Root, Nehf, Blake, Malone on Parade as Athletics Blast Out Ten Runs in Seventh Inning

Cubs Wilt as A's Sluggers Stage Rally

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12 (AP)—The bubbling workers series hopes of the Chicago Cubs were scattered all over Shibe park today by a combination of lightning, cyclone and tidal wave in the wildest inning of baseball championship in history.

When they had picked themselves up sometime later, dazed and reeling, the Cubs found the Athletics had broken all records by scoring ten runs on ten hits in the seventh inning off four pitchers, coming from behind to win the fourth game by a count of 10 to 8 and take a lead of three games to one in the World's series conflict.

Going in to the seventh inning, eight runs behind, their veteran spitballer, Old Jack Quinn, a knockout on a ball of clouters and their net efforts scoring a grand total of three hits off the fast ball of Charley Root, there didn't appear more than the pale ghost of a chance for the Athletics to win and prevent the Cubs from making it two straight, tying the series.

If ever a club looked beaten, it was the A's, yet with a savagery that has never before been duplicated in the annals of the World's series, they leaped up on Root, drove him from the box, knocked out his two successors, Art Nehf and Charley Root, in short order, and were stopped by Pat Malone only after 15 men had gone to bat.

A home run by Al Simmons to the left field stands was the first hot of lightning that hit Root. Another home run in the home town crowd of 30,000 on an hysterical frenzy and eclipsed a run scoring record that had stood for eight years. The former record of eight hits and eight runs for a single inning of World's series play, was made by the New York Giants, on Oct. 7, 1912, when the seventh inning also was the happy moment and the Yankees the victims. The final score being 12 to 5.

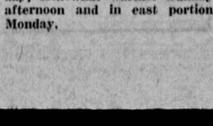

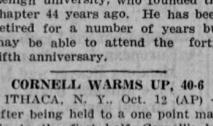

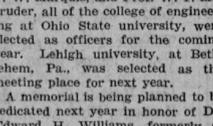

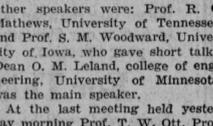

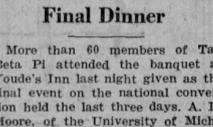

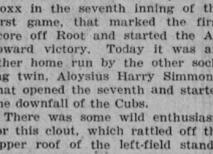

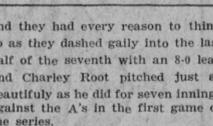

Nothing, however, in series history, for a pure, unadulterated exhibition of slugging, has ever matched the drama of today's "lucky seventh" for the home team.

To make it a perfect ending for the home forces, Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, for the second game in the series, came to the rescue with his blazing southpaw speed to hold the Cubs completely at bay in the eighth and ninth innings.

Grove not only held safe the A's winning margin but he fanned four Bruins in a row. This made a total of 44 for the series and equalled the record which the Giants made in the series of 1911 against such famous old pitching stars of the A's as Chief Bender, Eddie Plink, and Jack Coombs. The Cubs can claim greater distinction, however, if any is attached to this performance, for they have reached the total in four games, "whereas it took the Giants six. There seems no way to prevent the Cubs from breaking the record as a matter of fact. The fifth game is scheduled here Monday. The A's can clinch the championship and make it a world's record of four titles for Connie Mack with just one more victory.

Big Guns for A's

Little Business Marks Day of Prime Minister

MacDonald Celebrates Birthday in Quiet Fashion

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP)—Free from official engagements, Ramsay MacDonald, British prime minister, observed his sixty-third birthday anniversary here today in quiet fashion.

Cablegrams and telegrams of congratulatory messages poured in upon him. Some coming from members of his family at Lissiesmouth, and others from officials in this country and Great Britain. During the day he talked on the telephone with members of his family who are in London, this having been the second transatlantic call arranged for him since he arrived here Oct. 4.

In the forenoon the British statesman received a scroll from a delegation of Protestant clergymen who voiced their appreciation of his efforts in the cause of world peace. Accepting the gift with a graceful little speech, MacDonald said that it was the last analysis "it will be the church that will bank up our world peace efforts more than any one group." He added that there would be problems and plenty of opposition "but we will win through nevertheless."

Among those who called on the prime minister was Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer in the Baldwin cabinet, who is in this country on an private mission.

Tomorrow also will be a quiet day for the premier and his daughter, Ishbel. They will motor into the country to the home of Miss Lillian Wald, director of the Henry Street settlement and a close personal friend, who was Miss MacDonald's companion in this country at the time of her father's serious illness at Philadelphia two years ago.

During the afternoon he received Arneem Rahmani, who presented himself as leader of the Arabs in the United States. After the meeting MacDonald's companion in this country, the prime minister had assured him they would be an impartial investigation of the recent disturbances in Palestine. This was the same assurance Mr. MacDonald gave yesterday to a Jewish delegation that called on him.

It was learned at the hotel that the prime minister will receive at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning while in Toronto a delegation from the American federation of labor, now in convention here. Mr. MacDonald declined the federation's invitation to attend the convention sessions but sent a message which was interpreted as a reversal of his original decision. It was learned today, however, that he plans to receive a delegation of the labor men rather than be received by them in their convention.

Cedar Rapids Man Arrested for Swindling

About $95,000 Involved in Fake Security Affair

CEDAR RAPIDS, Oct. 12 (AP)—Said by authorities to have perpetrated a swindle that involved about $95,000, Bayard D. Cowan, 29 years old, local bond salesman, is in jail here tonight awaiting arraignment on a warrant for an American information. Cowan, formerly a representative of a large national securities organization, is said by County Attorney Carl Hendrickson, to have admitted he has been selling fake securities and fake interim receipts for several months.

The warrant for the alleged swindler's arrest was issued on information that he had forged an instrument purporting to be $1,000 bond No. 350 of Allied Bankers, Inc., supposedly a Delaware concern. Another charge was that he had forged an interim receipt, issued by American Exchange, investment trust agreeing to deliver to the bearer a $1,000 bond to be issued by the American Telephone and Telegraph company. The third information charged that Cowan had passed as genuine a forged interim receipt, issued by American Exchange, investment trust agreeing to deliver to the bearer a $1,000 bond to be issued by the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Two local banks and several smaller banks in this vicinity are said to be included among the customers to whom Cowan is alleged to have sold the fake securities. According to County Attorney Hendrickson, Cowan admitted the charges, adding that he always gained the confidence of the customers by first selling them securities of the highest order.

Discovery that Cowan was dealing in fake securities was supposed to have been made nearly two months ago by some of his customers but kept quiet in the hope that he would settle with them. It is believed the swindler's operation, whose bonds he marketed were received in his own brain.

Chicago Man's House Robbed

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—A daring second story worker invaded the Highland Park home of Martin J. Insull while the family was at dinner Tuesday evening and, aided perhaps by a woman confederate, escaped with jewels of a value estimated above $100,000.

The burglary was not discovered until Mrs. Insull examined her jewel case Wednesday morning. It was concealed from the public until today when detectives began a quiet investigation.

Insull is president of the Middle-West Utilities company, and of the American Public Service company, director of several other corporations, and the brother of Samuel Insull, leading utilities magnate, of the central west.

Mr. and Mrs. Insull were reticent about the theft, minimizing their loss. Insurance executives said a very conservative estimate of the value of the gems would be $15,000 but the inventory showed the loss would be nearer six figures. Lake county authorities estimated it at $175,000.

Mrs. Insull spent Monday and Tuesday in Chicago, and during both days several telephone calls were received at her home inquiring whether she had returned.

AN EDITORIAL

If you're one of these disgruntled persons, easily dissatisfied with the best efforts of the team yesterday against Ohio and quick to criticize something you know nothing about, stop here and puzzle out the reason why you haven't caught the spirit of Old Gold.

But— If you're one who backs the team, win or lose, who appreciates their work, and who is a true Iowan, greet the varsity when it returns from Columbus this afternoon at 4:05 o'clock.

One defeat does not mean disaster. The team will recover from that blow. Yet you can make or break that team, you can make the season a success, you can put the real meaning into the cry, "Iowa Rights!"

Get out the cowbells, parade to the depot, cheer the team, and show Coach Ingwersen that you're loyal. Lighten his task of rebuilding for the Illinois game next Saturday. Do that and Iowa can expect no more.

Engineers Will Erect Corn "I"

Elaborate Homecoming Structure Planned

A revolving eleven foot "I" upon an eight foot pyramidal base is the design for the traditional corn monument to be erected at the intersection of Iowa avenue and Clinton street the early part of the week.

The tapering base will be made of yellow corn decorated with red. At each of the four corners will be a light extending upward from the pavement to approximately half the height of the pyramid. Stretched from the light will be a chain composed of corn. On the huge two-sided "I" printed in red corn against a background of chipped mirror will go "Iowa" across the upper portion, "Homecoming" downward through the central section, and "Illinois" across in the light division.

Concealed within the base will be a 1,800 revolution per minute motor which will turn the "I" at the rate of five times a minute. The sparkle of the chipped mirror will be doubly emphasized by the training of three spotlights on the rotating "I".

It is the hope of those who are perfecting the monument that the student body will appreciate the time as well as money invested in the enterprise. This is the first time anything so elaborate has been planned and the burning of it, as has often occurred in the past, would make the designers of the work feel that their efforts had been wasted.

Police Draw Homecoming Traffic Plans

Burlington St., Bridge Closed to Cars After Game

Definite plans for the regulation of Homecoming traffic have been made by Police Chief C. F. Benda and the members of the university committee on traffic for Homecoming. The committee consists of Col. Converse R. Lewis, chairman, Dean C. C. Williams, college of engineering, and Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division.

Before the game, both the Burlington street bridge and the Iowa avenue bridge will be open to foot and motor traffic but Grand avenue and the cinder road leading from the Iowa avenue bridge to the quadrangle will be closed to automobiles. After the game, Burlington street and the Burlington street bridge will be reserved for foot traffic, and automobiles will be routed over the Benton street bridge, the Iowa avenue bridge, and the Park avenue bridge. In this way it is planned to keep pedestrian and motor traffic separate, in order to avoid accidents and the slowing up of traffic.

Cabs on Iowa Avenue Taxicabs will at all times be restricted to the use of the Iowa avenue bridge, and must discharge passengers at the university hospital. No heavy traffic will be allowed in the business districts or on the main highways leading to and from the stadium immediately after the game.

Following the game, all automobiles entering the city will be routed directly through by way of arterial streets, and will not be permitted to circulate freely on side streets. All routes will be well marked, and traffic control points will be designated to regulate the flow in desired directions. The main arteries will be patrolled by motorcycle police.

The authorities in charge ask every motorist, immediately on arrival, to park his automobile, and leave it parked during his stay in Iowa City. In this way, a good parking place will be assured to each person, and much needless traffic will be avoided. No parking will be permitted on arterial streets.

