TWO MILLION CHINESE FACE FAMINE

Gas Explosion at Shenandoah Costs $60,000

680 Homes Lack Fuel, Windows; One Dead Another Injured

SHENANDOAH, Jan. 14 (AP)—Two hundred homes were being boarded up here today as the result of an explosion in the city gas plant which killed one man, injured another, destroyed the plant, and shattered windows in homes and business houses for blocks around.

Emergency cooking apparatus was being installed in 680 homes left without means of preparing food. Oil burners, coal stoves, and furnaces were placed in service by housewives forced to discard gas ranges when the supply of fuel was cut off.

Six Weeks Repair

Officials of the Iowa Light and Power company, owners of the plant, estimated it would take from six weeks to six months to replace the plant. They indicated they would stand the expense of repairing homes and business houses, and placed an estimate of $60,000 as the loss to the plant itself.

Virgil Bettis, 35 years old, was killed. Hugh Shaddock, the only other man in the plant at the time of the blast, was recovering from his injuries. Bettis is survived by his widow and two small boys, 7 and 9 years old. Mrs. Bettis has been ill at her home for several days.

The explosion occurred about 9 a.m. from a cause undetermined. It tore out the entire east wall of the two-story plant and so damaged the remainder of the building and plant that attempts to repair them were believed futile. The blast caused a fire which was brought under control by the fire department about an hour later.

Storage Tank Undamaged While Shaddock was taken to a hospital immediately after the explosion, the body of Bettis was not recovered until nearly an hour later.

A large gas storage tank outside the plant was not damaged. Residents of the entire city were thrown into a near panic by the explosion. They rushed into the streets believing either the building in which they were or the structure next-door had exploded, so terrific was the blast.

D. Appleton Company Publishes Journalism Book by Frank L. Mott

"A History of American Magazines" by Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism, was published this week by D. Appleton company of New York. This work is a detailed story of the development of publishing in the United States supplemented with comment on the social and political history of the day.

Prof. Arthur M. Schlesinger of Harvard university says: "This book will unquestionably be ranked as one of the most valuable pieces of research in American literature, valuable also for its record of American manners and ideals."

A vast amount of research and detail have been incorporated into this book, which has been carefully organized for easy reading, and indexed for convenient reference. Professor Mott treats of every aspect of the early magazines—chronology, geography, finance, circulation, manufacture, editors and their policies, contributors, and the development of special departments and features.

Several chapters are devoted to individual magazines; those of "The Man With the Good Face," 1921; "The Literature of the Iowa Pioneer," 1924; "The Rewards of Reading," 1926; and numerous magazine articles and short stories.

REALTORS MEET

WATERLOO, (AP)—The 1930 convention of the Iowa association of real estate boards will be held in Des Moines, with dates tentatively fixed as Nov. 5-7, the directors decided here.

GRANTED EXTRADITION

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 13 (AP)—Governor Adams today granted extradition of Thomas W. Walker to Clark county, Ia., to face a larceny charge.

THE WEATHER

IOWA—Partly cloudy to cloudy Wednesday with snow flurries, colder in northeast portion; probably snow Thursday and continued cold.

Editor of Minnesota Daily Suspended for Smoking in Library

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 14 (AP)—Harrison Salisbury, Minneapolis, managing editor of the Minnesota Daily, undergraduate publication at the University of Minnesota, was suspended for one year today for smoking in the library in violation of a new rule.

The suspension was announced by Dean E. E. Nicholson, who charged Salisbury with "deliberate and public defiance" of the regulations. The Daily, in recent news stories, had chided the administration for the smoking rule and had hinted the university lacked authority to enforce it.

"The question apparently raised," Dean Nicholson said, "was what can the university do about it? This suspension is our answer."

64 Dismissed at West Point

Negro Fails; Can Take Re-examinations

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 14 (AP)—Alonso Parham, Negro, of Chicago, was among the 64 cadets honorably discharged today from the United States military academy for failure to pass their mid-year term academic examinations.

Parham was deficient in only one subject, mathematics, and is eligible to take a reexamination in March, which if successfully passed, will enable him to reenter the academy.

Forty-eight of the cadets dismissed today were freshmen, and the others were sophomores. The examination was taken by 137 cadets 73 of whom passed. Forty-six, all third and fourth classmen, were deficient in only one subject and they have the privilege of reexamination in March.

Iowa Alumni Name Group of Nominees

Announcement of nominees for the election of officers of the Iowa Alumni association for the coming year was made yesterday at the office of Frederic G. Higbee, executive secretary. Ballots are to be sent out in March and must be voted on and returned before April first.

One of the following men will be selected for president, two for vice-president, and one from each alumni district. For president the following men have been selected by the nominating committee: James A. Devitt, '97 of Oskaloosa; Benjamin F. Swisher, '06 of Waterloo; and James B. Weaver, '82 of Des Moines.

For vice-president the following have been nominated: R. J. Bannister, '03 of Des Moines; Charles A. Dewey, '01 of Washington; John M. Grimm, '09 of Cedar Rapids; and Henry G. Walker, '06 of Iowa City.

One man from each district as follows is to be selected: first district, Glenn Devine, '22 of Fairfield; Walker Hanna, '14 of Burlington; second district, Lawrence A. Block, '22 of Davenport; Walter M. Davis, '28 of Iowa City; M. E. Purcell, '09 of Clinton.

Third district, Leo H. Cohrt, '22 of Waterloo; Max Cadesky, '23 of Dubuque; four district, Garfield Breese, '08 and Richard E. Roney, '26, both of Mason City; fifth district, Frank Byers, '04 of Cedar Rapids; M. W. Hyland, '11 of Tama; John K. Von Lackum, '20 of Cedar Rapids; sixth district, J. C. Eichhorn, '18 of Oskaloosa; C. C. Updegraff, '10 of Sigourney.

Shuttlerworth, '24 of Cedar Rapids; James A. Devitt, '97 of Oskaloosa; Stanton S. Faville, '24 of Mount Airy; S. D. Malden, '10 of Council Bluffs; Seth Thomas, '10 of Port Dodge; and Byron Stifford, '16 of Sioux City.

Carl Cone to Head Chamber of Commerce

Organization Selects Officer for 1930 Last Night

Officers of the local chamber of commerce for the year 1930 were elected last night at a meeting held for that purpose in the American Legion building. Carl Cone, local manager of the Northwestern Bell telephone company, was chosen president, and Verne W. Bales of Stillwell's paint store, vice-president, while J. A. Pardon, treasurer, and D. W. Crum were re-elected.

The retiring officers are Rollin M. Perkins, president, and E. A. Chappell, vice-president. Three members, E. L. Boerner, A. B. Sidwell, and E. H. Lauer, were selected to serve on the welfare board. The chamber gave a vote of thanks and appreciation to the members of last year's board, Rollin M. Perkins, E. A. Chappell, and D. W. Crum.

Six new members, C. A. Bowman, H. D. Breene, Harry Bremer, E. H. Lauer, W. L. Bywater, and Carl Cone were elected to the chamber of commerce board to take the place of E. A. Chappell, Ira J. Houston, Leo Naege, Henry Walker, Rollin M. Perkins, and Frank Zethamel. Last year's members who will retain their positions are Verne W. Bales, E. L. Boerner, F. C. Ensign, W. J. Hayek, A. B. Sidwell, and Roy Spencer.

Matters pertaining to the airport and numerous other problems were considered, but no action was taken.

Parrot Fever Causes Alarm

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Federal health officials viewed with concern tonight the additional deaths and illnesses attributed in press reports to the strange malady contracted from parrots, psittacosis.

With three new deaths reported, the list mounted to five. At the same time, 15 other cases of serious illness believed to be what is called parrot fever were reported, bringing those on which the public health service has information almost to 50.

The malady appeared in several widely separated cities shortly after the Christmas holidays. The deaths reported today were those of Miss Catherine Tierney, 67 years old, housekeeper of a Toledo church parsonage; Mrs. William Burns, who died in a Baltimore hospital; and one person of a Hollis, Queensborough, New York, family, whose name was withheld.

The deaths of Mrs. Louis Schakfle, in Baltimore last Friday, and of Mrs. William Shields, in Pittsburgh last week, were attributed to the disease.

