Ehmke Pitches Athletics to 3-1 Victory Over Bruins in First Game of World Series

Veteran Right Hander Tames Club Sluggers

Sets New World Series Strikeout Record in Opener

By ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—With a twirling masterpiece that astonished the baseball world in general and the Chicago Cubs in particular, Howard Ehmke, long, lean right hander, slow balled the Philadelphia Athletics to victory over the National league champions today, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the World series.

Silences Cub Guns

HOWARD EHMKE

At the age of 35, when he was supposed to be well on the downward path and a second string man at best in the A's cast of stars, Ehmke baffled the battling Bruins, justified the unexpected faith of the veteran Connie Mack and brought his triumph to a climax by smothering the World series record for strike outs.

When the towering, angular Ehmke, in an exciting ninth inning finish, fanned pinch hitter Charley Tolson for the third out with two men on bases, he choked off the last of three Cub threats in dramatic fashion with his thirteenth strike out victim of the game.

This surpassed the former World's series record of 12 strike outs, made in 1906 by Big Ed Walsh, the famous White Sox Iron man who also had the Cubs as victims on that occasion. Walter Johnson of the Senators fanned 12 Giants in the first game of the 1924 series, but it took 10 innings for him to do it.

Just a few moments before Ehmke, hit hard by a line drive from Frank Wilson's head, had fallen to the ground, seemingly hurt at a moment when he had victory and the record in his grasp. There was a dramatic pause until he jumped up; a hurried consultation before he resumed pitching. His hopes of a shut-out were blasted when the Cubs scored their only run on a two base hit throw by Dykes on Cuyler's grounder, and a single by Stephenson, but the tall moundsman finished the game in a blaze of glory.

A colorful opening day crowd of 50,744 fans, who contributed to a near record "gate" of $219,738, saw Ehmke's slow curves turn back their favorites and beat the best that Charley Root, leading flinger of the National league, had to offer.

For six innings Root easily held his own in a scoreless duel, but he retired in the seventh for a pinch batter, after yielding a home run to Jimmy Foy, young first sacker of the Athletics. This mighty drive, that fell into the center field bleachers, started the downfall of the Cubs, but a clinching blow of the game was a rousing single to center by Bing Miller, the supposedly ailing Mack outfielder, who drove Cochrane and Simmons across the plate after Elwood English, young Cub shortstop, had contributed two successive errors.

second of Ehmke's great stands in which he pulled himself out, each time by the strike out route. The A's had gathered their first run on Fox's homer just a few moments before but Ehmke was in a bad hole when Grimm's sacrifice put Cuyler third and Stephenson on second.

From the dugout, reinforcements were rushed up by General Joe McCarthy. Cliff Heathcote batted for catcher Zack Taylor, but Simmons grabbed his short fly to left on the run and kept the fleet Cuyler from an attempt to score. Gabby Hartnett, the big catcher who has been out with a bad arm all season, batted for Root but he joined the rapidly growing list of Ehmke's strike out victims.

Root Yields to Bush
Root, who had twirled masterful ball himself, yielded only three safe hits in seven innings before giving way to Bush. Outside of the second, when they bunched two singles to no avail, and Fox's homer, the A's were themselves far from potent at bat.

Mickey Cochrane, shot a single through Hornsby to start the ninth, then English, booted Simmons's grounder and his haste to start the double play. The short stop's nerves were still upset and after grabbing Fox's rap he juggled the ball so long that all runners were safe and the bases full. Miller brought Cochrane and Simmons across with a single to center but Bush personally checked further threats by grabbing two short bouncers by Dykes and Foley for put outs at the plate.

Dykes Throws Wild
The Cubs attack finally broke through in its last chance after Willson had hit Ehmke low temporarily at the start of the ninth. The A's pitcher tossed out Hack at first but Jimmy Dykes then uncorked a wild throw on Cuyler's grounder, the ball sailing into the Philadelphia dugout. Kiki went to second under the ground rules and scored on Stephenson's single to center. The crowd was in an uproar when Grimm followed with a safe blow to right, but Dykes took pinch hitter Blair's rap to force Grimm at second, as Stephenson went to third, and Tolson, pinch batting for Bush, struck out.

