Thousands Pay Homage to Dead Croatian Leader

Race Feeling Lacking on Funeral Day; Fear Danger

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Aug. 10 (AP)—And endless train of weeping mourners today and tonight passed by the body of Stefan Raditch, Croatian peasant leader, as it rested on a catafalque in the headquarters of the peasant party. Preparations are being made to receive 300,000 persons from all parts of Croatia who are expected to attend the funeral on Sunday.

Telegrams of condolence are continually arriving from many parts of the world and among them have been numerous expressions of sympathy from the United States.

Although there has been no untoward incident, the bitterness of feeling between the races which make up the kingdom has been shown in several incidents. Mrs. Raditch has refused to accept the messages of condolence offered by the Belgrade government.

Austrian newspapers were seized and burned in the square at Jelkitch this evening when it was discovered they contained a picture of Raditch wearing the Serbian national headgear. The Croats declare that the photograph was faked since Raditch never donned the Serbian headgear. The Vienna newspapers say, however, that Raditch, elated by the unification of Croatia and Serbia directly after the war, put on the Serbian national cap and was photographed wearing it.

Air Passengers Change for Rail

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad announced today that one of the first instances of the transfer of passengers from airplane to train, in transit, has just been reported from the St. Louis division.

"Train No. 154, the Gotham Limited, was passing Smithboro, Ill., a company statement said. The Englewood, Guy Hickman observed a large passenger airplane flying low beside the right of way, and parallel to his train. He saw that those in the plane were waving to him. The plane then drew ahead and passed him at high speed.

"When the train reached the station at Effingham, Ill., the plane was in a field near by. The pilot, who was waiting on the platform of the station, shook hands with the engineer, and said, 'I have brought you two women passengers from New York.' He stated they had left Tulsa, Okla., at 1 p.m., that day for the specific purpose of connecting at Effingham with the Gotham Limited.

"The pilot further explained that in passing Smithboro, he had flown low in order to verify the name on the rear of the train and be sure it was the one his passengers expected to board."

Politics Institute Says Prohibition Needs Education

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 10 (AP)—Prohibition in this country or abroad rests its chances for success upon the education of public opinion, delegates to the institute of politics agreed today in a round table conference on the issue.

"Prohibition in America is primarily a question of respect for law," Dr. H. A. Garfield, chairman of the institute, declared. "The Volstead act is constitutional, and the decision of the supreme court must be followed. The law can be changed, but only in the orderly manner described by the constitution."

"Congress could easily help in the solution of prohibition's problems," Norman Haggood, former ambassador to Denmark, declared, by preventing the entry into this country a flood of liquor from other shores.

Prof. C. R. Fay, of Toronto, leader of the round table, on questions of agriculture said he believed that Canada had taken a wise course in adopting government control of liquor.

Yegg Meets Death Following Rampage

PARIS, Aug. 10 (AP)—A robber was killed in the east end of Paris today after he had murdered a jeweler, forced the latter's wife to jump from a second story window and had fired into a crowd wounding five other persons.

He entered a jewelry shop in the Faubourg du temple and asked to see some gems. When they were displayed he tried to snatch them and when the jeweler resisted, shot him dead.

United States Exports Rise for Year 1927

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Exports from the United States during the second quarter of 1928 had an aggregate value of $1,175,000,000, which was one per cent more than the same period last year, 20 per cent more than the corresponding quarter of 1927, and more than double the quarter's exports in the pre-war year 1918. The comparisons were made today by the commerce department.

Steady programs of the United States as a manufacturing nation was even more strikingly indicated. The total value of manufactured goods exported from the country in this year's second quarter was $576,000,000, a gain of 9 per cent over 1927.

Imports, totalling $1,015,000,000, fell off slightly during the period, in parts because of price declines in rubber. This helped to give the United States a favorable balance of trade for the quarter amounting to $418,000,000, when the figures as to the unusually heavy gold export of the period were included.

Du Pont Pledges Support to Smith Ordinarily Republican Leader Interested in Personality

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP)—Pierre S. Du Pont, chairman of the board of one of the country's largest corporations, and nominally a republican, today came out flatly in support of the presidential candidacy of Governor Smith.