In Toledo, the city health commissioner is investigating three new suspected cases. The four-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. Shields is seriously ill in Pittsburgh, and her sickness as well as that of Mrs. Shields' 13-year-old daughter was considered likely to be psittacosis.

At New Haven, Conn., Mrs. Alice Hotchkiss, 59 years old, was reported to be in a critical condition from what was thought to be the same disease.

TWO OBTAIN PAPERS DES MOINES, (AP)—Nomination papers were obtained from the secretary of state by C. W. Files of Cerro Gordon county and A. H. Mounce of Van Buren county, republicans seeking re-election to the state house of representatives.

CHAPTER I In a bedroom at the Hotel Felton, not far from Washington Square, Alan Brennan was struggling with his tie. It had looked a good tie when he bought it, thick and lustrous; but now, under his nervous fingers, it was thinning to the dimensions of a shoe lace. He tugged frantically—and the silk split.

Alan laughed. His laughter steadied him. He looked round his littered belongings and compared them with the dingy walls and hangings. Against such a background even the most battered of his leather cases looked opulent. What had made him pick out this place? He answered his own question and the answer steadied him still further.

"I came back here because, in a sense, I started from here. I wanted to show myself that I've done what I set out to do. It's so curious, but I had a real—was struggling with the dingy walls and hangings. Against such a background even the most battered of his leather cases looked opulent. What had made him pick out this place? He answered his own question and the answer steadied him still further.

King Winter Reigns; Torments Mercury

Old king winter reigned delightfully yesterday in his heavily snow laden kingdom, as his snow flakes romped, covering trees and buildings with a wet, clinging snow.

At 7 a. m. yesterday the thermometer had reached 31 degrees above zero and remained practically the same throughout the day. But, during the afternoon, king winter gave vent to a sudden rage and whistled around the corners with a sharp, biting wind, sliding the thermometer down to 15 above at 7 p. m.

Forty hundredths of an inch precipitation was recorded here yesterday, and it was noted that the ice on the Iowa river was sinking, causing the waters along the sides to rise, stopping foot crossings.

Snow Blanket Covers Iowa

Varies From Inch To Foot; Plows Work

(By The Associated Press) Iowa tonight lay under a blanket of snow varying from a few inches to more than a foot in thickness. Though the fall started early in the day, railroad and automobile traffic was not hindered due to the wetness of the flakes which did not drift badly before a rising west wind.

A cold wave riding upon the wind, the government weather bureau said, brought with it temperatures of around zero for the eastern and central portions of the state.

The fall was the heaviest of the winter. The flakes fell slowly throughout the day, causing the state state highway commission to order out most of its snow plows in an effort to keep the primary roads passable. In Chickasaw, Mitchell, and Howards counties the snowplow worked only for a short time after the district engineer found that the snow drifted into the roads faster than it could be removed.

Railroads reported the fall of snow during the day as varying from a few inches to nearly a foot, with the heaviest fall in the southern portion of the state. Boone reported two inches, Charles City, 7, Des Moines, 9, Ottumwa, 6, Ft. Dodge, 3, and Mason City more than a foot.

Missing Pilots Die in Crash

AMSTON, Conn., Jan. 14 (AP)—Two watches, one initialed "W. A. K." and the other "D. M.," proved this afternoon to be the means of identifying airplane wreckage in the woods beside Lake Amston as that of the Fairchild cabin monoplane missing from Farmington, Ia., since last Friday morning, and determining that the two burned bodies were those of William Kirkpatrick and Daniel Marra, pilots.

The official opinion which was being held by C. W. Files of Cerro Gordon of Hebron, as soon as a claimant appears for the bodies which were taken late to Williamantic, 14 miles away.

The plane had crashed after collision with an oak tree which was on the outer edge of the woodland beside the lake and only 200 yards away from the water. Deep in the woods nearly a mile from the woods there was no help for the two pilots if they had lived after the crash. Fire completed destruction of the plane.

Watches carried by the airmen escaped destruction, however, and were found by those who first came upon the scene. One, a wrist watch, had the initials "D. M." and had stopped at 10:10.

He could remember her voice best when he could remember her actual words. To him it seemed she had old little tricks of phrases. "There had fallen a silence—a silence at the wrong time—a few minutes before she would have to go. He had offered her a penny for her thoughts.

"Well, really and truly—it was a favorite old gesture of hers and meant that she was going to lie—'really and truly, I was admiring myself.' He waited—and then came the truth. 'We've been together for an hour and twelve minutes and not by the faintest flicker of an eye-

House Heads Concentrate on Liquor Laws

Prepare Bill to Change Law Enforcing Department

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Willing house leaders concentrated today on President Hoover's assignment to revamp the ways and means of enforcing prohibition.

The manifold program of the administration and the law enforcement commission submitted to congress yesterday served to quiet the wet and dry talk as all sides sought to assimilate it; but by nightfall there were signs of new trouble.

Republican drys in the senate who have been critical of the Hoover policies were silent. It was pointed out privately by some, however, that no cognizance was taken in the reports received from the white house and the law enforcement commission of the demands for a clearing out of personnel or of complaints against leaks of industrial alcohol.

Hoover Asks Transfer

While administration leaders in the house were introducing the first of legislative proposals asked by Hoover—transfer of the prohibition enforcement agency from the treasury to the justice department—Republican wet, Representative Sabath of Illinois, was offering a measure for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Enactment of the new laws as a result of the drastic changes proposed by the law enforcement commission is to be carried out with a view to precluding any conflict with states in making their own laws effective. That this is directly in the mind of those backing the revisions was assured today in well informed circles.

Discuss Petty Offenses

The day's discussions at the capitol centered largely on the question of the constitutionality of the commission's proposal to turn petty offenders over for trial by United States commissioners. Chairman Norris of the senate judiciary committee, is one of those who has serious doubts of this proposal on the ground that it denies the constitutional guarantee to a trial by jury.

Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, a dry leader who pledged his full support to carrying out the Hoover legislation program on prohibition, has had pending a bill of this nature for three years out of the committee has been skeptical of its constitutionality. Representative McKewen of Oklahoma, a democrat put forward this measure in the one bill being prepared.

Taking stock of the prohibition situation after the storm of yesterday which veritably deluged congress with work, the leaders tonight settled back to await the transmission to the capitol by the administration of the legislation it recommended. Only one bill—transfer of prohibition from the treasury to the justice department—is definitely on its way.

Representative Williamson, republican, South Dakota, the chairman of the house expenditures committee, introduced this today and he will hold hearings on it next week.

The house wet bloc gathered briefly to survey the situation. The law enforcement commission legislative suggestions and the suggestion by Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, that as much as $200,000,000 should be spent on enforcement if necessary, were up for discussion. The meeting will be resumed tomorrow.

In the senate, where fierce debate on prohibition is expected, no heed whatever was given today to the Hoover recommendations as the tariff debate proceeded.

Senators Give Arguments on Sugar Tariff

Opponents of Increased Tax Hold Attention Entire Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Opponents of an increased sugar tariff and those favoring a bounty in its stead held the center of attention for another entire session today in the senate, which agreed just before recessing to vote on the question not later than noon Thursday.

While not coming out flatly for a bounty, Senator Borah, of Idaho, a leader of the republican independents, disputed the arguments that a higher levy would benefit domestic cane and beet sugar growers. He contended that an increased tariff would bring no relief so long as existing American relations with the Cubans and the Philippines continued and said he saw no prospects of these conditions changing for some time to come.

Favor Philippine Independence

He added that he favored Philippine independence and elimination of the 20 per cent sugar tariff preferential allowed Cuban imports to make extension of a domestic bounty unnecessary.

While the Cuban preferential was established on a humanitarian basis, he said, American capital now "is almost exclusively the capital which is producing sugar in Cuba and we are in fact giving a preferential to certain American capitalists who happen to be engaged in the industry outside the borders of the United States."

Dominate Markets

This preferential, he argued, amounted to a bounty in favor of these capitalists and permitted them to "dominate the sugar price in American markets."

Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, who drew an opinion from Borah that a bounty would be constitutional, said he favored a more liberal bounty than that of three quarters of a cent a pound proposed by Senator Howell, republican independent, Nebraska. Besides a reduced tariff rate, the New Yorker said he would be more inclined to vote for a bounty of one or one and a quarter cents.

