Crowd of 400 Attends Opening of Savings Bank

Institution Will Pay Obligations of Commercial State

Approximately 400 customers crowded the new Iowa City Savings Bank, which opened for business yesterday, during banking hours from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. In honor of the event flowers were sent by other banks and business houses.

Depositors in the old Commercial State bank received 15 per cent of their deposit in cash, though most of them preferred to have it entered in a new bank book. A certificate was also received by each depositor guaranteeing a deposit of five per cent more to be paid in full in three years from date, which draws 4 per cent interest annually.

The new bank hopes to pay back in full every depositor in the old bank. Each old depositor has an interest in a trust fund of $300,000 from which dividends to depositors will be made as soon as possible. When $400,000 of this sum is paid in, every depositor will receive the balance due him in full.

Hawkeye to Award Trip to California

Lingerie or Overcoat Also Offered as Sales Prizes

A round-trip ticket to the coast for the Iowa-Southern California game or for a vacation next summer will be presented to the student selling the most Hawkeyes during the coming sales campaign, beginning today and lasting for ten days.

The person selling the second highest number of Hawkeyes is also offered a prize. Silk lingerie from Yeter's to the amount of $35.00 will be the reward if the second-highest should be a girl; if a man, a $35.00 overcoat from Bremer's will be the prize.

Open to Everyone

This contest is open to anyone registered in the university and a number of contestants have already signed up. To enter this contest, it is necessary only to call at the Hawkeye office in the Journalism building, get a subscription book and start working. Hawkeyes will sell for $4.50 each or for $2.00 down and $3.00 upon delivery.

Walter I. Hanson, A3 of Davenport, business manager of the book, has planned an extensive advertising campaign. "We plan on having but one selling campaign and the success of the book depends upon the enthusiasm shown by the campus in this drive," he stated last night before a meeting of Hawkeye salesmen.

Announcement was made to franchisees and societies by the business manager today that any fraternity or sorority whose active chapter and pledges are eighty per cent purchasers of the Hawkeye, will receive a copy of the 1927 annual free of charge. One member of each fraternity and sorority will be chosen to solicit sales.

Will be Exceptional Book

The Hawkeye promises to be an exceptional book with its "big six" features. There will be a heavy section composed of Iowa girls chosen by a moving picture director. An enlarged Iowa Life section, decorated by Wally Roach, will contain a pictorial record of the year's activities on the campus. A number of campus artists will fill the cartoon section with caricatures of campus celebrities. More pictures and less reading matter will be the new feature of the athletic section. A section of the book will be devoted to the pictures of prominent university women and pages done in colors will be more numerous than in previous books.

Pepsters Clad for Wisconsin Battle

Iowan Shoves Across Campaign for More Iowa Cheer

Eight energetic cheer-leaders, clad in bright new uniforms will dash on Iowa Field Saturday to cheer Old Gold on to victory over Wisconsin. The new outfits consist of blazer coats and ballion tie trousers.

Those chosen to wear the colors are Bob Underhill, Dick Ausseker, Chuck Everest, Claire Schaap, Al Keyes, Bill Baird, and Ralph Henninger. The eighth has not yet been named.

The Daily Iowan has purchased six megaphones for the use of the cheer-leaders and the uniforms may be on display in Bremer's store this Friday.

The uniforms were paid for from the proceeds of the Daily Iowan cheer fund, which netted $264.22. It is not yet known whether enough money will be left to send cheer-leaders to Minneapolis for the Minnesota game November 14.

Bill Baird, king yell-leader, said last night that he expected the newly garbed cheer leaders to produce more yelling on Iowa field than has been heard since Iowa defeated Notre Dame.

Take Pictures of Senior Laws for '25 Celebration

A comparison of the 1925-26 senior law class and faculty and those of the year 1865 and 1869 will be shown at the Iowa law college celebration by slides, this week-end.

Pictures were taken of the senior by class Monday morning for the comparison and also of this year's faculty for comparison of the law staffs of 1865 and 1869.

The pictures of the 1925-26 senior class and faculty were taken on the front steps of the old capitol which is the same place the senior law classes of the earlier date used when they posed.

Lowan Office Gets Flood of Ads in 'Write-One' Contest

A flood of ads descended upon The Daily Iowan office yesterday afternoon as the deadline hour for the first week of the Write-One-Ad contest approached. The judges began work at once classifying the offerings of the contestants and the prize-winners will be announced with the appearance of the winning ads in Thursday morning's paper.

Make-up, attractiveness, drawing power, originality, and content of the ads will be considered in selecting the prize-winners. The judges advise that contestants inquire at the various establishments for when they are composing ads as to the most timely subject to "play up" in the ad for the week.

The contest will not end until the Thursday just preceding the holidays. There is no limit to the number of ads one contestant may write or to the possible number of awards which can be won by one entrant.

Americans Probe Italian Debt With Few Difficulties

Form Definite Opinions of Italy's Powers in Payments

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Members of the Italian and American debt commissions, in the absence of formal conferences today, took advantage of the opportunity to get more thoroughly acquainted with details of problems confronting them in the effort to reach an agreement for funding Italy's war debt.

Terms Were Expected

There were unmistakable signs that members of the American commission had arrived at definite conclusions as to the maximum to which Italy can be expected to go in terms. Indications were that, in arriving at these conclusions, the Americans had met with no surprises in considering the statement of Italy's economic and fiscal situation and outlook submitted yesterday on connection with statistics independently arrived at by American experts.

The latter studies have presented conclusions not far from those contained in the twenty-one documents which Count Volpi, the Italian finance minister, laid before the first joint meeting of the commissions as the basis for his group's negotiations.

Are Optimistic

On the strength of the indications, that there was something of an understanding among both commissions as to minimum and maximum ability of Italy to pay, reports are that the negotiators would require little time to conclude an agreement. There was no confirmation of those rumors, however, but members of the American commission appeared optimistic that a satisfactory settlement would be worked out.

Dean Still Leads Sophomore Shots

Jones Misses Perfect Score by Narrow Margin

With the sophomore marksmanship contest nearing a close, F. B. Dean of Waterloo retains an undisputed first with a perfect score registered from four positions, prone, kneeling, sitting, and standing.

K. C. Jones of Arispe came near tying the score when his last shot from the standing position barely missed the bull's-eye, giving him a score of 99 and second place.

Four hundred men are entered in the matches, which will close Nov. 7. Those who make the highest scores will be invited to try out for the university rifle team.

F. B. Dean is first with a perfect score of 100. K. C. Jones second with 99. Brauner third with 98, and the remaining seven of the "Big Ten" are Brauner, Stringer, Poetzinger, Schneider, Matthews, Thomas, Ingman, and Drumm.

Former 'Stude', in Person of Governor, Gives Views on R.O.T.C.

By Marvin "Bud" Logan.

Big John Hammill, governor of Iowa, shook hands collegially on the steps of old capitol—as he used to not so many years ago, when he was a student at the University of Iowa.

Although honored by the highest position the people of Iowa can give him, the chief executive still retains the "good fellow" attitude. Pompous looking, yet jovial, the black garbed man descended the steps with a tread that would do justice to the Big Ten's best center.

"Iowa is tremendously greater than it used to be when I was here, but I am heartily in accord with its growth. My only wish is that the boys and girls realize the possibilities that they have here before them."

The governor, walking beneath the barren elms of the campus, unconsciously linked arms with the interviewer as he spoke of the subject uppermost in his mind—since he had just been elected honorary member of Scabbard and Blade.