Parking Supervised Automobiles arriving from the east should be parked in the city streets, while motorists arriving from the west are enjoined not to cross the river, but to park immediately upon arrival in one of the reserved spaces on the west side. Residents of Iowa City are asked to keep their automobiles off the streets.

Cars should not be parked on the east side of the river with the idea of moving to the west side just before the game. Parking spaces on the west side is adequate for only about one-third of the number of automobiles that are expected, and will be filled long before the game starts. If weather conditions are bad, motorists will save themselves much time and trouble by parking on the hard city streets instead of depending on the soft fields around the stadium and field house.

Chief Benda will supervise and provide for all traffic control east of the river and Capt. Thomas E. Martin, who is affiliated with the local R.O.T.C. unit, will have charge of traffic west of the river. Parking spaces will be in charge of parking director and two assistants. For parking and traffic operations, Colonel Lewis hopes to secure the aid of the local cavalry unit, troop I of the 113th cavalry, I.N.G.

25 Engineers Inspect River

Lieut. J. B. Newman and his military engineers accompanied by the civil engineers under Prof. Andrew H. Holt went to Rock Island Friday where they inspected the canalization of the Mississippi river from the Twin Cities to Keokuk.

The group of 25 men besides the officers first went to the office of the district engineer, Maj. C. L. Hall, at Davenport. Major Hall explained that the objective of his engineer base was to keep a six-foot channel in the river at low water. After his talk, the group left to see how operations were carried on at the river.

A tug and a barge were used in the trip to the rapids where the construction of wing dams was studied together with blasting operations. The group then went to the quarter boat where dinner was served.

Buckeye Strategy Wins Over Hawkeye Power; Iowa Team Battles Hard; Glassgow Out

Nanny Pape Dashes 44 Yards for Iowa's Tally; Scores Again After 36-Yard Run But Iowa Offside on Play

(Special to The Daily Iowan) COLUMBUS, Oct. 12 (AP)—An inferior Ohio State football team, scoring its touchdown and extra point for goal in the second quarter, nipped a fighting group of Hawkeyes 7-6 here today in the opening game of the season for both teams before 60,000 football enthusiasts.

Nanny Pape, substituting for Capt. Bill Glassgow, scored the Iowa touchdown, running 44 yards late in second quarter for a touchdown but Nelson, who was sent into the game to drop kick the extra point, saw a horde of Buckeyes block his try. The blonde flash sprinted 36 yards across the goal in the third quarter but Iowa was offside and the play was disallowed.

The entire Iowa team showed superior knowledge of football, holding Ohio to a small number of yards from scrimmage and out-playing the Buckeyes in all departments of the game except punting where McConnell held an edge over Farroh.

The Iowa line was impregnable against the charges of the Ohio backs, Holman, the perennial Buckeye quarterback, being the only man to gain ground. Ely and Meyers were strong cogs in the Iowa defense while Nanny Pape and Bruce Thomas led the Iowa offense which outlasted the Ohio attack.

OHIO STADIUM, COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12 (AP)—Ohio State matched a superior strategy against Iowa's superior gridiron power today and Ohio won, 7 to 6.

Although outgained in yardage, Sam Williamson's first Ohio State team played better football when it sensed a "break," put Iowa's back to the wall and scored a touchdown. Then it played super-football with the help of the wind throughout the second half and held its one point margin to the final gun. The victory, while unexpected because of Iowa's superior form, was well deserved.

Glassgow crippled The story of this game is one of "cripples" who were not crippled and others who were. Al Holman, Ohio's versatile quarterback, who was from the west and played by Fairfield, Ia., played great football for 59 minutes although expected to ease in any moment because of his weakened ankle. Willis Glassgow, Iowa captain, sat on a bench all afternoon with a head injury suffered last week-end and did not play a whit.

It was Holman who took charge after Mike Farroh, Iowa halfback, punted for a gain of only 16 yards and out of bounds on Iowa's 31 yard line late in the second quarter. He passed straight over center for nine yards to Bob Horn. Stuart Holcomb drilled Meyer's guard for first down on Iowa's 18 yard line. A moment later Holman got four yards to Iowa's 12 yard line, but a pass, although complete, failed to make first down by a few meager feet.

Blocked Kick Causes Score Iowa took the ball on its eight yard line and Bruce Thomas punted. Mike Harsh, giant tackle from Cleveland, blocked the kick and the ball rolled into the end zone. A horde of white jerseyed Buckeyes started for the ball but Dick Larkins, tackle, covered it first for a touchdown and Red Barratt, never out of his kicks, added the extra point from placement.

Iowa was aroused. Leo Jensen replaced Pignatelli at quarterback. He elected to kick off and took the ball on Iowa's 44 yard line after one Ohio punt. He and Oran Pape, fleet halfback, made first Team Records Ground gained from scrimmage: Iowa 148 yards; Ohio 119 yards. First downs: Iowa 8, Ohio 7. Completed passes: Iowa 0; Ohio 5. Total yardage made by passes, Ohio State 53. Individual records, Pape (Iowa) 91 yards in 29 tries; Thomas (Iowa) 33 yards in 8 tries; Holman (Ohio State) 66 yards in 25 tries; Holcomb (Ohio State) 34 yards in 15 tries. Attempted passes, Iowa 5; Ohio State 12.

So, If You Must Be Kissed Be Careful, Say Kansas Savants TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 12 (AP)—Rules for the guidance of kissers were issued today by the Kansas board of health in cooperation with the United States public health service.

Never kiss in crowded places or a poorly ventilated room, the instructions say, but if you must kiss, take a hot mustard foot bath and avoid drafts in case you feel "all in" afterwards.

Guard against sudden changes in temperature when kissing. Kissing in a cool skin coat one minute and in a heavy coat the next is extremely dangerous.

Don't kiss any person who has chills and fever. At a party, where postoffice and similar games are played, be sure to gargle frequently.

Sorority Girls Begin Badge Sale Tuesday

Members of Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, and Alpha Delta Pi sororities will be posted in all parts of Iowa City at 7 a.m. Tuesday to sell "every student and every member of every family in Iowa City" a Homecoming badge. Chi Omega's Homecoming badge, designed by Helen D. Wilbur, 44 of Sabula Delta Zeta's, by Gene McClenahan, 44 of Cedar Rapids, and Alpha Delta Pi's by Mary F. Plum, 44 of Iowa City. The sale will continue until the kickoff inaugurating the first Homecoming game in the new stadium.

Last year the badges were sold by members of Delta Zeta, captained by Kathleen King, 44 of Boone; Alpha Delta Pi, captained by Louise Paisley, 44 of Farmington, and Delta Delta, headed by Lucille M. Clark, '29, of Tipton, and Jeanne C. MacDonald, '29 of Mason City. The Delta Zetas, with the sale of 8,000 badges to their credit, came out "on top." The total sales of the three organizations reached 19,887.

The fund accumulated by the sale of the badges at 10 cents each will be used to pay all expenses incident to Homecoming. This covers the cost of the corn monument, the Washington street arch, general decorations of university buildings, special lighting equipment, stunts, parades, and receptions and smokers for the alumni.

In the past the badge sales committee offers to pay 50 per cent of the cost of decorations of each college up to the amount of $50. In previous years the colleges of pharmacy, dentistry, law, and engineering have been the only one to take advantage of the proposition. Prof. R. A. Kuever, chairman of the badge sales committee, wishes to make it clear that the offer is open to all colleges as well as the various schools within the latter, such as the school of music and the school of journalism.

Dry Agent Charges Liquor Law Violation DES MOINES, Oct. 12 (AP)—A motion to require the Chicago and Northwestern Railway company to produce records concerning shipment to Iowa of 10 carlots of near beer was filed today in Polk county district court by John B. Hammond, veteran dry crusader, as a part of his action for injunction against the company and T. E. Manitowoc Products company, et al.

Hammond said that papers and records of the railroad would show that the company violated a state law against transportation and storage of malt beverage containing alcohol.

A motion to dismiss the case on the ground of improper service of the original notice is pending.

Newton Plane Here for Homecoming, to Carry Passengers

Homecoming visitors in Iowa City will have a chance to ride in one of the new Travel-Air cabin monoplane when H. L. Osg of Newton, carries passengers from the local airport next Saturday. Mr. Osg is a former student of the university, having graduated in the engineering class of 1908. He will be here all day Saturday and possibly Sunday carrying passengers. Special invitations have been sent to his classmates and other alumni.

THE WEATHER

IOWA—Fair Sunday and Monday; somewhat warmer Sunday afternoon and in east portion Monday.

Stoddard Talks on Child Study

Study Club Entertains 71 at Luncheon

Seventy-one members were present at the luncheon of the Child Study club which was held at Red Ball inn yesterday noon. George Stoddard, head of the child welfare department of the university, was the speaker of the afternoon. His subject was "Recent research in the study of the pre-school child."

Mr. Stoddard discussed a number of the different problems that have come up in the work that is being carried on at the child welfare station. Some of the important studies of today concern child nutrition, child psychology, parent education, weight and measuring of children.

He also told of the research work being carried on at Minnesota, Yale, and Columbia, comparing their work with that being done here, and showing the progress of recent years.

Mrs. Stoddard will be a guest of the club at the luncheon on Friday.

The next meeting will be held at Iowa Union, Saturday, Nov. 2. Mrs. May Pardee Youtz, head of the department of parent education at the child welfare station, will speak on "Up-to-date parenthood."

Catholic Group Holds Meeting

Convention Opens Here at Jefferson Hotel

The fifth annual convention of the Davenport diocesan council of Catholic women is now in session. A board meeting at the Jefferson hotel at 8 p. m. yesterday opened the convention. The national president gave greetings to the board and the chairmen of the departments gave reports. The regular business was carried on as usual. The nominating committee for the national officers, which was supposed to be elected last evening at the opening session, will be selected today after the luncheon.

A solemn pontifical mass at St. Mary's church at 10:30 this morning will open today's session. The Rt. Rev. Henry P. Rohlfman, D.D., bishop of Davenport, will celebrate the mass with the Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, D. D., bishop of Omaha, giving the sermon. Part of the ceremony will be a procession from the parish house to the church.

The program for today will include an open meeting at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Arthur V. O'Brien, general convention chairman, presiding. Mesrs. William P. Shanahan will give the invocation and Mayor J. J. Carroll will give an address of welcome.

Other speakers of the afternoon will include Mrs. Eugene J. Walsh of Davenport, president of the organization; Effie E. Dean, secretary of the family social service bureau of Des Moines, and the Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, L.L.D., director of the rural life bureau of Washington, D. C.

Pres. Walter A. Jessup will welcome the guests at a banquet at Iowa Union at 6:30. The other speakers at the dinner will be Dr. Mae Habenicht, superintendent of child welfare of Des Moines, and Francis P. Matthews, supreme dictator of the Knights of Columbus of Omaha, Neb., and the Rt. Rev. Henry P. Rohlfman.

