BOAT GOES DOWN IN MISSISSIPPI

Baseball, Track Teams Center Interest Today

Northwestern to Furnish Diamond Opposition; Coach Gill's Illinois Cinder Crew, on Track and Field

ATHLETICS, from tennis to baseball, command attention today at Iowa. Outside of the golf meet with Simpson, the tennis mix with Wisconsin at Madison and the Novice cross country run, the Illinois-Iowa dual track meet and the Northwestern-Iowa clash on the diamond are occupying the sports spotlight today.

Although Northwestern has fallen before the Hawks once before this year, today's game is expected to be of pivotal importance. The first outdoor track dual of the season is scheduled to be a first rank affair with the powerful Illinois team as the opposition. A record breaking crowd is expected to witness both contests.

Two track and field teams with enviable records of victories in outdoor meets will be thrown into competition when Illinois and Iowa clash on Iowa Field this afternoon at 1:30 p. m. It marks the first appearance of the Illinois on the Iowa cinders in an outdoor dual affair.

Have Lost But One Since Coach Bresnahan came to Iowa in 1921, his teams have lost only one dual outdoor meet and that to Minnesota in 1923 by a one point margin. Nine meets have been won, most of them by decisive scores. Coach Harry Gill's Illinois are famous for their unbroken record of wins in conference dual affairs and being again represented by a team with national stars, expect to maintain the string of victories stretching over several years.

There will be more noted athletes in competition on Iowa Field than have appeared there since the conference championships of 1922. From Illinois will come Bud Evans, holder of the world's record of 21 3-10 for 220-yards and 200-meters around one curve, joint holder of the conference 50-yard record and 220-yard mark around a curve and Big Ten 220-yard champion of 1924. Evans has already equalled the conference straightaway mark of 21 2-10 making that time in a dual meet last week. Several times he has stepped 100-yards in 29 3-10. Another conference title holder will appear when Makeover takes the mark for the mile run.

Brownell, Real Vaulteur In the pole vault, Dean Brownell, one of the prettiest vaulters in the country who holds the conference record of 13 feet 2 inches and the world's indoor record off a dirt floor will compete with Hunsley and Barnes, who are almost his equals.

Navy Committee Plan to Visit Islands June 4

Information Gained Will Be Presented to Congress

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 8—Fortification of the Hawaiian islands to make them the strongest military outposts in the world was recommended today by chairman Butler of the House Naval committee.

Mr. Butler said he favored making Pearl Harbor "impregnable" and would urge enactment of legislation at the next session of congress to accomplish this purpose. As chairman of the naval committee Mr. Butler has arranged with Secretary Wilbur for its members to leave Annapolis June 4 on transport Henderson for a visit to the islands to obtain first hand information as to the needs there for defense.

Lowden Prize Given Today

Twelve Men To Take Examination; Winner Gets $50

The examinations for the Lowden prize in mathematics will be given this morning at 9 o'clock in room 222, physics hall. Twelve men have submitted their names as competitors to Prof. H. L. Rietz, head of the mathematics department, who is in charge of the competition.

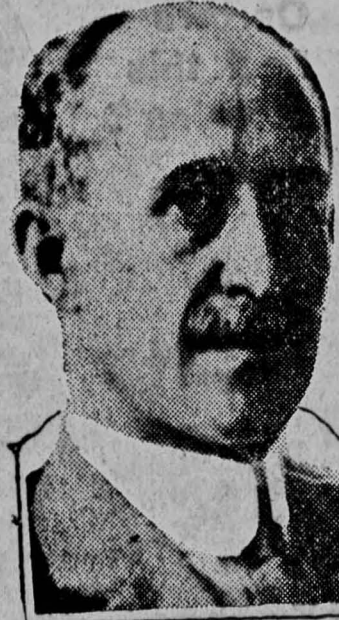

The committee who will proctor the examinations are Prof. J. F. Riley, Prof. W. H. Wilson and Prof. Roscoe Woods.

Eight topics have been chosen, and listed on the bulletin board in physics hall. The committee will choose one of these fundamental topics for the twelve men to write a 200-word discussion on this morning. As the candidates do not know which topic will be picked, they must be prepared to write on all.

The papers are read by two or three different people. If two essays are of equal merit the prize will probably be divided between two contestants, as two years ago.

The Lowden Prize is a prize of fifty dollars, given annually by Frank O. Lowden, alumnus of the University and former governor of Illinois. Other prizes to the University departments of botany, geology, Latin and Greek, all twenty-five dollar awards.

Denies Plane Made Over for Flight

Orville Wright, inventor of the first successful airplane, is in the midst of a controversy with Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, according to the New York Sun. The secretary denies that the Langley plane was made over for flight after its crash in the Potomac river in 1903.

Iowan to Boost Summer Session

Special Edition Will Tell Iowa Work May 13

In an effort to boost the summer school enrollment for this year, The Daily Iowan will publish a special summer school edition May 13. Copies will be mailed to all students who have been registered during the summer sessions of the past and to all persons who have written requesting information, as well as to the regular city and University circulation.

The plan was suggested to the Iowan by The Columbia Missouriian which issued a special edition similar to the edition contemplated by the Iowan.

The various educational as well as recreational features to be found in Iowa City will be featured by news stories and illustrated by cuts. The summer enrollment of last year totaled 3,182.

"Iowa City as well as the University will benefit by any increase in the summer registration," said D. W. Crum, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, "but to successfully publish it will require the support of the Iowa City merchants."

Aesculapius, as Banquo, Stalks at Medics' Frolic Last Evening

Skeletons gleaming with the lurid light of phosphorescent flesh and blood were scorned wall-flowers at vastly last night, for no medic gallants of the Aesculapian Frolic could muster the courage to lead them on the floor.