Rain Adds to Flood Terror

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 14 (AP)—Approach of a new rainstorm from the west to add to the deluge which already is sweeping down the Mississippi and its tributaries inundating thousands of acres of lowlands, added gravity to the high water situation in the lower valley today as the first levee dynamiting of the present rise was reported. Levees, however, were holding fast.

Interior streams already were at or near the flood stage, while the big river itself crept up to 31.5 feet at Memphis, only 3.5 feet below flood stage, with 43 feet in prospect for Sunday.

At the office of the United States engineers here it was stated that levees along the Mississippi were capable of easily withstanding the pressure of all water now in sight. The resort to dynamite was reported today from Quitman county, Miss. Unidentified persons last night blasted a gap 20 feet wide in a roadway fill across Cassidy bay, two miles southwest of the town of Telen. Search for the dynamiters was futile.

Water backed up against the sill had spread over a wide section about Telen.

"I know you will make a fortune," Shirley was twenty then; she was most frankly in love with life, she was beautiful; her father's income could hardly be much under $9,000 a year. Shirley traveled and danced and yachted and rode and wore frocks like dew or like flowers and revelled in every minute of every day.

"There had been, or he thought there had been, a tiny pause before the "old Alan." It had lived in his memory as "Come back dear."

She had got up then and, bending across the tea-table, said quickly and prosaically, "I know, know you will make a fortune." And then she had flitted off ten minutes or so before there was any need, leaving him staring at the tea things.

Grads Meet First Time Since 1903

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 14 (AP)—Iowa university classmates of 1903 met here today for the first time since graduation when James H. Walker, local attorney, talked with C. C. Putnam of Des Moines, who is in Omaha as counsel for Harold Teachout of Des Moines, in the latter's divorce case.

Putnam was president of the class during their freshman year, Walker said.

League Acts to Encourage World Peace

Council Adopts Three Steps in Spirit of Kellogg Pact

GENEVA, Jan. 14 (AP)—The council of the league of nations today adopted three measures designed to encourage the cause of world peace and international good will.

The first was a step in executing the assembly's decision to amend the league covenant and bring it into harmony with the spirit and purpose of the Kellogg-Briand pact, which renounces aggression in war.

The second was a summons for an international diplomatic conference on Feb. 17 to consider a customs truce as a move for eliminating barriers to trade.

The third was a decision to name a special commission to determine the rights of Jews and Arabs at the walling wall in Jerusalem, which have been sharply contested by the two parties.

The council's action on the amendments to the covenant consisted merely in authorizing the appointment of a committee of eleven members to draft the proposed changes and submit them for consideration to the next assembly.

The discussion offered an opportunity for the pillars of the league to reaffirm their faith in the league's mission and efficacy. Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain, Foreign Minister Briand of France, and Secretary Von Schubert of the German state department, successively expressed the conviction of their governments that the proposed changes in the covenant do not indicate a loss of confidence in the league as an enduring institution and as the best means yet found for propagating the spirit of peace and discouraging the spirit of war.

Fire Sweeps Bank, Stores

BATTLE CREEK, Neb., Jan. 14 (AP)—Fire which was swept out of control for a time by a high wind and which near-zero weather made difficult to fight, this afternoon destroyed two business buildings and badly damaged a third.

The Battle Creek Valley bank and the Henry H. Schaeffer General store occupied the lower floors of the two buildings which were burned to the ground. The upper floors were occupied by physicians and general offices.

Money, securities and most of the fixtures of the bank were removed from the building, but all of the furniture and equipment of the offices on the second floor were destroyed, as was the entire stock and fixtures of the Schaeffer store.

The third structure, badly damaged by the flames, was occupied by a grocery store. It was damaged inside, but all the walls remained standing.

Fire fighting apparatus from Norfolk, Tilden and Meadow Grove responded to calls for assistance. Low water pressure, in addition to the raging storm, hampered the work of the fire fighters, and it was necessary to pump water direct from Battle Creek.

The fire was believed under control at 5 p. m. today. Water was being poured over the roof and walls of an adjoining drug store building. Hasty estimates of the loss caused by the flames ranged from $30,000 to $100,000, but an accurate check at this time is deemed almost impossible.

Human Flesh Becomes Diet in Cold China

Famine, Typhus, Takes Millions of Lives; Relief Hard

SHANGHAI, Jan. 14 (AP)—Harrowing stories of wholesale cannibalism were added today to the tales of horror recounted of famine and cold that are reported to have taken 2,000,000 lives in China within eight months. Another 2,000,000 persons are said to be doomed to die by starvation.

Typhus, grim sister of famine, is charged with the death of unnumbered thousands and 3,000,000 Mohammedan fanatics are accused of massacring all adult males of numerous villages of Kansu province.

George Andrews, a missionary born in Kansu province and just returned from nine months of relief work there, said that famine, disease and exposure in Kansu, Shensi and Shansi provinces had caused one of the most terrible situations ever experienced in China in which plagues of disease and famine are common and life is cheap.

Tredicks Worse Conditions Speaking of a statement from Peking that 2,000,000 had died in Shensi province of famine, Andrews said that conditions were far worse in Kansu where "85 per cent of the province is afflicted with famine."

"Prospects for the coming year," Andrews asserted, "are that northwest China probably will experience a plague of disease and famine that will be the worst within human memory."

Reduced to the last extremity by starving, people in Kansu province, said Andrews, are resorting to cannibalism. On many occasions he had witnessed flesh carved from bodies that lay in the roads and had seen it cooked and eaten by the desperate.

Tries to Stop Cannibalism The missionary told of authorities attempting at first to halt cannibalism and then abandoning efforts to stop it. One man, emaciated from hunger, said when brought before officials:

"Why should I be punished for eating what my dogs are eating?" Continuing his recital, Andrews said that dogs and wolves were consuming unburied bodies.

Relief work in these interior provinces of Shensi, Kansu and Shansi, explained Andrews, was extremely difficult because of the rugged mountainous country and difficulty of transporting supplies. He expressed sorrow that missionaries and relief organizations had been able to save only a small proportion of the afflicted.

Fieseler Negotiates for Position at S. Carolina University

Rumors that he is negotiating with the University of Southern California regarding a position similar to that which he held here until last year, were affirmed by Dr. Walter R. Fieseler, former medical supervisor of the Iowa athletic department. Since resigning as medical supervisor Dr. Fieseler has been acting as an associate professor in the college of medicine.

The former medical supervisor admitted yesterday that he has been negotiating with the Trojan officials for some time and expects a definite decision by the first of July. If he is given the position he will be the fourth Iowa man to become a member of the University of Southern California athletic staff. Head football coach Howard Jones resigned as coach at Iowa in 1924 and went to Duke university of North Carolina, where he coached a year before going to Southern California.

Aubrey Devine, one of Iowa's greatest backfield men, and an all-American quarterback, is now assistant coach with Jones. Justin M. (Sam) Barry resigned as head basketball mentor at the University of Iowa last spring to take the same position at the Trojans' school.

University Theater Gives Production

A well-filled house greeted the opening performance of the university theater production, "The Butter and Egg Man," in the natural science auditorium last night. The play will be produced again tonight and tomorrow night.

"The Butter and Egg Man" is a modern play filled with fast and snappy dialogue, centered about the theatrical adventures of a small town investor in a New York play. The play is light and humorous. It is given under the direction of Charles Brown.

again to realize things. The successful culmination of seven years' struggle, the professional and social solidity that could never again be challenged, the two and a half millions lying at his bank—nothing dream-like about these. And yet till now his waking consciousness had not fully grasped them; perhaps because, till now there had been no time.

This was his first holiday after seven grinding Mexican years. With that thought came at last a genuine relaxation; and with the relaxation came the memories that were the only measure of his achievement.

First Military Ball Held in 1895; 80 Couples Attended

Used Flags, Sabers, Stacked Rifles, Cannon as Decorations; Wore Cadet Uniforms

By HARRIET M. OTTO

Perhaps if she were asked, it would be found that even grandmothers danced as the band struck up the two step at one of the Military Balls back in the '90's. How different she would find the thirty-second Military Ball to be given Friday evening in the Iowa Union from that first one held 35 years ago in Smith's Armory, Feb. 26, 1895.