Tomorrow's program will include mass and communion at St. Wenceslaus church at 7:15 a. m. followed by breakfast in the church parlors at 8. A business meeting will be held in St. Patrick's auditorium at 9 and a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. at the Hotel Jefferson. A musical program will be given after the luncheon with the Rev. J. Elliott Ross, Ph.D., of the school of religion speaking on "Catholic with a small c."

The meeting will close with conferences, a business session, and a board meeting.

Delta Zeta Will Give Tea for Chaperon

Members of Delta Zeta sorority will give a tea this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the house in honor of their chaperon, Mrs. J. R. Fiedline. Iowa City alumnae will be in the receiving line.

The guests are Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, dean of women in the university, and the chaperons, patronesses, and presidents of the sororities on the campus.

The committee in charge is composed of Gladys Elder, A2 of West Liberty, chairman, Mary Louise Fleming, A4 of Ipava, Ill., and Thelma Bain, A2 of Cedar Rapids.

Athena Will Hold Preferred Party

A meeting of the Athena literary society was held at the Iowa union yesterday afternoon. Plans were made for a preferred party to be held Wednesday, Nov. 16, at 7:30 p. m. at the Iowa Union. Arrangements have been made to accommodate 50 guests.

Country Life Week

GOVERNOR Hanmiller has issued a proclamation naming the week Oct. 14 to 20 as Country Life week. During this week the American Country Life conference will be held at Ames, Oct. 17 to 20.

Iowans are called upon to concentrate their attention on the problems which must be solved if the farm board is to be made effective.

1. Problems of allaying opposition to a price for farm products.
2. Problems of the stabilization corporations.

3. Problems of acreage control and research for utilization of farm wastes.

We are definitely assured that the president and farm board are not in favor of cost of production prices for farm products, unless the same can be accomplished without increasing acreage and unnecessary publicity. The equalization fee and debenture scheme were vetoed on the ground that they were undesirable in the ultimate outcome; that they would be ineffective because of the inescapable law of supply and demand.

Now, are we to interpret this to mean that farm prices should not be raised to a cost of production basis? Or is it that the raise should come in such a way that the machinery is not open to political control and tampering in case of an industrial depression?

It is in this manner only that the debenture and equalization fee were unsound. Only in this manner is it practical. The method of bringing fair prices is made dependent upon the political caprice of the industrial mass, and would in time of depression plunge agriculture into a far worse state than should otherwise result.

Industrial prosperity does not mean that the wages of every man are increased. It merely means that more men work. The machinery of wage distribution is not conceived on the theory that the individual worker receives a large wage in time of prosperity. The banker may be aware of the causes of depression, and attempt to forestall them, but the political considerations of the mass are not all dictated by sound economic policy. Fair farm prices are of no particular consideration to the worker in time of slump.

Forget completely any scheme for covering the cost of production which allows farm prices to be at the mercy of political manipulations. Forget the debenture and the equalization fee. They would work. But how long would they be allowed to work? Remember only that you have learned the principle by which surpluses in industry are handled.

The farmers must expect a little scrutiny and opposition to their organization. They have long been the main exponents of such procedure in other business. In fact, it might be rightly said that their leaders have been so busy opposing the growth of other business that they have neglected to make proper study of their own needs.

The public service corporations and railroads expect to have rates to cover the cost of production, and show a fair return. The farm can do this, when the farmers learn to study their cost sheets, and begin to realize the prices which crops should bring. It will be difficult to adjust their minds at once to a market organization which smooths out the dips in prices. Some will be suspicious that they are being "gypped" if the prices are stabilized. The farmers must become acquainted with their costs, and the conference can do nothing better than to adopt a standard cost system.

Purpose of the Stabilization Corporation
The stabilization corporations are the only means by which the export business can be handled without affecting the price of the local market. It is a perfectly legitimate function of a business to organize and cooperate to dispose of its products above the domestic needs. The stabilization corporation can do this for the farmer, if, and when, they are operated in such a manner as to control the domestic market. It will take time to bring them to this strength.

The greatest need in the establishment of these groups is not, at present, more cooperatives. The need is that the present cooperatives recognize the advantage of cooperation among themselves. It will not be a wise business policy to encumber a new organization with ineffective or badly operated units. Important as cooperatives may be, a disjointed organization would defeat stabilization.

New cooperatives should not be permitted to join until both groups are functioning smoothly. Control, at first, must be in the hands of a few men. A heavy responsibility, but the diffusion of the education necessary to the functioning of the corporation, over too large a group of executives and stock holders would on enormous waste of energy.

Control of Crop Acreage
The absence of a few cooperatives will not be the immediate cause of the failure, provided the stabilization groups have sufficient resources. The immediate cause of failure will be haste, a lack of understanding of the problems to be met, or deliberate intent on the part of the officers that it shall not work.

There is one way in which prices could have been maintained at a fair level for the last 10 years. The structure is legally simple. It involves no unsurmountable difficulties. The means has always existed. And that way was to have put the country on an import basis in certain crops. It is a fact that in the years of a crop shortage the farm income has been above that of the years of large crops. The prices have usually been below the level to make the tariff effective. Tariff raises by the president were beneficial in the instance of importations of Argentine corn by the starch and glucose manufacturers in certain years. It would have been possible at all times in these years to increase the farm income by only a slight decrease in acreage.

The farm mortgage holders and country bankers have taken severe losses, and allowed hundreds of their customers to go bankrupt, because they did not use their business prerogative and cooperate to reduce acreage by only 10 per cent. There would have been an increase of income for all farm classes by reducing the marginal lands in use.

It is not necessary here, nor is there the space, to indicate the financial structure of such a company. It is enough to note that there are several forms of holding companies and investment and managing corporations, the principle of which it would be possible to adopt.

The basis of the idea is the formation of a holding and management company to control farm mortgages. No one need relinquish control of his property but he must agree to pass the right of having the acreage of certain farm crops reduced. In the great middle west there are few farms that are not to some extent mortgaged. Those which are entirely farmer-owned are usually in the cooperatives, and because of certain phases of the organization which is suggested, would work directly in line with this idea.

The organization we are suggesting is not corporate farming, although it forms a basis for that, if in the future farm groups shall find it advisable. There is no suggestion of intrusion on individual ownership. To a certain degree, it does take the attitude of scientific management.

There are other functions which could be carried on by such a company. Among them are, direction of research in the use of farm wastes, so as to prevent duplication of effort; the financing and management of such companies to make industrial production of the results of such study possible.

The land withdrawn from the use of certain crops in all instances would not remain idle. There are a few crops which could be grown. Certain acreages are adapted to walnut groves and forms of timber. Some acres are in very definite need of seeding down for pasture and rest. Farmers operating their own farms have generally practiced the principle of rotation, while renters have often been land robbers, and it would be for the definite value of agriculture in the future to have these lands revived.

We are not suggesting permanently removing land from use. It is a question of whether we will be able to hold up an increase of acreage or suffer the collapse of the new stabilization groups. Farm groups cannot expect any material relief in the next two years unless such action is forestalled.

This point has been stressed time and time again by those who have the responsibility of the solution of the agricultural situation. And yet the farm group as a whole has not paid the slightest attention, evidently having the idea that such a course is impossible or impractical. They have been taught that such is the proper attitude to take. The conference has a definite responsibility. It should take action in the formation of a corporation to study and handle the situation.

Welcome the Homecomers
SINCE Homecoming is only a week off, the various organizations should begin to perfect their plans for welcoming the alumni. The alumni want to see spirit and animation on the campus and it is up to the organized bodies to provide it.

A good Homecoming parade and colorful fraternity and sorority house decorations are things that every alumnus will see and appreciate.

Nurses Elect Class Officers

Allice Rothfus of Des Moines was elected president of the junior class I. of the school of nursing, Friday. Other officers elected are: Della DeBoer of Corsica, S. Dak., vice president; Louise Frye of Marshalltown, secretary; and Marguerite Mayer of Ft. Madison, treasurer.

Officers elected by the junior class II of the school of nursing are: Elizabeth Hitches of Sutherland, president; Jeanette Brown of Marengo, vice president; Helen Davis of Waukon, secretary; and Florence Cantonwine of Webster City, treasurer.

In the years past it has been the custom in the school of nursing to begin classes in both September and January, each of these classes electing its own officers and carrying on its own class work as a separate unit. Beginning this fall there will be but one class, starting in September, and the practice of having two sets of officers for each class will soon be a thing of the past.

Senior officers of the school of nursing, elected last spring and now serving, are: Lydia Allen of Corning, president; Florence Roth of Spirit Lake, vice president; Irene Early of Sibley, secretary; and Norma Alderson of Strawberry Point, treasurer.

Lorado Taft Will Give Second Art Lecture of Series

"Phidias and the Parthenon" will be the second lecture by Lorado Taft Wednesday. His first lecture, "Greek art and how it happened," given last Wednesday to an audience of more than 350 persons, was an introduction to the series of six illustrated lectures. He spoke of the influence of Greek art up to the time of the building of the Parthenon.

Wednesday he will continue in chronological order the subject of this year's series which will cover sculpture from the time of the great period of Greek art through the fifteenth century and including Michelangelo.

History of Chicago Compiled by Pierce

Beesie Pierce, associate professor of history at the University of Chicago, will have charge of collecting material and compiling a history of the city of Chicago. Miss Pierce was associate professor of history at the University of Iowa, and head of the history department of the University high school last year.

Miss Pierce began work on the book last week. She has charge of a group of university students who are engaged in collecting the material. It is expected that five years will be required to complete the volume.

In an interview with a Chicago newspaper, Miss Pierce is quoted as saying that "the city's racial group and their part in the building of the metropolis are to be given special attention in the projected work. Much will be said about Chicago as a 'functioning social organism' which phase will revolve about the strides of the city's mass population along political, religious, artistic, and intellectual lines."

Students of Italian Descent Meet at American Legion

Twelve men of Italian descent met in the American Legion building dining room Friday night as the guests of Gus Pusateri, 25 of Iowa City. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibilities of the formation of an Italian club on the Iowa campus.

After a two-course dinner the men assembled in the lounge where many suggestions as to the formation of the club were made and discussed. The men agreed to meet at a later date, and made plans to look up other men on the campus who are eligible for membership in the proposed club.

This work will be under the direction of Louis Loria, A4 of Boone. Two other members, Tony Rufo, A1 and Silvio Tiberi, D1 of Chicago, Ill., were appointed to write to other schools having organizations of this kind to get further information on the subject.

Those present at the Friday night meeting were Gus Pusateri, who graduated from the college of commerce in 1925 Leo Frigo, A1 of Chicago Heights, Ill.; John Snow, E2 of Lyons, N. Y.; Gabriele Greco, A2 of Bronx, N. Y.; John Nobilotti, M1 of Brooklyn, N. Boilermakers Smother Wolverines Under Heavy Attack in Last Quarter

Purdue Rally Is Michigan's Defeat, 30-16

Boilermakers Hammer Out Four Scores in Final Period

ROSS ADE STADIUM, Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 12 (AP)—Refusing to stay licked when defeat apparently was its portion, Purdue, fighting like a band of wild men, jumped onto Michigan in the final period today and ground out a 30 to 16 victory over the Wolverines in the opening game of their Big Ten season.