In a formal statement issued within 24 hours after he had been granted leave of absence as chairman of the General Motors corporation Du Pont said Governor Smith has the "strength of character to correct the evils of prohibition law, enforcement and make recommendations necessary for the solution of the liquor problem."

While ordinarily a republican, Du Pont said, "I have always interested myself in the plans and policies involved and in the personality of a candidate more than in a name of the party and I believe that no intelligent voter can do otherwise."

Party Choice Difficult

"The platforms of the two predominant parties have become reconciled to a degree that makes choice between them difficult. Neither platform presents on any important question a stand differing materially from the position of the other."

Du Pont reviewed Governor Smith's political record, especially his election four times as chief executive of the state, and added: "Governor Smith has proved himself an able executive, one who can be entrusted with the conduct of national affairs."

Turning again to prohibition, Du Pont continued: "The really important issue before the country, namely that of maintaining intact our original form of government and the liberties of the people, is not dealt with in either party platform. The issue has been raised by the 18th amendment to the constitution. Nine years of experiment have proved that 'prohibition' does not prohibit, strong drink is still readily obtainable and the ill effects of its abuse remain with us."

Du Pont Praises Smith

"Governor Smith, both before and after his nomination, has spoken clearly in favor of modification," Du Pont said, adding further: "His declaration in favor of modification gives greater encouragement than does the non-constructive opinion of his opponent."

Coolidge Intends to Maintain U.S. National Defense Chief Executive Will Not Allow Army Weakened

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 10 (AP)—President Coolidge does not intend to allow the strength and efficiency of the American army or navy to be tampered with or weakened on account of the anti-war treaty now under negotiation with fourteen other nations.

He looks upon the United States military establishment as moderate and as designed exclusively for defensive purposes. The anti-war covenant binds the signatory powers to refrain specifically from attack upon each other and therefore in the opinion of the chief executive, has little connection with matters pertaining purely to national defense.

Not Affected by Treaty

President Coolidge feels, however, that although the main American policies regarding national defense will not be affected by the treaty renouncing war, this pact may influence specific pieces of legislation in connection with national defense.

He believes that it is too early as yet to predict what such effects might be in individual cases, as for instance, on the pending naval construction bill under which ten cruisers and one airplane carrier would be authorized.

British Submitted Correspondence

The chief executive feels sure that the anti-war treaty will in no way clash with any obligations imposed by the covenant of the league of nations upon its signatories. He feels that it was perhaps with a view to establishing this point clearly that the British government submitted the correspondence relative to the pact to the league. The British action will, in any case, he thinks, promote interest in the Kellogg-Briand treaty on the part of nations which, although members of the league, will not be original signatories of the pact.

The League of Nations was conceived and has been maintained as an instrument of peace, and therefore Mr. Coolidge cannot imagine how any of its members could object to any move which promotes international tranquility. In any case, the individual endorsement of the proposal by the greater military powers seems to remove any possibility of opposition.

Receivers Take Over Company

Both federal and state receivers today for the International fire insurance company of St. Louis, whose president, Roy C. Toombs, of Chicago, has been held responsible, by insurance examiners, for disappearance of $3,500,000 from the company's assets.

The receivership represented conflicting moves in efforts to obtain control of the company which has more than $300,000,000 insurance in force.

Federal Judge Reeves, at Kansas City, appointed Robert E. Daly, actuary and acting head of the Missouri insurance department, and Edward P. Wilson, attorney, as receivers.

He acted on a petition filed by C. P. Long of Tupelo, Miss., a stockholder and policy holder, and J. C. Dale of Alabama, a policy holder, who were plaintiffs in a similar suit filed in federal court here yesterday, charging Toombs with having removed and converted the missing bonds to his own use.

About an hour after the action in Kansas City, Circuit Judge Hamilton here appointed Ben C. Hyde, state superintendent of insurance, as receiver.

The petition states the International's capital stock was impaired and the company was insolvent with $41,900,000 liabilities and approximately $39,000,000 assets available.

It further alleged that the receivers required by law were impaired to the extent of about $2,000,000.

