Papers Saved When Faculty Aids Janitors as Waterpipe Bursts

Every available broom in east hall was put into service, and the crew of "janitors for a day" was kept busy from four to six p.m. sweeping water and carrying stacks and bundles of bulletins to dry spots.

Only a few were damaged, for all but those in a crate that had not yet been opened were on storage racks that are elevated several inches from the floor. Even those in the crate were saved, but a few on the racks were covered by the stream of water from the broken pipe.

Heredity Determines Size, Weight Theory Abandoned
Your child may have the proportions of a jockey and yet have the health of a football player, despite the difference in their range of weight and height.

According to Charles H. McCloy, research associate professor of physical growth of the University of Iowa child research station, the current and long standing practice of apportioning weight according to age and size has not proved workable.

The avoidance of a child should be measured from his build, bone construction, and the tendencies toward structural development he had inherited, the professor added.

Different types of people have different frames. Anglo-Saxons are mainly classified as dolicocephalic or narrow headed types tending to slenderness of body. With the proper amount of fat and muscle they will weigh less than the brachycephalic or broad headed type whose bone structure is usually larger.

Professor McCloy explained that underweight may not mean undernourished but undermuscled. An individual whose weight should be 130 pounds may have enough fat and yet be 20 pounds underweight because he has failed to develop his muscles.

Age and youth of the body depends upon maturity. Some people die of old age at 45 because their maturity has been too rapid, while others are young at 60. Maturity is hastened by the bitter struggle for existence, which is probably the cause of the early death of those people who have had racial, religious, and financial obstacles to overcome.

Juniors, Seniors Battle for Beta House Ping Pong Title
By GEORGE KLINGAMAN
Football, baseball, and track are all wholesome sports and alright in their places. But there is nothing like ping pong, as played at the Beta house, for good, clean fun.

It isn't as easy as it sounds, either, for the intricacies of backhand drives, jobs, and last returns are mastered by few.

William Ellwood, L1 of Cedar Rapids; Marc Stewart, A4 of Iowa City; Joe Fenton, C3 of Springfield, Mass.; and Mike Temple, A3 of Davenport are conceded to be the best players at the house. Temple, by virtue of his access to a ping pong table at his home in Davenport during vacations, is the honorary captain.

Even Friday and Saturday nights, when most young persons are giving attention to dancing, partying, and other light occupation, the Betas may be seen at their ping pong, eyes alert and intent upon the little white ball traveling swiftly from one end of the table to the other.

Temple and Ellwood, as a team, challenge any and all comers, the games to be played, of course, under Marquis of Kingsbury rules. Maybe it's Queensbury but at least it won't be Betas'.

At least they have found a solution to straying pines, the bane of every fraternity's existence.

Council Defies Legal Action, Denies Cigarette Petitions

Zoning Ordinance Question Brings Spirited Argument; Third Reading Delayed Until Oct. 3 Meeting

In direct defiance of threatened legal action the city council went on record last night as denying a petition of the Ford Hopkins chain drug store company for selling cigarettes in Iowa City. The denial also included the Quality Lunch, while like the chain store, has petitioned for some time but came under a previous council ruling not to issue any more permits this year.

A letter to City Solicitor Will J. Hayek was read, to the council in which Ford Hopkins asked for advisement on the council's attitude before beginning legal action to get cigarette rights. Alderman LeRoy Mercer introduced the denial proposition. Two representatives from the chain store were in the audience as well as a score of local merchants already possessing cigarette sales permits. The Ford Hopkins men left without comment.

4 to 2 Vote

Mercer's motion to deny permit passed the council four to two with Jacob Van der Zee and Leo Kohl as "no" voters and Dr. W. L. Bywater absent.

Question of amending the zoning ordinance to add certain land to the business area brought a spirited argument between Mayor J. J. Carroll and Harry Breene, local Rock Island agent, over property near the railway stockyards. More than 20 per cent of the persons near the stockyards signed a petition asking that the land not be added to business sections.

Third Reading Delayed

Mayor Carroll indicated that the ordinance was postponed until the Oct. 3 meeting at which time Dr. Bywater will have returned, as a six to one vote would be needed for passage over the protest of property owners.

The city surrendered right to roadways on Wood avenue from McCall street to Park road and surrendered the land jointly to persons owning property on both sides for a private drive.

Permission for hanging signs at 325 E. Market street and 115 S. Duquesne street, was granted, as was the right to install storage tanks for fuel oils at 317 E. Bloomington street and near Iowa apartments.