"The R. O. T. C. and Scabbard and Blade are not militaristic organizations that threaten world peace. They are only a precaution that all nations must take—to have intelligent citizens that will fit in case of emergency. The purpose of the training is not to teach how to kill humans, but to build character, teach respect of discipline, and obedience to orders. Such a training is in sympathy with world peace."

President Walter A. Jessup and the other members of the party were already far to the front as the Governor made his way through the Iowa Supply crowd.

"So you are from Manchester? Hmm—Delaware county—spoke there two years ago—Farm Bureau meeting. Your name's Logan isn't it—believe I met your dad. Know Chet Cole? Fine fellow—know Banta the senator. Fine."

His friends waited patiently for him on Whet's corner as he gave another hearty handshake, and with the "good fellow" smile said, "If you are ever in Des Moines, Logan, be glad to see you again. Good-bye."

Nice Way to Vote? 3 Die Result Kentucky Election

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 3 (AP)—Three men were reported killed in election fights in Kentucky late today. Reports from Harlan said William Gilbert and a man named Maples killed each other and Whitesburg dispatches said George Bates was killed and four others wounded near there in a row in which forty shots were exchanged.

Police Link Past Crimes to Gunman

History of Anderson Reveals Unsolved Path of Guilt

(By The Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Mich., Nov. 3.—Police and federal agents tonight were weaving the identity of George "Dutch" Anderson into some of the unsolved crimes that have stirred western Michigan in the past few months.

While Anderson's body lay in the morgue, the authorities compared notes to trace Anderson's trail of crime into Michigan after Ben Hance and his wife had been murdered at Muncie, Ind.

Convicted of Robbery

It led to Detroit, Grand Rapids, back to Detroit and then to Toledo, Ohio.

The gunman, who was convicted with Gerald Chapman for the great mail truck robbery in New York four years ago, and who later escaped from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., went from Toledo to Grand Rapids and then visited several Michigan cities including Flint, Kalamazoo and Benton Harbor.

Escaped Counterfeiting

In each city Anderson left a trail of "queer" money. In Flint, less than a month ago, he escaped from a clerk who discovered he was a passer of counterfeit only by backing away under the protection of his menacing revolver.

Today Anderson was partially identified as one of the three men who held up the messenger and guards of the Lauey Foundry plant here July 20 and escaped with a payroll of $32,900.

Jury Holds Cabaret Singer for Murder

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 3 (AP)—A coroner's jury today held for murder, Fritz Snow, 24, a cabaret entertainer, who yesterday shot and killed her sweetheart, Dean Penock, 26, at a roadside on the Lincoln highway north of Aurora.

The girl yesterday told police that the shooting was accidental but today refused to testify. Kitty Sauvage, another cabaret singer, testified that before the shooting Miss Snow asked Penock if he loved her and he replied "No I don't want to have anything to do with you."

Shortly afterward the bullet was fired that killed Penock. He and Miss Snow were alone in a dining room at the time.

Doctors Testify Against Klan Head

Say Blood Poisoning Caused Indiana Girl's Death

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP)—The medical experts testified for the state today in the murder trial of D. C. Stephenson, Earl Starnes and Earl Gentry that blood poisoning, which followed injuries received in an alleged attack, contributed to the death of Madge Oberholzer, last April 14.

Stephenson, former Grand Dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan and his two body guards are charged with first degree murder for alleged withholding of medical aid after they had learned the girl had taken poison. Another count charges murder in connection with abducting her to Hammond and attacking her.

Dr. Virgil Moon, pathologist of the Indiana University School of Medicine, Dr. McDonald, Indianapolis Physician and Dr. R. N. Harmer, chemist at the Indiana University School of Medicine, qualified as expert witnesses. Vigorous efforts by the defense to break down their testimony developed little of a sensational nature.

Fail in Identifying Body Found Near Town of Washta

CHEROKIE, Nov. 3 (AP)—After a day spent in investigation, Coroner Brink failed to positively identify the body of a man, evidently murdered, which was found in an automobile beside a road six miles north of Washta. The dead man is believed to be Maurice Hardy, a farm hand, who has been missing since Sunday.

The unidentified man had been shot in the head four times with a .22 calibre gun. Shells for the gun were found but the arm was missing. The car was noticed Sunday by a rural mail carrier who investigated when the car was in the same place when he covered his route Monday. The only clue reported was a woman's shawl found in the car.

Arrest Man, Wife for Murder of Divorcee

BOONE, Nov. 3 (AP)—Dr. S. E. Knight and Mrs. Glenn Hull, both of this city, were arrested this afternoon and charged with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Eva Newcomb, a divorcee here a few days ago.

Mrs. Newcomb, mother of three children, died at the Hull home and her identity was not established until later.

Double pneumonia was at first ascribed as the cause of her death but a postmortem prompted a coroner's inquest and an examination by pathologists at the University of Iowa, which resulted in the arrest of Dr. Knight and Mrs. Hull.

Coolidge Expects Unanimous Report on Muscle Shoals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 (AP)—President Coolidge, it was said today at the White House, believes members of his Muscle Shoals commission will be able to compose their differences so as to submit a unanimous report as to what should be done with the properties.

Chairman McKenzie of the commission has advised the president that majority and minority reports may be submitted but the president understands that these differences concern minor details. He believes also that the commission's report will be such that it will receive his own full support and that of congress, although he has not received detailed information concerning it.

Walker Sweeps Into New York Mayorship

Defeats Waterman With Vote Plurality of 350,000

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Frank D. Waterman, republican candidate for mayor, conceded the election of Senator James J. Walker, shortly after 9 o'clock tonight and sent him a telegram of "heartiest congratulations."

Senator James J. Walker was swept into the mayor's office on the crest of a democratic tidal wave in today's city election. He was leading his republican opponent, Frank D. Waterman, by more than 325,000 votes from 2,500 districts out of 3,073 in the city. The vote: Walker 604,035; Waterman 278,849.

Democrats Get Majority

The Democrats captured all the important positions in all five boroughs by substantial pluralities. They will have every vote in the board of estimate and an overwhelming majority on the board of aldermen.

The results of several assembly and majority contests in today's elections in New York state were known shortly after the polls closed this evening. There were no upsets in the assembly results, as all of the districts reporting were in rock-ribbed republican sections.

Excitement Causes Death

Former Governor Chas. S. Whitman, Republican candidate for district attorney in Manhattan, conceded the re-election of Josh H. Banton shortly after 10 o'clock tonight and sent him a telegram of "congratulations and best wishes."

Excitement over the election was said to have caused the death of Abraham Harris, sixty, a republican leader of the fourteenth election district of the second district, who died in a polling booth.

Silk Stocking District

Clipping of the new voting machines in the 15th assembly district—known as the "silk stocking" district—marked an experiment in the balloting system of New York state today. Amazing incidents occurred and verdicts as to the merit of the machines ranged from "new fangled useless contraption" to "unqualified success."

Women took to the machines more readily than men. One woman proudly claimed the record of having voted in 16 seconds. After she had reported, however, the election officials concluded that she had merely gone into the stall and pulled a lever closing the curtain about her in the belief that this was all that was necessary to cast her vote. Another voter pulled the exit lever the wrong way and the ballot following his was left blank. An election official had to help him get out of the stall.

Cadet Men Honor Prominent Iowans

Governor Hammill, President Jessup Initiated Here

Governor John Hammill and President Walter A. Jessup were made honorary members of the Scabbard and Blade, at a special meeting called in the House Chamber of old capitol, yesterday.

Many associate members were there, as well as most of the actives, to see the Governor of Iowa and the president of the university presented with jeweled pins and membership certificates of the honorary cadet-officers association.

