In an interview yesterday Mr. Coyle revealed that Boeing officials have incorporated four or five minor changes in the contract as it was submitted by the city council, and that the company is prepared to expend approximately $50,000 in improvements on the port, $13,000 of which will be the city's money.

Senators May Act on Muscle Shoals Project

Norris Fights Efforts to Amend Measure, Assails Trusts

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Final action tomorrow on the Norris resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals was in prospect tonight after the senate had rejected all attempts to amend the main features of the legislation.

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, was confident of the vote for adoption of his resolution. It is in practically the same form as the measure sent to President Coolidge two years ago by congress.

Norris fights amendments. Urging that "no pig be put in the resolution upon which a veto by the chief executive may be hung," the Nebraska senator successfully beat down attempts by Senators Black and Heflin, of Alabama, democrats, to amend the measure today.

Concluding a two day speech for breakfast, was confident of the vote for adoption of his resolution. It is in practically the same form as the measure sent to President Coolidge two years ago by congress.

Alpha Delta Pi Gets Debating Cup Given by Sigma Delta Phi

Intersorority debates ended last night with final honors going to Alpha Delta Pi. They will be awarded the cup, given by Sigma Delta Phi, which was won last year by Theta Phi Alpha, runners-up this year.

Speakers who debated for Alpha Delta Pi were: Elmer Cherry, A2 of Independence, and Marie Nelson, A1 of Atlantic. Theta Phi Alpha representatives were: Helen Foley, J4 of Delmar, and Margaret Jane Griffin, J3 of Riverside. Daniel E. Goodly-Koontz, L3 of Boone, judged the debate. Velma Bookhart, A4 of Ida Grove, presided.

The winning team upheld the affirmative side of the contention that the women's Pan-Hellenic association of the university should pass a ruling requiring each sorority on the campus to adopt a 2.25 average as a basis of initiation, to be made the semester preceding initiation.

The decision was based on oral delivery, organization of arguments and continuity, and conviction.

Road Commission Awards Contracts Totaling $400,000

AMES, April 3 (AP)—The state highway commission today awarded contracts totalling more than $400,000 for paving and grading work in Muscatine, Poweshiek and Mills counties. The awards brought to $1,916,321.41 the total of contracts let this week.

A contract to pave 9,109 miles of U. S. highway No. 61 southwest from Muscatine was given to J. B. Hanahan of Keokuk, who bid $189,527.51. The J. A. Carlson Construction company of Omaha was awarded a contract for grading 6,412 miles in Mills county from Glenwood to the Missouri river on a bid of $38,309.29.

City Employee Has House Built From Picked Up Bricks

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Every time Joe Yandle, assistant in the city engineering department here, saw a stray brick he picked it up and took it home. Yandle now has a three-room house entirely built of stray bricks he found in streets, alleys and vacant lots. It took him 18 months to get the 10,000 bricks for his home, but he says it's a good "pick up" and was worth the time.

Senate, House Seek to Adjust Rate Troubles

Utah Senator Publishes Action on Changes to Beat Threat

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—The final phase of the republican tariff revision program was entered upon today as the senate and house conferees held their first sessions to adjust the many differences between the two congressional branches over the Hawley-Smoot bill. Thirty-two rates in the chemical schedule were acted upon.

The senate conferees were victorious in a majority of the contests, the house group receding from its higher rate amendments in 16 instances and the senate giving in only four. Twelve comprises were reached.

Men in Green Sedan Sought

Police Believe Body of Slain Man in Car

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 3 (AP)—Woodmen and farmers joined with police of Wisconsin and upper Michigan tonight in a search for two men driving a bullet-marked green sedan, believed by Menominee county authorities to be carrying with them the body of a murdered man.

Falling to cut off the flight of the pair on main highways last night, detachments of state police today detested backwoods settlers in their search for little-used side roads and old lumber trails. They appealed to Wisconsin authorities for help in capturing the men before they reach Chicago or the Twin Cities.

The man hunt was started last night when Alex C. Andrews, Menominee garage man, told how he had been shot through the hand and then clubbed over the head as he sought to ascertain how a body came to be in the green car. He had pulled the machine out of the ditch 16 miles north of here.

Andrews said he saw what appeared to be a black-haired man, dead, lying on the floor of the automobile. When he opened the door to get to the driver's seat, he saw the man lying on the floor. He had pulled the machine out of the ditch 16 miles north of here.

State police were called in from Marquette, Iron Mountain and other quarters. Their number was augmented by volunteer possees from a half dozen counties in Wisconsin and upper Michigan. Every road and interstate bridge was guarded.

Prosecutor Resists New Huckins Trial

CEDAR RAPIDS, April 3 (AP)—County Attorney Carl Hendrickson tomorrow plans to file a motion to George E. Huckins' resistance to a new trial on his conviction of obtaining money under false pretenses. Hendrickson said he will present affidavits of jurors in answer to the charge of Walter J. Bangrover, Huckins' attorney, that the talesmen were prejudiced by external circumstances.

District Judge F. O. Ellison probably will hear oral arguments on the motion next Monday. Bangrover expects to call witnesses whose names he would not reveal.

Civil War Veteran, J. K. Ewing Dies at Creston Hospital

CRESTON, April 3 (AP)—Death today called John K. Ewing, commander of the Iowa department of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The 86-year-old Civil war veteran was brought to a Creston hospital three days ago from his home at Shannon City. He had been in ill health for six weeks.

Even before arrangements for his funeral had been perfected, his comrades were preparing to honor him with a soldier's burial. Veterans of another war, members of the American Legion, were asked to assist in the army ritual.

Ewing had served nearly a year as head of the state G.A.R., having been elected at the annual encampment at Ft. Dodge last summer. He was commander of the post at Villisca, where he lived before moving to Shannon City 20 years ago.

Enlisting in the first Illinois infantry, Ewing spent four years in the Union army. Twice he was wounded in engagements with the Confederate troops.

THREE PRESIDENTS JOIN IN LONG DISTANCE CHAT

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

DES MOINES, (AP)—A charge of robbery with aggravation was filed against John Volk by Roland Granzow today following a beating he alleged Volk gave him at the home of their mutual girl-friend, Olive Sylvester. A broken, blood-stained baseball bat was exhibited by Volk as the weapon used by Volk.

North, South American Continents Open New Telephone Lines

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Bridging an air gap of more than 5,000 miles over land and sea, President Hoover and the chief executives of Chile and Uruguay established telephone connections which inaugurated a new communications system between the North and South American continents.

Just before diplomats and guests assembled at the cabinet room of the executive offices to listen in on the presidential conversation, President Yrigoyen of Argentina, President Hoover that he was indisposed and could not adhere to plans for him to take part.

President Hoover spoke to President Carlos Ibanez, of Chile, at 11 a.m. Similar friendly greetings were exchanged between President Hoover and President Juan Campistegy of Uruguay.

Labor Wants Federal Help

Employment Situation to Occupy Senate

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Legislative remedies for unemployment, including a stabilization agency with authorization for a $150,000,000 federal appropriation, were slated for final discussion on the floor of the senate Tuesday, April 15.

The senate agreed to take up the measures, by Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, after its commerce committee had approved them without record votes.

Committee Investigates. The committee followed intensive investigation of present conditions by a sub-committee that heard William Green, president of the American federation of labor, and others identified with labor, paint dismal pictures of the existing situation.

