Iowans Seek New Data on Meteor Fall

Men at Six Stations to Record Actions of Perseid Group

For two hours tonight, Sunday night and Monday night, a shower of small meteors will dash toward the earth at an average rate of one every other minute.

They are the Perseid meteors, named because they occur in the vicinity of the constellation Perseus in the northeast sky, and they will make their annual August migration eastward.

Waiting to observe them at six points in Iowa will be a reception committee recruited by Prof. Charles C. Wylie, University of Iowa astronomer, in cooperation with Drake university's president and astronomer, D. W. Morehouse. It will be the task of these watchers to locate the path of the larger meteors, and to report all scientific data to the Iowa City headquarters.

Seek Path, Velocity Data

This systematic observation, believed to be the largest ever organized to collect data on the Perseids, has as its object the obtaining of each meteor's actual path in space, and the computation of velocity. Other recorded material was gained from scientists at only two stations.

Points of observation, and the men in charge of each are: Iowa City, Professor Wylie, Prof. Claude J. Lapp, and H. W. Pletenpoff; Cedar Rapids, P. C. Daniels; Des Moines, Dr. Morehouse and Prof. Theodore Mellich; Okaloosa, C. C. Sherman; Clinton, Frank D. Weaver, and Columbus Junction, William R. Conner.

Expect 30 Meteors Per Hour

The celestial travelers will be seen best between midnight and 2 a. m., soon after the rising of the constellation Perseus. Reports of other years have indicated as many as one meteor per minute, but Professor Wylie believes that 30 per hour is a conservative estimate of their 1929 appearance.

As astronomers reckon velocity, the Perseid meteors are not fast travelers. They attain an average speed of 25 miles per second, or 90,000 miles per hour. When first seen, they will be some 70 miles above the earth, and they will disappear from sight at a height of about 55 miles.

Professor Hockett of Penn College, who has been giving lectures on astronomy at Okaloosa this summer, is planning to take direct vision spectro telescope observations of the Perseids by pointing the telescope toward the radiant. He has already identified 30 elements in the spectra of meteors.

C. C. Sherman of Okaloosa, research assistant of Professor Wylie last year, has interested several persons who will work in relays from Aug. 9-13, taking naked eye observations of the Perseids.

Middle West Party Swells Yellowstone Attendance Record

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 9 (AP)—Entrance of a party of 200 Iowa and Minnesota persons at Gallatin gateway yesterday established for a second time this year a new attendance record for Yellowstone park. The party was in charge of John P. Wallace, editor of the Wallace Farmer, Des Moines.

Up to yesterday, the largest day in the history of the park was July 4, when 4,212 persons entered. Yesterday's mark was 4,552. Including visitors, 168,197 persons have entered the playground this year, 21,194 more than at the same period last year.

Officials Reduce Mail Transit Time to U.S.

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (AP)—An arrangement reducing the mail transit time from Germany to the United States another 17 hours was made today between the Lufthansa company and the French government.

German planes will be permitted to fly over the fortress at Cherbourg to deliver mails to the liner Bremen. The liner will leave Bremen Haven at 5:30 p. m. next Wednesday and is due at Cherbourg at 3:00 p. m. the following day. At 10:00 a. m. on Thursday the airplane with the mail will leave Cologne.

Police Arrest Three on Charge of $7,200 Elk River Robbery

ELK RIVER, Minn., Aug. 9 (AP)—Charged with bank robbery, three men were held by police tonight accused of carrying out a daringly executed plot, in which they obtained $7,200 from the First National bank of Elk River today. A 19 year old girl, Alice Hull of Minneapolis, with the three when they were captured, was charged with receiving stolen money.

The capture was made by Earle Brown, head of the recently formed state highway patrol, with the aid of one of his patrolmen. One of the trio who said his name was August Becker, of Sumner, was seriously injured. Amputation of his right arm just below the shoulder was necessary.

Officials to Decide Court to Try Health on Slaying Charges

MRS. MAXINE HEATH

DETROIT, Aug. 9 (AP)—Whether John M. Heath, Detroit elevator mechanic, is to be tried in state or federal courts for the slaying of Richard J. Sandlands, federal prohibition officer, is to be decided at a conference between John R. Watkins, United States district attorney, and James E. Chenot, Wayne county prosecutor, tomorrow.

Conviction of the slaying in the federal court would make the death penalty possible under federal statutes.

Sandlands' body was found in the Detroit river Wednesday morning. An autopsy revealed that he died from a broken neck and not from drowning as was stated by Heath and his wife, Maxine. Mrs. Heath also is held in connection with the federal officer's death.

Bankers Given Prison Terms

Clarke Partners Sent to Federal Prison

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Three partners of Clarke Brothers, 80-year-old private bank, today were sentenced to serve terms in a federal prison on charges growing out of the $5,000,000 crash of the bank June 29.

Another partner also received a prison sentence but it was commuted to probation. All four had pleaded guilty to federal and state indictments resulting from the failure.

James Rae Clarke, senior partner in the bank's grandfatherly founded, was sentenced to eight years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. He was also given a suspended sentence not to exceed eight years in the New York state penitentiary.

Philip L. and Hudson Clarke, Jr., brothers of the senior partner, and John F. Booker, all partners in the defunct institution, were sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary at Atlanta. The sentence of Hudson Clarke, Jr., however, was commuted to two years probation, the court indicating it was moved by compassion for his aged father, who was described as in needy circumstances.

The latter three partners also were sentenced to serve from a year and a day to two years and two days in state prison, the operation of the sentences being suspended.

The elder Clarke had pleaded guilty to 13 state indictments—enough, it was said at the time of his plea, to send him to prison for 127 years.

Snowden Will Present Plan to Conference

Delegates May Demand Showdown by British for Revision

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Aug. 9 (AP)—A showdown on the British demand for revision of the Young plan's distribution of German reparations payments is expected tomorrow morning at a meeting of the financial committee of The Hague conference to put the plan into effect.

Philip Snowden's resolution providing for the appointment of a subcommittee to study revision of the Young plan to meet British requirements will then come before the committee.

Briand Makes Statement

Premier Briand of France, tonight issued a statement declaring that Britain was alone and aligned against five nations in opposing the Paris changes in the Spa percent-ages for distribution of reparations. He did not believe that the conference could fail because of this stalemate but emphasized that the whole hope of the peace of Europe depended on the outcome. He said that the arguments produced by Britain had not induced any others to modify their standpoint.

