Thirteen Turn Out for Yell Tryouts

Baird to Hold Another "Pepsters" Meeting This Afternoon

Thirteen men, a number of them freshmen, responded to Bill Baird's first call for cheer-leaders yesterday afternoon. The men who came out to offer their services toward making the university's cheering one hundred per cent were Maurice Rayburn, Tom Cox, Art Shephard, Walter Diekmann, Ralph Heninger, Leonard Koessler, Claire Schaub, Bill Davidson, Mike Skyles, Bob Ford, Al Keyes, Don Barnes and Chuck Everest.

Every effort is being made to get seniors out for these important positions so with this (in view of another meeting will be held this afternoon at the men's gym at 4 o'clock. The candidates will gather in the faculty locker room where Bill Baird will attempt to form a permanent cheer leading organization for this year.

Gym Installs Beds for Girls Unable to Train

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 27 (AP)—Girls students who claim they are physically unable to participate in gym classes at Bradley college, will hereafter be sent to bed—right in the gym. Beds were installed in the gym today, on advice of physicians that the relaxation in beds of those girls too delicate for gym work was just as beneficial to them as the exercise to the healthy.

Kendrie Has High Opinion of Flesch

Praises Violinist Who Will Appear Here Next Week

"Carl Flesch is one of the greatest teachers and players of the violin that we have in the world today," said Prof. Frank E. Kendrie, in speaking of the violinist who is to appear the night of November 4 in the natural science auditorium. "I heard him when I was playing in the Minneapolis symphony orchestra." Professor Kendrie said. "He was one of the soloists. "He has tremendous technique and great breadth and sonority of tone. He was a favorite in the orchestra. "Flesch means more to classical than modern, according to Professor Kendrie who explained this by comparing music with painting. The classical painter uses his talent in combining colors and seeking beauty of details while the modernist tries to display the mood of the subject. In the same way a modernist in music delights more in moods than in pure melodic expression."

Cambridge Debate Reserved Seats to Go on Sale Soon

Seats for the Cambridge-Iowa debate may be reserved by presenting coupon No. 1 at room 12, liberal arts building, A. C. Baird, director of debate announced. General sale will open November 9 at the Iowa Supply book store.

For the first time in the history of the university, seats are being reserved for a debate contest. This plan will make it possible to attend the debate and occupy a good seat without coming early to obtain a seat.

This will make it possible for literary societies and other organizations to appear in a body if desired. Arrangements have been made by some societies to attend in a body.

Those who have ordered debate season tickets may obtain them by calling at room 12, liberal arts building.

Bartow Speaker at Chemistry Meeting

Prof. Edward Bartow, of the department of chemistry will lecture at the twenty-third annual convention of the founding of the Kansas City section of the American Chemical Society. He will discuss chemistry twenty-five years ago.

The convention will be held in Kansas City, November 6.

Greece Will Call Troops Off Bulgar Territory Today

No Immediate Action From Ultimatum of League

(By The Associated Press) ATHENS, Oct. 27—Orders have been issued by the Greek government for the evacuation of Bulgarian territory tomorrow. This official announcement was made this afternoon.

The Greek government, in reply to the council of League of Nations, undertakes to conform to the council's requirements "so as to give renewed proof of Greece's desire for peace."

A military commission proceeded today to Demirkapu, and was met there by a Bulgarian officer to arrange for evacuation of the territory.

Continue Firing VIENNA, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sofia reports officially that despite mutual arrangements between Greece and Bulgaria and the ultimatum of the council of the League of Nations, Greek troops had not ceased firing at noon today.

League Takes Steps

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—The council of the League of Nations will send a commission to the Balkans to investigate the causes of the Greco-Bulgarian conflict. This decision was reached at a secret session of the council tonight, but the program as outlined is contingent upon compliance by Greece and Bulgaria, with the conditions of evacuation and cessation of hostilities laid down by the council.

The duty of the commission will be, first, to determine the facts; second, determine the responsibility; third, decide the question of indemnity; and fourth, study means to prevent a recurrence of similar outbreaks in the future. A report of the findings will be submitted at the (TURN TO PAGE TWO)

The supermarine Napier 34 British racing seaplane, wrecked here in a trial flight, piloted by Captain Henry C. Broad, set a recognized record of 236.75 miles per hour at Southampton shortly before its shipment to this country. Lieutenant Doolittle's time betters by nearly 19 miles an hour the speed record of the British plane.

The Curtiss flown by Lieutenant Doolittle today and yesterday also was the winning plane in the Pulitzer trophy race at Mitchell Field, where, fitted as a land plane, and flown by Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, it averaged 248.575 miles per hour. The times estimated that points on the ship should cut its speed between 20 and 25 miles an hour and his feat of coaxing it to a speed only slightly more than three miles per hour under its land plane record was hailed as remarkable.

Doolittle a Star Lieutenant Doolittle now is the holder of four seaplane records—232.573 miles per hour for the Schneider distance of 350 kilometers, 234.772 for 100 kilometers, 234.352 for 200 kilometers and 245.713 for maximum speed, all made yesterday and today. The latter three await only Federation aeronautique internationale sanction to become official world records. The Federation does not recognize a 350 kilometer record which is peculiar to the Schneider trophy.

England Pays One Million With Gold

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—One million dollars in gold from the Bank of England was shipped today on the steamer Homer, consigned to the Illinois merchants trust company at Chicago.

The shipment, in the form of standard gold bars represents a part of the bank's credit balances abroad, arising from the payment of foreign commercial loans made early in the year, and are something of an innovation in Chicago's foreign banking operations.

Franc Drop Caused by Debt Failure Declares de Talle

PARIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—The failure of M. Caillaux's debt mission to Washington and speculation caused the recent drop in the exchange value of the franc. Prominent bankers of the French banking world including the president of the exchange brokers association today told to Magistrate de Talle, who, under MM. Caillaux's orders had started an investigation with a view to the prosecution of alleged speculators.

The witness pointed out that French manufacturers and exporters delayed buying dollars and pounds because they hoped that a successful outcome of the Washington debt negotiations would drive down American and British currency. When the negotiations fell short of success they were obliged to buy large quantities of these currencies to cover purchases made and obligations falling due.

Doolittle Makes World's Record in Nations' Air Race

(By The Associated Press) BAY SHORE PARK, BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 27—Another laurel rests tonight on the brow of Lieut. James H. Doolittle of the United States army.

Lieut. Doolittle late today catapulted his black Curtiss racer across a three kilometer course in the fastest time ever made by a seaplane—245.713 miles per hour. The mark will become the official world record for maximum seaplane speed which is recognized by the Federation aeronautique internationale.

Wind Races Course The dashing army pilot made his premier mark under conditions that were by no means ideal, with a quartering wind raking the course. He drove the Curtiss racer in which he yesterday won the 350 kilometer Jacques Schneider trophy race in 76:06.36—an average speed of 232.573 miles per hour—and in which he turned in a speed of 235.036 miles per hour for his last and fastest lap.