Witnesses unanimously indorsed the three Wagner measures. These would expand government machinery for collecting unemployment information. Provision should be made that on the basis of this information, a federal stabilization board could accelerate or retard public construction to meet changing conditions.

Wagner Proposes Agency. A third proposal by Senator Wagner, to create a federal employment agency to work in cooperation with state unemployment agencies, was held over until next week by the committee. Opposition to it was expressed by the national association of manufacturers.

Chairman Johnson, republican, California, however, expressed confidence that this measure would be reported favorably by the commerce committee.

The manufacturers said the measure, in their opinion might "create friction," instead of helping, and that they were eager to continue cooperation with one another, as well as with the government in work toward the solution of unemployment problems.

FAIRCCHILD BANK ROBBED

FAIRCCHILD, Wis., April 3 (AP)—Locking two employees and two customers in the vault, two armed men held up the First National bank of Fairchild late today and escaped with $2,000.

Mayo Specialist on Rockne's Case Causes Mystery on Condition

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Despite the progress of a physician from the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., toward Miami, ostensibly at the request of Knute Rockne the Notre Dame football coach, Mrs. Rockne asserted from their apartment here today that no such request had been made by her or her husband.

Rockne came here some time ago to recuperate from a leg ailment which had afflicted him during the fall and winter. Since his arrival he has spent much of his time on the beach taking sun baths.

Recently, however, the ailment was aggravated, it was learned today, when he stood for approximately 30 minutes while making an address to a group of Miami school children. He has recovered from this setback, Mrs. Rockne said today, and is planning to return to his home in South Bend, Ind., in about a week.

Dry Schemes Meet Rebuffs by Committee

Juryless Trials Stir Up Opposition; Penalties May Increase

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—A decision on the legislative proposals of the Hoover law enforcement commission to strengthen dry enforcement was set for next Wednesday by the house judiciary commission after failure today to reach an agreement on the major recommendations of the program.

With the committee divided on the commission's bills to permit juryless trials before United States commissioners and to define misdemeanor violations of the prohibition laws, indications were that these measures would not be favorably reported to the house without radical changes.

In a confidential communication to the judiciary committee, Attorney General Mitchell approved the bill, provided certain changes be made which would meet the approval of Chairman Wickersham of the commission.

Mitchell suggested the maximum penalty be increased from a $500 to $1,000 fine and six months imprisonment or both, and favored a re-draft of an original commission bill to prevent district attorneys from calling a defendant in a minor liquor case before a grand jury after a trial before a United States commissioner.

Modify Jones Law? In the same letter, Mitchell strongly opposed a bill by Representative Stobbs, republican, Massachusetts, to modify the Jones five year and $10,000 fine law by defining slight and casual offenders and fixing the maximum penalty at six months imprisonment and a fine of $500.

Mr. Mitchell suggested that the commission's bill be changed to provide that trials before the United States commissioners not be operative in any district until the judges issue and order and designate the commissioners before whom the trials shall be conducted. The bill would be extended to include all offenses, the punishment for which does not exceed a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for more than six months or both.

Coroner's Jury to Look Into Miner's Death After Brawl

ALBIA, April 3 (AP)—With Andy Clair, 27 years old, of Lovilia, held in jail, the death of Harry Gowdy, 24 years old, a miner, will be investigated by a coroner's jury tomorrow morning.

Clair is alleged to have struck Gowdy over the head with a beer bottle during an argument at Lovilia early Wednesday. Gowdy was brought to an Albia hospital, where he died from a fractured skull a few hours later.

Specific charges have not been filed against Clair, who told police he struck Gowdy after the latter had caught him by the shoulder.

Police understood the men disputing in the street after they had been ordered from a restaurant. Gowdy got in his automobile and is said to have grabbed Clair, who then swung at the miner with a bottle. Gowdy was struck on the left temple.

Clair, who said he never before had seen Gowdy, would not reveal the cause of the argument.

Central Aircraft and Supply Group Given Corporation Charter

With a capital stock listed at $50,000 the Central Aircraft and Supply company was granted a corporation charter by the secretary of state in Des Moines yesterday. Iowa City is named as headquarters.

Dr. F. L. Love of this city was named president and H. I. Jennings secretary of the new aviation supply corporation.

Thirty Suffer Injuries When Shocks Occur

200 Workers' Homes Damaged; Fire Breaks Out

PHILADELPHIA, April 3 (AP)—Ten persons lost their lives and more than 30 were injured today when a series of explosions virtually wiped out the plant of the Pennsylvania Fireworks Display company, Inc., at Devon, 16 miles west of Philadelphia.

Most of the dead were employees of the plant which was comprised of 10 small buildings on a seven acre tract of land near the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Hospitals Treat Injured. Although hospitals reported treating only about 20 injured persons, many more were rendered first aid on the scene by emergency ambulances dispatched with physicians. Many others in the 200 homes in surrounding territory which state police reported were damaged, were attended by family physicians or administered treatment themselves.

Police tonight were still investigating reports that several employees were unaccounted for, but it is believed if they are missing they are represented among the unidentified dead.

Heavy damage was done to houses nearby tenanted by workers. Roofs were carved in, porch roofs wrecked and windows blown out.

Three Heavy Explosions caused most of the damage. Smaller blasts followed over a period of 20 minutes after the first great shock. At times the exploding fireworks sounded like the rattle of machine guns. Rescuers were forced to remain at a distance until the explosions ceased, when hundreds of persons rushed to the rescue.

The debris caught fire and was burning brightly when firemen and other rescuers tackled the scattered remains of the small buildings, most of them of frame construction.

Trio Happy at Naval Assent; No "Victory"

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Complete satisfaction of the United States, Great Britain, and Japan over their three-power naval construction agreement served today to veil to some extent the Anglo-French-Japanese political conferences, which still delay complete success of the conference.

The American spokesman declared today that the American-British-Japanese accord is much better than could have been expected from the Geneva arms conference, whereas the same three powers failed in their 1927 negotiations. Senator Reed, the principal American negotiator, said the discussions had been frank and fair, and that "the result was not a victory for any one but an honorable and reasonable settlement between the three."

No Subs for Japan. Under the agreement Japan, in the next seven years, will build less than 20,000 tons of cruisers, no submarines and a small number of destroyers. There was a lull in the negotiations to satisfy French desires for another security formula and Italian aspirations for naval parity with France. No meeting was held today between Foreign Secretary Henderson and Foreign Minister Briand.

Draft formulas of the British interpretation of British obligations under the league of nations covenant in the event of a threat of war have been cabled to Paris for consideration by Premier Andre Tardieu. Whether the premier's sudden illness would delay the negotiations could not be ascertained from the delegation tonight.

All Will "Humanize". Progress in another direction was recorded this afternoon when experts of the five delegations finally approved the agreement dealing with humanization of submarine warfare.

In French quarters it was pointed out that the Anglo-French security difficulties are not such a menace as the Franco-Italian party deadlock, which will still remain to be solved after a security formula satisfactory to Great Britain and France has been developed.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

CEDAR RAPIDS, (AP)—Joseph Conley, 34 years old, of Rockford, Ill., was indicted on a charge of forging the name of Robert Duvall to his adjusted compensation certificate to obtain a $121 loan. Rockford, 24 years old, also of Rockford, was indicted, charged with aiding and abetting him.

