Break Ground for New Theta House

$43,000 Residence to Appear on Old Hoxie Block

Ground has been broken for the construction of the new Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house on the corner of Governor and Burlington streets. The house is to be completed before rushing season opens next fall.

An entire block, known as the old Hoxie residences, was recently purchased by the sorority. The new, a $43,000 structure, will be built on the southwest corner. The house will be colonial in architecture, built of red brick and trimmed with white. Four two-story pillars in front will also be white. White shutters will be used on the windows. The yard will be terraced with the solarium windows opening directly onto the terrace on the east side of the house.

The interior will be furnished in cream and mahogany. On the main floor will be two large parlors, one of which will have a fire place with a mantelpiece of the sorority symbols in mosaic design. The large library will be paneled, the lower part finished in the darker color while the upper part will be cream.

Sixteen bedrooms which will accommodate thirty-two girls will occupy the second and third floors. The kitchen and dining room, cook's room, store rooms, and chapter room will occupy the basement floor.

Equipment for the new home will include an oil burner furnace and a water softener.

The McAllister Construction company of Columbia, Mo., has the contract for the building. Dr. Zella White Stewart, chairman of the Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae corporation, is in charge of the building.

Re-discovers His Favorite Tobacco

Charleston, W. Va., March 4, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:

Recently I stopped in a little village that consisted of about nine houses and a small hotel, which I entered. A little old man wearing a skull cap was seated in a rocking-chair smoking an enormous pipe. I had come to buy a can of Edgeworth, but when I caught a whiff of the tobacco he was smoking I changed my mind. The aroma of that tobacco was so delightful that I made up my mind right then and there that I wanted some of the same brand, regardless of the cost.

I began with: "I beg your pardon, sir, but I came in to buy a can of tobacco, and I would like the same brand you are smoking if you don't mind telling me." He looked at me for a moment, grasped his pipe with one hand and said: "I'm smoking Edgeworth. Would you like some?"

Of course I did, and I secured a supply from the old fellow. The joke, of course, was on me, but I went on my way rejoicing.

Yours very truly,
Dr. John R. Koch

Chess Association Chooses Officers

Four Entrants Lead in Finals of State Tournament

Election of officers of the state chess association occupied the greater part of the meeting at Iowa Union at 11 a.m. yesterday. The following were elected: J. M. St. John of Cedar Rapids, president; Marvin Temple of Sioux City, first vice president; Edward Sayre of Des Moines, second vice president; C. E. Tyrrell of Des Moines, secretary.

The business meeting marked the opening of the finals of the state chess tournament, and the fourth day of Union week.

Immediately following the business meeting, the first games of the tournament were begun by the eleven men registered in the tournament. Each player must play one game with every other player and the man who at the end of the tournament, has lost the fewest games wins the silver loving cup.

At the end of yesterday's play the following men had lost no games, about one-third of the games having been played: Mr. St. John, Mr. Sayre, Kenneth Davenport of Creston, and B. F. Paul of Blairtown. The cup last year was won by Mr. Davenport.

Beginning this morning at 9 o'clock, the playing will continue for the remainder of today and probably tomorrow, ending with a banquet tomorrow night.

Fifteen States Sent Teachers to Confab

In checking over the membership attendance at the recent commercial teachers' training conference, Prof. Earl G. Blackstone, professor of the college of commerce, found that there were fifteen states represented.

Heads of departments of commerce, deans of colleges, professors, and instructors of universities made up 15 per cent of the attendance; another 15 per cent was made up of deans and professors from teachers colleges. The remainder, 70 per cent, was from high schools.

Doctor Lectures on Heart Disease

Baconian Discussion to Show Advance in Treatment

The wide-spread prevalence of heart diseases in the present day will be discussed in the Baconian lecture to be given by Dr. Fred M. Smith of the college of medicine, tonight at 7 o'clock.

The lecture will be on the topic, "Recent advances in the prevention and treatment of cardiac disease," and will be held in the chemistry auditorium.

In commenting upon his subject, Dr. Smith said: "In recent years cardiac disease has become one of the most effective allies of the grim reaper, taking its place ahead of tuberculosis and other scourges of the past. As a result there is on foot a nation-wide movement to reduce the incidents of cardiac disease, and also to relieve the disease."

You will meet Verna Lyle yourself in the columns of the fascinating story which tells why men called it a privilege to die for her. And you will meet courage and high adventure and treachery and the very heart of evil as the story goes resistlessly forward to its tremendous climax and its final haunting word.

arm those who criticize college sports on the basis that it benefits the few.

Most schools in the conference have resorted to varied methods to encourage greater numbers to go out for athletics. Illinois has raised all its sports to major importance. The two team idea in football is another experiment in that direction.

As for soccer, the majority of schools in the conference recognize it as an accredited sport. The game itself is every bit as interesting as football, both from the spectators' and players' point of view. In England and in Europe an average game draws a crowd well over 100,000 persons.

