration, and practice, including learning and rehearsing the oration, were included.

Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the speech department, outlined the type of mind needed for an N. O. L. candidate.

Further meetings of the candidates are to be held every Wednesday at 4 o'clock in room 118, of the liberal arts building.

Absent Voters Must Ask For Ballots Soon

Absent Voters Instructions

1. Absent voters must send application for ballots to their home county auditor between October 17 and November 1.
2. On the application the voter must declare himself to be a duly qualified elector entitled to vote.
3. This affidavit should be signed by a county officer and returned to the home county auditor's office.
4. The ballot then received should then be filled out in the presence of a county auditor, sealed, and sent to the absent voter's county auditor's office before the day of election.

Application Goes to Auditor of Home County

Absent voters applications for ballots must be sent for not more than 20 days, nor less than 3 days before election on November 4. That is, between October 17 and November 1

Applications for ballots should be sent for at the county auditor's office, not at Iowa City but at the place of the voter's residence. The county auditor will then send an application blank.

On this blank the absent voter must swear (or affirm) to have been a resident of Iowa for six months, of the county of their residence fof sixty days, and in the town of their residence for ten days.

He must also declare himself a duly qualified elector, entitled to vote at said election. This affidavit should be signed by an auditor, notary public, or other county officer.

The application should be returned to the county auditor of the county of residence and a ballot will then be sent. This ballot should be filled out in the presence of a county officer, placed in the provided envelope, sealed and returned to the county office before the election.

These ballots are then delivered to the voter's town polls by the county officers, without expense to the county.

Pep Is Assured; Seven Qualify As Cheer Producers

Prof. E. C. Mabie and the four main cheer leaders held tryouts for cheer-leaders yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The following men were chosen for the Ohio game:

Robert Underhill, J. Earl Miller, Merle Francis, Tom Cox, John Marshall, Dean Vogel, and Bill Baird.

These men, with the four old cheer-leaders, George Gibbs, Robert Cass, Don Rhynsburger, and Robert Chaffee, will lead yells at the Ohio game.

The selections for the Ohio game are not permanent, and some men may be dropped and more men added as the tryouts continue next week. The time and place for these tryouts will be announced in the Iowan.

Newspaper Men Will Meet Here

Iowa Journalists Plan Two Day Session Next Month

Arrangements are being completed for a meeting of the editors and the publishers of the state to be held here November 14 and 15 under the auspices of the school of journalism and the Iowa Press Association.

Mr. G. L. Caswell, managing director of the Iowa Press Association is now co-operating with the faculty of the school of journalism of the University in the preparation of a two day program. One or more speeches by newspaper men of national reputation will be included.

The meetings will be held in the senate chamber of Old Capitol and will begin at 11 a. m. on Friday, November 14. The program will continue Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday forenoon.

Friday noon the visitors will be the guests of local organizations at a luncheon.

It is posible that the editors and publishers may be able to remain for a tour of University buildings Saturday afternoon.

Butler Says Slush Fund Accusation by LaFollette Is Bunk

In the original French, a "folet" or a "follette" is a person who is perpetually making small errors or indulging in "little follies". Or so said a campus linguist as he stopped in front of the liberal arts building for a moment yesterday.

While he left others to judge the career of the fiery Frenchman from Wisconsin, he went far enough to say that La Follette must have gained his name only at the expense of the roots of his family tree.

Steck Connects Brookhart with Scandal Charges

Claims Senator Aided In Coercing of Witnesses

Demands Inquiry Into Work of Brookhart Committee

(By the Associated Press)

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 9—Demanding an investigation by Attorney General Stone of the manner in which members of the senate Daugherty investigating committee last spring induced witnesses to testify against former Attorney General Daugherty and various government officials, Daniel F. Steck, democratic candidate for United States senator, in a campaign speech here tonight, declared he possessed evidence which, if correct, involved Senator Smith W. Brookhart, his opponent in the campaign.

Steck read to his audience what purported to be an affidavit by A. L. Fink, former Buffalo, N. Y., stock broker, in which the author charged that he was coerced into the role of an aide to the investigating committee and assisted in inducing Roxie Stinson of Columbus, Ohio, to go to Washington to give testimony against Daugherty.

The affidavit read by Steck declared that for his assistance in the investigation, Fink was promised the office of internal revenue collector at Buffalo and his attorney, Henry Sterns, also of Buffalo, was told he would be appointed to a district judgeship.

Miss Stinson, the affidavit credited to Fink said, had proposed that a story she planned to "frame," be sold to "some prominent democrat" for $150,000, to be used in discrediting Attorney General Daugherty. Under threats of exposure of an alleged blackmail plot she was dissuaded, the affidavit continued. Some time later, however, the Daugherty committee learned of her offer and through a personal visit from Fink and Senator Wheeler, after the former had been subpoenaed by Senator Brookhart and commissioned as an investigator, she was induced to appear before the committee and testify against Daugherty, the affidavit declared.

The statement also was made that Senator Wheeler promised Miss Stinson an opportunity for personal gain on the stock market of Mr. Daugherty's resignation, if co-incident with the announcement she would testify against him.

Steck, who has been carrying on an intensive campaign since the republican state central committee a week ago, announced it considered Senator Brookhart had voluntarily divorced himself from the republican party through an attack upon the Coolidge-Dawes ticket, placed in circulation petitions addressed to Attorney General Stone, requesting an investigation of the investigating committee headed by Senator Brookhart.

Recalling the statement purporting to be a repudiation of testimony by Gaston B. Means, recently made public by Mr. Daugherty, and reported disavowal of testimony offered before the committee by George Remus, Steck declared voters of Iowa and the nation were entitled to know whether "a senator from Iowa has prostituted his high office to engage in foisting a gi-

Good Demands Slush Fund Probe

La Follette May Be Called Before Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. AP.—An immediate meeting of the senate contributions committee to hear Senator LaFollette on the charge of a republican "slush fund" was demanded today by James M. Good, former representative from Iowa, and pre-convention western campaign manager for President Coolidge.

Mr. Good made such a declaration today at the White House after a brief conference with President Coolidge at which he discussed political conditions in the west. While several visitors were received today by the president he did not discuss at any length. It was reported to the president early this week that the party campaign fund was running low.

At noon Mr. Coolidge received delegates to the joint convention here of the American Civic Association, the American Institute of Park activities and the American Park Society, suggesting aid in the movement to provide accommodations for motor tourists and lauding them for their work in providing recreation.

Declaring there was never a campaign carried on more economically than the one of the republican party this year Mr. Good insisted that Senator Borah, chairman of the committee, should call Senator LaFollette before the contributions committee.

"The committee' he continued" should find out what Senator LaFollette know and notify the country of his findings."

Kenyon Says He Can't Be Bothered with Politics

ST. PAUL, Oct. 9. AP.—Questioned regarding a report from Iowa that his suport had been placed to the Coolidge-Dawes ticket, Federal Judge W. S. Kenyon who is holding court here said today:

"I wish people wouldn't bother me with politics. I am trying to be a good judge and not a politician. I am not in poilitics and wish the people would not seek to drag me in."

Buckeye Rooters Descend on Iowa In Six Pullmans

Headed by the Chamber of Commerce of Columbus, the backers of Ohio State will pull into Iowa City at noon Saturday on a special train of at least six Pullmans, to help Iowa university celebrate her first annual Iowa Day.

The exact number of rooters who will accompany the team is not known at this time, but will be near 250. In all probability their band will come. On the homeward trip the special train of the Buckeyes will leave here at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Three hundred seats have been reserved in the east side bleachers for the Easterners, and Kenneth E. Griffin, manager of ticket sales, reports that the advance sales are very good. Rotary, Kiwanis, and other clubs throughout the state are doing their bit to help put the day over.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (A. P.)—The deciding game of the world series tomorrow will be fought with uncertain quantities on the pitching mound. Manager Harris has announced that he will gamble with Ogden, a young right hander obtained in mid season from the Athletics. McGraw stated that he would probably use Virgil Barnes who was knocked out of the box Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—Launching a spectacular comeback when their hopes seemed to be at their lowest ebb, Washington's battling Senators captured the sixth game of the 1924 world series today from the New York Giants 2 to 1 and forced baseball's championship struggle to the limit for the third time in history and the first time since 1912.