It was a great victory for Connie Mack and his strategy in selecting Ehmke, instead of one of his more famous pitching stars, such as George Earnshaw or Lefty Grove. Ehmke demonstrated so conclusively that the Cubs have no fondness whatever for slow balls and a puzzling change of pace that it would not surprise the experts if Old Jack Quinn drew the assignment for the second game tomorrow.

Speakers Urge Ticket Sale in Theater Drive

University Players Hold Dinner at Union; 250 Register

"Two thousand season tickets must be sold if we are to realize our long needed and dreamed of new theater," said Prof. Edward C. Mable, director of the university theater, in his address last night at the university players' dinner. "If we sell 2,000 tickets it means $12,000, the amount needed to allow the university to launch a bond issue to build a new theater. If we can raise this amount we will have the new theater by spring."

Professor Mable presided over the meeting following the dinner. Prof. V. M. Morton, associate director of the university theater, gave an outline of the American comedies to be presented this season.

Plays American
"Give your friends and patrons a good time by selling them a play book. All these comedies are American, and they will be enjoyed by real Americans. They're all great fun," declared Professor Morton.

Dorothy Mueller, A3 of Pasadena, member of the board of university plays, made announcements concerning prizes offered for the sale of tickets. The first prize for the greatest number of tickets sold is $25, the second, $15 the third, $10, and so on to each person selling 15 books.

Many Give Talks
Bert Tanswell, A3 of Blandford, England, urged the members to "bring home the bacon." Other short talks were by R. H. Fitzgerald, director of the Iowa Union; Verma Bookhart, A4 of Ida Grove; Ann Bradford, A3 of Davenport; Don Howell, A4 of Iowa City, president of the university players; William Webber, A4 of Omaha; Ellen Ford, A3 of Iowa City, and W. H. Cobb, assistant secretary of the university.

Following the dinner a general get-acquainted mixer was held in the river room. More than 250 persons registered for tryouts for the organization. Professor Mable introduced members of the staff and officers of the university players. Edward Wright, G of New London, gave two readings: "The champion hog caller" and a piece of his own which he calls "A radio story."

Present Play
"The Weak Spot," by George Kelly, was presented in the studio theater by the following: Mildred Bartel as "Jenny"; Warren Lee as "Mr. Arnold West"; and Marie Busler as "Mrs. West."

This mixer was one of the best attended in the history of the university theater. The large number of persons registered for tryouts in university plays promises to make the season a bigger and better one than ever before. The new theater depends upon the students. If the university students back this campaign for season tickets, the way is clear.

Seats may be reserved for the entire season in the same seats. Get your tickets early and reserve the choice seats.

State Board Creates New School Here

Fitzgerald Will Act as Administrative Director

As a culmination of months of planning on the part of faculty and administrative officers interested in the development of fine arts upon the campus, the state board of education yesterday authorized the establishment of a school of fine arts, organized in the college of liberal arts, with R. H. Fitzgerald as administrative director.

The new school will knit together the following departments: graphic and plastic arts, history of art, the department of music as it is to be called from now on, and the dramatic art branch of the department of speech and dramatic art. This designation of what was formerly known as the department of speech was also authorized by the board yesterday, at its meeting in Cedar Falls.

Mr. Fitzgerald, as director of the school, will assume the duties similar to those of directors of schools already organized in the college and will be given voting power on the faculty. This arrangement will in no way alter the status of the present heads of the various departments concerned.

In a letter to Pres. Walter A. Jessup recommending the establishment of such a school, Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts set forth the faculty reasons for the promotion of the new school. There was a prevailing feeling on the campus that Iowa Union should be the center of student life and cultural development and that the establishment of a school of fine arts to be closely associated with the work of the Union would encourage participation in important extra-curricular phases of the department's concern.

With this idea in mind, Dean Kay writes: "The activities in the fine arts can be developed to a much higher stage of efficiency than has yet been attained. To accomplish the maximum results it will be necessary to establish and maintain proper administrative relationships not only among the departments organized to foster the various phases of art but with other branches of the university interested in giving to students and to others every opportunity to develop the aesthetic phases of their lives. Among these branches is the Iowa Memorial Union."