An uninvited guest, who left his post to frolic with the medics, grew impatient at the neglect shown him and performed a death-dance from one corner of the hall. His feet never touched the floor, but he danced on to the dismal strains of a funeral dirge rendered by Clarence Holm, Carl Lohman, William Doornick and Harry Schmidt.

What do you say when the hearse goes by? Won't be long before you and I will go rolling by in a big black hearse. Never, never to come back. And your jaw will set in that gruesome grin. Worms will crawl over your mouth and chin.

Bartow Describes New Building to Visiting Chemists

Norris Shows Growth of Industries by Research

"The Progress of Chemistry" from the early eighteenth century when Liebeck of Germany worked in a very simple laboratory with only soil for a floor, to the present day when over a million dollars is spent on a chemical laboratory, was related last night by Dr. Ira Remsen, President Emeritus of Johns Hopkins University in his lecture before the regional meeting of the American Chemical Society yesterday and today.

Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the department of chemistry here, presided last night at the meeting in the natural science auditorium.

President Walter A. Jessup gave an address of welcome to the society in the name of the University, and also spoke for the board of education, whose president, D. D. Murphy, was unable to be present.

Professor Bartow described the new chemistry building at the University and introduced Dr. Remsen, the main speaker of the evening, who talked of the advancement of laboratory chemistry since he began his work, inserting in his history numerous humorous remarks which delighted his audience.

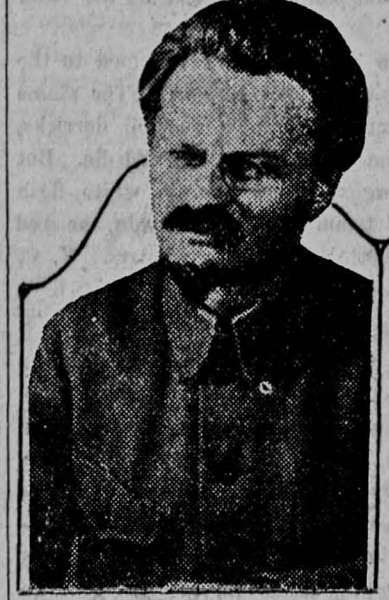

The first laboratory in which Dr. Remsen worked in America after his study in Germany was at Williams College, where he was professor of both chemistry and physics. There had been no laboratory at the college when he arrived, because it was not a technical college, as its president vehemently

Iowawa Attracts Many Merrymakers

Alpha Tau Beta Wins First; Phi Omega Pi Second

"A big night," was the unanimous verdict of the throngs who attended Iowawa, annual Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. carnival at the armory last evening.

Alpha Tau Beta sorority garnered in first prize for the best booth with a flower shop lavishly done in lavender, with a central corsage within which in a large rose sat Eleanor Gough, little daughter of the Rev. E. T. Gough. The prize consisted of $100 in credit at McNamara's furniture store.

Sigma Chi Wins Second place was awarded by Col. M. C. Mumma, the judge, to Phi Omega Pi by a margin of only three points less than Alpha Tau Beta for its sideshow booth with glaring advertisements and striking exhibits. The second prize consisted of $50 in trade at John Nash's wholesale grocery.

Sigma Chi, with a Krazy Kat and Dog stunt, won first place among competing fraternities.

The carnival was under the direction of the originators of this year's plan, Allan W. Dakin and Verne Holland.

Large Attendance "The attendance level of last year was fully maintained," said Dakin last night, "and the celebration as a whole was very successful."

The carnival dance was estimated to have attracted between 150 and 200 couples steadily from 9 o'clock until midnight. Many of the refreshment booths completely sold out. This was particularly true of the "Apache Inn," under the management of the Y. W. C. A.

Alpha Chi Omega, with a "brown sugar" musical comedy act, took in the greatest number of "wamps" or "Iowawa currency" but lost out on other points.

Standards of judging the booths was three-fold: originality, execution, including effort involved, setting, and effectiveness and popularity as determined by the receipts.

Engineer Brings News of 'Norman's' Sudden Capsizing Near Memphis; Doctors Rushed to the Scene

(By Associated Press) MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8—According to meager reports reaching Memphis late today, twenty-five members of the crew of the governmental vessel Norman lost their lives late today when the ship sank in the Mississippi river at a point about 25 miles south of Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8—George Foster, a Memphis engineer, gave the first word to the outside world of the sinking of the steamer Norman with possible loss of more than 25 lives in the Mississippi river south of here today. Appearing at the home of K. R. Armistead on the river near Lake Cormorant, Mississippi, he told of the disaster.

Will Produce Four Out-of-Door Plays

Open Air Theatre is Being Built to Seat 2,400

Four plays will be produced this year in the new Out-of-Door theatre which is being erected in the ravine near Kellogg school. According to Prof. E. C. Mable, the new location will provide better facilities for the plays this summer than University plays have ever had before. Access can easily be had to the Out-of-Door theatre either by driving to the Kellogg school from the north side, or by turning off the Coralville road on the first drive past Dr. Brennan's home. Parking facilities have been provided on top of the hill by the school.

Unobstructed View At present, workmen are building plank benches on the sides of the ravine to seat 2,400 people. The sod stage, 40 x 70 feet, is situated so that everybody will have an unobstructed view.

Midsummer Night's Dream to be presented May 14 will be the first play given at the new theatre. Tags for tickets are at the Iowa Supply on the day of the play. Season ticket holders may obtain tags by presenting their ticket-books at Iowa Supply.

This is the University Out-of-Door theatre's fifth season. The plays will be directed by Chester M. Wallas and Oliver W. Larkin.

