First Testimony Offered in U.S. Oil Lease Suit

Government Wishes to Cancel Pan-American Contracts

Stuart, First Witness For Defense, on Stand

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 AP.—Testimony was started in the United States district court here today in the government suit to cancel the lease and contracts of the naval oil reserve properties to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company, which E. L. Doheny, controlling shareholder, values at $100,000,000 and in the alleged conspiracy for granting of which the government charges Doheny paid $100,000 to Albert E. Fall, secretary of the interior at that time.

Commander H. A. Stuart, U. S. N. formerly officer in charge of the naval fuel oil reserves at Washington was the first witness called by Owen J. Roberts, government prosecutor. Roberts said that Commander Stuart was placed on the witness stand to prove that a disagreement existed in the navy department concerning these leases; that the navy officer had not been in accord with the policy and was substantially removed from office.

The taking of testimony was preceded by offering documentary evidence including the withdrawal order of President Taft by which the Elk Hill oil lands were withdrawn from public entry, the executive order by President Harding in 1921 directing that administration of the naval oil reserves be transferred to the department of the interior from the navy department and other documents bearing on the case.

"No Need for Wells" Stuart
In bringing out testimony to prove there was a disagreement among naval officials in the granting of the proposed leases, Roberts asked Stuart to relate his dealings with Fall prior to the granting of the leases to the Pan-American interests.

"After it was decided to make the lease to the Griffin and I went to secretary Fall and told him we had heard the United Midway was to be given the lease on part of number 11," Stuart's testimony began. "We objected to this and said it was not necessary to drill wells. Fall said he had already taken it up with the president and had met with his approval. Fall said he would get proof of the approval but did not until later. We left and went to the navy building and were then summoned back and shown the approval of the president shortly after the leases were divided."

Duties of Citizen Are Explained to University Co-eds

University women's responsibility as citizens was the theme of the address given by Mrs. Stephen Swisher at the vespers held in the Y. W. drawing room yesterday at 4 p. m. Women of the campus were urged to exercise this responsibility by an intelligent use of the ballot throughout the coming elections. Use of the absent voters application blanks will make this possible for many of the University women.

The weekly Y. W. tea was held at the close of vespers.

"Deteriorated Powder" Cause of Trenton Blast

Washington, Oct. 22.
According to some naval ordnance experts, "deteriorated powder" probably was found the cause of the explosion on the cruiser Trenton. The service charge is inclined to become unstable after being subjected to high temperature and under other unusual conditions. In such state, it was held, the powder may become ignited by even the slight friction resulting from contact with the walls of the hoist.

Eleven Entombed In Kentucky Mine

Explosion Cuts Light Wire and Hampers Rescue Work

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22.—Eleven miners were entombed in an explosion that wrecked Hard Coal Corporation mine No. 9 here shortly after six o'clock this evening. Rescue work hampered by the fact that the 200,000 volt line which supplies power and light to the city was cut by the force of the explosion. The line passed directly over the mine.

The regular mine crew of 250 men left the mine only a short time before the explosion. The entombed men were shooting coal in preparation for the next shift when the explosion occurred. It is believed that gas formed in the mine became ignited.

For several hours it was thought that the mine men known to be in the pits had perished. The entombed men were shooting coal in preparation for the next shift when the explosion occurred. It is believed that gas formed in the mine became ignited.

Absentee Voters Get Application Blanks in L. A.

Today every University man and woman of voting age may secure their application blanks for the absent voter's ballot. The league of women voters will have a table placed at the main entrance of the liberal arts building with F. A. Milligan, a former student of the college of law, and a notary public, in charge.

The applications, which are being furnished partly by the political science department and partly by the Johnson county league, may be obtained from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Stamped envelopes will be available at the table so that the applications may be sent at once to the county auditor.

The University authorities are backing this project and it is hoped that a large number of both men and women will come up for their blanks.

Local Cinema Man Planning to Screen Homecoming Game

The Homecoming crowds will have an opportunity to view the game after it has been played. Nate Chapman, manager of the Englert theatre, in cooperation with the athletic department, will screen the Homecoming game.

Other features of the Homecoming fete this year will be filmed. The best decorated sorority house, the crowd and individuals of prominence will appear on the screen. A high powered lens will be used for filming the plays. A stand will be erected at a point where the best possible view of the field can be obtained.

Senior Commerce Students Name Collin President

Paul Pahl of Clinton Is Elected Vice-President

The senior class of the college of commerce held its election for class officers last night in room 207 liberal arts building where they selected the following officers: President, Paul L. Collin of Ida Grove; vice president, Paul Pahl of Clinton; secretary, Else Ruste, of Charles City; treasurer, Hugo Buck of Calmar.

Set "Prom" Dates For Ensuing Year

Freshman Party and Blanket Hop Held Before Xmas

The dates for all University parties were set, at a special meeting of the Student Council held Monday afternoon. The class presidents and the chairmen of the various parties, met in conjunction with the council, and were given a voice in the matter of dates for their various parties.

All of these parties are to be held in the men's gymnasium, according to present plans. The dates of the parties are as follows: Freshman Party, November 22. "I" Blanket Hop, December 5. Sophomore Cotillion, December 12. Military Ball, February 6. Senior Hop, February 20. Women's Pan-Hellenic, March 7. Men's Pan-Hellenic, March 20. Junior Prom, April 3. Commerce Mart, April 24.

Offer Prizes to Flower Salesmen

Silver Pieces on Display to Tempt Venders

Annual "For-get-me-not" drive will be held on Homecoming Saturday. Trophies to be given this year are now on display in Keith and McGold lined flower vase will be given to the sorority selling the largest number of forget-me-nots.

Individual prizes consist of two sets of silver sugars and creamers. One set will be given to the university girl leading in the sales and the other to the high non-university salesmen.

President Walter A. Jessup "hopes there will be a generous response to the need of this occasion." President Jessup makes the following statement in regard to the Disabled veterans' benefit, in a letter to C. F. Mullen, state adjutant of the Disabled American Veterans:

Chi Omegas Lead In Sale of Badges With Over 2,000

"Badges, sir? Have you bought your Homecoming badges yet?" These words are sounding over the campus today as hurrying students and townspeople are bombarded by frantic girls. Notice that they say "badges" too; each person is asked to buy enough for himself and his Homecoming guests.

If the girls of the three sororities work as hard during the next two days as they did yesterday, there will be no badges left by Saturday. Almost one third of them have been sold already. Pi Phi and Kappa both report approximately 1500 sales, and Chi Omegas top them with about 2000 to their credit. The next two days will prove the victor in the contest.

Bob Makes Sure of Iowa Vote

This picture answers the question of which presidential candidate will get the vote of Senator Smith W. Brookhart. Although a Republican Senatorial nominee, Brookhart says he can not support Coolidge, but will lend all his aid to LaFollette, with whom he is shown talking.

McDonald English Debate Member

Team Has Appeared At Des Moines, Coe, And in the East

Malcolm MacDonald, the son of the British premier, and M. C. Hollis, a former president of the Oxford Union, will be members of the Oxford University debating team which debates Iowa on Thursday, October 30. The other member of the team is J. D. Woodruff of New College. Hollis has written for several English papers and has also contributed to the Outlook.

This is the first international debate in which Iowa has ever participated. Bates college of Lewiston, Maine, was the first college to begin the practice, when their team went to Oxford to debate in 1921. A return debate was arranged in 1922, on account of the success of the first encounter.

Literary Magazine Makes Second Bow Homecoming Day

A comprehensive book review section covering late books on travel, biography, and fiction will comprise an important department in the October issue of the Iowa Literary Magazine which will be on sale on the campus on Friday, October 24.

"We have attempted to enlarge the book review section," said Evelyn Harter, A4 of Iowa City, editor of the magazine. "We have also tried to keep the reviews short but make them as interesting as possible."

Eight books will be reviewed in the section. John Byron Long, G of Salem, has reviewed "Ariel," the life of Shelley; Paul F. Corey, A4 of Atlantic, has attempted something new in book reviewing with "The Prisoner Who Sang" by Johan Bjerger. Charles Brown Nelson, A3 of Atlantic, has revealed astounding things about "Madagascar: The Land of the Man-Eating Tree." Late fiction which will be covered is "The Tattooed Countess," reviewed by Velma Critz, A3 of Iowa City; "The Cure of Souls," reviewed by Charlton G. Laird, A4 of McGregor; while "Three Pilgrims and a Thinker" has been covered by Floy Davis, A4 of Nora Springs, literary editor of the Iowan. Ruth Middaugh, G of Des Moines has reviewed "The Little French Girl."

An added increase in the interest of student writers in book reviewing and the public in book reviews has contributed much to the growth of this department in the Iowa Literary Magazine.