Lieutenant Doolittle, under the Federation aeronautique internationale regulations, took the 3 kilometer course with a 1,500 foot diving start. His official record was computed as the average of four consecutive flights across the distance, two in each direction.

Car Gas Kills Two When Engine Stalls

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 27 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis of Montreal, Canada, were found dead of asphyxiation in their automobile near Spaul Kop, 45 miles south of Great Falls, today. Their car had been stalled in heavy mud and they had left the engine running to keep warm, dying of monoxide gas poisoning after falling asleep.

Papers found among their effects indicate that Mr. Davis was in the banking business in Montreal.

Eaton Appears As Minick In Opening Comedy of Season

Tonight the university theater will open its fifth season of plays with the American comedy, "Minick," presenting Merwyn Eaton in the title role.

The play is taken from the short story "Old Man Minick" by Edna Ferber and was written by her with the aid of George S. Kaufman. Several scenes show the devastating satire which has made Kaufman famous in his other plays.

Mixes Comedy and Tragedy The play is a section of life from a five room apartment, "5218 South Park St. Chicago." It is more sincere than the "Potters" and less theatrical than the "Show-Off." It is a vivid mixture of comedy and tragedy, telling of the events surrounding an old man who comes to live with his son and daughter-in-law. Merwyn Eaton is playing the old man. He played last year in "The Silver Box" and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The set for this production was specially made by the Twin City scenic studios from the design by Miss Helen Langworthy. The main room in which most of the action takes place is the living room but a portion of the dining room is seen through a large archway on the right and the hall may be seen through an opening on the left.

Rose Lighting Effects The walls are tinted in sepia and the woodwork is walnut. At the back of the set are French windows opening out onto a street. In the distance a park scene is visible. The draperies are blue and gold and the furniture in the room is walnut.

The predominating color of the lighting effect is rose. Two overhead cradles will be used, three sets of strip lights, two Pavers, and three display light junior units.

The play is under the direction of Miss Helen Langworthy, and it will be presented again tomorrow night when Frederick H. Koch, guest of the university theatre, will be present.

Caillaux Causes Fall of Painleve Cabinet

Cold Weather to Continue Today; Crops Endangered

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—The cold weather which has spread over the middle west in the last forty-eight hours will continue for another day at least, weather forecasts tonight indicate.

Thermometers in the extreme west early today hovered near the zero mark and snow was general in the Rocky Mountain region. Snow was reported over Iowa, and in Billings, seventy thousand tons of beets were endangered by the cold weather.

Streetcar Battles 25 Year Contract

DES MOINES, Oct. 27 (AP)—Before a courtroom crowded with street car workers the Des Moines city railway company today started its battle in district court in an effort to break the twenty-five year contract made with the carmen in 1915.

Incurred Deficit J. G. Gamble, attorney for the company, declared that although the contract had been entered into by both parties, it was the company's contention that the closed shop feature made it contrary to public policy, in its opening statement to the court.

F. C. Chambers, president of the car company was called to the stand and testified to a deficit of $64,000 which he said had been incurred during the nine months of operation prior to September 1 last.

Caused by Strike Back of the proceedings, the trainmen declare, is a desire to deal with a death blow by attempting to have the contract voided by court order.

The petition was a direct outgrowth of the recent carmen's strike in Des Moines, tying up street car service for six days.

Professor Starbuck and Wife Back Home

Prof. Edwin D. Starbuck, of the philosophy department here, and Mrs. Starbuck returned from Norway last Saturday.

Professor Starbuck went to Norway in September to deliver a series of ten lectures at the Institute for Comparative Research in Human Culture, a world conference of educators, held at the University of Oslo, Sweden.

On returning to the United States, they spent several days in New York city, where they visited with friends.

Coolidge Objects to Laws Compelling Domestic Trade

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Legislation to compel government purchasing agencies to buy their supplies in domestic markets is not favored by President Coolidge.

As a matter of policy the president feels that these agencies ought to favor generally American markets, but he realizes that there are exceptions.

Rankin Says Bus Will Remain on Streets of Capital

DES MOINES, Oct. 27 (AP)—That the bus for carrying passengers on city streets is here to stay, was the declaration of E. S. Rankin, consulting engineer of Newark, N. J., and past president of the American society for municipal improvements, in an address before the society today.

He said that every large city in the country is confronted with the problem of coincident street car and bus operation and that while the buses present the problem of traffic congestion people prefer them to street cars.

"We find that bus service is satisfactory and that snow on the streets does not hamper their efficiency."

Mashers Will Get Paddle Warns Bellingham Police

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Oct. 27 (AP)—Bellingham's young "cake eaters" and mashers who annoy young women will be treated to liberal use of the paddle henceforth, chief of police N. J. Rust announced today. Officers who catch "the flappers" in the act will be given the option of carrying paddles or using the palms of their hands.

"After this," said the chief, "we won't flatter these male butterflies with arrest—we're going to spank 'em."

President Must Pick Man Without Reliable Support

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Oct. 27—M. Painleve's ministry which was constituted April 16 last, and took up the administration of France's complicated affairs to succeed the Herriot cabinet, ended its career today when the premier submitted his resignation and that of his colleagues to President Doumergue.

The fall of the minister was due to M. Caillaux's financial policy, his resistance to a capital levy, to which M. Painleve rallied after the radical convention at Nîmes had adopted a resolution favoring it. One of the most difficult political crises in its history now faces the French republic.

No Majority Support President Doumergue has the task of picking a man to form a new government without a reliable majority to support it. The president hurriedly formalized the incident to the formation of the new cabinet, conferring this afternoon with most of the persons usually consulted in a cabinet crisis and dwelling chiefly on the financial situation in his talks.

M. Caillaux was the first to be received by M. Doumergue after the cabinet resigned—a most unusual proceeding. The minister of finance, however, was not summoned for the purpose of consulting with him regarding the new ministry; he was received at his own request, taking with him a voluminous file of documents.

Hopes Quick Clearance

The president of the senate and chamber, M. De Selves and M. Herriot and the chairman of the financial commission of the senate and chamber, were later called before the president and questioned by him regarding the financial situation, and all expressed hope that the situation would be cleared quickly.

The president will see M. Caillaux, president of the radical group tomorrow morning, after which it is expected he will summon the man chosen to form the new government. The general impression tonight is that it will be M. Painleve.

Diverging Views The premier, in the new combination, will have the collaboration or active support of M. Herriot and M. Briand, probably will be asked to remain as minister of foreign affairs.

The meetings held by the different political groups of the chamber this afternoon developed a wide divergence of views as to the solution of the crisis and showing that the new cabinet, however constituted, will have to maneuver delicately to find a majority. There was much talk of a political stalemate, which would require dissolution of the chamber and new elections in order to bring out a majority to support a stable government.

Actors, Dramatists, Editors, Here for Speech Conclave

Carolina Playmakers Worker Headlines Iowa Conference

Persons with nation-wide reputations will appear on the program of the speech conference in Old Capitol October 29, 30, and 31. One of the speakers is an Iowan, Mrs. Pearl Bennett Broxam of Maquoketa, chairman of the committee on community drama of the American Federation of Woman's clubs.

