Published Every Morning, Except Monday, by Student Publications Incorporated

Telephone Cables Extended to West and East in 1926

Rapid Growth Makes Improvements Necessary

Telephone cables will be extended into the outlying districts of Iowa City, especially in the east and west sections, during the year 1926, according to Edward H. Wren, wire chief of the local unit of the Bell telephone company. Rapid growth of these two sections of the city makes the expansion necessary.

Several thousand dollars worth of additional improvements will be made. The old lead which crosses the university campus and the center of the city will be wrecked. After that is done there will be no more open toll wires, either local or transcontinental, within the city limits. The work of re-routing is well under way and it is expected that it will be completed within a few weeks.

Before next fall a new section of switchboard, 1,400 additional multiple and answering jacks, and electrically operated message registers will be installed, Mr. Wren said yesterday.

Births

Born, to Mr. and Mrs H. J. Dane, a son, Harold John, Junior, Sunday, January 24, at University hospital.

Special Tuesday Noon

Pot Roast Home Made Noodles

15c

Evening Country Sausage, Cream Gravy

15c

HOLMAN'S CAFETERIA

remain ercoats annual busy goods ere are se from argains.
finding vill be nd for ercoat.

tyles.

THE WEATHER
Cloudy today and Thursday; probably snow Thursday

The Daily Iowan

SO DOES HARVARD
Cambridge copies Iowa's system of athletic organization. Page three will tell about it

Twenty-fifth Year 6 PAGES | Full Leased Wire Reports of The Associated Press | Founded 1901 | Iowa City, Iowa, Wednesday, January 27, 1926 | Official Student Newspaper University of Iowa | FIVE CENTS in Iowa City | Number 176

Approve Swanson Court Scheme

Medical Meeting Here to Center on Disease

Dr. Dean's Former Medics to Return

Distinguished Guests to Visit City on February 8, 9

When the middle section of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society, Inc., holds its annual meeting here on Tuesday, Feb. 9, nationally known physicians will be among the university's distinguished guests.

When the Dean Clinical society holds its fourth meeting here on Monday, Feb. 8, fifteen university professors, President Walter A. Jessup, and Mr. W. R. Boyd, chairman of the state board of education finance committee, and four additional specialists, will grace the program.

The acceptances by over 200, some from Winnipeg, Chicago, Memphis, St. Louis, Portland, Minneapolis, for the Tuesday's program, and the response of the Dean Clinical society members, of which there are seventy-three, indicate the probable success of the two events. the Dean Clinical society, made up of former students of Doctor Dean which has in the past accompanied

Dean's Former Students

The date of the fourth meeting of Dean Clinical Society made up of former students of Doctor Dean which has in the past accompanied the annual medical clinic, was changed to bring it nearer the middle section meeting.

Rooms other than those at three hotels, will be reserved to accommodate the visitors at the quadrangle as there is demand for them.

For the Dean Clinical society meeting on Monday, Feb. 8, the following program has been scheduled:

Morning Session: (Univ. Hospital)

9:00—Methods of teaching otolaryngology and oral surgery, along with demonstrations in both branches will be given by Doctors: Lee Wallace Dean, Dean M. Lierle,

[TURN TO PAGE 3]

Canadian Tourists on Way to South Stop at Capitol

DES MOINES, Jan. 26 (AP)—Thirty-five Canadians, augmented by almost as many from northern points on the Jefferson Highway, were led into and through Des Moines at 7:40 tonight by a squad of motorcycle police, the sirens on the squad's motor bikes screeching the announcement of the northern visitors' arrival.

Arriving at Albert Lea, Minn., this afternoon the Pine to Palm tourists were met by a delegation of Mason City auto club and good roads boosters and escorted to the latter town. After a brief stop at the northern Iowa metropolis they resumed their trip to Des Moines at three o'clock. They were handicapped by the icy roads between Mason City and Ames, Iowa, where the whole Des Moines city council and several other Des Moines representatives met them.

The Winnipeg visitors and the other northern states trippers are being entertained tonight by the city's automobile club and other civic bodies.

Lillian Spalla to Study in East on Master's Degree

Lillian E. Spalla, A4 of Britt, who graduates at the end of this semester, is leaving Iowa City Friday night for New York city, where she will continue her college work at Columbia university. On her way east Miss Spalla will stop over in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

She was recently elected into the Iowa chapter of Delta Sigma Rho on the basis of her capable work as a member of the Iowa-Minnesota women's debating team last spring. She came to Iowa from Beloit college of Beloit, Wisconsin, and was affiliated with the Beloit chapter of Delta Sigma Rho there.

While at Iowa she has been very active along forensic lines, a member of the Forensic Advisory board, Hesperia literary society, and Matrices.

She will receive a B. A. degree with an English major from Iowa and plans to work on her master's degree in Columbia this coming term and during the first summer session.

Saturday to End Registration for All Professionals

Students in the colleges of law, dentistry, pharmacy, and applied science must register for the second semester on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, according to H. C. Dorcas, University registrar.

The procedure for the students of these professional colleges to follow when registering, according to Mr. Dorcas, can be completed by visiting only three places. Start at the southeast entrance of university hall and get fee-call from the office of the registrar. Next pay fees at the secretary's office at the north end of the same hall. From there go to the office of the respective deans, fill out your registration card completely and deposit the receipt of the fee-card.

Maruth Answers Queries on Ruling

New System of Honor Credits Above B Puzzles Many

In order to answer the many inquiries which have arisen in regard to credits that the liberal arts faculty voted to give students who have maintained over a B average for their work in the university, Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar, has restated the ruling.

"Excess points above those required for a B average will give honor credits at the rate of one semester hour for each four such surplus points earned in the university," said Mr. Maruth.

"These honor credits, as points, will only be figured or given only when a student applies for a degree from this institution. At this time we will figure all of the points he has earned in this university together. If these points show that better than a B average has been maintained, the surplus points above those required for this average will count toward the honor credits."

According to Mr. Maruth, these credits will be written on the registrar's card as honor credits and no grade will be given for them. They will not count toward a required subject, but will be figured only as the elective hours.

In this plan, if a student has better than a B average for one year and then fails to keep up this average so that at the time of graduation all of his work in this university has not been above B quality no credits will be given.

"A number of students are planning on graduating this semester, due to this new system," said Mr. Maruth.

Brookhart Carries Fight Into Floor

Personal Appeal Interrupted by Roll on World Court

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Appearing in person before the Senate elections committee today, Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, contended that he was elected legally and that the contest of Daniel F. Steck, democrat should be thrown out. His argument was interrupted by frequent roll calls on the world court reservations on the floor of the Senate and he will continue his personal presentation of his case tomorrow.

Brookhart appeared without counsel. The sessions were held behind closed doors. W. L. Zumbrunn, a local attorney, represented Steck, and he plans to cross examine the senator tomorrow.

After the hearing Brookhart said he felt "much encouraged over the outlook and that although some members of the committee had held the opinion that he was not entitled to his seat in the Senate a good many others had held the opposite view."

Brookhart requested the committee to count all ballots cast in the election in which Steck was his opponent on the same basis, declaring that in five precincts the system of counting threw 149 votes to Steck that under the laws of Iowa should be given to him. He insisted that the official count be taken as a basis. If this is done, he declared that he would have 149 more votes and this would throw out the contest as Steck's representatives had never claimed a plurality of more than 110.

Former Instructor Here Writes Text

Jennings, of Commerce College, Issues Economic History

Prof. Walter W. Jennings, formerly assistant professor in the college of commerce, is the author of a text just off the press, "History of the Economic Progress of the United States." Professor Jennings was at the University of Iowa last year, and is now associate professor of economic history in the University of Kentucky.

The book devotes more than 800 pages to a complete survey of industries and economic conditions in this country beginning with the colonial period and extending into the present time. It is different in that it deals not with war and politics, but with the growth of population, agriculture, manufacturing, commerce, finance, and the trend of the commercial policy.

The book is designed as a text in college classes in economic history and was published by the Thomas J. Crowell Co. New York City.

Sun Spots, Storm Closely Connected

Doctor Morehouse of Drake Talks of Disturbances

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Jan. 26—Today's magnetic storm which tied up communication wires over the United States probably had a very definite relation with sun spots which observers find are on the increase in the opinion of Dr. D. W. Morehouse, distinguished astronomer and president of Drake University.

In his belief, however, popular speculation that the sun spots or the magnetic storm have any direct influence on the other earth disturbances of the last twenty-four hours, which include violet ocean storms and earth tremors, is entirely fallacious and unscientific.

Movement in Cycles

Sun spots appear in cycles varying from seven to sixteen years in length, said Dr. Morehouse. We are now in a period of increasing sun spots. This increase will continue probably for the greater part of this year, when the sun spot maximum will be reached and a decline will set in. Without doubt, he said, "there will be an unusual display of northern lights somewhere tonight. The moon will interfere with a view of the phenonmena here, but there will be reports of great activity some where."

Similar Conditions in 1918

Dr. Morehouse said this morning that a similar condition existed for two or three days in 1918 when there was one of the most brilliant displays of northern lights ever recorded. History records several instances when telegraph service has been paralyzed for many hours at a time.

"It has been found by experiment that when wires have been disconnected at times when these conditions exist that there was sufficient electricity in the earth to send messages across the continent. Switchboards have been known to catch fire from the electricity generated in the earth during such periods.

Seize British Ship Loaded With Liquor

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 26 (AP)—The British two masted schooner America of Halifax, N. S., carrying 1,500 cases of liquor valued at $100,000 was seized three miles off Montauk Point today by the patrol boat Number 129. The craft was heading for the entrance to Long Island sound when overtaken. The vessel had no clearance papers. The master and members of the crew are held prisoners aboard the destroyer Cummins which went to the assistance of the patrol boat.

Sidney Bank Stock Tumbles; Cut Twenty-Five Grand

DES MOINES, Jan. 26 (AP)—Capital stock of the Fremont Savings bank of Sidney was reduced from $50,000 to $25,000 under an amendment of articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state yesterday.

The secretary of state has granted a charter to the Sutherland Low and Harrow Hitch corporation. The firm with headquarters in Des Moines, is capitalized for $10,000.

Fund to Produce Fellowships, New Courses, Critics

$15,000 Donation for Character Station Split in Thirds

The $15,000 recently appropriated for the character training and religious education station at the University of Iowa will be used to start fellowships, for the furtherance of literary criticism, and to establish new university courses, according to Prof. Edwin D. Starbuck, director of the station.

The Institute of Social and Religious Research of New York City telegraphed Professor Starbuck Jan. 23 that it had appropriated the money for the furtherance of character training and religious education, in a station here at Iowa City, the first of its kind.

Create New Courses

Out of these funds three fellowships will be established to do research work in the placing of certain types of literature according to the mental age determined by the comprehension and ability of pupils. Special students entered in these fellowships must have training in psychology, education, and in literature, and some knowledge of statistical procedure.

Part of the endowment will be used to employ literary critics, will judge literature as to the degree of excellence for character value and according to the particular objectives to which it is adapted.

A portion of this sum will be used to establish new courses in the university. The university will offer regular elementary and advanced courses in character education and will conduct graduate research work in problems of character education and the psychology of character. These courses count for credit in psychology, philosophy and education.

Graduates in Field

The character research station at Iowa City has been providing experts for important positions in this new field. Among those who have taken their doctor's degree here and have gone out into important positions are: S. P. Franklin, now the head of a newly established department of religion at the Baldwin-Wallace College; Milton C. Towner, professor of religious education at the University of Missouri; Herbert L. Searles, head of the department of religion at the James Millikin University; Herman Hausheer, professor of psychology and education at Alma College.

At the coming convocation J. W. Slaght is candidate for the Ph. D. degree, having worked out his thesis on "Untruthfulness of Children" through this research station.

Mitchell Withholds Army Resignation

Acts on Advice of His Friends in New Movement

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Acceding temporarily to the advice of friends, Col. William Mitchell withheld today submission of his resignation from the army which he otherwise probably would have started on its way to President Coolidge.

The Colonel's first day under suspension from rank, command, and duty with pay and allowances reduced to $397.67 a month for five years, passed without incident.

He conferred with Rep. Frank R. Reid, republican, Ill., chief defense counsel during the court martial trial, and with other friends and it was late in the day before any decision was reached respecting a resignation.

Despite the nature of this decision the impression prevailed that, before the week ends, the letter requesting separation from the military service would be placed in the president's hands.

While Colonel Mitchell himself declines to comment upon the president's action in approving, with modifications, the court's sentence, it was said at the White house that Mr. Coolidge had not taken final action in the case with the "unseemly haste" which Mr. Reid complained of. It developed today that the president and Secretary Davis of the war department, had conferred on the subject for several days before the sentence was modified and affirmed.

Today's Editorials

[TURN TO PAGE 2]

God Give Us Men
Civilization on Trial
Chatting With the World
Renaming the Rose
Black Snowflakes

Russia Ready to Pay Insists M. Rakovsky

M. Rakovsky, Russian ambassador to France, says the Soviet asks nothing better than to pay America the whole of her debt—$232,000,000—at once, on the sole condition of the U. S. offering the present Russian regime full diplomatic recognition.

U. of Washington President to Give Graduation Talk

June Commencement Speaker Friend of Iowa President

President Henry Suzzallo, of the University of Washington, will be the commencement speaker next June, it was announced at the president's office yesterday. President Suzzallo is widely known as a public speaker and as one of the country's best known university presidents and writers on educational subjects.

A close friend of President Jessup, the commencement speaker has visited here on a number of occasions, so that his selection will be greeted with interest by a large number of faculty members who are acquainted with him.

President Suzzalo is a graduate of Leland Stanford Jr. university and he holds degrees from Columbia university and the University of California. He was a professor in education in Stanford and in Columbia until 1915, when he was eleced president of the University of Washington.

He has taken an exceptionally deep interest in problems of education and social welfare.

New Directress of Nurses Formerly in New York City

"I accepted the position because I think there is a great future before the University of Iowa in the college of medicine," said Mary J. McArthur, recently appointed directress of nurses, last night. Miss McArthur comes to Iowa from New York City where she held the position of supervisor of nurses at St. Mark's hospital.

A native of the east, Miss McArthur went to Vancouver, B. C. where she entered training at the general hospital and graduated in September, 1915, receiving the degree of registered nurse. She served as a member of the Vancouver staff for several years in the capacity of first head nurse, day supervisor, night supervisor, practical instructress, and later as assistant supervisor of nurses.

Following the position Miss McArthur accepted the position of assistant superintendent of nurses at the city and county hospital in St. Paul, Minn., "so that I might gain experience outside of my own state," she explained.

In January, 1925, she resigned the position at St. Paul to take that of the superintendent of nurses at St. Mark's hospital in New York City, which she resigned in December to return to the middle west and consider the position which she is now filling.

Miss McArthur fills a position recently held by Mrs. F. F. Faville, formerly Josephine Creelman. Lois Corder has been acting directress of nurses prior to the acceptance of the position by Miss McArthur.

Resolution Passes Senate Chamber by Huge Majority

Many Reservations Will Appear for Vote Today

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—The Senate, by almost unanimous vote adopted today all reservations and declarations of policy in the Swanson resolution of American adherence to the world court.

Before the resolution finally is adopted tomorrow, an even score of additional reservations must be disposed of. Sponsored by opponents of the court, they are designed to make American membership in the tribunal meaningless and no one expects any of them to be accepted.

Reservations Weighty

The reservations endorsed today by the Senate, with most of the opponents of the court voting for them go much further than did the original Harding-Hughes-Coolidge reservations. The reservations in their order would provide:

That the United States is not to be involved in any legal relation to the League of Nations.

That this country shall participate upon an equality with other signatory nations in the election of judges and deputy judges by the League of Nations.

That the United States shall pay a fair share of the court's expenses.

U. S. May Withdraw

That the American government may at any time withdraw from the tribunal and that the statute of the court cannot be amended without the consent of the United States.

That all "advisory opinions" of the court shall be rendered public end ample opportunity for the interested states to be heard, and that without the consent of the United States the tribunal shall not entertain any request for an "advisory opinion" touching any dispute or question in which the United States has or claims an interest.

48 States Must Approve

Added to these reservations is the condition that the signature of the United States shall not be affixed to the court protocol and statute until the forty-eight member states shall have indicated through exchanges of notes their acceptance of the reservations and understandings set out in the resolution of adherence.

That disputes to which the United States is a party cannot be referred to the court without an agreement through general or special treaties concluded by the parties to the dispute.

That adherence by the United States is not to be construed as a relinquishment by this county of its traditional policies against entangling alliances and toward purely American questions.

Lazell, Kendrie, to Share WSUI Studio at 9 This Morning

Prof. Frederick J. Lazell, of the school of journalism, will speak to the radio world on the subject of "Bird Study Out of Doors" and Prof. Frank E. Kendrie, violinist of the school of music, accompanied by Mr. Harry Thatcher, will play a number of selections over WSUI at 9 a. m. today. This program will be broadcast from the high school assembly.

Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the vertebrate museum, will give an address on "The destruction of a great Bird Island" and Miss Ruth Evans, Au of Iowa City, will sing a few soprano solos at 12:30 p. m.

Prof. George S. Sprague, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Flora Mercer Bronnen will entertain the radio fans with a musical program at 7:30 p. m.

Old Friends Meet by Chance Even in Largest City

New York City, the largest city in the world, may be a large metropolis but not so large that it prevented three old friends from meeting quite accidentally within its gates last week.

Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the university vetebrate museum, visiting the laboratories of the American Museum of Natural History came upon the artist and painter C. A. Corwin as he painted the background for an exhibit. Clarence Albrecht was the third member of the reunited party. He was one of Prof. Dill's first students, and is now assistant to the director of exhibits in the American Museum.

The three friends met for the first time since 1911, when they were members of the University of Iowa expeditionary party to the Idysan Islands, where they selected the birds and the scenery for the Idysan Island exhibit in the University museum, a work of art which has attracted the attention and approval of scientists from all over the United States.

Name 97 Sponsors for Ball February 5

Chicago Shows Close Because of Illness

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Two Chicago shows closed in two days because of the illness of male star comedians. The show in which Eddie Cantor appeared here was closed last night and Cantor went east for a rest and tonight Al Jolson's show closed when Jolson developed pleurisy and left for Florida. Jolson will rejoin his show here and Cantor probably will join his show in Indianapolis.