Contractors Asked to Submit Bids for Paving Jobs Sept. 30

AMES, Sept. 26 (AP)—Only minor paving projects were included in the list for which the state highway commission today asked contractors to submit bids Sept. 30. Less than 2 1/2 miles of paving are involved in the paving of 1 3/4 miles of No. 13 between McGregor and Marquette in Clayton county, 0.72 of No. 29 in Webster City and 0.36 miles of U. S. 65 north of Northwood in Worth county.

The larger of the two graveling contracts to be awarded at the meeting is for 14.1 miles of primary road No. 25 north of Greenfield in Adair county. The other is for 3 1/2 miles of No. 12 from Salem east to U. S. 161 in Henry county.

Bids for four grading contracts totaling less than two miles also are asked for highways in Marion, Marshall and Muscatine counties.

The outcome of the examination will not be known for about two weeks. In case the examination was successfully passed, he will probably be ordered to March field at Riverside, Calif., for either the next class in March, or the class in July, the latter being more probable.

Republicans in Michigan End Week of Strife

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 26 (AP)—Michigan republicans tonight turned from a week of bitter strife to the recount of their governorship primary to the uncertainties of a post-primary convention which tomorrow will find them without a titular campaign leader.

Plans to have the state board of canvassers certify today the nomination of Wilbur M. Brucker, attorney general, as the candidate for governor were blocked by the state supreme court to which Alex J. Groesbeck, former governor, appealed in an effort to change the rules by which the board conducted the recount.

Brucker, on the face of returns won the nomination by 4,726 votes, and the recount reduced this by less than 200. Groesbeck contended in his plea to the court that the board adopted rules prejudicial to him and that if the recount had been conducted properly, he would have won by about 200 votes. The nomination which in recent years has been equivalent to election. The court ordered that no certification be made until the issues are passed on.

The convention at Grand Rapids in this manner will be thrown open to a contention of factions which usually is avoided by the willingness of large groups of delegates to defer to the gubernatorial nominee in the selection of candidates for minor offices and the writing of a platform.

Burt Ingwersen's Hawkeyes Open Football Season Against Bradley Tech

Squad Loses Reedquist on Eve of Battle

Injury May Keep Elmo Nelson From First Encounter

This afternoon a veteran Bradley Tech eleven will invade Iowa field for the first test of Coach Burt Ingwersen's 1931 Hawkeyes. Faced this fall with the task of rebuilding his entire Old Gold machine, Coach Ingwersen's success will partly be determined by the Peoria visitors who rate high in Illinois football circles. Who will lead the Hawkeyes in the test game will not be known until just before the whistle blows.

A severe blow was administered to the Iowa camp yesterday when it was announced that "Biggy" Reedquist, veteran end, would be ineligible for athletic competition the first semester. His failure to take a required course during his sophomore year has resulted in his removal from competition.

Although a large number of players will no doubt see action in the opening encounter, several of the players may be kept out because of injuries. Elmo Nelson, slated to hold down one of the halfback posts, suffered a broken nose in scrimmage and may not get in the game. Tompkins leg has improved sufficiently to permit him to start, but Hantelmann's bruised side may prevent him from donning a uniform. Faced all season with a dearth of guard material, the Hawkeye coaches will probably try out two new men, Akin and Nicholson at this position this afternoon.

Yesterday's workout was very brief and consisted mostly of drill on forward passes and the kickoff formations. Leo Jensen, Hauge, Wilber, and Kriz composed the backfield combination that received the most attention and may star today's battle. Probable starting lineups:

IOWA	BRADLEY TECH
Mastrogary	LELE
Benjamin	LT LT

Joe Jensen	QB QB
Hauge	LH LH

Broadcast—Station WSEI, Carl Menzer announcing.

St. Pat's, U. High Meet in Practice Fray This Morning

St. Patrick's football team will open the 1930 season in a practice game with University High at 10:30 this morning. Coach Louis Loria, new mentor of the Shamrock squad, has been drilling his men the past three weeks trying to reorganize a team which has not had the full sport for six years.

The players are young, light, and inexperienced, but very ambitious and show possibilities of future success. A versatile fullback, Dvorsky, who does punting, passing, and smashing, is the star of the Irish backfield.

St. Pat's probable starting lineup: Tremmel and Glenn, ends; Kelly and Meagan, tackles; McTear and Connell, guards; Emanuel, center; Billicks, quarterback; Spratt and Wilkinson, halfbacks; and Dvorsky, fullback.

One and a half million yards of textile fabrics have been sold for use on miniature golf courses.