The special meeting was called by Allin Dakin, president of the Scabbard and Blade, "in honor of our distinguished visitor, and to renew our acquaintance with President Jessup."

In response to the honor of being made an honorary member of the organization, Governor Hammill made a short speech in which he paid high tribute to President Jessup for the faithful service and constructive ability he has rendered the university. He spoke, also, of the nature of the United States government and of the military service one must give to his country.

Jury Indicts Pals of Earl Starnes

Charges Four With Murder of Deputy Hemmer

(By The Associated Press)

DUBUQUE, Nov. 3.—The Dubuque county grand jury today returned indictments charging murder against the pals of Earl Starnes in the county jail delivery carried out here October 12, during which Deputy Sheriff Leo Hemmer was shot and killed.

Donald Kerdell, Starnes' companion in the flight, who surrendered just before Starnes committed suicide, was indicted on four counts, charging murder, breaking jail, breaking and entering and larceny.

Harold Carlson, who escaped with Starnes and Kerdell, but was recaptured shortly after the escape, was indicted for murder, assault with intent to do great bodily injury, breaking jail, and robbery.

Henry Truda, held in jail for a minor offense, but who confessed that he was in the plot for the jail break, was indicted for murder, aiding a felon to escape, and carrying concealed weapons. Indictments charging the same three offenses were returned against Dorrance Lyons, the young Dubuque man who was released from the jail several days before the break and smuggled the gun used by Starnes, into the jail. He was arrested several days after the jail break.

After the indictments were returned the four men were arraigned before Judge Nelson in district court. They entered pleas of not guilty and asked that counsel named before them. They are expected to go on trial starting next Monday.

Wife Divorces Man Killed by Assassins

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 3 (AP)—When Mrs. Morris Hardy sat in the courtroom here today, making accusations against her husband, she did not know that he lay dead at Washta, Iowa, the victim of assassins' bullets. A few minutes later, when the judge wrote in the docket the degree which made Mrs. Hardy a free woman, he did not know that he was seconding the degree already written by death.

It was not until Mrs. Hardy returned to her home in Cushing, where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zable, that she learned of the tragedy that had befallen her husband and the fate that made her a widow sometime Sunday night.

Hungarian Artist Has Difficult Numbers on Program

Carl Flesch, the Hungarian violinist, will give the initial number on the concert course tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the natural science auditorium.

This is Mr. Flesch's third tour in America, the other two being in 1914 and 1924. He is head of the violin department in the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, where his colleagues are Josef Hofmann in the piano department, Marcella Sembrich in vocal music and Leopold Stokowski in orchestral work.

Flesch's program for tonight is divided into three parts. The first contains a sonata by Bach and an unusual interpretation of Chassidic life. There are five numbers in the second half, varying in style and composers from Chopin's melodic nocturnes to the Jazz Band by Wilhelm Gross. The concerto in F sharp minor by H. W. Ernst, which makes up the third part, is one seldom heard on the concert stage because of its great technical difficulties.

Republicans Form New Association to Foster State Bloc

Aim to Put Farms on Firmer Basis and Protect Labor

(By The Associated Press) DES MOINES, Nov. 3.—Organization of the Republican economy association of Iowa, formed to foster state economies, and which probably will play a large part in next year's elections, was announced here today by John R. Price, of Albia, former state senator, and Irvin F. Knudson, state representative from Hamilton county.

Organizers of the association include most of the active members of the so-called economy bloc of the legislature and scores of republican from all over the state, some of them former members of the general assembly. Every county in the state was represented at the initial meeting Monday night. Senator Price, who was chairman of the meeting said:

Frame Principles Later.
"The principles of the association which are to form the basis of a legislative program to be framed later, and which candidates who receive the organization's support in the coming election must subscribe to, were outlined in a platform adopted Monday. It covers most of the issues figuring in politics in this state.

"The association will seek to place agriculture on a sound economic basis; to adapt the financial system to the needs of agriculture and industry, to a greater extent, and to foster the policy of the republican party in securing protection for labor."

Road Building Policy.
Other planks declare for a policy of road building on a pay-as-you-go basis, acceptance of aid so long as that principle is adhered to by the Federal government; oppose the proposal for the appointment of the state highways in the hands of the highway commission.

The highway issue probably will be one of the chief subjects dealt with by the association. The platform declares against the $85,000,000 bonding proposal put forward last year by the Iowa Good roads association, and there are indications

Terrell Present at Y. M. C. A. Meet

Big Ten Secretaries Elect Officers at Conference

Harry Terrell, Y. M. C. A. secretary here, has returned from a meeting of all the Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the Big Ten conference, held in Chicago over the week-end.

At this meeting, which was held at the Ronalds club of the university of Chicago, many vital questions of Y. M. C. A. activities were discussed. Social work, Bible study, finances, and religious education were a few of the matters considered by the secretaries. Mr. Terrell's subjects were "Finances, Student, Faculty, and Alumni," "The Council of Christian Association." He also discussed church cooperation before the meeting.

Plans were made to effect a permanent organization of the associations on the campuses of the Big Ten conference. To this end a meeting may be called in March 1926, when all the cabinet members of the ten associations are expected to be present.

H. C. Cotman, Y. M. C. A. secretary at the university of Michigan was elected president, and Joe Parks of Ohio State secretary of the association. Indiana and Minnesota were the only Big Ten universities not represented at the meetings.

Enemies Support New Ministry of Cabinet in France

PARIS, Nov. 3 (AP)—The Painleve ministry won its first fight in parliament today, thanks to the support of former political enemies, gaining at least a short lease on life by a vote of 221 to 189. This in fact, but not in spirit, was a vote of confidence in the new cabinet, although 121 deputies abstained from voting.

Fear Prolonged Crisis.
The moderates and conservatives, fearing the disastrous effects of a further prolonged political crisis rallied to the support of Premier Painleve in sufficient numbers to offset the Socialist's detraction.

In so doing they made it clear through their spokesman, M. Landry, that their vote was not an expression of confidence in the cabinet, but a vote to end the existing chaotic condition of public affairs.

Oppose Financial Views.
The vote in favor of the cabinet falls far short of the usual significance of such action because many deputies who refused to overthrow the cabinet opposed the financial conceptions as outlined in the Premier's declaration. The fact that the pound sterling was at 129 and the dollar at 24.83 francs caused a great impression during the day and exercised considerable influence on the decision of hesitating deputies.

Directory to List Children of Pre-School Laboratories

Work on the 1925 Student Directory is progressing rapidly. Corrections are now being made in the proof. A definite date has not been set for its publication.

Organizations are responding satisfactorily, according to Miss Holtye Brown, assistant university editor, and a few more have been added to the list of last year.

In the new directory, there will be a list of the names of the children who are in the pre-school laboratories.

Chicago Opera Opens Fourth Season With Capacity Houses

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Before a capacity audience of 4,000 persons and with society's leaders in the "horseshoe" of boxes, the Chicago Civic Opera Company tonight opened its fourth season. The great interest manifested in the primary and ensuing performances indicated to sponsors of the opera that this season would be the most popular of the company's history.

Fred Potter is business manager of the first issue, which is in charge of a temporary staff. A permanent staff will be selected within the next week.

U H Life will appear every two weeks during the remainder of the school year. The paper will contain accounts of school activities as well as original literary work. It will be financed by subscriptions and advertising receipts.

A copy of the newspaper will be entered in the contest which is being conducted by the university chapter of Sigma Delta Chi to find the best edited high school paper in Iowa.

