

Council Accepts Lighting Bids

Company Starts 'Great White Way' During Next Week

Iowa City's anxiously awaited "Great White Way" will soon be a reality.

This was decided last night when the city council, meeting in a regular session at 8 p. m., took the final step toward the installation of a new lighting system in the business district by awarding the bid for the work to Carl Stach, of Iowa City. Stach's bid was $11,659.

The type of lights that will soon brighten the streets of the city is the Westinghouse Gothic Standard, with paragon senior lighting units.

According to the contract which was approved, the work on the system must begin not later than Oct. 3 and be completed not later than Dec. 3.

Eight bids were made on six different types of lighting equipment. Although bids were opened at 2 p. m. yesterday, the contract was not let until representatives of the various companies had demonstrated the types of lighting tops to be used before the members of the council.

The new lights have a single unit on top of a tall iron base. Each of the units furnishes an illumination of 15,000 candle power. Sixty-four lights will be installed, according to the terms of the contract.

Streets Included

The streets where the fixtures will be installed are as follows:

Both sides of College street between Clinton and Linn streets.

South side of Washington street between Capitol and Linn streets.

North side of Washington street between Clinton and Linn street.

West side of Clinton street between College and Washington streets.

East side of Clinton street between College street and Iowa avenue.

Both sides of Dubuque street between College street and Iowa avenue.

Bids were also opened at 2 p. m. yesterday for the Suburban Heights sewer improvement program. The contract was granted to Percy P. Smith, of Cedar Rapids, on a bid of $3,891.

After making an amendment to have the paving on Dubuque road from the Prairie du Chien road to Graessler's Turn thirty feet wide with curb and gutter, and from Graessler's Turn to the city limits, eighteen feet wide without curb and gutter, a resolution overruling objections to a $148,343 project for paving was passed by the council.

Bids for the paving contract will be opened Oct. 14, and the work will be started Oct. 24 and completed by May 31, 1928.

A motion was passed to instruct the city engineer to prepare a plat, schedule, and estimates of cost for paving of Kirkwood avenue from the paving in place to the city limits. The paving will be an eighteen-foot slab without curb and gutter.

The same dates for opening bids on a $10,000 sidewalk program were set, after a similar resolution overruling objections to it had been passed. The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids. A motion was passed striking out sidewalk improvement in front of the property of C. E. Lamb, 521 S. Linn.

To Build Sidewalk

A sidewalk will also be constructed on the south side of Lafayette street from the alley west to the east side of Clinton street. A motion was passed to include it in the program.

"The Finest Sort" Attend Iowa State

Ames, Sept. 23 (AP)—Eighty-five or ninety per cent of the students who enter college are of "the finest sort," while the remaining ten or fifteen per cent come to college with other ideas than the pursuit of scholarship and are better eliminated, R. M. Hughes, new president of Iowa State college, declared in an address to the college staff here today.

The college is "not a social, athletic, religious, reformatory or corrective institution," Mr. Hughes said, adding, "we hope and expect that there will be much athletic and much religious life and that many boys and girls will grow stronger in character here, but we can only offer to accept and retain students of good character who eagerly desire an education."

James Ray Takes Double Honors in National Air Meet

FELTS FIELD, Spokane, Wash., Sept. 23 (AP)—James Ray of Willow Grove, Pa., emerged victorious in two events in competition with civilian aviators. Elgers of Selfridge Field, Mich., carried away the honors in the first military race of the 1927 National Air meet here today.

Attaining average speed of 138.394 miles an hour, Ray, flying in a Pitcairn Sequoia plane, raced to first place in the Aviation Town and Country club trophy speed and efficiency race for commercial planes, and came back strong to win the Seattle Chamber of Commerce Trophy race. E. E. Ballough, Chicago, finished second in both events.

Lieut. W. L. Cornelius of Selfridge Field, flying in the first military event, won the pursuit race for army ships with an average speed of 154.412 miles an hour. Lieut. L. A. Woodring was second at 155.046 miles; Lieut. L. C. Malory, third, at 153.660 miles and Lieut. W. A. Maxwell of Kelly Field, the only other contestant, fourth, at 153.583 miles an hour. This race was sixty miles in length around a six miles course.

In a speed and efficiency race for commercial ships for the Detroit Navy trophy, F. M. Hawks of Houston, Texas, won the speed event in a Ryan brougham with an average of 104.837 miles an hour.

New Jersey Fires Prohibition Agents

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—With the dismissal today of eighteen prohibition agents at Newark, plans went forward for a general clean-up of New Jersey regarded by treasury officials as presenting practically the greatest problem of prohibition enforcement found in the country.

Assistant secretary Lowman, in charge of prohibition enforcement, said the agents were dismissed for the good of the service.

Gene Happy Over Hard Earned Win; Leaves for Rest

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Happy that he has proven himself at last a fighter able to meet Jack Dempsey at his own game and still win even though the issue was clouded by a "long count," Gene Tunney today prepared to head home.

The heavyweight champion's entourage, as he prefers to call it, had reservations for a party of about twenty on the Twentieth Century, leaving Chicago at 1:40 p. m. tomorrow for New York. Tunney still is undecided whether he will leave the train at Cleveland for a few days visit with friends or continue straight home to his native Greenwich village.

Invitation from Thompson

Tunney has an invitation from Mayor William Hale Thompson to attend a luncheon in the champion's honor tomorrow noon and, if he accepts, may not leave the city until later.

Before deserting his hotel apartment here this afternoon to visit friends for dinner, Tunney expressed little sympathy with the claim of Leo P. Flynn, filed with the Illinois state athletic commission, that the champion was given the benefit of too long a count when Dempsey floored him in the seventh round.

"Flynn has been appealing decisions all his life," Tunney remarked. "It isn't surprising that he intends to appeal the decision of last night. I watched Dempsey when I was down in the seventh and watched the referee count. I could have risen any time but preferred to gain the benefit of the full rest. My seconds waved me to stay down when I was about to rise at the count of five."

Willing to Meet Jack Again

Gene said he was perfectly willing to meet Dempsey again if the issue still was in doubt.

"Why shouldn't I?" he asked. "I can beat Dempsey every day in the week and for another million dollars I'd fight anyone. This is a business, big business, and personal feeling doesn't enter."

Title Scrap Takes Toll Six Lives

While Tunney and Dempsey punched each other with padded gloves last night, more disastrous effects were felt by fight fans, who, listening to radio accounts miles from the ring, succumbed to heart ailments during the excitement of the battle.

At Algona, S. W. Cromwell, 64 years old, dropped dead from heart disease during the fight. He had been referee in bankruptcy for the central division of the northwest Iowa district for twenty years, and also served as justice of the peace and city clerk.

The thrilling seventh round which Tunney survived proved fatal to Charles F. Brown, 64 years old, of Watertown, N. Y., as he collapsed in front of the loudspeaker.

Other fatalities in front of radios during the fight were William J. Reardon, 75 years old, of Valley Falls, N. Y.; Rueben J. Glick, Shamokin, Pa.; Richard W. O'Connell, Troy, N. Y.; and Joseph M. Deegan, Bridgeport, Conn.

Five Others Also Killed; Diplomat on Way to See Wife

Observers Say Wing of Ship Crumpled; Nation Mourns

BERLIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Baron Ago von Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, and five others were hurled to death today when an airplane in which the Baron was flying to meet his wife and child crashed to earth near Schlez in Thuringia. The accident, one of the worst in German commercial aviation history, has plunged the German nation into grief and caused consternation in German flying circles.

The plane was one operated by "Lufthansa," the government subsidized aviation company. It was of the Dornier-Merkur type and had been in operation for several months. Mechanics inspected it this morning before it left for Berlin, and so far the exact cause of the accident has not been determined.

A witness who told of seeing the plane over Schlez said a wing crumpled as the plane plunged to earth. The pilot in charge was Willy Charlet, a trusted navigator, who had been a pilot since the war and had flown more than 150,000 miles for "Lufthansa" without an accident. The inability of aviation authorities to establish a definite cause of the accident gave rise to rumors that sabotage was responsible. Officials of "Lufthansa" said there was no foundation for this report.

Five Instantly Killed

It was established that the Baron, Pilot Charlet, and three passengers were instantly killed. The mechanic died shortly after the crash. The passengers included Hans von Arnim, son of Admiral Volkmar von Arnim, who was in charge of the traffic division of Tempelhof air-drome. He had been assigned by "Lufthansa" to accompany the Baron. The others killed were Hans Oamer, pupil at the Straaken air pilots school, Rudolf Roell, clerk at the main offices of the Federal railways, and Mechanic Seidel.

The Baron, who was on holiday from his post at Washington, boarded the plane at Berlin this morning to fly to Munich to meet the Baroness and their only child, Edith.

The plane took the air without difficulty and flew to Schkeudnitz air-drome for Leipzig and Halle, where another successful take-off was made and the plane headed southward. Nothing more was known of it until a terse message telling of the crash and the ambassador's death was received.

Bodies Mutilated

The Baroness learned of her husband's death when she arrived in Munich. She immediately retired to Hainhauser Castle, near Munich, which is the country home of Baron von Hatel, former counselor of the German embassy in Washington.

The debris offered a pitiful sight to those who rushed to the rescue. All the bodies were badly mutilated and the plane was demolished with the exception of one wing.

The motor had been driven deep into the ground by the force of the impact. Condolences from the United States and other countries have been sent in large numbers to the Baroness. The whole German press deplored the tragic death as the loss of one of Germany's most able diplomatic representatives, whose place will be filled only with difficulty. Especially stressed in the laudations and laments for the Baron is the successful tenure of the embassy post at Washington, where as Germany's second post-war ambassador, he succeeded Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt in 1924.

Legion Men Quit Paris Boulevards

Pershing Greeted by French "Tiger" Clemenceau

PARIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The American Legionnaires have deserted Paris, overseas caps are absent from the boulevards, and the stirring tunes of American bands no longer are heard.

The legion, its convention ended yesterday, has evacuated the French capital, journeying to the battle fields of Saint Michle, Verdun, Chateau Thierry and the Argonne.

A squadron of one hundred aviators flew over Le Bourget flying field in honor of the legion, and a committee of the Legion headed by its new commander, E. E. Spafford, called on France's war time premier, Georges Clemenceau. The old "Tiger" drew in his claws and paid a welcome and then the Legionnaires departed and scattered, their work done.

Clemenceau Receives Pershing

General John J. Pershing, former national commander Howard P. Savage and Commander Spafford alone were received by Clemenceau in his temporary Parisian home. As soon as the latter caught sight of General Pershing he leaped forward and clasped the American war time commander in his arms. Both men were deeply moved, General Pershing was pale and his eyes were heavy as if he were feeling the strain of the past few days, while Clemenceau's "Mongolian" mustache was twitching and his keen little grey eyes snapping.

Frenchman Banters Friend

Then the familiar "Demon," humorously inclined, in Clemenceau "rose to the surface."

"What the devil did you come here for?" he asked in English.

"I came to see you and am glad to see you younger than ever," General Pershing replied.

"You also," Clemenceau answered. Then he took the general by the hand and did a few lively dance steps despite his age, an action that started those present applauding.

They said that when the general had told Clemenceau he was younger than ever the premier had smiled but rather disabusedly, saying:

"Yes, just 86 years young. How old is my friend Chauncey Depew?"

The Le Bourget flying show was the greatest that has been put on here in a long time. Past pursuit planes, battle planes, heavy bombers and light spots obscured the sky for nearly an hour.

Geologists Bring Mastodon Bones to Iowa Museum

Nearly a truck load of bones from the skeleton of a single mastodon, or great elephant, which were found near High Amana last July, was brought to Iowa City recently by Prof. Abram O. Thomas of the department of geology.

The bones will be treated and prepared for preservation and will be added to the university geological collection.

The bones were found in the mud bottom of an unnamed creek near High Amana, by Charles F. Noe, '98, and Frederick W. Miller, '00. Since the bones were waterlogged, they were left at High Amana until they were thoroughly dried.

Professor Thomas believes this to be the most complete skeleton ever found in the state. Usually only a few bones are found in one place, as the streams in which the skeletons are found carry the bones along. This collection includes an upper jaw with the teeth in place, a tusk eight inches long, limb bones, vertebrae, and ribs.

Mrs. Smith Says She'll Keep Baby

Baby Tangle Ends as Georgia Smiles at Mother

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23 (AP)—Gurgling and cooing her way into a mother's heart, the tiny bundle of humanity who has been the center of Cleveland's "Baby Tangle" for the past month, was named "Georgia" today after she had been warmly accepted by Mrs. Sam Smith.

"She is a little angel and I will keep her," Mrs. Smith said today as the month old baby girl crinkled up her little nose and smiled when her mother cuddled her close to her breast.

Torn by doubt that the baby girl she nursed was not the child born to her Aug. 22, the one substituted by hospital officials for the "boy" to whom she believed she had given birth, Mrs. Smith previously had failed to respond to the baby's gurgling, cooing and smiling.

Habeas corpus action instituted by the child's father to recover his child, "George Smith," was dismissed yesterday in common pleas court, after Judge Carl V. Weyandt was convinced Mrs. Smith had the right child.

The parents said since they had named the baby George, when they thought it a boy decided that no better name could be found for it than "Georgia."

League to Resume Disarmament Drive

France, Germany Join in Expression to Speed Program

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 23 (AP)—Resumption of the League of Nations disarmament drive has been provisionally set to begin Dec. 1.

France and Germany joined today in a determined expression not to allow things to lag, fearing that delay will ruin the chances of eventual success and achieving a reduction in armaments.

