The Search for Riches

A new diamond mining district has been opened by the English government to claim seekers in South Africa, and with this news has started another pilgrimage of wealth seekers to the banks of the Vaal river.

Hundreds were on the spot, clashing their iron staking pegs as they waited for the opening of the claim.

The desire for something that glitters has always had an almost irresistible charm over human kind, and the chance to gain a fortune has brought thousands of persons to a treasure spot, regardless of the difficulties involved.

The irony of it is that only a select few profit in the rush for riches. The California gold rush brought great hardship and suffering upon thousands and reward to few. The Spaniards suffered privation several hundred years ago in seeking in America the gold that was not there; while the English, coming for colonization, found the true wealth and made possible the America of today.

The daring and energy spent by seekers of quick wealth might better be spent in winning them a place in their communities. Only a few can possibly gain in a diamond rush. If the trouble and privation of such a pilgrimage were given wholeheartedly to making a permanent place in a community, such people would be blessed with the satisfaction of knowing that their wealth in life was not unearned increment; that they had chosen a richer field for seeking wealth, and a surer one.

Youth Unencumbered

(Boston Evening Transcript)

MR. GODFREY THOMSON, professor at Armstrong College at Newcastle-on-Tyne, opines that human intelligence reaches its maximum at the age of sixteen. We are glad that he sends this coal from Newcastle, because it may remind those well over sixteen of certain things they have forgotten. There is no need to go all the way with Mr. Thomson, but if you really want to be fair, you must admit that a mind not cluttered up with lumber, may work more quickly and often more surely than one with the dust of living ground into it. The male world, at least part of the Western, has at last conceded that the female has intelligence measurably within distance of the male. It works differently, but it works well. George Meredith saw this long ago when in "The Egoist" he showed how boys and young women had a sympathy of understanding and to this view Americans should be most indulgent.

Thinking, videlicet, intelligence, for thought is not measured with a stopwatch save by devoted professors, thinking works best without fear. As soon as a man fears, his thinking becomes cloudy. The less a man fears, the more boldly he projects his thinking and the more useful he is. Watch a lad skipping down a flight of stairs; he goes down swiftly and lightly, not because his legs are any better than lots of his elders, but because he has not yet learned that it is his bounden duty to fall on his nose and spoil the contours of that innocent, care-free proboscis. Later he will be loaded with all this fell sophistication; he will become cautious; he will shudder over the noses that he might have smashed; he will forever have left the noble army of swift stair descenders; society will in so much have lost his services and his example.

This is where youth is intelligent and quick—it hops over the lion in the path, it sees no deadwood, it cuts difficulties in two and shoots between the halves. Youth dares more beautifully than longer years, which can dare, too, but with consciously clenched teeth. Youth is our ally and our cheerful friend, acting in despite of careful grandmothers. Youth makes a large and spangled collection of mistakes, does the most outrageous things and feels no oppression therefrom. Above all, youth is not cynical, but has the unimpeded intelligence to believe that this is a pretty good world. Let us reverse youth when it thus encourages its timorous elders and let us be thankful for its gambols.

For Science

HAROLD G. O. Holek, 38-year old medical student at the University of Chicago, has started on a fasting diet that will last for two years. Holek has given himself up to specialists, who hope to find through the experiment how much food is needed for keen thinking. He will eat only when hungry, taking nourishment in small quantities. His food will be carefully measured and weighed.

Experts will give Holek mental examinations during his hunger fast, including tests in mathematics, puzzles, and tests for typewriting accuracy. Results will be tabulated at the end of the two years, when the specialists hope to be able to work out an ideal human ration.

For a student who has a good share of his life before him, the sacrifice is a great one. He is running the risk of ruining his health to aid scientists in making a discovery that may prove invaluable to the world. It is encouraging to know that there are people ready to sacrifice their selves to a cause which may benefit others.

Dr. Willette Dentinger has discovered that Daves composition "Melody in A Major" has marvelous soothing powers. Now all the general will have to do is hire an orchestra to play it between sessions of the senate.

