Johnson Routs Pirates in Series Opener 4-1

Tames Pittsburgh With Invisible Ball

Strikes Out Ten Men in Fine Exhibition Before 45,000

(By The Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 7.—The great right arm of Walter Johnson repulsed the Pittsburgh Pirates today in their first bid to board the world's championship baseball craft now named by Washington's gallant and seasoned battlers.

Before a home town crowd of 45,000 that filled every nook and cranny of Forbes Field, the Pirates fell before the masterful strokes of "Old Barney" while his Senator mates pounded out a decisive four to one triumph in the first clash of the 1925 series conflict.

Strikes Out Ten

Striking out ten of the bold batters and twirling with superb coolness and effectiveness in every crisis, Johnson held the National League champions to five scattered blows—one of them a booming home run by "Pie" Traynor—while Joe Harris, Sam Rice and Ossie Bluege led an attack that accomplished the downfall of Lee Meadows, bespectacled veteran, and also found its mark against the curves of "Jug-handle Johnny" Morrison, who took the mound in the ninth after Meadows had given way to a pinch hitter.

The dash and fire, the highly touted hoppers of the Pirate batting batteries were of no avail against the crafty defense of Johnson this afternoon. Snookie is a familiar home town production of Pittsburgh's fields of battle but the baseballers found that the "big train" had a variety they couldn't penetrate; when there was any prospect that hits would produce much needed runs.

Johnson Unchanged

For Johnson today had all the "smoke" of his famous speedball as well as the baffling change of pace that has helped him keep the ball and rule as one of the marvels of the national game in spite of nearly a score of years in the big league service.

The Pirates trained their biggest guns on "Old Barney" but they could not find the range except for the one stroke put through by Traynor, who got two of the quietest of snooks. Johnson held the Pirates and figured as the only successful gunner for the Pittsburgh firing line. The others found a mark occasionally, but their aim was not true. More often they punched in vain at the air for Johnson among his ten strikeout victims, twice numbered "Kiki" Cuyler, Clyde Barnhart and Glenn Wright—three of the heaviest weapons in the Pittsburgh attack.

Johnson occasionally faced prospective trouble. He was a bit wild at times but he was always mightiest in the pinches. He faced his biggest threat in the ninth inning, when the Pirates got two men on base with only one out, but Traynor and Wright could do nothing but lift his shots aloft for easy outs.

Author Visits Home in Iowa City, Says Long Island is Wilderness

By Adeline Taylor

Irving Brant, former editor of the Iowa City Republican and assistant editor of the Des Moines Register, is stopping at the home of his mother in this city while on his way back to his home in California to the east. Mr. Brant motored to the east in the middle of May with his wife, formerly Hazel-dine Toof, '09, and their two children. The object of Mr. Brant's trip was to submit two plays, which he had written, to a publisher.

"I did not find it hard to get my plays received by either broker or publisher," stated Mr. Brant. "I took six letters of introduction and used none of them. One can get along better by himself."

Mr. Brant wrote "The Celestial Honey-moon" which was produced by the Wisconsin Players at Milwaukee.

In giving his impressions of the east, Mr. Brant said, "The closest approach to a wilderness in the east is Long Island. We camped there on a lake for ten days without seeing a person. While in Maine we stayed only one day on the lake because of the crowds."

"And the only place where we were bothered by mud was Iowa. The greatest contrast in motoring in the United States is Illinois and Iowa. The roads in Illinois were built by man. God made those in Iowa."

Pitcher Dies After Long Fight for Life

"Big Six" Succumbs After Hard Struggle

Former Baseball Idol Served as Captain in World War

(By The Associated Press) SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Christy Mathewson, "Big Six" of baseball and president and part owner of the Boston Braves died here at 11 o'clock tonight.

Ran Gamut of Fame

Mathewson, idol of the nation's baseball fandom over a span of more than two decades, and one of the greatest pitchers the game has ever known, was a symbol of the highest type of American sportsmanship.

Running the full gamut of baseball fame, first as a playing star, later as a coach and manager, Mathewson left the game to answer a greater call during the World War; subsequently fought and won a battle for his life, threatened by after effects of his service, and then capped the climax of his diamond career by returning as part owner and president of a major league club.

Was Master Moundsman

But after all the remarkable achievements of Mathewson's career are recounted, the greatest tribute of all will be paid to his wonderful pitching skill. For on the mound he was a master craftsman, the most consummate and brilliant artist of all time, in the opinion of many of the game's closest students.

"Big Six"—a sobriquet contracted from "Big Six Footer"—started his major league career with the New York Giants in 1909, and it was during his seventeen seasons with that club that he carved a lasting niche for himself in the twisting hall of fame. Later he became manager for two and a half years of the Cincinnati Reds; served as a captain in the chemical warfare corps of the American expeditionary forces during the World War; returned from the service to rejoin his old team-mates, the Giants, as a coach; and retired from the game temporarily in 1920, when his health was dangerously impaired. He came back, again hale and hearty, in February, 1923, to accept the presidency and part ownership of the Boston Red Sox.

$80 Salary

A graduate of Bucknell college, where he was both a football and baseball star, Mathewson broke into the professional game with the Taunton, Mass., club of the New England League in 1899, receiving a salary of $80 a month for his first season. He lost his first start by a score of 6 to 5 to the Manchester, N. H., club. During the season he won but two and lost nine games, lack of control—a fault he did not overcome for several years—handicapping his effectiveness.

Joined Giants

Mathewson, however, was not long in attracting major league attention. Playing with Norfolk in the Virginia League, in 1900, he won 21 out of 25 games, and was obtained by the Giants, who turned him back after a brief try-out, for more seasoning with the Southern club. Later the same year he was drafted by Cincinnati, but soon afterward was sent to the Giants in a deal by which the Reds secured Amos Rusie.

Had Brilliant Career

Matty's first major league appearance was in the role of relief pitcher in a game lost by the Giants to Brooklyn. He had but indifferent success as a pitcher and utility player until 1903, when John McGraw succeeded Horace Fogel as manager of the Giants. "Big Six" was playing first base at the time but McGraw quickly recognized his pitching ability, and took him in hand. His greatness dates from that period.

Feats of pitching brilliance too numerous to catalogue filled Matty's record during the dozen years in which he ranked consistently among the most effective twirlers in the major leagues.