President Coolidge and his wife, establishing himself as a dyed-in-the-wool fan by watching his second game of the series, joined in the tumultuous enthusiasm of a victory-frenzied crowd of 35,000 that saw Bucky Harris, the slim, dark haired young manager of the Senators, come though with a pinch hit that clinched one of the most thrilling triumphs of the series. Harris, with two out and the count two strikes and three balls, slashed a single to right in the fifth inning that scored Peckinpaugh and McNeely with the Senators' only runs, and broke up a sensational southpaw battle between Art Nehf, Giant ace who had won the first game, and "Old Tom" Zachary, who came through with his second triumph of the series.

Peckinpaugh Lost to Team

Peckinpaugh, veteran shortstop, whose return to the game today for the first time since Monday, had plugged the gaping hole in the Senators' inner defense and put new life into the entire team, aggravated a leg inury in fielding Meusel's hot smash over second base. He made the stop and threw to Harris and forced Kelly and checked the Giant rally but there was a fresh cry of alarm from the stands when Joe Judge was hit in the groin by Harris's low throw and fell to the ground in pain.

Peck Plays Brilliantly

Peck pulled up limping and finally had to be half-carried from the field, but Judge recovered sufficiently to continue the game and Taylor, sub infielder who is just recovering from an injury to his throwing hand which was swathed in bandages, went to third base to finish the game for Buelge, who moved over to Peck's place at short.

The fresh injury to Peckinpaugh, aggravating the pulled tendon or charley horse which forced him from the series last Monday, was particularly tragic, not only for Washington's championship hopes but for Peck himself who celebrated his return today by splendid fashion. The veteran fielded brilliantly, starting a double play that stopped the Giants in the fourth, besides helping quell the final attack of the McGraw men in the ninth while he had a perfect day at bat, starting the winning rally and scoring the first Senator run. His absence already keenly felt in the defense which the Senators sustained in two out of their three games at New York, will seriously handicap Washington's bid for the city's first world title.

The Senators were outhit today seven to four but they made them count and won by their never-say-die spirit, that has kept them in the

Four Wheels And No Brakes, But 1914 Flivvers Rocket Rakishly

If there is such a place in this vale of sorrows as a Fordian Utopia that place is in Iowa City. It is here that this universal pariah comes at last into its own and no Cadillac can cross its path with impunity. It is here that every old "1914" receives the homage due its hallowed years.

There is neither border nor breed nor birth-anything that runneth the good race on four wheels enjoys a distinction all its own. The Ford is supreme. Let the others look to their laurels.

Let a diminutive '14 come rocketing down Clinton with the auto-intoxication of triumph glinting balefully in its bleary headlights and the stoutest-hearted Studebaker will seek the protection of the curb. It sneers a cart and coupe alike and knows no law.

As to personal appearance-well, beauty is only skin deep. Why waste time on external embellishment? When all else has passed away there is still the gas tank left to sit on.

Be not disillusioned. The man in his Ford is a Ceasar in his chariot. No one shall say him no.

Politics in the University

NEXT Wednesday is the date set for the annual election of class officers in the college of liberal arts. The petitions have been turned in with the required twenty-five signatures, and all the would-be politicians are plotting their campaigns with seriousness equal to that of national party managers.

About the campus are groups of students who talk in whispers until someone approaches when the meeting swiftly breaks up. There is much handshaking and backpatting, and there are many more "hellos" on the streets these days. When it is all over, and the winners are announced they will laugh and say, "I guess the old machine worked all right;" and the losers will say, "What could one man working alone do against a political machine?"

But at any rate it is good practice. The offices in themselves mean very little, except the honor of the thing. Having one's picture in the Hawkeye, and the appointing of a committee or two during the year, are about all. But the experience of running for office, of going out after votes, of attempting to "play politics" is valuable. The miniature campaign offers some problems not altogether unlike a real one, and the experience derived here will help later on. Politics is just another extra-curriculum activity offered for the benefit of students in their spare time.

Education vs. Luxury

ONE billion dollars for educational purposes; twenty-three billion for luxury.

So reads the yearly balance sheet of the people of the United States. In addition it states that every year we spend two billion dollars for tobacco, the same amount for candy, and more than two billion for cosmetics.

Even regarding these figures, there has arisen during the last few months this astonishing warning, "We are spending too much for education!" Certain people, presumably unaware of present conditions, are shouting against expenditures made for schools, with especial references to colleges and universities.

They should remember that in 1920, 6 per cent of the people over ten years of age in the United States were found to be illiterate.

They should also remember that an officer of the New York State Industrial Commission recently estimated that one-half of the accidents in factories, with a resultant loss of $50,000 a day, are due merely to ignorance of language.

Experiments have shown that the material productive efficiency of a person, not to speak of his cultural equipment, is almost directly proportional to the amount of education he receives.

How greatly the future productive resources of America would be cut down if even half of our college students, driven away from college without tax-endowed institutions, were deprived of the worthwhile elements of the university!

The art of cutting off one's nose to spite one's face must not be too highly developed.

Japan's Attitude

AMERICA has not sufficiently recovered from her shock of surprise at the Jap demands to appraise at its true value the findings of the arbitration commission. We all gasped for breath when the empire of the rising sun virtually declared, "If we are in the league we want the right to make disputes over immigration referable to arbitration. This would have been an interference with questions of domestic sovereignty.

The new amendments to the league pact gained by the Japs provide that the league may have jurisdiction over domestic affairs of nations, and that a nation may declare war upon another power which has refused to arbitrate, providing it has brought the matter before the council at a previous date.

If Japan now asks the league to settle the immigration question, and the United States refuses to obey the commands of the league, whose jurisdiction it refuses to recognise, the Orientals will be justified, by the pact, to declare war upon the United States, and will receive the support of as many of the fifty-four nations of the league as are willing to give her aid.

The decision of the arbitration commission came as a startling climax to a series of war-like threats by the Japanese. What Japan has been after is the support of the league in case she attacked the United States, but in doing so, she was forced to show herself in her true light.

It is unthinkable that Great Britain, with her own strict laws on the subject of immigration, and with four of her greatest colonies fearful of yellow invasion, should ever acquiesce in Japan's demands. Let us hope the day of self-determination is coming, not going.

Lovely Labors Lost

KYOTE

Coyote, yelping to the moon.
Does the darkness pass so soon?
The wistful moon is up and I
Must pace beneath the starry sky,
And few know why.

Brother, howling weird and drawn,
Nighthawks walk nor sleep till dawn;
For we belong to mystic bands
That muse on many foreign strands
In ancient lands

Prairie wolf, who knows our tale,
We feel, but may not join, your wail;—
Convention drear, and order stark,
Have eager ears that hear at dark,
And so—you bark!

TODAY'S FABLE FOR TINY TOTS

The Incurable Optimist stepped briskly that October morning, for he felt the cosmic urge and knew that things were running smoothly in God's heaven. All was right with the world.

The suspicion that this would be his lucky day grew to a conviction as he paused at a street corner—in another moment he had discovered it—a horseshoe, lying near the curb! Eureka! The Great God of Success was smiling again, as he always did on true keepers of the light heart. He was the chosen one!

The Incurable Optimist paused only to repeat his supreme formula, "Today will be the best day of my life" and stooped to pick up the omen of good luck.

And as he hung over the horseshoe with tear dimmed eyes, while his ears sang with the music of the spheres—truck ran over him.

While we were in Grinnell last week we glanced through that pseudo-intellectual magazine, the Literary Digest. One of the ads therein seemed especially susceptible to travesty for the column but we had neither the time nor the inclination just then to do it. To our despair we find that in this Athens we are unable to evoke a copy of the October fourth issue by any of the ordinary means of coercion, cajolery, wheedling nor entreaty. Not even by offering to pay full price for it could we get sight of one. We wonder if any of our readers can run one of the things down for us. We'll do you something really good.

We have just compiled a series of letters of the type we would write to magazine editors if we dared.

Editor of "The Empty Vacuum"

My dear:-

You thought that I did not see you. I sat simply in the anteroom and bent my gaze upon my shoes. You could not know how near I was. The girl came out. She said: "The editor is in conference." (You never change, my love—you are always the same, always in conference). But through the hastily closing door I saw your form. Your feet were upon the desk. You were alone save for the presence of a toy frog that you had bought upon the street, and you were earnestly trying to operate it. Your expression was profoundly innocent.