LOCAL ITEM—Ben Harker sawed wood last week, Seth Thompson doing the work. That's the way we like to saw wood.

DAWN

The heavy lids of the dawn
Rise over eyes of gray.
I gaze into the depths of them.
And once again I feel
How utterly a stranger
To my feeble understanding
Is this new day.

Lorenzo

We have always kept the column free from political fulminations. But when the Gods deliver into our hands such as Magnus Johnson and Charles Grandstand Dawes we must use them.

It either of them served any other purpose we would let them alone, but both are intended to be used by newspapers. Charles Grandstand did prove of use to pipe manufacturers but he could not have earned those royalties without newspaper assistance.

We tried his pipe and voted for Davis.

The pipe we have now cost less, tastes sweeter, draws better and gives more heat than Grandstand's underslung.

Not only do we have a better pipe, but we are more generously equipped mentally. We will last longer than Dawes. We do things and say things as a pen name. We are wise. Discreet—cowardly, perhaps—but wise.

You understand we are not objecting to Dawes as a Republican nor as the Vice-President nor as the President of the senate. We are not partisan. As a Republican he is probably no worse than other Republicans. We put the "probably" in to protect us from his fellow Republicans.

We have a new ambition. We are going to be a Camp Fire Girl.

We have just read in a Sunday paper: If you can make four biscuits, fry an egg on a hot stone, and skate twenty-five miles in five days—then you are well on your way to becoming a top-notch in the ranks of the Camp Fire Girls of America.

We can make several kinds of biscuits. To name only a few—bad, worse, hard, harder, hardest, uneatable, uneatable, uneatablest. So we qualify on the biscuits.

We once revived an old flame with a stone—a diamond. We found out later that she was an awful egg. So we get by on that surely.

They can't test us out on the skating until next winter, fortunately. We can't skate. But then we could hardly expect to become a top-notch thing.

There are a number of rules attached, which we think we shall disregard. One of them is "Don't chew gum."

Now we ask our omniscient readers what else can you do to gum except chew it? And who's going to chew Al's gum if we don't?

We will immolate ourselves. We will chew Al's gum so Al can be a Camp Fire Girl.

The Name of the Maker

Surpassing excellence is often represented by some outstanding name. Rolls-Royce—Chippendale—Stradivarius—are eminent examples in their respective fields.

The name "Stratford Clothes" in clothes for men is inseparably associated with the rarest weaves, the highest note of style, and the acme of craftsmanship.

A Stratford label in your suit or topcoat signifies that you have a garment that the best dressed men are proud to wear.

Iowa City Drops Final to Wilton Quintet in Muscatine Last Night by 12-11 Score

Coach Henry C. Soucek's Iowa City High basketball team dropped their first game of the season last night in the final match of the Muscatine tournament when they fell before the husky Wilton high crew by a 12 to 11 score.

The Red and White, for the first time this year, had really hard luck on their basket shooting but in respect to the visitors it must be said that they performed in first class style. Not a foul was chalked up against the locals during the contest.

All-tournament selections, made after the final match, included Captain

Boyles and Strickler on the first string. Captain Boyles was further honored by being awarded one of the three medals which were offered by the Des Moines Register to the three men displaying the best sportsmanship throughout the entire tourney.

Summary: Lineup: Iowa City: rf., Strickler; lf., Kozal; c., Vestermark; rg., Boyles; lg., Prentiss. Wilton: rf., Duncan; lf., Schnack; c., Schiel; rg., Wierhouser; lg., Henderson. Scoring: Baskets: Strickler 2, Kozal, Boyles 1, Duncan 2, Schnack 2, Schiel, 2. Free Throws: Vestermark 2, Boyles 1.

Breyer Cracks Conference Marks for 40 and 100 Yds.

Bettering the times of three Big Ten Conference records, Coach Tom Robinson's Northwestern swimming team copped the meet with the Hawk eye tank men 46 to 22 in the local tank yesterday. Captain Breyer and Howell, Olympic tank aces were the outstanding performers of the meet, Breyer negotiating the 40-yard free style in 19 flat and the 100-yard free style in 53.8, both times faster than the conference records, and Howell copping the 220-yard free style in the fast time of 2:23.2. Both men swam on the winning 160-yard relay team which bettered the old mark, winning the race in 1:18.7.