Officers Chase Auto, Men Flee to Weeds; Get 97 Gallons Alky

CHARITON, April 3 (AP)—An automobile chase of several miles resulted today in seizure of 97 gallons of alcohol by Lucas county officers. Abandoning their car, the occupants escaped into some weeds along the road.

This was the second seizure of a liquor-laden automobile in Iowa within two days. C. V. Chapman of Jefferson and Edith Habbitt of Clinton, arrested near Tama yesterday after a chase from Clinton, furnished bonds at Vinton on charges of illegal possession and transportation of liquor. Officials began action to confiscate Chapman's automobile.

Deputy sheriffs patrolling Lucas county vied to watch for an automobile stolen from Ted Shus chanced the liquor-laden car after it failed to halt in response to a signal. Shus' automobile was found abandoned at Russell. Another machine was left here after the driver failed to stop for officers.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Schaffer's car was wrecked when it overturned as he and County Attorney H. V. Lewis were cruising about this vicinity.

What Aviation Owes Newspapers

The Waterloo Tribune in a recent editorial quoted a long statement made by Charles A. Rheinstrom, general traffic manager for the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation of Cleveland and Detroit, concerning the part which newspapers have taken in promoting aviation.

The statement made by Rheinstrom called to task many of the aviation executives that have been trying to clamp down an immediate lid of censorship and secrecy whenever an airplane accident occurred and told how much better off the industry would be if they would give the facts to the newspapers instead of trying to hide them. Now many incidents of concern to the public are withheld and if inaccuracies have crept into some of the stories it is the fault of the executives.

The general manager of the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation lauds the press for the work that it has done and only hopes that in time other aviation heads will come to realize this and respect the high ethics of journalism. The aviation industry has no greater sympathizer, friend and supporter than the daily newspaper. Still, the newspaper has its obligations to the readers and must print the news. It cannot record aviation's progress and ignore its misfortunes and be fair to the subscribers.

With these things THE DAILY IOWAN heartily agrees. It is not unnatural for airplane accidents to happen; railroad and automobile wrecks have occurred. Many of them are unavoidable. But if justice is to be dealt to aviation, secrecy must be discarded and the facts of the accident made clear to the public through the newspaper columns. Unless this is done aviation will be viewed suspiciously by the public and somebody will be branded as being negligent in the air service.

For a Good Use

ONAWA is the scene of a strange clash between the county-officials and Mrs. Ida Reitar. The difference arose when several workmen returned to the courthouse with the story that an American flag was floating from the branches of a sturdy maple tree; which these axemen had been detailed to cut down in order to clear the way for a new road. Mrs. Reitar threatened to prosecute for defamation of the flag if the tree was cut down.

Mrs. Reitar's evident affection for the tree gave rise to her action in defending it; however, she should realize that such action is only a stumbling block in the way of improvement. The new road will naturally materially benefit more people than the single maple tree and people who side with Mrs. Reitar must admit that public service is more praiseworthy than indulgence of private likes and dislikes.

A Worthless Campaign

The following editorial from the Ohio State Lantern shows that at least not all editors of college papers are following the straw vote epidemic like dogs follow after an imaginary scent—trying to make something out of nothing.

In a recent editorial headed "We Note with Disgust," the Daily Iowan lampoons the attempt of the Harvard Crimson to conduct a nation-wide campaign to learn the sentiment of the student bodies of the country in regard to the prohibition amendment. The Iowan editorial says in part: "The Harvard Crimson... is attempting, in a rather silly nation-wide canvass of collegiate debating teams and students papers, to convince everyone that the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Act are wrong. The Crimson believes there is 'value' in broadcasting the strong resentment that is present on American campuses against the 'conditions' which have followed the prohibition amendment.

"When the undergraduates promoting this stunt realize that there is more to organizing a national movement, such as that of which they have dreamed, than merely mimeographing statements of their own and broadcasting them through the mail, their publication will be better off and can then start in doing some good with its editorial columns. . . . It is easy to make statements at which the crowd will applaud; difficult to make them stand for much."

Reitar must admit that public service is more praiseworthy than indulgence of private likes and dislikes. The use of the American flag was effective but not commendable because Americans have come to regard the flag with a reverence that does not sanction its use to such petty ends.

A College Pastime

ELSEWHERE on this page will be found a reprint of an editorial appearing in the Ohio State Lantern recently, in which is discussed an editorial from THE DAILY IOWAN in regard to the efforts of editors of the Harvard Crimson to promote a campaign in a futile attempt to learn sentiment of student bodies in regard to prohibition amendment.

The Yale Daily News also objects to the "college boy" move by the Crimson. The interest of the News, according to one of its editorials, is "in getting at the facts of prohibition. . . . It is our conviction that facts and figures showing the present drinking in college would be a valuable contribution to the issue."

College students, like other Americans, do not think when casting ballots in a straw vote. Too many American citizens fail to think when voting at regular elections. THE DAILY IOWAN does not feel that a straw vote on this campus is necessary, and has so informed the Harvard Crimson. We can furnish the ambitious and enthusiastic editors of the Crimson an estimate of the number of students on the campus who would vote for amendment of the prohibition laws—and we'll guarantee the accuracy of our estimate just as closely as anyone else will guarantee results of their straw ballots.

A hay-wire estimate and a straw ballot would equal about so much green grass—and the green grass grows all around. Give us a pitchfork and we'll give you a straw ballot.

Fraternity, Dead Letter Office

FOR TWO cents Uncle Sam rushes a letter from coast to coast on the fastest available train and delivers it in the shortest possible time; for five cents he takes it by airplane any place in the country; and for 10 cents more he delivers it within two hours after its arrival at the destination.

And we? For two days we leave letters lie unclaimed at the house when it would take only a minute's effort to put them in the right box at the Union; for five days we leave important letters for alumni members or students who are no longer at the house repose peacefully in the mail cabinet or table; and for 10 days and even longer postpone sending on all kinds of letters, bills, and packages that have a tendency to collect at the fraternity house.

Strange that we who boast of our efficiency of mail service, who send letters by the fastest possible route, and complain loudly at any delay of the mails should be so negligent in providing for our friends the service that we demand for ourselves.

HIGHLIGHTS By Gordon C. Gauss

Muscle Shoals, a white elephant of the United States since the end of the world war, again is before the senate. Norris of Nebraska, whose resolution advocates government operation of the project, is making a vigorous attempt to put it through a senate and, if successful, the measure likewise will come before the house of representatives. Present indication point to a veto by Hoover, but that is as yet debatable.

Opponents of government operation expected to submit a proposal that the lease of the American Cyanamid company be accepted. But they hardly dare to do this in view of the disclosure by the senate lobby committee that Chairman Huston of the G. O. P. actively lobbied for the lease before his present appointment. The chief opposition claim is that operation will "put the government into business" while advocates of the legislation point out that continued idleness of the plant means a loss of several million dollars to the country, and that no private interests are willing to make an offer for the plant compatible with its value.

Seven weeks of prohibition testimony before the Judiciary committee of the house of representatives have come to an end. Most of the business is finished, although a short period may be allowed for a "wet" rebuttal. The hearings satisfied neither the drys nor the wets, but rather strengthened the convictions each side already possessed. One concrete achievement was the collection of valuable data about prohibition which will be useful in mapping out future legislation.

