Summer Registration Begins This Morning

Director, Registrar Look for 3,500 Attendance

An attendance of 3,500 is expected for the Summer Session, with the registration beginning this morning at 8 o'clock in University Hall. Registration continues from this morning till Saturday. Late registration will be accepted through the first week of the first term by arrangements with the registrar's office, Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar, announced yesterday.

"The University expects 3,500 students here for both terms of the Summer Session," said Prof. Charles H. Weller, director of the Summer Session. "The Summer Session began twenty-five years ago with 100 students. Last summer the total enrollment was 3,182. If the prediction of 3,500 for this summer comes true, the attendance will just about equal the 3,523 which represented the entire annual roster of the University, including the Summer Session, in 1916-17, only eight years ago."

Maruth Expects Increase

Assistant Registrar Charles H. Maruth said that between 3,000 and 3,500 Summer Session students were expected to enroll during the period of registration and the early part of next week.

Assistant Professor Charles E. Young, of the department of romance languages, who is assistant director of the Summer Session, will be in charge of the opening of the first term during the illness of the director, Professor Weller.

Registration Procedure

New students, entering the University for the first time, must secure admission cards from the University Examiner in room 1 in University Hall, where all students will begin registration. Students who have been registered in the University before get their materials for enrollment in room 1 at the counter and go directly to room 309 of University Hall.

After new students have secured admission cards they procure their registration materials in room 1 and likewise go to room 309. All University departments are represented in room 309, where information may be had concerning courses, and the registration materials filled out.

Fees will be assessed in the corridor beyond room 309. Payment of fees will be made in the University Secretary's office, room 3. From the Secretary's office, registrants pass to the checkers in room 7, where materials are collected and students complete their registration.

Tuition and Fees

Students of the Summer Session are registered in one of the colleges. Tuition in the graduate college and in the colleges of liberal arts, education, commerce, and applied science are $25 for the first term and $20 for the second term. A fee of $1.50 for either term, is charged for those who wish to use the gymnasium including use of the swimming pools, and a small fee for use of the golf course. Materials fees are charged for certain courses in manual arts and special fees for private lessons in music.

All candidates for degrees who have not previously been registered in the University pay the matriculation fee of $10. Payment of this fee may be postponed by those who expect to register again during one of the semester or for a later Summer Session at which a degree is sought.

Honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the World War are allowed a tuition rebate of $10 for either term.

A limited number of A. Whitney Carr scholarships covering the cost of tuition in the college of liberal arts will be available.

Credit in Same Ratio

Credit for Summer Session courses is given in the same proportion as for work done during the academic year, a five-hour course yielding two-hours of credit for the first term. Fourteen to sixteen-hours is considered a full schedule, while eighteen and twenty-hours of work may be carried by exceptional students, by special permission. Credit for the second term is in the same ratio. Graduate students ordinarily carry lighter work than the

Registration Machinery All in University Hall

The procedure for Summer Session registration which begins this morning at 8 o'clock is as follows:

1. All students begin registration in Room 1, University Hall.

a. Students entering this University for the first time secure admission cards from the University Examiner, Room 1.

b. Students who have before been registered in this University get registration materials at the counter and go to Room 309, University Hall.

c. After new students have secured their admission cards, they secure registration materials at the counter and likewise go to Room 309.

2. In Room 309 chairs are provided and also the departments are represented so that students may secure information concerning their registration and such advice concerning courses as they may wish and also fill their registration materials.

3. The next step in the registration is the assessing of fees which will take place in the corridor outside Room 309.

4. After fees are assessed, pay fees in the Secretary's office, Room 3, University Hall.

5. From the Secretary's office students pass to the checking station in Room 7, where all registration materials are collected and students finish their registration.

Blaine Refuses to Let Guard Join in Defense Maneuvers

(By The Associated Press)

MADISON, Wis., June 10—Governor John J. Blaine of Wisconsin based his refusal to have the Wisconsin national guard participate in Defense Test Day on the same ground as last year and said, "there have been no events actual or probable that justify any other course than that taken by the state last year."

The governor through Adjutant General Immell last Saturday called attention to his opinion expressed last year that, "at a time when all people of the civilized nations of the world are demanding a reduction of armaments, both on land and sea, it is inadvisable for the American government through propaganda and demonstration to stimulate a national military movement."

Propose Federal Farm Commission

Cooperative Control for Farmers, End Sought For

(By The Associated Press)

NEVADA, Iowa, June 10.—A Federal Farm commission composed of the farmers themselves is needed by the farmers of the nation, Representative L. J. Dickinson of Algona, told the members of the Story County Farm Bureau in an address today.

"We have commissions," he said, "to care for other interests of our country. It is now proposed that a Federal Farm commission be created. That nominations for the commission are to come from the recognized farm and cooperatives organizations. That its members shall be of their kind, experienced in their problems. This brings this commission in close contact with every organization.

"This commission is given authority to assist and encourage cooperatives. It can transmit information and suggestions from the successful ones to the unsuccessful ones. It should render an invaluable assistance in solving the commodity cooperation problem of the present day producers.

"It is proposed that such a commission would be the leading momentum towards farmers cooperatively controlling their own products and would be in a position to protect producer and consumer alike."

Committee Given Power to Proceed With Second Unit

Building Heads Meet Next Week; May Order Work

"The building committee of the Union which will meet some time next week has been given the power to proceed with the construction of the second unit of the Union, if it sees fit," R. H. Fitzgerald, director of the Memorial Union, announced yesterday. "The committee when it meets will consider plans for the sun-porch as well as discussing the matter of going ahead with the second unit."