British Alone on Plan

There was apparently no change in the lineup of the powers on adoption of the Young plan, with France, Italy and Belgium determined on integral adoption. If Snowden demands a vote tomorrow on his resolution as it stands, Great Britain is certain to be the only big power to vote for it, and perhaps the only power.

There was an impression in British circles tonight that the smaller powers, some of which are disconcerted over their own shares, would swing to the British side. But this could not be confirmed in the face of the discretion which all the delegates have assumed since Snowden surprised them by the vigor of his demands for return of the Spa percentages.

"Equity Shop" Row Results in Violence

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9 (AP)—A second outburst of violence in the campaign of Actors Equity association to establish "equity shop" in the motion picture industry put two men in hospitals, the victims of beatings alleged to have been given them by six members of equity and resulted today in the arrest of three of the accused assailants.

The injured men, Frank Goddard, actor and boxer, and Harry Deck, an actor, charged they were attacked late yesterday as they left a studio because they had refused to support equity's campaign. Officials of the association branded the action as "entirely voluntary" on the part of the accused men and denied any connection with the affair.

In another demonstration several weeks ago seven men dragged equity sympathizers from a car and destroyed film found in their possession.

Senate to Take 3 Day Recesses Till September Fourth

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator Watson of Indiana, republican leader, announced tonight that after the senate reconvenes Aug. 19 it will take three day recesses until Sept. 4 instead of Sept. 3 as previously decided.

The senator said the change was made at the suggestion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, who in telegraphing his acceptance of the recesses until the tariff bill is ready for consideration, called attention that the date set is Labor day.

Stock Prices Slip Downward With Higher Rediscount Rate

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The top-heavy stock structure created in the securities markets of the United States by the wild speculation of the last few months, was rocked to its foundations today by the bomb shell of a higher New York federal reserve rediscount rate hurled into the financial district after the close of business yesterday.

Pieces of active issues on the New York stock exchange tumbled $5 to $30 a share, with one inactive stock dropping $46.

Active Issues on New York Exchange Fall Off $5 to $30

Similar recessions took place on the New York curb exchange and in the stock markets of Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other large cities. The repercussions in the security markets of the world.

The absence of official interpretation of the rate increase was in accordance with the tradition of the federal reserve board not to comment during periods of financial transition. The board met today but made no announcement of the topics under discussion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Official Washington looked on with mounting interest but in complete silence today as yesterday's increase in the New York federal reserve rediscount rate reduced its series of repercussions in the security markets of the world.

The absence of official interpretation of the rate increase was in accordance with the tradition of the federal reserve board not to comment during periods of financial transition. The board met today but made no announcement of the topics under discussion.

Commissioner Doran Plans to Prohibit Use of Rifles by Federal Prohibition Officers

Head Takes Action to Keep Down Number of Deaths

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—A ban against the use of rifles by federal prohibition agents except in sparsely settled or mountainous sections is planned by Commissioner Doran in an effort to reduce the number of prohibition fatalities.

The prohibition commissioner, in announcing the plan today, said it was intended as a safety move to keep down the number of deaths in enforcing the law and to prevent possible killing of innocent persons from long range rifles. Under this decision, enforcement agents in settled communities will have to depend for protection upon service revolvers but in mountainous and sparsely settled regions they will continue to use rifles.

No Formal Order

No formal order will be issued, Doran said, but he will discuss the matter by correspondence with administrators.

Reports to the prohibition bureau show that since the law went into effect 142 persons have been killed by prohibition agents and 55 enforcement officers have lost their lives. These figures do not include fatalities among the border patrolmen, who are not under the prohibition bureau.

Doran and Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, both said rifles were necessary for protection of the agents in the mountainous sections.

Revolvers Poor Protection

"If the agents went into the mountains to enforce prohibition law without rifles," Lowman declared, "they might as well throw up their hands and say to the moon-shiners: 'come on boys, here I am, shoot me.'"

Doran added that revolvers would afford little protection to the officers against long range rifles carried by the mountainous moonshiners.

In commenting upon the liquor situation around Detroit the commissioner said it was "well in hand." He denied a report that he planned to equip the agents in that section with machine guns to combat the rum runners.

Report Shows Farm Yields Below Normal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The crop outlook for this year was reported by the department of agriculture today to indicate a production somewhat below average on American farms.

In its August report the department said the indicated yields of 34 important crops combined is 4.8 per cent below last year's harvest and 1.4 per cent below the average of the last 10 years.

Improvement was shown in the last month for corn, tobacco, sweet potatoes, and rice but there was a decline in the prospects for wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax, hay, potatoes and most fruits.

Corn prospects improved materially throughout the country generally, except in the north Atlantic states and Ohio where too much moisture was detrimental, the board reported, and in North Dakota and Montana where hot weather and deficient moisture brought prospects down sharply. The total indicated production now is 2,746,514,000 bushels or about 79,000,000 bushels more than a month ago.

Three Die in Train Wreck

WADSWORTH, Ill., Aug. 9 (AP)—Three persons were killed when a Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific passenger train was wrecked near here early this evening.

It is understood that the engineer and the fireman, as well as a hobo, riding behind the tender, were killed, when the train was derailed.

It was a limited that left Milwaukee for Chicago at 4 p. m. The accident occurred a little more than an hour later, just south of the Illinois-Wisconsin line. Wrecking crews have been sent out from Chicago.

Milwaukee road officials announced the names of the dead as follows: John Lohmer, 60 years old, Milwaukee, engineer.

Nick King, 40 years old, Milwaukee, fireman, and an unidentified Negro.

COMMISSIONER DORAN

One Dies as Tanker Bursts

Explosion Shakes Port; Pump Man Missing

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—With a blinding, lightning like flash and a roar that shook the harbor, the giant oil tanker William Rockefeller exploded and caught fire at its pier in Bayonne, N.J., today.

One man was killed, eight were injured and another is missing.

Great blotches of flaming oil were thrown out of the ship, some of them striking the pier and threatening millions of dollars worth of oil stored in the two-mile long Standard Oil tank farm on the Key waterfront.

Most of the crew of 42 men were aboard the ship when the blast occurred and most of those who were unable to scamper onto the pier were blown into the water to be picked up by tugs. The body of John Ward, a deck watchman, who was killed, was found 300 feet out in the bay.

No traces were found, however, of Edward Herb, a pump man, the eight injured required hospital treatment, but four were discharged during the day. Damage to the vessel was estimated at $50,000.