It is the opinion of faculty members that the curricular and cultural phases of art should be properly coordinated and administered and that the arts school will best accomplish that purpose.

Director of Union
Mr. Fitzgerald has been director of Iowa Union and student service since 1925 and has seen every phase of the growth of the Union as a student center. He received his B.A. degree from Guilford college and his M.A. from the University of Tennessee where he was on the faculty before coming to Iowa.

Beat the Buckeyes

SATURDAY Coach Burton Ingwersen will send his University of Iowa grid-ers against the Ohio State university in the first conference football game of the season for the two teams. In fact, the conference season is officially opened in Big Ten circles on that date.

From appearances, it might be Iowa's last start in the Big Ten and then next year the "holy nine" will tangle among themselves. The biggest drawing card on foreign fields will not be present next year, maybe. But the Hawks are playing their conference foes this season. The Buckeyes are the first team to be met.

The game will be a grudge battle from start to finish, simply because Coach Sam Willaman of the Bucs, is using the psychological argument on his footballers that Iowa was the cause of the dispute in regard to Allen Holman's eligibility. This is untrue as far as charges are concerned.

Iowa never raised a finger as far as doubting the eligibility of the stellar quarterback. The Hawks want Holman to play every minute of the game Saturday. No one man in the present style of football can make or break any eleven. There is no doubt but that the tilt will be a grudge battle.

And another thing, Ohio State is not even considering Iowa as dangerous this year. The Bucs are preparing for Michigan, Indiana, Pittsburgh, and Illinois. The press reports at Columbus bear out that statement. Ohio thinks that Iowa will be nothing more than a warming up game before the Scarlet and Gray tackles the other strong gridiron opponents.

Ohio must be beaten. It is the first obstacle in Iowa's march to a conference championship.

Play the Game

THE STUDENT had promised to be there at 9 o'clock to wash the windows. Eight-thirty, 9, 9:30, 10, 10:30, 11 and still the windows are unwashed. The telephone rings.

"I have an appointment with my dentist. Could I come this afternoon?"
Incidents like this make the townspeople pause before employing student help, particularly for odd jobs. While there are a few students who do not get work, the general abundance of part-time jobs shows the interest which the people of Iowa City take in the university and the students.

It is only fair that the students shall fulfill their part of the contract. It isn't fun to rake leaves or clean out ashes if you are thinking meanwhile of Jimmie Jones out canoeing with Sally Smith. If you reflect that you might very well be working behind the counter or with a section gang, raking leaves doesn't seem such hard work.

It is necessary that many students earn at least part of their expenses while at the university. The failure of one student to carry out his agreement with a housekeeper may prevent a dozen students in the future from getting employment.

Dependability is one of the chief assets to success in any business. Students have a good chance to learn it in their own business contracts.

When Mack Meets Mack

YESTERDAY Joe McCarthy and Cornelius McGillicuddy (occasionally referred to as Connie Mack) pitted rival teams for baseball world championship against each other.

Last week England's prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, was speaking from the rear platform of his train at Philadelphia, while enroute to Washington, D. C. After the usual greeting, he was starting to inform the Philadelphians about his mission of world peace when someone in the crowd shouted, "What about the world series?"

The Scotch Mack had to be prompted by Secretary of State Stimson, who whispered baseball and Philadelphia's in it, whereupon MacDonald caught the point and came back, "I hope Philadelphia wins."

Donald is limited to a glimpse of his picture, that of his daughter, Ishbel, and a vague notion why he is meeting Hoover. It is well to be on the up and up where a world series is concerned, but it is at least of equal importance to be informed on a question of significance to this nation and to the world. When a British prime minister makes a personal visit to the United States president about naval disarmament, it is time we all knew as much about why he has come and what he will accomplish.

There is excuse for MacDonald's not being aware of our world series, but none whatever for our remaining ignorant of his mission. Let's read all the paper.

The Causes

IN CONNECTION with fire prevention week, Oct. 6 to 12, a few causes of some of the bad fires this country has experienced are brought to mind.