Hawkeye Manager Asks Students to Preserve Receipts "There have been several notices of lost receipts by Hawkeye subscribers," said L. G. Swaney, cm3 of Spirit Lake, Hawkeye manager, yesterday, "and in order to avoid a lot of red tape it is advisable that students look up their receipts."

Over 2,000 Hawkeyes will be available May 20. Most of these have been subscribed for, but there will probably be a few extra and students are subscribing for them now.

The books will be delivered from the corner room of the north end of the basement floor in the liberal arts building.

Editor New York Times Gives Michigan Commencement Talk

John Huston Finley, editor of The New York Times, will deliver the commencement address at the University of Michigan June 15. In addition to being an editor he has been president of Knox college, the college of the City of New York, and college of the state of New York. Last year, another journalist, Glenn Frank, editor of the Century magazine gave the commencement address.

Foster told members of the Armistead family that he swam to the bank of the river with a nine year old boy, one or two women, and another man or two, after the boat turned over in midstream without warning. He said only six or seven out of the supposed 40 or 50 persons on board swam out.

Negroes Tell Story To get to the Armistead home, four miles from the scene, Foster the Badger crew at two o'clock to which he used a skiff. He was so excited he could not give details.

Negro laborers on the Armistead plantation who were eye-witnesses to the accident said the boat apparently was running smoothly when it stopped suddenly and careened and completely turned over, disappearing quickly. When the water reached the boilers it sounded like automobiles running, the negroes said.

None were able to say whether the boilers exploded at this juncture or not, but they were positive there was no explosion before the boat turned over.

Doctors Rush to Rescue Foster got the news to Memphis by telephone. The Choctaw, another excursion vessel docked at Memphis, was ready to leave. Dr. Lewis Le Roy put off on one of his speed boats carrying local newspaper reporters, and ambulances carrying other newspaper men and doctors went by land.

The Choctaw, which had preceded the Norman on the excursion trip, turned about immediately and carrying fourteen doctors, left for the scene.

Unobstructed View At present, workmen are building plank benches on the sides of the ravine to seat 2,400 people. The sod stage, 40 x 70 feet, is situated so that everybody will have an unobstructed view.

Midsummer Night's Dream to be presented May 14 will be the first play given at the new theatre. Tags for tickets are at the Iowa Supply on the day of the play. Season ticket holders may obtain tags by presenting their ticket-books at Iowa Supply.

Ten Years Ago

ON MAY 7, ten years ago, a tornado fired from the German U-boat by Lieutenant Captain Schwieger, struck the steamship Lusitania. Eighteen minutes later the vessel had gone to the bottom, carrying with her 785 men, women, and children. This incident was but part of the day's work of one submarine, yet before all its results were counted, 2,000,000 American soldiers were in France, 50,000 had fallen in battle and the German Empire had collapsed.

For weeks after the terrible disaster, people talked of the powerful hand of destiny, of the whims of fate which make it possible for us to know whether or not death lurks around the next corner, of a trust in God that would make death the most beautiful adventure that life could give us.

But ten years have passed. The world is at peace, the land is full of wealth, pleasure, amusement, greed, and there is little time to think of those who were sacrificed as a result of war. The lesson which so great a catastrophe taught us has been forgotten in the business of getting, spending, and doing. It is a wonderful fact that time can heal sorrow, but a regrettable one that it lets us forget the lesson that disaster teaches us. M. H.

Legalized Boxing

A BILL legalizing boxing bids fair to pass the state legislature of Illinois. It recently passed the lower house, and the senate is said to look favorably on the bill. If the bill becomes a law, it will permit ten-round decision matches, but will bar Sunday bouts. A further provision requires every boxer, before entering the ring, shall pass a physical examination. A commission of three, appointed by the governor, will constitute the controlling body and act as the agent of the state.

Boxing is recognized as a great sport. It constituted a great part of the athletic activity engaged in at the training camps during the war. It was a good morale builder. Colleges and universities are having boxing instructors and training amateur boxing teams, cognizant of the fact that many examples of physical excellence are built up from youthful weakness by boxing and other sports.

The state of Illinois has had prize fighting, but it has been illegal. One representative stated that he often went to prizefights shamefully because he knew they were against the law. "But," he said, "when I see the state's attorney and the sheriff in front seats at the ring-side I don't feel so guilty."

If we are going to have boxing, let's have it legalized, controlled by and responsible to the state. There have been abuses in every form of sport. Baseball had its scandal a few years ago in Chicago, but nobody is advocating the abolition of the great American game. Boxing has had its black sheep, but as long as our champions are of the Dempsey and Gibbons type, we shall have nothing to fear. M. C.

A Red Heritage

THE Indian who, with the bison herd, gave way before the white man and train lines, left more than a heritage of painted feathers. His was a legacy of stoicism, of sportsmanship, of grim acceptance of defeat. Who ever heard of a yellow Redskin, a slacker with Indian blood in his veins? The Indians needed no athletic association to formulate rules of good sportsmanship for their contests.

Today, because he has always hated and disdained the redskin, the white man is proud of the race he has kept pure, the breed that has stayed clean. But it takes all the repeated editorial comments, all the influence of public opinion, all the rules of the A. A. U. to help regulate the emotions of the American on the losing side of a contest.

Letter to the Editor

I should like to call attention to the many serious mis-statements in an article in last Sunday's Iowan. The article ran as follows:

"Earl L. Russell, 31 of Marshall town, who was injured in the collision at Cedar Rapids last Tuesday evening in which several members of the cast of Pinafore received minor injuries returned to Iowa City yesterday."

