

Published Every Morning, Except Monday, by Student Publications Incorporated

der Trial board Plans side Building

Also Decides to Close
Two Kindergartens
at Meeting

A new building for the school to cost between $15,000 and $25,000 and a motion to close the two kindergartens and the pupils to the Henry Sabin school were discussed at the meeting of the Iowa City school board last night.

The new Kellogg school building which will be located at the east River street in Manville, Iowa, will be a one-story building, with a basement and will contain classrooms, a gymnasium, and an auditorium. It will be constructed of brick and will be modern throughout.

The motion to close the Kellogg and Kellogg kindergartens was passed by a three to two vote, the student body casting the deciding vote. For the motion, Thomas Farrell, Dr. George Allen, and Mrs. Grace Webber, and against it were Frank Naylor and E. J. Whiting.

A special meeting to go over the plans with several architects was held upon next Wednesday night.

Breaks Two Ribs

Charles Churney, foreman of the brick laying crew on the new building, broke two ribs in a fall while at work yesterday.

Tonight!

7:30

Cutlets 25¢

sausage

's Cafeteria

ON'T
RIVE

ur Car
n Town of spending needless time looking for parking space.

Grocery Store and you are best quality groceries deliv-table. It's so much more

TODAY

the GAME

n Radio

asion by pply Co.

TS'

Hawks Win Ohio Mud Fight 15-0

Michigan Squares Accounts With Illini 3 to 0 Fry Tears Buckeye Defense to Pieces

Record Crowd Sees Wolverine Victory

Friedman's Goal From Field Margin of Victory

(By The Associated Press) CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 24—Michigan, learning about Red Grange in 1924, presented Benny Friedman, the Wolverine's point scoring ace to Illinois today, to square accounts for the disastrous route of a year ago.

In one of the greatest football games of the western conference championship, Michigan defeated Illinois 3 to 0, while 67,000 spectators, a record breaking Homecoming crowd, gazed down on the spectacle from Illinois' $2,000,000 Memorial Stadium. The huge double deck affair was packed from top to bottom and 20,000 persons were turned away.

Score in Second Quarter

The Wolverines, humiliated by the 39 to 14 defeat of a year ago, achieved their victory near the finish of the second period when Friedman, Yost's star quarterback, booted a field goal at a difficult angle from the 24 yard line after he and his team mates had advanced the ball from midfield.

Kick Made Possible

The Wolverine got possession of the ball when Oosterbain intercepted ritton's forward pass. Friedman started a triple pass that was largely responsible for the gain that enabled him to be in position to boot the goal.

Illinois Attempt Tie

Illinois fighting gamely under the best form they have shown this season, tried desperately to tie the score with field goals but both attempts were failures. Earl Britton, the Illinois kicker, made his first attempt from the 51 yard line in the second period, but the effort was short by ten feet. In the third period, Britton again kicked from the 34 yard line.

Y. M. C. A. Holds Annual Hi-Y Dinner

Forty men attended the annual Hi-Y and Camp Foster dinner at Youde's Inn last night. The work of the Y. M. C. A. and its plans for the year were discussed by the speakers, who emphasized the need of each man taking an active part in some work.

Allen Dakin, A4 of Mason City, president of the Y. M. C. A., introduced the members of the cabinet. Rufus F. Fitzgerald, director of the Memorial Union, told of the plans to make the association a more important factor in the university life. Camp Foster and its work in drawing men out of their shell was discussed by Raymond Rule, A1 of Mason City.

Charles E. Ford of Des Moines, state boys' work secretary, explained his work to the gathering. Oral D. Cunningham, Cm '25, of Des Moines, concluded the program.

Debate 'I' Books to Be Issued Monday

The first debate "I" books ever issued at the university will be released Monday morning from Prof. A. C. Baird's office, room 12, liberal arts building. The books are in reality a season ticket covering the six major debates of the year, including the international debate with Cambridge November 19.

During the past few weeks, those who paid their dollar for a book were presented with a card as the "I" books were held up in the print shop. The books may now be obtained by presenting the card at liberal arts building from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. or from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

Southern Eleven Trounces Purple

(By The Associated Press) STAGG FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 24—Two southern stars blazed bright in the football firmament for a brief two hours today and when they had finished their destructive work the tropical "green wave" from Tulane found itself in possession of 18 points while a badly battered Northwestern aggregation had amassed but seven.

The two stars were "Peggy" Flourney, the Dixie team's blushing halfback and Captain Leslie Lautenschlaeger. Flourney accounted for all three of his team's touchdowns. Flourney countered Lewis' punts with boots averaging well over fifty yards.

Reverend Maurer Brilliant Speaker, Says Dean Rienow

Beloit College Head Appears Today at Vespers

"A brilliant man, comparatively young, a fine speaker and a leader in religious, educational and social work," is the way Dean Rienow speaks of the Rev. Irving Maurer, president of Beloit college, who will speak on "The Message of an Educated Life" at the vesper services in the natural science auditorium at 4 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Maurer will arrive this morning direct from the Congressional convention at Washington, D. C. where he was the personal guest of President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge at the White House. He is an Iowan by birth, but graduated from the school of religion at Yale. Dean Charles R. Brown, an alumnus of Iowa and head of the school of divinity at Yale, worked with him at that time and wrote recently to Professor G. T. W. Patrick, assuring him of an eloquent speech and splendid address from the Rev. Mr. Maurer. D. D. Murphy, president of the state board of education for many years is a personal friend of the Rev. Mr. Maurer.

Morrison Names New Committee for Frosh Party

Quad Man Added to List; Pan-Hels Not Represented

Acting under the pressure of the social committee and the dean of men's office, Donald Morrison, A1 of Traer, president of the freshman class, made one change in freshman party committee appointments by substituting Steward Jorgenson of Correctionville as a non-fraternity representative.

The party committee was objected to because of its partisan nature, since neither the pan-hellenic nor the non-fraternity group was represented thereon. On the new committee the pan-hellenic faction is not represented. Dean Rienow stated last night to the Daily Iowan "The new committee has my ratification. You will note that Steward Jorgenson, non-fraternity representative from the quadrangle, has been placed on the committee."

Seven on Committee

The new committee follows: Don Barral, Delta Chi; John Falvey, Phi Kappa; August Kruskop, Phi Kappa Rho; Mable Martin; Sigma Kappa; Odette Allen, Chi Omega; Bert Baehm; Chi Kappa Pi; Stewart Jorgenson, quadrangle.

Dean Rienow stated last night, "I feel that the Daily Iowan's report emphasized the political breach too much. Someone jumped at conclusions."

Coolidge Advises Control of Youth

Declares Parenthood Breaking Down in Duty to Home

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—American parents were called upon by President Coolidge today to take a firmer hand in controlling from the home the youth of the nation.

Addressing in the 42nd international convention of the Young Men's Christian association of the United States and Canada, the president declared the need for parental action through the home is paramount at this time when there are "too many indications that the functions of parenthood are breaking down."

"The home is the cornerstone of the nation," he said, "and any effective better homes movement must begin with the training of the youth for those responsibilities, or we shall see the disposition to attempt in some way to turn over to the government the responsibilities for the rearing of children constantly increased."

Airman Crashes to Death When Planes Collide in Air

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 24 (AP)—Lieut. Edgar L. Adams, U. S. N., airman was killed and two others injured when two airplanes attached to the battle fleet, collided 45 miles north of here, Lieutenant L. C. Stevens and Chief Machinist's Mate J. Mills received slight injuries in the collision.

Honor the Team; Meet Them—Jessup

"The team won a great victory and played a wonderful game; we should do them all honor by meeting them at the train when they return," were the words of President Walter A. Jessup.

All loyal Iowans second the words of their Prexy—all loyal Iowans will greet their team when it returns.

At 3:41, Sunday afternoon, they will come back to the Rock Island station, crippled and sore perhaps, but covered with glory, and reveling in the fact that Old Gold stands behind them.

Beginning the year, weakened by the loss of many old players, the team fought for nearly two months through the torments of rain, cold, exams, and blows of their opponents. On Homecoming day they gave all they had to win in the last few minutes from the fighting Illini, in one of the greatest come-backs ever witnessed in the mid-west. They sent the alumni home rejoicing—proud of Old Gold.

Iowa Won by Taking Advantage of Breaks

Graham's boots. Dauber recovered. Another bad break for the Ohio boys, did you say? Not on your life, just more alertness on the part of Ingwersen's pupils. The play gave Buzz Hogan an opportunity to do his stuff with his toe.

Another time when Ohio fumbled, Roney was right there to scoop it out of the mud and the recovery proved the stepping stone to the second touchdown, which was scored by Schirmer.

Be Alert

Iowa's motto this rainy but by no means dreary afternoon, was "be alert" and by following it through they proved that most of the sport events in the state of Ohio had been all wet in their collective predictions. Ninety-eight per cent picked the Buckeyes to win. It was a great game despite the mud and while much remains to be accomplished with the Iowa line, there isn't any doubt but that the Hawkeyes are as good as they come in the west.

While one was disappointed in seeing Nick Kutsch, the flying Dutchman, do a nose dive, it was gratifying to learn that Ingwersen doesn't depend on one man to win games. The proper attitude, team work, and alertness is an excellent recipe for the stuff of which Western conference championships are made.

Iowan Correspondent Tells of Brains Hawk Plays

(Special Correspondent for the Iowan) COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24 — Sam Barry once put forth this axiom—"it isn't the team that gets the breaks; that wins a game, it's the team that takes advantage of the breaks." That's why Iowa defeated Ohio State here this afternoon.

The Hawkeyes were alert, just as they had been coached to be by young Hurl Ingwersen, whose star as a gridiron mentor is in its ascendancy.

Whenever there was a break today, an Iowa man was there to turn it to his team's favor. After Wesley Fry had scored a touchdown for Iowa, in the second quarter, Ohio State sprang forth with their famed aerial attack and things were looking dark for our side.

Roney Recovers Fumble

With the ball in Iowa's twenty yard line, Schirmer intercepted a pass at the right time. The Ohio fans called it a bad break for the Buckeyes but this correspondent called it alertness.

Again in the third quarter, an Ohio man fumbled one of Don

Hoosiers Tune Down Ohio by Greatly Improved Offensive

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 24 (AP)—Showing a greatly improved offense, which swept the Ohio team off its feet, Indiana university defeated Miami university of Ohio today 25 to 7. Miami's only touchdown was made in the third period against the Crimson reserves.

Divorced Wife of Tobacco King Dies in Music Studio

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Lillian N. Duke, who was divorced twenty years ago by the late tobacco magnate, James B. Duke, died tonight in her music studio on west Eighth street. She had been unconscious since October 22 when she suffered two cerebral hemorrhages.

Pope Said, "Erarre Humanum-Est" and Gridgraph Demonstrates It

Pope, in an offhand expression once said, "To err is human." Boy, if that's the case, the gridgraph sure ain't the most human invention ever produced to amuse the public.

Not wishing to humiliate the gridgraph or its crew nor to make any harsh statements against it but rather to reproduce how humorous some mistakes can be when taken in a carefree manner by the lighter minds, I here give a play-by-play (7) report of the Iowa-Ohio mud throwing battle as staged in Columbus yesterday.

Lights Flash On

It's 1:30, and the game is about to begin. The lights flash on the big green oval known as the Gridgraph and a thrill runs through the several thousand football fans crowded into the Men's Gym. On the right side of the gridgraph appear the names of each of Iowa's players, and on the left, those of Ohio's machine. Ohio's lights are on, the football (a small light on the ground glass field) appears on the 40 yd. line and the game has begun.

Ten Lights to Go

First Quarter— Ohio kicks off to Fry who is downed by some thoughtless Ohio player. First down and ten lights to go. No gain and Iowa punts the little light clear down to the other side. Ohio, finding the light to be of no use, throws it all the way back. Iowa makes a forward pass through the line for a ten yard end run resulting in a jumble of lights. Graham booted the ball to Ohio. Ohio attempts

Phil Foster Cast in Title Role of Andreyev Tragedy

35 Players Rehearsing Daily in "He Who Gets Slapped"

"HE WHO GETS SLAPPED" By Leonida Andreyev He, Who Gets Slapped ---- Phillip Foster Zinida, the lion tamer ---- Katherine Leytze Consuelo, the bare-back rider ---- Marion Barnett Papa Briquet, manager of the circus ---- Harold Nason Count Mancini ---- Richard Atherton Jackson, the clown ---- Wallace Roach Gentleman ---- Bill Baird Polly, musical clown ---- James Gow Baron Regnard ---- Elbert Cordroy The Usher ---- Clifford Dikeman

"He Who Gets Slapped," the third of the university plays this year, will be produced in the university theatre here December 16 and 17. The play was written by Leonida Andreyev, a Russian. It has been played professionally by Richard Bennett, Basil Sydney and others of note.

The setting of this play is in the dressing room of a French circus near Paris. The story tells the tragedy found in his by a man of intellectual standing and culture who is so slapped and battered about by the world that he endeavors to get away from it all by joining a circus and becoming a clown. The plot simply portrays the tragedy of his life in that company.

24 Minor Roles

The cast includes thirty-five people, the principals of which are given above. Other parts will be played by the following: Estella, one of the actresses, Harriett Doty; the Snake Charmer, Marjorie Taylor; Wardrobe Lady, Damaris Kitch; the Sword Girl, Azell Anderson; Pantomime Lady, Maurine Meis; Spanish Dancer, Rayma Rawson; Riding Master, Martin Coutant; Francois, John McCreary; the Red Acrobat, Jack Stanfield; the Strong Man, D. S. Mills; Angelica, Alice Van Law; the Dolly Dancers, Doris Lampe, Helen Wilbur, Allene Walton, Alice Post, Velma Tobin, Marjorie Kay and Vivian McCarty; the Ring Master, Eugene K. Mattison; and an actress, Vera Regan.

Experienced Players

Several of the players in this cast have appeared in public performances previously. Phillip Foster, A2 of Mason City, played the lead in "The Beggar on Horseback" which was given last year. Katherine Leytze, A4 of Independence, took the part of Mrs. Hollunder in "Lilium." Marion Barnett, A3 of Independence, appeared last year in "The Silver Box." Harold Nason, D4 of Marshalltown, and Bill Baird, A4 of Mason City, both appeared in "Midsummer Night's Dream," also given last year. Richard Atherton, A4 of Davenport, played in "Fashions" and James Gow, A2 of Vinton, appeared last summer in the "Shoemakers' Holiday."

Rehearsals are now in progress at the Suellep Studio. "He Who Gets Slapped," will be the third play to be given by University Players this year.

Football Results

IOWA 15; OHIO 0. Michigan 3; Illinois 0. Wisconsin 7; Purdue 0. Pennsylvania 7; Chicago 0. Tulane 18; Northwestern 7. Notre Dame 19; Minnesota 7. Indiana 25; Lewis 0. Cornell 3; Parsons 0. Missouri 3; Kansas Aggies 0. Iowa State 28; Washington 13. University of Southern California 56; Arizona 0. Nebraska 14; Kansas 0. Drake 7; Grinnell 6. Yale 20; Brown 0. Colgate 3; Princeton 0. Dartmouth 22; Harvard 9.

Add Ken McDonald to Daily Iowan Editors

Wet Field and Heavy Mist Make Contest Damp Affair

Kenneth McDonald, dramatic critic of The Daily Iowan last year, steps into his own boots again this year, according to an appointment just made by Phillip Adler, The Iowan's editor. McDonald begins his work as dramatic editor at once.

The selection was based upon McDonald's experience both in dramatics and newspaper work. Previous to his desk editorship last year, he was a reporter on the Iowan. He is a member of University players, Sigma Delta Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, and appeared in the cast of "Beggar on Horseback."

The Iowans outshone the Ohioans in the first quarter and in the second period they flashed across the field to a touchdown after Fry had whisked the ball 51 yards toward the Buckeye goal. The subsequent dash from the twenty yard line put the ball in scoring position and Fry carried it to a touchdown.

Bulgars to Fight Further Invasion

(By The Associated Press) SOFIA, Oct. 24—Bulgaria will rebel by force of arms any further invasion of her territory. Mindful of her signature of the Neuilly treaty, Bulgaria will fight with the few thousand men left her as a standing army.

Macedonia in Terror

Volunteers flocking to the defense of their national territory, although not officially mobilized or called to arms, will be allowed to battle alongside their brothers to defend their soil. Such is the official information imparted by the Ministry of National defense tonight.

Meanwhile terror reigns in Macedonia. The refugee problem, with men, women, and children fleeing along impassable roads, stumbling, falling and dying in exhaustion, is becoming too great for the Bulgarian Red Cross to handle.

Hogan Kicks

Iowa more clearly established its chances for victory in the third quarter, when Hogan was rushed into the melee for a single play. From the 25 yard line he dropkicked a field goal and returned to the bench. The increasing superiority of the Hawkeyes was manifested in the final quarter, when Ohio State seldom had the ball and was stopped on every one of its tactics. A second string line was unable to meet the continued Hawkeye onslaught and Schirmer after figuring in a series of ground gaining plays broke through the center of the line for twelve yards and a touchdown. The Iowans were unable to make good on their attempts for extra points after their touchdowns.

