Major Sharpe
Sent to Post
in California

Major Herbert H. Sharpe, head of the medical unit here has been ordered by the war department, to the Presidio of Monterey in California. Major Sharpe will finish the present school year and in the early part of the summer will be stationed at the R.O.T.C. camp at Ft. Snelling. On or about Sept. 1 he will take his duties at his new post on Monterey Bay.

One of Major Sharpe's achievements while at the head of the medical unit here has been the building up of the General Hospital company 54. In the scheme of national defense, the university hospital has been designated as Base Hospital 84 and in time of war would be used for military purposes. In the event of such an emergency it would be operated by the personnel of the hospital company whose command is Maj. P. C. Jeans, head of the medical department, children's hospital. Under the tutelage of Major Sharpe the organization of this company has developed into an efficient unit that at the present time is nearly complete. The membership of the company includes members of the medical and dental units of the R.O.T.C. and also some nurses.

Major Sharpe was graduated from the Long Island Medical school in 1906 and from the Army Medical school in 1911.

Women Leaders Maintain That America's Womanhood Stands Behind Prohibition

Mrs. Henry W. Peabody Leads Fight Against Repeal; Drys Enter Third Day to Oppose Issue of Wets

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Two dozen women leaders who said they represented 12,000,000 of their sex throughout the country today maintained that the womanhood of America stands four square behind prohibition. Under the leadership of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of Beverly, Mass., chairman of the woman's national committee for law enforcement, they succeeded in presenting all their testimony before the house judiciary committee in opposition to repeal before a single question could be asked by members of the committee.

Women Rushed to Stand
In rapid succession, the women were rushed onto the witness stand by Mrs. Peabody, who limited their time, curbed the applause by enthusiastic drys in the crowded committee room and combated every attempt at interference or delay. Mrs. Peabody also presented statements from other prominent women who were unable to appear.

It was the third day for the dry forces before the group which earlier had heard seven days of argument by wets for repeal. With the exception of a few, cross-examination was completed at a prolonged afternoon session to make way for a statement from Dr. Clarence Trug Wilson, general secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church. It will be read tomorrow by Dees Pickett, secretary of the organization, as Dr. Wilson was obliged to leave the city this afternoon.

Mrs. Peabody Opens Meet
The hearing today was opened by Mrs. Peabody, who presented to the committee the political creed of the woman's national committee for law enforcement, the central organization linking many affiliated women's groups in the prohibition movement. This creed held the buyer of liquor equally guilty with the seller, advocated personal liberty for women who have "endured personal slavery through drunken husbands," and called for an organization of citizens' public safety groups, recognized and approved by the government to "safeguard observance and enforcement of law through the regular channels of government."

Jury Choice in Huckins Trial Nears Finish
Prosecution Wins Over Motion to Exclude Thompson
By THEODORE F. KOOP (Associated Press Staff Writer) CEDAR RAPIDS, March 12 (AP)—Selection of a jury to try George Huckins on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, occupied the afternoon session in Judge F. O. Ellison's district court here today.

Examination of the first panel of 16 prospective jurors was completed but preliminary challenges were withheld until tomorrow morning. Attorneys expected, however, that the completion of the jury selection would take only a few minutes. Judge F. O. Ellison removed one juror, L. A. Hren of Cedar Rapids when the defense challenged the juror for cause. Hren said G. K. Thompson, assistant county attorney, was legal counsel for his firm. The court overruled a defense challenge of C. R. Hetherington of Cedar Rapids who he had grown up with. County Attorney Carl Hendrickson and "would like to see him get along."

Argue for Thompson
The trial started this morning with an argument, won by the prosecution, over a defense motion to exclude G. K. Thompson, assistant county attorney, from aiding the state. Walter J. Barnsrover and S. Miller, defense counsel, claimed Thompson was a member of a law firm which had filed civil actions against Huckins, who is alleged to have operated with his father, Elmer S. Huckins, a financial scheme which paid dividends of 26 to 52 percent. Carl Hendrickson, county attorney, in reply, declared that Thompson, although a member of the law firm, had not participated in the filing of the civil suits.

Gamma Phi Beta, Sigma Kappa Win First Week Prizes
With the scant margin of two books, Gamma Phi Beta and Sigma Kappa shared first place honors in the first week of the Hawkeye sorority sales campaign, according to figures compiled late last night. Delta Zeta and Alpha Delta Pi, two other early leaders, were nosed out for the prize of the week. Both of the winning sororities will be awarded the six photograph records offered for first place.

Drive Officials Declared that Sales had been slow during the first week but that most of the sororities which are handling the project are becoming more completely organized. They predicted the peak to come sometime between today and the end of the contest, March 22. At that time the winning organization will be presented with a combination radio and phonograph.

Captains of the four leading teams are: Alpha Delta Pi, Louise Paisley, 44 of Farmington, Sigma Kappa, Alice Shaeffer, 42 of Keokuk; Delta Zeta, Mary Taggart, 43 of Spencer, and Gamma Phi Beta, Edith Vanderyl, 44 of Oskaloosa.

TIGERS MEET CARDS
TAMPA, March 12 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are looking forward to a keen struggle here tomorrow with the St. Louis Cardinals, when Hogsett, Wyatt and Herring, three of the best pitchers in the league, are expected to pitch. The Tigers are favored to win.

THE WEATHER
IOWA—Unsettled and much cooler Thursday, possibly local rain or snow; Friday partly cloudy or drizzly.

Shaw Lands From 1,000 Foot Altitude Though Motor Fails

Paul Shaw, local pilot, with Ted Ashford of Omaha, former university student, as a passenger, had to make a forced landing from an altitude of 1,000 feet at the local airport last night when his motor stalled. Shaw and Ashford were returning from Moline, where they had been to look over Ashford's plane, and were just above the city when the Eagle-Rock biplane's motor failed. Shaw landed without power barely missing a fence along the airport. Only boundary lights were on and he safely landed in the dark.

Petition Urges Drastic Cut in Naval Powers

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—While Prime Minister MacDonald today braced himself for a fight in the house of commons tomorrow, Foreign Minister Briand sought new methods of gaining French national security and the remainder of the five delegations attending the naval conference had something of a holiday.

As one vent of the conference today, 100 laborite members of the house of commons addressed a memorandum to the British and other delegations urging more drastic naval cuts than have been proposed heretofore in the seven weeks of negotiations.

State Limitations
The petitioners urge the British to propose abolition of the battleships within a fixed period, and urge further that within 18 months the construction of battleships be scrapped down to the level of 19-10-6 for Great Britain, the United States and Japan rather than 15-15-9 as now contemplated.

Want 50 Maximum
They say that there should be a progressive decrease in the number of British cruisers—that 50 should be the maximum of British strength.

Court Debates on Question of Liquor Buyer
WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Whether the purchaser of illicit liquor is guilty of a crime under the prohibition law was laid before the supreme court today for determination.

Plan Inquest Into Death of F. E. Huffman

Polk County Coroner to Investigate Crash; Funeral Here

An inquest will be ordered into the death of Fred E. Huffman, 727 Sixth avenue, who died at the Iowa Methodist hospital in Des Moines Tuesday from injuries received in an auto accident Sunday night, according to the Associated Press.

The inquest date will probably be set today, the coroner's office in Polk county announced yesterday. It was temporarily delayed pending the return to Des Moines of Coroner William Carpenter.

Huffman, who was 60 years old, was fatally bruised and injured when his auto collided with one driven by Orley Johnson, 29 years old, in Des Moines. He was unconscious until his death 50 hours after the crash.

Johnson is not being held, Des Moines police said, but will be called at the inquest. Mrs. Huffman, and her 9-year-old daughter, Marjorie, both lacerated in the collision, but released from the hospital, will probably both attend the inquest.

FUNERAL HERE TOMORROW
Funeral services for Mr. Huffman will be held at the Oathout chapel tomorrow at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Guy H. Findley officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery. The body will arrive in Iowa City this afternoon and be taken to the funeral home where it will remain until the service.

Engineers to Exhibit Work Mecca Week
Final plans for the exhibition, the last event of Mecca week, have been made, according to an announcement yesterday by Sidney L. Price, E4 of Decorah, chairman of the committee. This exhibit will be held Saturday afternoon, March 22, in the engineering buildings and laboratories.

The various departments and organizations are now arranging apparatus and material. As in former years, a route will be marked leading to the different exhibits on the campus.

The mechanical engineers will hold afternoon classes in the mechanical laboratory, operating machines and distributing souvenirs. The electrical engineers and the physics department will demonstrate all the latest inventions and discoveries in the electrical department. The department of civil engineers will hold this exhibit in the materials laboratory, where they will be testing compressive and tensile strength. Sanitary engineering exhibits will include a model Niagara Falls and a filter plant.

The University of Iowa hydraulic laboratory, which is said to be the best in the United States, will be the most interesting exhibit of the afternoon. This is the first time that the facilities of this modern laboratory have been available for the Mecca week exhibit. A miniature model of the $3,000,000 dam to be built at Hastings, Minn., is only one of the several intricate set-ups in the laboratory.

The department of chemical engineers will display chemical products manufactured in Iowa, and show the latest development in liquid air. Frank Long, university glass blower, will demonstrate the art of glass blowing in one of the chemistry auditoriums. Exhibits prepared by the Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, and by the Transit staff, will be found in the halls of the engineering building.

The members of the exhibition committee are: Sidney L. Price, E4 of Decorah; Charles D. Mulliner, E4 of Iowa City; John Morgan, E4 of Riverside; Merle Sanger, E4 of Iowa City; Leonard P. Meade, E3 of Western Springs, Ill.; Walter V. Secret, E3 of Downey, and Gaylord A. Kellow, E1 of Cresco.

English Labor Group Faces Censure Vote

Leader, Undisturbed, Continues Naval Conference

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—The labor government is having its troubles with the coal bill and unemployment and even faces a vote of censure tomorrow evening, but Prime Minister MacDonald continues his chairmanship of the naval conference confident that he will not be thrown out of office within the next six weeks.

British and French politics have afforded puzzling situations to Americans of the naval conference in the past few weeks, sometimes a defeat meaning one thing and sometimes another, but as far as the present situation in British politics is concerned a government defeat on a major issue such as would mean resignation, is not expected by political circles.

MacDonald Undisturbed
Mr. MacDonald was defeated last night on a minor amendment to the coal bill, but doesn't seem disturbed. He boldly invited his conservative opponents to extend their vote to censure set for tomorrow night so that the liberals could join them and throw him out, but he is confident they will not do that.

In fact long before the naval conference convened, Mr. MacDonald had the pledges of the conservative and liberal leaders that the disarmament negotiations were of prime importance and that the labor government, although in a minority in the house of commons, would be given a fair opportunity for carrying them out. That pledge holds as strongly today as it did two months ago.

Coal Bill Issue
Still on the conservative party question such as the coal bill, the parties must muster their strength, it being a domestic issue, and they do as they did last night. But by means of contacts the party leaders maintain with one another behind their fighting lines, the conservative and liberals knew that the prime minister would not take the rebuff seriously and resign.

India Leader Defies British
ASLALL, India, March 12 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi in a speech here today defied the government to arrest him. Aslall was the first halt of the volunteer civil disobedience marchers who set out with Gandhi from Ahmedabad early this morning beginning their campaign for Indian independence.

Gandhi said the government had arrested his lieutenant, Vallabhai Patel for his intention of addressing a public meeting.

"Let the government arrest me for actually doing so," said Gandhi. The nationalist leader said that the salt tax was collected stealthily and therefore amounted to theft. His followers must be prepared for the worst, even death, in their campaign for removal of the salt tax.

Concluding, Gandhi said he hoped he had left his seminar at Ahmedabad for good and that he was addressing them for the last time. Coincidentally with the start of Gandhi's historic "march to the sea" in furtherance of the campaign for civil disobedience, demonstrations that were usually orderly were reported from various parts of upper India.

At the beginning of the march it was reported that thousands of men and women accompanied Gandhi for several miles, rich and poor marching side by side while thousands lined the road side.

Pi Epsilon Pi Will Entertain Royalty if Queens Accept Bids
College royalty may be present at the Pep Jamboree, the university party sponsored by the Pi Epsilon Pi fraternity to be held March 29. Invitations have been extended to the 10 reigning campus "queens" of the Big Ten schools to be present at the party.

Their majesties will be escorted by 10 Iowa men, who are prominent in campus affairs. The names of these beauties will not be divulged, but they will be known only from the names of the schools from which they come, for example, "Miss Illinois" and "Miss Minnesota."

Lawrence Stock, 42 of Newton, chairman of the committee, believes that this event will be the greatest feature that has been present at any university party.

MAY SUCCEED SANFORD

Judge William S. Kenyon (left) of the federal court of appeals and William D. Mitchell, attorney general, have been mentioned to fill the vacancy in the United States supreme court caused by the death of Justice Edward T. Sanford.

Three Wives, No Divorces, Lands in Jail

"I Was a Fool" Sobs Davis; Two Visit Prison Cell

GLENWOOD, March 12 (AP)—Warren L. Davis, 24 years old, of Omaha, married his third wife here a week ago today. He pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in connection with his latest venture, today. He had neglected to obtain a divorce before entering into either the second or third marriage, but when the second entered the cell he ordered her to leave. "Get out of here," he shouted. "You are the one who put me in here. If you want to talk to me you can see my attorney."