Cost Should Not Stop Prohibition

Wheeler, Dry Chief, Calls Enforcement Good Investment

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—Even if it cost $5,000,000 a year, it would be a good investment to have the prohibition amendment fully enforced, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, said here today in replying to an address in New York last night by District Attorney Buckner.

Mr. Buckner said only radical changes in the judicial machinery at a great expenditure could make the law successful and that "hired men" of the Anti-Saloon League here were afraid to tell the truth about the situation.

"If United States district Attorney Buckner thinks we are afraid to disclose the cost of prohibition," Mr. Wheeler said, "he is mistaken."

As against present expenditures for enforcement, he then told of the large sums collected in federal and state fines for prohibition violations and added:

"If New York had a state enforcement code and would use it instead of being a slacker state, similar results would be obtained there."

Prohibition, Mr. Wheeler said, "now pays back billions in increased efficiency and productivity and this would be still further increased if the law were better enforced."

Hoosier Governor Names Delegation for Farm Meeting

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 26 (AP)—Governor Ed Jackson has named a delegation of thirteen agriculturists to represent Indiana at the Des Moines farm conference Jan. 28. President W. H. Settle, of the Indiana Farm Bureau, heads the delegation which includes James Gwaltiney, president of the Indiana Wheat Growers' association; G. I. Christie, director of Purdue Agricultural experiment station, former senator Luke Duffey of Indianapolis and the following farmers: W. Lindstrom of Pleasant Lake; J. S. Royse of Terre Haute; R. S. Dodd of Bluffton; George Coales of Vincennes; B. B. Benner of Mays; Charles F. Nabor of Fairmont; John G. Brown of Monon; James Barnes of Logansport and Elmer E. Hungerford of Rushville.

Patrons, Patronesses, From Five Groups to Attend Affair

Additional stateliness and splendour will grace the traditional military ball Feb. 5, by the presence of governors, generals, judges, senators, professors, deans, colonels, majors, captains, besides many prominent citizens of Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Nebraska. These people will serve as patrons and patronesses of the colorful affair.

Speakers selected for the dedication exercises of the Union, members of the board of trustees of the Memorial Union, deans of the various colleges, and many military men of the seventh corp area and their wives have been invited by the dedication committee to aid in initiating the Union to its first social function.

Speakers

Governor and Mrs. John Hammill, Des Moines; Hon. and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, Oregon, Ill.; Judge and Mrs. F. F. Faville, Des Moines; President and Mrs. Walter A. Jessup; Hon. George T. Baker, Davenport; Hon. James B. Weaver, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Sargent, Chicago, Ill.

Judge and Mrs. Joseph J. Clark, Mason City; Hon. and Mrs. J. R. Murphy, Ida Grove, Iowa; Dr. and Mrs. Walter A. Anneberg, Carroll, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Records, Iowa City.

Trustees of Union

Hon. and Mrs. C. M. Dutcher, Iowa City; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bremner, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Grimm, Cedar Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Finkbine, Des Moines; Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Swisher, Waterloo; Hon. and Mrs. Joe R. Lane, Davenport.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Cox, Iowa City; Mrs. J. L. Sheuerman, Des Moines; Prof. and Mrs. Charles H. Weller; Prof. and Mrs. Forest C. Ensign; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Fitzgerald.

University Deans

Dean and Mrs. George F. Kay; Dean and Mrs. H. C. Jones; Dean and Mrs. Lee W. Dean; Dean and Mrs. Frank T. Breene; Dean and Mrs. Wilbur J. Teeters; Dean and Mrs. Carl E. Seashore.

Dean and Mrs. William G. Raymond; Dean and Mrs. Paul C. Packer; Dean and Mrs. John T. McClintock; Dean and Mrs. Chester A. Phillips; Dean Adelaide L. Burge; Dean Robert E. Rienow.

Army Officials

Major General and Mrs. Benjamin A. Poore, Omaha; Brigadier General and Mrs. A. W. Bjornstad, Omaha; Brig. General and Mrs. Louis G. Lasher, Des Moines; Colonel and Mrs. David M. King, Rock Island Arsenal; Colonel and Mrs. Tenney Ross, Omaha; Colonel and Mrs. A. B. Dockery, Omaha; Major and Mrs. Edward L. Hooper.

Major and Mrs. Herbert H. Sharpe; Major Bruce H. Roberts; Captain and Mrs. Martin Ackerson; Captain and Mrs. Harold P. Gibson; Captain and Mrs. Anthony P. Lagorio; Captain Leslie W. Brown; Lieutenant Thomas H. Stanley; Warrant Officer and Mrs. James J. Gibney; Warrant Officer and Mrs. Lewis J. Law.

Student Council

Francis Falvey; Lester M. Dyke.

IN WASHINGTON TODAY

Investigation of the Mitchell court martial was proposed by Representative Connally, democrat, Texas.

Will Use Counter Attack on Pacifists

General Poore Calls Cry of Militarism All Bunk

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Jan. 26—Expressing impatience with those who decry preparedness as "militarism", Major General Benjamin A. Poore, commander of the seventh corps area declared the movement of pacifists to halt military training in schools must be met with a counter attack.

In an interview with the Associated Press today, General Poore, who ish ere on a tour of the area, declared the R. O. T. C. must be saved, because it is from the ranks of the organization that many places in the army are filled.

"I have no patience with those who talk about militarism," the General said. "There is no such thing. To say that training men for preparedness will bring about war, is like saying that firemen are going to bring about an epidemic of fires. They are setting up a straw man to knock down."

In the first visit to Des Moines since he assumed charge of the seventh corps area as the successor to Major General George Duncan, General Poore called on Adjutant General Louis G. Lasher, and Governor Hammill. He inspected Camp Dodge and Fort Des Moines and was the guest of honor at a meeting of national guard and reserve officers here tonight.

G. Britain, Italy Fix Up Debt Row

Easy Terms Secured From England by Count Volpi

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 26—Great Britain and Italy have come to a settlement on the Italian war debt. A complete agreement has been reached as evidenced by an official statement issued this evening, reading:

"Count Volpi (Italian minister of finance,) and Mr. Churchill (chancellor of the exchequer) have arrived at a complete agreement on the Italian debt to Great Britain. Formal signature of the funding agreement wil take place tomorrow and the text will be available tomorrow evening."

As yet the exact terms of settlement are not known. It seems safe to assume, however, that the British taxpayer will be greatly disappointed, as it is understood that the terms Count Volpi obtained were even better than the terms granted to Italy by the United States.

Anthracite Meeting Adjourns; Vote Down Lynett Peace Plan

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26 (AP)—The anthracite conference adjourned at 6:30 p. m. today until 1:30 tomorrow afternoon with the announcement that a statement would be issued later.

The peace plan of E. J. Lynett, publisher of the Scranton Times, on which the conference was called, was voted down by the operators.

The Daily Iowan

OFFICIAL STUDENT NEWSPAPER
UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

Published every morning except Monday the entire year by Student Publications Incorporated at 125-130 Iowa Avenue, Iowa City, Iowa.

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Iowa City, Iowa.

Subscription rates: by carrier, $5.00 for 12 months; by mail $5.00 for 12 months. Single copies 5 cents.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use the re-publication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Charles H. Weller, Chairman; Ewen Mac Ewen; Raymond B. Kittridge; Ross G. Walker; Richard H. Atherton; Marion Rambo; John H. Folwell; Katherine Y. Macy; Marshall C. Watson.

TELEPHONES Editorial Rooms 2829 Business Office 290, 291

Philip Adler ..... Editor
Hazel Samuelson ..... Associate Editor
Velma Critz ..... Managing Editor
Maurice Collins ..... Campus Editor
Katherine Macy ..... Assistant Campus Editor
Edwin Cates ..... Telegraph Editor
Don Wilkins ..... City Editor
Charles Bonynge ..... Assistant City Editor
Marjorie Green ..... Women's Editor
Anne Beman ..... Assistant Women's Editor
Elvin Tilton ..... Sports Editor
Leonard McGuire ..... Assistant Sports Editor
Charles Nelson ..... Editorial Page Manager
Frank Eyerly ..... Editorial Board
Kenneth McDonald ..... Dramatic Editor
Karl Kohrs ..... Feature Editor
Russell Wilson ..... Film Editor
Nels Johnson ..... Art Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Loren D. Upton ..... General Manager
Lawrence Evans ..... Business Manager
Dale McLaughlin ..... Advertising Manager
Howard Fulton ..... Office Manager
Harry Harper ..... Circulation Manager
Frederic Schneller ..... Classified Advertising Manager
Francis Tobin ..... Assistant Circulation Manager
Wilfred Clearman ..... Advertising Assistant
Ernest Gerdes ..... Advertising Assistant
John Weber ..... Advertising Assistant
Norville Davis ..... Copy Manager

Wednesday, January 27, 1926

NIGHT EDITOR
Wilkins Micawber

God Give Us Men

CHARLES DAWES is receiving criticism from many quarters because he told the American people what they ought to know.

We have had at various times in our history men who were too honest for the infallable United States Senate.

The speech for which he is criticised is: "I am speaking to an intelligent audience. You understand what it means to have individuals stop the wheels from turning. There are 110,000,000 people vitally interested in the tax bill, and when such a piece of legislation is before a great body like the United States Senate you should not permit a man to go up there and read magazine articles, newspapers, or something else irrelevant.

"It is high time the people wake up and write their senators what they think of such procedure."

Cartoonists try to make him appear ridiculous.

One editor writes as follows: "To us it seems that he has a point against the rules where they operate to justify their general purpose. It is possible under them, even as they are, for the majority to clap closure on the debate and to force a vote. . . . " The World Court is now being so considered.

But the World Court was under consideration for three years. This filibuster is the same old stunt of talking a bill to death.

The same editor complains of our spending "barrels of money."

It is right to object to "barrels of money" spent on time-killers.

If more time is needed for certain investigations cannot our senators be men enough to say so and consider something else while the investigation is carried on?

Some Senators want to shelve any and every controversial proposition until after this year's election.

J. G. Holland might have been living in 1926 when he wrote:

Wanted

God give us men! A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and ready hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor,—men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue,
And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking!
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty, and in private thinking:
For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds,
Their large professions and their little deeds,—
Mingle in selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps,
Wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps!

A resolution is something you change your mind about shortly after making it.

Civilization on Trial

SATURDAY, Melun, France, saw the beginning of the trial of twelve religious devotees who nearly killed the Cure of Bombon, when they tried to drive the devil out of the poor man by beating him with sticks and stones. The superstitions of this religious cult had been denounced by the unfortunate Cure, and members of the cult promptly labeled him a sorcerer, and devil incarnate.

When they had the toothache, they blamed the Cure; when some of their number became ill from eating mushrooms, they "realized" that these plants had been poisoned by the Cure. In court they testified to such damning facts, and as further proof of his sorcery said that—shades of Voodoism!—he was able to cause pain to his enemies by sticking pins in wax figures.

Following the "monkey" trial" of last summer, this tragic-farcial case almost causes one to wonder upon what our boasted civilization is based. When the narrow minded bigotry of the middle ages arises to prevent discussion of science, and is followed by frank avowal of superstitious bleief, something is wrong.

Either there has been no advance in the real reasoning power of man, since the days of caves and raw meat; or else our boasted civilization is the work of a small but organized and intelligent minority. The latter view is the more logical. Intelligence has always been a rare trait, and it has taken countless ages to put it at the top. Now we have become so accustomed to the orderly arrangement of our lives, governed by reason; possibly the reason of others, that we believe that our whole civilization has advanced to the level of the persons controlling it.

Such events as these trials bring realization of the fact that our lives are built upon precarious foundations. Something is needed to force development from the bottom. Education, possibly, but at least this problem should be considered amongst the most important which the world has to face today.

Chatting With the World

SUNDAY night Europe and America conversed, not through the mails, not by cable, but through the medium of the air. Europe spoke to America, sang for America, and played for America, and did these things directly. Then America did in turn for Europe. The supremacy of the radio was established.

The experiment was a marked success. Listeners in at Council Bluffs, Des Moines, and other Iowa cities reported Monday that they had heard London and other European cities. The real value of the test will be established when the elaborate series of reports and checkups is tallied.

The development of the radios has been one of the great wonders of all history. From a beginning a scant decade ago it has progressed with a rapidity which is amazing to watch. Experiments at this university and elsewhere have indicated that direct communication between two stations without outside eavesdropping may be accomplished. Sunday's test has shown that an artist may soon have the entire world for his audience. The radio is bound to be a tremendous force in the coming history of the world.

Talk is cheap until you ask your wife how much money she needs for shopping.

Renaming the Rose

ADVOCATING the changing of the name of the War Department to "The Department of the Army and Navy," Representative Sol Bloom of New York has introduced a measure in congress to that effect. Horror of war, especially among the men who have gone over the top, is given as his reason. "Continuous use of the name 'War Department' always brings a dreadful feeling to the mind of the people," he maintains.

War, as such, is repugnant to the vast majority of people, and in this much Representative Bloom's bill is based on a real condition, but it is not designed to improve the state of affairs in themselves. As the policy is now carried out the name "Secretary of War" is most fitting. What would be better would be a Department of National Defense, including the army, navy, and air forces, and designed to act in keeping with its name.

A person doesn't necessarily sleep well just because he lies easily.

Black Snowflakes

IT'S always snowing in Iowa City. There are two kinds of flakes that descend upon the streets and brush against the cheeks of the pedestrians. The more pleasant of the two are the white ones. The other kind come in larger flakes. They are black. Occasionally one swears when he fails in his attempts to dodge them. Girls especially are adverse to them. They spoil complexions. They ruin linen. They are disastrous to anything clean and white. They have been known to affect dispositions. There have been protests. But still Iowa City is a sooty town.

Iowa City is too small to compete with Pittsburgh, which is a big town with a reputation already earned. Other cities have recognized that and have set out to earn some other name. Smoke ordinances have resulted. Devices have been invented which permit the burning of coal without having the by-products descending upon the community in large, annoying particles.

The Iowa City council would have the heartfelt thanks of almost every citizen of the town, if it would enact and enforce regulations designed to keep the street free from the black snow flakes. As soon as the population reaches 20,000 the council will doubtless act. May the day come soon.

"So this is Paris," muttered the student in disgust as the metal began to chafe in his skin.
—Ski-U-Mah.

Ducks are eating the rice crop. Now if the hunters would only eat the rice direct what a stroke in efficiency.—Lansing State Journal.

"I'm in a class by myself," said the professor as he arrived eight minutes late.
—Black and Blue Jay.

Laugh That Off!

Wife (as hubby comes in)—What in the world is Mr. Nexdore doing crawling all over his lawn?

Hub.—He says he's looking for a lump of coal he threw at the cat last summer.

Poems That Live

Proper Worship

Yesterday at evening, over all the town
I saw the Woolworth Tower bend
And humbly quiver down;
Its crusted heights submissive,
It leaned upon Park Row
Like a goddess from Olympus,
Genuflecting low.

And only I of all the world
Knew why its towers bowed down;
Why! To worship Amaryllis,
Stately Amaryllis,
In an emerald hat with cherries
And a new jade gown.
—John Farrar, in "The Middle Twenties."

CHILLS AND FEVER

IN the heat and fury of exam week Chills and Fever wishes to present his Universal Interchangeable Exam Questions. They can be used without revision by any department in the university and are warranted to give satisfaction.

WHEN twenty sets are purchased by an instructor we balance the questions on ball bearings, in order to facilitate their application in class.

* * *

All questions may be answered true or false. The instructor is to award two points on a question marked true; he shall award three points on a question marked false. The test comes when the instructor attempts to decide how the question should be answered.

1. Ibsen is the great white hope.
2. A university is a place where young people learn to play bridge.
3. Trichina is not a disease but a form of meat.
4. Rex Beach is an American man of letters.
5. Column conductors are silly asses.
6. When winter come sow's your old man.
7. Geology is a study of earthworms and evolution.
8. The world was made in six days.
9. The world should have been made in six days.
10. The world couldn't have been made in six days.
11. The world must have been made in six days.
12. You can't make a man, nor a woman, in six days.
12. Literature is a good subject for a man to go into.
13. Harry Kay Thaw is a United States senator.
14. Harry Kay Thaw should be a U. S. senator.
15. Shakespeare wrote poems that'll live.
16. Kappa Kappa Gamma is a great sorority.
17. Kappa Kappa Gamma is not a great sorority.
18. The instructor is always right.
19. Sinclair Lewis is an American socialist and wrote a book entitled "The Brass Collar."
20. What is the real meaning of Mae Tinee?
21. What great event happened on the night of Oct. 12, 1926?
22. What Chi O was thrown out of the City Park on the night of Oct. 12?
23. Liberty Bonds was the name applied to marriage licenses in the sixteenth century.
24. Robert Chambers once wrote a book entitled "Figures of Flesh."
25. Chills and Fever is a great man, destined to immortality.
26. The above mentioned question should be answered in the affirmative.

* * *

THE PIPE COURSES

THE real honest-to-goodness pipe, underwritten by the faculty and guaranteed to be a complete rest cure, is labeled "Practical Zoology." An important thing to remember about this course is the fact that no textbook is required: students working their way through school will do well to register and save a few more shekels. The course is given in the form of soothing lectures, punctuated by frequent bursts of wit from the Prof. It's as difficult to get an "A" in the course as it is to flunk. Hence, Phi Beta Kappa lads should steer clear of the class unless they are well acquainted with the staff.

WE hesitate over Sociology. As a matter of fact, it may not be fair to label the course a pipe, for it requires an ungodly amount of self-control to keep one's patience in class. Also, the instructional staff features a text book that sells somewhere in the neighborhood of five iron men. Not having purchased a book when we took the course, we aren't sure whether the book is required or not. The course is highly interesting and includes some stimulating discussion of various campus problems. Membership in a Greek letter society is almost a prerequisite to full enjoyment of the class discussion. Such charming phrases as "social control," and the "mob" are usually illustrated by some apt reference to S. A. E. or Teke. We will furnish a letter of introduction to anyone who wishes to have Chills and Fever standing in the course. By the way, all members of the sociology staff read this column and it might not be a bad idea to mention the fact when registering.