The disarmament drive will be made by the so-called League of Nations preparatory commission on a disarmament conference of which the United States is a member. This commission failed last spring to frame a draft treaty considered justifying the convocation of an international conference.

France is more immediately interested in security rather than disarmament than is Germany, which feels secure enough under the Locarno pact but is keen on getting her neighbors, especially France, to cut down armaments to a point approximating the low German military strength.

To the accompaniment of opinions from various delegates the American collaboration would be vastly appreciated, the disarmament committee of the assembly voted to ask the United States not only to continue to sit on the preparatory commission, but also on the special committee which will be created to study the best means of extending arbitration and security pacts.

With the German foreign minister, Dr. Stresemann, announcing to sign the compulsory arbitration clause of the world court, league leaders feel that significant and practical steps have been taken in the direction of strengthening the world's peace fabric.

Approves Norwegian Plan

The juridical commission of the league assembly, like the disarmament group, today approved the project of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen of Norway for negotiations among the nations of an optional treaty for the compulsory arbitration of all disputes, at the same time laying down a particular subject for study in connection with the project.

A resolution introduced by Finland, Poland, and Sweden that the problem of alcoholism be seriously studied by a special committee to be appointed by the council, was adopted unanimously by the assembly.

The question of the appointment of a committee is to be taken up by the 1928 assembly.

Meeting in West Endorses Smith

Delegates Disagree as to Best Democratic Candidate

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 23 (AP)—After three hours debate today the conference of democrats of western states adopted a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York as the party's presidential nominee in 1928. The vote was not unanimous. Utah delegates particularly opposed the action.

The conference was attended by representatives of seven states who were invited by Fred W. Johnson of Wyoming, and John Chee, Utah, known party workers in ten western states. The invitations did not mention any particular candidate, but Johnson said before the meeting he expected Smith to be endorsed. The withdrawal of McAdoo, he said, left no other candidate.

The first discordant note to the Smith candidacy was sounded by L. H. Francisco, of San Diego, himself for the democratic nomination and for a short time it seemed as though the Californian would not be given an opportunity to be heard. W. R. Chapman, Twin Falls, Idaho, however, counseled the meeting to give Francisco the floor, saying he believed any man who "is so ambitious as to seek the presidency of the United States is entitled to be heard at a democratic meeting."

Francisco said he believed it wrong to endorse any candidate at this time. He outlined his principles and plans for relieving the farmer and solving the prohibition question.

Exploding Shells Set Fire to Depot

Shake Neighborhood for Miles Around; Scare People

BALTIMORE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Fire which raged for more than an hour in an ammunition pit at the Curtis Bay army ordnance depot, several miles from here, threatened for a time tonight to wipe out that district in a disaster similar to that at Lake Denmark, N. J., in 1926.

Shells dumped into a 15-foot pit for salvage purposes were detonated in a series of explosions heard and felt within a radius of a mile. The number of explosions was variously estimated at from twenty to one hundred by residents of the neighborhood.

While army officials at the reservation would make no statement pending a report to Washington, it was understood that the fire broke out in the pit. A silent alarm summoned Baltimore fire apparatus and coast guardsmen also were called on for aid.

When the explosions first occurred, alarming residents of Curtis Bay, an estimated 150 families beside the depot, they fled in confusion. They returned, however, as the fire was brought under control.

Major Harris, who was in communication with the depot, said he was told a check up of the person who so far had disclosed none was injured, and that property damage had been slight.

The explosion was caused by heat from a fire which broke out on a shell loading platform, he said, and either it could be brought under control about ten six inch Stokes mortar shells exploded.

Operators Appeal Directly to Miners

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—An announcement by a prominent coal operator that negotiations on the basis of a thirty per cent wage reduction in Illinois would be made directly with miners themselves instead of through the United Mine Workers, brought sharp retort from union officials of Herrin, Ill., tonight, in which the proposal was termed "absurd."

The operators speaking through Joseph D. Lumagli, of the Lumagli Coal company, said they could no longer negotiate with union officials because the union would not agree to a wage cut.

The statement was answered by three union officials of the Herrin district as follows: "The statement of Lumagli reflects his personal opinion. Offering the miners a reduction of thirty per cent will amount to nothing. The miners have been out for nearly six months for a just cause and will not surrender. The whole thing is absurd. The miners' fight is won. (Signed) 'Fox Hughes, district board member; A. T. Pace, travelling auditor; W. G. Davis, secretary-treasurer."

The operators said they would appeal direct to the miners because union officials have refused to negotiate on the basis of a wage cut.

Soviet Delivers Credit Proposal to French Chiefs

PARIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Soviet proposals on debt payments and merchandise credit upon which the declaration was made in Moscow that the French and Soviet delegations had agreed, were delivered in Paris tonight.

The proposals show that the Soviet government wants one and two third times as much credit as it pays on the debts during the first six years, while the French, says the Russian note, indicated that their limit was credits equal to payments during a five-year period.

Coolidge Opposes Army, Navy Union

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Opposition in the army and navy as well as in congress to the proposal of the American Legion for a unified department of national defense makes it unfeasible to put it forward at this time, in the opinion of President Coolidge.

The president, it was said today at the White House, feels it makes little difference whether the present system is continued or the unified department is set up, believing the difference between the two is merely academic.

It was pointed out that the army and navy are now unified in the event of war under the command of the president and that if they were put together now separate assistant secretaries would be required to run each almost in the same way as at present.

Indianapolis Mayor Expects New Trial

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Cheered by resolutions of faith passed by various departments of the city administration, Mayor John L. Duvall of Indianapolis, who was found guilty last night of violating the corrupt practices act, was back at his desk today after passing of sentence had been deferred until Oct. 8.

Special Judge C. C. Shirley deferred pronouncing the sentence of $1,000 fine and thirty day imprisonment in the Marion county jail to give Duvall's attorneys opportunity to prepare a motion for a new trial. If that motion is overruled, the case will be appealed to the Indiana supreme court.

Duvall was convicted of having promised certain appointments to William H. Armitage in return for $10,000 and Armitage's political support in the 1925 election. Armitage testified that Duvall returned his money after the election, saying he could not go through with the agreement.

Mayor Duvall said he had no intention of resigning. The fact that the conviction carried with it the additional penalty that Duvall should be ineligible to hold public office for four years from the date of the commission of the alleged crime, Nov. 2, 1925, will not make it compulsory that he resign, attorneys declared today.

Speeder's Arrest Leads to Raid

Because he was exceeding the city speed limit Raymond Kennedy, 1021 River street, is in the city jail and will probably face much more serious charges than those of a traffic violation.

Kennedy was going down River street late last night at a rate in excess of that allowed by law. He was observed by Officers Don McComas, Wesley Sedive, Charles Boeck, and Deputy Sheriff A. J. Fuhrman, who were behind him in another car.

The officers stopped him in order to give him a summons for speeding, but becoming suspicious decided to search the Chevrolet coach Kennedy was driving. As a result, the officers say, they discovered ten half-pints of alcohol hidden in the machine.

Kennedy was taken to the station and placed in a cell. His car was confiscated.

The officers then paid a visit to the speeder's residence where four additional half-pints of alcohol, several empty bottles, and a five-gallon can, which was said to contain a small amount of liquor, were discovered.

Kennedy will probably be given a hearing today, officers indicated.

Search Ends With Capture of Maniac

MAQUOKETA, Sept. 23 (AP)—William Tarr, 57 years old, was committed to the state hospital for the insane today by the Jackson county insanity commission after his capture at Sabula last night after a week's search by armed men.

Tarr had bought a marriage license in Dubuque to marry a Green Island girl who had never even smoken to him. When she refused to have anything to do with him, Tarr is said to have drawn a gun and threatened her life.

He escaped into the woods along the Maquoketa river but was captured when driven by hunger into Sabula last night.

Baby's Cries Stop Serious Fire Loss

AMES, Sept. 23 (AP)—Cries of a baby early today probably prevented serious fire loss and possible loss of life when the A. E. Stueland family awakened to discover flames emanating from the kitchen of their two-story frame residence.

Firemen extinguished the fire before the building was seriously damaged. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Stueland and four children.

Alleged Robber to Face Jail Sentence

OTTUMWA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Ben Trimble, indicted by the Wapello county grand jury last month on a charge of robbery in connection with the holding up of T. E. Hampton of Bloomfield, west of Ottumwa, July 10, was returned here today from Douglas, Wyo., by Sheriff Kussart.

He is held in jail in default of $50,000 bond.

The hold-up resulted in the shooting and subsequent death of Ed Huddleston, alleged accomplice of the man who held up Hampton. As the bandits fled from the scene, Hampton emptied a pistol and two charges from a shotgun in retaliation. Huddleston died the following day in an Ottumwa hospital with the event of war under the command of the president and that if they were put together now separate assistant secretaries would be required to run each almost in the same way as at present.

300 Iowa Club Women Attend Biennial Session at Des Moines

Three hundred club women of Iowa attended the meetings of the eighteenth biennial session of the Iowa Federation of Women's clubs. The meeting officially opened at Des Moines Thursday, with Mrs. William Michrist, of Sioux City, state president, presiding.

During the morning a great many conferences were held, and a joint meeting of the board and committees was held during the afternoon at the Hoyt Sherman place. At 6:30 p. m. a dinner was served to more than 300 at the headquarters, Fort Des Moines hotel, following which department reports were given.

Committees Present Plan

The American home department, the international relations committee, the junior membership committee, the scholarship and loan fund committee, and the press and publicity committee presented plans yesterday for the next two years.

At the evening meetings public welfare, education, education in banking and investing, and club extension work was stressed by the various chairmen.

Mrs. Volland Outlines Work

Mrs. Roscoe Volland of Iowa City, corresponding secretary of the organization and vice chairman of the department of international relations, presented the completed yearbook outlining the work of the various committees and departments.

Mrs. Marvin H. Hey of Iowa City, the new chairman of the endowment fund committee, quoted the retiring chairman, Mrs. W. H. McHenry, stating that the 450 clubs have contributed to the fund and that 214 clubs are 100 per cent.

Total Fund is $13,000

The total amount collected is $13,000, with $20,000 as the desired amount. Mrs. Hey made a plea for the various clubs to arrange budgets for the year which would include the donation to the endowment fund.

Other reports and talks were given by leaders in the organization, all voicing enthusiasm and interest in the coming two-year work.

Other Iowa City women attending the sessions are Mrs. W. L. Bywater, Mrs. Henry G. Walker, Mrs. Ogden G. Mars, Mrs. H. F. Wickham, and Mrs. Nyle Jones.

Parents, Teachers Hold

Tuesday evening the parents and teachers of the Iowa City high school will be entertained at a "get acquainted" party at the high school gymnasium.

A program of stunts has been prepared by a committee including Mrs. Lewis Law, R. Cannon, Anna Wachs, and Helen Hayes. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening, and a short business meeting will be held.

Representatives of Four Generations at Family Reunion

Fifty-three relatives, representing four generations, met at the home of Mrs. Katharine Reiland of Coralville Sunday for a picnic dinner and supper. Those attending the reunion were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. George Reiland of Lone Tree; Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Petrick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Petrick of Iowa City; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Brant of Effing; Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Tomlin of Lone Beach, Cal.; Mr. Charles J. Reiland and sons of Los Cruces, N. Mex.; Mr. and Mrs. August Reiland and daughter of Lewisville, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Lone Tree; Mrs. Quiss and family and sister, Miss Ethel Mayer of Cedar Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gundling of Cedar Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lucas of Iowa City, and also friends of the family.

Sigma Pi

Howard Porter, A2, of Anamosa, and Ralph Hacht, C3 of Hawkeye, are visiting at their homes this week-end.

Delta Tau Delta

Jack Day will spend the week-end at his home in Cedar Rapids.

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi announces the pledging of Virginia Gordon of Ottumwa.

Halsey Writes on New Sportswoman

Lauds, Advance Made by Modern Woman in Sports

"The New Sportswoman," an article by Dr. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the department of women's physical education, appeared in the September issue of "Hygeia," a magazine published by the American Medical Association.

"The workers whose chief interest is to encourage sport for girls and women, and who easily become discouraged at the competition offered by bridge parties, collegiate Fordas, movies, and other passive forms of entertainment," says Miss Halsey in her article, "need turn back but one or two pages in our social history to find good cheer."

Burns Lamp in Window

While the rest of the world has given up her son and family as irrefutably dead, the venerable empress insists they are still alive. At her window in Copenhagen she still burns a small lamp so that, as she says, "Nicky will know I'm still awaiting his return."

Flappers

Miss Halsey compares the modern sportswoman with "Great-aunt Hester, who had been known to ride a bicycle, and had rowed on her class crew at college; Aunt Hester was the flapper of her day. What is expressed in her assurance is the same theme that swells to a paean the song of our modern flapper—victory."

Corrupt Athletics

The influence of the crowd is bad in girls' interscholastic athletics, in Miss Halsey's judgment. This is the reason that interscholastic athletics are being substituted in almost all schools.

U. S. Collegians Best, Says Talbert

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23 (AP)—American college students are the best dressed in the world. Dr. Ernest L. Talbert, of the University of Cincinnati, says after a study of the customs of European college students.

English co-eds, he says, are more conservative in dress, reflecting a more sober nature, and a great many men students in English universities think nothing of wearing coats with fringed sleeves or trousers liberally patched.

"The men wear outlandish combinations," he said, "coat and trousers of different colors and styles and anyone caught wearing a hat is thrown out of college."

Throneless Queens of Five Countries Live on Charity of Relatives, Friends

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 23 (AP)—Dispersed over Europe like the scattered levels of their shattered crowns, five throneless queens are living on the slender charity of relatives and friends.