Europeans Look Forward to War

Adventist Says People of Europe Predict War in Decade

(By The Associated Press) DES MOINES, Oct. 7.—Outbreak of another war more destructive than the last, within the next ten years, is commonly anticipated by the masses of Europeans, according to the Rev. L. H. Christian, vice president for Europe of the Seventh day adventist conference.

He is one of the leaders attending the fall conference of the denomination in session here.

"If the proposed security pact can be established, this feeling of pessimism may be offset," he admitted.

The security conference is by far the most important since the Versailles council, he said.

Russia, he says, is believed to be preparing the Orient for an attempt to crush the western civilization.

The statistical report given yesterday before the council showed that mission work of the church is being carried out in 119 countries by 16,405 workers.

Legion Squabbles on Adopting Plan of Fiery Colonel

Politics Seeth Beneath Surface in Omaha Soldier Meet

(By The Associated Press) OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 7.—Behind the scenes the American Legion's national convention was a seething cauldron of politics and policy today.

Out in front, in the open session in the civic auditorium, all would have been most perfunctory but for a last minute objection which sent the report of the world peace committee to the resolutions committee for amendment.

Select Future Meets

The only business perfected was selection of Philadelphia for the 1926 convention and awarding the 1927 meeting to Paris, France.

The remainder of the time was devoted to addresses by army and navy officers and messages from the American Red Cross and Knights of Columbus.

Quarrel Over Mitchell

The constitutional committee, the legion's first such body, fought heatedly all day over whether to recommend endorsement of Col. William Mitchell, caustic critic of the nation's aerial defense, and ended after dark by adopting a resolution in which Mitchell's name was not mentioned although one point he has argued, regulation of the national defense under one cabinet officer with sub-divisions of equal importance for land, sea and air, was adopted almost unanimously. It was the product of the pen of Reed Landis, American second war ace, and son of Kenesaw Mountain Landis. It was upon that point that the all day fight was centered, and except for corrections as to grammar, no other change was made in the proposed resolution as drawn up last Monday by the sub-committee of five.

Mitchell Interest Gains

That the committee's action did not dispose of the Mitchell matter, which from the first day of the legionnaires' gathering has been the subject of paramount interest, and which, according to many expressions has swelled until on the turn it takes upon the floor of the convention tomorrow depends the selection of a national commander to succeed James A. Drain.

Tonight there did not seem to be much probability of a minority report but it was predicted freely that the national commander's query "is there any discussion?" before putting the vote would unleash a storm of fiery debate without parallel in legion history.

The consensus of the Mitchellites seemed to be that not all that Col. Mitchell has said should be recommended, but that he should be praised by name for bringing to the American people an awakening as to actual conditions in the air service.

Support World Court

The world peace report recommended that the legion espouse support for the world court with the Harding reservations and that the league of nations be made a subject for one year's study by the American Legion posts.

First National Heart

"Victor Fremont Lawson was the first president of a national association of newspapers to gather and distribute news without profit and with the sole purpose of fairly, promptly, and honestly informing the public of the happenings and occurrences of the day. He led the revolt against privately owned and controlled news agencies and saved to the movement the stamp of his high character and unselfish public service and the financial standing of his large resources—and thus rallied to his support leading newspapers of America and created the greatest news gathering organization in the world—the Associated Press—in which 1,300 newspapers, (TURN TO PAGE 3)

World Series Side Lights

(By The Associated Press) As a team, the Senators batted .250 against Meadows, while the Pirates had to be content with a meager .100 against Walter Johnson's smoke ball.

So energetic was Johnson against the sluggers of Bill McKeehle that outside of "Pie" Traynor, who slapped out a home run, only three Pirates got as far as second base and none reached third.

Starn Harris showed a nifty piece of baseball strategy when he ordered Johnson to pass Meadows in the third. The bespectacled tosser was paraded first with one down and was forced to run the paths when Moore hit into a double play. This effort evidently had its effect on Meadows for he cracked in the fifth, and four singles, three of them in a row, netted the world's champions a pair of counters.

Max Carey will be lucky to last the series. The veteran outfielder caught the full smoke of Walter Johnson's fast one, on his right elbow in the first inning and went down for nine. Walter found his other elbow in the ninth but Max came up smiling from this one with the remark that Walter was evidently losing his speed.

Joe Harris and "Pie" Traynor divided the batting laurels. Each poked out a home run and a single in four times up. Sam Rice garnered a pair of singles for a .500 average while Oscar Bluege split his hits with his strikeouts for a .500 mark.

Traynor almost matched this achievement when he committed larceny on "Muddy" Ruel's liner a foot inside the base. Both exhibitions gave the Pirate rooters a chance to applaud and they did it spontaneously.

The Press box was choked with players who turned scribes for the series. John McGraw, Hans Wagner, Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth all were planted in the box chewing meditative pencils.

Commissioner Landis watched the game from a box on the third base side with his veteran chin resting comfortably on a pair of official flats. A high foul was the only factor which caused the baseball generalissimo to shift position to save his official chin from a baseball trademark.

The Senator's first hit was a home run from Joe Harris' bat. It struck the top of the gate between the temporary stands in right center and Pittsburgh players said that it would have been good for three bases had the new structures not been there.

"I don't want to have my picture taken with those two," said Babe Ruth as photographers lined him up with Babe Adams and Johnson before the contest.

Fair damsels, did you know that certain great authorities on beauty, such as Harrison Fisher, the artist with unparalleled ability to paint charming women, and Flo Zeigfeld, noted for his selection of beautiful women, have said that one side of the face is usually much more attractive than the other?

is of paramount importance to the enticing coed. What can be done so that the affected ones may always present the most pleasing side of their physiognomy to the prospect who chances to take the seat beside her in a class? He will see the long nose, that cheek with the hollow, her mouth on the wrong side of the cupid's bow. She may move, but this causes so much disturbance and all the other girls might get the same inspiration.

The most plausible solution to this weighty problem is that of revolving chairs in the class-room and the instructors' rostrums at either end of the room. If the distressed one be at a disadvantage with Beau Drummel on the wrong side of her portrait, she may swing her chair around so that he can gaze on the beautiful profile.

Associated Press Establishes New Record on Series

400 Cities are Linked in Longest Single Wre Circuit

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—When the world's series umpire called "play ball" today, the Associated Press broke four records in order to fulfill its part in the program.

It operated the longest single telegraph circuit on record. Never before had so many operators worked on a single wire. More player scorecards were linked to the wire than in any other year and for the first time in history, eighty broadcasting stations permeated the air with reports received over the same wire.

