There has been reported price competition in Nebraska, southern Illinois, and several other midwestern points most of them within the territory covered by the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

In some cases the price cutting has been the result of competition between the Standard and Independents. In other cases between various groups of independents, in some incidents the result of rivalry between individual stations.

Affects Mid-West

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 24—Effective tomorrow, the Standard Oil company will reduce its tank wagon and service stations prices on gasoline two cents.

The cut in price will be in effect in all points of the state with the exception of Omaha, Lincoln, and Fremont, where the company states in official announcement, "the selling price has been below normal."

Gain in Wheat Acreage Likely

Farmers Over State Expect to Increase Winter Sowings

(By The Associated Press)
DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP) — If the farmers of Iowa sow winter wheat as they now plan to they will increase the acreage about 23 per cent over the acreage planted a year ago, Leslie M. Carl, agriculture statistician for Iowa, reported.

The report from Mr. Carl's office says that the 23 per cent increase does not represent a forecast of planting but is merely an indication of intentions of farmers.

It may be, Mr. Carl pointed out, that many farmers will change their intentions when they discover what the farmers over the state plan to do.

"It is not expected", Mr. Carl said, "that those who grew winter wheat last year will greatly expand their acreage but many farmers who did not raise the crop last year will make seedings.

"If the acreage sown to winter wheat in the United States this fall is increased as reported, or an increase of 9.7 per cent over seedings of last year, 46,411,000 acres would be sown. Last year 22.5 per cent of the crop sown was not harvested.

"The indicated intended sowing this fall is 38.2 per cent greater than the 1909-1913 average fall sowing; it is 8.1 per cent greater than the average for the years 1914 1918 and is 3.5 per cen more than the average for 1919-1923.

Feeders Offered This Year Fine Sheep Selection

DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP) — Sheep feeders of Iowa will probably be able to collect their sheep and lambs this fall from a supply just as satisfactory as to quality and size that they had last year, reports Leslie M. Carl, agriculture statistician for Iowa, indicate.

Although the estimated output of sheep and lambs from the western states is 300,000 less han the 1924 crop, there will be sufficient to meet the demand from Iowa feeders.

"Increased feeding", he said, "in the western states and stronger prices may keep many Iowa feeders out of competition this year. Keen demand for feeder lambs, at such prices as to make buyers cautious, is already slowing up the activity of the purchasers.

"The probable number of sheep and lambs that will move direct to market from September to December will probably be about three per cent less than were marketed in the corresponding period of 1924.

"Poems That Live"

SHAKESPEARE, Donne, Rostand, Walter Savage Landor—each a name, and more than a name: an essence of beauty and dignity miraculously and imperishably commingled. These writers have no threnodies; they have only matins.

"Fixed among the spheres
That are Fame's firmament," they are not judged by the quantity of incense we burn before their altars; it is we who are judged, by some eutrophic Pan roaring in his cups. These poets live through the generations because it is so written in the Veda of Olympus, whether the Poetry League of America and the Watch and Ward Society of Boston will it or no. But such poets are few; and despite the thousands upon thousands who may flock to see Jane Cowl in Cleopatra's beads or John Barrymore's profile as Hamlet, in each generation the enthusiasm born of understanding is given to a coterie, never to a mob. If we were under the evil star of this varlet H. L. Mencken, we should say that the enthusiasm of mobs runs only to lynchings, pogroms, political barbecues, and cinema actresses; but we should be in monstrous error. Suburbanites flat-dwellers, and traveling salesmen all share in one great aesthetic sensibility; there is poetry that strikes a tender chord in vine-covered bower and tiled mansion alike, that plays on the heart-strings of millions. As surely as Cyrano's balcony-scene speeches and Landor's "Iphigenia" live, so does this poetry of the people live. "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Old Black Joe," Kipling's "If," Newman's "Kindly Light"—by the very surfeit of sugar-coated sentiment these poems are assured of immortality. If they fade, plagiarists of the future will refurbish them and give them new lustre. "The Dream of Eugene Aram," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," "I Learned About Women From Her," "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse"—each with its own peculiar justification for living, each with a popularity guaranteed not to tarnish within the memory of our offspring. And Arthur Chapman's ballad (which, neatly engraved and in a tasteful frame, is an inevitable Christmas present as silk socks.—

"Out where the hand-clasp's a little stronger,
Out where the sun shines a little longer,"

will far outlast the picture frames that enshrine it.