Cubs Solace Selves With Second Place

Beat Reds, 7 to 5, But St. Louis Clinches First Place

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Cubs clinched second place in the National league, but lost out in their futile chase after St. Louis Cardinals today as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 5, in the second game of the concluding series of the season. Although victorious, the Cubs remained three games behind as the Cards clinched the title by defeating Pittsburgh, 10 to 5. The Cubs have only two games to play.

Hack Wilson's fifty-fourth home run with Cuyler on base provided the margin of victory as it capped a seventh inning attack that brought the Cubs from behind. "Footsy" Blair shared the day's hitting honors with Wilson by smashing out a triple, a double and a single that accounted for three runs.

"Old Hoss" Stephenson, pinch hitting for Blake, opened the seventh inning attack that drove Benton from the mound and won the game. He led off with a single and Teachtout, who ran for him, scored on Blair's triple. Blair scored on an error and Cuyler singled to ride home when Wilson drove his fifty-fourth homer into the right field bleachers.

Dark Horse Sweeps Into Golf Finals

Five Thousand Watch Bobby Eliminate Sweetser

By ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

MERION CRICKET CLUB, ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 26 (AP)—Twenty-two year old Eugene Vanderpool Homans, the fighting son of a father who fought many an old gridiron war for Princeton, made a sensational comeback today to win and earn the distinction of playing the great Bobby Jones tomorrow for the amateur golf championship of the United States.

Five down after the first 18 holes, three down at the twenty-seventh and still two down with four to go, Homans, with a display of sheer grit belied by his frail, studious appearance, won three of the last four holes to beat 19-year-old Charley Seaver of Los Angeles, one up, on the thirty-sixth and last green.

Bobby Crushes Sweetser

Homans' dramatic victory in the semi-finals followed the triumphant onward sweep of Jones, who crushed an old rival, Jess W. Sweetser of New York by the lopsided margin of 9 up and 8 to go in the Georgian's most convincing victory of the tournament.

As a result of two matches that sparked with great golf and thrilled galleries of upward of 5,000 spectators, Homans is the only barrier between Jones and a fourth national

Little Hawks Tangle With Grant Today

Squad Loses Veteran End; Isensee Goes to Backfield

Another loss struck the Little Hawk football aspirants on the eve of their first battle when Vic Curry, veteran end, was declared ineligible. Curry will be missed as he is fast, a good pass receiver and a safety man on defense. His shoes will more than likely be filled by Johnny Van der Zee.

Last night's scrimmage consisted mostly of signal practice with a light scrimmage at the end of the session. The Red and White gridmen are in good condition and all are on their toes for the Grant high encounter on the Coe college gridiron at 2:30 championship for the year—a clean sweep that would leave King Bobby with no more worlds to conquer and a record that modern generations may never see equalled.

Faith in Bobby

If there was anyone in Merion tonight who did not anticipate that Jones would complete his marvelous march of conquest, he could not be located for the Georgian uncorked a brand of golf today that was as nearly unbeatable as anything can be in this sport.

The finalists have met once before in the second round at Minkahnda in 1927, when Jones was the victor over Homans by the count of 3 and 2.

One Big Inning Enough for Red Birds to Secure Win

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—It's the cardinals versus the Athletics in the world series.

"Gabby" Street's Red Birds qualified today to uphold the National League against the Philadelphia Athletics, American league champions, in this year's baseball classic by slugging out a 10 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates and clinching the 1930 league pennant, the St. Louis club's third in the last five seasons.

Although Chicago defeated Cincinnati today, the Cubs are three full games behind St. Louis, and, with only two more games to play, the Cardinals could lose both and still win the flag.

To Jessie Haines, dean of the Cardinal hurling staff and a veteran of the Red Birds' two other world series campaigns, fell the honor of clinching this year's pennant. Haines outpitched Ervin Brame of the Pirates to chalk up the Cardinals' twenty-first victory in the last 24 games.

Since Aug. 1, the Cardinals have won 43 of 55 games and have boosted their percentage mark more than 100 points. While Haines was none too steady today, his mates backed him up with the same heavy slugging that has been a big factor in their victorious drive down the stretch.

One big inning, the fourth, was all the Cardinals needed, seven runs rattling across the plate before the side could be retired. A home run by Watkins was mixed in with hits by Hafey, Mancuso, Gelbert, Douthit, Frisch and Bottomley to bring in the seven tallies.

The other counters were brought in in the sixth. Score by innings: R. H. E. Pittsburgh 002 011 100—5 8 2 St. Louis 000 703 60—10 16 0

Sportively Speaking

By Bill Rutledge

The call to action sounds in grid camps throughout the nation as football steps forward today to regain fans' full attention. Few contests are of major importance. Most games are warming up workouts, the more important teams using eleven from minor schools as animated dummies.