Prof. Frederick H. Koch has become known through his work with the Carolina Playmakers of the University of North Carolina, and previously with a similar organization at the University of North Dakota. The Playmakers are a group of student playwrights, players, and craftsmen, which have produced thirty-eight plays in the last six years and presented them throughout the state to thousands of people. The plays deal with Carolina home life and have influenced the folk theatre movement.

Pacient Producer Here
Professor Koch is also author of several books, among which are, "Carolina Folk Plays," and "Rawleigh—Parent of the Ocean."

James Milton O'Neill is head of the department of speech at the University of Wisconsin and has written several text books on debate and speech writing. His "Argumentation and Debate," was once used as a text book here. Professor O'Neill was formerly president of National Association of Speech Teachers, and editor of the "Quarterly Journal of Speech Education."

George Junkin is the field secretary of the Drama League and has produced a greater number of plays and amateur productions than any other man. Through a young man he has a fund of experience of some kind, having been a stock player actor on the stage and screen, as well as an aviator during the World war.

Many Iowans On Program
Gertrude Johnson, associate professor of speech at the University of Wisconsin, is best known for her books, "Choosing a Play," and "Modern Literature and Oral Interpretation."

J. Walter Reeves of the Peddie Institute of Keightstown, N. J. is a teacher of speech and secretary of the National Association of Speech.

Other speakers on the program are: Prof. Sarah T. Barrows, Lee Edward Travis, M. F. Metfessel, and G. W. Gray of the University of Iowa, Mrs. Sara Scott Edwards of the university library staff here, Prof. C. S. Tippetts and Prof. Sidney L. Miller of the college of commerce here, Prof. Ivan L. Pollock of the department of political science, Prof. J. P. Ryan of Grinnell college, Prof. Russell Warner of Iowa State College and Prof. Donald Haworth of Penn College.

Hammill to Attend Meet Here Nov. 3

Mason Delegations to Gather Here; Van Doren in Charge

Gov. John Hammill is expected to be a guest of Swofford council, Royal and Select Masters, when they hold their fall meeting at the Masonic temple here Nov. 3. Mr. Hammill has signified his intention of coming here to see the drill team of the local lodge.

Grand Master Sterling, of Eagle Grove, and other grand officers of the council, are also expected to be here. This lodge, which is under the leadership of O. E. Van Doren, university band master, will entertain guests with an exhibition drill, and a banquet and program in the evening.

Delegations from Muscatine, Davenport, Cedar Rapids, Washington, and Des Moines and at least one representative from each of the councils in Iowa are expected to be present.

next session of the council at Geneva in December.

Await Agents Report
The time limit of twenty-four hours within which the Greek and Bulgarian governments may order the cessation of all fighting and return all troops to the respective frontiers expired at eight o'clock this evening, and the council will reconvene tomorrow morning to deliberate on the replies which are confidently expected to embody compliance with the demand.

Nevertheless, the League's executive body will not be satisfied until its military agents have duly reported that all troops have been in fact evacuated and all warlike measures abandoned. M. Briand, president of the council again warned the representatives of the commission today that reliable information had been received that the cannon were still thundering.

Hold Greece at Fault
The indications are strong that France and Great Britain are acting as one in the present effort to increase the prestige and power of the League of Nations and render it an effective instrument for peace. There are also signs that, without directly blaming Greece, the members of the council are attaching the greatest importance to the fact that the Greek army invaded Bulgaria to a depth of eight kilometers (about five miles), while the Bulgarians, even on the "say-so" of the Greeks themselves, encroached no more than 500 meters (about a third of a mile) upon Hellenic territory.

Demand Reparations
As the severance of economic and financial relations, which the covenant authorizes against a warring nation, would require too long a time to put in operation, there is now insistence in League circles to-night to know what the council might do should the Greek government deny the council's mandate.

Continuing today to blame the other country for starting the Balkan war, both Greek and Bulgarian representatives told the council that they wanted reparations.

Andrews to Support Liquor Enforcement

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Brigadier General Lincoln C. Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement, announced today the aim of his department is to wipe out the liquor traffic whether it involves "sacramental or sacrilegious liquor."
His declaration was made in the course of an address to the annual convention of the New York pharmaceutical conference. He pledged the support of his organization to the effort of retail druggists to "clean house."

Unique Ad-Writing Contest Starts in Tomorrow's Iowan

Two chances to win a cash prize. No limit is placed on the number of ideas one contestant may submit. Each one of the thirty-two business men, co-operating with The Daily Iowan, will pay a cash prize of $1 for the best ad submitted next week, and every week thereafter for eight consecutive weeks.

Sweepstakes Prizes
At the end of the eight-week period sweepstakes prizes totaling $50 will be awarded, making a grand total of $274 in cash for the entire contest. No one is barred from the competition except members of The Daily Iowan advertising force, and there are no restrictions or limitations on the material to be included in the ads. If any contestant wants help, drop in and talk with any of the thirty-two business men or come into The Iowan office and look over our supply of cuts and made-up advertisements.

Read the newspapers and watch the display windows of the respective merchants. Find out what they are featuring for the week-end. Ask your friends about the things they like most about your favorite store, or your favorite movie. Although the number of ads one contestant may submit is unlimited, no copy will be held over from one week to another. New contests will be opened each week. However, the winning advertisements will be preserved for consideration at the end of the contest for the final awards.

Extend Chemistry Building to North to Add New Unit

Ready for Occupancy With Opening Next School Year

Excavation for the new hall of botany and pharmacy, which will be a northward extension of the front unit of the present chemistry building has been begun and it is planned that the building will be ready for occupancy with the opening of the next school year.

One of the outstanding improvements of the building will be a roof greenhouse, 100 feet in length and 16 feet wide to provide material for certain classes in both botany and pharmacy. A small elevator will connect the plant house with the lower floors, permitting the ready transfer of living plants to any laboratory.

Offices on Second Floor
Administration offices have been arranged for both the college of pharmacy and the department of botany on the second floor which will be on the entrance level to the building. Pharmacy laboratories and class rooms will occupy the first and second floors while the third and fourth floors will be given over to work in botany.

A large introductory laboratory is planned for the fourth floor, to accommodate 56 students at a time. Adjoining it will be store rooms and on the west a laboratory for microscopic technique and opposite it a laboratory of equal size for advanced work in morphological botany. The remainder of the floor will be for advanced classes, individual students, and offices.

No Museum Display
The top floor will house the herbaria and associated class work in ecology, mycology, and taxonomy. One-third of the top floor is to be given over to the general herbarium and adjoining it a smaller herbarium for collections of fungi and related forms. There will also be laboratories, offices and demonstration rooms.

It is impossible to make provision for museum display of the vast collections of the department of botany because of limited space.