Once the proud mistresses of millions of acres of land, the rulers of greater millions of people, and the possessors of untold millions of wealth, Dowager Empress Marie of Russia, Empress Zita of Austria, Queen Sophie of Greece, Queen Amelie of Portugal, and young Queen Elizabeth of Greece are today without a roof or a bed they can call their own. Their return to their own homes would be sufficient to start an immediate revolution.

Saddest and loneliest of all five captive queens is Empress Dowager Marie of Russia, mother of the murdered Czar Nicholas, who, broken in body and mind over the successive tragedies she has borne, beginning with the assassination of her father-in-law, Emperor Alexander II, and culminating in the brutal murder of her son and his entire family, is spending the remnant of her tragic life in Copenhagen. She was recently reported to be dying.

Another Queen Homeless

Another crownless, countryless queen living the life of a refugee is Queen Amelie of Portugal, who witnessed the assassination of her husband, King Carlos, in 1908, and who two years later was forced to flee for her own life with her son, King Manuel, on the eventful day Portugal was proclaimed a republic.

Burns Lamp in Window

While the rest of the world has given up her son and family as irrefutably dead, the venerable empress insists they are still alive. At her window in Copenhagen she still burns a small lamp so that, as she says, "Nicky will know I'm still awaiting his return."

Another woman sovereign whose cup of sorrow has overflowed is former Queen Sophie of Greece, who in her time has witnessed the assassination of her father-in-law, King George I of Greece; the death by a monkey bite of her eldest son, former King Alexander of Greece; the overthrow, humiliation and exile of her brother, Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany; the double expulsion and exile of her husband, the late King Constantine of Greece; the dethronement of her second son, George, as king of the Hellenes; and more recently, the death of her brother-in-law, King Ferdinand of Rumania.

Crushed by the adversity and anguish that the world visits even upon queens, Sophie now goes despondently about Europe, having her head wherever she is offered a friendly pillow by relatives or friends. She spends much of her time in prayer and meditation in Florence, Italy, where her beloved "Tino" is buried.

Visits Exiled Wilhelm

Occasionally she goes unobserved to Doone, Holland, to commiserate with her brother Wilhelm. On other occasions she slips down to Bucharest to break bread with her throneless son, George, and his consort, ex-Queen Elizabeth. Most of these trips are financed by relatives or by American dollars acquired by Sophie's brother-in-law, Prince Chris-

Persons

Mrs. O. H. Brainerd is in Monticello visiting her daughter, Eloise, who is Mrs. Colin G. Thomas.

Prof. and Mrs. George D. Haskell have recently returned from a three weeks' trip through New Hampshire and New York state.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harry S. Longley, who have been away for the last three days, returned to the city Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Longley visited at the home of Mr. Longley's parents in Des Moines while Mr. Longley attended the meeting of the Episcopal ministers held at Ames Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday forenoon.

H. Bartlett of Osage, Iowa, spent Friday in Iowa City with his daughter, Virginia who is a student in the university.

Prof. Stephen Popoff, his wife, and Miss Lorraine Williams are motoring to Dubuque for the week-end.

Medical Fraternity to Dance at First Informal Tonight

Pi Beta Phi will hold their first informal dance of the year this evening at the Red Ball Inn. About fifty couples will dance to music played by Chapin's Illinois Five orchestra. Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Gibson, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Baldrige and Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Cray will chaperon.

W. A. Entertains Freshmen Today

This afternoon the Women's association will entertain the freshman women at a party from 2:30 to 5 p. m. The purpose of the party is to help the new students enter into the activities of the campus.

Esther Cooper to Study Child Work at Eastern School

Miss Esther Cooper, assistant to the state organizer of child study and parents education, has been awarded a fellowship for parent education study. The fellowship is awarded through the research council but is under the direction of the national council for parent education.

Miss Cooper leaves Sunday to take up her studies in various places, spending the first semester at Columbia university. Miss Cooper's successor has not been announced.

Announcer Needs Abilities of Actor, College Professor

DES MOINES, Sept. 23 (AP)—The successful radio announcer must have an array of talents comparable to the combined abilities of an actor and a college professor, says N. Dean ("Old King") Cole, of station WHO.

The first qualification is a voice of resonant timbre. He also lists a fundamental knowledge of German, Russian, Italian, French and Spanish, capability as a music critic and some knowledge of the technical side of radio.

Within easy reach, on a shelf above the controls of WHO, Cole has a dictionary, a musical encyclopedia, a book of opera synopses and a compilation of 20,000 words often mispronounced.

Daily, he points out, the radio announcer must pronounce foreign words, phrases, the names of foreign composers and involved technical terms. To pronounce them correctly, he says, requires rigid training.

Flickinger Observes Roman Forts And Battle Districts of World War

Prof. Roy C. Flickinger of the Latin and Greek department returned with Mrs. Flickinger this week, after having spent the last two months in England, France, and Ireland.

Professor Flickinger attended the summer conference of the British Association of Secondary Teachers of Latin, which met at Bexhill-on-Sea, England, Aug. 2 to 11. He spent the remainder of the summer visiting Roman remains in England and France.

Find News Remains

All of these differ in position and in the amount of stone which is now standing, according to Professor Flickinger. He said that investigations are uncovering new and interesting remains at all times. Some of these cover several acres of ground, and include the fortifications of smacous castles.

Groups Plan Meetings in Journalism, Mathematics, Education

Men of National Repute Address All Conferences

Administrative Session Opens Calendar Next Month

Plans have been announced for conventions which are to take place under the direction of three departments of the university during the next three months. There will be conferences in the fields of journalism, mathematics, and education for which the plans are made and in some cases completed.

The fourteenth annual conference of the administrators and superintendents of the schools of the state, will be held in Iowa City Oct. 6, 7, and 8 under the direct supervision of the college of education.

This conference differs from the others that are held by the university throughout the year in that it is entirely sponsored by the college of education and is given for the executive staffs of the schools rather than for the teachers. Other conferences are given in collaboration with the department of the college of liberal arts.

"There are to be talks by four of the biggest men in this field that the country affords," said Elmer T. Peterson, assistant professor of education, announcing plans for the conference. These men are: William Wirt, superintendent of the school system in Gary, Ind.; W. W. Charters, professor of education in the University of Chicago; William F. Russell, former dean of the college of education at Iowa and at present dean of the teachers at Columbia; and Frederick Engelhardt, professor in the college of education at the University of Minnesota.

Local Staff Entertains
The program will be continued throughout the three days that the conference is in progress. Each member of the local staff is to have a part in the entertainment of the visitors. The university elementary and high schools will serve as a laboratory in which the principles of the talks and conferences of the gathering may be demonstrated.

A complete program of the conference will be ready for publication within the next few days. More complete information as to the subjects upon which these men will speak and the nature of the seminars will also be ready next week.

The second state conference of high school mathematics teachers will be held in Iowa City on Oct. 14 and 15. The conference has been arranged as the result of the great enthusiasm with which the first, held here last year, was received.

"The conference is held with one outstanding object," said H. L. Rietz, who is acting as chairman of the committee in charge, "that is this: to focus the attention of the high school mathematics teachers of the state on recent movements in the teaching of their subject."

Stress Class Work
Men and women who are especially interested in this field of work and outstanding in their positions as authorities will attend the conferences. Among these are: Prof. H. E. Slaughter, of the University of Chicago; Mrs. Elsie Parker Johnson, of the Oak Park High School in Oak Park, Ill., who has recently contributed some articles to this particular field of study; and Prof. C. N. Mills of the State Normal, University of Illinois, who also holds the position of assistant editor of the American Mathematical Monthly.

The stress of the entire conference is to be on class room instruction and more particularly on the instruction of the sections which represent the student groups of varying intelligence.

The complete program of the conference, which is not yet ready for publication, will be announced shortly.

A journalism convention will be held in Iowa City Dec. 28, 29, 30 and 31.

Philip Kerr of Rhodes Trust to Visit Iowa City

Philip Kerr, secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship trust fund will be in Iowa City October 3. Mr. Kerr is visiting the university at the request of Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore college and American secretary to the Rhodes trustees.

During his stay in Iowa City Mr. Kerr will be entertained at the home of President Walter A. Jessup and Prof. Jacob Van der Zee of the department of political science.

Mr. Kerr is visiting institutions and groups of Rhodes scholars on the Pacific coast in the United States and Canada. He has been secretary to Lloyd George, Woodrow Wilson and Clemenceau and is an authority on peace relations.

This convention will consist of conferences of two organizations, the Teachers of Journalism in American Colleges and the Association of American Schools of Journalism.

The American Teachers of Journalism conference will probably be attended by representatives of the colleges in every state. It is to take place on the first three of these four days.

The Association of American Schools of Journalism will meet on the last day of the convention. It is composed of representatives of only such schools as have a dean or a director and sufficient staff to give individual attention to each student.

The program of the conferences will include discussions of the methods of teaching, the standards of qualification for journalism students. The program of the last day will be devoted to research work in the field of journalism.

This same convention was held last year in Columbus, Ohio, and was attended by more than 300 noted editors, artists, magazine editors and literary critics from the entire U. S.

High School Journalists Meet
Another journalism conference which is scheduled to take place Oct. 14 and 15 is the convention of the southeastern district of the Iowa Press association. Invitations have been issued to editors all over the state and a large attendance is expected. It is thought now that William Allen White, of the Emporia, Kansas, Gazette, will be the main speaker at the conference and his talk is scheduled for Friday evening, Oct. 14. Friday morning and afternoon, and Saturday morning will be devoted to discussions of newspaper problems. On Saturday afternoon the editors will be entertained at the Iowa-Wabash football game.

A group of high school journalists, members of the Quill and Scroll, an honorary high school journalism club, will meet here in the latter part of October. Mr. Gallup of the department of journalism is in charge of this conference.

Varsity Orchestra Plays for Coolidge
Ray Miller, whose orchestra played at Varsity ball last night and will be there again tonight has the only orchestra which has ever officially played before President and Mrs. Coolidge, according to Mr. Miller. The music for the white house couple is generally furnished by naval or military bands.

Mr. Miller was lamenting the results of the Dempsey-Tunney fight yesterday afternoon when he was looking over the newly-decorated Varsity. He said he hated to see Jack get beaten because he knew him personally.

Woman Commits Suicide
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—An unidentified woman committed suicide late today at Suicide Point by leaping into the rapids midway between Goat Island bridge and Prospect point, on the main road. She left no articles on the shore from which she could be identified as being about 40 or 45 years old.

Coolidge Counts on Jardine's Aid for Farm Relief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Coolidge is counting on the continued assistance of Secretary Jardine in dealing with the administration's farm problems, and does not expect the agriculture secretary to yield to the overtures of a group of Florida fruit growers who would like to have him head a citrus co-operative association.

After necessary adjustments to the "Columbia," Levine and his pilot, Capt. Walter Hirscheloff, said they would probably fly to Venice to see the Schneider cup race there.

A distance of 900 miles was covered in the flight here, the landing being made in a pouring rain.

Fort Dodge Man Gets Life Term
FORT DODGE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Found guilty of the slaying of George McIntire, local gambler, Frank Bittner was sentenced to life imprisonment today when the jury returned a verdict after 14 hours deliberation.

The verdict of guilty of first degree murder was reached after the first few ballots by the jury of eight men and four women, but their deliberations extended through added hours while the death penalty was discussed.

Austin (Casey) Navin of Manning and Edward (Red) Watson, alleged Omaha gunman, have also been indicted for McIntire's slaying, which occurred the night of May 1 during a holdup. Navin, the state's star witness during the Bittner trial, is expected to plead guilty at a hearing next week.

Navin testified that Bittner persuaded him to bring Watson to Fort Dodge to rob McIntire.

Police Find Man's Corpse in Chicago
CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—With the finding of a badly hacked and gun shot body of a well dressed man, partially identified as Sam Valent, near the rear of a ramshackle barn on a prairie on Chicago's southwest side, the police tonight were confronted with a slaying mystery.

The police believe that the man either "taken for a ride" by a rival bootleg faction, that he had been involved in a roadhouse quarrel and slain as he was going home, or that he accidentally stumbled onto a group of distillers at work in some of the sheds nearby and was killed as a precautionary measure.

Young Wife Asks Divorce From Actor
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23 (AP)—Frank Keenan, veteran actor, playwright and director, today was made the defendant in a suit for divorce filed by Margaret White Keenan.

The suit recounts that when the Keenans were married in Honolulu in June, 1924, the actor was 68 years old and the bride was 23. The couple separated Sept. 11, 1925. The wife's suit charges Keenan with often being intoxicated.

Companies Seek Merger
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP)—A $200,000,000 merger of the Philadelphia Electric company and the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia, with ramifications in many states, will be recommended to the directorate of the two corporations next week by a joint committee representing both companies.

Mayor Unable to Close Rink Sunday
SHENANDOAH, Sept. 23 (AP)—In the absence of a city ordinance against it, Mayor Howard Alexander of Shenandoah cannot interfere with the operation of a roller skating rink on Sunday at the skating grounds here. Judge Frederick Fischer ruled today.

Levine Abandons Flight to Delhi After 900 Miles

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 23 (AP)—Charles A. Levine, whose attempt to set a new non-stop distance record ended today when the monoplane "Columbia" landed here tonight, told the Associated Press that he would abandon the rest of the flight to Delhi, the point for which he had originally set out.

The controversy over the closing of the rink waxed so heated that fairgrounds officials closed the premises thereby shutting off a tourist park in the fairgrounds from public patronage.