Ability to make good on the breaks was coupled with Iowa's unflinching offense, the chief figures of which were Fry and Schirmer, the stars of the game. Galloping "Cowboy Nick" Kutsch was effectively stopped by the Buckeyes and in that accomplishment Ohio State solace tonight. The Sioux City lad who figured so prominently in the Iowa victory over Illinois last week, proved ineffective on nearly every try he made. Coach Ingwersen kept him on the sidelines throughout the second half, apparently satisfied with the slashes of Fry and Schirmer and not desirous of risking injury to the stellar back on the hazardous field of slime.

Press Association Ends Conference

The district conference of the Iowa Press association came to a conclusion yesterday afternoon with informal auto trips about the city and university. The Saturday morning session opened with Professor Lazell of the school of journalism presiding.

William S. Maulsby, assistant professor of journalism, addressed the gathering on the qualifications of a good reporter. He was followed by Paul C. Packer, dean of the college of education, who spoke of the newspaper and its relation to the school. George H. Gallup, instructor in the school of journalism, discussed journalism as a science.

John D. Aue, president of the Iowa publishers association, who was to speak was unable to be present.

Packer, Maulsby, and Gallup on Saturday's Program

It was a break in the game that led up to Iowa's last touchdown and the flickering out of the Ohio hopes that remained. Karow fumbled the ball while attempting to run around his left end and it was recovered by Roney, Iowa end, on Ohio's 25 yard line.

Clouds hanging low over the stadium from noon time sagged down to meet an uprising fog soon after the third quarter started and the two elevens battled back and forth in a haze. The players were covered from head to foot in mud, their helmets, faces, jerseys and breeches all taking on the same earthy hue. Spectators had difficulty in following the progress of the ball.

Ohio State had about 50-50 breaks on its forward passes, completing 6 out of 12 attempts for a total gain of 65 yards. Two of the passes were intercepted by the Iowans. The longest pass by the Ohioans was from Marek to Cunningham, which gained 26 yards. The others were for gains of from 4 to 9 yards. A long pass attempted by Cunningham was accurately placed and would have been good except for the coverage given the receiver by Iowa players.

Iowa Trip One Pass

Iowa attempted but one forward pass but it was good for a ten yard gain and added to the 51 yard run just previously ripped off by Fry, led directly to the concluding plays, for the first Hawkeye touchdown. The successful heave was from Kutsch to Fry. The teams stood even on

Today's Editorials

(TURN TO PAGE 4)

The Stands' Stand

A Declaration of Independence

The Clutch of the Machine

Iowa for Iowans

The Sphere of Religion

"Noblsse Oblige"

Wind Driven

E. C. Mabie Elected Secretary of National Drama League

Special Week In February Devoted to Theatre Study

Different Topic Will Be Considered Each Day

E. C. Mabie, director of the speech department, has recently returned from a meeting of the board of directors of the National Drama League which took place in Chicago October 19 and 20. At this meeting plans were made for the second national drama week.

Professor Mabie was made secretary of this organization, and in view of this fact, the speech department here will be active in giving publicity to the movement and in sending out plans and advertising material to be used in other places.

Observance of Week The dates set for drama week are February 14 to 20, and it will be observed all over the country in cities, universities, and colleges, where people are interested in dramatic work. It will be observed in Iowa City, as at other places, with each day set aside for the discussion of a certain subject.

The first day, Religious Drama day, February 14, will be for discussion of drama as an artistic force in religious life today and the possibilities of a dramatic treatment of religion. February 15, Professional Theatre day, will include speeches from well-known men encouraging better support of the spoken drama and better conditions for the actor.

Drama Books, Magazine and Library day, February 16, will take up the introduction of drama books into all libraries, suggesting that the people read a play before they see it.

Stress Little Theater February 17, Club and Organization day, will carry a plea for a deeper study of drama in clubs and more attention to drama lectures.

Community and Little Theatres—Rural Drama day, February 18, advocates the cause of a theatre in each community, with drama a part of the life in every community.

The last day of the conference, February 19, will be School and College day. Speakers on this subject will encourage the equipping of every school and college with a course in drama, a drama club, stage equipment and a dramatic director.

The "Drama League of America" appeals to all institutions and individuals for co-ordination in educating the public to appreciate and demand good drama. This league is supported in this movement by the American Library association, various church federations, representatives of the Professional Actors' and Managers' associations, the National Federation of Women's Clubs and the Year-Round Book-selling committee.

Pope's Philosophy Present at Grid Graph Exhibition

[CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1]

The next kickoff and Romey recoverers. (Loud huzzas!) Through the line for another penalty. Fry breaks loose for a 51 yard run and something else breaks loose in the gym. The quarter ends as football fans regain their own head pieces. Score 0-0; Iowa's favor.

Second Quarter. Cries of "Fix that light," still resound. Operator sticks his head above the battlements and announces that when the light flickers the ball is dead. Is corrected from the rear and we learn that the flickering light means that the ball is in action. Hooray! Who's right? Iowa fights in true Iowa spirit and ball is carried to Ohio's one yard line.

Bedlam breaks loose, but that was dead silence compared to the yells offered in praise of Fry's touchdown. Lights 4 and 2 flash on. "What, Iowa has 42 points already?" a Tri-Delt asks. Her Sigma Nu friend sets her right. The game proceeds. Ohio gets the ball again and attempts another forward pass, but the little red light flashes on just in time to prevent a touchdown on the part of Graham. Iowa's ball on the whitewashed line. (Which one? What's the diff?)

The clock on the board suddenly realizes its duty and spins around several times, finally stopping within the confines of the second quarter. Iowa fumbles, groans from the crowd. . . . Romey intercepts a pass, good old Romey. . . . attaboy, Romey. . . . Someone clapped his hands. Best of crowd takes action as a challenge and a wild stampede of feet and hands results. . . . What! Another kickoff? No just another pass incompleated. . . . Iowa drop kicks, resulting in complications in the scoring lights.

Third quarter over, another field goal, more line plunges around left end being intercepted by Romey etc., etc. . . . Announcer commits suicide and game is over. Iowa 15, Ohio 0. IOWA FIGHTS!

Purdue University Man Visits Iowa

T. Dean McClusky, a personal representative of President Elliott of Purdue University, is visiting at Iowa, investigating the administrative and education problems within the university.

Mr. McClusky conferred with President Walter A. Jessup and with Dean Paul C. Packer of the college of education and with the deans of other colleges yesterday. He will return to Purdue this evening.

Fry Tears Ohio Forward Wall to Shreds in Game

[CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1]

first downs. Only once was the ball lost on downs and that was when Ohio State in a frantic attempt to connect on its passes tried a fourth down and failed.

Karow continued his sensational plunging career and was never turned back in his attempts, except on the one costly occasion when he muffed the ball into opposing hands. Marek was not the runner for Ohio State that he had been touted to be. He showed flashes of brilliancy which were ineffective against the defense put up by Iowa's ends.

He threw four of the completed passes and proved a menace from that angle. His kicking was consistent but Graham topped him for distances, sometimes getting 50 to 65 yards out of his attempts.

The nearest the Buckeyes ever came to the Hawkeye goal line was in the closing moments of the second period, when the ball had been pushed to Iowa's 21 yard line by the thrusts of Karow and Marek and a series of passes. From that position, Marek essayed a pass but he was delayed, threw the ball too late and Schirmer intercepted it on his ten yard line. The Buckeyes' one real chance was gone.

The Ohio Stadium jinx is yet unbroken. Not since the big arena was dedicated in October of 1922 has Ohio State won a Big Ten game within its own confines. It is the third consecutive victory for Iowa on the stadium gridiron. The Hawkeyes have never dropped a game to

California U. Head Talks October 30

Dramatic Authority to Lecture Here After Eastern Trip

Prof. E. H. C. Oliphant, who is on a lecture tour to various points in the east, including Yale and Columbia universities, will stop at Iowa City and lecture before the department of English and the university, on Friday, October 30 at 11:00 a. m. in the south chamber of old capitol.

Professor Oliphant is an authority on Shakespeare, Elizabethan and modern drama, and on the subject of play reading. He has written various books and articles on these subjects. This lecture will be especially interesting to students of drama and those of the graduate college as well.

"We are very fortunate," said Professor Harvlin Craig, head of the English department, "in being able to have the services of scholars such as Professor Oliphant, as they pass through Iowa City."

The Buckeyes since the two schools opened relations three years ago, although they battled to a scoreless tie on Iowa's field last year.

The estimated attendance at the game today was 32,000, the largest crowd of the season, despite the fact that a drizzling rain was falling. It had been raining for twelve hours.

Summary Score by periods: Ohio State 0 0 0 0 - 0 Iowa 0 6 3 6 - 15 Iowa scoring—Touchdowns, Fry and Schirmer. Field goal—Hogan (substitute for Rodawig). Officials—Referee, James C. Masker, Northwestern; umpire, Fred H. Young, Illinois Wesleyan; field judge, M. Morton, Michigan; head linesman, W. C. Knight, Michigan. Time of periods—15 minutes each.

Read THE Daily IOWAN Want Ads

:: At the Theatres ::

By RUSSELL WILSON

Plain Heroine of "Pretty Ladies" Wins in the End

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Directed by Monta Bell. Presented at the Garden theater. THE CAST Maggie Keenan. Zasu Pitts Akoyus Cassidy. Tom Moore Selma Larson. Lilyan Tashman Frances White. Norma Shearer Roger Van Horn. George K. Arthur The Diamond Girl. Dorothy Seaton Adrienne. Helen D'Algy The Dream Man. Conrad Nagle The Baby Grand dancer. Ann Pennington

Smooth, sparkling, sophisticated stuff, this, against a velvet backdrop of humanness. It is a story of stage life from the pen of Adele Rogers St. John who knows her subject and Mr. Monta Bell, with clever and sympathetic direction, has made it glow upon the screen.

The "pretty ladies" are Follies girls, but the story is not so much theirs as it is that of the unpretentious comedienne of the show—Maggie Keenan, who is the only one of the bunch in whom SOME man is not interested. Maggie Keenan, called by them all "the salt of the earth," Maggie Keenan with her dream man, Maggie Keenan who for herself has lost all savor.

And then one day, when the theater is dark and only the scrub-women occupy the stage, Maggie wanders on it. From down in the orchestra pit come sounds. The dreamer is working out a composition of his own. Maggie surrepticiously doing a little dance to his music, falls over the footlights and lands in the drum. And so she meets her fate: Akoyus Cassidy!

The sweet-sour-sad love affair of Maggie and her drummer winds in and out through gorgeous stage effects, sordid and humorous episodes in the lives of the beauties of the show, fascinating bits from the world of the theater that you will enjoy.

Technicolor is used during the Follies acts presented and its effect on costumes, sets, and properties is exquisite.

Keen bits of foolery and pathos tug at your risibles and heart strings and the finale does not leave you too happy. Maggie's husband, after a night out has come back repentant and of his own accord and the obvious conclusion is that he'll never be bad anymore.

But you know that Maggie, holding desperately to her happiness will get into the semi-finals in the and praying over the sleeping heads singles.

Hunting Licenses Pass 1500 Mark

Applications for hunting licenses at the Johnson county court show a decided increase over the year. Yesterday eighteen licenses were issued by County Recorder M. Kadlec to residents of Johnson county, bringing the total of year to 1586. At this time there were only 1054 licenses issued according to the records of County Auditor Ed Sulek, who keeps permits then.

Semi-finals in Women's Net Tournament Begin Next Week

The competitors for the semi-finals of the women's tennis tournament doubles are many of them seeded players and strong matches are expected next week when the semi-finals will be played.

Monday, Genevieve Harter and Helen Leichliter will meet Christine Owen and Elizabeth Abel. The other matches to be played in the faculty-graduate doubles are between Gladys Brooker and Alice Rose, both seeded players, versus the Lang sisters, and the Misses Farrar and Day against Helen Burts and Helen Springer.

Dope has it that Elizabeth Abel will get into the semi-finals in the and praying over the sleeping heads singles.

Alpha Chi Omega

Sam Ryerson is spending the week end in Rock Island, Roland Williams in Davenport, Leonard Tracer in Clinton, George Wain in Cedar Rapids and Robert Bickel in Waterloo.

Alpha Chi Omega

Elizabeth Evans has gone to Grinnell for Homecoming; Donna Curran is a week-end guest in Ottumwa.

Alpha Delta Pi

Katherine Leslie is visiting in Clinton and Lea Perry in Greene. Marcia Stevenson, Cyrella Falley and Madelyn Hoffman are spending the week-end in Cedar Falls.

Phi Mu

Phi Mu announces the pledging of Velma Wymer, A2 of Seymour and Lavina Riggs A2 of Lake Park. Avalon Law of Washington is a week-end guest at the chapter house.

Alpha Tau Beta

Helen Brown is visiting in Washington. The chapter is entertaining at breakfast Sunday.

Alpha Xi Delta

Ramona Evans, Mary Lou Allen and Clara Sprinker drove to Ottumwa for the week-end.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega was hostess at a bridge luncheon for the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City alumnae Saturday afternoon at the chapter house.

Chi Omega

Chi Omega announces the pledging of Ruth MacVicar of Clarion.

Alpha Chi Omega

Madeline Johnson of Spencer is a visitor at the chapter house.

Delta Chi

Delta Chi is entertaining Paul Bauer and Cecil White.

THE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA
FIFTH PROGRAM OF DISTINCTIVE PLAYS
1925 - 1926

Minick October 28-29
An American Folk Comedy by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman

The Swan February 10-11
A Romantic Comedy by FRANZ MOLNAR

The Whiteheaded Boy Nov. 11-12
An Irish Farce-Comedy by LENNOX ROBINSON

Romeo and Juliet March 3-4
Shakespeare's Ever Popular Tragedy

He Who Gets Slapped December 16-17
An Unusual Russian Play LEONID ANDREYEV
"Even More Picturesque than LILIOM"

Original Long Play April 14-15
A new Play, "The First Time on any Stage"
Scripts must be submitted to the director before February first

CANDIDA January 20-21
A Pleasant Play by BERNARD SHAW
With ALICE W. MILLS in the Title Role

Merton of the Movies May 5-6
"One of the Cleverest Satirical Comedies in Years" by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly

SPECIAL SUNDAY MENU
Cream of Chicken Soup
Celery and Olives
Fricassee of chicken, Cranberry sauce
Special Quality steak—cooked to order
Roast Prime Ribs of Beef, au jus
Roast Leg of Pork, dressing
Roast Leg of Baby Veal, jelly
Cream Whipped Potatoes
Combination Salad
Vanilla ice cream with wafers
Coffee Tea Milk
Special Today Only $5.50 Meal Ticket for $4.00

QUALITY CAFE

108 South Dubuque Street Across from Jefferson Hotel

Trinity Episcopal Church

SUNDAY—10:45 A. M.

SERMON
"WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?"
REV. HARRY SHERMAN LONGLEY

New Artistic Mountings Talented Players

Patrons please follow these directions in re-serving seats

- A. For "MINICK" General reservation opens Wednesday, Oct. 28th, 9 a. m. at William's Iowa Supply
- B. For the remaining plays if you desire you may—
 1. Place your season tickets on file at the University Theatre office, room 10, Liberal Arts hall with 16 cents to cover postage.
 2. Indicate on envelopes held there which seats you prefer, and whether you wish to attend the first or second performance of each production.
 3. The reservation tickets for each play will then be mailed to you without further effort on your part.

SEE "MINICK" OCTOBER 28-29
BUY SEASON TICKETS NOW! 8-PLAYS-$5 ADMISSION EACH PLAY $1 SAVE $3
Season Tickets Now on Sale at Whetstone's, the Bookstores, by Students and at the Office of the Department of Speech, Room 10, Liberal Arts Hall.

Sunday, October 25, 1925
IN UNIVERS SOCIAL CIRC
Alpha Chi Omega
Alpha Delta Pi
Phi Mu
Alpha Tau Beta
Alpha Xi Delta
Alpha Chi Omega
Chi Omega
Alpha Chi Omega
Delta Chi
"What Ails Our Youth?"
sermon subject
Unitarian Church
at 11
Y. P. R. U.
Social Hour and Supper at 6
Dr. Graham Asher on Fact and Fancy About Diet, at 7
E V
Me
Thi
BR
Iowa

IN UNIVERSITY SOCIAL CIRCLES

Acacia
Sam Ryerson is spending the week-end in Rock Island, Roland Williams in Davenport, Leonard Trager in Clinton, George Wain in Cedar Rapids and Robert Bickel in Waterloo.

Alpha Chi Omega
Elizabeth Evans has gone to Grinnell for Homecoming. Donna Curran is a week-end guest in Ottumwa.

Alpha Delta Pi
Katherine Leslie is visiting in Clinton and Lea Perry in Greene. Marcia Stevenson, Cyrilla Fahley and Madeline Hoffman are spending the week-end in Cedar Falls.

Phi Mu
Phi Mu announces the pledging sermon: "Who is a Christian?" at 10:45 a. m. Morning service at 11:00 a. m. The holy communion at 8 a. m. Children's church at 10:00 a. m. Children's church at school of religion.

Alpha Tau Beta
Helen Brown is visiting in Washington. The chapter is entertaining at breakfast Sunday.

Alpha Xi Delta
Ramona Evans, Mary Lou Allen and Clara Springer drove to Ottumwa for the week-end.

Alpha Chi Omega
Alpha Chi Omega was hostess at a bridge luncheon for the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City alumnae Saturday afternoon at the chapter house.