Laboratories Housed Here
The present plant houses will be retained. These and the plant house laboratories adjoining old science hall will remain the center for the work in the physiology of plants and such research as the studies may require.

It is planned, also, to house both the botany and pharmacy libraries under management with the present chemistry library. This plan is expected to simplify caring for the books and to make them more readily available to the scientists of the university.

MacBride Has Office
The hall of botany and pharmacy will be 132 feet by 56 feet and four stories above the foundation. Entrance will be through the front entrance of the present chemistry building. The structure will be uniform in height and conformable to the architecture of the chemistry building.

On the ground floor will be an office-laboratory for President Emeritus Thomas H. MacBride. These quarters will house certain of his scientific collections, including the fossil cycads that have attracted much attention, and the extensive collections of slime-mounds owned by President MacBride.

The botanical collections, most of them highly inflammable will be safely housed in a fire proof building such as this.

Obtain Results of 'Save Old Ironsides' Week Next Monday

Results of "Save Old Ironsides" week have not yet been ascertained, but G. A. Benner of the Iowa City order of Elks is optimistic of returns for this district, basing conclusions on the number of schools requesting additional badges. Figures are expected to be ready by next Monday.

The campaign ended last Friday. All schools of this district, which includes Iowa City and surrounding territory, have been canvassed. Awards will be given to the teachers at their meeting this week for the schools that have contributed.

County Pioneer Dies Suddenly

Father of Professor Stoner Attacked by Indigestion

Marcus Dayton Stoner, 67 years old, died suddenly Monday morning at the home of his son, Prof. Dayton Stoner, 603 S. Summit street, of acute indigestion. He had prepared his breakfast when he was stricken, and died within a few minutes.

Mr. Stoner was a retired farmer and had lived in Johnson county all his life. He was born in North Liberty, February 16, 1858, and lived there until three years ago, spending the remainder of his life with his son here. He was a member of the Methodist church, being active in both Sunday school and church work.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. M. D. Stoner, a daughter, Nellie Stoner, Denver, Colo., and his son, Prof. Dayton Stoner, Iowa City.

The funeral will be held today at 1 o'clock from the Harmon Funeral home and from the M. E. church at North Liberty at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in the North Liberty cemetery.

Medieval Drama Authority Lectures

Oliphant of California U. Talks Friday on Shakespeare

Prof. E. H. Oliphant, formerly of Melbourne, Canada, now professor at the University of California will lecture here Friday morning, October 30, at 11 o'clock. He is being brought here under the auspices of the graduate school and will lecture on "Shakespeare's Place in the English Drama."

Articles on the subject of drama by Professor Oliphant have been published in many special magazines of England, America, and Germany. He is the author of "The Place of Shakespeare in Elizabethan Drama," published in 1914.

He has also written several plays, "The Taint," published in 1915 and "The Superior Race" published in 1916.

Mr. Oliphant has had considerable experience as an editor, having edited the Mount Lyell Standard, a daily newspaper, from 1899 to 1902. He also edited the Money Market Review in London from 1906 to 1910.

Professor Oliphant is now on an eastern lecture tour which includes Yale and Columbia universities.

Lohumir Kryl and his band played before two appreciative audiences yesterday in the men's gymnasium. They were repeatedly recalled for encores.
Last evening's audience was assured that Kryl might well be called "the world's most remarkable cornetist." His cornet solo "Carnival De Venice," by Levy was enthusiastically received and he gave as his encore "Old Folks at Home."
Henrietta Conrad, soprano soloist, sang the Grand Scenes from "Andrea Sbernier" by Giordano, with artistic feeling. Her encore was the "Indian Love Call" from the popular musical comedy "Rose Marie." She has a very full, rich soprano voice.
Kryl, when interviewed last night abandoned the dignity which he uses when directing, and proved to be a most unpretentious person who fairly bubbled with humor. When asked about several of his encores he remarked with twinkling eyes, "Just so you don't forget an encore, 'Collegiate.'"

Cosmos Celebrates Birthday

Coe College "Cosmos" celebrated its thirty-fifth birthday this month. The paper appeared thirty-five years ago in the form of a monthly literary magazine with fiction, poetry and prize orations as its contents. In 1903 it became a semi-monthly magazine and in 1912, it became a weekly newspaper. At present, the yearly subscription is included in the incidental fees which the students pay at registration. The University of Minnesota has discovered a new disease which it terms "post-registration lethargy." This malady affects students any time after registration until the mid-year finals. The patients evince a lack of interest in their studies which may disappear before examination time but if it remains, the final medical attention is given by the administration department.

First Aid for Cheer-Leaders

VI

Our Part and Yours

WITH the cheer fund well over the $200 mark and uniforms ordered for the yell-leader's squad, The Daily Iowan has done its part in the drive for cheering. Tryouts for new cheer-leaders to replace the freshmen on the squad held yesterday afternoon, the last reform advocated in the news and editorial columns to set a new set of lungs in Mr. Iowa Spirit.

Having played its part in the movement for effective cheer-directing, The Daily Iowan retires from the campaign—whose aims are now partially accomplished. It can do no more. The paper wishes to commend the university community on its hearty response to its program of reform, and to acknowledge the fund which has been added to from all quarters of the city and campus.

Iowa has a group of new cheer-leaders who have the will and the force to command the stands. When Iowa plays Wisconsin November 7 the cheer-leaders will be in Old Gold jackets, similar to the English cricket coats, with white serge trousers. Any surplus in the cheer fund over the cost of uniforms and megaphones will go towards sending a cheer-directing squad to California.

The Daily Iowan has been an editorial dentist on a Brobdingnagian patient trying to have him "open wide." This titanic, silent fellow is you. If there are no cheerers for WSUI to radiocast at the next games, it is you who have failed. All the cheer-leaders, pep sections, and seating arrangements from Cincinnati to Calcutta would be ineffective, if there was no individual effort.

Will you carry on?

The Dynamite Cap

DESPIES an order from the League of Nations for cessation of hostilities pending investigation by the council of the League, Greek soldiers are reported advancing, says a recent news dispatch. In other words, the Greeks have given the world to understand that this much discussed League of Nations means not so much as a snap of the finger to them.

Modern history is replete with accounts of many struggles in the Balkans. Whenever a dangerous crisis has faced the civilized world, it has usually been traceable directly to some smouldering fire in that section of Europe.

Something about these people calls for a war or two every few years, something in their mental and physical makeup cries for strife and misery and blood. And yet, the Balkan wars are not usually so serious in themselves. Usually they assume a serious aspect only when they lead to something that involves the peace of some other nation, but that has happened many times. For years, these people have been the thorn in the side of the peace of the world. They are the cap that touches off the dynamite.

Goodbye, Chick

A PIGEON stool crowded up against a slant counter and its occupant not much heard from except when he organizes the pay roll and determines the cost of job work, stands vacant. Charles H. (Chick) Stout has given up his position with the business staff of The Daily Iowan to enter the advertising field with Harry Hoey, formerly business manager of The Iowan but now a free lance advertising campaign director.

