Ohio Dry League Leads in Primary

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15 (AP)—The Anti-Saloon league apparently has nominated its candidates for governor of Ohio on both the republican and democratic tickets on the face of incomplete and unofficial returns from yesterday's state primary but the G. O. P. race appeared so close tonight that an official count may be necessary to determine the results.

Vote Discrepancy of 10,000 Calls for Official Count

Returned from all but one precinct in the state indicated that Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati business man, who carried the dry league endorsement, has again received the republican nomination for governor. Flood Threatens Southern States; Crops Damaged

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 15 (AP)—Serious flood conditions were widespread over Georgia tonight as the tropical storm which hit the state last night blew itself out in a torrent of rain over the upper water sheds of Georgia and Alabama. Only one death was reported, but preliminary estimates gave enormous damage to crops, highways and wire communications, with several towns virtually isolated and inhabitants of lowlands along the rivers warned of rising waters.

With gradual recession of waters in the Kankakee river, the flood was believed diminishing in the Lake Okechobee district of southern Florida. Several hundred square miles of fertile everglade lands have been inundated, isolating many families and wrecking damage estimated in excess of $500,000. Danger of overflow by Lake Okechobee itself was considered averted when the floods began subsiding.

Broker Confronts Larceny Charge After Dismissal

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Roy C. Toombs, president of a Chicago stock brokerage firm and head of a St. Louis insurance company, was charged with grand larceny of $1,040,000 in bonds in a warrant issued in St. Louis today shortly after he had been dismissed in municipal court in Chicago because there was no complaint against him.

The warrant accused Toombs of taking the securities from his insurance company, the International Life, and converting them to his own use. He has not yet been rearrested. His counsel, Eugene L. McGarry, said the governor of Illinois would have to authorize the arrest before Toombs would submit.

Toombs' discharge in court today was in connection with his arrest last Saturday night when St. Louis authorities requested he be taken in custody after insurance examiners had found his company in distressing circumstances. He was taken into custody without a warrant but held by Chicago police under $10,000 bonds until he obtained a habeas corpus writ yesterday and its sequel, his release today.

Toombs, who also was president of a suburban bank in Downers Grove until he voluntarily resigned last week, is accused of manipulating securities of the insurance company and his brokerage house. Toombs and Dally, causing the brokerage firm to go into the hands of a receiver and leading the insurance company into a similar condition.