Chi Omega
Chi Omega announces the pledging of Ruth MacVicar of Clarion.

Alpha Chi Omega
Madeline Johnson of Spencer is a visitor at the chapter house.

Delta Chi
Delta Chi is entertaining Paul Bauer and Cecil White.

Delta Zeta
Viola Naber and Vera Hood are guests in Cedar Rapids. Mrs. D. G. Wiley of Preston is visiting her daughter, Blanche.

Delta Sigma Theta
Mrs. A. A. Alexander, Mrs. C. Jones, Adel Moore and Roberta Peterson of Des Moines, Maxine Johnson of Keokuk and Marie Hardy of St. Louis are guests at the chapter house.

Kappa Delta
Linda Sorgenfrey of Durant is a house guest. Dorothy Denkinman of Durant and Hilda Waters of West Liberty have gone home for the week-end.

Zeta Tau Alpha
Elizabeth Kueckhohn is spending the week-end in Eagle Grove. Ruth Ritter in Mt. Vernon, Frances Schreurs in Muscatine and Harriet Brokaw in Corning.

Kappa Beta Psi
Colonel Johnson is a week-end guest at the Kappa Beta Psi house. Merrill Gaffney, Ferman Wilson and Louis Carroll are spending the week-end in Chicago. Beryl Warden, Harry Thatcher,

Hiking Improved by New Walking Outfit

By MME. LISBETH
Fresh air means good health and good health spells beauty, so many ladies must see to it that she has a sufficient amount of exercise in the open. And of course she must be smartly gowned for her exercise, so an American designer has introduced this walking costume of beige satin charmeuse.

A skirt with front and back panels is a distinctive feature of this "trick". It has a high collar of chin-chilla and the bell-shaped sleeves are also trimmed with that fur, narrow at the front and extending almost to the elbow on the outside. A row of buttons extending from neck to waist is the only other trimming feature.

Y.W. Finance Drive to Begin Monday

Departments Receive Quota for Campus Activities

The annual finance campaign of the Y. W. C. A. for funds to maintain the budget of the coming year begins Monday, October 26. The amount which is needed to cover the expenses of work of the association is placed at $3100.

The association is divided into departments through which the work is organized and carried on. Helen Cole, A3 of Woodbine is in charge of the religious education department, which includes vespers and two conferences each year in conjunction with the university and churches of the city.

The world fellowship is headed by Adrianna Pease, A2 of Blairsburg. The aim of this department is to make foreign students feel at home on the campus, and has charge of the cosmopolitan club. Some of the money obtained in this department goes to help support a student secretary in China.

First Meeting of Matrices Monday

Election of Officers, Plans for Year, Occupy Club

The Matrices club will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow at 4:30 in the Octave Thamer hall in the Journalism building. It will be an open meeting for the purpose of mapping out the work for this year, and also to elect officers.

Anyone interested in any field of literature is urged to come. There are no dues connected with the club nor is regular attendance required.

The Matrices club was organized last year under the auspices of the Theta Sigma Phi, with Mildred Augustine as president. The club met twice a month and university professors from the various English and journalistic departments, and out of town men, gave interesting talks at each meeting. Katherine May, J3, of Adel, is this year's president.

and Clarence Carsen are spending the week-end in Des Moines. John Clemmens and F. A. Kihalt are spending the week-end in Cresco.

Katho
Mary Larson, Josephine Spezia, Helene Dilger, and Annedale Riley are week-end guests at the William Howes home in Davenport.

Mr. Thomas Dunn of Rock Island, Illinois visited yesterday with his daughter, Elizabeth.

Nu Sigma Phi
Nu Sigma Phi, medical sorority, entertained their patronesses, associate members and pledges at a dinner at Red Ball Inn Friday evening.

Phi Omega Pi
Phi Omega Pi sorority entertained at open house from 5:30 to 8:30 yesterday evening in honor of their pledges.

Phi Delta Theta
Phi Delta Theta announces the pledging of Kenneth Blackford of Bonaparte.

STENOGRAPHER GOES

Margaret McNabb has resigned her position as stenographer in the order department of the university library to accept the position as secretary of the dean of the college of liberal arts at the Texas College of Technology at Lubbock, Texas. She will leave in a few days to assume her new duties at Lubbock.

Spouse Blamed for Marital Wreck

Her husband's false accusations and his jealousy of her film friends, are blamed by Anna Q. Nilsson, famed screen star, for the wreck of her marriage. She has just been divorced in Los Angeles from John Marshall Gunnerson, wealthy shoe merchant, who denied the charges.

Iowans Carry Off Honors at Snelling

Editors, Athletes, Band Among Local Rookies

University of Iowa students romped away with many honors when 1,200 mid-western rookies embarked for six weeks of R. O. T. C. training at Ft. Snelling this summer. Chas. Coulter was the most outstanding athlete in the camp, winning the physical efficiency contest and scoring the highest number of points in the annual field day at the end of the training period.

Iowa sent one hundred and thirty men to the camp. Practically all the outside activities that an ordinary college sports were sponsored by the camp, which is a training school for those taking military training in advance of the required two years' basic course. In every field of endeavor Iowa produced a winner.

Honors in Baseball
Kenneth Gardiner was appointed editor-in-chief of the "Touch" the R. O. T. C. year book. On his staff as art editor was Bill Baird, who was also named publicity manager on the business staff.

The Iowa nine finished fourth in the baseball league and the swimming team took second in their meet. Schafeld and Davis also took first and second in the fifty yard backstroke.

Clare Palmatier, one of Roscoe Hall's star pupils, took first in the 145 pound boxing division after a series of gruelling matches.

Wrestlers Score
Wrestling was the sport in which the Iowans showed themselves especially adept. Outstanding among the wrestlers was Rudolph Stuebbe, this year's candidate for Mike Howard's team. He garnered a first in the 125 pound division and a second in the 135 pound class. Harold Boyd

IOWA CITY SOCIETY

Elk Ladies' Bridge Luncheon
The Elk Ladies' bridge club will entertain at the club rooms with a bridge luncheon, Tuesday, October 27. Reservations for the party must be turned in by Monday noon to Mrs. Ray Blakesly, Mrs. E. J. Bryan, or Mrs. W. J. Harter.

The committee in charge of the affair includes Mrs. Ray Blakesly, Mrs. T. M. Bauer, Mrs. Etha M. Bryan, Mrs. J. H. Donohue, Mrs. G. W. Edelstein, Mrs. W. J. Harter, Miss Margaret Hunt, Mrs. William Hoffelder, and Mrs. Charles K. Hurd.

Athens Historical Society
Mrs. J. E. Switzer will entertain the members of the Athens historical society at her home Monday, October 26. Mrs. F. H. Potter will review Dumas' "Twenty Years After."

Rotary Club
Members of the Rotary club will hold their weekly meeting on Thursday, October 29, at the Jefferson.

Kiwanis
Kiwanis club members will meet for luncheon Tuesday, at Youde's inn.

Lions Club
Members of the Lions club will meet for luncheon Wednesday, October 28 at the Red Ball Inn.

University Club
Members of the University club will entertain at a supper tonight at the club rooms. Hostesses include Mrs. G. T. W. Patrick, Mrs. Ralph House, Mrs. John B. Kaiser, Miss Edna Patzig, and Miss Isle Probst.

Mrs. H. G. Plum will be hostess at a tea given by the University club members on Friday, October 30.

A dinner and business meeting will be held at 6:00 Saturday evening, October 31. Hostesses will include Mrs. E. B. Reuter, Mrs. J. A. Opstad, Mrs. J. R. Eyer, Mrs. E. H. Weber, and Miss Katherine Brady.

Entertain at Dinner
Mrs. J. D. Reichardt entertained at dinner Thursday evening at the Reichardt cafe in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stork of Clear Lake, who were visiting at the home of Mr. Joseph Stork, 411 East Washington street. About ten guests were present.

Dinner Party
Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren were host and hostess at a dinner party at their home Tuesday evening, October 20. The guest list included Mrs. C. R. Wommer, Mr. and Mrs.

Beg Your Pardon
The bridge luncheon of the Elk Ladies' bridge club, will be given Tuesday, October 27, instead of Thursday, October 29, as announced in yesterday morning's Iowan. Reservations must be in by Monday noon.

THE BOY FRIEND

Does she love him? We'll say she does! He made a touchdown in Saturday's game!

John McCollister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker of Iowa City, Mrs. Mary B. Gelson of Los Angeles, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Adams, and Mrs. Kolyer of West Liberty, and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Warren of Alberta.

P. E. O.
Mrs. Frank L. Mott entertained the members of Chapter E. of P. E. O. at her home Saturday afternoon, October 24.

Chaperon Dancing Party
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Licina and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Derksen chaperoned the dancing party at St. Patrick's gymnasium Friday evening.

W. C. O. F.
Members of St. Rita's court, W. C. O. F. are entertaining at dinner on Monday, October 26. Hostesses are Mrs. Joe Swamer and Mrs. George Burger.

O. U. C. Club
Members of the O. U. C. club met at the home of Miss Mayme Cusack, 527 South Clinton street Thursday evening. Bridge furnished the entertainment of the evening.

Loyal Temperance Legion
Members of the Loyal Temperance Legion met at the home of Mrs. M. E. Stemmans Saturday afternoon October 24.

USE A WANT AD

Bera Kentucky

Handloom Scarfs made by Churchill Weavers Unusual Colors Good selections for you come early.

Davis Gift Shop

New Burkley Place

WAFFLES--CREAMED CHICKEN SUNDAY EVENING AT THE WESTERIA TEA SHOPPE
707 NORTH DUBUQUE ST.
LUNCHES DURING WEEK 40c
OUR SPECIALTY--LUNCHES AND DINNER PARTIES
TRY OUR DELICIOUS COOKING

Methodist Episcopal Church
Rev. W. C. Keeler on
GENERAL WILLIAM BOOTH Salvationist
Special 20 Minute Concert by the Orchestra Starting at 7:20 Sunday eve

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Now, you can know if your rugs are clean!

Many a good housewife is laboring long hours on cleaning day; confident that she is really keeping her rugs clean. But we can tell her that there is still dirt in them! We are sure, because we know that unless she beats her rugs regularly and often it is impossible to keep them free of the heavy, sandy dirt that becomes embedded at the base of the nap.

And until she owns a Hoover we know that it is impossible to beat them "regularly and often." You can prove that your rugs need beating*... And you will naturally be most anxious to do so. When you realize that your present methods are ineffective, phone us, and we will gladly show you how easy it is to keep rugs immaculate with a Hoover.

*Make this test right now! Turn over a corner of a rug; with the handle of an ordinary table-knife, or something of equal weight, give the under of warp side 15 to 25 sharp taps, and watch the dirt dance out from the nap-depths onto a piece of paper; feel the destructive character of this grit. This is the dirt only beating will dislodge. Correct use of The Hoover causes this embedded dirt to be stirred to the surface by the rapid, gentle tapping of the Hoover brush, as powerful suction lifts the rug from the floor and draws all the dirt into the dust-tight bag.

Iowa City Light & Power Co.
Subsidiary of United Light and Power Co.

EVERYBODY OUT!

Meet the Team This Afternoon at 3:41 (Rock Island Depot)

BREMER'S

Iowa City's Finest Store for Men

TODAY

FROM TWELVE UNTIL TWO EIGHTY-FIVE CENTS

AT The MADHATTERS Tea Room 124 1-2 EAST WASHINGTON ST.

- Tomato Bouillon or Iced Fruit Juice
- Fried Chicken—Cream Gravy
- Mashed Potatoes—New Cauliflower
- Rolls—Olives
- Head Lettuce—1000 Island Dressing, or Fruit Salad—Cheese Bits
- Pineapple Fluff or Burnt Almond Ice Cream
- Mints—Nuts Wafers
- Coffee in Tea Milk

League

Hunting Licenses Pass 1500

Applications for hunting licenses at the Johnson county court show a decided increase over the number issued at this time last year. Yesterday eighteen permits were issued by County Recorder M. Kadlee to residents of Johnson county, bringing the total of this year to 1586. At this time last year there were only 1056 licenses issued according to the records of County Auditor Ed Sulek, who issued permits then.

Trinity Episcopal Church
East College and Gilbert
Rev. Harry Sherman Leavelle
20th Sunday After Trinity
8 a. m. The holy communion
10:45 a. m. Children's church
10:45 a. m. Morning service sermon: "Who is a Christian?"
symposium of three replies from Roman Catholic, a Baptist, and Episcopalian, with a conclusion

February 10-11
by R

March 3-4
Tragedy

April 14-15 me on any

the director
st

May 5-6 ical Come-

c Connelly

Players

where which seats wish to attend the each production.
each play will further effort on

DEMBER 28-29

ADMISSION
CH PLAY $1
SAVE $3

at the Office

The Daily Iowan

OFFICIAL STUDENT NEWSPAPER
UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Published every morning except Monday the entire year by Student Publications Incorporated at 125-130 Iowa Avenue, Iowa City, Iowa. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Iowa City, Iowa.

Subscription rates: By carrier, $5.00 for 12 months; by mail, $5.00 for 12 months. Single copies 5 cents.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use the reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES
Charles H. Weller, Chairman; Ewen Mac Ewen; Raymond K. Klitbridge; Ross G. Walker; Richard H. Atherton; Marion Hambo; Charles H. McConnell; Katherine Y. Macy; Marshall C. Watson.

TELEPHONES
Editorial Rooms 2829
Business Office 290, 191

Philip Adler, Editor
Hazel Samuelson, Associate Editor
Yelma Critz, Managing Editor
Maurice Collins, Campus Editor
Katherine Macy, Assistant Campus Editor
Edwin Cates, Telegraph Editor
Don Wilkins, City Editor
Charles Bonyng, Assistant City Editor
Marjorie Green, Women's Editor
Anna Beman, Assistant Women's Editor
Elvin Tilton, Sports Editor
Leonard McGuire, Assistant Sports Editor
Charles Nelson, Editorial Page Manager
Frank Eyerly, Editorial Board
Karl Kohrs, Feature Editor
Russell Wilson, Film Editor
Kenneth McDonald, Dramatic Editor
Nels Johnson, Art Editor

BUSINESS STAFF
General Manager
Lawrence J. Evans, Business Manager
Howard Fulton, Office Manager
Dale McLaughlin, Advertising Manager
Harry Harper, Circulation Manager
Francis Tobin, Assistant Circulation Manager
Frederic Schaefer, Classified Advertising Manager
Wilfred Clearman, Advertising Assistant
Ernest Gerdes, Advertising Assistant
Norville Davis, Advertising Assistant
Kenner Boraman, Merchandising Manager
John Weber, Foreign Advertising

Sunday, October 25, 1925

NIGHT EDITOR
Leonard McGuire
Elvin Tilton
Karl Kohrs

First Aid for Cheering IV The Stands' Stand

THE crux of Iowa's cheering, or rather its dearth of cheering, rests with the stands. In the stands live cheering is born or it fizzles away like a wet fire-cracker on the fourth of July, according to the seating arrangement and enthusiasm of the spectators.

The Howling Three Hundred of former years used to occupy a block in the center of the west stand, from which thunder and lightning were hurled out onto the field. Now Pi Epsilon Pi takes a group of thirty seats, and forms a nucleus for some 150 rooters. This concentrates the rooting forces in one compact section, but what of the rooting reserves?

The second-line of rooters is the I-book ticket holders, who at Homecoming were scattered among the four stands and bleachers. The Daily Iowan, acting on the advice of the cheer-leaders, has completed arrangements with the manager of ticket sales to seat I-book holders for the Wisconsin game in two compact areas. These will be the lower part of the west stand and the upper section of the east.

This new arrangement will concentrate some 2,000 voices on one side of Iowa Field and 1,000 sets of lungs on the other. Then the Pep organization will have reserve strength enough to make the stands tremble.

Unifying the best rooting material in the university will, in a measure, produce more cheering. But all the noise zones from the power plant to the baseball field will not materialize if the I-book holders form a zone of quiet like they did for Homecoming. What a fine aggregation of mim-mouthed fans the radio listeners must have thought Iowa was Saturday! WSUI had little to transmit at Homecoming but play-by-play reports and Illinois yells. The state must have been convinced after the game that Illinois was playing a deaf and dumb school from the silence on the Iowa side of the field.

The fight for more cheering and cheer-leaders is far from won. The Cheer Fund is not yet over, and uniforms for the cheering squad cannot be ordered until it is. The problem now is three-fold: uniform for the squad, first; men for the uniforms, second; then a roar of lung-power, third.

A Declaration of Independence

GLENN FRANK, president of the University of Wisconsin, states that in formulating his policies concerning the university he will take the bit in his own teeth and scorn the guidance of conservative, liberal, or radical tendencies, which is the most refreshingly original declaration heard from a college president for some time.

President Frank's attitude is not characteristic of most university executives. All too many knowing where their "bread is buttered," so to speak, walk circumspectly in the eyes of the trustees and the state legislature. Money talks. And what do a few personal convictions amount to, anyway?

By including not only conservatism but liberalism and radicalism in the category of "thought-tight" policies, the former editor of "Century" has revealed a broadmindedness and a spirit of tolerance unusual in the modern generation, for all its scorn of conventionalism. And this means that he will be swayed by neither the shrinking caution of those who hold the purse-strings of the university nor the unreasoning iconoclasm of those who insist on thrusting aside rationality and judgment in their obsession for immature ideas of self-expression.