With this issue we begin the serial of the hour, from our own Underwood, a Russian diary "Sorrows of a Super-Sensitive Soul."

Do you ever look at your face in the glass? I do.

Sometimes I stand for hours and peer at my face and wonder at it. At times I turn it upside down and gaze intently at it. I try to think what it means. It seems to look back at me with its great brown eyes as if it knew me and wanted to speak to me.

Why was I born?

I do not know.

I ask my face a thousand times a day and find no answer.

At times when people pass my room—my maid Nitnitzka, or Jakub, the serving man—and see me talking to my face they think I am foolish.

But I am not.

At times I cast myself on the sofa and bury my head in the cushions. Even then I cannot find why I was born.

I am seventeen.

Shall I ever be 77? Ah!

Shall I ever be even 67, or 67 even? Oh!

And if I am both of these, shall I ever be 87?

I cannot tell.

Often I start up in the night with wild eyes and wonder if I shall be 87.

Bishop Will Speak At Many Meetings During Conference

Breakfast, Vespers and Union Services On Program

Question Box Planned As Conclusion to Activities

A full program for the McConnell religious conferences, announced yesterday by chairmen of committees on program and arrangements, will include Dad's Day banquet, breakfast, vesper services, student conferences, and union services. Bishop Francs J. McConnell will deliver the main address at the Dad's Day banquet Saturday evening.

An informal breakfast at Youde's Inn, Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, attended by two hundred and fifty students, faculty members, and religious workers will begin the series of conferences arranged for Sunday. Vivian Conrad, A4 of Burlington, will preside. The number of tickets is limited and the ticket committee urges students to secure tickets at once.

The bishop's second appearance Sunday, will be at the regular vesper services, in the natural science auditorium, at 4 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the University choir and orchestra.

Conferences on Sunday will close with a union service at the Methodist church, commencing at 7:30 p. m. James Stewart, L3 of Runnells, will preside.

Law students will assemble in the third year lecture room, of the law building, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, while Bishop McConnell will point out the relation between professional practice and religion.

The concluding conference of the series, will be held at 7:15, Monday evening, in the natural science auditorium. Hugo C. Buck, CM4 of Calmar, will preside. This meeting will deal with the students in a more personal manner. Tentative plans are being made for an afternoon meeting and question box at the liberal arts auditorium. A similar plan met with favor among students last year.

Geologists Hear English Professor

H. S. Reynolds Is Here On Invitation Of Club

Prof. H. S. Reynolds, of the University of Bristol, England, who is in Iowa City on the invitation of the geology department, read a paper Wednesday afternoon to the geological club.

The geological club at the University of Iowa is an informal group including the teaching staff, graduate instructors, and students majoring in geology. Meetings are held every Monday at 4 o'clock for the discussion of geological problems, the presentation of geological investigations, and the review of geological papers. The majority of the material presented by the staff and students of the University, but occasionallly from the outside appear on the programs.

Among those who have addressed the club at some time or other are Prof. A. W. Tarr, of the University of Missouri, Prof. C. P. Berkey of Columbia University, Dr. T. Wayland Vaughn of Scripps Institute for geological research at La Jolla, California, and Prof Stewart Weller of the University of Chicago.

Chinese Observe Republic's Birth

Oriental Students Here Celebrate This Afternoon

Chinese students of the University will celebrate their national holiday this evening at 4:30 at 10 S. Gilbert St., when they will be the guests of the Rev. Arthur Weatherly, pastor of the Unitarian church.

The celebration is to be held under the auspices of the Chinese students' club. The program will include music, and talks by T. C. Chao, president, Emily Wong, vice president, and D. F. Cheu, secretary.

October 10 is celebrated annually throughout China in commemoration of the birth of the Chinese Republic and the overthrow of the Manchurian monarchy. Just as Americans celebrate the fourth of July.

gantic and disgraceful hoax upon the United States senate and the nation."

"The voters," he declared, "are entitled to know whether Senator Brookhart acquiesed in the fabrication of a tissue of lies which now is torn to bits by the confessions of the committee's principal witnesses."

Steck stated he "held no brief for Harry M. Daugherty" and that "Daugherty must fight his own battles," and added: "Notwithstanding the gravity of any crime with which he may be charged, any man, guilty or innocent, has the right to a fair trial before a fair and honest court and with unperjured witnesses."

Steck declared "the great bulk of the testimony which went into the records of the Brookhart committee has been repudiated by the witnesses who were responsible for it, including not only George Remus and Gaston B. Means, but others whose names will be made public before election day."

"Fink is the man," he continued, "who brought Roxie Stinson into the case and I have a photostatic copy of Senator Brookhart's letter appointing Fink as the committee's representative to bring her from Columbus to Washington to appear before the committee.

FLEET HUNTS BOOZE

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 9 (A.P.)—The thirst for alcoholic liquor again is becoming expensive here, and in all cities of the Pacific northwest, because of the government's plan to curb the transportation of illicit beverages on Puget Sound through the use of a fleet of rum hunters.

Delay Y. M. Drive Until November

Open Y. W. Campaign Next Tuesday as Planned

At a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. finance boards yesterday afternoon, it was decided to postpone the Y. M. drive until November, according to Richard Garlock, A4 of Maxwell, director of the Y. M. drive.

The original plan was for both organizaaions to launch a financial and membership drive on October 14, to extend to October 17, but the committee feel that the first of November will be the psychological time for the "Y. M." to stage its dirve. This change in plans will in no way interfere with the Y. W. drive which will be carried out as planned.

Gym Khana Ruins W. A. A. Tradition

Men Will Be Included On Guest List of October Party

The traditions of the University have always included parties sponsored by the W. A. A. for women alone. This year, however, a party is being given to which every woman is urged to bring her roommate, the "house" and "him." The name given to this affair is Gym Khana, and it will be held in the Women's Gym, Friday, October 31.

The program will be held from 8 o'clock until 9, and will consist of a series of acts, all under the supervision of the W. A. A. The carnival aspect will be carried out by the various kinds of booths, and fortune-tellers, snake charmers, and side shows will have their usual prominent position.

The entertainment for the rest of the evening will be dancing, the music for which will be furnished by Sullivan's orchestra. The dance will be a "bowery" affair, at 10 cents a dance. However, the W. A. A. expects to canvass the various fraternity houses before that time, and sell tickets at eleven for $1.00

Any member of the W. A. A. who would like to enlist in this canvass may do so by seeing Genevieve Harter, A4 of Keokuk, who has the direction of the party.

Sip Your Tea, Chat, And Make Friends Through the Y. W.

A cup of tea at the end of a hard day, a friend who is interested in the things you are doing, an easy chair, a comfortable room—that is what the Y. W. C. A. is offering this afternoon to every woman in the University.

It has been the custom in the past for the association to serve teas every Thursday afternon and that plan will be followed this year again. The actual serving of the tea is in charge of social department of the Y. and those who are guests are all students who want to be more closely related with the women of the organization.

Singer Gives West Musical Prestige

American Training Is Basis for Her Success

The appearance of Miss Nora Fauchauld with Sousa's band here on Oct. 21, will be of particular interest to many of her Iowa City audience. Former students of Luther college in Decorah will remember her brother who attended that institution some years.

The presence of Miss Fauchauld with the Sousa organization is interesting because she is not from the Atlantic seaboard, which to date has given America the greatest number of its vocalists, but from the Dakota prairies.

Though born in Norway, she is of American parentage and her musical education has been acquired exclusively in America. Miss Fauchauld was reared in the little town of Minot, North Dakota, and it was not until she was somewhat advanced in her musical career that she came for the first time to New York.

She had secured her preliminary musical training near her home, and her work was not only in vocal music, but also in violin and piano. She was discovered shortly after she had finished her training at the Institute of Musical Art in New York City, and about a year later, she was invited to accompany the band on its tour. Her appearances were so successful that she was re-engaged.

Esther Yetter And Richard Horrabin Married Last Night

Before a bank of yellow chrysanthemums and palms, in the soft light of the flickering candles, Esther Yetter last evening became the bride of Richard Horrabin. The vows were read at the Congregational church with the Rev. Ira J. Houston officiating.

