Name Yenter State Insurance Executive

Nominee to Continue Iowa City Law Practice

Hon. Ray Yenter, local attorney, has been appointed to fill the position of state insurance inspector made vacant by the resignation of W. R. C. Kendrick, according to news received yesterday. Mr. Yenter will assume his duties March 1. He has been serving as chairman of the house insurance committee, from which he resigned upon receiving word of his appointment. As state commissioner of insurance, Mr. Yenter will be the executive head of the insurance department and will be in direct control of all insurance business in the state controlling the examinations of underwriting concerns, approving the organization of new firms, and the like. The office is a full time position and carries a salary of $4,000 a year.

Will Remain Here

Mr. Yenter plans to keep his home here in Iowa City and to continue his law practice in this city. He has served during the last four terms of the state legislature and has been prominent in local politics for a good many years, being the representative of Johnson county at Des Moines.

Born near Oxford in 1887, Mr. Yenter was educated in county schools and took his law degree at Valparaiso university along with a year of graduate study at the University of Michigan. He is a world war veteran and is at present major in the Iowa National Guard.

Kendrick Resigns

DES MOINES, Feb. 25 (AP)—W. R. C. Kendrick, who resigned today as state insurance commissioner, will go to New York March 1, to confer with officials of a large nationally known insurance company in connection with a lucrative position which has been offered him. He would not announce the name of the company at this time.

For several months Mr. Kendrick has been considering a number of offers for positions made to him. Mr. Kendrick's resignation is effective March 1 and has been accepted by Governor Hammill, who announced the appointment of Ray A. Yenter of Iowa City to the place vacated by Mr. Kendrick.

Hammill Lauds Kendrick

"I have reluctantly accepted the resignation, and Ray A. Yenter of Iowa City has been appointed successor to Mr. Kendrick. I sincerely regret that Mr. Kendrick is leaving the insurance department, as he has made a wonderful record. He has placed the Iowa department among the foremost insurance departments of the country and is generally recognized as one of the most efficient insurance commissioners in the United States, as experienced by his recent elevation to the highest office within the gift of the national convention of insurance commissioners.

Mr. Kendrick has received several attractive offers from insurance companies, inside and outside of Iowa. He is leaving immediately for New York to confer with eastern insurance interests.

Glad to Obtain Yenter

"I am glad, however, to obtain the services of Mr. Yenter as Mr. Kendrick's successor. Mr. Yenter is a man of splendid ability, fair minded and honest, and has made an extensive study of the insurance business. He served as chairman of the insurance committee in the house during the last session of the legislature."

Mr. Kendrick was appointed insurance commissioner by former Governor N. E. Kendall, Feb. 1, 1923. Prior to that he was assistant attorney general of Iowa for six years.

Christmas Near; Grandmother Held Up Slaying Plans

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Eliza Nusbbaum, elderly grandmother charged with plotting to kill her invalid husband, Albert, so she might marry John Winn, ex-convict, knew of all the preparations for Nusbbaum's slaying, a witness today told the jury hearing evidence against Mrs. Nusbbaum and Winn, charged with murder.

The witness was Mrs. Dillah Martin, in whose home Nusbbaum was slain. Letters exchanged between Winn and Mrs. Nusbbaum were introduced in evidence. Those of Winn told of progress of plans to slay Nusbbaum.

It was also revealed that Mrs. Nusbbaum delayed the slaying from a date before Christmas until December 23 because she did not want her Christmas plans upset.

Grease Skids for Trial of Omaha's 'Phantom Sniper'

Clark Denies Insanity; Declares He Will Plead Guilty

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 25—Speedy justice is planned for Omaha's sniper bandit.

Louis Clark, confessed slayer of two men here and suspected of killing two men in Sioux City and possibly another at Onawa, Iowa, with the .22 calibre weapon which held Omaha fear-bound for a week will go on trial in district court next Monday on a murder charge.

Placed Not Guilty

Clark today was bound over to district court without bond after pleading not guilty before a police judge to charges of murder, and murder while attempting to rob Dr. A. D. Searles and William McDevitt.

An insanity defense is expected to be Clark's first court move if John N. Baldwin, public defender, is named to represent him. District Judge Goss has indicated he will appoint Baldwin. Judge Goss set Monday for Clark's trial, although Baldwin said more time was needed to prepare the case.

Clark asserted in his county jail cell that he pleaded not guilty because "a lawyer I never saw before told me to." He did not share Baldwin's defense ideas, however.

Will Plead Guilty

"It seemed useless to me," Clark said. "I already have confessed my guilt. Right now I think I will plead guilty when the trial is called. I am not insane and never will be." [TURN TO PAGE 4]

Stamp Terseness Upon Program of Language Parley

Moliere Play Tonight Will End Events of First Day

Geologist Pictures Iowa Development

Thomas, Speaker for Founder's Day, Tells of Our Birthright

Presenting a panorama of Iowa from the time it was only an inland sea to its present condition of manifold plant and animal life, Prof. Abram O. Thomas in his foundation day address yesterday impressed his audience with his vivid picturizations.