Bess Wallace Davis, 23 years old, of Omaha, married his first wife here not long ago. Davis was arrested in Omaha Saturday after the best man at the wedding here last Wednesday apprised Mrs. Davis, the second, of the ceremony.

Even now all three of the wives agree that Warren is "just wonderful." "You are the one who put me in here. If you want to talk to me you can see my attorney."

Germans Vote Debt Approval
BERLIN, March 12 (AP)—The Young plan and other measures connected with it as well as the German-American agreement by which Germany's reparations payments to the United States are regulated, were given final approval by the reichstag today.

The Young plan measure itself was given third and final reading by a vote of 265 to 122. The German-American agreement was approved by a rising vote. The Young liquidation was approved 236 to 217.

The measures by which the final liquidation of the war debts are provided, now only require the signature of President Von Hindenburg and publication in the official gazette before becoming law as far as Germany is concerned.

The nationalist opponents of the Young plan played their last card by invoking article 72 of the constitution in an effort to secure two months' time during which they hoped another plebiscite on the Young plan might be arranged, but this move was countered by the government declaring today's legislation "urgent."

Jury Visits Scene of Shooting; Woman May Die in Chair
NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 12 (AP)—A jury, just returned from a rural roadside near here where a highway patrolman was fatally shot last December, late today heard the first evidence by which the commonwealth seeks to send Mrs. Irene Schroeder, 21 years old, former waitress and accused "trigger woman" to the electric chair for the death of the officer, Corporal Brady Paul.

Paul, whose mother lives in Washington, Pa., was shot while on a highway seeking robbers who had held up a store.

Briand Says Naval Parley Short-Lived

French Minister Lays Blame of Failure to Italy

LONDON, March 12 (AP)—Aristide Briand, foreign minister of France, is gloomy over his failure to get a security pact for his country out of the five power naval conference. Tonight he gave the parley only another fortnight of life.

The head of the French delegation received French newspapermen, but rigidly excluded reporters of all other nationalities. The French writers came out of the conference saying that M. Briand was depressed. They quoted him as saying:

"I have finished my role and tomorrow the whole thing will be handed over to the delegations." Briand blames the delay in reaching conference decisions not been due to the French attitude in demanding security pacts as a price for reducing their program of naval building, but to the fact that Italy had not produced any tonnage figures at all, but insisted on solving their right to parity with any continental European power.

It is understood the French leader had raised this point regarding the Italians rather sharply at a meeting today of the British, French and American negotiators at Geneva.

Delegates Turn to Geneva
There was a general impression in conference circles tonight that the day had been one of the most critical and perhaps decisive in the whole history of the negotiations. While M. Briand gave the impression of admitting failure of his plans for a political alliance in connection with naval limitations, other members of the French delegation tried to offset his appearance of discouragement. They recalled that the French had consistently maintained that the present conference should be only a prelude to general consideration at Geneva of the whole question of disarmaments, covering land and air as well as sea.

Emphasize Technical Work
The French were quick also to emphasize the importance of the technical work done here. They proposed a five-power treaty would result and would include a further holiday in battleship building, humanization of submarines and such technical subjects as a combined tonnage-category method of measuring tonnage.

British and American observers agreed the conference might last three or four weeks. They professed to see a possible change in the situation this coming weekend. The basis for this was an announcement that Andre Tardieu, French premier, would arrive in London at that time.

Canadian Ace Loops Fatally
OTTAWA, Ont., March 12 (AP)—Canada's second ranking ace of the World war, Col. William G. Barker, 35 years old, crashed to his death at the Rockcliffe Park, Ont. Canadian air force field today when the motor of a new ship he was testing stalled in an upward loop while flying at a low altitude.

His body was pulled from the wreckage by government officials who were at the field to witness the test of the new Fairchild two-seater biplane. It was the first time the colonel had flown a ship of that type. In the air only 10 minutes, flying low, he apparently put the ship into a steep climb when, at the top of the upward loop, it suddenly remained suspended for a moment and then plunged downward.

D. Campbell Shaw, test pilot for the Fairchild Aviation corporation of Canada, of which Colonel Barker was president, said the ship was in perfect condition at the take off. He described the tragedy to "an error of judgment while flying low," giving the opinion that Col. Barker must have miscalculated the power of the motor to drive the machine from the ground.

Colonel Barker's war flying record was excelled among Canadian aviators only by that of Col. W. C. Bishop, V. C. He received a long list of decorations, headed by the enviable Victoria Cross. The other citations included the distinguished Service Order, the Military Cross, with two bars; Medaglia Valore D'Argento, and the Croix de Guerre. He was wounded twice and was thrice mentioned in despatches.

Colonel Barker was decorated with the Victoria Cross after a feat which is listed as one of the air epics of the war. A short time before the armistice he was attacking an enemy plane when he ran into a "flying circus" of German fighting ships. He brought down six of the German planes, and although badly wounded, brought his own machine safely to earth.

Police Arrest Four as Rapids Visitors Stage Street Brawl
Friendly relations that developed into a bitter fight brought about the arrest by local police of M. C. Watson and Lee Gosnell both of Cedar Rapids last night shortly after midnight.

The two young men came to Iowa City late last night accompanied by two Cedar Rapids women.

Byron B. Boyd Exhibits 23 Oil Paintings in Iowa Union, Artist Will Explain Pictures

Former Member of Firm Who Planned Iowa Union Displays Canvases of Subjects From Lands Beyond Adriatic

By LOIS THORNBURG

In the room which he planned as an architect, Byron B. Boyd, Des Moines, artist, will officially open the exhibition of his own paintings this afternoon. Formerly a member of the firm whose architectural plans were used for Iowa Union, Mr. Boyd now devotes all his time to painting.

"Considerations"

The canvases which he is showing here today represent prolonged expeditions in the lands beyond the Adriatic, the frontier of the Occident, and the Orient. The exhibition of 23 oil paintings was brought here by the department of graphic and plastic arts and the school of fine arts.

In accordance with the plan of the school of fine arts to bring artists to lecture here with their own exhibitions, Mr. Boyd will lead a discussion and explanation of his pictures at 4:10 this afternoon. Invitations have been sent to students of the graphic and plastic arts department and a group of townspeople interested in art. The talk will, however, be open to the public.

Give Informal Tea

Following the lecture by Mr. Boyd the graphic and plastic arts department will entertain at an informal tea. Hostesses for the affair will include Mrs. R. H. Fitzgerald, Edna Patz, and Catherine Macartney.

Students of the department who will assist the hostesses will include Katherine Snow, A4 of Ottumwa; Millicent Martin, A4 of Aberdeen, S. D.; Ellen Behrens, A2 of Whiting; Alen Jarman, A3 of Kansas City, Mo.; and Camille Montgomery, A4 of Fairfield.

The architect's feeling for form combined with the artist's intense feeling for color is apparent through the various studies which are included in the showing. The paintings are nearly all of foreign subjects and in the catalogue are classified geographically under the headings, "Cortin," "Ragusa," "Pale," and "Sarajevo."

Chooses Peasant Subjects

"Considerations," the painting illustrated here, is typical of Mr. Boyd's choice of subjects, with two peasants shown bargaining in the market place. Garbed in the brilliant greens, blues, and reds of their native dress their sturdy figures make a brilliant shadow-pattern on the sand in the street. Far in the background are seen the hills and spires of their native lands.

"Freesia and Calla Lilies," a picture painted less than a week ago, was not originally included among the pictures scheduled to be shown here. R. H. Fitzgerald, director of the school of fine arts, with Mrs. Fitzgerald, was a guest at the Boyd home in Des Moines last Sunday. At that time they were shown the painting which Mr. Boyd had made of the centerpieces of calla lilies and freesia on the dinner table. At Mrs. Fitzgerald's request the painting was included in the exhibition.

It is a still life with rare freshness of color depicting a low basket filled to overflowing with snowy-white lilies poking their waxen cups through a maze of yellow freesia blossoms. A small ivory-gay Buddha at one side of the basket emphasizes the purity of the lilies' color.

Exhibits Marine Painting

"Jade Depths," one of the marines in the exhibition, is an underwater painting with a real feeling of water and coolness. Small comets of silver-green fishes are seen darting through tangled shreds of deep purple, emerald, and vermilion colored seaweed. Mr. Boyd's appreciation for architecture appears in "Pool of Light," which shows the sun pouring into a little court seen through massive arches supported by tall pillars. "Dalmatia," another oil, is a sketch of the Mediterranean shore line with faithful presentation, according to Mr. Fitzgerald who has visited there, of the curious shade of blue peculiar to this sea.

Other paintings included in the exhibition are "Orange Sails," "Within the Citadel," "Cortin Kiteiron," "Nicoletta," "Nocturnal Fisherman," "Dalmatian Arabesque," "Minocetta Tower," "The Guardian," "Bosnia," "Beside the Kiosk," "Before the Moslem Prayer," "To the East a Minaret," "No God But Allah," "Street of the Coppersmiths," "Bread," "Sunset in the Bazaar," "Finishing the Cathedral," (at Prague), and "St. Olaf Kierke," (Reval, Esthonia). The exhibition will remain at the Iowa Union until March 25.

Mrs. Houston Hostess to Plymouth Circle
Mrs. Ira Houston, 725 N. Linn street, will entertain the members of the Plymouth circle of the Congregational church with a luncheon today at 1:30 at her home.

PERSONAL ITEMS

William Hendrikson of Estherville, left yesterday for his home after a short visit in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hagenbuch, 330 S. Dodge street. Mr. Hendrikson was on his way home from Texas.

Mrs. Melvin Neuzl of Des Moines, left for her home today after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Somershauser, 611 E. Market street.

Mrs. N. H. Nelson is making an indefinite visit with her mother, Mrs. Ida B. Gilmore, 5 Bloom terrace, who has been ill. Mrs. Nelson travels for Swift and company.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Boyle, 533 Oakland avenue, accompanied by Alyce Lechty, 719 Ronalds street, spent Tuesday in Cedar Rapids.

Leslie Schiare, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schiare, Poor Farm road, who has been a patient at the Mercy hospital, will be taken to Oakdale for treatment in the near future.

Richard Paul Bahmler, 5-year-old nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harms, 1101 E. Muscatine avenue, who has been ill, is recovering. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bahmler of West Liberty. Mrs. Bahmler has returned to her home after a stay in Iowa City with her son.

Mrs. H. D. Andrews of Indianapolis, Ind., is leaving next week for her home after visiting with her sister, Mrs. H. H. Carson, 332 E. Washington street, since the holidays.

Mrs. Charles S. Wieneke, 1024 E. Burlington street, who has been visiting her daughter several days in Cedar Rapids returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. C. C. Shradler, 231 E. Burlington street, left Friday for Washington, D. C., where she will spend several weeks visiting at the home of her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Roben and son Kenneth, 421 Melrose court, with Mrs. Bradley Davis, 603 S. Summit street, have returned from Monticello where they visited friends and relatives.

Estella Zimmerman of the Band-Box Hat shop, has returned from a short visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. Dora Jeffers in Cedar Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Noland of West Liberty, have returned to their home after a short visit with relatives in Iowa City.

Mrs. Isabell Adams, 233 Melrose avenue, returned yesterday noon from Cedar Rapids where she has been visiting for a few days in the home of her aunt, Charlesetta Jolly.

Mrs. John Page and Grace Ballou, both of Scranton, have returned to their homes after a short visit in the home of Mrs. Page's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Patrick, 1129 Kirkwood avenue.

Prof. George Martin, Ridge road, botany professor in the university, is expected to return to Iowa City about the first of April, after having carried on extensive research work in the New York botanical gardens in New York city. Professor Martin also visited the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., and viewed some collections in Philadelphia. He plans to make a short visit at the University of Michigan on his return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mahar, Vera Helen Matson, Mary Margaret Sullivan, and Helen Roe motored to Muscatine last evening to attend the opening of the Sardeson-Hovland ready-to-wear shop there. Miss Roe is formerly of Marshalltown and is now managing the millinery department at Strub's, succeeding Mrs. John Dvorak who is now manager of the Lyman millinery shop.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal church entertained about 200 persons at a silver benefit tea and colonial coverlet exhibit yesterday afternoon from 1:30 to 5 p.m. at the parish house. The display of colonial handwork contained coverlets, table runners, hooked chair mats, and other articles of use in the home. These were spun by women living in the mountains of Virginia who reproduced as perfectly as possible the original work done in pioneer days.

Mrs. LeRoy Mercer was in charge of the tea. Mrs. Russell Potts, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Jacob Cornog, chairman of the committee in charge of the exhibit, assisted with the arrangements.

Betty Jack, A3 of Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.; Elizabeth Moorhead, A3 of Fairfield; Mary J. Page, A2 of Dubuque; Mary Moon, A2 of Onawa, and Martha Graham, A2 of Waterloo.

Phi Delta Theta
L. J. Patterson of Marshalltown, visited his son, Warren, A1 of Marshalltown, here Tuesday. Mr. Patterson was a dinner guest at the chapter house Tuesday night.

Rapist Women's Association Meets
Members of the Baptist Women's association held a regular business meeting yesterday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Robbins, 104 Muscatine avenue. The book, "The Crowded Ways," was reviewed by Mrs. Kenneth Ray.