Willis Nutting Lands in New York November 2

Prof. Charles C. Nutting, of the Zoology department received word Tuesday from his son, Willis Nutting, that he will probably land in New York on November 2. Mr. Nutting has been very ill with pleurisy in a hospital in Antigua, British West Indies, for nearly five weeks. He will return to Iowa to convalesce.

Third Party All Because of G. O. P. Foolishness: Davis

Candidate Wants Old Fashioned House Cleaning

(By the Associated Press) EVANSVILLE, IND., Oct. 22.—Completing his third and final campaign tour of Indiana, with addresses tonight at Evansville and in the late afternoon at historic Vincennes, John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president charged that the last three and one half years of republican administration had produced the "third party" and offered with the help of a democratic party to remedy the "disease which had brought it about."

Mr. Davis also pledged in the name of democracy to give relief to the farmers of the country; to bring about a thorough house cleaning of the Washington government; to put an end to bureaucracies and install a government based on a sane, forward looking and progressive liberalism. In addition Mr. Davis said he would cause the tax and tariff laws that knew no class or section, privilege or favor.

Wants House Cleaning

Three and half years of power by the Harding-Coolidge administration has produced this third party which our republican friends complain split the republican party. They roused the American people and have given the opportunity for men to offer new and strange doctrines and urge them on the people and as the cure for all evils. We used to cure the patient by giving him an injection of the same virus that caused the disease.

"You asked me what the democracy would do if you trusted it with power? Well, I will tell you where it would begin. It would begin just where I believe the American people want its process to begin; with a thorough house cleaning in Washington.

"Equal rights to all men and special privilege to none."
A storm of applause greeted this utterance by the nominee.

Take Care of Producer

"It would re-write the taxing and tariff laws of this country so that no legitimate enterprise could be injured; so that no working man could be deprived of the opportunity for honest toil, but on the other hand that no consumer in the United States would be unduly burdened to pile up profits for those who have written the law in their own interests.

"We do not accept the theory boldly proclaimed when the Fordney-McCumber bill was written, that we will take care of the producer and let the consumer take care of himself. We would do something more for the farmers than simply to investigate him. We would take such measures that would open to him the great markets across the sea upon which he must depend. We would no longer compel him to buy in a market controlled by monopoly at monopolistic prices and sell in a market open to all the world. We would aid him in his marketing processes and we would lessen the long journey between him build up such government agencies and the ultimate consumer and as would put him on a parity with his fellow citizens in the conduct of his business and the merchandising of things he has to sell.

Abolish Bureaucracies

"This country has been controlled for many years by an industrial bloc. There is a farm bloc now in congress endeavoring to reduce the balance and it is the great ambition of democracy that these scales shall be held so even that it will not be necessary to have industrial or agricultural blocs but the ear of government will be equally open to every man no matter what his calling.

"We propose to put an end to the building of great bureaucracies in this country.

"These are some of the things in the democratic program; and I believe as firmly as I believe anything that this great outpouring here today and the pervasive interest shown all over this country is admission of the fact that in November next the American people are going to turn again to the democratic party and its nominees for their relief."

Three Specials to Bring Homecoming Grid Fans

Besides thousands of people who will make the trip by automobile, the Rock Island railroad will run three special trains to Iowa City for the football game and Homecoming, Saturday, October 25. Harry D. Breen, local agent, says the railroad will bring several thousands of people to Iowa City on Saturday. The special trains will run from Des Moines, Burlington, and the Tri-cities, Davenport, Rock Island, and Moline.

La Follette Hits Coolidge on Tax

"Saves at Spigot and Wastes at Bung Hole," He Says

(By the Associated Press) PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 22.—Centering an attack on President Coolidge in an address here tonight, Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, declared that the chief executive "saves at the spigot and is wasteful at the bung hole."

"Coolidge is keen," continued the Wisconsin senator, "to use the economy plan to prevent the nation from discharging its just obligations to its world war veterans and old soldiers of the Civil and Spanish wars and to its postal employees, but when it comes to the big wastes and grafts that are draining the public treasury, he suddenly goes blind."

Assailing the president from the beginning of his prepared speech, Mr. La Follette declared Mr. Coolidge has repeatedly declared "that economy and tax reduction are the watchwords of his administration."

"These are appealing words," continued the senator. "Every citizen wanted to see his government conducted with the regard to economy and every citizen naturally wants his taxes reduced. Just what does Calvin Coolidge mean when he says he is for economy and in favor of tax reduction?"

"You cannot tell from his speeches because they are made up of platitudes and copy book maxims. They are devoid of concrete proposals either for economy or for tax reduction.

"It is only when we come to examine his acts that we can talk about what kind of economy he is talking about and whose taxes he proposes to reduce."

U. S. Shenandoah Leaves for Rockies

From San Diego to Tia Juana, Ship Follows Mexican Border

ABOARD U. S. SHENANDOAH, Oct. 22.—(By Radio to the Associated Press) Climbing steadily until an altitude of 3,500 feet was reached twenty minutes after weighing off from the north island mooring mast at San Diego, the navy dirigible Shenandoah was fairly started on the return trip over the Rocky mountains at 11:25 o'clock.

The course from the southern California city was laid southward to Tia Juana. Turning before the Mexican line was reached and then mounting over Otay reservoir, the flag ship of the skies circled on a five mile radius, mounting to 4,500 feet, and then followed along the Mexican border to Potosero, from where the chartered course followed the mountain road through the passes to the desert, then over El Centro and Yuma and to the east.

Coolidge Ready For His Last "Big" Campaign Speech

Expected to Sum Up Views on Government

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—President Coolidge directed his attention mainly to completing his addresses here which he delivered here tomorrow night before the eastern division of the chamber of commerce of the United States, in which he is expected to sum up his views on government affairs. This will be the last extended address of the president before election and detailed arrangements have been made to have it radiocast to every section of the country through one of the most expensive broadcasting systems yet set up.

He will start speaking about 9:30 o'clock eastern standard time. Among several callers at the White House today were William R. Wilcox, chairman of the republican national committee in the 1916 campaign, who drew an enthusiastic picture of the republican political outlook in New York.

Members of the retail grocers organization of New England and New York also were received by the president.

Hawkeye Rates High Nationally

High Merit of Iowa Annual Shown in Competition

The 1924 Hawkeye was placed on the honorable mention list in a national contest conducted by the Arts and Crafts guild, of Chicago. It was devoted to school publications. There were hundreds of annuals submitted from all over the United States, to this contest, and the Hawkeye was placed in the division which included universities of over 2000. The winners in that class were:

First—"Gopher"—University of Minnesota. Second—"Savitar"—University of Missouri. Third—"Cactus"—University of Texas.

The "Bomb" of Iowa State college was another Iowa publication included on the honorable mention list of 10 names.

The annuals were judged by Mr. Harry Hillman, editor of the "Inland Printer," of Chicago, and by Mr. Earnest P. Dettner of the Chicago art institute. The points on which the annuals were judged were financial standing, editorial makeup, and mechanical makeup, such as engraving, art, and printing. The Hawkeye was especially congratulated on its artistic excellence, much of which was due to the work of art students here.

University Party Dates Completed; Held in Men's Gym

At a special meeting of the Student Council held Monday afternoon the dates for all parties were set. The class presidents, the chairman of the various parties met in conjunction with the council, and were given a voice in the matter of dates for their various parties. All of these parties are to be held in the Mens Gymnasium according to the present plans. The dates of the parties as set are as follows:

Freshman Party—November 22.
"I" Blanket Hop—December 5.
Sophomore Cotillion—December 12.
Military Ball—February 6.
Senior Hop—February 20.
Women's Pan Hellenic—March 7.
Mens Pan Hellenic—March 20.
Junior Prom—April 3.
Commerce Mart—April 24.

All Classes Suspended in Homecoming Celebration

Since all exercises are to be suspended during Homecoming, there will be no classes on Saturday morning, October 25.

Evelyn and Genevieve Harter Retain Tennis Doubles Title

Brooker, Roose Lose Final Match 6-1, 3-6, and 6-2

Sisters Are Champions Of University for Second Time

Same Four Women Fighting Battle In Singles

Once again Evelyn Harter, A4 of Iowa City and Genevieve Harter, A3 of Iowa City, compose the championship doubles team in the annual University women's tennis tournament. Defeating Gladys Brooker, A3 of Omaha, and Alice Roose, A2 of Iowa City by a score of 6-1; 3-6; 6-2; they retain the title which they won last year.

Probably no previous tennis tournament has aroused as much interest as the one this year, and certainly no championship was more hotly contested. At all times, the games were well played, and the result was certain until the last match.

The most outstanding feature of the playing of the two champions was their unusually good teamwork. They seemed to possess a sort of sixth sense to guide them in their service. Their opponents, Brooker and Roose, were not quite so sure of each other, and this was undoubtedly the deciding point of the game.