Foreign Inheritance

The geological pictures of first a low shallow sea, into which flowed great rivers, the withdrawing of these waters with the accompanying life taking their places, the gathering of the ice fields in the north and their steady advance to the south, driving mammals before them; all of these Professor Thomas presented as only years spent in the study of this subject would allow him to do.

Then came man, first the Indian, and centuries after, the French, then English, Irish, Scotch, Welsh, Spanish, Slav, and Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile, and many others, from lands "where the birthright was too often a birth mark" came to inhabit the state.

Our Birthright

Professor Thomas closed with an appeal to all to take pride in such a birthright, now ours to preserve. The women's glee club, under the direction of Prof. Walter Leon, sang the Bohemian folk song very effectively, and the university's seventh birthday was symbolized by the arc of yellow candles outlining the platform.

Jury Gives Vinci 26 Years; Offers Plea of Insanity

CHICAGO, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sam Vinci, slayer at a corner's inquest of a man he believed had knowledge of the killing of his brother, was found guilty today and sentenced to twenty-six years imprisonment. A defense of insanity was offered.

"Thank you, gentlemen," exclaimed Vinci as he arose to his feet upon the reading of the verdict.

More than once during his trial Vinci started the court by outbursts and efforts to attack witnesses or attorneys.

Today he struggled to his feet, despite the efforts of bailiffs to restrain him, and shouted:

"Why don't you tell who killed my brother? The first thing you know I'll climb over this table and choke you."

Harvard Debate Team May Make Western Tour

Forensic Schedule for Season to Include Seven Contests

The Crimson of old Harvard will mingle with the old gold of Iowa for the first time, if pending arrangements bring the Harvard debating team here in the latter part of April. The eastern university has signified its intention of making a western debating tour to Iowa if a suitable itinerary can be arranged.

The coach of debate at Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, who is a former Harvard debater, feels confident that the Crimson will have no trouble scheduling contests with mid-western schools. The proposed "brain storming" would break over Iowa between April 18 and 24.

Take Forward Stride

Seven other spring debates attest the forward stride taken by Iowa forensics under the tutelage of Prof. A. Craig Baird. The first Wisconsin debate team ever to appear on the Iowa campus will make its debut April 22 when it will unleash northern points and puns grounded on the prohibition question.

Church Suspends Fifty as Result of Factional Fight

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Suspension of nearly fifty members of the Washington avenue Baptist church in Brooklyn, including several deacons has resulted from the factional fight within the church between supporters of the Rev. Robert McCaul, pastor and members who opposed him.

While two policemen stood guard outside the church last night and kept out thirty-five members opposed to the pastor, his supporters held a meeting at which his policies were approved and suspension of his opponents was voted. The ousted members had contended that the pastor's policy was ruinous to the church and demanded information on what became of funds obtained in the past two years through a $25,000 mortgage on the church property.

Coolidge to Affix Signature Before Official Gathering

Mellon Places Stamp of Approval but Urges Caution

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Barring a slip up in plans, the tax reduction bill will become a law tomorrow. Announcement that President Coolidge would sign the measure at 10 a. m. was made late today to the White house after the engrossed copy had been received from congress and sent to the treasury for a last minute check for possible flaws.

Reference to the treasury was largely a formality as Secretary Mellon had expressed approval of the bill's provisions, although its estimated $87,000,000 reduction in taxes exceeds the maximum he and his assistants had declared was safe.

Mellon Approves

While department experts were examining the final draft of the proposal, Mr. Mellon went to the White house to recommend personally presidential approval.

The executive's signature will be affixed in his office in presence of treasury and congressional officials and others, Secretary Mellon, Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee, author of the measure, and Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, who was in charge of it in the senate, are among those invited to be present.

Advices Caution

In his comment on the bill, Mr. Mellon said the government should have little difficulty in meeting its financial needs after the revised schedules become effective if congress exercised caution in authorizing new appropriations.

Secretary Hoover, discussing the probable effect of the legislation on business, predicted it would result in added savings to investment and consequently benefit business generally.

The commerce department head said he foresaw no slump in business and industry that would serve further to reduce revenues with a possible treasury deficit resulting.

Senators Debate Prohibition Law

Brookhart - Edwards Put Contentions Before Radio Audience

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Sharply contrasting word pictures of prohibition were painted in a radio debate here tonight between Senators Edwards, democrat, speaking for the wets, and Brookhart, republican, speaking for the dries.

Senator Brookhart described the eighteenth amendment as "our greatest victory in the world war," while Senator Edwards declared it the Volstead act "were foisted upon a war-crazed people."

Edwards Opposes

The New Jersey senator devoted much of his address to an attack upon the Anti-Saloon league and its general counsel, Wayne B. Wheeler, whom he called the "arch traitor of American liberty, freedom of thought, and action." The speaker declared that "not even the sacred courts of our lands are free of the poisonous taint of the league's filthy hands and breath."