Counsel for the International admitted the impairment of capital stock and assented to the receivership.

Professors Settle on Slayer of Girl

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Four university professors, volunteer detectives in the search for the man who murdered Miss Jennie Meta Constance Tuesday night, tonight concurred in the belief that blood has stained the clothes of a suspect, John Burke, 45 years old.

Their announcement followed the discovery of the origin of the restaurant napkin wrapped about the iron pipe with which Miss Constance had been beaten to death. It was identified as the property of the North Shore hotel, an exclusive establishment in Evanston, the suburban seat of Northwestern university where Miss Constance was a summer student.

Dr. Gerald Wendt of Pennsylvania state college, Dr. F. C. Whitmore, dean of chemistry at Northwestern, and two members of his faculty, Prof. A. J. Walcott and Prof. Howard C. Benedict, volunteered to aid the Evanston police in their search for the slayer.

Tonight they were called into consultation with coroner's chemist William D. McNally. Evanston police produced a bundle of water soaked clothing they had taken from Burke's home. The five immediately received the belief that blood was perceptible in the garments.

Revolt Disturbs Brazil; Celestino Thought Leader

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Aug. 10 (AP)—A revolutionary movement has cropped up in the state of Matto Grosso, Brazil, according to a telegram received by the Minister of the Interior from the town of Pedro Juan Caballero, on the Brazilian frontier. It is believed here that Pedro Celestino, who is thought to be in Rio Janeiro, is the leader of the revolt.

Matto Grosso is a huge state in southwestern Brazil bordering Paraguay and Bolivia. During the last six years there have been repeated attempts at revolutions in southern Brazil which several times, notably in 1922, 1925, and in the winter of 1927, developed into pitched combat between the insurgents and the federal forces.

Besides Matto Grosso, the states involved in these revolts included the wealthy Sao Paulo, Rio Grande do Sul, and Santa Catharina. During each of these disorders the federal government did not hesitate to declare martial law and to impose an absolute censorship.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 10 (AP)—It is believed here that a censorship has been established in Brazil since no news dispatches were received from Rio Janeiro today.

Interurbans Crash; Injure Passengers

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—A score of persons were injured, several seriously, here tonight when two Washington, Pa., interurban cars crashed head-on while passing over a trestle just after leaving downtown Pittsburgh. William Retzler, motorman, was seriously hurt.

The cars, one of which was inbound and the other outbound, were both heavily loaded with passengers. Policemen, passing motorists, and men from a nearby car barn assisted in getting the injured to hospitals. Most of those hurt suffered severe lacerations and bruises. A miscalculation was believed responsible for the accident which crushed the forward parts of the two big cars.

Canadian Officials Close Warehouses Containing Liquor

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 10 (AP)—More than a score of liquor warehouses along the Canadian side of the Detroit river were closed tonight and their liquor stocks, estimated to be worth more than $10,000,000, were held, temporarily at least, by provincial police.

The wholesale seizures were made today following the issuance by Magistrate David M. Brodie of subpoenas naming thirty-six liquor exporters to appear in court to answer charges of violating the Ontario liquor laws.

The exporters faced charges that the accumulation of large quantities of liquor in border warehouses is a violation of the liquor control act on grounds that much of the liquor thus accumulated has found its way into bootlegging channels.

Governor Smith Mourns Friend

George E. Brennan Funeral Brings "A" West

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 (AP)—At the funeral of George E. Brennan, his old friend and champion, Governor Smith was only a sorrowing spectator today, from the time he arrived in Chicago on the 26th century limited at 10:20 a.m., until he returned to New York on the same train three hours later. He had only one purpose in making the hurried trip to Chicago, and that was to attend the funeral of his ally. From the train he went direct to the residence of the former Illinois national committee man on Sheridan road. Expressing his sympathy to the bereaved widow and family, Governor Smith lingered only to view the body.

Going to the chapel for the public service, Governor Smith sat solemnly for an hour as the Requiem high mass of the Catholic church was celebrated. There was no glowing eulogy nor other tribute—Mr. Brennan's own request. The governor occupied a pew near the altar, opposite the Brennan family.