Propaganda

THE our-country-right-or-wrong disease which affected Mayor Thompson of Chicago seems to be spreading. A member of the women's department of the Overseas' Council of the British Colonial office, Miss Elizabeth Harper of Danbury, Oxford, is denouncing Canadian use of textbooks written for pupils of the United States, published in this country, and giving the "American atmosphere."

Miss Harper has a right to do this. It is to be hoped, however, that she is not attempting to copy Mayor Thompson if she wishes to retain the respect and support of her countrymen.

Heralds of Spring

A FEW robins came and chattered about the trees desolately. The sun came out in a very decided way, and fur coats were rapidly abandoned for spring outfits. The weatherman announced the official minute and second at which spring was to have come. But we are out of the habit of believing in the weather man.

This week spring came. The first sure signs were a square yard of parkway lined with twig-dug circles and trampled by small feet. The grade schools have officially declared that it is spring. A game of "alleys" on the street corner is always infallible. Who, even the weatherman, can deny such positive signs?

As the more familiar sun catches the glint of a "glassie" between the soil-stained thumb and first finger of a 10-year-old, we sigh with conviction, even though it be between sneezes and coughs, "Spring has come."

Two Per Cent

HERE are two sets of statistics which do not just happen to coincide, but which actually correlate. Two per cent of our population is mentally deficient. Two per cent of our population become criminals. That per cent is eating up 38 per cent of the taxes and keeping the other 98 per cent of the people fearful for their lives and property.

Dr. William J. Hickson, director of the psychopathic laboratory of Chicago Municipal court, says that laboratory experiments demonstrate that criminals may be detected with unerring certainty in their early years, as various tests have shown it is not chiefly environment but heredity that breeds criminals.

It is this class of people that reproduces at a much greater rate than the normal individual. So the spread of poor heredity increases.

It is offered as a solution that, first, the congenital defectives be segregated before they commit crimes, and second, that it be made impossible for defectives to reproduce their kind.

An examination of 40,000 criminals in the last twelve years has shown that they are constitutionally defective and cannot be reformed. It does seem that here lies the true root of our crime evil.

The Rustless Age

SCIENTISTS are perfecting a rustless alloy which will indefinitely resist corrosion under most conditions.

There is now a low-carbon steel high in chromium content being produced by five American steel companies. The product at present has a rather intricate process of manufacture, but it is being rapidly improved.

"Rusting iron" is now possible to be purchased at 25 cents a pound, a price considerably lower than five years ago.

Perhaps crumbling cars and rusting bridges will soon be a thing of the past. Sheet metal roofs, buildings, fences, eaves—all will be safe from corrosion.

It is rumored that Germany already has a lower-cost product than America. Will we lead or follow in this great commercial discovery?

Soccer, a Major Sport

EVER since last fall the athletic department has been pondering on the advisability of elevating soccer to a major sport. Today their decision is still in the air.

Why the athletic council is so fearful of taking the step is hard to see. From the standpoint of "sports for all," which is the prevalent policy in all universities, the step is most judicious. Enlarging the list of sports on our athletic program would dis-

UNFINISHED MEMORY
Moonlight—and you and I.
Remember Dear? Martini's quay
In lonely, quiet Navagorda Bay,
That night three years ago?

I lying on the quay . . .
You sitting there, so quietly
Just before that final goodbye.
You going—where? Neither knew.

Loves and Life's vain glory passed
My way, and in passing caressed
My cheek . . . In the days since
The final embrace of that night.

The following dialogue occurred in a local barber shop:
"Heh! Heh! Heh!" remarked the barber carelessly carving around our most important ear, "Heh! Heh! You know what I dreamed last night?"
"I'll bite," we replied, inhaling great gulps of soap-suds.
"I dreamed that me and my partner here was surgeons. We had somebody on the operating table, all ready."
"I says to my partner, 'Hand me that knife.' He handed it over. Boy, I made one cut and there was the patient wide open."
"How very amusing," we rejoined feebly.
"Then I makes another cut and something fell out on the floor. Carl, my partner says, 'Now what the hell happened?'"
"Don't you think you better-er-er-fold up that razor?" we returned with collegiate sang froid.
"I can't do anything with this knife," I tells Carl. "Give me that razor."
"Hey! Wake this man up! we yelled.
"Then I grabbed that razor," continued the barber, "and I made one cut - like this."

Will someone drop in and hear the rest of that dream? Incidentally, you might return one slightly used barber's apron that we neglected to leave in our exit.

Presidential Aspirants

AL SMITH
From the sidewalks of New York comes Alfred E. Smith, democrat, avowedly wet, Catholic, member of the famous Tammany Hall, seeking the democratic nomination for president of the United States.

Probably the most picturesque democrat to aspire to the office since the days when Jackson started the quiet life of Washington, Smith was not made an especially strong effort to gain the nomination of his party, but has intimated that he would like it and would not refuse.

He has not "run for" office in his years of activity in politics. Rather his party has promoted him and let the people be won by the unusual personality and ability which the poor boy from the fish markets of America's greatest city possesses.