Senator Brookhart told his audience that the complete answer to the claim that the eighteenth amendment did not represent the majority voice of the American people was found in its universal ratification by the states.

Modify Volstead Act

"The great victory of prohibition has been a largely reduced consumption of alcohol in this country," Senator Brookhart said, adding treasury deficit resulting.

"I therefore conclude that the American people may modify the Volstead act, but when they do it will be to make it stronger and not weaker. Let my friend from New Jersey bring his propositions to vote in the senate of house and he will be snowed under many times over."

Philosophy Head to Unveil Indian Life

An authority on the Indian's mythology and pagantry, and structural engineering, disguised as head of the philosophy department of the University of Nebraska, will appear tomorrow noon here to address members of the Saturday Lunch club. That man is Hartley B. Alexander.

Indian vs. Modern Interests Speaker

Lunch Club Lecturer Intrigued by Folk-Lore

"Early Americans achieved a more perfect accord with their environment than we of the present day have done" is the belief of Hartley B. Alexander, philosopher, poet, and student of early Indian life, who speaks before the Saturday lunch club tomorrow. Mr. Alexander's collection of Indian masterpieces are examples of work in practically every field of visual art, and through these it is possible for him to bring to his hearers the conditions of their life.

In the work upon the Nebraska state capitol Professor Alexander was chosen by Bertram Goodhue to develop the entire scheme of symbolism underlying the decoration of the building, and to select the quotations which furnished motives for the inscriptions. In this work he put into modern practice the principles which he enunciates in discourses upon Indian art—the idea of a "springing from the soil."

According to an article in the "Rocky Mountain News," Professor Alexander's lecture upon the capitol at Lincoln was "profoundly impressive in many ways." This address, given at Denver, was in relation to a suggested art museum to be built there.

Personality Plus

THE keynote of modern education is the development of personality, rather than the mere absorbing of facts, and acquiring grades. So believes Dr. John H. Minick of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Air Cushion

"COURTESY is much like an air cushion—there's nothing much to it but it eases the jolts of life wonderfully."

Compulsory Education

THE modern university is designed for those who do not want to learn. To a certain degree, however, this is necessarily so since few people attend it to learn.

a rivalry for grades. Schools of higher learning place too great stress on grades. After all, when college is over and the test comes to downright practical knowledge, the lesson-cramming "A" student will hold little advantage over the one who intelligently supplemented his text with newspapers, magazines, and other books, but who forgot to inquire as to his grades.

Haven't Scratched Yet

"I DENY that the state of the modern student is deplorable. It is no worse than it has been through the ages. . . . One spree of Lord Byron and his friends lasted for three days."

The fact is true, but trivial. If we would dodge consequences behind "the ages," there have always been student Lord Byrons. Obviously the convention might have talked interminably if its will was to demonstrate that we might be worse.

CHILLS AND FEVER A MODEST PROPOSAL

There is much consternation in the halls of legislation. Caused by curricula of this great institution. And the apparent salvation of the cause of education lies in union, and not in distribution.

DON'T YOU THINK girls should be warned against dating Phi Kappa Rhoes now that Paul Corey has returned to teach them further refinements in the art of love-making?

In regard to dumb girls, a co-ed said to me: "Where were you born?" "In Michigan."

For the past month I have been writing for you to reproduce that gem of thought from the February American Mercury which runs as follows:

"A letter to Mme. Maxwell, love expert . . ."

"I am a regular flapper, have everything a girl could want, and believe me or not, I detest going out with a fellow who refuses to kiss me. A girl gets every thrill in the world out of necking and, of course, is talked about and gossiped over as a result. I cannot for the life of me figure this out. I see nothing wrong with it but consider it a sign of true friendship and affection."

Each day I looked up and down Chilzenfer for the heading "Westlawn Note," which would, of course, have been the logical title. Surely you didn't miss it, but if you did, and it is true that you read all contributions, then you know it now.

over-populated. We should practice the antitheses of your plan. Medicine: Yes, indeed, the complications are many.

French: Why not sell the corn to France and Europe? Commerce: They have no money or credit.

French: Well, give it to them. Psychology: Why don't the farmers feed their corn to hogs? Economics: There are no hogs. A few were raised.

Psychology: Why don't they buy some? Economics: Where? Psychology: That never occurred to me.

Zoology: Gentlemen, your conversation has interested me, I think I have a plan. How many of you fellas smoke? Raise your hand. (Unanimous). I like my corn cob pipe. Why not start a crusade for the old clay? That would raise the price of cobs.