The bride was given by her bother, C. Yetter. She was lovely in a simple gown of white brocade chiffon, with a long tulle veil caught about her head in a coronet of pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of rosebuds and was attended by Burrie Redenbaugh, her maid of honor, who wore a gown of orchid.

Orchid was also chosen by Mrs. Olive Yetter Bauer, the matron of honor, for her costume. In their beruffled taffetas of orchid and yellow, little Marian Whinnery and Jane McGovern acted as flower girls following Master Stephen Swisher III who carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

ight of the bride's college friends were her bridesmaids. They were Helen Schrader, Helen McChesney, Isabelle Davis, Mary Carson, Edith Stevens, Mrs. Jack Funk, Gretchen Swisher, and Eleanor Wade. Four chose orchid georgette from which to fashion their bouffant frocks while the other four were gowned in yelllow.

Harold Harmon was best man and the eight ushers included: Rollin Sidwell, Clifford Hotz, Stanley Tanner, Richard Dalton, Milton Stebbins, Clyde Smith, Theodore Records, and Albert Randklev.

Before the ceremony, the bride's sister, Dorothy Yetter Swisher, sang "I Love You."

Mrs. Horrabin graduated from the University in June. She is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority. Mr. Horrabin was a former student at the University where he was a pledge of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He is now with his father in the Horrabin Construction company of Iowa City.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in an automobile tour of the east. They will be at home to their friends December 1 in Iowa City.

Zoe Atkins Will Be Present For "Beggar On Horseback"

Zoe Akins, one of the foremost playrights of America will be the guest of the University Theatre at the first presentation of "Beggar on Horseback" on March 11. Miss Akins has written many successful plays, as is shown by comments from well known publications. Vanity Fair calls her "The most conspicuous of living American playrights," and the New York Evening Journal says of her, "Zoe Akins can dispute with anyone, man or woman, the eminence of being America's first playright of today."

Miss Akins will give a University lecture on March 10 on some phases of dramatic work. She will also conduct a round table discussion the next afternoon at which time she will answer questions in regard to problems of the theatre.

Among the other prominent guests of the University Theatre this year will be Walter Prichard Eaton, New York dramatic critic; Martin Flavin, author of "Children of the Moon," has also been invited, and is expected to be present at the production of his play.

The plays which Miss Akins has written are': "The Magical City,' "Papa," "Declasse," "Footloose," "Daddy's Gone A-Hunting," "The Varying Shore," "The Texas Nightingale," "The Royal Fandango," and "The Moon Flower."

Foreigners Unite In Program Mixer

Charm of Other Lands Will Give Beauty To Affair

Spanish dancers and Hawaiian musicians will mingle with Iowa students and dignified professors at the all University mixer to be held by the Cosmopolitan club at 7:30 tomorrow evening in the liberal arts drawing room.

The following program will be presented:

Address—Prof. Carl F. Taeusch of the philosophy department.

Response—Pedro B. Basco, A4 of Villasis, P. I.

Forward—Sarah Huftalen, G. of Iowa City.

Spanish Dance—Shirley Kinney, A4 of Mason City.

Male quartet—Filipino group.

A social hour of games and refreshments will provide an opportunity for foreign and American students to become acquainted.

Plans will soon be formulated for other programs and for a Cosmopolitan carnival to be held later in the year.

Golf Made Major Sport by W. A. A.

Links Open to Women To Earn Entrance Credentials

Women golfers of the University will be interested to know that the W. A. A. board has made golf a major sport. Anyone may win W. A. A. entrance points by taking lessons in golf.

Since the University golf course was finished, women have played frequently. Names of about twenty-five women who have been taking regular lessons this fall have been given by the golf instructor to the W.A.A.

If this sport attains the popularity expected, a head of golf will be appointed by the W.A.A. board, according to Anne Dornink, A4 of Iowa City. Golf will then take its place among other activities of the athletic association, and arrangements will be made for a tournament to be held some time next spring.

Specialty, "Maggie and Jiggs," by William C. Bartman, A4 of Manchester, and Elmer R. Johnson, A2 of Orient.

Music.

The program, which is open to all students interested, will be followed by a business meeting exclusively for Zets.

Forensic Rules Appear In Book

Publication Available To Women Interested In Literary Work

Copies of the women's forensic council constitution will be available for freshmen women, and all others interested in literary society work, Saturday at tables in the liberal arts hall. Those failing to get one on Saturday may do so Monday morning in the hall and that afternoon at freshmen lectures.

In the back of the book there will be a coupon for those interested in belonging to a literary society to fill out with their name, and address. These slips are to be deposited in a box for that purpose on the tables in the end of the hall. The chairman for the preferred parties of the literary societies will have free access to those names.

The preferred parties are as follows: October 14 Whitby,15 Hespenia, 16 Hamlin Garland,21 Erodelphian, 22 Octave Thanet, and 23 Athena.

Seventy-five guests were present at the open meeting held by Athens last week and it is believed that that there are an unusually large number of women interested in forensics this year.

Freshmen Dentists Elect Officers for Coming Term

The Freshman class of the college of dentistry held their first meeting yesterday for the purpose of electng officers for 1924-25. The following officers were chosen: president, Harold W. Women Welcomed At Thanet Meeting

Tuesday Named Program Date of Octave Thanet

The Octave Thanet literary society will hold an open meeting next Tuesday afternoon at five o'cock in the Philoh-Octave hall on the second floor of the Hall of Journalism. The meeting was set for this time in order that freshmen women could attend after freshmen lectures. All University women not belonging to a literary society are cordially invited.

The following program will be given: A talk by Miss Helen Langworthy, of the department of speech, on the Philo-Octave play, "The Enchanted Cottage" which is to be produced by the two societies; talk by Evelyn Harter, A4 of Iowa City, editor of the Iowa Literary magazine; piano selection by Avalon Law, A4 of Washington; talks by Mrs. Amelia Kraushaar Nelson and Miss Ruth Sayler, both members of the faculty; vocal solo, "As In Old Gardens", by Eleanor Chambers; and sketches of four or five recent books by Floy Davis, A4 of Mason City.

HAWKEYES AWAIT BUCKEYES FIRST INVASION, IOWA DAY

Columbus Rooters Come 250 Strong To Boost

Charter Special Six-Car Train; Get Here at Noon Saturday; Buckeye Band Won't Come

Headed by the Chamber of Commerce of Columbus, the backers of Ohio State will pull into Iowa City at noon Saturday on a special train of at least six Pullmans, to help Iowa University celebrate her first annual Iowa Day. The exact number of rooters who will accompany the team is not known at this time but will be near 250. In all probability their band will not come. On the homeward trip the special train of the Buckeyes will leave here at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

The Ohio team held its final workout and entrained last night and will arrive in Davenport in time this afternoon to have a workout on the St. Ambrose college field. They will stay overnight in Davenport and come on to Iowa City Saturday with the special train from Ohio.

Three hundred seats have been reserved in the east side bleachers for the Easterners and Kenneth E. Griffin, manager of ticket sales reports that the advance sale is very good. While the idea of Iowa Day is a new one and will take some time to work up he states that the sale on this game is at least 1000 above average. Rotary, Kiawanis and other clubs throughout the state are all doing their bit to help put it over. The advertising which is being done this year for Iowa Day will help out much in future years and too much can not be expected the first time. In time, no doubt, it will rival homecoming and will make two big fall events for Iowa, instead of one.

Mr. Griffin also said that the advance sale for the Homecoming game with Minnesota, October 25th, is exceptionally good and indications for a record-breaking crowd are as positive as those for an exceptional battle between Old Gold and the Gophers.

GERMAN WARNS EUROPE

STUTTGART, Germany, Oct. 9: (AP)—A German interested in the lumber trade, Ernst Wiche, of Bremen, has published in a local paper a note of warning. He says Europe is wasting its lumber supplies in meeting the enormously increased demand since the war.

Ohio Attack May Come Through Air

Freshmen Give Plenty Of Trouble in Scrimmage

That the forward passing game of the Ohio State football team must be closely watched, was demonstrated last night when the freshman completed several passes from formations used by Coach Wilce's men. With Skelly throwing the passes and Harrison, Kutsch and Young on the receiving end several of them were completed.

The freshman were lined up with Young and O'Leary at ends, Nelson and Eslick tackles, Keen and Sauers guards, with McKammani in the pivot position. In the backfield Harrison and Skelly were at halves with Kemmal at Quarter and Kutsch at full.