Fascists Search Papers in Home of Russian Author

ROME, Nov. 3 (AP)—On the order of the Italian government, police recently made a surprise visit to the home of the Russian author, Maxim Gorky, at Sorrento, and searched his papers, claiming they were looking for evidence to support the suspicion that Gorky's secretary, Bundeberg, was maintaining close relations with anti-Fascist parties.

Although the raid was made some days ago it did not become known until today when the author, supported by the Russian ambassador, protested to the government. He received a reply that the search was not directed against him but against his secretary.

Skull of Pre-Historic Beast, Found at Red Oak, Presented to Geologists

Prof. A. O. Thomas of the geology department has just received the skull of a pre-historic mastodon which was dug out of the mud near Red Oak. The skull lacks the tusks, brain cavity and lower jaw, but is in a fine state of preservation.

"The mastodon is one of the largest of pre-historic mammals," said Professor Thomas. "This particular skull is two by three feet in dimension, containing teeth that measure six by three inches on the grinding surfaces, and openings for the tusks which are five inches in diameter and over one foot deep.

"The most remarkable feature of the skull," he continued, "is the thick bony tissue filled with air cells over the brain. This last feature is what gives the mastodons and elephants their high foreheads and wide appearance."

The specimen is to be cleaned soon and placed on exhibition in the geology building at an early date.

The Calf Club

WE entered the library and sat down. Swiftly but without noticeably violent optical globe-trotting we counted, in the interests of science, sixteen feminine knees with attached varying distances of thigh. Helper number one, on an independent physiology field trip at another library, reported eleven. Both numbers have been exceeded, we are informed, by other careful observers.

This calf show has held the boards at libraries, cafes, and other places of amusement for some time now, and threatens the records even of "Topsy and Eva" and "Abie's Irish Rose." The blue ribbons that go to winners, of course, are masculine attention and the cat-tish envy of less architecturally impeccable females.

But with the puzzling perversity of woman-kind many of the confirmed exhibitors in the calf club seem irritated by even the most casually admiring glance toward their silken symphony of Ipswich, Allen A, or Real Silk. The bait laid with a careful carelessness, they chatter, giggle, and dust noses, and then momentarily dabbling in a textbook or penning a few languid notes. The prey—any man, Arrow type preferred—nibbles. He is interested just as he is in a comet, a train wreck, a bottle of imported champagne, or whatever else by its nature cannot be saved for next week or next year.

Then the trap springs—in a sudden, cold, uplifted glance from bright eyes under plucked eyebrows—and if he is at all unsophisticated the unwary victim feels the flush creep to his cheeks. He feels—shall we say—as though he had been accused of stealing free air!

Most girls who by playing this game virtually admit that they realize they have no higher appeal overlook the fact that the calf club and its ways are not of the elite any more than are brawling or "snipe-shooting." They cannot see the line between art and immaturity, and—final blow!—they are poor judges of bait.

We hope we are not insensible to beauty. We find it in the outlines of the ideal human figure as truly as in the white, vertical sweep of a magnificent structure of glass and stone, or in the throbbing measures of a master violinist. Between the Venus de Milo, however, and a common or garden variety of bobbed-haired co-ed sitting with her legs crossed, there is all too often the difference between an art museum and a penny arcade.

The Magnificent Iceman

MOST football fans, certainly those who have watched him play, rejoiced at the triumphant exploits of Red Grange at Pennsylvania last Saturday. Part of this feeling was due to the decisive defeat of an eastern team by one from the middle west; but it was mostly due to the satisfaction of seeing the brilliant Illinois captain come again to his own with a winning score.

Grange's lot is far from being easy. Being a marked man in present day football is full of danger. If one has the physical makeup to stand the roughing, he is then confronted with the task of making good in a most sensational manner or having the pedestal removed from beneath him. With the possible exception of the Minnesota game when the whole team was in a slump, Grange's playing last year was all that could be asked of a super-man. Certainly his playing in the Michigan, Iowa, and Chicago contests will go down among the classics of football history.

But no matter how good a backfield man may be, he can not succeed without support. The first part of this season Grange did not have it. And it was in these games that Grange won the staunchest of his supporters. Everyone who saw him realized that Red was putting everything he had into the play. The roughing that he received from the opposing teams must have been terrible. Yet Grange carried the ball eighty per cent of the time. Defensively he was in a surprisingly large number of plays. In short, he was as great in defeat as in victory.

Realizing this, mid-western grid fans were "pulling" for an Illinois victory Saturday. When the greatest football player of the day came through in his truly magnificent style, real enthusiasts were delighted to offer their sincere congratulations to him and to the team that made his victory possible.

Uncut Pages

THE first thought which bursts upon the average finder of uncut pages in an expensive volume today is "Why the dickens did the publisher shy at the cutter?" But if the punctilious reader will look deeper than the fourth declension, he will arrive at the real reason for uncut pages.

The modern art of bookbinding is attaching to itself some of the craftsmanship of the guilds. The craft of Caxton and DeVinne used to print on parchment and vellum pages leaving the deckle edges of the sheet stand as an untouched mark of their genuineness. The deckle edges and uncut pages of the better books today are conforming to this treatment of the pages.

Publishers prefer to give you uncut pages in first binding so that you may know you are the first to explore the leaves. They visualize the joy of the bibliophile who reads a page of a fine edition of Madame Bovary and meditates while he cuts the next leaf. They see the little old woman separating each new page with a hairpin, using infinite care.

Those who would ramble through a new book are piqued at what they term "slovenly binding." But the makers of books realize that pages are created for residents, not visitors of letters. Uncut pages are to books what buttons are to a man's coat sleeve: the mark of an old craft in a new world.

"The Bathroom Door"

NEWS concerning the Prince of Wales would hardly be news unless it found him in some undignified situation. Now we meet him in "The Bathroom Door,"—not a proper place for a prince to be encountered, certainly. At least English peers are outraged and are taking steps to prevent its happening again.

It would seem that one of two things is taking place in regard to His Royal Highness. Either he is succeeding pretty well in putting the fool's cap on the big idea of royalty or else royalty is not succeeding very well in putting it on him. He prefers to veer his own laurel wreath. If it appears to the world to represent nothing more aspiring than to perform as a red-headed vamp in a "The Bathroom Door" a farce, with his suite for support, it may be because the world keeps too close watch of the trivial incidents of his existence. Being only human he may perhaps feel a slight exhilaration on finding himself able to provide what the world wants.

Let the prince come and go with the privilege of closing some doors behind him. We might then meet him, now and again, in a stately drawing room invested with the dignity of state.

Avoiding Optimism

THE greatest country in the world—the greatest fraternity on the campus. The lucky student feels a deep and abounding optimism, perfectly satisfied with himself and the world about him.

After all, though, what really worth-while thing ever came from satisfaction? Success, happiness, all forms of development are products of a deep and abiding dissatisfaction. Man was dissatisfied with his methods of locomotion, and motors and airplanes were developed for him. If he had felt satisfied and optimistic with himself, nothing of the sort would ever have been made.

Optimism is for the person incapable of producing anything worth while. Anyone with ability of any sort should beware of bland satisfaction as he would a malignant disease. His optimism is justified only if he makes present success a safe stepping stone for the next struggle toward his ideal.

Antiquity becomes of no account at all when we think how the automobile has made the Car of Judgement look like a doll's baby carriage.—Boston Transcript.

An old flame has put an end to many a match.—Lyre.

Poems That Live

A Blackbird Suddenly
Heaven is in my hand, and I
Touch a heart-beat of the sky,
Hearing a blackbird's cry.

Strange, beautiful, quiet thing,
Lone flute of God, how can you sing
Winter to spring?