The $5,000,000 Atlanta fire started from an electric iron.
The $40,000,000 Baltimore fire was due to a careless smoker.
The $5,000,000 Berkeley fire originated from burning brush.
The $1,000,000 Nashville fire grew out of a small boy's carelessness.
The $7,000,000 Paris, Tex., fire was caused by a locomotive spark.
The $3,000,000 "Burlington" fire in Chicago came from spontaneous ignition.

The great Chicago fire started from an overturned lamp.
The Collinwood schoolhouse fire, in which 174 children and two teachers lost their lives, started from a steam-pipe in contact with a wood floor.
The Peabody school fire, in which 21 children died, was due to a pile of rubbish.
The Cleveland, S. C., school fire in 1923, in which 76 persons lost their lives, was due to an improperly protected lamp.

The Babb's Switch, Okla., school house fire on Christmas Eve in 1924 was caused by lighted candles on a dry Christmas tree.

Insect Traffic

DID YOU ever watch an ant hill when its little army is laying up its winter's supply of food? If you have taken the time to do so, you have noticed the steady line of workers going from the hill, and the equally steady line of carriers returning to the fast filling storerooms in the underground chambers. There is no apparent hurry or bustle, no collisions, no serious accidents but still the work goes on and the task is accomplished. These small insects have worked out a system of one-way traffic, stop and go signals, and good conduct at intersections, that promotes efficiency and avoids accidents. We could well afford to take a lesson in traffic rules from them.

The local police, headed by Chief C. F. Benda, are beginning a campaign to check careless driving, especially in regard to driving on the proper side of the street, good conduct at street intersections and stop and go signals, and the correct use of the horn or other signaling device with which the automobile may be equipped.

If all automobile drivers in Iowa City would get a copy of the motor vehicle laws and study them, and then like the ant, follow the orders given, fines would be saved, accidents avoided, and cooperation extended to the police force who are carrying out their duties.

Iowa City Ahead

IOWA CITY residents have reason to be proud of the town in which they live. There are not only the cultural advantages of having the state university in the town, and the economic benefits resulting from the possession of an excellent air port, but there is continual civic progress.

This summer has witnessed the carrying out of a paving program which, on the west side, will do much this winter towards facilitating the delivery service of the merchants.

Replanking of the park bridge means that autoists, while deprived of the thrills that the old flooring offered, will be in a better frame of mind to enjoy the view along the Iowa river. The substitution of a modern bus for the temperamental street car hither-to employed, is another sign of the enterprise exhibited by the inhabitants of the town.

With the promise of a new city hall in which to house the administrative activities, the city council is but showing the progressiveness befitting the government of the city.

Change the Parking Rule

HAVE YOU driven along College street between Dubuque and Clinton streets when that particular section was jammed full of parked automobiles? If so, you have found that it is a pretty tight squeeze and requires something more than an amateur motorist at the wheel.

Due to the narrow width of that street, and also the unusually crowded condition there, it seems that there is only one remedy to that problem—that of changing the method of parking the cars at the curb.

It would be much safer to have the cars parked parallel with the curb rather than at a 45 degree angle. It is true that not so large a number of cars would be parked there if such a style would be adopted, but at least it would be better for traffic and also for the cars.

Ripley informs the world that a telegram was sent around the world in eight minutes, in 1927. We wish some of our messenger boy acquaintances would hear about this.

Intelling how a mother and son were chopped to death in their beds, a news service dispatch says, "The victims were killed before they arose this morning." Which prompts us to inquire if that indicates another resurrection miracle.

CHILLS AND FEVER

Sorry of course, are we; and the reason is plain to see. We had faithfully promised the editor that copy for the reinstating of this column into the pages of the Daily Iowan would be in his hands, for such corrections as he might wish to make, by Monday, Oct. 7, 1929.

The editor says (and how!) that he advertised, or published, a story in the Sunday issue of the Daily Iowan, warning readers that we would again be on deck Tuesday morning. Hence there were thousands of disappointed readers.