The board of trustees of the Iowa Memorial Union at its meeting Monday morning in the Old Capitol empowered the building committee to proceed with the second unit, which will house the Triangle club quarters, as soon as it can safely begin. Judge F F. Faville of the Iowa Supreme Court, L'91, formerly an instuctor in the law college, was at that time re-elected president of the board. The bulding committee, re-elected and commended for its work, is composed of former Senator Charles M. Dutcher, L'94; President Walter A. Jessup; and John M. Grimm, L'90; of Cedar Rapids.

To Cost $175,000

The second unit of the Union has been estimated to cost $175,000 and will face North Madison street to the east and flanks West Market street. The second unit will be entirely of a Bedford stone face, three stores in height, and will join the first unit. The second section of the Union will overshadow the roof of the first unit.

Professor Byron J. Lambert, of the college of engineering, is chairman of the building committee of the Triangle club, which will raise $50,000 by bonds for quarters in the second unit.

Moving Houses Away

Nine of the twelve houses on West Jefferson and North Madison streets, which were sold at auction May 5, have now been moved away. Three remain, two of which are subject of litigation. Terms of the condemnation action by which the University expropriated the land, state that all of the dwellings sold must be moved away by one month from the end of their leases. Two leases terminate June 15, which means that the land will be cleared by July 15.

When all buildings are cleared away on this block, the Union alone will stand out in relief for the first time.

First Unit Progresses

Construction has gone rapidly ahead with the first unit. The exterior walls are complete and stone masons are finishing the limestone balustrade which will form the roof-garden. Two of the four great stone fireplaces for the main lounge are in place and set up.

The seven long, steel trusses which will support the copper roof are laid out on the main floor ready to be hoisted into position. Cement work on the basement is about half finished. One of the partitions which will mark the division of the basement into locker roms, canoe storage space, and water sports arena is in place.

The main room of the first unit is 130 by 90 feet. The first unit will cost $250,000. Its over all dimensions are 136 by 172 feet.

Caillaux Insists on Settlement of Interallied Debt

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 10—The necessity of settling the problem of interallied debts was a point on which M. Caillaux, minister of finance, insisted when he appeared before the finance committee of chamber of deputies today. Specific engagements with the interested powers ought to be entered into, he declared and among the eventual measures he was considering when once the French financial situation had been brought back to a healthy condition, was the issue of a foreign loan particularly in the United States.

Finance minister Caillaux told the finance committee that he intends to obtain from taxation alone all the necessary funds to cover all budget expenses.

From President Jessup To You

Summer as a time of educational opportunity is becoming accepted by more and more students every year. This is particularly true here at the University of Iowa where last year's summer session enrollment of 3,128 exceeded that of the previous year by two per cent.

Those of you who are here this year represent a still greater body that has found summer to be the time for thorough, satisfying work. Whether you are gaining your first or your fifth degree, determine to extract from this Summer Session its curricular and extra-curricular opportunities. Attend its lectures, its plays, its musical entertainments, its tours and its other recreative facilities.

We welcome you to this great educational plant and urge you to use its services to the utmost to the end that you may gain your objectives effectively.

Propose Zone Law For Capitol City

Ordinance May Limit Heighth of City Skyscrapers

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., June 10.—Under a tentative zoning ordinance now under consideration by the city council, heighth of so-called skyscrapers in the downtown Des Moines business district will be limited to twelve stories or 150 feet in the future.

This departure prohibiting buildings of a loftier type than twelve stories is not new, Earl O. Mills, associated with Harlan Bartholomew, city plan engineer, who with the city zoning commission has worked out the proposed zoning ordinance, stated.

Woolworth-like structures in Des Moines would be banned, Mr. Mills explained because the plan of city streets in the downtown area does not permit the adequate handling of so much concentrated traffic.

"A reason equally important as the congestion proposition is that restricted heighths will result in the uniform regulation of light and air privileges, which, otherwise may be usurped," he went on.

Hunter Publishes Poem in Industrial Magazine Columns

Being an instructor of manual arts in the University high school hasn't kept W. L. Hunter from writing for the Industrial Education Magazine, published monthly by the Manual Arts Press, at Peoria, Illinois. In its April issue Mr. Hunter has written a poem on "The General Shop" which tells in rhyme that a general work shop's utility can also lie in its being an ad towards vocational guidance.

For the June issue of the periodical, Mr. Hunter has contributed a "Matching Test for Machine Work," which purports to warn a teacher not to forget the practical side of manual arts instruction by too much adherence to a text book.

A reprint of the poem follows:

THE GENERAL SHOP

The general shop is a mighty good plan
To make of the boy a suitable man,
A place where he does more things than one,
The jobs that in life will have to be done.

A shop where he can just sort of explore
To see what trade he's best suited for,
To grasp somewhat of a bird's eye view,
The tricks that old folks wish they knew.

The essential things in more than one line,—
Not a tradesman—no, there's not enough time,
But sufficient to guide the future man
In the making of his own life plan.

Geneva Conference Acts to Stop Gas, Bacteria Warfare

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, June 10 — Without a dissenting vote the international conference on control of trade in arms and munitions tonight adopted the text of a special protocol, for which the American delegation is sponsor, prohibiting use of poison gas and bacteria in time of war. This obviates the necessity of President Coolidge calling a special conference at Washington.

Painleve at Rabat After Plane Race

Moors Attack French on Sixty-Mile Battle Line

(By The Associated Press)

RABAT, Morocco, June 10.—After an all day air flight Premier Painleve of France reached Rabat at 5:40 this afternoon.

General Jacquenot, chief of the Premier's military staff, arrived a few minutes later followed soon by two aeroplanes carrying press representatives. Marshall Lyautey, resident general of French Morocco, accompanied by his military and civil staff and the Grand Vizier Mohammed El Mokrai, representing the Sultan received M. Painleve at the landing ground. He had a long conversation with Marshal Lyautey.

Diner for Premier

After dinner, given in M. Painleve's honor tonight, the Resident General and Premier conferred over the general situation in the French protectorate with particular reference to Riffian invasion.