But we seem to feel that pest Mencken tugging at our ear-lobe; and he is chuckling raspingly at a ribald apothegm he has just made—something to the effect that most of the poems that live are those that shouldn't. Poor fellow! He must never know the peace that comes of a warm, slow-burning Havana, and an engraved poem on the wall opposite, to feast one's eyes upon:

"Goodbye, old pal; hello, old pal,
The finest friend I ever knew;
A dog's your finest friend, my lad,
When all the world seems blue."

The Wildman

AT last the long-delayed senatorial recount is approaching the point where sensible predictions may be made. It is rather generally conceded that Brookhart is likely to retain his seat, following the senate committee's action this fall on contested ballots. One thing appears settled. Steck, as a pinch hitter, was not quite able to deliver. His obvious course is to tumble back with such nonchalance as he can muster, out of the limelight into the political limbo from which he came.

Brookhart, the present junior senator from Iowa, is one of the most interesting and vigorous men in public life today. Riding into office originally on the Republican band-wagon, he tootled dissonance into the standpatter's sweet harmonies. Assisted by their polished boots, he got out and walked, but in the election that followed closely he appears to have enacted an old drama entitled "The Tortoise and the Hare."

Hated, maligned, lampooned, caricatured bitterly, he stands like the conventional rhinoceros amid a shower of arrows, bland and undismayed. Talk to him ten minutes, and if you are intelligent you are likely to conclude that he is not exactly a wild-eyed radical. If you high-tone him he may try to shock you. That, on a larger scale, is the way he secured the reputation for savagery that his name in some circles connotes.

There is one subject upon which he is consistently enthusiastic. That is cooperative action on the part of farmers, now practiced with unquestioned success in many of the world's most alert and prosperous nations, notably the new Russia. Brookhart went into Russia. He refused, he says, to make the conventional tour in which a model guide performs model sweeps of the hand toward model conditions trumped up for exhibition. But going among the people and visiting villages and farms he failed to find the squalor and misery that the popular American imagination had depicted. Instead, he found a people who were as a giant freed from chains, still sore and a bit uncertain, but confident and brave.

That could not be told with any success in America, of course. We had not recognized the Russian soviet; very well, we could not recognize Russian hope nor Russian freedom. "See!" the majority shouted. "He speaks of Russia. He is a Bolshevist! Out with him!"

So with cooperative marketing. Despite the fact that the Scandinavian countries, models of thrift and economic security, look upon it with no alarm and on the contrary profit by it immensely, there are alarmed cries of "Socialism!" when the subject is broached in this country. The false warning has bankrupted several such ventures instituted in the United States, causing them to fail for lack of concerted support by the farmers.

Brookhart believes—and quiem sabe?—that he is a decade or more ahead of American thought along certain economic lines. He is a fighter for what he believes will bring more equitable conditions to the American farmer. He is a fighter against the holder of what he believes to be oppressively powerful masses of wealth. Woodrow Wilson might have said of him, as he said of Robert M. LaFollette, Brookhart's friend till death:

> "I have sometimes thought of Senator LaFollette climbing the mountain of privilege. . . taunted, laughed at, called back, going steadfastly on and not allowing himself to be deflected for a single moment. . . . I love these lonely figures climbing this ugly mountain of privilege."

Yet there are senators who don the toga with their highest resolve for service that suggested by the editor of the Des Moines Capital, when he asked a few months ago:

> "What claim has Senator LaFollette to a single vote? Has he ever stood up on the Fourth of July and told the young men of this country that this is the greatest country in the world?"

Note the fact that all these nonagenarians that are turning up must have lived most of their lives before there were automobiles on the streets.—Boston Transcript.

What's In a Job?

SCHOOL is closing. The students in this and other universities will soon be starting a new job. What does this mean?

In a job is found activity, satisfaction and happiness. Discontent is bred of idleness.

In a job is found a means of building our homes, caring for our loved ones, supplying our luxuries and necessities. The man who is interested in his job is always busy. He does not have time to complain and be dissatisfied. Then, when he is able to look back and say that that he has done something for the good of society, his happiness is complete.

One hundred and sixty students will receive degrees this week from this university. Some of those students are going to teach, some will work for newspapers, some will enter the retail business. All of them will become members of some community, large or small.

As yet, the college graduates in any one community are in the minority. It is the minority, however, that is responsible for the progress of the town. The Revolutionary war was fought by the minority; the majority were in sympathy with the crown. Slavery was abolished by the minority; the majority opposed abolition. Free speech, free press, trial by jury, all were won through the activities of the minority; law and precedent were against them.

As members of the intellectual minority of the community, the students who leave the university this week are attacking jobs which are not limited by the four walls of any building. They are only limited by the demands of society.