Commercial Geography: I don't mean to be contradictory, but I think I know a few more of the facts than you do. You see it has been my good fortune, or misfortune, I don't know which, to travel around in the rural districts on chautauquas in the summer, and to talk to Methodist ministers in the winter, and I have observed on many occasions in many places that despite the current belief and in despite the fact that cannot be contradicted that farmers may use cobs. Despite all this, there are still several years' accumulated cobs lying around barn yards. The use of cobs for pipes will not cause a shortage of cobs, but it will help the farmer in no immaterial way to pay his debts. I endorse the crusade for corn cob pipes.

In unison: Hip, hip, hooray! Latin: Gentlemen, I feel that this problem, which is equal to any that has challenged the wisdom of the ages, is solved.

In unison: Yes! Let's go home and eat.

Botany Greenhouse Gives Touch of Spring That's Not So Far Behind

Unmindful of the unusual cold weather, which during the winter snuffed the life from more than 1,000 of their companions in the botany greenhouse on the west side of old science building, a regiment of tiny green corn shoots, a profusion of flowers, and hundreds of foliage plants daily are becoming more colorful and vigorous.

To Beautify Campus This spring the botany greenhouse will contribute its share in making desired improvements in beautifying the campus. Prof. Walter F. Loehwing plans to make the east side of the campus compare favorably with the west side, which has been beautified under the direction of Prof. Behumil Shimek.

Study Corn Previously the greenhouse has been used mainly for experimentation and demonstration purposes for the different classes in botany. The class in plant genetics is now making experimental studies of heredity in corn.

The physiology class has been experimenting on soil factors in relation to germination and growth, while the courses in general botany have been using the plants for demonstration purposes.

Lazell Parries Effectively Blow Struck by "Outlook" Against Schools of Journalism

When Lawrence F. Abbott, contributing editor of the "Outlook," sent to sea in a recent issue his questionings concerning schools of journalism, Prof. Frederick J. Lazell, of the school of journalism here furnished by letter the squall that scooped and rent the sails.

Mr. Abbott asked in his first article, "The Newspaper and Literature," if journalism professors are considering with their pupils what is likely to be the effect of the American newspaper upon literature in America. In a follow-up article, "Schools of Journalism," he prints the letter from Professor Lazell and begs not to be taken too seriously.

"The newspaper is not literature, doesn't pretend to be literature," wrote Professor Lazell. "It is willing to leave literature to excellent periodicals like the 'Outlook,' which should always be distinguished for enthusiasm of knowledge and a modern broadness of mind. The newspaper deals with news, all sorts of news, including news about commodities which its readers may wish to buy."

A sound liberal education in literature at a university or college, topped with technique furnished freely and bluntly by the city editor in the newspaper office, in the course recommended by Mr. Abbott to the "would-be" journalist, Mr. Abbott is skeptical of the practical value of the modern institutions which strive to make out of newspaper writers a special professional class.

Professor Lazell refutes these statements thus: the newspaper executives of today give generous recognition to the value of the training periodicals like the "Outlook," which

To Give Moliere Satire Tonight

French Club Members Constitute Cast of Burlesque

A satire on the ludicrous pomp of the medical science at the time of Moliere is the theme of Moliere's play, "Le Malade Imaginaire" to be presented in the natural science auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The play is being put on by members of the French club under the direction of Miss Josephine Daus, instructor in Romance languages. Three members of the cast are old timers at this sort of thing having taken part in former French productions.

It is said that the conclusion of the play, which is a scene depicting the amusing burlesque ceremony of the reception of a candidate into the medical profession, caused the attack that resulted a few hours later in Moliere's death.

The cast of characters for the play is as follows:

- Argan, le malade . . . James McDowell
- Toinette . . . Mrs. Dorothy Murray
- Angelique . . . Marie Hennessey
- Beline . . . Grace V. Kay
- M. de Bonnefoi . . . Leroy Campbell

Womens' Athletics

By KATHRYN MEYERS

The semi-finals in the intramural basketball tournament being played off at the women's gym will come Saturday afternoon when the Kappa Delta team meets the experienced Zippy Six aggregation, and the Gee Whizzies clash with the Freshman Technique. All four teams boast of excellent material, and have won hard fought games.

The Kappa Delta team is the only sorority group to survive the preliminary games played up to the semi-finals. The Zippy Six is composed of senior women, many of them stars at the game. The Freshman Technique and the Gee Whizzies have marked ability. It is hard to predict the winner.

The finals of the tournament will be played next Monday afternoon. The winning team will be presented with a tall silver cup, to be engraved appropriately.

Things are humming about the gym these days. Every girl is booked up with a number of athletic dates, lasting throughout the month of March. Among the activities demanding attention swimming is more than claiming its share of athletes who will compete in several different meets.

This evening at 7:45 o'clock the first of a series of three All-Seal meets will be held, and all of the thirty Seals will appear in at least one event and many in several. The six highest point getters in the meets will receive points and awards according to their standing, while those who do not place will be awarded ten points each.

Champions for the last two years, Catherine Richter and Gladys Brooker will again compete in an effort to hold their titles. Richter won first place both previous years, and Brooker second.