The tariff bill is in conference, with five members from the house of representatives and five from the senate attempting to adjust its differences. Important items, on which the two houses are widely separated, may go back for special votes before the final report, which must be voted on without material change. The task which confronts the committee members is understood when it is realized that the bills differ on 1,350 rates.

An eight-hour night flight from New York to Bermuda, just accomplished, opens remarkable possibilities for aviation. It demonstrates the feasibility of an air line which would give winter weary pleasure seekers of the metropolis a tropical weekend, with plenty of time to be back at work Monday. But more important than that, it demonstrates the remarkable accuracy of instruments by which flyers keep their course, for much of the way was over the sea at night, and only a slight error in the instruments would have thrown the flyers toward the open sea.

Faintly reminiscent of Sherlock Holmes and Philo Vance, scientific sleuths of fiction, is the participation of Dr. Clarence Muehlberger, of the Northwestern university school of crime detection, in the solution of a Chicago murder mystery. People generally view his entry into the case with skepticism, but nevertheless real curiosity. Rightly or wrongly, many will judge the Northwestern course, and in a measure all college courses everywhere, by Muehlberger's success or failure.

Alumna of '58 Dies Feb. 25

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Bradley of Eldon, N. M., who was graduated from the university in June, 1858. At the time of her death, Feb. 25, she was more than 90 years old. Mrs. Bradley was born near Worthington, O. When she was six years old, she came to Iowa with her parents and settled on a farm at Old Man's Creek, or Positstock as the Indians called it in Johnson county. More than six weeks were required for the journey. Horses, cattle, and sheep, as well as all the family's belongings, were included in the moving.

In Iowa City, Mrs. Bradley attended a school for children taught by a Presbyterian minister's wife, Mrs. Fisk. Then followed her career at the university. Her family points with pride to her diploma granted June 29, 1858 by the normal department of the university. It is signed by D. Franklin Wells, professor in the normal department at that time. In 1860 she married James Merritt Bradley who died in 1882. Since 1906 Mrs. Bradley has been living at the home of her daughter, Bessie Bradley, who survives her.

On her ninetieth birthday the university sent Mrs. Bradley a telegraph message of congratulations.

Encouraging the long distance habit An interesting example of organization is the development of long distance telephone business. Men and women of the Bell System made this service worthy, and the public has recognized this by its greatly increased usage. The Bell Laboratories improved the quality of sound transmission by modifying existing apparatus and designing new. Western Electric manufactured the necessary equipment of the highest standards. Operating telephone companies, working with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, shortened the time for completing calls and reduced the rates. In all a coordinated work, bringing together many and varied activities, and typical of the way in which telephone service is constantly being made a better tool for the nation's needs. ### Enter Nick—who turns out to be a good friend.

She accepted seat checks from brown horny hands, and pale shiny-tipped hands, and small shaky blue-veined hands, and hands heavy with rings, and gloved hands. She brushed against bare satin shoulders and big broadcloth arms. She heard a thousand voices. She caught a hundred odors.

Her feet kept time to the music, and she smiled softly and a little shyly at people, and almost invariably they smiled back.

Sometimes she was advised in quick whispers by fellow users of the presence of celebrities in the house. "D'ja see Mae Murray? D'ja see her?" "Know what that was you just took down? Oh, you saw Babe Ruth!"

It was rather fun. From the other users she heard all the backstage gossip. Why the comedian's wife divorced him. What the redhead privately thought of the staturesque young man to whom she publicly made love for two hours and a half every evening. Which chorus girl it was who had the new pearls, and where she got them. How Fanchon La Belle happened to be leading Home James number when someone else could have done it so much better.

She kept a finger on the pulse of the show, and knew its best nights and its lamest ones. She learned things about the psychology of audiences. She picked up theatrical jargon and practiced it like a trouper. She came to feel that the show was her show; that she was part of it. "I feel as though, if it went on the road tomorrow, I'll be taken along," she confided to Jerry.

She spent weeks on a crayon sketch of the comedian, working on it in odd moments snatched from her crowded days, even sometimes getting up early to work on it for half an hour before she left for the store. When she finished it she mailed it to him—but lacked the self-confidence to sign her name, and so never knew what he thought of it.

CHAPTER II

Dolly Makes a Friend

She made a friend. It began on an evening in February. She was standing behind the wall that backed the last row of orchestra seats, with her arms crossed on its green plush top watching the chorus do the rag-doll dance in Act One; and she became aware of a man who stood in similar attitude two or three yards away. He was a man of perhaps thirty-two or three, with a big rangy frame covered with, rather than dressed in, some sort of clothes, and an ugly Billikin face.

"You know," Dolly said afterward in describing him to Jerry. "There are two uglies. One's an ugly you just can't stand and want to tie a mask on to—that's the homely-ugly. And then there's the kind that fascinates you so you get to thinking it's almost good looking—that's the lovely-ugly. That's what he is."

She surveyed him an instant, wondering how long he had been there. Then she moved toward him. "May I find you your seat?" His face came around and down. Blue wise eyes—eyes that had seen all the things in the world and found most of them entertaining—bored into her eye. He smiled. "I haven't one," he answered, and without a pause talked on: "She: 'What, no ticket?' He: 'No, no ticket.' She: 'How did you get in, sir?' He: 'I know the doorman. And what is vastly more, the doorman knows me.'"

All this in the undertone necessitated by the surroundings and with great good humor, the blue eyes twinkling nicely at Dolly.

Dolly twinkled back. "He wins," she said. "I guess I'll have to let you stay."

If he had exhibited the slightest interest in the show or any indication of a desire to return his attention to it, she would then have left him forthwith. But he was regarding her as though he found her the only thing in the playhouse worth looking at, and the temptation to continue their conversation was strong. She said dutifully, "Don't you want to sit down?" I think there is a vacant seat in the last row, if you'd like it," and was gratified to hear him reply in the next breath. "I'm just waiting till the end of the act," he explained. "Then I'm going back to talk to—" He nodded toward the comedian, now capering in the center of the stage, and called him by name. "Is he a friend of yours?" asked Dolly, impressed. "I don't know as you'd call it that, quite. We don't exchange Christmas cards or anything. I've met him a couple of times—which fact he will of course have wiped from memory's state ere this."

"Maybe he won't see you. He's supposed to be quite temperamental."

"He'll see me all right," laconically. "He'll see any newspaper man, any time. They all will."

"Oh, so you're a newspaper man?" "But don't hold it against me," he begged hurriedly. "I'll see any newspaper man. That is, I like the idea of them. I don't really know any."

"That," he said, "should be rectified. And will be. Permit me to present an humble one—Nick Standish, of the Star."

"I read it every day!" cried Dolly. "Hurrah," said Standish gravely. "Well, now that is a coincidence, isn't it? We ought to be very good friends."

And they were. He formed the habit of dropping into the theater once or twice a week to talk to her for ten minutes at a time. Presently they began to go out together.

The first of these tete-a-tetes took place one evening in April, when he presented himself at the Gotham just at the close of the performance and said without any preamble, "C'mon and eat."

"Certainly. Have to eat. Every-body ought to eat now and then. Keeps the jaws limber."

"I never do go out after the show," said Dolly hesitatingly. "I have to get up at seven—"

"Might as well stay up," said Standish. "Get your bonnet. I'll wait here."