His Own Boss
Despite his membership in the Tammany club and support which democrats have given him, Smith would undoubtedly be his own guide and director, should he win the president's chair. While acting as governor of New York he has done as he pleased, regardless of the fact that the famous political club to which he belongs was a heavy factor in giving him the start necessary to win the office.

Although able to give Tammany everything and anything he chose, Smith has never held a national office, Smith has never made himself known on many issues having to do with the entire nation. He has, however, spoken often and freely on the subject of prohibition. While governor he signed the bill repealing the Mullan-Gage state enforcement act, and advocated to congress liberalization of the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

Several times he has threatened to remove sheriffs and police officers of the state if they failed to enforce the Volstead law the same as any other law, but has never removed any for this reason.

Received Little Education
All Smith is different from most presidential possibilities in that he did not graduate from a law school and later become county attorney. He was born in New York city, the son of a poor truckman who died when the boy was only 13 years old, leaving him to support his mother on the earnings of a New York newsboy.

His mother covered umbrellas at home and two years after his father's death, Al went to work in a stall of a fish market on the East river. This job brought him enough income to purchase actual needs for himself and his mother.

His education was received in the St. James parochial school, but the education that has put Al Smith ahead was obtained on the sidewalks of New York, in his experiences with humanity as it exists.

Smith acted on the stage several years with the St. James players, an organization he started. It was composed entirely of amateurs.

His fervent and convincing speaking ability won him rapid promotion in the Tammany club, which he first joined when eighteen years old. He worked unceasingly for the club for several years, making house-to-house canvasses, running errands, and making himself generally useful to the older members.

His speaking ability won him a chance to work in the meetings and he soon became well known in the fourth ward where the club functioned heaviest.

When 30 years old his first dip into the pot of politics came, nearly ten years after other favorites for the nominations this year had been elected to county attorney positions.

"Big Tom" Foley, one of the powers of Tammany Hall, is said to have approached Smith, asked him if that was the best suit he had, and when answered in the affirmative, handed the lanky and uncouth young man $50 and told him to get a new suit.

"You're going to be nominated for the assembly," he said.

With that brief statement Smith began to rise to the place of most discussed candidate for the democratic nomination.

Smith tired of the legislature after a year and was on the verge of quitting when, in 1906, James W. Wadsworth, Jr., republican speaker in the assembly, placed the young legislator at the head of the insurance committee, important at the time because of the investigation by Charles E. Hughes. From this time on Smith rose more rapidly and his ability began to show.

Democrat Leader
In 1911 he was elected majority leader of the legislature, but in this session did not keep up the winning streak which had been favoring him. The Union Union condemned him, and the democratic New York World also came out repeatedly against his work.

He was reelected, however, and with the democrats in power again in 1913, was elected speaker. He came back for two more years and in the fall of 1915 was made sheriff of New York, with salary of $75,000 a year. Two years later he became president of the board of aldermen and in the fall of 1918 was nominated for governor. He won the election by a narrow margin, and has been in office continually except for the two years when he was retired by the Harding landslide.

Should Smith win the president's chair, Washington will probably be shocked slightly. A man still young, tireless, and immensely capable of working when others quit, Smith would make a different figure in the white house than any president since the time of Jackson.

Letter to The Editor

Guns
To the Editor,—Let me heartily congratulate you on your editorial on "Guns," representing, as it does, point an understanding that does you honor. I hope the message to Cedar Rapids will be received in the kindly way it was undoubtedly intended. We are supposed to be a nationality standing essentially for peace. Let us then be true to our colors, consistent to our declaration, and let not only the wretched guns be banished from before the Memorial Union at Cedar Rapids, but the entire country over.

I am proud of my university (though not an alumnus, I have lived in Iowa City sufficiently long to be able to speak and greatly value the privileges). I am proud, I repeat, of my university, where in its representative journal, editorials such as this appear. Quickly may there come an opportunity for the bright and brainy young men, growing up around us, to have their right of way in Washington. Now, our men going there seem to lose their honesty, and what is nearly as bad, their vision. A change of procedure is loudly demanded. There is not the slightest reason in the world why the peace of the world cannot be maintained, if our country will only line up with the other English-speaking nations.

Queer lot, those Chinese junkmen! Carry anything! From live pigs to birds' nests! Not to mention unmentionable things—and a lot of dirty work here and there when it came to opium smuggling. Too damned free with a knife—in the dark! (Captain Scarface unconsciously traced out the scar on his cheek with his forefinger.) Still, (it was a boat out there, the thing to do was to investigate it. Naturally! There wasn't any wind or he would have run down toward it. Not likely to be any wind for God knew hours long, anyhow. Twenty-four hours' no without a breath of it. Just as well Marlow was keen to go, he would have sent Marlow anyway—a little later on, though, when it got cooler—with the sun down a bit, and—

Captain Scarface dozed.

When he opened his eyes again he stared sleepily out over the schooner's side in the direction Marlow and his boat's crew had taken—and, suddenly quite wide awake, reached for his binoculars.