You have outdistanced every voice and word,
And given my spirit wings until it stirred
Like you—a bird!

Know Why You Flunk?

Why do students flunk? This question has puzzled both flunker and flunkee ever since old Professor Pithecanthrop flunked little George Neandertal for cutting his fish-spear class too often.

But now, under the white light of scientific research, the elusive causes of this scholastic malady stand at last revealed, and Dean Hawkes of the University of Columbia is the Columbus of the case.

Here they are: "poor preparation, low intelligence, lack of funds, poor judgment in the choice of extracurricular activities, ill health, laziness, and falling in love." Take your choice!!!

Criss-crossed, spotted, speckled, exclamation-pointed, the "bash" socks of yesteryear are back on the North Dakota campus warming the feet of the co-ed and the college boys' hearts. ## Daily Iowan Cited as Typical Paper

Editor and Publisher Points to Growth of Journalism

Giving The Daily Iowan as an example, the last issue of The Editor and Publisher, a trade magazine for newspaper men, commented on the increasing importance of the teaching of journalism. The article was illustrated by pictures of the Iowa composing-room and of Prof. William S. Mauley and Philip Adler, editor-in-chief.

"Typical of the college daily as a laboratory is The Daily Iowan," the article states. "It serves the dual purpose of a city and college daily. From the click of its Associated Press leased wire in the news department to the clatter of its linotypes in the composing room, The Daily Iowan is a representative newspaper plant and also it is distinctly a student enterprise, directed financially, editorially, and for the greater part of the operation, mechanically, by students."

There are now more than seventy schools of journalism in the United States, according to the article. "The teaching of journalism is assuming more importance than ever before in the education system of the country," is the opinion of the magazine.

Stiff Practice Session as Hawkeyes Prepare for Badgers

Good Weather Puts Pep Into Practice

Ideal football weather for a change, plus the feeling that there may possibly be a little staleness among the football men, caused Coach Ingwersen to cut loose with both barrels last night. His football candidates received a long hard practice consisting of scrimmage both offensive and defensive against the freshmen in addition to the usual routine of practice consisting of passing and signal drill.

Lose Pep
The bad weather the past week and the non-conference game last Saturday had a tendency for the squad to lose the pep that they had shown in previous games. In place of taking opportunity of the Wabash encounter by putting forth their best efforts in the first half and giving the second string men a chance to workout, they went upon the field with a feeling that their was no need to fight which resulted in the Little Giants gaining the lead in the first half and put the Hawkeyes in a position that necessitated their return to play the second half. Consequently they did not receive much of the rest which they should have received between conference battles.

However last night it was very evident that Coach Ingwersen did not intend to lose any time in getting his team back into shape and a hard grind resulted.

Kutsch Back
Nick Kutsch was back in his old position for a short while but was later taken out in favor of Hogan, Paul Smith, stellar end, who has been out the last two games was out in suit last night but did not take part in the practice. No chances are being taken and in all probability Smith will not be back in the game for sometime. Rice, who has been very ably filling the shoes vacated by Smith was not in the scrimmage last night but took part in the signal drill with the first string. Armstrong substituted for him.

Long before the evening was over it was evident that Coach Ingwersen had at least accomplished what he had started out to do for the team showed more fight than they have for sometime.

Badgers Set
When the Badgers invade the Hawkeye stronghold next Saturday they will be all set. They are coming down with the intention of taking off the victory. The Hawkeyes, however, will go upon the field with an entirely different attitude than that assumed against Wabash and with good weather the balance of the week they are expected to be back into form.

Continue Net Matches
Tennis courts are dry enough for the continuation of the tournament this week, according to athletic authorities. Most of the second rounds of the singles and doubles matches have been played off, though the faculty singles matches seem to have suffered a decided slump. Seeded players are showing their old-time ability judging from results.

Still Many Tickets Left for Iowa-Wisconsin Game

With the Wisconsin-Iowa football game only four days distant, there are still plenty of seats available in both the west and east stands, was the statement of Kenneth E. Griffin, manager of ticket sales today. The sale, while not as heavy as that of the Illinois game has been picking up recently and a large throng will see the Hawkeyes attempt to continue down the road to the conference title.

Frosh Cagers in First Scrimmage

Coach Rollie Williams put his aspiring freshmen basketballers through a series of scrimmages last night in the men's gym. The squad was divided into fifteen complete teams and each team was put through two ten minute halves of hard scrimmage. The work for the most part was individual as no system of play has as yet been taught the men. Considering the above fact the team play in some cases was very creditable.

Some of the men who looked good in last night's workout were: centers Wilcox, Addy, and Simpson; forwards Kinnan, Twogood, Tolbert, and McCue; guards Hettis, Robinson, Moeller, and Blackmore. Before the workout Coach Williams gave the men a short talk in which he said that he did not want anyone to get discouraged as some men would naturally round into shape more rapidly than others and there would be no cut made in the squad until after the close of the football season. He added that he wanted every candidate out there doing his best every Tuesday and Thursday night for that will be the only thing that will win them a place on the squad.

The coach plans to make every candidate that stays on the squad earn his place by showing him that he is capable of sticking and no one will be picked on their high school records. Scrimmages will be held for several weeks.

Swat King Gets Time to Ponder on Future

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
"I've been the simplest of saps."
"I realize it now."
This and more does Babe Ruth, once Behemoth of Swat, admit in an article in a recent issue of Collier's Weekly.
And with this frank statement of his short-comings comes the statement from the great big boy that he has turned over a new leaf, has cut out the "good time Charleys" and is going to devote his attention to baseball.
And, having made up his mind Ruth now has little to do but ponder on his new resolutions, mend his physical fences and prepare for his planned comeback.
Ruth sees the light at the right moment. He was about to plunge over the precipice of carefree living, ill advised financial ventures and indiscriminate acquaintanceships.

He has come face to face with the fate toward which he was plunging. And now he has before him, between now and the closing days of January, which herald the approach of the spring training season, plenty of time in which to cement more firmly his resolutions.
He can look back on 1925 as the low tide point of his baseball career. The opening of the season found him in the hospital, swathed in blankets instead of the uniform of the New York Yankees.
Midseason found him trying feebly to find himself on the ball field. The closing weeks found him enraged at his own shortcomings, taking out his spite on Miller Huggins—and then apologizing in the face of a $5,000 fine.
The one redeeming feature about Babe Ruth is the entire lack of viciousness in his makeup. His lack of restraint comes from the boyish waywardness that has remained with him into his manhood. He lacks the poise the average man acquires—lacks it because fame came to him before he had acquired it and that fame merely showed him the way to ease and luxury instead of making him appreciate the value of his advantages.

This the public realizes. That is why, if he holds sincerely to his purpose, the fans will be pulling for him next spring—until he shows that he has slipped again from the path of rectitude.
So it's entirely up to Babe Ruth. And baseball as a game will profit if he has really determined to quit being a "sap."
This Babe should realize.
It should mean more to him than his own success.
Baseball made Ruth.

Hawks Trail Badger in Gridiron Battles

Records Show Iowa in But Single Victory in Seven Starts

No tradition of victories will lie behind the Iowa football team when it clashes with Wisconsin for the eighth time in history on Saturday. The Hawkeyes have won only one of the seven contests, that of last year at Madison. On Iowa Field, the Badgers appearing there for the first time in twelve years will attempt to claw the Hawks for another victory and shatter the conference title hopes of Ingwersen's men.
When the Iowans raced through for their 21 to 7 victory last year, those twenty-one points were two more than the Hawkeye total of six other games. But in 1906 and 1912, it took a conference championship Wisconsin team to turn back the Hawkeyes.
The record of games in 1894—Iowa 9, Wisconsin 4; 1906—Iowa 4, Wisconsin 18; 1907—Iowa 5, Wisconsin 6; 1911—Iowa 0, Wisconsin 12; 1912—Iowa 10, Wisconsin 28; 1917—Iowa 0, Wisconsin 20; 1924—Iowa 21, Wisconsin 7.