The result of the doubles seems to prove nothing concerning the outcome of the singles but that the final singles champion is still very much a matter of speculation. The same women who have played the finals in the doubles are also scheduled to play in the singles. The remaining games in the tournament will be played by the first of next week.

Y. M. C. A. Plans Weekly Programs To Amuse Kiddies

Weekly programs at the children's hospital under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will begin next week, according to Elbert K. Hendricks, A2 of Riceville, has charge of the work.

These programs, including musical numbers and moving pictures, will be of a humorous nature. It is planned that the opening program shall consist of musical numbers, and several reels of comedy. Claude B. Miller, A1 of Nashua, has been secured to operate the machine.

This phase of the Y work receives the largest appropriation of any single department, and it offers a splendid opportunity for community service. Students interested in doing this type of work may either apply to Elizabeth Hendricks, or Harry Terrell, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Women Interested in Writing To Meet Today for Matrices

The feminine literary lights of the University will appear in body assembled for the first time this afternoon when the initial meeting of the Matrices, an organization for all university women interested in writing as a profession, will be held. The club is being organized and sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority, and any girl in the University interested in writing is welcomed to the meeting.

The group will assemble in the Pilo-Octave Hall at 5:00 o'clock and the affair will take the form of an informal tea. Refreshments will be served by Julia Field, A4 of Forest City, Velma Critz, A3 of Iowa City, Dorothy Maggard, A4 of Onawa, Floy Davis, A4 of Mason City and Elizabeth Sinn, A3 of Manning, pledges of Theta Sigma Phi.

The tea is being planned by Dorothy McClellan G of Iowa City and Ruth Daggett A4 of Ottumwa. A color scheme of lavender and green, colors of Theta Sigma Phi, will be carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

Gore, Guns, and Grief Send Philo Into Courtroom

Court will be held in Philomathean hall, 206 Journalism building, this evening at 8 o'clock. Malicious attack with intent to kill is the pseudo-charge against Charles R. Buckwalter, A3 of Laurens, the alleged victim being L. Duane Jennings, A3 of Slater.

The tragedy is said to have occurred at the Philo mixer several weeks ago, when the revelry was at its height and when no one had the least suspicion that a vicious and unscrupulous gunman was in the gathering, according to a statement issued to members of the society.

Both parties in the case are reputed to be multi-millionaires, and their great riches are being freely used to produce the best legal talent in the University. Exchanging onslaughts on the opposing sides will be James Stewart, L3 of Runnels, and George O. Hurley, L3 of Iowa City. The manipulator of the scales of justice who will preside behind the improvised bar is Herbert C. Eikby, L3 of Davenport.

Alpha Phi Alpha Purchase Home on Burlington Street

Alpha Phi Alpha, colored fraternity has purchased a house on the corner of Burlington and Clinton street. They purchased this house for $12,000 from Mrs. Mary Reed. The fraternity was formerly located at 29 East College.

Short talks will be given by members of Theta Sigma Phi. Dorothy Wilson, A4 of Mason City, president of the organization, will discuss briefly the history and program of Theta Sigma Phi, and Agnes Kelleher, A4 of Des Moines will speak on future projects of the organization, while Evelyn Harter, A4 of Iowa City will talk on "Theta Sigma Phi as an Active Force in Journalism." Ruth Middaugh, G. of Des Moines will tell about famous Theta Sigs.

The Matrices club was organized in 1922 but became inactive last year. Efforts to revive the group are being made in the hope of accomplishing results by bringing various speakers before the club who will discuss certain fields of journalism, such as short story writing, editorial writing, and similar subjects.

The Matrices club will meet every two weeks and will combine both the social and educational element. Membership is open to any girl in the University interested in writing.

Witches Furnish Inspiration for Athena's Program

Black cats, witches, autumn leaves, and candle light will give Halloween atmosphere to the preferred party of the Athena literary society tonight. Fifty guests will be entertained at a dancing party in the second floor of the journalism building.

The dances will be interspersed with stunts, story telling and solo dancing, in charge of Bernice N. Sullman A2 of Dollyer.

Miss Rose Reeves, Miss Lillian Lawler, Miss Frances Baker, Miss Helen Mackintosh and Miss Frances Hungerford will assist the active members in entertaining the guests.

Theta Sigma Phi Pledges Winner Of Story Contest

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority, announces the pledging of Julia Field, A4 of Forest City. Miss Field, who entered the University last year, has been active in short story work. She won the prize offered that year by the women's forensic council for the best short story submitted to the judges. In 1923 she was awarded third place in the Des Moines Register short story contest.

The edition of the Literary Magazine which will appear this weekend contains one of her short stories and last spring's issue of the same magazine carried two of her poems.

She has also contributed to the literary sections of Iowa newspapers and has written a number of children's stories.

Eaton to Talk on Current Theatre Problems Monday

Also Has Round Table Tuesday Afternoon In Old Capitol

Is Free Lance Critic And Author of New Play

Walter P. Eaton, a man well known to those interested in the work of the theatre, will give a University lecture Monday, October 27 at 8 o'clock in the natural science auditorium. His subject will be "Does the Theatre End with Broadway?" He will discuss current topics of the theatre; he is not only a dramatic critic, but also a playwright and author.

Mr. Eaton will also conduct a round table discussion on problems of the theatre Tuesday afternoon, October 28, in Old Capitol. At this time he will endeavor to answer all questions in regard to the various phases of the theatre with which he is familiar.

He is now a free lance critic, being connected with no particular paper or magazine. He has also written, beside his play "Queen Victoria," two books on dramatic criticism, "Plays and Players" and "The Actor's Heritage," which have been widely read.

At the present time Mr. Eaton is interested with the Theatre Guild of New York. He is much interested in a big bond issue which will provide a theatre home for that organization. He was formerly chairman of the Community Theatre Circuits committee, which is connected with the Drama League of America. Prof. E. C. Mable now holds that position and these two men are working with the aid of three other men to organize an association of professional directors of non-professional theatres. The other three workers are Jack Crawford of Yale, director of the university theatre there; Oliver Hinsdell of Dallas, Texas; and Gilmore Brown of Pasadena, California.

Miss Summers to Hear Jane Addams

Other Noted Speakers Listed on Program Of Meeting

Miss Nell Summers, secretary of the university Y. W. C. A., will leave this morning for Des Moines, where she will attend the Iowa State Student's Convention to be held in that city October 24, 25, and 26. Margaret Sayers, A4 of Jefferson, president of the Y. W. many also attend.

The Iowa State Student's Convention is inter-collegiate assembly of college and university men and women to discuss industrial, international and religious problems in quest of a creative Christian social order. It is held under the direction of the Young Men and Young Women's Christian Association of the colleges of Iowa.

Programs for the three days contain many numbers of interest. June Addams of Hull House fame will tell her own personal story. Dr. Emma E. Voight, dean of women at Ohio University will deal with campus problems. Harvey Ingham, editor of the Des Moines Register, will speak on the factors of the world peace. Other speakers of note are: J. Sitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, California; N. Y. Hapgood, president and manager of the Columbia Conserve Company, Indianapolis, Indiana; Dr. John Henry Gray, economist; and Dr. Bruce Curry, a graduate of Princeton, Davidson, and New York Universities, who had charge of the Bible study in the army and navy during the world war, and in the past two years has directed Bible study groups in thirty-one different states.

Latin Instructor Writes Plays for High School

Miss Lillian B. Lawler, of the Latin department, is author of an article, "Presentation of Simple Latin Plays" which was published in the last edition of the "Classical Journal." The article closely follows a paper, Miss Lawler read last April in Lexington, Kentucky, at a meeting of the classical association of middle west and south.

Miss Lawler, realizing the demand for simple Latin plays, has written seven of them, practical for high school presentation. The first two were sent out as bulletins from the University since then Miss Lawler has published five other plays with suggestions for their production.

For the Big Game On Homecoming Day

You Will Need a Comfortable Coat

All indications point to a cool day and with the wind blowing across the field you will enjoy the game more if you are comfortably clad. Of course you will want to know that your coat is in harmony with the trend of the present day styles, and you will if purchased here.

It should have a fur collar that stands up and is edged with fur, and a band of same around the cuffs; it might have fur also down the front as well as around the bottom.

Color can be brown, heaver, brick, green, black, tan.

Popular furs are squirrel, beaver, rat, marmink, opossum.

Prices are very reasonable at $25 to $39.50 up to $98.50; more or less if you wish.

Ensemble Suit

Wherever you may go you will find the ultra smart dressers wearing the Ensemble Suit. The coats are made of fine Charmeen, richly fur trimmed, cut along simple yet graceful lines. The dress has short sleeves, usually embroidered down front, and made of fine broad cloth or heavy satin of contrasting colors.

Every garment is tailored to perfection.

Price $59.50

Frocks

—of wool or silk as you need, for street, afternoon, or evenings. Trimmed with fur or maribou in contrasting colors. Models that will appeal to the college girl.

