Cases of Walter D. Merveaux and Jas. Fisher

Two cases scheduled to come before Justice H. F. Carter's court today were held over until the next week.

The case of Walter D. Merveaux charged with assault with intent to commit great bodily injury, brought by his wife, Mabel Merveaux, continued until 9 a. m. Thursday. Merveaux is at liberty on bonds.

James Fisher, accused of threatening to attack his wife, who was based on $500 bonds, is to come before Justice Carter later in the week.

DES MOINES, Jan. 31 (AP)—Business is always good for the farmer who has the get-up and speed to get after it. That's the philosophy of W. J. ### Tension Reigns as Birger Testifies in Shelton Trial

Testimony Implicates Trio as Robbers; Defense Opens

[By The Associated Press] QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 1.—Foes sat near each other and smiled amiably, despite testimony intended by those on the one hand to send the others to a federal prison, in the trial of the three Shelton brothers for mail robbery in United States district court here today.

The calm and quiet court room demeanor did not allay the tension evident outside when it became known that men of two groups reputed to have sworn death to the others were to face each other at the federal bar.

So tense was the situation that the back firing of an auto in the street, caused circulation of a false story that there had been an attempt to storm the federal building.

Shelton's Leader Testifies

Charles Birger, road house owner, leader of Shelton's foes, and Art Newman, his lieutenant, testified to knowledge that the Sheltons, Carl, Earl, and Bernie, planned the robbery of the mails at Collinsville, Ill., Jan. 27, 1925, when $15,000 shipped to the Collinsville state bank was stolen.

Previously, however, James Mathias, the mail messenger, had been unable to identify any of the Sheltons as involved.

Smile at Enemies

Newman preceded Birger on the stand. In turn they both sat at arm's length from the Sheltons, and each had a smile for the brothers known as their deadly enemies.

Birger testified that the Sheltons divided the loot at his roadside.

The government then rested its case.

The defense will begin presenting its case, understood to be an alibi, tomorrow. It is the defense contention that accusation of the Sheltons was engendered by the desire of their enemies to see them out of the way.

Commission Hears Report on Freight Rates Revision

OMAHA, Feb. 1 (AP)—South Dakota freight rates were under consideration at today's hearing of western trunk line railroads, seeking general upward revision of rates in eleven mid-west states, before the interstate commerce commission.

H. M. Eicholtz, Chicago, assistant general manager of the Northwest, testified the density of traffic there is so light that the operation of any railroad is hardly warranted.

"While absolutely essential to the life and welfare of the people tributary to its lines in South Dakota, and on that account impossible to abandon," Mr. Eicholtz said, "it is doubtful whether any part of the road or any single commodity transported moves in such volume as to pay its way or contribute anything to the revenue of the rest of the road."

Class freight rates between Omaha and South Dakota points on the Northwest and the Federal roads would be substantially increased by proposals of western trunk line carriers, it was brought out at today's hearing.

Ten Students Get Positions Through Placement Bureau

Ten students of the university have recently received appointments to positions, through the teachers placement bureau of the education department.

They are: Ida Barker, who will teach social studies at Corydon; Gertrude Duke, who will teach at Newton; Margaret Gerhardt, English at Clinton; Helen Melvin, an appointment at Iowa State college; Katherine Taylor, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Daphne Patterson, Latin at Anamosa; Marion Ansel, English at Burlington; and Helen Wood, librarian at Newton. Floyd Vodericker will take the position of commercial chemist for a Kimball, N. J. powder plant.

Former Student Asphyxiated in Refinery Sunday

Donovan Willis, 21-years-old, of Shambaugh, was asphyxiated Sunday night while gauging a tank of distilled petroleum of the Rotaxam Petroleum corporation refinery, near Wood River, Ill.

After reading the hourly gauge, he was found five minutes later unconscious by another gauge. Efforts to revive Willis by use of a pulmonary were fruitless.

Willis, who was a member of the Xi Psi Phi dental fraternity, spent two years attending the college of dentistry. He was a graduate of the Clarinda high school.

Priest Disappears But Marries Following Day

MARCELINE, Mo., Feb. 1 (AP)—News of their marriage in Chicago Jan. 18, today cleared up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the Rev. D. V. Downey, pastor of the St. Bonaventure Catholic church here and Miss Maudie Myers, 21 years old, daughter of a Marcelline coal miner.

Disappearance of the priest the night of Jan. 17 stirred Marcelline. Then it was learned that Miss Myers had disappeared the same night. Police found that Father Downey had checked his trunk to a Chicago hotel and bought a ticket for that city and that Miss Myers had purchased a ticket for Fort Madison, Ia.

The supposition was that the two had been married but there was no confirmation until today. It was learned yesterday that Father Downey sent a letter of resignation to be forwarded to the bishop at St. Joseph.

Select Six Juniors as Honor Students in New Plan Here

English Department to Give Opportunity for Freer Study

Six third year students in the college of liberal arts have been chosen to take up work in the honors system which will be instituted for the first time in a middle western school, this semester in the English department at the University of Iowa.

The students are: Edna Bockwoldt of Galva, Jeanette Elder of Marshalltown, Iva M. Jones of Fort Dodge, Pearl Robertson of Wellman, Wendell A. L. Johnson of McPherson, Kans., and Eva E. Franklin of New ton.

The honors committee, composed of Prof. W. B. Maxwell, Prof. E. N. S. Thompson, and Prof. M. A. Shaw of the English department, chose the application on a basis of previous work and grades and upon a personal knowledge of the ability of the candidates.

The honors system is to give opportunity for more independent work. If the plan is successful, the opportunity will be extended to a larger group next year. Those who do the work this year may do more of the honor work in their senior year, if they so desire.

Students who are interested in the course next year may obtain detailed information from the department committee. The course will not be carried out through the summer session.

The students will be under the advice and supervision of a member of the English department. At the end of the year they will be required to take examinations over the work they have covered during the year. The examinations will be prepared by some member of the faculty other than the one under whom they are doing the work.

Craig to Speak at Winter Convocation

Military Department Awards Commissions in Cadet Corps; Nurses and Prospective Teachers Receive Certificates

One hundred eleven students will receive degrees at the midyear convocation of the University of Iowa this morning. Classes will be dismissed from 10 to 12 o'clock for the exercises, which will take place in the natural science auditorium.

The address will be delivered by Prof. Hardin Craig, head of the department of English, who has recently returned from Europe where he spent several months on a leave of absence.

In addition to the academic degrees, four commissions in the officer's reserve training corps, and 229 commissions in cadet regiments will be awarded.

Five Masters of Arts Degrees

Degrees to be awarded at the convocation are: internship, two; graduate nursing, fifteen; and education, three. First degrees awarded will be: bachelor of arts, forty-eight; bachelor of science in commerce, eleven; bachelor of laws, one; pharmaceutical chemistry, one; doctor of dental surgery, two; bachelor of engineering, two; bachelor of science (in the college of applied science), two.

Professional degrees awarded will be: civil engineering, one. In arts and sciences the degrees to be awarded are: master of arts, eight; master of science, nine; and doctor of philosophy, five.

Commissions awarded by the military department include infantry, engineer, medical, and dental units. Commissions in the officers' reserve corps are for first and second lieutenants. In cadet units commissions are for cadet colonel, lieutenant colonel, majors, captains, and first and second lieutenants.

Will March in Auditorium

A procession from the auditorium will be formed by the president and president emeritus of the university, the speaker and the chaplain, the faculties, and the candidates for degrees.

The Rev. Wilfred C. Keeler will give the invocation, followed by a violin solo, "Adoration," by Arthur C. Brown. After Professor Craig's address, the military commission and the degrees will be given.

Prof. Charles Bundy Wilson, head of the department of German, will

Kendrie Orchestra to Present First Concert at Union

Former Kansas Teacher Directs Eighty-four Players

The university orchestra will give its first concert of the year Wednesday evening, Feb. 9, at the Iowa Union under the direction of Prof. Frank E. Kendrie.

Professor Kendrie was instructor in stringed instruments at the University of Kansas for four years and had a student orchestra there.

He also played first violin in the St. Louis Symphony orchestra.

Professor Kendrie is a native of Maine and a graduate of Bowdoin college. Continuing his musical education at Harvard, he took his Master of Arts degree. He has studied under Loeffler, Kraft, Eichheim, and other eminent teachers of the violin.