Coach Williams organized the remainder of the first year men into three teams. One of these teams opposed the second string in a short scrimmage. The freshman of this team were successful in stopping most of Hogan's off tackle runs, and in holding Boydston to short gains in his line bucks.

Jessen, the Austin, Minnesota star, who has been giving the varsity a great deal of trouble all week by breaking through their line, appeared at practice in civilian clothes following his injury of Wednesday. His hip was thought at first to be severly injured but later examination proved it to be only slightly bruised. He will be out of practice for about a week.

Sophomores Show Best Form in Hill And Dale Tryouts

Sophomore leadership again loomed as a dominating factor on the varsity cross country squad on Wednesday night when Einer Sorenson led the field after a five mile jaunt. Sorenson is a new man on the squad and has done very little cross country running before.

R. K. Stonebrook, R. Bright and M. E. Arrasmith, all sophomores, looked good in the workout held over a heavy course.

Ryan Hits Second Pitcher-Homer in History

When "Rosy" Ryan, Giant Pitcher, slammed out his home run in the fourth inning of the third game of the world's series he made history. For his was the first circuit clout ever made by a National league pitcher in the annual classic and the second by any hurler. Jim Bagby made the first one while pitching for Cleveland in the 1920 series against Brooklyn.

On Other Fields

MINNESOTA

Coach Bill Spaulding ordered "full speed" ahead in practice as the Gophers settled down in preparation for the second pre-season clash with the Haskell Indians tomorrow. Spaulding began to form his first team from the showing of the various men against North Dakota last Saturday.

The return of Bert Baston, all American end on the 1916 Gopher squad to coach the flank men, and the return of Conrad Cooper, varsity center last year, is the cause of much rejoicing for the fans. Cooper has been out with an attack of la grippe, but is back to normal again and will add much strength to the team.

Lidberg, the plunging Gopher fullback, was by far the star of Saturday's game—never once being thrown for a loss. He will bear watching by all the conference teams this year.

DARTMOUTH

Dartmouth shows signs of a very powerful eleven this year as could be seen in the game with McGill last Saturday. The team was a power on offense and showed a wonderful passing game, many long gains being made in this way.

McGill was at a disadvantage in that the Canadian rules are much different and many penalties called on them were forfeited by Captain Bjorkman.

WISCONSIN

No serious injuries were received in the Ames game last Saturday and the team as a whole looks strong. Several minor faults that were found are fast being ironed out.

Over 5,000 seats have already been sold for the Badger-Gopher game. The heavy advance sale is due to the fact that Minnesota has ordered 4,000 instead of the usual 1,200. The Gophers must have a strong team and the students are certainly for them.

MISSOURI

The varsity began work for their next game immediately after the return from Chicago. Although they were elated over their victory, the Tigers are just as determined not to "let down" in their future work.

Chicago was outplayed in every department of the game, and, considering the fact that they have one of the most noted coaches in the country, Missouri Valley teams better look to their laurels.

The victory was due to the almost perfect teamwork and the determination to win regardless of the fact that the odds were against the Bengal crew. The team is in fine shape, no serious injuries of any kind being reported.

CORNELL

Showing much improvement over the game of last week, the varsity easily defeated Niagara Saturday. The team still has failed to show the impressive form prevalent among teams of the past few years. The field generalship was poor and it was not until several freshmen were injected into the game that the team could get pep enough to score.

Opinions Of a Former S.U.I. Student

St. Paul, Minn, Oct. 8, 1924.
Mr. Charles V. Brown,
Grand Theatre,
Iowa City, Iowa.
Dear Sir:
Dear Mr. Brown:

I have read the advance notice of your coming show, "The Reckless Age." Ten days ago I witnessed a screening of this show. I am not a movie fan but do like to see a show that is DIFFERENT. However, that kind of a picture is the rare thing today.

The "Reckless Age" s positively different. It is one of the best shows I have seen during the last year. Even better than "Sporing Youth" which you played last year and which I thought was a knockout. I would recommend to every person in Iowa City, especially the students, that they see "The Reckless Age." It is a real comedy and Reginald Denny is great.

Sincerely,
L—— E——.

When they write like this from the far-away about one movie you can just bet that movie is the one for you to see!

Javelin Tossers Practice Daily

Squad Gets in Shape For Meet Held October 18

A squad of ten men are taking daily workouts under the direction of Coach Tom Martin in the javelin throw in preparation for the fall meets. Special attention is being pad to this event because cold weather will greatly shorten the work that may be done.

On October 16, in connection with the class meet, javelin competition will be held from which "I" and "1-2" men will be barred. The Rotary club traveling cup and ribbons for the first three places will be awarded. This will be the only weight event held in connection with the meet.

On October 23, javelin competition will again be held for which "I" men and "1-2" men are eligible. The awards will be an Olympic trophy, brought from Paris by Coach Bresnahan, and ribbons for the first three places.

Ohio After Vengeance For Two Iowa Defeats

Arrive in Iowa City Saturday Morning; Coach Burt Ingwersen Has His Men Primed for Game

Ohio State university invades the Iowa camp tomorrow afternoon for the first time in the history of the two institutions. The game Saturday will be the most important in the middle west and the only Big Ten contest of the day. The Buckeyes are coming bent on avenging the two successive wins Iowa has scored over them on the Ohio field, and with one conference victory already tucked under their belts Coach Wilce will present a formidable group of athletes.

It is this same formidable group that Coach Burt E. Ingwersen has had as an object in the driving pace he has been putting the Hawkeye grid men through for the past two weeks. Yesterday afternoon saw no let-up in the drive, the team scrimmaging the freshmen for the better part of the practice session. Two yearling teams were used, one opposing the seconds and the other battling the varsity.

The freshmen were put on the defensive and had more difficulty in holding the Old Gold team than on previous occasions. The offense was much better than the team displayed on Wednesday evening but still seems pretty loose and inconsistent.

Lineup Indefinite

With the ball in their own possession the first year men poked through the line for some nice gains, and succeeded in pulling down a number of forward passes.

No definite lineup has been decided upon for Saturday's struggle and any of the men on the first two elevens may get a chance to play. The forward wall saw Hancock, Krasuski, Galloway, Rice, Romey, Otte, Olson, Fleckenstein, and Griffin all taking part in the scrimmage. In the backfield Captain Parkin and Fry took their turns at calling cignals and Dauber, Schirmer, Scantlebury, Fisher, Graham, Boydston were in action. The battle for positions is unusually close for this time of the season and Coach Ingwersen is wholly uncertain as to who will open the battle against Ohio State.

The tackles polished up their offensive tactics yesterday and the ball-toters ran back punts. Fisher and Hancock did the punting and also some drop-kicking. Hogan spent a short time at drop-kicking and booted quite a few between the bars.

Schirmer, Boydston and Brookins caught and ran back punts. Otte, Hancock, Rice and Smith devoted a part of their practice to catching forward passes and going down under punts.

Ohio Stresses Offensive

Reports from the Buckeye camp say that the Ohio team is working on some new plays with which they hope to baffle the Hawkeye eleven. Last year the loose tackling proved to be a part of their undoing and that has been improved considerably this season. Offense is being stressed more than defense which seems to indicate that in spite of the doleful tales being broadcast from the Columbus lair, Coach Wilce is fully determined to defeat the Hawks on their home grounds.

The Buckeye mentor with twenty-six players departed from Columbus at eleven o'clock last night and will arrive in Chicago this morning from whence they will catch a train to Davenport. At Davenport the team will take a work-out on the field of St. Ambrose college and remain there all night. According to the plan the gang from the eastern state will not arrive in Iowa City until noon tomorrow.

Twenty-four in Ohio Squad

Ohio defeated Purdue last Saturday by a 7 to 0 score and although Buckeye followers were said to be somewhat disappointed they must remember that the Boilermakers have a team this year which may go a long way toward deciding the conference championship.

Programs on Sale in Morning

In order that evreyone may be able to secure programs for the fray Saturday, programs will be sold on the streets in the morning as well as at the stands in the afternoon.

The booklets for the Ohio game are more elaborate than in the past. Thirty-two pages are contained in the program, giving new pictures of most of the players and full information about each, including short sketches of their career. Conference records of both teams, changes in football rules, highlights of Big Ten history and some of the common penalties as well as both Iowa and Ohio State yells and songs are found.