There can be no doubt that a university with this sort of a policy as its guiding star will be in the van of institutions seeking the goal of fearless, sincere thinking and freedom of intellectual activity. What remains to be seen is whether President Frank can inculcate this admirable ideal into the Wisconsin student body.

The Clutch of the Machine

THE PREDICTION made in an editorial in "THE DAILY IOWAN" a few weeks ago has come to pass. The editorial concerned the liberal arts elections, and presaged the action that has been taken in regulation of "peanut politics" that are played in the university. Friday the situation became such that the faculty and student social committee interposed and took charge of the matter. It seems that the president of the freshman class had been elected by a certain political organization of the university. When the youth was asked by the dean of men to change the personnel of his freshman party committee, and his suggested changes did not please the bosses, he was forced to confess his inability to make them. Machine politics will not let the "president" of a class place the men he thinks capable on his committee. The machine elected him; he must serve it.

Perhaps the social committee's regulation regarding party tickets will do something which may help clear up the difficulty, but it is obvious that little has been done to hit at the root of the trouble—machine politics. And until something is done—if anything possible can be done—these farcical situations will continue.

Iowa for Iowans

EVERY year as soon as the football season gets under way the cry over the number of Iowa boys playing stellar football on out of the state teams is heard. From advance indications the cry will reach the fullest proportions on record this year. In fact there is every possibility that the cry will develop into a howl of no mean proportions.

Looking over the roster of leading teams, it is true that the names of Iowa boys are quite often found. Barta and Yiesley of Cedar Rapids at Chicago, O'Boyle of Des Moines at Notre Dame, Harold Murrell of Cedar Rapids at Minnesota, "Stub" Muhl of Oskaloosa at Illinois, and Elmer Marek of Cedar Rapids at Ohio are some of the more prominent players in the limelight now.

The case of Marek is especially noteworthy at this time. His playing has been sensational in all of the games this season. Lawrence Perry, a prominent sports writer, visited the Ohio camp and had this to report:

"Unless all signs fail and all promise is denied, the football world this fall will be dazzled by another stellar manifestation, a sizzling, crow-hopper back for whom tacklers are likely to lunge and grope in vain. His name is Marek and he is a sophomore at Ohio State, having entered from the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school.

"Red Grange may find a real rival in him. When he was flashing at Cedar Rapids there seemed to be a chance that he would go to Notre Dame or to Iowa. "As to his native state, they say that a number of Cedar Rapids athletes went to a track meet at Iowa City and that Howard Jones, then football coach, treated them quite casually. At any rate it was 'thumbs down' on Iowa at Cedar Rapids. And he passed Notre Dame by for Ohio where everyone expects him to fill Chick Harley's shoes."

What Marek is really worth was demonstrated yesterday when he matched his football ability against the Hawkeye eleven.

But why is it that so many prominent athletes from cities like Davenport, Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs, and Dubuque are "thumbs down" on Iowa? There is no doubt but that the athletic department makes a strenuous effort to present the school in a favorable light whenever the courses prospective students want are provided here.

It is up to the students as well as the coaches and athletic department to give the visiting high school players the most cordial treatment possible. There will be a great number of high school athletes visiting the university between now and next September and no stone should be left unturned in the effort to live down the apparent reputation the university has achieved for its treatment of athletes among a number of the high schools of the state.

The Sphere of Religion

IS interference in the enforcement of law and order outside the sphere of the church? Jealous police officials have scoffed at the "hypocritical religious enthusiasts wearing swallow-tailed coats" who visit the cities in behalf of their different religious sects. They complain that these zealous champions of morality, ignorant of the true conditions of the large city, visit only the worst dives of the underworld and then return to their respective villages bearing tales of the evils of the city.

President Coolidge believes that the importance of the church in contributing its influence in building up respect for the law cannot be overestimated. He met recently with the Congregationalists, not only as President of the United States, but as the honorary moderator of the national council. No other president has ever held such an office while directing the Ship of State. In his address to the council the president brought arguments to bear to show that the overthrow of vice and crime, the turning of educated men in the direction of virtue rather than of evil, the right to freedom, equality, and brotherhood on which the government rests, have their support in religion.

If the officials paid by our government to enforce the laws would refrain from making accusations of mock-morality against various religious denominations when they attempt to point out the seats of vice; if the small town marshal would conceal his wounded vanity when the village pastor exposes gambling in the local pool hall; if, instead of adopting an air of hostility, these public servants would co-operate with all who desired to help them, undoubtedly there would be a more healthy and determined public sentiment in favor of observance of the law.

"Noblesse Oblige"

THE ordinary class of students in a university believes that it averages at least fifty per cent higher in mentality, knowledge and appreciation of that which is good than the group which does not enjoy the aid that the university gives. Taking this as an axiom, this same class of people should then be expected to produce and maintain ideals at least twice that of the average. The ancient nobility accepted this view toward themselves with the statement "noblesse oblige," considering that success and courtesy were expected of them simply because of their station in life.

Today we seem to consider our station an excuse for doing as we please, rather than a necessity for doing as we should. Stories of student escapades are excused on the ground that "they are no worse than others." Nothing could be farther from the point. Such an excuse is an insult, and not until all students are leaders, will the real ideal of education be fulfilled.

Wind Driven

A steel-gray wind has ripped the sea-blue sky and seams of bright gilt. The oaks and maples, glowing dull bronze in the scant light, are casting up distraught branches to the stormy sky. Houses loom grotesque above the twilight in the streets, where persons pass in bellying coats, and between two houses, clothesline posts are straining as a line of sheets whips out against the grimy wall next door. Kitchens are lighted early, and from a door flung open for a moment the wind catches up the hissing sputter of a frying pan and the strong savor of crisping bacon.

"Laff That Off"

Sheik: "Does your father believe in the freedom of the press?"
She: "No, but he's not looking."
—Carnegie Tech. Puppet.

Weary shade, to Charon, who is ferrying him across: "What makes the river flow so slowly?"
"Oh, it Styx."
—Harvard Lampoon.

Poems That Live

To a Snowflake
What heart could have thought you?
Past our deval
(O filigree petal!)
Fashioned so purely,
Fragilely, surely,
From what Paradisa
Imaginess metal,
Too costly for cost?
Who hammered you, wrought you,
From argentine vapour?—
'God was my shaper.
Passing surmisal,
He hammered, He wrought me,
From curled silver vapour,
To lust of His mind:—
Thou couldst not have thought me!
So purely, so palely,
Tinely, surely,
Mightily, frailly,
Insculped and embossed,
With His hammer of wind,
And His graver of frost.
—Francis Thompson.

CHILLS and FEVER

NOW is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the column.

HAWKEYE met Buckeye yesterday in Ohio. An eye for an eye, wot!

ROMANCE stalks through the dusty halls of the Journalism building; this poem was found in a girl's notebook, placed there by some forlorn Romeo:
You are cruel,
You are a dream,
Your eyes are deep, pure pools reflecting a June moon.
Your skin is soft, inviting.
Your lips tantalize.
Your smile is like the song of birds.
I feel you near.
And I go through life as in a dream.
Why in hell did you come to Iowa, anyway!

WE note with mingled amusement and disgust that The Daily Iowan's dramatic critic (sic!) is now-quoted in the movie advertising along with the New York Sun's criticism.

AUNT POLLY'S HISTORY

(Continued)
"Now, Tommy," remarked Aunt Polly, as she filled her cornucop pipe with Velvet, "you will recall that with the coming of winter our university people must find some indoor sports for the exercise of their physical functions. What sports can you think of beside handball and dancing?"

Tommy carelessly tossed a hand grenade in the kitchen stove and concentrated on this problem for a moment.

"Well," he said, "there's lolly-gagging, petting, necking and mugging. And if you are warm-blooded you can go on blanket parties up the river, at least until the ice forms on the river."

Aunt Polly gravely considered his answer, inwardly thinking that he knew an awful lot for such a small boy, and then shook her head.

"No, Tommy, those diversions you mention are hardly athletic in nature. Guess again."

"Say, old girl, you needn't think that you know it all, just because you lived in Currier hall when you were young. I know athletic sports when I see 'em. And if you ever spent three hours on a davenport with some strapping 'I' man you'll agree with me that mugging is not child's play!"

Tommy was excited now. Once he had taken the minister's ten-year-old daughter to a Sunday school party and he had his own ideas of "exercise."

"Why, Aunt Polly, once when I had a date I came home with my shirt torn, my necktie messed up, and I lost my—"

"Tut, tut, little child; don't you know that little children should be seen and not heard?"

"Sure I do and haven't you ever noticed that the Gamma Phi's believe that, too? They always leave their blinds up when—"

"Shuss, Tommy, your sister was a Gamma Phi and you shouldn't talk like that."

"Well, I don't care. Even her best friends won't tell her but you just know she wears them. Besides, a house without windows is like a fireplace without heat—"

"Be quiet, Tommy, you've been reading the MacFadden magazines again, and I'm going to speak to your father about you—"

"Go on home and read Good Housekeeping, Aunt Polly, you've never got over the fact you didn't marry and—"

Aunt Polly picked up Webster's dictionary (unabridged) and threw it at Tommy. The dear child responded by heaving a copy of the Saturday Evening Post at Polly and soon the fight was waxing fast and furious.

But Polly finally got her hands on Frivol, then she slapped the child thoroughly and he passed out. Most anyone would pass out after getting so close to Frivol.

OUR OWN NEWSREEL

HERE, dear readers, is a view of Butch Broders, Delta Upsilon wizard, showing a pledge the prospective home. Secured by Chills and Fever artist.

THE most difficult thing on earth is to write a good last line for this column. How's that?
—F. R. E.

OTHER CAMPUS YARNS

Pull Exam "Boners"

Students at the University of Ohio displayed a striking knowledge of current history in the annual Review of Reviews examination. "Ma" Ferguson was identified as president of Mexico, Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Wilson, or Babe Ruth in the photograph contest. Mussolini's features were attributed to Al Johnson, Billy Sunday, Sun Yat Sen, and Bull Montana. Only 25 per cent of the students were able to recognize a reaper or a tractor in a field of grain.

Find Mastodon Tusk

The tusk of a giant mastodon has been found in southern Illinois by an old farmer who thought it to be a water soaked log. Dean Paul MacClintock from the department of geology at the University of Chicago, discovered the farmer's collection of mastodon bones and after investigation he decided that the river bed on the farm must have been a prehistoric drinking hole in which the monster became mired.

Ohio Parades in "Pajamas"

Freshmen at the University of Ohio staged a pajama parade to celebrate their initiation into the collegiate body.

35 Per Cent Support Selves

Yale university has recently admitted that 35 per cent of its student body is self-supporting. Of the number who received their degrees last June, 45 per cent of the honor students were men working their own way. The self-supporting students took more honors in proportion to their numbers than the rest of the class.

Has New Department

The highway department at Minnesota will have new headquarters when the new building constructed by the University of Minnesota and the state highway department is completed. Formerly the state highway department was located in the experimental building, but growing importance of highways makes that place inadequate. The new structure will be erected at a cost of $70,000 and work will begin on it in five weeks.

Sigma Delta Chi Meets

Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, will hold its annual convention on the University of Colorado campus at Boulder. The convention will be Nov. 16, 17, 18, and it will be attended by some of the most noted men in the newspaper field.

Completes 3,600-Mile Hike

Dr. Alfre Owre, dean of the college of dentistry at the University of Minnesota, has completed a 3,600-mile hike across America to the Pacific coast. Dean Owre plans to hike from Constantinople to Bordo in the near future. This will complete his tour of the world.

Regrets Heavy Enrollment

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Stanford university, says in a recent lecture that the universities are overcrowded with young students in the "rah-rah" state who ought to be in junior colleges. He further says that the universities have rules designed to keep these young students out of mischief and they are a nuisance to the real scholars. He believes that required lecture courses and ready-made courses of study should be abolished also.

Minnesota Uses Honor System

The honor system will be used at the University of Minnesota in the school of business this year. The vote in favor of this system was very large. An especially selected court will try offenders and the penalty will be failure in the course for a first offense and expulsion from the school of business for a second.

Book Historical Chronicles

Exclusive rights to the "Chronicles of America" photoplays have been secured by the University of Minnesota on the non-theatrical circuit. These films are put out by the Yale University Press Film Service and are historical in character. They study the early struggles of America and are considered by educators to be the best series of illustrated American history pictures ever produced. Minnesota is the first college in the United States to show them.

Minnesota Gets $64,200

The board of regents of the University of Minnesota has received four money gifts made to the research, scholarship, and building funds, and totalling $64,200. Fifty thousand dollars is to be used for an extensive study of the women's operative alliance of Minneapolis; $10,000 is to be used by the English department for prizes; $1,200 will equip a room in the Todd eye, ear, nose, and throat clinic at the university; and $3,000 will be spent on a research project in the college of agriculture to study the utilization of fertilizer in the growing of potatoes and tobacco.

Read the Iowan for Latest News

Official Daily Bulletin

The University of Iowa
Bulletin and announcements for the Official Daily Bulletin column must be in the office of the bulletin editor, Prof. Charles H. Weller, room 101, Journalism building, by 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the day prior to the following morning, Daily Iowan.
VOL. 1, NO. 34
OCTOBER 25, 1925

MEETING OF STUDENTS OF THE COLLEGE OF APPLIED SCIENCE WHO HAVE ENTRANCE CONDITIONS IN SOLID GEOMETRY
There will be a meeting of all students having entrance conditions in solid geometry on Tuesday, October 27, at 7 p. m. in room 222, Journalism building for the purpose of discussing plans for the removal of the conditions.
H. L. RIETZ, head of department of mathematics.

PUBLIC LECTURE
Miss Harriet Monroe, editor of "Poetry," will lecture in the Journalism assembly hall Monday, October 26, at 8 p. m., under the auspices of the senate board on university lectures. Subject: "Present and Future of Poetry."
BENJ. F. SHAMBAUGH, chairman.

UNIVERSITY ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE
Professor William M. Davis of Harvard university will lead the discussion at a university round table conference in the senate chamber of Old Capitol Friday, October 30, at 4:10 p. m. Subject: "The Influence of the geography of the eastern United States on our history and politics."
BENJ. F. SHAMBAUGH, chairman.

GEOLOGY CLUB MEETING
O. R. Grawe, graduate assistant in the geology department, will address the regular meeting of the university geology club on the elementary oxides of iron. The meeting will be held at 4:10 Monday, October 26, in room 108 old science hall.
PROF. J. J. RUNNER, program committee.

VESPER SERVICE
The second monthly university vesper service will be held in the natural science auditorium Sunday, Oct. 25, at 4 o'clock. Pres. Irving Moore of Beloit college will be the speaker. Music by the vesper choir and university orchestra.

FINKBINE BREAKFAST
The Finkbine breakfast will be Thursday, Nov. 5, instead of Friday as has been the custom. All members of the staff who find it possible, be in Des Moines Thursday a. m., are requested to report this week to the office of the college of education, "Phone 744."

MATRICES CLUB MEETS
All girls in the university who are interested in writing and literature, are asked to attend the first meeting this year of the Matrices club in Octave Thant hall in the Journalism building at 4:30 Monday afternoon. Important business meeting.
KATHERINE MACY, president.

THETA SIGMA PI
Actives and pledges will meet for regular Theta Sigma Pi business Tuesday noon at the Copper Kettle Tea Room.
VELMA CRITZ, president.

LUTHERAN RALLY
The second Lutheran Rally will be held this evening at Young Inn with a luncheon at 6 o'clock. O. A. Tingstad, professor of education at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, will deliver a lecture on "The Lutheran." A discussion will follow the address.
E. H. HEMMINGHARZ.

PROFESSOR OLIPHANT TO LECTURE
Prof. E. H. C. Oliphant of San Francisco, a well-known scholar in Shakespeare and the Elizabethan field, will lecture under the auspices of the department of English and speech, and the graduate college Friday, Oct. 30 at 11 a. m. in the north room of old capitol. Members of the university are invited, particularly those interested in graduate study.
HARDIN CRAIG, head of English department.

Dry Agents Learn to Gain Respect for Law
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 24 (AP)—Ethics in catching bootleggers are being taught here in a school for prohibition agents.

Recognizing that the crude tactics of agents in enforcement work in some sections have brought both the officers and the law into disrepute the government established the school in an effort to teach the dry agent "how to gain respect, not only for himself but also the prohibition law."

The school is under the tutelage of Thomas Williamson, United States attorney, and John B. Madden, deputy prohibition administrator of Illinois.

Big Profit Realized From Iowa Apples
DES MOINES, Oct. 24 (AP)—A harvest apples that returned a profit of $400 an acre, net, on land that cost $210 an acre, is the property of George Koth, R. S. Herick, and a retary of the state historical society, said.

Seven years ago Mr. Koth bought a small farm southeast of Des Moines $210 an acre. An 18-acre orchard was located on the farm.

This year 4,000 bushels of apples were harvested and as nearly as can estimate now the crop will net him $400 an acre.

He attributes his large crop to the fact that he sprayed six times and that he graded and sorted his apples carefully.