"Hi!" commented Captain Scarface. "Seems to have found something worth while anyhow. Looks like he was towing it back!"

Captain Scarface continued to stare through the binoculars.

"Aye!" said he presently. "It's a

Wheat Shows Slight Gain

Rainy Weather, Selling of Corn Favor Quotations

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—Buying of wheat against selling of corn did much to send the wheat market up at the last today and to pull corn values down. Reports of need of rain in Nebraska were construed as somewhat bullish regarding wheat.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1/2 to 1/4 net higher; corn 1/2 to 3/4 down; oats at 1/2 decline to 1/4 advance, and provisions 5 to 10 @12c off.

In connection with late advice telling of extremely dry weather in parts of Nebraska, talk was current that high winds before rain would bring about serious crop deterioration. Under such circumstances, increased speculative buying which started after mid-day disclosed a lack of offerings, and brought about a sharp rally from an early decline. Earlier the market here had apparently been influenced a good deal by lower quotations at Liverpool and by advances which were taken to indicate generally auspicious weather for the domestic winter crop.

Corn prices acted heavy throughout the day.

Favorable weather for field work tended apparently to restrict selling from rural sources, but re-sellers of corn in Europe were reported to be offering corn cheaper than the offerings from the United States.

Enlarged pressure from the new Argentine crop was also a subject of attention. Oats were governed mainly by the action of corn.

Trading Increases to Month's High in Bond Market

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—The bond market today experienced its most active session since the beginning of the month. Prices had a firm trend, although a number of issues which advanced into new high ground failed to hold all their gains. In a few instances net losses occurred after earlier advances.

Little change was noted in the money market. The demand for new bonds again was reflected by the quick sale of the $17,867,000 Wabash 4 1/2's offered this morning.

Philadelphia company 5's furnished the outstanding individual feature, rising nearly a point to a new high of 101 1/2. Several other public utility issues also were at, or close to their 1927 maximums, including Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania 5's, Columbia Gas 5's and California Gas & Electric 5's.

Buying of railroad bonds continued briskly, with numerous peaks. St. Paul bonds reached at their best prices, but closed fractionally under yesterday's final figures. Big Four 4 1/2's, Minneapolis & St. Louis 5's, Northern Pacific 5's, Texas & Pacific 5's and Chesapeake corporation 5's were among the mortgages which exceeded, or duplicated their previous tops for the year.

Bethlehem Steel 6's again touched their 1928 peak, but most of the business in the industrial group was confined to the convertible issues.

Second Day Poll Leaves Hoover in Lead, Smith Next, Lowden Close

Herbert Hoover continued to lead in the second day of balloting in The Daily Iowan's presidential preference poll yesterday while Al Smith held second place with Frank O. Lowden but one vote behind in third place.

Lowden is still leading in second choices, having a total of 18. Dawes has 12 second choices and Hoover and Smith each 10.

The standing of first choices now is: Hoover, 42; Smith, 27; Lowden, 26; Dawes, 11; Reed, 6; Willis, 4; Curtis, 3; Walsh, 1; and John W. Davis, a candidate not on The Iowan's ballot, received 1 vote.

Neither Donahey nor Ritchie have received a first choice, but the latter has one second choice vote.

Campus organizations, sororities, and fraternities, are urged to conduct a poll among their members and send the results to The Daily Iowan office. The president or other officer of the organizations should sign the list of votes, but the regular ballot forms need not be used.

The poll is now being conducted by college newspapers all over the nation with the Independent magazine as sponsor. Final results of the nation will be published as soon as sent in and tabulated at the Independent's office.

"What Every Woman Knows"

A Review by Theodore F. Koop

The presentation of "What Every Woman Knows" will go down in the history of the university theatre as one of the high spots in a noteworthy series of productions. Like-wise, Helen Langworthy's interpretation of the role of Maggie Wylie will be ranked among its outstanding pieces of individual acting.

Sir James Barrie has made Maggie a subtle character, and Miss Langworthy brought out the full import of the bits that make the part so delightful. She played with a reserve and restraint that gave depth to the interpretation, making it consistent and emotionally sustained.

Maggie is made to say that she lacks "charm," but both Miss Langworthy and the Barrie character possessed much of that element. Miss Langworthy portrayed a certain quaintness that added whimsy and softness to the part. Her characterization was well rounded, and showed clearly the development of Maggie herself from the Scotch maid to the capable wife of the rising member of parliament.

Best in Third Act
 Miss Langworthy was at her height in the third act, when she is preparing to leave her husband. The telephone conversation with the comtesse was particularly well-handled. Her brave dejection was a good contrast to her pleasurable triumph at the close of the play.

As John Shand, Maggie's husband, Walter Roach gave good support to the leading character. He showed an understanding of the role, and while he had visualized Shand as a larger, more crude and blustering man, Mr. Roach gave a careful reading of his speeches. He was perhaps a little too much the suave

Yannigans Get Revenge for Defeat in Seven Inning Contest

Carlson Blanks Varsity, 3 to 0 in Short Encounter

Rath Functions on Hill for Regulars; Allen Errs Twice

The Yannigans took sweet revenge for the white-wash handed them last Tuesday, by shutting out the varsity 3 to 0 in a seven inning game yesterday.