When she rejoined him dressed for the street, he demanded to be told where she wished to be taken. "Is it food you want? Or frivolity?" "It's food you want."

"But frivolity you want. I see it each sapphire on. Very well. 'Small change.' 'urchin.' 'cub.'—He had many names for her. 'Small change.' 'urchin.' 'cub.'—names of a different school indeed from that to which Jerry adhered.

"A night club," Nick ruminated aloud as they went through the lobby. "A night club that is giddy but not dressy, interesting but not extravagant. A night club where the three lowly five dollar bills that repose in my jeans at that moment will enable us to do more than pay the cover charge and walk out again—"

Six Hawkeye Trackmen Leave Tonight to Compete in Gopher Relays

Roberts, Ed Gordon Enter With Quartet

Relay Team to Run Against Best in Conference

Topped by the race of the medley mile relay team and the assault of Edward Gordon upon the American indoor broad jump record, Hawkeye athletes will close their 1930 indoor competition at the Minnesota relays tomorrow.

Six men have been selected by Coach George T. Bresnahan for the relay and the four special events open to Western conference men. The team will start for Minnesota tonight, traveling to West Liberty by motor car and from there taking the Rock Island.

Everett Ferguson, veteran runner, will race the opening quarter mile in the medley, handing the baton to John Beckner who will travel 220 yards. Paul Conway will sprint through another furlong, then Jack Moulton will anchor the team at the half mile distance.

Three of the relay runners will also compete in special events, Ferguson in the 300-yard dash; and Beckner and Conway, in the 60-yard sprint. They will lift their heels with such stars as Johnny Bass, of Minnesota; Bill Henke and Mitt Diehl, of Wisconsin; and Mendal, Yankton college, S. D.

Fred Roberts, whose best heave this season is better than 44 feet, will put the shot against other Big Ten stars, among whom will be Sammy Behr and Walt Gnahab of Wisconsin, and Clarence Munn of Minnesota.

In the broad jump, Edward Gordon, national champion of last year, will go after the American indoor record of 24 feet, 7 1/2 inches now in possession of another dusky leaper, Dehart Hubbard, former Michigan star.

Within a few days, the Old Gold track squad will begin outdoor work in preparation for the Kansas relays at Lawrence, April 19, and the Drake games at Des Moines, April 25 and 26.

Chet Wynne Signs to Coach Alabama Poly

AUBURN, Ala., April 3 (AP)—

Chester "Chet" A. Wynne, football coach at Creighton university, Omaha, Neb., since 1923, has been signed by President Bradford Knapp as football coach at Alabama Polytechnic Institute for three years. Wynne will assume his duties here May 1.

He was selected by some experts in 1921 as being the outstanding fullback in college football. He played fullback under Knute Rockne at Notre Dame for three years, graduating in 1922.

BIRMINGHAM BEATS REDS, 3-1

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 3 (AP)—The six game winning streak of the Cincinnati Reds was shattered by the Birmingham Barons here today when they plustered the National leaguers with a 3 to 1 defeat. It was the third straight victory of the Barons over a major league club. The Reds obtained only seven scattered singles.

Score: R. H. E. Cincinnati 1 7 4 Birmingham 3 10 3 Batteries—Johnson, Eckert, Ash and Goch; Pate, Ludolph and Yarn.

RAIN HALTS GOLF

PINEHURST, N. C., April 3 (AP)—Rain that fell in cold, drizzling sheets and completely flooded the Pinehurst Country club's sand greens and fairways caused postponement today of semi-final matches in the north and south women's golf tournament.

The matches will be played tomorrow if the weather permits and the finals, in that event, will be Saturday.

COACHES WINNERS

Thanks to the climate, Pacific coast racing crews are able to hit the water far earlier each spring than their Atlantic seaboard rivals who are busy, nevertheless, in the gruelling grind of the boathouses—the gyms where the foundations are laid for the most physical taxing of all varsity athletics.

For several weeks, Coach "Ky" Ebright has held his University of California stalwarts mastering aqua-plane-churned waters. Scores of lithe, youthful six-footers are all trying to make the eight positions in the varsity crew, which will soon row the University of Washington huskies.

This spring, Coach Ebright has been inveighing publicly against the difficulties of crew practice in waters that are so often whipped into ocean waves by the wash from large and small passenger planes leaving the landing at a local coastal airport.

The roar of giant motors all but silences and seems to mock the megalomaniac and the pull of his schoolboy rowers, who would develop speed in primitive and puny fashion near a noisy nest of mammoth man-made birds.

However, reports have it that Ebright's "Golden Bears" have shown fine form throughout their shell-tossed trials. Most Californians are confident that they will humble Washington, whose fame, especially in the east, has been spread through a series of remarkable crews.

Demoway in his smashing prelims, punching steadily for 20 minutes with everything he had in each wallop—that gives a rough idea of what such hardy sweep has to do in a 4-mile varsity race.

No wonder "Ky" Ebright comes close to cussing when the roar and splash of mere motors trevelop on the rowing trials which develop such magnificent man power! There is "Promethean fire in his protests," as Gene Tunney might say.

Entrants for Rifle Shoot Arrive Early

Men to Aim Guns at National Title Saturday

Preparations have been completed and all is in readiness for the first shot of the Midwest regional shoulder-to-shoulder rifle match which will be held in the armory tomorrow. A temporary shooting gallery has been installed in order that the match may be fired as quickly as possible.

Schools in the Missouri Valley and Western conference are eligible to send teams to this shoot, and the winner will receive recognition as regional champion and its score will be compared with other regional winners in determining the national champion rifle team.

Teams representing the Universities of Missouri and Kansas arrived in Iowa City yesterday. The remainder of the contestants, from the Universities of Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin; Kansas State Agricultural college, and Washington university of St. Louis, will arrive in town sometime today.

Babe Ruth Hits Two Homers, But Lose

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., April 3 (AP)—

Babe Ruth hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the spring barnstorming season, but the New York Yankees were defeated by Wichita Falls of the Texas league 5 to 6 today. The defeat broke the Yankees' winning streak of five straight.

After the Texas leaguers had gone out in front with a seven-run rally off Roy Sherid in the fourth, the Yankees achieved three runs in the ninth. Ruth was responsible for half the New York scoring one of his home runs coming with a man on base. Dickey also made a circuit drive as a pinch hitter in the ninth.

Score: R. H. E. New York 6 8 3 Wichita Falls 5 9 2 Batteries—Sherid, McEvoy and Hargrave; White, Hill and Crouch.

Rosed (Phi Delta) 7 seconds; Henderson (Alpha Kappa Kappa) 7 seconds. 40-yard dash—Pape (Delta Upsilon) 4.6 seconds; Snell (Kappa Sigma) 4.8 seconds; Henderson (Alpha Kappa Kappa) 4.9 seconds.

Kittenball Tournay
The next intramural sport that will be sponsored by the athletic department will be the interfraternity kittenball tournament. Any member or pledge of a fraternity may compete if not included in the following classification.

Any man having made a major letter in any sport is ineligible. Any member of the varsity or freshman baseball squads are ineligible.