Pi Beta Phi
Dinner guests at the Pi Beta Phi house last night were Mrs. E. C. Kinsloe and Mrs. G. M. Stanton.

Altrusa Club Luncheon
Fifteen members were present at the regular Wednesday luncheon of the Altrusa club. Vernon L. Sharp, local attorney, discussed the community chest drive.

Inter-Sorority Debate Contest Starts Tonight

11 Groups Enter Meet; Talk on Topic of Grade Average

The first round of preliminary debates in the inter-sorority debate contest will begin this evening at 7:30 when 10 Greek letter groups meet to argue the question of grade requirements. The proposition as stated is: Resolved, that the women's pan-hellenic association of the University of Iowa should adopt a rule requiring that every candidate for admission to a sorority have a grade average of 2.25 for the semester preceding initiation.

Eleven groups have entered the contest. There were three groups which entered late. These were Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, and Delta Zeta. The five debates which are scheduled for this evening are paired as follows: Zeta Tau Alpha, affirmative; and Theta Phi Alpha, negative; Alpha Chi Omega, affirmative; and Phi Mu, negative; Delta Gamma, affirmative; and Delta Delta Delta, negative; Alpha Xi Delta, affirmative; and Phi Omega Pi, negative; Chi Omega, affirmative; and Delta Zeta, negative. Alpha Delta Pi drew a bye for the first round. These pairings were made Monday afternoon.

For preliminary debates the constructive speeches have been limited to eight minutes, with four minute rebuttals.

This inter-sorority meet is sponsored by Sigma Delta Phi, honorary women's forensic sorority, which annually offers a cup to the winner of the final debate. Last year the cup was won for Theta Phi Alpha by Margaret Anderson Young of Sioux City, and Helen Foley, J4 of Delmar. Betty Kellenberger, A4 of Davenport, has charge of the contest. Judges and chairmen have not yet been chosen.

Friendship Circle Studies Mountaineers

Twenty-one members of the Friendship circle of the English Lutheran church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank Hauth, 1191 Hotz avenue yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. P. Mielmer acted as assistant hostess.

A discussion lead by Mrs. H. W. Neuman concerning the mountain people of Kentucky, was the main feature of the program Mrs. Neuman also reviewed the "Book of Christ." After a short business meeting, the remainder of the afternoon was turned into a social gathering. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. S. Dinsinger will entertain the club at the next meeting which will be the first part of April.

Electa Circle Meets With Mrs. E. Hoopes

The Electa circle of the King's Daughters will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emerson G. Hoopes, 326 S. Johnson street. The meeting, which will be for disposal of regular monthly business of the circle, will begin at 2:30. Refreshments will be served at the close of the afternoon by the assisting hostesses, Mrs. Mildred Giffen, Mrs. Henry Louis, Mrs. George L. Freyler and Mrs. E. C. Kinloch.

Queen Esthers Meet With Mrs. Stoner

Mrs. Bernard Stoner, 1164 Keokuk street, will entertain the members of the Methodist Senior Queen Esther society at her home at 7:30 p.m. today. The lesson study will be in charge of Helen Tener. Eleanor Miller will assist as hostess.

Tuesday Study Club Entertains at Recital of Mildred Paddock

Tuesday Morning Music Study club entertained 100 guests Tuesday afternoon at a recital given by Mrs. Mildred B. Paddock. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Dean M. Lierle, 603 River street, and was the first of a series of recitals planned by that organization, to be given this spring.

Harry Thatcher accompanied Mrs. Paddock at the piano. Mrs. Paddock's program included the following selections: Quella fiamma che m'accende... O del mio dolce ardor... Guck Bergereite... Gulla Recl... Nur wer die Sehnsucht kennt... Trau mich die Dammernung... Morgen... Zueignung... Apporte les cristaux d'ores... Freie comme un harmonium... Il pleut de petates de fleurs... La Vie Anterieure... Chevaux de Bois... Le Temps des Lilas... Maria's Slumber Song... The Little Shepherd's Song... Twenty, Eighteen... Arr. by Deems Taylor

Hyperion Club Plans Surprise Program for St. Patrick's Party
Hyperion club will give a St. Patrick's party Monday at 8:30 p.m., at Varsity hall. The surprise program is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mott.

The following members compose the committee: Mr. and Mrs. R. Patty, Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gipple; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Don Roche.

Law Students Will Entertain at Dance at Memorial Union

The river room of Iowa Union will be the scene of a party given by the law students, Friday evening. Colorful lights will form a decorative effect, and Walt Long's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. The faculty of the college of law will be guests, and will also act as chaperons.

William Mooty, L3 of Grundy Center, Dan Goodkykootz, L3 of Boone, and William Dallas, L3 of Mechanicsville, are members of the committee in charge.

Mrs. Moses Jung to Address Hillel Club

Mrs. Moses Jung will address the members of the Hillel club, Sunday at 7 p.m., in the river room of the Iowa Union, on the subject "A Vagabond Philosopher."

Mrs. Jung is a graduate of the University of Toronto and has been associated with student activities at the University of Illinois. This is her first appearance before the local group. The meeting is open to non-members as well as members.

Interests Circle Plans Discussion of Music

The current interests circle of University club will meet in the club rooms of Iowa Union at 5 p.m. instead of at 4:30 p.m. as previously planned. Mrs. Jacob Van der Zee will lead a discussion of music.

Mrs. L. E. Ward, chairman, and Mrs. K. E. Leih are in charge of the weekly tea and luncheon given for members of the University club at the Iowa Union. An informal discussion of planting for fragrance in the garden will be given by Mrs. Homer Johnson.

The Drive Goes On

THE drive for funds for the community chest, through which the major part of Iowa City's welfare work is financed, is now under way. Upon the cooperation and generosity of the people of Iowa City will depend the extent and the efficiency of the work which can be done during the coming year.

Those who refuse to give to the community chest on the claim that there is no poverty in Iowa City will find that the actual conditions do not bear out that claim. Actual figures show that during the last year one out of every eight families in Iowa City received aid from either the Social Service league or the Visiting Nurse association.

Add to these the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts, whose work is primarily constructive instead of remedial. A map of the city made for both of these organizations shows that the scouts come from all districts of the city and from all sorts of homes; the scout program is not limited to children from comparatively wealthy homes, but takes in every class on a democratic basis.

The fifth project aided by the community chest is the city hall rest room, which was used by more than 25,000 persons last year. Many of these were out-of-town women shopping here, who found the rest room a real convenience.

These are the organizations receiving most of their finances from the community chest. Their work varies from giving milk to undernourished children to finding employment and giving boys and girls a chance to go to summer camp. No one who is familiar with their work can deny that they are doing a splendid service to the community. Their work is extended or limited by the amount of money in the community chest.

Do your part to see that the work is extended!

A New "R"—Responsibility

TO THE three "R's", President Hoover suggests the adding of another—that of responsibility to the community. At a meeting of 400 business and professional men, gathered in Washington to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement and to launch a big expansion program, Hoover expressed his opinion that this fourth "R" be added to the other three—readin', ritin', and 'rithmetic.

He suggested the scout movement as the most powerful and influential in creating this idea of responsibility to the community. It is true that there is a necessity for the supplementing of the popular idea that the Republic was created for the benefit of the individual to the democratic theory.

If we are not to have illiteracy in government this fourth emblem must be added just as the cures for illiteracy and fundamentals of education are the other three "R's". Boys and girls of today must be trained to a democratic idea, not an individualistic one. For a successful government or for nearly every other cooperative project, a community must assume responsibility and shoulder its load.

The Boy Scouts of today are the coming generation. If they learn this fourth "R" in addition to the other three, won't that be a truly progressive step forward?

Ten o'Clock Scholars

IT WAS 10 by the village clock. When he galloped into... his geology class, but alas, it was seven minutes after 10 by the university time, and something intermediate by Western Union time. St. Mary's clock and the one on Iowa City Savings bank registered slightly different stages in the day's progress, and the dimepieces to be seen through the windows of various places of business were striking various compromises.

The bell in Old Capitol is a part of university tradition, and could be excused for ringing 10 minutes off time if students were allowed to drop in to and leave class at any time during their progress, if meals were served at all hours, and if it made no difference if one filled appointments a few minutes late; but the university is exacting in its time schedules, demands compliance with whatever clock system its various departments happen to be following, and penalizes students for being late, even though they have been kept overtime by a professor who has set his timepiece by a downtown clock or the Western Union.

Professor, downtown employers of students, and chaperons would have more success in exacting punctuality, and students would have more opportunity for cultivating it if everyone would set clocks by Western Union time. The Western Union time is right. All the others are wrong.

Broken Records

DURING 1929 some very curious records were broken. An American in Chicago swallowed 40 raw eggs in 79 seconds. A Belgian wrote 17,131 words on a postal card. A young woman in Los Angeles, in a public demonstration, washed in 38 seconds a floor eight yards long and two yards wide. An Austrian danced 79 hours without stopping, and an American pianist played for 64 hours. The cashier of a London bank counted in nine minutes 1,000 coins and sorted them into piles.

Add to these the emulators of St. Simon Stylites, or the marathon dancers or skaters, and what not and one has an impressive list of absolutely nothing.

What benefit was all this expenditure of effort? What was gained that was of value? Who gives a hang in the long run about the raw eggs eaten or the number of little white spaces some moron was able to fill during a given period of time?

Literature Censorship

THE senate has had laid before it a petition asking that the present censorship laws of foreign literature by customs inspectors be replaced. The suggestion is that the censorship be transferred to a nonpartisan commission of five and that this commission supervise entry, so that at least the library of congress, and college and university libraries can get the books for the use of study.

It is doubtful if customs agents are capable of deciding the literary value of a book. If they have not had much to do with literature, and know little about it, can they be expected to judge a book?

Then again, what of the personnel of the commission of five. Would it be a farmer from Wisconsin, a capitalist from New York, or a fruit grower from California who would become a member? And would the farmer, the capitalist, or the fruit grower be really able to decide what the libraries should have on their shelves for the study of the students of the nation?

Campus Contacts

A MOVEMENT that is doing much to promote a friendly contest on the campus is the present bridge tournament at Iowa Union. The Union is fast becoming the student center which has long been the dream of its boosters. It is the ideal gathering place for all informal functions, such as meeting friends for a chat, or playing a bid or so of bridge.

As a getting-acquainted gesture, there can be no better method than playing partners in a bridge game with a stranger.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Gordon C. Gauss

A further crash of the Chicago wheat market yesterday has upset the entire agricultural field, and corn and rye prices "broke" with wheat. New low levels were recorded, and prices dropped off as much as 3-4 cents in some instances. Causes for the drop were the dismal outlook for export, and quotation of a letter by Chairman Legge of the farm board, that nothing could be done to boost prices.

Legge's solution to the situation is the elimination of the surplus. Farmers would cooperate in reducing the acreage in grain, and hence get a higher price. Economists show that the increase in price would more than make up for the decrease in acreage, provided the reduction is of sufficient size. This would work very well indeed were it not for the fact that the farmers will not get together on the proposition.

The operation of another law of economics must be considered in the solution. While it is to the advantage of the entire class to curtail production and raise the price, it is also to the advantage of each individual to produce as large a per cent of the total as possible, because in that manner he will earn the most. Hence thorough cooperation is impractical, and coercion is impossible.

France remains the "holdout" of the London naval conference, standing by its demands that she be allowed a navy of 724,000 tons or be guaranteed "security." To agree to the security would mean the formulation of a treaty by which the five powers would be forced to protect the French seacoast and colonies in case of war. Such a thing would be unthinkable from the standpoint of the nations, and any such treaty would lose ratification by the powers.

Meanwhile Ramsay MacDonald, British premier and guiding light of the international party, is sorely tried by domestic political troubles. His government received its first minor reverse when a liberal-conservative coalition passed an amendment to the coal mines bill. Should the entire measure, sponsored by the laborites, fail to pass it will mean the resignation of the minister.

Through the development of a new "black" ray machine, a new type of x-ray, we may soon be able to protect ourselves against counterfeit money and faked jewelry, and even poison bottlejugs. Developed by Dr. Herman Goodman of New York, the new ray was originally used to detect minute tissue diseases of the skin which are invisible even through a microscope. Its commercial use was discovered by accident.

Edward L. Doheny, oil king, is on trial for his alleged holding of Albert B. Fall, once secretary of the interior, in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal. The bribery took place in 1921. It was discovered and bared to the public in 1924. In 1929 Doheny comes up for trial. Can the multimillionaire be convicted? Fall was sentenced a year ago, and if Doheny also is sent to prison it will go a long way to restore the faith of the public in the court system.

Another trial which all Iowans will watch with interest is that of George E. Huckins of Cotnam Ridge, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Claiming that he would pay interest on money invested with him of from 24 to 52 per cent, he built up a fortune within a short time, without describing to anyone just what the venture was. When about to be brought to trial the first of the year, Huckins pleaded that he was a narcotic addict, and was sent to the state hospital in Independence, from which he was released yesterday.

Doheny Trial Opens Today

Judge Orders Jury Kept Under Lock

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—Three women and nine men were selected today to decide the guilt or innocence of Edward L. Doheny of bribery. The wealthy oil operator is on trial on an indictment charging that he gave $100,000 to Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, for the award to his company of a lease to the Elk Hills, Cal., naval reserve.