Rath and Thompson were doing battery duty for the varsity while Carlson and Brown were doing the same duty for the Yannigans. The pitchers didn't do so bad, the support was what did the damage for Rath.

Two overthrows by Allen got Rath in a hole in the fifth and sixth innings. This coupled with a hit and another miscue let in the runs. Carlson was stingy with the hits. He received air-tight support.

Nelson was working at short in the place of Glassgow who failed to show up for practice. Glassgow was not feeling very well Wednesday so drew a lay-off yesterday.

Corbin, the other Hawk on the sick list, was back in a uniform yesterday. He took a brief work out and appears to be out of any danger of being laid up.

Bill Tilden Beats Lott in Test Trials of Davis Cup Play

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22 (AP)—"Big Bill" Tilden, the nation's ranking tennis star, had to fight hard today to avoid a second defeat in the Davis cup test play but he finally subdued his singles adversary of the day, George Lott of Chicago, 6-8, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 7-5.

The match, which was contested under ideal weather conditions, was a slashing, ever in doubt, affair from the first, the University of Michigan student turning in a dazzling exhibition of well placed service shots to take the first set and coming back in the fourth to make it 2-1 after the Davis cup champion had marched easily through the second and third frames.

Coming up to the final and fifth set, Lott snapped into the lead by out-countering the veteran. The Chicagoan carried the games to five, four and Tilden braced to make it even. He shot over close service shots then for two straight points to take the sixth game of the set, and followed it through with a decisive margin in the deciding game.

Setting the Pace

Joey Schauf, left guard of the University of Pennsylvania basketball team, has scored 104 points in league games and is leading scorer of the Intercollegiate Basketball league. He is on his way to set a new record for high scoring in the league. (International Illustrated News)

Yankees Get Homers But Braves Win Tilt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The New York Yankees got the home runs today, but Boston's hard fighting Braves hit enough singles to overcome this handicap and take the final game of the exhibition series, 6 to 2. The victory gave the Braves the series, four games to one.

Kent Greenfield and Bob Smith held Miller Huggins' famed batters to four hits, two of them home runs, off the bats of Earle Combs and Tony Lazzeri. Those circuit blows marked the two hits Greenfield allowed. Stanley Coveleskie, essaying a comeback, started for the champions and was pounded for six hits and three runs in three innings.

Hawkeye Golf Coach Gives Advice to Embryo Vardons About Clubs

By CHARLES KENNETT Golf Coach

Beautiful weather and climatic conditions now tend to make the golf bug bite. Golfers are beginning to think about golf and getting out their clubs. It is during this period the golfer should not only think of playing, but pay particular attention to the condition of his golfing equipment.

Your clubs are pretty sure to want overhauling. Nothing is more disconcerting to a golfer than to find club heads or grips loose, shafts coming off, or cracked shafts. Now is the time to take the damaged clubs to your professional and have them put in thorough repair. It probably will have time at this period to do all the necessary work on them.

Care for Clubs
It is in the care of the clubs or otherwise, that you make the game expensive or reasonable. Whenever a head gets loose, a grip needs attention, or the strings come off, take it right to your professional and have him fix it. It will probably cost you only a few cents. If you neglect it, the cost will probably be the price of a new club or at best a dollar or two.

Another important tip—if you don't know the rules of golf thoroughly, ask your professional for a small book of rules and study them. If you're not playing according to rules, you are not playing golf. Never be afraid of going to your professional and asking questions. He will be glad to answer them and to help you out. Remember that is what he is there for.

Golf Etiquette
Etiquette of golf is one of the most essential points, that a golfer should know and observe. If you do not know golf etiquette, I would advise you to learn it before attempting to play.

The announcement of the opening of the golf course, will be carried in The Daily Iowan.

Soccer Squadron Grows; Margolin Directs Aspirants

More men are turning out for soccer every practice, it was announced yesterday by Morris M. Margolin, A2 of Detroit, Mich., who is coaching the sport. E. G. Schroeder, director of physical education, has had to give up coaching temporarily because of tennis.

Among those showing up well in the latest sport adopted by the university are: Taylor, Friedman, King, Williams, Zalsky, Alter, L. White, and F. White. Practice is being held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4 p.m.

It is planned to arrange scrimmages between the freshmen and varsity, in order that the students may be made more familiar with the sport. Coach Schroeder is trying to arrange a schedule which will provide games with the following Big Ten schools: Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Indiana. Should Michigan decide to adopt the sport, he will also try to get a game with that team also.

Jockey Club Fails to Support Action of Racing Comish

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—The Jockey club, controlling power on the turf in New York, today refused to support the action of the Maryland racing commission in barring Harry F. Sinclair because of his alleged connection with the oil scandal.