The university orchestra has eighty-four players from among the students, instructors, and residents of Iowa City.

The following program will be given: Symphony No. 1 (Jupiter) Mozart; Allegro Vivace; Menuetto (Allegretto); Finale (Molto Allegro); Largo from Double Concerto, for two violins and Mr. Swenson; Peer Gynt, Suite No. 1 — Grieg; Morning; Death of Asa; Anitra's Dance; In the Hall of the Mountain King; Marche des Petits Soldats de Plomb; Old Gold; Kendrie; Old Gold.

Tickets for the concert can be purchased at Whetstone's or from any member of the orchestra for fifty cents.

Chinese Agree to Sign Anglo Pact When Troops Go

Object to Soldiers and Airplanes in Shanghai

[By The Associated Press] HANKOW, Feb. 1.—The nationalist (Cantonese) government will sign an agreement for a new treaty with Great Britain as soon as the British forces are withdrawn from Shanghai.

Official announcement was made tonight by Eugene Chen, Nationalist minister of foreign affairs.

Great Britain was told today by the Cantonese government that until the British ceased their heavy concentration of troops and warships at Shanghai, the nationalists of China would not enter into negotiations for a new treaty.

Plans of the British to land 20,000 soldiers in the international concessions of Shanghai with dozens of warships floating in the river and war airplanes circling overhead held incompatible with moves toward peaceable adjustment of the differences of the two nations as to British influence and holdings in China.

Confessed Slayer Hopes to Continue Writing in Prison

District Attorney Agrees to Get Materials; Waives Preliminary Hearing at Arraignment

[By The Associated Press] LANCASTER, Wis., Feb. 1.—William N. Coffey, confessed slayer of his bigamous bride, Mrs. Hatie Hales, tonight prepared to carry on his writing work after he has been sent to prison.

Late today he asked district attorney R. W. Orchard of Grant county, who is conducting the state's case against him, to procure for him from his home at Madison his dictionary and other books which will assist him in his story work.

The district attorney agreed to heed Coffey's request.

Coffey was bound over today at one of the strangest arraignments in the history of Wisconsin. It took place in the cigar store of C. W. Burrows, justice of the peace who found the trade in cigars and tobacco too brisk this morning to leave it to go to his court room.

So Coffey was brought to the store. The bigamist, slayer and forger stood beside the cigar clipper, Burrows remained behind his counter, and within a minute the formality which sent Coffey to circuit court was over.

Coffey wanted no lawyer. He waived preliminary examination, although he was assured that he might have it, and Justice Burrows pronounced the legal formula which turned him over to the circuit court on a murder charge.

Vast Areas in Arkansas County Partly Submerged

White River Floods 100,000 Acres; Fifteen Hundred Flee From Homes

[By The Associated Press] LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 1.—A vast area in Woodruff county, northeast of here, was submerged tonight while relief organizations provided food and shelter for 1,500 persons who fled their homes before the waters which poured through breaks in the White river.

While more than 100,000 acres have been swept by the muddy tide and livestock, remnants of unscathed crops have been damaged, reports of losses of life in the White river lowlands, have been unconfirmed or denied.

The body of Harold Summers, 22 years old, who was drowned near Hylleville Sunday night when a cow-bait capsized, was recovered last night.

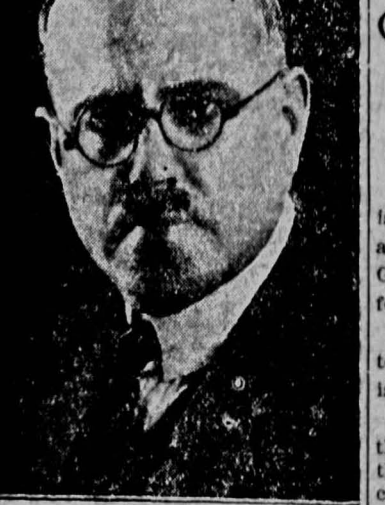

The White river torrent continued to sweep through wide gaps in the levees between Cotton Plant and Dixie. The Cache river overflow was adding to the volume of the flood.

Mable to Attend Drama Conference at New Haven

Prof. E. C. Mable of the department of speech will leave tonight for New Haven, Conn., where he will attend a drama conference sponsored by Yale University, Feb. 11 and 12.

Professor Mable will read a paper before the conference on "Theater Construction and Maintenance."

He will resume his duties here Feb. 16.

Democrats Oppose Report on Mexico, Nicaraguan Policy

Fairchild Resolution Cause of Stormy Debates Between Republicans and Opponents

[By The Associated Press] WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Over the protest of its democratic members, the house foreign affairs committee today reported the Fairchild resolution proposing that the house endorse President Coolidge's Nicaraguan-Mexican policy.

The vote was ten to five.

Representative Connally, democrat, Texas, voted with the republicans for the announced purpose of moving to reconsider the action.

This he did, after nearly an hour's heated debate, only to lose eight to six, on a strictly party vote.

The committee rejected eight to seven, a proposal by Representative Moore, democrat, Virginia, to call Secretary Kellogg for questioning on the subject. On this motion, Representative Fish, republican, New York, joined with the democrats who supported it.

Action on the Fairchild resolution climaxed a series of stormy meetings during which republicans accused democrats of attempting to inject politics into international affairs, eliciting vigorous denials from the latter.

Texas Murderer's Confession Leads to Finding Victims

Bones of Woman and Children Killed Ten Years Ago Buried in Cellar

[By The Associated Press] WHITTIER, Calif., Feb. 1.—The confession of George J. Hassell, convicted Texas slayer, that he killed a woman and her three children here ten years ago was confirmed today by the finding of human bones buried in the cellar of a house which he formerly occupied.

Hassell is now awaiting execution in Texas for the slaying there recently of his wife and eight stepchildren.

The Whittier victims are believed by police to be Mrs. Marie Vogel, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., and her three adopted children, who disappeared here under mysterious circumstances in 1917.

The bones of four persons were unearthed late today while police were digging beneath the house in which Hassell at one time lived, under the name of "G. Baker."

The officers were guided in their search by a chart prepared by Hassell.

In his confession, Hassell declared he had choked and clubbed to death a woman with whom he was living here and then killed her sleeping children, following an argument over whether he should go into the army.

Senate Will Defer Immigrant Ruling

New Basis of Fixing Quotas Regarded as Unfair

[By The Associated Press] WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The movement for the repeal of the provision of existing law basing immigration quotas on national origin after next July 1, was put under today with Senate adoption of a resolution deferring the coming into force of the provision for one year.

House action also is necessary but prompt approval of the resolution is expected there since several measures having the same purpose are pending before the immigration committee and have met with general expressions of approval.

Chief objection to basing the quotas on the national origin of immigrants entering the country during the century ended in 1920 has been that the number of immigrants coming from the Irish, Essex State, Germany and the Scandinavian countries would be materially lowered.

Great Britain and Italy would be the chief gainers in quotas under the national origin, the former's allotment increasing from 34,007 to 73,000 and the latter's from 3,845 to 5,091. This would absorb practically all of the losses to the other countries.

Under the senate resolution the present plan of basing the quotas on the foreign born population of the United States as shown by the census of 1920 would continue in force for another year.

Four Counterfeiters Captured in Indiana

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—Four men believed to be members of a counterfeiting gang flooding Indiana with bogus $20 bills were arrested today in Hammond, Ind., and turned over to federal authorities here.

They are Louis Witt; Clyde Watkins, Leo Baugher, all of St. Louis, and Rex Weidner, of Malvern, Iowa.

Witt was caught passing a bill in a cigar store and after confessing, led the police to the others in a Harvey, Ill., hotel.

County Budget Bill to Appear Before State Legislature

Measure Permits Supervisors to Divert Funds from Various Departments

[By The Associated Press] DES MOINES, Feb. 1.—A bill known as the county budget measure, which would permit county boards of supervisors to divert funds from one departmental fund to another, within the same county office, in case of necessity, will make its appearance in the legislature tomorrow.

The bill is sponsored by Representative Clyde Charlton of Polk county and will eliminate the necessity for taking requests for such transfers to the state budget department.

On or before Jan. 15, the county board of supervisors must by resolution appropriate such amounts as are deemed necessary for each office during the ensuing year and the board must specify from each of the county funds created by law, the appropriated sums shall be derived and such appropriation shall be itemized.