By the way and be that as it may, we are again here and receiving contributions. So get hot, all ye who would crash the golden gates which bar this column from heaven, and let's have some talent.

Address all communication to: Dr. P. W. O., The Daily Iowan Office, 126-130 Iowa avenue, Iowa City, Iowa

Despite the chief's howls of protest we decided to take a little run about the city this morning before turning out the copy for this line.

And now those new fraternity houses on the west side do show up! The one on the corner seems to be getting all decorated up for Christmas. The green shutters on red brick—do your Christmas shopping early.

The D. U.'s have a new flag pole from which Old Glory is waving. They'll have a standing army on parade for Homecoming, we are told.

If all the cars parked about the west side houses were parked end to end on the Sahara desert—it would be a good thing.

The road leading to the west side district might be rougher, but not much.

The stretch is owned by the university so about all that is necessary to control the west side outfit is to close it up entirely.

The city fathers are said to be in a pretty kettle, so to speak, as they are called several times a day about the paving for said street (2) and as the university owns the thoroughfare, the council has little to do but answer phone calls.

And now is, where we close the first column of the new period—a great start in the newer life of Chills and Fever. Crowd in the contributions, be they as they may.

We're glad to be back and hope to stay back and not way back. Dr. P. W. O.

Turn the light on the Truth!

It's just naturally good tobacco—not "artificial treatment" that makes OLD GOLD gentle to the throat and better to the taste

No one cigarette-maker has any monopoly on the heat-treatment of cigarette tobaccos. For heat-treating is neither new nor exclusive. It has been used for years by practically all cigarette-makers to "set" and sterilize their tobacco.

But OLD GOLD'S goodness does not depend on artificial treatment. It is the product of naturally good tobaccos... carefully selected for mildness, smoothness and flavor. Tobaccos made free of "throat scratch" by Mother Nature herself.

Try a package. You'll immediately get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. And you'll know then why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined growth of three leading cigarette brands during a like period of their existence.

Better Tobaccos make them smoother and better... with "not a cough in a carload"

Varsity Shows Power, Speed in Fast Scrimmage With Frosh Eleven

Glasgow Out; Other Backs Score at Will

Ingwersen Uses Many Combinations; Ends Show Ability

The varsity gridgers pointing for the contest with Ohio State Saturday, swept over the yearling recruits in a scrimmage session yesterday for four touchdowns. With Captain Glasgow still out of the lineup as a result of head injuries received in last Saturday's game, Pape, Sansen, Farroh and Leo Jensvold led the Hawkeye attack.

This backfield combination tore huge holes in the frosh line and made large gains around the ends. Mike Farroh got under a couple of 50 yard punts, when Coach Burt Ingwersen called for a kicker. Although few kicks were needed in the Monmouth game last Saturday, it is probable that Ohio State may call for some heavy boots when the Hawkeyes meet them at Columbus this Saturday.

Brice Thomas, fullback, was kept out of active drill yesterday by renewed trouble with leg infection.

Line Powerful
The Hawk line seemed powerful yesterday and went against the frosh with a determination, which if maintained, should prove bothersome to conference rivals. Gus Mastrogany and Rogge, ends; Myers and Roberts guards; Westra and Ely tackles; and Magnussen, pivot man, turned in effective performances against the yearling version of Ohio State players.

Nelson Drop Kicks
Coach Ingwersen also used Carl Pignatelli, Seward Leeka, an erstwhile wingman, Lloyd Jensvold, Jim Hagerly, and Mike Tousey interchangeably with his varsity backs. Irv Nelson was sent in on one occasion to try his educated toe on one of his famous drop-kicks.

George Rogge snagged two passes against the freshman defense. These two tries were Burt's only hint of a pass attack in yesterday's drill period.

Trick Plays Developed
Prior to the scrimmage, the coaches worked the linemen and backfield individually. The Hawk mentor introduced two new trick plays which he plans to use against the Buckeyes. The Ohio sound reports but two wrenched ankles, as a result of its 19-4 win over Wittenberg at Columbus last Saturday. Holmes and Hess are the two injured men and both are expected to report at the opening whistle against Iowa. Larkin, a guard who has been out of practice for some time with a twisted elbow, was again in uniform Monday afternoon. His return to the line will bolster up the right side of the Buckeye line, a weak point in the Wittenberg contest.