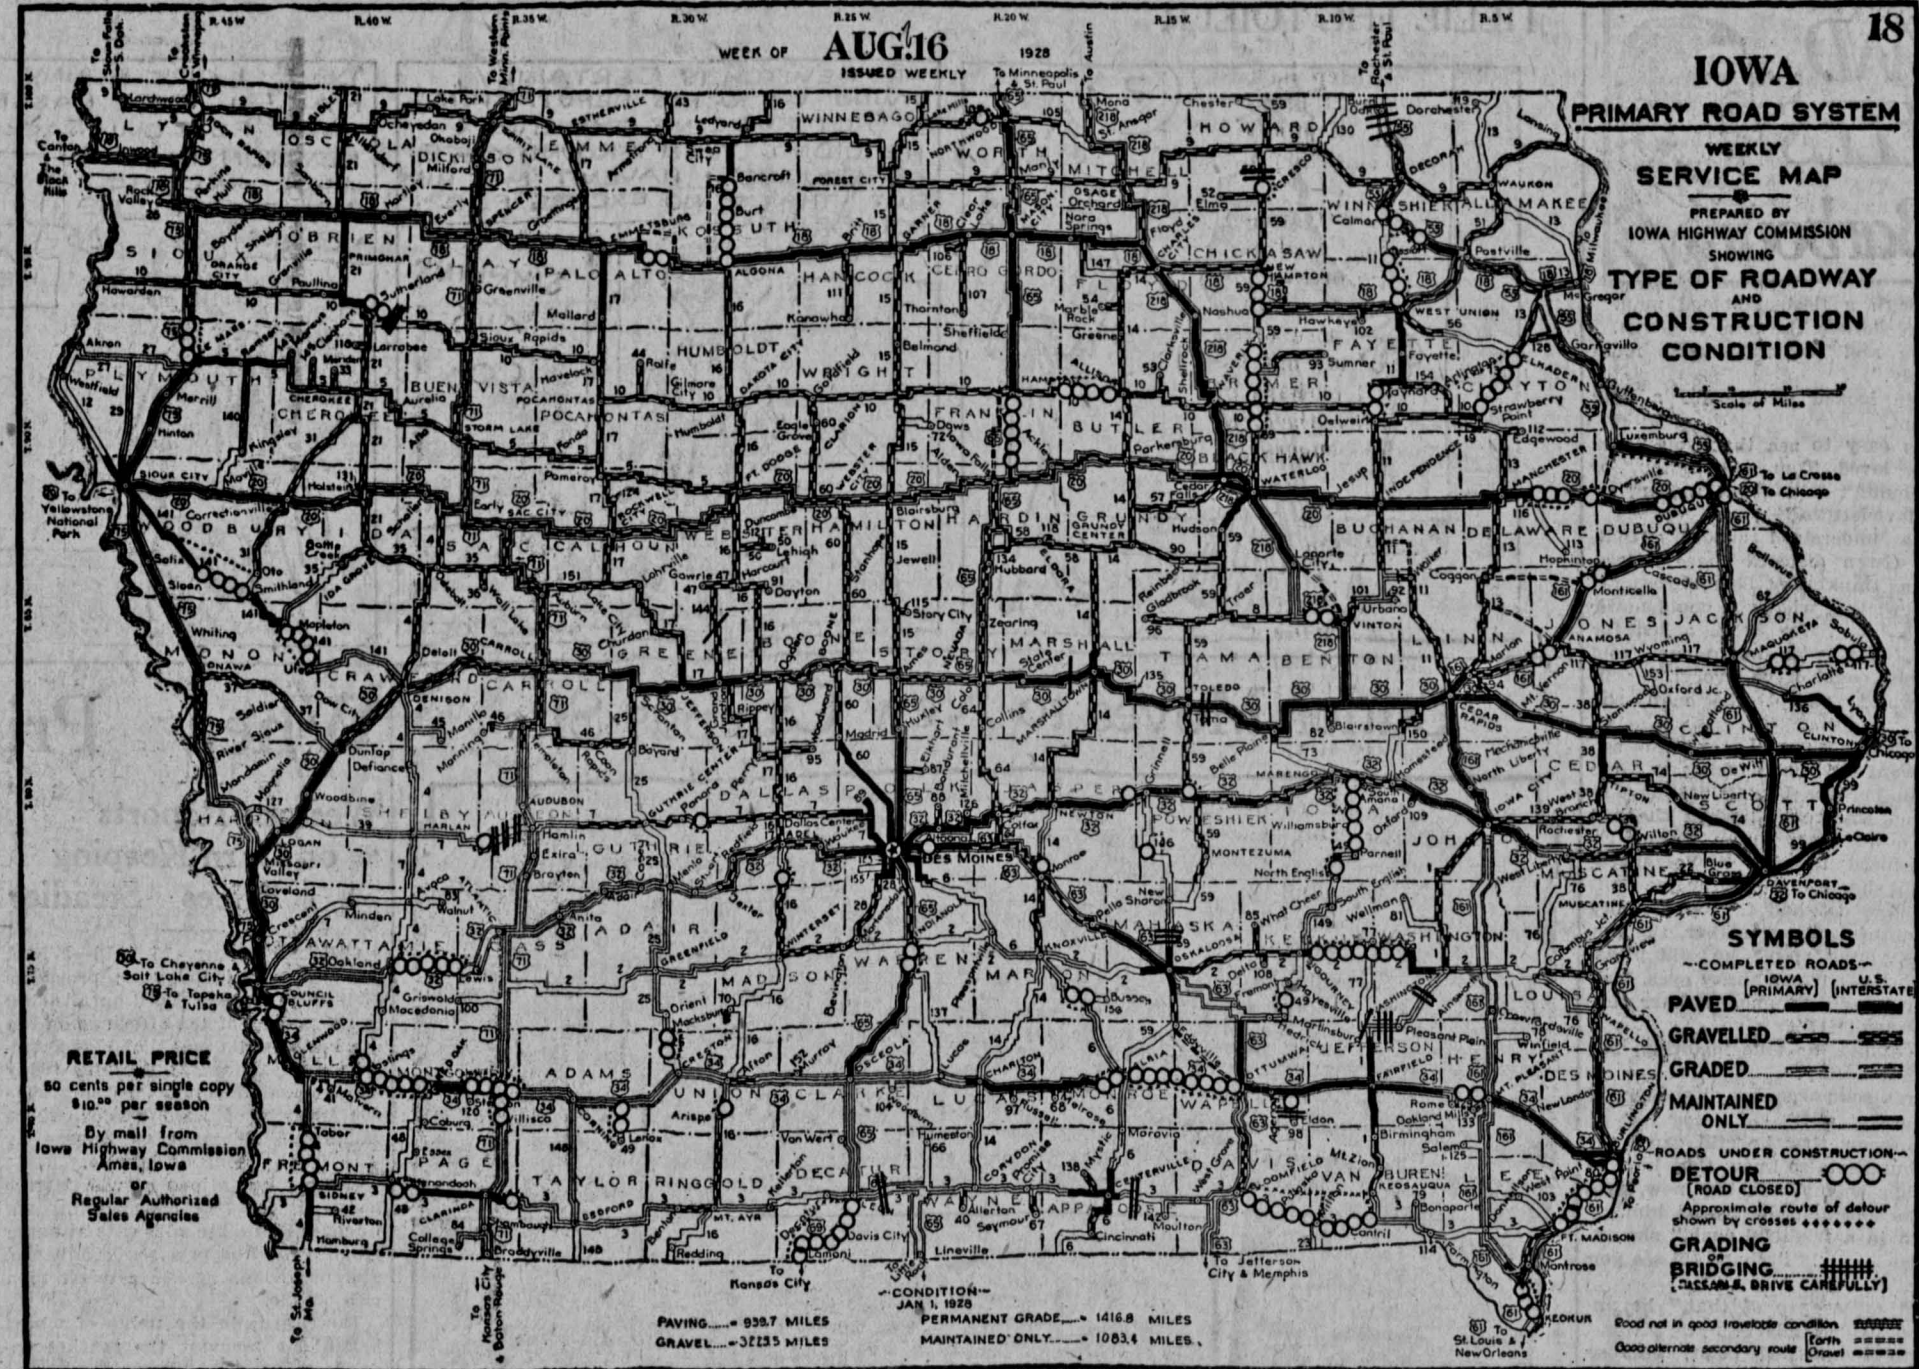

Jones, Life-Long Democrat, Plans to Defeat Smith

DES MOINES, Aug. 15 (AP)—Plans for an organized campaign by so-called "regular" democrats to defeat Governor Smith for the presidency were announced today by L. T. Jones, a life-long democrat who has been doing preliminary work in the east and south since the Houston convention.

The campaign, with headquarters in Chicago, will work as a regular party organization, Mr. Smith said; but no ticket of candidates will be formally supported, and individuals will be given the alternative of voting either for Herbert Hoover, republican nominee, or for a third party candidate.

Disapproving Smith as a Tammany candidate, the organization's chief motive was said to be "the reorganization of the party and wresting control from Tammany and its allies." From 3,000,000 to 6,000,000 democrats, Jones estimated, will refuse to vote for Smith.

"The nomination of Al Smith on the democratic ticket gives the millions of democrats who will not vote for him a choice of three things to do: not to vote, to vote for some innocuous third candidate who has no chance of election, or to vote for the republican candidate, Herbert Hoover," the statement said. Either of the first two means a half vote

Students Present Plays to Public

Three of O'Neil's One-Act Plays Given at Iowa Union

More than a hundred persons witnessed the university theater production of three one act plays by Eugene O'Neil, "In the Zone," "The Long Voyage Home," and "He." In the studio theater at Iowa Union last night. None of the plays has been presented in Iowa City before.