The entire leased wire system of the Associated Press linking up more than 400 cities throughout the United States and extending into eastern Canada and Cuba were connected directly into the Pittsburgh ball park. The telegraph signals transmitted from the park traversed more than 46,500 miles of space as they found their way to the various newspapers of the country. The operation of the circuit was carried out without mishap.

The largest force of press telegraphers in the world gave their undivided attention to the operation of the wire as the game progressed. More than 800 of them were assigned to the work of copying the telegraph flashes of the one Associated Press operator at the ball field, who clicked off the plays dictated to him by the reporters.

No loophole was left uncovered in the supervision of the service and eighty men in the various relay bureaus in addition to the forces of the telegraph company concentrated their attention on the signals going over the wire so as to insure the possibility of delay which might be caused by any one of the connections.

With the first signal sent the wire went the order "no hitting" which meant that the batters knew they had to transmit every dot and dash without interrupting the man at the ball field. This required their closest attention to the work during the entire play.

"In Iowa's demonstration of joy after the Iowa-Minnesota game, the big frame, covered with corn, which stood at the southeast corner of the campus, on Clinton and Washington, was one of the things which was fuel for the huge bonfire."

Judges Selected for Triangular Debates

Definite arrangements have been made for the annual triangular debates between Illinois, Minnesota, and Iowa, according to Coach A. Craig Baird.

Iowa will have two teams as usual, one of which will stay at home to meet the University of Illinois trio while the other meets the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. The debates will be held on Dec. 11. The question will be, "resolved: the thorough realignment of political forces in the United States is necessary."

Each contest this year will be judged by a single expert judge, Prof. W. L. Morse of the University of Minnesota will judge the Illinois-Iowa debate here; C. H. Woodbert of Illinois will officiate at the Iowa-Minnesota argument at Minneapolis, and Coach Baird will judge the Minnesota-Illinois match at Urbana.

Of the sixteen men still in the running for the Iowa team, fourteen have had debating experience while the other two won out over veterans of last year.

Says Hunger Cause of Much Mental Sickness

BELFAST, Oct. 7 (AP)—"It has driven seventy per cent of patients here," declared Councilor Keegan before the committee of Mullingar West mental hospital. Another member declared that the poor in his district had to eat bread without butter, and that the food they were obliged to eat was a disgrace to the nation.

going over the wire so as to prevent the possibility of delay which could be caused by any one of the connections.

With the first signal sent, the wire went the order "breaking" which meant that the receivers knew they had to transmit every dot and dash without interrupting the man at the ball post. This required their closest attention to the work during the entire period.

Sororities Choose Badge Sales Girls

Pi Phis, Kappas, and Chi Omegas Prepare For Campaign

Campaign managers for the tri-sorority Homecoming badge sale have been chosen Reva Forbes, A2 of Conesville, will head the Chi Omega aggregation. She is being assisted by Odetta Allen and Maryanne Henderson. The Pi Phi, winners last year, are in charge of Cornelia Van Oosterhout, A3 of Orange City. The Kappas are under the leadership of Carol Tyrrel, A4 of Belmond.

Work on the frame for the famous Iowa corn monument will be started in a few days. "If the frame used last year had not been burned the two hundred dollars needed to erect the monument could be used in other ways this year," said Prof. Randolph Kuever in charge of the badge sale. "In Iowa's demonstration of joy after the Iowa-Minnesota game, the big frame, covered with corn, which stood at the southeast corner of the campus, on Clinton and Washington, was one of the things which was fuel for the huge bonfire."

Judges Selected for Triangular Debates

Definite arrangements have been made for the annual triangular debates between Illinois, Minnesota, and Iowa, according to Coach A. Craig Baird.

Iowa will have two teams as usual, one of which will stay at home to meet the University of Illinois trio while the other meets the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. The debates will be held on Dec. 11. The question will be, "Resolved: the thorough rearmament of political forces in the United States is necessary."

Each contest this year will be judged by a single expert judge. Prof. W. L. Morse of the University of Minnesota will judge the Illinois-Iowa debate here; C. H. Woolbert of Illinois will officiate at the Iowa-Minnesota argument at Minneapolis, and Coach Baird will judge the Minnesota-Illinois match at Urbana.

Of the sixteen men still in the running for the Iowa team, fourteen have had debating experience while the other two won out over veterans of last year.

New Japanese Invention Warns of Approaching Earthquake

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—The reported instances, but an expert would have to watch it constantly to tell instantly when a major shock is on its way.

In the instance of the earthquake in Tajima, Hyogo prefecture, more than 12,000 minute vibrations were recorded by this machine. On such an occasion the addition of the new sound seismograph to the equipment of a laboratory would have been particularly convenient because the vibrations could have been heard without the experts being forced to strain their eyes to see the minute deviations in the ink line.

"The sound may be transmitted by wire or wireless telegraphy," Dr. Shida explained. "If such an arrangement is made, the expert in his laboratory would be informed of earthquakes in other parts of the country instantly. This might lead him to discovering a means of forecasting earthquakes for any one place. If, for instance, a destructive earthquake should take place at Wakayama, the information would travel the 50 kilometers to Osaka by radio and be recorded four seconds earlier than the arrival of the minor vibration in Osaka. The major shock would not arrive until seven seconds after the alarm had been given by my new invention."

Realtor Wounds Sheriff Because of Forced Arrest

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Ollie Kinsell was shot in the chest about noon today by Alva Record, when Kinsell and Deputy Walter Bostedt went to Record's home with a warrant for his arrest.

H. O. Meade, farmer near Folsom, Iowa, charges Record sold him Arkansas land that does not exist, using forged and bogus deeds and abstracts.

Kinsell was not seriously injured but would probably have been killed had not Bostedt felted Record with a blow as the latter was pressing a gun on Kinsell's head.

Account of Crew Rescue Told in Telegraph Style

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Capt. Robert Laird of the Honduran steamship, Atlantida, is a man of few words.

The master of the Honduran vessel required fewer words to log the rescue of a crew from an American vessel in distress than needed by the president of the United States in inscribing the appreciation of the government in a watch presented Captain Laird.

"Much lightning, 8 a. m. Sighted Timpson in distress, 2 p. m. Rescued. Crude oil to quiet waves," says the Atlantida's log.

Captain Laird sailed from his New Orleans home wearing a watch bearing the inscription: "From the president of the United States to Robert Laird, master of the Honduran steamship, Atlantida, in recognition of his humane service in effecting the rescue at sea on October 13, 1924, of the master and crew of the American motorship, James Timpson."