FEZ, Morocco, June 10.—Abd-El-Krim, the rebel chieftain, apparently desires to provide M. Painleve, the French Premier, with an adequate reception on his arrival in the fighting zone in Morocco. The official communication issued by the French this evening says Ebd-El-Krim is attacking the French along a sixty mile front. It adds that the enemy pressure now extends to the extreme eastern part of our front. While the communication announces that the attacks of the tribesmen have been repulsed, it admits several small posts had to be abandoned.

Riffs Cross Outposts

Riffians succeeded in crossing between French outposts into French territory. Many of them disguised as harvesters, they carried sickles and scythes. French aeroplanes were sent scouting and discovered more than 200 supposed peaceful farmers trading their farm implements for rifles and assembling in the valley in readiness to attack a small French outpost.

The gathering was dispersed by French planes.

He Leads Fight on Big Three of Films

R. E. Woodhull, Dover, Conn., newly elected president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners' Association, has declared war on the "Big Three' producers (Paramount, Metro-Goldwin, First National), which, he evers, are operating a trust, with control of sixty per cent of the theatres of the country. They threaten to bankrupt independent exhibitors, he charges.

Polar Relief Ship in Arctic Regions

Amundsen's Rescuers Employ Two Planes in Icy Search

(By The Associated Press)

ABOARD THE STEAMSHIP INGERTRE—June 10—The Relief ship Ingertre crossed the artic circle today enroute to Spitzbergen with the Norwegian government's expedition in search of the Polar flyers. The aviators who will pilot the two seaplanes in the flights to search for the explorers and their mechanics are busy each day on the Ingertre testing engines and appliances which include skies, sleds and a collapsible boat. The plan is to follow Amundsen's introduction to search around northwestern Spitzbergen after a period of six weeks after Amundsen's departure May 21. By the time the Ingertre rescue expedition is ready to begin operatons, three weeks of the six fixed by Amundsen will have elapsed.

The explorer expressed the opinion in his letter of instructions that it would be useless to continue searching in this region after six weeks from thedate of his departure.

The Ingertre left Horten Christianiasjord, Norway on Saturday for Spitzbergen to be attached to Amundsen's steamers, the Farm and Hobby, in keeping the vigil along the arctic ice edge for the missing explorers who left Kings Bay for the North Pole. The Ingertre carried two aeroplanes for use in scouting for the party.

The ship is due in Kings Bay early next week.

Premier Races to Morocco by Plane

May Dispatch 150 War Planes to Front in Africa

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 10—The departure by aeroplane to Morocco, yesterday afternoon of Paul Painleve, premier and minister of war, brought home to a majority of the French people the realization that war is in progress in North Africa.

The colorless communications issued by the war office reducing the operations of the French against the Moors to skirmishes had lulled Paris into a humorous temper, but the people changed their mind when they found M. Painleve, known as France's most "civilian minister of war," is proceeding to the scene of operations.

The activity tonight around the four leading aeroplane centers near Paris is regarded as meaning the request of Marshall Lyautey, the French resident General in Morocco, for an additional 150 planes will be granted.

Speaker Stresses Nation's Debt to Civil War Veterans

(By The Associated Press)

MASON CITY, Ia., June 10.—"A gathering of Civil war veterans has an influence that is far reaching in its patriotic appeal and serves to emphasize how inadequately this country's debt to the nation's defenders has been paid," Miss Bell Smith, president of the Daughters of Veterans, declared in an address tonight before the annual state encampment of the G. A. R.

"We are proud of you," she said, "throughout the length and breadth of our land thousands of men and women are banded together to teach all mankind the principles for which you fought.

"The Daughters of Veterans is one of the organizations that serves as a monument to your glory. Our organization pledges itself to aid and assist the union veterans and their widows and orphans."

State Farm Bureau Investigates Taxes

Seek to Allay Burden of Taxation on Iowa Farms

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., June 10—First steps were taken at a meeting at the state farm bureau federation offices here recently toward a thorough investigation of the farm taxation question in Iowa, with a view toward obtaining a more equitable adjustment of the tax burden as it pertains to farm lands.

According to figures made public by the farm bureau, the average Iowa farmer or farm owner must work fully one fourth of the entire year in order to earn enough to pay his present taxes. The bureau says its figures also show that "while only forty per cent of the residents in the state are farmers, fully 66 per cent of the state taxes are collected against farm property."

"There is nothing radical in our plan," farm bureau officials said, "we simply want to see an equitable adjustment of this tax burden so that the farmer will not be paying more than his honest share."

Fort Madison Man New Grand Master of Iowa's Masons

(By The Associated Press)

DAVENPORT, Ia., June 10 — Thomas A. Wellington of Fort Madison was elected Grand Master at the Iowa Masonic Grand Lodge session this afternoon.

Henry H. Dean of Glenwood, was named Senior Warden; Denver C. Shafer of Des Moines, Junior Warden; J. P. Cook of Des Moines, Grand Treasurer; and Charles C. Hunt of Cedar Rapids, Grand Secretary. Appointive officers will be selected by Mr. Wellington tomorrow. Approval of the purchase of the Bestendorf estate here for use as a sanitarium supported by the Masonic body was made at today's session.

Students Attempt to Create Feeling

Spread Anti-Foreign Posters at Peking; Strike Continues

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10—American residents with friends or relatives in China found two comforting items in today's news concerning the Far East:

A dispatch from Canton said all foreigners had been removed from the fighting zone to places of safety.

An official report from Consul General Cunningham at Shanghai said the "highwater mark of danger" had passed.

The difficulties of foreigners in China are not yet settled however.

At Peking patriotically enthused students held a mass meeting in the rain and continued to distribute hand-bills carrying anti-foreign sentiments. At Shanghai the waterside strike was becoming more and more effective with more than a score of British and Japanese vessels unable to get crews.