The ball was arranged by a committee consisting of the commandant, the cadet captains, and several others, and tickets sold for a single dollar. The armory was decorated with flags and sabres with rifles stacked in various places about the hall. In one corner one of the cannons was placed. Approximately 80 couples attended.

The following year on St. Valentine's day, the second battalion ball was given for the benefit of the Athletic Union. The third Military Ball was given on Feb. 12, 1897. There was a small deficit incurred at this affair and due to that and the advent of the Spanish American war the series was discontinued for a few years.

The ball was revived with the giving of the fourth ball in 1902 and has been an annual affair since that time. Gov. and Mrs. A. B. Cummins and the governor's staff were present at that ball which was given in Smith's Armory on April 18. A review by the governor took place in the afternoon, followed by a dinner given by Pres. and Mrs. George E. MacLean for the governor's party and the cadet officers. The dance in the evening was said to have proven most popular, with a total attendance of 93 couples, a new attendance record for university parties.

The decorations for the balls have always been elaborate and before the war in particular they became so ornate that the work covered two or three days. The decorations were always carried out in red, white, and blue with flags or intricate designs of bayonets or sabres worked in. The cadets have always worn their cadet uniforms except for a few years after the change to the olive drab uniform when civilian full dress was customary.

The Military Ball has the distinction of being the oldest of the annual university parties which are still being given, the first to make extensive use of decorations, and the first to introduce leather, celluloid, and metal dance programs.

Pastor From Oregon State to Talk Here

The Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara who will speak on "Better Possessions" at the vesper services Sunday, Jan. 19, is a friend of the Rev. John E. Ross of the school of religion. Father O'Hara has been carrying on work in the field of social improvement in rural communities.

A native of Minnesota, Father O'Hara took his undergraduate work at the University of Minnesota. Since being ordained into the priesthood he has held many positions in the Catholic church. For some years he was pastor of the cathedral in Portland, Ore. While occupying this position, he became interested in the problem of religious advantages for rural Catholics.

He worked on the theory that cities are recruited largely from country districts, and that if the Catholic church loses its members in the country by failing to provide for them, it will make little difference what is done in the cities. In the interests of rural Catholics, he resigned his pastorate of the cathedral in Portland, and accepted a parish in Eugene, Ore.

This brought Father O'Hara into contact with the problem of affording religious influences at Oregon state university. He threw his influence into the direction of a school of religion, and plans are under way there for a department similar to the Iowa school of religion.

Recently Father O'Hara has been director of the Catholic rural life bureau with headquarters at Washington, D. C. One of his principal activities has been the development of vacation schools for Catholics. Last year several hundred of such schools were in operation under the auspices of the Catholic rural life bureau, reaching thousands of Catholic children who, otherwise, would have been almost without religious instruction. These schools last five weeks, five days a week, three hours a day.

Father O'Hara has written several books and pamphlets on the question of religious education and conditions of Catholics in this country as well as delivered college and university lectures.

The vesper services Sunday will be held in natural science auditorium at 4 p.m. The Rev. M. Willard Lampe of the school of religion has charge of the program.

Frivol to Feature Take Off on Party

An expose of the Military Ball, including the name of the honorary cadet colonel, whose identity has been carefully guarded by the Military Ball committee, as a surprise number on the party program Friday night, will be one of the features of the "Party" issue of Frivol, to be distributed today.

Other parties on the campus during this year will also be discussed, and the winners of the theater ticket contest for the best jokes submitted will be announced. This is the fourth issue of Frivol this year. It will be sold on the campus by the Phi Mu sorority.

Carmela Donohue Elected President of Hesperia Group

The election of officers took place at the regular meeting of the Hesperia literary society which was held yesterday evening at 7:15 p.m. in the women's lounge at the Iowa Union.

The new officers installed are: Carmela Donohue, C3 of Davenport, president; Opal Robertson, A3 of Council Bluffs, vice president; Helen Jean Brandt, A1 of Davenport, secretary; Joan Reinhart, A3 of Marion, treasurer; Mary Louise Stewart, A1 of Keota, sergeant at arms, and Christine Eubank, A3 of Des Moines, critic and parliamentarian.

The retiring officers are: Helen Papes, A4 of Marion, president; Marie Busler, A4 of Cedar Rapids, vice president; Dorothy Readhead, C4 of Lenox, secretary; Norrine Stokke, A4 of Eagle Grove, treasurer; Mary Louise Fleming, A4 of Ipava, Ill., sergeant at arms; and Margaret Echin, A4 of Iowa City, critic and parliamentarian.

The usual business was transacted and it was decided that the members of the society will meet at the Newberg studio next Tuesday, Jan. 21, at 7:15 p.m. to have a group picture of the club taken for the Hawkeye. There will be no regular meeting until after exams.

Bartow Elected To Engineering Group

Prof. Edward Bartow of the chemistry department has been elected to membership of the executive committee of sanitary engineers, a division of the American society of civil engineers. He will begin a five year term on the committee this month.

Because of his trip in the Orient, Professor Bartow will not be able to meet with the committee until he returns next spring.

Criminal's Methods Help Psychologists Aid Detectives

What the modern detective needs for greatest efficiency in bringing the criminal to justice is the scientific cooperation of the psychologist. It is revealed by Dr. John A. Larson, a university psychiatrist.

The psychologist aids the detective at the scene of the crime in the discovery of clues, he assists in the capture of the suspect, he cooperates in obtaining the first statement or confession, and he uses his scientific knowledge in determining the truth of the suspect's utterances.

Operation of a system of classification of criminals and recognition of their manner of working often results in the suspect's apprehension, Dr. Larson said.

As example, he cited clues to a criminal's personality left at the scene of the crime—a burglar may work between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening, attack one-story, five-room bungalows, enter through a pantry window, pull down the shades, turn on the lights, wear gloves, and be disorderly in search for valuables.

No Two Men Work Alike

Another robber, Dr. Larson pointed out, may be a porch climber, attack three-story buildings, work neatly, and operate with the shades up. No two individuals work in an identical fashion, so all of these items are determined by habit and personality differences.

Some kind of clues are always left, and the fact that one man apparently may leave no traces is in itself a description. After broadcast of the crime's details, the same worker may be located in another state.

Once the suspect has been taken into custody, the psychologist again assumes a prominent position, for he must check the story with the object of ferreting out deception, according to Dr. Larson.

Psychological Tests Important

Varied tests now are employed, the most important classes being association tests and the use of physiological criteria. Within the last 10 years, physiological tests have come into wide use to determine whether the suspect is telling the truth.

Among these physiological experiments are blood pressure, respiration, muscular, and moisture changes. Such tests, said the university man, are of great value in securing objective data on the suspect's guilt or innocence and eliminating innocent persons in spite of adverse testimony, and even of their own confessions.

Child Conservation Club Elects Officers

Election of officers for the coming year took place at the regular meeting of the Child Conservation club, held in the home of Mrs. Charles Secrest, 924 E. Washington street, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. W. Kinney was elected president; Mrs. H. R. Jenkinson, first vice president; Mrs. W. L. Schenck, second vice president; Mrs. W. R. Kern, secretary, and Mrs. C. E. Shannon, treasurer.

Annual reports for the past year were given by all officers and committee members. New committee members will be appointed by the

Authors' Club at Women's Play Meet

A game of authors using only Iowa authors and books was prepared by Mrs. M. A. H. Jones and presented at the meeting of the literature department of the Iowa City Women's club at the home of Mrs. Ida Yetter, 519 S. Summit, yesterday. The afternoon was spent playing the game which was modeled after the game of authors.

A general social hour and tea followed the card playing.

SEEK DOCTORS PAROLE
CRESTON, (AP)—Judge Charles A. Dewey Thursday will head the application to revoke the parole of Dr. C. W. McColm of New Market in federal district court here. McColm was paroled in 1926 when sentenced to two years in the federal penitentiary at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., on a narcotic charge. Revocation of his parole is asked by the district attorney on the ground that McColm since has been accused in Taylor county of performing an illegal operation.