Waiter-Bootlegger Shoots Sweetheart; Laughs at Hanging

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—A waiter who turned bootlegger increased his earnings from $40 a month to $87,000 in eight months, $25,000 in December alone, he told the police today and exhibited records to prove it.

The man is Vincent Michelette who fired five bullets into the body of Miss Marie Perry last night when they quarreled at an elevated station. Miss Perry, 25 year old stenographer, was his former sweetheart, he said.

Miss Perry's condition is critical, but Michelette adamantly insisted that he wouldn't be hanged if she died, because "I'm a big bootlegger, and whoever heard of a bootlegger being hanged in Chicago?"

Browning Case Rests With Judge; Counsel Allowed to File Briefs

[By The Associated Press] WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Edward W. Browning's separation suit brought against his bride of six months, the former Frances (Peaches) Heenan, was taken under advisement tonight by Supreme Court Justice Seeger.

Within the two weeks following next Saturday, attorneys for both sides may amplify the contentions set forth in the week of public hearing, and file briefs supporting their sides of the case.

Browning contends his wife left him without cause; she contends Browning was so cruel she had to leave him.

Since there was no jury in the hearing the decision as to whether Mr. Browning shall receive a decree of separation or not is solely in the hands of Justice Seeger.

On the stand today Browning denied he was a cruel husband. To

Wyoming Man Freezes

LARAMIE, Wyo., Feb. 1 (AP)—A. M. Shaffer, traveling representative of the Denver Union Stock Yards company, was found frozen to death two miles from Hanna, Wyo., today. Apparently Shaffer was trying to reach Hanna for shelter during a blizzard last Friday which stalled his car.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The nomination of Representative Ogden L. Mills, of New York, to be under secretary of the treasury was confirmed late today by the senate.

Child Sleeps 200 Hours

CEDAR RAPIDS, Feb. 1 (AP)—Irene Clark, 5 years old, of Fayette, who has been unconscious for 200 hours as the result of sleeping sickness, recovered consciousness tonight and at the hospital it was said the child probably would recover.

Michigan Hospital Burns

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 1 (AP)—Two hundred patients confined in the old hospital at the University of Michigan here were rescued tonight when fire gutted the institution. The patients, mostly convalescents, were removed to a new hospital at the university.

Tax Reduction Downed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Senate action on a resolution declaring for enactment of tax reduction legislation at this session was staved off today by republican leaders. Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, succeeded in getting his measure before the senate but it was finally forced to the calendar under the rules.

Distiller Follows Brand

OWENSBORO, Ky., Feb. 1 (AP)—Col. John W. McCulloch, who gained world wide reputation as a distiller of the famous brand of "Green River" whiskey and former Kentucky member of the republican national committee, died at a hospital here tonight.

Guards Kill One Convict as Gang Attempts Escape

LANSING, Kans., Feb. 1 (AP)—One convict was shot and killed and three others were wounded, none dangerously, in an attempted break for liberty at the Kansas penitentiary there this afternoon.

The men were in a gang of 108 prisoners working on a shale pile outside the prison walls. When they threw down their tools and ran, six guards opened fire. German Fernandez, serving for burglary, was the convict killed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—Henry C. (Bud) Fisher, cartoonist and race horse owner who fell in love at sea and got married at sea, was at sea today when his wife was granted a separation.

Charles E. Kelley, counsel for the cartoonist, said that Fisher was on his way abroad to procure some witnesses and requested adjournment.

"Probably," was the ironical response of Charles H. Tuttle, attorney for Mrs. Fisher, the former Countess Aedita de Beaumont. "Fisher wants to call Mutt and Jeff to the stand. The fact is, I believe, he is not here because he is afraid to answer questions regarding his income. We are ready and insist upon an immediate trial."

SORORITY GIRL GIVES UP PIN FOR AN IDEAL

Says that Mock Social Standard Is Set

Headline, Des Moines Register.

SENATOR REED of Missouri believes that "Intolerance is the child of ignorance." He heads the procession of liberal-minded publicans who wage war on foggy doctrines of religious and social bigotry. Senator Reed seeks the light—a light that will pour a flood of illumination over the wretched tangle of slogans, rituals, and prejudices that submerge the American mind.

Senator Reed is Senator Reed. He leads the procession and crowds mass along the line of march to watch him pass by. But after the real thinkers have passed and the wild-eyed reformers appear, the parade is over; the crowd is not interested in the small fry.

The individual who seeks the limelight by buckling on a wooden sword and going forth to battle windmills is not accorded much attention or respect. Reforming is a game in which only "all-Americans" can play successfully.

Every campus has a few individuals who are prone to butt their heads against the wall of convention. In most cases, the wall is not denied, and neither is the cranium injured—the very composition of the latter is protection in itself.

We need tolerance, but we cannot have it through individual crusading against petty and inconsequential issues. There must be first a real issue, then there must be leaders with sufficient prestige and standing to command attention and respect.

The Baumes Laws

"You see, there are just two kinds of people in this world. One kind believes in organized life, in rules, in property; the other kind doesn't. Now these Baumes laws—they came to be necessary because too many of the people on the other side of the human fence began to run wild on our side of the human fence."

IN these words, Theodore Dreiser has summed up practically all of the arguments advanced for New York's Baumes laws, requiring that a man convicted for a fourth or subsequent felony be sentenced to life imprisonment.

Aimed principally at the "repeater," particularly of petty offenses, the immediate effect of their passage and enforcement has been to start a migration of all old hands at the criminal game from New York. Thus, if they are continued, they will in all probability force adjoining states to adopt similar measures. Although no evidence can yet be offered to substantiate it, the probable long run effect will be to cause a very considerable decrease in the number of youths, starting out to learn the game. Sociologists and those interested in the checking of our present crime wave will watch the effect of the Baumes laws on crime in New York with much interest.

A Challenge

IOWA has just recently finished her intra-mural athletic carnival. That the carnival is noteworthy is not questioned. More than 100 students who are not members of any university team participated. That is worth while. The fraternities are now indulging in a fast and hard struggle to determine the intra-mural basketball tournament. And that is worth while.

But one thing has caused considerable surprise among newcomers on the campus, and that is the almost complete absence of the fairer sex in these intra-mural contests. Why don't sororities have a relay team of their own, run by themselves? has been frequently asked. And why isn't there a program of inter-sorority basketball as well? And it seems to many that the questions are deserving.

Surely the girls are capable of something besides being one-half of a date, studying, and a few of the milder forms of activities. In this day and age it is surprising to see what is supposedly the pick of American womanhood standing by while the men folk play her games for her. Perhaps the medieval spirit still prevails among women. Perhaps they still prefer to have a male champion for their honor and glory.

Redeeming Discontent

EMERSON says: "Discontent is the want of self-reliance; it is the infirmity of the will."

Another individual, at least as solemn if not as wise as Emerson, says: "Discontent is the foundation of all human effort." Both are right, for there are two kinds of discontent. But, with all apologies to the philosophy of Emerson, the latter writer seems to have hit upon a truth. It is the discontented buck private who drills with such machine-like precision that he rises steadily from the ranks until he is a general.

It is the discontented bank clerk who works with such zealotry that he finally becomes cashier or president. It is the discontented scrub who plays the game so hard that he makes the varsity.

No Hermits Here

PROOF that solitude leads to growth is endless. Milton's greatest work was done when blindness, old age and the death of the Puritan government forced him into complete seclusion. Beethoven did his best work in the solitude of deafness.

Bacon would have never been the great leader of scientific thought had not his trial and disgrace forced him from the company of a grand retinue and stupid court to the solitude of his own brain.

"Multum in sola fuit anima." "My spirit hath been much alone." This is said often, and it was lucky for him. Loneliness of spirit made him.

This is a criticism which has often been made of the fraternity system in our universities. One of the debaters on the Cambridge team which met Iowa on the debate platform last year disapproved of the American educational system because of the hurry in which knowledge is assimilated and because the student was never left alone for study and thought. It is a fact that the fraternity men—and the university students as a whole—almost never have a moment of solitude in their entire university course. In their study rooms, in their libraries—even on the banks of old Iowa river the University of Iowa student is never alone.