Northwestern scored six first places to Iowa's two, Captain Ashton. Coach Armbruster's backstroke artist had his own way in his pet event, doing the distance in 1:55.2, while Lake, giant plunger easily took the plunge in the time of 1:18.2.

W.) first, McClintock (Iowa) second, Manovitz (N. W.) third. Time, 53.8. (New conference record).

Water Basketball—Won by Iowa, (Sorenson, Captain, Bastion, Krumviede, Marble, Wylie, Lake). Score, 7 to 5.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 7 (AP) Dartmouth was eliminated as a contender for championship of the intercollegiate basketball league when Cornell defeated them 22 to 11.

Dubuque Club of M. V. Baseball League Gets "Buck" McGuire, Former Prep Star

Eldwin "Buck" McGuire, former Iowa City high school star athlete and freshman football and baseball performer in 1922, has signed a contract with the Dubuque club of the Mississippi Valley baseball league for a year's tryout with that team.

He is to report at Dubuque about the twentieth of April and will enter a fifteen day training period before their season opens about the first of May.

Sustained Broken Leg
McGuire entered the University with an enviable record in prep athletics in 1922. During the fall of that year he performed in brilliant style with the yearling grid aggregation but sustained a broken leg in scrimmage and was unable to play for the rest of the season.

He did, however, make a regular berth on the first year nine but since that time has never gone out for varsity athletic teams. His acceptance of his new position will, of course, make him ineligible for further amateur athletic competition.

Howard's Grapplers Take Two Falls and Three Decisions in Fourth Win

MADISON, Wis., Mar. 7—Taking two matches by falls and three by decisions, the Iowa wrestling team won a hard fought meet from Wisconsin here this afternoon, 16 to 7.

Iowa started off strong, taking the first three matches by decisions. Preffer and Scheyll had their opponents on the defensive the majority of the time but the overtime match between Michael and O'Laughlin was a thriller throughout the 18 minutes. A last minute spurt gave Michael the bout.

Whitehouse was thrown by Splees with but a half minute time remaining. It was Splees' third fall this season. Mergy lost the decision to Captain Zodtner but it was brilliant defensive work on his part that kept him from being thrown. Grattan pinned Chada in a fast 5 minute match.

Summaries—
Preffer (Iowa) 11:48 decision over Hanson.
Scheyll (Iowa) 10:40 decision over Haas.

Season Ends With Listless Triumph

Laude was always in evidence and his position in the pass combination was undoubtedly invaluable to the Old Gold team.

Moon Baker, the lone luminary expected to shine in the Purple heavens, was much dimmed in his brilliance, showing only a few faint flashes of defensive work and failing to register a single goal from the field. Mathews, the left guard for the visitors, seemed to carry on the brunt of the attack, making two goals from the field and appearing in almost every defensive play.

The contest continued the unbroken string of victories held by Iowans over a Maury Kent coached machine placing Iowa in sixth position in Big Ten standing, with five victories and seven defeats and a percentage of 41.7.

The Iowa yearlings outspurred the Wolverine freshman, scored a slam in the mile run, and took two places in the shot put, to win ten of the twelve events in their telegraphic meet with Michigan. Their victory was as decisive as the one over Illinois. The score of the dual meet with Illinois was 77 to 24 while the Anne Harbor frosh were able to get but 30 points to Iowa's 74.

Captain "Bab" Cuhel was again high point man by garnering the same number of points as he did against Illinois, winning the quarter mile and 60-yard low hurdles, taking seconds in the 60-yard dash and the 60-yard high hurdles, and running as anchor man in the winning half mile relay team.

Nelson, whose heave of 42 feet, seven inches was beaten by the Illinois shot putter, won from the Michigan man. Bergstrom bid for second honors when he traversed the armory track fast enough to take the 800 and the mile run.

The freshmen this year have won three dual meets without losing a conference contest.