Waking Up

THE biggest problem that now confronts the federal government in the enforcement of prohibition is the congested condition of the federal courts," says Prohibition Commissioner Doran. The Jones law, which provides for prison sentences of five years and fines up to $10,000 for liquor convictions, was claimed to be responsible for a decrease in arrests during the last year.

The great congestion of the courts is no doubt a handicap in the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and something ought to be done about it, but what? A new policy of prohibition control was proposed by Commissioner Doran. That of greater border vigilance. Such a step is one in the right direction. It is the depredations of the large scale smugglers and liquor leaders that are causing the government the greatest trouble and expense.

All prohibition forces will be consolidated into a constabulary in order to more successfully handle immigration, and to put a check on border smuggling. The federal force is to be used mainly as a preventative against the importation of liquor from without, and to regulate the manufacture and distribution of industrial alcohol and medicinal liquors.

It is time that some change was made in the policy of the government in respect to prohibition enforcement. If greater efforts were taken to stop the importation and smuggling from Canada and Mexico a great benefit would certainly have been accomplished. More attention should be given to the apprehension and punishment of the leaders of the bootlegging "game" instead of crowding our courts with amateur criminals.

Bad Checks

AT THE University of Illinois recently two writers of invalid checks were made to pay more than the full penalty for their mistake. One check was made out for $1, the other for $2, and in each instance, the business men to whom the checks were made out, took the matter to civil authorities without consulting the writers. The students were not given any chance to "make the check good" before action was taken. They weren't given any opportunity to defend themselves or rectify their mistakes.

One was fined $5, the other $550, several times more than the face value of the check. There is no question as to the unjustness of the action. The checks were written in good faith and the writers deserved some consideration in the matter. They should at least have been given an opportunity to settle the matter out of court.

It is true that the "bad check evil" should be stamped out, but in most instances, if the merchant would notify the writers of bad checks before turning them over to legal authorities, the matter could and would be settled amiably to the satisfaction of both parties.

University of Iowa students in general have been treated most fairly in the writing of bad checks. The majority of merchants give the student the benefit of the doubt with the result that a feeling of friendly cooperation has arisen between the two and both are working toward the same end—the stamping out of the evil.

Nothing can be accomplished without this feeling of cooperation. It seems a pity that the merchants of Champaign and Urbana do not realize the fact.

What They Are Doing

THERE have been a few who criticized Iowa City for making the forward step necessary to purchasing an airport and placing it under municipal control. We know no better way of answering these persons than listing just a few of the airport projects under way in this country at the present time. These knockers can then draw their own conclusions, as can the many progressive citizens who backed the local airport project, and who are extremely interested in the future of aviation.

New Orleans, La.—Improvement to Menafee Airport. Additional land will be cleared, heating system installed in rooms and an instrument service made available.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Addition to hangar, municipal airport. Lean-to completed and heating equipment being installed.

Biloxi, Miss.—Municipal airport work has been started and is progressing favorably under the direction of the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce.

Tusculum, Ala.—Municipal airport. Several sites available and being surveyed.

Hartford, Conn.—Improvement to airport at Brainerd field. Improvements include installation of weather bureau equipment, and additional field lights.

Tampa, Fla.—Improvements to airport, Drew field, Tampa municipal airport. Installation of complete lighting system. J. N. Holmes, county commissioner, and Capt. A. B. McMullen in charge of improvements.

Valdosta, Ga.—New municipal airport. Site selected, 140 acres. Improvements include installation of three 3000-foot runways. Plans call for mail stop at Valdosta.

Tyler, Tex.—Improvements to airport. Improvements include erection of hangar, 100x100, and 12-100 lean-to. Runways to be 4500 feet long.

Dallas, Tex.—Improvements to airport at Love field. Application for permit to clear field and construct concrete apron. Replacement of boundary lights and installation of compass compensator will also be undertaken.

Greenville, Tex.—Municipal airport, site selected three miles from business center. Improvements will include erection of hangars. Field, 200 acres, sandy disposition, allowing take-offs and landings in any direction.

Jefferson City, Mo.—Improvements to airport of Jefferson School of Aviation. Student club building in process of construction; new mechanics building just completed.

Winfield-Arkansas City, Kans.—Joint airport of Winfield and Arkansas City, Kans. Site selected; 90-day option taken on 160-acre tract midway between two towns on paved highway.

Hobbies For Health

IF YOU would be healthy, as well as happy and wise, develop a hobby. This is the advice which Dr. C. O. Sappington, director of the industrial health division of the national safety council, gives to those who are aspiring for perfect health.

We are inclined to believe he is right. An absorbing hobby in which a man is vitally interested will keep him from losing his mental balance when everything else seems to have gone awry. The student who has an eager interest in some avocation or hobby will have little time to make mountains out of molehills.

Magazine articles describing the hobbies of many famous men have captured a good proportion of public interest. Perhaps it is a plan which even the humble university student could find meritorious. The young man with a hobby in which he is constantly interested and curious possesses a health insurance policy with no premiums to pay.

A Dangerous Joke

AND we still have with us the practical joker!

Police at Grand Rapids, Mich., are searching for the boys who placed lighted cigarettes in the pockets of a blind man of that city. Fortunately the man was not burned although his clothes caught fire.

It is most certainly a perverted sense of humor which can derive any pleasure in tormenting others. If these misled "clowns" could realize that their efforts to be witty are merely disgusting and if they would stop to consider the possible results of their actions, a great many pitiful accidents could be prevented.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Gordon C. Gauss

Iowa City, already covered with a blanket of snow, received a fresh coating Monday night and for the first time this year the full beauty of winter was evident. The comparatively mild temperature caused the snow to trim trees and light wires, while university buildings were majestically framed in the white setting.

While a snowfall, heavy for this vicinity, covers this section of the United States, on the opposite side of the world, in Russia people are worried because the fall has been so slight. In the neighborhood of Moscow, where snow usually is so heavy that traffic must be by sled, the summer vehicles with wheels are in style.

This phenomenon is causing the concern among the soviet officials because the slight covering is not enough to protect the wheat, which was planted in autumn, in case of a severe cold snap. Should this crop be killed it would materially handicap the government's five year economic reorganization. This plan, it is believed, will treble Russia's present commercial activity, and double that which existed under the old Czarist regime.

Talk of freedom has not perished from the world. In Egypt Premier Nahas Pasha opened the recent session of parliament with a message which he hopes will culminate in a treaty lessening the British pressure on his country. In Iceland, a small island in the North Atlantic lying halfway between the old world and the new, there is much talk of a republic. At present the island is nominally the property of Denmark, but leaders are working to secure complete independence before the end of the year.

A republic in South America—Uruguay—is in distress with a prospect of a revolution threatening the country. Government officials are concentrating the national funds at Montevideo, the capital, and have sent troops into the northern part of the country in an effort to retain control. Stability in Latin American countries and especially in small ones—has not been entirely established.

Over in Iraq, a semi-barbaric country in western Asia, the king of Hedjaz has at last succeeded in subduing his chief antagonist, a desert shiek named Faisal Ed Dowish. The king, Ibn Saud, ran his enemy into an oasis at the southern border where the king's British allies settled them. Ever since Ibn Saud acceded to the throne of Hedjaz, after the world war, the two shieks have been bitter enemies.

Such incidents as these, taking place in a supposedly peaceful world, are given little notice by the average American. The reason is that they are of little concern to him, and have little consequence in the world. But to those small countries involved—and the people who live in them—they are of momentous consequence. The western world is now concerned with business, and so long as business is good there is little time for interfering with petty political squabbles of unimportant nations.

President Hoover's law enforcement commission has reported, and that report has been pounced upon by both the wets and the dries. This was expected. The wets are dissatisfied because it did not condemn prohibition, and the fanatical dries are in arms because it did not prescribe a "cure-all." This occasion gives Hoover an opportunity to direct the country in its future course and prove himself a real statesman. Will he make the most of it, or will he straddle the issue?

The University of Iowa
Bulletins and announcements for the Official Daily Bulletin column must be in the hands of Lois Randall, 101 Journalism Building, in writing, by 4 p.m., or 11:30 a.m. on Saturdays, to appear in the following morning's Daily Iowan.
Vol. IV, No. 166 January 15, 1930

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester, 1929-1930

Saturday, January 25, 8:00 a.m. to Saturday, February 1, 12:00 p.m., 1930
The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except in French (2) and (4), and speech (2), as shown at N.B. below). The Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on the student's written petition filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.