Company Plans Non-Stop Flight From Spokane to New York

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—Plans for a round trip non-stop flight from Spokane, Wash., to New York, were revealed here today by Arthur M. Wilson, official of the Buhl Aircraft company, of Marysville, Mich.

Wilson will leave at dawn tomorrow for Spokane to deliver a plane to Nick Kerner, a Spokane aviator, who will pilot the ship on the projected flight.

Namer, with another pilot, yet unnamed, plans to leave Spokane next Tuesday for the non-stop trip to New York and return, going via San Francisco, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Chicago. The plane will be refueled in the air over each of these cities as well as over New York City.

Broker Surrenders to State's Attorney; Receivers in Control

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—J. B. Greenfield and company will return dollar for dollar the money invested by hundreds of middlewesterners in the head of the defunct brokerage firm promised today as he surrendered to the state's attorney.

Receivers have taken over the company's affairs in Michigan and Illinois at the behest of investors who said they had been defrauded, and investigation of alleged delinquencies estimated between $530,000 and $750,000 is under way.

The money, Greenfield insisted, has not been diverted illegally by him. He told interviewers the "so-called shortage" resulted from company expenditures.

Naval Pilot Tests Schneider Sealane Trophy Race Entry

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 9 (AP)—Amid sprays of water which sometimes almost obscured the tiny plane Lieut. Al Williams made the taxing tests of his Schneider trophy racer on the Severn river here today.

The huge crack naval pilot was smiling and satisfied when the tests were completed. He had pushed the little plane across the water at 106 miles an hour, just at the verge of take-off speed.

Tomorrow he will take the Mercury racer into the air for the first time. He estimates it will leave the water at 110 miles an hour.

Experts Testify in Snook Trial

Doctors Discredit Idea of Premeditation

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 9 (AP)—Four medical experts were introduced by attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook in his first degree murder trial late today to discredit the charge that he premeditated the killing of his co-ed mistress, Theora K. Hix.

When Dr. Snook had brought to a close three consecutive days of testimony, in which he denied any remembrance of slaying the girl's throat after beating her with a hammer on the night she was killed last June 13, expert witnesses were called to the stand.

Experts Testify

Each of them testified as to a description of the hammer wounds on the girl's head and the knife wound on her throat. They said they could not tell which of the wounds caused her death. Their opinions were an attack on the allegation that Dr. Snook deliberately severed the jugular vein of his young mistress to put her out of misery. Witnesses were Drs. Jonathan Ferencik, I. B. Harris, L. H. Van Buskirk and Eugene McCampbell, all Columbus pathologists.

Dr. Snook was excused from the witness stand, somewhat tired from his fight against the questions of Prosecutor John J. Chester.

Swiss Pilots Off on Flight From France

LE BOURGET, France, Aug. 9 (AP)—Three young Swiss aviators flew away from this field yesterday, and as far as this vicinity is concerned, vanished into thin air. They had stated that they were going to Lisbon, Portugal, preparatory to an attempt to fly across the Atlantic.

There has been no news of them from any source and there was much speculation as to whether their plane had cracked up or had landed near some small town without wire communications with the capital.

When they arrived here on Monday from Zurich, they said nothing about their plans for a transatlantic flight. The curiosity of customs examiners was aroused by the extra large fuel tanks and the aviators then admitted that they intended to fly to New York from Lisbon. They gave little other information and most of the French newspapers have seemed not to have taken the project seriously.

The aviators are Oscar Kaeser, pilot; Kurt Luescher, the backer, and a mechanic and Alfred Tschopp, navigator and mechanic. They had a Farman plane.

County Officials Deny Court Yard, Roof of Jail to Erect Scaffold

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 9 (AP)—Denied use of either the roof of Broward county jail or the court yard, federal authorities today were without a place to erect a scaffold and gallows for the hanging of Horace Alderman, slayer of three government officials in a sea fight off the Florida coast in 1927.

Under an order of Federal Judge Halstead L. Ritter, Alderman must hang Aug. 17 on the roof of the county jail, county officials, however, have demurred on the grounds that the roof of the jail is bonded by a roofing company and that use of it in this manner would cause the bond to be voided. The government, as second choice, asked if a scaffold and gallows could be erected in the court house yard, and this request was turned down.

Meanwhile, two county commissioners have interposed objections to the hanging on county property when two government reservations, one the coast guard base and another, an Indian reservation, are nearby.

Boys Smothered in Caves

CANTON, O., Aug. 9 (AP)—Arthur Robb, 8 years old, and Edward Wyolan of Cuyahoga Falls, O., smothered to death today when a pile of sand caved in on them. The boys had jumped off a sand bank near their home, into a pit. The sand started sliding onto them. Although they shouted in fear, other boys nearby were unable to save them.

Eckener Hopes to Land Liner This Morning

Craft Passes 43 Miles South of Plymouth Last Night

PARIS, Aug. 10 (Saturday) (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin passed over Paris at 6:31 a. m., (11:31 p. m., central standard time) enroute to Friedrichshafen and New York.

The giant dirigible was making a bee line for home. It was flying low and easily distinguished by Associated Press bureau.

The sighting took city by surprise, as the Zeppelin had not been expected in this district for hours.

Friedrichshafen

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin radioed its base here that at 1:15 a. m., central European time, (7:15 p. m. Friday) it was about 43 miles south of Plymouth, England. If the favorable weather holds, Dr. Hugo Eckener hopes to reach here this morning.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin tonight appeared making good progress as she neared the European coast on the first leg of her round the world flight with the likelihood that she would reach Friedrichshafen by tomorrow night or early Sunday.

Experts to Land Today

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, himself hoped to reach his home port some time tomorrow. In a message to the ministry of communications, he said he would be unable to fly over Berlin on Sunday, Germany's constitution day, as he expected to land Saturday. His message read:

"Hearty thanks for your invitation but the airship will be, as far as can be foreseen, already in Friedrichshafen by August 10."

The Graf's progress on her return voyage across the Atlantic thus far has been entirely satisfactory to Dr. Ludwig Duerr, chief constructor of the Zeppelin works.

"Within two or three days after landing here, all should be ready for the start to Tokyo," the Graf's constructor remarked.

No freight except mail will be taken on the journey from Friedrichshafen to Los Angeles, according to the Hamburg-American booking office. In explanation, Dr. Duerr pointed out that it was desirable to take along the greatest possible amount of oil and gas.

The Graf's possible route after she reaches Friedrichshafen and leaves for Tokyo has not been decided upon definitely as yet, since weather conditions will govern the decision.