To a certain extent this evidence of the gregarious instinct exerts a valuable influence. But, since "Books are man's best companions" and men like Edison and Marconi have achieved their greatest success while in seclusion, it would seem that occasional solitude might benefit the modern student.

America Receives Royalty

A FEW weeks ago the United States was enchanted by the visit of one of those fairy story monarchs who don't need proof that they are good—they admit it. We are speaking of her majesty, Queen Marie. She had exciting house parties on her private train, endorsed cold cream and chewing tobacco, bored our worthy president with small—very small—talk for one whole evening, and departed ahead of schedule at the urgent command of her "dying" husband who met her at the train. She goes back to her oppressed people with purses fat from her testimonializing.

Recently there passed through this country a prince of one of the mightiest nations on earth. He was the representative of the oldest reigning royal house, brought up in an atmosphere of oriental culture, who had traveled to the other side of the world to absorb a newer civilization, and who was returning to his father's funeral. It was the second son of the emperor of Japan on his way home from Oxford.

There was no frantic adoration at his approach. The fact that he represented a strong and friendly nation with which we must cultivate the most friendly relations in view of our common interest in the Pacific was ignored. The fact that he was an earnest and industrious student, quite different from the run of royalty, went unnoticed. The cities which made the visit of a petty European monarchess a gala occasion knew nothing of the coming of a prince whose family has done something to justify its existence and who is himself carrying on their tradition. Republics may like marble heroes better than real ones; at any rate it is certain that they prefer tin soldier royalty to the actual thing.

The surest sign of viciousness is that you rejoice to hear an evil story of a good man.

EXAMINATIONS FOR EXEMPTION FROM MILITARY TRAINING

A board of medical examiners has been organized for the examination of students who apply for exemption from the basic training in military science and physical training. This board will meet at the offices of the university physicians to students during the first week only of the semester, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 7-9 p. m., and Wednesday and Friday, 10-12 a. m.; thereafter regular meetings the first and third Tuesdays of each month, 7 p. m. Students desiring appointments should call the secretary, phone 857.

Each applicant will be required to make, on the blank forms provided, written formal declaration of the basis of his claim for exemption. After physical examination the decision of the board will be forwarded to the student and department concerned.

The question of a student's physical fitness in relation to the requirements of the curriculum may be brought before this board, when it is an appeal from a previous decision based on the certificate of a physician.
A. G. ASKIER, secretary.

On Wings of Song

The Second Book of Negro Spirituals. By James Weldon Johnson and J. Rosamond Johnson. The Viking Press, 1926. $3.50

In preparing and placing before the public, earlier in the season "A Book of American Negro Spirituals," James Weldon Johnson and J. Rosamond Johnson made a notable contribution to American music. Now they have supplemented that work by another volume, "The Second Book of Negro Spirituals," of equal importance. All that has been said in favor of the first book applies in full measure to the second. In gathering together this material, so valuable from the standpoint of both music and ethnology, these men have rendered a lasting service to the cause of knowledge and racial understanding.

Natural Harmonies

The original volume contained some three score spirituals, with accompaniments arranged by J. Rosamond Johnson. The present volume adds sixty-one more to this rich store of melody. In arranging the accompaniments, Mr. Johnson has endeavored to reproduce the harmonies used by the negro singers themselves—the natural harmonies that are a sort of heritage of the race. This adds greatly to their interest and value musically. In regard to the origin of these songs, Mr. Johnson says: "The negro took as his basic material just his native African rhythms and the King James version of the Bible and out of them created the Spirituals."

Each musician, singer, or listener will have his own favorites among the contents of each volume. Among those that appeal specially to the reviewer are "Sometimes I feel like a motherless child," "Nobody Knows," "Gimme yo' hand," "Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" "Most don't tollin' here," and "Members, don't git weary."

Genuinely American

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," so says the text. But "a little knowledge" of the origin of the Negro Spirituals adds immeasurably to our understanding and appreciation of them. This knowledge is presented in an able and scholarly manner by James Weldon Johnson in the first book and augmented in the present one. And what I said of the one, reviewed some months ago, applies equally to the other,—that no one vitally concerned with the

Who's Who AT IOWA

Justin M. Barry, Iowa's basketball coach and nationally known authority on that popular indoor game, is a likable, good natured fellow. And as for basketball, just watch him sometime, when a contest is close and the opposing team threatens. I've heard many comments such as these: "Why it's more fun watching Barry than it is the game." "He's a sort of a magician, gymnast, cheer leader, and artist thrown together."

Fifth Year at Iowa

"The 1927 season," he said, "holds one of the hardest schedules that an Iowa team has entered, at least since I've been here. I look for several ties again for the conference championship. No team will go through with 1,000 or even with but one loss. Our outlook is good but that of the teams to oppose us is also strong. Yes, it's going to be a tough season."

Mr. Barry is in his fifth season as Iowa's basketball mentor. Under him Iowa won her first conference championship in 1923, and triumphed for a second time in 1926. He is also assistant coach and scout of football, and coached the baseball team here in 1923 and '24. Prior to his coming here he was head football, basketball and track coach at Knox college, in Galesburg, Ill., for five years. During this time he had three undefeated basketball teams. He also coached the Madison, Wis., high school to a state basketball title before he came to Knox.

Author of Two Books

Mr. Barry is the author of two books: "How to Coach a High School Track Team" (1921), and "Individual and Team Play," a work on basketball (1926). The former was published by the Wilson Athletic company and they have recently requested for a new and revised edition of the book. The latter has proven itself far beyond even Mr. Barry's expectations and is steadily growing in popularity throughout the country.

Mr. Barry is past president of the Lions club of Iowa City, and is a member of the B. P. O. E., the Country club, and the Triangle club of Iowa City. He is also a member of Delta Upsilon, social fraternity.

Waterworks Bond, Sale of Gas Plant Agitated in Newton

NEWTON, Feb. 1. (AP)—Political apathy, so soundly lambasted by the political writers, seems to have this city in an iron-clad grip insofar as individuals are concerned, but one of the biggest city election votes in the history of Newton is expected this spring when the people express their wishes on a proposed $150,000 bond issue for waterworks improvement, and possibly on a proposition to sell the municipal gas plant.

R. W. Sayre, the present incumbent, is the only person as yet to announce his candidacy for the mayor's chair. Several of the aldermen, when approached on the subject, declared they will be candidates under no circumstances. Consequently, politics of an individual nature is dead.

But, inasmuch as the proposed $150,000 bond issue for waterworks improvement will put Newton almost to the limit of its bonded indebtedness, the suggestion has been made that the city sell its municipal gas plant and use the money in the water fund. One offer of $150,000 cash has been made.

Opponents of the idea point out that the gas plant is the only municipal utility now making money. Bonds have been paid off and a surplus accumulated during the past few years.

Those favoring the sale of the plant assert that it needs repairs estimated to cost $50,000. From all appearances, the proponents and the opponents seem about equal. If the question comes up for a vote before the city election, as it may, another record vote is expected.

Petitions are now being circulated to bring the proposed waterworks improvement bond issue before the voters at the city election. It is understood that petitions for the sale of the gas plant may be circulated four to two against the sale of the gas plant, hence the petitions.

Although the usual two tickets will be put in the field at the city caucuses, at present there is a dearth of willing candidates. Newton's rapid growth has made the office of mayor almost a full-time task, and has made the office of alderman a responsible one. Since the city is in the second class, the city officials receive little remuneration, and few care to assume the positions.

Professional ethics—convenient pretenses for avoiding the unportable.

Date for Freshmen Debate Trials Set

Will Select Three to Speak at Chicago March 8

Freshman debate trials will be held Monday, Feb. 7, at 7 p. m. in the liberal arts assembly room.

The affirmative debaters are: Forrest E. Linder of Oakland; Roland J. Van Florn of Des Moines; Gordon G. Gauss of Shenandoah; A. B. Cummings of Ute; Howard L. Little of Davenport; Virginia Jones of Grinnell; Fred M. Webber of Iowa City and M. Margolin of Detroit, Mich.

The debaters who will discuss the negative side are: Donald L. Harter of Millersburg, William A. Miller of Newton, James E. Carroll of Davenport, Roland L. Maack of Walcott, and Vernon B. Hunt of Mason City.

Each speaker will have seven minutes for his constructive speech and four minutes for rebuttal. The affirmative will condense or omit the customary introduction, and will spend all the time in argument.