Miners Flee From Tear Gas Bombs
CENTERVILLE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Tear gas was used today by Sheriff Earl Gagenbaugh and a squad of deputies in dispersing a mob of about 200 union miners, their wives and children, who gathered at the Garfield mine near Brazil, to picket miners now working there under the 1917 scale.

The gas attack drove most of the crowd from the shaft mouth, but a few men survived it to stay and hurl stones and sticks and shout epithets at the non-union workers as they emerged from the workings.

After dispersing the mob, Sheriff Gagenbaugh announced that he anticipated no further disturbances.

The Appanoose county coal field has been a trouble spot since the suspension of operations was ordered by union officials April 1. In the last few days the home of one non-union worker has been destroyed by fire, and windows in another non-union miner's home were smashed.

President Sees High Income Tax Returns
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Income tax returns are expected by President Coolidge to be as high this year as last but he is unwilling to estimate how far the prospective tax reduction can go.

Internal revenue collections depend in the opinion of the president on business conditions. On this basis, he was represented today at the White house as confident that tax returns for this fiscal year will at least equal those of a year ago when a record surplus of $500,000,000 was piled up.

Coolidge Expects United States to Strengthen Fleet
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Coolidge believes that failure of the Geneva arms conference to reach a limiting agreement on the tonnage of warships not affected by the Washington naval treaty, will have little effect upon prospective action by congress in the drafting of an American cruiser program.

It was recalled at the White House today if the American proposal for application of the 5-5-3 ratio, provided for capital ships in the Washington treaty, had been extended to other warcraft, the United States would still have faced the necessity of building up its cruiser fleet. Because of this, failure of the Geneva parley, in the opinion of Mr. Coolidge, has not altered the situation, and it was said that he expected work on the cruiser program to proceed at the approaching session.

W. A. A. Members Meet Fresh Girls
W. A. A. board members met the freshman women gym classes yesterday, distributed association handbooks, and discussed W. A. A. work.

To gain entrance into the W. A. A., according to Dorothy Deakmann, A. of Durant, president of the organization, a girl must earn fifty points in one year. In her first year these may be obtained by a series of three, five, seven, nine, eleven mile hikes; by fifteen recreational swims in six weeks; by four canoe trips to Coralville and back; or by making first or second team in any sport.

Initiation will be held Nov. 9, giving new girls six weeks in which to earn the fifty points required for membership in the club.

Committee Meets to Discuss Dad's Day Activities

The faculty committee for Dad's day met at Old Capitol yesterday at 4 p. m. and discussed the plans for the program.

Dean Henry C. Jones said that President Walter A. Jessup would send his personal letters of invitation out early next week and that the faculty committee letters with the blanks for reservations of football tickets and Dad's day dinner tickets would also go out in a few days.

A. F. I., representing the student body, will send letters to every dad. A. F. I. and Mortar Board have visited every fraternity and sorority house notifying them of the program and urging them to write personal letters to each dad inviting him down for the week-end.

Securities Orchestra
C. H. Marun announced that the orchestra has been secured for the all-university party and that the printing of tickets will be taken care of immediately.

Mr. Ward outlined last year's tour of the campus and asked for suggestions as to what might be included this year.

Prof. G. W. Hart said that the registration of dads would be in the Iowa Union and urged everyone to impress on the students to bring dads to the union to get programs and identification badges. The badges will be used as passes to the party. Every dad must have one to be admitted to the dance.

Last year more than 100 dads had to go to the grill for the banquet because they did not secure their tickets in advance. The committee urges students to secure tickets earlier this year.

Open New Radio Studio
A special section for students and their dads will be reserved on the west side of Iowa field for the Ohio-Iowa game, according to Prof. P. E. Belting. Reservations for seats in this section can be made at Whetstone's No. 1, starting today.

The new radio studio in the Iowa Union will be finished and an hours special program for the dads will be given from this place at 4 p. m. Sunday. The audience will be able to see the artists through the plate glass front of the room at the same time they hear them in the main lounge.

Announcement Committees
The following list of committees, composed of members of the Faculty, A. F. I., Mortar Board, and the Union board, was announced yesterday:

Publicity and invitation: Dean Henry C. Jones, William Hageboeck, A. of Lake Park; and Theodore F. Koop, J. of Monticello.

All-university party: Prof. Charles H. Marun, assistant registrar; John Beardsley, L. of Iowa City; Otto Bauch, L. of Des Moines; Theodore B. Koop; Ramona Evans, A. of Ottumwa; Barbara Kittredge, A. of Iowa City; Perle Ellen Van Alstine, A. of Gilmore City; Ray Swanson, D. of Wall Lake; John Me-through the censor's hands unchanged.

His freedom from prejudice sometimes incurred—the severe disapproval of extreme German nationalists; for instance when he caused the German republic's flag to be flown from the staff of the German embassy at Washington on the anniversary of Armistice day. Another example was when, as an expert on Russian affairs at Berlin, he cultivated the acquaintance of prominent Soviet officials, especially Karl Radek, rather more than the "die-hard" considered advisable at a time when bolshevism was a great bug-bear to the European bourgeoisie.

The Baron was considered the father of the Rapallo treaty after which he became secretary of foreign affairs. He held the post until appointed ambassador to the United States.

Suggest Schubert for Maltzman's Post
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—With the post of German ambassador in Washington left vacant by the death today in an airplane accident of Baron Von Maltzman, speculation as to his successor brought out a suggestion that Dr. Carl von Schubert, secretary of state in the German foreign office and right-hand man of Foreign Minister Stresemann might be assigned here. He is said in informed quarters to have desired such an assignment as a relief from the grind of his present office for the last three years, preferring either London or Washington to any other diplomatic mission.

State department officials expressed doubt that the German government could spare Doctor Schubert from his present duties. He is a career diplomat of wide experience and noted ability and has been key man of the German diplomatic machine—all the recent weighty conferences and deliberations with Germany's neighbors.

Recent visitors in Berlin say that he has been showing the strain of his labors in the foreign office and that it appears possible the government might be forced to permit him to turn to some less trying work for a time for the sake of his health.

The German authorities can hardly fail to note the evidence of respect and admiration for the late Baron Von Maltzman which marked official messages of sympathy and respect at his death which went out from Washington today. It was evident both in the message from President Coolidge to President Hindenburg and in the messages and statement made by Secretary Kellogg.

Flatley to Head Student Council

Organization Chooses Porter, Fuller for Other Offices

Student council elected officers for the year, and the six student members of the university social committee at its first meeting yesterday.

Lee Flatley, C. of Iowa City, is president; Roy Porter, J. of Waterloo, vice-president; and Esther Fuller, J. of Mount Ayr, secretary-treasurer.

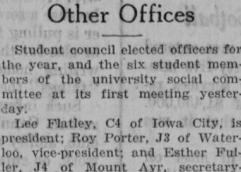

The law school, the college of liberal arts and the school of journalism are represented by the three seniors on the social committee: Otto Bauch, of Des Moines; Barbara Kittredge, of Iowa City; and Esther Fuller.

Junior members of the committee will be Dorothy Gillis, A. of Osage; Harry Boyd, J. of Sioux City; and Roy Porter.

The first contribution to the Daily Iowan's fund to be used for new suits for the cheer leaders was voted to be five dollars from student council treasury.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 23 (AP)—Enraged by two Milwaukee detectives, Elmer Peterson, Chicago, Ill., salesman, charged with slaying Janet Foley and shooting and seriously wounding her father, George T. Foley, after quarreling with them over Peterson's attentions to Kathleen Foley, another daughter, tonight was brought to Milwaukee from Viroqua, Wis., where he was locked up following his arrest yesterday at Purdy, Wis.

Prize Fights and Football

A COUPLE of nights ago two men entered a prize ring for about forty-five minutes, and in return for their services received the munificent sum of $1,450,000. Sport fans seemed to agree that it was worth the money.

Oct. 8, twenty-two men will meet on Iowa field in the first conference football game of the Hawkeye season. The total gate receipts will not come close to a million dollars, and the twenty-two participants, all of whom are probably more intelligent and cleaner sportsmen than the principals in the latest battle of the century, will receive nothing more than a few bruises for their efforts.

There is no chance of this particular affair's being fixed. Tin-horn sports, touts, and professional gamblers have never been interested to a marked degree in college sports. It is too difficult to buy off players.

Good seats will sell for three dollars instead of forty. And the profits will probably go to a much better cause than the rather doubtful one of benefiting Tex Rickard.

By Land or By Sea

UNSUCCESSFUL in their attempt to make a nonstop flight across the United States, Eddie Stinson and C. A. Schiller were forced to land at Missoula, Mont., when a rocker arm broke and a valve became stuck. Within a few hundred miles of their goal, they were forced to abandon their project.

Stinson and Schiller can be thankful they are alive. Had they been making their flight across the Atlantic instead of land, they would have been forced into the ocean and probably would have been drowned. Then they would be added to the ever growing list of flyers "lost at sea."

While the safety of a transcontinental airplane journey is proportionately greater than a flight overseas, danger is still a large factor. Suppose Stinson and Schiller had landed in an isolated spot in the Rocky mountains. Suppose their plane had been dashed against a high peak among the clouds or in foggy weather. One never knows what will happen, even above the land.

A New Industry

"A CITY of fine homes" is the title which Iowa City is proud to bear. In few municipalities of this size are the standards of culture and education so high, with attending interest in maintaining property which appears as an asset to the community. Iowa City boasts that it has few factories to mar the high grade character of the municipality.

Yet a corporation may locate here which will be of distinct benefit not only to Iowa City but to Johnson county. A powdered milk factory will be established here if a daily supply of 70,000 pounds of milk can be obtained.

Foresighted residents of this vicinity are doing all in their power to bring about the maintenance of the company in Iowa City. They realize that the volume of business which would be carried on would advertise the community, bring workmen and their families here, and increase the volume of business of the city. They are aware that neighboring farmers will have the advantage of selling their milk close at home under the best conditions.

Next week the business men who are backing the movement plan to make a farm to farm canvass in each township, asking farmers to pledge certain amounts of milk for the company's use. If these men were not fully convinced of the value of the concern, they would not give freely of their time for this campaign. Their sincerity should be proof that the farmers may well entrust their produce to the new company.

Eastern Recognition

THE Springfield (Mass.) Republican this week printed an editorial which showers praise on the University of Iowa's new school of religion, which it recognizes as a noteworthy experiment in Christian education.

The university may well be cognizant of the fact that such a tribute from the Springfield Republican is a high honor. Recognized as one of the leading conservative papers of the United States, the publication is also the personal organ of President Coolidge. Whatever its policies may be, the Springfield Republican is known as a clear thinking, level headed newspaper.

This editorial is the first of many similar comments which are certain to be occasioned by the religious experiment started in Iowa City this week. The whole nation is certain to learn of the tolerant attitude which is being assumed, and laurels for the leaders of the school will come from Maine to California.

"Out for Activities"

ACTIVITIES in a few dozen campus clubs, societies, and organizations have started and will be starting almost daily now for the next few weeks. Extra-curricular activities are often remembered in after-college years with more enjoyment than any other phase of college life.

But there are numerous extra-curricular activities which unless they give something to the student are not worth his wasting time upon. Practically every upperclassman on the campus belongs to at least one organization; many belong to four or five. Anyone who has belonged to a club a previous year knows what it offers. It is folly for him to spend successive years in it, if he hasn't derived any benefits from it in the past, or if his interest in it has been superseded by some other.

Our campus clubs are swamped each fall with freshmen or others who go out merely because a sorority sister or fraternity brother is pulling for them in order to get points, or else for the superficial pride they get in writing home to the folks about all the "things" they are getting into.

Such infantilism is unfair to the organization. Genuine interest in the purpose of a club, ability and adaptability in the line of work, or entertainment in which it specializes should be the criterions for new members.

The Yanks in France

(From The Davenport Times.)

France has unfolded the American Legion in its affections. The lyrical reception given the 30,000 Yanks and the Davenport Auxiliary Drill corps leaves nothing to be desired.

In honor of the Americans a holiday was declared and several million people lined the six miles of streets over which the legionnaires marched, to pay tribute as warm and cheering as the Gallic temperament is capable.

The representatives of the A.E.F. were privileged to march under the Arc d'Triomphe. The French nation could confer no greater honor since it is but the second time that any body of marchers have passed under it, the first occasion being the great peace parade in 1919.

Not an untoward incident marred the historic trek of the Americans to the country they saved from the ravages of an advancing army. The scattered Communist disturbances were as much anti-French as anti-American.

The hysterical enthusiasm with which the populace of the French capital cheered the Americans on their march along famed thoroughfares, was a most eloquent expression of their friendship for this nation and their deep appreciation of the sacrifice it made on behalf of France and the cause of liberty.

A year ago when the legion debated the wisdom of returning to France, fears were expressed that the presence of the veterans there might be provocative of embarrassing incidents. At that time the French mind had been inflamed by a subtle propaganda which sought to convince that people that America's selfishness in connection with the war debts was responsible for their many troubles.

Then came Lindbergh. And now the members of the American Legion are serving as ambassadors of good will. The spectacle of the khaki-clad Yanks marching on French soil anew revived the emotions born ten years ago when the coming of the A.E.F. was a promise of victory. The return of the legionnaires cannot but have brought the two peoples closer.