The action of "In the Zone" takes place in the forecastle of the S. S. Glencairn, a British tramp steamer bearing ammunition, as it passes through the war zone in 1915. The characters are all members of the crew, whose reaction to the strain of their situation is the concern of the play.

Several of the characters of "The Long Voyage Home" are also members of the crew of the Glencairn, but the action takes place in the bar room of a dive on the London water front. The third play, "He," takes place in the captain's cabin of a whaling vessel in the Arctic ocean.

Settings for the plays were arranged by Harry G. Barnes of the department of speech. The same general set was used for all three plays, but properties were changed for each play.

The plays, which constitute the only public offering of the university theater this summer, will be repeated in the studio theater at 8 o'clock tonight.

"The immediate aim of the 'regulars' is to defeat Smith. If he is elected, he will be the head of the party and Tammany will be in control. If he is defeated, the party will be saved and its usefulness continued for future generations."

Jones, who was a leader of the pre-convention fight against Smith in Iowa, said that eastern and southern democrats would be associated in the movement and that campaign funds would be solicited.

Senator Capper Will Join Nominee at Topeka

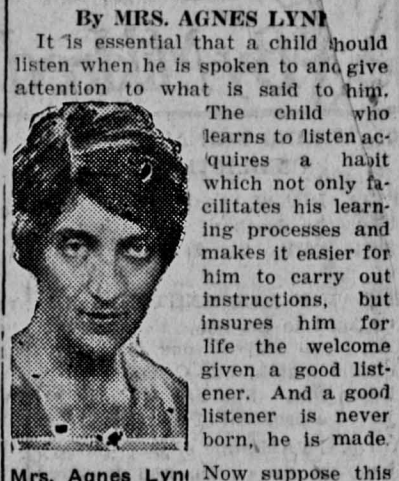

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CAL., Aug. 15 (AP)—Herbert Hoover polished his guns today for the second salvo of his campaign for the presidency and prepared to turn his back upon the Pacific for the long cross-continent journey to Washington.