Elect No-Men

TODAY the skeletons of the college of liberal arts will vacillate and vibrate with life, for this day they return, like Persephone, for a brief time on earth. For one full day of content the college of liberal arts will be alive; tomorrow it may lapse back into its year-long sleep.

Your particular commission today is to disturb the annual lethargy to the end that there be no skeletons in the college of liberal arts. Instead of a ghost-walk once every year for a day, you must see that the ghost walks every day.

Your job is to elect leaders who have a main-spring in them. You are charged to vote for protagonists of pep, not dreamers. The leaders of the liberal arts classes must be Do-Somethings, instead of Do-Nothings, or else class officers will forever remain as motionless bow-spirits looking vacantly into the surge.

Vote with care. Football men sometimes make weaker officers for a class than the literary society man, while a woman may make a stronger class president than the tobacco-chewing politician.

Of the twenty-seven candidates who appeared in the inquisition chamber of Student Council Monday, only one admitted that there were "machines" working on the campus. The rest were shocked when asked if they had heard of class politics.

Two of the senior class candidates who emphatically asserted that it was the duty of every university man or woman to march in the Induction Day procession, said they had not marched. Three of the freshman candidates who believed in the green cap tradition had forgotten to wear their caps Monday.

You can pick them out; the fellow who can't go to Induction service, the fellow who can't wear his green cap. They will not make leaders. They will be Yes-Men. The liberal arts classes need No-Men, for leadership, and accomplishment involve fighting.

A heart goes out to the man who said he knew there were "machines," but none were backing him. He is the type of fellow who will not listen to the liberal arts skeleton snore. In each class there is just one of his courage. Find him!

The Menace of New York

NEW YORK is leaking. Yes, gay Gotham is spilling a mingled stream of liquor and loose morals over the edge of Broadway that is slowly seeping westward over the Mississippi, through the tall corn and ad infinitum.

This is the charge brought against the metropolis by a denominational "Board of Temperance, Prohibition, and Public Morals," which among other things states that conditions "out west" are due to the vaudeville acts and comic strips that emanate from New York theaters taking "vicious slaps" at prohibition and ridiculing moral restraint.

An accusation of this sort merits about the same reply recently given to a British critic of American movies, who stated that they were insidiously violating the sacredness of the home through false and flippant presentations of it. He was answered that if the people were asses enough to believe the stuff they saw in the movies they deserved to be corrupted.

It is a shady reflection on the eighteenth amendment to assert that anything as comparatively insignificant as vaudeville quips and newspaper cartoons will endanger its power and influence. Sane individuals do not formulate opinions upon suggestions flung across the footlights or in comic strip witticisms.

As for the moral issue—well, granted that the public has brains enough to be concerned about that part of it, that is a powerful irritant. Call it a guilty conscience or what you will, the average individual has an inherent aversion to having his conduct criticized or his "code of morals" dictated. That touches too freely upon his religion.

What is needed at the present time is an Addison who will hold up the mirror of satire and let the public see itself clad in the preposterous finery of gullibility, hypocrisy, and futile aspiration.

The Kitten's Pajamas

EVERY twice-in-a-while some flash with an athletic frame and a leaning mind lights in our unsuspecting midst on the strength of the noise he made in the little red high school out at Fetunia Center.

He drapes his sport model torso in an over-size sky-blue sweater with a dazzling PCHS or some such rubric smeared down the front in a neat turkey red.

He is never seen, awake or studying, without a high school frat pin, a high school lodge emblem, and a high school ring the size of a country doughnut.

Eighteen hours a day he wears a supercilious sneer like a red flag on a plumber's truck. This adds to the general coarseness effect he is after, and puts over the idea that while he may be sticking around the university he really doesn't belong here.

Well, who said he does?

Shipping Jazz to Europe

ARRANGEMENTS have recently been concluded between Paul Whiteman and his orchestra and the English impresarios Powell and Holt for an extensive concert tour of many of the cities in the British Isles. Following this tour the orchestra will appear in Holland, Belgium, Germany, and Austria. The orchestra is composed of twenty-eight musicians and in addition to the glorified quartette of saxophones has all the instruments represented in the symphony orchestra. "Musical America" has referred to this novel aggregation as "The Quintessence of American Jazz."

Although Mr. Whiteman has elevated his orchestra to the proportions and instrumentation of a concert band, it remains in reality but an augmented type of jazz dance orchestra. This creation which has won the applause of America is an unshared Yankee product. It is one of the most radical and influential contributions of the New World to the gentler profession of music. It is a work of art that is believed to truly express the spirit of America: invention, rapidity of life, a bit of pathos, and abandon. Its history includes rhythms from the Irish love song to the Negro clog.

Mr. Whiteman, by his very tendencies toward higher harmony and the elimination of noisy slap-stick, shows his disapproval of the more common run of jazz. To be sure, the days of the squealing clarinet and tin pan trap-drummer are gone, but much which is not artistic remains in popular music. Mr. Whiteman has attempted to separate these elements and still preserve the dance rhythm. The crude tom-tom has its appeal but hair-raising jazz music has proven too much of a strain on the nerves of the people. Perhaps this revision may bring about a distinctive type of expression that will become universal.

If Mr. Whiteman's success in America is any indication of what it will be in Europe, he will bring home laurels. He has won favor on the dance floor, on the concert platform, on the phonograph, and finally over the radio. The European always has had a predilection toward the lively dance tune and the cabarets that have featured American Negro dance orchestras drew larger crowds than those adhering to the Strauss Waltz. Some American artists have toured Europe before, but the influx of musicians has usually been toward the west. This continental trip of Paul Whiteman's is suggestive of a revolt presaging new independence in creative art.

Poems That Live

Autumn Smoke

On every tree and leaf, in every vein
There is a happy song. The west wind sings
It when he scales the tarnished hills, or flings
His youth and strength upon the dormant plain.
Along a moon-split and enchanted lane
The evening breeze, with moth-caressing wings,
Croons ever softly to the sleeping things.
And oh, the joyful chanting of the rain!
But now there is a rustle in the air,
And they are burning autumn's ragged dress.
Across the fields a pungent smoke is blown.
It penetrates the dim house, everywhere
Respiring tasteless dreams of happiness
For those who sit with folded hands, alone.
—Doris Schneider, in The Kansas City Star.