OVER in the poly sci. department, where tests are tests, you will find the highly edifying course labeled "Contemporary Legislation." This particular course has the edge on some other pipes because of the amount of knowledge distributed therein. Indeed, a loafer can recline in the class room for a semester and learn considerable by merely listening to the red-hot discussion that is a part of the work. No text book!

* * *

HORRID LAUGHTER

Due to the pressure of exam week our high powered, salaried novelist wasn't able to write his customary daily chapter. He will be back on the job tomorrow.

* * *

Again we crash the gates with Staff and Circle nominations: Beatrice Strite and Mildred Miles.

* * *

YES DEAR READER IT IS TRUE THAT THE BOYS ARE THINKING OF HANGING THE DURHAM BULL UP BEFORE THE IOWA SUPPLY AS A SYMBOL OF THE KLAN THAT MEETS THERE STOP YOU ARE WELCOME.

* * *

THE LAST LINE

"Oh! You understand me. I'm sure!"
—F. R. E.

OH MAN

By Briggs

OTHER CAMPUS YARNS

"Libraries"—a Habit

"Any student who fails during his college course to acquire the library habit or to conceive very clearly the functions of a library, misses a valuable portion of his education," declared Dr. W. O. Thompson, former president of Ohio State University, in his address Thursday morning at the ceremonies in State gymnasium at Ames, at their dedication of Iowa State's new half-million dollar library.

Million Dollars in Frat Houses

The estimated value of fraternity and sorority property at Indiana University is $1,154,000 according to figures obtained from organization officials there. Fraternities own $810,000 worth of property while sororities hold buildings and lots valued at $344,000, making the margin of fraternity wealth $466,000. Out of seventeen fraternities, thirteen of them own their houses, and out of fifteen national sororities, nine own their homes.

May Add Meiklejohn

It is rumored at the University of Wisconsin, that Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, famous philosopher and former college executive, who is in Madison, lecturing, that he may be added to the faculty as an instructor in the department of philosophy. It was reported that he had nevertheless given no definite answer to his invitation extended by the philosophy department.

Max Moody Now Eligible

Prospects for a championship swimming team at Minnesota took a great jump last night with the announcement that Max Moody, former Mechanics Arts dash star, and "Chuck" Purdy, breast stroker have been declared eligible and will be able to compete under Coach Neils Thorpe.

Disagrees With Weather Seer

Professor H. B. Ward of Northwestern University does not agree with Herbert Browne, the Washington ocean weather expert. Professor Ward says, "The weather for the next two years will be normal and it is impossible to predict the weather that far ahead. As far as I know we will not have a summerless year as Mr. Browne seems to think."

Tablet to Frosh Girl

To encourage scholarship among the freshmen girls at Minnesota, W. S. G. A. will erect a bronze tablet in Shevlin hall upon which will be engraved the name of the freshman girl with the highest scholastic standing for the first two quarters.

Because first year students often become discouraged and do not seek td adapt themselves to their new environment, this newly created idea of rewarding perserverance and excellence was formulated.

Student Council Pageant

A spectacular pageant staged by the Women's Student council in the University of Denver's gigantic new stadium is the prospect following acceptance of the responsibility for the event by the Arts Women's Student council.

The direction of the annual spring festival was turned over by the Y. W. C. A., under whose management it has been for several years, with the hope that sponsorship by a representative group will help make the pageant an all-University affair.

To Wear Mortar Boards at N. D. U.

Senior girls at North Dakota university will wear mortar boards and white dresses at the Carney song contest this year, following the tradition established last year, it was decided at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock in the Women's league rooms. It was also voted to wear stiff white collars with the gowns during commencement. Mary Swanston, president of senior girls, had charge of the meeting.

Official Daily Bulletin

The University of Iowa

Bulletins and announcements for the Official Daily Bulletin column must be in the office of the university editor, Prof. Charles H. Weller, room 101 journalism building, by 4 o'clock in the afternoon to appear in the following morning's Daily Iowan.

VOLUME 1, NO. 99 JANUARY 27, 1926

IRVING INSTITUTE

There will be no meeting of Irving Institute this week. The next regular meeting will be held Thursday, February 4, at 8 p. m.
C. ESCO OBERMAN, president.

BOOKS LEFT IN UNDERGRADUATE HALLS

Books bearing the names of Bruce Potter, Blanche M. Reed, Lorenz Evers, Eva Weimer, J. J. Rohwer, W. F. Vernon, James B. Miner, and K. McDonald have been left in the undergraduate halls. Will the owners please call and claim them on or before Monday, February 1.
MRS. BESSIE LOECK.

GRADUATE REGISTRATION

All graduate students are asked to complete their registration this week.
C. E. SEASHORE, dean of graduate college.

THETA SIGMA PHI

All members must meet promptly at 5:30 Thursday evening in the journalism building.
HAZEL SAMUELSON MILLER, secretary.

GENERAL ASTRONOMY

Notebooks should be left in room B 16 in the physics building, not later than Wednesday, Jan. 27.

The attention of the class is directed to two enormous sun spots easily visible to the eyes protected by a heavy glass or photographic film.
C. C. WYLIE.

MID-YEAR ENTRANCE INTO PRINCIPLES OF BOTANY

Present limitations of staff and laboratory space do not permit this year the organization of a beginning section of Principles of Botany; arrangements have been made, however, to admit for the second semester a number of students each into Section 2C (10 o'clock) and Section 2D (11 o'clock), with laboratory divisions as arranged. Those entering at this time may complete the course for year-credit during the first term of the Summer Session, or during the first semester of next year.
ROBERT B. WYLIE.

GENERAL BACTERIOLOGY

Bacteriology :152 will be given from 3:10 to 5 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and from 3:10 to 4 Friday, in lieu of the hours given in the schedule of courses.
FRED S. PAINE.

HAWKEYE PICTURES

The deadline for organization pictures, including fraternities and sororities, for the 1927 Hawkeye, is February 20. Appointments for sittings may be made at any of the three photographers.

COURSES IN JOURNALISM

All courses in journalism are open to qualified new students the second semester.
F. J. LAZELL.

ERROR IN CLASS ASSIGNMENT

Dr. Dickman's second year French section will meet in L. A. number 309 and not in L. A. number 16 as scheduled.
ADOLPHE J. DICKMAN.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PARTY

There will be a Christian endeavor party at the Christian church at 8 p. m. Saturday.

GEOLOGY FINAL EXAMINATIONS

The final examination in geology 1 sections A and B, meeting for lectures Wednesday and Friday at 8 and 9 o'clock respectively, will be held Wednesday, January 27, 10-12 A. M. in room 318 new chemistry building. Final examination for geology 1 section C will be held according to regular schedule.
A. C. TESTER.

NEW COURSES IN GRAPHIC AND PLASTIC ARTS

The department of graphic and plastic arts announces two new courses for the second semester which do not appear in this year's catalogue. The first, course (04), is a short course in free-hand drawing, open to all liberal arts students except freshmen. The other, course 20, is a course in lettering, open to juniors and seniors and including the study and practice of single stroke, Roman, Gothic, and other alphabets. These are 2-hour courses without prerequisites and may be carried without taking any other work in the department. We believe these courses should be of special value to students of the natural sciences. Students wishing to register for either of them should consult with the head of the department.

LUTHERAN RALLY

The third Lutheran rally will be held Sunday evening, January 31, at Youde's inn at 6 o'clock. Prof. W. J. Knappe of Wartburg college, Clinton, Iowa, will speak on "the problems of modern syncretism."
RALLY COMMITTEE.

BASEBALL BATTERY MEN

Candidates that have reported for battery service with the baseball squad are requested to report regularly for daily practice or they will be dropped from the squad. Work and examinations are the only excuses that will be accepted.
OTTO VOGEL, Coach.

NOTICE OF ERROR

Error in schedule of courses announcement of Professor Ward's first semester second year French.

The class in this course (first semester second year French (04), 3 s. h.) meets Monday, Wednesday, Friday, at 10 o'clock in room 16 L. A.

In the schedule of courses "1st sem." should replace "2nd sem." in the announcement of French (04).
H. C. DORCAS, Registrar.

KAPPA PHI MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Kappa Phi club at the student center Wednesday evening, January 27.

Current Comment

THE FORUM IDEA
(The Marquette Tribune)

There are many silent, unorganized groups at Marquette who are accomplishing a great deal, groups preferably limited to a number of either three or four members. No one knows how many of these groups exist, because they work silently, interfering with no one, and abiding by all the club and fraternal rules of the University.

Samuel Johnson belonged to a famous writers' club in London; Nathaniel Hawthorne, Emerson and Lowell, likewise were members of a small body of men who, with a limited number, mulled over the questions relative to their profession. It was a sort of "Forum Idea."

It is surprising the large number of these clubs that exist at Marquette. In the law, arts and science, journalism, and engineering departments there are many of them. Three or four students will gather in a fellow student's room where they will begin a discussion of some questions about which they are all a little uncertain in their conclusions.

This spirit is to be encouraged. If a few men can get together once a week who are really interested in one subject and willing to devote a lot of time to it, a great deal can be gained by every one. Likewise there is that stimulation when your own hopes have become a little jaded and discouraged.

DAVY CROCKETT
(The Holton Recorder)

A story of the Alamo massacre in last Sunday's Kansas City Star magazine recalled to my mind how, three-quarters of a century ago, Davy Crockett was a veritable hero with us boys, and how we used to sing, or try to sing, a doggeral verse, which, as well as I can remember, went like this:

I'll tell you about a fight
I had with Davy Crockett.
We fit all day
And both agreed to stop it.
Come to look for our heads,
We found 'em both a missen.
He'd bit off mine
And I'd swallered hissen.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The Zetagathian-Hesperian societies will present their largest production of the year, tonight. The play is entitled "We Three." Both of the societies have been working since before Christmas on this play.

The acrobats of the university have organized a gymnastic club recently. Stanley Streeter is the president.

Lieut. Morton C. Mumma will be the official representative of the University Glee club at the contest which is to be held in Des Moines this evening.

Walter (Stub) Stewart was chosen baseball coach for this year. Stewart won his "I" three times on the baseball team and was captain for two years.

The members of the faculty are plaintiffs in the actions which are being brought to close up six of the local saloons. The two members are Professors W. J. Teeters and Dr. F. E. Bolton.

A rich gift from the National Museum at Washington, D. C. is enroute to Iowa City for the upbilding of the University museum. Forty-seven large mammal and one-hundred and fifty small skins are in the shipment.

Dr. Joseph Newton, of Cedar Rapids, will give a series of eight lectures on old English authors for the students of the University. These lectures will be given every Thursday afternoon in the liberal arts assembly.

Wednesday, January 27, 1926

In The Of Sc

Pi Beta Phi

Ruth Brenton was operated on for apendicitis at Mercy Hospital Monday. Her brother, H. W. Brenton of Dallas Center and her aunt, Mrs. McCall of Perry are in the city.

Kappa Phi Club

The Kappa Phi club of the Methodist church will present a program of musical impersonations of famous musicians and hymns at the student center at 120 N. Dubuque this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Elma Austin, A4 of Sheldon, will preside.

Visits Daughter Here

Mrs. J. J. Spalla, of Britt, arrived in Iowa City yesterday to spend the next few days with her daughter, Lillian, who is going to Columbia University in New York city this coming term.

Library Most Effici for Both Pled

For a real combination of business and pleasure, there is no institution so typical as the "library date."

Night after night, the faithful couples wend their weary way into these halls of learning where they divide their time equally between the pursuit of knowledge and the exchange of loving glances. If study tables had ears and tongues, how many romantic experiences they could relate.

Only last evening, across the table sat a perplexed young man who had deeply wounded the lady of his choice and was then trying to make peace. With that sociable manner which is the most charming characteristic of "library daters," they talked in tones audible to the whole table.

"Mabel, I'm awful sorry. Don't get peeved at me."

"I looked nice, didn't I?—waiting for you the whole evening."

"But honest, Mabel, I couldn't help it. I told you the reason."

The injured lady whirled around

Dallas Selects Proficien Act as City G

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 25 (AP)—The nose of the night watchman knows its business. Guardians of the night in Dallas have become such proficient "sniffers" that an educated nose is a prerequisite for their job.

In a brief period, they "smelled out" and prevented numerous fires from gas stoves left burning by careless cooks, crossed wires, burning cigar stubs and smouldering rubbish.

Woman Responsible

A woman has been responsible for much of this training. Mrs. George A. Smith, who aids her husband in the management of an extensive night watchman service, imbued the hundred nocturnal guardians employed by the company with the idea of "following their noses."

These men go forth into the night, passing like shadows through the dark alleys, peering into hidden nooks, "nosing" about where thief or fire may be lying in wait to steal a man's life or his property. Walking into a building from the fresh air, they are quick to detect smoke.

A Keen Sniffer

The watchmen keept alert; especially for restaurant gas stoves left lighted by thoughtless cooks. Laundry chutes of hotels cause many

FUR COATS
At
—Big—
Reductions
With many weeks of cold weather to come
THIS SALE
offers a wonderful opportunity to choose FUR COATS at a price much below usual.
Buy Now—Take A
Very Low
Make a reasonable cash the coat and we will accep the remainder.
Free S
All FUR COATS bought layaway plan will be sto months free of charge to
We Have But 18
There are doubtless doz City and community wh for a long time to possess We urge you to avail you As there are only 18 lef you the possibility of di to your advantage to ch
Sealine, Northern Seal a formerly sold from $1 $100.00 to $175.00.
Marmot, Natural Racco Australian Muskrat Coats $175.00 to $250.00, now

In The World Of Society

Pi Beta Phi

Ruth Brenton was operated on for spendicitis at Mercy Hospital Monday. Her brother, H. W. Brenton of Dallas Center and her aunt, Mrs. McCall of Perry are in the city.

Kappa Phi Club

The Kappa Phi club of the Methodist church will present a program of musical impersonations of famous musicians and hymns at the student center at 120 N. Dubuque this evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Elma Austin, A4 of Sheldon, will preside.

Visits Daughter Here

Mrs. J. J. Spalla, of Britt, arrived in Iowa City yesterday to spend the next few days with her daughter, Lillian, who is going to Columbia University in New York city this coming term.

Kappa Eta Kappa

Kappa Eta Kappa announces the pledging of Everett Anderson of West Liberty and Maynard Jennings of Slater.

Tierney-Huntzinger

Miss Marion Tierney A2 of Otho and Mr. Cecil Huntzinger were quietly married last night by Justice of the Peace Clark C. Roup at his office about 9:45 o'clock.

Mr. Huntzinger is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta and is very active in campus orchestras. The couple will not leave immediately due to the illness of Mrs. Tierney in Fort Dodge, Mrs. Huntzinger left Iowa City last night and will visit her mother. At a late hour last night it could not be learned if she would return and finish her work at Iowa or not.

Library Most Efficient Place for Both Pleasure and Learning

For a real combination of business and pleasure, there is no institution so typical as the "library date."

Night after night, the faithful couples wend their weary way into these halls of learning where they divide their time equally between the pursuit of knowledge and the exchange of loving glances. If study tables had ears and tongues, how many romantic experiences they could relate.

Only last evening, across the table sat a perplexed young man who had deeply wounded the lady of his choice and was then trying to make peace. With that sociable manner which is the most charming characteristic of "library daters," they talked in tones audible to the whole table.

"Mabel, I'm awful sorry. Don't get peeved at me."

"I looked nice, didn't I?—waiting for you the whole evening."

"But honest, Mabel, I couldn't help it. I told you the reason."

The injured lady whirled around quickly so that he found himself talking to the back of her head. Strangely enough he winked at the boy across from him but he still continued his pleading patiently.

Finally "Mabel" jumped up like a Jack-in-the-box and flounced out of the library. Her boy friend matters something about the signs pointing to a long cold winter and began to study in earnest.

A commanding damsel in a yellow slicker and red hat, sent her squire to the desk with the most minute instructions. Presently he came staggering back under a load of encyclopediae, dictionaries, and year books. Forlorn young ladies who had no sheiks to employ looked on with envy and admiration.

As the clock's hands sauntered on toward ten, the lonely little freshman girl rose from her corner and hurried toward the door. Impulsively, the cross-eyed engineer who had been watching her all evening, rose and followed. Their voices mingled pleasantly as they met at the door.

Dallas Selects Proficient "Sniffers" to Act as City Guardians of the Night

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 25 (AP)—The nose of the night watchman knows its business. Guardians of the night in Dallas have become such proficient "sniffers" that an educated nose is a prerequisite for their job.

In a brief period, they "smelled out" and prevented numerous fires from gas stoves left burning by careless cooks, crossed wires, burning cigar stubs and smouldering rubbish.

Woman Responsible

A woman has been responsible for much of this training. Mrs. George A. Smith, who aids her husband in the management of an extensive night watchman service, imbued the hundred nocturnal guardians employed by the company with the idea of "following their noses."

These men go forth into the night, passing like shadows through the dark alleys, peering into hidden nooks, "nosing" about where thief or fire may be lying in wait to steal a man's life or his property. Walking into a building from the fresh air, they are quick to detect smoke.

A Keen Sniffer

The watchmen keep alert; especially for restaurant gas stoves left lighted by thoughtless cooks. Laundry chutes of hotels cause many fires. The watchman's nose is particularly trained to catch the odor of burning insulation from crossed wires. Electric motors left running in factories are another menace.

Free Petting Places Urged by Labor Statistics Head

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP) — Petting places for the poor were urged upon the national recreation conference yesterday by Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics in the department of labor, who pleaded for the opening of public spaces in American cities to the "blue jeaned" workers in great industrial plants.

"Neillie from the shoe factory," he said, "can stand a little petting in a public park furnished by the city, even though Joe from the stockyards, who spends his days cutting off the feet of sheep, does the petting."

Mr. Stewart assailed what he termed "the increasing rigidity and puritanical asininity of much that goes into the newer forms of park rules and regulations."

Current Comment

THE FORUM IDEA
(The Marquette Tribune)

There are many silent, unorganized groups at Marquette who are accomplishing a great deal, groups preferably limited to a number of either three or four members. No one knows how many of these groups exist, because they work silently, interfering with no one, and abiding by all the club and fraternal rules of the University.