Justice William Hitz, presiding over the trial in the District of Columbia supreme court, ordered the jury kept under guard and together until its verdict is handed down. As soon as it was sworn in he recessed the court until tomorrow morning when the government will make its opening statement and will be followed by the defense. The statements are expected to require the entire day and if they do not, documentary evidence will be introduced.

The jury was finally chosen near the end of the afternoon session after counsel for both sides had questioned 35 men and women.

Before selection of the jury, Justice Hitz overruled a defense plea that to place Doheny on trial for bribery would be to put him in double jeopardy, in view of the acquittal of Doheny and Fall, four years ago on charges of conspiring to defraud the government growing out of the same lease.

Executive Committee Discusses Changes in Courses of Study

Reports from the executive committee of the faculty of the college of liberal arts were presented at the meeting in the Old Capitol yesterday. Changes in dealing with absences and the reporting of grades in the departments of physical education and military science were recommended. Prof. George F. Kay, dean of the college of liberal arts, outlined some of the policies that have been in operation for the last several years. He also reported on the number of students who had failed to meet the scholarship standards.

A report in regard to the registration of students and the placing on probation for poor scholarship, was submitted by the committee on admission and classification. The committee on courses of study brought up three points in their report. The first was for a revision of the combined course of liberal arts and nurses training. A special course in graphic and plastic arts, and a semi-professional course in physical education for men were the other two things recommended.

HOLDOUTS ARGUE

WEST PALM BEACH, March 12 (AP)—While Business Manager Bill Friel and Outfielder Helme Mannuh continued their argument today over what salary the slugger should receive, the rest of the St. Louis Browns went through the usual training grind. Shortstop Ted Kress and Pitcher George Blacholder, also are still unsigned.

FARMER COMMITS SUICIDE

STORM LAKE, March 12 (AP)—Thomas Cooke, bachelor farmer near here, committed suicide by hanging today. Despondency and undue worries over financial affairs caused the act, Coroner Parish said.

Lecturer for Mayo Foundation Speaks on Salerno Medicine

Dr. George W. Corner in his address on "Salernitan medicine" last evening, traced the early history of medicine in Salerno. He spoke of the valuable translations of Arabic medical manuscripts, by Constantine, and gave several translated examples of their methods of classification. The lecture was with slides, showing relics of old Salerno and illustrations from their early manuscripts.

Dr. Corner is a professor of anatomy at Rochester, and is now on a lecture tour under the auspices of the Mayo foundation.

Sargent, Housel Win Suit in Law Club

Gilbert Mains, LI of Cedar Rapids and Darrel Hanna, LI of Jefferson, appealed, were defeated by Stanley Sargent, LI of Compton, Cal., and William Housel, LI of Humboldt, in the third case for law club competition.

It was a suit for damages because of the conversion of a famous picture. The plaintiff had stolen the canvas upon which the picture was painted, from the defendant and thereafter had painted a picture of rare value which increased the value of the canvas to a large sum. The defendant, claiming the stolen canvas, took it back against the will of the plaintiff who claimed he was entitled to the value of the picture less the value of the canvas.

Alfred Pabst, LI of Albia, John Lagomarcino, LI of Davenport, and Mary Farran, LI of Casey were the judges of the case.

Knights of Columbus Begin Annual Retreat

The annual retreat of Marquette council of the Knights of Columbus began at 7:30 last night in St. Patrick's church and will continue until 7 o'clock mass Sunday morning. The services will begin each night at 7:30, with the exception of Saturday, and each morning at 6:30. The Rev. Henry Courtney of the Benedictine Abbey will conduct the retreat which will be open to all men in the city and not the Knights of Columbus alone.

After the mass Sunday morning, a breakfast will be served in the club rooms. The committee in charge of the breakfast is Messrs. W. P. Shannahan, James E. Gatens, William J. Holland, and Dr. Fred T. Bauer.

Pirate Regulars Win PASO ROBLES, Cal.

The regulars outdid the Yankigans 7 to 6 in a practice encounter at the Pittsburgh Pirates training camp today but lost six to five. Successive hits by Brickell, Comorovsky, Paul Wauer and Traynor of the veterans brought three runs in the eighth.

Dyer Seeks Light Liquor Commission May Act on 2.75 Beer

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—The Hoover law enforcement commission was asked today to determine whether 2.75 per cent beer was non-intoxicating and whether a change in the Volstead law to permit manufacture would aid enforcement.

Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, a ranking member of the house judiciary committee and author of a bill to legalize 2.75 per cent beer, said after appearing before the commission for an hour and a half that he had received a "very cordial and satisfactory reception." He declined, however, to say whether the attitude of the commission toward his proposal had been indicated.

The Missouri asked the group to investigate the questions of policy and fact involved in legalizing a higher percentage of alcohol content on its findings. There exists, he said, a great body of public opinion against the dry laws and rigorous enforcement of them.

Dyer said congress was disinclined to enact legislation which was not wholeheartedly in support of the eighteenth amendment, but was none the less compelled to consider any measure which would aid in a fair execution of the mandate.

"There seems to be," Dyer said, "a substantially universal assent to the proposition that one-half one per cent alcohol is far below the intoxicating ratio of alcohol to the beverage menstruum in which alcohol is present."

He cited a number of authorities who had so held and pointed out that the eighteenth amendment does not prohibit intoxicating liquor for any other purpose than beverage use, neither does it define intoxicating liquor and declared that home made wine and cider of from 6 to 12 per cent is permitted under the law.

Doctor Speaks on Professional Ethics

Dr. T. U. McManus of Waterloo, in his address before the junior and senior medical students, on "Practical medical ethics," yesterday afternoon, stressed the value of keeping professional secrets. He said, "Medical ethics are not governed by a set of rules, formulae, or set laws. Medical ethics are merely the art of being decent and this art has existed just as long as there have been honorable and decent doctors, practicing."

Dr. McManus was formerly president of the Iowa State Medical society.

Gilbert, Webster Win Law Club Trial Case

Harold Gilbert, LI of Fairfield and Stanley Webster, LI of Parnell, won the second case of the law club competition, stressed the value of keeping professional secrets. He said, "Medical ethics are not governed by a set of rules, formulae, or set laws. Medical ethics are merely the art of being decent and this art has existed just as long as there have been honorable and decent doctors, practicing."

Judges of the cases were Herbert Hauge, LI of Des Moines; Alice Mary Sealb, LI of Davenport, and Daniel Goodkowsky, LI of Boone.

DAVENPORT, March 12 (AP)—The estate of the late Rev. T. N. Morrison, Episcopal bishop of Iowa, was valued at $7,059,66 in the preliminary inheritance tax report filed today in Scott county district court here. Life insurance totaled $5,888,02.

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

The University of Iowa
Bulletins and announcements for the Official Daily Bulletin column must be in the hands of Lois Randall, 101 Journalism building, in writing, by 4 p.m., or 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, to appear in the following morning's Daily Iowan.
Vol. IV, No. 114 March 13, 1930

NATIONAL INTERCOLLEGIATE ORATORICAL CONTEST ON THE CONSTITUTION

TO ALL STUDENTS WHO EXPECT TO GRADUATE AT THE CLOSE OF THE PRESENT SEMESTER, JUNE 2, 1930
Each student who expects to receive a degree or certificate, at the university convention to be held June 2, 1930 must have made his formal application on a card provided for the purpose in the registrar's office, in university hall, on or before Saturday, March 29, 1930.

It is of the utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately; for otherwise it is very likely that a student, who may be in other respects qualified, will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

Making application for the degree, or the certificate, involves the payment of the graduation fee at the time the application is made—the payment of this fee being a necessary part of the application.

Call first at the Registrar's office for the application card.
N.B.—This year, for the first time, candidates for graduation in the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Commerce are asked to call at the Registrar's office within the period March 3 to March 15 for a blank form upon which they may make their own statements of their credits to date in relation to the requirements for graduation, to be filled in the Registrar's office as additional checks with reference to their status as candidates for graduation in June. We believe that this plan will be found by the students to be very advantageous to them. H. C. DORCAS, registrar. Respectfully,

CHAPTER I.

Stephanos staggered to his feet. "There's your knife," said Alan, and handed it to him. "Try and use it again on me."

Once more Stephanos tried and again the men were grappling. Again the knife fell to the ground.

"With your right arm you dared to touch an American woman, scum of the earth that you are," shouted Alan. "You'll never use your right arm again, Stephanos. I'm going to break it."

There came a cry of pain as Alan fulfilled his threat. Shirley tried to go away then, but could not. Alan picked up the knife and turned to Abramovcl.

"A present for you, Abramovcl. Now kick that dog out of the camp. Don't kill him, mind. Just kick him."

Shirley staggered into the shack and a moment later Alan was beside her.

"Once again—I told you I would have to use methods you wouldn't endorse," he said gruffly. "Gross humiliation was necessary. It's a good thing I kept my temper. I had my hand on his throat once and took it away again."

Part of her was revolted at a scene of violence, but the part of her that was the stronger was dizzy with admiration, clamoring to tell him what she felt. Again Shirley was discovering man—discovering this time the glorious body of man—had seen in him the disciplined strength of the tiger. She put her hand to his.

"Alan," she said brokenly. "But it was good business in the end," he added. "Abramovcl is as much afraid of me now as he was of Stephanos this morning. You proved very useful, Shirley."

The spell was broken. She got up steadily and went behind the curtain into her own part of the shack.

Stephanos attacked at dawn on the following day, as Alan had prophesied.

"The advantage of making him thoroughly angry," he had explained to Shirley the previous evening, "is that he won't wait about. He's trying to avenge the insult. He thinks it'll be a walk-over for him here—he does not know about the Serbians."

She was standing outside the shack when Abramovcl cantered up to the pews. Alan had not yet with the rifle. It was the first time she had seen him and she wondered unceasingly whether he had overestimated himself in his fight with Stephanos.

She held Abramovcl's horse while she held the shack. A couple of minutes later they both came out.

"Light, Abramovcl," said Alan. "You get busy. Carry out the plan we arranged in every detail. I'll handle the Serbians. I shan't see you again until we've finished with Stephanos," Petros' he belatedly, and demanded his horse.

"You're fired!" she said anxiously. "I'm not. I'm just a bit stiff," he answered with unwonted surliness. "You get into the dug-out."

His mood was strange and she was puzzled. "Not until I hear the first shot fired," she answered. "Those were your orders. You haven't had any breakfast."

He ignored her as Petros came up with the mare. She watched him and center off to the Serbian quarters and she thought that he sat rather heavily.

She fetched the field-glasses and she knew every detail of his plan and could see that things were being done quietly and quickly. Abramovcl and his men, in touch with the Serbians, were taking up positions so that they could cover with their rifle fire the overhanging slope of the mountain where Stephanos would be compelled to pass his men before rushing the camp through the eastern defile.

She tried to take the machine guns to their own special ambush, but could not see them.

Presently the Serbian camp was

CO-ED DISCOVERS HUBBY HAD WIFE

Shirley gasped as the conception of Stephanos' victory broke upon her. Hitherto she had not thought of it. Alan had perfected his plans and had told her that Stephanos would be annihilated, and she had thought no more about it.

"Then they must not know he is ill," she said quickly. "They do not know yet. We must take care that they do not find out. He has made all his plans and they know what they have to do."

"They will wait for his orders, to carry them out, madame. And when there are no orders, they will run away."

"I know the orders. I shall give them myself," cried Shirley. "They will think that he has sent me."

"Madame is wise," said the Greek. "She will perhaps be killed—and it will be the easier way to die."

"We're not going to die!" exclaimed Shirley in sudden exasperation, but she spoke in English and the Greek only blinked. "By jove, I'd forgotten those machine guns!"

"Quick—we must get him into the dug-out!" Shirley called in French. "Look after him, Petros."

She hurried out of the dug-out into the shack and flung the field glasses about her. Without effort on her part she had stumbled on the soldier's secret—that in battle there is no risk of death.

"He said the machine guns were to go out as soon as the fun began," ran her thoughts. "The fun has been going on for five minutes. A few minutes more—and there is no risk of death."

"He said the machine guns were to go out as soon as the fun began," ran her thoughts. "The fun has been going on for five minutes. A few minutes more—and there is no risk of death."

She mounted the mare and galloped across to where Abramovcl and his men, with half the Serbians on their flank, were firing from cover.

"Quick—we must get him into the dug-out!" Shirley called in French. "Look after him, Petros."

"No, madame, I can do better," said Petros, dropping to the ground beside Alan and rolling the now unconscious man onto his back. Shirley went to the shack for her own mattress and on this they laid him in the dug-out.

She held his head in her lap while Petros hurried for a pillow and other accessories. There was disaster unforeseen, overwhelming. For the moment thought of his helplessness, of the giant laid low, drowned all others. She was maddened by her own ineffectualness. She had never been taught to nurse—and she had never heard of this particular fever.

"Is it dangerous, Petros?" she asked as the Greek returned. "He will not die of the fever," answered Petros. "It is very common here. He must have no food or drink until nightfall, and then quinine only."

There came a sudden intensification of the rifle-fire, and a bullet pattered on the iron roof of the shack 20 yards away.

"He will not die of the disease," repeated Petros. "But Stephanos will torture him to death."

"Stephanos!" she echoed. "But we shall win, Petros."