The rules and regulations which will be followed are outlined by "Dad" Schroeder as follows:
1.—A 14-inch ball will be used.
2.—Play will be outdoors.
3.—Tournament will be of the elimination type.
4.—Protests must be filed with Mr. Schroeder within 24 hours after the contest.
5.—Games must be played as scheduled, otherwise the team not reporting will forfeit.
6.—A silver trophy will be given to the winner.

Entry blanks will be mailed to the fraternities today and they must be returned not later than April 12, to E. G. Schroeder, at the field house.

First Base Rooky

Jim Keesey

Jim Keesey, a first baseman, came from Portland of the Pacific coast league in exchange for Ossie Orwall. Now the Coast leaguer is making a race for the first base position for the Philadelphia Athletics.

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—

Another revision in the Chicago Cub infield failed to slow down the National league champions today and they made it three straight over the Los Angeles Pacific Coast leaguers.

Lester Bell was back at third base, but Rogers Hornsby's heel was too painful to permit him to work, and handy Clarence Bell played second. Charlie Root hurled the full nine innings for Chicago, and was hit hard. He was good in the pinches, however, fanning five men to halt rallies. Riggs Stephenson continued his great hitting with a home run and a double.

Score: R. H. E. Chicago (NL) 5 11 1 Brooklyn 7 9 1 Los Angeles (PCL) 4 12 1 Batteries—Root and Schulte; Arfot and Skiff.

BROOKLYN WINS FROM BRAVES

MACON, Ga., April 3 (AP)—Timely hitting by Johnny Cooney in the early innings gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves today. All of the Dodgers runs were made off Cooney, before he retired in the fifth in favor of Stebbold.

Score: R. H. E. Boston 4 10 1 Brooklyn 7 9 1 Batteries—Cooney, Stebbold and Spahrer; Collins, W. Clark, Morrison and Lopez.

Golfers Find Trouble With Their Studies

3 of Coach Kennett's Varsity Ruled Ineligible

With the Grinnell match only 15 days away Coach Charles Kennett is confronted with an eligibility problem that may shatter his plans for the season's opener. Latest reports declare Ben Bowen, Harold Heyron, and Robert Rieckhoff ineligible because of scholastic difficulties.

These three men are the nucleus of this year's golf squad and have been turning in some of the best scores of their career.

According to Coach Kennett the following men will be eligible to tee-off in the first match: Fred B. Agnew, Edward Knack, Edmund McCordell, Wilson Radcliffe, George Roddy, Marc Stewart, William Blaylock, Edward L. Carmody, W. T. Ellwood, R. H. Gibson, Virgil L. Lewis, Paul Penrock, Ernest Schoenick, and George Kloppenberg. Match play between the varsity candidates is the feature of this week's golf practice.

With the Grinnell match so close at hand Coach Kennett is stressing the perfection of approach shots in hopes that the score can be kept low for faraway play. The three ineligible have been the outstanding golfers in practice and confronted with this loss Coach Kennett will have to pick his starting team from the results of competitive matches being held every afternoon at practices.

A'S DEFEAT CHARLOTTE

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 3 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics were outbitten by the Charlotte Sally league team today, but managed to win behind Jimmy Fox's clubbing 4 to 2 on a rain drenched diamond.

Score: R. H. E. Athletics 4 6 2 Charlotte 2 8 3 Batteries—Grove, Rommel and Perkins; Wyeal, Petty, Harris, Wells and Luebke and Eatman and Watts.

BROOKLYN WINS FROM BRAVES

MACON, Ga., April 3 (AP)—Timely hitting by Johnny Cooney in the early innings gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7 to 4 victory over the Boston Braves today. All of the Dodgers runs were made off Cooney, before he retired in the fifth in favor of Stebbold.

Score: R. H. E. Boston 4 10 1 Brooklyn 7 9 1 Batteries—Cooney, Stebbold and Spahrer; Collins, W. Clark, Morrison and Lopez.

Bids for Place

LeRoy Mahaffey

LeRoy Mahaffey, a right handed pitcher, was purchased from the Portland club of the Pacific coast league, by the Philadelphia Athletics and seems to be assured of being retained by Connie Mack.

LITTLE HAWKS TAKE LAST HARD DRILL

In the last hard practice before the Iowa invitational meet Saturday, Coach George Wells gave his Iowa City high relay team a good workout on baton passing yesterday afternoon. Capt. Bob Kittredge, "Red" Redman, George Albrecht and Howard Moffitt formed the selected quartet.

Captain Kittredge led all the way in a one lap trial run, with Albrecht a close second. In a half mile trial, John Van der Zee took the pole and the lead from the start, and finished in front.

"Swede" Anderson, still bothered with a sore leg muscle, didn't try any running, but managed to clear the bar in the high jump in fairly good form. Wesley Walker was looking better in the pole vault.

Moffitt, the old reliable of the Little Hawk outfit, did some more work in the broad jump, and landed well in the pilt.

Prep Track Men to Run in 75 Events

Ninth Annual Iowa Meet to be Held Tomorrow

For six hours tomorrow, some 400 school-boy athletes from 56 institutions in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin, will circle the field house track, sprint and hurdle down the central straightaway, jump and vault in the pits, and heave the shot.

All of their activities, from the first preliminary heat of the 50-yard dash at 2:30 p.m. to the final section of the mile relay at 10:30, will be directed towards the winning of points in the University of Iowa's ninth and final midwest interscholastic meet.

Before points are awarded in the nine track events, it will be necessary to run 75 races, including 15 in the dash, 16 in the relays, 16 in the high and low hurdles, and six in the quarter mile.

Oak Park, Ill., winner of the team championship for the last three years, has entered a team of 19 men. But the supremacy of the Illinois school is seriously threatened by Freshed high school of Gary, Ind., national interscholastic champion of 1929. The Hoosier school will seek the title with 16 men, headed by S. Devich, winner of the pole vault in the national meet.

Iowa's chances to break the series of outstate schools' victories probably rest with Mason City's 14-man team, state champion last spring. Davenport's well-balanced aggregation; and the threat of East high of Des Moines, winner of the 1928 Iowa state title.

In addition to Oak Park, Illinois will be represented by Hyde Park and University high of Chicago; Keltsburg, Moine, Savanna, Galesburg, Macomb, Pekin, and Freeport. Freshed of Gary is the lone Hoosier entrant, and East Division of Milwaukee, the only school from Wisconsin.

CROWDER HOLD MEMPHIS, 1 TO 0

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3 (AP)—"General" Al Crowder held Memphis to four hits and the St. Louis Browns won today, 1 to 0, although they made only five hits, all singles off Walter Beck, former St. Louis Brown hurler. Crowder was the first Brownie pitcher to go the full route this season.

Score: R. H. E. St. Louis 001 000 000—1 5 4 Memphis 000 000 000—0 4 8 Batteries—Crowder and Ferrer; Beck and Berger, Campbell.

INTRAMURALITIES

By DON AMUNDSEN

Seventy-five athletes, large and small, brought the physical efficiency contest to a close yesterday afternoon, in an exhibition that several records were broken and tied. Although the final tabulations have not been recorded, the championship crown will be worn by Delta Upsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Pi Kappa Alpha, or Sigma Nu.

The D. U.'s had the largest number of competitors in the contest, presenting 32. The other three leading teams had 25 men each.

The Beta's were represented by the most men yesterday, having 17 men in the field. Joe Clayton won the springboard high jump with a jump of 6 feet, 5 inches. He outjumped approximately 50 other men from the 19 various fraternities that competed, and was still going strong when his opponents dropped out.