Classes (except in freshman English, first and second year French, and Speech), (N.B. below), whose first meetings occur:
Monday at 8, meet for examination Tuesday, January 28, 10-12
Monday at 9, meet for examination Tuesday, January 28, 8-10
Monday at 10, meet for examination Friday, January 31, 8-10
Monday at 11, meet for examination Saturday, January 25, 10-12
Monday at 1, meet for examination Wednesday, January 29, 8-10
Monday at 2, meet for examination Thursday, January 30, 10-12
Monday at 3, meet for examination Thursday, Jan. 30, 10-12
Tuesday at 8, meet for examination Wednesday, January 29, 10-12
Tuesday at 9, meet for examination Saturday, January 25, 8-10
Tuesday at 10, meet for examination Saturday, February 1, 8-10
Tuesday at 11, meet for examination Friday, January 31, 8-10
Tuesday at 1, meet for examination Monday, January 27, 8-10
Tuesday at 2, meet for examination Tuesday, January 28, 2-4
Tuesday at 3, meet for examination Saturday, February 1, 10-12
N.B. All sections of freshman English will meet simultaneously in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting throughout the semester (or as noted below), Saturday, January 25, 1:10 to 3:10 p.m.

Sections OG and TT, UH 223
Sections Q and R, UH 223
Sections VV and EE, UH 306
Sections M and BB, LA 311

French 3, section L, LA 213
N.B. All sections of speech 1 will meet simultaneously in the buildings and rooms specified below, Wednesday, January 23, 2-4, according to the following schedule:

1. Chemistry Auditorium: AA BA CA DA AB BB CB DB AC BC CC DC
2. Geology Lecture Room: EA FA EB FB EC FC
3. Liberal Arts Auditorium: GA HA GB HB GC HC
4. Natural Science Auditorium: LA JA KA LA MA NA IB JB KB LB MB NB IC JC KC LC MC NC
"Odd" classes, whose first or only weekly meeting occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, or Saturday; or which meet "as arranged"; will be assigned for examination at either one or another of the following periods, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class:
Monday, January 27, 2-4
Thursday, January 30, 2-4
Friday, January 31, 10-12
It should be borne in mind that there is possibility of announcing two or more "odd" classes for any one or more of these three periods available for "odd" classes. Therefore, in connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes. Since very few students in French (2) and (4) will also be in "odd" classes, it is possible for certain "odd" classes to be accommodated during the period provided for these classes in French, subject to the precaution suggested in the second sentence of this paragraph.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester examination program, "The instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit, provided he holds the class for the full period.

She said she knew she was nothing but an exuberant young animal and she had no quarrel with the fact. She said she could not and would not have life otherwise and so long as the fifty thousand a year could buy her what she liked she would take and take and take. She said in effect—"Come back, dear—old Alan, but only with enough to give me all I want forever and ever, amen."

Incidentally, acquired one. He had gone to set in working order a mine in which his father had sunk most of his money, all his home, and finally, his health. Alan had set the mine going—and another mine as well—and there had been subsidiary enterprises. Now there were the millions at the bank and the best years ahead, for Alan was only 35. But he looked at least ten years older. In a year Mexico can make any young man look 45—and Mexico has been given a full seven years to blot out the last traces of boyishness in Alan Brennanway. It was the sun, of course, that had parched his skin, but the sun alone could hardly have turned his black hair to iron gray. There had been disease, disappointment, dirt to account for that—camps in the paralyzing heat, flies and filth and human depravity. . . . The gray hair brought the vivid blue of his eyes into greater significance, but he could not guess that. He stared, frowning, dissatisfied. Thank heaven, he had kept fit—but that was all there was to it. . . . His thoughts flashed back to Shirley. (TO BE CONTINUED)

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Cash wheat offerings were very small today, the tone ruled steady and the basis was called unchanged. Only one car sold at 1.16 1/2 for No. 5 hard. Shipping sales amounted to 20,000 bushel; receipts 8 cars; deliveries 5,000 bushel and warehouse receipts cancelled for shipment of 11,300 bushel No. 2 hard. . . . Good demand existed for all but the light weight cash corn grades, which ruled 1/8c easier on basis. The basis for top grades was steady to 1/8c firmer. Prices were called steady to 1/8c higher. Shipping sales were 70,000 bushels, inspected receipts 184 cars, and bookings to arrive in small lots estimated at 50,000 bushels. Cash oats were rather slow but firm in tone. The basis was steady and prices unchanged to 1/8c firmer. Shipping sales were 108,000 bushels. There were 16 cars inspected. No country offerings to arrive.

A Sensational Tale of Adventure and Romance

Women never recognize love until it's endangered

Shirley had sworn she didn't love Alan and turned him down to marry handsome, irresponsible Roger.

And six months after their marriage Roger embezzled Alan's fortune and was secure in the knowledge that he wouldn't be prosecuted because of Shirley.

And then with one brave gesture, Shirley tumbled her house of cards to ruin, and put herself outside the pale of the Society she thought she loved better than any man.

Roger was her legal husband, a thief and roue who dared her to grasp for happiness and freedom.

Alan was just "the other man" in the eyes of the world, yet he offered her a love that built a new world, far more glorious than the sham glitter she had sacrificed for his sake—and her own.

"Master of Money" is a great tale of the happiness found outside the pale of convention. Roy Vickers, one of America's most widely-read newspaper serialists, has unfolded a fine story based on the pivotal point of modern society.

Hawkeye Quintet Uses New Combination in Drill for Bradley Tech Game

Iowa Cagers Improve in Scrimmage

Bradley Presents Five With Clean Slate; May be Tough

Still holding to his latest combination—the lineup that held Missouri to the closest margin of the season—Coach Rollie Williams utilized yesterday's workout to perfect the timing, passing, and general execution of the Hawkeye plays.

The Hawks are giving considerable attention this week to their stalling game, the lack of which was chiefly responsible for Saturday night's defeat. Although there was decided improvement in technique yesterday, the workout was deplorably deficient in vim, vigor and vitality, the things which characterized last week's sessions and held the Tigers to a 25-24 score.

Coach Williams' present plans are to retain his Missouri lineup, the sophomore pair, Hildreth and Williamson at the forward posts, Spradling center, and Reinhardt and Kinnaman, guards, with Jebens ready to step into either place.

Fresh Good Competition

Early in yesterday's session, a group of fresh were brought on the floor and proved to be rough and ready and very nearly a match for the Hawkeye mentor's new combine. Toward the end of the workout, Coach Williams sent in a reserve combination consisting of Rogge and Ehlmann, forwards; Simpson, center, and Jebens and Diwocky, guards. Pitted against still another fresh quintet, the reserves tasted a good wallop.

Composed of Dierks and Jones, forwards; Brady, center; and Schmidt and Reiger, guards, the yearling five succeeded in breaking up variety plays and kept possession of the ball most of the time.

Ready Onset

The Hawkeyes face the problem of regaining their Saturday night fire before they meet the Bradley Tech quintet this week-end. With a record not only of consistent high scoring but also consistent victory, the unbeaten Tech team has three seniors in its lineup.

Mason, the senior forward, was high point man last year. Captain McQueen is the sensational senior who will face Spradling at center, and Becker, the third senior, has decided basket making tendencies.

In the Little Nineteen circuit, Mason and McQueen were all-conference selections in 1928 and 1929, and Steiner, an angular sophomore, has beaten a senior, Harms, out of a regular forward position. In addition to this imposing array of basketball headlines, the Peorians defeated Illinois, now conference leader, 30 to 22 last month.

The bulk of Iowa's scoring will probably be made by Spradling, who has totaled 39 in six games to lead the squad, and Williamson who came out from under the bushel as a reserve to make one-third of the markers against Missouri. To date the other Hawkeye scorers include Hildreth, 22; Kinnaman, 15; and Reinhardt, 11.