Petros shook his head. "He would have made us win because the men are more afraid of him than of Stephanos. But when they know he is ill they will stop fighting and run away—except the Serbians who are afraid of no one

Ruth Martin Speaks on Art Over WSUI

"It was something of a severe shock to learn that centuries before the true Greeks evolved, there flourished an art nearly as fine and perhaps more brilliant and lively than that of Greece proper," said Miss Ruth Martin, instructor of Greek and Latin, in a talk on Greek art broadcast over WSUI on the fine arts program last night.

Her talk told the story of the discovery of this interesting and ancient civilization, and of its highly developed art. Crete has been proven to be the center of this age, and the marvelous pottery was the most significant of this early art.

Miss Martin carried the story of

Shot "Home Wrecker" Fraternities Clash in Second Round of Bridge Tournament

Sigma Phi scored 2,940 points to win over Gamma Alpha to start the second round of the inter-fraternity bridge tournament yesterday afternoon at Iowa Union. Kappa Alpha Theta tallied 2,370 points to Alpha Delta Phi's 1,874, and Gamma Phi Beta increased her tournament score, 2,255 to beat Kappa Kappa Gamma—who scored 1,791.

Alpha Chi Omega bowed to Alpha Xi Delta to the count of 1,740 to 2,554. The match between Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Psi was the closest game of the afternoon and resulted, in a win for Phi Kappa Psi who scored 2,720 to Sigma Nu's 2,432. Chi Delta Psi turned in a score totaling 2,737 to better the Delta Sigma Phi mark of 2,116.

Two postponed matches were played with the Beta Theta Pi representatives emerging victorious over Sigma Phi Epsilon with the score totaling 2,788 to 1,975, while Phi Gamma Delta bowed to Kappa Sigma's score of 2,718 with 1,440.

Today finds Delta Delta Delta scheduled to play Delta Delta Gamma, Phi Omega Psi against Phi Beta Phi, and Delta Zeta dealing to Phi Mu. Alpha Kappa Psi plays Delta Upsilon. Phi Kappa Psi is matched against Phi Epsilon Phi, and Theta Xi will shuffle cards with Gamma Eta Gamma.

Kansas City Athletic Club Wins From Los Angeles in National A.A.U. Meet

Twogood's Cage Team Loses, 36-16

Indianapolis Turners Upsets Dope in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, March 12 (AP)—The South Side Turners of Indianapolis, upset team of the National A.A.U. basketball tournament here, tonight ejected the Ascension club cagers of Minneapolis by the score of 15 to 10. At half time the Indianapolis team held a 11 to 4 advantage. The Turners last night put out the favored Kansas City Strandbergs.

The Kansas City Athletic club team defeated the Los Angeles Athletic club 36 to 16 and will oppose the San Francisco quintet in the quarter-finals. The Los Angeles team was coached by Forrest Twogood, former University of Iowa star.

Bethany college of Lindsborg, Kan., champion of the Kansas conference, eliminated the Athens Athletic club of Oakland, Cal., 32 to 17. The East Central Teachers of Ada, Okla., removed the Goodyears of Akron, O., 28 to 12.

Henry's of Wichita, Missouri Valley A.A.U. champions and runners-up to the champion Cooks team of 1929, also gained a quarter-final position when the Central Normal team from Danville, Ind., failed to appear.

The Murphy-Did-It cagers from Omaha, composed of former Creighton university stars and others, conquered the Phillips club of Bartlesville, Okla., in a thriller, 30 to 29. Phillips led at half time by 16 to 15 and 23 to 22 with four minutes remaining to play. The Murphys were strengthened by the insertion of reserves and held Phillips scoreless while they counted four baskets from the field to win.

San Francisco's entry, the hard driving Olympic club, swept into the quarter-final round tonight with a 40 to 30 victory over the University of Wyoming Cowboys. The Olympics led at half time, 25 to 14.

Missouri Valley A.A.U. League May Have 8 Clubs

KANSAS CITY, March 12 (AP)—The Missouri Valley A.A.U. basketball league may be an eight club circuit next year.

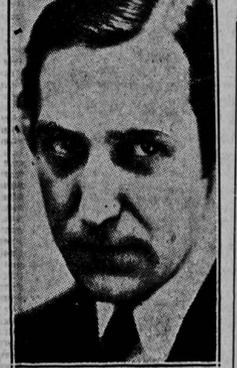

A meeting here today disclosed that the Kansas City Athletic club, Murphy-Did-It, an Omaha team, competing in the national tournament for the first time, Hilarys of St. Joseph and Cudahy A.C., of Sioux City, Ia., may enter. Henry's of Wichita, Phillips of Bartlesville, the Tulsa A.C., of Tulsa, Okla., and the Oklahoma City Boosters will hold over from this year, Cripes of St. Joseph, dropping out.

Frosh Batterymen Work Out Indoors

Frosh batterymen under Coach Tommy Thompson held a practice session last night at the field house. The workout consisted of putting into practice the suggestions as to proper form, speed, and position, made by the coach.

The pitchers and catchers are getting accustomed to the proper handling methods and will be in good shape for the outdoor games scheduled for next week. Coach Thompson expects to add a few more recruits to his pitching staff before the squad goes outdoors and welcomes any new candidates for those positions.

For 30 minutes last night, Phi Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha, two of the best volleyball teams in the university, battled for the supremacy of section I, and Phi Chi won 24 to 15. The score indicates the evenness of the tilt, which was played with all of the skill and strength that each fraternity could combine.

During no part of the game was either team more than six points ahead, and up to the finish the winner was in doubt. By triumphing over the Pi K. A.'s, the Phi Chi's are in first place in section I with a slim margin of one-half a game. Both teams have won three games, but the Phi Chi's are undefeated while the Pi K. A.'s have last night's defeat to be chalked up against them. If Phi Epsilon Pi can stop Phi Chi Tuesday night, the race will end in a tie between Phi Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha. If Phi Chi wins they will have a full game's advantage over the Pi K. A.'s.

Mounce and Soe played stellar roles for the Pi K. A.'s last night while it would be an injustice to the Phi Chi's to single out any one player, as they all did exceptional work.

The lineup: Pi Kappa Alpha—Soe, Horsch, Mounce, James, Day, Kuebel, Michael, and Kahl; Phi Chi—Heperger, Bach, Glesne, Dantz, Marble, Nierling, Harris, and Parrand.

Phi B. D's Win Twice

Phi Beta Delta won two games last night. The first encounter sent the A.T.O.'s tumbling to defeat, 21 to 17, and their second victory marked in the win column at the expense of Sigma Pi Epsilon to the tune of 21 to 19.

In the first game the A.T.O.'s proved to be stiff competition and with a little more teamwork might have sent the Phi B. D's into the depths of defeat. Harold Jehens played a whole of a game for the A.T.O.'s and his consistent serving kept his team in the running. Paul Book also played a flashy game for A.T.O. Paul looked best for the Phi Beta Delta's with his general all round good work.

The second game Phi Beta Delta played was even closer than its first game. Sigma Pi Epsilon, led by Patton, and Geer almost got to 21 first, but could not penetrate the opponents' defense in the closing minutes of the game. Abrams served well for Phi Beta Delta and he was ably assisted by Bratman, who made the deciding counter.

Fred Roberts, under whose supervision the tournament is being played, announces that tonight is the date set for all play offs. The following games are to be played: Phi Epsilon Pi vs. Sigma Chi; Delta Chi vs. Sigma Pi Epsilon; Delta Upsilon vs. Delta Sigma Pi; Sigma Nu vs. Phi Kappa Psi; and Triangle vs. Phi Kappa Psi.

Two games are also scheduled for tonight, in section II, Delta Sigma Pi faces Sigma Nu at 7:15, and in section III, Sigma Pi tangles with Sigma Pi Epsilon at 8 p.m.

The leader in section II is Sigma Nu with one victory and no losses.

EAR TO THE GROUND

By WALTER T. HANSON

A strenuous life, is the result that Virgil David has come to, after better than a week of spring training with the Cincinnati Reds, where he has been going through the experience of being initiated into the workings of a big league baseball club. Although a member of the Peoria club of the Three Eye league this season, David has been drilling with the Reds, and he has been facing the task of pitching to the batters, slugging balls and going through the various forms of exercise necessary for the training of the athletes. As a recruit he has been getting into action at 9 o'clock in the morning and working until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, according to word that has come back from the camp in Orlando, Fla.

Laurence Griswold, captain of the University of Iowa gym team has been suffering hallucinations. After a Napoleonic dream Tuesday night, in which he saw himself dipping and twisting like the swallow, he arose with determination, bent upon performing unheard of convolutions on the high bar. This mental storm reached its intensity yesterday afternoon when the rubber man calmly announced that he would do a double flip from the high bar. Despite warnings he swung free from the bar, did one beautiful flip, and landed upon the flat of his back. It was a beautiful finish, which no doubt the judges at the Big Ten meet Saturday would have received with acclamations. He maintained that he had not attempted a double flip on the high bars, but to the eyes of those assembled, his finish was remarkably like an awakening from a beautiful dream to discover that after all, the laws of gravitation are still being enforced. These are the words of a young man who has hopes of seeing "Larry" Griswold dispense with the idea of endangering his health to accomplish this aim of one of the most difficult accomplishments on the high bars.

For the second time Mace Brown, former University of Iowa pitcher performed on the mound in such a way that should earn him a right to be considered as a major league possibility. In his appearance yesterday against the Boston Braves he hurled shutout baseball during the time that he labored on the mound. As a young pitcher getting his first opportunity in fast company, the North English chucker, was developed last spring as a hurler by Otto Vogel, Iowa baseball coach, who changed him from a catcher. Brown's fast ball apparently has its effect upon other hitters than the Mankato team that he hurled the no-hit-no-run game against last summer while hurling for Marshall, Minn.

Six Wrestlers to Compete in Big Ten Meet

Gilchrist Unable to Enter; Howard Confident

Coach Mike Howard will leave with his wrestling team for Urbana, Ill., today where the men will make a bid for a Big Ten title in the annual grappling classics tomorrow Saturday. The men went through their final practices yesterday and the Hawk mentor pronounced them all to be in first class condition for the meet.

John Gilchrist, heavyweight, who is suffering from a recent illness, is still in a weakened condition and will not be able to compete. Capt. Roy Jarrard, light heavyweight, who sustained a sprained ankle recently, is greatly improved and is expected to compete in his weight.

Loren Poyner, 155 pound class, is handicapped some by a bad ear but is expected to make a good showing in the tournament. Allen Whitten who fills the 145 pound class, won three of his matches this season, is expected to come through.

Charles Coughlin, 165 pound class, who brought fame to himself by defeating the great Rawlston from Iowa State Teachers college to close the season, is in good condition for the matches.

Paul Amie, who holds down the 135 pound berth, has been working out regularly and is in good condition. He has been training constantly during the season and is in good form for the tournament.

E. S. Jones, 125 pound class, who finished the season by putting the last two matches in the victory column is in good shape for the matches.

Larry Mueller, 115 pounder, closing the season with two wins in the final matches, has worked out regularly and is in top form for his opponents.

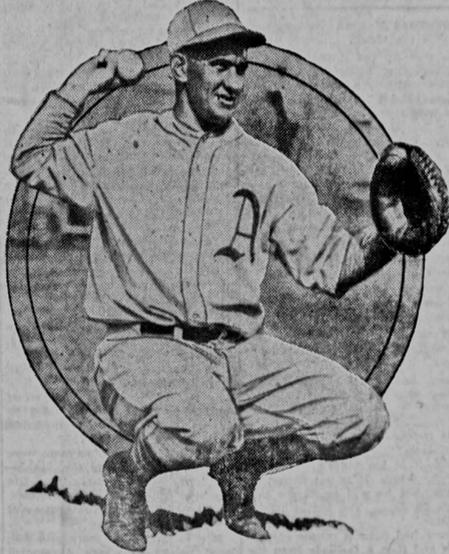

GIANTS LOSE TO SOX, 10 TO 6

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 12 (AP)—The New York Giants dropped another game to the Chicago White Sox 10 to 6. Dave Harris and Bill Cissel connected with circuit clouts for the Sox and Travis Jackson and Bill Terry for the Giants.

This may not be good news for budding American league base stealers, but it is big news to the A's to know that Mickey Cochrane is getting the old peg of his in shape.

Strikes and Spares

Off-form shooting resulted in low score honors in the Recreation bowling league last night. Wallen, of the Reliable Electric team was high for single game with 198 pins and he and Irvine, of the Quality Bakeshop squad divided the laurels for three game high score with a total of 540 pins apiece. The Daily Iowan bowlers took both the team single game high score with 881 points and the three game high score with 2,547 points.

In the games played, the Bailey Insurance five took three from the City Fuel five; The Daily Iowan representatives took two out three from their nearest competitors for league leadership; the Quality Bakeshop team, and the Reliable Electric team repeated the process, taking two out of three from Dees Bowling squad.

Hawks Leave for Big Ten Swim Meet

Splashers Have Little Hope for Tittle First Place

Coach Dave Armbruster's contingent of 13 water artists will leave today for Evanston, Ill., to do battle in the annual Big Ten swimming conference, held at Northwestern university, Friday and Saturday.

Scant hope is held by the Hawkeye men or coach that a first or second place will be garnered but the record that the Iowa men have made this season gives good indication that third honors may be in possession of the Old Gold swimmers.

First and second place will no doubt be decided by the University of Michigan and Northwestern. Their past performances show them to be powerful in all departments of the game.