In the cool quiet of his home atop San Juan Hill, the republican presidential nominee spent long hours in putting into final shape the material he will use next week in his speech at West Branch, Iowa. At that time the candidate is expected to explain in more detail to the people among whom he was born his views on the farm relief problem.

While he busied himself in preparing for his visit to West Branch, new steps were being added to the itinerary of the journey which will take him there. Six different appearances were planned for Hoover before he finally turns eastward from California.

Hoover will not see his running mate, Senator Charles Curtis, at Topeka. The vice presidential nominee, after his notification on Saturday, will leave for the east before the arrival of his partner in politics, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas

MAKE CHILDREN PAY ATTENTION TO THE SPEAKER

By MRS. AGNES LYNI

It is essential that a child should listen when he is spoken to and give attention to what is said to him. The child who learns to listen acquires a habit which not only facilitates his learning processes and makes it easier for him to carry out instructions, but insures him for life the welcome given a good listener. And a good listener is never born, he is made.

Mrs. Agnes Lyni Now suppose this sort of thing happens to the growing child. He comes home all excited. "Oh, mother! What do you think? Joe lost his puppy and we couldn't find him anywhere, and—" At this point his mother cuts in with, "Why, son, you're a sight! How did you get your shoes so muddy? and your new stockings too?"

Gone is the joy of telling mother all about it. In his disappointment the child realizes that his mother hasn't been listening and that she isn't interested. She cut in just at the most exciting part. So he learns that he, too, need not attend to what people are saying. And thus, alas, doing as mother does, instead of as she says, he gets the habit of turning a deaf ear to words no more important to him than the story of Joe's puppy was to his mother.

The child whose stories are interrupted and the recital of whose adventures receive scant courtesy and no apparent interest accumulates a grudge against those who make him feel that his doings and sayings are of no consequence. Unconsciously he retaliates by closing his ears to their words. Only when the child gets genuine attention will he give it. It is by example rather than by precept that the child is taught the necessary habit and the social grace of being a good listener.

A HUSBAND AT HER HEELS

By Mildred Barbour

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS
CELIA DREW, was obliged, after the death of her father, to go to work. She is the secretary of BENJAMIN HARRINGTON, and is engaged to be married to TOM. The Harringtons disapprove of the match, but Celia does not know this. She has recently rejected a proposal of marriage from HORACE VAIL, one of Harrington's business associates, and incurred his ill will as a result.

THE HARRINGTONS, to be rid of Celia, concoct a plot, with Vail's help, whereby Tom finds her locked in her office at midnight with LARRYCROSS, a dissipated young chap, who is hopelessly in love with her. Without waiting for explanations, Tom rushes off. The next day Celia finds herself jobless and the object of gossip. Her sole defender is GWEN BURNS, who is rich and socially prominent. Larry, aghast at what he has done, urges Celia to marry him. She refuses and returns to Tom's ring when the day passes without word from him.

MRS. DREW goes to pieces at the shock of hearing that Celia's engagement is broken and that Tom has left town. VAIL again proposed to her. SHE IS UNABLE to obtain another position, and Gwen urges her to go to New York. SHE finally goes. AFTER many difficulties, she finds a post as secretary to a rich, eccentric invalid, RICHARD FALCONER, who is writing his memoirs.

IN HIS HOME she meets his attorney, JAMES ANNESLEY. A PLEASANT friendship springs up between Celia and Annesley, whom Falconer looks upon as a son. His nearest kin, RICHARD FALCONER, the second, is a snopcegar, and the old man has disinherited him.

FALCONER sends for Celia one evening when his death is only a matter of hours. HE MARRIED HER on his death bed and leaves her his fortune. CELIA plans a trip abroad, but is called home by her mother's illness.

MISS PAGE, Mrs. Drew's companion, tells everyone of the brilliant marriage Celia has made, and the girl's stock booms socially. TO make her mother, who has been brought almost to death's door by worry, happy and content, Celia conceals the fact of Falconer's death. Mrs. Drew pictures her daughter as married to a rich young man, and Celia says nothing to dispel the idea.