W. F. Carey Toasted in Testimonial Dinner in New York City

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, was dining and toasted tonight at a huge testimonial banquet by the "600 millionaires club" famous organization of wealthy business men organized by the late Tex Rickard.

Despite the absence of two other guests of honor, Bobby Jones and Gene Tunney, all the wit and wisdom of the various sporting units was loosed upon the gathering in short speeches. Mayor James Walker acted as toastmaster.

"Big Bill," who succeeded Rickard as the head of the Garden activities, was presented with a large plaque by the "millionaires" club in appreciation for his labor in promoting the heavyweight match last February in Miami Beach, Fla., between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling.

THE BIGGER THEY ARE—

Primo CARNERA

American fans are always sarcastically skeptical concerning the championship qualities of huge beefy boxers, particularly foreigners; but they are wont to pay in large numbers to see such big boys tumble. And so a prospector if not a successful New Year seems to lie ahead of Primo Carnera, the 6-foot 11, 280-pounder who was recently imported from Italy to add interest to our sluggish heavyweight situation.

Carnera is indeed a physical marvel and he may surprise many when more experienced in the ring. Thus far, Primo has smashed down a few obscure European bruisers and figured in two rather lively bouts with William (Young) Stribling, winning and losing on a foul in each instance.

Carnera is indeed a physical marvel and he may surprise many when more experienced in the ring. Thus far, Primo has smashed down a few obscure European bruisers and figured in two rather lively bouts with William (Young) Stribling, winning and losing on a foul in each instance.

If this Latin Leviathan would, or could, learn to box with the technique of experience, his championship dreams might be realized, but the chances are he will be rushed into the ring against our better-class trial horses and he probably will be

Phi Kappa vs. Phi Delta Chi.
Only game scheduled.
LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS
Phi Kappa 26; Phi Kappa Sigma 14.
Phi Kappa Psi 16; Beta Theta Pi 7.

Considering the fact that Phi Kappa Psi's have a lot of fancy notions about copping the interfraternity championship, their difficulty in defeating Beta Theta Pi was very disturbing. The Phi Psi's looked anything but impressive as they took the last game on their schedule.

They are now tied with Sigma Pi for first place in section III. The tie will be smashed in a play-off game with the Sig Pi's Thursday evening, in order that all title disputes will have been settled and everything in readiness to commence the finals next week.

The Betas annoyed the Phi Psi's the opening period but were behind, 7 to 3. Phi Psi's retained a four-point lead at the close of the second session, 9 to 5. A last round flurry of goals made the final count 16 to 7.

Hay starred for the victors with four field goals, and Hakes was runner-up for scoring honors with two baskets. Day, Hantelman, and Amundsen made field goals for the Betas.

Little Hawks Bow to Alums in Practice

Red and White Prepare for Washington High, Cedar Rapids

The Little Hawks bowed to a team composed of alumni members in a practice game, last night, by a count of 19 to 16. The tilt was played as a conditioner for the Washington high of Cedar Rapids game which takes place here next Saturday afternoon at 3:30. Wild passes and missed baskets were frequent on both sides.

While the Red and White defense was good their offensive power was lacking and on many occasions lost the ball before they had a chance to score. Lester Glick was the outstanding player for the high school and, in addition, accumulated six points on three field goals. Shupert led the alumni in scoring by also gathering six points.

Hawlets Score First

The Red and White scored first when Jud Soucek sneaked down the floor to drop one in from the side late in the period. Both teams missed many shots in the opening frame. Shortly after the second quarter opened, Capt. Howard Moffitt dribbled down the floor to make a short push shot. Horrabin fouled Glick as he attempted to shoot, but Glick missed both of his attempts for the charity tosses. Late in the second period, Shupert started the Alumni scoring by sinking a long shot from the center of the floor. The half ended with the high school leading 4 to 2.

The third period found both teams fighting so hard that roughness became inevitable and as a result the ball changed possession many times. Late in the period, Idema made a sensational shot from past the center of the court, to knot the count at 4-4.

Fast Last Period

Most of the counting took place in the final period. The Hawlets attempted to stop the Alumni scoring by changing defensive style, but the graduates continued to drop them in from all corners of the court, while the Wellsmen were forced to work the ball down within good scoring distance.

Capt. Moffitt and Lee Mathes, both injured in last Friday's game with Grant high took part in only part of the game.

Ough, Clinton Star, Joins "Skeet" Byers at DePaul University

Jimmie Ough—ex-fresh football, basketball, and track luminary of considerable promise at Iowa—will follow in the footsteps of "Skeet" Byers, DePaul university's amazing grid performer.

Ough matriculated here last fall and was showing great promise until Jan. 8 when he suddenly packed up his belongings and returned to his home in Clinton without making an explanation to his friends here. It became known yesterday that he will enter DePaul university next semester.

Byers began his college career at Iowa, but did not find the environment to his liking and transferred to DePaul. He was on the Hawk backfield during the Nick Kutsch era. Ough played end in football, was all-state center in basketball, six-foot high jumper and low hurdler.

FIGHTING COE TEAM BEATS CORNELL

MOUNT VERNON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A fighting Coe basketball team downed a listless Cornell five here tonight, 31 to 15, in a midwest conference game.

Taking an early lead which the Cornellians tied at 11 all at the half, the Kohawks outplayed their old rivals in the closing period and restricted the Purple scoring to a pair of field goals.

Johnstone, star Coe forward, counted five field goals and a trio of free shots to win high scoring honors; while Laft and Blackman at the guards afforded him excellent support.

Cornell was weakened by numerous substitutions and at no time could the Purple match the pace set by their rivals. Captain Weizer and Allen looked their best for Cornell.

WASHINGTON BEATS ST. LOUIS, 39-22

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14 (AP)—Paced by Red Sauselle, the Washington University Bears overwhelmed the St. Louis university Billikens tonight 39 to 22 although "Moose" Meyer, center and Springer, guard, were shut from the game on personal fouls. Sauselle counted 11 points while "Ham" Strong was high for the losers with 7. Washington led 20 to 8 at the mid mark.

Shute Takes Golf Honors in Big Meet

New Champ Collects $3,500 in Coast Tournament

RIVIERA COUNTRY CLUB, LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14 (AP)—Over the same flooded fairways and rain-soaked greens that proved a golfer's grave yard for America's greatest, there tramped today a little known disciple of the royal and ancient game to win the championship of the $10,000 Los Angeles 72-hole open.

Young Denny Shute, from Columbus, O., whose brief two-year career as a professional hardly rated him the honor of a gallery, hunched his shoulders into the wind and braved the torrential rains to post the respectable and winning score of 296. It exceeded by four strokes the efforts of such notables as Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., star, and Bobby Cruikshank, of New York, winner of the Los Angeles open in 1927. They tied for second place with 300.

Smith and Cruikshank started today's first round three strokes behind Shute but failed to make up the lead. Cruikshank saw his hopes shattered on the morning nine—Smith's chances faded away on the incoming stretch when on three holes he went over par figures.

Not brilliant golf but rather a steady game that clung close to Riviera's par 71 figures brought Shute laurels in the fifth open championship here, one of the biggest money events of the winter season. For the four rounds the mid-westerner posted scores of 73-74-75 and 74.

And for his efforts, Shute pocketed tonight $3,500, the winner's share. Cruikshank and Smith got $1,312.50 apiece.

SONNENBERG MEETS STRANGLER LEWIS

BOSTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, today signed a contract with Elwood H. Rigby of Philadelphia, to grapple Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former champion, in Miami, Feb. 14 or 24.

Moorhead School Girl Found Dead in Barn With Gun

MOORHEAD, Jan. 14 (AP)—The body of Miss Fern Smith 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Smith, residing on a farm four miles south of Moorhead, was found in a barn with a discharged shotgun beside it today. The indications were that the girl shot herself.

Miss Smith, a senior in Moorhead high school, arose about 5 o'clock this morning and left the house. When she did not return soon, a younger sister aroused the father who investigated. He found the body in the barn.

LOYOLA WINS 30TH

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Loyola university scored its thirtieth consecutive basketball victory tonight, defeating St. Xavier of Cincinnati, 18 to 13, after its hardest battle of the season. Both teams played defensive basketball, with most of the scoring coming in the first half, at the end of which Loyola had a four point lead.