The Maryland commission, which has barred Sinclair and his establishment, the Rancocas stable, from all four Maryland tracks, made no request that its decision be followed here, but its action, nevertheless, was put formally before the stewards of the Jockey club for consideration.

The stewards, to make their position clear, adopted a resolution specifying that "the ruling of the Maryland racing commission in no way affected the entries of the Rancocas stable on race courses under the jurisdiction of the Jockey club."

Sinclair's horses already are entered in all the fixtures for the meetings at the four metropolitan tracks—Aqueduct, Jamaica, Belmont, and Empire City—as well as at Saratoga, which is also controlled by the Jockey club.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds' Adolfo Luque, veteran pitcher, pitched a full game yesterday afternoon to take an 8 to 1 verdict from the Baltimore Orioles. Curtis Walker, Cincinnati right fielder, hit for the circuit in the first inning with two on. Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban hurler for the Reds, went the entire distance and was never in danger.

Mike Howard to Meet Van Nice

Mike Howard, University of Iowa wrestling coach, will enter the professional grappling ring for the first time in many months, when he will exchange holds with Leo Van Nice, veteran Iowa grappler, at Newton, March 27. The bout will determine who will meet Bruce Noland of Newton for the heavyweight championship of the state.

Howard has been active for several months as far as professional bouts are concerned. Coach Howard has been working hard at the field house in an effort to condition himself for the competition.

On the following day Howard meets Earl Wampler of Seranton in a bout at Jefferson.

Local Golf Links to Open April 1; in Good Condition

Golfers of Iowa City may now begin their annual spring trips to the links of the country club. The fairways are dry and the greens are in excellent condition according to reports.

The course is very hilly and the drainage resulting from this makes it easier to keep the grounds in good shape.

The formal opening of the club will be held on the first of April, and the club professional who is to take charge for the summer will be on hand at that time.

Paddock Matched With Alderman in Sprint Encounter

900 Athletes in First Outdoor Contest of Olympic Year

AUSTIN, Tex., March 22 (AP)—The cinders were hardly disturbed on the wet University of Texas track here this afternoon as hundreds of athletes from the midwest and southwest warmed up for their annual onslaught on the Texas relays records tomorrow.

Olympic year finds the first major outdoor track and field event the focal point for the cream of university and college athletes of half the United States. More than 900 entries from 110 schools are recorded.

Charles Paddock, oft-called world's fastest human, is matched with Fred Alderman, former Michigan sprint star, running with the Illinois A. C. and Aubrey Cockrell of Texas university in a special 140-yard dash, that features the big afternoon program.

Major inter-conference competition was expected to develop between the Missouri Valley and Southwestern

Knox to Conduct Spring Grid Drill

Twenty-Eight Asked to Report in Practice Next Month

Immediately after spring vacation, twenty-eight Iowa City high school football aspirants will begin spring practice, according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach Walter S. Knox. This will be the first time in the history of the gridiron sport at the Red and White school that any spring practice has been held, and Coach Knox hopes that it will season his material for the struggles next fall. Workouts will continue for about five weeks.

As a nucleus for his 1928 machine, the Hawkeye mentor has six letter winners from last season, Captain Tim Fairchild, Albert Vestermark, Eldred Vestermark, Howard Moffitt, Emil Zeitmann, and Lyle Sangor. These veterans are all line-men except Moffitt, who played half-back last fall. Sangor may be used in the backfield although he has been one of the mainstays of the city high line in the past.

In addition to the monogram winners, the following men will be given invitations to report: Charles Fairchild, Manly Rose, Harrison Wright, Lester Glick, Clarence Breame, Evertine Hull, William Bell, Allen Fleming, Morris Decker, Cleatus Stimmel, Dan Lucky, Horace Redman, William Russell.

conferences, both of which have sent nearly complete representation. Crack Big Ten conference athletes are at hand expecting to snare first in selective events.

The University of Iowa mile relay team, holders of the Big Ten indoor record, will be opposed by Oklahoma, Indiana, and Texas in the feature event of the day. The present record for the event was established by the Hawkeyes in 1926.

Boxing Features Men's Smoker

Three lively bouts, the first of the all-university boxing tournament, and an exhibition bout put on by Johnny Shea, local professional welterweight and Roscoe Hall, university boxing instructor, were the main events of the men's smoker in the river room of the Memorial Union last night.

The best battle of the evening was that between Harold Diller, A1 of Colo, and Walter Schroeder, A1 of Kalona, in the light heavyweight class. At the end of the scheduled three rounds the judges were unable to make a decision so an extra round was fought. The uncheduled round was the best of the evening with plenty of heavy slugging and a near knockout once or twice.

Both took much punishment. Even after the extra period, the judges decided the bout could not be awarded fairly to either boxer and it went as a draw. The first round was even, the second went to Diller, the third was Schroeder's and the extra round a draw.

The first set-to of the evening was won by Adrian Pillars, A1 of Iowa, CHS, by a decision over Keith Carlisle, A2 of Jefferson. Pillars out-pointed his opponent in the second round while the other two periods were a draw.