Gym Team Working on Stunt Program for Visiting Dads

For the past three weeks Coach A. Baumgartner has been drilling his gymnasts in the art of pyramid building in preparation for the entertainment that the Iowa physical education department is planning to give the dads next Saturday morning.

ing at the women's athletic field. The gym team will go through all the stunts they know in an effort to please the dads who come here Saturday to see the Iowa-Wisconsin game and to look over the university which their student sons attend.
So far this year the gym men have shown considerable improvement under the combined coaching of Baumgartner and Erieland. Only a few of the men who made the team last year are back on the squad again this season, but as the big gym contests do not begin until late in February there is plenty of time to develop some of the promising sophomores.

Among the sophos who show special ability are Swift and Doran, Breckenridge, Faust, Schmidt, Packer, and Lamont are back from last year's team and evidently they all hold their places again this year.

Janse Sees Poor Form in First Drill

Assistant Coach Janse sent his va first scrimmage of the year last

After Janse had given the men several plays, he drilled them for a short time that he has given so far. Then came two teams and matched their skill.

The men who started on the first team were: Capt. McConnell and Lawson, guards; Van Dusen and Harrison, forwards; and Miller held down the center position. Later in the drill Phillips and Boyson relieved Van Dusen and Harrison. Gamble was also used for a time at one of the forwards and Swenson relieved Miller at center. On the second team Slaven and Jacobs were at the forwards; Ports jumped at center, while Palmer and Voltmer held down the guard jobs.
There were times when the men showed flashes of skill but for the most part, the basketball exhibited was very poor, to say the least. The timing of the floor plays was the thing that seemed to cause the most trouble. The scrimmage had to be interrupted frequently by Coach Janse, who was kept busy ironing out mistakes.
After witnessing last night's practice one can easily see that the Iowa coaches have a real task on their hands to build up a team that will make a creditable showing in the coming Big Ten basketball race this season.

Flanagan Matched With Omaha Boxer

Hall Leaves Tomorrow for Return Bout With Evans

Another University of Iowa student will show his stuff in Sioux City boxing circles when Jimmy Flanagan, AS of Sioux City, meets Eddie O'Shea there on November 14, in one of the ten round main events of the Cudahy Athletic club's twelfth annual season.
Several weeks ago, Roscoe Hall, university boxing coach and present student best Rusty Jones in the same ring in which Flanagan will meet O'Shea next week. Flanagan is Hall's chief sparring partner and will be in the pink of condition to repeat the victory which Hall, who will manage Flanagan, won in Sioux City on Oct. 17.
Eddie O'Shea is a rugged Omaha, Neb., boy and he will probably give Flanagan a real battle. The university boxer clinches his wicked punch in his right mitt however and may give O'Shea the same sort of a beating he handed Emmet Sheehan in Cedar Rapids last spring.
Roscoe Hall leaves tomorrow for Minneapolis where he meets Rusty Evans, Twin Cities lightweight, in a return battle which will be the semi-windup of the Pinkie Mitchell-Lilly Wells scrap on Friday, Nov. 6.
On Nov. 14 the university boxing mentor will be in Flanagan's corner for the O'Shea mix and then the two university battles will hop down to Atlantic, Iowa, where Hall will meet either, Rusty Evans, Matt Smith, or Buddy Chambers on the sixteenth.

Numeral Club Draws Up New Constitution for Members

The first meeting of the Numerical club to be held under the new Carter-Skelly-Cuehl regime will take place in the trophy room of the men's gym tonight.
A new constitution will be drawn up and membership qualifications decided upon. Although the Numerical club is a new organization at Iowa, similar clubs have been very successful in other schools, especially in sponsoring college travel.
Plans will be discussed as to ways and means of meeting trains and for extending courtesies and hospitality to visiting teams.

team last year are back on the squad again this season, but as the big gym contests do not begin until late in February there is plenty of time to develop some of the promising sophomores.

Among the sophomores who show especial ability are Swift and Donald Breckenridge, Faust, Schmidt, Fisher, and Lamont are back from last year's team and evidently they will all hold their places again this year.

After witnessing last night's practice one can easily see that the Iowa coaches have a real task on their hands to build up a team that will make a creditable showing in the coming Big Ten basketball race this season.

Flanagan Matched With Omaha Boxer

Hall Leaves Tomorrow for Return Bout With Evans

Another University of Iowa student will show his stuff in Sioux City boxing circles when Jimmy Flanagan, A2 of Sioux City, meets Eddie O'Shea there on November 14, in one of the ten round main events of the Cudahy Athletic club's twin bill.

Several weeks ago, Roscoe Hall, university boxing coach and pre-medical student beat Rusty Jones in the same ring in which Flanagan will meet O'Shea next week.

Flanagan is Hall's chief sparring partner and will be in the pink of condition to repeat the victory which Hall, who will manage Flanagan, won in Sioux City on Oct. 17.

Eddie O'Shea is a rugged Omaha, Neb., boy and he will probably give Flanagan a real battle. The university boxer carries a wicked punch in his right mitt however and may give O'Shea the same sort of a beating he handed Emmet Sheehan in Cedar Rapids last spring.

Roscoe Hall leaves tomorrow for Minneapolis where he meets Rusty Evans, Twin Cities lightweight, in a return battle which will be the semi-windup of the Pinkie Mitchell-Billy Wells scrap on Friday, Nov. 6.

On Nov. 14 the university boxing mentor will be in Flanagan's corner for the O'Shea mix and then the two university battlers will hop down to Atlantic, Iowa, where Hall will meet either Rusty Evans, Matt Smith, or Buddy Chambers on the sixteens.

Numeral Club Draws Up New Constitution for Members

The first meeting of the Numeral club to be held under the new Carter-Skelley-Cuehl regime will take place in the trophy room of the men's gym tonight.

A new constitution will be drawn up and membership qualifications decided upon. Although the Numeral club is a new organization at Iowa, similar clubs have been very successful in other schools, especially in sponsoring college traditions.

Plans will be discussed as to ways and means of meeting trains and for extending courtesies and hospitality to visiting teams.

Janse Sends Cage Men Through First Scrimmage of Year

Poor Form Shown in First Drill of Year

Assistant Coach Janse sent his varsity basketballers through the first scrimmage of the year last night in the men's gym. After Janse had given the men several new out of bounds plays, he drilled them for a short time on all the floor plays that he has given so far. Then came the surprise. He chose two teams and matched their skill in a rather long scrimmage.

The men who started on the first team were: Capt. McConnell and Lawson, guards; Van Dusen and Harrison, forwards; and Miller held down the center position. Later in the drill Phillips and Boyesen relieved Van Dusen and Harrison. Gamble was also used for a time at one of the forwards and Swenson relieved Miller at center. On the second team Steve and Jacobs were at the forwards; Ports jumped at center, while Palmer and Volmer held down the guard jobs.

There were times when the men showed flashes of skill but for the most part, the basketball exhibited was very poor, to say the least. The timing of the floor plays was the thing that seemed to cause the most trouble. The scrimmage had to be interrupted frequently by Coach Janse, who was kept busy ironing out mistakes.