Chick has been with The Iowan since 1921. He is equally competent whether working for the accounting or advertising departments. He makes no boasts but goes about his work most unassumingly. Since his debut on The Iowan he has been a very important cog in the works, and he will be greatly missed.

Good bye, Chick, and good luck.

A Pact of Promise

LOCKED and double-barred behind a self-imposed security pact, the chief belligerents of Europe have committed themselves to a peace infinite of duration and invulnerable in structure. Declaring that "Nobody wanted or gained a diplomatic victory over anybody else, There is only one victory at Locarno—the victory of peace over war," the plenipotentiaries of five major participants in the World War, Germany, Belgium, France, Great Britain. Italy, went home the other day exchanging congratulations.

A pact within a pact, the treaty recommends itself by the very fact that its design duplicates that of the league of nations, for then it is nothing if not sincere in its avowed purpose, namely to serve as a "supplementary guarantee within the framework of the covenant of the league of nations." Succinct, un-deviating, express, the treaty seems from its very nature the genuine expression of a "desire for security and protection" of "the peoples upon which fell the scourge of the war."

By the terms of the treaty, the foreign watch on the Rhine is soon to be withdrawn from Germany; "the high contracting parties . . . guarantee . . . the maintenance of the territorial status quo as fixed by the treaty of Versailles; Germany and Belgium, and Germany and France mutually undertake that they will in no case attack or invade each other or resort to war against each other."

Behind this compact stands a formidable peace mechanism by which all the signatory nations stand surety for a general peace, and automatically organize themselves to punish any offender against it. Any alleged violation of the treaty will be submitted to the council of the league of nations, which, if it finds the complaint justified, will notify the five powers, all of whom contract to come to the aid of the plaintiff nation. If the violation is flagrant, demanding prompt attention, the other parties to the pact agree to descend immediately upon the aggressor.

This treaty is to stand guard over the peace of Europe until the council of the league of nations, "acting on a request of any one of the contracting parties notified to the other signatory powers three months in advance and voting at least by a two-thirds majority, decides that the league of nations insures sufficient protection." One year from this decision, the treaty shall expire.

This, in substance, is the Locarno pact. It is fortified by treaties of Germany with Poland and Czechoslovakia, and of France with Poland and Czechoslovakia, all standing guarantee for the observance of the arbitration treaties by the others.

Singleness of aim and accord the signatory powers undoubtedly have. Whether they can perfectly realize their intent must remain open to question. Will the treaty prove to be a flawless vehicle for their present purpose when the inevitable discord arises? However its effectiveness is to be estimated, at any rate the assurance of the nations who have so confidently entrusted themselves to it is the Locarno treaty's highest recommendation.

A Matter of Sex

WHETHER the female of the specie "is dearer" than the male is being put to a crucial test in Texas. When Texas decided that Pa Ferguson was misusing his powers as governor of that state he was ousted; now on Ma Ferguson are heaped charges which make her husband's offences while in office seem trivial.

Since she went into office $20,000,000 has been expended by the state highway commission from a bankrupt treasury; Ma Ferguson has made no pretense of being governor herself and lets Pa run the state—these are some of the charges.

Whether Ma should be ousted is not a question for Iowans to decide, but should the charges be proven she will have put a big obstacle in the way of other women of Texas and elsewhere who would be office holders. Being one of the two first women governors she has everything to gain and nothing to lose by square dealings. Should she fall, the cause of woman suffrage will suffer in like degree.

Poems That Live

The Cloud

I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams;
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams.

From my wings are shaken the dews that waken
The sweet buds every one,
When rocked to rest on their mother's breast,
As she dances about the sun.

I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under;
And then again I dissolve it in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder.

—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

Sofia Hears Reports About Greek Attack

SOPIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 27 (AP)—On the day fixed for a conference under the auspices of the council of the League of Nations at Paris to settle the Greco-Bulgarian dispute without further bloodshed, Sofia heard official reports of an all-night bombardment by Greek artillery of the town of Petrich on the Macedonian frontier, and neighboring villages.

King Boris, who has returned to Sofia, expressed profound regret at the continuation of artillery fire against defenseless places.

Instructions were sent to M. Morloff, at Paris, to agree unreservedly to any and all suggestions by the council of the League of Nations and accept all instructions.

Powers May Return Tariff Rule to China

PEKING, Oct. 27 (AP)—Delegates of twelve powers, besides China, assembled in the picturesque winter palace in the old forbidden city of the emperor today for the opening of the Chinese customs conference, and heard China's spokesmen propose that the powers restore to her complete control of her customs tariff withheld for eighty years by her foreign treaties.

While smooth progress was made within the conference hall, where foreign delegates made sympathetic replies to China's requests, there was disorder outside. Two thousand students, carrying banners railing the provision government, held a demonstration outside the winter palace enclosure, demanding entrance. When this was refused they battled the police with sticks and stones, killing one policeman and seriously wounding a score more. Several students were injured and others arrested.

Adds Gloss and Lustre, Makes Your Hair Easy to Manage

If you want to make your hair easy to manage and add to its natural gloss and lustre, this is very easy to do.

Just put a few drops of Glostora on the bristles of your hair brush, and brush it through your hair when you dress it. You will be surprised at the result. It will give your hair an unusually rich, silky gloss and lustre—instantly.

Glostora simply makes your hair more beautiful by enhancing its natural wave and color. It keeps the wave and curl in, and leaves your hair so soft and pliable, and so easy to manage, that it will stay any style you arrange it, even after shampooing—whether long or bobbed.

A few drops of Glostora impart that bright, brilliant, silky sheen, so much admired, and your hair will fairly sparkle and glow with natural gloss and lustre.

A large bottle of Glostora costs but a trifle at any drug store or toilet goods counter. Try it! You will be delighted to see how much more beautiful your hair will look, and how easy it will be to manage.

A generous sample FREE upon request.

'Wildfire' Rather Wild, Melodramatic Race Track Story

With snow on the ground to provide ideal hunting weather, Johnson county nimrods again rushed to take out hunting licenses. Yesterday, twenty-two were issued by County Recorder Kadlec.

WILDFIRE
Produced by Vitagraph. Directed by T. Hayes Hunter. Presented at the Pastime Theatre.

THE CAST
Claire Barrington—Aileen Pringle
Myrtle Barrington—Edna Murphy
Garrison—Holmes Herbert
Dr. Woodhurst—Edmund Breese
Ralph Woodhurst—Antrim Short
John Duffy—Lawford Davidson
Matt Donovan—Tom Blake
Bud—Will Archie
Chippie Raster—Arthur Bryson

"Wildfire" has been taken from the play of the same title by George Hobart and George Broadhurst which, it is claimed, played Broadway for a year and the road for three more. It is a melodrama of the race track and a beautiful girl, who owns the horse, which must win the race, to save the little sister's happiness.

The exteriors, including the track scenes, which were shot on the Havana course, were taken in Cuba. The scenes of the "crocical" race are among the best I have ever seen of a like event. Some of the acting is not so good.