Michigan saw its experienced line chopped to pieces by the vicious thrusts of Alec Yunevich, sophomore fullback, Glen Harmonson, and "Pest" Welch, who used the territory guarded by the right side of Michigan's line for a runaway over the goal line.

After taking a one touchdown lead in the middle of the second quarter Purdue's game collapsed in the third period and the Wolverines hammered out 16 points before the Boilermakers had figured out what to do.

But Jimmy Phelan's eleven was anything but beaten and in the final period smothered the Wolverines with a four touchdown attack that first had the crowd wild, then left it almost breathless.

Purdue's backfield presented a varied offense that had the Michigan line puzzled almost throughout the game. The functioning of the Boilermaker line was better than even the most enthusiastic Purdue supporter hoped for. Purdue made 10 first downs to six for Michigan.

Lineups:

PURDUE	MICHIGAN
Caraway	Truskowski
Van Bibber	Hayden
Stears	Poe
Miller	Boyard
Butner	Stelke
Slight	Roch
Mackie	Draveling
Harmonson	Sinarr
Welch	Hudson
Purvis	Dahlen
Yunevich	Gembis

Score by quarters:
Michigan.....0 0 16 0-16
Purdue.....0 6 0 24-30

Scoring—Michigan, touchdowns, Truskowski, Gembis; point from try after touchdown, Gembis (place kick); Purdue, touchdowns, Yunevich 3, Welch, Caraway.

Officials—Referee, Milton Ghee (Dartmouth); umpire, A. Haines (Yale); field judge, H. B. Hackett (West Point); head linesman, L. Gardner (Illinois).

Hall to Stage Bouts Friday

Jesnick-Carothers Bout Headlines Big Bill

The coming battle between "Slick" Jesnick, Newton flash, and Harvey Carothers of Moline promises to be a treat for Iowa City boxing fans, according to the matchmakers, Roscoe Hall and "Doug" Fairbanks. They have secured this headline bout for their show Friday, Oct. 18, at the region community building.

Jesnick, 19 year old Newton boy, has developed rapidly during the last year, and his victory over Henry Falagano, the Filipino sensation, last night at Newton ranks him among the best lightweights in this section. Falagano has met Bud Taylor, Tony Canzonero, and Eddie Anderson during the last year and these tonpotters.

Carothers won a three round knockout over Tommy Ryan in Sioux Falls, S. D., last Tuesday night. Because of his performance, the promoters signed him to return as a headliner for their next show.

Duke Barry, his manager, has several ranking fighters in his stable including Pat Corbett, but considers Carothers as a coming champion.

Pedre Sullivan, 170 pound Durant coach, will meet Kid Cameron of Waterloo in a six round semi-windup. Sullivan is the boy who stopped Nettoly in the legion's last show. Cameron beat "Stubbs" Ganaway on Jack Dempsey's recent card at Dayton. There will be four four-round preliminaries to the two big bouts.

PENN TAKES TIP FROM A'S; WINS 14-8

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12 (AP)—Taking a tip from the fighting Mackmen, Pennsylvania staged a third period comeback today to defeat Virginia Polytechnic institute, 14 to 8. At the end of the half the invading southerners led, 8 to 7. To Walter Masters, former Haverford player, went the individual glory of beating the Gobblers.

Mack Displays Emotion as Athletics Put on Parade

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 12 (AP)—A tall, lean, tremulous old man in a neat blue suit, hat in hand, overcoat folded meticulously over one arm, stepped timidly today into one of the wildest celebrations in the history of the world series aftermath.

He shivered with emotion as he tapped lightly on the door of the Athletics' dressing room. As the swung open, a burst of cheering, singing, and just plain incoherent shouting, billowed past him. He swallowed a couple of times, took a firm grip on himself and stepped inside.

The yell over the mad 10 to 8 defeat of the Cubs died as Connie Mack, 67-year-old manager of the ball club that had just staged the most sensational rally in world series history looked around at his players, his shaggy eyebrows quivered and the lines of his face were deep from restrained emotion.

Lean and stately, the kindly old man who rarely visits his players after combat, tried to speak and break the beaming, happy silence. He gulped and looked at each one of them.

Finally he spoke.

"I'd just like to be able to express to you the things I feel," he told his players. "But I can't. I'll have to let it go that."

And then, rather than break right down in his happiness, Connie turned on his heels and marched out leaving the celebration to roar out afresh behind him.

"I've never seen anything like that rally," he said as he hurried away. "There is nothing in baseball history to compare with it."

In another dressing room, only a few dozen yards away, there were other tears very close to the surface, if tears can ever really get that close to a ball player.

Hack Wilson, the gallant, chunky powerhouse of the Cubs, muttered to himself as he changed his clothes. He fought with his shoe laces, pulled his hat down over his eyes and stalked from the room, obvious to the cheering words of his team mates. Up to the final inning today Mack was the hitting, fielding hero of the Bruins. Today he lost two crucial fly balls in the sun.

Another sad player was Norman McMillan, who saw a "double play ball" from Al Simmons' bat bounce over his head for the clean hit that blasted the Cubs' hopes in the final stages of the 10 run rally in the seventh inning.

Joe McCarthy, the pleasant pilot of the Bruins, calmed his players in philosophical fashion.

"The breaks of the game beat us today," he said, "but we're not whipped in this series yet by any means. It took the worst breaks I have ever seen."

Joe, certain that the series would still be carried beyond five games to Chicago, couldn't name his pitcher for the fifth game Monday.

Ripon Reds Outplay Cornell in Midwest Conference Opener

RIPON, Wis., Oct. 12 (AP)—A series of sensational runs brought Ripon college a 33 to 6 victory over Cornell college in the opening game of the Midwest conference here today. Four touchdowns in the first period and another in the second beat Cornell.

Faced by Capt. "Red" Martin, the Ripon Redmen began their driving offensive in the first minute of play. Martin took Pedersen's initial kickoff on his 10 yard line and ran 90 yards for a marker.

Before the first four minutes of play had ended, Anderson, Ripon fullback, annexed another touchdown after a 47 yard run by Captain Martin had brought the ball within striking distance of the goal.

The lineup:

CORNELL	RIPON
Haribal	Strum
Wetzel	Pine
Tesch	Scott
Griffin	R. Martin
Shinn	Antross
White	Amundson
Nelson	Helzig
Grant	J. B. D. Martin (c)
Cook (c)	Rehl
Pederson	Mangen
Brandau	Anderson

Officials—Referee, Stoddard, Milwaukee; umpire, Fitzgerald, Marquette; head linesman, Landowski, Michigan.

STARS TAKE LEAD

Athletics Lead 3-1 in Series, Beat Cubs 10-8

But the big outburst didn't get going until Fox, Miller, Dykes, and Boley had singled in rapid succession, scoring two more runs and arousing the hope that the A's after all might do the unprecedented.

The victory was costly, for Henry Bruder, brilliant Northwestern fullback, suffered a fractured leg in the third period and probably will be out for the season.

The game was marked by frequent penalties. Northwestern lost 150 yards on illegal plays, while the Badgers were set back 80.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12 (AP)—A pass flipped from the fingers of Frank Carideo, again forced the Navy to bow before Notre Dame on a football field today as the men of Knute Rockne passed and plunged their way to a 14 to 7 victory over the midshipmen at the Baltimore stadium.

The pass, tossed by Carideo, while lying almost in a prone position into the waiting arms of Jack Elder, not only gave Notre Dame the winning touchdown, but it opened up the Rockne's attack. Up until that heave sent Elder over the line in the second period for the tying touchdown, the Navy was matching its rival from the midwestwest yard for yard and pass for pass.

Confronted by the Notre Dame shock troops in the opening period the Navy eleven plowed and passed its way down the field, sending Joe Clifton, the Paducah, Ky., boy, over for a touchdown from the three-yard line. Bauer added the extra point. But with the advent of the first string Notre Dame team in the second quarter matters changed.

At the end of the fourth play of the closing period Al Mullins dived over the line and Carideo added the point for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Wildcats Tip Dope Bucket; Get 7-0 Win

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 12 (AP)—

Northwestern university's Wildcats upheld their name here today and clawed their way to a costly 7 to 0 football victory over the University of Wisconsin. More than 25,000 frenzied spectators sat through an intermittent drizzle to see the Wildcats upset the dope.

The victory was costly, for Henry Bruder, brilliant Northwestern fullback, suffered a fractured leg in the third period and probably will be out for the season.

Poor punting for Iowa. Poor punting cost Iowa the game. Brice Thomas and Mike Farroh rarely got away a good kick, averaging 25 yards on 14 punts while Arden McConnell averaged 36 yards for Ohio.

Both teams used a diamond defense. Ohio's backs sprang their plays on the strong side, shifting both guards to the same side of the line and "staggering" the blocking backs. Iowa's pass plays usually started with one near back in motion toward his own goal. They varied with an off tackle play from the same formation. Iowa played behind an unbalanced line with the guards leading the blocking backs.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 12 (AP)—Scoring in the first minute of play and pushing across two more touchdowns in the final period after their opponents had worn themselves down in a vain effort to overtake them, the Texas Aggies defeated the Kansas Aggies, 19 to 0, in their inter-sectional battle here today.

Led by a scampering halfback, Niero, who broke loose for many long runs around the wings and off tackle, Coach Bo McMillan's purple clad Kansas clearly outplayed the Bell men for the first three periods. Time and again the Kansas eleven penetrated deep into its opponents' territory, but each time the Texas line braced and held firm. The final period saw the Kansas team so worn that they fell easy prey to a furious assault launched by the Texans.

HARVARD TRIUMPHS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 12 (AP)—Harvard ran into stubborn opposition today from the University of New Hampshire football team but long runs enabled the Crimson to win 35 to 0. A passing attack which worked spasmodically made the Wildcats a threat throughout the contest.

down through Ohio's line and then Pape took the ball for an end run.

Wesley Fesler, Ohio's all conference end, was turned inside by Rogge and Westra, and Pape stepped out on a 44 yard run. He circled Bob Horn, defensive right half, and was hardly touched on his way to the goal. Irving Nelson, substitute who won two games with his drop kicks for extra points last year, had no chance to get his try away this time. Joe O'Shaughnessy, Ohio's left end, blocked it. The first half ended soon and so did the scoring.

Track, Field Men Vie for Meet Honors

Handorf High Pointer; Youngerman Wins Weight Events

Sparring their way down the track and slipping on the muddy takeoffs, the track and field men fought through the first meet of the fall season. This condition forestalled the possibility of good marks in the events.

The individual star of the meet was Everet C. Handorf, E2 of Coih, who won both hurdle races and tied for first in the high jump. Other stars were J. Wesley Youngerman, E2 of Des Moines, who took the hammerthrow and discus throw, and a second place in the shotput, and Sidney Stetzel, A1 of Waterloo, who won the broad jump and tied for first in the pole vault.