As the service ended, the nominee for the presidency marched solemnly from the chapel and stood with bowed head while the body of his comrade was carried past to its final resting place.

Mrs. Rock Sets Blaze to Home; Sent to Hospital

Although Mrs. Ruth Rock, 25 years old, shakily admitted that she had set fire to her home in East Iowa City before the district court yesterday morning, Judge Harold D. Evans withheld the acceptance of her plea of guilty and delayed judgment.

It was feared by the court that her mental condition is not such as to make her responsible and so further action will not be taken until she has been given an examination at the psychopathic hospital.

Notify Fire Marshal

A fire broke out in the house at third avenue and I street at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Because a fire had occurred at the same house under the same circumstances on June 12, the suspicions of the Fire Chief J. J. Clark were aroused. He notified the state fire marshal's office.

The case was investigated by Deputy Fire Marshal William R. Blake, Chief Clerk, and County Attorney C. B. Russell. She broke down and told them that her husband had gone to Rock Island to work Aug. 1. She had wanted to go because she feared being alone in the house with her two small children.

Afraid Alone

She asserted that in order to avoid staying there until Sept. 1, when they could dispose of it, she thought of setting the house on fire. Early Wednesday morning she poured gasoline over the kitchen cabinet and touched a match to it. When it had gotten a good start she took her two sons to the neighbors and called the fire department.

She repeated the same story before the court yesterday morning. She was arraigned on a charge of arson. According to her story the examination to be given at the psychopathic hospital will be completed as soon as possible.

After her club was raided and she was indicted along with 137 other persons Miss Morgan quit the night club hostess field and announced she would devote all her time to the stage. She is now appearing in a Ziegfeld musical show.

Hoover Labors on Anniversary

Moses, Work, Fisher Gather on Eve of Acceptance

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug. 10 (AP)—Awaiting formal notification tomorrow in this university's athletic bowl, Herbert Hoover celebrated the fifty-fourth anniversary of his birth today by applying himself a little more closely than usual to the task set for him by the republican party in making him its 1928 presidential standard bearer. From early morning until late afternoon he was engaged in a round of political conferences with Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the republican national committee; Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, one of the party leaders in the east; and others in republican ranks who gathered here on the eve of the notification ceremony.

At the end of the day, however, he laid aside these duties to be the guest of newspaper correspondents and news photographers at a birthday banquet at a Palo Alto hotel. Later he returned home to end the day with relatives.

Hoover Studies Reports Mr. Hoover began the day with a conference with Doctor Work, who arrived last night. For several hours the two studied reports brought west by Doctor Work, after they visited the university stadium to test the amplifiers set up for tomorrow's ceremony.

Doctor Work, Governor Fisher of Pennsylvania, and Senator Moses were luncheon guests.

Both Doctor Work and Senator Moses were silent concerning their conference with Mr. Hoover. The former sent word to newspapermen that he had nothing to add to statements he had made in Chicago and elsewhere. He did not reveal the nature of the reports he had brought to Mr. Hoover.

Governor Fisher predicted that there would be no change in the political complexion of Pennsylvania and that the state would stand republican in its forthcoming election. The republicans were presenting a solid front, he said, while there had been defections in the democratic ranks, among them that of Vance McCormick, Harrisburg publisher and former chairman of the democratic national committee.

Bands Will Play Neither Hoover nor Moses would discuss the letter sent to the republican nominee by Charles L. Burrill, republican candidate for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, demanding the resignation of Moses as eastern campaign manager.

While bands parade and play, airplanes will perform stunts overhead and aerial bombs will be exploded during the early afternoon. The actual speaking program is not to start until five minutes before 4 o'clock, Pacific coast time. Then Gov. C. Young of California will call the meeting to order and in a five-minute address present Senator Moses.

The New Hampshire senator has prepared a brief address, the reading of which will require ten minutes. As he presents the nominee, the bands will play the "Star Spangled Banner." Hoover then will begin the reading of his acceptance address, which is expected to require an hour.