When some persons are offered a ride, they drag their feet. Others are careful not to interfere with progress. Still others assume the responsibility of seeing that things move, and will push up hill if necessary.

What will university students do when they ride in the community's car? Will they be an added burden? Will they praise progress so long as it does not require exertion on their part? Or, will they get out and push, and make their neighbors glad that they are along?

One can almost hear the mothers in New York saying in the future when they tie on the children's mufflers and tell them what to get from the delicatessen store: "Now be careful not to be adopted or hit by a taxicab!"—New York Post.

Chicago Prexy's Career Shows Long List of Varied Activities

The newly elected president of the University of Chicago is Max Mason of Madison, Wis. He was chosen to fill the place left vacant by the death of Ernest DeWitt Burton.

MAX MASON

Mason is a native of Wisconsin, having been born there, in 1877. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1898. While in college he gained distinction in student activities, social, musical, and athletic, without interfering with his scholastic standing. A wearer of the "W" for three years for the high jump, he also made the honor fraternities, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

After a year of post-graduate work at Madison, he taught high school at Beloit, Wis., and then went abroad to study. Returning to the U. Coal Proves Leading Factor in European Controversies

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Coal still rises in Europe as an important political factor, being involved in many of the political and economic negotiations between the nations. Around it revolve many problems of industry, unemployment and diplomacy, with Germany, France, Poland, England and the Saar district all affected to a greater or less extent.

Recently coal proved the most important factor of a German-Polish controversy. Poland insists upon Germany taking a monthly allotment of 350,000 tons of Polish coal, whereas the German government has emphatically fixed the maximum of Polish coal imports at 100,000 tons.

Capitol to Show State Products in Manufacturing

DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP)—A general invitation to manufacturers of Iowa to join in the first general exposition of the state's manufacturing resources which is to be held in Des Moines October 5 to 10 was issued today by L. B. Jeffries, secretary.

Mr. Jeffries announced that the exposition would be open to all manufacturers of central Iowa. He said it was the hope of officials to make it representative of the state's manufacturing resources. They further point out that it will serve as a buying center and will furnish an opportunity for the introduction of new lines of goods to the consumers of Iowa.

The plan is to make the show similar to the expositions of manufactured products such as are held yearly at Chicago, Kansas City, and the Twin Cities.

Everything from rain coats to automobile tires, from washing machines to monuments is already included in the list of exhibits for which space reservation has been made.

Iowa Farmers Will Face Decrease in Cattle Supply

DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP) — Reports coming to Leslie M. Carl, agriculture statistician for Iowa, lead him to believe that Iowa farmers will have a decreased supply of stocker and feeder cattle from which to buy animals they intend to feed.

He declared that there will be a general reduction in the number of cattle marketed from all western states and a particularly marked reduction in stock marketed from the Southwest.

U.S. Comedies Fail to Attract Cubans

HAVANA, Aug. 24 (AP) — Experiences of several American musical comedy companies here this year have proved that the field for English language artists in Cuba is very limited. One company came from New York with a contract for four weeks and other guarantees. After playing to slender houses for two weeks, the theatre manager informed the company that there was not enough money to pay salaries Efforts to collect expenses failed. The entire company of eighteen was stranded and unable to get funds. The American club staged a benefit at which nearly $500 was raised and a local theatre was donated rent free for one night.

Two other companies were more fortunate. They had enough money on hand to pay their hotel bills and steamship passages home.

WHOSE OX?

Ever hear the fable about the farmer and the lawyer? The farmer went to the lawyer for advice, explaining that his ox had gored the lawyer's ox to death. "Simple," says the lawyer, "you just pay me for my ox." "But I was wrong," replies the farmer. "It was your ox that gored mine to death." "Ah," says the lawyer, "that's quite another matter."

So with other things. During the war there was much talk about the right of small peoples to determine the fate of their own countries. But now the same editors who sentimentalized to that effect are up on their haunches rooting for the French conquest of the Riff. America revolted to free itself from foreign domination in 1776 That was great. The Riffs revolt to free themselves from foreign domination today. That's terrible.

Thus we may see that, after all, it all depends on whose ox is gored. Think twice when you read about the French dropping civilization on Morocco from the couds.

Nashua Will Commemorate Composer of Famous Song

CEDAR FALLS, Aug. 24 (AP)—A tablet to perpetuate the memory of Rev. William S. Pitts, composer of the internationally known song, "The Church in the Wildwood," soon will be erected on the church near Nashua, which was the inspiration for the song.