SPECIAL
Permanent Waving
FOR WINTER MONTHS
$15.00
BY EXPERIENCED OPERATORS
WORK GUARANTEED
Woodford Beauty Shop
DUBUQUE AND WASHINGTON STREETS
PHONE BACK 807

Blue Moon Tea Room
15 1-2 E. Washington St.
Chicken Dinner
From Twelve Until One-Thirty

ON THE SCENE
LAURA LA MONT
and PAT O'MEARA
in a snappy 6 reel
"THE TEA PARTY"
MISS HENRIETTA
AT THE NEW ROYAL
PIPE ORGAN

IOWA STUDENT RITUAL

By E. K. L.
"And if I ever do violate this object of scorn to all men, and tempt of the members of the A. Thus did the members of the their allegiance in those tense agitation when the flame of civing in the hearts of the North a

Former Student Finds Ritual
The ritual of the Ku Klux Klan of 1865, hitherto unpublished, was unearthed by Miss Sue Moore, of Hubbard, Texas, a former student at Iowa. The aged document, gathered piece by piece from countless letters, files, and other records in various cities of Texas, was sent in complete form to Prof. Louis Pelzer, associate professor of history, in July of this year. This culminated a search begun by Professor Pelzer and Miss Moore in 1924. Most of the material came from the collections of the Master of the Grange, John E. Long.

Ritual Searching
The ritual is a long, weighty document, dealing with the oaths, signs, signals and various ceremonies. The oath of secrecy was first administered to the candidate, which pledged him never to divulge by "word, writing, inference, or any other manner," the proceedings. And well those knew who took the oath that a violation would meet

STRATHEATRE
ANNOUNCES THE
ING OF OUR NEW RO
PIPE ORGAN

TONI
Miss Henrietta
of Claremont The
AT THE CO
HEAR IOWA CITY'S FIRST
GAN. MUSIC HERETOFO
THIS CITY.

On The Sc
Syd Ch
in his big laugh
"The M on the
FUNNIER THAN "CH

Coming We America's Premier M
The World
BROW
SAXOPE
SIX (IN PERS

You've heard them on your hear and see them in the fles

MISS HENRIETTA
AT THE NEW ROYAL
PIPE ORGAN

Daily Bulletin

The University of Iowa
and announcements for the Official Bulletin must be in the office of the Bulletin Editor, Charles H. Weller, room 141, Old Administration Building, in the afternoon of the following morning, Daily Iowan, October 25, 1925.

OF THE COLLEGE OF APPLIED SCIENCE
CONDITIONS IN SOLID GEOMETRY of all students having entrance examinations, October 27, at 7 p. m. in room 222, Old Administration Building. Dr. J. H. RIETZ, head of department of mathematics.

LECTURE
of "Poetry," will lecture in the Old Administration Building, under the auspices of the University Lectures, Subject: "Poetry." BENJ. F. SHAMBAUGH, chairman.

TABLE CONFERENCE
of Harvard University will lead the table conference in the senate chamber, Oct. 25, at 4:30 p. m. Subject: "The Eastern United States on our history." BENJ. F. SHAMBAUGH, chairman.

CLUB MEETING
of the university geology club on the meeting will be held at 4:30 Monday, October 26, in the geology department.

VEP SERVICE
of the university will be held in the auditorium, Oct. 25, at 4 o'clock. Pres. Irving H. Jones. Music by the vesper choir and orchestra.

BREAKFAST
of the staff who find it possible, on Oct. 25, at 4 o'clock. Pres. Irving H. Jones. Music by the vesper choir and orchestra.

CLUB MEETS
of the first meeting this year of the Journalism Club in the journalism building at 4:30 Monday, Oct. 26.

PI
of regular Theta Sigma Psi Kappa Kettle Tea Room.

RALLY
will be held this evening at 7 o'clock, O. A. Fitzgerald, professor of English, Iowa City, will deliver a lecture on the address.

TO LECTURE
of San Francisco, a well-known scholar in the field, will lecture under the auspices of the English and speech, and the graduates in the north room of old capitol, Oct. 26, at 7:30 p. m. Those interested are invited, particularly those interested in English, head of English department.

Big Profit Realized From Iowa Apples
DES MOINES, Oct. 24 (AP)—A harvest of apples that returned a profit of $400 on a acre net, on land that cost $210 an acre, is the expense of George Koth, R. S. Herrick, secretary of the state historical society, said.

Seven years ago Mr. Koth had a small farm southeast of Des Moines, Iowa, on a 15-acre orchard was located on the farm.

This year 4,900 bushels of apples were harvested and as nearly as can be estimated now the crop will net him $400 an acre.

He attributes his large crop to the fact that he sprayed six times and that he graded and sorted the apples carefully.

ent Waving
WATER MONTHS
$15.00
ENCED OPERATORS
GUARANTEED
d Beauty Shop
WASHINGTON STREETS
INE BACK 807

on Tea Room
Washington St.

en Dinner
From Twelve Until ae-Thirty

IOWA STUDENT UNEARTH'S KU KLUX KLAN RITUAL OF STIRRING CIVIL WAR DAYS

By E. K. Edwards

"And if I ever do violate this oath, I consent to become an object of scorn to all men, and to deserve the lasting contempt of the members of the Association."

Thus did the members of the Ku Klux Klan of 1868 pledge their allegiance in those tense, fevered days of post-war agitation when the flame of civil hatred was yet smouldering in the hearts of the North and South.

For a student finds ritual The ritual of the Ku Klux Klan of 1868, hitherto unpublished, was unearthed by Miss Sue Moore, of Hubbard, Texas, a former student at Iowa. The aged document, gathered piece by piece from countless letters, files, and other records in various cities of Texas, was sent in complete form to Prof. Louis Pelzer, associate professor of history, in July of this year. This culminated a search begun by Professor Pelzer and Miss Moore in 1924. Most of the material came from the collections of the Master of the Grange, John B. Long.

Ritual Searching The ritual is a long, weighty document, dealing with the oaths, signs, signals and various ceremonies. The oath of secrecy was first administered to the candidate, which pledged him never to divulge by "word, writing, inference, or any other manner," the proceedings. And well those knew who took the oath that a violation would meet with a bitter, swift retribution.

Then came searching questions in swift succession. Had the candidate ever married any woman who did not belong to the white race? Would he ever marry any woman except one belonging to the white race? Was he opposed to allowing the control of the political affairs of this country to go in whole or in part, to the negro, or African race, and would he do all in his power to prevent it? Would he defend the white race against the invasion of any inferior race, and especially the African race?

And the answers held no alternative. The candidate was also ordered to vote for no candidate who was not a member of the white race and "never to abstain from voting at any election in which a candidate of the negro race shall be opposed to a white man attached to our principles, unless prevented by severe illness or other disability."

The candidate was then led blindfolded to the council chamber and questioned by an officer of the order known as "L. C." This dialogue ensued:

Q.—Who comes there?
A.—A son of your race.
Q.—What does he wish?
A.—Peace and order; the observance of the laws of God; the maintenance of the laws of the Constitution as established by the patriots of 1776.

Q.—To obtain this, what must you do?
A.—The cause of my race must triumph.
Q.—And to secure this what must you do?
A.—We must be united as are the flowers that grow on the same stem, and, under all circumstances, band ourselves together as brethren.

The Final Oath The final oath then followed: "I swear to maintain and defend the social and political superiority of the white race on this continent; always and in all places to observe a marked distinction between the white and African races . . . I swear to respond, at the peril of my life, to a call, a sign, or a cry coming from any fellow-member whose rights are violated."

This done the official declared, "Brother, by virtue of the authority to me delegated, I now pronounce you a Knight of the Ku Klux Klan."

Violinist Displays Superb Talent as String Snaps at Concert Debut

Above the soft, insinuating accompaniment of the symphonic orchestra soars the exuberant melody of a violin, clear and lucid, such as only a born artist can draw from the strings. The player, absorbed in his instrument, bends, sways slightly as he draws the bow across the violin, while before him in the crowded concert hall breathless thousands sit drinking in the matchless harmony.

Suddenly a string on the instrument snaps, the sound crashing through the vast silence like a bolt of lightning. The crowd, jarred out of the spell, sits uneasily, but the violinist never pauses. The brilliant melody rises and falls with the same captivating artistry.

Ability Revealed Such is the experience of Carl Flesch, who will appear in concert here on November 4, which happened during his performance of the Beethoven concerto with the Philharmonic orchestra at his New York debut in 1914. Equal to the situation, Flesch calmly arranged the music to fit the remaining strings, a feat which only musicians can appreciate, and then while the orchestra played a "tutti" adjusted a new string, making his next entrance confidently and brilliantly without the display usually accompanying such episodes.

Encore Rule Waived So great was the admiration aroused by his performance that the audience insisted on an encore. There is a "no encore" rule in Philharmonic concerts, but it was waived in this instance. Flesch played not one, but two numbers before his delighted hearers were satisfied.

Plays at Early Age Flesch's talent asserts itself at an early age. Born in the little town of Moson, Hungary in 1873, he began to play the violin when he was 6 years old. Three years later he received his first formal instruction. At the age of ten he was sent to Vienna to study and was graduated from the Vienna Conservatoire five years later. Entering the Conservatoire at Paris he won his first prize there in 1894, starting his public career a year later.

The remarkable gifts of the young violinist immediately made him a favorite and in 1897 he was appointed court violinist to the queen of Roumania, becoming also a professor at the Royal conservatory.

His first American tour won for him a high place among the greatest violinists of the day. He made his second tour in 1924.

Like Russian Tragedies Literary geniuses at the University of Minnesota have a decided partiality for grim tales of murder and tragedy beneath Russian skies according to Mabel Hodnefield, editor-in-chief of the Minnesota Literary magazine. The ambitious scribblers hand in tales that simply swim in blood and it is with a feeling of great relief that the editors occasionally receive a humorous contribution.

En Passant We stroll into one of Iowa City's chocolate shops on a Sunday evening. Fraternity and sorority houses aren't serving lunch today; hence the overflow of Iowa men and women are tucking away tenderloin sandwiches and fruit salads.

An entertaining panorama, this, with its many colored characters who comprise, in large measure, the life of Iowa.

"He" men and "cookie-pushers" are, according to popular conception, the types one finds on the campus. The lie is given to this rash premise by characters one finds here tonight.

Yonder is a football player; in physical structure he resembles nothing quite so much as a stone wall. Muscles fairly ooze from his elephantine body.

But amusing to relate is the tale of his university career. For some time he has made his way through school by running a dance hall; he plays football on Saturdays; on Friday and Saturday nights the student body squeezes into an exotic ballroom, resembling a jungle night more than anything, and postures before a moaning orchestra until midnight. And the football player, comfortably asleep somewhere, has no financial worries.

Less interesting, possibly, is the little man across the way. He too, classifies with those who earn an education by the sweat of their bodies. But his vocation is far removed from the dance floor. He came to Iowa determined to win a degree; with the assistance of a silver tongue and a penchant for oratory, he has preached his way through some ninety hours of university credit.

Unknown to the campus, unheralded in the Hawkeyes, aloof from the society's columns, an organization called the Pelican club functioned here for two years.

Its meetings were informal, its only clubroom was a private dining room. So far as its existence was concerned the campus might have been situated a thousand miles away.

But its members were that little handful who have lifted Iowa from the gutter of the commonplace, the sink hole of mediocrity. One member has just had his first book accepted by a New York publisher. Another is about to see his third short story make the anthologies that have thrived so well among reading Americans. The membership list would read like the Phi Beta Kappa roll; for several years their lists nearly coincide.

En Passant

By DIGBY

We stroll into one of Iowa City's chocolate shops on a Sunday evening. Fraternity and sorority houses aren't serving lunch today; hence the overflow of Iowa men and women are tucking away tenderloin sandwiches and fruit salads.

An entertaining panorama, this, with its many colored characters who comprise, in large measure, the life of Iowa.

"He" men and "cookie-pushers" are, according to popular conception, the types one finds on the campus. The lie is given to this rash premise by characters one finds here tonight.

Yonder is a football player; in physical structure he resembles nothing quite so much as a stone wall. Muscles fairly ooze from his elephantine body.

But amusing to relate is the tale of his university career. For some time he has made his way through school by running a dance hall; he plays football on Saturdays; on Friday and Saturday nights the student body squeezes into an exotic ballroom, resembling a jungle night more than anything, and postures before a moaning orchestra until midnight. And the football player, comfortably asleep somewhere, has no financial worries.

Less interesting, possibly, is the little man across the way. He too, classifies with those who earn an education by the sweat of their bodies. But his vocation is far removed from the dance floor. He came to Iowa determined to win a degree; with the assistance of a silver tongue and a penchant for oratory, he has preached his way through some ninety hours of university credit.

Unknown to the campus, unheralded in the Hawkeyes, aloof from the society's columns, an organization called the Pelican club functioned here for two years.

Its meetings were informal, its only clubroom was a private dining room. So far as its existence was concerned the campus might have been situated a thousand miles away.

But its members were that little handful who have lifted Iowa from the gutter of the commonplace, the sink hole of mediocrity. One member has just had his first book accepted by a New York publisher. Another is about to see his third short story make the anthologies that have thrived so well among reading Americans. The membership list would read like the Phi Beta Kappa roll; for several years their lists nearly coincide.

Psychology Brands Phrenology as Fake

"Nothing to It," Says Ruckmick of Old Science

By GWEN MOORE

ing works in Chicago chooses its employees because of the shape of their heads. Officials claim that by choosing men with fine skin, delicate touch, finer bones, more sensitive face, and heads which show the bump of artistic sensibility as well as mechanical understanding, they have increased the efficiency of the plant thirty-three per cent. They are no longer trying to fit square pegs into round holes—each employee is suited to his job.

"Valparaiso" This Chicago company consults Dr. J. M. Fitzgerald who practices phrenology in the Windy City and claims he has never failed to pick the best person for each job. Doctor Fitzgerald has an M. D. from Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Indiana.

"Well," remarked Prof. C. A. Ruckmick of the psychology department, in an interview on the subject, "You know about Valparaiso, don't you? It's the laughing stock of every school in the country. They claim an enrollment of hundreds of thousands, but most of that is correspondence. They specialize in everything, hence are not good at anything. Their faculty can claim no one really educated man and a degree from there is worth nothing."

"Nothing to It!" Professor Ruckmick went on to say that Fitzgerald was probably sincere in his belief in phrenology and conscientious in his application of it. But he lacks scientific basis for his claims. He takes much into consideration besides the shape of the head. For instance, he says long fingers indicate capacity for detail while short ones assert snappy action. He says brunettes are slow and blondes quick. Professor Ruckmick shrugged at this and said, "O, there's nothing to that at all."

Fitzgerald's Theory Fitzgerald's belief is that the shape of the head shows development of the brain. In case a man is short in one faculty, says this phrenologist, he can conscientiously develop it and in time the part of the brain where that function is located will grow until the head shape is changed. One man whose head was examined lacked the capacity for making friends. For years he has made every effort to make as many friends as possible, until now Doctor Fitzgerald asserted that his brain had developed in that place until the shape of his head had actually changed.

Fallacy of the Theory Ruckmick pointed out the fallacy in this. The brain, he said, practically reaches its full size at eight years of age. After that it is not the growth in size but the growth in the number of convolutions or folds, which matters. While the brain does fit in the skull rather closely, there is enough difference to make any judgment of character

The Art in America Professor Ruckmick gave a brief summary of the history of this so-called science in America. O. S. and L. N. Fowler established a school of phrenology in the downtown section of Ithaca, New York, and succeeded in attracting a considerable following. [TURN TO PAGE 8]

The Beginnings Phrenology had its beginnings in ancient Greece when Pythagoras recognized that the brain was the seat of understanding. Egyptians, Arabs, Greeks, and Romans have all recognized that the phenomena of mind was connected with action of the brain. Each people localized functions in the brain and the Greeks speculated as to the relation of brain to the size and shape of the head, which is the very essence of phrenology. Francis Joseph Gall, a Viennese, established a system in 1836 which attracted many followers in Europe, Great Britain, and America.

As pointed out by Professor Ruckmick, Gall, in dividing the brain into various sections, put love where modern science, after much experimentation locates vision. Gall located "language" behind the eyes. A school fellow of his who was a brilliant linguist had prominent eyes and Gall reasoned that a large capacity must have pushed his eyes forward.

Advantages and Disadvantages The advantage of water filtered so long is that all bacteria are killed, ages before the water is used. The disadvantage is that the water becomes highly mineralized by slowly absorbing the minerals through which it flows. At Cedar Rapids, a wrought-iron pipe in a big artesian [TURN TO PAGE 8]

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Iowa City One of Few State Oases for Fresh Drinks

Most Cities Use Water Locked in Earth for Centuries

Iowa City is one of the few cities in eastern Iowa where it is possible to get a "fresh" drink, literally speaking of course. Most cities pump their water supply from the ground where it has been aging for over three hundred years while Iowa City uses river water that has been precipitated fairly recently.

Prof. A. O. Thomas of the geology department says, "The drinking water from deep artesian wells in the cities of eastern Iowa tell as rain or snow up in what is now Wisconsin about the time that Columbus discovered America and Ponce De Leon was hunting for the fountain of youth in Florida." The fact that it has gone through a filtration system more than 200 miles long, however, makes it safe, for drinking purposes.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

It is known that water will seep through this sandstone at the rate of eight feet per day, and mathematicians tell us that it takes more than three hundred years for the drinking supply to percolate 200 miles. This "wick" is tapped by wells at Dubuque at a depth of 900 feet, Cedar Rapids at 1,800 feet and at Des Moines at 2,500, the average dip downward being twelve feet per mile.