An election is held; it is contested, because the white has never learned from the red that to lose requires more grace than to win. A wrestling bout matches strength against science, and if the 250 pound bruiser loses to the lithe 145 pound scientist, the husky becomes sullen and shakes his fists at the crowd. A business man nurses a grudge against his successful competitor, and carries that dislike and hatred to the sod. An award is made, and the almost-winners, after tendering their congratulations to the victor, mutter privately, "How did he ever get it? His stuff is pure bunk." An accident injures ten, and neither driver is willing to accept the bulk of blame, but points a condemnatory finger at the other man.

Nothing can bring back the red men to the prairies in which they once roamed. The plains are covered now with silos and oil derricks, and the red man would grow sad and die. But careful nursing may sprout into white flesh the stoic sportsmanship which made the red men, losers, better even than winners. V. C.

The League and Bulgaria

WHEN the Council of Ambassadors of the League of Nations gave Bulgaria permission to increase her army by 7,000 troops, they embarked the League pact upon a voyage which is likely to offer a real test of its strength before the Balkan difficulties are settled. If the increased Bulgarian army proves inadequate for the situation, the powers who have signed the covenant will be faced with the dilemma of either backing down and ignoring the conflict altogether or of sending troops to the assistance of King Boris.

The present Balkan problem is undoubtedly a grave one. If the press dispatches coming from the Bulgarian capital are an indication, many of the riots and bombing disturbances seem to have emanated from Russian sources. Certainly the acquisition of Bulgaria would prove extremely valuable to the Soviet government. It would mark one additional step in the direction of a warm water port on the Mediterranean and would offer the Russians a foothold in the Balkans.

The greater powers of the League may find difficulty in attaining concerted action. France is faced with financial problems and is wary of the German situation since the presidential election. England is reluctant to act and is now interested in rebuilding her foreign trade. But if the League of Nations is to demonstrate its usefulness as a peace-maker, the greater signatory powers of the pact should show definitely their position. If too much delay manifests itself, it is possible that the Bolsheviks may succeed in beginning another war which may reach the magnitude of the conflict in 1914. However, should the Russian government be thoroughly convinced that action will be taken if the present situation continues, it is likely to be less careless in the frequency with which plots are fomented. The hope of ultimate recognition will go far to prevent the Soviets from needlessly offending the greater European powers and probably do much toward restoring Balkan peace. R. H. J.

The Prince Reads a Poem

(New York World)

WHAT with the evil days upon which poetry has fallen it is an occasion for rejoicing that the Prince of Wales at last has lent it the royal imprimatur. When the Repulse crossed the Equator with the Prince on board there were the usual formalities, noivies being ducked in a pool, and the Prince presented with a green mermaid for a bride. He did not accept the bride, but he did compose a poem expressing his appreciation for the gift.

Poetry, unquestionably, has had a lift. For what the Prince does everybody does. When he came here in bell-bottom trousers, all the youth of America forthwith adopted bell-bottom trousers. When he appeared in a blue shirt, blue shirts became the thing. Now that he has taken to poetry, poetry, we may be sure, will become the thing. All the young bloods will begin composing poetry, and this, of course, is a fine thing for the country. . . .

But hold! Not only will they compose poetry but they will also repair forthwith to the Equator and spend their time crossing and recrossing it, reading their poetry the while. This also will be a fine thing for the country. Let the State Department issue them passports forthwith.

The crime wave is both long and of high frequency.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

One thing you can say for the modern girls—very few are backward in observing "Paint Up Week."—St. Joseph Gazette.

Letter to the Editor

any other of the occupants of the car." As a matter of fact Mr. Fujita's case is far worse and will cause him to spend weeks in the hospital. There are, moreover, in St. Luke's hospital in Cedar Rapids, two teachers from Belle Plaine who had been in the audience that night. One has a broken leg, the other a broken arm, and both have other injuries in addition. One of them will not be able to leave the hospital for eight weeks.

It is surprising that anyone who knew so little about the accident should have attempted to write about it, and it is unfortunate that the Iowan should not feel a responsibility for publishing a correction of such errors when they have been allowed to occur.

W.A.A. Base Ball Tourney Opens

Candidates Must Have Nine Practices for Entrance

Preliminaries for the women's base ball tournament will be played starting Monday May 18. Preliminary games have been scheduled until May 27, when the winning teams will compete for final honors. It is necessary that candidates for first team places report for practice at least nine times before they will be eligible for placing in the first string. Any preliminary tournament games will be counted toward the required nine practices according to those in charge of the tournament arrangements.

Following the playing of the finals in the tournament, a W. A. A. banquet will compliment the players. The affair will be held at Youde's Inn the evening of May 27. Awards for honors in the tournament will be presented at the dinner.

Hold Golf Tourney to Choose Co-ed Champion Monday

"And then she took up golf." That's the reason for the golf tournament for University women which will be held next Monday on the University links. Because of the much greater interest in golf which is being manifested by University women this spring, the women's athletic association is sponsoring this new venture in women's sports at the University of Iowa.

The tournament will be individual and will decide the women's champion varsity golf player. Entrants will play the full nine holes at any time on next Monday, May 11, and report their final score at the office at the links. The player turning in the lowest score will be presented with a prize, according to Cornelia Van Oosterhout, A2 of Orange City, who is head of golf for W. A. A.

Those who plan to enter are asked to sign up either on the bulletin board at the links or at the women's gymnasium before this evening. Miss Van Oosterhout urges all women who are interested in the sport to compete in the tournament.

W. A. A. points are to be given for first, second, and third places in the final scoring and also for merely trying out. The opening distribution has been arranged as follows:

- All entrants . . . 10 points
- Winner 100 points
- Runner up 75 points
- Third place 50 points

Hawkeye Tennis Team Wins But Two Matches as Michigan Netters Win, 5 to 2

"Hefty" Phillips, Only One of Hawks to Win Singles

Swartz and Lutz Take Doubles Event in Extra Session Match; Wolverines Play Steady, Careful Game

MICHIGAN, represented by a steady stream of racket wielders, handed Iowa, in their first tennis conference match, a 5 to 2 trimming on the Hawkeye courts yesterday.