Henderson, the only man who competed for Alpha Kappa Kappa, proved that he is just as good an all-around man as he was last year when he won the contest. He tied the fence vault at 6 feet, 4 inches, and broke the record in the pull-ups, climbing himself 24 times. He also tied for second places in the rope climb and the 40 yard dash. The following are the best records made in each of the five events:

Blankenburg managed in this afternoon's trial at the Shore Athletic Club, the best third place time in preliminary heats. In a sensational battle, he field in 2:52.3-5.

F. Race, another New York qualifier, was stricken while making the last even with the leader pulled out by a spectacularly fast swimmer, fully clothed, into the water.

The Chicago Athletic Union relay team of Walter Lauffer, Lake swimming anchor for Johnny Weissmuller's 51, for 100 yards' race could not make up the time by his teammates.

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Southern basketballers marched on in double quick time today in the big push for the national high school basketball championship by placing five crack teams in the quarter-final bracket. They came from obscure hamlets, towns and cities scattered throughout Georgia, Texas, Louisiana, and Kentucky and so spectacular was their play that the championship drive resembled a southern convention. The remaining three were from scattered regions of the east, west, and middle west—New Brunswick, N. J., St. John's military academy of Delaware, Wis., and a herd of rampaging elephants from Wheatland, Wyo.

This was the southern lineup: Athens, Texas, the defending titleholder, which slaughtered the Y.M.C.A. day school of Chicago, tonight; Jena, La., a picturesque team recruited from a student body of 219 students and which drills outdoors on Mother Earth's floor under the scrutiny of their 20-year-old coach; Savannah, Ga., a band of veritable bulldozers for hanging on and coming back to win; Corinth, a Kentucky country village of 241 persons and Bentonville, Ga., a small crossroads village.

Hollywood Star Wins 220 Event

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP)—Tom Blankenburg, representing the Hollywood, Cal., Athletic club, tonight became National A.A.U., indoor 220-yard breast stroke swimming champion. Blankenburg managed to qualify in this afternoon's trials at the Lake Shore Athletic club, by turning in the best third place time of the two preliminary heats. In the final, a sensational battle, he conquered the field in 2:52.3-5.

Arthorn, a Chicago high school youth, staged a desperate finish and took second place from Leonard Spence, of the New York A.C., the favorite, by inches.

Dutch Henry, former New York Giant southpaw, worked six innings for the Sox and was batted hard, but received good support and kept out of trouble. The Sox hammered Hardaway and Gribble for 14 hits, including five doubles.

Ingwersen Sends Iowa Gridders Through Scrimmage Session

The spring football candidates were put through a long workout yesterday consisting of fundamentals and scrimmage.
Line aspirants were divided into groups of three. These groups consisted of a tackle and end and a guard or center. The tackle and end worked on the offensive charge; against a guard or center who at the same time was perfecting his defensive attack.
At the same time the backs were busily engaged in punting and passing the piskin.
Later Coach Burton A. Ingwersen put his charges through a lively scrimmage. On the offensive team Capt. Marcus Magnusson worked at center, Higdon and Tompkins at the guards, Stutzman and Samuelson at tackles, and G. Rogge and Wilson at the ends. Kriz, Slavik, Tousey, Lloyd, Jensvold, Havage, and Leo Jensvold alternated in the backfield. The defensive team was made up of Meltzer at center, Bryant and C. Rogge at the guards, Atkins and Loufek at tackles, and Brown and Samson on the flanks. Lendenny backed up the line, with Clark and McQuern at the halves, and Forsyth in the safety position.
Capt. Magnusson, Higdon, and G. Rogge looked good in the line, while Lloyd and Leo Jensvold, Kriz, and Havage did some fine ball carrying.

Cy Leland to Run in Drake Relay Meet

DES MOINES, April 3 (AP)—Cy Leland, sensational sprinter from Texas Christian university, will be one of the competitors in the 100-yard dash at the Drake relays, April 25 and 26.
E. C. Lytton, Drake business manager, today received word that Leland, who four times in a row has defeated Claude Bracey, "The Dixie Flyer" from Rice institute, would appear here along with the fast T.C.U. quarter and half-mile relay team.
Leland defeated Bracey, who won the century in easy fashion at the 1929 Drake relays, in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the Ft. Worth stock show in the first meeting of the Texas sprinters this spring. He was timed in 9.5 seconds in the 100 there and 21.3 seconds in the 220 on a curved track.
At the Texas relays, Leland again defeated Bracey, running the 100 in 9.7 seconds against the wind. The following day he repeated the performance despite a penalty of a yard at the start due to having "jumped the gun" when he ran the 100 in 9.6 with the wind at the Southern Methodist relays.
Leland will run with the Texas Christian quartet in both the quarter and half mile relays, Lytton said. The team has turned in fast times in various meets this spring and will be favored to finish among the leaders in the events at the Drake classic.

Schroeder Drills Tennis Squad on Fundamental Points

With the list of candidates swelling rapidly, Coach Ernest G. Schroeder is putting his varsity tennis aspirants through their paces in an attempt to cull out the dead timber from the potential varsity team members. Yesterday's practice drew 29 men out satiating the spheres around on the field house courts.
Coach Schroeder is getting down to business, and plans to have the squad picked by the end of the week. The four new men who reported for the first time were: Baron, Hersey, Banglister, and Thomas. Most of the candidates are already showing the results of three days practice, and as muscles loosen up, the balls are beginning to clear the nets with a mean zip. Schroeder is watching every man closely, and is aiding each in getting the proper form and strokes.
Capt. Lester Goldman, has been having difficulty with a stiff arm, which was broken in the elbow joint last winter. A few sore arms were reported as well as general stiffness, and the workout was therefore short and light yesterday.
The freshman aspirants reported for practice at the university courts, and were issued tennis balls by the varsity mentor. The names on the roster were divided into four sections, in which round-robin matches will be conducted, beginning next week. The yearlings will spend the interim getting ready for competition. The men who show up well in the tournament will be given positions on the frosh squad which will furnish the opposition for the varsity. About 10 members will be selected.
The 20 men who have reported have been sectioned as follows: Section 1 includes Spies, Jepson, Van Epps, Watson, and Goetzman; Section 2—Peterson, Greenman, Net-alicky, Hansen, and Jarvis; Section 3—Amundsen, Johnson, Beesel, Jaffe, and Apple; Section 4—Hoxie, Barnett, Van Lent, Munn and Reddig. Of these men, Apple and Reddig were reporting for the first time. Other deserving yearlings will be added, at the discretion of Coach Schroeder.
Don Amundsen, frosh prospect, looks to be one of the most promising men out. He is a veteran of two years of varsity net competition at Luther college of Decatur, and has won the All-college championship in his pet sport. He should develop into a formidable contender for a varsity position a year from this spring.