Samuel Johnson belonged to a famous writers' club in London; Nathaniel Hawthorne, Emerson and Lowell, likewise were members of a small body of men who, with a limited number, mulled over the questions relative to their profession. It was a sort of "Forum Idea."

It is surprising the large number of these clubs that exist at Marquette. In the law, arts and science, journalism, and engineering departments there are many of them. Three or four students will gather in a fellow student's room where they will begin a discussion of some questions about which they are all a little uncertain in their conclusions.

This spirit is to be encouraged. If a few men can get together once a week who are really interested in one subject and willing to devote a lot of time to it, a great deal can be gained by every one. Likewise there is that stimulation when your own hopes have become a little jaded and discouraged.

DAVY CROCKETT
(The Holton Recorder)

A story of the Alamo massacre in last Sunday's Kansas City Star magazine recalled to my mind how, three-quarters of a century ago, Davy Crockett was a veritable hero with us boys, and how we used to sing, or try to sing, a doggeral verse, which, as well as I can remember, went like this:

I'll tell you about a fight
I had with Davy Crockett.
We fit all day
And both agreed to stop it.
Come to look for our heads,
We found 'em both a missen.
He'd bit off mine
And I'd swallered hissen.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The Zetagathian-Hesperian societies will present their largest production of the year, tonight. The play is entitled "We Three." Both of the societies have been working since before Christmas on this play.

The acrobats of the university have organized a gymnastic club recently. Stanley Streeter is the president.

Lieut. Morton C. Mumma will be the official representative of the University Glee club at the contest which is to be held in Des Moines this evening.

Walter (Stub) Stewart was chosen baseball coach for this year. Stewart won his "I" three times on the baseball team and was captain for two years.

The members of the faculty are plaintiffs in the actions which are being brought to close up six of the local saloons. The two members are Professors W. J. Teeters and Dr. C. E. Bolton.

A rich gift from the National Museum at Washington, D. C. is enroute to Iowa City for the upbuilding of the University museum. Forty-seven large mammal and one hundred and fifty small skins are in the shipment.

Dr. Joseph Newton, of Cedar Rapids, will give a series of eight lectures on old English authors for the students of the University. These lectures will be given every Thursday afternoon in the liberal arts assembly.

FUR COATS

At
—Big—
Reductions

With many weeks of cold weather to come THIS SALE offers a wonderful opportunity to choose FUR COATS at a price much below usual.

Buy Now—Take Advantage of These Very Low Sale Prices

Make a reasonable cash deposit when you choose the coat and we will accept monthly payments for the remainder.

Free Storage

All FUR COATS bought during this sale on our layaway plan will be stored during the summer months free of charge to you.

We Have But 18 Fur Coats Left

There are doubtless dozens of women in Iowa City and community who have earnestly desired, for a long time to possess, a comfortable fur coat. We urge you to avail yourself of this opportunity. As there are only 18 left we would like to save you the possibility of disappointment. It will be to your advantage to choose tomorrow.

Sealine, Northern Seal and Beaverette coats that formerly sold from $150.00 to $250.00, now $100.00 to $175.00.

Marmot, Natural Raccoon Dyed, Opossum and Australian Muskrat Coats that formerly sold from $175.00 to $250.00, now $135.00 to $200.00.

Hetter's
THE BIG STORE

High Chancellor of England Pens Missive to Laws

Dispenses With Stenog While Answering Iowa Query

The Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain can get along without a stenographer. At least he did when he wrote to the University of Iowa.

It came as almost a Christmas present to the law library. It was a brief letter and a pamphlet just about eight times the size of a student directory. The letter was in the Chancellor's handwriting.

What Happened

Some things have happened in Great Britain that the people of the United States didn't even know might happen. That's what the Chancellor wrote about.

The Chancellor started it when he was Chancellor once before, back in 1913. Now they've gone and done it.

On the first of January this year the English government put into practice some new laws about real estate.

They've made it hard over there for the novelist who thrives on the misfortunes of the "younger son of a younger son." English estates do not fall to heirs the way they did before. The oldest son doesn't get the whole thing unless his good pater provides for such a thing in his will or sees that it is provided in the deed to the place.

Lawyers call it as important a law as any real property law ever passed in England. Its purpose was chiefly to make it easier to transfer land. Under the old laws the son inherited land but if he was under age was not allowed to sell it.

Silences Wrangling Heirs

How any minors holding land are to have trustees who are allowed to sell. This will correct difficulties met by many in the days of Lloyd George's high land taxes when it was thought more profitable to sell than to hold land. Land held by minors could not then be sold. Other like restrictions are removed.

The aim in changing the inheritance law was to give the property to the ones to whom it probably would have been given had the owner made a will. This was discovered by an examination of a large number of wills.

The old wrangling over inheritance by distant cousins is also gone into history. Only first cousins may inherit except where the will of the owner of a special provision in the deed states otherwise.

Women Get Inning

Women inherit equally with men. Now a man's wife inherits all he leaves up to one thousand pounds (about $5000). For larger estates she inherits a life interest in the estate, or if there are children she receives a life interest in half the excess over the thousand pounds. The husband has exactly the same interest if his wife dies.

It has been noted that approximately 98 per cent of the people who die without wills have less than a thousand pounds worth of property. It is evident then that widows are likely to be the chief beneficiaries of the new law.

How did it happen that Iowa University got the Chancellor's letter? Prof. Percy Bordwell of the law school has been investigating the history of English property law reform. Richard Burdon Haldane, who is now Lord High Chancellor of Great Britian introduced the bills on which the present law is based.

It was for these bills that Miss Helen Moylan of the law library, wrote. The pamphlet received is thought to be one of the copies prepared for the use of Parliament in 1913.

"Yours Truly, Haldane"

Lord Haldane wrote his letter in long hand instead of following the American method of giving it to a stenographer. He signs himself simply "Haldane" although excepting the blood royal and the Archbishop of Canterbury, he holds the highest rank in England. He could have placed seven letters after his name, is first Viscount of Cloan, formerly Rector of Edinburgh University, Secretary of State for War, (1905 to 1912), Lord High Chancellor (1912-1915), and from 1924 to the present time.

Dr. Dean's Former Medics to Return for Medical Meet

[CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1]

Ralph A. Fenton, C. C. Bunch, George H. Hansmann, Bundy Allen, Mary Ross, Burgess, Cunningham, and Cone. At 12:15, lunch will be served to the visitors at the University hospital.

Afternoon in Physics Building

The afternoon session will start at 1:30 o'clock. The first speaker will be Dean Carl E. Seashore, head of the graduate college, who will address the assembly on "Some Psycho-Physical Approaches to Problems in Otolaryngology".

In successive order, Prof. G. W. Stewart, head of the physics department will talk on "Sound Filtering"; Dr. Samuel T. Orton, of the medical college will speak on "A Theory of So-Called Congenital Word a demonstration in Ophthelmology Blindness"; "Alkalosis" will be discussed by Dr. Victor C. Myers, and will be given by Dr. C. S. O'Brien. The last will be held in the University hospital.

6 O'clock Banquet

Concluding the afternoon's event, will be the 6 o'clock banquet of the Clinical society at the Jefferson hotel, with both President Walter A. Jessup, and Mr. W. R. Boyd, of the state board of education, as evening speakers.

Clinical discusssions will be resumed for the doctors at 8 o'clock in the large lecture room of the chemistry building, when Dr. W. W. Pearson, of Des Moines, will trace the development of Otolaryngology in Iowa.

A diagnosis and treatment of Trifacial Neuralgia, with lantern and film demonstrations, will be next given by Dr. A. W. Adson, of the Mayo clinic at Rochester.

Several Lantern Slides

Also illustrated with lantern slides will be a discussion of "Comparative Analysis of Nasal Sinuses", by Dr. J. M. Ingersoll of Cleveland, Ohio.

The concluding event on the Dean Clinical society program, Monday, Feb. 8, will be a talk on the "Relation of sinus Disease to Pathological Changes in the Chest," given by Dr. T. E. Carmody of Denver, Colo., with lantern slides.

Intensive study of the laryngological diseases, with demonstrations of the most unusual cases, characterizes both morning and afternoon sessions of the meetings to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 9, the day following the Dean Clinic meeting.

On the morning program, will be Doctor Dean, the staff of the otolaryngological department, Dr. P. C. Jeans, of pediatrics, Dr. Amy Daniels, of dietetics, and Dr. William H. Johnston, of Muscatine.

Discussion of Sinus

The afternoon program will include observations on sinus disease, made in private practice by Dr. Gordon F. Harkness, of Davenport, Dr. Roy A. Barlow, of Madison, Wisconsin, Dr. John J. Shea, of Memphis, Tenn., and Dr. Edwin Cobb, of Marshalltown.

Further lantern slide demonstrations and discussion will be given by Dr. Thomas E. Carmody, of Denver, Colo., Doctor Ingersoll, Dr. Harold L. Lillie, Rochester, Minn., and Doctor Pearson. Doctor Henry J. Prentiss, of the medical college, will conclude the afternoon program, after which all the attendant physicians will go to the Hotel Jefferson for a 6:30 dinner.

Previous meetings of the Laryngological, Rhinological, Otological society were held, last year at Indianapolis, and two years ago at Detroit.

Harvard University is First to Adopt Iowa Athletic Organization

Len Small Selects Illinois Committee

Names Twenty-three on Delegation for Farm Relief

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 26 —Governor Len Small today named the Illinois committee to participate in Des Moines farm surplus conference Jan. 28.

Twenty-three were named including two alternates.

Sam H. Thompson of Quincy, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, John H. Camlin, Rockford, president of the Illinois chamber of commerce, and Earl C. Smith, Detroit, president of the Illinois Agricultural association are among them.

Other names were as follows:

Frank A. McCarthy, Elgin, Ill., milk producers association; C. J. Johnson, Paxton, chairman insurance committee, house of representatives; George N. Peek, Chicago, president of the American Council of agriculture; S. J. Standard, director of state department of agriculture; Frank Hayes, Morris, chamber of commerce; Hugh C. Luckey, Potomac, agriculture committee, house of representatives.

C. B. Watson, Dekalb, of Chicago Joint Stock Land bank; Arthur C. Page, Chicago, editor Orange Judd Farmer; A. Otis Arnold, Quincy, state representative; Samuel E. Lantz, Congerville, chairman agricultural committee, state senate; E. A. Eckhard, Mascoutah, president State Grange; George A. Fox, Chicago, secretary of the Illinois Agricultural association; F. B. Barton, Chicago, executive chairman, Illinois agricultural association; A. S. Cuthbertson, state gricultural committee.

The two alternates are Louis G. Stevenson of Bloomington, farmer and former secretary of state, and Harry C. Butcher, Chicago, publicity director of the Illinois agricultural committee.

System Introduced by President Jessup Two Years Ago

By LAWRENCE J. EVANS

President Walter A. Jessup, director of athletics, Paul E. Belting and Iowa faculty members were especially pleased to note that Harvard university has just voted to organize their athletic department in a manner patterned closely after Iowa's.

The plan of athletic supervision effective here is believed to be unique among American colleges and universities, and so far as is known, Harvard is the first school to fall in line with the same system.

The Harvard corporation, which controls the school's affairs, had been considering a change in their athletic department for two years and wrote here concerning the success of the Iowa plan. An article in "The New York Times" telling of the consolidation indicates that the general organization and most of the details of Iowa's department will be followed.

Jones Resignation Brings Change

It was almost exactly two years ago that Howard H. Jones, then Iowa's head football coach, tossed a sky rocket into local and national football circles by announcing his resignation. Following its acceptance, the board in control of athletics, now in the Athletic Council, pondered over a new form of organization. They made some recommendations to President Jessup, who a short time afterward returned to them a plan much larger in scope and close knit in organization, than had ever before been considered. His plan was adopted and has now been in operation for two years.

Predict Universal Acceptance

Its marked success of operation has evoked attention by educators in all parts of the United States and it is predicted that within twenty years nearly all of the big colleges and universities will adopt this plan or some variation of it. So smoothly and successfully has the new order of things been brought into control that a large number in the university do not realize the revolutionary changes that have taken place.

Many students think Iowa's system much the same as that employed at Illinois. President Jessup had been considering the plan for some years before the resignation of Coach Jones presented an opportunity to put it into effect. There are no other schools known to have as complete and comprehensive an athletic organization.

Had Double Aim

Two fundamental aims underlie the present system. One is the bringing together under a single head all forms of physical exercise, from the football team to the beginning class in swimming for women.

The other is to bring athletics and athletic instruction under closer faculty supervision.

To put the plan into effect the board employed Dr. Paul E. Belting of the University of Illinois to become Director of Athletics and head the new organization. Head Track coach, George Bresnahan was appointed assistant to Dr. Belting. Under the director's supervision are all of the athletic team coaches, heads of the physical education departments for men and women, and the head of the intra-mural athletics. The school of coaching also comes under his direct supervision. He is chairman of the Athletic Council and is responsible to the president of the university for the entire organization.

In order to include all forms of physical exercise as a coherent part of the university program, the director is given professional ranking and becomes a member of the board of deans. All coaches are made assistant professors and as instructors in the school of coaching are enabled to take part in faculty meetings.

Form Athletic Council

Under the old order of things the board in control of athletics was in complete charge of the department. They settled everything, correspondence, policies, finance, or schedules. They are now but an advisory board, meeting once every two weeks, when they receive a report of athletic activities.

One of the danger spots of any organization is the handling of finances. This is particularly so in an athletic department, with Homecoming games, enthusiastic alumni, and poor but athletic students tending to influence the peaceful atmosphere.

Now the university steps in with a firm but pleasant smile, and becomes the banker. All income of the department is immediately checked and taken over by representatives of the secretary's office, who bank it with the university funds. The director, with his advisors, may have full say as to how the money will be spent, signing vouchers against the university for all expenditures. In this way accounting expense is greatly reduced, and a simplified and accurate account of the funds presented.

Business Men in Charge

Every wide-awake university head realizes the value of bringing athletics under closer scholastic supervision and there are many who are waiting for the time when the spirit of rebellion will seize their present staff and allow such a re-organization. In a lot of schools business men form the board in control of athletics and control its policies and expenditures. This often brings about disputes over schedules, the amount of time athletics shall demand, and two thousand and one similar arguments.

Many such boards hold their meetings once every three weeks when they smoke heavy cigars and stay awake most of the night attempting to dispose of the matters at hand. Correspondence three weeks late has often been known to fall considerably short of its mark. Coaches desiring to take twenty-six men instead of twenty-three on a football trip would have to make their application to the board in many cases three weeks before the expedition.

Now they talk it over with the director just before the trip, showing how many men they want to take, and the matter is settled. This same hurrying up and simplifying process takes place in practically every form of expenditure.

For Those Who Want to Coach

The new order of things also permits of a more capable staff for a school of coaching, which is now well under way here. Within the next five years it is believed that the school will take its place among the country's best. Here it is necessary to take two years of liberal arts preparatory work, just as for any professional school, before taking up the specialized coaching proper.

Wales Chews---Gum

Gum chewing, regarded heretofore as an exclusive American pastime, may become a British custom, if the Prince of Wales is imitated in this as in his other habits.

The Prince has given up cigarettes, and also has discarded his favorite briar in favor of chewing gum.

The LARGEST FINANCIAL INSTITUTION in JOHNSON COUNTY

MOTHERS and FATHERS

IT'S up to you to open an account for every one of your youngsters and see that they add to it each week or month—this will foster in them the habit of saving and a plan for the needs of early manhood or womanhood.

THEN the stiffening of the moral backbone and the development of the judgment are sure to come with the practice of thrift.

SAVING MONEY strengthens character through the lessons of SELF-DENIAL;—SELF-CONTROL.

THIS BANK IS ALWAYS PLEASED TO HAVE THE YOUNG FOLKS' ACCOUNTS

The FIRST NATIONAL Bank
MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM and
FARMERS LOAN & TRUST CO.
Assets Over $4,000,000.00
IOWA CITY ~ IOWA

Napoleon, Forgotten Hamlet, Scene of Vivid Drama of Pioneer Life

One store and two or three houses situated about one and one half miles south of Iowa City made up county seat of Johnson county. When the news came that Iowa was separated from Wisconsin the new territory of Iowa was organized. In the fall of 1838 Governor Lucas authorized Col. Sam C. Trowbridge to organize Johnson county.

In order to carry out the governor's orders Philip Clark, one of the two first white men to settle within the bounds of what is now Johnson county, and John Gilbert laid out a town on the McCollister farm. Gilbert's trading house was grocery store, courtroom, and clothing store for the community.

Johnson County's First Court

Johnson county's first court was held in Gilbert's establishment. The grand jury was too large to be seated in the room and the judge ordered them out on the prairie where they transacted their business.

When the territorial legislature met at Burlington in 1839 they made plans to establish a state capitol nearer the center of the state. On May 1, 1839, a commission of three was to meet at Napoleon to determine where Iowa's capitol should be. On May 1st, however, only one of the commission appeared at Napoleon, and a decision of the majority had to be reached before midnight.

The Famous Ride

Farmers around Napoleon were anxious of course that their town be named as the capitol. A second member of the commission lived over thirty-miles away. When noon came and there was still only one commissioner in town, Philip Clark volunteered to ride the seventy-five miles to see if they couldn't get the second member in town before midnight. The men waited anxiously in Gilbert's and at 11:55 Clark and his man reached Napoleon. It seems more probable than not that someone's watch was turned back for it is not likely that any horse could travel 75 miles in 12 hours over the poorly marked roads of that time.

Napoleon was not chosen for the capitol however. In June 1839 the site of Iowa City was marked off and workmen immediately began to clear away the heavy forest.

In August 1839 Napoleon was still considered the county seat for at that time there was an election of county officers held there.

Move to Iowa City

The next year Foster and his sons who had been running the Napoleon general store came to Iowa City which by that time was growing into a town. Shortly after that a post-office was established in Foster's store.

When the railroads came into the territory they linked first with Iowa City as the capitol, and Napoleon was completely forgotten. Today this town, which was once considered as the capitol of Iowa, has not a single landmark to show that it ever existed—unless one can imagine the cornfield which is there now, as a memorial.

Shebas and Sheiks Adopt Penny Bank Fad as Means to Matrimony

"—And we've only been at it two weeks and we have seventy pennies already!"