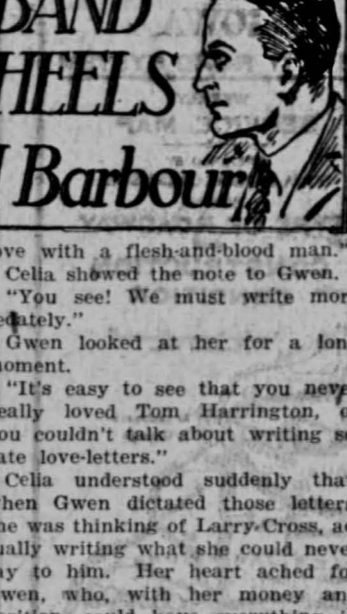

DECEPTION
If Celia had suffered acute embarrassment when she made her request to Annesley that he send her from New York love-letters purporting to be from her husband, she was amply repaid by the joy the first letter gave her mother.

"I can see how he loves you, my darling," the invalid said gratefully. "I'm so happy to hear that your daughter's future is in the care of such a man. Now I can die in peace."

Celia put her arms around her mother's frail shoulders. "Now you can live—in peace." "I hope so," sighed her mother. "Because I want to see my son-in-law. But perhaps I may even come to visit you in New York."

Celia's heart stood still with terror. Did this mean another horrible complication? But she smiled and said softly: "I hope so, darling. I hope you'll soon be able to make the journey to New York."

Butler Moves to New Campus Site

Butler University moves into its new home in Indianapolis in September. Above is one of its recitation buildings and below is the field house, which seats 15,000. Robert J. Aley (inset) is president of the university.

By C. H. Wolff
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 15 (AP)—Butler university will pack up its 73 years of traditions in September and move across town to a new home in northwest Indianapolis.

The departure will leave a void in Irvington, residential section of east Indianapolis, which has proudly boasted its Butler connections for more than half a century. What will be done with the old campus and buildings has not been determined.

In its new quarters Butler will be the largest university in the United States sponsored by the Disciples of Christ church.

Three recitation buildings of granite and native Indiana Bedford limestone, linked by Tudor towers, await the students. The unit will house two colleges—liberal arts and religion. The buildings cost $1,300,000.

A field house, seating 15,000 persons, is finished. Its swimming pool, Butler claims to be the finest in any American college. The football stadium, with a capacity of 60,000, will be partly completed for this year's games.

The new college home is in 246-acre tract, formerly a park, which was left in its primitive state.

Wheat Prices Subside

Western Reports on Corn Keeping Prices Steadier

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Wheat prices dropped today as prospects of frost in Canada faded out. Adding to the weight of the offerings on the market was the fact that North American export wheat dealings today were of small volume, barring 200,000 bushels of hard winter wheat taken for shipment to Europe by way of the Gulf of Mexico.

Closing quotations of wheat were heavy, 15 to 20 net lower, with corn unchanged to 20c off, oats ranging from 1c decline to a shade advance, and provisions at 20c setback to a rise of 12c.

Downturns in the value of wheat began the moment the market opened. Canadian advances were at hand telling of higher temperatures and no serious frost, let alone any important damage. It quickly became evident that buying on account of fears of frost was no longer to be a factor, at least for the time being.

Prices for new crop future deliveries of corn were firm today, influenced by less favorable field reports from Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, and South Dakota. September corn was weak, although country offerings old corn were practically nothing.

September was the weak future of the corn market, the other months being at times strong and higher. Western interests were credited with buying much December corn on dry weather reports from Nebraska and possibly frosts. Short coverings in the deferred months also was a factor.

Vessel number was chartered for 100,000 bushels of corn. A car of No. 2 yellow corn sold at $1 per bushel, 14c over September at the time the sale was made.

Provisions reflected the fact that hog values today were at a new high level for the year.

Motors Take Up Swing on Eastern Stock Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—One of the most impressive bullish demonstrations of the summer took place in today's stock market. Responding to easier call money conditions, and a list of favorable trade news, prices of many leading issues went up 2 to 10 points, with at least a score of new high records. Trading showed a marked expansion, day's sales aggregating 2,555,300 shares.

Call money renewed at 7 percent, as against 7 1/2 yesterday, and dropped finally to 5 1/2 as a large supply of loanable funds came into the market. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

Motor shares were again in the forefront with General Motors supplanting Chrysler as the leader. General Motors closed 8 points higher at 184 1/2. Chrysler touched a new record top at 98 1/2 and then declined to 96 1/2 for a slight fractional net gain. Packaged crossed $1 for a net gain of more than 4 points and Studebaker closed more than 2 points higher. Brocmey motor common and preferred, Dodge Bros. pfd, motor products and Motor Wheel all moved into new high ground.