"They were the more steady players," said "Dad" Schroeder, commenting on the match last night before the team left for Madison.

Iowa won but one singles and one doubles match. "Hefty" Phillips scored the only Iowa victory in the singles event when he conquered Vose of the northerners, 6-4, 8-6. Phillips won by his superior service.

Jerome, Crain and Kirchbaum of the Wolverines took the three Hawkeye men in straight sets. All three of the winners played steady, heady games and never faltered. Captain Dorsey forced Jerome into extra games in the final set.

Swartz and Lutz took their doubles event from Vose and Kirchbaum in extra sets. Michigan won the second set 8-10. Dorsey and Phillips fell before Captain Crane and Jerome 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

In an exhibition match, Elliott of Michigan defeated Chaffee, number five of the Old Gold aggregation, 6-2, 6-3.

The Iowa team, accompanied by E. G. "Dad" Schroeder their coach, left last night for Madison, where they are slated to do battle with the Badger crew at two o'clock to day.

215 Athletes Enter Iowa College Meet

DES MOINES, May 8—Two hundred and fifteen athletes from twelve colleges of the Iowa College conference will compete tomorrow on the Des Moines track in the annual track and field meet of the organization with the largest number of athletes ever entered in the competition. In action, a fast, close struggle for honors is predicted.

Coch Cowell of Des Moines, manager of the meet, expects keen competition in all events. The relays will create special attention, while the high jump, with Bates, Simpson star, the favorite to win, will be the stellar attraction. At the recent Drake games, the Simpson ace cleared a jump of 6 feet 2 inches.

Iowa Wesleyan, Central, Simpson, Morningside, Iowa State Teachers, Penn, Buena Vista, Des Moines University, St. Ambrose, Upper Iowa, Ellsworth and Parsons are conference members which have entered teams.

Local Track Team Finishes Fourth in Quadrangular Meet

In one of the closest prep meets of the season, University High of Iowa City yesterday fell before the first class performances of its opponents, in the quadrangular track and field meet held on Coe field at Cedar Rapids yesterday and were only able to take fourth place with a total of 19 3/5 points.

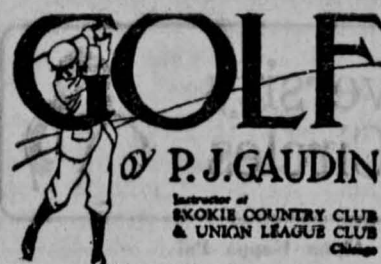

Singularly enough, the first three teams in the affair were separated on the final check-up by less than two points. Anamosa was first with 42 3/5, Marion was second with 41 1/10 and Grant High of Cedar Rapids third with 40 9/10 markers.

Burkley of U. High had hard luck in the low hurdle event when he fell down after obtaining a good sized lead at the start of the race. Cozine finished first in the mile and second in the half mile event.

Fraternity Sports

Phi Deltas 5; Sig Eps 0
Phi Delta Theta's golf team won its first contest in the interfraternity golf tourney yesterday by a 5 to 0 score. Sigma Phi Epsilon was the goad and fell before the drives of the north side crew of Davidson, Parkin, Lisle, and Englebeck. For the losers, Barton, Frazier, Moeller, and Chryst performed.

Delta Chi Wins
The first fraternity golf match was played Thursday afternoon, when the Delta Chis defeated the Phi Kappa Psis by two points in an eighteen hole match. Dickerson, Allen, Whitehouse and Williams played for Delta Chi, while Larrabee, Christianson, Swale and Tompkins championed for the Phi Psis.

GOLF

36-Duplicating the Swing
The best golfer is the one who can the most consistently duplicate the right swing. By no possibility can the ball reach the desired spot unless the stroke is good. Every poor player occasionally has made a shot which he or she stores in memory as a wonder. That result must have been obtained by a good stroke. Of course it was accidental if there is little knowledge by the player of the mechanics of the swing and no ability to duplicate the accidentally good swing. You can't hit a golf ball a thousand times without hitting it correctly a time or two.

Trouble in Timing
Here is another point, occasioned by the thought of a player whose swing looks perfect. To see him take a practice swing one involuntarily places him among the scratch players. As a matter of fact, he is a 20-handicap man and probably never will have his handicap lowered. By reason of a few lessons and a natural power of imitation he has acquired what looks like a perfect swing. His trouble is with his timing. Every element of a good swing is present, but they do not come to a focus as the club meets the ball. It is like a machine gun playing against the side of an armored ship. The total force of a 16-inch shell may be expended by a machine gun, but it takes the shell to make a dent in the armor.

There may be more on the subject of timing. It is enough here to say the player never will be a golfer of class unless he can time the swing so that the club face hits the ball when it is faced properly and travelling at the right speed. It only makes matters worse to apply muscular exertion in order to get the right distance. Beyond the necessary point, muscle is not able to add a particle to the efficacy of a golf swing. Almost anyone is strong enough. The whole secret, provided the elements of a good swing the present, is in the timing. Very few golfers are able to work out the secret of timing for themselves. The only thing for the adult golfer to do is to take his troubles to the professional. The child may learn timing instinctively, but the adult never.

Novak's Successor Picked This Week

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, May 8—(Special) The selection of the successor of Coach Leo Novak, who resigned his position as athletic coach at Washington High, Cedar Rapids will be made the early part of next week. Coach Novak has had unusual success during his stay in Cedar Rapids and he is leaving to take a coaching position somewhere in the east.