No, it's not some youngster from the elementary schools who made that statement.

Its owner was the most collegiate of co-eds from the three inch spikes on her everyday pumps to the last carefully disaranged hair of her waterwave.

Saving pennies may not be a new thing but it is for some of the girls on the Iowa campus who are taking this method to keep the old H. C. L. from eating up all those elusive tenth-dimes that they and their particular boy friend of the minute have so carelessly treated in times past.

This is the plan. One of the pair is selected as treasurer (the girl generally gets it by a unanimous vote). Next a suitable treasury is selected. Candy boxes, hairpin containers, powder boxes are all good.

During the week she receives three pennies change from the nickle she gave in exchange for a stamp and he gets two cents change from the dollar bill he gave Whet's for the candy he bought.

They save these. On Saturday night one of the most interesting topics of conversation is given this kind of a boost.

"Well, how many have you?"

"Guess! I'll bet I have the most!"

"All right! Here's twelve. You can't beat that."

"Yes, I can too!" And then thirteen pennies click into the treasury.

What do they do it for? Some of them say it's for silver; some for a davenport; some for a victrola. But some of the newer recruits who evidently haven't such faith in their own powers of perserverance are just doing it "for fun."

In a Boston paper of last week there was a story of a Frenchman and his wife who got their start in a successful business by this joint saving of the pennies. But it took them seventeen years to save enough to get married.

The "Little drops of water, Little grains of sand, etc." method does take a lot of time. But the penny-savers won't let a little thing like that worry them.

"——so at that rate we'll have five dollars and sixty cents saved by the end of school. By that time we'll know whether we want to get a piano lamp or a tea wagon."

So "Cash on Hand" boxes grow heavier and heavier.

About the only way to insult a girl nowadays is to tell her she needs a haircut. —Rice Institute Owl.

Rothschild's—That Bigger and Better Sale!

In a Sale or Out of a Sale No One Can Under-sell Us!

No One Ever Will!

This statement is not an idle boast — rather it is a sincere promise — a renewed pledge that we will continue to duplicate our present and past performances.

Ask the women who have bought here during this sale — and for proof of our ability to create values without precedent, read and investigate these price quotations.

COAT PRICES
Tumbled Again!

Once more the prices have been slashed. They must go — You will find a lot of fine ones on the rack, so shop here and save money.

THREE GROUPS CHOICE NOW
$8.00 $17.00 $23.00
Early Prices to $55.00

TWO GROUPS CHOICE NOW
$29.00 $39.00
Early Prices Were to $89.00

SILK OR WOOL DRESSES
CHOICE NOW
$5.00 $8.00
$14.00 $19.00

ROTHSCHILD'S
It will Pay You to Shop Here

Federal Government Swoops Down on Eastern Rum Running

Bootlegging Given Severe Set-Back by Gigantic Haul

Grand Jury Indicts Sixty-one Men for Violation

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26—The federal governmnet today struck a herculean blow at rum running on the high seas, bootlegging ashore, and bribery of government employees.

Indict Sixty-One

Sixty-one men, including thirteen members and former members of the coast guard, were indicted by a federal grand jury for conspiracy and violation of the national prohibition law. A second indictment charged William V. Dwyer, former race track owner and alleged head of the biggest liquor syndicate in this country, and ten of his higher up confederates, with bribery of government employees. Dwyer and one of his lieutenants, John J. McCambridge, were charged with a felony, in a third indictment, for sending twelve men to their deaths in an unseaworthy ship on a mission in the rum trade. Dwyer was named in all three indictments.

Breaks Backbone

The syndicate, international in scope, was termed the "backbone of rum row" and was alleged to have operated eighteen ocean going steamers in the liquor trade. It was represented as a "$25,000,000 bootleg ring," with headquarters in New York. Among those indicted for conspiracy and violation of the prohibition laws were C. Paul Chartier, Canadian, represented as the head of one of the biggest liquor distributing companies in Canada, and Edward Capteron, an aviator, charged with having piloted airplanes over rum row to direct liquor ships in their unloading.

The action of the grand jury, characterized by federal officials as the most extensive court action ever instituted against prohibition law violators, followed six weeks of continuous investigation.

Bail Totals $268,000

Dwyer was arrested Dec. 3 and is at liberty on $40,000 bond. Twenty-nine of his alleged higher up confederates also are awaiting trial under bail totalling $228,000 which was furnished by a surety company. Warrants have been issued for those not already under arrest and steps were being taken to invoke, for the first time, the provisions of the new rum treaty with Great Britain and Canada for the extradition from Canada of Chartier.

Nine of the coast guardsmen still were in active service when the indictments were returned.

Operators Reject Lynett Plan for Coal Settlement

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26—The joint conference of miners and operators, called into session again after breaking up in New York two weeks ago, today rejected the Lynett plan for settling the anthracite strike and adjournment until tomorrow.

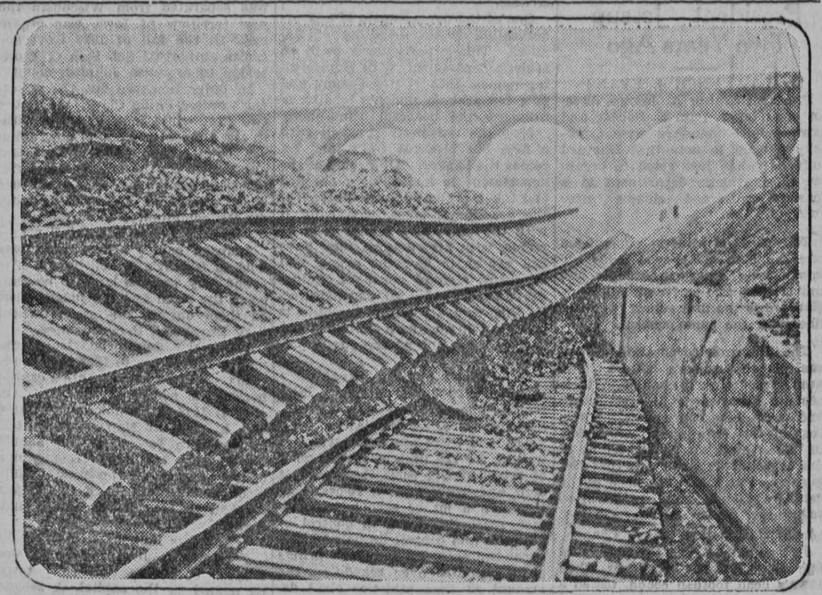
The conference was called at the request of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers to consider the proposal offered by E. J. Lynett, publisher of the Scranton Times. The offer was accepted in principle by the miners and rejected by the operators.

When the conference adjourned tonight it was learned that there was no program for consideration tomorrow unless either side should decide to bring upon another proposition or a modification of some plan already thrown into the discard.

Exploding Kerosene Injures 2 Children

CARROLL, Jan. 26 (AP)—Opal and Casey Knight twelve and seventeen years old respectively, living near Dedham, Iowa, were seriously burned and their younger brother Wallace, was slightly burned this morning when a stick of wood taken from a stove and dipped in kerosene exploded the oil can and set their clothing on fire. They had started a fire in the kitchen stove which at first refused to ignite properly. All of the children are in St. Anthony hospital here. Death of the oldest two is feared.

Landslide Ties Up German R. R. Service



A landslide along the railroad between Berlin and Frankfort, Germany, completely tied up service between those points for two days. An entire section of the track extending nearly a quarter of a mile slid down to another section of the rails, tying up traffic in both directions. Above is a view of the landslide.

Through the Union Doors

By THOMAS ELLISON

Since the completion of the first unit of the Memorial Union, a trickling line of students have been filing down to inspect the future center of the university. Kenneth T. Gardiner, A4 of Cherokee and J. H. Sheldon, A4 of Webster City, when found by an Iowan reporter giving the magnificent lounge room the "once over" heartily exclaimed "1000 per cent perfect and nothing else".

Girls of the Women's Athletic association, who will serve the dedication banquet, will be obliged to cover 1400 feet of table space. Between running numerous dashes and lifting various weights, the athletically inclined girls will have an excellent workout.

Men are busily engaged in installing a soda fountain which will be able to supply any co-ed with her favorite drink. It will be placed on the first floor off the south side of the lounge room.

An allotment of military ball tickets will go on general sale today at Whetstones and the Iowa Supply. Colonel Mumma suggests to those who intend to attend the ball should secure their tickets immediately, as the supply is limited.

Members of the R. O. T. C. who have either reserved or signified their intention of securing tickets for the military ball may obtain them from Major Hooper of the military department Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 1 and 2.

Prof. F. C. Ensign, in charge of the ticket sale for the dedication banquet of the Union announces that citizens of Iowa City may purchase tickets for the banquet at the Commerce club rooms any time this Friday.

The distinctive programs for the military ball will be ready for distribution by Tuesday, Feb 2, at Whetstones. On presentation of the ticket, the person applying will receive his program.

The programs are beautifully made and worth retaining. Their general outline is that of a pistol cartridge made of bronze. On one side is etched the seal of the university with the words "Military Ball". On the other side is the Memorial Union building and below it are the words, "Iowa Memorial Union Dedication, 1926. A tasseled gold and black cord hold the two sides together. These decorative programs were made by the Tilton-Ashford Program Co. of Iowa City.

The rough and tumble hockey matches indulged in by Nick Kutsch and the rest of the boys on the river may be seen with advantage from the cozy sun porch overlooking the Iowa river.

A carload of furniture arrived yesterday containing grill room furniture of high-lighted oak trimmed in red. The cotton tables and uniquely carved chairs are pleasing and suggestive of a Russian type of furniture.

In keeping with the furniture are the Russian chandilers that cast a soft amber light about the room, enhancing the grill room effect. Red leather benches will face the two fire places in the room.

Fourteen Bundahr-Wilton rugs will be strewn about the lounge room. Several have already arrived and the remainder will be here in a day or two.

Joys of Travel Vanish as Dill Takes Toll of Automobile Victims

"Is the automobile exterminating the woodpecker?" is the title and argument of an article in a recent number of Science written by Prof. Homer R. Dill, director of the vertebrate museum of the University.

The article is an account of Professor Dill's observations of woodpeckers on a drive of 220 miles last summer. His attenion was attracted to the cause of the red heads by the casualties he noticed along the highways. Professor Dill proves that the woodpecker still exists in large numbers and their extermination is not as acute as he previously reported.

Eat Tourist Lunches

On the first part of the trip, over a detour one hundred live birds and no dead ones were counted but in the remaining 120 miles twenty-two dead and eighty-two live woodpeckers were observed. Four weeks later, returning over the same road twelve live birds and five dead ones were counted. Professor Dill accounts for the difference as due to a change of diet.

Inspection of the crop of dead birds revealed that they were feeding upon the refuse of the lunch baskets left along the road by tourists. Professor Dill cites the pursuit of this source of food and the excellent perching facilities offered by the telegraph and telephone poles and wires as the attraction of the highway to the red-head.

Insects Pile Up

Remaining in the track until the passing machine is close upon him the unlucky victim is unable to escape on account of the clumsiness of his feet which were fashioned for clinging rather than racing.

In the last part of the article the author treats of other wild life suffering because of tourists. He states that from his car he removed fully a pint of insects, "the residue accumulated on 2,000 miles of travel." With this as a working basis he computes that in traveling 2,000 miles the eighteen million cars in this country kill enough insects to make a pile thirty feet square, and as high as the Woolworth building.

Railroads Grant Licenses to Bus Lines

DES MOINES, Jan. 26 (AP)—Four bus lines which have been operating under temporary permits, have been granted licenses by the railroad commission.

These are: Emil Michaelson, operating a line between Des Moines and Winterset, and traveling through Lee, Polk, Madison, and Warren counties.

T. A. Stiles, Montrose, operating between Montrose and Keokuk.

R. E. Hilton, Jefferson, running a line from Jefferson to Emmetsburg.

Vernon Oxley, Iowa City, operating a bus line between Iowa City and Tipton.

Identify Redding as Scott

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Jan. 26 (AP)—A man held in the state prison here under the name of John Redding was today positively identified as Robert Scott, Chicago murder suspect, by Floyd C. Carr, of Chicago, victim of a holdup said by the Chicago police to have been perpetrated by Scott and his brother, Russell Scott.

Ford Purchases Fiddles

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Brooklyn Eagle today says that Henry Ford has just purchased $300,000 worth of old violins here to add to his collection of American antiques. What disposition is to be made of the fiddles has not been announced.

:: At the Theatres ::

By RUSSELL WILSON

WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES
Produced by Universal.
Directed by William Seiter.
Presented at the Strand theater.
THE CAST
Tom Jones ..... Reginald Denny
Lucille Bigbee ..... Marion Nixon
Ebenezer Goodly ..... Otis Harlan
Mrs. Goodly ..... Emily Fitzroy
Richard ..... Ben Hendricks
Hilda ..... Zasu Pitts
Marjorie Goodly Margaret Quimby

Very good farce with plenty of situations that bring real laughs from start to finish, is this latest Reginald Denny picture. It looms superior to the average farce because of its high quality of maintained suspense which keeps the spectators on the keen edge of anticipation, and the smooth swiftly flowing action.

As fast as Jones and his fat pal get out of one scrape another threat of perilous exposure menaces them.

* * *

Hardly anything funnier in filmland has been done than the scenes of the adventure of the couple dodging disaster in turkish baths reserved for feminine custom, to say nothing of the Bishop identity mixup.

The story, for the film has one, is that of Jones' adventures after he escapes from a raided poker game on his wedding eve. He is hunted from pillar to post and nearly loses his fiancee, but in the end wins her.

Reginald Denny's comedy work is great and Otis Harlan and Zasu Pitts give capital performances. The supporting cast is good.

THE PERFECT CRIME
Produced by Paramount.
Directed by William DeMille.
Presented at the Garden theater.
THE CAST
Jenny ..... Bebe Daniels
Bob Van Dyke ..... Nell Hamilton
Beth Van Dyke ..... Anne Cornwall
John Norton ..... Anthony Jowitt
Dugan ..... Fred Walton
Kelly ..... Lloyd Corrigan
The Kid ..... Micket McBann
Madame Denise ..... Marcelle Corday

Bebe Daniels in this film assumes the garb and manners of a crook. She is the girl member of a trio of cheap crooks because one of them is her foster father. Her philosophy is, "Housebreakin' ain't no work for a lady" and she plans to go straight as soon as the opportunity offers.

One night she is surprised in a house; it happens to be the home of the hero. Persuaded to go straight by him she becomes a dressmaker; saves him from the theft of some money entrusted to him; and marries him.

* * *

The picture has some amusing comedy and drama. Neil Hamilton is good in the role of the spendthrift millionaire and Fred Walton, as Bebe's foster father and teacher in crime, is bad enough for the part.

Bebe herself is enjoyable as the crook and as the girl who reforms.

William DeMille, the director of the piece, also wrote the story from which it is taken.

STEEL PREFERRED
Produced by Metropolitan.
Directed by James Hogan.
Presented at the Pastime theater.
THE CAST
Amy Creeth ..... Vera Reynolds
Wally Gay ..... William Boyd
James Creeth ..... Hobart Bosworth
"Goofy" Red Face ..... Walter Long
Nicker ..... William C. Mong
Dicker ..... Charlie Murray
Waldron ..... Nigel Barrie

Back of the effort that has gone into the making of this picture, is a curtain extremely worth studying. Frequently a picture is made and turns out to be interesting by virtue of elements on which the producers have depended but scantily. Eliminating from the scene entirely the wanderings of most of the cast, retaining the bare background —one of the country's great steel mills— upon which the plot has been pasted, and you have a most enlightening set of motion pictures. You are permitted to look in upon that stark drama which sends tough-hearted men into flame and torture as they go about the daily job of tending the boilers and vats from which the nation's building metal comes.

* * *

There are two old-time laborers, who drink whisky; there is a bright-eyed young engineer who, disciplined by a jealous manager, is put to common labor in a furnace room; at the climax a train of molten metal is derailed. The misused lad rescues from the wreck his persecutor, the manager. Also the daughter of the company president.

Playing important parts are Vera Reynolds, a young woman of whom it is said DeMille will soon make a second Gloria Swanson; William Boyd, a good leading juvenile who should rise far in the film firmament, and old Charlie Murray, as a souse.

There is a good fight between hero and villian and as stated before, the scenes in the mills are excellent.

Fogless London Cuts Out Guides' Profits

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Blind men who act as guides to pedestrians when dense fogs settle over London have been complaining because of lack of "business" due to this winter's weather, which has been exceptionally clear and cold.

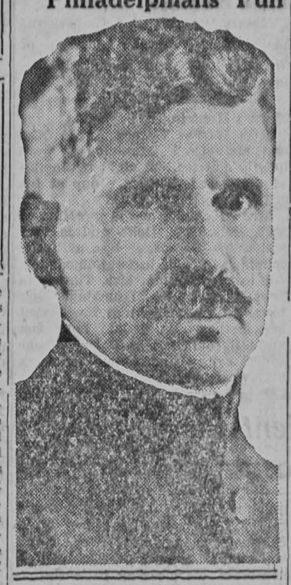
Thousands of persons frequently become lost in the fogs, even within a block or so of their homes or offices. It is on such occasions that the blind men, who find their way by "feel" and instinct, take up their stands at prominent corners and offer their services as guides.

It has been estimated that a real fog here entails a loss of approximately 350,000 pounds to business in less than 24 hours.

New Head of Iskoodah

SIOUX CITY, Jan. 26 (AP)—Miss Margaret Gustine, Moville, will head Iskoodak, freshman women's club of Morningside college, during the coming semester, as the result of her recent election as president. Bessie Idso, Alden, is vice president; Cora Montgomery, Sioux City, secretary, and Lois Hickman, Sioux City, treasurer.

Army Head to Direct Philadelphians' Fun



Maj. Gen. Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of the army, has been selected president of the National Sesqui-Centennial Association, to superintend the Philadelphia celebration. He succeeds Dr. Charles Baylis, resigned.

Auctions Off Curios Bequeathed by Father

TOKYO, Jan. 26 (AP)—More than 350 curios, ancient autographs and paintings, part of the collection inherited by Marquis K. Inouye from his father, were sold at auction for a total of 2,450,996 yen.