CHILLS and FEVER

(From the Daily Iowan)

"Brains and beauty don't go together and God help those who were cheated out of both."

Evidently the writer has been to open house on North Dubuque street; and not so many blocks up the street either.

An excited Delt, after reading a recent copy of The Daily Iowan, inquired "just who were the two Pi Phi's and the Delt who were looking for pipe courses."

We will sell this interesting bit of information for two-bits.

For, as Mr. Albert Fall used to say, "everything has its price."

Extract from one of Eddie Guest's mental debauches in the now well-thumbed American Magazine: "I am where I am today because of my religion."

Which must be a source of gratification and relief to his parents.

ACTRESS ASSERTS COLLEGE HOUSES EASY TO PLEASE

She (May Robson) must have been inspecting the latest group of Greek letter pledges, as assembled around the Supply most any morning.

Scandal breaks out of the law school. Again!

Rumor has it that an eminent machine politician, unnamed, was responsible for a prominent Alpha Sig, also unnamed, withdrawing from freshman elections in that worthy seat of knowledge.

Well, who cares?

Here's an old one, carefully dusted off for the occasion: "a college education is a four year detour toward an indefinite goal."

This department, with unequalled courage and devastating brutality, intends to publish the restricted list, carelessly swiped from the university library, in an early issue.

On second thought, we shall publish the list in installments. First, Ben Hecht's distinguished chamber of eroticism, "Gar-goyles."

Why is the book on the restricted list? Should it be there? Was anyone ever injured by reading it?

We don't know. Wot we wanta know is this: who bought the book for the library, and if so, why?

The new dramatic criticism at Iowa, as published by The Daily, following the visit of Mrs. Fiske: "The players, although dressed in costumes of another period, were quite at ease and showed no signs of self-consciousness."

We have been approached six times by as many young hopefuls, for our signature on class election petitions.

When this column appears in type the worst will be over. The fate of the formal committees will be in the hands of "representatives of the people!"

As Mr. Shambaugh used to say: there can be no government without the consent of the governed.

Why, oh why, did we ever consent?

Its time to eat and we won't comment on this. —F. R. E.

Former Student Sends Paper on "Shanghai Affair"

John B. Kaiser, director of the university libraries and the library school, has received a bulletin from Mr. T. C. Tai, formerly associated with St. Johns College at Shanghai, China, explaining and giving different viewpoints of the "Shanghai Affair" of last summer. Mr. Tai took his doctor's degree here last June, his thesis being on professional education for librarianship. The bulletin, a special issue published by the Chinese Student's Christian association of which Mr. Tai is a member, gives the causes of the shooting of nine Chinese students in a riot in Shanghai, May 3, 1925, with the viewpoints of Chinese students, faculties, statesmen, scholars and all Chinese Christians on this affair. Mr. Kaiser has several copies of this bulletin at his office in the library annex, and will lend them to students who are interested in knowing the truth about this affair, which attracted much attention in the American press this summer.

States Attorney Charges Monkey Records Changed
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6 (AP)—The Scopes evolution case took a sensational turn today before the supreme court of Tennessee on appeal. State's Attorney General Frank M. Thompson, and associated council for the state, declared in a motion to strike out the bill of exceptions filed before the supreme court that the records in the case had been changed. It was charged in the motion that the word "thirty" had been marked out in ink and "sixty" inserted instead. This referred to the time limit allowed the defense for appeal.

Drys Protest "Installment Plan" Fines for Bootleggers
DES MOINES, Oct. 7 (AP)—Vigilant protest against the alleged "ten of installment plan" fines for bootleggers as practiced by some judges has been voiced by the Iota anti-saloon league.

After an investigation of court records, officials of the League declare they have found numerous instances where judges are permitting convicted bootleggers to be at large while paying their fine in "convenient installments." Iowa dry leaders declare that the installment plan is one of the ways in which judges not in sympathy with prohibition enforcement are making it easy for the violator and hard for the enforcement officers.

"Lightnin'" the play in which the late Frank Bacon starred for three consecutive years in New York, has been put in celluloid form and is on exhibit this week at the Strand theatre. It was directed by John Ford, who made "The Iron Horse" and, according to those who have seen the play, he has done a capable job. The acting in this picture is above that in the average film but the action is lessened somewhat as a result.

The story of "Lightnin'" concerns the fortunes of Bill Jones and his wife in the management of the Calvada hotel, a hostelry situated half in Nevada and half in California. The Nevada half is for the benefit of divorce seeking transients and much of the humor revolves around this fact. Judge Lemuel Townsend, who dispenses divorces or what have you? from his bench carries a great share of the comedy with his love making.

When swindlers induce Bill's wife to sell out Bill refuses to sign. This is misinterpreted by his wife who sues for divorce. At the last minute, in the courtroom scene, the most dramatic moment of the whole show, everything comes out all right.

Jay Hunt plays his part artistically, never crossing the slender line which divides pathos from bathos. You can't help having a sneaking sort of sympathy for him. Edythe Chapman, as his wife, plays her part well as do most of the rest of the cast. Madge Bellamy, in her role of the heroine, seemed a little artificial at times.

Robber Saws Cell Bars; Runs to Taxi

DES MOINES, Oct. 7 (AP)—Joe Emerson, arrested with his 24 year old bride last week as the robber of several oil stations, sawed the window bars of his cell in the city jail tonight and escaped in a waiting taxi.

Police saw him enter the car and chased him through town, but were outdistanced in the traffic. His cell was on the second floor. After getting out of the window he scaled down the side of the building.

After he and his bride had been arrested, Emerson confessed to the robberies and exonerated his wife. She was released. Police tonight were attempting to find Emerson and persons who may have provided him with saws.

Czar's Near Kin Demands Adjustment on Old Account

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—A faint echo from Ekaterinburg, Siberia, where Czar Nicholas II of Russia and his family were assassinated was heard in Surrogate court today when application was made for letters of administration of credit held to the Czar's account in America. The petition was brought by Prince Serge Geogievich Romanov, nearest of kin of the Czar. The prince is now a resident of New York.

Surrogate John P. O'Brien suggested that an amended petition be filed incorporating more specific facts and making the public administrator a party to the action, in the interest of non-resident aliens who are entitled to share in the estate. The value of the holdings here was not stated.

Three Hawk Track Men Dedicate Drake Stadium Saturday

Feature Events Will Attract Local Stars

Realizing that the University of Iowa is one of the greatest athletic institutions in the west, Drake University has extended an invitation to three of Iowa's athletes to help dedicate its new million dollar stadium next Saturday.