Over fifty men have applied for the job Novak is leaving and for the past month the Board of Education has been paring this number down until it is expected that it will be a race between two or three men before the decision is made.

John Hancock all-American football tackle of the past season and well known track man is one of the men being considered.

It is rumored also that Bill Kelly, old Iowa quarterback who has been coaching athletics at Burlington for the last few years is one of the men who has applied.

Kutch Leads Field in Phys. Efficiency Contest With 270

With twenty-four of the events in the University physical efficiency test now completed, Nick Kutch, fullback on last fall's freshman grid eleven leads the field with a total of 270.5 points.

The five remaining events on the program must be completed by May 18. Individuals may take their tests at any time not interfering with class work. Mr. Schroeder, Mr. Brice and Mr. Tompkin will be the judges of all contests.

The events still to be completed are:
40 yard dash—par 6 seconds.
12 pound shot put—par 30 feet
40 yard swim, free style—par 35 seconds.
Plain front dive—Grade on maximum of 10 points for form.
Golf putting—par 7 for 3 holes.

Novice Harriers to Race Today for Phelps Trophy

Members of Last Fall's Crack Frosh Squad Expected to Stage Great Battle

NOVICE cross country runners, about forty-two in all, will race over a two mile course on Saturday afternoon in the annual run sponsored by the Iowa Cross Country Club. The event, which will be called at 3:05 shortly before the last event on the Illinois-Iowa track program is being held for the first time.

Ten fraternities have entered teams and among the individuals are some of the leading novice distance men in the University. Hunn, Bergstrom, Speers and Butterfield were all members of the crack freshman cross country team last fall and are expected to put on a great fight for the Phelps trophy offered to the winner. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the next three men, the awarding taking place between innings of the Northwestern-Iowa ball game later in the afternoon.

The run will start and finish in front of the west stands but most of the race will be along the river road south of town. Members of the cross country club will act as officials.

Smiley Wins Right to Represent Iowa in Simpson Dual Golf Meet This Afternoon

Old Gold Freshmen Soon to Start Outdoor Track Card

First Contest for Hawk Yearlings is Slated for May 13-14; Season Closes With Wisconsin

AFTER a very successful indoor season, the Iowa freshmen will go into action again May 13-14 when a dual telegraphic meet with the Michigan freshmen is scheduled. This will be the first appearance of the freshmen outdoors this season in a regular meet, although various relays have been participated in, in the University track meets.

The following Wednesday and Thursday, the 27th and 28th of May, a triangular telegraphic affair will be staged with Illinois and Minnesota as the opposition. Both of these schools have a reputation for good yearling squads so it should result in some very good marks. Murrel of Minnesota, a former Cedar Rapids athlete, is fast developing into a real hurdler.

Close Season May 28

The following Wednesday and Thursday, the 27th and 28th of May, a dual telegraphic meet will be held with Wisconsin whose runners are reputed to be very good, especially in the distance runs.

The season closes with this meet and the twenty-four freshmen making the highest number of points in telegraphic meets during the season will be awarded numeral sweaters. Four medals for each event will be awarded Iowa freshmen, based upon the season's performances.

Fresh, Well Balanced

The freshman squad is perhaps the best balanced yearling aggregation ever turned out at Iowa. Captain Cuhel is a versatile man performing in either the low or high hurdles the dashes or the quarter mile.

Taxman, Ellison and Joy are first class dash men. Kennedy, Pratt, Grusnik, White and Harris are working on the quarter. Bergstrom has the ability to run any distance in near record time. Hunn, Speers, Butterfield, Clawson, and Edstrand are reliable distance runners.

The hurdles are well represented with Greenman, Moore, and Elgin and Cuhel. Mann is doing well to lead the high jumpers.

Bale, Smith and Mann are taking care of the broad jump. Oreansky is improving in the pole vault event and Nelson and Lapp are exceptional weight men.

Hawkeye Net Stars Leave for Madison Engagement Today

Four Iowa tennis players, in charge of Coach E. G. Schroeder, left at midnight last night for Madison to meet the University of Wisconsin on the courts this afternoon. The players are Captain Dorsey, Lutz, Swartz and Phillips.

The Badger team has not engaged in any conference matches this spring so their strength is a problematical matter. Last year at Iowa City they could not cope with the power of the Hawkeyes and lost, 5 to 1. This year six matches will again be played—four singles and two doubles.

The Iowa players will have the advantage of three matches already played, two with Coe and one with Michigan. The team will return to Iowa City on Sunday.

Last year, will furnish the attraction in the high barriers. Sweeney and Wallace, broad jumpers, although neither has won a championship largely due to the presence of the great Hubbard, have placed in big meets throughout the country.

But all the stars are not from Illinois. Coach Bresnahan will present Captain Chan Coulter, conference 440-yard champion last spring and member of the Olympic team who is entered in the dashes, hurdles and quarter mile. Coulter, suffering from a leg injury during the relay meet season, has completely recovered and is ready to show his old-time speed.

Phelps, A Sure Starter

Then Harold Phelps, holder of the indoor conference two mile record, winner of the two mile at the Penn Relays in 1927 and member of the Olympic team last summer, is a sure starter in the two mile and possibly will race the mile also.

Handy, winner of second in the conference hammer throw and Hancock, who placed in the discus at the Big Ten meet last spring are attractions in the field events along with Ray Dauber, place winner in several conference indoor and outdoor championships, and shot put champion at the Ohio relays. Van Ness, miler, is another runner who placed in the conference meet.

Illini Arrive Today

Iowa's less noted athletes must come through with points if the meet is to be close. The Illini are strong on second and third place men, in fact an indoor meet was won with only three firsts in eleven events and it is up to Everingham, L. Phelps, Kohl, Sorenson, Klindt, Thomas, Jones, Roberts, Canby, Marshall and Daine to take up the burden of point winning after the stars have annexed firsts.