The art object which sold for the highest sum was a tea bowl of quaint design which was brought to Japan from Korea about 350 years ago. It sold for 109,500 yen and was purchased by T. Fujita, a millionaire mine owner by Osaka.

Sixty articles were sold at prices in excess of 10,000 yen and more than 83 for sums larger than 3,000 yen.

Waterloo to Hear Glenn Frank Talk to State Teachers

WATERLOO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, and formerly editor of the Century magazine, will speak at the northeast district teachers conference here April 1 and 2. More than 2,000 teachers from the eighteen northeastern counties of the state are expected to attend.

Doctor Frank, who is one of the youngest heads of the larger universities of the country, is expected to speak on Friday, April 2. The subject of his address has not been announced.

Jury Selected for Logan Murder Trial

LOGAN, Jan. 26 (AP)—A jury was completed this afternoon to try Alfred Sunde, who is charged with murder in connection with the shooting to death of the Logan night marshal a month ago. Statements of the attorneys were begun late today and the taking of testimony will start tomorrow. The jury is composed entirely of men. There are six farmers, three machinists, one merchant, a laborer and a carpenter.

Judge Dewell, in passing upon one juryman who said, in answer to a question that the defense should be made to prove their man innocent rather than the state proving him guilty, that a person who does not believe in enforcement of the law should not sit upon a jury. The prospective juror was excused.

Solid Iron Curtains Shut Out Gaze of Late Prowlers

PARIS, Jan. 26 (AP)—French shopkeepers still talk of "putting up the shutters" at closing time, but actually they pull them down.

The quaint, many-paned shop windows familiar in the old illustrations to the "Songs" of Beranger and the Cruickshank and Phiz drawings for Dickens' works, have disappeared to make way for great, solid iron "curtains," which are hauled down with a lever. The old windows, charming, cob-webbed and gaslit, remain in a few out-of-the-way parts of Paris.

NOW PLAYING
ENGLERT THEATRE
LAST TIMES Tomorrow
The Gem of The Screen "Everyone Is Talking About!"
ZANE GREY'S "THE VANISHING AMERICAN"
A Paramount Picture
— with —
RICHARD DIX
LOIS WILSON
NOAH BEERY
MALCOLM McGREGOR
The Comedy "INSIDE OUT"
Kinograms—Latest News
Englert Orchestra
Matinees 40c Nights 50c
Kids 10c
COMING—
"SALLY IRENE and MARY"

PASTIME THEATRE
TODAY--- THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
A tremendous story filmed in the heart of the great steel industry. A romantic human theme in which drama and humor are finely blended.
With a wonderful all star cast
STEEL PREFERRED
The cast: VERA REYNOLDS, WILLIAM BOYD, HOBART BOSWORTH, WALTER LONG, WILLIAM V. MONG, CHARLIE MURRAY, NIGEL BARRIE, HELENE SULLIVAN, BEN TURPIN
VERA REYNOLDS WILLIAM BOYD & CHARLIE MURRAY
JAMES HOGAN
PRODUCERS DISTRIBUTING CORPORATION
Beautiful, absorbing, appealing, thrilling, delighful and humorous!
— Also Showing —
A Sportlight Reel "Outing for All"
And then for a little fun—
HAL ROACH presents CHARLEY CHASE in HIS WOODEN WEDDING
Afternoons 40-10c
Evenings with orchestra 50-10c
Don't Fail to See This Good Show!

ENGLERT THEATRE
STARTING FRIDAY
'Eddie Dowling's'
Great Musical Success Now On the Screen!
SALLY IRENE and MARY
As a Stage "Musical" This Attraction Was The Hit Last Season!

THE NEW GARDEN Always a Good Show!
Starting FRIDAY
5 - Big Days - 5
Even better than "THE UNHOLY THREE"
LON CHANEY in The Black Bird
A Thrilling Mystery—
But Not Gruesome!!

STRAND THEATRE TODAY and all this week.
Our Annual Hilarity Week!
'Twill give you a glorious laughing jag
Reginald DENNY in "What Happened to Jones" STEAM ROOM
ADDED ATTRACTION
For Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week only
GORDON GREEN and his "IMPS"
A Red Hot 10 piece syncopating crew booked direct from here into the Capitol, Des Moines.

NOW THE NEW GARDEN Always a Good Show! NOW
Today LAST TIMES Thursday
BEBE DANIELS in "THE SPLENDID CRIME" WITH NEIL HAMILTON
A comedy of wise crooks and wise cracks!
And, A Knockout Comedy — — "MY STARS"
— Garden Orchestra —
Matinees 30c Nights 40c Kids 10c
COMING FRIDAY
LON CHANEY in "The Black Bird"

Barrym

Hawkeye Holds Ei

Fall From a Tie for Sec Last Two

The Hawkeye cage quintet from their twelve hundred mi two disastrous defeats one at t from Northwestern. In the las from a tie for first place into a cellar.

Although beaten the Hawks are not down hearted and they are determined to stage a comeback in the remainder of their games. It is very evident that the team is in a slump, and it will be the work of Coach Barry this week to try to get them once again in their old time form. Although the men will be busy this week with exams there will be no letup in drills. The work of the week will be mostly an effort to remedy the things that were instrumental in the last two defeats. Two phases that will get special attention are the driving in of the forwards in the offensive territory and getting in motion with the dribbler on defense. Perfection in these two things alone would have won both the Ohio and the Northwestern games.

The practice last night was hard but not long and scrimmage was eliminated altogether. Follow-in shots and long basket shooting received the most attention. In the line of defensive work the men drilled on picking up a dribbler and getting in motion with him.

Coach Barry stated last night that the men will get more scrimmage this week than before, as he believes that the team has not been getting enough of this kind of practice. The frosh will be on hand tonight with Indiana plays to give the varsity their first practice game of the week.

Tilden Says Helen Cannot Beat Suzanne at Riviera

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Helen Wills "hasn't any chance to beat Mlle. Lenglen on the Riviera," in the opinion of William T. Tilden, expressed today in an interview with the Brooklyn Eagle.

The national tennis champion, who has had opportunities to study the play of both feminine stars, believes Miss Wills would have some chance to win at Wimbledon and an even chance on her home courts but discounts her prospects of victory in France because of unfamiliar environment.

St. Pats' Cagers Rest

St. Patrick's high school cagers will rest on their laurels for a short while now. They returned from Cedar Rapids Monday night with their eighth straight victory, and will not return to practice until Thursday. Their next game is with Immaculate Conception high of Cedar Rapids there on next Wednesday.

Princ
t University
the two we $30
And our S
These two T double-breast young men e
save money a
Tux o
Arr
Iowa's Great

Running

Waterloo to Hear Glenn Frank Talk to State Teachers

WATERLOO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin, and formerly editor of the Century magazine, will speak at the northeast district teachers conference here April 1 and 2. More than 2,000 teachers from the eighteen northeastern counties of the state are expected to attend.

Doctor Frank, who is one of the youngest heads of the larger universities of the country, is expected to speak on Friday, April 2. The subject of his address has not been announced.

Jury Selected for Logan Murder Trial

LOGAN, Jan. 26 (AP)—A jury was completed this afternoon to try Alfred Sunde, who is charged with murder in connection with the shooting to death of the Logan night marshal a month ago. Statements of the attorneys were begun late today and the taking of testimony will start tomorrow. The jury is composed entirely of men. There are six farmers, three machinists, one merchant, a laborer and a carpenter.

Judge Dewell, in passing upon one juryman who said, in answer to a question that the defense should be made to prove their man innocent rather than the state proving him guilty, that a person who does not believe in enforcement of the law should not sit upon a jury. The prospective juror was excused.

Solid Iron Curtains Shut Out Gaze of Late Prowlers

PARIS, Jan. 26 (AP)—French shopkeepers still talk of "putting up the shutters" at closing time, but actually they pull them down.

The quaint, many-paned shop windows familiar in the old illustrations to the "Songs" of Beranger and the Cruickshank and Phiz drawings for Dickens' works, have disappeared to make way for great, solid iron "curtains," which are hauled down with a lever. The old windows, charming, cob-webbed and gaslit, remain in a few out-of-the-way parts of Paris.

Starting
FRIDAY
5 - Big Days - 5
ANEY in k Bird
A Thrilling Mystery—
ut Not Gruesome!!
TODAY
and all this week.
Hilarity Week!
rious laughing jag
ENNY
Happened to Jones"

TRACTION lay, and Saturday
ek only
GREEN is PS"
pating crew booked di-
pitol, Des Moines.

Barrymen Return Home to Prepare for Indiana Next Monday

Hawkeye Quintet Holds Eighth Place

Fall From a Tie for Second Place by Virtue of Last Two Defeats

The Hawkeye cage quintet returned home this morning from their twelve hundred mile road trip which resulted in two disastrous defeats one at the hands of Ohio and another from Northwestern. In the last four days they have tumbled from a tie for first place into a position that is third from the cellar.

Although beaten the Hawks are not down hearted and they are determined to stage a comeback in the remainder of their games. It is very evident that the team is in a slump, and it will be the work of Coach Barry this week to try to get them once again in their old time form. Although the men will be busy this week with exams there will be no letup in drills. The work of the week will be mostly an effort to remedy the things that were instrumental in the last two defeats. Two phases that will get special attention are the driving in of the forwards in the offensive territory and getting in motion with the dribbler on defense. Perfection in these two things alone would have won both the Ohio and the Northwestern games.

The practice last night was hard but not long and scrimmage was eliminated altogether. Follow-in shots and long basket shooting received the most attention. In the line of defensive work the men drilled on picking up a dribbler and getting in motion with him.

Coach Barry stated last night that the men will get more scrimmage this week than before, as he believes that the team has not been getting enough of this kind of practice. The frosh will be on hand tonight with Indiana plays to give the varsity their first practice game of the week.

BIG TEN STANDING
This is the conference standing, correct to Wednesday morning. The 60-game schedule is one-third over.

	W	L	PCT
Wisconsin	3	1	.750
Ohio State	3	1	.750
Michigan	2	1	.667
Indiana	3	2	.600
Purdue	3	2	.600
Chicago	2	2	.500
Illinois	2	2	.500
IOWA	2	3	.400
Northwestern	1	4	.200
Minnesota	0	3	.000

Games this week: Wednesday—Chicago at Minnesota; Saturday—Ohio State at Chicago.

Tilden Says Helen Cannot Beat Suzanne at Riviera

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Helen Wills "hasn't any chance to beat Mlle. Lenglen on the Riviera," in the opinion of William T. Tilden, expressed today in an interview with the Brooklyn Eagle.

The national tennis champion, who has had opportunities to study the play of both feminine stars, believes Miss Wills would have some chance to win at Wimbledon and an even chance on her home courts but discounts her prospects of victory in France because of unfamiliar environment.

St. Pats' Cagers Rest

St. Patrick's high school cagers will rest on their laurels for a short while now. They returned from Cedar Rapids Monday night with their eighth straight victory, and will not return to practice until Thursday. Their next game is with Immaculate Conception high of Cedar Rapids there on next Wednesday.

Cedar Rapids Five Downs U Hi 30-10

Locals Outclassed by Tiger Cagers All the Way

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Jan. 26, (AP)—The Washington high five of this city trounced the University high team of Iowa City in a slow contest here tonight by a 30 to 10 count. The Tigers led from the first and the visitors never had a chance.

With Cummins and Auracher leading the attack, he first string ran up the score in the first half and led 19 to 3 when the rest period arrived. After this Coach Kelly inserted his "Globe Trotters," or fourth team, into the fray, but they met with little success and the visitors began to creep up. Another entire lineup was sent in and as the last quarter began the regulars came back.

Cummins was the outstanding performer for the home team with five baskets and a free throw and Captain Dennis led the visitors with seven of the ten points made by his team.

Cedar Rapids		U High (10)
Cummins	rf	Dennis
Groth	lf	Lindeman
Day	c	Jones
Tangeman	rg	Johnson
Auracher	lg	Bowers

Summary— Substitutions: Knapp for Cummins, Myers for Knapp, Christie for Knapp, Vail for Tangeman.

Field Goals: Cummins 5, Knapp 2, Groth 1, Day 1, Vail 1, Dennis 3, Johnson 1.

Stewart, Tank Star Returns to Squad Second Semester

Swam in Crawl Stroke Events Last Year

Ready to win more points for the Hawkeyes in the crawl and back stroke events, Charles W. (Monty) Stewart, letter man in swimming last year, returned to Iowa City yesterday. His appearance set at rest the report that he was to register at another university. Stewart has been working at his home in Superior, Wis., during the first semester.

He will give Coach D. A. Armbruster an experienced man in the back stroke, which event is sorely in need of material and will also help to round out the 160-yard relay team.

The big Wisconsin lad has been drilling all fall and says that he is in good shape. He has started work with the swimming squad in the Iowa tank and will have about ten days to prepare for the first dual meet of the season, that with Chicago here on Feb. 6 .

Phillips Leading Scorer for Hawks

Captain McConnell in Second Place; Van Deusen Third

The peculiarity of Iowa's basket ball team is plainly shown by the fact that the high point man for the outfit is not on the first team. Gordon Phillips is the man and Coach Barry uses him as a surprise package to demoralize the opposing defense. Phillips has scored a total of twenty-nine points by virtue of fourteen baskets and one free throw.

Here are the figures on the scorers in the conference games with Chicago, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio State and Northwestern:

Player	FG	FT	PF	TP
Phillips, f	14	1	3	29
McConnell, g	6	8	10	20
Van Deusen, f	6	7	10	19
Harrison, f	4	9	13	17
Hogan, g	4	3	8	11
Miller, c	3	3	13	9
Totals	37	31	57	105

15 on Wisconsin Board

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 26 (AP)—Wisconsin whose farming problems are closely linked with those of Iowa and other Mississippi valley states will be represented at the interstate agricultural meeting to be held at Des Moines, Jan. 28, by fifteen persons appointed by Governor John J. Blaine.

Sidelights on Game

Between ten and twelve thousand people filled the Columbus coliseum to its capacity on Saturday night. The huge building will accommodate more spectators than any other playing space in the Big Ten conference.

Both Captain "Chuck" McConnell and "Cookie" Cunningham were banished from the Ohio game, on personal fouls. They seemed to have a grudge against each other for they mixed frequently.

In the Columbus mix the teams kept on even terms during the first ten minutes of play, and then with the score standing eight to ten in favor of Ohio the Hawkeye's defense seemed to crack. The result was that before the first half was over the score stood twenty-five to eleven.

Both teams counted the same number of points in the second period. Iowa got four baskets and two free throws while the Buckeyes counted three baskets and four foul chances.

Referee John Schommer stated after the game that it was the poorest exhibition that he had ever seen from a Barry-coached team.

The Northwestern game started much in the same manner. The Hawkeyes played neck and neck to their rivals until just before the half ended when a spurt by the Purple gave them a 17 to 8 lead, which the Iowans never had a chance to overcome.

"Buzz" Hogan almost made a record, in going out on personal fouls. He was in the game just over four minutes, before referee Kearns sent him to the showers.

The game was rough as was evident from the fact that Harrison and Hogan of the Hawkeyes and Baker and Mathews of the Purple were banished on fouls.

Captain McConnell was the only Iowa man that played anything like a good game. The Hawkeye leader was in every play and held the high scoring "Moon" Baker to no goals or no free throws. In addition to this feat, he found time to count two baskets and three free throws for high point honors of his team.

While Baker was held scoreless, Fisher, Purple center counted seven baskets and White, forward got three baskets and nine free throws.

A number of former Iowans were on hand to see the game and pulled for Hawkeyes from first to last.

Although it seemed as if referee Kearns was giving the Northwestern crew all the close decisions, the crowd booed him some during the game, only to give him a rousing cheer when it was all over.

American League Managers Added to Hall of Fame

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP) —The names of three American League baseball club managers have been added to the roll of honor of the most valuable players to their clubs tonight, according to President B. B. Johnson.

Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tygers, Tris Speaker, pilot of the Cleveland Indians, and Eddie Collins, leader of the Chicago White Sox, are the men who have been included in the league's permanent hall of fame.

The committee of baseball writers selected to make the annual award of the American League trophy has just action to place the league's official stamp of approval on these elected veterans as the "most valuable player" in 1911, 1912, and 1914, voted in those years by an unofficial jury of experts under practically the same rules that governed the most recent election to the league's Hall of Fame.

Suzanne Lenglen Expresses Desire to Battle Helen

Will Decide Where She Will Play in Singles

VANNES, France, Jan. 26 (AP)—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis champion, after winning two finals (doubles) in the Metropole tournament has authorized The Associated Press to make the following statement:

"I will decide on Jan. 30 in which tournament I will play the singles. I would like to play at Nice, but circumstances over which I have no control will prevent me. Please say that I will be delighted to meet Miss Wills, but cannot risk injuring my health, and if my physical condition does not warrant my playing in my dear home town of Nice on Feb. 1, then I must meet her in the Carleton Hotel tournament at Cannes Feb. 8."

Miss Wills, when informed of this merely said: "I am entered in both tournaments, singles."

Ames Loses Head Football Mentor

Sam Willaman to Assist Coach Wilce at Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 26 (AP)—Sam Willaman, head football coach at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa, will be general assistant to Dr. J. W. Wilce, head football coach at Ohio State and director of intramural athletics at Ohio State, it was announced today.

AMES, Jan. 26 (AP)—When told of the report from Columbus, Ohio, that Coach Sam Willaman, Ames football coach, was to become assistant football coach and intramural athletic director at Ohio university, T. N. Metcalf, athletic director at Iowa, State college said this afternoon that he knew Coach Willaman had been seriously considering the Ohio university offer since December but had not advised college authorities here of any decision.

St. Mary's Quintet to Meet Waterloo Five Next Monday

With a new confidence instilled into everybody concerned, as a result of the decisive, 25 to 17 defeat handed to the Immaculate Conception five of Cedar Rapids last Monday, the local St. Mary's team is starting in for a week of hard practice for the return game next afonday with St. Joseph academy of Waterloo here in the high school gym.

Father Wagner's men came through the hard game last Monday in fine shape with the possible exception of Bock, who is suffering slightly with a strained knee. The other men are in perfect condition and ready to tackle the next foe with more confidence than they have had all season.