Y. W. Election Comes Wednesday

Nominees Announced Just Before Balloting by Committee

The nominating committee of the Y. W. C. A. will make known the nominees for offices next Wednesday afternoon, immediately preceding the balloting which commences at 4:15 o'clock. For the convenience of those who have 4 o'clock classes the voting will reopen at 5 p. m. All voting will take place in the liberal arts drawing room.

It is necessary for everyone who wishes to vote to register either Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday morning in the Y. W. C. A. office.

Erwin, Harter, and Lorenz, centers, and Brooker and Owen guards, played for the Zippy Six, while Beard and Farrar, forwards, Stoddard and Fredrickson centers, and Day and Millet, guards made up the currier hall team.

There's nothing worse than a bad prediction, but here we go — the dope is: the Kappa Deltas will probably meet the Freshmen Technique in the finals next Tuesday night.

"$6.25 DOWN!—that was all I paid to have my Hoover delivered. Each day I put away a few cents. By the end of the month I had enough to meet the small payment. And now it's mine—all paid for!" No wonder her husband is proud of her. In fact, she's proud of herself. And happy, too! For she has found in The Hoover her complete home-cleaning servant. It beats her rugs—and she's discovered they need beating. (You can prove this, too! . . .) It sweeps her rugs, electrically. It suction-cleans. It saves a lot of her time and labor. Her rugs wear longer, and how beautiful they are! You'd be proud, too, if you were in her place. When will you be? We will deliver your Hoover for $6.25 down. And you, too, can buy it without touching your savings.

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

TO PROVE RUGS NEED BEATING: Turn over a corner of a rug with the handle of an ordinary table-knife, or something of equal weight, give the under or warp side 15 to 25 sharp taps and watch the dirt dance out from the nap onto a piece of paper. Feel the destructive character of this grit. This is the dirt you present cleaning methods have missed, and that beating has dislodged. Correct use of The Hoover causes this embedded dirt to be separated to the surface by the rapid, gentle beating of the Hoover brush, as powerful suction lifts the rug from the floor and draws all the beaten-out, swept-up dirt into the dust-tight bag.

Locarno Treaty Sound Teaching, Root Tells Rotary

"The Locarno peace pact is in line with the soundest teaching in all history," was the declaration made by Prof. Winfred T. Root, head of the department of history, at the Rotary club meeting yesterday. Professor Root declared that all progress during the ages has come from two principles, first, from independence and co-operation and secondly from the freedom of choice. Professor Root indicated that force has never yet made any outstanding contribution toward human progress which depends upon the full exercise of the will. For this very reason, Professor Root averred that the Treaty of Versailles, which followed the world war, did not greatly help the world. He admitted that perhaps it was the best treaty that could be made at that time, because of bitterness, passion and fear propagated by the war. Nevertheless it was forced upon a vanquished nation by the victors. It was also impossible of fulfillment and therefore the vanquished nation evaded it as far as possible. France aggravated conditions by seizing the Ruhr valley. France was fearful that Germany would again invade her territory, and England was afraid of losing her trade. At this time the United States might have helped, but men of small minds were in control at the time.

Further questioning of Clark is intended by police to connect him with the slaying of two men in a hardware store holdup in Sioux City last summer. Shells found at the scene coincided in firing pin impressions with those shot by Clark's weapon, police inspector Danbaum found today. Clark had told Sioux City detectives that he had no connection with the slayings however. The unexplained shooting of Ed Riley, release trapper near Onawa Iowa, several weeks ago when Riley was killed with a .22 calibre bullet and stated to the bottom of the Little Sioux river, was also investigated further today in the belief that Clark might have knowledge of it. However he insisted he did not shoot Riley.

Shows Interest in Fate

Clark today showed an interest in his probable fate and for the first time expressed regret that he had shot two of his three local victims. "I am sorry I shot McDevitt and Johnson," he said. Johnson is Ross Johnson, railroad officer seriously wounded last Friday night. "But I am glad that I killed Dr. Searles. When I shot McDevitt I did not know I had killed him until I read the newspapers next morning. But after I had put my neck in the noose, I thought I might as well settle my score with the doctor." Dr. Searles was shot two days after McDevitt.

"How long will it be before I am executed if I am sentenced Monday?" Clark asked a jailer. When told "about a month," he said, "I won't appeal. Whatever the court decides will suit me and I want my sentence as soon as possible."

Harvard Debate Team May Make Tour Through West

Co-eds Enter Field

Debating teams composed entirely of Iowa co-eds will also let down a barrage of words on several opponents in the forensic field this spring. Last night a mixed team from Iowa went onto the air as their debate with the University of Kansas was broadcast from that place.

In the afternoon the teams debated before the Kansas students on the question, "This house views with alarm the present growth of intercollegiate athletics." The debate was of the split team variety. Josephine Wortman, A2 of Iowa City, supported by a Kansas co-ed, defended athletics from the attacks of Henry N. Neuman, A2 of Davenport, and his Kansas colleague.