The general impression seems to be that the stretch across Russia after Moscow will be more difficult even than the flight over the Pacific as the weather reports then will be so meager. On the Pacific the Graf, at least will have the weather service of ships.

THE WEATHER

Antoinette E. Spidel returned yesterday after a short visit at the home of Margaret M. Anderson of Cedar Rapids.

University Alumni Membership Ranks Eighth of Big Ten

Statistics giving a comparison of membership in the alumni association in the Big Ten universities show that the University of Iowa ranks eighth. Only one school is lower, that being Indiana.

The list is headed by the University of Wisconsin, followed by Northwestern. Others in order of their ranking are: Illinois, Purdue, Ohio, Chicago, Michigan, Iowa, and Indiana. Statistics were not available for Minnesota.

This survey was made by C. J. Roseberry, executive manager of the University of Illinois alumni association. Prof. Frederic G. Higbee of Iowa, charted the results.

Murley J. Otto Weds Detroit Girl Aug. 2

Alice L. Letley of Detroit, Mich., and Murley J. Otto of Iowa City were married Friday, Aug. 2, at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church at South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Otto is a graduate of the nurses' training school of the Community hospital at Grinnell, and has since been employed at the Herman Kiefer hospital at Detroit.

Mr. Otto is manager of the multi-graph department of the University of Iowa.

Union to Open Service Desk

Information Quarters for Iowa Students

They dare you! Yes, even double dare. "They" are Loyse Fisher and her assistants on the front lobby desk at Iowa Union. Formerly the haven of alumni records, that location is to be made over into a service desk for students, starting active service next fall.

They dare? They defy anyone to ask them a question about the university they are unable to answer. If the result of their study has not included the retention of a correct reply, they will have sources of information at arm's length around them. In cases of last resort they can use the telephone to call elsewhere. But the plan is to make the service desk one spot on the campus where more general information is available than anywhere else, according to R. H. Fitzgerald, director of Iowa Union.

Nor will accurate repartee to queries be the only function of those working at this "service station." Reservations for football games, plays, musical functions, and almost anything else will be obtainable there by students. Dinner reservations for Iowa Union will probably also be made there.

A checking service is another of the planned features of the revamped department. It is also expected that general delivery mail for next fall's freshmen will be sent there until permanent university addresses have been established.

Miss Fisher or one of her three assistants, will be behind the desk every hour while the building is open.

The children's hospital has been used for the dental examinations upon children of school age.

THE GREEN ARCHER

By Edgar Wallace

THE STORY SO FAR

Valerie Howett, adopted daughter of Senator Howett of Pennsylvania, is searching for her mother, Elaine Held, who, as Valerie suspects, was hidden in Garre castle, the owner of which, Abe Bellamy, is a Chicago millionaire with a repellent past, who now resides in England. Bellamy's motive was vengeance on the woman for refusing to marry him. The Howetts lease Lady's manor, which adjoins the castle grounds, Bellamy identifies Valerie as an infant whom years before he delivered to Howett to rear when the latter was a poor farmer. Spike Holland, an American reporter working on a London newspaper, is investigating reports that a ghostly archer clad in green haunts the castle. Bellamy suspects Valerie of being the green archer. Featherstone, a Scotland Yard official, who is in love with Valerie, is helping her search for her mother. When next Bellamy enters the secret underground chamber where he has been keeping Valerie's mother, he finds that his prisoner has disappeared. Bellamy and Coldharbour Smith, keeper of a low resort in London, plot against Valerie. She is carried off by a ruse and put on board the steamer Contessa, but is rescued. Julius Savini and his wife, Fay, accept positions at Garre castle. In the night they hear mysterious tappings from underground and a muffled explosion. Old Bellamy is working at some unexplained plot. Later Bellamy enters the Savinis into the dungeon and imprisons them.

He was still thinking when there came a terrific crash at the door, a crash which shook the castle to its foundations. A second explosion followed immediately, and he knew that the outer door was down, and that only the drop door remained. But the drop door was coated with steel. He walked into the library, leaving Sam squatting with his rifle on his knees, confronting his doom with an imperturbable face. The old man was ready to die; he only wanted to be certain that all he had set himself to do had been accomplished. The sound of the further door opening made him spin round. "Stand where you are," said the newcomer sternly. The intruder stood stiffly for a time, holding the bent bow, his right hand drawn back almost to his ear. Like a statue he stood, menacing, a veritable figure of fate, and the light from the silver lamp gleamed on the green arrow pointed to Abe Bellamy's heart. "Don't move, or you'll die. And I do not want you to die yet, until you know."

"The Green Archer?" said Bellamy in strangled tones. "You—you, the Green Archer?" "One by one I have slain your associates, the vile tools you employed to hound down the innocent and oppress the weak. One by one, Abe Bellamy. You are the third. What have you to say that I should not give you judgment to die?"

The words had a strange and awful ring. Though this Bellamy did not know, they were taken word for word from the English sentence of death. "You—the Green Archer!" he could only gasp, his mind in a ferment. He could only stare, fascinated, at

CHAPTER LXXI. LAST VISIT OF GREEN ARCHER. Sitting at his bedroom window, his rifle resting on the window ledge, Abe Bellamy looked down into the dark grounds. The lights of the village had been extinguished by the military authorities. Lights were even forbidden in the houses, and in a sense this favored the defender, for such lights as there were had been in his eyes.

Now he could see clearly. He saw the three men who wriggled their way up the slope, inch by inch, and a shot brought them to a halt. But they had seen the flash and a machine gun opened up, and he lay flat on the floor and heard the bullets whistle over his head.

Presently the firing ceased, and he peeped out again. They were coming. Again he fired, and this time he hit somebody; he heard a cry. And then, watching, he saw the men were withdrawing and he seized the opportunity to go down to the guard-room. The water was pouring from the broken mains in two green-white columns, and stepping over the barrier, he waded to the grills and flashed a light. The water was nearly level with the top stair, and he nodded his satisfaction. They would not come in time to save the lives of these rats who were drowning.

In the hall he found Sam, and bade him gruffly return to the car. The this sinister figure, and could notice such little details as the presence of a second arrow between the disengaged fingers of the archer's left hand.

Bellamy's gun was on the desk. To reach it he had to take two paces. He calculated them carefully, but so had the Green Archer—he knew that. He must temporize.