The Illini's team, in charge of Coach Harry Gill, will arrive in Iowa City this morning. Twenty-eight of the thirty-six men entered will make the trip. Lack of condition will keep Captain Eddie Mier, mile and two mile runner, at home.

Probable Line-Up

Northwestern — John, H; Solheim, 2b; Janitz, cf; Christman (c), ss; White, rf; Smith, 3b; Ellis, c; Seidel, 1b; Mills or Schulte, p.

Iowa—F. Barrett, 2b; McNabb, H; Beardsley, rf; Scanlbury (c), ss; Flinn, cf; Smith, 3b; Hoban, 1b; Miller of Fisher, c; Adams, Sheakley, or Sharp, p.

Officials — Drolenga and Costello.

Iowa, sole occupant of second place in the conference baseball race and ambitious to hold it, and Northwestern, seventh place team coached by Maury Kent, former Hawkeye captain and coach, will bring forth their best ball on Iowa Field Saturday afternoon. The game which will be called at 3:30 is the first of two tilts in three days for the Hawkeyes.

Both Short Pitchers

The Purple and the Hawkeyes will be in somewhat the same predicament for Coach Kent will probably have "keyed" his team and used his best pitcher, Schulte, against Michigan on Friday while Coach Vogel will doubtless keep Marshall under cover for the Indiana tilt of Monday when the Hawkeyes will attempt to halt the winning streak of the Hoosiers.

Although the cold weather of this week has not been agreeable to the arms of the Iowa men, they are in good shape for the sixth conference game of the year. Four consecutive wins over Big Ten teams has given them confidence and the realization that they are in the thick of the title race has made them a fighting, hustling nine.

Kappa Beta Psi Wins

Kappa Beta Psi's barnyard artists represented by Hunn and McGilvary, vanquished the A. T. O. team, composed of Walker and Rice yesterday. It was a closely contested horseshoe game until the Kappa Beta Psi's nosed out a three to five win. The barnyard strife took place on the winner's home lot.

From Huts to Labs, Chemistry Gains Related by Remsen

asserted. Later, however, he secured one which cost the college about a thousand dollars.

Laboratory Work Essential

Because walls of negro tenements collapsed when workmen attempted to remove ceilings and remodel the dwellings into chemistry laboratories Dr. Remsen was able to secure a real laboratory at Johns Hopkins in 1882. This building of a "soap-box style of architecture," was later replaced by other buildings constructed under Dr. Remsen's supervision.

Now that Johns Hopkins at last has a modern laboratory, Dr. Remsen has never had an opportunity to use it. He found certain events in his own career very laughable and told in detail how he had arrived at the conviction that laboratory work is essential by attempting an experiment to find whether the book was correct in saying "that nitric acid works upon copper." He also advised writing a book as an excellent means of clearing one's mind, "though it often does irreparable injury to others."

Banquet and Smoker

The meeting began yesterday afternoon with a general meeting in the chemistry building, Dr. James F. Norris, president of the American Chemical Association, used oil and electric industries as examples of the fact that all successful industries depend a hundred percent on research.

A banquet at Youde's Inn last night was attended by about 250 persons. A smoker at the Triangle club rooms after the lecture last night was open to both men and women guests.

The program for this morning includes group meetings as follows: general inorganic and physical chemistry, organic chemistry, educational chemistry, biochemistry and industrial, metallurgical and sanitary chemistry.

Kennett Selects Team for Today's Dual Golf Match

Close Tryout Match for Fourth Place Ends When Seashore Fails to Sink Putt; Smiley Plays

PETERSON, Beman, Vernon, and Smiley will represent the University in their golf match with Simpson this afternoon. It was not decided until yesterday afternoon who the fourth man should be on the team for today.

Seashore, Shimamura, and Smiley had all been playing so close together that Coach Kennett could not decide which one of them to use. Yesterday the three men played a match in which Smiley emerged victorious. He and Seashore both shot a 78 for the eighteen, the former winning on the last green when Seashore failed to sink a putt.

The match will consist of thirty-six holes, 18 of which will be played beginning at 9 o'clock this morning and the other 18 starting at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. Coach Kennett asks that the students come out and support their team and assures them an interesting match.

Simpson will be represented by Captain Watson, Stimson, Hughes, and Chapman. This team has played just one match preceding this from which they emerged the victors. This match was played with Des Moines University at Simpson last week.

Stimson is supposed to be the star performer on the Simpson team and is scheduled to exhibit some very pretty golf today.

Iowa has had but one match so far this season which they lost to Drake University. This match was played on a very cold windy day and with the weather permitting the Iowa team intends to take revenge today.

Mrs. Augusta Clark, 70, Dragged by Train

Deafness, Tight Bonnet Muffle Roar of Wheels

Patient in Hospital; Conscious at Eleven o'Clock; Fourth Accident at R. R. Crossing Within Year

By A. Joseph Kelly

MRS. Augusta Clark was conscious last night at eleven o'clock.

Mrs. Augusta Clark, 609 Page street, age seventy years, was severely injured at 4:45 yesterday afternoon when she was struck by a Rock Island train at a Dodge street crossing. She sustained broken ribs on her left side and several cuts on her face.

The engineer of the train states that "The woman stepped in front of the train apparently not noticing that it was approaching." Mrs. Clark is slightly deaf and wore a bonnet that fitted close to her head. According to witnesses of the accident, she failed to see or hear the approaching train, walked in front of it and was caught and dragged several feet.

Mrs. Clark had been calling at the home of Cal C. Clark 15 N. Dodge street and was on the way to her home.