Cross Country Squad Sets Fashion with New Shirts

The shirts worn by the Iowa varsity cross country team are similar to those worn by American athletes in the Paris games this summer. They have quarter length sleeves, a feature quite new in track uniforms in this country. Iowa is the only school in the Big Ten having this style of shirt as part of the cross country equipment.

Jupiter Pluvius Breaks Up Tennis Tourney Matches

Rain halted play in the first round of the all-University tennis tournament Tuesday morning. Only one match, Lutz-Sorenson, has been played off. A. McCartney, drawn to play J. Swartz in the second round, forfeited. Recent rains make changes in the dates of the tourney necessary. The first round, which should be completed this week, may be set ahead a few days if the condition of the courts shows no improvement this forenoon (Friday.)

Coolidge Scares Jinx of Senators

Players Sure of Win Today If He Roots For Them

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Working schedules were shifted today at the White House to continue for a two day period. The usual program gave way this afternoon, when President Coolidge slipped out to the ball park for the sixth game of the world series and when Washington tied up the president immediately decided on another shift in his plans to permit attendance at the final contest tomorrow.

White House attaches registered their full approval, for the jinx which has followed the Washington team on Mr. Coolidge's last two trips to the baseball park here have been broken. He attended the first game of the season when Walter Johnson shut out Philadelphia and they insist his attendance at the final tomorrow will bring the same luck.

The ecstacies of joy indulged in by the capitol rooters this afternoon when Zachry subdued the Giants and brought Washington on even terms for the series were shared in only slightly milder form by the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Manager Harris' drive to right in the fifth which sent the tying and winning runs over the plate brought Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to their feet with the shouting mass of rooters, cheering enthusiastically. Mrs. Coolidge, a close follower of the Senators, dropped her score card to wave a part of the shawll draped over her shoulders as Peckinpaugh and McNeely dashed over the home plate.

Bobby Jones Is Greatest Amateur Golfer, Kennett

Speaking of golfers of today, Bobby Jones, the new amateur champion, is the greatest amateur golfer in the world in the opinion of Coach Charles Kennett, Iowa coach.

The consistent game of the youthful titleholder is pointed out by Mr. Kennett as his reason for believing this to be true.

Jones, after many years as one of the highest ranking golfers in the country, came into his own when he won the national amateur championship this year. Since his first appearance quite a few years ago, when still a boy in his 'teens, he has always remained until the last rounds of the big tournaments but never reached his goal until 1923 when he won the national Open.

Two years ago he forced Bobby Cruikshank to go extra holes to win the finals of the national open.

Of the professionals Coach Kennett believes Walter Hagen to be the greatest. Hagen, whose record is well known, is also a golfer who plays a consistent game. He has held various titles in the past few years.

Need any love insurance? Or will the ole' pin stay where it is? Better get some good ideas from "The Reckless Age," Reginald Denny's first since "Sporting Youth" at the Strand next Saturday and Sunday. Adv.

Coach Souchek Takes 23 Men on First Trip

Vestermark and McGuire in Condition; Flake, 180-pound Quarterback, Returns To Game for Lone Tree

BULLETIN

The Iowa City High School eleven meets the Lone Tree aggregation on Lone Tree's field today at 4 o'clock. Both teams have a clean slate and it will be a battle to the finish.

Since these teams have had experience in cambat, Iowa City winning two games, and Lone Tree, three, good football should be played. Both teams aspire to the state championship so they will put their best efforts into their game.

Coach Souchek is taking twenty-three men. All men are in fairly good condition. Vestermark, who had a bad shoulder, is now in condition, and McGuire's foot, though slowing him down, will not keep him out of the game.

Flake, the 180-pound quarterback of Lone Tree, is reported to be in playing condition. For a time his collarbone was thought to be broken but he is again in the game.

The High School practice last night was only half an hour long, signals and passes being tried and perfected. Passing, once the Little Hawks' weakest point, is now being developed into their strongest.

Besides the squad of twenty-three men that Coach Souchek is taking along, a large number of rooters are also going by auto.

Student Health Is Improved, Doctors Of University Say

The general health of University students this year is better than in previous years, declared Dr. Norman W. Loud, assistant director of student health, yesterday. There is at present only one observation case in the isolation hospital, he said.

In the case of freshman women, he asserted that conditions are much better than last year. There are fewer rest room cases, fewer operative cases, and fewer girls taking remedial gymnasium work.

thick of one of the most sensational fights for a championship.

Zachary, after a shaky first inning, when the Giants scored their only run on Frisch's double and a fielder's choce by Young, who scored on Kelly's long single, weaved a magic spell over the Giant bats that had volleyed and thundered base hits yesterday. Instead of Johnson's fast ball on which they had thrived, the Giants had Zachary's slow curves and tantalizing floaters to contend with today and they made no effective headway against them.

Rice Robs Meusel of Homer

After the third inning, when Frisch doubled for the second time with one out and got to third on Young's infield tap only to be stranded by Kelly, the Giants failed to get a runner on second base. In this six-inning span only four reached first base altogether and Zachary was always dominant in the pinches aided by some great defensive work in which Sam Rice featured three spectacular running catches in right field.

One of Rice's catches checked the Giant spurt in the first inning and robbed Irish Meusel of a homer. Kelly, who had just driven in Young, was on first with two out when Meusel drove a long hit to right center. It seemed headed for the bleachers there, a favorite mark for Goose Goslin, Senator slugger, but Rice, running backward, jumped and speared the liner with his glove hand a few feet in front of the stands.

Young fouled out to start the ninth but Kelly singled and was replaced on the bases by Southworth as McGraw marshalled his forces for a last stand. Meusel smashed one of Zachary's curves over second base. Peckinpaugh got it on the run, but his injury became apparent as he stopped and limped before making the throw to Harris. There was a double play in sight but Harris' throw hit the dirt, escaped Judge's glove and hit him on the leg. Meusel was safe, but after the Senators had reorganized their forces and given first aid treatment to their casualties, Zachary struck out Wilson to end the game.

Except for their fifth inning rally when they bunched two of their four hits, the Senators found Nehf impregnable. Nehf left the game in the eighth in favor of a pinch hitter and Rosy Ryan, a right hander, got through the eighth inning without damage.

Washington missed a fine chance to score in the first inning, however. It was due chiefly to a bad bit of base running by Harris but the young manager fully redeemed himself for this fault in the eyes of the fans when he came through with his winning blow in the fifth.

McNeeley walked on four straight balls to start the first and was forced by Harris, who started to steal second before Nehf's windup and was caught easily at second base. Rice followed with a long single to right and Goslin was safe when Kelly kicked his bounder around, a play on which Harris would have been able to score but Judge closed the inning by striking out.

First Inning.

GIANTS—Bluege took Lindstrom's bunt and threw him out. Frisch got a two base hit to right by hard running. Zachary took Young's splash and Frisch was run down Zachary to Bluege to Harris. Young went to second on the run down. Kelly singled to center, Young scoring. Rice leaped up in the air and took Muesel's long drive that was headed into the bleachers with his gloved hand. One run, two hits, no errors.

SENATORS—McNeely was given a base on balls. Harris forced McNeely, Lindstrom to Frisch. Harris was caught off first the play being Nehf to Kelly to Jackson. Rice sent a single into right. Kelly mussed up Goslin's grounder and the batter was safe, Rice going to second. It was an error for Kelly. Judge fanned. No runs, one hit, one error.

Second Inning.

GIANTS—Wilson was a strike out victim, protesting on the third called strike. Harris took Jackson's slow roller and threw him out. Gowdy got a Texas leaguer into left. It was a handy ball. Nehf popped to McNeely. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SENATORS—Frisch threw out Bluege at first. The crippled shortstop came in for a big hand. Peck scratched a hit off Lindstrom's glove. Ruel flied out to Meusel. Zachary was a strike out victim. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning.

GIANTS—Lindstrom up. Rice took a hit away from Lindstrom with a fine running catch. Frisch up Frisch got another two base hit to right. Harris threw out Young, Frisch going to third. Kelly up. Bluege threw out Kelly and the danger was over. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SENATORS—McNeely sent up a high one to Jackson. Jackson took Harris' hopper and got him at first. Rice fouled out to Lindstrom. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning.