At Canton, the Yunnanese troops holding the city dug in and prepared for a long siege, with the attacking Cantonese closing in from all sides.

Situation Eases

The situation at Shanghai was reported as generally easier.

The mixed court continued peacefully hearing evidence for and against a number of Chinese guards charged with rioting and with participating in the disturbances that brought the anti-foreign sentiment to white heat May 30, when twenty-two members of a mob were shot down by foreign settlement police. The general strike at Shanghai, the weapon appropriated by Chinese agitators when it became plain to them that force would not gain their end was reported becoming less general.

Canton Strike Continues

The strike in the past two days has been aimed principally at Japanese and British residents, although hand-bills distributed among Chinese workers today included Americans among the foreigners whose proffers of employment should not be accepted. The strike at Canton shows no signs of stopping. Commercial interests of the city tried to persuade the opposing commanders to remove the fighting of their battle to some point outside of the city, where the damage done by the fighting would not be so great, but failed.

LONDON, June 10.—A dispatch to The Daily Express from Hong Kong dated today says the Cantonese troops Tuesday night made a determined effort to cross the Canton river and drive out the Yunnanese troops, but were repulsed with severe losses.

A Greeting to Summer Session Students New and Old

TWENTY-FIVE years ago the Summer Session was an experiment. Today it is one of the fully developed and organized units of the University. It is a part of the University's policy of business all the year round. In the beginning the Summer Session created its own demand. Now the demand is the University's guide in providing yearly increased facilities for summer study.

To those who come for the first time the Summer Session extends a most cordial greeting. At the end of your experience of six or eleven weeks you will place yourselves in the constantly growing number of those who congratulate themselves on their good judgment in having decided to spend a part of their vacation in ways that are profitable as well as pleasant. To those to whom the Summer Session attendance is not a new story, we are glad to express our pleasure in seeing you again on the campus. It is the best possible evidence that you are alive to the needs of making good use of your time. We also like to think that it is evidence of our success in providing opportunities that suit your needs.

To both new and old comers we say, please make yourselves at home. Enter promptly into all our activities that come within your interests. Do not forget that we provide means for recreation, study, social contacts, and everything that enters into the making up of a well-rounded program. We are all one big family, and hope you will carry away that feeling with you.

Charles E. Young,
Assistant Director, Summer Session.

Herr Adlon Profits

HERR Louis Adlon, proprietor of Berlin's celebrated hotel on Unter den Linden, has profited from his American visit. Last summer the Adlons were the guests of the leading eastern and midland hotels. Three days of their American sojourn were spent inspecting the service and methods of the Drake in Chicago, following which they returned to Germany.

In the autumn of 1922, with the German mark tottering a thousand daily, a small group of University men applied at the Adlon for rooms and were told with more than ordinary arrogance that "alles ist besezt." Three crisp thousand-mark notes were deftly presented to the assistant manager, who said that quarters would be available in an hour.

Before the hour was up, the party was installed in the luxurious imperial suite, which consisted of an outer hall, parlor, library, bedrooms and magnificent bath. The bedrooms were entirely panelled in mahogany and were furnished with great carved bronze beds. The balcony of the parlor looked down on Unter den Linden, the French Embassy, and the Brandenburg Thor.

The occupants were prepared to pay a staggering price for the use of these magnificent quarters. Instead, the charges were only three thousand marks a day for each person, or slightly more than a dollar!

A letter received from Berlin dated May 9 says, "They wanted fourteen dollars a day in American money at the Adlon, and a small room at that."

The Drake has truly taught Herr Adlon the hotel business.

Poppies of Death

THE fact that the United States consumes more opium than any other white country, that the estimated amount used in the United States each year amounts to thirty-six grains per capita, is food for thought. It explains the very active, if unsuccessful, part which the United States played at the recent international opium conference.

It is true that the government has laws prohibiting drug traffic and that it has a narcotic division under which two hundred people work in an effort to enforce the laws. But, during the last few years, the use of drugs has tripled in this country. A drug addict will do and pay any amount to obtain the poison. This makes smuggling of the drug a very profitable trade, and in addition it is not an especially risky one, for the nature of the drug makes its smuggling easy.

The only possible way to handle such a problem is the prevention of overproduction of opium. It is estimated that three and one-half tons of opium is sufficient for all medicinal and scientific purposes in the world. And yet last year 3,000 tons were produced. Over one-half was raised in India, and the British Empire raked in a revenue of $315,000,000.

This revenue, of course, explains England's action or lack of action in the recent opium conference. The fight against drugs can be successful only through the cooperation of all nations. Until the welfare of people of the world is put above government profits, the opium evil will grow and flourish.

Slow, Sure Growth

The Minnesota Daily

EVERY newspaper man with a "nose for news" stressed the fact in his news story about Glenn Frank's acceptance of the presidency of the University of Wisconsin that the man is now only thirty-seven years old.

For Glenn Frank is an exception to the natural rule of slow, solid growth, which produces great oaks and great men. He has grown as fast as a mushroom but as solidly as an oak. His natural powers have ripened with unusual rapidity. He is more or less a prodigy.

But Mr. Frank is a very singular exception. As a rule a man grows slowly and unfolds his abilities and definite characteristics through prolonged effort and through the forces of experience and circumstance. Abraham Lincoln grew very slowly. Especially is this noticeable in his speeches and writings. His early literary attempts were florid and generally mediocre. His Gettysburg Address and Second Inaugural, written at the height of his slowly matured powers, rank with the finest in world literature. This slow growth was also true of Shakespeare.

The greatest men, the men who leave their mark upon history, seldom achieve recognition of any noticeable sort until very late in their lives. Undoubtedly they do not merit recognition any sooner. Most of the worthwhile work done on this planet is done by men over fifty years old. A man scarcely finds himself until he has spent about fifty years of orientation with the earth and with men.