Chills and Fever

Fighting It Over

Having nothing funnier on our mind today than the morning-after effects of an intellectual party with Messrs. Tunney and Dempsey, we will have to deign to refer to the young woman who believes that everything in life can be explained with the mechanistic conception. Having queried Gene about his ideas of the subject, he offered the notation that he never has ideas. Which, truly, must be in conflict with his actions of the Seventh Round. If Mr. Tunney did not have ideas on when to arise and when not to, how can we explain his seeming energy in arising on the ninth count which took place, according to reputable time-keeper, on the fourteenth second?

The explanation is simplicity itself. Mr. Tunney, not having ideas, is a machine. His ears were turned to that certain psychic wave-length which responded to the eighth number after one and the second after seven.

Such vacations are excusable. Torn by the stress of an active life, battered by the bruises inflicted by our fellow creatures, crazy because of a year's fast living, we all degenerate to vacations. And Mr. Tunney's vacation was one with which we sympathize. No doubt—for doubts are not the material of the true genius—Mr. Tunney, perspiring, exhausted, and hanging with one arm on to a rope, was philosophizing on the consequences of this existence. The mechanistic principle perhaps seemed plausible, but what Santay Anna had to say about the future of the soul was probably a bit too weird to be taken into serious consideration. Who knows? Tunney may have even been considering studying Mr. Thackeray's literary style in an endeavor to emulate that gentleman when he finally got around to keep up his correspondence with Mr. Dempsey.

But, according to Frank Sullivan, the main job the referee had to do last night was to settle one and for all whether Jack owed Gene a letter or whether Gene owed Jack a letter. Certainly, we believe, Mr. Tunney owes the Manassa Mauler a written apology for stumbling in his way in the Seventh Round.

On the other hand, it was the old cry of Mind exerting itself over Matter. Not, however, that Mr. Dempsey really matters very much.

Had the champion been other than a college graduate we cannot assume that 150,000 odd (very) souls would have enlisted themselves for an exhibition of the manly art of self-defense. Modern Americans are too well civilized to hearken back to the primitive, to really desire to witness the spilling of blood, or to love the fight for the brawl's sake. These hordes crowded around Soldiers Field for the simple experience of educational enlightenment and to be better enabled to defend themselves from Chicago handiwork after taking Mr. Rickard's valuable course in that subject.

Only two persons in America are left who cannot "fight it over" this week-end. We regret to state that Both Mr. Will Rogers and Vice-President "Pipe-Down" Dawes refused the advantages of enlightenment. This deplorable non-cognizance of America's educational facilities distinctly should be discouraged as to its toleration.

And here's a little love-note from a lady who still thinks that Marco Polo is the life of the column.

Dear Marco:
Just read your ad and couldn't help writing you a hot, palpitating response. I am just a poor, struggling walking girl—and I don't struggle so awfully much, at that. I am sure that you and I could get together on your little proposition. (But are we? Ed. Note) Already have my I-Book and will go to all games with you, provided that you sit on the other side of the field. (Not so hot!) I am one of those mystery girls that you have read about but never see. (N. G.)
Mysteriously yours,

THE TRIGS
Thousands of years old,
Yet rippling with life,
Silence!
She is meditating—
Ah, the memories of the past...

Immortal Khalifs
Buried in her heart
Their spirit,
Silence!
She remembers
The whispering voices
Of the lovers—
Enchanted...

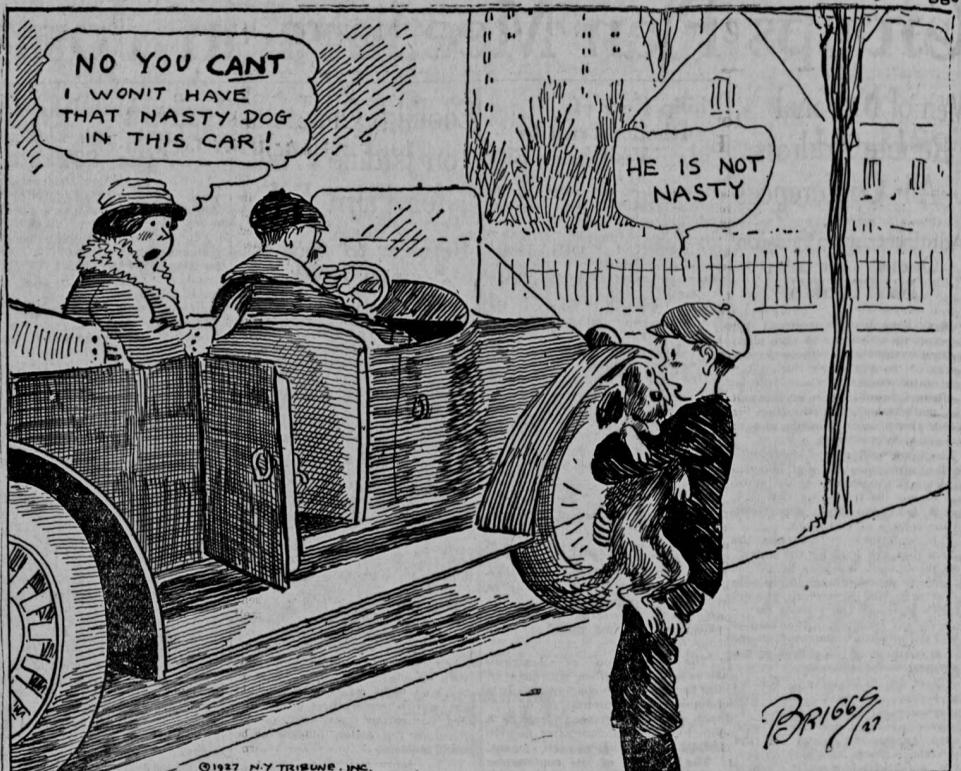

A kiss in the dark,
A promise—
A secret—and delight.

She remembers—
And forgives—
The promises unfulfilled,
Her waters flow with the past,
Smiling at the moon
And
Twinkling with the stars.

NOTICE

In order to avoid conflicts in scheduling dates for important affairs, a calendar of events is maintained in the office of the president, with reservation blanks to be filled out.
Students and faculty are requested to report to this office anything that will be of interest to the student body of the faculty in the nature of lectures, concerts, conferences, programs, social events, etcetera.
Failure to report such events in the past has resulted in very serious complications and conflicts. For example it has been impossible for all visitors to secure hotel accommodations; important events have been scheduled for the same hour.

This calendar is maintained for the faculty and students to avoid embarrassing conflicts in university events.

The Book World On Other Campuses

By Edith M. Cobeen

Ballads for Sale, by Amy Lowell, Boston. Houghton and Mifflin. $2.25

"We should not fail to recognize the work of Amy Lowell if we met with in Luzon, printed on corn husk paper," says an eastern reviewer of this collection, and indeed, the individuality of the poetess, expressed in forms and formlessnesses, patterns and paintings that are incongruous and over colored, or impressions that are really very fine, is not questionable by the most caustic of her critics.
To the lover of Amy Lowell this posthumous collection will have the same charm as her other books. There is much that pleases in the range of subjects, which includes sea ballads, Indian songs, and Italian pieces, and in the thought, ranging from sparkling to obtuse, that is filled with color and movement.
There is, however, some "imagining," as she herself termed it, that is unrestrained and startling.
You are an aesthete to me
Beating dark shades of purple
Against the quiet smoothness of heliotrope
Perhaps some moving and striking comparison was evident to the writer; to many readers it is vague and unnecessary.
Some of the poems in this volume have been disciplined to the restraints of rhyme and footed form, but the discipline is often unpleasantly obvious in strained rhymes and sing song, for example:
Tuesday I will none of it,
West alone holds benefit.

Market and Financial News

Trading Falls Off in Stocks; Cotton Rises $5 a Bale

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Trading fell off sharply in today's stock market, but major price movements were in the up-side. Covering operations, following a week of declining prices, together with the activity of pools in a number of specialties, provided most of the buying power. Outside the market, chief interest centered in the early rise of $5 a bale in cotton prices, nearly all of which was lost later in the day, and the crossing of parity by sterling exchange for the first time since the summer of 1926.

Continue 4 Per Cent Rate

There was little in the day's business and financial news to influence the price movement. The increase of nearly $34,500,000 in brokers' loans last week was smaller than expected, due to the heavy conversion of General Motors stocks, and failed to have any effect on the money market, the 4 per cent renewal rate for call funds being continued over the week end.

The weekly mercantile reviews emphasize the stimulus to retail trade given by the cooler weather and the opening of schools but otherwise report little change in the general business situation. Directors of the Nash Motors company made public an excellent earnings statement and declared an extra dividend of fifty cents, which was reflected in an advance of more than three points in its stock to a new high record at 93. General Motors issues were active at slightly higher prices, the new stock being traded in on a regular basis for the first time. Pierce Arrow preferred sank three points to a new low record for the year at 40 1/2.

Chase National bank stock, soared thirty-two points to 605 on reports of an early increase in capital and further consolidations. National City bank jumped fifteen points, but lost half its gain, and Continental Can preferred, Dupont, Green Cananea Copper, Houston Oil, and Warren Bros. all closed four to six and one-half points higher.

New Peaks Reached

New peak prices for a year or longer were attained by about a score of issues including Goodrich Goodyear and Lee rubbers, American Water Works, Abitibi Power, American & Foreign Power, Commonwealth Power, Peoples Gas, Southern California Edison, Dome Mines, Cudahy Pocking, Davison Chemical, and Wrigley.

On the other hand, Pathe, Willits Overland common and Murray Body sold at their lowest prices of the year. Outside the establishment of parity by sterling, the principal developments in the foreign exchange market were the touching of new 1927 highs by Dutch guilders and German marks, and a further breach of more than thirty points in Japanese yen to around 46.31 cents. Sterling cables were quoted at $4.85 1/2, or 1.32 of a cent above parity.

Bond Market, After Activity, Resumes Drifting Tendency

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—The bond market today resumed its drifting tendencies after three days of considerable activity. Offerings fell off sharply, and prices in the main showed only fractional changes from yesterday's figures. The moderate buying in evidence was largely concentrated in high grade railroad and public utility bonds, with some interest in convertible mortgages reflecting the day's recovery in stock quotations.

Although most of the important industrial obligations displayed heaviness, there was no rush of selling. Goodyear Tire 5s, available in rather large amounts, after ruling around 95 1/2 for a fair part of the day, yielded only a half-point in late dealings. Profit taking depressed the price of Julius Kayser 6s, which have been buoyant for some time.

The railway leaders included Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans, bonds of the Illinois Central, both 4 1/2s and 5s commanding a nominal following at their previous best prices of the year. Southern Pacific (Oregon line) 4 1/2s and Chicago & Eastern Illinois 5s also were with striking distance of new peaks, and Big Four general 4s reached 96.

American Telephone 5s and North American Edison 5s were in fair demand at improving prices, and Havana Electric 5s established a new maximum. Spokane Interurban 5s developed marked weakness and fell back more than six points. Polish 8s touched a new high record in the early hours, but failed to consolidate their gain. About $45,000,000 of the new $70,000,000 Polish loan is expected to reach the local market within a week or two. The foreign group displayed numerous irregularities. A mixed trend was present in the federal government division, where business was relatively light.

Corn Prices Sink as Wheat Climbs; Frosts Still Minus

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Widespread need of moisture in Australia, together with insufficiency of recent rains in Argentina led to higher prices today for wheat. Corn values went down as a result of nearly complete absence of frosts which had been predicted.

Wheat closed firm; 53 to 13c net higher; corn 2 to 1c off; oats at 1c decline to an equal advance, and provisions varying from 15c setback to a rise of 25c.

Critical drought conditions were reported today to be affecting the wheat crop throughout Australia, except the western part of the commonwealth. Uneasiness over the outlook for breadstuff supplies from the southern hemisphere was also aroused by word that more rain is wanted in Argentina. Meanwhile, unexpected upturns in wheat quotations at Liverpool, simultaneous with advance of sterling to par for the first time since June, 1926, tended further to stimulate buying here, and so likewise did estimates that 14,400,000 bushels of wheat in Germany and 28,000,000 bushels of German rye is unmillable.

On the price bulges which developed in the Chicago wheat market, houses with connections northwest became active sellers. This circumstance served to ease values down temporarily, but the market rallied again at the finish, news being current that a hard snowstorm had set in near Saskatoon, Sask., and that the wheat crop there was yet a long way from the granaries.

Moderating temperatures as well as virtual failure of frost predictions weakened the corn market. Oats were steadied by good cash demand.

Provisions were irregular, influenced on the one hand by corn weakness and on the other by an up-turn in hog values.

A mill and grain firm at Cedar Rapids, wired Bartlett-Frazier: "Examination shows that the two weeks of intense heat seriously injured late corn in central and northern Iowa, and as more than half the acreage was late it means a lot of damage. The corn will be chaffy, light weight, and immature. We believe Iowa as a whole will not have over half a normal crop of merchantable corn. It is hard to buy old corn as country elevators are bare and farmers discouraged on the new crop."

Grain futures purchases Sept. 22: Wheat, 16,408,000 bushels; corn 25,511,000; oats, 1,897,000; rye, 1,213,000. Total 45,029,000 bushels.

CASH GRAIN GOSSIP

Corn demand good. Prices unchanged to 1c higher. Basis unchanged to 2c higher. Deliveries 160,000 bushels. Shipping sales 62,000 bushels. Offerings from the country light. Charters, 100,000 bushels to the bay.

World Series to Start Oct. 5; Sale of Tickets Began

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Ticket sales for seats to the world's series were authorized today by Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball commissioner, and the presidents of the clubs likely to participate in baseball's annual classic which will open in the home park of the National league pennant winner on Oct. 5.

The Giants were not represented at the conference, and neither were the fourth place Cubs, although both had been invited.

Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pirates, and Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, met with Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the pennant winning Yankees of the American league and Commissioner Landis.

The first two games will be played in the National league park, it was decided and the third, fourth and fifth in the Yankee stadium, with the sixth and seventh, if necessary, returning to the National league city.

If the Pirates, now leading the pennant chase in the National league should capture the flag, the games will be played on successive days, but if the Cardinals should win, one day will be left open for travelling between the two halves of the series.

Lone Tree Eleven Trims West Liberty

LONE TREE, Sept. 23 (Special)—Lone Tree had an easy time defeating the highly touted West Liberty eleven here this afternoon 18 to 0. The locals relied upon straight line plays for their gains and kept all their bags of tricks under cover, which same will be used against Iowa City high at Iowa City Saturday afternoon.

Coach Bridge's eleven came through the battle with but few minor injuries and are in the best of shape for the Red and White.

LOCAL MARKETS

There was no change in the local hog market over yesterday's quotations. Little stock is moving now. Most of the farmers are waiting on the corn situation and the next week should see something develop. If the corn continues to mature little stock will be shipped out as most of the local farmers intend to feed the hogs they have now. A frost will send many light hogs, mostly in the 190 to 225 pound class to the market at once. Most of the packers are shipping now with the exception of a few that some of the farmers are holding to smooth up before shipping.

The bidding on the local market now is:

Prime hogs, 190 to 225 pounds, $10.60; 225 to 250, $10.50; 250 to 300, $10.40; 300 to 350, $10.00; good packers, $8.75.

MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 23 (AP)—The siren song, "Friedman to Oosterbaan," which lured many thousands of Michigan's alumni to the great stadia of the middle west during the past two years is to be sung no more. The "Benny to Benny" combination which helped to destroy the hope of Western conference championship aspirants is broken, but Oosterbaan remains to guide the University of Michigan eleven through one of its most trying seasons in conference history.

Five strong conference elevens and the Navy—the only team to defeat Michigan last year, and Ohio Wesleyan and Michigan State meet Tad Wieman's "boys" this year.

Loss of Friedman keenly felt. Oosterbaan, the all-American end, whose long arms, great hands, and long legs, outreached and out ran opposing defensive players to pull down Friedman's long, accurate passes for long gains and frequent scoring, captains the 1927 football squad which includes eighteen letter men and ten additional players of experience.

The loss of Friedman, all-American quarterback on many of the mythical teams last year, is keenly felt. His field generalship was without equal in the conference, and alone or with Oosterbaan he stood always a threat. He passed, he kicked and he ran.

At the ends, Wieman is fortunate. Oosterbaan, who passed nearly as accurately as Friedman, will probably work again with Nyland. Nyland starred in the second Michigan game with Minnesota at Minneapolis which game Oosterbaan won when he scooped up a fumble in the shadow of his own goal posts for a touchdown. There are eight other candidates.

Ray Baer and Norman Gabel, regulars of 1926, are available as tackles and Palmer and Squires each have won a letter at the guard positions. The line will miss the speedy Lovette, chosen lineman on the mythical all-conference team last year.

Thisted Line Prospect. C. T. Thisted, of Great Falls, Minn., who worked the center position under the watchful eye of "Tad" Wieman considered by many coaches and sport writers, the greatest line coach in the country, is the best prospect there.

But Harry Kipke, all-American halfback and backfield coach, has his problems which are Wieman's.

troubles also. Friedman cannot be replaced but a possible shift may find George Rich, and his 180 pounds, in full back position with Louis Gilbert, a running mate of Friedman, in his usual halfback berth. Gilbert can punt and was relied on during the 1926 season. He also took many of Friedman's and Oosterbaan's passes.

Weber and Molenda Gone

Weber and Molenda, who shared the task, not always successful, of stopping "Heb" Joesting, Minnesota's great all-American fullback, are gone. It is considered possible Wieman will attempt to develop a fast backfield, which never fully blossomed during the 1926 season. His passing game, with the exception of the Navy game, was successful.

In this event Greenwald, Sam Babcock and William Puckolwitz, all fleet of foot, and lettermen, remain for the other half back position.

Vic Dombhoff, of Toledo, an understudy of Friedman and James F. Miller, Jr., of Adrian, Mich., have had a chance directing the team as quarterbacks.

Oosterbaan possibly will be found behind the line much of the time passing to Nyland and Gilbert or running the ball. His speed after taking a pass in midfield often resulted in long gains when he outdistanced defense men.

"Beau Geste," Film of Mystery, Coming

"Beau Geste," a picturization of the Percival Christopher Wren novel of the same name, will be shown at the Englert theater beginning next Thursday. The film, which recently played as a road show attraction in New York and other large eastern cities, concerns the adventures of three brothers who join the famous French Foreign Legion. It is said to be a stirring mystery melodrama.

Ronald Colman, Neil Hamilton, and Ralph Forbes take the part of the Geste brothers, and the cast also includes Noah Beery, Alice Joyce, Victor McLaglen, and Mary Brian.

Hawk Coaches Start Polishing Team Play for Monmouth Tilt

Spend Big Part of Practice With Defensive Work

Transfer Myers From Backfield Post to Left End

With the opening battle but a week away, Coach Burton A. Ingwersen and his four assistants went about the business of polishing up the play of the linemen and backfield in the practice session yesterday.

Most of the two hour drill was devoted to blocking and tackling practice, departments that the Hawkeyes were a little lax in last year. The men looked good at blocking, but their tackling was nothing to throw the coaches into ecstasies.

Only a short scrimmage was given the candidates, and Burt forgot about his punting troubles and stressed fundamentals in the play of the backfield. Forward passing, the department that received major attention in Thursday's drill was also discarded, and line smashes and end runs were the only offensive plays on the program.

In an effort to find the best possible line aggregation, Myers was shifted from fullback to an end position. The Algona husky was green but gave much promise of developing and it is probable that he will be on one of the flanks when the team takes the field against Monmouth. The shift will probably bring Schmidt, veteran, into the backfield as fullback unless Bunn, minor letter man, gets the call.

The Hawkeye machine of this year will be like the former teams Ingwersen has developed in one respect. Their strongest point will be their defense, while their offensive threats are an unknown quantity. The forward wall that Burt will have in there will be heavy, fast, and a group of good blockers. The backfield men are also expected to be strong defensively.

Monmouth Aided for Offense
Monmouth college, a member of once and winner of the title twice, is the Illinois intercollegiate conference to test the Hawkeye defense to the limit. The Illinois aggregation has always been noted for its strong offensive plays, starting mostly from a punt formation.

Just what line of offense Burt will use against Monmouth, winner in fourteen of its last seventeen games, remains a mystery. No doubt forward passes will be one of the weapons, but whether line plays or end runs will be the other threat, no one knows.

But one thing is sure. The Hawkeyes will use more trick plays this year than in any other time during the Ingwersen regime. The shift has been abolished on the Old Gold program this year, which will require more accurate handling of the ball by the backs than in former years for they are on the run when they catch the pigskin. It also will require more deadly passes from the center.

Must Develop Kicker
Another thing has come to worry the mentors. It is the point-after-touchdown department, those fatal points which allowed Michigan to defeat Minnesota and Ohio State last year. Cooley and Glassgow have been worked hard at plain kicking but neither has shown the sureness with driving the ball between the up-rights. Glassgow has shown progress this week, however, and may develop into a fairly dependable point scorer.

Although the opening game is expected to test the strength of the Hawkeyes, Burt is pointing for the game with Ohio State. Reports from Columbus during the core part of the week, that Glenn, flashy half back, is in the hospital with an attack of appendicitis, were disregarded today when dispatches from Ohio State stated that he would be in the game again Monday in good condition. But even though Grim is out, the Buckeyes will still present Marek, former Cedar Rapids flash, who is one of the most polished football players in the country.

Monmouth, with a veteran aggregation, will have two captains during the Old Gold fray: Alex Thom, brother of Harris Thom, who was on the squad in 1921 when Iowa won a clear title to the Big Ten crown, and Russell Graham, halfback. Graham is reputed to be a triple threat menace who was responsible for the scoring of most of his team's points last year.

Other veterans on the Illinois machine are: Max Rogers, 210-pound guard; Walter Cork, driving fullback; Kenneth Walker, halfback from College Springs, Ia.; Bruce Barr, 185-pound guard; and Frank Wilcox, sprinter, who is the third veteran halfback to return.

Fall Weight Men to Practice Daily at Finkbine Field

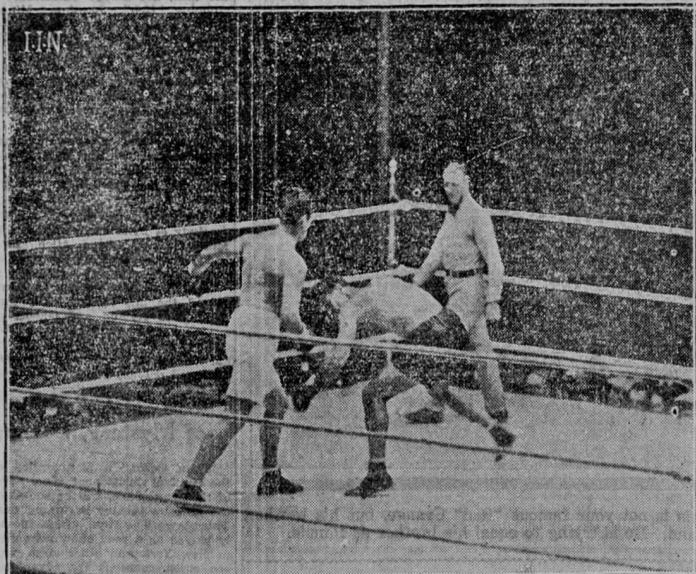

The fall weight men under the tutelage of Coach Daine are putting in two or three hours work daily at Finkbine field.

So far only a small squad has reported, including four varsity veterans. Three or four weight men are out for football and a few more experienced men are expected to report to Coach Daine at the beginning of next week.

Several meets will take place late in October and November the exact dates to be arranged on the weather. Among these will be a freshmen novice meet. Prizes will be awarded in each event.

The varsity men who have already reported are: Fred M. Marquis of Ottawa, John D. Lammertino of Davenport, Henry P. Baumann of Anamosa, and William R. Junk of Iowa City.

Frosh Harriers Given Workout

Coach George T. Bresnahan sent his freshmen cross-country runners through an intensive drill on Finkbine field last night. Working the varsity and the freshmen together, Coach Bresnahan drilled the men in sprinting and the technique of uphill and downhill running.

This year's freshmen schedule consists of three important events: Oct. 22 and Nov. 12—dual meets with the varsity reserves. These two meets will furnish the basis for numerical awards.

Nov. 22—the Hawkeye run in which live poultry will be awarded to the winners.

Freshmen who have reported are: B. H. Turner of Anita; T. Kelley of Parnell; C. E. Plimoth of Avington, Ill.; W. H. Eberingham of Ft. Madison; L. W. Burns of Council Bluffs; V. Lewis of Lacoar; R. E. Big Ten Champs Engage in Fast Practice Game

Seven Additions to Squad; Prospects Brighter

Smoothing out the too apparent rough spots in the fall baseball aggregation continues to occupy the major moments of assistant coach Beardsley's time. The men, while willing, are still noticeably weak in the fundamentals of fence busting, due to a season of inactivity.

Prospects took on a brighter hue Friday night when Henn, Faber, Twowood, and Vander, joined the eighteen contenders for spring varsity berths. Twowood, veteran short-paw pitcher, rehearsed but a short time as his business arm is not yet in condition. Henn, sub pitcher from the 1927 nine has been on the retired list due to an injured arm but with his recovery will come almost certain chances to make the team.

Wander, frosh pitcher, is displaying some zip on the ball and his chances are fairly rosy. Faber, outfielder, also reported and is doing well. Spies, frosh infielder, is working and looks exceptionally good, while Thompson, regular catcher, is showing his old time form.

A program of fielding and hitting comprised the best part of the afternoon's workout which was followed by a fairly fast practice game. Thompson secured a triple which topped the day's work. This hit resulted in the only run of the game.

Lineup: first team—Thompson, c.; Clark, p.; Kading, ss.; Davis, 1b.; Brown, 2b.; David, 3b.; House, rf.; Faber, lf.; C. Corbin, cf. Second team—Hathaway, c.; Wander, p.; Porter, ss.; Eyre, 1b.; Allen, 2b.; Spies, 3b.; Chance, rf.; Anderson, lf.; Jacobson, cf.

Scrimmage at Drake

DES MONIES, Sept. 23 (AP)—Another hard scrimmage against the freshmen was the lot of Drake university's varsity football squad today. Coach Solem spent his time drilling his line men in charging, while assistant Coach Boelter gave the backs a lesson in passing and running.

Yearling Track Prospects Good

Former High School Athletes Make Up Cinder Squad

Coach Charles R. Brookins has already issued his call for freshmen track candidates and a good number of promising men have reported. The drill during the last few evenings consists mainly in jogging and conditioning.

Of the men who have reported a wide array of athletes from all over the country are represented. California is represented by five athletes, Michigan by three, Illinois by five, Missouri by two, and a large number from Iowa.

The men of exceptional ability, who have remarkable high school records are: Boyer, Cedar Rapids pole vaulter and high jumper and his teammates Redel and Cummings; Pape of Dubuque, who is a good dash man, Turner of Anita, Jensen of Emmetsburg, Gress of Oak Park, Ill., Maley of Oelwein, Coekran of Michigan City, Mich., Pierce of Newton, Gordon from Gary, Ind., Walker of Davenport, and Sample of Webster City, Mo. Other men who have reported are: Ferguson, Smith, Hanspeter, Cook, Kenney, Rappart, Kiel, Hakes, Milligan, Stransky, Edson, Stoddard; G. McVez, Groom, Haugen, Agard, and Stanley.