Atlanta Journal Proves Upshaw Has Disqualified

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 10 (AP)—The Atlanta Journal says that former Congressman William D. Upshaw has disqualified himself as a candidate for congress in the democratic primary because of his activity for the republican presidential nominee, in the opinion of G. Ed Maddox, chairman of the state democratic executive committee.

A telegram from Maddox was quoted saying: "In my opinion Mr. Upshaw or any other candidate failing to comply with the letter or spirit of rule five, disqualified himself as a candidate in the coming state primary."

The telegram was in response to an inquiry following publication last night of a letter from Maddox to Davis S. Atkinson, chairman of the Chatham county executive committee, at Savannah, in which the state chairman said that candidates for office could not violate rule 5 of the state executive committee but must support both the state and national tickets for the party.

Upshaw, nationally known for his activities in behalf of prohibition, has entered the race in an effort to regain the seat won from him two years ago, by L. J. Steele, who is present opponent of Upshaw.

U.S. Opens Bids for Two Dirigibles

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The navy took the first definite step in three years today to regain for the United States the leadership in the lighter-than-aircraft field when bids were opened for the construction of two dirigibles each with a volume of 6,500,000 cubic feet.

These giant rigid airships are to be used to demonstrate the effectiveness of such craft as flying cruisers in war and long distance overseas and land air travel in peacetime. They will be the largest of their type in the world, with a cruising radius of ten thousand miles each and capable of more than 72 knots an hour. They, with the Los Angeles, will give this country more craft of this type than any other nation. Their combined cost will not exceed $8,000,000 as authorized by congress.

Publicity Getting Champion's Goat

Defeated Senator Claims Fraud in Kansas Election

SOUTH BRISTON, Me., Aug. 10 (AP)—Gene Tunney, whose engagement to Miss Mary Josephine Lauder was announced Wednesday by Miss Lauder's mother, tonight gave the following statement to the Associated Press. "I have refused to grant any interviews to unknown reporters as there is nothing for me to add to the formal announcement of my engagement. This, therefore, is my first statement. It always has been a pleasure for me to meet and talk with responsible press representatives of my acquaintances, folks whom I know will not misinterpret things I may say or credit me with words I have not uttered. However, in avoiding newspaper representatives on this occasion I did so merely because there was nothing I could add to the formal statement made by Mrs. Lauder.

"Probably there are numerous matters concerning my engagement of a personal and private nature that some unthinking persons would try to have me discuss for publication, but all understanding people will appreciate there are certain things so sacred to one in my position that any public intrusion would be inopportune and utterly distasteful.

"There are a few people in the world who are opposed to being photographed. If the photographers who have been around this island these past several days have experienced any hardships and any inconveniences it is only because they are so slow in realizing that there are such people."

Tunney's statement concluded with an expression of an ardent hope that out of a sense of fair play, he would be allowed privacy.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

Once home, she fairly ran up the steps of the little house.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

CELIA DREW, was obliged, after the death of her father, to go to work. She is the secretary of BENJAMIN HARRINGTON, and is engaged to marry him.

TOM, the Harringtons disapprove of the match, but Celia does not know this. She has recently rejected a proposal of marriage from HORACE VAIL, one of Harrington's business associates, and incurred his ill will, as a result.

THE HARRINGTONS, to be rid of Celia, concoct a plot, with Vail's help, whereby Tom finds her looking in her office at midnight.

LARRYCROSS, a dissipated young chap, who is hopelessly in love with her. Without waiting for explanations, Tom rushes off.

GWEN BURNS, who is rich and socially prominent. Larry, agast at what he has done, urges Celia to marry him. She refuses and returns Tom's ring when the day passes without word from him.

MRS. DREW goes to pieces at the shock of hearing that Celia's engagement is broken and that Tom has left town.

VAIL again proposed to her. SHE IS UNABLE to obtain another position, and Gwen urges her to go to New York.

SHE finally goes.

AFTER many difficulties, she finds a post as secretary to rich, Mr. Celia, in the person of RICHARD FALCONER, who is writing his memoirs.

IN HIS HOME she meets his attorney, JAMES ANNESLEY.