P. Taxman, who last year as a freshman tied the Conference indoor 50 yard dash, O. T. Roberts holder of the state 220 yard dash record, and L. D. Phelps who placed in the high hurdles in the 1925 Conference meet, will represent Iowa at the ceremony.

They will be pitted against the best athletic talent in the state and Iowa track fans know that they will give a good account of themselves. Roberts and Taxman will compete in a 100 yard dash special event, while Phelps will enter the 120 yard high hurdles.

The Drake track is considered one of the fastest in America and during the construction of the stadium it was boarded up so that it would be in the best shape for the relays next year. Proof that the Drake track is fast is had in the fact that the famous Iowa mile quartette of Wilson, Morrow, Noll, and Brookins established the world's intercollegiate mile relay record there in 1923 with a mark of 3:16.4.

No schedule has yet been arranged but games will probably be played with St. Ambrose, Augustana, Des Moines Academy, Academy of Immaculate Conception, and St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids. The season will open up with the annual about the middle of December.

Cubs Battle Sox to Deadlock for Nineteen Frames

Honors Stand Even as Darkness Halts Hostilities

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Hopeless deadlock, the Chicago Cubs and the Chicago White Sox battled nineteen innings today until darkness halted the first contest of the annual city series with the score 2-2.

Grover Alexander, the veteran pitcher of the Cubs, was pitted against Ted Blankenship, the young cowboy, who outpitched the Cub's ace, both pitchers going the entire route.

Blankenship improved Alexander was touched for twenty hits, ten of them coming after the twelfth inning when Alexander showed signs of weakening. Blankenship improved as the game progressed, the Cubs making only two hits after the twelfth inning. He allowed his rivals only eleven hits for the entire game.

The Sox scored first when they bunched three hits with an error by Maranville for two runs. The Cubs scored one run in the fourth on Freauz's triple and Jahn's single and tied the score in the fifth on singles by Maranville and Hartnett and a sacrifice fly by Alexander.

Season's Longest Game

The White Sox had several chances to end the game but great support behind Alexander prevented them from doing so especially in the thirteenth when Brooks threw Falk out at the plate, retiring the side. The game was one of the best played in Chicago in years and was the longest game played during the season.

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 7 (AP)—Using a defensive forward passing attack, the Northwestern University's freshman grid squad had the varsity on the run for the greater part of a long scrimmage today.

The varsity was on the defense and had considerable difficulty solving the aerial puzzles sent over by the freshman team.

Coach Thistlewaite had his precious backfield in action for the first time today.

Series Games a Disappointment Says Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Man is naturally a discontented soul, we are told.

I'm probably no exception. I picked Washington to win the American League pennant and wasn't a bit sorry when I saw that the Pirates were booked to cop the National League end.

But now as I look over the whole situation I find a lot of things wrong with it.

For instance, the Athletics would have introduced at least one novelty into the classic had they copied instead of the Senators.

They could have swelled the attendance considerably by announcing that one of the star acts would be that of Al Simmons batting with one foot in the water bucket.

Now we have had one series featured by the introduction of the pillow. Cozie Dolan introduced a trick brain in another. But we have never had a nice, shiny water bucket brought to the plate and made to do duty as a foothold for a batter.

Competition Keen in Tennis Tournery

Eleven names have already appeared on the bulletin board at the east door of the men's gym for the All-University tennis championship tournament to be held soon.

This registration sheet was published Tuesday afternoon by E. G. Schroeder, director of the physical education department, who will have charge of this tournament. Already there have been eleven names put down for the coming battle. Those already signed up are: Floyd Poettinger, Donald W. Brookman, E. G. Blackstone, J. D. Whitney, C. B. Swartz, Charles A. Harvey, H. S. Heath, Pete Vodangen, J. Van Der Zee, J. H. Warner, Samuel B. Whiting.

Lists Close Saturday

Registration will continue till Saturday afternoon. The drawing of first opponents will be done the same afternoon or evening at the gym, and the results will be posted on the same bulletin board Monday morning with specifications and rules for the contests.

Two medals will be given and men entering the tournament will get much enjoyment out of the matches as well as a chance at the championship. First place will get a gold medal and second place a silver one.

E. G. Blackstone, the third name to sign up in this year's tennis tournament was the runner-up in the tournament last year. He was defeated by Swartz with a score of 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. Swartz will be unable to compete in the tournament this year because he is now a varsity player.

Former Champ to Play
J. D. Whitney, the fourth name to put his name down, was the winner of the summer session tournament this summer among University people, defeating Gammeter in the finals.

This tournament is expected to be an exciting one with such names as Blackstone, Whitney, Warner, and Swartz. Many other good men are expected to sign up in the next few days.

Iowa City Drills for East Hi Game

Capital City Gridders Boast Powerful Aggregation
Coach Henry Soucek is drilling his Red and White gridders in earnest for the game with East High of Des Moines on Shrader Field next Saturday.

Although the capital city team suffered defeat at the hands of Sioux City last Saturday, they are still reckoned as one of the strongest teams on the Red and White schedule. The Des Moines lads played a strong game against their northern rivals and except for the second quarter, when Sioux City made their lone touchdown, they more than held their own.

Twice in the second half they missed scoring a touchdown by inches. The men whom Coach Soucek must watch the closest are Hauge and Kernahan, backs. These men were consistent gainers against Sioux City and will probably be watched closely in Saturday's battle. Captain Thompson, end, and Olds, center, are strong points in the East line and will do much to upset the Little Hawk plays.

East High has always been somewhat of a jinx to the local gridders. Although the two teams have met six times the Des Moines team always manages to be on the long end of the count when the final whistle blows. The Red and White will put one of the best teams it has ever had in the field Saturday and has an even chance to win.

Coach Charles Kennet announces that the varsity and freshman golf squads will mix in a match at Finkbine field on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Captain Vernon of the varsity and Captain Moyer of the freshman will be responsible for the appearance of their men at the course. This match will be the first showing of the candidates for the team.

Chilson, Real Star
Chilson, who leads his team from quarterback position, was responsible largely for the first touchdown which evened the score after Creighton had rushed Colorado from its feet and scored in the opening minutes of play. He ripped through the Blue's line for first down and passed to Johnson, left end, for a touchdown. Creighton had failed to kick goal, but Healy was successful.