It seems that Claire owes Duffy large sums of money for her stables. He plots to put Wildfire out of the race and force Claire to marry him. Garrison, the sworn enemy of Duffy, arrives and vows he will beat the Duffy stable entry Wildfire.

Parade to Celebrate Signing of Armistice

Committee Arranges Program for Nov. 11

Celebration of Armistice day, Nov. 11, will be in charge of a committee representing the city and the university, headed by Prof. Chas. F. Ward. Other members are Donald McClain, Harold D. Evans, Capt. Will J. Hayek, and Lou Evans.

Tentative plans for the day include a parade, speaking and music in the forenoon, and games in the afternoon.

The parade will form at 10 a. m. on the campus west of the physics building, made up of R. O. T. C. students, members of the local I. N. G., Roy L. Chapek past, and ex-soldiers.

As in former years, brief services will be held in the natural science auditorium following the parade, presided over by Prof. Hardin Criss. There will be special music and a short address by Judge C. C. Robbins, of Cedar Rapids.

The afternoon will be devoted to games and contests for boy scouts and other boys of the community.

Professor Ward, chairman of the local committee, pointed out yesterday that the success of the program depended a great deal upon the support of local organizations, and the attendance of students and townspeople.

Sues on Note

C. A. Bowen has filed a suit for the November term of district court against Alvin A. Johnson, on a promissory note of $250, interest, and attorney's fees.

Duffy sets fire to the stables but the horse escapes. However Duffy has implicated Garrison and Claire thinks him a sneak.

Then, of course, comes the big race. Wildfire wins by a horse's neck, the hero is reinstated in Claire's favor, and all ends with the good old silhouette fade-out.

Aileen Pringle seems to have forgotten how she used to "act" in Elinor Glyn's pictures and everything should be lovely if the amnesia continues, for she appears to better advantage than she has for some time.

Arthur Bryson, the colored jockey, gets over some good comedy but when he tries pathos it's a little beyond him and he fails.

Holmes Herbert appeared to be acting to a set formula registering "rags," "disappointment," "sorrow" and others, in one continuous stream.

Distribute Red and White Tomorrow at Iowa City High

The third issue of Red and White, Iowa City high school paper, will be ready for distribution tomorrow. The annual conference of high school editors will be held in Grinnell in November. The representatives from Iowa City high have not yet been chosen.

Tenderfoot Scouts Perform at Court

Troops Plan Stunts for Halloween Celebration

Plans are in the making for the monthly scout court of honor Monday night. A special tenderfoot investiture ceremony will be performed before the court.

Two Halloween celebrations are being planned by individual troops. One is a program of games to be held by Troop 14 on the cavalry pasture. Troop 5 plans a novel "night out" for Saturday night. Both plans are consistent with the scout ideas of the rights of others and will not interfere in any way with other people, say scout officials.

The executive board meeting of the local council is scheduled for tonight.

Twenty-three Prep Teams Enter Iowa Cross Country Meet

Quintet of Illinois Schools Enter Men

Twenty-three high schools of Iowa and Illinois have entered one hundred and twenty-six athletes in the fourth annual inter-state cross country run.

The Shellsburg, Iowa, high school winner of the 1924 race, has again entered a team, but this year it is made up entirely of new material. Coach Ray B. Watson of Quincy, Ill., has entered a man from Central High of Quincy, but it is doubtful whether Watson himself will be able to attend the race. Coach Watson ran the 1500 meter in the 1924 Olympic at Paris. Sticorod, of Champaign, Ill., individual winner of last year's fracas is not entered this year.

Three Count

Five men may start the race but only the first three to finish will count in the scoring. The race will be run over the one and three-quarter mile course on Finkbine field Saturday morning at ten-thirty. Immediately following the finish of this race the Iowa-Illinois dual will be held.

The following schools have been entered: Birmingham, Carroll, Dubuque, Durant, Elkport, Fort Madison, Iowa City, Laporte City, McCallsburg, Martelle, Morning Sun, Mt. Union, Kalona, Excelsior, Hudson, University High, and Burlington, Iowa; Central High, Peoria, Quincy, Moline, Rock Island, and Sterling, Illinois. Last minute entries are expected from Clinton, Muscatine, Grant High and Washington High of Cedar Rapids.

Meet Popular

That the meet is steadily gaining in popularity is shown by the fact that athletes will be present from Carroll, Iowa, a distance of 225 miles, and from Quincy and Sterling, Ill., where the men must travel 150 miles to participate.

Cage Candidates Working Steadily

Coaches Hunt for Men to Fill Forward Positions

With a week of basketball practice now over the varsity basketball men are going through longer and more extensive drills.

Most of the time to date has been spent with the forward candidates. It is for these positions that the coaches must develop two men to take the place of Janse and Laude. So far the forwards have not shown a great amount of class but with five weeks of preliminary practice they should be going fairly well by the time of the first game.

Every evening the men work on floor plays which Coach Barry intends to use this season. In working out these plays the men are paired off and try to work the ball through a set defense for a shot at the basket. In these drills timing, footwork, and handling the ball are the things that are given the most attention.

Louisville Cops Slugfest From Coast Champs 11 to 9

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Louisville, champions of the American Association, defeated San Francisco, champions of the Pacific Coast baseball league, in a free hitting contest today, 11 to 9. The Seals used five pitchers in an effort to check the batting rampage and the Colonels, three.

Score:
San Francisco 9 16 3
Louisville 11 11 3
Williams, Griffin, McWeeny, Crockett, Mitchell, and Yelle, hit.
Deberry, Koob, Wilkinson and Myer.

Weather Man Hands Golfers Severe Setback Yesterday

The heavy snowfall of yesterday has postponed all golf activities indefinitely. The tournament players will have to wait until the weather man clears the ground again.

Golf will be played all winter by some enthusiasts whenever they can drive a ball without losing it in several inches of snow. Snowshoe and Alpine golf has not yet been made a feature in this country, although it is believed that if such a course were given in the University many pupils would register.

Local High School Teams Work for Harrier Event

Unfavorable weather conditions have caused a delay in running off the competition in the Rotary club javelin event. Capt. T. E. Martin, in charge of the meet, is taking no chances of strained muscles or ligaments but plans to stage the event whenever the temperature rises materially.

Each year the winner of the affair is given the Rotary club traveling cup to hold for a year. The cup was donated for the purpose of stimulating interest in the javelin throw. At present R. R. Mann holds the award.

Little Hawks 'Lay' For Clinton Team

Local Preps Hope for Win Over River City Eleven

Encouraged by their victorious encounter with the Grinnell high school gridlers Coach Henry Soucek's Little Hawks are settling down to a week of hard work in preparation for an engagement with the versatile Clinton high school eleven at Clinton, Saturday.

Berger, the bulwark of the Red and White line, suffered a broken nose in last Saturday's fray but it is expected that he will not be out of the line-up. Brown, Cadwallader and McGuire, who suffered injuries in the early games of the season, showed by their work in the Grinnell contest that they have completely recovered. On the whole the Red and White aggregation will be in tip-top condition for the Clinton fray.