And yet young people in college will rush Nature, exhaust all their energy and bur themselves up trying to achieve flimsy recognition and empty honors.

And yet professors are automatically retired at the early age of sixty, along with firemen and policemen. No distinction is drawn between mental and physical condition. Because a fireman is probably physically unfit at the age of sixty, it apparently follows that a professor is mentally unfit at that age to continue his work.

Some knowledge of the laws of mental growth might prevent a few mistakes.

Opportunity is the only knocker that we will tolerate.

A good joke gets maltreated more than almost anything else.

Just because you have ballon tires on your car, don't think you can fly.

Success may be just around the corner, but don't keep going around in acircle.

Some people are too lazy to wind the alarm clock and therefore too lazy to get up.

"Jolts Slot Devices"—Headline. We've often jolted them, too, but never got our pennies back.

The French probably think these Riffians they are fighting in Morocco act more like Ruffians.

Poems That Live

Three Things

Three things filled this day for me.
Three common things filled this day;
Each had, for me, a word to say;
Said it in beauty and was done:
Cows on a hillside all one way,
A buttercup tilted seductively,
And a lark arguing with the sun.

These three things, merely these three,
Were enough to cry the world
Out of my heart: the buttercup curled
Where some gorgeous ruffian plundered;
The skylark's dizzy flag unfurled;
The placid cows pensively
Wondering why they wondered.

Hull of Iowa New Immigration Head

Ex-Representative of District Succeeds W. W. Husband

Harry E. Hull, who was appointed to the post of United States Commissioner of Immigration recently, was formerly representative in Congress from the second Iowa district, which includes Iowa City.

HARRY E. HULL

Hull, former representative from Iowa, has just been appointed commissioner, succeeding Walter W. Husband, who in turn succeeds Robe Carl White as second assistant secretary of labor.

Born on his father's farm near Belvidere, N. Y., March 12, 1864, Hull was educated in the public schools at Cedar Rapids, Ia., and in 1884 settled in Williamsburg, Ia., where he engaged in the grain business. There he was an alderman for two years, mayor for ten years and postmaster for thirteen years.

It was on the death of Congressman Irwin S. Pepper, Republican, that Hull was nominated to the house of representatives in 1915 during the 64th session of congress.

Squirrel and Bird Policy of Local Man Meets Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

SHENANDOAH, Ia., June 10—A new angle in the squirrel against bird controversy in this city by Rev. George Bennett, Iowa City's "Outdoor Life Minister," who advocates the discouragement of protection of squirrels, and a greater effort to preserve bird life by feeding and housing, particularly in the winter.

Rev. Bennett believes that no concerted effort should be made to exterminate squirrels. However, by withdrawing protection, he implies a winning battle may be fought against the frisky animals.

Prominent Iowa Couple Wed Last Tuesday Evening

At a late afternoon ceremony read at the Trinity Cathedral, Tuesday at Davenport, Flora Benham was married to Charles Larrabee. Miss Benham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Benham of Davenport, and Mr. Larrabee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larrabee of Fort Dodge, grandson of William Larrabee, former governor of Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Larrabee stopped off in Iowa City yesterday afternoon, on their way to Cedar Rapids, from where they will entrain for Port Francis, Canada. They will be at home at Cedar Rapids, after July 1st, when Mr. Larrabee will enter the Cedar Rapids National bank.

Mrs. Larrabee is a University graduate and a member of Alpha Chi Omega. During the past year she has been secretary to Dr. Arthur Steindler of the children's hospital staff. Mr. Larrabee received his B.A. degree Tuesday morning; he is a member of Phi Kappa Psi.

Number of Bonus Claims not Paid

Over 100,000 Paid Out But Large Number Are Unclaimed

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Ia., June 10,—Although 102,027 claims for the Iowa soldier bonus have been paid out of a total of 106,638 filed, approximately 1,900 remain to be disposed of by the state bonus board, according to Thomas D. Wilson, chief board examiner.

Of the number of applications submitted, 2,547 were rejected, and 202 were cancelled for various reasons. Exactly 150 became void because of filing after December 1, 1924.

Just how approximately $1,500,000 expected to be surplus after all claims are paid, will be spent in benefit to disabled World War veterans, is yet to be determined by the board.

Noise in Modern Zoo Kills Many Inmates

(By The Associated Press)

SEATTLE, June 10—Artificiality of surroundings, noise and gasoline fumes from motor traffic are described as the reason for animals in the Woodland Park zoo here killing themselves and dying from disease. Last season, frightened at a steady stream of automobiles, four deer charged into the corral fence and broke their necks.

"Taken from the quiet surroundings of their native haunts into the noise and gas laden air of the park," said Dr. Gus Knudson, director of the zoo, "the animals loose interest in life and die, if they are not frightened to death."

Trousers May Grow Fuller As Skirts Become Shorter

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, June 10.—There has been much speculation among local tailors and male members of the smart set whether royalty would take up the "elephant leg" trousers which have proved very popular this spring at Oxford.

There was quite a suggestion of flowing fulness in a blue-grey suit worn by the Duke of York when he opened the Wembley Exhibition Garden Club recently, which caused no end of comment. The duke's trousers were just full enough to swing a little as he walked.

Reports that "bag" or "bloomer" trousers, as introduced by the university students, are to be worn this summer has been welcome news to the cloth trade at Bradford, which has been in the doldrums since short skirts for young women became the rage.

Breshnahan Takes Twelve to N .C. A. A. Meet This Week-end

Real Competition Faces Every Hawk in Feature Battle

Twelve Iowa track men will embark some time today or tomorrow for Chicago where they will finish the year of college competition at the National Intercollegiate track and field meet to be held at Stagg field this week-end.

This meet is designed primarily to select the individual champions in the various events as well as the team champions. Over two hundred schools in various parts of the country are included in the association sponsoring the meet and if they all send representatives the competition Saturday will be exceptionally fast.