These debaters will be divided into teams of two each and will discuss the question, "Resolved, that the press of the United States exerts a harmful influence on the community."

From this group of debaters, three speakers will be selected to debate at the University of Chicago, Mar. 8.

Five Pound Candy Box Rouses Pi Phi House

Aroused by the prolonged ringing of the house bells, thirty-two pajama-clad girls crept down the stairs of the Pi Phi Beta Phi house Monday night prepared for anything from fire to burglars.

Instead of the black masked, two-gun ruffian they had expected, they found reposing in the middle of the dining room table, a five-pound box of candy, and a card bearing the arrow of Pi Phi chained to the triangle of Delta Chi.

The arrow is the property of Olive Morse of Estherville while the triangle formerly belonged to William Boice of Washington. Miss Morse is a Junior in the college of liberal arts and a member of Octave Thonet. Mr. Boice is a freshman medic, a member of the inter-fraternity conference, and was a member of the Delta Chi water-polo team.

Chemist to Lecture on Colloids Friday

New Talk of Baconian Series Covers Field of Chemistry

"Colloids in Everyday Life," is the subject of the Baconian lecture to be given Friday by James Lawrence Whitman, associate professor of chemistry.

Substances of a colloidal nature Professor Whitman defines as those which are neither true chemical solutions nor mechanical suspensions, but those which are on the borderline between the two.

The phases of colloidal chemistry which are common in everyday life, and which are more or less familiar, will be discussed by Professor Whitman.

In the field of physiology, colloidal chemistry plays an important part. Work connected with the circulation of fluids in the body and in the digestive processes is partly of a colloidal nature and will be explained in the lecture. The connection of colloidal chemistry with the manufacture of various industrial products will also be outlined.

Englishman Talks to Iowa Students

Lindsay Asserts Lack of Necessities Causes Strikes

"It is the common deencies of developed people that are the cause of revolutions and of strikes," declared Kenneth Lindsay, former president of the Oxford Union, and a candidate for a seat in parliament a few years ago, speaking to an audience of students, faculty members and townspeople in the Iowa Union yesterday afternoon.

This denial of the common deencies was the ultimate result of the British labor strike last May. The strike itself was a failure because it had no object. If it had lasted ten days longer, it would have resulted in a civil war, Mr. Lindsay told his audience.

Depression does not reign everywhere in England, according to Mr. Lindsay. The tobacco, silk stocking, and automobile industries are booming, as well as all London east side stores.

A discussion lasting for longer than half an hour was started when a faculty member asked Mr. Lindsay his opinion on the liquor problem. The English student immediately replied that he would be opposed to prohibition in England at the present. England is vastly different from America in this respect, for it is not ready for prohibition now. Englishmen are not willing to give up their traditions, and an introduction of prohibition would stimulate more unemployment, he pointed out.

"The problem with prohibition in America is that it is played up too much, and taken as a joke by some people. If it were made a normal thing, less drinking and law violation would take place," Mr. Lindsay commented.

Research Club to Hold Sixth Meeting

Discussion to Include Biological, Medical Subjects

The Iowa branch of the society for Experimental Biology and Medicine, which was organized about two years ago, will hold its sixth meeting in room 321 of the chemistry building, tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The program will consist of discussions of "Cough as a Factor of Chronicity in Experimental Lung Abscess," by C. M. Van Allen, R. A. Fox, and H. G. Colle; "Metabolic Rate Differences in Amblystoma Larvae," by O. M. Helfft; "Respiratory Function of the Swimbladder in Lepidosteus," by George G. Potter.

"Hydrogen Ion Concentration and Carbon Dioxide Content of the Blood of Parathyroidectomized Dogs," by W. F. Wenner and Edward Huntwyler; "The Effect of Some Capillary Active Substances on the Permeability of Colloidion Membranes, Preliminary Report," by E. R. Norris; and the preliminary report of the "Presence of Aluminum in the Blood," by J. W. Muil, D. B. Morrison, and V. C. Meyers.

The purpose of this society is to promote research in biology and medicine by the experimental method. The proceedings of these researches are published monthly during the school year. The society was organized in New York about twenty-five years ago.

At the last meeting of the main society in New York, Doctors Atkinson, Hansmann, Helft and Flass were added to the membership of the local organization.

Journalism School Enrollment Shows Large Increase

Additional students have joined the ranks of the journalists this semester, as shown by the increased registration in nearly every class in the school of journalism. One class, the high school paper, is so large that no classroom in the journalism building is big enough to accommodate it, and a migration to some other university building will be necessary.

This class is taught by George H. Gallup, at the request of the college of education. It is for the benefit of students who plan to become high school teachers and to have charge of high school papers and annuals.

At the last meeting of the main society in New York, Doctors Atkinson, Hansmann, Helft and Flass were added to the membership of the local organization.

Array of Veterans Enter in Midwest A. A. U. Swimming Meet

1926 Champions to Defend Titles in Meet Saturday

McCullough, Carter, McClintock All Wear Crowns

Entry lists for the Midwestern A.A.U. tank meet to be held Saturday in the new Iowa field house pool disclose an array of veterans who will compete for honors in this year's meet.

Champions of 1926, will defend their titles in the 50-yard free style, the 220-yard breast stroke, and the low board and fancy diving. Among the entries, J. C. McClintock, a star of the varsity team, returns to swim the 50-yard free style; M. L. Carter, another present Iowa performer, swims the 220-yard breast stroke; and W. A. McCullough, Iowa's 1924 captain, now swimming for Clinton Y.M.C.A., will attempt to retain his fancy diving crown.

Entries represent the university, with a number of freshmen listed as unattached from Iowa City and Davenport. Others are from Roosevelt high school, Des Moines; Dolph in club, Iowa City; Clinton Y.M.C.A.; University high, Iowa City; and Davenport Y.M.C.A.

The Entries
50-yard free style: Chase of Roosevelt high, Des Moines; Taylor, Roosevelt high, Des Moines; Billick, Roosevelt high, Des Moines; Peterson, unattached; Crookham, unattached; Nelson, unattached; Crookham, unattached; Peterson, unattached; and Pattison, McClintock, Killbrew, and Kincaid, of Iowa.
100-yard free style: Crookham, unattached; Little, unattached; Taylor, Roosevelt high, Des Moines; Peterson, unattached; Chase, Roose-

St. Patrick's Five to Play at Cedar Rapids Tonight

A dozen St. Patrick's basketball players will make the trip to Cedar Rapids tonight to meet the St. Patrick's five of that city. The Irish have renewed confidence following their victory over Illinois Military academy last Saturday, and have been going through the last few nights' drills with lots of snap.