Koza continues to snow up well both in the games and in the practice sessions. Last Saturday he had a great day despite the fact that the muddy field was a hindrance to his style of play.

Track Men Begin Work for Indoor Season Next Week

Indoor track practice will start next Tuesday, November 2, at 4:15 according to the announcement made yesterday. Coach Erenshar has deemed it advisable to discontinue outdoor track because of the continued bad weather.

The cinder path sport has not attracted a very large squad during the fall months, but it is hoped that the indoor workouts will bring out more candidates. Special attention will be given to those having little or no experience during the indoor drills.

Those men who report regularly for practice, may substitute track work for physical training by getting the proper transfer card from Mr. Tompkins at the men's gym. Those going out should apply for a locker in the new armory at the equipment room on the third floor of the men's gym.

The track in the armory is in good condition for the initial workout and everything is set for a banner year on the indoor cinder path.

Numeral Men to Meet

All 1925 numeral men are urged to be present at the numeral club meeting which is to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the men's gym.

The numeral club is a new organization and the boys of '25 want to put it across. However they can't do it unless all the numeral men work together and attend the meetings.

Badgers Hope to Make "Slaughter" of Card

ED SLAUGHTER

HE PLAYED GUARD ON THE MICHIGAN TEAM FOR THREE YEARS

By NORMAN E. BROWN
George Little, chief aide to Hurry Up Yost of Michigan in late years and now "on his own" as coach of the Wisconsin football eleven, had plenty of opportunity to study Michigan players in his career at the Wolverine school. Quite obviously,

It is significant, then, that one of the men he has working with him this fall to give the Wisconsin eleven a good team is Ed Slaughter. Slaughter played guard on the Michigan team for three years, ending his career last fall. He won all-American honors from various critics all three of those years and was almost a unanimous choice last year. Little probably knew better than anyone else Slaughter's real worth. The guard's job is a thankless one. However, he plays a much bigger part in defensive play now than he did under the old bone-crushing mass style of play. Then his chief duty was to lay down and let the opposition trip over him. Oh, what a carcass I've dragged home while dubbing around at guard in those days, trying diligently to get a few cheers from the assembled multitude. The opening up of the game gave the guard a greater playing range.

Slaughter is one of the greatest defensive guards the Big Ten has had in recent years. "He was half the line himself when his side of the

Nearly 400 Sophs Competing Daily in Rifle Matches

Second Year Marksmen Make Good Scores This Week

Three hundred and seventy-five sophomores have responded to the call of the military department and are competing daily in the sophomore rifle match that is being held in the new armory rifle range. According to Captain Lagorio, who is in charge of the meet, an unusual number of men have responded and from the quality of shooting being done, prospects are very bright indeed.

The competition, which began yesterday is to extend over a period of two weeks, embracing all firing positions. This week the men are firing from prone and sitting stages while next week shots will be fired from kneeling and standing positions.

190 Finish

Thus far 190 men have turned in cards that indicate the competition is going to be close. Of the 190, fourteen men have turned in perfect scores of 50 and a very great number more have missed 50 by only one or two points. Those turning perfect scores in the first stage, in the first two days of competition, are Crissman, Harper, Carson, Gardner, Dean, Lando, Larsen, Hollander, Bowman, Dollarhide, Jones, Clark, Horton, and Owen, while a great many more turned in scores of 47, 48, and 49.

More Eligible

All of those that have as yet competed are eligible for the other stages and no one is out of the running. It is impossible to pick the probable highest men until all the men have shot and from present indications competition is going to be mighty close.

At the completion of the meet medals are to be awarded the winners, with gold, silver and bronze

Defense Feature of M. V. Play This Fall

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Defense instead of offense has featured the play on the Missouri valley gridirons this season with the result that valley teams show a result going to first, second, and third places respectively. The highest twenty-one men will be eligible for the rifle team.

markable low scoring average

The Missouri valley scores contrast with some of the eastern and Big Ten teams as Columbia University with a total of 196 points; Fordham with Syracuse with 153; Michigan with 156; and Minnesota with 88.

Iowa State leads the Valley scoring with a total of 76 points in four games played—an average of 19 a game. This total, however, was bolstered in two games by weak opponents.

Ambitious Track Men Start Early

Request That Practice Begin Indoors Next Week

Ambitions to become a Charlie Brookings or Harold Phelps have caused a number of Iowa's track men to request that indoor practice start in the new armory next week. With weather conditions outdoors of the most impossible nature the men wish to start preparation for the indoor campaign after a respite of one week following the completion of the fall championships.

Coach George T. Bresnahan does not usually start his runners indoors until just before the holidays. Last year a class in track theory met daily for two weeks before Christmas, following which active drills were begun on the indoor track. But the runners are anxious this year to get into form which will mean points in competition this winter. Drills will be light, however with particular emphasis on some of the finer points of racing technique which cannot be taken up during the rush of the regular practice sessions.

Hawkeye weight men will continue to work outdoors on the all-weather weight field under the direction of Coach T. E. Martin in preparation for the weight triathlon on December 5. Warmly clothed, the weight men can stand more cold than can the runners.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27 (AP)—Albert Krueze, Pennsylvania's great fullback, probably will be unable to play against Captain "Red" Grange and his Illinois football team at Franklin Field Saturday. Krueze has his kicking leg hurt in the Chicago contest last week and Trainer Robertson said tonight he might be out of the game for two weeks.

Paster Fields, Pennsylvania's flashy back, also is laid up with injuries.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 27 (AP)—A scrimmage of unusual severity was held this afternoon by Notre Dame in preparation for Georgia Tech Saturday. The reserves, members of the fifth, sixth and seventh teams, are also drilling hard for their game with Fort Benning of Fort Columbus, Ga., Saturday. The freshmen, coached in Georgia Tech plays, were unable to gain consistently against the varsity.

On Foreign Fields

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 28 (AP)—The University of Michigan football team worked against a picked squad, using Navy formations today. Intensive signal practice preceded the workout.

Street Car Official Urges Autoists to Keep Off Tracks

"The snow problem with the street car company is growing worse each year instead of better," says J. O. Schulze, president and general manager of the Iowa City Electric Railway company.

The difficulty is due to cars driving on the car tracks after the snow plow has gone over them. The first auto throws snow on the rails and the next car packs it. The pressure converts the snow into ice, stopping the flow of electricity from the trolley wire to the rail, which stalls the street-car. The only effective means to remove ice is to dig it out with shovels, say railway men.

"The whole solution of the problem rests in educating the auto driver to straddle our tracks, in order to eliminate throwing of snow," says Mr. Schulze.

Try Out for Iowa Oratorical Team at City High Nov. 4

Tryouts for the selection of the Iowa City high's representatives to the Iowa Nine oratorical contest will be held at its assembly Wednesday, Nov. 4. The final contest will be held at Tipton some time in December.