The following personnel includes those men who will make the trip: Captain Crookham, Petersen, Snell, Larsen, McCully, Naylor, Mohl, Lowell, Lloyd, Evans, Wright, Lobdell, and Ferstenfeld.

Sixteen Hawkeyes to Seek Honors in Annual Illinois Indoor Relay Carnival

Hawk Mentor Takes Three Relay Teams

Enters Men in Three Special Events at Urbana

Sixteen men will leave for Urbana tomorrow at 7 a.m., via automobiles where they will compete in three relays and three special events at the thirteenth annual indoor Illinois relay carnival Saturday.

The following men comprise the team: Canby, Cochran, Skowbo, Moulton, Stanley, Miller, Beckner, Depping, Ferguson, Hubbard, Gordon, Willer, Handorf, Saling, Wickey, and Cue. The mile relay, two mile relay, and 200 shuttle hurdle relay and the pole vault and high jump will be the Hawkeyes' hopes.

Special event men will include Henry Canby, holder of the Big Ten conference indoor pole vault record; Edward Gordon, national champion broad jumper; and George Saling, high hurdler.

Coach George T. Breenahan gave the men their final grooming in a light drill session yesterday. This practice was preceded by a chalk talk in which the Hawk mentor issued final orders and named his team.

Gymnasts Continue to Prepare for Big Ten Title Meet at Chicago

The gym team went through another hard workout yesterday afternoon. The main problem now is smoothness in going through the routines, as the men have the exercises well in hand.

Frank Swisher is having trouble in developing a satisfactory opening for his side horse exercise, and yesterday Coach Albert Baumgartner took him over in an effort to iron out the difficulty.

Fred Berger was taken off the flying rings and parallel bars yesterday, and went through a session of tumbling under the tutelage of Coach Baumgartner and Capt. Laurence Griswold.

The veteran Connie Mack, 68 years old but young in spirit, has seven youngsters in the camp of the Athletics who are 20 years of age, or under. Some of them will be retained as reserves for the stars who won the 1929 championship.

Houlihan, Morrison Reach Semi-Finals of Fencing Tourney

In the first of yesterday's fencing bouts, two long boys, Osterhagen and Houlihan, each put forth a noble effort to win. Not a point was scored until after several furious exchanges of thrusts.

Mack probably will carry only nine pitchers after he cuts his team to the league limit of 25. June 15, so the scramble for the last place will be intense with three of the kindergarten trying desperately to break in Alfred Mahon, 20 years old, a Nebraska boy, Glenn Liebhardt, 19 years old, son of a famous Cleveland pitcher of other days, up from Des Moines, and George Snider, 18 years

Coach Martin's Men Take Weights Out of Doors for Practice

The weather yesterday proved to be ideal for outdoor workouts for Hawkeye weight men. The hammer, discus, shot, and javelin all had representative candidates trying their skill on the field west of the field house yesterday.

Wetstein was flinging the spear; Prange and DeLavelle were the shot putters; Youngerman and Stadler twirled the hammer, and Hanrum practiced on the discus.

The track men inside did little in addition to taking starts and slow laps. Most of the varsity men were slacking up in preparation for the Illinois relays Saturday in which Coach George Breenahan has 16 men entered.

HOME OF THE BRUINS AND BRAVES

FOR YEARS BOSTON FANS HAVE BEEN KIDDED ABOUT THEIR LAST PLACE BALL TEAMS, BUT WITH THE COMING OF HOCKEY THE WORM HAS TURNED AT LAST!

Misguided people who believe that Boston—Athens of America—never gets thoroughly excited over anything except an Al Smith demonstration, a censored book, or a Holy Cross defeat of Harvard, should visit the Hub during the present hockey season. On every side, Bostonians are whooping it up over their Bruins as well they might for Eddie Shore & Co., constitute as great a hockey team perhaps as "the fastest of all team sports" has ever known.

A's May Stand Pat on Old 1929 Array of Stars

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12 (AP)—When the world champion Philadelphia Athletics go out to open the 1930 season, they will present the lineup that won the world series, but the background will be vastly changed.

The veteran Connie Mack, 68 years old but young in spirit, has seven youngsters in the camp of the Athletics who are 20 years of age, or under. Some of them will be retained as reserves for the stars who won the 1929 championship.

The Athletics may be the only club in either league to stand pat on the closing lineup of last season. Players have been added in quantity but there have been no signs that any of them can crowd out any of the opening batting order.

There will be no change in the all star outfield with Al Simmons, Mule Haas, and Bing Miller returning to duty.

Five Ames Track Men Enter Meet

Cyclones Will Battle for Big Six Honors

AMES, March 12 (AP)—Five Iowa State college track men, minus Hubert Meier of Hedrick, who bettered the world's record for the 60-yard dash, in the Big Six conference indoor meet last Saturday, will compete in the Illinois relays, Coach Bob Simpson has decided.

In the group, however, will be Bob Hager of Waukon, hurdler whose mark of 7 seconds flat in the 60-yard low hurdles bettered all known records for the event by one-fifth second.

Meier, who was favored to rival the best of the country's sprinters in the Illinois classic, finished his record-breaking jaunt down the course at Columbia, Mo., with a pulled muscle. The diminutive sprinter probably will be out of training for at least two weeks, Coach Simpson said.

Hager will compete in both the high and the low hurdles at Illinois but Coach Simpson is pessimistic as to his chances. The Illinois relays committee ruled that the hurdles shall be placed 20 yards apart whereas Hager has trained all year on hurdles placed 15 yards apart, and Coach Simpson believes he will have a hard time finding his best stride since the dirt track at Iowa State college does not allow training for the farther spaced hurdles.

Ray Putnam of Elvins, Mo., who won the two-mile race at the Big Six meet without effort, will compete only in the 1,500 meter race at Urbana, Simpson said. Putnam has been running consistently well all spring and is favored to cop the race Saturday.

Lloyd Nagel, the fifth member of the Cyclone delegation, will run the 1,000 yard race.

Wearing the Green

The name of Marshall Riegert should, within the next few years, be a metaphor for success in athletics. Marshall, who prefers to be called "Mike," is a native of St. Louis, Mo., and is talented in basketball, baseball, and football.

Last fall he answered the call for freshman football players and won a place on Coach Vogel's varsity squad. His best position was half-back and he played it so well that he won his numeral.

Maplewood high school was his first athletic show-ground. He began his career by playing regular on the baseball team his freshman year. He continued to play on the varsity during his high school career and was elected to captain the team during his junior year.

FLEET FEET OF THE BIG TEN TRACK MEET

Military Units Point Toward First Carnival

The first military-athletic carnival will be held in the field house Saturday, March 15. This event is being sponsored by the military department and will be the largest intramural event ever staged in the university.

The three divisions competing in this combination military-athletic carnival are, infantry, engineers, medical, and dental companies combining to form one unit. Each company has a captain who will have charge of all entrants, scoring, and equipment issued.

The list of events are: military-gun assembly relay (three men per company, infantry and engineers); tent pitching (one squad per company, infantry and engineers); presentation of guidon to Pershing Rifles; exhibition drill given by Pershing Rifles members.

Novelty events listed are: three legged race (two teams per company, on 90 foot course); sack race (two men per company); centipede race (six man teams, one team per company); tug-of-war (10 man teams, one team per company); and the jump stick relay.

Scoring will be on the basis of first, five points; second, three points; and third, one point. Places will be picked both for units and individuals. Points will also be given for attendance of each company.

This is the first combination track and military carnival ever to be given in the history of Iowa's intramural sports and with the co-ordination of the company personnel it can be made one of the largest intramural features of the year.

DES MOINES (AP)—Police were investigating the accident of Wilbert De Long, 28 years old, who fell or was pushed from a Rock Island train in East Des Moines this morning, suffering serious injuries. Railroad officials claim De Long fell from the train, but police said De Long told them he was pushed off.

MASON CITY (AP)—Governor Hammill spoke before the American Legion conference and banquet here tonight. He was accompanied from Des Moines by Iowa national guard officers.

Handy's Men Discard Cage Togs; Center of Interest in Cinders

Athletic interest at University high has turned to indoor track now that the basketball season is over. However, a squad of men has been working out at the field house nearly all winter under the supervision of Coach M. F. Carpenter.

With the close of the basketball season, Coach E. R. Handy has been able to devote his time to the track squad, Charlie Van Epps has put aside his basketball jersey and has been showing up nicely in the quarter and half mile.

Moore has been more or less erratic in the 50-yard dash and quarter mile, but Coach Carpenter is hoping that he will settle down as a consistent winner.

Golf Course to Open Saturday

The university golf course will be open for play Saturday, according to an announcement made by Coach Charles Kennett yesterday afternoon. All players using the course must pay their dues at the club house before teeing off for the first time.

With the opening of the course Saturday, Coach Kennett requests players not to play, or go on the regular putting greens at present. Much damage can be done to the greens early this season if all rules are not adhered to as the greens are not in fit condition for play.

Social clubs of the city have received invitations to enter a round-robin team tournament this season. Clubs on Coach Kennett's mailing list were: Moose, Rotarians, Kiwanis, Gyro, American Legion, Elks, and the Lions club.

Competitive matches begin immediately between the candidates on the varsity and freshman squads, and by this method Coach Kennett expects to make his first squad cut. An elimination tourney will be started soon after the first squad cut takes effect; the players coming out on top will form the varsity and freshman teams.

ent winner. In the distances, Dill has been showing some very promising form. In the hurdles, Young looks to be the best, although not yet showing off to much advantage.

L. D. Weldon Entered for Texas Meets

Iowa Javelin Thrower Unlimbers Arm in Outdoor Drill

Weeks of watching indoor event men go through their competition soon will end for L. D. Weldon, University of Iowa athlete who holds the National A.A.U. junior javelin championship and record.

For, on March 28 and 29, Weldon will unleash his javelin at the Texas and Southern Methodist relays in an effort to show why he was a national champion last summer and the winner of the event at two big relay carnivals in 1928.

Weldon has been drilling all winter and recently with easy practice tosses has been exceeding the 180-foot mark. When he actually cuts loose with his best attempts, he expects to approach 200 feet.

In winning the A.A.U. junior title at Denver in July, the Hawkeye hurled the shaft 198 feet, 4 inches, the best distance made during the 21-year history of the event in the national meet.

Two years ago, Weldon, a student at Gracehland college, Lamoni, came fourth from athletic obscurity to win the javelin at Kansas and Drake relays. His distance at Drake was 198 feet and at Kansas better than 193 feet.

Hawklets in Ragged Cage Drill Period

Coach George Wells' Little Hawk hoopsters looked rather ragged in a short scrimmage last night as they prepared for the district meet at Waterloo, Friday and Saturday.

The Iowa City high coach is trying to keep overconfidence from getting a grip on his men, but also trying to keep them from losing their confidence.

They will play their first game Friday at 7:30 p.m. when they meet the winner of the Oelwein-Manchester game. Two victories over their opponents during the past season gives the Oelwein crew a slight edge.

A past season record of 23 wins out of 25 from some of the strongest north eastern Iowa teams, puts the Hub City five in a class with the best of them and they are expected to furnish plenty of competition for the Little Hawks. If the local five wins the first game it will enter the finals to be played at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Ragged passes and much fumbling marked the Little Hawks practice last night. Their basket shooting, which they have been weak in during the last part of the season, looked much better last night and their defensive playing was up to standard.

Coach Wells will give them a light practice tonight in the final workout before they leave tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

SEK REVENGE

The Odd Fellows lodge quintet will seek revenge for the close defeat it suffered last week at the hands of the 18th hospital company team, tonight in a return engagement at the Legion gym.

The Odd Fellows lineup will consist of C. Beales and Whiting, forwards; Oathouse, center, and Walters and J. Beales at guard. The national guard five is composed of Watkins and Owen, forwards; Stutzman, center, and C. Brown and Fairchild, guards.

High School Pupils Seek Music Honors

25,000 Musicians Enter State Contest This Week-End

Down the trail of melody with state championship honors beckoning at its end, some 25,000 Iowa school pupils Thursday, Friday, and Saturday begin their musical march.

For, in 36 centers, 370 schools will send their finest vocal and instrumental musicians into sub-district contests, the first round of the Iowa high school music association competition.

The sub-district champion in each of 40 contests qualifies for the district meet, April 3, 4, and 6. From each of these six affairs, the first and second place winners will move forward to the festival finals May 1, 2, and 3 at the University of Iowa.

Of the 25,000 musicians who this week enter the initial contests, only about 2,800 ultimately will become eligible for the final round which decides the state titles.

Championships await 17 individuals—singers, string, brass, and woodwind instrumentalists; and 23 groups, including bands, orchestras, glee club, and choruses.

Never in the four years of the festival's existence has the number of entering schools been as great, according to Supt. P. C. Lapham of Charles City, secretary-treasurer of the association. The old record, established in 1923, was 315 schools.

These are the sites of the sub-district contests:

Central—Des Moines, Grundy Center, Guthrie Center, Indianola, Nevada, Toledo.

North central—Belmond, Lake City, Jedayrd, Mason City, Plover, Spencer, Struble.

Northeast—Charles City, Marlon, Monticello, Osceola, Postville.

Northwest—Ida Grove, Hartley, Hawarden, Sae City, Sioux City, Storm Lake.