Summaries:
Pole vault—Stetzel and Null tied for first and second, Null, third, height, 11 feet.
55 yard dash—MacLeod, first; Adamson, second; Proctor, third; time, 8 1-10 seconds.
75 yard high hurdles—Handorf, first; Balzer, second; Wendt, third; time, 10 3-10 seconds.
100 yard low hurdles—Handorf, first; George, second; Frick, third; time, 12 5-10 seconds.

Running high jump—Handorf and Wendt, tied for first place, Mollenhoff, third; height 5 feet 4 inches.
Three quarter mile run—Taylor, first; Clark, second; Rosenberg, third; time, 3 minutes 43 seconds.
150 yard dash—Dean, first; Adamson, second; Eversmeyer, time 10 2-10 seconds.
300 yard dash—Alexander, first; Carver, second; Peek, third; time, 34 4-10 seconds.

Running broad jump—Stetzel, first; Vance, second; Blandis, third; distance 18 feet 8 inches.
Shot put—Massey, first; Youngerman, second; Lewis, third; distance, 27 feet 9 inches.
Discus throw—Youngerman, first; Massey, second; Hannum, third; distance, 118 feet 4 1-4 inches.

Hammer throw—Youngerman, first; Barker, second; Studler, third; distance, 124 feet 3 inches.
Because of a high wind and muddy footing the javelin throw was postponed until the Rotary traveling cup competition.

MARQUETTE TAKES DEFEAT FROM GRINNELL

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12 (AP)—A 30 yard field goal from placement in the waning minutes of the game gave Grinnell college a 9 to 7 victory over Marquette here today. Grinnell had scored by Ross's touchdown in the first quarter, while Marquette's only scores came in the second period on Sisk's touchdown and Radick's goal after it. The victory recalled Grinnell's sensational last half comeback to defeat Marquette 20 to 13 a year ago.

Iowa City Comes From Behind to Even Matters With East Des Moines

Last Minute Pass Saves I. C. Defeat

Interference With Pass Over Goal Makes Score Good

By GILBERT SCHANTZ

Turning almost certain defeat into a tie, a fighting Iowa City team brought their supporters to their feet in a frenzy of joy by coming from behind to hold East Des Moines to a 14-14 score. After being stopped by the charging East Des Moines forward wall on the two yard line, Moffitt heaved a 30 yard pass over the goal line just out of reach of Christensen, Iowa City's left end. Two East Des Moines backs interfered with Christensen just as he crossed the last chalk line, and the official ruled that Iowa City be given a touchdown.

A bit of drama was added at this point when the timekeeper's gun went off in the middle. The crowd went wild when the referee placed the ball on the 3 yard line for Iowa City's try for the extra and deciding point.

Howard Moffitt, Red and White quarterback, was equal to the occasion, dashing around right end without an East high tackle touching him. Iowa City kicked off to Rehms as the timekeeper's gun barked the end of the game.

After a series of short runs by Moffitt and consistent plunging by Wright, Moffitt went over his right tackle for a touchdown late in the first period. On a fake kick, Wright smashed his right guard for the extra point, giving Iowa City a 7-0 advantage.

Lead Shortlived

The lead, however, was short lived. After an exchange of punts, East high took the ball on the Red and White 30 yard line. A pass, Rehms to Falls, netted a first down. Then East high uncorked one of the most deceptive passes seen on Shrader field in several seasons, and before the fans were aware of what was happening, Gill pulled down a 20 yard heave from Falls over the goal line. The Iowa City secondary defense was completely baffled on the play for not a man was near the East high end when he caught the pass. Gill shot a short pass to Captain Rehms for the extra point to tie the score.

The teams battled on even terms until the middle of the third quarter, when Gill sent a long punt over Moffitt's head. Lucky was caught clipping and Iowa City was penalized to their one yard line. Moffitt's punt was blocked by three East high linemen and Rook dove through the ball for a touchdown. Gill dropped the extra point, giving East Des Moines a lead of 14-7 at the end of the third period.

Iowa City Rallies

The fighting Iowa City warriors undaunted by this break, began a drive that carried them to the East high four yard mark. On the third play, Moffitt went over but the play was called back and Iowa City penalized for offside. A short pass Moffitt to Lucky, failed to gain, and East high took the ball on downs.

Gill punted out of danger to the middle of the field. Iowa City then launched a passing attack which proved successful. Christensen made a first down on a short pass from Moffitt. Then Moffitt dropped back and tossed the pass that tied the score and sent the crowd into a delirium of joy.

Gill's all around play in the line, and the running of Hayes and Falls featured for East Des Moines. Moffitt and Wright did the brunt of the ball carrying for the Red and White eleven, ably assisted by the splendid blocking of their teammates.

Captain Lucky won the toss for Iowa City high and chose to defend the south goal. Lucky kicked off to Falls on the ten yard line, who returned the ball 30 yards, fumbled, but was recovered by East Des Moines. Rehms made nine yards around right end. Cannon failed to gain. Gill punted to Moffitt on the 17 yard line, who went out of bounds

Maroons Display Power in Pinches; Beat Indiana, 13-7

STAGG FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 12 (AP)—Flashing plenty of power in the pinches and taking advantage of every break, A. A. Stagg's Chicago university Maroons defeated Indiana today 13 to 7 in the conference opener. A crowd of 20,000 watched Pat Page's Hoosiers fail to achieve their second win in 19 starts against the Chicagoans. It was Chicago's first conference victory in two years.

Both Chicago touchdowns were made after costly Indiana errors, the first after Ringwalt's bad pass from center was responsible for a fumbled punt, the second after Ross' fumble in the end zone. Indiana passed and plunged through the Maroons with Balay leading the attack, and brought the ball to the Maroon five-yard line. After the Stagg boys had held and taken the ball for a kick, Kanne, Maroon halfback, fumbled. Chatterton recovered behind the line to give the men from Bloomington their only score. A pass over the goal line defeated their only other scoring threat.

In the last few minutes Temple and Van Nice of Chicago, drove through the Indiana center to place the ball on the Hoosier three-yard line with four downs to go, but the gun ended the game. Indiana made 14 first downs to Chicago's eight, but the Chicago downs came after breaks in their favor. Captain Kelly took Van Nice's pass from the Indiana 20-yard line to give Chicago its winning margin in the third period.

on the 38 yard line. Time out for East Des Moines. Wright made eight yards at left end, and failed to gain in the second play. Moffitt made five yards and first down at right tackle. Wright then fumbled for a three yard loss. Wright was called for a loss of four yards. Westmark downed Moffitt's punt on Des Moines' 20 yard line. Falls fumbled on the 18 yard line.

Rehms smashed left tackle for eight yards. Simmel went in for Soucek at left guard for Iowa City. Gill run out of bounds on the 34 yard line. Wright made a yard at center. Redman hit guard for a yard. Christensen went in at guard for Iowa City. Moffitt punted to East high's 25 yard line. Soucek intercepted Falls' pass on the 33 yard line, returned the ball 15 yards to East Des Moines' 15 yard line. Score at end of first quarter stood 0 to 0.

Moffitt made seven yards at left tackle. Moffitt made first down around left end. Wright was stopped at left tackle. Moffitt carried the ball to the five yard line. Moffitt advanced the ball to the one yard line. Fourth down and one yard to go. East Des Moines called time out. Moffitt crashed through right tackle for the touchdown. Wright plunged through for the extra point. Score 7 to 0.

Lucky booted the ball down to the 15 yard line to Rehms, who was downed on the 26 yard line. Rehms gained three yards. And added two more on a delayed buck through left guard. Gill punted to Iowa City's 20 yard line. Cannon went in for Deskin at left end for Des Moines. Moffitt kicked to the 30 yard line to Falls. Hartunz failed to gain. Rehms hit center for a yard. Gill punted back to Moffitt on the 20 yard line, who dashed 52 yards to East Des Moines 42 yard line. East Des Moines called time out.

Funt called back and Iowa City penalized for holding. Lucky stopped after gaining a yard through left end. Falls spun a 25 yard pass to Gill that was good, putting the ball on the 30 yard line. Hayes plunged for five yards at left tackle, but failed to gain on next play. Hayes made 3 yards. Fall made a 20 yard pass to Gill for a touchdown. Gill passed to Rehms for the extra point. The score, 7 to 7. Blake went in for Redman at half for Iowa City. Mathes went in at left half.

Rook kicked off to Iowa City. The ball was received on the 10 yard line by Lucky who returned the ball to the 33 yard line. Moffitt went off right tackle for seven yards. Wright snatched center for no gain. Moffitt punted down to the 13 yard line, the ball was downed by Hull. Score at half, 7 to 7. Iseness went back to center for

PIGSKIN PHENOMS OF 1929

American fullback for 1926 and 1927.

Nagurski is one of those natural athletes that are the dream of all coaches. He can star either in the line or backfield—he's big, bruising, fast, and has plenty of playing, "sixth sense." Many hold that "the Nag" is a better asset than was the magnificent Josting, because Bronko is more versatile.

The Maroon and Gold lost to Northwestern and Iowa last year, each by a single point; but, with 19 of last year's varsity available this season, Minnesotans feel that their Gopher juggernaut will fully revenge those 1928 defeats.

With Nagurski the Big Pole as a battering ram or as a mobile Gibraltar in the line if needed there, Minnesota means to make a thundering bid indeed for the Big Ten championship this season.

Iowa City. Redman, Stimmler also returned for the local high school. Rook kicked to Lucky on 20 yard line, who ran the ball to the 46 yard line. Moffitt gained two yards at left end. Wright hit left tackle for two yards. A pass, Moffitt to Hull, was good for 15 yards. Moffitt to Lucky made four yards. Wright was stopped at left guard. Lucky's pass was incomplete. Lucky to Hull pass, called back both teams off side. Gill kicked to Iowa City's 20 yard line. Penalized within a yard goal because of Capt. Lucky's clipping. East Des Moines' second touchdown was made by Rook, who fell on blocked punt. Gill dropped extra point. Score, 14 to 7 in favor of Des Moines.