Sectional Winners Enter

Entries now include schools from the far east and the far west as well as some of the southern stars. Add these to the great aggregation from the middle west and the records are in much danger.

The Iowa men who will make the trip are Captain Coulter, Roberts, L. Phelps, H. Phelps, Thomas, Jones, Dauber, Daine, Williams, Hancock, Handy and Rice.

Contrary to the previous stories the eligibility of the entries does not require their placing in the conference meet, but they must have placed in some sectional or state meet.

Hubbard Entered Too

Coulter will compete in the quarter mile again this week-end. At the conference meet, third was the best he could do, but the distance separating him from Phillips of Butler, the winner, was a matter of inches.

Roberts will also get another trial in fast competition this week. He showed up well in the conference affair and with a little luck a first place will be forthcoming. However, Hubbard of Michigan will be there and the man that leads the Wolverine to the tape will travel a fast century. In the two-twenty Roberts seems to be at his best and in time may develop into a consistent performer in the furlong.

Will Phelps Win?

Harold Phelps is back to avenge last week's defeat by Shimek of Marquette. After leading all the way at Columbus, Phelps was unable to stand the final burst of speed made by the Milwaukee runner and lost out in the last few yards.

L. Phelps is the only other track man to make the trip and his chances for a victory are rather precarious. He took fourth place in the high hurdles and might break into the point column again this week, although the competition will be much stronger.

In the field Thomas and Jones will "do their stuff" in the jumps. Thomas has been clearing over six feet lately and might place at Chicago, and if Jones has a good day it is difficult to predict how far he might jump.

Many Good Shotputters

Dauber will face some of the greatest competition of his career when Hartranft of Stanford, Houser and Anderson of Southern California, Schwarze of Wisconsin and Richerson of Missouri get together. All these boys can heave the lead over 47 feet.

Hancock and Daine will have the same problem in the discus. Hancock defeated Schwarze at the conference meet and Daine was not far behind him, but the mountainous Badger is apt to add twenty feet to his mark next time. On the other hand he might fail to do as well.

In the hammer throw, Williams and Handy will again try their skill. Both of these men are capable performers in the middle west, but the hammer throwers in this part of the country are far behind those in the east and the west. Rice's chances for a place in the javelin throw are also rather poor although 175 feet might bring him a place.

Missouri Governor Kills Defense Day for Lack of Time

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 10—Opposition to a Defense Test on July 4 was telegraphed today to Acting Secretary Davis by Governor Banker of Missouri, on the grounds that the majority of the people in his state have already perfected their arrangements for their Fourth of July holiday and the intervening time is too short to make a success of the matter.

Athletes Resist Usual June Wiles

By NORMAN E. BROWN

JUNE is usually quite a month for sport. Of course some of those who usually follow the doings of the noble athletes find themselves handicapped with the second quarterly income tax payment, buying a wedding present, playing the minor part in one of the orange blossom affairs or ducking the prohibition agents. But there still are some of the boys who find an idle hour to follow the sport doings.

Babe Ruth helped start the month right by returning to the game. The national open golf championship tourney gave the month more impetus. Gene Tunney and Tommy Gibbons ruined considerable ozone with their affair.

The rumor cropped out that Bill Tilden had played his last tennis match—and was knocked for a goal when Bill bought half a dozen new rackets.

Looking ahead we have with us the world tennis tourney at Wimbledon, England, June 17-18.

Harry Wills is going to get another chance to prove that he has more than a press agent claim to a chance at Jack Dempsey's title. He and Charlie Weinert meet June 15 in New York.

Eight husky oarsmen are going to be cheered to the echo and two streets beyond when they carry the colors of Dear Old —— to victory in the annual intercollegiate regatta on the Poughkeepsie, June 22. The bird who gets a red neck and four blisters on each paw paddling "Lulu" up and down the lagoon on Sunday afternoon will go unnoticed unless he's short the price of the boat when he gets back to the dock.

Yea, quite a month.

Ship Laboratory Seeks Wealth of Sea Water Salts

Industry, following discoveries of science, is turning to the ocean for raw material and an experimental floating factory has put to sea to draw bromine from salt water.

According to Prof. P. A. Bond, of the chemistry department, this latest experiment to recover some of the wealth in sea water, is an effort to obtain a substance that may be used to cheapen the cost of the manufacture of tetraethyl lead from which tetraethyl gasoline is made.

Eliminates Waste Disposal

"There are a number of things from which tetraethyl lead can be made," says Prof. Bond, "but bromine has been found to be the cheapest. The experiments being performed on the ship now being used as a factory on the Atlantic coast may lead to a considerable cheapening of bromine manufacture. The idea of having a factory at sea eliminates all problems of the disposal of waste material and also minimizes the transportation problem connected with the disposal of the finished product."

Tetraethyl gasoline, which was marketed last year, has been used extensively by motorists as it adds to the power of combustion in the gasoline engine. The attempt now being made to obtain industrial products from the ocean may be expanded in future as scientists make additional discoveries.

Salinity Varies

The fact that there is wealth in sea water has been known for years. Gold, Silver, radium, and a number of saline substances from which bromine is made are found in ocean water. However, the gold, silver, and radium are found in such small quantities that they cannot be extracted at a profit.

There is less than one per cent of saline matter in the Baltic, but it runs up to five per cent in the Red Sea. Water from the Gulf of Mexico showed a total salinity of 3.63 per cent and the average salinity of the ocean is 3.5 per cent. Of this saline matter, analysis showed, among other things, approximately 55 per cent chlorine, 3.5 per cent magnesium and 17 per cent bromine. Gold runs one ounce for every 6,000 tons of water.