Leo Torrance, A2 of Blairston, and Elmer Tessonman, A2 of St. Ansgar also fought three fast rounds. Torrance was given the verdict by a shade. He took the second round but the other two were even.

In the exhibition match between Shea and Hall there was a great deal more science shown than in the amateurs' fights. Some good slips, counters, cross-counters and feints were executed.

SPORT SLANTS

by ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—The heavyweight elimination game has turned into a guessing contest.

Tex Rickard doesn't care how many guesses the boys take so long as they make it clear that the New York promoter has the market in title bouts cornered. There is no limit to the number of chances on this merry-go-round.

Maybe Rickard himself does not know the answer. But the experts are doing the best they can to help him out. Some insist Tom Heeney, the Anzac, will get the big call. Tom is the common people's choice. Others say it will be bounding Johnny Risko, the big rough and tumble boy. Johnny is backed by the bakers and pretzel-benders—the "big doughnut" men.

John and Tom are the finalists of the heavyweight tournament, but the answer seems to be: What of it? No arrangements have been made for any final yet.

Paulino, others guess, will be called back into the Rickard fold. The Basque has as much "color" as any of the contenders but otherwise his chief recommendation is an ability to "take it."

Back again, then, goes the guess that it will be Dempsey and that the one big title fight that Rickard plans this year will be held in September instead of July.

Hawkeye Athletes Face Big Cards

The total number of meets in which Iowa athletes will engage in this spring in track, baseball, tennis and golf counts up to forty-two engagements. These spring contests, thirty-three of which are dual affairs, will comprise the schedules of the months of April, May and June.

With twenty-three games, the baseball team is the busiest of the quartet. The Hawkeye squad plays eight training contests with southern teams beginning March 31 and closing April 9, and then faces a card of twelve Big Ten games and three non-conference contests.

Shavers of the conference title of 1927, the nine opens the Big Ten series against Illinois here April 14. The Illini split high honors with the Hawkeyes last spring.

Nine meets appear on the schedule for the track and field team, which topped the indoor season by placing second in the conference championship affair. The clash with Illinois is the sole dual contest, the others including the Georgia Tech, Kansas, Ohio, and Drake relays, the Big Ten outdoor championships, National Collegiate A. A., and Mid-Western A. A. U. title affairs, and a triangular meet with Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The tennis men will compete in five dual meets and the championship affair. Golfers have four dual meets.

Only fifteen of the contests will be held at Iowa City. The most fre-

St. Louis Doubles Team Stands First in National Tourney

KANSAS CITY, March 22 (AP)—Freddy Krems, St. Louis bowler, rolling in the doubles event of the American Bowling Congress, smashed the pins for a score of 709 today—with the best individual performance so far in the ten pin "world series." He had games of 220, 245, and 244.

His score enabled him and his doubles partner, H. Rood, St. Louis, who rolled 539, to edge into second place in the two man division, with a score of 1,298. They are headed only by the crack St. Paul pair, E. Matak and L. Welseiffen, whose mark of 1,347 stands a good chance of prevailing through the meet.

The best singles today was made by E. Johnson, West Allis, Wis., 631. The five man team competition still is headed by the Meister insurance team of Omaha, with 2,929. Kansas City booster teams occupied most of the alleys tonight.

Frosh Candidates Report to Coach for Second Drill

With the weather conditions perfect, the freshmen baseball candidates again turned out en masse, each with high hopes of surviving the first cut which will be made soon.

Coach John Beardsley held a long hitting drill for his men, dividing the squad into three groups, infielders, outfielders, and catchers and having them hit in that order.

After the hitting drill the coach started an infield drill in an effort to get a line on the quality of his infielders. The outfielders, who were chased far and wide after the long flies. There seems to be an abundance of good fielders and it is hoped they will be able to hit good pitching.

If present plans materialize the frosh team will meet the varsity on Iowa Field Saturday afternoon.

Phillies Best Dodgers
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A two run rally in the ninth gave Brooklyn Dodgers a 7 to 6 victory over Bert Shotton's Philadelphia Nationals here today. Bob McGraw, former Dodger, now pitching for the Phillies made the mistake of purposely walking two men in order to get at Howard Fregau, Howard singled to score the winning run.

Tris Gets Homer
AVON PARK, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A batting attack which netted five runs on five hits in the eighth inning enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to score an 8 to 3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics this afternoon. Speaker hit a homer with one on in the fifth. Alexander continued his string of scoreless innings by blanking the Athletics for four frames.

Meanwhile Gene Tunney and the New York boxing commissioners are having a little guessing contest of their own. The commissioners aren't quite flattered by the way the champion has ignored their list of heavyweight challengers—Sharkey, Heeney and Risko. They see no humor in the fact that Sharkey is at the head of a list of logical contenders even though some of the experts do.

The solons will exhibit their annoyance tomorrow when they consider Tunney's reply to their request for definite action and even may take some drastic action against the champion.