It was in the final quarter, however, that he fought best. Faced with prospects of one of Fitzgibbon's long spiral dropkicks going between the bars and wiping out Colorado's margin, he tore into the Blue line mercilessly. Successive runs netted him twenty-three yards, sixty yards and sixteen yards. Colorado's line was holding, likewise.

Four Plays Not 40 Yards
In the final scoring maneuver, Colorado got the ball on an intercepted pass on the Blue thirty-seven yard line. Chilson went through right tackle three yards, passed eleven yards to Johnson, went around the left end for eleven more and sped straight through center fourteen yards to a touchdown. Healy again kicked.

Colorado Thrills Legion Rooters With 14-6 Win Over Creighton

Chilson Leads Team in Spectacular Mix

(By The Associated Press) OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 7.—Captain Chilson of the University of Colorado football team led his men to a 14 to 6 victory over Creighton University's grid stars here today while a rollicking American Legion convention crowd which comfortably filled Creighton's new stadium cheered its appreciation. It was Creighton's home field, but the crowd was impartial, and the Colorado victory was occasion for rousing demonstrations by legion delegates from that state.

Chilson, Real Star
Chilson, who leads his team from quarterback position, was responsible largely for the first touchdown which evened the score after Creighton had rushed Colorado from its feet and scored in the opening minutes of play. He ripped through the Blue line for first down and passed to Johnson, left end, for a touchdown. Creighton had failed to kick goal, but Healy was successful.

Four Plays Net 40 Yards
In the final scoring maneuver, Colorado got the ball on an intercepted pass on the Blue thirty-seven yard line. Chilson went through right tackle three yards, passed eleven yards to Johnson, went around the left end for eleven more and sped straight through center fourteen yards to a touchdown. Healy again kicked.

Former Champ to Play
J. D. Whitney, the fourth man to put his name down, was the winner of the summer season tournament this summer among University people, defeating Gammeterstein in the finals.

Chicago
CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—With only the whole of the Maroon regular squad in the lineup, Coach J. J. Stagg of the University of Chicago gave every man on the team a chance to show his side-splitting ability in the course of a maze today.

Michigan
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 7 (AP)—Freshmen provided with Indiana plays scrimmaged with the University of Michigan football team today. The varsity tried out several new plays with increasing effectiveness. The first secret practice in the Indiana game will be held tomorrow.

Homecoming Game Tickets Still Available -- Griffin

Although only ten days remain before the football teams of Iowa and Illinois take the field for the game which will feature the Hawkeyes Homecoming on October 17, there are still plenty of seats on hand, according to K. E. Griffin, manager of ticket sales.

Half fare railroad rates on the Rock Island Lines from all points in Iowa and special trains from Davenport and Des Moines are expected to swell the attendance.

Alumni associations are arranging for specials from Chicago and Omaha. It is certain that there will also be a special train from Urbana bringing a horde of Illinois students. One thousand tickets were sent to Urbana for disposal.

Pi Epsilon Pi is offering choice seats to rooters.

There are still a few seats left in the big PEP section for the Homecoming game with Illinois and Pi Epsilon Pi wants them all filled! The plan for the pep section this year is to have a large colored 1 with a black outline. This color scheme is to be attained by the use of part gold colored clothes and part black colored, and the section is to be filled by men only.

They are attempting to make this section 350 strong. It is the best section in the grandstand, being on the 50 yard line. With tickets at a premium, this section will not be empty long.

If you have an 1 ticket reserved, get it exchanged, and see Bill Baird who has charge of the section.

Give me a pipe . . . and P. A.!

WHEN Comp. Lit. and Physics 3-B are crowding for attention; when I've just received an over-cut notice from the Dean; when my allowance is a month off and the stub of my check-book confesses a balance of $9.32, give me a pipe and Prince Albert. I want to be happy!

Trouble's a bubble, they say. And I can prove it . . . with my jimmy-pipe and P. A. Just never was a friend like Prince Albert. Cool and sweet and soothing, P. A.'s true-blue smoke zooms up the stem, knocking troubles for a row of test-tubes.

Never a tongue-bite or throat-parch. Just cool contentment, no matter how hard you hit it up. Give me a grate fire to chase the chill of winter nights, an easy chair and my jimmy-pipe packed with P. A. Nearby, a tidy red tin for frequent refills. I know, Brother, I know!

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moisture top. And always with every bit of tin and paper removed by the Prince Albert process.

Wallace Glaspey Dragged Across Pavement by Automobile

Condition Serious; Fear Internal Injury

Mishap Occurs When Woman Attempts to Pass Ford

Stopping to fix his tire at a free air station on E. Burlington street at noon yesterday, Wallace N. Glaspey, of Hills, Iowa, was struck by a Ford sedan and carried a distance of ten feet. Mrs. S. A. Fitzgerald was the driver of the sedan.

Mr. Glaspey was placed in a student's car and taken to a local hospital where physicians report that he is in a serious condition. No bones were broken and outside injuries were not serious, but it is feared that he may have been injured internally.

The mishap occurred when Mrs. Fitzgerald attempted to pass another car near the Standard Oil station. Making the turn to the left to go around the other auto, she struck Mr. Glaspey, who was fixing his tire. Mrs. Fitzgerald brought her car to a stop as soon as she could, it is reported. Glaspey has been working in this vicinity recently.

Temperature Drops to 33 Degrees; Frost Harmless

The lowest temperature for the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 p. m. last night, as recorded by Prof. John R. Kelly, Iowa City's official observer, was 33 degrees and the maximum registered 57 degrees.

The frost of yesterday is not thought to have done any serious damage around here as the corn was out of danger. Frosts usually hit Iowa City about September 20. It was held off unusually long this year, giving crops a good chance to mature.

High School Plans Mixer

Pupils of the university Junior high school are making plans for their first mixer of the school year, to be held in the recreation room Friday night. In the receiving line were: Mr. and Mrs. LaSheck and daughters, Dean Burge and Rachel C. LaSheck, of Buffalo. Ruth LaSheck, another daughter, was unable to be present because of illness.

The inn was decorated in yellow to carry out the gold color.

Among the out-of-town guests were Conrad Becker, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, a brother of Mrs. LaSheck, and Mrs. Helen Ruth of Marshalltown.

Plan to Extend Iowa City Park

Board Buys Sanders Property; To Start Work in 1926

The confines of the city park have leaped across the Iowa river and the east bank of the stream will soon be converted into a well landscaped plot if plans of the park commissioners mature.