Rev. Mr. Pitts came from Wisconsin in 1857 to become pastor of the church, known as the Little Brown Church in the Vale. It was in the midst of a thriving settlement, which has since been abandoned. Services, however, are held in the little church each Sunday afternoon, conducted by the pastor who serves at Nashua.

A tablet also will be erected in memory of the church's first pastor, Rev. John K. Nutting.

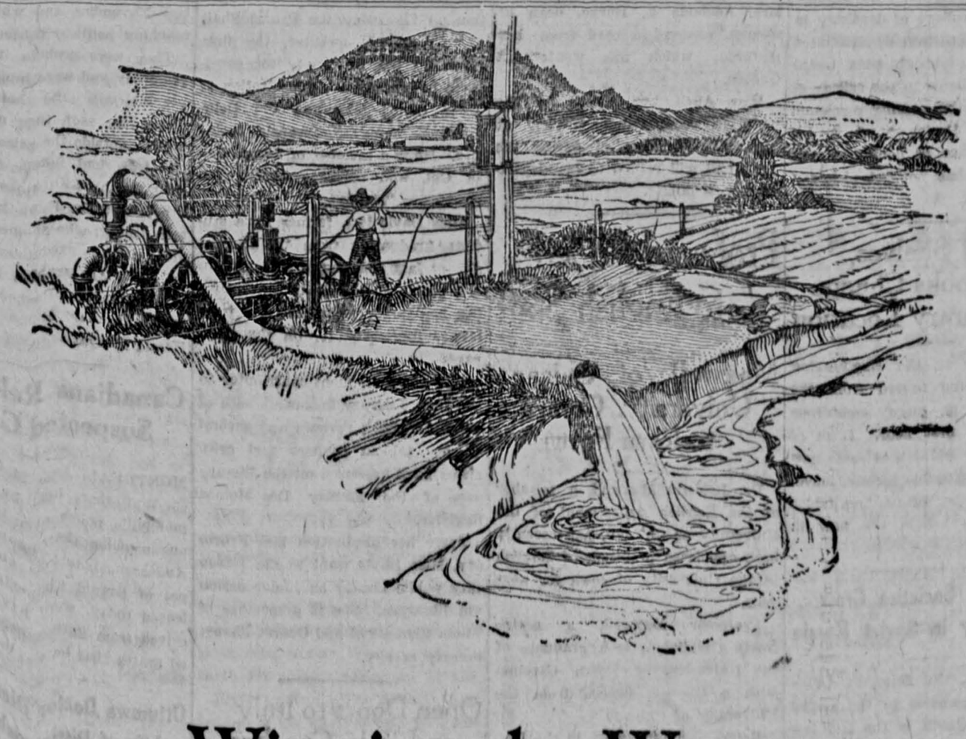
TOKYO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Dr. K. Sugimoto, a rice expert attached to the Tokyo Nutrition Laboratory, one of the three special scholars of the Rockefeller Foundation, said that one of his missions abroad would be to teach the people of the United States "how to eat rice." He has been making a special study of the nutritive value of rice for the past five years and has experimented on 30 persons.



Winning the West

Irrigation by electrically driven pumps has made hundreds of thousands of acres of desert land in the Intermountain West blossom like the rose.

For a few cents a month per acre, electricity—the giant worker—brings the life-giving water from distant lakes and rivers to rainless valleys, producing rich harvests of fruits and vegetables, cereals and forage.

What electricity is doing for the farmer is only a counterpart of what it is doing for Industry, Transportation, City and Country life or any of the professions. It is a tool ready for your use and which, wisely used, will make the impossible of today an accomplished fact tomorrow.

How electricity does these things is important to the student in a technical school—but what electricity can do is important to every college man or woman, no matter what their life's work may be.

The General Electric Company provides for agriculture little motors that do the farm chores and great ones that operate mammoth pumps to irrigate vast stretches of arid valleys.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