The local Blue and White five defeated the Waterloo bunch earlier in the season, 16 to 10. Since then, Father Wagner has developed an entirely new offense and has changed the line-up of his team, and on the home floor, the "fighting Dutch" should experience no difficulty in handing the visitors another set back.

Iowa City Cagers to Battle Clinton Here in Next Game

The next game on the Iowa City high schedule is with Clinton in a return game here this Friday.

Clinton will come to Iowa City determined to duplicate the 24 to 18 defeat they handed the local boys a few weeks ago. They have a fast experienced bunch of players who have won most of their games this season.

Dissatisfied with the showing of his players in the last four games, Coach Souchek has been shifting his men in practice to find a combination that will break the losing streak of the locals.

Several men are being tried at new positions. Idema has been shifted from center to forward, where he has been working with Curry and Norris. McGuire has been taking Idema's place at center and is showing up well. Sheley has been moved from guard to forward, and Kettlesen has been shoved into Sheley's guard. These new combinations have been showing a little more pep than the regular five of a few weeks ago and it is possible that an entirely new line-up may start the game against Clinton.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 26 (AP) —Commutation of the death sentence of William Cavalier, 15, convicted of murdering his grandmother, was granted by the state board of pardons in a decision made today.

Dorsey Victor in Semifinal Match of Handball Tourney

One of the semi-final matches of the university handball tournament was played in the men's gym yesterday afternoon. Macy was eliminated from the competition by Dorsey. The other match is between Travis and Williams and will be played off some time before Saturday evening. Williams is doped to be the winner and to have the opportunity to exchange swats with Dorsey, who was the champion last year.

All the preliminary matches were decided on the basis of the best two out of three twenty-one point games. In the finals the winner must take three out of five contests.

Answers to Blind Iowan Want-Ads

Below is a printed list of blind Iowan want-ad replys which have not been called for. The figure to the left is the blind address and the one to the right the number of uncalled for replys:

C. O. 7211	10
Y 201	1
Y 204	1
Y 206	6
I 6	1
D 14	2
XYZ	8
X 23	4

The Daily Iowan Classified Advertising

FILL YOUR WANTS WITH AN IOWAN AD

RATES
One or two days.....10c per line
Three to five days..... 7c per line
Six days or longer..... 5c per line
Minimum charge.....20c
Count five words to the line. Each word in the advertisement must be counted.
Classified display.....50c per inch
One inch cards per month.....$5.00
Classified advertising in by 5 p. m. will be published the following morning.
How to Send Your Want Ad
Phone, mail, or bring your Want Ad to The Daily Iowan office. Want Ads phoned in are payable the first of the month following publication.
Orders must reach The Iowan office by noon to discontinue ads scheduled to appear the following morning.

FOR RENT ROOMS

MODERN FURNISHED ROOMS. Close in. Men preferred. Phone 1360-W. 222 East Davenport.

DOUBLE ROOM FOR BOYS FOR rent. Close in. 411 North Dubuque. Phone 2054.

LARGE DOUBLE ROOM FOR rent in a new house. 414 No. Van Buren. Red 1921.

DESIRABLE STUDY AND SLEEPing room for rent for 3 or 4 persons, also single room. Tel 1406-W.

FURNISHED ROOM FOR GIRLS. Close in 228 East Bloomington. Tel. 704-W.

FOR RENT—TWO ROOMS FOR girls. 115 North Clinton. Tel. 2095-W.

FRONT ROOM FOR BOYS FOR rent. Excellent location. Close in. Phone 471-J.

FOR RENT—DOUBLE OR SINGLE room for girls. Close in—119 E. Davenport. 1774-W.

FOR RENT—SINGLE OR DOUBLE room for girls. Phone 2281. 24 N. VanBuren.

ONE LARGE FRONT ROOM FOR rent. Single or double. 408 South Dubuque. Tel. 477.

DOUBLE ROOM FOR GIRLS FOR rent. 428 East Jefferson. Phone 282-W.

ROOM FOR STUDENT BOYS FOR rent. 324 So. Dubuque. Tel. 3056-J.

ROOMS FOR RENT—TWO BLOCKS from Campus. 215-W.

ONE NICE SINGLE ROOM. CLOSE in. Tel. 1177. 432 South Dubuque.

ROOM FOR MEN, 3 BLOCKS FROM Campus. Tel. 431.

SINGLE SOUTH ROOM FOR RENT. 22 East Court.

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE ROOM, double or single. 315 So. Johnson.

FOR RENT—MODERN ROOM FOR men at 20 E. Market.

MODERN ROOMS, LARGE STUDY room, dressing and sleeping room with single bed. Room with sleeping porch. Four blocks from Campus. 109 E. Prentiss. Phone 1370-J.

FOR RENT—ROOM FOR MEN. Graduate students or upper classmen. Call 1544-W. 6 Bloom Terrace.

FOR RENT—TWO SINGLE ROOMS for men. Phone 1425-W. Well furnished, good bed, soft water for bath.

FOR RENT—ROOM IN MODERN home. Price reasonable. 513 N. Linn. Phone 1145.

DOUBLE ROOM FOR MEN FOR rent. Two blocks from Campus. Tel. 495-J.

ONE LARGE, LIGHT, DOUBLE room. $22. Close in. Call 984-J or at 405 N. Linn.

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE ROOM three blocks from Campus. Call 2873-J.

NICE SINGLE ROOM. CLOSE IN, 419 Iowa Avenue. Phone 2155-W.

FOR RENT: MODERN ROOM. Close in. 2434 J.

FOR RENT: SINGLE OR DOUBLE room. Phone 2994W.

DOUBLE ROOM FOR GIRLS; southfront. Call 1866-J.

FOR RENT: ROOM FOR BUSINESS woman or student. Phone 2484.

ONE ROOM, SINGLE OR DOUBLE, for men. 213 E. Market. 2650-J.

FOR RENT—NICE, WARM ROOM for men. Call. 731-W.

ROOMS—219 EAST CHURCH. TEL. 3165-J.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—WELL IMPROVED 5 acre home. West Benton Street. Phone 34F110.

FOR RENT--APARTMENTS

TWO ROOM APARTMENT. GAS, electricity, hot water heat, laundry privileges furnished. Bath in connection. Phone 1785-J.

LOVELY FIRST FLOOR SOUTH apartment furnished with roll-away bed, stove and ice box or complete. Desirable for faculty couple. Consideration given a year's lease. Call evenings. 2090-W.

FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR rent. Private bath, hot water heat, electric lights, gas for cooking. 328 Brown street.

THREE ROOM MODERN APARTment, private bath, unfurnished. Phone 906-W.

MODERN FURNISHED APARTment for rent. 604 So. Clinton.

WANTED ROOMMATE

SOPHOMORE STUDENT WANTS roommate, in very desirable room. Tel. 391.

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS

LARGE MODERN STEAM HEATED light housekeeping room for rent also sleeping room and garage. Phone 287-W.

TWO UNFURNISHED LIGHT housekeeping rooms. 20.00. Phone 973-J.

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS for rent two blocks from campus. Phone 215-J.

ONE LARGE ROOM FOR LIGHT housekeeping. Tel. 293-W. 520 So. Clinton.

LOST AND FOUND

$5.00 REWARD TO FINDER OF black and tan beagle hound. J. R. Wilkinson, plumber.

LOST — AMETHYST BROOCH SET with pearls. A keep-sake. Reward. Call 1267-J.

FOUND—A SMALL SUM OF MONey in a church. Phone 233-J.

LOST — WHITE GOLD WRIST watch. Reward. Call 3052.

WANTED

WANTED STUDENT HELP TO work two hours a day. Write X-23 c.o. The Daily Iowan.

STUDENT DESIRES PART TIME work. Please write Y-2X c.o. Daily Iowan.

WANTED TWO GIRLS TO WORK for board. Mrs. Parks. Tel. 2095-W.

WANTED LAUNDRY

WANTED—WASHING AND IRONing. 1982-LW.

HOME LAUNDRY. CALL FOR AND deliver. Tel. 1983.

WANTED — WASHING AND IRONing. 3104 L. J.

EDUCATIONAL

SHORTHAND AND TYPING. EVENing classes Monday and Thursday evenings.
The Business Institute
Room 21, Schneider Building.

MISCELLANEOUS

RENT-A-FORD—NEW COUPE AND two sedans. Fleig & Fitch. Phone 2007. $3.00 per night.

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING Phone 764. A. W. Walter.

CARPENTER WORK
of all kinds
Prompt Service
Metal Weather Stripping a specialty. Makes old sticky doors and windows work like new.
Call Black 1928
J. P. JENKS

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

BEAUTY SHOPS

MARCEL 75c
BLACK STONE BEAUTY SHOP
Open Thurs. and Sat. Nights
PHONE 1299-J
FOR VAN NEST
Ladies and Children's Specialist

MARCEL 75c
WINTER'S Beauty Parlor
All Kinds of Beauty Work
By Expert Operator
PHONE 1491-W
"We Use Soft Water"

PHYSICIANS

ZELLA STEWART, M. D.
Physician
First National Bank Bldg.
Office hours 9 to 12; 1:30 to 5 p. m.

LOLA CLARK MIGHELL, M.D.
Diseases of Women
Over Slavata's Store
Clinton Street
Hours 2 to 6 P. M.

Use the Daily Iowan's Want Ad Columns

TAILORS

Alterations Dry Cleaning
Emil Rongner
Ladies and Gent
Tailor
— Why —
Buy ready made clothes
— When —
You can have tailor-made clothes for the same money?
Repairing Pressing

CARS FOR RENT

BRAN – DEES
RENT-A-FORD
All New Cars
FOR PARTIES, PICNICS, DANCES OR PLEASURE
Low Day Rates
$3 per Night
Mileage basis—No hour charge
Phone 171

INFIRMARY COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY
open for clinical service, beginning Sept. 21, 1925. Hours 10-12 a. m., 1-5 p. m.

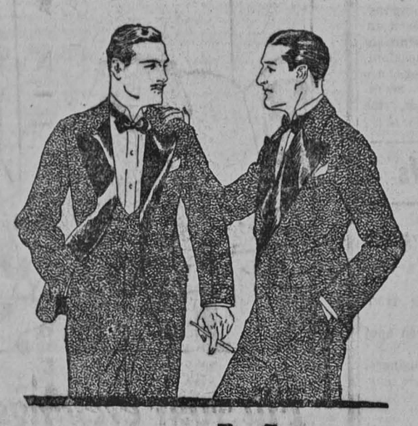
MISCELLANEOUS

First Class
SHOE REPAIRING
We Also Buy Second-Hand Shoes and Clothing.
MORRIS KIMMEL
24 East College Phone 1793

RESTAURANTS

SPECIAL NOON LUNCHEON OR EVENING DINNER 30c
Our crispy electric baked waffles are served at all hours.
SODA GRILL SANDWICH SHOPPE
114 South Dubuque
We sell meal tickets $5.50 for $4.50 on Sundays

CLINTON CAFE
212 SOUTH CLINTON
PROP. T. V. BROWN
Special
LUNCHEONS AND DINNERS
30c
MENU CHANGED DAILY



Princeton Men wear this Tuxedo

University men everywhere demand these—the two authentic styles for formal wear—at Armstrong's at $30 $40 $60

And our Special Silk Lined Tux at $25

These two Tuxedo models, one single-breasted, the other double-breasted, are now being worn by the best-dressed young men everywhere. You'll get the newest styles, and save money at Armstrong's.

Tux or Full Dress Suit from our Rent Section $2.50

Armstrong's

Iowa's Greatest Store for Men---Cedar Rapids

It Pays To Look Well.

Layrite
HAIR DRESSING
A highly perfumed dressing for beautifying and training the hair.
Try it, then you will know why well groomed men prefer it.
Sold by the application and in 75 cent bottles at all
BARBER SHOPS
Rose's Laboratories
Waterloo Iowa

SANFORD'S
The Original
FOUNDATION PEN
INK

ALWAYS GOOD
ALWAYS THE SAME
You can find
Sanford Ink
— at —
Williams'
Iowa Supply

Official Student Newspaper
University of Iowa
Telephones {Business 290, 291
Editorial 2829

The Daily Iowan

CITY Iowa City, Iowa, Wednesday, January 27, 1926

Published Every Morning, Except Monday, by Student Publications Incorporated

Air Mail Sends Sims, Bannister to Capitol City

Promotions Made by Headquarters at Omaha

Two mechanics at the local air mail field who have been transferred to the Des Moines station left here yesterday to take up their new duties.

Sims will be the manager and head mechanic at the Des Moines field and Bannister will serve as a mechanic. The changes were made by the general superintendent of the U. S. air mail service at Omaha. Iowa City is included in the central division of the U. S. air mail service and fifteen men are employed here to take care of Uncle Sam's ships and mail.

With a record of four years in the air mail service Mr. Sims has had all the experience necessary for his new position and is well qualified. He was stationed at Omaha for eighteen months at one time and seerved at Iowa City for only a short while as a mechanic.

131 Register Cars Yesterday; Raise Fee $1 on Monday

One hundred and thirty-one pairs of automobile license plates were issued to late applicants yesterday from the office of County Treasurer Charles Berry. Each paid his $1 late registration fee.

Of this number, there were seventy-one Fords, seven Dodges, five Essexes, eleven Chevrolets, five Studebakers, one Nash, two Velies, two Overlands, one Willys-Knight, one S. Booth, one Monroe, four Hudsons, two Chandlers, five Buicks four Maxwells, one Dort, one Shaw, one Stephens, two Stars, one Moon, one Oldsmobile, one Oakland, and one rebuilt.

Beginning next Monday, there will be a $2 fee extra for late registration.

Ira Cook Breaks Both Bones of Wrist in Fall on Icy Street

Ira C. Cook, 409 Clark street, who slipped on the icy pavement Monday and broke both bones in his arm, is resting as easily as can be expected, reports last night show. The break was just above the wrist.

Mr. Clark was crossing the street near Iowa Avenue and Johnson street, when he fell and landed with all his weight on his left wrist.

It will be several weeks before the arm can be taken from the cast.

Instructors Ill

Two members of the faculty of the Iowa City high school are unable to perform their duties as instructors this week because of illness. Miss Lucille Sawyers, zoology instructor, will enter the hospital for a cynus operation, and Miss Freda Dickson, English instructor, has undergone an operation for tonsilitis

211 S. State St
Chicago, Ill.
Get Your Spaulding Outfits at Williams' Iowa Supply

Dutcher, I. Fuiks Speak at Kiwanis Meeting Yesterday

Hon. Charles M. Dutcher addressed the Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon at Youde's inn yesterday noon. Mr. Dutcher spoke on the Johnson county road building plan and its advantages to the county. He also read a letter from the state highway commission, which indorsed the plan of road building proposed by this county over the gravel program being promoted by many other Iowa counties.

An other part of the luncheon program was a "clock talk" by Isaac Fuiks, in which was outlined the whole proceedure of watch development. Mr. Fuiks presented a display of watches, of which some were more than 170 years old.

Guests of the Kiwanis club yesterday were, Charles M. Dutcher, state representative, M. E. Baker, editor of the Oxford Leader, and Bert Clark, of Des Moines.

Hotel Arrivals

R. M. M. Knight, Holland, Mich.
Stanley Civic, Chicago, Ill.
T. W. Frederick, Muscatine.
V. H. Deering, Des Moines,
Edward Walther, Davenport.
R. R. Stoltz, Ottumwa,
D. T. Baker, New York, N. Y.
Emmett Rice, Estherville,
G. K. Burfield, Minneapolis, Minn.
J. E. Wolfe, Chicago, Ill.
W. W. Duncan, St. Louis, Mo.
J. B. Holmes, Chicago, Ill.
W. Karthaus, Waterloo,
E. V. Stanley, Chicago, Ill.
A. E. Ford, Waterloo,
Mrs. Arthur P. Miller, Oelwein,
Miss Claribel Miller, Oelwein,
Mrs. Chester Thompson, West Branch.
R. G. Runyan, Sioux City
L. E. Bunk, Iowa City
M. V. Follin, Grand Rapids
Carl F. Rehn, Des Moines,
Max H. Starr, St. Louis Mo.
G. E. Schneider, Chicago, Ill.
A. R. Wilson, St. Joseph, Mo.
Miss Helena Schenkel, Muscatine
Miss Grace Clark, Ottumwa.
J. L. Hayes, Manly,
H. W. Scott, Chicago,
L. T. Shiek, Muscatine,
E. A. Olin, Nichols,
Mrs. P. L. Pettit, West Liberty,
L. P. Wilt, Lenox,
R. C. Dapp, Davenport,
Lee Plummer, Nebraska City, Nebr.
O. C. Olin, Des Moines,
J. L. Hage, Davenport,
William Cannon, Bernard
D. O .Cannon, Bernard
D. P. Tice, Chicago
L. Wright, Des Moines
T. Henderson, Des Moines
H. T. Quinn, Parnell
H. E. Moloy, Dubuque
Fred Teague, Iowa City
Chas. Ingley, West Liberty
J. T. Durfenbaugh, Mount Ayr
Ive Hartnell, Rubio
Miss Susan Douglass, Dubuque
Ray McDowell, Pershing
L. C. Omvig, Story City
W. T. Fleckroth, Dysart
Dillon Templeton, Maquoketa
Darrel Johnson, Council Bluffs
H. J. Brewer, Webster City
Mrs. Harry Walters, Ute
R. T. Wilbur, West Union
E. G. Curry, Cedar Rapids
Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Sheffield, Fort Dodge.

Seibold, Amana Woodcutter, Recovering From Amputation

Richard Seibold, 65 year-old woodcutter of the Amana colony, who suffered a badly shattered right leg in an accidental shooting at the colony Sunday afternoon, continues to improve at university hospital where the injured member was amputated late the same day.

Seibold continues to keep silent and will not divulge any of the circumstances of the shooting, which took place in the woodcutter's shack. Three other men were with him at the time the shot gun was fired.

County in Mud If Road Program Fails, Says Carson

Outlines Advantages at North Liberty Meeting

"If the hard roads proposition that the people of Johnson county will vote upon Tuesday, Feb. 9, fails, Johnson county will be marooned in the mud for the next ten years. "This is the statement made by Frank C. Carson of Iowa City in a talk made at North Liberty at a meeting of voters last night. He outlined the advantages that would accrue to the people of Johnson county and the approximate cost to each if the hard surface roads proposition is adopted.