It is the intention of Coach Brookins to stage an all-university championship meet on October 20 which may be entered by all persons in the university who have ability in any track events. The equipment may be received from the equipment room in the field house for all those desiring to take work-outs. Rewards for the first three places in each event will be given. The weight events are to be held back of the field house and the track events will take place on Iowa field.

Debate Over "Long Count" Still Rages

Illinois Commission Refuses to Set Aside Verdict

By ALLAN J. GOULD
CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—The battle is over, the exodus of the most spectacular fight crowd is nearly complete, but the debate is still on. It raged with increasing rather than diminishing fury tonight about the non-famous seventh round and whether or not the "long" count of nine—actually occupying a space of thirteen or fourteen seconds—saved Gene Tunney from losing the heavy-weight crown to Jack Dempsey.

The official decision in Tunney's favor on the score of the delay in counting in the seventh round until Dempsey was waved to a corner as well as on the verdict at the close in the champion's favor, stands as it was rendered last night. The state athletic commission settled this at a session that heard and refused to allow a formal protest from Leo F. Flynn, Dempsey's manager, who claimed that Tunney was actually knocked out and that Dempsey was "robbed" of the championship. At the same time, a loop-hole was left for further appeal by Flynn.

Dempsey refused to support Flynn's action, today at least, and through his agent, Arthur F. Driscoll, of New York, made it known that he was considering no "squawk" or protest at present.

So it will stay on the records as a ten-round decision for Tunney, but there were thousands today, those who had seen the fight and those who studied its seventh-round details closely in the slow motion pictures, convinced that untoward circumstances cost Jack Dempsey the greatest triumph of his career.

The pictures not only showed that the time elapsing during the count of "nine" was actually nearer fourteen seconds but they indicated that Tunney had been compelled to get up earlier than he did, probably would have been a wobbly, easy target for the finishing wallop.

In other words, the four or five additional seconds the champion gained on the floor, while Dempsey was being chased to the furthest corner by Referee Dave Barry, seemed in the pictures to be a vital, if not deciding factor in Tunney's recovery.

Tunney Semi-Conscious at "Five"

Gene was dazed and blinking when he went down from a series of left and right hand smashes to the jaw. He was still seemingly only semi-conscious when the count actually reached "five." Nine or ten seconds actually had passed by that time so that, but for Dempsey's delay in retreating, Tunney conceivably might have been able to rise out. Even had he been able to rise, it is doubtful whether his legs could have carried him as rapidly around the ring as they did several seconds later, to escape Dempsey's renewed attack.

On the other hand, there is the view that Dempsey cost himself his big chance of victory by not abiding promptly by the state boxing rules that compel a boxer to retire quickly to the "farthest" corner after flooring an antagonist. These rules provide no count shall be made until the boxer on his feet has so retreated.

This was the view of the commission, in backing up the action of its officials. It was the opinion of Dave Barry, the referee, and of the two judges, George Lytton and Sheldon Clark, prominent Chicago business men.

Gene Gets Orders from Corner

As to whether Tunney was capable or not of getting to his feet and out of range whenever the count of nine was reached, opinions differ. The champion himself said he was able to get up at five and was about to do so, only to be restrained by orders shouted from his corner. Most ringside experts seemed to share a similar view.

Lytton, one of the judges, de-

Why Knockout Count Delayed

Here is the rule that caused all the trouble in the delayed count of the referee Thursday night:

When a knockdown occurs, the timekeeper shall immediately arise and announce the seconds audibly as they elapse. The referee shall first see that the opponent retires to the farthest corner and then, returning to the timekeeper, shall pick up the count with the timekeeper, starting at one instead of at the count of the timekeeper, announcing the seconds to the boxer on his feet fall to stay in the corner, the referee and timekeeper shall cease counting until he has so retired. At the tenth second, providing the termination of the round has not happened in the meantime, he will strike the gong twice. If a round shall naturally terminate during a knockdown, the timekeeper shall sound the gong once, thus indicating the termination of the three-minute round as usual, at the same time announcing the second that the knockdown count ended.

It is interesting to note that the pictures show that during the last four or five seconds Tunney was intent on watching the referee's count, sitting with his left hand on the ropes ready to pull himself up.

Why didn't Dempsey rush in, when Tunney did get up, and make a quicker effort to complete the job? That was another moot question. It may have been Tunney's foot-racing skill, his dizzy back-peddling pace, that frustrated a fresh Dempsey charge, but it seemed, as the pictures were studied, that the champion let many precious seconds go by before taunting his foe and then leaping back to the attack. There was no doubt that every second was a precious mind and body-restorer to Tunney toward the close of that seventh round.

Dempsey "Outsmarted"

Dempsey's aggressiveness throughout the fight is emphasized by the pictures but so also is Tunney's remarkable generalship, the superior accuracy of his attack—outside of the fateful seventh—and his far greater stamina. Tunney, cleverly handled by his chief second, Jimmy Bronson, "outsmarted" his opponent, perhaps, when the crisis came, but he did not outgame him. Dempsey was always going in, stung and cut as he was by the rousing finish that clinched the decision for the champion.

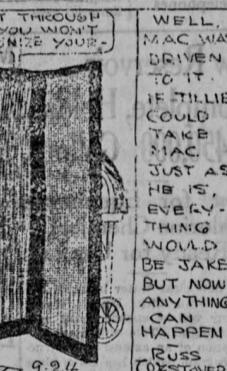

Dempsey's plan of battle, in retrospect, emerges in bold relief. It was a carefully conducted body attack through the first five rounds, with a well-timed shift to the head in the sixth and seventh. Either one of these rounds was picked for Dempsey's big bid—while his resources were still strong. How close this strategy came to being successful is pretty well known. In spite of the "break" against Dempsey in that seventh round, however, he might have cashed in on his advantage had he still possessed the old physical fire and stamina that marked his hey-day.

Another Match Possible

It was the first time in Dempsey's career that he had failed to finish an opponent he had knocked down. It was because at 32, he found his legs and endurance unequal to carrying on at top-speed attack. Tunney's youth, speed, and boxing craft were sufficient to offset the old batter's punch.

Is Dempsey through or will there

New York Bests Pittsburgh Nine in Exciting Game

Victory Gives Giants Second Place in Flag Chase

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23 (AP)—The New York Giants jarred a full game out of Pittsburgh's lead on the pinnacle in the hard National league grind today with an exciting 6 to 5 victory over the Pirates which brought the McGrawmen back to second place as the Cardinals went down. The defeat reduced the Corsair advantage to two and one half games.

The Pirates carried a five run lead in the seventh but Carmen Hill, who had defeated the Giants five times previously, weakened and four runs crossed the plate. With the bases loaded and two out, Lindstrom dropped a Texas leaguer single that brought in two runs and another one came over when Lloyd Waner made a bad peg to third.

Trailing by one run in the ninth with one out, Mueller walked and Lindstrom's hit to center took a high hop that turned it into a three bagger. Roush sent a short sacrifice fly to Lloyd Waner and scored Lindstrom from third on a very close play.

Cross Country Team Practices for Meets

With only a month remaining before the first dual meet, the Iowa cross country team, under the leadership of Captain Leonard E. Hunn, is slowly getting into condition. The work outs for the last week have consisted chiefly in limbering up and jogging for short distances. The Iowa field being used at present until the regular barrier course is opened for varsity use.

The squad, consisting of many men from last year's team and a very promising group of last year's numerical men seems to give assurance that a Iowa team will be represented by a well balanced team. Captain Leonard E. Hunn will be out to protect his share of the Big Ten title, but will be pressed considerably by his team mates.

The schedule:
Minnesota at Minneapolis, Oct. 22, Illinois at Iowa City (Homecoming) Nov. 6
Wisconsin at Madison, Nov. 12
Conference meet at Ann Arbor, Nov. 19

Braves Jolt Cards Pennant Hopes With 3 to 2 Victory

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23 (AP)—The pennant hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals were given a set-back today when the Boston Braves won the second game of the series, 3 to 2, on Fournier's homer in the ninth.

The Cardinals thus dropped to third place, three games behind the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, while New York, who defeated the Pirates today, went into second place, 2 1/2 games behind the leaders.

The game was a pitchers' duel between the veteran Grover Cleveland Alexander, who has won twenty games this season, and Joe Genewich. Each allowed but seven hits.

The Braves bunched two doubles in the first for their first run. Hafey's homer with one out in the same frame put the Cards ahead.

A double, single and a sacrifice gave the Braves another in the fifth to tie the count. Fournier put the game away in the ninth with his circuit clout.

Cincinnati and Brooklyn Divide Close Doubleheaders

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23 (AP)—Cincinnati divided a doubleheader with Brooklyn today, triumphing by 6-3 in the first clash, and losing the second by 4-3.

The Reds landed on Elliott for four runs in the fifth inning of the opener to tuck the game today. Ray Moss, recently obtained by the Robins from the Memphis club of the Southern league, hurled the Brooklyn victory.

White Sox Break Jinx; Slip It to Red Sox 2-1

BOSTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—After losing twelve straight, Chicago defeated Boston 2 to 1 in 11 innings today. The winning run came on a pass to Kamm, Neil's punt and a long single to right by Falk. Herbert Grady, recently recalled from the Waterbury club of the Eastern League, drove in Boston's only run in the fifth with a single after Todd had tripled, and also held Chicago to five hits.

Umpire Owens was struck on the right knee by a foul tip in the tenth and had to leave the game.

East, West Teams Reach Semifinals of U. S. Net Meet

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Tennis teams representing the best in the eastern and western sections won their way into the semi-final round of the U. S. inter-sectional tennis championship at the Chicago Tennis and Tennis club today.

George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, Davis cup alternate, swept through Arnold Jones of Yale, no. 1 player on the New England team, in straight sets 6-4, 8-6.

John Hennessey of Indianapolis clinched the victory for the west by trimming J. Brookes Fenno, Jr. of Boston 6-1, 7-5.

The eastern team of John Van Ryn, Princeton star and intercollegiate champion, and Louis B. Dalley of New York, made a clean sweep of all three matches over the middle Atlantic team of Emmet Pate, Georgetown University, and Mangan of Washington.

In the semi-final tomorrow William T. Tilden, II, and Wallace Johnson, playing for the middle states meet Van Ryn and Dalley. In the other bracket Lott, Hennessey and Lucien Williams of Chicago will go against Louis Thalheim and Berkeley Bell of Dallas, Texas, representing the southwest section.

Freshmen Report for Daily Practice

Due to the fact that on Friday the freshmen attend freshmen lectures, there was no practice session for Coach Otto Vogel's yearling football candidates last night.

Coach Vogel said that starting next Monday, every candidate who took out equipment for the fall practice is expected in uniform as the freshmen will probably meet the varsity in scrimmages every night next week.

Coach Vogel has asked that all freshmen transfer their physical training cards to football so that they will get credit for the work.

He is survived by a son, Will, of Tiffin, and four daughters, Mrs. M. F. Arranbright of Panora; Mrs. Forrest Fountain and Mrs. P. A. Dooley of Iowa City, and Mrs. D. J. Whelan of Cedar Rapids.

Mrs. Marvin Dey Attends Committee Meeting of Clubs

Mrs. Marvin H. Dey, Johnson county chairman of the Iowa federation of Women's clubs, reported upon the $20,000 endowment at the September board and committee meeting of that organization at Des Moines, Wednesday to Friday of last week.

Interest from this sum will be used for furtherance of work in each department of the federation.

The convention centered at the Fort Des Moines hotel. The board met there Wednesday, convening again Thursday with the committees for a get-together banquet.

Scott Pays Costs for Wife Beating

Archie Scott, 808 S. Dubuque street, was found guilty of a charge of wife beating and fined $100 and costs in Police Judge Paul E. Custer's court yesterday morning.

The fine was suspended upon Scott's promise to reform his conduct.

He paid the costs of $2.95, and left with his wife and two children, who had accompanied him to court and had stood quietly by while Judge Custer lectured to him on the duties of a husband and father.

Man Combs City for Missing Boy

George McCrory, a 14-year-old Atlantic school boy, left his home shortly after the noon hour Wednesday. His father, Henry McCrory, is searching for him in Iowa City, as he thinks the boy may have come here.

Mr. McCrory has made plans to have a description of the boy broadcast over WSUI so that people in this vicinity will be able to recognize the boy if they happen to come across him.

Elsie Sweetin Weeps to Jury in Second Trial

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Sept. 23. (AP)—Weeping loudly, Mrs. Elsie Sweetin appealed to the jury in her second trial for murder to "give me death, if you think I killed my husband."

"I don't want to go back to prison, away from my children," she said in concluding her testimony.

Taking testimony was concluded late today and arguments started. It is expected the case will be in the hands of the jury by noon tomorrow.

Few witnesses were called by the defense, which relied almost entirely on the story that Mrs. Sweetin told the jury. The state put on several witnesses in rebuttal, seeking to discredit Mrs. Sweetin's statement that she had been mistreated by Jefferson county officials.

Mrs. Sweetin testified that Lawrence M. Hight, former clergyman and co-defendant at her first trial, had led her to believe a mob was forming and thus caused her to make her first confession that she had given poison three times to her husband, Wilford.

Woodward Talks on Flood Control

Prof. S. M. Woodward, of the college of engineering, will deliver an address at the meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineering which meets in Columbus, O., from Oct. 12 to 15. The theme of the meeting will be flood control, especially in reference to the control of the Mississippi river.