Debate Chinese Question

"Resolved: that the rights of foreigners to extra territory in China should cease," occupied the minds of three University of Iowa women last night as they took the negative stand against Knox college. The debate was a no decision affair staged before the Galesburg women's club. Dorothy Anderson, A2 of Iowa City, Esther Fuller, A2 of Mount Airy, and Ruth Tamle, A3 of Missouri Valley represented Iowa.

Saturday noon a similar debate will be held before another woman's club with Iowa taking the side of the Chinese. This affirmative team will be composed of K. Irene Bowman, A4 of Iowa City, Mary Pagan, A2 of Casey, and Adriana Pease, A2 of Blair.

Establish New Circuit

The biggest debate of the year for the women will be in the newly organized circuit of Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Iowa. This combination is expected to develop into a permanent league. The question of the debates is to be the same as the one used in the Knox contest with the same women taking part except that Josephine Wortman will substitute for Ruth Tamle.

Minnesota will present the affirmative side of the question here April 22 and Iowa will go to Wisconsin to uphold foreign rights of China on the same night.

The Iowa City council approved petitions for forty blocks of paving last night at a meeting at the city hall. The city engineer was instructed to draw up plans and specifications for the construction of the approved paving. The work will be started this spring.

Council granted the petition of Mary E. Clark for the suspension of taxes on her home and also the petition of the Footie Coal company for the construction of a culvert on Kirkwood avenue.

The next meeting of the council will take place March 2, when the matter of purchasing additional fire equipment will be considered.

Tilden Crumbles Before Stunning French Assault

[By The Associated Press] NEW YORK, Feb. 25—William T. Tilden suffered one of the most stunning defeats of his career today at the hands of the twenty-two year old French ace, Rene La Coste. While a gallery of several thousand fans looked on in astonishment, this impetuous invader crushed the American national champion in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6, 5-3.

America squared the account for the day, however, in the opening two contests of the Franco-American team series when Vincent Richards defeated Jean Borota, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Richards' victory was more spectacular than La Coste's and assured thrilling climax to the international batting which will be resumed tomorrow with Richards and Tilden facing a new French combination, La Coste and Jacques Brugnon in the doubles.

Defeat Number Two

Tilden's defeat was his second by the French invaders in less than a week. Last Friday Borota conquered him in two straight sets in the quarter finals of the national indoor tournament. Not in the last six years of Tilden's supremacy, however, has he tasted straight set defeat in a match for the best three out of five heats.

Nose out Alpha Sigma Phi 15 to 13 as Sabs Shine

Amid the warwhoops of the spectators, Captain Sabs, of Delta Sigma Delta led his warriors to a victory over Alpha Sigma Phi cagers winning the interfraternity basketball championship with a score of 15-13 last night.

The victory was obtained in the last few minutes of play when the teeth pullers made two free throws tying the score then caged a field goal for the winning points. No one was killed or badly wounded but Geiger was carried off the floor in a collapsed state because of minor wounds.

Alpha Sigma Phi started out with a lead of four points, Agard took thirty long shots but he made only two field goals. Geiger, the other shot fiend for the losers was still suffering from a sore elbow that made all his tries for the basket fail. Nelson, center made four points for the losers.

The champions went into the game to guard the three stars on the opposing team and that is what they did. Sabs, in addition to guarding well made two of his field goals from long distance range. King, the other high scorer for the winners.

Track and Tank Stars Off For Illinois Battleground Tonight

Barry Polishes Rough Sports for Battle of Guards

Coach Sam Barry's determined Hawkeye cage squad went through its final hard workout of the week last night. With tonight's practice acting as a finishing off exercise the Barrymen should be able to greet Coach Nels Norrgren and his Maroon outfit in a lively manner on Saturday evening.

Rifle Team Ties for First in Conference

Iowa's crack rifle team has gone into a tie with Ohio for first place in the conference scoring by virtue of two wins and no defeats. In last week's triangular meet the Hawk men won by a score of 3729 to Minnesota's 3664 and Wisconsin's 3603. This is the first year that Iowa has ever defeated Minnesota in rifle competition.

Iowa led the Ohio marksmen in last week's scoring by 21 points. Indiana and Ohio are Iowa's most dangerous rivals.

Iowa is shooting Michigan, Illinois and Cornell university this week and should have little difficulty in making the most bulls-eyes.

The entire week has been spent in strenuous scrimmage sessions and with the freshmen using the Chicago plays the varsity has been able to pick up a good general knowledge of the Windy City boys' type of offense and defense. The invader's attack is molded around Capt. "Babe" Aiyen, and Zimmerman a diminutive left handed basket shooter.

Marks Tremble as Relay Stars Meet

Swimmers Bent on Drowning Illini Title Hopes

With the Illinois swimming meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon Coach Dave Arnbruster and fifteen picked members of the Hawkeye tank squad will leave Iowa City tonight, hopeful of returning Sunday with a second tank victory.