The Davis cup team trials at Augusta, may be as complex and inconclusive as the heavyweight eliminations if the first few days of play is any indication. The boys have been polishing each other off without the least regard to rankings or reputation. Even the lefty team captain, Big Bill Tilden, has suffered defeat.

Immediately it may be recalled that Tilden before going south, said: "If I am beaten it will count as much against me as any one else. There will be no favorites, no picking on reputations. I will yield my place to those who beat me unless I can reverse the verdict in the final trials after we get to Mexico City."

Junior Coen, the 16 year old Kansas City star, who was invited to join the squad "merely for experience" seems to have become imbued with the idea that he is out to make the team. The youngster is not even on the national ranking list himself, but in successive days he has bumped off two of the "first ten"—John Doeg and Arnold Jones.

White Sox Falter, 10-5
WICHITA FALLS, Tex., March 22 (AP)—Bunching ten hits in the third, fourth and fifth innings for as many runs, the Wichita Falls, Texas leaguers, today defeated the Chicago White Sox 10 to 4.

County Democrats to Elect Delegates for State Meeting

To Hold Caucuses in Five Places on March 28

The Johnson county democratic caucuses will be held March 28, at 7 p.m. to select delegates to the county convention, according to official notices sent out this week by F. B. Olsen, county chairman.

Twenty-six delegates to the state convention have been allotted to Johnson county by the state central committee of Iowa. These delegates will be chosen at the county convention April 7, while delegates will be chosen at the state convention at Houston, Texas, June 26.

According to the notices sent by County Chairman Olsen, and F. B. Volklinger, secretary of the county organization, the caucuses will be held in the last voting place used in the precincts, unless the precinct committeemen make a change.

One hundred twenty-seven delegates have been allotted to the twenty-seven precincts in Johnson county, sixty-two of this number being from the five precincts within Iowa City. Each of the five city wards comprises one precinct.

The fourth ward of Iowa City, with sixteen delegates, is the largest of the county. Seven of the precincts have only two delegates each. Democrats of the first ward of Iowa City will meet for the caucus in the Johnson county court house.

while those in the second ward will meet in the city hall. The C.S.P.S. hall, 524 N. Johnson street, will be the meeting place for the democrats of the third ward, the O'Leary store, 110 S. Linn street for the fourth ward, and the city hall for the fifth ward.

At a preliminary meeting of the county central committee called by Chairman Olsen in February, plans were made for a complete program in the coming campaign.

The Johnson county central committee is made up of one man and woman from each of the twenty-seven precincts. These committee members will conduct the caucuses in their respective precincts and make reports to the county chairman.

African Bishop to Speak Sunday at Methodist Church

Bishop Eben S. Johnson of Cape-town, South Africa, will deliver a lecture at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night at 7:30 p.m.

Bishop Johnson, who is a former London newspaperman, was born in England. He completed his college work at Morning-side college in Sioux City. He has done graduate work in Syracuse university and in England at Oxford.

For many years he served as pastor at different cities in northwestern Iowa. At one time he was trustee for Morning-side college, chairman of the Iowa national guard, the 52nd Iowa volunteers in the Spanish-American war, and past grand prelate of the K. T. of Iowa.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson has held the position of bishop of Africa since 1916. He will stop in Iowa City on his way across the continent.

Speaker Tells of Dangers to Nation

Deplores Communism Increase, Laxity in Religion

Peter W. Collins, appearing before an audience of nearly 100 persons at St. Patrick's auditorium last night, spoke on the subject of "Dangerous Subversive Movements in America."

Mr. Collins, who came to Iowa City under the auspices of the Marquette council of the Knights of Columbus, has been touring throughout the middlewest as a lecturer in the interests of the organization of the Knights of Columbus.

In his presentation of the subject at last night's meeting Mr. Collins first pointed out the dangers of communism, citing the troubles in Mexico as an example of effect. He believes that there is a subversive movement which tends to destroy the foundations of religion.

He further showed that there is an apparent underlying movement which would do away with the bill of rights; discard justice and liberty. Supporting the constitution as a doctrine of the people, by the people, and for the people, Mr. Collins hopes that it may eventually become a universal companion to the Bible as a fireside companion in the American home.

He would place the single word "service" before the eyes of all as something to guide the people, giving each letter its own significance.

In closing he said that people should hold an interest in their country to wlay these dangerous movements. "When you lose interest in your country there is danger to that country."

M. Hogan Sues for Partition of Estate

Michael Hogan filed action in district court yesterday against James Hogan et al, asking the partition of property left in the estate of Patrick Hogan, who died in 1922.

The property is located in lots 3 and 4, block 4. The plaintiff, who is one of the heirs to the estate, claims that the property is being rented, and the rent collected by some of the defendants, without any accounting being made. He asks that the shares of the heirs be established and a referee appointed to make the partition.

If that is not practical, he asks that the property be sold and the proceeds divided. He also asks that the defendants who have been renting the property be required to make an accounting.