Prices from $17.50 to $49.50

Scarfs and Mantillas

MANTILLAS —of fiber silk in light and colored grounds with bright stripes. $5.50 $7.50

SCARFS —of wool or fiber silk. Beautiful colorings. $2.00 $3.80

Only $1.85

Ensemble Blouse

The new blouse is practically a dress for it is at least three quarters long. Made of fine brocade materials they serve as a frock for all but the most formal occasions. Black or colors and priced so reasonable for $6.89 and $7.50

Sweaters

How About a Sweater

We have sold a lot of them the past week and every purchaser is assured of many days of sweater comfort.

The brushed wool coat styles as well as the CRICKET slipover styles are shown here. Prices are very attractive indeed, quality considered. Tans, brown, grey, peach, henna, etc., with colored border, $3.50 to $7.50.

ROTHSCHILD'S

English, Speech Conclave Opens In Old Capitol

Wisconsin, Chicago, And Iowa Speakers Are Present

The north board room in the Old Capitol will house the annual conference of teachers of speech and English beginning here today. At 1:30 p. m. Prof. Hardin Craig, head of the English department, will preside over the first program. Speakers from the University of Wisconsin, Chicago, and Iowa, will be here. After each speech, there will be a discussion.

Miss Martha Jane McCoy, will talk first, on the "Modern Viewpoint in Teaching Literature". Miss McCoy is the author of two text books, "Readings in Literature," and "A Manual for Teachers for Use with Readings in Literature".

Andrew T. Weaver is professor of speech at the University of Wisconsin, and is the joint author, with Prof. C. H. Woolbert, of the manual "Better Speech".

His subject today, "Speech Training in Secondary Schools", gives him an opportunity to explain his methods.

The Iowa faculty member on today's program is W. Leigh Sowers, assistant professor of English. Mr. Sowers has recently written a dramatic impression "The Theatrical Steerage" for the Scribner's magazine. He has also contributed to other magazines. He will talk on "The Teaching of Modern Drama in High Schools with suggestions as to what to teach", will be based on personal knowledge.

Discussions will be led by Frank Luther Mott, assistant professor in English, G. W. Gray, associate in speech and W. H. Trumbauer, assistant professor in speech, all of the University.

As a part of the entertainment of the attending teachers, a conference dinner at 6:00 o'clock, will be held at the Mad Matter's tea room followed by a symposium on "The Nature, Discovery, and Treatment of the Exceptional Student".

Largest Sapphire Was Paperweight

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Declared to be the largest sapphire in the world a jewel, once used as a common paper-weight, has been brought from India and is now being offered for exhibition in London.

The jewel is worth more than $25,000, weighs 916 carats and is in the form of a plucked flower with a short stem.

It was acquired by government official in India who, ignorant of its value, used it as a paperweight in one of the guard huts on the Indian frontier.

Experts believe the jewel was a hair ornament of an ancient deity and that there is a companion stone in existence.

Vaccination Urged By Dr. McDonald

Would Be Sure Preventative Against Epidemic Here At University

Students should be vaccinated as a preventative measure against small pox. Doctor McDonald said yesterday in an interview. "There are always some cases of small pox in the state. Students travelling back and forth may be exposed to this disease. Vaccination is the only means by which a community can be kept free of small pox."

Many universities make small pox vaccination a condition of admission. The University of Iowa does not require this and consequently there are many students entering the University each year who have never been vaccinated.

Small pox in a great university in these days is a real stigma. It not only lowers prestige, but it is a great financial and academic loss, apart from its effect as a severe and often fatal disease.

So all students who have not been recently vaccinated against small pox are urged to have it done at once. "Do your bit as individuals. Don't be sickers. Don't let the other fellow bear your burden as well as his own," concluded Doctor McDonald. Vaccination is free to all students at the student health department.

Not Entirely Dead

THE campus literary societies have from time to time been accused of being dead. It is certainly true that some of them show more life than others. However that may be, all of them offer opportunities for those interested in the literary field. These societies are sponsoring the Iowa Literary magazine, the artistic and extemporaneous speaking contests, the short story and poetry contests, and the debates.

The six women's literary societies are holding their preferred parties now. Erodelphian, Octave Thanet, and Athena entertain prospective members this week; the Hesperian, Whitty, and Hamlin Garland parties were last week. Bids will be sent out this week-end.

One criticism that has justly been applied to the literary societies is that they tend to bid only those women who have already become prominent in literary work. The members of the society, in their desire to add to the laurels of the society, are apt to forget that they should develop as well as use talent. Societies are justified in not bidding those who only wish to have one more organization listed under their names in the Hawkeye, but there are many girls with real ability who have never had the opportunity of using it. A literary society should expect to benefit its members as well as expect the members to benefit the society.

Toward Utopia

A HUGE motor, speeding towards Utopia, has been delayed by the driver so that its occupants are still many miles away from their destination. The chauffeur knows that certain superstitions, relics of heathen religions, are to be observed if the journey is to be made in safety. The others, whom he is delaying, take the stops as a matter of course.

A cat crosses the road, and so the car is turned out of the main highway, taking a road fifteen miles out of the way. One day is lost because the chauffeur dreamed of an accident and told the story before breakfast. He will not drive on that day. Another day is lost because it is Friday, and bad luck comes to those who would start a journey on Friday.

Utopia is the world of some distant tomorrow, the automobile is progress, and the driver is symbolic of many people today who are steering the wheels of civilization. The trans-oceanic mails furnish a good example of the ignorant stupidity of supposedly modern persons whose ears should be deaf to all meaningless rumbles of the past. These mails are delayed twenty-four hours because the seamen will not start on Friday.

In a country, first colonized by people who wished to throw off the heavy chains of an older civilization, this is deplorable. Superstition is a drug which was smuggled into this country unknown to the wiser citizens. It poisons the minds of our weaker countrymen who allow themselves to be exposed to its influence. We must cure its users of the habit to insure an undelayed journey toward Utopia.

Unnecessary Noises

"NOISE Crazed Woman Shoots Boy Ball Player" was the headline to a story which probably received many bitter comments from sympathetic mothers wherever it was read.

Because she didn't like "all that racket on a Sunday afternoon," Mrs. Alice Lain, 63 years old, shot a boy, who was one of a group playing baseball under her window. "I told them to stop playing numerous times," she said. The little lad is expected to die, and to him, who happened to furnish the chance flame for one explosion, much sympathy is extended. Yet something should be said for the woman. She is an extreme example of the physical and mental disturbance caused by unnecessary noise. What for some of us would have caused a headache or a few unmentionable words, for her resulted in a moment of desperation.

The plague of unnecessary noises has reached even into the atmosphere of our own small middle-western town. Out on this broad stretch of prairie land, far from the wheels of larger economic machinery, from the tread of millions of feet, and from the shrill voices both mechanical and human, the quietness of shaded corners is still interrupted by unnecessary noises.

The tired professor can attribute at least one half of his twisted nerves to dorraines dropped in the midst of an important point in the lecture, to whispered conversations of people who care too much for their own opinions and too little for others, and to loud voices of workmen and students on the outside pavement who refuse to recognize any need for low pitched voices outside of a hospital.

Students also are put races behind their physical ability by unnecessary noises. After a twelve o'clock Saturday night the Sunday morning sleep of a weary boy or girl is interrupted by the cracked voice of a next door neighbor who is doing "Dream Daddy" in discords.

The good intentions of many library-going persons is rudely interrupted by unnecessary noises. The slamming of books on hard tables, the scrape of feet across rough floors, the giggles of some who use books as an excuse for other things, will seep into even the most concentrated mind.

Unnecessary noises are motors of Mr. Thoughtless of Mr. Selfish, who respect none of the "Keep Off" signs to other people's property.

What will the galosh be like to keep up with the pace set by the yellow slicker and the sou'wester

Our favorite co-ed can't decide whether to take up class work or outside activities.

Lovely Labors Lost

THIRD LABOR

For behold, I am alone upon wind-swept Desolate plain. The gray mists of failure float Around me, and I stand alone And am sad And many beautiful maids come to comfort me, Aye, but I am not comforted, And with soft and tender caresses They seek to soothe me, But I am not soothed, And they depart and again I am alone, With black despair in my heart For, although I seek to help this colymn, The fickle University will not Recognize me, And upon my birthday still refuses to Grant to us a holiday, And so I grieve.

We learned something at the Sousa band concert Tuesday afternoon. Things have come to a pretty pass. We are getting pretty far gone. We expected never to learn anything at a concert.

We were mystified by the word "interval" between the two parts of the program, so we consulted the dictionary which we always carry with us when we think an affair is going to go beyond our depth.

All Noah would divulge on the subject was that an interval is a quiescent period between two happenings. That didn't help us any because we were trying to decide whether or not to stay for the second spasm. If we didn't stay, then for us the second spasm wouldn't be spasmed, and can an interval exist when nothing follows it?