Outlines Advantages

If Johnson county's mud roads are hard surfaced it will benefit residents of this county in six ways asserted Mr. Carson. It will provide better facilities for the farmers to send their children to school, making it possible to send them the year round with safety and satisfaction. It will result in the farmer's being able to market their products, including live stock, at any time when the market has reached its peak.

Hard roads will enable persons in rural communities to secure medical aid in emergencies with much more ease and certainty than is possible at present. They will serve to unite those residing in rural districts reducing the cost and upkeep of automobiles and farm machinery and saving the cost of gasoline which alone would pay for the project. The urban people would benefit from roads that could be used the year round increasing their general prosperity, and they would create an incentive for young people to remain on the farm and offer an inducement for people now residing in cities to go back to the farm.

Act as Unit

In discussing the project, Mr. Carson stated that the people of Johnson county should act as a unit in this project disregarding boundary lines between towns and rural districts in this commonwealth. "There should be a friendliness and interest involved in developing and insuring this new era of prosperity. A unit, as the state, organized under the interests of its peoples welfare and future."

Mr. Carson stated that if the proposition falls when voted upon Feb. 9, the road organization and program proposed by Gov. Hammill would probably be adopted by the legislature and the program would be carried out by the state irrespective of the wishes or needs of the people of Johnson county. If Governor Hammill's plan goes into effect. Mr. Carson stated that mud roads would prevail for the next ten years in this county.

Other speakers from Iowa City at the meeting of more than fifty voters at North Liberty last night were Mr. Nagel, Mr. Henry G. Walker, and County Engineer Griffith.

Callahan Fined $1, Costs on Assault, Larceny Charges

Charged with stealing a stick of wood and assault and battery, Joseph Callahan was found guilty by Justice B. F. Carter yesterday and fined $1 and costs on the assault and battery charge, but the fine on the larceny charge was remitted.

Herbert Clifford, who brought the charge, claimed that Callahan stole the block of wood that was part of a tree cut down on his premises, and that he assaulted Clifford's son, Walter.

May Operate Bus Line

DES MOINES, Jan. 26 (AP)—J. M. Oleson, of Manly, has been granted permission by the board of railroad commissioners, to operate a bus line between Manly and Mason City.

First Southern Man Named Realty Head

Central Press Photo

Robert Jemison, jr., of Birmingham, Alabama, is the first southern man to become president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. He was elected at the midwinter convention of that organization in New Orleans, to succeed Charles G. Edwards of New York.

6 Boy Scouts Do Daily Good Turn

Find Rooming House for Confused Stranger

Six boy scouts of troop 5, of the Congregational church, demonstrated their alertness and mental fitness Tuesday evening when they discovered an aged gentleman wandering the streets of the city The lads discovered that the unfortunate newcomer had arrived on an evening train and had taken a taxicab to a rooming-house, where he left his baggage.

He then went to the university hospital to visit his brother, a patient there. Upon leaving the hospital, the stranger became confused in his orientation and wandered through the dark streets, attempting vainly to locate the rooming-house which he had left a short time previously.

It was at this point that Allen Fleming, Edward Kyvig, Norman Romes, John Knott, Edwin Ford, and Harold Horack discovered him. They escorted him to a local hotel while they made a search for the taxi cab which had borne the stranger to the rooming house earlier in the evening. Failing in this, they went to their troop headquarters at the Congregational church and appealed to their Scoutmaster, Rev. Ira J. Houston.

With his assistance they at length located the taxicab driver, who took them to the rooming house. The elderly stranger was overjoyed upon his return to his temporary home and expressed his thanks to the boys who had befriended him. True to their Boy Scout training, they insisted that it was merely their daily good turn, and left for their belated troop meeting.

Conduct Service for Mrs. Love at St. Mary's Today

Niece Finds Her Dead in Room; Apoplexy Given as Cause

Funeral service will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's church for Mrs. Julia A. Love, 80 years old. She was found dead in her room at 316 S. Linn street Monday afternoon by her niece, Mrs. John R. Hayes, who had called to visit her.

A doctor was summoned and said that death was due to apoplexy. Coroner J. H. Donohue was called also and he decided that no investigation was necessary.

Born in Utica county, New York, Mrs. Love came to Iowa City when she was a young girl. She married Robert F. Love, a Civil war veteran and at one time a member of the Iowa City fire department. He preceded her in death more than forty years ago. After her husband's death she moved to Denver, Colo., and came back to Iowa City again ten years ago.

Surviving are a brother, Michael Murphy, of West Branch, and a sister, Miss Anna Murphy, of Denver, Colo., and a nephew, John R. Hayes, of Iowa City, an official of the Rock Island railroad lines.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

City High to Present Two Plays Tonight

Iowa City high school dramatic students will entertain the patrons and students of the school with two one-act plays tonight at 7:30 o'clock. "Saved," a drama portraying New England life, is the first play to be shown. It is the story of a New England girl, living with her two old aunts. Sue, is deeply in love with a boy, whom her one aunt does not approve of, with whom she elopes.

The other play, a comedy entitled "The Robbery" is a comedy. Some older people go to a wedding, and forget the silverware. The butler, very serviceable, picks up the silverware, and takes it to the station. The young girl seeing that the silverware is missing calls for help, and is assisted by a young man. This episode leads to the forming of a close friendship between the two represented families.

Eleven people will take part in the play. The roles they will take and their names are as follows:

"Saved"

Aunt Minnie .....Gertrude Stoner
Aunt Emiline .....Irene Getnan
Mrs. Saunders .....Betty Meyers
Sue .....Erma Scarborough
Mrs. Zilla .....Florence Day
Mrs. Boswick .....Tolena Olson

"The Robbery"

Eddie Upton ....Kathryn Switzer
Mrs. Upton .....Gertrude Walker
Mr. Upton .....Franklin Owen
Robert Hamilton .....Don Howell
Butler .....Walter Schump

This is the third series of one-act plays to be given by the dramatic students of the high school.

Iowa City Plans for Navigation Boom as "Ripple" Puts Into Port

"The Steamboat Ripple came dashing up the Iowa and landed at the ferry, which henceforth is only to be known by the more appropriate name of the Steam Boat Landing." Thus the "Iowa City Standard" tells of the landing of the first steamboat in Iowa City at the ferry where travelers of the old military road were transferred across the river. The boat came unheralded one Sunday afternoon in June, 1841, before a sounding of the river was made, when Old Capitol was only four roofless stone walls.

Captain Wined and Dined

There was great excitement in town and Monday morning at a mass meeting the citizens made plans for a public dinner to be given to the captain and his crew. That afternoon at two o'clock seventy-five men dined together at the National Hotel. The after-dinner speeches expressed in the glowing phrases of that time the high hopes of the citizens that Iowa City would continue to be the farthest inland town directly connected with the Mississippi and the Gulf.

Captain D. Jones of the "Ripple" told extravagant tales of his many adventures at sea—probably most of them were "yarns." He was a Mormon, a resident of Nauvoo, and later went to Utah where he died.

"Ripple" Fails to Return

The "Ripple" moored at the ferry until the middle of the week when she left with promises to return. Captain Frederick M. Irish, who had been at sea, went down river with the boat to ascertain what obstructions would need to be removed and what the cost would be. Iowa City citizens planned to clear the river for navigation. However, the "Ripple" never returned and navigation of the Iowa River hung fire out for a year.

In April, 1842, the "Rock River" was hailed by the workmen on Old Capitol. She "moved up in a majestic manner" and moored at the ferry. In the afternoon more than one hundred people climbed aboard, went up river twelve or fifteen miles, and returned at dusk. In due time this boat left with a small cargo.

Fate of the "Iowa"

Two years later "Agatha" brought some freight from the south and took away some freight and passengers bound for St. Louis. The "Maid of Iowa" came in the same year. The "Iowa" boat carried a large cargo of corn away on a keel boat. This boat broke while on the journey and 1,000 bushels of corn was dumped in the river.

Within a few years all hopes of making Iowa River navigable were given up. The railroads came and made waterways impractical for transportation services.

Mrs. Roup Dies After Long Illness

Funeral Today at Her Home in North Liberty

Mrs. A. J. Roup, 51 years old, died at her home at North Liberty Monday afternoon after an illness of four weeks.

She spent all her life in Penn and Madison townships and was well known in this community.

Surviving are her husband, a son, Carl, and her mother, Mrs. Thomas Crozier, of North Liberty. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. S. A. Green, Mrs. Ray Lininger, of North Liberty, Mrs. P. E. Ritz, of Waterloo, and a brother, Charles Crozier, of Grandon, Mo.

Funeral service will be held at 2 o'clock today at her home in North Liberty with the Rev. C. R. Scherck officiating.

Burial will be in the North Liberty cemetery.

Troop 7 Plans Trip

Saturday, Jan. 30, troop 7 of the boy scouts under H. A. Kyvig, will hike to North Liberty to the state stone quarries there.

To facilitate the transportation of equipment, Mr. Kyvig is now making a truck cart from two old wheels which Scout Executive Stowell had stored at scout headquarters, and a large wooden box.

Women Star in Business

DES MOINES, Jan. 26 (AP)—Woman's place in the business world is further emphasized by the announcement of the secretary of state that the Peer Oil company, capitalized at $100,000 has been incorporated with Frances Quinn, of Traer, Tama county, as president, and treasurer. Other officers are Emmett Street, Gladbrook, secretary, and C. A. Sanborn, Traer, vice president.

Pioneer of City Dies Yesterday

Odd Fellows in Charge of Funeral of Anton Rabas

Anton J. Rabas, 56 years old, died yesterday morning at his home at 1051 E. Burlington street.

Born in Bohemia, May 30, 1869, Mr. Rabas came to Johnson county with his parents when he was three years old and spent the rest of his life here. He was employed as a motorman on the local street car lines for eleven years.

He was affiliated with the Woodman lodge and the Eureka lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F. here.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Mabel, and a son, George, both at home. He also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rabas, of Iowa City, three brothers, Joseph Jr., William, both of Iowa City, and A. E., of Lone Tree, and a sister, Mrs. P. E. Potter, of Iowa City.

The funeral service will be conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge and will be held at the Beckman funeral home at 10 o'clock this morning. Interment will be at Riverside.

Women Sponsor Table Conference at C. of C. Rooms

A round table conference on the Johnson County good roads program will be held tonight at the Chamber of Commerce club rooms at 7:30 o'clock. It is sponsored by the following women's organizations; League of Women voters, Iowa City Womens club, King's Daughters, W. C. T. U., the University club, and the Extension Division of Iowa.

The purpose of the meeting is for the discussion of the hard road program for improving Johnson county highways and questions will be freely asked and answered. County Engineer G. M. Griffith, Attorney Henry G. Walker, and others will present the proposed program, discussing it in full.

Both men and women are urged to attend as the program comes before the voters of this community Feb. 9 at a special election.

At the Hospitals

Lucile Armstrong, 229 South Linn street, is a patient at university hospital where she is recovering from an operation performed Monday evening.

Robert Johnston, 10 year-old son of Mrs Gail Hughes Johnston, 302 S. Linn street, was admitted to children's hospital yesterday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helm, a son, Monday, January 25.

SPECIAL
WEDNESDAY NOON

Short Ribs Beef, Browned Potatoes
15c

Bacon and Eggs, Country Style
25c

HOLMAN'S CAFETERIA

IOWA CITY SOCIETY

The Iowa City high school is planning a mixer to be given in the gym Saturday night to celebrate the end of the first semester. The alumni of the school are cordially invited.

Circle 4 Dancing Party

A dancing party, sponsored by Circle 4 of St. Patrick's church, will take place in the school gymnasium Friday evening, Jan. 29.

Visit in South

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Cox of this city will leave Laurel, Mississippi, about Feb. 1, to visit in Los Angeles for two weeks with Mrs. S. W. Gardiner, of Clinton, who is spending the winter there.

Seventeen Cent Stamp

The seventeen cent postage stamp bearing the portrait of Former President Wilson are now on sale at the post office. Stamps of this denomination have long been in demand on parcel post packages.

Iowa City Woman's Club

The Iowa Woman's cub will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. O. Ranson, 723 E. Washington street, Thursday, Jan. 26, at 2:30 p. m. The assistant hostesses are Mrs. Florence Barker and Mrs. Stella Bryson. Roll call will be answered with current events. Club guest day has been postponed until Feb. 11.

River Products Elects

The River Products company at a meeting Monday night elected the following officers:

James L. Records, president; Ralph H. White, vice-president; L. C. W. Clearman, secretary; W. F. McRoberts, treasurer; and William Griffin, Stanley Hands, James L. Records, Ralph H. White, L. C. W. Clearman, W. F. McRoberts and Harold Hands, directors.

Gyro Club Meets

Members of the Gyro club held their regular weekly luncheon at the Red Ball inn yesterday noon. An informal discussion of the Johnson county road building plan was had.

Next Tuesday the Club will hold a dinner and meeting in the evening.

Observe Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harmon entertained a group of their friends at their home Monday evening in celebration of their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary. There were eight tables of bridge. Mrs. Harmon's sister, Mrs. William Blakely, of Colfax, was an out-of-town guest.

County Clerk Charles F. Benda issued marriage licenses yesterday to Edward Lovetinsky, 28, of Iowa City, and Miss Cora M. Prizler, 23, of Solon; and James J. Lacina, Jr., 26, of Iowa City, and Miss Frieda Mathilde Hopp, 21, of West Branch.

Market Briefs

New York:
Stocks irregular; sporadic rally in motor shares.
Bonds firm; new issues heavily oversubscribed.
Foreign exchanges steady; trading quiet.
Cotton lower; easier southern spot markets.
Sugar steady; good spot business.
Coffee lower; easier Brazilian markets.
Chicago:
Wheat firm; bullish Liverpool cables.
Corn higher; sympathy with wheat.
Cattle steady; demand small.

DROP around this way today and take a peek at this great assortment of Spring Suits just placed on our racks. They are great.

New Hats, Too.

COASTS'

For Good Coal—Phone 2

To our Friends and Patrons—

We have a full line of different sizes POCAHONTAS, HARRISBURG, EASTERN KENTUCKY, BLUE BANNER, LA SALLE, etc., which we sell at live and let live prices. We fork all our coal. A square deal to all.

ROSE COAL CO.
CALL 2
Successors to Bradley Coal Co.

NEW HANDY PACK
Fits hand ~ pocket and purse
More for your money and the best Peppermint Chewing Sweet for any money
Look for Wrigley's P. K. Handy Pack on your Dealer's Counter G7

Introductory Offer

Fill your evenings with sunshine

The wonderful new Duplex-a-lite Lamp is the greatest lamp value ever offered.

It is an entirely new principle in table lamp construction. It is so remarkable and so different that you cannot possibly know what it is like until you have tried it. Therefore we are making an extraordinary free trial offer without the slightest obligation on your part.

The price for the complete lamp is ridiculously low. In fact, if you were to purchase the Cheney's silk shade alone, it would cost as much as the whole lamp under this remarkable offer.

Phone NOW for a free trial in your home.

IOWA CITY LIGHT & POWER CO.
A Subsidiary of United Light & Power Co.

Twenty-fifth Year 6 PAGES

SENA

First Re Marche

Saturday Marks Last Day of Rush

Few Changes in Plan of Second Semester Procedure

The mill of registrants begins its grind today and will cease operations on Monday night. Late registration fees are two dollars for the first day and one dollar for every day thereafter.

All freshmen and sophomores as well as juniors and seniors who are taking inseparable year courses are required to continue in the course and in the same section unless a change is unavoidable and authorized by the registrar.

Must Pay Fees Now

All students desiring to register for courses in music should first obtain a special music permit card and present it to the fee assessor. Anyone registering in the department of education must first get the valid basis for the waiving or registration of the dean of the college of education on card 5. Juniors and seniors in the college of commerce should obtain the signature of the dean of the college of commerce on the same card.

Every student expecting to register for the second semester should be prepared to pay all fees at the time of registration. Failure to be prepared cannot be accepted as a funding of the late registration fees. The merits for refunding late registration fees will be determined after registration is concluded wholly without prejudice arising from advices or promises given prior to such determination.

Personal "Memo" System

If authorized changes are made in certain courses or sections, but not in others, the person registering should write his own initials in the right column under the caption "memo" on coupon two and opposite each course in which there is no change; and obtain his advisor's signature on coupon two. Initials thus placed indicate the continuance with the work of the second semester in the course and the section of the first semester. If initials thus placed do not exactly represent this the change fee will have to be paid and the regitsration will be corrected as far as possible.

If no change is made, either in course or section, coupons one to five inclusive should be correctly filled out and checked with the schedule of courses and "no change" should be written on coupon two under the head of "memo". All blanks should then be correctly filled on both sides and also the necessary number of class cards to correspond exactly with the course and section entries on the coupons.

New Students' Route

Students who were not in school the first semester should fill out coupon one in pencil and obtain the advisor's signature on coupon two and on the same coupon the signature of the head of the department opposite each course and each division thereof under "memo" and proceed as a first-semester student.

Then go to the southeast entrance of University hall and have fees assessed. The student should then proceed to the secretary's office and pay the fees specified. New students should carefully read and fill out the declaration of residence sheet and pay according fees. If the non-resident fee is paid, though the student feels that he should be registered as a resident, a petition may be filed for a review of the case.

The "registree" should then proceed to the checkers in room seven University hall with his completely filled and properly signed coupons and await the return of coupon one. Exit should be made through the southeast doors.

Queal Confesses Robbing Omahans; Hard Luck Story

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 27 (AP)—William E. Queal, Jr., 25, former Ames motion picture machine operator confessed today that he is the bandit who has been robbing Omahans for almost a month, giving each victim "a hard luck story" about a hungry wife and family at home. Queal declared that he needed $100 to join the local movie operators union and had no other means of getting it.

His arrest came when a girl roomer at the place where he lived attempted to cash a forged check which she said Queal had given her. He was using the name "Everett Herman." Queal said his robberies had netted him but $150.

Queal said he had left his wife and ten months old daughter with his parents at Ames. He said his father is William E. Queal, Sr.