"If I've ever done anything that money can put right—"

"Money?" said the other scornfully. "How could you offer money to me? Can money buy back the eight years of torment you meted out to an innocent woman? Can money bring back the lash, and take the scars from the skin of a man flogged by your orders and through your machinations? Can money—"

"Wait, wait," said Bellamy eagerly. "I can give you something after your own heart—something that would please the Green Archer."

"What do you mean?" he asked. "They are there!" Bellamy almost screamed the words. "Drowned like rats, all of 'em! They're in hell now—Featherstone, Valerie Howett. As for you—"

He leaped, and as his foot left the ground there came to his ears the thunder of the second explosion. It was a knell; a grand salute to the passing of one who feared neither God nor man.

"Twenty excursionists to the United States arsenal at Rock Island left this morning at 7 o'clock under the guidance of Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension service. A complete tour of the arsenal will occupy the morning and in the afternoon some places of historic interest in the vicinity will be visited.

This tour marks the end of the summer excursions. Six were scheduled, three for the first term and three for the second which duplicated the first.

The Amarna colony gave a bit of utterly different type of life and customs; the Keokuk tour included seeing the great power plant there, the dam across the river, and the inspection of the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison.

The conductor for all the trips has been Mr. Mahan, who before the departure from the campus has outlined the itinerary and explained the most outstanding features of each trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cagley left yesterday morning for a motor trip to Ann Arbor, Mich. They were accompanied by their daughter and her husband, who will go on to Washington, D. C. The party will return in two weeks.

Department Issues Freshman Bulletins

Four weekly bulletins for prospective freshmen are being issued by the publications department, under the supervision of Prof. Fred M. Pownall, university editor. The first, sent out last week, was entitled "The open door." It represented a letter from upperclassmen—the university reception committee—to high school graduates who may enter Iowa in the fall.

This week's leaflet was a letter from a freshman of last year relating his experiences as a "wearer of the green" and his impressions. A third pamphlet will outline activities and academic life, serving as a general introduction. The final pamphlet will contain details of freshman week and registration instructions.

Entire Family Derives Benefit From Modernizing the Home

Character of Children and Adults Better

Social Welfare Workers Assert They Can Tell Changes Readily

Social welfare workers who call on a varied number of homes and come in contact with a wide range of persons assert that they can tell the character of the family they are visiting by the appearance of the home. The curtains on the windows even serve as an index to character.

The character of the family does shine out through the home and the general type of person can usually be told by the house they live in. The honest, hard-working man may be living in a poorer neighborhood, but his home is spic and span. It is as clean as soap and water will make it, and outside a few flowers and a well trimmed lawn speak of pride of possession.

Home an Index to Character
The type of home one lives in is often an index to the character of the owner. The man who lives in a drab, depressing, gloomy house is very often a man who is unprogressive and backward in a business way. He is not forging ahead, but rather is slipping or standing still. On the other hand, the man who

Mr., Mrs. Orr Keith to Build Home of Colonial Architecture

The little, white house with its green shutters and green, asbestos-shingled roof brings dreams of an ideal home. Such a one will be that of Mr. and Mrs. Orr Keith, N. Dubuque road, which is now being constructed. The style of the home is after the American colonial type of architecture.

A wide lawn, with a low hedge and shrubby plantings, will extend in front of the house. Behind it is a space of woodland affording a delightful view. Long flower boxes on the porch and rose trellises along the sides will afford gaily blooming flowers throughout the summer months.

Huge pillars at each corner of the porch lend an air of sturdiness to the structure. The house is 24 feet by 24 feet in dimensions. Rock-faced cement are materials used in the foundation. Entering through the oak paneled door way the living room is revealed. It is a charming room extending across the front of the home and facing toward the west. The slanting rays of the late afternoon sun reflect the golden richness of the natural oak woodwork and floors.

A dull red brick fireplace dominates the far side of the room. It is surmounted with a background of buff in a wavy plaster effect. The approach to the fireplace is laid with dull red tile.

Beyond the living room is the dining room which is also finished in natural oak, including the French doors that disclose a sun parlor. Through the French windows opening outward, there are glimpses of an actual bit of woods, with great oak and tall elm trees.

Electric Refrigerator Used

The kitchen is opposite the dining room. Here there will reign a most cheerful atmosphere. The small windows are to be hung with white ruffled, red dotted bordered curtains. The built-in cabinet, breakfast table and chairs are gay in ivory with Chinese red trimmings. The sink and the electric refrigerator, standing in their respective corners, are in white. An open stairway leads the way from the living room to the second floor. Three large bedrooms, provided with ample closet space, are to be finished in different pastel shades.

The quaint floor is the most noticeable feature of the bathroom. It is constructed of light and dark green tile set in white cement. Green bordered, white ruffled curtains and gleaming white fixtures are in accordance with the color scheme. Only the actual fixtures are visible as the plumbing fittings have been concealed within the walls.

Out-door Living Room

Last but not least, is the promenade. At the upper floor level it stretches across the rear of the home, and is surrounded by a railing held in place with low posts. Furnished with comfortable wicker chairs and lounge with brightly-hued cretonne

Building Permits for Week Total $13,430

Building permits issued in Iowa City for the first week in August totaled $13,430, according to figures available in the office of the building inspector.

The largest piece of work authorized was a $7,500 extension to the Charles Voss residence at 1219 Rochester avenue. Mrs. Ella Mae Taylor is building a residence costing $3,500 in Dewey's addition. Thomas G. Cogswold took out a permit to erect a $1,000 garage in Custer's subdivision.

Bert Chase is building four summer cottages in east Iowa City at a cost of $100 each. F. E. Frazier is building a garage also in east Iowa City at a cost of $400.

The smaller work which was allowed to be erected was: to A. R. Heath, who is constructing a double garage on Rundell street costing $300. C. A. Demory is building an extension to his residence at 718 Walnut street at a cost of $300. Frank J. Andrik, 320 N. Dodge street, is building a $20 garage.

pillows, it will be converted into an out-door living room during the spring and summer seasons.

A pump house will be built next to the back porch. Water from a deep well and soft water from the cistern will be pumped by electricity and piped through the house. Harry Shrock of Iowa City is the contractor who is building the new home.

Once Common House Is Now a Pretty Home

lives in a house that is modern in appearance, with a well cared lawn, is often a man who is progressive and on his toes in a business way.

The environment in which a person lives plays its part in moulding character. If that environment is cheerful, if the house he lives in is smartly up-to-date, if the neighborhood is filled with houses that speak of modern architecture, the influence upon the owner is such that he responds most satisfactorily from a material standpoint.