We don't know. Someone tell us.

But we found out what an interval is, and we are just in the mood to pass the information on.

A Sousa interval is the space of time between two ends of a cigarette.

A maiden at college named Breeze Weighed down by B. A.'s and M. Deeze. Collapsed from the strain; The Doc said, " 'Tis plain She's been killing herself by degrees."

THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Anna Louise Strong, Correspondent, Author, and Relief Worker, Writes of the Situation in Russia Since the Revolution

Reviewed by Mary Fletcher Finlayson

In a day when it is almost impossible to obtain unprejudiced reading matter concerning Russia, when it is distinctly unpopular to believe that for Russia there is any hope, much less a future, a clearly written, statement, fair and unblinded either by too great enthusiasm, on the one hand, or by unfair propaganda on the other, is an achievement.

Such is the book by Anna Louise Strong. Having spent several years working with the Russian people in the midst of their revolution, she is in a position to know of what she writes. She tells of the Russia that she knew when first she went there—terror ridden, torn by war, and bowed by famine. She tells of the people she knew then—the people who forgot their own sufferings, in their great dream that Russia might be saved. And yet she does not sentimentalize. Like the slow, ponderous people of whom she writes, the story she tells is simple and straightforward. But for all the intermingling of cold, hard facts, it is not unfeeling.

At first, perhaps, one wonders just a little what it is that has made her champion the cause of Russia. But as she states the simple, unadorned facts, one after another, of the effect of the present regime in Russia, of the undying faith of the people who have Russia's future close to their hearts, the reason becomes clear.

Few questions of importance go unanswered in her book. The effect of the overwhelming transition on the common people; she tells that. The effect upon the people of the professional classes; she answers that question. She explains the reason for Russia's use of foreign capital—a thing that the uneducated have not been able to understand. And she shows how it is that Russia, at the end of the World War, a bankrupt country, was able, in less than five years, to stabilize its national economic system. She shows us the very poor, who owe their lives to the revolutionaries, and she shows us the men and women in power, who are devoting themselves unreservedly to the cause.

What of the Jews? She answers that. What of the freedom of the Jews, in the country once notorious for its Jewish pogroms. It even goes farther than freedom, she states, for the Jews in Russia may and do take an active part in government affairs. And they have a social standing on a plane with the gentiles. Yet, she explains, one does not think of them as Jews, a people distinct from gentiles, for in the sweeping freedom of that country, racial lines have been lost. And it is even difficult to learn how many Jews are actually in office, simply because no attention is paid to the fact that they are Jews.

What of the Church revolution, which we in America have been permitted to think was such a heinous thing? She answers that. She tells how it was that, to save a famine stricken people, church treasures were seized, and how, with the exception of the intervention of certain imperialistic monks of the old regime, this seizure was actually encouraged by the clergy.

Of education in the new Russia we are perhaps the most ignorant, so it is her statement of the educational progress of that country which is almost, if not quite, the most interesting phase of her book.

From a formal, stilted thing, denied to all but the very wealthy, and having little to do with the training of life, education has become, since the revolution, a living, progressive thing, founded largely upon principles expounded by an American educator, Dewey. And, most strange of all, education is open to everyone, with preference, in case of over crowded situations, to the people who work. Not merely to children of school age; that would not begin to fill the need of Russia's great illiterate class. But to all people, in cities, in distant villages, even in Nomadic tribes which never, until now, have had a written language, the opportunity for education is open. Her own term, "Romanes," best defines the great change which has swept Russia.

In judging such a book as this, the fact must always be taken into consideration that we are relying, not upon observation open to us, but upon the documents of one who has been there before us. And we may be led astray. Yet Miss Strong is willing to admit that there is doubt. As long as peoples possess human frailties, there will be doubt. Today, the Communist government of Russia is still in the experimental stage. They make mistakes, she says, and they even meet failures. But they are quick to see their mistakes, and their failures are soon rectified, and not repeated. It is possible to understand the situation only by a first hand reading of the book. For so many sided a subject, so many sided a treatment, cannot be given justice in so short a space as this. The book itself leaves little of the present situation in Russia unexplained. Fair, frank, sincere, with justice to a cause its sole motive, it pleads its own case.

May Christians Ever Justify Any War?

Lutherans Driven Between Confession and New Beliefs

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The United Lutheran church in America at the close of the first day of its convention here today faced the issue of whether a Christian may ever justify war. On the one hand was citation of the Augsburg confession, 334 years ago, the first and still the recognized confession of the church; and the other a demand from various Lutherans for a new pronouncement. This is the anniversary of the signing of the Augsburg confession, said to be the first pronouncement of a Protestant body on the war question.

The issue was outlined in the report of the Rev. Dr. M. G. Scherer, of Philadelphia, secretary. He said the issue was before the church in the form of four memorials from as many synods, and in the report of the committee on social and moral welfare.

The report of the committee, of which Dr. E. P. Pfatfeicher is the chairman, held in part "to declare unequivocally that 'war is sin' is to declare that the powers that declare wars are not ordained of God and have acted against conscience in their declaration. To assert that the pulpits having opposed the cause of the nation during time of war is hypocritical, if in subsequent times of peace it lends its voice to the destruction of war and the perpetuation of peace; is an unwarranted indictment of consciences of Christian ministers. We believe that article 16 of the Augsburg confession 'Christians may engage in a just war and act as soldiers' is a correct interpretation of the teachings of Jesus."

EDWARDSVILLE, ILL., Oct. 22.—Four men held up the State Bank of Bethalto, eight miles north of here this afternoon, forced a young woman in charge of the bank and a number of patrons to lie on the floor while they looted the safe and drawers of approximately $4,000.

Medic Council Elects Heads At Meeting Tuesday Evening

At the meeting of the Medical College council on Tuesday evening, officers were chosen for the coming year: John R. Buchanan, M4 of Norway was named president and Percy J. The Medical College council is composed of delegates elected from each of the four classes at the first of the year, in addition to representatives chosen from the faculty. It is the governing body in student affairs in the medical school.

Norman K. Dixon, M4, of Burlington, was elected by the council as representative of the medical school in the University Student Council.

Labor Hep for Cal's Labor Day Address

Grundy Gets $365,000 From Pennsylvania Alone

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22. (AP)—Intimate details of the bringing of labor leaders to Washington to hear President Coolidge in a Labor Day address, and additional light on methods employed to raise money for the conduct of the republican party's national campaign, were furnished today to the senate campaign investigating committee.

T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the shipping board testified that he had arranged to bring the labor leaders here and had advanced the money about $360 to pay their hotel and taxicab bills in Washington. This sum he added, later was repaid to him by Joseph Ryan, vice president of the international longshoremen's union. He denied that he had discussed the matter with President Coolidge, but under sharp cross examination he stated that he had taken it up with one White House attaché.

Joseph H. Grundy, a wealthy manufacturer of Bristol, Pa., and chairman of the Pennsylvania ways and means committee of the republican national committee, said his committee had raised $365,000 up to today in thirty five counties in Pennsylvania outside of Pittsburgh district.

2-3 Capital Strayed From England in '23

U. S. Lost 6 Per Cent, Says Chamber of Commerce Head

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Sixty seven per cent of the capital issues raised in England last year went abroad while only six per cent of American capital investments left this country, Willis H. Booth, president of the international chamber of commerce and vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company told the fifteenth annual convention of the American Manufacturers export association.

"American business men should give more attention to furnish capital" he said, predicting a competitive situation wherein there will be more business to be done throughout the world.

W. W. Nichols, president of the association told of the impressions gained by a group of American business men who visited Mexico in September.

"We have found" he said "that the Mexicans honesty is trustworthy and his integrity is sound."

Extension Division Enrollment Shows Foreign Interest

The enrollment in the extension division, under the direction of Edward H. Lauer, is now between 650 and 700 students, an increase of more than 200 over that of last year. This includes students from Japan, South America, Alaska, China, Philippines, West Indies, India, and Australia, as well as practically all the states in the United States.

Several new courses have been added to the curriculum since last summer. They include: Corporation Finance, Industrial Management, The Teaching of Arithmetic, The Teaching of Composition and Municipal government.

Full University credit is given for all courses taken in the extension division but in order to apply credit toward a degree one half the work must be taken in residence.

Several new members have been added to the staff. Miss Alice Fiske, of Chicago, has charge of the hospital social service work, Miss Effie Doan, of the club service, and M. H. De Graff has been added to the education department.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Willie Hoppe, continued today his efforts to show that he can pay the three cushion game as well when he defeated Augie Kleckhefer, 50 to 23 in the third block of their scheduled 400 point match.

Go for Illini Goats And Scalps in Busses

The old Iowa spirit is going to Urbana. On Friday noon, October 31 citizens of Iowa City will be amazed to see two huge busses crawling out of town filled with howling Indians. The old Iowa spirit installed in these Beta and Phi Delta busses will be on its way to help our crew clean up on Red Grange and his gang.