Wicks' Provide Water The cause of this peculiar situation is that a certain stratum, known as the Jordan sandstone, carries a large quantity of water. The layer is very porous and lies between two less porous layers that dip from Wisconsin down under eastern Iowa.

STRAND THEATRE

ANNOUNCES THE GRAND OPENING OF OUR NEW ROBERT MORTON PIPE ORGAN

TONIGHT

Miss Henrietta Shippers of Claremont Theatre, Chicago AT THE CONSOLE

HEAR IOWA CITY'S FIRST THEATRE PIPE ORGAN. MUSIC HERETOFORE UNEXCELLED IN THIS CITY.

On The Screen—
Syd Chaplin
in his big laughing success
"The Man on the Box"

FUNNIER THAN "CHARLEY'S AUNT"

Coming Wednesday
America's Premier Musical Attraction
The World Famous
BROWN'S SAXOPHONE SIX
(IN PERSON)

You've heard them on your victrola and radio, now hear and see them in the flesh.

ON THE SCREEN
LAURA LA PLANTE and PAT O'MALLEY
in a snappy 6 reel farce comedy
"THE TEASER"

MISS HENRIETTA SHIPPERS
AT THE NEW ROBERT MORTON PIPE ORGAN

PASTIME THEATRE

TODAY and MONDAY

If you like a good picture with a great cast,

Ames Passes Way to Victory Over Washington 28 to 13

Cyclones Win by Open Field Attack

(By The Associated Press)
AMES, Iowa, Oct. 24—Iowa State college football team kept its Missouri Valley conference football schedule clean here this afternoon when it decisively defeated Washington University of St. Louis 28 to 13, in a thrilling battle, featured by countless passes and long end runs.

Tackle Goes 88 Yards

A spectacular 88 yard run by Miller, Washington tackle, started the scoring for the Pilgrims. Iowa State was on the Washington 12 yard line, all set for a determined drive for her second touchdown when an Ames fumble, caused by a poor pass from center, came into Miller's hands, who dashed wildly toward the Ames goal line. Capt. A. Johnny Behm made a desperate effort to overtake the fleeing Miller but could not catch him.

A few minutes later, in the second period, Levy booted a field goal from the 15 yard line, making the score 10 to 7 and completely demoralizing the Iowa State team.

The third period saw the home team nervous and worried, unable to complete passes and making erratic plays. In the fourth period, however, the aerial attack got under way after Levy had made his second place kick of the game.

A long pass Hall to N. Behm put the ball on the one yard line and Cory smashed over for the touchdown and the lead for Iowa State. A few minutes later Hall found Bond in the clear and a third touchdown resulted. In the closing minutes of play another pass from Hall to N. Behm netted a touchdown. J. Behm kicked goal after all touchdowns.

The lineup and summary:
IOWA STATE (13) WASHINGTON (13)
Anderson L. E. Iagallo
Grimmes L. T. Iagallo
Guthrie L. G. Hannibal
Thurberg C. Respet
Thomas R. G. Tomlin
Miller L. E. Miller
Bond L. E. McCarroll
J. Behm (c) Q. B. Hays
N. Behm L. H. Hays
Hill R. H. McDonald
Cory F. B. Levy (c)
Score by periods: 7 0 0 21—28
Iowa State

Iowa, Michigan Lead Big Ten in Dickinson Rating

The Dickinson rating system for rating conference football teams, lists Iowa at the head of the Big Ten race. The system attracted a great deal of attention among followers of football because of its fairness in rating teams. The games and the caliber of the opponents all effect the standing of the various eleven.

Following is the Big Ten rating at present.

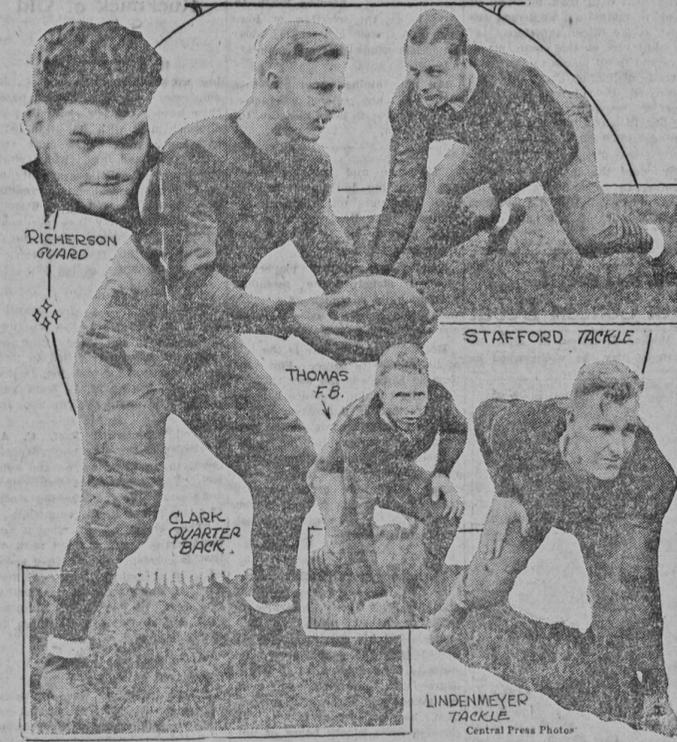

IOWA	20 points
Michigan	19 points
Chicago	17.5 points
Wisconsin	15 points
Ohio	15 points
Purdue	10 points
Indiana	10 points
Illinois	10 points
Northwestern	10 points

Cornell Trounces Parsons in Muddy Contest 6 to 0

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, Oct. 24 (AP)—Cornell won from Parsons here this afternoon in a muddy field 6 to 0. The score came in the second quarter when a blocked punt gave Cornell the ball near Parsons' 25 yard line. Line smashes put it over.

Scoring—Iowa State: touchdowns—N. Behm 2; Cory; Bond. Points from try after touchdown: Levy 2. Officials: Referee—McBride; Umpire—Carruthers; Illinois; Field Judge—Belt; Corneli; Head linesman—Lampki; Northwestern

"Show Me" Boys May Produce Great Team

Central Press Photos

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Out in Missouri, where the lowlands are fertile and the Ozarks stand as sturdy as the corn they have football every fall. Considerable football.

The achievements of the Missouri Valley conference teams—Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa State, Oklahoma, Kansas and brother institutions—are lost sometimes in the glamor of the eastern games and the spectacles of the Big Ten stadiums. But Missouri Valley has its football.

This year the husky team from the University of Missouri is leading the field out there and making a bid for national honors. In fact the chances loom big now that when the gray afternoons of late November roll around this "Show Me" state team may rank as the strongest in the country.

You may well bear in mind the achievements to date—the 2 to 0 victory over the always powerful Nebraska eleven and the 6 to 5 tie with Tulane.

Last year Missouri won the Missouri Valley title with five victories and but one defeat. Nebraska, boasting one of its strongest teams in years, was the only eleven to halt the Missourians.

In addition to its valley victories Missouri registered a 3 to 0 victory over Chicago early in the season. Chicago later won the Big Ten championship.

This year Missouri started out with 14 letter men of last year's team in trim and Sam Whiteman, passing and running star of the 1924 team, leading the eleven on the field.

The team itself presents the ideal combination—weight without sacrifice of speed or versatility of play. Thomas, the fullback, weighs 190 pounds. Doss Richerson, guard, throws 220 pounds into the line with the speed of a little little quarter.

Lindenmeyer, one of the tackles, tips the beam at 190 pounds. Stafford, his running mate, weighs 195 pounds. Clark, at quarter and only a sophomore, carries a rugged frame. He is rapidly demanding attention as one of the most brilliant open field runners in the west.

Kansas Aags Fall Before Missouri

MANHATTAN, Kans., Oct. 24 (AP)—Missouri retained its leadership of the Missouri Valley Conference by scoring a field goal in its clash with the Kansas Aagies. The score was 3 to 0.

It was a deadlocked struggle throughout the first two periods, the Wildcats pushing Missouri back through most of the opening period and twice missing goals. The invaders scored a similar opportunity in the second period.

A punt blocked by Baechus late in the third period gave Missouri the ball on the Purple one yard line, where the Wildcats fought the Tigers to a standstill for four downs. But the ball was in dangerous territory and Captain Whiteman started the triumphant advance with a pass to Baechus. Whiteman's place kick as the quarter ended won the game.

Army Tramps Over Billikens On Wet Battle Field 19-0

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 24 (AP)—Army defeated St. Louis University today 19 to 0. The game was played on a wet, soggy field, rain prevailing throughout. Fumbles were numerous and penalties for infractions of the rules frequently inflicted. Army used many substitutes.

St. Louis displayed its best form in the last half, during which the westerners held the Army at bay. An Army man got on a loose ball early in the opening period and a few minutes later Yoemans scored a touchdown. On the next lineup O'Reilly kicked off to Trappell who caught the ball and ran eighty-six yards to the second touchdown.

In the second period Ramaciotti's punt from behind his own goal lines was caught at midfield. Aided by splendid interference, Buell ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Reeder droppicked the extra point.

Trio of Net Meets Swing Into Action

First round matches in the All-University tennis tourney must be completed by Wednesday, October 28. All matches unfinished at that time will be thrown out of the bracket and play will be continued in the next round.

Soggy Courts Slow-up Matches Scheduled at the Quad

When these matches are completed the two best men from each of the four groups will again meet in round-robin play, and the two winners will play to decide the varsity championship.

Marshalltown Beats North High Eleven

DES MOINES, Oct. 24 (AP)—Marshalltown High school overwhelmingly defeated North High school, at Western League baseball park today, 27 to 0, and advanced another step in their fight for the state high school football championship.

North High lacked the fighting spirit which has characterized its games this season and permitted the visiting backs to run at will through the line, around the ends, and in running back punts.

Hale, playing at right half for Marshalltown, could not be stopped by Northwestern until making from five to eight yards time after time.

Hale started the scoring for Marshalltown and was responsible for lowering the morale of North High when he made the first touchdown within two minutes after the kickoff.

Koza's Kicking Features Victory of Little Hawks

Berger Plays Steady Game for Red and White

THE LINEUP

IOWA CITY	GRINNELL
Idema	R. E. Morrison
Berger	R. T. Appley
Douglas	R. G. Watson
Collins	C. King
Kottlison	S. Small
Dolezal	L. T. Keisel
Cadwalader	L. E. Ritter
Rosa	A. H. Ramsey
McGuire	R. H. Parmley
Judy	L. H. Auten (c)
Stevens	F. B. Turec

On a soggy and slippery field the Iowa City High football aggregation ploughed their way to an 8 to 0 victory over Grinnell yesterday afternoon on Shrader Field. A bad pass on the part of the Grinnell center gave the Little Hawks a safety in the first quarter and a couple of runs by Koza which netted 30 yards enabled Judy to carry the ball over for the only touchdown of the game.

Grinnell on Defensive
Iowa City won the toss and chose to kick to Grinnell who were defending the south goal. Grinnell immediately kicked to Koza who made a small return. The play during the first quarter was entirely in Grinnell territory. Just before the quarter ended, the ball was tossed over the head of the Grinnell punter, who barely recovered behind his own goal in time to keep Berger of Iowa City from getting the ball. Score, Iowa City 2, Grinnell 0.

Hawks Make Touchdown
With the beginning of the second quarter, the once Red and White crew started a drive that ended in a touchdown. After Koza's two runs which placed the ball on the five yard line, the ball was carried over by Judy on the second play. McGuire's attempted kick went wild and the score was 8 to 0, favor of Iowa City.

When play was resumed, the Little Pioneers began their only drive of the game which was halted by the end of the half. Score Iowa City 8, Grinnell 0.

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Des Moines U Downed 14-6 by N. D. Aggies

DES MOINES, Oct. 24 (AP)—The North Dakota Aggies football team completely outplayed Des Moines university here today, winning 14 to 6. The weather was clear and cold, making the passing game of both teams effective. Both teams scored in the second half, the visitors also getting a touchdown in the first half.

Des Moines U Downed 14-6 by N. D. Aggies

DES MOINES, Oct. 24 (AP)—The North Dakota Aggies football team completely outplayed Des Moines university here today, winning 14 to 6. The weather was clear and cold, making the passing game of both teams effective. Both teams scored in the second half, the visitors also getting a touchdown in the first half.

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Maroons Sink in Sea of Mud, 7-0

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24—Pennsylvania and Chicago waged a fierce struggle in the rain and mud of Franklin Field this afternoon and the Quakers won, 7 to 0. It was the first encounter between these inter-sectional rivals in twenty-four years.

Close to 60,000 drenched but enthusiastic onlookers saw Pennsylvania's greater resourcefulness account for the victorious margin in a contest which was chiefly a deadlock between two powerful and courageous defensive outfits.

Dartmouth Downs Harvard for Third Straight Time

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 24 (AP)—For the third successive year the Green tonight waved in triumph over the Crimson in the stadium here while a madly cheering Dartmouth crowd snaked danced across the gridiron in celebration of a victory over Harvard. The score was 32 to 9.

For Dartmouth it was the fourth straight victory of the season. For Harvard it was the second defeat in two weeks and the severest setback the Crimson has ever suffered at the hands of her New Hampshire rival.

A capacity crowd of 53,000 saw the game.

Pick Harrier Team for Illinois Meet

Condition of Course Hampers Time of Tryouts

Running on a greasy course in a steady drizzle the Iowa cross-country team held its time trials for the dual meet with Illinois yesterday. The conditions were such that no phenomenal times were turned in, and Coach George T. Bresnahan stated that the team still had plenty of room for improvement.

The Hawkeye aggregation will meet the Illinois team on Saturday, Oct. 31, on the Finkbine field course. The meet will be held at 11 o'clock, immediately after the finish of the high school cross country race. Instead of the customary five mile race, the run with Illinois will be but four miles.

Minor physical ailments kept Capt. March and W. A. Elliot out of the race today, but both the men will be in shape for the meet next week. Following are the ten men who finished: T. Blakey, H. E. Van Ness.

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Wife and I extend to you a very cordial invitation to eat SUNDAY DINNER

with us today from 12 noon to 2:30 P. M.

Fried Chicken A La Maryland	Garnish Lattice	75c
Fricassee Chicken	Home Made Noodles	60c
Roast Leg of Pork	Apple Compote	50c
Champagne Baked Ham	Candied Yams	50c
Lattice or Whipped Potatoes	Mashed Squash—Drawn Butter
Head Lettuce 1000 Isle Dressing	Old Fashioned Pumpkin Pie—Whipped Cream
Coffee	Hot Tea Biscuits
Tea	Milk

Passing Game Drake 7 to 0

(By The Associated Press)
GRINNELL, Oct. 24—A long third period gave the Drake victory over Grinnell college 7 to 0 here this afternoon. It was the second game for Grinnell.

Grinnell's scoring was the sports experts here declare that of modern football. The third and fourth periods.

Gets Bad Pass
Cook, Drake left halfback, was responsible for two of the safeties, the first one coming early in the second period. The play came immediately after the Drake team had been penalized five yards for offense.

The pass from center, Doc Carlos was bad and Cook barely had it in his hands before the Grinnell line had pounced on him.

The second safety was also the result of a penalty, the ball being on Drake's own one yard line when Sutherland was tackled behind the Grinnell line.

Aerial Heave Wins
After McLaughlin's attempted dropkick fell short in the fourth period, the Drake man who received the ball was tackled on his three yard line and on the next play Cook was again downed behind his own goal line.

Line plunges by Spears and Cook put the ball within striking distance of the Grinnell goal and a pass from Cook to Spears gave Drake her touchdown. The pass was good for twenty yards and Cook merely had to race across the goal line. Sutherland added the other point.

The Lineup:
GRINNELL (6) DRAKE (7)
Sibley L. E. Saphel
Davis L. T. Henry
Peterson L. G. Amberg
Meyer R. G. DuBois
Marlin R. T. Robertson
Hart L. H. Ewart
Stettin L. H. Stuebe
Metz G. B. Sutherland
Mast L. H. Cook
Wing F. B. Cronkite

Score by periods: 0 0 7 0—7
Grinnell Touchdowns—Spears, point after touchdown—Sutherland. Grinnell safeties—Cook 2, Sutherland. Officials: Referee—Grover, Washington; Umpire—Little, Ohio State; Head linesman—Wyatt, Missouri.

Football Results

Cornell 6; Parsons 0; N. Dakota Aggies 14; Des Moines U. 6; Columbia U. 26; Williams U. 6; Penn State 13; Penn Military College 13; Temple University 0.