Southeast—Mt. Madison, Oskaloosa, Sigourney, West Liberty.

Southwest—Audubon, Bedford, Council Bluffs, Greston, Denison, Griswold, Osceola, Shenandoah.

Anderson Stresses Safety Program at Engineer's Meeting

Stressing the highly organized safety program of industrial plants, C. H. Anderson, district safety supervisor of the Rock Island lines, addressed 75 members of the students' branch of the American society of mechanical engineers at their regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the engineering building.

Some of the methods that are being used among the employees of the railroad company to reduce the number of accidents, were explained.

A reduction of 50 per cent in the number of accidents to employees of the Rock Island company was brought about in the year 1929 over that of the previous year, according to Mr. Anderson. Of those that did occur last year, approximately 90 per cent were due to individual failures rather than faulty equipment, tools, or materials.

Law Students Try Duress, Fraud Case

The law school's practice court will hear a duress and fraud case this afternoon at 3:20 in the university court room. The action consists of a suit brought against the only living son of a deceased testator by two of the latter's grandchildren through their father and guardian.

Terms of the will had left all the possessions of the deceased to the son.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are, Ben Hockenbery, L3 of Des Moines, and George Hitchcock, L3 of Mondamin. Defendants are represented by Charles E. Hird, L3 of Jefferson, and John B. Kirchner, L3 of Ft. Dodge.

Review of "The Royal Family"

By HARTZELL SPENCE

Bustle, temperament, hysterics, shouting, a parrot and monkey, a baby, a fine setting—death. That is "The Royal Family," a comedy in three acts by George Kautman and Edna Ferber, which was presented by the university theater Tuesday night, and will conclude its run this evening.

But of course there is more to it than that. Underlying an obvious satire of the Barrymores, known in this play as the Cavendish family, is the theme that once the thrill of the theater gets into the blood, no tie of love, serious illness, moving picture contracts, or accumulation of troubles can drive one away for long. In the end, back the actor or actress comes to the theater. These people of the acting profession are different; they were not cast from the ordinary mould, and consequently they do not fit into any social order but their own.

The authors contrive a difficult piece in this play. They gathered together in one mad household an assorted lot of actors, both good ones and poor ones. Against them they brought in contrast a substantial business man who made millions in South America, and a pretty boy who dangled like a Pekinese pup from the apron strings of the youngest Cavendish. These men had no interest in things theatrical. They could not understand that urtic which spurs one ever onward to the glittering lights. As one of them says, "A fuse blows out, and where are you?"

They thought it would be easy to get away from the glamor, and settle down in a quiet household. But such an existence was not for a Cavendish. At least not while grandmother Fanny was alive.

She was a trouper, and insisted that "Once a Cavendish, always a Cavendish." She looked always for inspiration at the portrait of her dead husband Aubrey, and died, holding up her glass in one last toast to him.

Two Girls Star
Acting honors were pretty well divided between Miss Susan Eaker, who played Fanny, and Miss Isabel Heupel, as her daughter Julie. Both of them took advantage of every bit of cleverness which the lines gave them, and from their first entrances, which were theatrical gems, to the last curtain, they were faithful to their parts. They were not just two characters, Fanny and Julie. They were members of the Cavendish family, descendants of a long line of actors.

Miss Heupel's audience demanded a certain call at the end of the second act Tuesday night, but she did not appear. She had just built up a vigorous hysteria scene, showing the effect of every outrageous demand which had been made upon her by her relatives, until finally, able to stand no more, she had, literally, blown up. It was a fine scene, if not a trifle screaming in spots, which made her lines unintelligible. Her pose saved the play several times from becoming dull after one of Tony's mad exits had left the stage deathly quiet. Her fate, it seemed, was to pull the play out of holes which the authors had left yawning, just as in the play she assisted her relatives out of their difficulties. She was gracious, commanding, just theatrical enough to get across her temperament, and charming to watch.

Death Unconvincing
Miss Eaker was a very droll old lady. Her lines gave her a vim and dash quite in contrast to her sudden death. She seemed more animated in the last act than in the first two. She abandoned her walking stick, which she had carried for two acts as though it were really an every day habit to do so, and slipped so much into the hearts of her audience, that they paused awkwardly when the final curtain obliterated the view of her dead body. One felt that she should not have died, that Kaufman and Miss Ferber might have let her go out on tour, to die on the road, as a real trouper should have done. But she died as she had lived for three acts on the stage—effectively.

There was not a woman in the cast who did not do a good job of her part. Miss Agnes Lewison's Gwen was convincing. She was especially good when her grandmother fainted in act two. Without saying a line, she conveyed her grief that she was the cause of the catastrophe. She picked up Fanny's cane walked anxiously over to the stairway, and stood there with real regret and tenderness stamped vividly upon her. Miss Marie Park was delightful as Kitty Dean. Her best moments were those in which she stood silently at the back of the stage, registering triumphant scoffing at this whole tribe of actors, who had been "Cavendished up" to her for so long. Her work was more difficult because she, having married into the family, and consequently not of the blood, was not supposed to be a good actress. Perhaps Kitty Dean could not act; but Marie Park could. Anne Bradford was a sympathetic Della, and in that household of actors, she needed to be.

Lee Convincing
Warren Lee, who has not previously in the theater attempted as serious a characterization of Oscar Wolfe, Broadway producer, was sincere. He built up splendidly in the third act a sympathy for Fanny, by his reminiscence on the old lady's triumphs of other years, which he executed in a voice one thought, at times, was going to break down with genuine grief. Gordon Gunn's interpretation of Perry Stewart was difficult, because the authors put him on the stage and forgot he was there. He played it adequately. Robert Brown struggled the whole evening to produce an effect of middle age upon his eighteen-year-old countenance, which was a hard assignment. Ed Kelley, as Jo, the busy house man, was excellent.

Fred Teverbaugh attempted the part of Anthony Cavendish. He was the John Barrymore, the gay lover of the moving pictures, wild, reckless, exceedingly animated. But he was a bit too much the college boy, and his gestures did not have the sweeping grace of a gallant. He should have executed all his gestures as he kissed Fanny after dueling down the stairway. There was a romantic rhythm in the sweep of his arms then. But he was too content to raise his right hand on high as though clutching for a street car strap, during most of his moments, and often, in his animation, while he stormed about the stage, his lines became mumbling and incoherent. As a vigorous, athletic madcap, he was fine, but as a graceful lover he lacked ease.

Setting Attractive
William Russell played the part of Herbert Dean, an actor who in his own estimation was the greatest living Hamlet, cleverly in spots, and then, as though he had done his duty, a bit dully at other moments. He was like an early nineteenth century Macbeth, working up to his big moments with fine flourish, and then dropping away to recuperate strength for another good scene. He ate his morning meal in the first act adroitly, and expressed amusingly his injured dignity when Gil Marshall showed contempt for actors in the third act.

Don Ament's setting was the best interior the theater has produced in the last few years. It was colorful and substantial, ultra-modern even to the green chandelier with its indirect lighting effect.

The difficult task of direction fell to Miss Edith Rule and Vance M. Morton. Their careful work showed in the grouping of so large a cast on that small stage. Tony was allowed freedom of movement for his wild gestures; the arrival of the baby and toast to its health was brilliant, and often, in his animation, while he stormed about the stage, his lines became mumbling and incoherent. As a vigorous, athletic madcap, he was fine, but as a graceful lover he lacked ease.

Railway Wins Fight to Discontinue Line Between Iowa Cities

DUBUQUE, March 12 (AP)—The Chicago Milwaukee St. Paul & Pacific railroad company today won its fight to abandon its line in Dubuque county from Worthington to Farley under authorization of the interstate commerce commission.

The Dubuque shippers association, who opposed the abandonment, announced following the commission's ruling that it was not contemplating an appeal. The abandonment is effective April 5.

Worthington and Farley residents, the shippers association, and the Iowa board of railroad commissioners opposed the railroad company.

Iowa Should Create Natural Preserves

Creation of natural preserves rather than the artificial development of parks is the conservation course most beneficial to the state, according to Prof. Bohumil Shimek, veteran professor of botany at the University of Iowa.

Wild life, both birds and beasts, can best be guarded in natural preserves, he said. Unless prompt action is taken it will not be many years until the major part of Iowa's natural woodland beauty will have disappeared.

English Department Adds Four Extras for Summer Term

Four professors from other schools will teach courses in the department of English at this university during the summer.

C. F. Tucker Brooke, professor of English at Yale, will teach courses in Shakespeare at both sessions. Professor Brooke, besides editing, "Works of Marlowe," and "Shakespeare's Apocrypha," is the editor of the "Yale Shakespeare," a publication of the Yale university press.

George B. Parks, professor of English at Washington university, St. Louis, will teach modern drama and non-dramatic Elizabethan literature. Professor Parks has written a volume on, "Voyages of Elizabethan Explorers," which was published by the American geographical society.

Professor Parks will also be here for both sessions.

Prof. George Spohn, of the English department of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., who has been here for the last three summers will again teach here.

Home Caskey, associate professor of English of the University of Illinois, will be here for the first session to teach courses in eighteenth century literature in which he has specialized.

Banker's Life Appeal Comes to U. S. Court

Policyholders in Iowa Insurance Company Get Hearing

WASHINGTON, March 12 (AP)—A review on the merits of the appeal of Joseph Wall and other assessment policyholders in the Bankers Life company of Des Moines, will be held by the United States supreme court to determine whether or not the court has jurisdiction in the case, it ruled today.

The complainants brought suit against the company on the ground that a change from a mutual to an assessment company had deprived them of their legal rights and had imposed higher rates than the old policies.

They said the assessment had become great since no new members were being enrolled to aid them in meeting assessment obligations.

An appeal to Iowa courts had resulted in its dismissal, the courts ruling that the company was justified in raising the rates for such members.

Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration of the new Frigidaire HYDRATOR

Desserts and salads will be served. New recipe books will be given away. Be sure to attend

HERE'S your opportunity to find out all about the marvelous new Frigidaire Hydrator.

On Thursday, March 13th, we start a special 9-day demonstration—one of the most interesting ever held in our showroom.

We will show the Hydrator in actual use—just as you would use it in your home. You will see how lettuce is made tender and brittle by the Hydrator's moist, reviving cold. You will see how celery and radishes take on added crispness—how tomatoes are improved in texture and flavor.

And that is not all you will see. The latest household cabinets in Porcelain-on-steel will be on display. The famous "Frigidaire Cold Control" will also be demonstrated. You will be shown how this device freezes ice cubes faster—how it permits you to make scores of unusual desserts that require extreme cold.

Will you be our guest?

SPECIAL OFFER
Until Saturday, March 22nd

We are prepared to make a liberal special offer to all who buy Frigidaire during our 9-day demonstration. Let us tell you about this offer. Let us tell you about our easy payment plan. Come in at your first opportunity. We will be open evenings until ten o'clock every day of the demonstration.

Sales From Overstocked Granaries Cause Sag in Grain Prices

Rye Sells at Lowest Price in 16 Years

Wheat, Corn, Oats Try New Low Levels for Present Season

CHICAGO, March 12 (AP)—Reflexive selling from the overstocked world granaries gave the grain futures a depressing atmosphere today. Wheat, corn, oats, and rye tried out new low price levels for the season, with rye selling at the lowest figure in 16 years, 20 cents a bushel cheaper than corn.

Liquidation at Liverpool started the downward run here, and after wheat on the English market had slumped as much as 6 1/4 cents a bushel below yesterday's price, Chicago quotations tumbled as much as 4 3/8 cents. July and September contracts reached the lowest point of the season, while at Minneapolis July delivery fell within 1/8 cent of the dollar mark.

Added by buying credited to the grain stabilization corporation and on some bad crop reports, wheat came back from the bottom to close 1 to 2 3/4 cents under Monday's finish; March $1.05 1/4; May $1.09 1/4 to 3/8; July $1.05 5/8 to 3/4; September $1.05 1/8 to 3/8.

May corn sold down to 78 1/8 cents, rye at 58 1/2 and oats at 40 1/4.

Prime factor in the sensational drop at Liverpool was the revision of Broomhall's figures on world import needs to 634,000,000 bushels for wheat for this crop year, a reduction of 42,000,000 bushels from the previous estimate and contrasting with 1928-1929 actual imports of 37,000,000 bushels. The poor demand this year was partly attributed to weakened buying power of European peoples, who have used substitutes rather than buy foreign wheat.

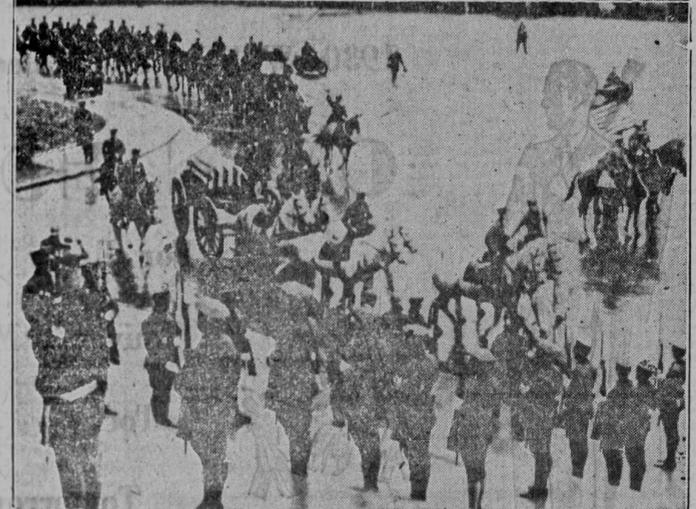

Meanwhile the trade had to face the statement by Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, that he saw no probability of lessened congestion at the domestic wheat markets for at least 60 days, and that by the end of the crop year the government would likely have 100,000,000 bushels on their hands. He said the farm boards could offer no lasting relief from the surplus problem until the farmers cooperate by reducing their wheat acreage.