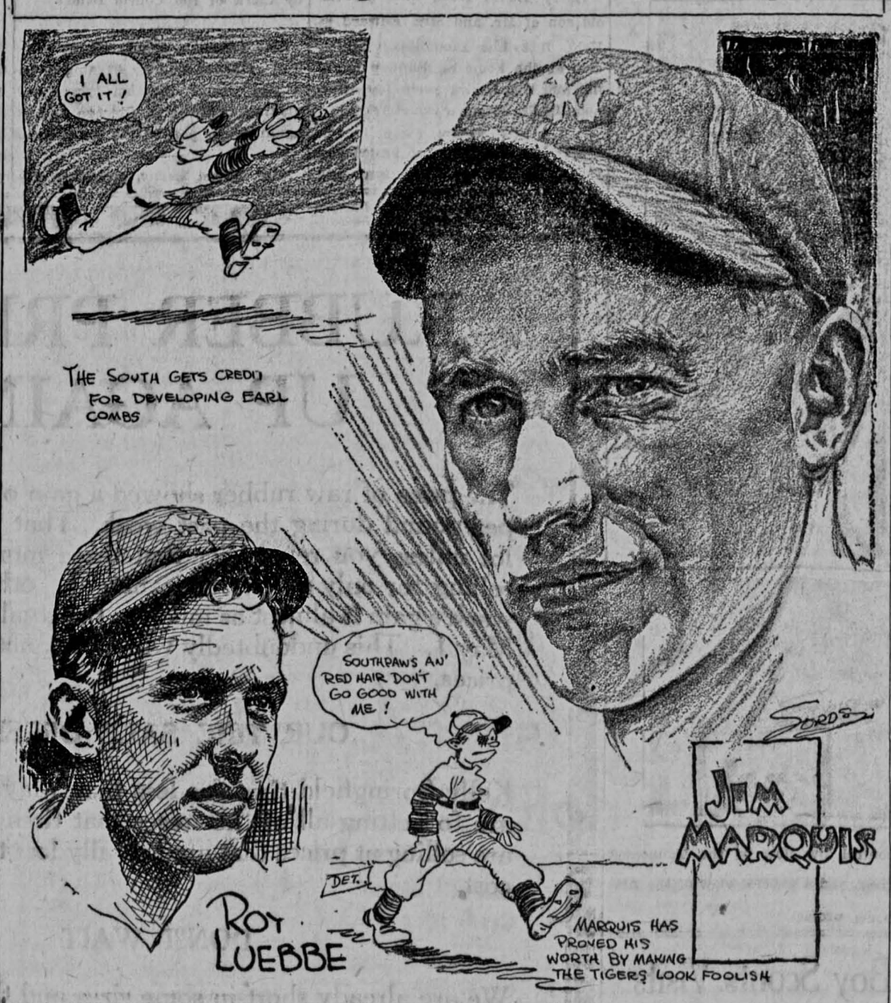
Yanks Seek Young Blood in Western Leagues



By NORMAN E. BROWN

Miller Huggins and his various and assorted aides, in their endeavors to rebuild the moth eaten Yankee uniforms, seem to be following Horace Greeley's advice.

They are going west for much of their material.

In one sortie into the west the Midget's men grabbed off an entire battery, spikes, cleats, glove, mask and chest protector.

Marquis, who jokingly refers to himself as the only marquis in the big show, was purchased from St. Joseph in the Western Association. Luebbe was bought from Omaha in the same circuit.

The Marquis, red headed and a southpaw, has already had a chance to show his stuff and the Detroit Tigers, for one club, will testify to the quality of it. His royal highness made the tiger sluggers look real foolish as fierce man eaters go.

Marquis has a wonderful chance to win a regular berth before the season ends as a result of his early showing. Huggins must build a new pitching staff next season. He cannot depend upon Jones, Pennock, Shawkey or Hoyt to prove big winners. He must build a staff of young stars, with possibly Urban Shocker as the veteran member to steady the youngsters. Shocker recently pitched his best game of the season when he held the Cleveland club to six hits and one little run.

Another western purchase is that of Tony Lazaree, shortstopping star of the Salt Lake City team of the Pacific Coast League. Lazaree has not only won attention with his fielding but with his war club as well.

Fournier of Brooklyn and Griffith of Chicago hit home runs in each game.

Wheat hit one in the first with the bases full.

Start Drive to Get Iowa Legion Quota

DES MOINES, Aug. 24 (AP) — With preliminary plans laid, several pledges already announced and a publicity campaign definitely mapped out enthusiasm for the drive to raise Iowa's quota of $250,000 for the American Legion endowment fund is running high, says Frank Miles, editor of the Iowa Legionaire.

Gordon Elliott, who has been the shorthand reporter for every state Legion convention, was the first contributor to the campaign.

Post Commander Rose of Gilman notified state headquarters here that after its quota had been announced the post will simply write a check as sufficient funds have been raised to cover whatever allotment may be given them

Former Governor N. E. Kendall, chairman of the Iowa campaign, will broadcast from radio station WHO, Des Moines, and speakers will be assigned to WOC, Davenport, and KOIL, Council Bluffs, it was announced at Legion headquarters here.

"We are receiving hearty response everywhere", Mr. Miles says. "We have no doubt at all but what Iowa will contribute more than enough to make up her quota. We have received letters from scores of influential men from all parts of the state commending the purpose of the drive and pledging assistance".