Athlete Undergoes Operation for Long Standing Injuries

Leonard Raffensperger, A3 of Victor, yesterday morning underwent an operation on his right elbow to relieve an injury done last fall while out for football. Raffensperger, who performed at a tackle position on the Old Gold grid team during the past year and at the tip-off job on Coach Sam Barry's basketball team, injured the arm during a scrimmage. The constant bruises during the rest of the season served to keep in the member in a continually irritated state and it finally became necessary to remove about an inch of tissue from the injured member.

Dr. W. R. Fieseler, S. U. I. medical supervisor, handled the knife and the patient responded in first class fashion. The injury was not serious but might have developed into something of a different nature. It is not thought that the operation will affect his athletic career in any way.

More Commencement Programs Printed to Satisfy Demand

A limited number of commencement programs are being printed to meet the unusually large demand which exhausted the first issue, according to announcement at the president's office yesterday.

Requests for extra copies will be received Friday and later at Prof. C. H. Weller's office in the Journalism building. Mail requests must be accompanied by stamps to cover mailing.

45 Enter Mid-West A.A.U. Track Meet Here on June 20th

With forty-five entries already in, the Mid-Western A. A. U. meet scheduled for Iowa field on June 20th, gives promise of having a large and exceptionally fast field. The men come from all over the four states, Iowa, Nebraska, and North and South Dakota, and besides the various college stars their are several high school performers of note on the list.

Eighteen Events

Eighteen events are on the card includng all the regulation conference meet events with the exception of the two mile runs for which the five mile affair is substituted. Besides these their will be 440-yard 3-foot hurdles and the running hop, step and jump.

The closing date for the entries is next Saturday and it is probable that their will be a big addition to the present total before that time.

Entry List

The men and their events are: Crawford, Ames, half mile; Handy, Iowa, hammer; Suit, Ames, half mile and 440; Mann, Iowa, low and high hurdles; Barber, Cornell, 440; White, Iowa, 440; Swenson, Iowa, high jump; Conger, Ames, half and 2 mile; Jones, Iowa, broad jump and hop, step and jump; Williams, Iowa, hammer; L. Phelps, Iowa, high and low hurdles.

Simon, unattached, (Cedar Rapids), half mile; Marshall, Iowa, javelin; Daine, Iowa, weights; Everingham, Iowa, broad jump and hop, step and jump; Brookins, Iowa, low hurdles; Daily, Nebraska, 220 and 440; H. Phelps, Iowa, mile run; Owens, Ames, pole vault; Debok, Cornell, high hurdles; Cuhel, Iowa, 440 yard hurdles; Pratt, Iowa, 440; Nelson, Mau, Morrison, Dauber, and Hancock, all of Iowa in the weights; Coulter, Iowa, 220 and 440; E. Lamb, Omaha Y. M. C. A., 5 mile; W. Lawlor, Central high (Sioux City), high and low hurdles; E. I. Sorenson, Iowa, half mile.

B. G. Marchi, Iowa, 5 mile; Bender, Iowa, 1 mile; Van Ness, Iowa, mile; Roberts, Iowa, 100 and 220.

Locke of Nebraska, one of the speediest performers in the dashes in the middle west may also enter. Drake University, one of the late entries, sent in eight names for the list. Fry, sprinter, and Wightman, Iowa Freshman star of last year in the sprints are their two outstanding men.

Iowa Frosh Have Big Day at Minneapolis

The Iowa freshman track team had a big day at the Norse-American Centennial exposition at Minneapolis, Monday. The mile relay team composed of White, Pratt, Kennedy and Cuhel, all members of the yearling aggregation, took their event without much trouble in spite of the fact that the competing teams were some of the best in the middle west.

In the high hurdle event Cuhel took the final heat in :15:1 after winning the preliminary in :15:2.

Among the stars in the meet were Harold Osborne, Illinois high jumper a few years back, Emil Krogh, Chicago distance man of other years and Helen Filkey, premier woman hurdler of the world.

This meet, outside of the Mid-Western A. A. U. meet, is the last appearance for this year's frosh team.

Voters Authorize Board to Dispose of School Site

Will Negotiate With State; May Rebuild

Possibility of 2 New Buildings; But 257 Votes Polled

Sale of the Kellog school building and site was authorized at the school election yesterday by a vote of 191 to 64.

Mrs. Grace Weber, president of the board of education, said last night that negotiations will probably be opened soon with the state for sale of the property, which is wanted by the University as a part of the area to be included in expansion of the campus.

President Walter A. Jessup said last night that though the University hopes to buy the property no definite plans for its use have yet been made.

Means New Building

The sale will mean the construction of new buildings in the near future, members of the board say. Residents of Manville Heights have been making an effort to secure a new building and such a move is likely, thought not at once.

The board expects, even though a sale is made, to use the Kellog building during the next school year.

Building in Cartwright's addition in the southwest part of town is also a probability, though Mrs. Weber said last night that such a

Twelve Graduates Receive Honors St. Mary's School

Rev. Mullin Addresses Class; Number Get Honor Awards

A formal procession around the auditorium and onto the stage introduced to a large audience the class of 1925 graduated last night a St. Mary's. Honors upon the twelve graduates were conferred by the Very Rev. A. J. Schulte. The address to the class was delivered by Rev. F. A. Mullin of Columbia college, Dubuque.

In the class were: Gretchen Gaulocher, George J. Balluff, Robert W. Graf, John F. Haman, Catherine M. Hauber, Ulrich A. Hauber, Margaret M. Hughes, Catherine E. Klein, Alice M. Lechty, Catherine M. Mueller, Viola Parrott and Margaret C. Sheridan.

A teacher's certificate for music was awarded to Margaret Sheridan.