Carlyle Anderson, Cm4 of Mason City will manage the Beta bus, while Hod Gordon, Cm4 of Oskaloosa will do the same for the Phi Deltas.

There will be 25 in each bus, leaving Friday noon, spending the night in Peoria and arriving in Urbana Saturday morning.

Walters Elected President of All Dental Students

John A. Walters, D4 of Mason City, was elected president of the associated dental students at the first meeting of the association last night at 7 o'clock in room 10 of the dental building.

The other dental students elected to fill offices are as follows: for vice president, Walter Schultz, D4 of White, So. Dak.; for secretary, J. L. Hoeven, D3 of Pella, and for treasurer, George F. Marshman, D4 of Hubbard.

Future activities were briefly discussed, definite plans for which will be arranged in the future.

Procedure Helping Out of Town Voters to Register

Absent voters are given from October 17 to November 1 to fill out their special applications obtainable from the court house in the county in which they live.

Recommended procedure for assistance of out of town voters is as follows: On receiving the ballot, the voter should fill it out, have it signed by a county officer, and returned to his county auditor. He will then receive a ballot to be filled out in the presence of a county officer and returned to his home county before election.

MILLIONS FROM PONIES

LONDON, Oct. 22. (AP)—The famous St. Leger race, which was run recently at Doncaster in the north of England, is not only a big sporting event, but one which from first to last has added not less than $5,000,000 in profits to the municipality of Doncaster.

Minnesota-Iowa Home-Coming Football Game

Iowan May Return to Home State as End on Minnesota Football Eleven Homecoming

Williams of Crescent Fills in for Mattsey

Hawkeyes Have Extra Long Scrimmage With Frosh

Another extra long preparation featured the preparation for the homecoming struggle last night on Iowa field. As usual no one was allowed on the field and details of the practice were not being broadcast. However, the team was treated to the customary exhibition of football by one N. Kutch of the freshman eleven. The Sioux City back burst through the varsity linesmen on a number of occasions despite determined efforts to stop him. And several other freshman gridgers managed to give the varsity sufficient cause for worry with their interpretation of Minnesota plays.

Seek Pass Defense
Defensive work against a forward pass attack occasioned attention from Coach Ingwersen as did the offensive passing. Minnesota is said to be quite certain to spring an aerial game against the Hawks and Coach Spauling is reported to be using Peter Guzy, an understudy to the versatile Graham, in the varsity lineup seemingly for the express purpose of throwing passes.

Coach Ingwersen put the first and second strings through stiff scrimmages on both the offensive and defensive against the freshman. Several combinations were used, Captain Parkin, Scantlebury, Hogan and Brookings doing the signal calling. Graham, Fisher, Schirmer, Dauber, Hines, and Fry made up the two backfields. Roney, Otte, and Rice at ends; Krasuski, Hancock, Raffensperger and Galloway, tackles; Olsen, Fleckenstein and Daniels, guards; and Griffen entrenched at center formed the forward wall sent in to the demonstration conducted by the yearlings of Coach Williams.

Williams May Play Against Old Team

Robert Williams, a youngster from Crescent, Iowa, is receiving the call part of the time at a wing position in the Minnesota lineup, and may set into the game against his home state university. He is filling in for Mattsey, regular end, who is not expected to be able to play Saturday.

The Minnesota squad leaves tonight for Cedar Rapids and may not come to Iowa City until Saturday morning.

Williams Sicks Frosh on Varsity

Captain Parkin Put On Defensive During Practice

Rollie Williams' freshman scrimmaged long against the varsity last evening, using the Minnesota plays. Passes, line bucks, and split plays were all used to acquaint the varsity with the methods of the wily Northmen.

The varsity played on the defensive, receiving instruction in the art of breaking up the Minnesota plays. Special attention was given to the linemen, in an attempt to keep the frosh team from going past the second defense.

Two other frosh teams scrimmaged at the north end of the field, both using the opponents' plays. One of them will probably scrimmage tomorrow night, in a hard workout.

Quad Men Dutch Cleansers; Give North Bridge Once Over

"Clean up on the north bridge for homecoming" is the slogan recently adopted by squad men. That men of the quadrangle are tired of trodding through dust and dirt on the north bridge, is evidenced by the many signatures attached to the petition on the bulletin board at the quad office. It is probable that the men will clean up the bridge themselves if not done otherwise.

Future Queen of European Links

No less an authority than Cecil Leitch, greatest of British feminine golfers, predicts that Mlle. Simone Thion de la Chaume, 15-year old French girl, above, will some day reign on Europe's links.

Richards, Hunter Invade Mexico to Defend Net Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter, Olympic tennis champions, who probably have established a new record for international competition this year, are now on their way to Mexico to take part in the national tournament there.

Richards won the Mexican singles title last year, defeating Manuel Alonzo, speculator Spaniard, in the finals. He will defend this crown against a field which also will include the Kinsey brothers, of San Francisco, holders of the national doubles title, and probably other California stars. Richards and Hunter will pair in the doubles, as they have through a campaign that has carried them over a good part of the globe this year.

Inter-Fraternity Tank Sports Start Week from Today

Water Relays, Basketball Tourney Included

Entry blanks, in a combined form, will be mailed today to fraternities for the inter-fraternity water relays and the inter-fraternity water basketball tournament. The water relays will be held one week from today, October 30, and the water basketball tournament will begin November 3.

In the water relays, a 160-yard event, teams are to consist of four men, each contestant to swim forty yards. Plaques will be given for first and second places.

The water basketball tournament is similar to the floor game, except that six players are needed, and at least two substitutes. This tournament has been arranged for a double purpose: to meet the necessity of uncovering material of varsity caliber, and to afford a wider field of competition between the fraternities. Suitable trophies will be awarded the winner and the second team in the tourney.

Fraternities competing in these meets will make points toward the intramural participation trophy. Entries close at 6 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. Varsity men are not eligible to compete in either of the events.

Standing Room Only for Tardy Northwesterners

"Make 'em stand up!" Such is the slogan that one Northwestern university professor observes with students who invariably lag nonchalantly into class.

Should some co-boy or co-ed, in time with the slow clock in the tower of University hall, open the door and come in to take his seat ten minutes late, he finds every seat occupied. Therefore he stands for the rest of the period.

The method is this: The number of students in the class is computed; then two less seats than students enrolled are placed in the classroom. Those who come early get seats, and the last two stand.

Thousand Illini Seats On Sale at Men's Gym

KENNETH E. GRIFFIN, manager of ticket sales, announces that the Iowa block of 1,000 seats for the Illinois game at Urbana, November 1, are on sale at the athletic office in the men's gymnasium. He urges those who are going to Illinois to purchase their tickets this week, for seats unsold must be returned to the Illini early next week.

Nurmi Coming To U. S. for Indoor Meets

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. (AP)—Although plans for the indoor track and field season are still in the formative stage, prospects point to an unusually brilliant program with international competition that will bring many Olympic stars into the lime light.

Outstanding interest is the expected invasion of Paavo Nurmi, great finishing runner and hero of four Olympic triumphs and the probability that he will match strides with his rival countryman, Willie Ritola, Jole, Ray, the former American mile champion, and Ray Baker, present national mile holder.

Nurmi has informed friends that he will come here the latter part of December to prepare for an indoor campaign here but as yet he has not formally entered any meets. The Millrose A.A. is seeking the famous Finn's participation in its two day carnival at Madison Square Garden, January 27 and 28.

Ritola who returned several days ago to this country where he held numerous titles and records before going back to his native land for the Olympic is slated to take an active part in the indoor games this season.

Many track followers also are of the opinion that Ray, in spite of his disappointing showing outdoors this year, particularly at the Olympics, where he was not in the best condition, will stage a comeback indoors. The little Illini A.C. star has hung up many of his best performances on the boards and would have an additional incentive in the prospect of again facing Nurmi who has out-classed the American in the past two Olympic meets.

Another international feature also sought for the Millrose meet is a walking contest which would bring together Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, Willie Plant, American star and George H. Goulding, veteran Canadian and Olympic title holder in 1912.

Soucek Drives His Gridmen for Davenport Game

Drills on Kicking and Returning of Punts

Iowa City high is putting forth strenuous efforts to strengthen their forces for the game with Davenport. While their defeat at Des Moines was hardly a slump, Coach Soucek treats it that way and is working his men hard.

Last night a large part of the time was spent in returning punts. Also straight football was played, but instead of carrying the ball on each men running back and forth on the play, it was kicked. This kept the gridiron and gave then a good workout.

The first team used the backfield and ends of the second string and the second string used the first team backs and ends. With this arrangement and the shifting he has done in the past, Coach Soucek has the first and second teams working together as a unit.