Tigers Slug Way to Victory As Senators Play Poor Ball

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP)—It was Detroit's turn to have a spree today and they had it at the expense of three Washington pitchers including the veteran Gregg and Reuther who were pounded from the box as the Tygers won 13 to 4.

J. Harriss connected for a home run in the fifth inning that drove in a runner ahead of him.

Goslin next up, tripled to score a moment later in Washington's only rally. The world champions played ragged ball while the Tygers kept their willows working viciously.

The series was evened at two all.

Score by innings: R H E
Washington . 000 003 001— 4 8 3
Detroit . . . 053 401 00x—13 15 0

Chief-of-police Albert G. Burger has been asked to assist in locating a man by the name of Walter C. Wilding who is described as a bachelor, 52 years old, over six feet in height, weighing over 200 pounds, and somewhat rough in appearance.

The inquiry states that he lives "somewhere in the corn-belt, rents a number of acres to corn-growers, has a town-cite located upon his land, and a railroad right-of-way passing through it." He is said to do considerable trading.

Persons knowing of the whereabouts of this man are asked to communicate with the chief-of-police.

Blankenship Wins Another as Macks Lose to Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 24—Ted Blankenship held Philadelphia to four hits today while Chicago bunched hits off Jack Quinn and defeated the visitors, 3 to 1, thereby breaking even with the pennant contenders in the series.

Dyke's double and Simmon's single in the first inning gave the Athletics their only run. Mostil's triple and an infield out enabled Chicago to tie the count in their half of the first.

Singles by Falk and Hooper and a sacrifice fly put the locals in front in the second inning and they scored another run on Sheeley's double and singles Falk and Hooper.

Manager Eddie Collins, who sprained a ligament in his leg last week hobbled from the hospital on crutches today and directed the team from the bench.

Gill Lamar, one of the Athletics was ordered out of the game by umpire Owens today in the last inning after he had tapped to Blankenship.

In disgust he threw his bat in the air and narrowly missed hitting Owens at first base.

Morningside Grid Prospects Far From Gloomy This Year

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 24 (AP)—With ten veterans, at least six proven stars of the 1925 freshman squad and a host of promising second stringers available, football practice will be started at Morningside college Sept. 7 with prospects far from gloomy.

Indications are that the heaviest forward wall in recent years will be thrown against opponents by the Maroon coaches this season. It was largely because of a weak line that forced the Methodists to finish in sixth place in the North Central conference, and almost as far down in the Iowa loop last year and coaches J. M. Saunderson and E. O. Wenig are disconcerned that the same thing shall not happen again.

I-Books on Sale on September 14

University of Iowa yearly athletic tickets will be placed on sale in Iowa City on September 14, announced K. E. Griffin, manager of ticket sales today. They will be sold for $12.50.

Purchasers of the books will be admitted to forty intercollegiate athletic contests during the year 1925-1926 and will be able to secure good seats for the Illinois and Wisconsin football games. It has been pointed out that if a book is not bought, the price of admission to the five home football games alone would be equal to nearly three-fourths of the cost of the book.

Included in the list of contests which may be seen by the holder of the year-book are those in football, basketball, baseball, track, wrestling, swimming, gymnastics and fencing.

Don't Stay Bald; Get Yourself A Cat or A Lion

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—Licks by the tongue of a cat have grown hair on the once bald pate of Rudolph Alphans, 60 year old retired druggist of East Elmhurst, he says.

For years he applied various preparations designed to promote hirsute activities but none worked. A few months ago his cat Mike started licking the shiny head when Alphans took his afternoon nap. Eventually he began when Alphans was awake.

Now the former druggist's head is covered with a growth of hair a quarter of an inch long

"If I were younger", Alphans said, "I would buy a trained lion and train him to do what Mike does."

No Babies Born in Malaria Infested Villages in Years

TOKYO, Aug. 24 (AP) — The population of the Ryukyu Islands, which lie between Japan and Formosa, is rapidly dying off, declared S. Sakurai, a health officer of the Okinawa prefecture, who attended the recent health conference in Tokyo. Malaria is blamed principally for the decrease. In eight villages of the Yaeyama group, it was said, not a single baby has been born for the last 30 years.

Kickoff Rule Meets Rockne's Approval

DETROIT, Aug. 24 (AP)—Because the ball is to be kicked from the 40-yard line this season rather than from midfield, one of the greatest thrills in football, the return of the kick-off, will be more frequently experienced and the game will be a lot more fun for the fellows in the stands and players as well, in the opinion of Knute K. Rockne, coach of the Notre Dame eleven, writing in The American Boy.