A program boosting the high school annual will also be given at the assembly next Wednesday.

Snowfall Delays Airmail; Causes Rush for Alchy

Three-Inch Blanket Covers City; Temperature Drops

Antedating last fall's first storm by a month, three inches of damp snow fell over Iowa City yesterday, commencing with light flurries slightly before 1 p. m. and continuing briskly until nearly 5 p. m.

Though city traffic was little affected, airmail schedules were demoralized, the westbound plane due here at 8 p. m. being held back at Chicago until 11:30, it was reported late last night at the field. No word had been received at that time concerning the eastbound plane, which arrives at 4 a. m.

Yesterday's snow flurries came from the west and are unlikely to be followed by more for at least a month, in the opinion of Prof. John F. Reilly, government observer. Last year's first heavy fall came on November 28.

Melted, the snow which fell up to 7 p. m. last night would equal a precipitation of .28 of an inch, according to Professor Reilly.

The snow was preceded by a drop in temperature, the minimum registered by Professor Reilly's thermometer for the twenty-four hour period ending at 7 p. m. yesterday being 20 F. The thermometer at that time stood at 25, but was rapidly falling. The maximum for the period was 31 degrees.

Responding to the lowered temperatures, motorists besieged garages and filling stations for antifreeze compounds for their radiators. One dealer reported that he had sold 100 gallons of alcohol, for cars only, within a period of less than three hours last night.

Chains also were in good demand, the streets being perilous for traffic, though no serious accidents had been reported up to a late hour last night.

Street cars were not affected by the storm, being able to maintain their usual schedules throughout the afternoon and evening, despite the added demand for service.

Four Sororities Offer Aid to Vets

Officials Ask Liberal Response to Forget-Me-Not Sale

Girls from four sororities have signified their intention of assisting disabled veterans in their annual Forget-Me-Not sale Nov. 7. They are Phi Mu, Alpha Xi Delta, Sigma Kappa, and Delta Delta Delta. Other organizations may volunteer assistance.

The disabled American veterans emphasize the necessity for a more generous response than the support given the organization in former years. Geo. Vander Beke, chairman of the local committee pointed out yesterday that while the conclusion of the great war is now close to seven years past, the number of men in need of treatment, legislative assistance and relief is proportionately greater.

This is due in part to the rigid economy adopted by the U. S. Veterans bureau, coupled with the sudden collapse of many men who were deemed well and fit some few years ago, but who are today suffering physically and mentally from the war.

These men, Vander Beke points out, are destined to become charges of communities and states unless given the assistance and aid of agencies like the Disabled American Veterans.

The recent death of the baseball idol, Christy Mathewson, after his supposed recovery from the ravages of the war, is set up by officials of the D. A. V. as an example of the manner in which war veterans may be expected to collapse after having been previously passed upon as well.

First High School Debate Today on Aviation Problem

"Resolved, that a separate department of aviation should be organized with a secretary in the president's cabinet," constitutes the question for the first debate of the city high school series. Seniors will have charge of the meeting this morning at 11 o'clock.

The affirmative side of the question will be upheld by Mary Rouse, Robert Koser and Donald Harter. Donald Raynor, Edwin Davis and Donald Howell will defend the negative side of the issue.

Juniors will debate Nov. 16 on the question, "Resolved, that semester examinations should be abolished in Iowa City high schools."

The object of the debates is to arouse interest in the work of the debating club and to give the participants practice for the Iowa Nine contests, dates for which will be announced later.

Mrs. Wertz to Say She Killed Husband

County Coroner Concludes State's Testimony

Mrs. Roy Wertz, widow of the man whom Robert Leeper is accused of murdering is expected to take the witness stand for the defense this morning at Marzeno, where Leeper is on trial. According to the outline of the defense as stated at the beginning of the trial, Mrs. Wertz will testify that she, and not "Bob" Leeper, fired the shot that killed her husband.

The state rested its case yesterday afternoon with the testimony of A. C. Harmon, coroner of Johnson county at the time of the shooting. Mr. Harmon testified that he went to the Wertz home after receiving notice of the death at 2 o'clock on the same afternoon. He asked Leeper for the pistol which Leeper procured for him from the dining room. It contained three loaded shells.

Defensive tactics were opened early yesterday afternoon by the reading of the records of Leeper's first trial. The first witness will take the stand this morning.

Every seat in the courtroom was occupied yesterday, estimates placing the attendance at about 350. It is thought that inclement weather and unfavorable business conditions were responsible for the increased attendance.

Harry Bremer Tells Kiwanis of Clothing Business Yesterday

Harry Bremer talked before the Kiwanis club yesterday on the clothing business. This was the first of a series of craft talks which members of the club will be called upon to give at the weekly luncheons. Mr. Bremer talked on the fine points of selling clothes and on the clothing business in general.

The club voted to extend a cordial invitation to the Kiwanis clubs throughout the state to be present in Iowa City on Iowa day, which will also be known as "Club" day. The club will cooperate with other clubs in making arrangements for the day.

Pair Mitchell in Court

Three Members Speedily Retired

Colonel Benefited by Omission of Regular Procedure

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—An army general court martial assembled today in an old building near the capitol to try Colonel William Mitchell on charges drawn up by the war department, specifying violation of the twenty-sixth article of war on eight counts based on language he used in public statements criticizing administration of the naval air service.

Procedure Dismissed

The regular court martial procedure was dispensed with in order to allow Colonel Mitchell to plead in advance of the presentation by the trial judge advocate of the charges and specifications drafted by the war department, citing violation of the twenty-sixth article of war. Mr. Reid challenged the right of the court to try Col. Mitchell, asserting his client had not violated the articles of war or other statutes and for that reason was not subject to trial by court martial.

Howze New President

The retirement of three court members automatically placed Major General Robert L. Howze, commander of the Fifth Corps Area, Columbus, Ohio, in the president's chair as successor to General Sumner.

No action was taken on the challenge to the court and little was accomplished at its forenoon session. Mr. Reid read the text of Col. Mitchell's San Antonio statements into the record and Lieutenant Col. Jos. I. McMullen, assistant trial judge advocate, had started reading the war department's specifications of charges when a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

Thirteen Members Attend

When the court filed into the hastily prepared quarters assigned it, there were thirteen members present; all selected by Secretary Dwight Davis. Within the hour three had been ousted, one by request and two by decision of their colleagues. Behind the retirement of three and responsible for the upset were the carefully laid plans of the defendant and his counsel.

Defense Strategy Wins

In the case of Major General Charles P. Summerall, who asked the court to excuse him, the strategy of the defense achieved its victory. The record of the army veteran, one of the most outstanding in point service and merit, as well as seniority of rank, was attacked. He was described as an officer who "knew practically nothing about aviation," and was hostile to Colonel Mitchell. The blow easily struck deep and caused the general to declare his inability to sit as a member of a court in trial of an officer who had attacked him personally.

"If the court had not seen fit to accept my request," he said, late "I would have adjourned the court and appealed to the president to be relieved from that duty."