After this practice which lasted about thirty minutes, twenty more minutes were used in scrimmaging. Strickler carried the ball once for over seventy yards and a touchdown getting through right tackle.

Ford Will Renew Shoals Bid, Says Senator Heflin

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Senator Heflin, Alabama, a member of the senate agricultural committee, visited Washington today and said that he would make an effort to get Henry Ford to renew his offer for Muscle Shoals. He declared he believed Mr. Ford would renew his bid and that it would pass the senate if it came to a vote.

Senator Heflin said the Ford bid would have been adopted at the last session if the senate had been "allowed" to vote on it.

"Ford's offer is the best solution of Muscle Shoals from the standpoint of the people" he declared, "and I am convinced that Ford will not accept it. I will continue to support his offer."

Eds Can Bring Co-eds For Mixed Foursome

Winners Will Receive Steel-Shafted Golf Clubs

Coach Kennel of the University golf team announces that there will be a mixed foursome tournament started on the west-side links within the next week, in which any University man or woman is eligible. Play will start Sunday and entries can be made at any time before the actual play starts.

In this meet the selective drive method will be used. In this style both man and woman drive from each hole and have the choice of play, towards, of the ball they wish to use.

The coach is offering two steel-shafted clubs to the winners and three golf balls to each of the players placing second. Besides these the Whetstone Drug company is giving a box of candy and a box of cigars to the third place winners.

Tommy Milton Ties Record for One Lap

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 22.—Tommy Milton, of Los Angeles late today tied the world's record for a single lap on an automobile speedway, by spinning around Charlotte's new wooden bowl at 125.7 miles an hour. This record was established by Ernie Ansterberg on August 26 last. Ansterberg was killed in a try-out spin on the Charlotte speedway last Thursday.

Away with the French and Hebrew primers, everybody! Just when we had the front page of our "Elementary Lessons in French" all open ready to figure out the engineer's weekly football sign offering, they fool us with "GET MINNIES GOAL—AH!" Wouldn't that get 'em. All done up in black and gold so that any freshman could understand it. All that is left to do is to corner the aforementioned quadruped and tie a tin can to his tail.

Mexican Fish Stories of Prof. Dill Engages Walton

Iowa City chapter of the Isaac Walton League held its first fall meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The feature of the evening's program was an address by Prof. Homer Dill of the zoology department. Professor Dill told of his recent trip to southern Mexico and his interesting discoveries in the world of birds and fish. His talk was made interesting by a number of slides.

Secretary Harry Rowland read letters from the executive department of the league, in which the plan of the present membership drive was stated. It is the purpose of the league to increase its membership by 50,000 during the month of October. The local chapter, which already has 218 members, as been requested to secure 50 more.

The officers of the Iowa City chapter of the Isaac Walton League are: president Charles Wieneke; vice president, Prof. B. Shimek; secretary, Harry Rowland; treasurer, Glenn Griffith.

Cross Country Team Picked for Saturday

Harriers Show Good Form in Recent Workouts

After the long workouts of the earlier part of the week, the varsity cross country squad spent yesterday afternoon in short jaunts up and down the hills of the course and finished practice by listening to a talk by Coach Bresnahan on the technique of running.

The hills on the course offer a real hazard to the harriers and the team which can most successfully surmount them in the race Saturday will have a good chance to win the meet.

The squad who will compete against Minnesota has been definitely picked. It will be composed of Captain Phelps, Bender, Bright, Johnson, March, Meyers, Sorenson, Terbell and Van Ness. All of the above named men have been showing very good form in the workouts this week.

School Children Will See "Abraham Lincoln" Friday

The University school will be dismissed at 3:30 p. m. on Friday afternoon so pupils may attend the moving picture, "Abraham Lincoln". This picture is in keeping with the type of work done through the schools and will portray in a realistic manner history the pupils have been studying.

Athletic Department Asks Crowd to Co-operate Sat.

The athletic department has issued the following instructions to those who hold tickets for the Homecoming game next Saturday:

All holders of tickets for the west grand stand go to the main gate.

Holders of tickets for the lower east grand stand go to the main gate.

Upper east side ticket holders enter by the stairs at the foot of College street.

South side ticket holders go to the south gates on Burlington street. Section M and section N enter at the southeast gate. Section O and section P enter at the southwest gate.

High school teams and all children (with child's ticket) enter at the main gate.

All passes enter at the main gate.

The gates will be opened at 12:30 p. m. and the game will be called at 2 o'clock.

Thirteen Expected For Red and White Cage Drill Friday

Lorack in Charge Until After Grid Season

Five-season basketball practice starts at Iowa City high school Friday, when thirteen picked men begin practice. Many of the stars are out for football, so this aggregation will represent only a part of the Red and White squad.

The men who have been chosen have a possible chance of making the team. Amish, a forward on last year's team, is ineligible because of the eight-month rule. This rule may be repealed in the future, and in the mean time he will lend his support to the team.

Since Coach Soucek is devoting his entire time to grid work, Ed Lorack has been placed in charge of the work. The men who will start practice are: Means, Grandrath, Prentiss, Stutzman, Conklin, Amish, Stevens, Noss, Lockhart, Jones, MacGugin, Berridge, and Miller.

Customs of Ancient Mexico Theme of Prof. Dill's Talk

Prof. Homer Dill of the University gave a talk before the Iowa City high school assembly Wednesday morning. He spoke on his trip through Mexico and told of unusual customs and traditions there.

The talk was followed by a short pep meeting. Two new cheer leaders, Maurice Tanner and Mary Royce, led the meeting.

WHEELER CRITICISES SAS speeches made today by Senator Wheeler of Montana in furtherance of his independent vice presidential candidacy all dealt with considerable length with criticism of prohibition law enforcement under the republican administration.

Football Tickets Getting Scarcer as Game Nears

Forest C. Ensign, chairman of the Homecoming committee, stated yesterday that the present indications point to a record crowd on Homecoming. He further said that the number of alumni that have written for reservations for the Iowa-Minnesota game was noticeably larger than that of former years.

"It is very probable," said Professor Ensign, "that if the roads remain in good condition and fair weather prevails we shall be oversold on football tickets."

Red Cross and Legion Fill Disability Claims

Red Cross and American Legion held open house for the disabled veterans last night. Approximately 40 ex-soldiers filed their applications for adjusted compensations. Next Wednesday Oct. 29, will be the last open meeting for the filing of disability claims. The local Red Cross has filed over 500 claims and out of that number only five have been returned, four for better fingerprints and one for incomplete information.

Milk Tanks Aid Producers

The truck and the officials who inspected its contents in Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 22—No longer is the milk producer's market a strictly limited one. His field was shown to be as broad as the country by tests conducted in connection with the National Dairy Show, held here.

Glass-lined tanks on motor trucks are responsible for giving new opportunities to dairymen and farmers.

A tank of milk was sent by truck from Pittsburgh to Milwaukee in two days, a distance of nearly 600 miles. The milk was inspected at the start and finish of the trip by health officials. While the milk had been in transit 60 hours, the official test at Milwaukee showed only an unusually low acidity of .127 per cent.

ORIGINAL NOTICE.
In the District Court of Iowa in and for Johnson County, November term, 1924.

AMOS GRUNT, Plaintiff, vs. The unknown claimants of the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of Section Four (4), Township Seven (7) North, Range Eight (8), West of the Fifth (5th) light (8), West of the Fifth (5th) P. M. Harvey Beckwith, Albert T. Slada, William H. Keith, and their unknown spouses and their unknown heirs, devisees, and grantees of all of said above defendants and their unknown spouses, Defendants.

To the Above Defendants: You are hereby notified that there is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of Johnson County, Iowa, a petition of the plaintiff claiming that he is the absolute owner in fee simple of the following described real estate, to-wit:

The Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of Section Four (4) Township Seventy-eight (78) North, Range Eight (8), West of the Fifth (5th) P. M.

that he and his grantors have been in open, notorious, continuous, exclusive, hostile and adverse possession of said premises under claim of right and color of title for more than twenty years last past. That plaintiff is credibly informed and believes that the defendants or some of them make some claim to said property adverse to this plaintiff, but plaintiff alleges that any claim or interest that any of the defendants may ever have had in said premises is junior and inferior to the title of this plaintiff, and that any claim or interest that any of said defendants may ever have had in and to the above described real estate is now barred by the statutes of limitation.

Plaintiff alleges that the names and residences of the unknown defendants are unknown to him and he has made diligent search and inquiry to learn the same. Plaintiff prays that he be decreed to be the owner in fee simple of said real estate and that the defendants and all persons claiming by, through, or under them be barred and forever estopped from having or claiming any right or title to said real estate adverse to this plaintiff and that his title be quieted in him as against the adverse claims of all persons whomsoever, and for such other and further relief as may be equitable in the premises.