Professor Woodward will speak on "Drainage as it Affects Flood Control."

"He is particularly fitted to talk on this subject, for he has in the last few years made an extensive study of Iowa streams and this work furnishes the best statistics in this regard that can be obtained," according to Dean C. C. Williams of the engineering college.

"During the years 1914 and 1917 Professor Woodward was consulting engineer for the Miami conservancy district in Ohio and has contributed theories in regard to the hydraulics of floods.

Dean Williams predicts that the decisions arrived at by those attending this meeting will have a great influence on the course adopted in the further control of the river, because members of the society are probably the greatest authorities in the country on this particular subject.

Other members of the college of engineering will probably attend the meeting which is the third of the quarterly conventions held each year. The theme of each meeting is chosen in an attempt to discuss the problem of engineering which is considered most vital to the people of the country at the time.

Literary Societies Hold Joint Meeting

Zetaganthian and Philomathian literary societies held a joint meeting in Zet hall last night, after which the former organization presented an impromptu program. The Zetaganthians planned a mixer that will be held next Friday night.

All students interested in forensics, dramatics or other literary activities are invited, according to Paul Hawther, A4 of Iowa City, president.

Driver Breaks Ordinance

G. E. Myers, driver of a gravel truck in Iowa City was brought up before the police court yesterday morning charged with driving his truck which was not properly equipped with a muffler. He was fined but he was later suspended after he had the truck properly equipped.

Fire Demolishes Sunnyside Home

A house belonging to Bert Clifford at Sunnyside, a suburb of Iowa City, near the Hawkeye roadway, was burned to the ground yesterday about 1 a. m.

No one was in the house at the time of the fire. Everett Snyder, the tenant, left early in the evening for Kalona to meet his wife. He did not return until nearly 1 a. m. and then the house was almost burned down.

The fire had gained such headway before being discovered that the firemen were too late to save the structure.

Mr. Snyder had $200 insurance on the household goods, valued at $1,000. Included in the loss was a sum of $50 which Mr. Snyder had left in the kitchen cabinet. The house was insured for $1,000, which Mr. Clifford says, is much less than its value.

The origin of the fire is not known, but Mr. Snyder remembered having built a fire in the kitchen stove before leaving and it is thought this might in some way have caused the fire.

Grinnell Man Will Give Vesper Talk

Prof. Edward A. Steiner, lecturer and author of "The Trail of the Immigrant," will give the first vesper talk Sunday afternoon in the Natural Science auditorium at 4 p. m.

Professor Steiner is of Jewish parentage and was born in Vienna, Austria. He is a graduate of Heidelberg university, Vienna; Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio; Berlin university and has since been a member of the Grinnell faculty.

This educator has been active in social service work, particularly among the immigrants. Because of his activity among all classes of people he has been able to tell of the hopes and trials of the immigrant on their first arrival in this country.

He has gained the viewpoint of the immigrant and is his friend. He propounds the theory that all foreigners are, and always will be, a menace to our colleges as long as they are ignored and disdained by their fellow American students.

State Authorities Taboo Hunting Muskrat in Iowa

Muskrat hunters can no longer hunt on the Iowa and Cedar rivers, according to a recent announcement of the state fish and game department at Des Moines.

The announcement calls attention to the statute which, although no limits are placed on muskrats, states that trapping or shooting them is unlawful within one-half mile of a "meandered" lake or stream.

The prohibition is in force during the open season for muskrats, Nov. 15 to March 15, as well as during the closed period.

Johnson county hunters are also barred from shooting pheasants in the county, as a petition containing the names of 150 landowners must be filed with the state game warden, W. E. Albert, before such birds can be killed. Seventeen counties in the northern part of Iowa have filed such petitions, as there are an unusual number of pheasants in that territory this year.

Police Arrest Two for Drunkenness

Charles Sape, arrested Thursday evening on a charge of drunkenness, was arraigned before Police Judge Paul Custer yesterday morning. He pled guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Charlie Vermore, arrested the same evening on a similar charge, failed to appear in police court the next day.

Iowan Rates Sport Chatter in Column

Announcing a new feature which will appear on the sport pages of The Daily Iowan every day, "Our Crow," a column of chatter, of football forecasts, and in general "what have you."

It will be written by sport scribes who are "in on the know" and will contain sport chatter from every possible angle.

Watch for it tomorrow. It is just another of the features which The Daily Iowan gives you through its columns.

Wassam to Talk on Flood Damage

Prof. Clarence W. Wassam of the college of commerce will speak at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon session Monday noon. Professor Wassam will paint a word picture of the ravishes of the Mississippi river during the past summer.

Professor Wassam spent many weeks in the flood area and saw the spirit of the South rise above the floods and disaster. He is therefore able to present the truth of the flood situation. Members are urged to bring a friend to the luncheon Monday.

For future meetings the Chamber of Commerce has secured the following speakers: Gov. John Hammill; N. T. Guernsey, New York; Arthur Huntington, Cedar Rapids; Claude Porter, Des Moines; Charles H. Mackintosh, Chicago; Ralph Cram Davenport; Lieut. Col. H. J. Koehler, West Point; John C. Reid, Cedar Rapids; Dr. Charles L. Street, Chicago; John N. Van der Vries, Chicago; John Reynolds, Indianapolis; Edwin T. Meredith, Des Moines; Prof. O. R. Sweeney, Ames, and Harry Hull, Washington, D. C.

Treasurer Fixes Tax Penalty Date

Final chance to pay taxes for the last half of the year, according to announcement made by County Treasurer Charles R. Berry, will be next week.

The office of the treasurer will be open every day next week from 7 to 9 p. m. Where those who have not paid their taxes may do so.

Penalty for non-payment of taxes will begin Oct. 1 to the amount of one per cent a month. The fact that the first half-year's taxes were paid before Mar. 31 does not free that half from penalty in case the last half is not paid before Oct. 1.

According to law, the penalty must be made against the entire year's taxes, not merely the delinquent semi-annual payment.

This penalty will be assessed Oct. 1, and should the property owner pay his taxes on that date he would be assessed the one per cent the same as on Oct. 31.

Two Cars, Trucks Collide Yesterday; Drivers Uninjured

Two collisions occurred early yesterday morning. Lee Moore, driving a truck owned by J. Hanlon, smashed into a Ford touring car driven by Vern Marner at the corner of Washington and Gilbert streets. Neither of the drivers was injured and the cars were only slightly damaged.

The Mahon company's truck and a Buick driven by Mrs. R. E. Pell collided in front of the Letts filling station on Madison street. The truck was damaged little, but the steering gear on the Buick was smashed so that it could not be driven away from the scene of the accident.

Flynn's Protest Ignored; Dempsey Must Do Talking

Takes Three Stitches to Close Cut in Ex-Champs Eye

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Leo P. Flynn, manager of Jack Dempsey, made formal protest to the Illinois state athletic commission today over the "long count" accorded Gene Tunney in their world's heavy-weight championship match last night, but the appeal, insofar as the commissioners were concerned, was in vain.

John C. Righelmer, chairman of the commission, told Flynn that inasmuch as there was no contract between Flynn and Dempsey, as manager and fighter, on file with the commission, that nothing could be done about the protest at this time.

"If anybody squawks, I want the squawk to come from Dempsey himself," Righelmer said.

Whether Dempsey will support Flynn in the issue remained an unsettled problem tonight. Arthur P. Driscoll, a New York attorney representing Dempsey, told Chairman Righelmer that the former world's champion was content to abide by the decision rendered in Soldiers field last night, and was considering no protest.

Chairman Righelmer said that he and other members of the commission were of the opinion that the battle had been conducted strictly in accordance with all rules; that Dempsey himself was familiar with the rule of the ring, and that the particular rule in regard to knockdowns and the action of the boxer scoring one, was gone over with Dempsey and Tunney just a few seconds before the battle started.

Referee Dave Barry, particularly impressed upon both contestants the requirements of the rule in the event of knock-downs.

While Flynn was making his oratorical appearance before the commission, Dempsey was with his wife, Estelle Taylor, in their hotel apartment trying to forget the defeat.

Following a protest by the Dane Coal company, under contract with the city to furnish coal, to a clause insisting on having the loads reweighed by the city scales, the clause was revoked.

St. Mary's Plans Activities for Year

The faculty of St. Mary's school is arranging social activities for the school year. The respective classes will elect their officers next week. Literary societies will be organized on either Wednesday or Thursday. A Columbus day program is being planned.

A petition was filed yesterday in the office of Walter J. Barrow, clerk of courts, by L. D. Dennis against Charles Pudil. Mr. Dennis is asking for a judgment of $160 with interest from Mar. 21, for services rendered.

He has received an offer of $100,000 to box Johnny Risko in Cleveland during the winter, and may also box for Rickard, in the Madison Square garden. But he has made no statement regarding his acceptance of these offers, nor of the belief that he may very shortly decide to hang up his boxing gloves forever.

Hospitals Admit Two

Walter E. Kaloupek, A2 of Elberon, was admitted to Mercy hospital yesterday. He has an attack of acute appendicitis.

Charles Fisher, P2 of Duncombe, was admitted to the University hospital yesterday afternoon.

Bulldogs Drill Hard

DES MOINES, Sept. 23 (AP)—Behind barred gates, Drake University footballers staged another strenuous drill today. Coaches Ossie Solem and Bill Boelter emphasizing fundamentals. Another similar drill, in secret, is programmed for tomorrow, while starting Monday the Bulldogs will get their last hard licks in preparation for the opening contest of the season against Simpson here Oct. 1.

Council Accepts Bids for Lights

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) with gravel on Third avenue from Muscatine avenue south to the north side of "I" street, a resolution of necessity for surfacing there was rejected by the council.

Another Paving Program Resolutions were also passed accepting the first program of street improvements completed Sept. 15 by the William Horrobin Contracting company, and the sewer improvements completed by Joseph Strahle. This action was taken after the report of the city engineer had been heard. Another resolution ordered the issuance of bonds for sewer improvements already completed on the west side of the river.

Among other matters taken up by the council was the passing of an ordinance changing the name of Dey street to Kirkwood court. Bert Chase was granted permission to cut the curb for constructing a driveway to a filling station at the city limits on Muscatine avenue.

Petitions by property owners asking the city to install electric lights at the corner of Seventh avenue and Jackson avenue and on "G" street and Fourth avenue were referred to the light committee.

Mary E. Clark was granted a remission of taxes for 1925-26 on three lots in East Iowa City, when Attorney E. A. Baldwin appeared for her and told the council that she was 70 years old and unable to support herself, and that the taxes had already been suspended, and that otherwise she would be thrown on the bounty of the county.

A permit to sell cigarettes was granted the Oriental cafe after the filing of a $1,000 bond. Surety bonds for H. C. Wilson for laying sewer laterals were approved. The appointment of Louis F. Mueller to the library board as announced by Mayor J. J. Carroll was approved.

Following a protest by the Dane Coal company, under contract with the city to furnish coal, to a clause insisting on having the loads reweighed by the city scales, the clause was revoked.

William H. Gemmill, secretary of the state board of education was here yesterday conferring with President Walter A. Jessup.

Issue Marriage License

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Mildred Prosser, 27 years old; and Marguerite Warner, 27; both of Cedar Rapids.

Lost Essex Coach Appears on Street

Iowa City police discovered an Essex coach, apparently abandoned or lost, at Bloomington and Dubuque streets recently. Yesterday they discovered the owner of it when he phoned from Muscatine asking the local police to be on the watch for an Essex coach with license number 64-4758.

The owner is a university student at Des Moines, M. N. Harney. The machine was minus a battery and had two flat tires when found.

License Receipts Reach Over Ten Million Dollars

DES MOINES, Sept. 23 (AP)—Iowa motorists will pay nearly $10,500,000 in license fees and better than $6,000,000 in gasoline taxes this year, nearly all of which will be used in building roads.

W. M. Colladay, superintendent of the state motor vehicle department, announced yesterday that motor vehicle license payments for the first eight months of the year reached $10,253,104.72. This sum exceeded the total payments of $10,208,674.84 during 1926, which was the first year in the history of motor vehicle license fees collections that the payments went over $10,000,000.

Mr. Colladay estimated that further payments of about $150,000 will be made during the balance of the year.

The two-cent per gallon gasoline tax netted approximately $4,800,000 per year. Since July 4, Iowa motorists have been paying three cents per gallon tax which will add from $800,000 to $1,000,000 this year.

All of the motor vehicle fees except cost of collection go into the primary road fund. The gasoline tax receipts are divided between the primary roads, the county roads and the township roads. The primary road fund gets one and two-thirds cents of the three-cent tax and the county and township roads each get two-thirds of a cent.

Ticket Sales Mount

Athletic tickets at Iowa City high have been selling rapidly, according to Merritt T. Fossler, of the high school faculty, who is in charge of the ticket sales. Candy and peanuts will be sold by the staff of "The Red and White," the high school annual, at the high school game this afternoon. The staff is endeavoring to raise money for additional features for the yearbook.

The first meeting of the high school orchestra was held Sept. 21, under the direction of Miss Cronin. Twenty-four students were present. They are to meet regularly at intervals of two weeks. The Iowa City board has made provision for class instruction in instrumental music for grades and high school. Definite plans are being made for expert instruction on each instrument and teachers are being considered for these positions. Much Interest Shown According to Miss Cronin, students are signing up for this work and great interest is shown in the course. The individual instruction in class groups will make for a bigger orchestra, affords the students unusual opportunity, and will lead the way to a high school band.