After witnessing last night's practice one can easily see that the Iowa coaches have a real task on their hands to build up a team that will make a creditable showing in the coming Big Ten basketball race this season.

Good Times Made in Greek Relays

Performers in Medley Affair in Best Exhibition

The semi-finals of the inter-fraternity swimming relays held at the men's gym yesterday brought out some good times in the 160-yard medley relay.

Two heats were run off, the best time of which was turned in by the Sigma Nu. The record, 2:10:1.10, unless beaten in the finals Thursday night will stand as the inter-fraternity record. The other teams to compete in the finals of the medley relay are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta, and Phi Epsilon Pi.

In the 160-yard relay, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Delta Chi, and Alpha Tau Omega will swim in one heat for first place. The record of 1:28:3.10 now standing for the relay was made by Sigma Phi Epsilon in 1923. The best time made to date this year was by Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the time being 1:33:1.0. A plaque will be given to the winners of each event.

As soon as the relays are finished, the inter-fraternity swimming relays will be held at the men's gym.

Golf Classes Meet This Week on Field

Golf classes have been meeting this week at Finkbine Field under Coach Kennett.

The golf course is still too wet to allow any general play, but the golf students are allowed to drive a little on some of the higher fairways.

Entry blanks will be sent out this week end to the fraternities for the inter-fraternity water polo contest. All men who want to get a line on the new sport, can watch the varsity swimming competition on Monday, Wednesday or Friday nights at 4:30.

which have dried fairly well. Some putting is also being done on one of the temporary greens which is on the higher ground.

All the tournaments that were being played before the bad weather will be continued as soon as the course is in shape. Further announcements will be made after the ground is dry and Coach Kennett has decided upon the time.

Varsity Fencers in First Drill of Year
First varsity fencing practice was held yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the men's gym. Fifteen men reported to Coach Ingersoll and were given a light workout, including some instructions in position, the rules of fencing and some exercises to get the men in condition.

Captain Bailey is out for the duelling swords and showed good form. Wschehoff from last year's freshman squad and runner-up in the novice tournament, also showed good form and should press Captain Bailey for first position in the duelling tournament.

Mathews and Kennedy from last year's frosh have shown much improvement from last year and should press Jud Crary for fobs job. Chamberlain from last year's varsity squad is an excellent candidate for the third position on the team and will probably wield the saber in the fencing meets. Rubec, Kirchner, and Slieger are other men who have an excellent chance. The men are so evenly matched at this time that any one may make the team.

Gas and Booze Kill Bruno Boss, Belief

Coroner Donohue to Inquire Into
Case Today

Bruno Ross, middle-aged, 981 North Dodge street, died at the University hospital yesterday afternoon, after lying there in an unconscious state since Sunday morning. His groans attracted attention Sunday morning at his home where he was found nude in bed, unconscious. At this time it was thought that he had been overcome by gas escaping from a partly open valve on the stove. It is also believed that liquor was partly due to his condition.

Ross had made his home in Iowa City for the past fifteen years. Up until five years ago he had a small lunch room next to the Alert hose house on North Linn street. Previous to his death, he was employed by the Alexander construction company, which is building the new heating tunnel for the state.

He had a wife near Naples, Italy, but no children.

Coroner Donohue will decide today whether or not an inquest will be necessary.

No Dismissal of Classes at Iowa City High School

Classes will continue at the Iowa City high school tomorrow and Friday, since the teachers will not attend the state conference at Des Moines, Principal Beck announced yesterday.

The principal declared that there was no occasion for dismissing school, as the teachers attend the special university conferences during the year instead of the state conference. "Because of the smaller number of teachers attending the conferences more individual work can be done and the teachers can get more consideration for their particular problems," said the principal.

Carroll to Try Killebrew for Resisting an Officer

Robert Hewitt Killebrew, of Des Moines, who was taken by the police early Sunday morning on complaint of residents near the Burkley apartments, will be tried before Mayor J. J. Carroll tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. Charges of resisting an officer and fighting on the street have been preferred against him.

The case was to have been heard yesterday but because the material witness could not be brought in at that time, it was postponed until tomorrow. Killebrew is now out on $30 bonds.

Miss Nellie Zager, 428 South Capitol street, fell at her home yesterday morning and broke the large bone in her leg. She was taken to a local hospital immediately, where she is recovering from her injuries.

Mayor Prohibits Peddling on Streets Next Saturday

Peddling on the streets of Iowa City will be prohibited next Saturday, Iowa day, according to an announcement made yesterday by Mayor J. J. Carroll. However, the Disabled American veterans of the World war will be permitted to sell forget-me-nots.

Hold Funeral for Stika Yesterday

Resident of Iowa City
32 Years; Had
Repair Shop

Joseph Stika, 72 years old, who died Saturday night of high blood pressure and paralysis, was buried yesterday afternoon in the Oakland cemetery. Funeral services were conducted at his home on North Dodge street by Paul A. Korab, a brother lodge member.

Mr. Stika was born in Manitowoc, Wis., March 19, 1853. His family later moved to Marion, Iowa and then to Wilber, Neb., where he married Mary Simeck.

He lived in Iowa City thirty-two years and was a carpenter and manager of a general repair shop until four years ago.

Surviving are his widow, two sons, James S. and Frank J. of Iowa City, and two daughters, Mrs. Harrison, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Anna Seitz, Omaha, Neb.

Mrs. O. Byington Dodges Collision by Hitting Railing

Applying the emergency brake, but smashing the car she was driving against the wooden railing of the Wolfe street viaduct, Mrs. O. A. Byington avoided a collision with a car approaching the bridge from the opposite direction.

The running-board, light, and fender were crushed by the impact. The car was not insured against an accident of this kind.

Elementary School Children Raise Old Ironsides Fund

In the national campaign conducted among school children for the restoration of Old Ironsides, pupils in the university elementary school have made a contribution. The sum of $9.35 was raised by voluntary donations among children in grades one to six. Special programs about Old Ironsides were given by the pupils to arouse interest in the campaign.

Leeper Returns to Pen to Serve 5-Year Sentence

Decision of Marengo
Jury Fixes Blame
for Murder

Robert Leeper, exonerated of the murder of Roy Wertz in the Iowa County court Tuesday morning, was taken to Fort Madison yesterday afternoon to complete his five year sentence for car stealing. Leeper's sentence began December 19, 1924 and will be completed December 19, 1929.

The time consumed in Leeper's trial will not be added to his sentence.

The decision handed down by the jury settles for all time the question of who murdered Roy Wertz. Due to the testimony offered by Mrs. Roy Wertz and accepted by the jury and the court it is a legal fact that Mrs. Wertz killed her husband in self defense.

She has been tried on the charge in the Johnson county district court and in the eyes of the law and the world her action has been justified and sanctioned.

Leeper's case was first tried in Iowa City three years ago, but by change of venue it was transferred to Iowa county's jurisdiction.

Entertain Theta Epsilon.

Theta Epsilon were entertained by the new members by a "Kidd" party at the Baptist student center last night. Twenty girls were present.

Hammill Denies Laxity Charges in Enforcement of Prohibition

Gov. John Hammill yesterday denied the charges made by John H. Hammond, former Des Moines chief of police and now a prohibition officer, that he had been lax in enforcing the prohibition laws. "An examination of the records will show that the prohibition law and all laws made have been and are being enforced," he said in an interview.

"The state board of education will provide a new library building for the University of Iowa when they feel it is a sound business proposition," said Governor Hammill when asked about plans in that direction. "The policy of the state is to show no discrimination in its appropriations for the state schools."