A PLEASANT friendship springs up between Celia and Annesley, whom Falconer looks upon as a son. His nearest kin, RICHARD FALCONER, the second, is a scapgrace, and the old man has disinherited him.

FALCONER sends for Celia one evening when his death is only a matter of hours.

HE MARRIED HER on his death bed and leaves her his fortune.

CELIA plans a trip abroad, but is called home by her mother's illness.

CHAPTER XXIV. A JOURNEY OF LOVE

Annesley accompanied Celia to train. It would be a tiresome journey, for she would have to change trains late that night and it would be morning before she reached her destination.

"But anything is better than the suspense of waiting and doing nothing," she told him, her lips trembling. "My mother is all I have in the world. I love her with all my heart. It is terribly hard for me to leave her, and I've only stayed on here because my absence makes it easier for her. People don't gossip so much when they don't see me. . . . Now Gwen writes that my standing has improved a little, she laughed bitterly, "so my going home won't hurt mother."

Annesley replied: "Celia, I'm so sorry. Tell me if there is anything I can do."

She gave him her hand. They were standing in the vestibule of the pullman.

"Be my friend. That is all I ask." "I shall be that always," he replied, and added: "I regret your missing your trip to Europe."

"I don't," she answered quickly. "Remember, Jim, you are my solicitor. I shall look to you for advice always."

At last, she looked down at her, his mouth grave, his dark eyes unsmiling.

"I won't fail you, Celia. . . . Good-bye, my dear, and good luck. . . . Good-bye, my dear, and good luck. . . . She saw him standing on the platform as the train pulled out, and she waved at him. Then she went to her compartment.

While she had talked to Annesley on the platform, porters had been busy. There were flowers and books and magazines.

"What a friend he is!" she thought, as she prepared herself for her long, anxious journey.

In the early evening a telegram was brought to her.

"Have telephoned Miss Burns. Your mother's condition not as grave as first reported."

"Annesley!"

She could have cried with joy.

At midnight she reached the junction where she was to change trains.

Shotgun Victim in Serious Condition

Physician Optimistic for Fred Bickels' Recovery

Fred Bickel, 50 years old, who was accidentally shot by his brother Bill Bickel Monday evening is still in a serious condition at the University hospital. Latest reports are encouraging, however, and it is expected that he will recover.

When Bill Bickel, brother of Fred, accidentally released the trigger of a shotgun the left side of the victim's face was badly slashed and the roof of his mouth cut. Yesterday physicians worked with the roof of his mouth and it is expected that they will begin working on his lips which are swollen and painfully injured by the shot.

Monday evening following the accident Fred made his way to the River to River road which is about three-fourths of a mile from the cabin in which they live, to be picked up by a passing car and taken to the University hospital.

"Billy Bickels" as he is popularly known about town is still staying at the house on the river bank. His brother, Henry, of Peoria, Ill., is with him.

Such is Progress

The good old woolen bathing suit has evolved in so exotic a manner that one would not be at all surprised to hear of a bathing outfit made from wrought iron or blotting paper. Here is Anita Page, who goes swimming dressed in lace, beads and georgette.

Tex Deals Herself a Hand

But the first card to turn in her game of solitaire was the ace of spades, which, if you remember your omens, means that "a dark man" is lurking just around the corner. Not so good, said La Guinan. A few minutes later she was need in $1,000 bail for alleged violation of the prohibition law.

New Beacon

Newlyweds Out to Break Record

Anna and Okey Bevins, lately married, aviators, plan a flight over the cornfields of Kansas, which they hope will break the present world's endurance record.

An Antique Pumper

This fire engine, the oldest on the Pacific coast, has a romantic history. In 1883 it was brought around the Horn on a windjammer from New York to Portland, Ore. Thence it was taken to Prineville, Ore., a frontier town, where it was called the Chinese Pumper, due to the fact that Chinese were drafted by the cowboys and miners to do the pumping at all fires. It still works.

And Bells on-

Marion Curran lifts her hands with much difficulty so that all might share the loveliness that is a part of the jewelry show in Chicago. Smoky topaz that comes from Ceylon and is the color of Scotch whisky will be this Fall's smart jewel, it is predicted.