Now, unless you appear and defend thereto on or before noon of the second day of the next term of said court, which will commence on the 17th day of November, 1924, default will be entered against you and judgment and decree thereon, according to the prayer of the petition.

MESSER, CLEARMAN & OLSEN, Attorneys for Plaintiff. The above and foregoing notice is hereby approved and ordered published once each week for four consecutive weeks in the Daily-Iowan, a newspaper of general circulation, published in Johnson County, Iowa. C. F. BENDA, Clerk of the District Court of Iowa.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF EXPIRATION OF RIGHT OF REDEMPTION FROM TAX SALE.
TO EVAN REIS—

The person in whose name the following described premises is taxed and to C. J. Loehr, the person in possession of said premises.

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED: That at the tax sale publicly held by the Treasurer of Johnson County, Iowa, at his office on the first day of December, 1921, the following described premises situated in Johnson County, Iowa, to-wit: All of block 4, of Jewell Manufacturing Co. addition to Lone Tree, Iowa, except the west 60 feet thereof and except a tract 70 ft. north and south by 215 feet east and west in the southeast corner thereof was sold by the said Treasurer to W. F. Murphy, for certain delinquent taxes then standing against said premises.

That the said Treasurer at said time issued to said W. F. Murphy a certificate of purchase for said premises for said delinquent taxes and that said W. F. Murphy by written assignment assigned the same to me the undersigned and that I am now the owner and holder of said certificate. That the right of redemption from said tax sale will expire and a deed for said premises be made to me unless redemption is made within 90 days from the completed service of this notice.

A. B. MURPHY, October 8th, 1924.

Elephant Party Not in Role of Santa Claus, Claims Baldwin

Hits Slush Fund as Prosperity Factor

Democratic Speakers Carve Carcass of G. O. P. Organization with Thrusts at Fall and High Tariff Policy of Cal's Clan

"If we still think that men are donating several million dollars in a slush fund to bring prosperity to this country, then we still believe in Santa Claus," declared E. A. Baldwin, last night in a democratic meeting at Tiffen. He intimated that the republican party machine was using its money to carry out its policies in the election.

Mr. Baldwin attacked the republican party by its past four years record stating that "more had happened in the last four years to cause the American people to lose confidence in their government than in the 100 years that had gone before."

Shows Up Fall
Ed. O'Connor, candidate for the county attorney carried on the battle with a charge that the deflation of Secretary Fall was the result of a pre-arranged plan on the part of the Republicans.

"Two weeks after his appointment as Secretary of the Interior," O'Connor said, "Fall told the editor of the Chicago Post that he was going to transfer the Teapot Dome oil leases to Harry Sinclair."

Slam High Tariff
W. J. MacDonald, the next speaker ridiculed the high tariff advocated by the republicans.

"We in the west are huncoling ourselves," he said, "When we vote for officials who favor a high protective tariff."

His concluding statements were to the effect that LaFollette would be able to do little without the help of congressional support, and agreed with O'Connor, a previous speaker, that the "Bobcats" theory of making the supreme court subordinate to the congress was dangerous.

Elephant Answers Bobcats' Request For Wordy Battle

The G. O. P. elephant may be slow to start, but when he gets under way—beware! Which is another way of saying that the Bobcat challenge to debate La Follette-Wheeler issues with the student Republican club has been accepted.

"Several men in the Republican club are anxious to be on the proposed debate team," said Alex M. Miller, L2 of Des Moines, the club president, last night, "and it is assured that the debate will be held as soon as the necessary organization has been completed."

The debate will probably be held during the coming week, under the auspices of the forensic league. Details as to the meeting, which will be open to the public, will be announced later.

Woman Injured in Auto Crash

Gladys Harvey Badly Cut on Face When Ford And Buick Tangle on Engineering Hill

GLADYS Harvey, of Iowa City was badly cut about the face in an automobile accident at the foot of engineering hill at 5 p. m. yesterday. Miss Harvey was rushed to a hospital. Her injuries were not serious.

Harriers from U. High Enter Saturday's Meet

University high school will enter six men in the cross country meet conducted by the University next Saturday. This meet will be a preliminary to the Iowa-Minnesota cross country contest to be held at 11 a. m. Those entering for University high are Marvin Saunders, Ralph Cozine, Joe Alt, William Sabar, Ivon Phend, and Henry Fairchild.

Senior Big Sisters Adopt Freshman Girls in City High

Senior girls of Iowa City high school met Wednesday night to discuss the "big sister" plan for this year. The system was introduced last year and proved unmistakably successful. The girls in favor of helping out the freshmen by promoting good feeling between the senior and freshmen girls. The senior girls will meet with the freshmen Friday after school.

The crash occurred when the Ford sedan in which Miss Harvey was riding collided with an Essex sedan driven by Dr. John P. Mullins. The Ford sedan had reached the intersection at Washington and Madison streets and the Essex was coming down Madison street. Neither car was badly damaged.

The Ford was driven by Miss Adelaide Gill.

Barrett Conducting Trinity Church Conferences Here

R. S. Barratt of Alexandria, Virginia, is conducting a conference at the Trinity Episcopal church, yesterday, at the parish house, Mr. Barratt addressed the women of the church on women's organizations, social service and the organization of parish work.

The subject of the opening meeting last night was a "Discussion of the Mission of the Church." A dinner for the parish men at Youde's Inn, and an informal meeting of the congregation are two of the events scheduled today.

Salvation Army Starts Drive Minus C. of C. Approval

Homecoming Plans Of Business Men Nearly Complete

Serve Noon Luncheon To Ten-Year Grads Free of Charge

Contribute Monument Each Year as Part Of Decorations

Plans for a record-breaking Homecoming crowd Saturday have been practically completed by the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce. Committees have planned several activities for the Chamber's contribution to the festivities of the day.

Noon luncheon will be served at the Club at the Chamber of Commerce rooms free to the ten-year alumni.

Donate Corn Monument
The corn monument, now almost completed, is donated every year by the Club as a part of the city's scheme of decoration. The amount of additional decoration this year has not been determined.

Iowa Day, October 11, witnessed the largest crowd in Iowa City so far this year for a football game. Preparations have been made to undertake a complete check of automobiles during Homecoming in order to ascertain how extensive a territory is represented.

To Solve Traffic Problem
Chamber of Commerce members have declared their intention to leave automobiles at home Saturday. Parking problems become acute at Homecoming and Club members have agreed to cooperate in an attempt to avoid complete congestion of traffic. It is planned to shut off Washington street from the top of Engineer's hill to Iowa Field entrance.

Teamster Injured by Wagon

Richard Sentman Has Left Leg Broken When He Falls Under Wheels of Dump Wagon

RICHARD Sentman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sentman, 729 Page street, had his leg broken yesterday afternoon when he fell beneath the wheels of a dump wagon.

Sentman was working as a teamster on the state work on the west side. Alarmed when his wagon nearly tipped over, he leaned forward and placed his hands on the back of one of the horses to vault from his seat. Frightened by this action, the horse leaped forward and threw Sentman under the wheels of the heavy dump wagon. His left leg was broken just above the ankle.

Finish Evidence In Herring Case

Attorneys Will Plead Before Jury at 9 O'Clock

Evidence in the suit of State of Iowa vs. Herbert Herring, charged with desertion, was completed in district court here yesterday. The lawyers will argue the case before the jury beginning at 9 o'clock today.

Judge R. G. Popham overruled the defendant's motion to direct a verdict for the defendant in court yesterday morning.

County Attorney Ed O'Connor is prosecuting the case and Attys. J. M. Otto and Walter M. Davis are counsels for the defendant.

CONFER THIRD DEGREE
Third degree will be conferred on candidates at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Masonic Temple.

Elks, Legion, and Other Clubs Put O. K. on Plans

An Intensive Drive for Funds Staged Today

Representative and Captain Cook, of the Salvation Army will stage their drive for funds today in spite of the failure of the Chamber of Commerce to sanction the drive. The Elks lodge, American Legion, and several civic clubs approve the campaign. The Elks head the subscription list with a gift of $100.

Ask Small Sum
Captain Cook, in an address before the Chamber of Commerce directors on Monday afternoon, stated the amount of money requested from Iowa City wouldn't pay for the care of Johnson county unfortunate whom the Salvation Army has taken care of in the last year.

C. of C. Explains Attitude
The Chamber of Commerce explains its attitude on the ground that this drive would interfere with its community budget for associated charities. The Chamber of Commerce stated that they had pledged their members not to ask for more donations to charity this year. Salvation Army workers intend to complete their drive today so that it will not interfere with the Red cross roll call on November 11.

The community budget of the Chamber of Commerce includes most of the organizations which derive their substance from donations.

DRAWS HUNGARIANS
BUDAPEST, Oct. 22. (AP)—A crowd of 35,000 gathered in this city recently to witness a soccer football game between Germany and Hungarian players. The German team was beaten 4-1.