CAPITOL PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO TAFT

On a flag-draped caisson the body of William Howard Taft slowly moves toward the Capitol while all the bells of Washington toll for the illustrious dead and all flags of the nation fly at half mast and all the far-flung military posts of the nation fire cannon in booming requiem. The body was placed in the rotunda of the Capitol, where it lay in state while thousands passed slowly by and looked for the last time upon the face of the dead. Then burial in Arlington National cemetery surrounded by heroes of the dead.

On a simple catafalque draped with the flag he loved and served for two score years, William Howard Taft lies in state in the rotunda of the Capitol. There came friends—he was one of the few men in high political life with almost no foes—dignitaries of the nation, great jurists, the people of Washington, all to sadly bid a last farewell.

Attorney Sent 5,000 to Pen; Now Prisoner

Keys Sentenced for One to 14 Years Imprisonment

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., March 12 (AP)—The irony which plays a prank in the lives of many men, brought to San Quentin prison today, in the role of convict, Asa Keys, who as district attorney at Los Angeles for a quarter of a century, sent half this penitentiary's 4,000 population here. Keys took his place here after an all night journey from Los Angeles where he recently was convicted of accepting upwards of $100,000 in bribes for alleged failure to prosecute adequately, numerous wealthy Californians accused of fleecing thousands of investors in the Julian Petroleum corporation stock. He repeated the statement that he was innocent and would some day be vindicated. He also said he did not enter the prison in a downcast mood but with head erect and determined to start anew when he gains his freedom.

Prosecuted 5,000. Keys sent more than 5,000 persons to state prison. Nearly 3,000 of these have served their terms or been paroled. There was much curiosity as how the 2,000 still here would receive him. It was found they virtually ignored him.

When Keys got out of the car before the prison entrance this morning Warden James B. Hollman was there to greet him. For a moment Keys and the warden posed for photographs, then entered the prison yard, Keys leaving the world behind for "one to 14 years," becoming for the period number 48,218.

Reception Doubtful. Care will be taken to prevent possible attacks by any convicts sent here by him who may seek revenge. After Keys has served the first year of his sentence the state pardons board will decide the exact length of his term.

Extension Division Sponsors Contest of H. S. Newspapers

An all-Iowa critical contest for high school papers, sponsored by the extension division of the University of Iowa in cooperation with the school of journalism, has been announced. The contesting high schools will be divided into four classes as to their size. Each school entering the competition will be required to submit three consecutive issues of its paper for March or April, which will be criticized by three judges: a high school teacher of journalism outside the state, one practicing newspaper man, and one college teacher of journalism.

In each of the four classes, approximately ten per cent of the contestants will be given the award of highest distinction; the next 15 per cent will be awarded certificates of distinction; and the next 25 per cent will be certified as of general excellence.

A special five-weeks laboratory course for high school journalists will be offered in the school of journalism during summer school, beginning June 16 and ending July 18. The course will consist of an intensive study in journalistic fundamentals, accompanied with laboratory practice on The Iowan.

There is to be a course in teaching high school journalism offered in the summer school by Prof. Frank Mulheise. Work will be given in news writing, editorial policy, advertising, and make-up, annuals as well as papers being considered.

Guard Arrives, Gong Rings; Two Bandits Rob Bank, Escape

PEORIA, Ill., March 12 (AP)—Despite the timely appearance of a bank guard and the sounding of an alarm two robbers, held up the Farmers and Mechanics State bank here at noon hour and escaped with $1,500.

Entering the bank during the robbery and inquiring "what's going on here," Policeman William Harris was instantly confined and ordered to lie down. Cashier H. J. Reese, lying on the floor, pressed a buzzer arranged to summon guards stationed across the street, but the guards failed to respond in time.

Francis Chichester, a comparative novice at flying, has just completed a 13,000 mile hop from England to Australia in 36 days. Chichester is a New Zealand business man and had but three months' flying experience in Europe.

45% of 1930 Corn Crop Is Still Unsold

Close to 197 Million Bushels Remain on Farms

DES MOINES, March 12 (AP)—Forty-five per cent of Iowa's 1929 corn crop is still on the farm, Leslie M. Carl, federal agriculture statistician, said today in his report of farm conditions on March 7.

This is a total of 196,992,000 bushels, as compared to 205,000,000 which remained on the farm the same date a year ago. The average percentage of stocks for the last 10 years is 44.

Five per cent less of all kinds of grains remains on Iowa farms than a year ago, Carl said. Stocks March 1 were 290,446,000 as compared with 306,461,000 a year ago.

Figures on other crops were: Wheat—1,495,000 bushels on farms March 1, 1930; 1,396,000 bushels a year ago. Total 1929 crop 8,794,000 bushels. Oats—Estimated on hand 55,775,000 bushels, 5 per cent less than a year ago. Total 1929 crop 219,928,000. Barley—On hand 5,991,000 bushels. Total 1929 crop 19,581,000 bushels. Rye—On hand 96,000 bushels. Estimated 1929 crop 800,000 bushels.

City Council to Have Hearing of '30 Budget

Exceeds Last Year's by $10,812; May Buy New Tractor

Exceeding the 1929 budget by $10,812 the proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 will have its last hearing before the city council tomorrow night. Expenditures in the new budget total $252,718. Last year's budget amounted to $241,906.

Purchase of a new tractor for road maintenance will also be taken under consideration by the council. The street and alley committee will meet tonight with Allen Wallen, city engineer, and the figures concerning the tractor will be presented to the council tomorrow night by Alderman Leo Kohl, chairman of the committee. The other members of the street and alley committee are Aldermen LeRoy Mercer and John Piper.

Mrs. Bristol Gives Criticism of O'Neill's "Strange Interlude"

Mrs. William Bristol of the English department, entertained the Lions club at the weekly luncheon yesterday noon at the Jefferson hotel with two humorous readings.

Her first selection described the comments of an uncultured young lady on "Hamlet" who thought it was a gloomy, bloody, and unpleasant play. The vernacular of the east side girl in discussing Shakespeare's famous tragedy, together with the reader's gestures made the reading quite humorous.

A personal criticism of Eugene O'Neill's play, "Strange Interlude," was enjoyable. Mrs. Bristol recently witnessed a presentation of this drama, in Chicago, which she termed "the great center of culture." The entertainer described "Strange Interlude" as morbid, immoral, and uninteresting play, the like of which she had never seen. Her comments on the plot and the queer actions of the characters were entirely original. In discussing the sordid nature of O'Neill's drama, Mrs. Bristol remarked that she could not understand why the American public flocks to see a play as soon as they learn that it deals with sex.

Prof. A. C. Trowbridge, John F. McNamara, Edward H. Lauer, and the members of the Creighton university debating team were guests at the luncheon which was attended by 46 persons.

Local Concerns to Change Locations Beginning Mar. 24

In a few weeks several changes in locations are to be made by local business houses. Fry Brothers' grocery store, 129 S. Dubuque street, will move to 210 S. Dubuque street, next to the Miller Feed store. The company plans on locating at its new place April 13 as soon as redecorating has been finished.

The Spindel Brothers' clothing company, 121 E. Washington street, is planning on moving into the building that the Fry Brothers are vacating. Just when the change will take place will be determined by the length of time required to redecorate, put in new floor, and front the building.

March 24 the Red Ball grocery store will be open to trade at a new home 310 S. Dubuque street, formerly occupied by the Maruth clothing company.

Power and Light Plant is Coralville's Great Industry

$140,000 Worth of Proposed Improvements Include New Steam Turbine

A half century ago an old mill standing on the banks of Iowa river at the present site of Coralville was partially torn down, and in its stead was erected the power plant which today provides Iowa City with its electrical supply. Besides the 13,200 volt line into Iowa City, the Coralville plant also provides the interurban and country lines with power.

Water to run the turbines is provided by a 290 foot dam, which backs up a head of 11 feet of water, and except in rare cases of flood furnishes a vast amount of power. The water turbines are located in the wheel house, which is a small building to the west end of the dam. Both are equipped with Woodward waterwheel governors to control the pressure on the viens of the turbines. These keep the pressure and speed even up to 10,500 pounds of pressure.

In the main section of the plant is the steam equipment, which produces current in circuit with the water turbines. This includes a steam turbine with a capacity of 1000 KW, and a Westinghouse steam turbine with 400 KW. The latter is usually added only at night when the load is heavy. A large 500 horse-power boiler provides the steam for these turbines. This is fed directly from the reserve yards by a series of conveyors. In winter and when load is extra heavy, a 440 horse-power boiler is also run, and three 200 horse-power boilers for reserve.

Professor Surveys Groceries of Iowa

As the sixth of a series of studies published by the University of Iowa bureau of business research, a volume, "Operating costs of service grocery stores in Iowa in 1927," has been issued.

The author is Prof. William H. Bristol of the college of commerce. Undertaken at the request, and with the cooperation, of the Iowa Retail Merchants' association, the study presents facts about variations in costs, expenses in retail stores, and comparison of results in high-profit and high-loss establishments.

100 Iowa City High Students Receive Honor Roll Mention

More than 100 students of the Iowa City high school were placed on the fourth six weeks' honor roll released from the principal's office yesterday.

Those students receiving grades above 95 per cent were accorded the rank of "with distinction." They were Robert Shea, and Evelyn Benda, seniors; Peter Bannon, junior; Chester Fliter, Helen Kadlec, and Iowa Scharf, sophomores; and Lambert Trowbridge, Frances Keeler, and Alice Kelly, freshmen.

The next group maintained an average of all E but one and that one between 85 and 95 per cent. Pupils honored in this were George Cerny, William Donovan, Robert Klittredge, Jaro Soucek, Mertle Janke, Alice Lampe, Bessie Soucek, and Dorothy Spencer, seniors. Lucile Smith, junior; Sam Saltzman, Marjorie Alcock, Betty Kuhl, Eloise McGhee, sophomores, Mary Eleanor Johnston, Eleanor Lauer, Gretchen Neuman, and Florence Seannell, freshmen; and Floyd Dean, 9B.

Other members of the honor roll are George Albrecht, Peter Aldershot, Robert Bright, Howard Davis, Lester Diehl, Eldon Fry, Harold Horack, George Huffman, Howard Moffitt, Leonard Parks, Eldon Schneobelen, Wendell Taylor, Jack White, Richard Yager. Cornelia Brady, Theresa Christensen, Marjorie Davis, Ella Mae Ebert,

A new turbine with a capacity of 3000 KW will be installed in the plant within the next few months, which should raise the total output to about 3500 KW. It will be necessary to raise the roof over the north side of the plant in order to make the installation, and a large Hamilton Corless steam engine with an 18 foot fly-wheel will have to be moved.

The estimated cost of the entire project is $140,000, and the contract will be let March 20. Work will begin as soon as the material can be obtained.

Poor Pedestrian—He Finally Gets a Break

"Sure it's all right to toot your own horn," agrees Chief of Police C. F. Benda, "but be careful who you toot it at." This is a summary of the chief's opinion regarding motorists who drive up to a busy intersection and then honk their horn for pedestrians to get out of the road.

The pedestrian has the right-of-way at a corner, even though the traffic light favors the motorist, and to toot your horn or expect the footwalker to rush out of the way, will stand in no good in the event of an accident.

Chief Benda also issues a caution on speeding and traffic laws with the coming of spring and advent of many more auto drivers on the campus and in the city.

New School Board Members Installed Next Monday Night

Announcement of the meeting of the new members of the school board with the present body next Monday evening was made at the meeting of the board of education of Iowa City at its meeting last night in the administration building.

At the next meeting there will be an official canvass of the votes polled at the school election held Monday, March 10 and the installation of the new members.

Iver A. Opstad, superintendent of schools, gave a detailed account of the meeting of superintendents and educational leaders in Atlantic City last month, at last night's session.

Seven Years Bad Luck? Bullet Hits Image, Not Woman

KEOKUK, March 12 (AP)—The mirrored figure of Mrs. Mildred McCutcheon, Negress, was the target at which Lee Holmes is alleged to have fired last night. But police believe he thought he was firing at the woman and that later he attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the lower jaw with a shotgun.

Holmes is in a serious condition at a local hospital. Mrs. McCutcheon is unharmed, but if a broken mirror means seven years of bad luck—there's plenty for both of them.

Declamatory Contest Tonight, City High, Host, Enters Three

Three entrants from the Iowa City high school will compete for honors tonight in the sub-district declamatory contest tonight at the senior high school at 7:30. Ruth Aurner, Mary Snider, and Sidwell Smith are the local contestants.

Judges for the affair will be Elizabeth Fatherson and Gladys Lynch of the university speech department, and Mary Jones of the speech department of Grinnell college.

Other schools entered in this division are Muscatine, Lone Tree, Nichols, Springdale, Wellman, and West Liberty. Winners will take part in the pre-district contest at West Liberty April 11.