Yesterday's accident was the fourth at a railroad crossing here this year. Three previous accidents have occurred at the Iowa avenue crossing about thirty yards west of the scene of the accident yesterday. In each case it was not proven to be the fault of the train crew and the injured persons were blamed.

After the accident, Mrs. Clark was taken to the home of her nephew for care, and later, when it became apparent that her condition was serious she was taken to a local hospital for medical treatment.

The train was travelling at moderate speed when it struck Mrs. Clark.

Mother's Day Sunday; Cards, Flowers, Wires Suggested

Sunday is Mother's Day and churches and all civic organizations are united in urging observance of the one day in the year set aside to show affection and appreciation of mothers.

For the mother at home some gift of remembrance is appreciated. Most men fall back on "say it with flowers" as a worthy gift. Greeting cards, telegrams, and chocolates are other ways in which to express sentiments.

Council Acts in Hydrophobia Peril

Dogs Must Be Tied on Premises or Muzzled; Police Authorities to Kill Canines Found at Large After May 9

A serious epidemic of the dread disease of rabies threatens to develop here again as it did in February. At least one victim has been bitten by a dog so afflicted in the last several days. The infected dog was apprehended and inspection proved that it had developed the disease. Before being captured, however, the dog had bitten several other animals in the vicinity and it is not certain that all of these dogs have been taken into custody.

Must Tie Dogs

Due to this latest outbreak, the Board of Health of the city met in special session last night at the city hall to take steps for the protection of citizens from the hydrophobia peril. The result of the action is an order to the effect that on and after Sunday, May 10, 1925 at nine o'clock all dogs must be tied on the premises of the owner, or properly muzzled.

A part of the present resolution was passed last February but was withdrawn some time ago when it was thought that the danger had subsided.

Epidemic Reported in State

The resolution adopted last night is as follows: WHEREAS, a serious epidemic of rabies or hydrophobia is raging throughout various parts of the state; and

WHEREAS, reports of the spread of such disease within Iowa City have reached the city health authorities from reliable sources; and WHEREAS, for the protection of the public against such disease and all dogs suffering therefrom, it is deemed advisable and necessary that some immediate and definite action be taken to prevent the spread of such disease; now therefore

Dogs on Owner's Premises

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL of the City of Iowa City, Iowa, sitting and in session as the Local Board of Health of such city; That all dogs whether licensed or unlicensed, within the city limits of Iowa City, Iowa or hereafter coming within such limits must be kept securely muzzled or tied upon the premises of the owner thereof and no dogs shall be permitted to run at large within such city limits from and after Sunday morning, May 10 1925 at 9 o'clock, until further action of the local board of health, unless such dog is muzzled as to be unable to bite or injure any person or animal.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the city clerk be and is hereby directed to publish notice of this resolution as soon as practical; and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the police department of the city shall be chargeable with the enforcement of this order, and pick up and kill or otherwise dispose of any dog after said date of 9 o'clock a. m. May 10, 1925 found running at large contrary to the provisions hereof; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all owners of dogs in Iowa City be hereby urged to vaccinate their dogs at once in order that the welfare of our citizens may be safeguarded from the aforesaid dread disease.

By order of the local board of health, of Iowa City, Iowa.
GEO. H. DOHRER,
Secretary.

Griswold Refuses State Health Job

Sends Letters of Rejection to Jessup and Hammill

Will Dr. Don M. Griswold accept the nomination to the office of state health examiner? This question has aroused considerable skepticism in local and state politics. From Associated Press reports sent out from Des Moines yesterday the facts were stated that Dr. Griswold in letters to President Walter A. Jessup and Governor Hammill had not yet accepted the nomination tendered him by the governor.

Dr. Griswold is reluctant to leave his duties at the University, but the governor prevailed upon him to tentatively accept the health commissioner's appointment because of his outstanding qualifications as a bacteriologist. Dr. Griswold was appointed to succeed Dr. Rodney P. Fagen.

Do College Students Insure Their Lives? The Answer Seems to be "Yes"

Do You Know

That in a test recently made with upper-class students of both sexes in fourteen representative colleges, 140 out of 351 said they carried life insurance policies?

It is significant that 40% of undergraduates have insurance on their lives—a notable advance over what prevailed twenty, or even ten, years ago.

This shows that college students and their parents think life insurance is of considerable use in connection with the educational program. Parents believe in it because they have something invested for the benefit of their children. Students realize that their lives have an economic value. Taking life insurance is an expression of faith in the value of a college education.

The John Hancock is particularly interested in insuring college men and women and in obtaining college graduates for the personnel of the field staff.

'Open Heart' Drive on Tuesday Boosts Organized Charity

Welfare Bureau Aims to Coordinate Activities

"Keep your heart open and the Community Chest full." is the challenge which will greet Iowa Cityans next week when individuals and organizations will be asked by directors of the Community Chest camaign to boost the cause of organized charity in Iowa City.

Need $3000 More

The intensive campaign which is to begin Tuesday and will be completed Saturday has for a goal the sum of $7000, $4000 of which has already been subscribed by people who pledged without personal solicitation.

The welfare bureau, under whose direction, local charities have been centralized aims according to Colonel Morton C. Mumma campaign director "the coordination of welfare activities of Iowa City, passing on applications of outside organizations who wish to conduct campaigns for funds here, passing on applications for entrance into the bureau; and the protection of citizens from solicitation of funds by unworthy organizations.

Cares for Poor

The only organization in part charitable which has not come under the scope of the welfare bureau is the Red Cross. However, its appeal differs quite distinctly from that of poor relief which the welfare bureau seeks.

The welfare bureau comprises three directors from the Chamber of Commerce, three members chosen by the welfare council, three chosen at large from the subscribers to the budget, and ex-officio the mayor of Iowa City, and the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.