EAR TO THE GROUND

By WALTER T. HANSON
"Mac Brown had burning speed and secured enough experience inside of a year of instruction under Otto Vogel to draw attention. He was not given full opportunity to round out as a great college pitcher, and his likewise was better appreciated after it was learned that the Cardinals had signed him.
Last of all look at Forest Twoood, the fast left hander, who had a big one, a great curve ball and, was the outstanding ace of the mound staff last year. "Twoige" was great, but look at the games that he lost. They were lost due largely to his wildness. In the Michigan game played on Iowa field a year ago the winning run came in on a wild pitch. Now the Cardinals grab him and ship him to Danville. Just when the pitcher is getting to the stage of excellence, he is lost by graduation.
Everette Marshall advanced another step in his campaign for the world's heavyweight wrestling championship Wednesday night, when the former Hawkeye wrestler, tossed Nick Luitze, veteran wrestler, in two straight falls in Los Angeles. According to the dope his next match will be against Ed "Strangler" Lewis in about two weeks. This is a quick rise for a youngster who left Iowa City a year ago last February to enter professional wrestling.
Where are the echoes of C. C. Pyle's third annual "bunton derby?" For two years a great race was held for long distance hiking or rading from coast to coast on foot and was conducted by a great public spirited gentleman known to the sporting world as "Cash and Carry" Pyle. After much squabbling over money, the great race of 1929 was marred by unkind gentlemen who pressed the promoter for cash of a year ago discouraged this courageous fellow in his "bunton derby" plans for 1930.

U. HIGH PRIMES FOR ANNUAL MEET

The last practice session before the Iowa interscholastic meet was held yesterday by University high track squad. The let-up today will give the boys a chance to rest before engaging in competition tomorrow.
The Blue and White squad has been working out daily under the direction of Coaches M. F. Carpenter and E. R. Handy. The track squad has shown considerable promise with such men as Herbert Dill, V. Epps, Hartstock, and Moore, but no outstanding men have been uncovered in the weight events.

Bridge Tournament Continues With Alpha Delts High Thursday

Alpha Delta Pi led the scorers in yesterday's round of the bridge tournament defeating Chi Omega 3.198 to 1.739. Sigma Chi was second high as they took Phi Gamma Delta 3.188 to 1.889.
Pi Beta Phi won from Zeta Tau Alpha by a 2.410 to 1.784 count. In another match Phi Delta Phi defeated Pi Epsilon Phi 2.619 to 2.371. In the final match the Gamma Alpha trick experts downed Chi Delta Psi by a 2.495 to 1.777 score. Play will continue today.

Billy Hoon Wins Close Decision Over Battling Nelson

OTTUMWA, April 3 (AP)—Billy Hoon, Rock Island junior welterweight, outboxed Battling Nelson of Waterloo in 10 fast rounds here tonight and won a newspaper decision to top of a 32 round boxing show sponsored by the Ottumwa Athletic club.
Elly Wells, local welterweight, staged a big rally in the last three rounds to take a six round decision over Jimmy Hurg of Des Moines in the semi-windup.
Other bouts on the bill resulted in a six round decision for Frankie Vivian of Ottumwa over Lloyd Dyart of Des Moines, Lou Eslinger of Ottumwa and Kid Rhoda of Des Moines drew in six rounds and Kid Rollison of Ottumwa outboxed Kid Hunter, another local youth, in a four round starter.

Famous Iowa Relay Team Holds Place in History

By WILLIAM BARON
Deeply engraved in the mind of Coach George Brossman are the names Wilson, Brookins, Morrow, and Noll. Memories of their flashing spikes that tore through all opposition to an American intercollegiate and a national A. A. U. record, in the mile relay, are as sacred to this man as the memories of Crowley, Layden, Miller, and Stuhl-dreher are to Knute Rockne. A search through the pages of track history shows a galaxy of stream lined cinder artists, in the quarter mile event, developed by Iowa's coaching wizard. Among them are Cuhel, Baird, Coulter, Swenson, Deeping, Ferguson, Gunn, and Hubbard.
Of these stars, Wilson was the fleetest with his best time 48.2-5 establishing a university record that was never broken. Baird came closest to the Olympic flash with the time of 48.7-10. Then came Coulter with a 49 flat, Cuhel with 49.6-10, and Noll with 49.8-10.
As a just tribute to their outstanding ability, Wilson, Brookins, Cuhel, and Baird were selected to represent the U. S. in the Olympic games of 1928.

Wearing the Green

Last fall Norman Rosenberg came out of the east to enter a Big Ten school and chose Iowa. Rosenberg acquired his fundamental knowledge at Woodrow Wilson high school, Weehawken, N. J.
Rosenberg made tracks for the field house and was issued equipment similar to that of other freshman cross country aspirants. He placed first in the junior-varsity freshman cross country jog and won the two mile event indoors. At the end of the cross country season he was awarded his numeral. At the beginning of the track season he began training for the mile and two mile run. He is now a member of the freshman track squad and is one of the most promising distance men.
Norman's high school athletic career was confined to the basketball court. He played forward for two years on the high school five and won his letter both years.
Rosenberg is registered in the liberal arts college and has decided to major in chemistry. He was an honor student during his last year of high school.

Spring Election Causes Old Timers to Reminisce Over Picnic Man Gave for 6,500

The coming of the spring primaries brings to the minds of many of the old timers the only barbecue ever to be given in Johnson county by one man and attended by more than 6,500 persons. It was given 30 years ago in the fall by Frank Tanner, still a resident of Iowa City, and the occasion for his festivities was caused by his being appointed postmaster.

It was originally planned to be a stag party, but whole families came and all the county turned out to be at the celebration. The Bohemian Brass Band, two groups of colored singers from Cedar Rapids and Muscatine, respectively, helped to furnish the music. M. E. Price who had invented the Price graphophone was on the lot with six of his instruments to live things up a bit.

Two steers weighing 1,500 and 1,600 each were butchered for meat by the Messinger brothers. One tub of butter was needed to spread the sandwiches that were made out of the 1,500 loaves of bread. Fifteen barrels of crackers were required, a barrel of ground coffee was used, and more than two tubs of oysters, and their way to the eaters' stomachs, along with innumerable pickles.

A table 550 feet long was used to serve the food on by the Casper sisters who hired 40 girls to help them.

The cooking was done by the means of steam heat from a threshing rig. The place of the barbecue was at Mr. Tanner's summer home north of town near the present country club site.

The commercial club saw that the expense would be too much for one man and they contributed $800 towards the expenses while Al Shol gave a 1,700 pound steer.

Value of Corn Cob Vies With Fruit of Stalk

That Iowa corn has value that is yet inconceivable was the keynote of a talk given by Prof. Royal Holbrook, of the engineering and extension service of Iowa State college, before more than 40 Rotarians yesterday.

Formerly stalks, husks, and cobs were a waste material, but under present industrial chemistry, these are made into valuable products, over 100 by-products coming from corn cobs alone.

The corn stalk problem, according to Professor Holbrook, was solved by using cane stalks of the south as an example. This part of the cane had long been thrown into discard and burned, until some chemical engineer introduced cellulose, an insulation material. Now a plant at Dubuque is manufacturing 40,000 feet of lumber per day from corn stalks.

A plant located in Danville, Ill., is producing rayon from corn stalks. The first Iowa publication to be printed on corn stalk newsprint was the Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

Corn cobs are used to make formaldehyde. A plant in Cedar Rapids is engaged in this work, another factory is to be built soon. An insecticide is also being manufactured. Other by-products of corn cobs are a chop suey preservative, perfume, several antiseptics, a serum for lock-jaw, glue, and 80 other articles. Professor Holbrook predicts a "big future for the by-products of corn in Iowa."