A win from the tanksters in Grangeville will send Iowa's average to the 500 per cent mark, the Arnbruster men having turned in one victory and two defeats to the present date this season. Likewise a victory in the water polo contest will mean considerable to Captain Sorenson and his sea lions who have their eyes turned on the Big Ten water net title this year. The poloists have a brace of wins and one loss chalked up to them since the forfeiture of the contest by Minnesota last week. To conquer the fighting Illini will mean a 750 per cent average.

A startling fact was revealed this afternoon when it was rumored that Krohn, relay and dash ace was to be railroaded. Investigation proved that this sprint giant had sufficiently recovered from being all boiled up for the last two weeks to accompany the Hawk tanksters to the dual clash in the Illinois town. Krohn has had considerable trouble lately with boils and it has been doubtful until yesterday whether or not he would be in condition to make the trip.

Bresnahan Takes 21 Athletes to Illini Relay Carnival

Twenty-one Hawks leave tonight for Urbana, where tomorrow evening the annual Illinois Relay Carnival will take place. The squad leaves tonight at 10:15 o'clock and will arrive in Champaign tomorrow morning. Returning, the members of the team will return to their Pullmans immediately after the meet, arriving in Iowa City at 3:48 Sunday afternoon.

If the group will be two new men who will get their first taste of Big Ten competition, Phil Taxman who has been entered in the 75 yard special and W. E. Wagner who will be the fourth member of the two mile relay team.

Athletes who will make the trip are: Captain Dauber and E. W. Nelson who will put the shot. William Boese will carry Iowa's colors in the 200 yard dash. Eric Wilson a former Hawkeye captain is a joint holder of the Carnival record in this event with the time of 31:8-10 seconds. John Folwell is a reserve in the mile quartette. Don Smith and Phil Taxman are entered in the 75 yard dash. Ray Mann, Owen Thomas, and Ted Swenson will high jump. Ray Mann who last Saturday shattered the armory record in this department should score heavily. But one better mark has been turned during the 1925 season, that by McGivern of Wisconsin who defeated Mann in the recent dual with a leap of 6 feet 4 1/2 inches.

Wrestlers First Stumbling Block for Chicago Men

Iowan Writer Predicts Seven Point Win for Hawkeyes

By SWISHER WILSON
The inter-mingling of Old Gold and Maroon in Iowa's last midwestern wrestling meet Saturday afternoon will be the feature attraction of the athletic carnival to be held in the new armory. At exactly three o'clock the first huskies will be turned into the arena. It is hard to tell who will draw first blood but if Weir is not blinded at the sight of so much red there won't be much bulling around. He had an off day at the Illinois meet but is expected to redeem himself against Sheer, Chicago's 115 pounder.

Strubbe vs. Shalensky
Strubbe, who won the right to be second man on the Hawk team by defeating Maley in the try outs last night will be up against another good 125 pounder when he crawls through the ropes to shake hands with Shalensky. Strubbe has had a string of hard luck this year having tasted the fruits of far superiority but once this year. As in most battles, the biggest fall falls upon the shoulders of the captain and so it will be when Captain Bob Michael rubs whiskers with Graham, the Maroon's star 135 pounder. Last week Graham won a decision from Kenny of Illinois by a time advantage of 8 minutes.

Beers Melts Down
After wringing seven pounds from his sweat shirt between now and Saturday Beers will be in prime condition to exchange courtesies with Kurtz in the 145 pound match. Both men have humbled Pyle of Illinois within the past week and a half but it looks like the red headed Hawk should win by at least a decision.
It ought to be just like taking candy from a baby for Grattan when he mixes with Penstone in the 158. It looks like Grattan would register the only fall of the day to add to his long list of vanquished heroes. No man on the Hawk team likes a hard work out better than does [TURN TO PAGE 6]

Lambert, Carter, Doped High
Lambert should win the quarter mile swim in easy fashion and Carter should easily grab first honors in his 200 yard race.
In the back stroke it will be hard to predict the winner. King will swim the race in his old form but will meet up with plenty of real opposition in the two Illinois men entered.
Iowa should win the medley relay providing Coach Arnbruster uses his old trio with King paddling the back stroke, Carter swimming the breast and McClintock or Lambert finishing the last 100 yards in crawl fashion.
Divers Close
Diving, this Saturday will be a close event, however since the win registered by Lutz in the Gopher meet last week over Nicky Carter, the Minnesota star, it will probably go without saying that the Iowa spring board artist will again crush through in the same fashion. Britton has a good chance at second or third honors.
Iowa polo players are expected to win the brand providing they play the same brand of the game that they displayed against Chicago. Sorenson's men gave Northwestern

For the historic mile relay Coach Bresnahan has E. J. Beatty, L. D. Phelps, O. T. Roberts and F. J. Cuihel. Iowa won this race three successive times up to last year, but the 1925 quartet was withdrawn when injuries made a victory impossible.
Coaches George T. Bresnahan, C. R. Brookins and T. E. Martin have charge of the Hawkeyes on this trip.
The members of the squad who will make the trip are: Captain McClintock, Krohn, Killebrew, Clearman, Lambert, Carter, W. Marble, E. Marble, Kings, Willingham, Pattison, Wylie, Sorenson, Lutz and Britton.