Conferences:
St. Joseph College 13; Manhattan U. 12; Carnegie Tech. 0; Susquehanna U. 6; Schuylkill U. 6; Susquehanna U. 6; Michigan Aggies 6; Rhode Island State 12; New York College 12; Virginia U. 7; Virginia Poly. U. 0; William and Mary 35; Duke University 0; Furman 7; Davidson 0; Montana State 33; Colorado College 3; Stern Maryland 19; Loyola 0; Johns Hopkins 33; Drexel 0; St. Mary's 13; West Virginia 0; Wayneburg 12; Westminster 0; Grove City 26; Marietta 0; Lebanon Valley 5; Villa Nova 6; Muhlenberg 0; Dickinson 0; Tusculum 32; Webb's Naval 0; Indiana and Marshall 13; Swarthmore 2; Clarkson 19; Rochester 0; Holy Cross 47; Vermont 3; Haverford 15; Hamilton 0; Bryn Mawr 18; U. of Buffalo 0; Creighton 15; Dakota U. 0; Gonzaga 12; Idaho 3; Columbia 24; Vanderbilt 7; North Carolina 3; Mercer 0; Alabama 7; Georgia Tech 0; Georgia 24

Passing Game Gives Drake 7 to 6 Victory

(By The Associated Press)
GRINNELL, Oct. 24—A long pass from Cook to Spears in the third period gave the Drake university football team a victory over Grinnell college 7 to 6 on a wet and soggy field here this afternoon. It was the first Missouri Valley conference game for Grinnell.

Grinnell's scoring was the result of three safeties, and sports experts here declare that it may be a record in the history of modern football. The safeties came in the second, third and fourth periods.

Gets Bad Pass
Cook, Drake left halfback, was responsible for two of the safeties, the first one coming early in the second period. The play came immediately after the Drake team had been penalized five yards for offside.

Aerial Heave Wins
After McLain's attempted drop kick fell short in the fourth period, the Drake man who received the ball was tackled on his three yard line and on the next play Cook was again downed behind his own goal line.

Line Plunges by Spears and Cook
The second safety was also the result of a penalty, the ball being on Drake's own one yard line when Sutherland was tackled behind the Grinnell line.

The Lineup
GRINNELL (6): Drake (7) Nible, L. E., Sopher; Davis, L. T., Henry; Peterson, A. G., Ambelang; Mayer, C., Don Carlos; Seeland, R. G., Robertson; Hart, R. T., Ewart; Ross, R. E., Sliane; Sweet, Q. H., Sutherland; West, H. H., Grover; Stewart, R. H., Cook; Wiegman, C. H., Cronkite.

Football Results
Cornell 6; Parsons 0
N. Dakota Aggies 14; Des Moines 0
Columbia U. 26; Williams 0
New York 13; Middlebury 0
Penn. State 13; Mich. Aggies 6
Iowa State 12; New York 0
Washington and Lee 20; Virginia Poly. 0
Furman 0; Davidson 0
Kline College 0; Maryville 10
Colorado Aggies 7; Colorado College 3
Western Maryland 19; Loyola 0
Johns Hopkins 13; Drexel 0
Illinois 19; Hobart 7
Wagner 12; Westminster 0
Grove City 20; Marietta 0
Lorenz Valley 6; Villa Nova 6
Muhlenberg 0; Dickinson 0
Tusculum 20; Webb 0
Franklin and Marshall 13; Swarthmore 0
Clarkson 19; Rochester 0
Holy Cross 47; Vermont 3
Haverford 15; Hamilton 0
David Elkins 29; U. of Buffalo 0
Creighton 19; S. Dakota 0
Gonzaga 12; Idaho 3
Louisiana State 0; Tennessee 0
North Carolina 3; Mercer 0
Alabama 7; Georgia Tech 0
Georgia 26; Vanderbilt 7
Okla. Aggies 22; Texas Christian 7
Oklahoma 9; Methodist 18
Auburn 0; Howard 0
St. Bonaventure 20; Catholic U. 7
Geneva 20; Beloit 0
Northwich 12; Lowell Textile 0
New Hampshire 19; Springfield 10
Denver U. 7; Colorado Mines 18
Western State 18; Colorado Teachers 4
Seabird 7; Rutgers 0
Virginia M. I. 27; North Carolina State 0
Butler 0
Wabash 0; Washington 0
Navy 37; Washington 0
S. Dakota 27; Morrisville 0
Virginia 27; Carolina State 6
Tulane 18; Northwestern 0
Washington 16; Whitman 2
St. Mary's 35; Nevada 0
Connecticut Aggies 3; Tufts 0
State Teachers 20; Luther 9
Buena Vista 10; Trinity 0
Marquette 7; Lombard 0
Nebraska Wesleyan 3; South Dakota Univ. 0
Kortana 28; Akron 0
Lawrence 3; Rinon 0
Urbans 0; George Washington 0
Loyola 6; Dayton Univ. 3

Nebraska Overcomes Stubborn Defense in Brilliant 14-0 Win

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 24 (AP)—The University of Nebraska Cornhuskers hung up another victory over the University of Kansas in their annual gridiron clash at Memorial Stadium before a large homecoming crowd here today. The score was 14 to 0.

Rhodes Scores First
Nebraska's scores came in the two final periods after the heavy Jayhawk line had stopped Coach Ernest Bear's men five times during the first half. "Choppy" Rhodes, Nebraska halfback, plunged through for the first score at the end of the third period and "Jug" Brown, Husker quarter, accounted for the second touchdown with a 45 yard run in the last minutes of play.

The Lineup
NEBRASKA (14) KANSAS (0)
Sprague, B. E., Testras; E. Weir, (c), L. T., Smith; Scholtz, L. G., Mullins; Hurlbutson, C., Davidson; Rash, R. G., Sannon; Wier, R. E., Lattin; Brown, Q. H., Anderson; Rhodes, T. H., Schardt; Daley, R. H., Wellman; Pressnell, E. B., Mullins.

Rockne Cavalry Trample Gophers
Last Quarter Attack Nets Irish Two Touchdowns
(By The Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24—Phantom horsemen rode with the Notre Dame eleven in Memorial stadium here today, spurring on the Rockne team to a 19 to 7 victory over Minnesota. The huge horse-shaped bowl was crowded with more than 45,000 spectators.

Smithsonian Institution Uses Planes in Study of Races
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution aerial expedition enroute to Dutch New Guinea to explore the pigmy race here, rested tonight in Cheyenne where they landed in their big Yack-Liberty-Breguet biplane today. The explorers arrived at the air field here at 2:17 p. m. tomorrow morning from North Platte, Neb., and will take off at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for Salt Lake City, the party of four making the flight expecting to reach the Utah capital tomorrow afternoon.

Deeming Wins Churchill Downs Handicap Event
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 24 (AP)—Deeming, the only filly in the five horse race, found sloppy going to her liking and won the Falls City handicap at Churchill Downs this afternoon. The little filly waded the mile and an eighth in 1:55 flat, and won $5,000 net for her owner, C. B. Daley.

Buena Vista Douses Trinity; Score 13-0
STORM LAKE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Buena Vista defeated Trinity College here this afternoon 13 to 0. Two passes, Rollins to Christie, gave the Beavers an opportunity to score in the first period. Johnston plunged three yards through center for the counter and Rollins kicked goal. A long pass to Rollins for forty yards gave Buena Vista its second touchdown. Rain and snow made the game slow.

Teachers Come From Behind to Down Luther Eleven 20-9
CEDAR FALLS, Iowa, Oct. 24 (AP)—After spotting Luther 9 points in the first half the Cedar Falls Teachers came back with some brilliant play and won the homecoming game here today 20 to 9. Bates was the outstanding star of the contest although both Andrews and D. Harshbarger did some sensational work for the Teachers' backfield. The Cedar Falls line held like a wall.

St. Ambrose Wallows Before Campion in 18 to 0 Defeat
DAVENPORT, Oct. 24 (AP)—The St. Ambrose academy team went down to defeat before the hard hitting Campion outfit of Prairie du Chien and took the short end of an 18 to 0 score. Although the game was played in a sea of mud, the locals were clearly outclassed and could not stop the great line plunging of the Wisconsin eleven.

HIGH SCHOOL
Iowa City 8; Grinnell 0
Lone Tree 7; Wilton Junction 3
Charles City 22; Waukon 0
Osage 3; New Hampton 0
Ft. Dodge 13; Eagle Grove 0
Muscatine 6; West Branch 0
Alona 33; Estherville 6
Guthrie Center 14; Perry 0
Oskaloosa 13; Knoxville 7
Eldora Training 27; Belle Plaine 0
Charlton 25; Sidney 6
Moline, Ill. 6; Washington (Cedar Rapids) 4
Newton 38; Pleasantville 7
Keokuk 12; Stronghurst, Ill. 0
Camblan 18; St. Ambrose 0

The Daily Iowan's Classified Advertising

If You Have a Want --- You Want It Filled

Phone Your Ad to 290 now

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—A WHITE GOLD ELGIN wrist watch between Currier Hall and Garden Theater Sunday evening. Please return to Iowan office and receive reward.

LOST—ALPHA PHI ALPHA FRaternity pin Saturday. Initials P. R. on back. Return to Daily Iowan office. Reward.

LOST—LIGHT SHELL RIMMED glasses in black case between L. A. building and the University Book Store. Tel. Black 664.

THREE $20 BILLS AND ONE $1 bill lost in Dean of Men's office, Avenue Lunch room, or Old Science Hall. Tel. 317-W.

LOST—WHITE GOLD WATCH, 17 jeweled Elgin. Keepsake. Liberal reward. Phone Black 1447.

LOST—GOLD ELGIN WRIST watch. Suitable reward. Return to this office.

LOST—SARIENTI PIPE. NAME Urnie printed on bit. Finder call Red 2072. Reward.

LOST—PAIR BONE RIMMED glasses Monday. Elizabeth Ritter West Lawn.

ARMY BLANKET LOST ON IOWA field Saturday. Phone Red 1357 after 6 p. m.

BLACK PARKER FOUNTAIN PEN found. Owner call at Iowan office identify and pay for this ad.

LOST—GOLD WALTHAM WATCH at game Saturday. Phone 1433 Reward.

LOST—SATURDAY, WATERMAN'S fountain pen. Reward. Call Bruce Potter 1924.

BARREL OF GREISHABER FOUNTAIN pen lost. Finder return to Daily Iowan.

SHELL RIMMED GLASSES in black case lost last week. Return to B12 University Hall. Reward.

LOST—AN OVAL WAINSTONE slipper buckle Call Delta Gamma house.

LOST—SHELL RIMMED GLASSES in case with $2, also letter. Phone 1574.

LOST—PARKER DIOPHOL PEN without cap. Call 2243.

MISCELLANEOUS

PICTURE FRAMING ARTISTICAL by done at reasonable prices. Fine stock of picture moulding. Phone Black 1940. C. W. Carlson, 403 S. Johnson.

MARCEL AND SHAMPOO $1. Phone 2754-LW.

FOR RENT ROOMS

FOR RENT—ONE DOUBLE OR single front room in quiet home two blocks from campus. For upper classmen or graduate students. Phone Red 272.

FOR RENT—SINGLE ROOM IN quiet home. If interested call before 8 A. M. or after 6 P. M. Phone 2381-J. Reduction if taken immediately.

LARGE FRONT ROOM FOR RENT. Private entrance, downstairs, single or double, home privileges. $23 Reynolds St.

SUITE OF TWO ROOMS NICELY furnished for two or four students. $25 per month. 219 E. Church. Tel. 3165-L.

FOR RENT—ROOMS AND HEAT. 438 E. 11th St. Phone 2754-LJ.

FOR RENT—TWO DOUBLE ROOMS and one single room for boys. Phone Red 548. 429 Davenport.

ROOMS FOR BOYS, SINGLE AND double. Close in. 411 North Duquesne. Tel. 2054.

ROOMS FOR BOYS, SINGLE AND double. 411 North Duquesne. Tel. 2054.

FOUR ROOM APARTMENT AND large sleeping porch. Close in. Tel. 2963-LJ.

GOOD SINGLE ROOM EXCEPTIONAL price if taken at once. Phone 3145.

BRIGHT COMFORTABLE ROOM close in. Reasonable. 522 East College.

ROOMS—ONE SINGLE AND ONE double. $18 and $25 per month. 115 N. Clinton. Black 2095.

LARGE UPSTAIRS SOUTH ROOM for rent. Reasonable. 432 South Duquesne. Tel. 1177.

FOR RENT—TWO SINGLE ROOMS for girls. 422 N. Clinton St. Tel. 1377.

TWO VERY DESIRABLE ROOMS for rent. Reasonable. 414 South Duquesne. Tel. 1177.

ROOMS FOR RENT, SINGLE OR double. 22 East Court.

FOR RENT—SINGLE ROOM, $10. Phone Red 1564.

FOR RENT—ROOMS FOR MEN. $28. Brown St. Phone Red 2019.

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS

LARGE MODERN LIGHT HOUSE-keeping room for rent. Also sleeping room, steam heated. Phone 287-W.

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE MODERN furnished housekeeping apartment and one double room, good heat. 604 S. Clinton.

FOR RENT—MODERN TWO rooms and kitchenette $25. Two downstairs $25. one room for two students $10. 503 S. Van Buren.

FOR RENT—APARTMENTS

FOR RENT—SIX ROOMS AND bath, heated apartment, ground floor. Garage furnished. New furniture, now in. may be purchased. Phone 1312.

FOR RENT—LOVELY APARTMENT 222 North Clinton. Tel. Red 714.

MODERN FURNISHED THREE room apartment for rent with private bath. by November 1. Phone Black 2439.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—FERRIS, CALL AT Swift's poultry house Oct. 25 or later.

FOR SALE—GOLD PLATED E flat into saxophone. Inquire 107 S. Clinton.

FOR SALE—5% PAVING BONDS on food towels in Iowa. W. H. Bailey Tel. 1472.

WANTED—POSITION

STUDENT DESIRES work. Would greatly appreciate a room job. Address A-14 c/o The Daily Iowan.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

WHAT DO YOU NEED?

Whether its Tailoring, Renting, a Car, a Tea, Repairing, or a Beauty Shop—the following firms can fill your wants.

The Blackstone Millinery Shop
Specializes in HATS
$5.00 to $10.00
nothing higher
122 South Dubuque

GLASSES
Eyes Examined Lenses Duplicated
FUKS
1st Door East of First National Bank

INFIRMARY COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY
open for clinical service, beginning Sept. 21, 1925. Hours 10-12 a. m., 1-5 p. m.

EAT AT THE UNIVERSITY CAFE
OUR MEALS WILL PLEASE YOU
SPECIAL SUNDAY DINNERS
Sale of Meal Tickets Each Sunday
$5.50 TICKET FOR $4.50

Come to
Thomas' Hardware Co.
For your Padlocks, Files, Safety Razors, Blades of All Kinds. Use our Gunsmith and Expert Key-maker.

Emil Rongner
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor successor to
Jos. Slavata

Catering to Collegians and specializing in individual styles
Cleaning Pressing Repairing
169 South Clinton Tel. Black 1611

Use The Iowan Want Ads

BARN DANCE!
at W. W. WATERS
Every Tuesday Night
in heated barn
One and one-half miles southeast of Iowa City on lower Muscatine road.
Music by 5-Piece-Orchestra
Admission 75c Ladies Free
Music starts at 8:00 p. m.

MARCEL 75c
WORK GUARANTEED
BLACK STONE BEAUTY SHOP
Open Thurs. and Sat. Nights
PHONE 1299-J
FOR APPOINTMENT

FRANK PALIK
MERCHANT TAILOR
118 1/2 East Washington
PHONE BLACK 1038

CARPENTER WORK of all kinds
Prompt Service
Metal Weather Stripping a specialty. Makes old sticky doors and windows work like new.
Call Black 1928
J. P. JENKS

HOME DELIVERY OF
The Chicago Tribune
Herald Examiner
PHONE 2486-J
L. J. BASCHAGEL
219 N. Van Buren St.

Use The Iowan Want Ads

Kenyon Beauty Shop
105 1/2 So. Clinton St.
Try our Water Wave and Marcells
Rain Water used for Shampoos
PHONE 1051

HAVE YOUR SHOES REBUILT
WE GUARANTEE ALL OUR WORK
JOE ALBERT
SHOE REPAIR
Across from Englert Theatre

THEMES
CLASS NOTES, THESES, STORIES AND POETRY
TYPEWRITERS
MIMOGRAPHING
MARY V. BURNS
8 Paul-Helen Bldg. Tel. Red 1299
Public Stenographer

DELUXE LUNCH
ACROSS THE STREET SOUTH FROM THE CAMPUS
MEALS 30c
GOOD FOOD—COOKED SO YOU WILL LIKE IT
COME IN AND GIVE US A TRIAL

THE Checker Cab Co.
SELECTED DRIVERS
PHONE 646
"Insured While You Ride"

First Class SHOE REPAIRING
We Also Buy Second-Hand Shoes and Clothing
MORRIS KIMMEL
24 East College Phone 1792

Read the Iowan for Latest News

BRAN - DEES
RENT-A-FORD
All New Cars
FOR PARTIES, PICNICS, DANCES OR PLEASURE
Low Day Rates
Mileage basis—No hour charge
Phone 171

Harter Motor Co.

DRIVE YOURSELF

BUICK

AUTO LIVERY

226 East College
Phone 333 Iowa City, Ia.

SPECIAL

5 to 7:30

SUNDAY—Fried Eggs 25c
Special Baked Beans

MONDAY—Corn 25c
Fritters-Bacon

Holman's Cafeteria

American Legion Auxiliary

SAMPLE SALE AND DANCE

OCTOBER 27, 28, and 29
Afternoon—Sale and Tea
Evening—Dance

K. of P. HALL

Cavalrymen Top State, Placing 13 Men for Medals

Troop A Gets Awards for High Shooting at Camp Dodge

Qualifying more men in each arm than any other organization in the state is the achievement of Iowa City's Troop A, One Hundred Thirtieth Cavalry, Iowa National Guard, in a medal shooting contest at Camp Dodge in 1924, notification of awards for which have just been received here.