GIANTS—Peck threw out Muesel. Wilson up. Zachary was using his old slow curve. Wilson singled into right. Jackson up. Jackson hit into a double play Harris to Peck to Judge. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SENATORS—Goslin up. Young stood still and took Goslin's hoist. Judge up. Jackson took Judge's slow floater. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

GIANTS—Peck took Gowdy's grass cutter and had him easily at first. Rice robbed Nehf of a hit by coming in back of first base and catching the ball near the foul line. Lindstrom went out Zachary to Judge. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SENATORS—Peck singled into left. Ruel sacrificed Nehf to Kelly. Zachary went out to Kelly unassisted, Peck going to third. McNeely walked on four straight balls. McNeely stole second, Peck held third. Peck and McNeely scored on Harris' single to right and on the throw to the plate Harris went to second. Rice struck out. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.

GIANTS—Frisch hit a slow ball and popped it to Ruel. Ruel took Young's splash in front of the plate and by a quick throw got him at first. Harris took Kelly's high hopper and threw him out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SENATORS—Goslin struck out on three wide curves missing all three by many inches. Nehf was throwing one curve after another. Judge went out Nehf to Kelly. Bluege got a base on balls. Peck up. Bluege stole second. Peck walked. He was purposely passed. Ruel went out Nehf to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning.

GIANTS—Harris took Meusel's fly. Wilson got a Texas leaguer to right. Goslin took Jackson's fly over near the foul line. Gowdy popped to Harris. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SENATORS—Gowdy took Zachary's bunt and threw him out at first.. McNeely sent up a foul to Kelly. Wilson gathered in Harris' fly. No runs, not hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning.

GIANTS—Rice stood still and took Snyder's fly. Lindstrom struck out. Harris got Frisch at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SENATORS—Ryan went in the box for New York. Frisch threw out Rice at first. Ryan fed Goslin slow drop curves. Goslin struck out. Judge walked. Ryan threw out Bluege. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

GIANTS—Young up. Young fouled out to Bluege. Kelly up. Kelly singled into right field. Southworth ran for Kelly. Muesel up. Muesel forced Southworth, Peck to Harris. On Harris' throw to first Judge was hurt. Peck on making the play injured his leg again and had to be carried from the field. Judge resumed play. Bluege went to short and Taylor went to third. Wlson up. Wilson fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Battery for New York, Nehf and Gowdy. For the Senators, Zachary and Ruel. President Coolidge with Mrs. Coolidge with their party entered the presidentioal box shortly before 2 o'clock. The spectators arose and the two teams lined up before the president while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner". President Coolidge was introduced to Judge Landis and Manager's McGraw and Harris. The visiting party was also introduced to Mrs. Coolidge who vivaciously complimented the two managers.

Market CHICAGO AND NEW YORK Reports

Dutcher Denounces LaFollette at G. O. P. Rally Last Night

Yenter Also Condemns Policy of Third Party; Harold D. Evans Calls Republicans To Rally to Party Standard

LAFOLLETTE and Wheeler are not fit to hold office," asserted Senator Charles M. Dutcher in a speech at the republican rally last night. The senator vehemently attacked the third party candidates.

He particularly criticized LaFollette's opposition to the supreme court, asserting that the latter's plan for substituting congress as the high tribunal in maintaining the power of the federal constitution is highly impractical.

LaFollette's opposition to the supreme court is based on his idea that the court renders decisions according to the political views of the judges. Senator Dutcher pointed out that to give congress power to declare laws unconstitutional would make such a condition certain.

Dutcher Praises Coolidge

The senator also praised President Coolidge, saying that the president's veto of the bonus bill "was an example of courage and fidelity to purpose that has never been excelled in the executive office." He touched on the tariff question advocating a protective tariff.

State Representative Ray Yenter, who is up for re-election, outlined his opposition to government by blocs.

Letts Outlines Issues

Judge F. D. Letts, of Davenport, candidate for United States representative, indicated some of the issues of the campaign. He approved a protective tariff for the protection of farmers and industry alike. He also voiced disapproval of the third party candidates and praised the president for his views on economy.

The rally was in the chamber of commerce rooms and was presided over by Harold D. Evans, chairman of the central committee. He declared that the political situation is serious and that every loyal republican must exert himself in the interest of his party.

Judge Letts Has Avaricious Designs

Judge F. D. Letts of Davenport, republican candidate for congressman, has avaricious designs on Muscatine county. Judge Letts yesterday expressed his pleasure over the process of the republican campaign and said:

"I am delighted with the progress of the campaign so far and especially pleased with the reception here in Iowa City. I will remain here part of tomorrow."

When asked if he would carry every county except Muscatine, Judge Letts said:

"Every county except Muscatine and I have avaricious designs on Muscatine."

Two More Boarders Added to Martin's Rest Establishment

Walding and Ott Given Thirty Days for Coal Theft

Burnett and Davis Star Boarders at Sheriff Jim's Jail

Two more offenders were added yesterday to the list of five boarders of County Sheriff James Martin when Aloysius Walding and Mike Ott were sentenced to thrty days behind the bars for stealing coal. When brought before Justice of the Peace T. E. Murphy yesterday, they pleaded guilty to the charge and were sentenced.

Coal Theft Wednesday

Walding and Ott, aged approximately thirty-five and thirty, respectively, were caught stealing coal from the H. J. Dane coal yards Dednesday night by two of Mr. Dane's trustees, J. R. Cerny and J. E. Noone. Cerny and Noone were unable to arrest the men at the time the act was committed, but called the police who soon picked them up. Cerny and Noone are now special police, for Mayor Emma J. Harvat has sworn them in.

Five Other Boarders

The other five boarders of Sheriff Martin are Jack Slater and John Micksall, sentenced to thirty days in jail for disturbing the peace, John Taylor, sentenced to thirty days behind the bars for writing bad checks, and H. Burnett and Fred Davis who were sentenced to a year in jail for derailing a train near here this summer.

Slater and Bicksall have served half of their term; Taylor has served two days; and Burnett and Davis have served about two months.

Republicans Get Razz Last Night at Democrat Rally

Steck May Grab G. O. P. Votes

Politicians Hesitate to Predict Election Results; Concede Steck Strong Candidate

By DON WILKINS

What chance Daniel F. Steck, who speaks here tomorrow night, will have in his three-cornered fight with Brewer and Brookhart for the United States senatorship, local leaders are reluctant to predict.

Democratc claim Steck will receive many republican votes. It is likely that he will receive strong support among ex-soldiers, with whom he is popular; but the soldier vote is not sufficient to elect him.

Many republicans who will not vote for Brookhart have declared their votes will go to Steck rather than Brewer. The latter is felt to be a weak aspirant and voters believe that a vote for him is a vote lost.

On the other hand there are some who say that Steck is too conservative and that Brookhart will line up a good share of the democrats' votes. Brookhart will unquestionably be a hard man to beat. His showing in the primary where he rolled up a huge majority proves that statement.

Brookhart has a big following, especially among the farm element. It is not felt that his break with the republican party will injure his chance of election, at least, it is not a sure sign that he is beaten. His connection with the third party movement is not exactly a drawback in republican Iowa either, according to many observers, who give the third party credit for being better organized than is generally thought.

As things now stand the fight lies between Brookhart and Steck, Brewer's chance being considered negligible, and Steck's not any too good.

Junior High P. T. A. Holds First Meeting

Officers for Coming Year Elected on Wednesday

The Iowa City Junior High P. T. A. held its first meeting of the year Wednesday, October 8, in the high school gymnasium. Many interesting and important topics were discussed.

The new officers for the present year are: president, Mrs. Fred Stevens; vice-president, Mrs. F. A. Stromsten; treasurer, Mrs. Robert McCollister; secretary, Mrs. Jess M. Hotz.

The following committee served refreshments to the association: Mrs. George E. Long, Mrs. S. P. Benson, Mrs. Anna Neider, and Mrs. Clara Frei.

Swisher Says Enforce Fire Prevention Laws

American Carelessness Blamed for Heavy Damages

Eighty seven per cent of the property losses by fire, and ninety per cent of the injury and loss of life, are caused by the careless mode of living of the American people, according to S. A. Swisher, who gave a talk on Fire Prevention over the radio last night.