Radio was again a spectacular performer, soaring more than 10 points to 29 1/2, the highest since 1926, and closed within a fraction of the top. Other issues to move into new high ground included Paramount Famous Lasky, Warner Bros. R. H. Macey, Spang Chaffant, National Cash Register, F. and W. Grand Stores, and Jewel Tea. Sharp gains also were recorded by Montgomery Ward, Case Threshing, Johns-Manville, National Tea and Woolworth.

Trading in the rails was restricted by the uncertainty regarding the outcome of the waste dispute of western roads, although good gains were recorded by Delaware and Hudson, "Katy" common and St. Louis Southwestern.

Establishment of new low records by British and Japanese exchanges featured the foreign trading. Sterling ring rates sold down to $4.84, off close to the "Gold Import" point, and Japanese yen broke 11 points to 44.82 cents. Other recessions were nominal with trading quiet because of the widespread observance of assumption day in foreign capitals.

Grain Notes

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Grain World says: "The August crop report of the department of agriculture reflects in an amazing way favorable weather, soil and moisture conditions of the past month. Figures show what a dominating influence these three factors have on what the farmer produces."

"Last year's August estimate on corn was for a crop of 3,285,000,000 bushels and owing to favorable weather conditions the final figures were 3,887,000,000 bushels more. This with an August 1 estimate more than 100,000,000 bushels larger than any corn crop the country ever produced, there is a present prospect of a crop of a billion bushels larger than that of 1927."

"In contrast with last year when only a late fall prevented enormous damage, our reports indicate that this year's crop will be matured well in advance of average frost dates."

Thomson and McKinnon say: "Average price of hogs in Chicago yesterday $11.76, and they are 15 to 20 cents higher again today. Average a year ago, $9.50. In face of this comparison December corn is about 42 cents lower than a year ago within about 7 cents of the low point touched for any month during the last three years and within 2 1/2 cents of the low point for this season. With the crop beginning to slip in important sections of Nebraska and South Dakota, believe December corn in shape to buy at this level."

Omaha wired J. E. Bennet and company: "Trade here says it is impossible to get any corn offerings from the country on account of dry and hot weather. Understand about all of the Omaha stock is sold with none to offer at the present time." Grain futures purchases, August 14: wheat 49,588,000 bushels; corn 20,710,000; oats 2,197,000; rye 1,507,000. Total 73,012,000 bushels. Open interest August 14: wheat Sept. 43,113,000 bushels; Dec. 62,885; corn Sept. 34,538,000; Dec. 41,485,000 bushels.

Days of Airplane Dates on Way

SON—DON'T TAKE THE PLANE OUT TONIGHT I WANT TO USE IT!
A'RIGHT MOM

OW, THIS IS LOWLY?
RUNNING ERRANDS

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP)—Fathers may soon be having as much trouble getting a ride in the family airplane as many of them experience now in "borrowing" the domestic flier from their young sons and daughters for a few hours. And fathers of the near future may demand piloting efficiency as a prerequisite to the granting of a "joyride date" to their adolescent admirers.

Mark Hubbard is one 14-year-old youngster who is already prepared to "appropriate" his father's plane whenever it lies idle in the household hanger. He can pilot the plane as well as he can drive his father's car.

Mark, now a high school junior, took his first flight when his chubby hands scarcely had lost the feel of the rattle. His father, Mark, sr., a pioneer Wisconsin aviator, who owned the first airplane in this part of the state, had his small son for company on many a hop. The elder Hubbard was a proficient pilot during the period when people ran out of their home to peer skyward when the hum of an airplane motor was heard.

The boy's bicycle days were spent over an airplane engine, and when other lads were getting a thrill out of their first efforts to operate an automobile, Mark, jr., tutored by his father, was soaring in an airplane. He already has 20 hours of solitary flying to his credit, and will be ready to take his government pilot's examination before he enters his senior year in high school this fall.

Ruth Makes Homer No. 45, But Yankees Lose to Chicago 4-8

Red Faber Hurls Invincible Ball, Crashes Homer

Yankees Keep Lead as Athletics Lose to Detroit

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—Red Faber was practically invincible during his first home run in the fourth, and the White Sox made it two straight over the Yankees here today, 8 to 4.

Is Wilcy Overworked?

WILCY MOORE THE IRON HORSE OF 1927 IS PAYING THE PENALTY OF OVERWORK THIS YEAR—HIS ARM HAS GONE BAD! RUBE EHRHARDT BROOKLYN'S STAR RELIEF HURLER IS ANOTHER OF THE 'SORE ARM BRIGADE'—DID FOUR YEARS OF BULL-PEN DUTY RUN RUBE'S ARM? GEORGE UHLE ANOTHER HARD WORKER WHO HAS BEEN TROUBLED WITH A LAME SALARY WHIP THIS SEASON—DID OVERWORK DO IT?