The strip of ground from the park bridge north to the Ball property, and from the center of the river on the east side, has been bought from the park board—James Aldous, Will Schmidt, and Mrs. W. H. Wagner. Two small strips in front of the Kappa Sigma lot and the property of Dr. C. J. Rowan are still privately owned, but the commission hopes, in time, to be able to secure this also.

Improvements will be started in 1926, when the strip will be cleared and planted with shrubs, trees, hedges, and beds of flowers. The board plans to make this a real beauty spot, one of the best in the city. A sea wall will be built along the bank to protect the property from washing, according to present plans of the commission.

C.C.E. to Have Party

The Congregational Christian Endeavor will hold a "Mother Goose" party in the church at 8 p. m. Saturday. Details of the program are to be concealed until the last moment, but the committee in charge promises an evening of unique entertainment. Those who have forgotten their "Mother Goose" are urged to refresh their memories before Saturday night.

Miss Elizabeth Cotton, of the Bandbox Flat shop, returned Tuesday night from Chicago where she spent several days purchasing hats.

Army Pilots Stop Here on Journey to Mitchell Field

Visit National Legion Convention; Fly in Bombing Planes

Breakfast in Omaha, luncheon in Iowa City, and supper in Dayton, Ohio, was the program of the crew which landed nine large bombing planes at Smith field yesterday. Capt. J. H. Davidson was in charge of the squadron and reported fair flying conditions save for the extreme cold which numbed their bodies in spite of their fleeced clothing.

The nine planes were of the D.H. 4b, type from the third attack group stationed at the Kelly field, San Antonio, Texas. They stopped off at the American Legion convention at Omaha before proceeding to Mitchell Field, Long Island, where aerial races will be held. Their duty will be to take part in the maneuvers on the eastern coast.

At Omaha, they took part in the gigantic parade in which they estimated there were 150,000 people. President Coolidge left before the conclusion of the ceremonies in order to catch his train which departed at 5:30 p. m. "Stormy Peter" Mitchell, they stated, was not on the grounds.

Under Capt. J. H. Davidson were: Lieuts. F. O. Carroll, R. C. Zettel, H. G. Crocker, H. S. Vanderberg, I. G. Greene, E. E. Patridge, E. F. Booth, N. D. Frost. The master mechanics were: Sergts. Ward, Laza, Mooney, Baros, Peck, Simmons, Mannig, Schoenack, and "Bunker" Hill.

Wheat Drops at Chicago Market

Buying Lacks Volume; Purchasers Become Sellers

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Wheat values collapsed today despite a noticeable upward trend at the start. According to some observers, the reaction was largely due to the circumstances that successive jumps had carried the market more than 9c a bushel above present level week and a setback was to have been looked for.

Wheat closed heavy, 2½c to 3½c net lower, new style December 1.38½ to 1.38¾ and May 1.38½ to 1.39 with corn 1½ to 2½c off, oats at ¾ to ¾c decline to 1½c advance, and provisions ten cents to 7½c down.

Crumbling of prices in the wheat market began when the fact grew apparent that although unfavorable weather continued in Canada and in the northwestern states, the new buying today lacked volume and appeared to be mostly for previous sellers.

Some of the chief buyers of late became sellers and quickly demonstrated that the market was without adequate support. Breaks in price which rapidly followed were to some extent due to 21,233,900 bushels increase of the world's available supply total and reports of rain in Argentina, where yesterday there had been complaint of dry weather.

Foreigners were said to have been active in today's selling of wheat. The southwest was also credited with selling rather freely. Disturbing financial reports from Bucharest, and from Hungary and Australia were given considerable no-

Dakin Elect Senior P

Kutsch, Smith, Morris Chosen as Other Class Leaders

Liberal arts students turned out 1,115 strong yesterday at the annual class elections held in the liberal arts lounge room between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Allin Dakin, of Mason City, who was elected president of the senior class, is president of A. F. L., president of Y. M. C. A., president of Seabard and Blade, member of the Irving Institute, president of Phi Delta Gamma, professional fraternity and member of Sigma Nu, social fraternity.

J. Howard Sheldon, Webster City, elected vice-president of the senior class, is a member of A. F. L., editor of the 1925 Hawkeye, member of Sigma Delta Chi, received a cross country "I" and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity.

Julia Dondore of Iowa City, who was elected secretary and treasurer of the Erodelphian literary society and Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Paul Smith, of Waterloo, president of the junior class, won an "I", is on the varsity football squad, and is affiliated with Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity.

George Van Dusen of Anamosa, vice president for the juniors, is an "I" man in basketball and is a member of Chi Kappa Pi. Paul Toomey of Iowa City, elected secretary of the junior class, is president of Phi Gamma Delta, member of the Forensic council, University Players board and Newman club.

Sophis Chose Football Star
For the sophomore class, Nicholas Kutsch, Sioux City, three-time national man, member of the varsity football squad and of Kappa Beta Psi is president, Clarence Andrews of New London was elected vice president and Frank Chul, Cedar Rapids, captain of freshman track team for 1924 and member of Phi Kappa Psi was elected secretary and treasurer.

Morrison Leads Freshmen
Freshman officers are: Donald Morrison, Traer, pledged to Sigma Pi, president; Forrest Twogood, Sioux City, pledged to Phi Delta Theta, vice president; and Dorothy Gillis, Osage, pledged to Alpha Chi Omega, secretary and treasurer.

Of the 1,115 votes cast, 222 were from the senior class, 218 from the junior class, 306 from the sophomore class and 369 from the freshmen. Sixty-four ballots were scratched. Ballots were designated scratched for three reasons: the failure to write the name at the top of the ballot, failure to check the name for whom the vote was cast, and irregularity, such as marks on the ballot in addition to those necessary to make the ballot valid.

Law Votes Struck Out
Early yesterday afternoon eighteen freshman law votes were struck out because of a misunderstanding on the part of the decision made by H. C. Dorcas, registrar, and George F. Kay, dean of the liberal arts college, that freshmen registered for law would, as in the past, not be allowed to vote at liberal arts elections.

The committee on elections was Philip Adler, Myrna MacCreedy, Richard Antherton and Allin Dakin. There were twelve ballot counters, three to a class. The polls were completely free from violations of the voting rules. Voters were taken into the polls four at a time and according to the committee on elections, "the polls were not jammed at any time."

Freshmen showed the least ability at voting, having scratched twenty-five of the 369 votes cast. Eleven were scratched by seniors, fourteen by juniors, and fourteen by sophomores.