That the existing laws covering fire prevention should be more strictly enforced and additional and more adequate ones enacted were the points stressed.

Each year the United States must stand an enormous loss by fire, due to the inadequacy of fire prevention laws.

"Americans of the present day have grown accustomed to thinking and talking in terms of millions of dollars; nevertheless, to realize that fire destroyed last year property valued at $521,860,000.00 and not to be appalled at such waste, is to be totally lacking in conscience. Every time the minute hand changes position it indicates a loss of exactly $993.00"

It has been found that fire loss does not effect the individual alone, but also the community, according to Swisher who said:

"We all pay for the fires which break out. Individual loss does not fall so heavily on sufferers as it did before the beneficent system of fire insurance was established. But that, while it protects the immediate victim of a conflagration, does not protect society at large. Every fire insurance premium paid by the home-owner, the merchant, or for any form of fire protection, represents fire loss, which is a direct and heavy tax upon not only all business but upon every person who insures any sort of property from fire. Our annual fire loss is a great national calamity, and every man whose property is insured pays it whether or not his own property burns."

"Fire Prevention Week has been set aside in order to awaken public interest not only for the week but that the enthusiasm might be expressed in action every day of the year."

Baldwin Condemns Corruptness of G. O. P. Machine

Intimates "Silent Cal" Only Tool of Mellon

In the light of two kerosene lamps and a lantern, local democratic speakers unloosed a stinging barrage on the G. O. P. party at the Newport Center school house before a mass meeting last night. Lead by Attorney W. J. Baldwin, the attack was carried on in a lively and enthusiastic manner.

After making a few preliminary remarks about the ability of the American people to swallow propaganda, Attorney Baldwin warmed up to his topic and said it was no effort for the American public to "swallow propaganda that a man from Massachusetts was a wonderful candidate for president because he said nothing. Americans think what they are told to think and the facilities for carrying propaganda are a great asset."

Pities Man in Moon

In a striking statement, Mr. Baldwin said the nation had been living under a corrupt government for four years and the atmosphere over Washington was so rotten "the man in the moon had to hold his nose as he went by."

He swung back into the attack on the republicans with the statement that they had long been running the country to suit their own interests. He aired choice bits of oil scandal, Mellon's manipulation of the banks and shipping, and summed up his denouncements by the statement that Mr. Coolidge had not favored nor opposed anything which Mellon had not first opposed.

Urges Organization

S. D. Whiting, democratic candidate for state representative, next spoke on the prosperity of the Wilson administration as contrasted with the scandals of the past four years. He urged the farmers to organize to defeat the republican machine.

William White, S. W. Mercer, Dan Peters, C. F. Benda, and Ed O'Connor, candidates for county offices, and George Dvorsky, democratic county chairman, gave short talks.

Roads Drying Fast; Predict Good Highways by Saturday

The condition of the primary roads leading into Iowa City was greatly improved last evening, it was reported by autoists who came through Iowa City last evening. The heavy rains of Tuesday and Wednesday had made all the dirt roads in this vicinity very slippery but the one day of dry weather dried them considerably. The roads will undoubtedly be in good condition by Saturday for football fans who expect to drive to Iowa City for the Ohio State-Iowa game.

City Library Recommends Best Books of the Month

"The Little French Girl" a story of English and French life, by Anne Sedgewick, is considered the best book the city library has to offer this month. "Nina", by Susan Ertz, is also well done. "The Coming of Amos", by Locke, and "In a Shantung Garden" by Wilne are other good contributions to fiction.

Baldwin to Aid Prosecution of Dr. Patrick Case

Attorneys for Defense Fail to Secure a Postponement

Attorney W. J. Baldwin has been secured by the state to assist County Attorney Edward L. O'Connor in the prosecution of the case of State of Iowa vs. Lloyd E. Patrick. Patrick, a young Iowa City physician, is charged with a statutory crime against Velma Irons, 15, a mentally deficient girl.

The case is scheduled to begin on October 20. The plaintiff's attorneys, Henry Negus and A. E. Maine, have attempted to have the case postponed until the next term. The matter was taken under advisement by Judge R. G. Popham.

Judge Considers W. L. Davis Case

Defendant Maintains Suit Is Criminal, Not Civil

The appeal of the defendant's attorneys in the suit of Iowa City vs. W. L. Davis, that the ruling against W. L. Davis be set aside was taken under advisement by Judge R. G. Popham yesterday. The attorneys for Davis are C. F. Hambrecht and Walker & Ries.

Davis' attorneys based their claim that the default should be set aside on the grounds that the suit is a criminal action and doesn't require paying a filing fee or docketing the case.

City Solicitor C. B. Russell contends that it is not a criminal action, but only a quasi-criminal action, and that it requires that the filing fee be paid and the case docketed.

We wonder if college days are really the days of that much-discussed "Reckless Age." The Sorority's back door, slick-haired yellow slickered "shieks," bobbed haired, fox trotting "shebas"—are they really exponents of "The Reckless Age?" See Reginald Denny's first since "Sporting Youth" at the Strand next Saturday. Adv.

Mrs. Scott Will Return

O'Connor Doubts Promise But Stops Extradition Proceedings; Mrs. Heisner Improved

Extradition proceedings against Mrs. Edgar H. Scott were dropped by County Attorney Edward L. O'Connor yesterday when she promised the Chicago police that she would report to Mr. O'Connor on her return home. Mrs. Scott is the party whose Buick ran into Albert Davis' Ford on the road near Tiffin, Sunday.

Mr. O'Connor last night expressed his doubt that Mrs. Scott would return, regardless of her promises. If Mrs. Scott remains out of the state, she will probably escape court proceedings.

When asked if Mrs. Scott could be picked up for reckless driving, Mr. O'Connor stated that it was impossible to secure extradition papers for that charge. It is hinted that, if Mrs. Scott does return to Iowa and is caught, other charges will be brought against her.

The condition of Mrs. Joseph Heisner, who was paralyzed by the accident, is improving according to reports last evening. She had not been taken to the University hospital early last evening.

Elementary School Organizes Football Team; Koser, Coach

The University elementary school under the direction of Mr. D. D. Durell is hard at work organizing a football team. For the past few days, Morton Koser of University high has been acting as coach.

The schedule has not been completed but there will undoubtedly be a game with one of the city schools next week.

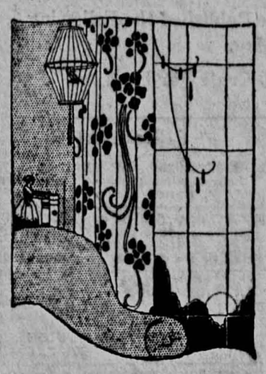
Where Your Personality is Paramount

in your room at college---your home for this year



THERE, against the background best expressive of your tastes and interests, new friends form their impressions of you. There, in the room that is your home for the College Year, you spend the greater portion of your time. How essential that it be cheerfully, cozily and comfortably fitted!

We are ready to serve you

If it's Furniture that your room needs, you can select from our Fourth Floor a complete outfit or the occasional piece—the comfortable Chair, the Reading Lamp, the Day Bed, the Book Stand, etc.

Color means much

When you are sensitive to surroundings, we've a gay riot of giddy Cretonnes very reasonably priced, that will glorify the most drab interior. We've the softer, lacier window dressings, too—delightfully dainty.

We have Rugs, too

and the success of a room's furnishings depends vitally upon the exactly suitable Rug. If you're outfitting economically but cheerfully and cleverly, a Rag Rug is the thing. We also have the richer, sturdier carpetings.

Perhaps you'll need an extra bit of bed covering now that the nights are chillier. A new pair of woolen Blankets in Pink, Blue or Yellow; or a thick, soft, dark Blanket relieved with bright colors is an excellent investment and comfort.

The Cup that cheers

tastes much better when served from a shining Silver Service or from Pottery Tea Sets. Our sub floor showings of Silver and China are a tantalization. We have beautiful Tea Table Linens, too.

Possibly it's pictures

Just one or two of them to fill a wall nook that baffles you as to what it needs. Whether you buy or not, a half hour in our Picture Gallery is one that will give you great pleasure at any time.

If it's a party

that you're giving soon, you'll want some of our very clever favors, Place Cards or Tallies that are shown in our interesting Art and Needlework bazaar—an inexhaustible source of gift-buying.