By QUINN HALL Wilcy Moore, one of the ablest pitchers under the big top in 1927, still feels he will be able to come back stronger before the close of the present season and give the New York Yankees a few flashes of his old-time form.

Last season, Wilcy's first appearance in major league company, he was credited with winning 19 games and losing 7, and he was a great asset to Miller Huggins, the club manager, and the boys who sign the Yankee pay checks, inasmuch as he was one of the sweetest relief pitchers that ever strode out to the ball to take up the labors where some other fellow had left off.

Moore got plenty of exercise during the 1927 gallop, but he has been fooling the batters this year as he did last. And the fans are again bringing up that subject which concerns too much work for the dependable flingers.

St. Louis Now Holds Three and Half Game Lead

Bar Tilden From East-West Match

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—For the second time in a month, the bugaboo of "Big Bill" Tilden's closing tennis days—the player-writer of the United States Lawn Tennis association—today barred the outlawed ace of American courts from tournament play.

With the statement G. P. Schuyler Van Bloem, vice president of the association, barred Tilden temporarily from the finals of the Davis cup play with France.

But unlike the situation abroad, where the decision was reconsidered and Tilden was allowed to play pending the outcome of his "trial" before the U.S.L.T.A. here Aug. 24, there is no chance that the lanky Philadelphian will get into the matinee.

The new Rochelle star, a close friend of Tilden, and ranked second only to "Big Bill" in this country, declared yesterday that he would not play unless Tilden did. Mr. Van Bloem said Hunter would not play unless Tilden were a member of the team.

English Writer Describes Baird's Race in Britain

The role played by George H. Baird, University of Iowa quarter miler, in the defeat of the British Empire team and the setting of the world's mile record is described in the New York Times by Allen Raymond, special correspondent in London.

Baird ran as lead-off man on the United States team which snapped three full seconds off the world's mark, traversing the distance in 2:13 4-10.

Here is Raymond's story of the epic race in which both teams beat the world's mark in the United States—British Empire meet at Stamford Bridge: "America drew the pole. George Baird started fast and rounded the first curve in the lead. He beat off a strong challenge by Wilson of Canada on the backstretch, and held a slender margin until the straightaway. Then he finished strongly, to defeat the Canadian by two yards. His time was 3:5 1-10."

"Baird passed the baton to Morgan Taylor who with the aid of a running start, equalled the world's record of 3:7 4-10 and bested Rinko. Barbuti fought his way home two yards ahead of Leigh-Wood, and Spencer held the lead until the final stretch and then spurred away from his pursuer, Ball, winning by nine yards."

Railroad Reduces Rates for Aug. 21

R. I. Lines Fix Cost at One-Way Fare Plus Quarter

Excursion rates and special train service will be arranged for by the C. R. I. & P. railway for Hoover day at West Branch, Aug. 21.

Special rates will apply to the trip to West Branch and to the return, a rate of one-way fare plus 25 cents. There will be a minimum excursion fare of $1 from Moline, What Cheer, Montezuma, Des Moines, Esterville, Waverly, Decorah, Postville, and intermediate points. The fares will be effective Aug. 21, and will expire Aug. 22.

Whether a special train service will be operated between here and West Branch will be determined soon. The Rock Island agent should know within a short time whether there is sufficient business from Iowa City to warrant a special train.

Going to West Branch by rail will eliminate the necessity of driving through dust and heavy traffic on the roads near there. Automobiles will be restricted to an area surrounding the town, probably one-fourth mile, where parking space will be provided. Within this limit, gas, oil and oil as well as tire service will be available.

Rock Island officials also announced that the special will leave West Branch about midnight Aug. 21, for Cedar Rapids, where Mr. Hoover will meet representatives of farm publications, the following day. The special will then be brought to Chicago over the Rock Island road, arriving in Chicago, at 8:25 a. m., Thursday, Aug. 23, and leaving over the Pennsylvania road for Washington, about 10 a. m. the same morning.

Traffic and operating officials of the road are making preparations to run special trains into West Branch, Aug. 21, to accommodate persons who desire to attend the "Hoover Day" celebration.

Republican Leader Dies of Apoplexy in New York Hotel

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—George K. Morris, 45, chairman of the republican state committee, died of apoplexy today in his room at the hotel Drake.