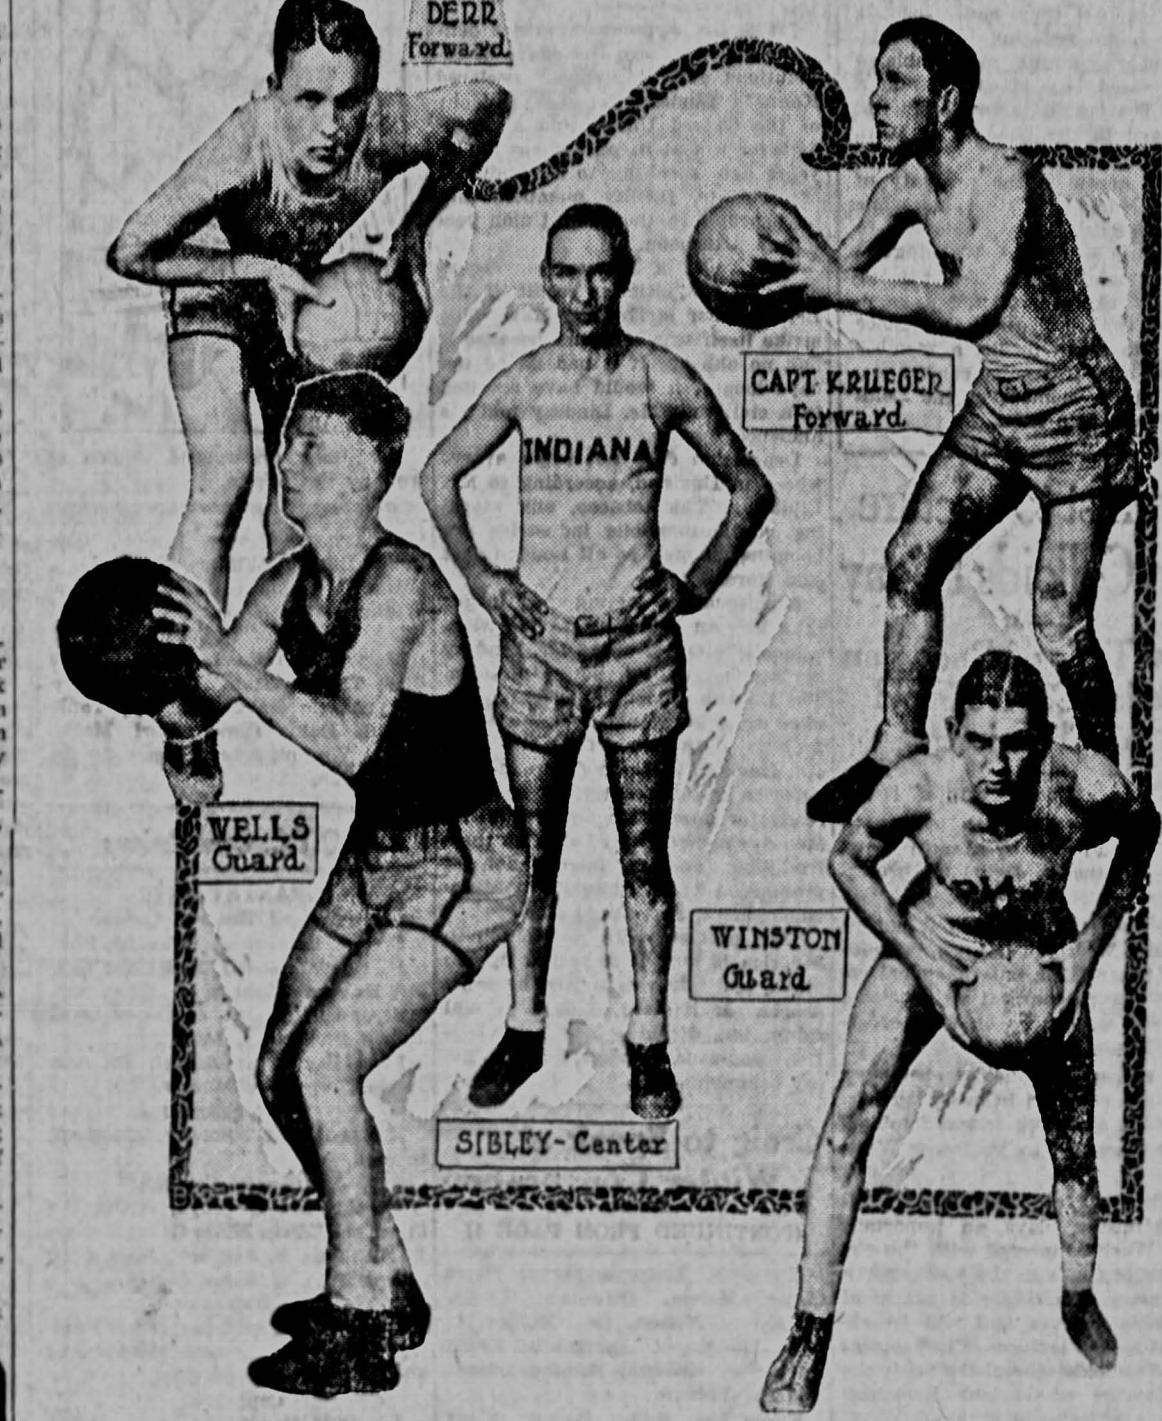

The lineup for the locals will probably be the same as that which has started in previous contests, although Wallace may replace Reed at left guard.

The game tonight is the only one on schedule for the Green and White five until Feb. 11, as the game this Friday with Immaculate Conception of Cedar Rapids has been cancelled. Illinois Military academy will play its return engagement here a week from Friday.

The probable lineups:
Iowa City
Kelleher, r.f.; Wellner, Wilkinson, l.f.; Hoek, Glasgow, c.; Nolan, Walsh, r.g.; Gillen, Reed, l.g.; Hanley

velt high, Des Moines; McCintock, Pattison, and Turner, of Iowa.
150-yard back stroke: Little, unattached; Marble, Wing, and Patte, of Iowa; Lloyd, University high, Iowa City; Nelson, unattached; and Turbett, unattached.
220-yard breast stroke: Gordon, Davenport Y.M.C.A.; Naylor, Davenport Y.M.C.A.; Bow, Weise, Marble, Goldman, and Carter, of Iowa.
Fancy diving: McCullough, Clinton Y.M.C.A.; Billick, Roosevelt high, Des Moines; Little, unattached; Britton, Keyes, and Fairgrave, of Iowa; and Bender, unattached.
Special 100-yard free style: Fairgrave, Joseph, Wylie, Flaegen, Willingham, Phillips, Christie, and Lando, all of Iowa.

Hoosier Five Still in Big Ten Race

Here are some of the Indiana basketball stars who have been making things warm for the other Big Ten teams. The Hoosiers' only defeat so far is by Michigan. Jack Winston, racy back guard, completed three years of competition against Chicago Jan. 29. His loss will be keenly felt by the Deamens.

Mother of Young, Channel Swimmer Arrives on Coast

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Janet Young, of Toronto, Ont., mother of George Young, winner of the Santa Catalina island marathon, arrived here today and expressed disappointment that her son had left to fill a theater engagement in San Francisco and was not present to greet her.

Johnny Walker, swimming trainer of Toronto, accompanied Mrs. Young on the western trip.

Young's appearance before immigration authorities has been postponed until Friday. The swimmer and his pal, Bill Hastings, have been requested to submit credentials to establish their legal entrance into this country from Canada.

Doesn't Trust Self? FREMONT, O. — Safety-Service Director Homer Johnston arranged to furnish $25,000 bond in connection with his office during 1927, instead of the required $10,000. "I don't want anybody to lose anything on my account," he explained.

Intramural Athletics

Phi Kappa defeated Kappa Sigma 15 to 6 in a near football game last night in the interfraternity basketball tournament. The presence of Forrest Olson and Mayes McClain of football fame added plenty of weight to the Kappa Sigma line plunging game, but weakness in finding the basket cost them the contest. Dick Boyles led Kappa Sigma scoring with a basket and a free throw, while Hobson of the Phi Kaps was the high point man of the evening with two baskets and a free throw.

The second game of the evening was an exhibition of poor basket ball and sportsmanship, when Beta Theta Pi took a 14 to 3 victory from Sigma Phi Epsilon. The Betas made every point from the free throw line, while the Sig Eps managed to get only one basket between their plaintive wailings to the referee. Both teams showed a "rotten" brand of basket ball and the game was the worst yet played in the tournament.

Tonight's games will see Delta Chi vs. Phi Kappa Sigma in the first contest, while Chi Kappa Pi meets Beta Phi Sigma in the nightcap.

Paolino Ready for Tex's Elimination Boxing Tournament

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—Paolino, the wood chopping heavyweight from Spain, jumped back into the Tex Rickard elimination tournament today when he posted $1,000 to guarantee meeting Knute Hansen, Danish boxer from Wisconsin, on March 3 at Madison Square Garden. The match will be for ten rounds.

Hansen and Paolino originally were slated to meet Feb. 7, the date now occupied by the Young Striling-Eddie Huffman fight.

The state athletic commission ruled that the Spanish fighter, although pleading an injured hand, was fit to fight next Monday, but approved the postponement at the suggestion of Jess McMahon, Garden matchmaker. Hansen also agreed to post $1,000 for the fight. McMahon meanwhile is pushing negotiations to put another of the outstanding heavyweight contenders, Jack Sharkey, of Boston, into the ring with Mike McGuffee, conqueror of Paul Berlenbach on Feb. 25. McGuffee already has accepted terms and McMahon hopes to reach an agreement tomorrow with Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager.

Loss of Chapman Handicaps Badger Cinder Prospects

Distance Runner Will Not Race Against Iowa Feb. 12

Coach Tom Jones' Badger track squad, facing Iowa's picked members of the spiked foot order a week from Saturday, will be handicapped by the loss of Chapman, holder of the two mile record, and Francis, star sprinter.