Moffitt returned kick off to 38 yard line. Wright slid off right guard for eight yards. Wright hit the line for a yard at center. Redman failed to gain. Moffitt's punt was outside on 40 yard line. Glick went in for Redman. East Des Moines took time out. Moffitt smeared Heyes on punt formation after he had gained 23 yards. Iowa City took time out. Falls made two yards on a sneak pass. Heyes gained a yard on a delayed buck. Lucky stopped. Heyes at left end. Gill's pass was incomplete. Iowa City gets ball on downs. Wright made five yards at center. Moffitt made first down on 23 yard line. Iowa City took time out. Lucky bruised but remained in fray. Mathes made nine yards at left guard. Des Moines penalized 15 yards for holding. Moffitt stopped at right tackle for no gain. Wright smashed left guard for two yards. Moffitt's pass to Lucky was incomplete. Rehms broke up attempted pass to Hull. Lucky to Hull. Heyes made eight yards at right end for visitors. Rehms was stopped at center. Heyes went through left tackle for 12 yards. Falls was tossed for two

Phi Delt's Golf Tourney

Floyd Barber Gets 81 for Medal Honors

While football fans were listening to Iowa's defeat at Ohio State, more than 60 golfers were battling for interfraternity golf championship in an 18-hole medal play tourney on Finkbine field. Four of the 17 fraternities entered were disqualified for the failure of a player to turn in his card. Those disqualified were: Beta Theta Pi, Phi Beta Delta, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Delta Upsilon. Phi Delta Theta, university champions last year, won the tournament with a low aggregate score of 355 from their four representatives. Sigma Alpha Epsilon turned in a 375, with the Kappa Sig's trailing with a 377 for a close third. The scores for the rest of the teams follow: Sigma Phi Epsilon 384; Phi Kappa Psi, 384; Delta Chi, 392; Sigma Chi, 392; Phi Beta Pi, 399; Delta Tau Delta, 408; Phi Chi, 410; Phi Kappa Rho, 438; Sigma Pi, 468.

Floyd Barber of Phi Delta Theta, capped medalist honors by going out in 41 and coming in with a 40 for a total of 81. Pabst of Delta Chi, was runner-up with a score of 84. Following is a list of the next ranking golfers and their totals as reported by Coach Charles Kennett.

Brennan of Sigma Chi, 86; Clayton of Beta Theta Pi, 87; Tlexander of Sigma Chi, 88; Heuer of Phi Kappa Psi, 88; Simpson of Kappa Sigma, 89; Patten and Brown of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 90; Richardson of Phi Delta Theta, 90; Blaylock of Phi Delta Theta, 91; Fester of Kappa Sigma, 91; Kay of Phi Kappa Psi, 91, and Fersch of Delta Upsilon, 91.

Gophers Slap Vanderbilt

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 12 (AP)—Minnesota battered out a decisive 16-to-6 intercollegiate football triumph over Vanderbilt university today on a slippery field in Memorial stadium before 25,000 spectators.

The Gophers stamped themselves a serious contender for the Big Ten title with a powerful backfield and a line that stood up well with Nagurski at his old post, left tackle. The game was not so close as the score indicates, for the Gophers stopped the running attack of the southern contender and play was in Vanderbilt's territory most of the time. Riebeth and Brockmeyer were shining lights in the Minnesota backfield. Nagurski was a tower of strength in the line and the Commodores were unable to gain consistently through the Gophers' forward wall. Neither Minnesota nor Vanderbilt experienced any great success with passing attacks.

THE EXTRA POINT IN SPORTS

Lady Luck Turns Back on Hawks

What cruel gestures, those "breaks" with which the Goddess Fortune yesterday shattered all Hawkeye hopes of a successful start in the Western conference championship play! First to give a weaker team a touchdown on a blocked punt, then to beckon Pape, Iowa's star, to a place in football's sun by a twirling 36 yard run for a touchdown, only to scorn Pape's final bid for victory with a penalty for offside play!

What a blow it must have been to Coach Burt Ingwersen to witness his team, superior in defense, in offense, and in all-around play, low in defeat to a weaker Ohio team—a team whose alertness gave to them a triumph. For, in that loss, the Hawk mentor faces a huge task in rebuilding a team that will go into the Homecoming game with Illinois this coming Saturday without the barest vestige of a shattered morale.

Yet there is some consolation in that defeat. It showed to Ingwersen, to the Iowa followers, and to the Big Ten, that the Hawkeyes are a power to be reckoned on not lightly. The line, from wing to wing, revealed itself as a fast-charging offense and rib-rook on defense, while the backfield, minus the scampering Glasgow, functioned at its best. "Nanny" Pape, especially, assured himself of a berth as a regular, with his sparkling performance as a ball-carrier. He, alone, brought Iowa to the very gates of victory with his twirling bursts down the field for two touchdowns, the final one, however, an offside play brought a penalty. One bright spot in the defeat was the stellar work of Rogge at end, his play drawing praise from authorities on the game. Rogge, teaming up with Westra, was responsible for boxing in Fesler, Ohio's all-American end, so Pape could get free for his long dashes.

Looks Bad for the Cubs

After that seventh inning explosion that blasted the Cubs out of a comfortable 8-0 lead into the depths of a 10-8 mauling, the National league champions, yesterday found themselves faced with the sizable task of overhauling the fast traveling Athletics. Right now, it looks like a hard row to hoe, and, only by dint of superhuman effort, can the Chicago team top the classic. That is an accomplishment, which, if effected, will be little short of a miracle. Miracles don't happen nowadays, especially when the Athletic's batting strength is so devastating.

Did You Know—

That the Cubs have been victims of the Mack's strikeout ace, 44 times in the four games played. The first two games saw a total of 26 Bruins whiff the fast and furious slants of Ethme, Earnshaw, and Grove.

That Hank Bruder, Northwest-ern backfield star, broke his leg in the Wisconsin game yesterday? He may not see action again this year?

About Fidel La Barba, one of the leading American boxers, who is training in Paris for a bout with Kid Francis. Both are fighting in the 123 pound class.

A Day of Surprises

Surprise endings to already thrilling contests seemed to be the leading feature of yesterday's fray on the gridiron. Principal among that phase were the startling upsets of Michigan and Yale. The former, at one time enjoying a 16 to 7 margin, were swept into discard by a furious Purdue attack in the waning moments of the game and were left bewildered by a 30 to 16 defeat. Yale, invading the South for the dedication of the Georgia stadium,

Iowa State Fails to Get Within 20 Yards of Bengal's Goal

STATE FIELD, AMES, Oct. 12 (AP)—A lanky 185-pound halfback aided by a husky 204-pound captain today led the well-coached, smooth-working Missouri university football team to a 19 to 0 victory over Iowa State college in the season's first conference game. The score indicated approximately the margin of superiority the Bengals had over Iowa State, which boasts that its team is one of the best in years.

Although Carl Johannmeier and Captain John Waldorf provided the bulk of the offensive punch for the Missourians, the towering hard-driving, sure-tackling group of linemen spelled Iowa State's downfall. The Bengal forward wall tore through the Cyclone line, opening huge holes for its backfield.

Absence of Paul Trauger, Iowa State backfield ace, because of an injured back cost the Cyclones what chance they might have had for victory. Richard Wilcox tried to take his place at quarterback but lacked ability as a punter, open field runner or forward passer. Even Trauger could scarcely have aided the Cyclones materially.

From the first kickoff to the final punt, Missouri dominated the play both in line work and in ball carrying. Not once did Iowa State get within 20 yards of scoring.

Scarcely had the contest opened until Johannmeier gave notice of his intention to carry on for the afternoon. He returned the opening kickoff 30 yards and then reeled off a pair of first downs in three plays. The lineup:

IOWA STATE	MISSOURI
Johnson	LELE
Spear	LG LG
Boardman	CC
Roe	RG RG
Notte	RT RT
Burton	RE RE
Elerick	QB QB
Bennett	LH LH
Larson	RH RH
Tegland	FB FB
	Schaff

Scoring:
Missouri: Touchdowns—Waldorf, Derry (substitute for Johannmeier), Bittner (substitute for Waldorf), Point after touchdown, Warren (substitute for Kilgore).

Series Tied as Redwings Beat Blues

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—The Rochester Red Wings tied the little world's series at four victories each today by winning the eighth game, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. Worthington's sacrifice fly scored Brown with the winning run after Rochester had staged an uphill battle all the way. The Red Wings came from behind in the sixth and ninth innings to tie the score. Rochester collected 15 hits off Sheehan, Murray and Day while Kansas City nipped Carleton, Derringer and Littlejohn for eleven.

Good Roads Aid Crowd at Homecoming Johnson County Lists No Impassable Detours

This fall when all football fans approach Iowa City to attend the annual Homecoming, they will not be troubled with adverse road conditions as in other years. The bulletin of the primary road conditions in Iowa, as issued by the state highway commission, shows that 124.5 miles are paved throughout the state, in addition to 3221.3 miles gravel. Good roads are one of the essential factors towards promoting a successful Homecoming. This was proven at the Homecoming several years ago, before the road between Cedar Rapids and Iowa City was paved. Hundreds of cars were mired in the mud on that memorable occasion, completely spoiling the good time of many a home-comer.

No Detours
In Johnson county there are no detours and no matter what the weather may be, traffic will not be at a standstill. This same condition exists in all parts of the state. Alumni coming from the vicinity of Des Moines will have a fine road all the way to Iowa City, although there is a detour near Marquette. Here it is advisable to detour northward through Amama and cut back on the pavement at Homestead. This detour is decidedly better than the southern one for it is not as narrow and rough.

The fans in the northern part of the state should have no trouble traveling to Iowa City as there is pavement through Waterloo reaching as far north as Charles City and continuing westward through Mason City, Clear Lake and Algona.

Pavement Connects Clinton
There is more gravel south of Iowa City than in any other direction, but the main gravel roads are in good shape. Primary road number 161, between Keokuk and Mt. Pleasant will undoubtedly be open by Homecoming, and that should prove an incentive to the people in the southern corner of the state. Another good piece of paving south of Iowa City is highway No. 34, passing through Chariton, Albia, Ottumwa, Fairfield, Mt. Pleasant and Burlington, a distance of approximately 130 miles. The road northward from Fairfield to Iowa City is all gravel with exception of ten miles of pavement out of Fairfield.

Coming from the east, the fans have a great deal of pavement. Highway No. 30 is paved all the way from Clinton to Cedar Rapids. No. 30 is also paved from Marshalltown to Cedar Rapids. No. 32 from Davenport to Iowa City is in the best of shape and so is the road from Muscatine, although both of these roads are gravel part of the way.

New Roads Open
Every possible effort is being extended on the part of the Iowa highway commission to have the roads in the state in perfect condition for the fall classic. Several new roads will be opened up by that time, thus doing away with several bad detours.

However, the method of transportation by automobiles will not be the only means of coming to Iowa City for the Homecoming. Special trains will be from Moline, Rock Island and Davenport. This train will leave Moline at 11:45 a. m., Rock Island at 11:55 a. m. and Davenport at 12:05 p. m., arriving in Iowa City at 1:30 p. m. The reason that the special train will make such good time is due to the fact that it will make no stops between the tri-cities and the new station which will be used by the football specialists. The new university stadium is just a stones throw east of the station.

Shenandoah Here
In addition to the special train from the tri-cities, at least two other specials are expected to be pressed into service—one from Des Moines and another from Shenandoah. Shenandoah is especially anxious to have a special train so they may see their home idol, Capt. Willis Glasgow, play his last game before a homecoming crowd.

Innumerable people would rather avoid the Homecoming traffic by leaving their cars in Iowa City and riding to Iowa City on the interurban. In order that these persons may be accommodated, the interurban company will run as many cars as are needed during the day of the game.