Mr. Morris, a knit goods manufacturer from Amsterdam, N. Y., had breakfasted this morning with Charles D. Hillis, New York member of the republican national committee. He had returned to his room when the fatal stroke came on.

Mr. Morris returned recently from California where he conferred with Herbert Hoover, his party's presidential nominee, regarding the national campaign in New York state. At the Kansas City convention, he had favored the nomination of President Coolidge until it became apparent that Mr. Coolidge would not be a candidate, then he declared for Hoover.

Returns Indicate Parnell May Hold Office of Governor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 15 (AP)—Nomination of Governor Harvey Parnell to succeed himself appeared assured tonight on the basis of returns from approximately three-fourths of the precincts in yesterday's democratic primary.

With returns in from most of the heavy voting centers, Parnell, who waged an intensive campaign in defense of the present $52,000,000 road program and its administrators, was more than 18,000 votes ahead of his nearest opponent, Book Hay, 30 year old lawyer. The unofficial vote is 1,485 out of the 2,639 precincts former Governor Tom J. Terral 23,630 and State Auditor J. Carroll Coss 17,397. Three other candidates for the office were eliminated by early returns.

The contest was waged largely around the road program with none of the leading candidates opposing the program itself, but some severely criticizing those in charge of it. Parnell was lieutenant governor and became chief executive early this year upon the appointment of Gov. John E. Martineau as a federal judge.

Searching Party Reports Safety of Fuller Expedition

them back to civilization. He did not receive that message, however, as he had gone to Lac du Brochet to meet an Indian treaty party. At Lac du Brochet, he reported, he learned what had become of the young ecologists. He had been interested in them since the middle of June, when they stopped at Pellican Narrows on their way into the north and he attempted to persuade them not to go, because of their inexperience. He was afraid that they would be unable to make headway quickly enough to subsist on portable provisions.

Although they were hard put to it for supplies by the time they reached Reindeer Lake, Malloy reported, they met there a traveler who gave them some food; then they got passage on a Hudson's Bay company schooner across the lake to Brochet, where they rested and obtained a new fish net, a rifle and more ammunition.

Expedition Proceeds
They are now headed along a route across Neultin lake and smaller bodies of water and down the Thlewiazia river to Hudson Bay. They are expected to come out near driftwood point, half way between the Churchill and Chesterfield inlets, which were their first objective.

It is believed that, by the time they reach Neultin lake, Caribou will again be migrating, this time into the path of the party. They can kill enough caribou and catch enough fish, it is believed, to keep them alive until they reach their objective. All police patrols, Indian encampments, traders, company posts, and hunters and trappers are being informed of their route, in order that assistance may be at hand if needed.

The uncertainty that surrounded the adventures of the four University of Iowa students who are making a canoe trip into the far north has been definitely dispelled by Associated Press reports from Regina, Sask., saying that the boys have been located and are pushing on to Ft. Churchill. Their baggage and equipment was reported to be in good condition.

The four are John D. Fuller, M4 of Keokuk, leader of the expedition, Max J. Kane, 12 of Iowa City, Gordon Armstrong, E3 of Britt, and Peder C. Boddum, C3 of Crystal Lake.

The students left Iowa City soon after school was out on a proposed 2,000 mile-trip. They left Winnipeg June 5, determined to travel to the Arctic circle in a canoe. They started from the Pas June 1 in two 17-foot canoes, and with ample supplies. Included in these was a radio receiving and transmitting set.

Reports Said Supplies Low
Letters had been received by the boys' parents, dated June 18, at Pelican Narrows, Sask. They had stopped there to repair their canoes and replenish supplies.

On July 21, Associated Press reports said that a trapper, J. M. Cummins, had met the boys near Reindeer lake with insufficient supplies, and with their ammunition mostly gone or spoiled.

At that time The Daily Iowan immediately informed the parents of the boys. They were worried, but felt that the boys must be all right. Within the next two days, they all received letters that had been written after Cummins claimed to have met the boys. The letters told of meeting Cummins, and also of adding to their supplies, saying that they had enough provisions to last them for three months. These letters were dated July 6.

Mounted Police Start Search
On July 23 the Canadian Royal Northwest Mounted Police were ordered to search for the boys, and to bring them back to civilization by force if necessary.

A day later, another trapper, E. J. Sinclair, returned to civilization with a story similar to that of Cummins. He said that the boys seemed to have no money and could not obtain the services of an Indian guide.

His report was in direct conflict with the letter from Gordon Armstrong, which was received from his father by The Daily Iowan. This alleviated the fears of the parents.

For some weeks the matter was left hanging, with no definite word to work on. The parents of the students steadfastly refused to believe the reports of the trappers and maintained that their sons were safe.