Chapman has been bothered by a trio of ailments and is giving himself a general going over to get into the best of shape. The star distance runner has had his tonsils removed and will have an operation on his nose soon. A pair of very sore feet have also handicapped him and he is taking a much needed rest.

Francis was the best of the sprinters, and an all important leg on the mile relay team.

Chapman Leaves Gap
Chapman, running on the four mile relay squad as a two miler, was a real mainstay, and the gap will be hard for Coach Jones to fill. It is expected that he will be in shape to run at the conference indoor meet at Evanston.

Erickson will be the leader of the half milers with Walters and Reeves in the running. In a time trial run off Jan. 15, Erickson covered the distance in 2:03 which was a good performance for so early in the season.

In the mile Schutte, captain of the harriers will be back, as will Payne, Bullamore, Petaja, and the two Zola brothers.

Sprints will be taken care of by Hummel, captain of the fresh trackers of last year, Rose, Shaw, Bullamore, Petaja, and the two Zola brothers.

Strong in Quarter
In the quarter several holdovers from last year, Stowe, Dougan, and Kanaly, plus Gil Smith, a veteran of two years ago, will be in the competition.

The two milers bring forth a outstanding array of runners in Chapman, once he is in shape, Gumbrecht, Stanley and John Zola, and Williamson.

Badgers are well fortified in the high jump with Captain McGinnis, Pahlmeyer, Bratty, and Barnes, all veterans of last year.

In the pole vault "Chuck" McGinnis will force his opponents to extend themselves. He has been clearing 12 feet, 6 inches with ease all year.

Ames Grapplers Down Kansas Aggies With Two Regulars

AMES, Feb. 1 (AP)—With only two regulars in the lineup, Iowa State college grapplers continued their string of triumphs by defeating the Kansas Aggies in a mat duel here tonight, 19 to 8.

Rapp, Ames entry in the 135-pound class, won by decision over McGaslin of Kansas State, in the feature event of the meet.

Rollinger Beats Augustine
DES MOINES, Feb. 1 (AP)—Lou Rollinger of Waterloo, beat Mike Augustine of St. Paul in a ten round bout here tonight. Teddy Murphy and Elmer Leonard, Des Moines, fought to a draw.

Freshman Cinder Squad Primes for Four Wire Meets

Yearling tracksters are working every night in preparation for the heavy indoor telegraphic track schedule, which includes three dual meets with Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota, and the Big Ten wire meet.

Of the three teams engaging the Hawkeye yearlings Illinois is probably the best. It is reputed to be one of the strongest freshman track squads in the history of the school and will undoubtedly furnish Iowa the most competition.

The telegraphic schedule: Feb. 12-13—Wisconsin vs. Iowa, Feb. 26-27—Minnesota vs. Iowa, March 2-3—Illinois vs. Iowa, March 16-17—Conference wire meet.

Second Channel Conqueror Rests After Hard Task

Sullivan Recuperates From Long Stay in Chilly Waters

(By The Associated Press)
LONG BEACH, Cal. Feb. 1—With the distinction of being the second man, and the first American to swim the channel, Henry F. Sullivan, of Lowell, Mass., today recuperated at a bath establishment here.

Sullivan, who has a crossing of the English channel to his credit, as well as a number of nautical records and who was an unsuccessful entrant in the Wrigley $25,000 marathon, touched shore at Point Vicente a few minutes before midnight last night, completing the channel swim in 22 hours and 45 minutes.

City High Primes for Next Contest With U. High Five

Loss of Reinhardt to Handicap Red and White Cagers

City high went through a sizzling practice session last night in preparation for the return game with University high, next Friday. Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity furnished the chief competition in the scrimmage, both last night and Monday.

With their return to their newly oiled floor, the Little Hawks' work is much better than the preceding week. Idema, flashy forward, outdid himself in looping them through the netting, several being delivered from the center of the floor.

The loss of Reinhardt, speedy guard from Centralia, Ill., will be keenly felt and Coach Soucek is keeping an anxious eye peeled for a possible substitute. Curry and Ketselson are showing up the best in the vacant position and as matters now stand, each has about an equal chance to keep watch over U. high's goal Friday night.

Reinhardt has played a fast game all season but because of the eight semester ruling, he is forced to relinquish his job to one of his team mates. Last year, while playing on the Centralia five, he was picked as an all-state forward. This season, although changing his playing position to guard, he would have had a good chance to cop similar honors had he played the entire season.

The game Friday night should be a world beater as U. high is getting a little tired of being on the losing end of the past four games with the Red and White, and are still set to win. The Little Hawks are equally determined to put over a victory.

Six Teams Take Part in Program for This Month

Barrymen Have Busy Time in Five Big Ten Battles

The year's briefest month contains more contests for University of Iowa athletic teams than did all of November, December, and January, the sports calendar discloses.

A total of nineteen contests—nine at home and ten on foreign territory—will occupy the basketball, swimming, wrestling, track, gymnastics, and fencing teams. Only seven contests have been played in the past three months.

Two Big Week-ends
Two big week-ends lie ahead of Hawkeye athletes. On Feb. 19, three attractions at home and three away have been arranged. These are Purdue basketball, Northwestern swimming, and Nebraska wrestling at Iowa City, and Illinois track, gymnastics, and fencing at Urbana.

From Friday, Feb. 11, to Monday, Feb. 14, Hawkeye teams must compete in five contests. Illinois basketball, Wisconsin track, and Michigan swimming are the home attractions; Minnesota swimming and Minnesota wrestling are the foreign tilts.

Cagers Business
Coach Sam Barry's basketball team, with five games of which three are at home, is the busiest group of athletes. Ohio State, Illinois, Purdue, and Chicago are scheduled to appear at Iowa City, while the Hawkeyes must travel to Wisconsin.

The swimmers face Michigan and Northwestern in their own pool and Minnesota and Chicago afield. Nebraska and Illinois come to Iowa City as opposition for the wrestlers; the Iowans go to Chicago and Minnesota.

Wisconsin is the sole track attraction at home. The Iowans meet Illinois in a dual at Urbana and compete in the Illini Relays also at Urbana.

The gymnasts travel to Illinois and Minnesota and the fencers accompany the acrobats to Illinois.

Nodak Aggies Rally in Last Half to Defeat Morningside

SIOUX CITY, Feb. 1 (AP)—After Morningside had held the North Dakota Aggies on even terms in the first half here tonight, the Bison quintet hit its stride and had little trouble in winning a north central conference game 31 to 21. Miller, Bison guard was the outstanding player for his team in spite of a lack of scoring power. Van Clitters, guard, starred for Morningside.

Hornsby Must Sell Card Stock, Says Giant President

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby must dispose of his stock in the St. Louis Cardinals if he expects to play major league baseball next summer, President Charles A. Stoneham of the New York Giants asserted today.

Taking cognizance of the star second baseman's election to the board of directors of the St. Louis club, Mr. Stoneham said that "under no circumstances will the Giants return Hornsby to the Cardinals."

"The deal for Hornsby has been completed and approved by the league," he continued. "If he fails to dispose of his stock, he is simply out of job and the salary that goes with it. We make this trade in good faith, delivering Frank Frisch and Jimmy Ring to the Cardinals without any strings attached to them. It is up to St. Louis to do the same in regard to Hornsby. There is no chance of Hornsby re-verting back to the Cards on account of this stock tangle. That is a problem for Hornsby to settle with his own club. But if Hornsby plays ball next year it will be with the New York Giants."

This view coincided with that of John A. Heydler, president of the National league. Heydler said this deal would stand.

Iowa Fixes Dates for Golf Matches
Three Big Ten Links Meets Arranged; Seek Two More

Dates for three matches with Big Ten golf teams have already been set and negotiations are now under way to bring Iowa's link schedule to five games. Matches with Wisconsin, Northwestern, and Chicago have already been agreed upon.

The dates for these meetings are: May 7, Wisconsin at Iowa City; May 13, Northwestern at Evanston; and May 27, Chicago at Iowa City. Beside these teams, matches with Illinois and Minnesota are being sought by Coach Kennett. Hawkeye linksmen will also compete in the western conference meet at Chicago early in June.

BOWLING

A new league record individual score was made last night when Dee's bowling team, topped the ten pins to count up to 253. The former record, held by Ed. Richerts, was 237.