The Whole Family Benefits

Not only the man of the house, but the whole family benefits by these pleasant surroundings. Environment plays an important part in the life of the child. Their growing characters are swayed by the atmosphere in which they live. The parents have a duty to perform and the keeping of a pleasant, cheerful home is an important factor in moulding the character of their children.

The influence of modernization of the lives of the occupants of a house cannot be estimated by tangible means. It is not possible to state definitely that the remodeling of a house is going to perform a certain part in improving the character and financial standing of the owner.

And yet an influence for good is there. It is silently and persistently working for the betterment of the family.

Community Also Improved

Just as the improvement in the home is influencing the family, so in turn is the modernizing of a house doing a certain amount of good for the community. In the last analysis, a city is but a collection of homes and anything that improves a part is working for the good of the whole. Modernizing lifts up a city out of its ordinary commonplace position and transforms it into a live progressive community, filled with busy individuals striving for their betterment.

A city filled with attractive, well designed homes indicates to strangers that the town is a good place to live in, that it is an enterprising, progressive community, that its citizens are a busy, hustling collection of individuals.

The casual passer-by would never suspect that the home above was built years ago when the Spanish-American war was a live topic of conversation. Its sweeping roof lines, pleasing arch over the garage, drive and quaint little stoop, all speak of modern architecture.

Yet this house was once the commonplace dwelling illustrated to the right. These before and after pictures present forcefully the advantages of modernization in making the old home up-to-date.

Once an ordinary house, the kind found on any street in a residential neighborhood, now a delightful home, unusual in its irregular lines and odd architectural touches. That's the story of this pleasant home. The modernization of this house not only changed the exterior lines of the dwelling to such an extent that the house becomes almost unrecognizable, but when so doing an extra room has been added by enclosing

Across the front now appears a charming sun room lighted by two bays of windows. The main entrance to the house lies off this room. A narrow stoop—practically a step—leads down to the garage drive which also serves as the walk leading to the public sidewalk. Such an arrangement as this saves the expense of a formal concrete walk and gives an unconventional touch which is in keeping with the atmosphere of the dwelling. A tiny shelter having a pitched roof, relieves the doorway of its bare look.

New Roof Lines
While basically the roof lines of the house have been changed very little, the extension of the face of the original gable to form a sweeping arch top serves to give the house a low, clinging effect. An archway over the drive, leading to the garage makes the appearance of the dwelling from the street an unusual one.

On the right side of the house a dormer has been added with an opening containing two double hung windows. The lights in the upper sash have been divided into three panes, as this effect tends to eliminate the bareness of one broad pane of glass.

New Sash Lights Dining Room

The old side door leading off the dining room has been enclosed, the small porch and overhead shelter eliminated, and in its stead a bay of three windows has been placed in the side wall to aid in lighting this important room. The dining room should always be well lighted as it is important that the meals of the family be eaten under the best of conditions. Environment plays an important part in dietetics and a well lighted dining room does its part toward promoting the health and well-being of the family.

U. S. Players Lead Net Play

Two Helens Give Yaniks Front Position

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 9 (AP)—The American Helens of tennis from Berkeley, Calif., asserted their power today to give the United States a lead of two matches to one over Great Britain in the battle for the Wightman cup, emblem of supremacy in women's competition.

World's Champion Helen Mills overpowered Mrs. Phoebe Watson, 6-1, 6-4, after which Helen Jacobs staged two sensational rallies to conquer Betty Nuthall, youthful star of the English team at 7-5, 8-6.

Instead of faltering after these two setbacks, the British forces gathered strength and romped off with the doubles match, third and concluding contest of the day, when Mrs. Watson, combined with Mrs. Peggy Saunders Mitchell to defeat Helen Mills and Edith Cross, 6-4, 6-1.

The two day series for the trophy, now in possession of the British after an even split in six years of competition, will close tomorrow with four matches.

Miss Mills today was harder pressed to win than possibly in any match she has played in the last three years. Mrs. Watson forced nine of the 17 games to deuce, fought back to even terms after trailing at 2-3 in the second set and three times within a point of forcing the set to deuce before Miss Mills reeled off five points and won the tenth, deciding the game.

Two champions were knocked out in one week. Andrew Routsis, featherweight king, was stopped by Al Singer in a non-title bout and Jackie Fields put over a knockout on Joe Dundee, the much abused welterweight champion.

For a half dozen seasons, Babe Ruth, practically by himself, was Babe's clouting circus. Finally, his team-mate and friend, Lou Gehrig, banged his way into the home run ring and, this year, the national clouting circus has become at least a three-ring affair, crowded with performers of Ruthian proportions!

Ruth has been making gallant efforts to keep his place at the head of this great home run show, but Father Time, with his ill that best athletic age, has been keeping Babe out of the game so much of late that it looks now as though 1929 will mark the start of the Ruthian eclipse.

Meanwhile, Chuck Klein of the Phillies, Mel Ott of the Giants, Hack Wilson of the Cubs, Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Al Simmons of the Athletics and a half dozen others are presumping those home run pines in the diamond's clouting circus which Ruth bestrode like a Colossus for so many seasons.

The Babe himself is not whimpering, no matter what the competition, for, no matter what the competition, the Babe has been baseball's big feature so long that he has become its most interesting institution. He is the Jack Dempsey of the national game—with all his eccentricities and troubles of the past, the most popular player who ever made great crowds roar! Why even in batting practice his trips to the plate are watched as though such incidents were to become part of the official records!

But on they come—Ruth's successors! With salvos of homers that must burst on Babe's huge ears like ocean waves lashing his dug-out St. Helens!

Will the Kleins, the Ott, the Gehrigs and others surpass Ruth's extraordinary records? That is doubted, but some of them may come close to 60-for-a-season before home run epidemics abate.

Nor should Ruth be counted out now, as many experts erroneously attempted for a few years past. Because, as long as the Babe can stand at the plate, he will be liable to slam out homers. And he should be able to do that, between layoffs, for a couple more seasons at least.

While Ruth is able to take even occasional part in the clouting circus he will remain its most dramatic actor and factor. His name has been, is and will be the inspiration of all homers, whether they be hit this year, next or a century from now.

Wherever hard hitting draws the fans the Babe will always be remembered as the Barron and Bagley of the home run circus. His name already marks an era in baseball. Every one knows we're in "The Age of Ruth."

Kauffman Meets Toledo Man in Tourney

FOREST PARK, ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Carl Kauffman, the poker faced shot maker from Pittsburgh, will battle for his third straight national public links golf championship here tomorrow in meeting Milton Socrant, a Toledo mail man, in the 36-hole final.