Late Registrants Pay County $2,000 Since January 1

Automobile owners in Johnson county have paid approximately $2,000 in fines to the state of Iowa since the first day of 1926 on account of delinquent registration according to calculations from the county treasurer's office issued yesterday.

With the end of February approaching negligent motor car owners have been hurrying to the county automobile bureau to avoid additional fines for February.

H. A. Stearnes, state automobile inspector, is expected to be in Iowa City next week to start a campaign to "clean up" those motorists who continue to put off automobile registration and the sheriff's office will do all it can to see that Johnson county is completely registered by the end of March.

The county treasurer's office urges that every automobile owner who has had his car transferred bring a statement of the transaction with a notary's seal attached.

Fire Inspection to Cover Sorority and Fraternity Houses

Fire inspection days for Iowa City, March 17 and 18, will include inspection of all fraternity and sorority houses as well as all university buildings, according to the plans made by the Chamber of Commerce committee on fire prevention which met Tuesday.

More than seventy-five expert inspectors sent out by the Iowa Fire Prevention bureau at Des Moines will conduct the work. On the evening of March 18 there will be a mass meeting at which the results of the fire inspection will be given to the public.

The fire prevention committee in the Chamber of Commerce has been trying for several years to get this inspection for Iowa City. However, the bureau at Des Moines has many requests for its services and since only seven cities can be inspected each year, Iowa City has been forced to await its turn on the inspector's schedule.

List Criminal Cases for Trial Next Month

Hear Harmon, Brennan March 8; Liquor Charges Lead

Criminal court in Johnson county will open March 8 when County Attorney Ed O'Connor launches prosecution in the first sixteen cases to be tried during the ensuing week.

Of most interest to the citizens of Johnson county will be the case of George L. Brennan who was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder on the person of Alice Reed, a school teacher. The case has been assigned for trial on March 8. Brennan's bond was originally set at $20,000 but was recently reduced by Judge R. G. Popham to $15,000.

Try Harmon Case First
The case of Harold Harmon, D1 of Iowa City, alleged to have been guilty of lewdness is the first case on the assignment sheet. He will be tried March 8. Harmon pleaded not guilty in court yesterday.

Eleven of the sixteen instances of court action have been brought on the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance. Roy Rogers, Ray Cook and Anthony and Thomas Carney will appear in court on March 10 to defend themselves against such a charge. The Carney brothers will appear again the next day on the same charge and Ben Rarey, whose garage gave forth several gallons of so-called alcohol when raided recently by city officers, will also appear. Urban Jacquet, also charged with violating liquor laws, will come to court the same day.

Try Gibson March 12
Friday, March 12, will see the trial of George Gibson another Volstead violator. On the same day action will be taken in regard to two Ford's seized recently and held as liquor conveyances along with steps in prosecuting a case wherein $153 of wicker money was seized.

Leonard Roe and Walter Lowe charged on two instances of grand larceny will fight it out in court March 9 and Laird Plummer, a victim of the action of Iowa City's "sponge squad," will appear on that day for a reckoning.

Equity cases in the February term of court will follow the criminal hearings.

Public Welfare Program
Mrs. Clarissa Linton of the university bacteriological department will address the public welfare department of the Iowa City Woman's club at the regular meeting this afternoon at three o'clock. The program will be open to the public and will be held at room 224 of the university elementary school.

Mrs. Linton will illustrate her lecture with lantern slides. The meeting will be in charge of the fly campaign committee.

State Conference of C. of C. Bodies Opens Here Today

The eighth annual winter conference of the Iowa association of Commercial Organizations opens here today at the Chamber of Commerce club rooms with nearly all of the larger cities of Iowa represented by their chamber of commerce secretaries.

The conference beginning today at 9 a. m. and continuing through Saturday is under the joint auspices of the local Chamber of Commerce and the university extension division. Its purpose is to aid in the solution of problems which face commercial organizations, especially the Chamber of Commerce, and to provide for organizations of similar character throughout the state.

Jessup Opens First Session
President Walter A. Jessup will open the first session at 9 o'clock this morning with an address of welcome to which Harrison Kilborne of Sioux City, representing the visitors will respond. The morning program with Harrison Kilborne, President of the Iowa association of Commercial Organizations, presiding, includes the following talks:

No matter how it ends Hobart is sure to put up a great fight, Johnson, the Chicago heavy weight lost to Shively by a time advantage of 7 minutes. Things don't look so bad for Hobart.

After adding and subtracting Iowa will probably be leading by about seven points. Make your own deductions.