Governor Hammill was in Iowa City attending the annual fall meeting of the Swafford council. The governor is a stern man until he smiles which is often. When he talks he paces back and forth. The small room wherein he was being interviewed was filled with his intense sincerity and in his voice there was the tone of leadership.

"The state is rendering a wonderful service to the men and women of Iowa in this great university. It is a poor investment unless

Tax Notices Cost County $40 a Month

The necessity of sending notices to real estate owners that taxes on their property are due this month costs the county approximately $40 per month on postage alone, besides the clerical help, according to County Treasurer Charles L. Berry. Mr. Berry feels this is a burden that should be eliminated.

Road Petitions to Go to Board Soon

Vote by People to Follow
Action of Supervisors Monday

The good roads petitions will go to the county board of supervisors next Monday, H. J. Dane, secretary of the petitions committee, said yesterday.

All the petitions are not in yet, so no definite estimate of the number of signatures on the petitions can be made, he said.

However, with the 1,200 names gotten before the final two-day drive, it is certain that more than enough signers have been obtained to assure the committee that action will be taken by the supervisors in conjunction with the county engineer.

A definite plan for hard surfacing the roads up and submitted to the people to vote on. This will probably be done immediately in order that work may begin in the spring, should the plan be accepted by the citizens of the county.

Burris vs Titzel Case Held
Over for November Court

The damage suit of Hugh Burris vs. F. C. Titzel was continued to the November term of court by Judge R. G. Popham yesterday, after argument was made by counsel in open court.

The final report of Blanche Kreischer, executrix of the Louis W. Kreischer estate, was set for hearing on November 16, at 9 a. m.

City Decreases Sewer, Pavement Improvement Half

Contracts Twenty Per Cent Lower Than Last Year

Contract prices have been twenty per cent lower and the amount of paving and sewer improvement done in Iowa City fifty per cent less than last year, according to City Engineer F. E. Young. With all the major jobs completed, the records show a total expense of $105,164 assigned to paving and sewer improvement this year.

Twenty-four blocks of paving has been constructed at a cost of $72,568.61, and 10,098.9 feet of sewer at a cost of $13,155.93. Sewer work under construction will cost $9,600. The Morningside sewer, for which the contract is not yet let, will cost approximately $9,800.

Last year the paving and sewer cost approximately $250,000. In 1923, it was about the same. This year's cost of improvement would have been approximately $125,000 at the prices paid last year, Mr. Young says.

Three File Suits for District Court

Thomas Petitions for Lien on Mortgaged
Property

J. E. Thomas has filed a suit for the November term of district court against John Swenka, Mary J. Swenka, et al, in which he asks the foreclosure of a mortgage which was made last year by the plaintiff to cover a promissory note amounting to $4,876.08.

Plaintiff petitions the court to issue a decree of first and special lien upon said mortgaged premises in favor of him, and also asks that the said premises be sold, so that the note, with the costs of the suit and the interest on the note may be paid from the proceeds. P. A. Korab is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Navaach Salzman has filed a suit against the American Bankers' Insurance company of Chicago, for the amount of $219.85, which plaintiff claims is due him, as insurance money. For several weeks after he had been injured in an accident May 22, 1925, plaintiff was unable to work and was therefore

Congress Asks Data Before Committee Suggests Treasury Furnish Expense List

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—Desiring to make the maximum possible reduction in taxes, the House ways and means committee today asked the treasury, which has suggested a limit of $300,000,000, to present additional data on probable government expenses and receipts for the next fiscal year so it can determine for itself how far to go in cutting levies.

This was the committee's first move when it started work today on the actual preparation of a tax reduction bill after more than two weeks of public hearings.

Urges Further Cut
While Secretary Mellon proposed that the government's annual income be reduced by not more than $300,000,000, committee members feel it may be possible, on the basis of late estimates, to go beyond this figure. President Coolidge inclines to a similar view.

All of the twenty-five members of the committee were present today at the first of its executive sessions, and indications were renewed that representatives of both parties would work together to draft a non-partisan measure in time for presentation when congress convenes Dec. 7.

Tackles Income Taxes
Under a program of procedure approved today the committee will tackle the income taxes after setting its goal for total reduction.

Secretary Mellon recommended a cut in the maximum surtax rate from forty to twenty per cent and reductions of about fifty per cent in most of the normal rates, but opposed increased exemptions. His surtax suggestion has received considerable support among committee members, but many have urged greater cuts in the normal rates and increased exemptions.

SAC CITY, Nov. 4 (AP)—Shrinkage in values affecting land taken over by the First National bank of this city, and on which the bank held mortgages, was assigned as the cause of the bank's failure to open today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4 (AP)—"The Enforcement Crisis" convention of the Anti-Saloon League, its greatest since the 1913 convention which launched the national prohibition drive, opens here tomorrow to take stock of the dry enforcement campaign and devise new strategy for the support of federal dry forces.

Leaders of the official and civilian dry forces of the nation will study the situation, define the new goal of the league and prepare for the "hardest fought and most significant battle it has ever entered, to make the bootlegger and the moonshiner who existed before and beside the old time saloon, as much of a national curiosity as a retail liquor dealer's license."

MATURING IN TEN ANNUAL INSTALMENTS: $25,000 DUE ANNUALLY JANUARY 1, 1927, TO JANUARY 1, 1936, BOTH INCLUSIVE; $75,000 DUE JANUARY 1, 1936

Farmers Loan & Trust Co., Iowa City, Trustee

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Redeemable at par and interest on any interest payment date upon 30 days' notice. Bonds dated November 1, 1925. First interest coupon payable July 1, 1926, thereafter January 1 and July 1, at the Farmers Loan & Trust Co., Iowa City, Iowa, or the Des Moines National Bank, Des Moines, Iowa.

We summarize, from official sources, the salient features of this loan:

The Athletic Council was created December 21, 1908 (originally as the Board in Control of Athletics), by the State Board of Education for the promotion and control of intercollegiate athletics at the State University of Iowa at Iowa City.

These bonds will be issued for the purpose of constructing and equipping a Field House on land owned by the State of Iowa and known as Finkbine Field, immediately adjoining the east entrance of the Armory. The project has been approved by the State Board of Education and authority granted therefor.

The building, when completed, will be the largest Armory and Field House in the United States. The length will be 430 feet with a width of 412 feet. The structure will contain, in part, the second largest indoor swimming pool in this country; a running track with six laps to the mile; a basketball court, around which 12,000 people may be seated; a gymnasium; golf room; fencing room; boxing room; rifle range; a regulation football field; baseball diamond; trophy room; seven class rooms and the administrative offices. The Field House will be devoted to the physical education of the entire male student body, rather than to individuals or teams, thus permitting the present Men's Gymnasium to be used as a Women's Gymnasium, exclusively.

This issue of bonds will be a direct obligation of the Athletic Council of the State University of Iowa, and the Trust Agreement will provide, in accordance with a resolution of the State Board of Education, that the service of this loan shall constitute an absolute first charge against the net proceeds received from athletic events.

The excess of receipts over disbursements for the three-year period ending June 30, 1925, as certified by Messrs. Arthur Young & Co., Certified Public Accountants, averaged approximately $46,900 per annum, or more than 3 times the maximum annual interest requirement for these bonds. This excess is approximately 5 times sufficient to cover the average annual interest payments of this loan. The excess of receipts over disbursements for the year ending June 30, 1925, was $66,938.92, an increase over the previous year of 65%. In 1922, the Athletic Council issued and sold privately, $81,700 Stadium Certificates. These Certificates, due in ten years, were entirely redeemed within three years from date of issue.