Marquette U. Cops 26-22 Grinnell Tilt

Andrew Leads Team in Battle for Revenge

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 14 (AP)—Marquette took revenge tonight for a pre-season beating at the hands of Grinnell, scoring a 26 to 22 victory over the Iowans in a fast basketball game.

Taking the lead at the beginning of the game, the Hilltoppers held it all the way through. Utilizing long passes and frequently breaking through the Grinnell defense, they scored a number of goals from close under the basket.

Ramblers May Have Slight Edge in Annual Tilt

By BEN GIBSON St. Mary's and St. Pat's will oppose each other tonight in their annual game to decide the Iowa City parochial school championship.

The all-Irish game should prove to be the usual thriller. Both teams are in good shape for the tilt and the result seems to be a toss-up despite the poor record compiled by the Green and White of St. Patrick's this season.

Ramblers May Have Edge Although the Ramblers might be given an edge because of their record, they will meet a fighting team which has been rather unfortunate in its first few starts.

This and That in Sports

by Walter T. Hanson

Sam Barry, well known basketball mentor who left the University of Iowa last year to join the Southern California university coaching staff, has made an impressive start on his new duties.

Maybe some day the University of Iowa will have its Big Ten trouble. While the Western conference is handling the Hawkeyes in a roughshod way, and the Iowa leaders taking it into their hands and declaring a group of some 13 athletes ineligible for some minor infraction of rules, the Hawks have not battled back.

DeWitt Legion to Cut Capers

Annual Jamboree Will Feature Speakers

Edward L. O'Connor, commander of the second district of the American Legion of Iowa, and a member of the Roy L. Chopek post No. 17, has been chosen to act as toastmaster of the annual Legion business men's jamboree to be held under the auspices of the Legion post of DeWitt, Jan. 23.

The jamboree, which will begin with a dinner at 6:30, will have a program of speaking which includes Gov. John Hammill of Des Moines, Dan Turner of Corning, republican candidate for governor, and John Strom of Clinton, state fire marshal.

Entertainment will be under the supervision of Johnny Wright, big time vaudeville performer, who promises to secure acts that will favorably compare with anything of the eastern vaudeville circuits.

Many Legionnaires of the Iowa City post are expected to respond to the invitation that has been extended them by the DeWitt Legion men. Large delegations are also expected from Dubuque, Davenport, Rock Island, Moline, Muscatine, Cedar Rapids and Des Moines.

Another feature of this year's jamboree is the appearance of the Iowa City all-star basketball team in a game with the DeWitt team which will begin at 5:30.

Harding, Sharp File Articles; Will Form Implement Company

Articles of incorporation filed at the office of the county recorder yesterday provide for the establishment of a corporation to be known as the Johnson County Implement Company, incorporated. The articles are filed by R. A. Harding and V. L. Sharp, both of Iowa City, where the new corporation will do business.

The articles provide for the issuance of 100 shares of stock without par value. Harding and Sharp will act as directors of the company and the offices of president and general manager will be temporarily filled by the former while the latter will act as secretary and treasurer.

The company, which is incorporated with a proposed corporate period with the right of renewal, will deal in, buy, sell, distribute, and service farm machinery, motor trucks, tractors, and similar articles and will maintain a service station for those articles. The articles were filed with the secretary of state Dec. 22, 1929.

Mack Sennett Has "Pretty" Task Ahead

There's been a problem shifted to Mack Sennett, and it's a "beauty." Yesterday the photographs of 15 Iowa campus queens were sent to the Hollywood beauty mentor for him to select the most beautiful.

The movie producer will select six of the 15 beauties and one of the six as the most beautiful of all. These are to be announced at the Junior Prom by a representative of the Hawkeye staff.

The women whose photos were sent to Sennett were selected recently by popular vote of the students from a group of representative campus women. The contest was sponsored by the 1931 Hawkeye.

Hawley Talks To Kiwanians

Discusses American Provincialism

Provincialism of the present day was the subject of a talk by Charles A. Hawley, professor of religion, at the weekly luncheon of the Iowa City Kiwanis club yesterday noon at Red Ball inn.

Mr. Hawley remarked that many people of today are ignorant of conditions in parts of the country not immediately adjacent to their own locality. He cited as examples of this provincialism the fact that some easterners, having never traveled through the west, believe that the country is even today filled with buffalo and roving bands of Indians. The state of Ohio is west to them while Iowa to those living in the far west is looked upon as being in the east.

As a cure for this ignorance, Mr. Hawley urged that more people spend their vacations traveling about and becoming acquainted with their own country rather than going to foreign shores.

The various committees of the Kiwanis club informally discussed plans for the coming year. Ed Stratham of Des Moines was the guest of Clifford Palmer at the meeting.

The Kiwanis meeting next Tuesday will mark the fifteenth anniversary of Kiwanis and the program will probably be arranged in celebration.

Dr. Harry C. Parsons was admitted to the local Kiwanis club by transfer from the Watertown, S. D.

The Rev. W. C. Keeler of the Methodist church, of which Mrs. Wilson was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the family lot in the Oakland cemetery.

"Teddy," 700 Pound Star of "Revenge," Here for Exhibition

A famous traveler, wrestler and moving picture star is in Iowa City for a visit. However, he will make no luncheon club speeches or public addresses. He will not even appear on the streets for fear of starting a riot.

The paragon is six years old and weighs 700 pounds, being in prime condition. He has appeared in International Pathe pictures, his latest bit being with Dolores Del Rio in the production "Revenge." According to his manager, L. E. Goody, brother of Ralph Goody, 209 E. Bloomington street, who has been associated with him for the last four years as a trainer and owner, he is not vicious despite the fact that his strength is estimated at over 12 times that of an ordinary man.

He is the largest wrestling bear in the world and the only one ever seen on the stage without a ring in the nose. In addition, he is the only bear in the world to have his name, "Teddy," copyrighted.

While in Iowa City he will be on exhibition at Goody's Tire Service and Williamson Motor company, 205 S. Capitol.

Funeral Services for Otto Wyjack to Be Held Thursday

Gemmill on her promise to return to the home of her father, Fred Proust of Cedar Rapids, Ia. She planned to return home tonight.

Doctor Larson Reads Paper at Meeting of Philosophical Club

The Philosophical club held its first meeting of the new year last night in the home of Beth Wellman, 29 Byington road. Dr. John A. Larson of the psychopathic hospital, read an interesting paper entitled "Psychology and criminology."

Approximately 50 members of the philosophical club attended the lecture and were much impressed by the method and results which Larson puts into practice.

By means of slides which were shown on a screen, he illustrated the results he obtained in tracing crime. The graphs, as explained by Dr. Larson, show the positive results on questioning the criminals. In his talk he cited numerous cases which had been solved by this method, and which tended to make his talk one of the most interesting of its kind ever presented before the Philosophical club.

Faculty Reception Customs Undergo Change With Time

The University of Iowa has many and varied traditions, among which is the annual faculty reception which is to be held in the lounge at Iowa Union, Jan. 24. A few changes have been made in the reception plan during the many years since the custom was first inaugurated.

In the "old days," the receiving line was made up entirely of new faculty members, instructors and professors who had come to the university since the last reception. The entertainment was held at the home of the president of the university.

With the changing times and the increase in size of the faculty, the president's home was found to be too small, and the receiving line too long. Therefore, the annual event was transferred to the large room in the women's gymnasium and the receiving line was limited to only the most prominent newcomers.

A few years ago, the custom was again changed, the reception being held at Iowa Union, and those receiving being the deans of the various colleges and their wives. This precedent is being kept at the present time.

The purpose of these annual receptions is to acquaint the new faculty members with the old. They have always been held in the fall, heretofore, but this year, due to Pres. Walter A. Jessup's illness, the date was changed from Oct. 23 to Jan. 24.

"THE HORSE AWAITS WITHOUT" HISSED LORD DUZZLEBURT

"If you ask me," replied Aletia coldly, "you seem to have brought the hoarse in with you. The hoarseness of your voice repels me, sir! If you wish me to go buggy-riding with you, you'd better change to OLD GOLDS."

"When my heart leaves me, it will go to the man who smokes this queen-leaf cigarette. There's not a throat-scratch in a trillion."