A major result of the decision of the Football Rules Committee, in starting the kick-off from the 40-yard line with out the tee, will be that teams will develop a strong kick-off return, said Mr. Rockne. He believes this play will take a big part in the 1925 campaigns. He will devote much time in drilling his team in the return of the kick-off.

Coach Rockne declares the recomendation of the Rules Committee that high school games be played in four 12-minute, instead of 15-minute quarters, "is a mighty wise one." The average high school team is not as husky and well coditioned as a college or university team, he says, and elevens of younger fellows should profit by this advice.

Building Permits Show Large Gain

All Construction Jobs in State Valued at $16,400,046

DES MOINES, Aug. 24—During the first seven monts of the year 395 more building permits were allowed in cities of the state with more than 10,000 population than were allowed the first seven months in 1924, figures collected here by the Iowa Bureau of Labor show.

The value of all construction work started in these cities during this period of time was $16,400,046, a gain of $1,433,627 over the corresponding period of last year.

In the first seven months of last year 6,629 building permits were obtained for a total value of $14,966,419 and during the same months this year 7,024 permits for a value of $16,400,046 were taken out in these larger cities.

Griffen Gridiron Captain, Returns

Appearing to be as hard as nails after a summer in the wheat fields of South Dakota, Harold W. Griffen, captain of the University of Iowa 1925 football team arrived in Iowa City this afternoon. He had driven 600-miles in the last two days, making the trip back to Iowa City in a Ford of venerable ago.

Griffen is down to his playing weight now and should be in the best shape of his career. He will not leave Iowa City again this summer but will take light daily workouts to hold him fit for the opening of the football drills on September 15.

The captain and center is the sixth player who was on the squad of 1924 to take up his abode in Iowa City before the remainder of the men return. Paul Krasuski, tackle; Ralph Hogan, quarterback; Leonard Raffensperger, guard; Richard Romey, and, and Ledrue Galloway, tackle, have been here at least part of the time all summer.

The way to get the finest shave

The Hinge-Cap is a sure way of identifying Williams Shaving Cream. And Williams, besides giving you the convenient Hinge-Cap, will improve your shave in three ways:

First, the lather is heavier and holds the moisture in against the beard. Quicker and more thorough softening of the beard results. Second, the razor glides more easily through the Williams-softened beard because Williams lather lubricates the skin. Lastly, an ingredient in Williams keeps the skin in good condition no matter how heavy your beard nor how frequently you shave. In addition, you'll enjoy Williams because it is a pure, natural white cream without coloring matter of any kind. Ask for it.

Where food ferments

FOOD collects in those tiny V-shaped crevices formed by the joining of the teeth and gums—The Danger Line. This food ferments. Acids form. Acid Decay of the teeth results. The gums, too, become irritated and sore.

Squibb's Dental Cream, made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, safely neutralizes these acids. It protects the teeth from Acid Decay at The Danger Line and elsewhere. It keeps the teeth clean, attractive and sound. It soothes the gums. Use it —morning, noon and night. Keep a tube or two on hand. At druggists everywhere.

Call Zoning Change Illegal; File Petition

Land Owners Fight Building by Produce Concern

Alleging that the amendment of the zoning ordinance passed at the council meeting held on Aug. 17 was illegal, an appeal signed by Charles O. Payne, Joe Braverman, and Dan Lenz was filed Saturday over Clarence A. Kutcher, city inspector, who issued a building permit to the Iowa City Poultry and Egg company, allowing the erection of a new building on the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City railway property south of Benton street.

The parties signing the appeal are all property owners in the same vicinity.

The appeal will be taken before the board of adjustment, consisting of S. W. Mercer, chairman, Robert W. McCollister, secreatry, F. J. Belger, Henry Negus, and Charles Clavata, at a hearing at 4 o'clock today in the city hall.

Meanwhile, work on the building was begun yesterday by the Hunsinger company. The plat was staked out and twenty men are working there today.

The building, which is to be a two-story frame structure 72x120 feet with a McCune roof, is located on the east side of Capitol street, south of Benton.

RUBBER PRICES UP AGAIN.

The price of raw rubber showed a gain of fourteen cents per pound during the past week. That doesn't mean a lot unless you remember that three months ago it was selling for only seventeen cents. In other words, this week's gain is almost as much as the total selling price on May 1. This undoubtedly will force another raise in tire prices.