AMES, (AP)—Why gas meters go wrong, means of improving their reliability, and the mastery of their intricacies will be gone into thoroughly here Dec. 4-7 when the annual short course for gas meter men will be held at Iowa State college.

Wellsmen Set for East High

City High Gridgers to Battle Des Moines

Coach George Wells sent his Red and White proteges through one of the stiffest practice sessions of the season, last night in preparation for the invasion of the East high team of Des Moines Saturday. After a strenuous rehearsal in punt and pass defense, the city high mentor sent his gridgers through an equally long and strenuous scrimmage.

Christenson, who has shifted from guard to fullback and back to guard was playing rih end in last night's scrimmage. Time after time the big blond would snare a pass and dash for long gains. Taylor was at right tackle on the first string. Stimme,

Workmen Repair Basketball Floor

The varsity basketball court is again being repaired. The beams or joists beneath the floor are badly decayed from the steam heat arising from the tunnel between the locker room and the swimming pool. Some of the floor that was laid last year is being torn up and replaced. The four inch bed of cinders under the double floor did not prevent the moisture from rotting the wood.

Hill and Dale Men Swing Through Fast Mile in Time Trials

The varsity barriers swung through a mile time trial in 4:49 yesterday afternoon. Elimination of some rough spots on the first mile of the course has cut the time below that of last year.

Tom Kelly and Howard Wicky, led the pack and were closely trailed by Emil Frost, Bill Everingham, and Henry Miller.

Takin a quarter of a mile start, the freshmen served as pace-setters for the varsity. Leading the freshmen were Stewart Taylor, of Highmoor, N. D., and Norman Rosenberg, of Weehawken, N. J.

Armbruster Drills Frosh Swim Stars

Two new aspirants for freshman swimming honors were among the 35 who worked out under Coach Armbruster last night. These men, C. Robert Fowler and Milo G. Reed of Des Moines, were discovered among those taking freshman swimming tests. Although this is their first practice they showed up well in the 40 yard sprint and with a little training should make the more experienced swimmers look to their laurels.

During practice last night Coach Armbruster explained the intricacies of the swimming turns and crawl stroke to a large turnout. After a brisk drill in the fundamentals of kicking, turning, and breathing, Armbruster sent his squad through a distance swim. The day's practice ended with a sprint in which several frosh natators showed encouraging bursts of speed.

Track Coach Holds Watch on Runners

Frosh to Meet Varsity in Dual Encounter Saturday

Holding a stop watch on his track aspirants, Charles R. Brookins, assistant track coach, put them through the paces in a long drill period yesterday. Coach Brookins timed his 40-yard dash men, sprinters and middle distance men while the hurdlers were given several trials over the high and low sticks.

In the hurdles, Bryant, Handorf, Wendt, Belzer, Keith, Dolchow, and Welch ran against time. Of the men, Handorf had the edge over his fellow timber-toppers.

"Red" Hubbard and "Flash" Con lead the field in the dash events. Others who showed promise were Lagerquist, Procter, MacLeod and Dean.

While the runners were laboring in the trials, Henry Canby took the afternoon off. Neither he, nor the frosh candidates in the pole vault, worked out.

The men will have another workout with a possibility of a few more time trials, while tomorrow will be the last drill before the dual between the freshmen and varsity, scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Up until today those signed up to compete Saturday are: in the 100 yard dash, Lagerquist, Everson, White, Procter, McMillan, MacLeod, Adamson, Banta, Hubbard, Massesky, Redal, Rabae, Tarry, Conway.

In the 440 yard dash there will be Hunt, Lagerquist, Quinn, Canby, Tarry, and Hull. In the high hurdles, Bryant, Wendt, Belzer, Low hurdles, Keith, Dolchow, Welch; high jump, Vance, Bryant, Jenks, Blandin, Pilsbury, Wendt, Balzer, Molenhoff, Von Dickerson; pole vault, Schmidt, Vance, Stetzel, Null, broad jump, Schmidt, Blandin, Von Dickerson, Stetzel and Dolchow.