Thirteen members of the troop, which is commanded by Capt. W. J. Hayek, placed in one or more classifications. Sterling silver medals, sent by order of General Lasher, adjutant general of Iowa, will be awarded the men at troop drill at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow in the armory on the third floor over the Guzman garage. The drill is open to visitors.

Following are the medal winners, with their classifications:
Capt. W. J. Hayek, expert rifleman, expert pistol, mounted and dismounted.
Lieutenant Wilson, expert rifleman and sharpshooter, pistol dismounted.
Sgt. Albert Yanauach, expert rifleman, expert pistol mounted and marksman dismounted.
Sgt. Glen Schmidt, expert rifle-

Dinners, Luncheons and small dance parties by the glow of The Yellow Lantern.

Yellow Lantern
Tea Shoppe
Phone 3170 J.

Iowa City One of Few Cases in State

[CONTINUED FROM PAGE 51]
well was corroded to a perforated shell in five years by the chemical action of the highly mineralized water.

Water containing over 2,000 parts of mineral per million parts of water is clearly unfit for laundry or boiler purposes. Hard water is not known to be serious to health although it is often disagreeable to the taste.

First Presbyterian Church

9:30 a. m. Bible school
10:45 a. m. Primary department of the Sunday school
10:45 a. m. Service of worship and sermon by Mr. Reed. Subject: "The Soul's Sincere Desire."
The quartette will sing: "Still, Still With Thee" by Arthur Foote and "I Will Arise and Go to My Father" by Harker.
6:30 a. m. High school C. E. Virginia Hunter is leader.
6:30 a. m. Senior Christian Endeavor society. Miss Margaret Sayers will speak.

man, expert pistol dismounted.
Sgt. Elmer Hay, sharpshooter rifle, expert pistol dismounted.
Sgt. Charles Hayek, expert pistol, mounted, and sharpshooter dismounted.
Sgt. William H. Bender, rifle marksman, expert pistol, and sharpshooter dismounted.
Corp. Arthur Baldwin, expert rifleman, and expert pistol dismounted.
Corp. William Coultas, expert rifleman and expert pistol dismounted.

4 p. m. Vesper service at the natural science auditorium, President W. Irving Maurer, of Beloit College, is the speaker.
6:30 p. m. Society of Christian Endeavor, "Dare We Be Christians?" is the topic and Sherd Baldwin is leader.
6:30 p. m. Pilgrim society of Christian Endeavor. The topic will be, "Pioneering in South America." Eloise Walker is in charge.

Congregational Church

Ira J. Houston, pastor
9:25 a. m. Sunday school session
9:45 a. m. Morning worship, sermon by the pastor. Theme, "The Story the Walls Tell." The service will be held in the newly decorated auditorium. Members will be received.
4 p. m. Vesper service at the natural science auditorium, President W. Irving Maurer, of Beloit College, is the speaker.
6:30 p. m. Society of Christian Endeavor, "Dare We Be Christians?" is the topic and Sherd Baldwin is leader.
6:30 p. m. Pilgrim society of Christian Endeavor. The topic will be, "Pioneering in South America." Eloise Walker is in charge.

Former Resident of Iowa City Dies at Cedar Rapids

Hold Funeral Service of Philip Klein Here Tomorrow

Philip Klein, for more than fifteen years a resident of Iowa City, died Thursday night at the home of his grand daughter, Mrs. A. Strabala, at Cedar Rapids. The body will be brought here for burial tomorrow.

Mr. Klein, aged 84, and a retired farmer, moved to Cedar Rapids two years ago. He previously lived in Washington.

He is survived by five daughters and two sons: Mrs. Mary Horning of Portland, Oregon, and Henry of Riverside, John of Lone Tree, Albert of Iowa City, and Frank of Rock Island, Illinois.
Funeral service will be held from St. Wenceslaus church tomorrow at 9 a. m. Interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

St. Paul's Lutheran University Church

Julius A. Friedrich, pastor
10:30 a. m. Services in Commercial club rooms. Subject of sermon, "The Life of Dr. Martin Luther Up to October 31, 1517." Visitors and strangers invited.

St. Patrick's Church

6:30 a. m. First mass
8 a. m. Children's mass
9 a. m. Student's mass
10:30 a. m. High mass

Church Services

Methodist Church

W. C. Keeler, minister
E. T. Gough, university minister
9:30 a. m. Sunday school opened by concert.
10:45 a. m. Morning worship
6:30 p. m. Intermediate league led by Evelyn Roche
6:30 Epworth league
7:30 p. m. Evening worship. Orchestra music. Sermon: "Booth—Salvationist."

Zion Lutheran Church

Corner Johnson and Bloomington
Rev. Herman Brueckner, pastor
9:15 a. m. Sunday school
10:30 a. m. English service, with sermon on "Christian Conduct."
2 p. m. Services in Sharon
6 p. m. Banquet and lecture at Youde's Inn under the auspices of the Lutheran club. Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, professor of education at Luther college, Decorah, will be speaker.

First Baptist Church

Clinton and Burlington streets
Elbert Jesse Smith, minister
9:30 a. m. Church Bible school
9:45 a. m. University class meets at the student center, 230 N. Clinton street.
10:45 a. m. Morning worship, sermon, "Is Christianity Christian?"
5:30 p. m. B. Y. P. U. luncheon and social hour.
6:30 p. m. B. Y. P. U. service. Open discussion on "Modernism and Fundamentalism."
7:30 p. m. Starting a series of ten sermons on "The Ten Commandments in Modern Life." First sermon, "The Heart's Shrine." Beautiful pictures on the screen. Gospel solo, Mr. Drummond, S. U. I. glee club. *Violin and flute duet.
2:30 p. m. Wickham chapel Sunday school, Milo Brooks superintendent.

First Unitarian Church

Iowa Avenue and Gilbert street
Arthur L. Weatherly, D. D., minister
11 a. m. Sunday school and kindergarten, sermon subject: "What Ails Our Youth."
6 p. m. Supper and social hour.
7 p. m. Fireside hour. Speaker, Dr. Graham Asher. Subject: "Facts and Fancy about Diet."

Christian Church

LeRoy Munyon, minister
9:20 a. m. Orchestra, William Soucek, director
9:30 a. m. Bible school, classes for everybody, motto: "400 in Attendance."
10:45 a. m. Morning worship, sermon: "Christ the Wonderful." Special music by Mr. Leigh and quartette
10:45 a. m. Junior church, Mrs. Munyon, superintendent
6:30 p. m. Intermediate Christian Endeavor. Tom Gardner, superintendent
6:30 p. m. Fidelity Christian Endeavor. Fred Boerner, president
7:30 p. m. Evangelistic service.

The First English Lutheran Church

Dubuque and Market streets
C. R. Sherck D. D., pastor
9:30 a. m. Sunday school student class taught by the pastor.
10:45 a. m. Morning sermon, subject: "Filled With the Spirit."
6 p. m. Supper at Youde's Inn for students and townspeople under auspices of Luther Student club of the University.
Prof. O. A. Tingelstad, Luther college, Decorah, will lecture on "Evolution."

Leeper Shows Emotion for First Time at Trial

Nine Testify for State Yesterday

Mother of Murdered Man Relates Call of Step-Daughter

Robert Leeper, on retrial at Marango for the murder of Roy Wertz, was more nervous yesterday than ever before. The state was bombarding him with evidence. The courtroom was jammed with persons eager to hear testimony of the witnesses.

Nine Witnesses Testify

The state presented evidence throughout the day. Frank Vogel of West Liberty, brother of Mrs. Agnes Kuntz-Wertz, Donald Price of Iowa City, H. F. Parr proprietor of Lincoln hotel, Cedar Rapids, H. F. Bryant and Richard F. Bruch, clerks at the hotel, J. E. Stevenson, street car conductor on the Cedar Rapids-Iowa City interurban, Mrs. Julia Wertz of Dolliver, Iowa, Dr. F. L. Love of Iowa City, and Dr. A. W. Bennett testified yesterday.

Frank Vogel, the first witness in the morning, testified that his sister married Roy Wertz and that he helped Dr. Kuntz when they made the famous wine cellar from an old cistern. He said that his sister, the second Mrs. Wertz, had died the fall of 1915, and that she left property, valued upwards of $20,000 to Roy Wertz. When the state attorneys asked if they got along all right together, the defense objected and the court sustained the objection.

Price Gives Evidence

Donald Price, the second witness and an expert rifle and pistol marksman, testified that he examined the Wertz kitchen a day or two after the shooting, which occurred Dec. 27, 1922. This evidence was barred from court when the case was tried here two years ago. He testified that he noticed a bullet mark on the east wall of the kitchen between the dining room and the southeast corner of the kitchen, at approximately sixty-three inches from the floor. He testified that the bullet was travelling slightly upward.

He also said that he placed a pencil in the bullet hole and by a continuation of the angle with a string, ascertained that the shot was fired in a line with the door in the northwest corner of the kitchen. He said he also identified another mark on the south wall of the kitchen, a little more than a foot west of the south doorway of the kitchen and approximately twenty-six inches from the floor. This mark was made by a key-hole or revolving bullet. He said that he identified what appeared to him to be small particles of hair in and around the hole, and that he also noticed small red spots around the hole that looked like blood spots. He testified that the bullet was fired from a position almost directly in front of this bullet mark. He said that he didn't find any other bullet marks in any other part of the kitchen. The defense cross examined the Witness for two hours.

The pistol, supposed to be the one used to murder Wertz, known as "Exhibit 13 A. M. S." was exhibited. Mr. Price demonstrated the way it could be fired, the action and reaction of the gun, and said that when he first fired it, it gouged his thumb. The gun is a seven point sixty-five millimeter German Mauser. The condition and make of the gun make it so that a novice can not fire it without being wounded, he stated.

H. F. Parr, proprietor of Lincoln hotel, Cedar Rapids, testified that between 1 and 2 p. m., Dec. 26, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leeper registered at the hotel and were assigned to room 331. Mrs. Leeper asked to put in a long distance call to Dolliver, Iowa, from their room. Mr. Parr said that both appeared to be nervous. He said that they put in a call to Mrs. Wertz at Dolliver and said that she could be found at the Reed home.

Mrs. Wertz Joins Leepers

Richard F. Bruch, day clerk at the Lincoln hotel at that time, testified that on the morning of December 27, Mrs. Wertz and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leeper checked out about 3:30 a. m. He said that Mrs. Wertz checked from room 332, which was across the hall from 331.

J. E. Stevenson, street car conductor on the Cedar Rapids-Iowa City interurban, testified that Mrs. Wertz and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leeper rode on the car from Cedar Rapids to Iowa City that left Cedar Rapids at 9 a. m. He said that they got off on the corner of Capitol and Court streets.

Mrs. Wertz's Mother Testifies

Mrs. Julia Wertz, mother of Roy Wertz, testified that she was at the Reed home in Dolliver when Mrs. Miama Wertz received a long distance call. She testified that Miama Wertz in answering said, "All right, I'll be home tonight," and that Miama went into the bedroom and sat down and cried. When Mrs. Julia Wertz went into the bedroom and asked who called, Miama replied, "Beryl's follow."

Mrs. Julia Wertz testified that she then asked Miama what was the matter, and Miama said that she supposed that Roy and Beryl were having trouble. Then Mrs. Julia Wertz asked her if Roy had been drinking, and Miama said, "Yes, he is drinking heavily," and that he had a bad heart. She continued, saying, "Don't be surprised if you hear of Roy's sudden death." Mrs. Julia Wertz testified that the next day about 2 p. m. she heard of Roy's death.

Dr. Love Attends Victim

Dr. F. L. Love, who, with Dr. A. W. Bennett, attended Roy Wertz, testified that he received a telephone call at approximately 10:30 a. m., December 27, 1922. He said he was operating on a patient at the time, so he asked Dr. Bennett to answer the phone. Dr. Bennett couldn't understand so Dr. Love went to the phone. He said that he learned that Roy Wertz had been shot and that they wanted him to come to the home immediately. He sent Dr. Bennett to the home because he hadn't completed the operation. He testified that he followed in ten or fifteen minutes, and that when he arrived, he found Roy on a bed, with a bandage around his head.

He said he took the bandage off and found a hole in the skull directly in front of the right ear, and a flesh wound back of the right ear. He said the hole in back of the ear was smaller than one in front of the ear. He also found a skull wound, showing that the bullet had entered the right temple, coming out a little to the left and a little above the occipital protuberance at left base of skull. The wound at the left base of the skull was much larger than one at right temple, he said, and by feeling of the skull he could tell that it was fractured in a number of places.

Take Test to Hospital

Dr. Love ordered that Mr. Wertz, according to the testimony, be taken to the Mercy hospital for a x-ray examination. Dr. Bennett accompanied the body. Dr. Love said he stayed at the home for ten or fifteen minutes, and that during that time Robert Leeper went out and came back with Attorney Frank Messer. He said he then went to the office and to the hospital, as when he arrived there, he was informed that Wertz was dead.

Dr. Bennett Corroborated

Dr. Bennett corroborated Dr. Love's testimony, giving the details of the finding of the body of Mr. Wertz dressed in a night shirt, on the floor. He stated that he asked Leeper to help carry Roy to bed and that Leeper said that he didn't know if he were able, because he had been sick. He said to Dr. Bennett, "See how pale I am." They finally carried Roy to bed and a little later he noticed a Mauser automatic laying on the dining room table. Dr. Bennett said he started to pick it up, when Leeper told him to look out, because the safety was off, or words to that effect. He testified that Leeper then put it away.

The jury is kept under guard, and not allowed to return to their homes. Court will convene again tomorrow at 9 a. m.

Psychologists Brand Phrenology as False

[CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5]

considerable number of people. One Mr. Sage, a pupil of theirs, gave Cornell university a large amount of money to go toward establishing such a chair at the university. The money, however, was turned into the field of psychology and today pays the salary of one of the professors of psychology. Professor Ruckmick stated that Sage used to come around quite often to inquire about phrenological studies he supposed were being financed by his money.

Phrenology Stimulates Study

Every year, Professor Ruckmick says, some one claims truth in phrenology, but real students of psychology have never credited it. However, he said phrenology had made its contribution to science in that it had stimulated study of the brain and its functions.

Miss Monroe as she read their verse.

Three contemporary western poets, Vachel Lindsay, Carl Sandburg and Edgar Lee Masters were favorably commented on by Miss Monroe as she read their verse. She also spoke of the talented New England group including Robert Frost, Edwin Arlington Robinson, Amy Lowell, Edna St. Vincent Millay and others. She read from all these poets and also some verse from her own pen.

Miss Monroe was a guest yesterday afternoon at a tea given by members of the English department during which she spoke of the power which poetry has in stirring up strife. She said that the glamour and romance of war has been much overdrawn by poets of the past. After an informal discussion she read several of her nature poems and a group of what she called her "human poems"—"On a Train."

Fine Arts Head Dies at Seventy; Old Eli Graduate

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—William Anderson Coffin, president and treasurer of the American Fine Arts society and one of New York's best known painters, died today at the New York hospital. He was 70 years old and a bachelor.

Mr. Coffin was born in Allegheny, Pa., son of James Gardner Coffin. He was graduated from Yale in 1874 and after several years of study in this country became the pupil of Leon Bonnat, Paris, where he spent several years. He returned to New York in 1882 and at once attracted attention by his work as a landscape and figure painter. He became an associate of the National academy of design in 1898 and a member in 1912.

Long Distance Student

The most distant student of the university is Dr. Howard L. Sieg of Saskatchewan, Can., who listens in twice a week on the courses offered by the "college of the air" broadcasting from WSUI.

JUNIORS

Your Photograph in the Hawkeye for $1.00 Less than Last Year

ONLY A FEW MORE DAYS LEFT FOR YOU TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR YOUR

1927 HAWKEYE PICTURE

THE NEW ARRANGEMENT THIS YEAR

You pay $2.00 to photographer for one print from a selection of three proofs. (This is .50 less than last year.)

Pay $2.00 fee to Hawkeye (.50 less than last year), for cut, at business office of Student Publications Inc., Iowa Avenue entrance, basement of Journalism Building and get receipt to give the photographer.

Minimum prices for additional pictures $6 for 6 — $11 for 12 — less $2.00 fee.

The Newberg Studio The Luscombe Studio
The Townsend Studio

FREE RADIO EQUIPMENT

Our entire stock of sets with separate speakers. You buy the set and speaker; we give you the batteries, tubes, and equipment for hooking up to your aerial. They are all 1926 models from nationally known manufacturers.

Because we know from experience that we cannot take care of the demand that comes just before Christmas, because extra help plus express charges, telegraph charges, and last but not least the loss of profit on orders that we cannot fill will easily make up the difference. Buy early and save this for yourself.

Figure Your Saving Buy Before Nov. 16

90 volts of Eveready B. batteries	$7.50
Three Ray-O-Vac A. Batteries	1.50
Three or five 199 Vacuum Tubes	12.50
Phone Plug	.75
Grid Leak	.50
Annunciator Wire	.25

TOTAL SAVING $23.00

See These Sets Today They Won't Last Triangle Auto Supply Co.