OUR TIRE SALE OFFERS

Kelly Springfield tires for less than May 1st prices. We are forgetting all of the raises that tires have taken and are selling at prices that are actually less than our present cost.

DON'T WAIT

We are already short in some sizes and they will go fast at these prices.

Boy Scouts Visits Park, Arsenal on Three-Day Tour

E. G. Stowell Takes Six Boys on Trip of 354 Miles

Returning yesterday afternoon from their 354-mile motor tour of Iowa and Illinois, six boy scouts and their leaders were enthusiastic in their praise of the many pleasant features of the tour. Those in the group were Darwin Roose, Manley Roose, Eugene Clearman, John Schreiber, Donald Helm, Edward Kyvig, G. L. Kent and E. G. Stowell.

Leaving Iowa City Saturday afternoon, the party camped at Starved Rock state park, near La Salle, Ill. There they viewed the rocky promentories made famous by the early French defenders. The party also visited many of the deep canyons and other historic places in the vicinity.

The scouts attended church services in La Salle, after which they motored to Rock Island, where they were conducted through the government arsenal.

In Davenport they visited the Soldiers' Orphans home, after which they drove to De Witt, where they camped Sunday night. Returning to Iowa City Monday afternoon, the party visited the birthplace and former home of Herbert Hoover at West Branch.

"The educational value of such trips as these becomes more apparent upon each occasion," remarked E. G. Stowell, scout executive in charge of the trip. "We carefully select the boys whom we take, securing boys who will give to their respective troops the benefit of the rich experiences which they have.

"We have found that the trips result in broadened vision of our state's and nation's activities, that the boys have a greater appreciation of geography and history, and that the process of careful selection is resulting in a stimulus for greater effort on the part of the boys in their scout work."

Future motor trips will include the historical 'little brown church' at Nashua, the Singmaster farm near Keota where they boys will view a herd of American bison, and the Morehead caves near Maquoketa.

The Kiwanis club meets for its weekly luncheon at the Red Ball Inn at 12:10 o'clock today.

College Men
now keep their hair smooth, lustrous, always in place

Today, as never before, college men have smooth, well-kept hair.

Why?

A few years ago the hair was a nuisance to almost everyone, for it was usually the least attractive part of the appearance — always unkempt and unsightly an hour after being combed.

There was no way, then, to keep it from being so. Old-fashioned pomades only matted it and made it greasy. Water evaporated quickly and left it drier and more unruly than ever.

Today everyone can have smooth, neatly combed hair

Now Stacomb — a delicate, invisible cream for keeping the hair in place — has changed all that.

It is responsible for the amazingly improved appearance of men's hair. And it has made possible for every woman, however "difficult" her hair, the new smooth effect so much in vogue.

In clubs and fraternities, at the theatre or the game, today you can seldom find even one case of unkempt hair.

People who know that the hair can ruin the whole appearance — people who are careful about the way they look — have given Stacomb an important place on their chiffonier or dressing table.

No matter how dry and straggly your hair may be — no matter how uncontrollable after being washed — Stacomb will keep it always in place, smooth, lustrous, natural. A touch of it in the morning when you comb your hair — and all day long your hair will be just as you want it, for Stacomb will keep it smoothly in place until you go to bed at night.

You can get Stacomb in convenient jars and tubes, at all drug and department stores. Non-staining and non-greasy. Use it tomorrow morning — and look your best all day!

Hyatt-Ewers

The home of Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Hyatt was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday morning, when their daughter Margaret, was united in marriage to Glen C. Ewers of Iowa City.

The home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers and smilax, making an appropriate setting for the wedding. At eleven o'clock the Rev. Mr. Baird of the Christian church performed the ceremony in the presence of about sixty guests, all of whom were relatives or close friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin. The bridal veil was held in place with pearls. She carried a shower boquet of white Killarney roses and valley lillies. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Early, wore a gown of peach canton crepe and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Roy Ewers, of Iowa City. Little Virginia Youngquist served as ring bearer carrying the ring in a white rose.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Ruth Reddish sang, "O Promise Me", and Miss Ruth Miller played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Following the wedding, a two course luncheon was served. The bride is a graduate of William Wood College for girls at Fulton, Mo., and also a graduate of the University of Iowa. She is a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority and a member of Chapter H. P. E. O.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Iowa, and a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity; he is associated with his father in the shoe business in Iowa City.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ewers, son Roy, and Daughter Dorothy, of Iowa City, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Craig of Clinton, Mrs W. B. Pharis and Mrs. Ethel Early and daughter Helen of Des Moines, Capt. and Mrs. Ray B. Conner of Washington, D. C.