In the weight events, Youngerman, Mathias, Stadler, Barker, Peterman, McMahon, will be in the hammer throwing event. Putting the shot will be Prange, Massey, Younger, Fugate, and Stadler. In the discus Youngerman, Prange, Massey, and Hannum will compete. Weldon, Nelson, and Wetzstein will throw the javelin.

Ribbons are going to be given for the first three places.

Bunched Hits Bring Victory to Redwings

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 8 (AP)—Bunching all but two of their nine hits in two innings the Rochester Red Wings defeated Kansas City here today, 8 to 1, to reduce the lead of the American association champions to 3 to 2 in the little world series.

Rochester collected three of its runs off Thomas in the fifth and then fell on the same hurler and Fette for five more off four hits and two errors in the seventh. Carleton went the route for the International league titleholders, holding the Blues to scattered eight hits.

Score: R. H. E. Kansas City . . . 001 000 000—1 8 2 Rochester . . . 000 030 507—8 9 0 Batteries—Thomas, Fette and Angley; Carleton and Morrow.

TILLIE THE TOILER—Will the Boss Accept?

THE EXTRA POINT IN SPORTS

by Art Lentz

Winner of First Tilt to Sweep Series?
Baseball experts have said, more or less in the last few days, that the winner of the first game in the World's series will sweep on to the World's championship. To their credit, it must be admitted that their prediction has some weight as the records show that two-thirds of the teams winning the initial contest have turned out to be victorious in the classic. What emphasis Connie Mack's Athletics, who emerged triumphant in yesterday's clash with the Cubs, will give to this tradition depends largely on the showing today. Two straight wins on the Cub's own field will give them a decided lead.

The Athletics, behind the superb pitching of Howard, Ehmke, surprise choice for the first game, played a steady brand of ball while the Cub's infield, slipped up on several occasions. Woody English, shortstop for Chicago, made two errors that figured in the scoring of the A's. Brightest of all features in the first game was the strike-out record set by Ehmke who whiffed 13 Cubs for a new series mark.

Foxx Makes Good Start in Series
People have been waiting anxiously in a small Maryland town these last few weeks of the baseball season for the first news of Jimmy Foxx's debut in the World series. Yesterday, their anxiety was relieved by the most impressive entrance in World's series fame that a youngster can make.

Jimmy, only 22 years old but a real star—an all-around baseball player, if you please—carved for himself a niche in the Hall of Fame by lashing a long drive into the bleachers for a home run in the first game. There is every reason to believe that Ruth's homerun record for this classic is more in danger than ever. Go to it, Jimmy!

Downed on Two-Mile Line
Perhaps the longest run ever recorded in the history of football was made Saturday when Thomas Mosser of Newark was downed on the two-mile line. Mosser was driving past a stadium where two high school teams were playing a football game. One of the players punted the ball over the wall and it landed in Mosser's car. The driver, knowing that in baseball anyone who retrieves a ball hit over the fence can claim ownership, promptly stepped on the gas. The prepsters, however, saw him speed away and called a motorcycle cop who gave chase. Mosser was caught two miles from the stadium and forced to give back the ball.

Out of Ohio Battle?
Capt. Bill Glassgow, who was injured in the first quarter of the Monmouth tilt Saturday, may be forced from the Ohio clash this week-end, according to latest reports.

Hats, Suits, and Topcoats Cleaned and Pressed $1.00 Cash

PARIS CLEANERS Phone 55

to latest reports. Bill's face was severely bruised when an opponent's knee struck him as he was tackled. As important a cog as ever functioned in an Iowa football machine, Glassgow will be sorely missed Saturday if he is kept out of the game.

Have You Heard—
About Bill Klem, the umpire? He is making his fourteenth appearance as a world's series official.

That Dick Rockaway, Ohio's world's champion low hurdler, has reported for football? He is a candidate for fullback.

Simpson, who is rated as the world's best sprinter, had reported for Ohio's team early in the season but withdrew in order to prepare for a trip to Australia this winter. The Buckeye flyer will compete in a series of sprints against other leading dash stars.