Socrant crushed Frank Connelly of Detroit 5 and 3, in the morning 18 hole round, and then fought to the 21st hole before he conquered Wesley Casper of Louisville, former Kentucky amateur champion, one up, to become a finalist.

1500 Welcome Goebel's Plane at Local Airport

Colonel Relates Views on Aviation, Use Commercially

Between 1,500 and 1,600 persons turned out to welcome the plane of Colonel Goebel himself, as being "air-minded," were given an opportunity yesterday to actually see and touch an ocean going airplane, one which has carved for itself a goodly sized niche in the hall of aeronautical fame. And the plane's own pilot, who flew it from San Francisco to Honolulu, Aug. 17, 1927, to win the Dole prize of $25,000, flew the plane over Iowa City and landed at the local airport.

Colonel Goebel landed the "Woolaroo," a Travel Air monoplane, specially fitted by himself for the Pacific flight, at Smith field at 8:44 a.m. yesterday, just a few minutes after another Travel Air acting as a pathfinder had landed. After being introduced to his admirers by H. W. Harrington, advertising manager for the Phillips Petroleum company, the colonel gave a short talk in which he outlined several of his views on aviation. He touched briefly on advances being made in the field of aviation and the use of planes in commercial fields.

Crum Welcomes Flyer

Colonel Goebel was welcomed by D. W. Crum, secretary of the Iowa City chamber of commerce, and William Wishart, organizing manager of the American air cadets. The colonel recently became a member of the national board of sponsors of the American air cadets, national organization, for encouraging building of model airplanes by boys. The national headquarters of this organization have recently been moved to Iowa City from New York.

Enthusiastic members of the local club obtained Colonel Goebel's autograph on several of their books and put apt questions to him about aviation. Charles D. Manson, secretary of the Cedar Rapids chamber of commerce, was a passenger in the escort plane, which was piloted by H. W. Parker. Also included in this plane, were Mr. Harrington, Phil Phillips, son of Frank Phillips, R. C. Jopling, and Fidelas Velad, mechanic.

Philips Sends Regards
Mr. Crum received a telegram yesterday from Mr. Phillips, who is now in California, regretting that he was unable to accompany his "Woolaroo" to Iowa City.

Mr. Phillips sponsored the flight as a farewell trip for the plane, which is to be "buried" on Mr. Phillips' ranch, itself named the "Woolaroo," on Aug. 17, just two years after the famous flight over the Pacific.

"Woolaroo" means woods, rocks, and water, all three of which are plentiful on the "Woolaroo" ranch of Mr. Phillips at Bartlesville, Okla.

Dean Kay Reports on Wild Life School

Dean George F. Kay returned yesterday from McGregor where he has taken part in a wild life school, giving lectures and supervising hikes. The class rooms of this school were the woods, caves, rocks, and the islands of the Mississippi river, the steep hillsides and all the outdoors of the region abounding in wild life.

Prof. B. Shimek of the University of Iowa, was an instructor in botany at the school. Prof. Charles Keyes of Mt. Vernon was managing head of the school and chairman of the program committee.

The project of establishing a national park in the upper Mississippi region was discussed. The delegation of Prairie du Chiene men laid plans to organize Wisconsin in support of the national park project as Iowa is now organized.

Midway Oil Company Takes Operation of Two Local Stations

The Midway Oil company of Rock Island, Ill., has taken over the operation of the Western Oil company of this city. Francis Wakefield is the manager of the Iowa City division. The Western Oil company which, with J. K. Duncan as president, operated two service stations here, is no longer in existence.

Petitions Filed for Sept. Court Term

One law and one equity petition were filed for the September term of district court yesterday. Hill and Wolfe a co-partnership, are asking judgment against Bohumil Mika, for $325 and interest from March 6, 1929, and costs for a team of mules, which the defendant had purchased from the plaintiff.

Julius Tudor asks for the establishment of title against the adverse claims of the unknown defendants on a described part of block 2 in Iowa City.

WOMAN DIES IN CRASH

WOOSTER, O., Aug. 9 (AP)—Mrs. F. H. Hammett, 23 years old, of Barberton, O., was killed and her husband was injured probably fatally late today in a crash of their airplane at Orrville, O., near here. The husband was piloting. He had about 15 hours experience in the air and was rated a student pilot at Lang field, Barberton.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

President in Fishing Camp on Birthday

MADISON, Va., Aug. 9 (AP)—President Hoover and his party of guests arrived tonight at his Rapidan river fishing camp after a four-hour automobile journey from Washington.

Mrs. Hoover and their son, Allan, have spent the last week-end at the camp. During this stay the president will observe his fifty-fifth birthday anniversary, but no particular celebration has been planned. It was stated today that Mr. Hoover never had engaged in birthday celebrations but that perhaps there might be a special dinner with a suitable cake at the camp tomorrow evening.

Although accompanied by Secretary Hyde and Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming of the public health service, the president never had any business conferences with these officers of the government. He intended to spend the two days in fishing and resting.

Among the other guests who made the trip from the white house in a small fleet of automobiles were Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, who flew here from New York during the forenoon and were white house guests for luncheon.

Goebel Approves of Plans for Enlarging, Improving Airport

Iowa City's airport was inspected yesterday by an internationally known flyer, Col. Arthur Goebel, who has flown into airports of practically every state of the union. And two years ago next Saturday he started out from San Francisco in his specially designed plane with one companion, and with only a radio beacon signal set for guidance, picked out the airport at Honolulu out of the great Pacific and landed safely, winning the Dole prize of $25,000.

"I'm pleased with your airport," the colonel said when asked about the local field yesterday after he had given a short talk to a group of admirers, "but it will soon be too small."

Pointing to his plane, which was the best money could buy and equip two years ago, Colonel Goebel explained how it was now sadly out-of-date. When told of the plans being carried out for enlarging and improving the local port, the colonel expressed his approval.

"Building airports of the first class cannot be done all at once," he said, "but the city which gets a start now is the city which should always keep in the lead. The good ports come gradually."

Mr. Goebel is interested in the boys model airplane clubs and interrupted our interview several times to autograph books for young pilots-to-be.

The famous flyer remarked about the beauty of the university from the air, and was pleased when informed that the college of engineering has started offering instruction in aeronautics. He was especially interested in hearing that a glider had been constructed in the engineering shops for exhibition at the state fair.