Chief Amish Urges Chimney Inspection

No fires have thus far occurred in Iowa City during national fire prevention week. However, local firemen are of the opinion that with the coming colder weather and the consequent demand for heat, the usual large number of chimney fires will result. These fires, starting in flues which have been idle since last spring, often develop into destructive fires.

During fire prevention week, Fire Chief Herman Anket has repeatedly urged that all chimneys be inspected before being put into use. If found to be clogged up with soot, they should be cleaned, and if there are any cracks inside or outside, these should be thoroughly repaired.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
Upon the death of her father, "Happy Jack" Van Staik, once wealthy sportsman and social leader, Nathalie Van Staik, young and beautiful, finds herself left a few dollars and an old, abandoned Long Island estate called "The Firs." After being coldly repulsed by her rich aunt, Mrs. Pemberton Swaine, Nathalie in desperation cashes a check for $500 for which there are no funds. Without her knowledge, John Sloan, young lawyer, assigned to her affairs, makes the check good. Fearing that a detective is trailing her, Nathalie leaves a train at Brookville, L. I. From the president of the local bank, a mercenary Shylock, who holds the mortgage on "The Firs," which he desires because the new state road will enhance its value, Nathalie accepts a strange proposition. It is to act as hostess at "The Firs," which is to be rented to a wealthy South American who wishes to entertain his friends. On the condition that her identity remain hidden by wearing a silk and sequined costume, the handsome foreigner, who turns out to be Capt. Ramon Stefano, supposedly of great wealth and much sought after by the young smart set. He does not know that he has previously met and disliked her, with a check transformation and Spanish costume and the mask, is unrecognizable. Sloan, in love with Nathalie, warns her of the danger she will be in due to the romantic nature of herself and Stefano. Neither of them realizes the danger until it is too late.

It is to act as hostess at "The Firs," which is to be rented to a wealthy South American who wishes to entertain his friends. On the condition that her identity remain hidden by wearing a silk and sequined costume, the handsome foreigner, who turns out to be Capt. He does not know that he has previously met and disliked her, with a check transformation and Spanish costume and the mask, is unrecognizable. Sloan, in love with Nathalie, warns her of the danger she will be in due to the romantic nature of herself and Stefano. Neither of them realizes the danger until it is too late.

By two in the morning there was no need for her to fear that anyone in the house was greatly concerned about who she was. Cock-tails had been flying fast. One good-looking but and handsome girl lollied one against the other on a divan, she with her head on his shoulder and both fast asleep. Another girl, her counterpart, the very mirror of well-bred dignity, tottered not too steadily to the top of the main staircase and setting herself astride the banister rail, slid down it to the main floor again amid shrieks of applause.

Laughter, its din increased by the blare of the musicians as they sought to make themselves audible above it, fairly rocked the house. And yet there was decorum and order.

The boy who had first whooped out his appreciation as he saw Nathalie was standing beside her, his eyes a little swimming and a cheerful grimace on his well-cut features. Admiration still held him but a school class of children could have listened to the language in which his feelings found escape.

Then suddenly another girl, soberer than the one who had gone up before, made her way up the staircase, a youth who had been dancing with her at her heels. She did not come sliding down. Stefano was after her and the lad was behind her in the next breath.

"In a moment more they all came downstairs together, Stefano between the other two and with an arm over the shoulders of each. "Just went up to look around," the boy was saying.

TILLIE THE TOILER—Mac Stops at Thinking

THE SECRET IS OUT, MUMSY. MR. WHIPPLE WANTS ME TO GO IN BUSINESS WITH HIM.

WELL, IN MY OPINION HE HASN'T MUCH ABILITY AS A BUSINESS MAN.

MR. WHIPPLE COULD SELL AN ANVIL TO A DROWNING MAN.

HE'S JUST THE KIND OF A FELLOW I'D EXPECT TO TRY A TRICK LIKE THAT.

GOOD EVENING, MRS. JONES.

HELLO, MAC. TILLIE HAS JUST BEEN TELLING ME ABOUT MR. WHIPPLE'S SCHEME. DOES HE WANT YOU TO GO WITH HIM TOO?

YES, BUT I'VE BEEN THINKING IT OVER AND AFTER LOOKING AT THE SITUATION FROM EVERY ANGLE, I THINK I'LL STAY WHERE I AM.

YES, AND YOU'LL ALWAYS BE JUST WHERE YOU ARE, BECAUSE YOU THINK TOO MUCH INSTEAD OF DOING SOMETHING.

THAT SOUNDS SENSIBLE, MAC.

"THE MASKED HOSTESS"

by Blair Stevenson

fano countered. "Looks for all the world like one, doesn't she, what? Me, I leave it to you to spread the good news."

The lad spread it. By the time the band had played four times all the gay young blades in the room were "cutting in" on one another, every lad among them asking the others for some "line" on her masked identity. It was her luck that the feminine element who were present with them found her only inspiring and did not resent the vast success of her or the fact that her beauty, combined with the surprise of her presence and her baffling mask, dimmed them all a little. As the night wore on spirits became gayer and voices shriller, verging to recklessness as the hours passed.

Nathalie noted a car after car arrived at the main door and those who had come in them were welcomed inside that at least half of those who were already around her and those who were arriving in trios and quartets were quite well known to her, despite the fact that she had lived five years abroad. To the wealthy, the ocean is a small matter. London, Paris, New York, Antwerp, Ascot and Belmont Park are all one. She began to wonder if it were at all well known that she was in America. For if some who knew her were to recognize and acclaim her, the fact that she had been identified would be picked up as a morsel by the social journals and perhaps some sensational daily newspaper would get hold of the story as well. Next detectives would arrive.

By she gathered courage as a girl who had been her fellow pupil at an English school came up to her and began to ask her questions about the music the Gaucho band was playing, and when Nathalie had evaded her interrogations skillfully as she could, complimented her on her "pretty English" and asked if it had taken her long to learn it.

By two in the morning there was no need for her to fear that anyone in the house was greatly concerned about who she was. Cock-tails had been flying fast. One good-looking but and handsome girl lollied one against the other on a divan, she with her head on his shoulder and both fast asleep. Another girl, her counterpart, the very mirror of well-bred dignity, tottered not too steadily to the top of the main staircase and setting herself astride the banister rail, slid down it to the main floor again amid shrieks of applause.

Laughter, its din increased by the blare of the musicians as they sought to make themselves audible above it, fairly rocked the house. And yet there was decorum and order.

The boy who had first whooped out his appreciation as he saw Nathalie was standing beside her, his eyes a little swimming and a cheerful grimace on his well-cut features. Admiration still held him but a school class of children could have listened to the language in which his feelings found escape.

Then suddenly another girl, soberer than the one who had gone up before, made her way up the staircase, a youth who had been dancing with her at her heels. She did not come sliding down. Stefano was after her and the lad was behind her in the next breath.

Clinics Add 8 Staff Members

The speech and psychology clinic, under the direction of Prof. Lee E. Travis, announces its new faculty. Eight of the group are new members this year. The faculty includes: Lee E. Travis, professor of clinical psychology; director; Leo Fagan, assistant professor of speech; Bessie Rasmus, instructor in speech.

Wendell Johnson, research associate in clinical psychology, and York Heron, Herman Jasper, Lyman Judson, Donald Dinsinger, Lois Cobb, Paul Griffith, and Edith Flanagan, all research assistants in clinical psychology and speech pathology.

The psychology and speech clinic, which is at present located in the psychopathic hospital, is supported by the departments of psychology, speech, and psychiatry. The purpose of the clinic is to study and treat the different kinds of educational maladjustments and speech defects. In addition, the unit trains teachers for this type of clinical work, and presents opportunities for research in the fields of clinical psychology and speech pathology.

The clinic laboratories, which contain thousands of dollars worth of radio equipment for use in the study of action currents in muscles and nerves, are used to specialize in the study of neuro-psychology of speech.

along the sidewalks, strings of green and red electric light, and streamers of evergreen across the streets will be used. The Christmas decorations will be up about Dec. 1.

The committee in charge is: D. R. Pile, chairman; E. R. Means, T. Dell Kelley, Albert B. Sidwell, and William Ruppert.

TELEGRAPHERS BEAT NEBRASKA TEACHERS
LE MAR, Oct. 12 (AP)—Before Homecoming crowds, Western Union college football team defeated the Wayne, Neb., State Teachers here today, 13 to 6. An intercepted pass followed by a 32 yard run scored first for Western Union. Wayne next scored on straight football. Western Union broke the tie by breaking away for a 75 yard run after a lateral pass.

Millholland Pleads Guilty; Draws Fine

Glen Millholland was fined $10 after pleading guilty to charges of disturbing the peace, and Tom Donnelly was fined $5 and costs on charges of intoxication yesterday in Police Judge C. L. Zaser's court. The men were arrested last Friday night by Officers Joe Dolezal and George Speaks.

Millholland and Donnelly and four others were alleged to have been drinking beer in a local restaurant and were ordered out by the manager. They refused to leave and started a fight.

The police were called and one of the party attempted to hide the alcohol in a nearby alley, but Officer Speaks found it later. The alcohol and a bottle of beer which was also seized, constituted the evidence.

Boy Scouts Use Field House Pool
The local Boy Scouts began using the pool of the field house today. The hour from 11 to 12 a.m. on Saturdays has been set aside for the boys' use throughout the coming winter by the university athletic department. This will make it possible for the boys to pass their test in swimming and life-saving during the winter months. Great interest has been shown in the past in this phase of the winter sport program.

Dr. Volland Re-elected to High Position

Five Faculty Members Attend Meeting at Washington

Dr. R. H. Volland of Iowa City was re-elected treasurer of the American Dental Association yesterday at the meeting of the association in Washington, D. C. This will be Volland's second term in this capacity.

Five members of the faculty of the college of dentistry participated in the meeting, which was held last week. Dean Frank T. Broene attended the meeting as a member of the house of delegates. He also attended a special conference of the officers of the American Association of Dental Schools, as president-elect of that body.

Dr. Alvin W. Bryan, as a member of the national dental examining board, led a discussion of a paper by Dr. O. McCall, of New York, in the section on operative dentistry; Dr. C. L. Drain, in the field of research, presented a paper upon "The arrest of dental caries of children." He also spoke over radio station WJVS at noon, Wednesday, on "Food for the teeth." Special conferences on dental prosthesis and on oral surgery and anaesthesia were held by Dr. Earl S. Smith and Dr. Ralph A. Penton.

Speakers of note at the general sessions of the American Dental Association were President Herbert Hoover; Vice President Charles Curtis; Merritt W. Ireland, surgeon-general of the army; and Charles E. Higgs, surgeon-general of the navy and a graduate of the University of Iowa college of medicine.

Sears Store Opens; Draws Large Crowd

The opening of the new Sears-Roebuck and company store, 111-113 E. College street, yesterday attracted 9,000 persons, mostly from the outlying rural districts. Traffic was the heaviest that it has been in some time in the vicinity of the store, according to police officers on the beat.