After losing one game to the Jefferson Hotel team, Racine's came back and won the remaining two to keep their hold on the first position. By swamping Yetter's three games to nothing, Dee's took a firm hold on second place.

In the remaining match, Coast's beat Bremer's Hawkeyes two out of the three games.

The schedule in the Fraternity league tonight is: Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Beta Theta Pi; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Chi; Phi Delta Theta vs. Kappa Sigma; Delta Tau Delta vs. Phi Kappa Psi.

Wildcats Seek Phelan After Spears Refuses

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—With the decision of Dr. Clarence W. Spears to remain at the University of Minnesota as head football coach, Kenneth L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern university, tonight began other negotiations to select the successor to Glen "Biblethwaite" Jimmie Phelan, who learned football at Notre Dame during the playing career of Knute Rockne, is understood to be one of the outstanding choices.

Phelan is coach at Purdue, but is not under contract.

After being dumb five years, Nix Methvin, Decatur, Ga., is able to speak again by reason of a metal tube that connects an air hole in his throat with his lips.

No more haunting, taunting hot-pipe Blues!

"THE HOT-PIPE BLUES" is now a back-number... a dirge of days gone by. Pipes no longer moan, "What'll I do?" They've changed their tune to "Sweet and cool," and "This is my lucky day!"

So, if your pipe still gets red-hot, it's ten-to-one you're still smoking tobacco that's cut too fine. Finely cut tobacco burns fast and naturally smokes hot... PIPE tobacco should be cut in large flakes... slow-burning... cool-smoking!

Try this on your pipe: First ream it clean, then fill it full of Granger Rough Cut... It's the latest pipe-hit, a perfect classic, never gets hot. Notice how slow Granger's rough flakes burn... how cool it smokes. Like a sea-breeze from morning till night.

Granger ends all your pipe discord. For it's neither sharp nor flat—but smooth and "mellowdious"... Just keep your old pipe packed with Granger and life'll be one long sweet song!

Wife Killer Comes to Psychopathic Ward

Judge Moffet Sends Ollie Inman Here for Observation to Save Money for State on Alienist Report

Ollie Inman, West Liberty man accused of wife murder, was brought to the psychopathic hospital of the university last Sunday and will be kept here until Saturday, while mental specialists will have him under observation, it was learned last night.

Inman was brought here on the order of Judge John T. Moffet, of Cedar county, before whom Inman will be tried next Monday, in an effort to forestall any efforts attorneys for the prisoner might have of calling alienists to testify as to his sanity on the day he killed his wife.

What Moffet is trying to determine, apparently in an effort to save the state money, and save time in trying the case, is whether, in the opinion of alienists, Inman was insane on New Year's eve when he is said to have beat Mrs. Inman to death with a meat chopper.

This is said to be the first time in an Iowa criminal case where a judge who is to preside at a trial took action of this kind.

Nagle Introduces Appropriation Bill Before Legislature

Measure Asks Study of Criminal Court Procedure

Lee Nagle, republican, who recently won the contested election for representative from Johnson county from Samuel D. Whiting, democrat, introduced his first bill in the state legislature yesterday afternoon.

Nagle's bill calls for an appropriation of $15,000 for a thorough study of the criminal court procedure of this state. George Whitney, supporter of the bill and editor of the Code of Iowa, would be head of the commission, as specified by the bill.

Prof. Rollin M. Perkins, of the college of law, here, drafted the measure and sent it to Mr. Nagle. Nagle has the belief that there are loopholes in the criminal procedure of the Iowa courts, and that the commission that would be appointed could do a great deal toward plugging up these loopholes.

Pica Ball's Red Hot Band

Al Gabel and his Broadway Entertainers, a ten piece orchestra from Chicago, who will play for the Pica Ball, journalists' annual all-university party, to be held at the Iowa Memorial Union, Friday, Feb. 4. The band comes here direct from a six-month's engagement at the Pirate Ship Cafe, at Detroit.

Representative of Iowa Has Drainage Bill Before Senate

Proposed Project Asks Dissolution of Land That Fails

A bill to provide for the dissolution of organized drainage project districts when they prove unsuccessful and therefore become a detriment to the territory which they affect was presented to the state senate yesterday by Senator Clearman of Oxford, senate representative for Johnson and Iowa counties. The bill was likewise presented to the house of representatives by Representative Blythe of Iowa county.

The presentation of the proposed law, in the interests of Iowa county, follows an unsuccessful drainage project attempted in the western section of that county. In an attempt to better drainage conditions in that county, a drainage district was organized, as provided for by law, and a stream-straightening project was begun which proved unsatisfactory.

Interurban Derails; Threatens to Upset

Extra Car on Special Car Jumps Track at Clinton, Washington Streets; Crew Replaces it After Three Hours

An extra coach of the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Interurban railway company ran off the track at the corner of Washington and Clinton streets just as the cars were pulling into Iowa City shortly before 7 o'clock last night. A defective rail is thought to have been the cause. No one was injured in the accident, and the coach escaped undamaged.

Passengers standing on the steps of the coach jumped when they thought it would tip over after the front trucks had left the track. It quickly righted, however, when the front car stopped, and lodged across the tracks.

Company's Dragline Machine Removes Last Span of College Street Viaduct

College street viaduct, the construction of which was one of the noteworthy events in nineteenth century Iowa City history, will pass into memory Sunday when the A. A. Alexander construction company's big dragline machine tears out the last span.

The span now standing is being used as a platform for the conveyance of concrete which is filling the forms for the concrete beams.

Lying idly aside surveying the heap of tangled and twisted steel which it threw aside as it wrecked the first span last week, the ponderous dragline again started its destruction late yesterday afternoon by tearing out sections of the heavy bridge planking.

Paving Plans for Local Road Are Near Completion

Plans, calling for the paving of highway number thirty-two, eight and three-quarter miles east of Iowa City, are nearly completed at Ames and will undoubtedly be here in the next few days, according to George M. Griffith, county engineer.

Upon their arrival the plans will be considered by the county board of supervisors and the contract let soon afterwards, probably in the course of two or three weeks.

McChesney Buick Stolen Second Time This Winter

The Buick coupe belonging to Frederick McChesney, 12 E. Bloomington, was stolen last night for the second time this winter. It was taken from in front of his residence between 5 and 7:30 o'clock.

McChesney's car was stolen Dec. 17, and found the next day in the rear of an old barn east of Cedar Rapids.

Kiwanis Club Hears Discussion on Proposed Inland Waterway Project

A talk on inland water routes and their benefits to the middlewest was given at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday at Youde's inn by H. P. Wickham of Minneapolis, who is connected with the Upper Mississippi Barge Line company.

This company was formed to persuade the government, which alone has the right to navigate on the Mississippi river, to extend the route which it now operates between New Orleans and St. Louis up the river to the twin cities. Mr. Wickham stated, in due to the Panama canal being built, a group of shippers requesting the installation, granted forty-five more ships, consented to operate the route, and agreed to pay the owners of these barges five per cent on their money invested.

The situation of the middle west at the present time, Mr. Wickham stated, is due to the Panama canal which makes it possible for ships to be made from New York to San Francisco more cheaply than from St. Paul to Denver or Salt Lake City.

The cheapness of the water routes which have connected the eastern, southern, and western coasts has resulted in the isolation of the central states so that development industrially has been halted.

Fraternal Friction Roused by Fight Over New Name

Organized fraternity differences threatened to come in the limelight again last night at the University of Iowa when the Iowa Union when the Interfraternity conference, represented by the president of every Greek letter group having business at the University of Iowa, moved to change its name from "Interfraternity Conference" to "Iowa Men's Panhellenic Council."

House Committee Reports Highway Bill for Reading

Lovrien Plan Provides Eleven State Road Commissioners Predict Passage

Day in Des Moines

Gov. Hammill Names Members

Gov. Hammill probably will send to the senate tomorrow the names of two appointees to the state highway commission. One of the probably will be that of Carl Rice of Burlington, who received a recess appointment last spring. James V. Holden, who was appointed to that commission by Gov. Hammill shortly after the last legislature had failed to confirm Holden, should again be the choice of the governor, but he has not indicated the Holden will be the man named for the place. Holden's recess appointment expires Feb. 9, and it appears highly probable that the governor will allow the senate several days in advance of this date to consider the appointment of a successor.