Bowser Says, "Guards Rise at 4 to Drill"

113th Rates Excellent on Field; Radio, Coon Entertain

By CORP. ALBERT BOWSER (Special to The Daily Iowan) CAMP DODGE, DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Making the best time ever made in the trip between Iowa City and Herold where Camp Dodge is situated, Troop I, 113th cavalry, arrived here at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. The Iowa City company of Iowa national guards left their home camp at 5 a.m.

The time from the arrival until taps blew at night, the campers spent in getting their equipment arranged. Monday was a day of rain and the schedule included the work of getting the troop street in shape.

Complete Two Drills

After the 113th had completed two drills on the field they were rated as excellent. The first platoon is under the command of Lieut. John A. Tiedemann and the second platoon under Lieut. Elmer M. Hay. First sergeants under these men are Glen L. Schmidt and John Pluhar, Jr. One of Pluhar's duties is to get the company out at 4 a.m. for the start of the day's program.

Lawrence Yanausch is the color sergeant. Newton Mulford is the active platoon sergeant. When it comes to the "grub" Mess Sgt. John Pluhar, Sr., with the help of Cooks Maurice Bragg and William Hay, keeps up the company's record for delicious eats.

Potter in Hospital

Lynn Potter, the camp mascot spent a day in the hospital suffering from a slight attack of appendicitis but he is now out and going strong. During the recreation hours Maj. Will J. Hayek and his pet coon keeps us entertained. A radio loaned by the Quality bake shop and installed by Sergt. Pluhar and Corporal Baldwin helps to keep the blues away.

Lieut. Elmer Hay was presented a saber in behalf of the troop by Capt. Albert Yanausch. Ten horses from the 14th cavalry platoon have been added to 113th horses. Monday evening Private "Cowboy" McNamer tamed the 14th cavalry's bronco. The additional horses are under the charge of Sergt. Glen Bell.

Court Passes Weary Times

Larry Brown has been presiding at the bench of the kangaroo court. This court proves to be greatly worn while and passes some weary time away.

Tomorrow the 113th will participate in the regimental horsemanship on the drill field and it expects to take high honors as it has in the past. Lieutenant Hay will represent the company in the saber course which is the most important event of the day. He will compete against five officers who received training at the cavalry school at Ft. Riley, Kan. He has never failed to put on

Fraternity, Sorority Building Program Nears Completion

227 Expect to Get Degrees on August 22

The summer program of fraternity and sorority house construction work is gradually nearing the last stages with the opening of the university in September only six weeks distant. Eleven new houses will be ready for occupancy when students return for the fall term. Two houses are being remodeled, and one house, recently begun, will be completed during the school year. The building boom in the fraternity field took on new significance this spring when the new zoning ordinance went into effect.

Segregate Fraternities

The ordinance provides that fraternity and sorority houses be segregated, and at the same time in a specially defined territory. By this arrangement university buildings will be more compactly located, and the city residence section will not be interspersed with new student homes, campus has been swift this summer.

Development of the west side has been swift with eight new houses nearing completion and a ninth just begun. When the district around the houses is landscaped the system of courts will show an arrangement original in limited States colleges.

The new home of Alpha Sigma Phi on River street is plastered and ready for finishing touches. The driveway will be finished this week. A feature of the house is the open porch on the east side which gives a view of the campus from the bluff.

Across the street, Phi Kappa Sigma and Delta Sigma Pi houses are being rushed to the utmost for early occupancy. The rough work is not completed as yet, but contractors promise to have the houses ready by fall.

Delta Chi

Delta Chi, building on the bluff between Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Nu Sigma Nu, will face Ridgeview avenue to the west.

Delta Upsilon on Ellis avenue is a colonial limestone house with a large front porch across the entire front of the house. This square columns that reach the height of two stories support the roof.

Theta Xi fraternity house is nearly finished. It is located just north of Nu Sigma Nu and is being constructed by Charles A. Coffeen. The house is across the ravine from the new Phi Beta Pi house which was completed before school closed in June.

Alpha Kappa Kappa

Alpha Kappa Kappa, medical fraternity, is building on Main street in the west side section closer to the medical laboratories than their old location. The house will be ready for fall.

Phi Epsilon Pi house

has just been started will be completed during the year.

Beta Theta Pi

Next door to their old house, the Betas are building the most expensive house now under construction on the campus. The house will be ready for occupancy when school starts.

Across the street from the Sigma Chi house on Dubuque street, the Sigma Phi Epsilon house has been begun. At present workmen are ready to lay the roof. The Crowl construction company expects that the second and third floors will be ready for fraternity men to use when school convenes.

Two Sorority Houses

Two new houses are being built by sororities this summer, and one is being remodeled. Alpha Xi Delta is building on Fairchild street between Clinton and Dubuque streets. The house is of dark red brick and will be completed in six weeks.

Sigma Kappa is building on Burlington street west of Kappa Alpha Theta. The house will be ready by fall. The McAllister Construction company is the contractor for both houses.

Theta Phi Alpha

Theta Phi Alpha sorority is remodeling the old Alpha Sigma Phi house on the southeast corner of College and Johnson streets. The Crowl Construction company took out partitions and renovated the structure, centering the front walk.

The white house will be trimmed in green, with shutters for all the windows painted the same color. All contractors are rushing work on the houses at this time in order that they may be ready before college convenes.

Enrique Blanco to Instruct in Spanish

Increase in Rediscount Rates Sends Stock Market Downward

Active Issues Record Losses From 2 to 20 Points

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—The federal reserve bank's increase in its rediscount rate knocked the flood gates of liquidation wide open on the stock market today, and more than $2,000,000,000 in quoted values was washed abroad. Most of the active issues lost from 2 to 20 points.

Lochide Gas, a comparatively inactive stock, recorded a maximum loss of 46 points. Some support came into the market during the forenoon, after the sharp break at the opening, when stocks fell 2 to 15 points in transactions of 5,000 to 25,000 shares, but renewed weakness appeared in the early afternoon, and again in the last half hour, and the list closed around the lowest levels of the day.

The increase in the rediscount rate from 5 to 6 per cent met with varied reactions in Wall street, but traders unanimously acknowledged that the federal reserve had caught them slumbering. Some bankers pointed out that the increase in the rate to a point well above the banker's acceptance rate was in keeping with the European policy in making the rediscount rate an emergency and a penalty rate.

Both call and time money were somewhat firmer today, the former at 8 per cent. Call loans were kept at 8 per cent only by the quick action of one of the large banks when a shortage appeared and the rate threatened to go higher.