Moore, U. High Back, Returns for Drill

With Milo Moore, versatile fullback in his regular position, Coach E. R. Hardy dished out an intensive drill in signals and plays, yesterday as he prepared for the duel with Marion here Friday. There is little doubt now, but what Moore will be in Friday's game.

WEARING THE GREEN

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of articles on freshman football candidates. This feature will continue throughout the season.

There are some Bushes, not shrubbery, about that portion of Iowa field to which Jack Stein and his co-workers confine their labors—namely, A. Rogers Bush, Clinton, and Harvey R. Bush, Colesburg.

A. Rogers Bush, the Clinton colored lad, caused folks about the training camp to perk up their ears the very first day he was out. He is a fast and shifty halfback with the knack of finding holes in the enemy line and darting through them like a flash of greased lightning, an able punter, and a capable passer.

In high school he was 60 per cent of Clinton's football eleven and 80 per cent of the track team. "The coach just made me do about everything—run, pass, punt, tackle, and block. The track coach treated me the same way."

On the cinder track this Bush is a veritable streak of dark lightning. Last year Clinton entered him in six events—100 and 200 yard dashes, 220 yard hurdles, broad jump, half mile, anchor man on the relay team. He set several meet records in the 220 yard low hurdles.

Harvey R. Bush is Colesburg's gift to Hawkeye athletics. He has an impeccable record although having played football only two years in high school. The school board ruled him out of the grid his last two years.

He was a member of the basketball and baseball teams five years. It must be explained that Colesburg has a consolidated school. Bush was put on the basketball and baseball aggregations when he was in eighth grade. On the hardwood courts he played either center or forward. On the baseball diamond he was either in the pitcher's box or out in center field.

He is a large, thickset fellow, six foot one inch, weighing over 170.

W. C. T. U. Not to Aid Agents Dry Up Game

Will Let Federal Men Do Mopping Alone Homecoming

The Iowa City chapter of the Women's Christian Temperance union will take no hand in the attempt to curb the drinking situation at the Homecoming game this year, according to a statement issued yesterday by Mrs. Bert E. Manville, president of the local organization.

Mrs. Manville, however, expressed approval of the announcement that federal prohibition agents will be in Iowa City on Oct. 19 to carry on enforcement operations.

The failure of the association's plans to do away with the large amount of drinking, which it believes accompanied the celebration at Homecoming last year, is responsible for the decision against further attempts to aid in enforcement, Mrs. Manville says.

This is not an admission of failure, the union maintains, but simply a recognition of the fact that with federal men in charge of the situation, their desire to cooperate might be classed as interference.

Navy Needs Aircraft Riggs Tells Kiwanis

Rear Admiral Charles Edward Riggs, surgeon general of the United States navy, was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Iowa City Kiwanis club yesterday noon at the Red Ball Inn. Admiral Riggs is a former resident of Iowa City and a graduate of the college of medicine class of 1892.

In his speech the admiral gave an account of the work of the various naval departments at Washington and particularly the duties of the medical branch, of which he is in charge. This department has charge of the health of every man in the navy, wherever stationed.

In wartime the work of the medical department is as hard and dangerous as that of any service, stated Admiral Riggs. "Of twelve congressional medals awarded in the World war six were voted to members of the medical staff.

A naval engagement of today was described by Dr. Riggs and the importance of aircraft in such a battle was stressed. At the close of his address, the admiral spoke of the increased size of the university since his graduation and complimented the men who direct it.

Guests at the meeting were O. N. Riggs of Iowa City with Isaac B. Lee; Dr. Fred Smith and Dr. F. L. Love of Iowa City, with Dr. A. W. Bennett; Daniel A. Fenton of Lincoln, Neb., with Ed. Rose; C. F. Mosher of Auburn, N. Y., with D. R. Pile; and D. H. Wilson of Crete, Neb., with Hal Dane.

Dierks, who has charge of the junior church, and Mrs. Carl Jordan, who conducts the kindergarten. This method enables those who have children to come to church and bring their children, and permits students who are employed to get out of church before noon.