The Sears establishment is the second large chain store to come to Iowa City, the Montgomery Ward company having established a retail store here last winter. Iowa City merchants joined both times in welcoming the newcomers. It is felt that the presence of such concerns attracts trade and increases expenditures throughout the town by rural traders.

O. R. Lee of the advertising department in Chicago said last night that officials of the organization are well pleased with their first day in Iowa City.

The manager of the local establishment is Charles F. Behm who came here from Burlington.

Thomas Talks to Kiwanians

A. O. Thomas, professor of geology, will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Iowa City Kiwanis club Tuesday noon at Red Ball inn. Professor Thomas will talk on the Black Hill geological conference held last summer.

The conference consisted of a two weeks' field trip through the Black Hills of Colorado and Wyoming and was participated in by 100 geologists. About two-thirds of those on the trip were oil geologists sent by their companies for further instruction in the field. The remainder of the party were instructors of geology.

Perkins Departs for National Law Meet

Prof. Rollin M. Perkins, of the college of law, left last night for New York city to attend a meeting of the criminal law section of the American Law Institute to be held there all next week. The week following he will attend the meeting of the American Bar association at Memphis, Tenn.

Professor Perkins is chairman of the committee on Psychiatric Jurisprudence and will present a report to that body. He will represent the bar association in the discussion concerning insanity in criminal cases.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

Harvest Day at Home

The Mary O. Coldren old ladies' home, 422 S. Clark street, held its annual "harvest home day" yesterday, but because of poor road conditions, donations were much smaller than usual. Most of the supplies are brought in by farmers. Last year farmers from Oxford brought in a large truckload of vegetables which supplied the ladies for almost the entire winter.

There will be another donation day Thursday, according to Mrs. Nellie Larson, matron of the home.

Land Transfers Recorded

Warranty deeds filed at the office of the county recorder yesterday, transferred three parcels of property. These included the transfer from Ida Wanger et al. to John E. Yenter of lot 1 of block 3 of the Waterman subdivision in the town of Oxford for a consideration of $2,500; from Clinton Dondore et al. to Frank L. Russell, parts of lots 2 and 3 of block 102 on Dubuque street, and from Crescentia Reed of Lebanon, Mo., to Pauline Reed of LaCade, Mo., parts of lots 2 and 3 in block 3 on Iowa avenue.

Building Permits Issued

George E. Kriz, 524 Oakland avenue, and James R. Fisher, Dubuque road, were issued permits for garages at the office of the city inspector yesterday. Mrs. Teresa Kresensky, 400 Brooklyn park drive, was issued a permit for an addition to her house and garage.

Four Births Recorded

The birth of one boy and three girls was recorded at the office of the county clerk yesterday. They included a son, Maurice Alphonso, to Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ellis of 614 S. Dubuque street; a daughter, Helen, to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roy Miller of Boone; a daughter, Barbara Anne, to Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Miller of Riverside; a daughter, Lois Ellene, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Rogers of Ryan, and a daughter, Adriana, to Mr. and Mrs. George Ansley of Tipperary.

Jury Dismissed Until Tomorrow

Court was adjourned Friday afternoon until Monday morning and the jury in the case of Russell J. Potts vs. Henry Madsen and Wilbur Eystone was dismissed until 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. The case will be resumed at that time. Walter M. Davis and Will J. Hayek of Iowa City, represent the plaintiff. Eystone is represented by Frank F. Messer and E. C. Eicher and Madsen has engaged as his attorney, Henry Negus. The case is a suit for damages growing out of an automobile accident last spring.

Iowa-Wisconsin Game Will Present Novelty

Entertainment in the form of a tug-of-war between ten farmers of Johnson county and a Wisconsin county championship team will be featured between the halves of the Iowa-Wisconsin game at Madison, Oct. 6, providing a team to represent Johnson county can be selected before then.

D. W. Crum, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has been requested by the Madison association of commerce to send a team. All farmers who are interested in taking part in the event have been requested to communicate with Mr. Crum or S. Lyle Duncan, Johnson county agent. Admittance to the game will be free to the members of the team.

Tiffin Stock Shipper Sues Road for Loss

Claiming negligence in the valuation of a shipment of cattle consigned to him, Harry A. Thomas of Tiffin, has filed suit against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad company asking damages of $657 and interest of six per cent from Nov. 1, 1927.

Mr. Thomas claims in his petition that the railroad company routed over a longer route than was necessary between St. Paul, Minn., and Tiffin, resulting in the death of eight of the cattle and shrinkage in the weight of the remainder. He enumerates damages of $314.56 for the loss of the dead cattle, $142.44 for excess shrinkage, and $200 for the extra feed required to bring the stock to a market condition.

Students Reserve Desks in Library

One hundred seven undergraduates and two graduate students have been assigned desks at the study hall in reserve library. Of this number 48 are freshmen, 22 sophomores, 19 juniors, and 18 seniors. The amount of time which the students plan to use the study hall varies from two to forty-six hours per week.

Papers Read on Methods at Math Session

Teachers Meet Here; Ratio, Homework Discussed

More than 100 persons attended the closing sessions of the fourth annual conference of teachers of mathematics yesterday morning. Prof. J. F. Reddy presided during the three addresses.

Seima Lindell, of the teachers' training school at the University of Michigan, opened the final meeting with a paper on ratio and proportion. Miss Lindell believes that many advanced students have difficulty in solving the simplest problems in proportion. This problem is due to the fact that teaching of proportion is neglected in grades 10, 11, and 12. She continued with a plea to teach ratio and proportion more thoroughly. To illustrate her text she spoke of a test recently given to grade 12 students. The problem was: "A was missed by a fourth of the students."

Paulah Shoemith of Hyde Park high school, Chicago, gave an address on homework. She believes homework to be one of the most helpful factors in high school work and that compulsion in this respect is desirable. Assignments should be made clear so that the parents will not be required to aid the pupil in his home work.

The final speech of the convention was made by J. O. Hassler, professor of mathematics at the University of Oklahoma, who spoke on the use of project teaching. He defined this as an act "of the pupil, by the pupil, and for the pupil."

The purposes of project teaching as outlined by Professor Hassler are: first, to make or do something; second, to enjoy the experience; third, to solve a problem, and fourth, to acquire some article of skill.

Wonders of Far Northeast Viewed by Local Instructor

Last summer Norman C. Meier, assistant professor of the psychology department, took a trip to Gaspe peninsula, which is two days travel east of Quebec city and about five or six days travel from Iowa City. Gaspe basin was discovered by Norsemen and visited in 1534 by a Frenchman named Cartier. Probably the most notable feature of the historic spot is the fact that it is the oldest point on the North American mainland known to white man.

Professor Meier spent a week and a half in visiting this territory and explains the region with the following description:

"Gaspe peninsula, of eastern Quebec, is a newly opened country to motorists, which affords the visitor with a land of rather rare scenic beauty. It is a part of America which is almost untouched by modern development and the automobile has been practically unknown up to a few years ago. In place of automobiles, the people haul their things in two-wheeled carts and still jump at the sound of an automobile horn. In addition to being old-fashioned in their ways, the natives of this community are also quaint in their speech—speaking French of several centuries ago.

Boeing Officers Fail to Discuss Airport

Officials of the Boeing Air Transport system of Cheyenne, Wyo., who were expected in Iowa City yesterday, failed to arrive to meet with the chamber of commerce committee and make further plans for the improvement of the Iowa City municipal airport.

Plans for specifications which Dr. W. L. Bywater, chairman of the city council special committee on the airport, received from the Leonard Macomber company of Chicago, have been approved by the state board of railroad commissioners. Nothing further can be done until the Boeing officials arrive so that they can confer with the chamber of commerce and continue the arrangements for the general improvement of the airport.

Inspection for Fire Hazards Completed

The inspection for fire hazards in sorority and fraternity houses, schools, and mercantile establishments by the fire department was completed yesterday.

Starting Monday, Fire Chief Herman Amish's men will check up on the more serious fire hazards found. Orders to remove certain hazards were left at various places when they were first inspected during the last two weeks, and this second inspection is to be made in order to see whether or not these instructions have been carried out.

Dr. William C. Langston, of Iowa City, was recently appointed assistant professor of anatomy. He received his M.D. degree from the university last year. Dr. Langston was demonstrator in the department of anatomy for three years.

Church Starts New Service

The First Baptist church has initiated, for the last two Sundays, a service form of service. Morning services of the church have been combined into one, lasting from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. The church is the first to use the new form here, but it is being successfully used in other places.

The Rev. E. L. Diercks, pastor of the church, believes that the plan has several advantages. First, it brings the whole church together for worship; second, since the church ministers to families as well as individuals, Rev. Diercks thinks that this system will do much to offset the modern tendency toward breaking up family life; third, the plan saves time by eliminating the wait between services.

Church school begins at 9:30 a.m. as usual, the morning worship at 10:30 a.m., this change giving more time for departmental and instruction work. This latter service is managed so that children may attend as well as adults. The first sermon is given for the children and followed by a recessional, led by the church choir. Junior children are in the charge of Mrs. Diercks who directs them during the adult sermon, and smaller children are in the kindergarten and nursery at that time. In this way, mothers are able to attend the sermon while their children are taken care of. At 11:30 a.m. all services end so that parents and children may go home together.

This new program is not changed radically from the old form of worship but it arranges the services systematically, making a thorough plan of religious education possible.

Entries at City Hall Show Service Given

No matter where they're going, they all make Iowa City. At least so the register at the rest room in the town hall would seem to indicate. Entries show that tourists from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Chicago, New York, Columbus, Cincinnati, Denver, Ft. Worth, Costa Rica, Mexico City, and many other places have been in this city in the last three months.

In the month of July, 1,292 signed the register in August, 1,366 registered and in September, 2,063 visited the city. Not only tourists visit this rest room, but many local people and residents of this vicinity take advantage of the service.

The rest room is managed by the King's Daughters, and is partially supported by the city which furnishes the room in the city hall. It is open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

Informed motorists say, "Buy an EIGHT"

The informed demand today is unmistakably for the Eight. This swing of public preference is developing with unprecedented rapidity. Nobody can predict what chance a Six will have in next year's used car markets.

Consider the facts: During the first seven months of this year, in 43 states,* registrations of new cars over $1000 showed a 94 per cent increase in Eights—and an 18 per cent decrease in Sixes. Every high-priced American car is an Eight. In fact, over 41 per cent of all American makes of cars are Eights.

And Studebaker, enjoying its seventy-seventh successful year in business, sells more Eights than any other manufacturer in the world.

So why pay as much or more for a Six when you can have a champion Eight by Studebaker—holder of 11 world records and more American stock car records for speed and endurance than all other makes combined? A Studebaker Eight, brilliant with the power, the smoothness, the flexibility that only an Eight can deliver. An Eight as economical as the thriftest Six. And styled with a notable smartness all the way through.

Remember what happened to the Fours in the medium and high priced fields. Sixes today are succumbing to Eights the same way. Now that it costs no more to own and to drive one—get a champion Studebaker Eight!