In the field of honorary awards, Clara Eggenbery and Gertrude Unrath were given American Penman diplomas for excellence in penmanship. Medals for perfect attendance at Daily Mass were given to:

Ulrich Hauber, Catherine Hauber, George Balluff, John Haman, Catherine Hauber, Catherine Klein, Lorraine Consamus, Dorothy Holubek, Bernice Hauber, Mary Organ, Guilford Moravec, Elvira Droll, Frances Gaulocher, Bernice Helmer, Ethel Keller, Margaret Consamus, Mary Lumsden, Mary Haman, Paul Scherrer, and Ruth Mochavec.

For perfect attendance at vespers and Sunday school the following received medals: Ulrich A. Hauber, Catherine Hauber, George Balluff, Margaret Sheridan, Gretchen Gaulocher, Alice Lechty, Lorraine Consamus, Dorothy Holuhek, Bernard Sheridan, Mary Louise Schulze, Mary Haman, Margaret Frances Freeman, Eleanor Balluff, Joseph Corso, Ruth Machovec, and Paul Scherrer.

Awards were given to these for their perfect attendance at school: Catherine Hauber, George Balluff, John Haman, Catherine Klein, Dorothy Holubek, Francis Haman, Clara Eggenberg, Gertrude Unrath, Mary Organ, Margaret Melicher, Mary Haman, Elaine Murray, Robert Grimm, Paul Scherrer, Dorothy Alcher, Harry Alcher, Bernard Holubek and Ruth Machovec.

Camp Advantages Granted Students

Camping Restrictions Raised by Park Officials

Restrictions on camping in the city park for indefinite periods recently put into effect have been lifted in the case of summer school students, according to James Aldous, park commissioner.

Persons taking summer school work who desire to camp in the park may secure a card from the registrar of the University to certify that they are registered in school and they will then be permitted to stay through the session.

A special section of the park will be devoted to student campers, said park officials.

Summer Session Registration Begins in Earnest Today

regulation requirements.

A full list of Iowa City apartments and rooms for rent may be secured for women students at the Dean of Women's office in the basement of Old Capitol, and for men at the Dean of Men's office in Old Capitol basement.

Assemblies Popular

A distinctive and popular part of the Summer Session is the series of more than 100 free public lectures on science, art, history, philosophy, travel, and literature which take place. Round table discussions on a broad field of subjects are organized and will begin next week. Last year the general assemblies once a week in the natural Summer Registration — TWO ... science auditorium drew enormous crowds. Automobile excursions to Amana, Keokuk, Rock Island, and Cedar Rapids are conducted each week.

At the July convocation last year, fifty received Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, while forty-four were granted Master's and Doctor's degrees. In August, fifty were graduated with Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees, while forty received Master's degrees and twelve the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Offer 600 Courses

The University offers more than 600 courses during the Summer Session, approximately 100 less than are given during the academic year. Professional colleges such as law, medicine, and applied science do not offer their full curriculum during the summer, while the college of pharmacy does not function either term.

A large number of special courses are being offered this year for the first time during a Summer Session in the college of law, college of medicine, college of applied science, school of public health nursing, school of nursing, child welfare, home economics, and school of library training.

Special opportunities are given during the Summer Session for the study of languages. The department of romance languages conducts two Maisons francaises with a capacity of twenty women, and a Casa Espanola with accommodations for about a dozen.

Enrollment Jumps

The enrollment by years for the Summer Session is as follows:: 1900-100; 1901-135; 1902-190; 1903-215 1904-226; 1905-259; 1906-281; 1907-344; 1908-363; 1909-363; 1910-347; 1911-309; 1912-324; 1913-432; 1914-346; 1915-673; 1916-676; 1917-802; 1918-2,042; 1919-1,292; 1920-1,420 1921-1,747; 1922-2,075; 1923-2,619; and 1924-3,182.

Reroute Primary Road

Disposal of the Kellog property also means that Primary road No. 7 can be routed through the north end of the school lot, a move ordered by the state highway commission.

A total of 257 votes, two of which were spoiled, were cast in yesterday's election, only fifteen short of the total cast for school director in March. The total cast for the heads of the ticket in the spring city election was 5657, more than twenty times greater.

Eda T. Louis Dies Suddenly Tuesday

Death Follows Stroke at Home of Niece in Minnesota

Miss Eda T. Louis, for twenty-five years associated with L. F. Cerny in the University Bookstore, died Tuesday afternoon following a sudden stroke of paralysis, at Northfield, Minnesota, where she had gone to visit a niece, Mrs. Frank Tschann.

The body is expected here today. Arrangements for funeral services have not yet been completed.

Miss Louis was born in Iowa City 63 years ago and spent her life here. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Van Wagenan, of Berkeley, California, and Mrs. S. W. Meyers, of Aberdeen, South Dakota, and a brother, Henry Louis, of Iowa City.

Two Girls Injured When Hit by Car Here Last Night

Florence Kloos, Rita Seydel Struck at Intersection

Florence Kloos and Rita Seydell were painfully injured when a car driven by Margaret Ragen ran into them as they were crossing the street at the intersection of Washington and Madison streets at 8:45 o'clock last night.

Miss Kloos was removed to the University hospital where her injuries were attended. Miss Seydell was taken to Mercy hospital, but was later taken to her home.

Miss Ragen said last night that she did not see the girls as she turned the corner until the car crashed into them.

File Huge Income Tax Lien Against "Bell Boy Ponzi"

(By The Associated Press)

SIOUX CITY, Ia., June 10—An income tax lien for $157,095 was filed by internal revenue collector today against Frank R. Beddow, Sioux City's bell boy Ponzi, whose financial manipulation of the last few years have been of a sensational nature. The lien covers Beddow's income from January 1, 1920, to December 31, 1923.

Beddow who graduated from the ranks of a bell boy and stock salesman came into public notice last year when he was accused of having wrecked a bank at Parker, S. D., through notes and a worthless check. Although indicted on a charge of conspiracy Beddow was acquitted by a jury. Several months later, however, he apeared to be "rolling" in wealth.