Iowa meets Bradley this afternoon in a practice game. I take for granted that the Hawkeyes will win, the visitors being invited for the purpose of losing.

The conquest, it is reasoned, will impart to Iowa players a feeling of great power and instill boundless confidence. The same reasoning is applied to all branches of sports—that the season should be prefixed with a number of weak opponents the stronger rivals can freely abuse.

Larger schools should eliminate the so-called practice game entirely. Instead of picking on weaker brethren, bigger colleges should play only each other. In intercollegiate encounters, together with increased conference competition, has cut down the number of practice games to one or two in most cases. The practice game isn't sporting. It should be abolished, and games with smaller colleges displaced by engagements with teams in the same strata.

The sport world expects Bobby Jones to conquer Eugene Homans today at Merion and thereby attach himself to his fourth crown of the year, and set a record that challenges time itself.

Now that the Cards have made the National league bunting derby a thing of the past, attention can be turned to the world series. Play starts Tuesday at Philadelphia.

Although the Macks are favored to repeat their triumph of last season, it is generally conceded that the Red Birds will present the strongest opposition to American league winners that has been offered either the Yankees or the Athletics since 1928.

It was in that year that the Cards, with many of their present players, took the series from the Yanks. Since then the American league victors have copied 12 of 13 world series games.

The St. Louisans are rated so highly because of their wonderful pitching staff. Over such short route as the world series, pitching is the predominant factor in deciding the outcome.

Moose Drill for Tilt With North English

Moose gridders completed preparation yesterday afternoon for their game at North English tomorrow with a tapering off drill. Three practice sessions this week have put the team in shape.

In the probable starting lineup will be Theobald and Green at the ends, Burger and Kyvig at tackles, Capps and Justice at guards with O'Hara at the pivot position. In the backfield, Loria will call signals, Strickler and Curry taking over the halfback positions and Marzulis plunging the line. This group is supported by a capable reserve section that will be able to fill in if the situation demands.

The possibility of having Kelly Cerny back looms as a valuable addition to the backfield. Cerny is noted for several long runs for the goal line last season.

The Door of Death

By John Esteven

What has gone before:
After the murder of Celia Ballon, circumstances point to her husband, Francis, as the slayer. He denies guilt, but later a confession signed by him is received by officials investigating the case. He also says that he is committing suicide, and, after a few days, his body is found. Carl his brother, and Nurse, a police official, have believed him innocent. Dr. Ames, a friend of Eleanor Graham, the murdered woman's sister, has been convinced of Ballon's guilt from the start. At Miss Graham's request, Ames remains at the Ballon home, Greyhouse, to care for an old servant, who is ill. There he receives a blow to his hopes when he learns that Carl and Eleanor are to be married. He feels that target; but, when Ballon spoke at last, it was in the same leisurely drawl.

"So! Captain Nurse comes to lunch at Greyhouse! I wasn't prepared for him. I didn't know. . . . But it's quite fit and proper. Welcome, by all means. I trust you'll like the menu."
His voice resembled the insufferable purr of a beast before it rises to a snarl. "And the doctor, my accomplished friend, who, after sneaking and finessing behind my back and blundering about, thought he outwitted me! And the lady who thought she could play fast and loose with me, and has learned better. Welcome, everyone!"
Nurse's voice, clear and metallic, cut in. "Fine talk! But you're hardy in a position to indulge your wit.

Behind The Scenes IN HOLLYWOOD

By HARRISON CARROLL
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26.—A strenuous story of yellow journalism is promised in "Unfit to Print," George Bancroft's next for Paramount.
The sleek Kay Francis is to be the girl over whom Mr. Bancroft, presumably, is torn between love and duty. She has an errant brother—guess who?—Regis Toomey. Will he ever go straight in the pictures?
An ex-New York reporter, Oliver H. P. Garrett, has written the story, and John Cromwell, who, in his acting days did the police captain in "The Racket," is to direct. Inasmuch as Mr. Cromwell is one of the more intelligent directors, "Unfit to Print" is likely to be a thrilling and believable picture.
Incidentally, it proves that the newspaper story is not as taboo as some people thought it was.
NEW RACKET
A man in Alhambra, operates an angle-worm farm. Universal unearthed him and will photograph his interesting establishment for one of its freak short-subjects. Rumor has it that the ingenious farmer takes $1,000 a week for shipments of his proteges, which are put in ventilated cans with enough food to last them until they reach the designated fisherman.
HOWLING HERBERT
The heart-rending moan that you will hear in the opening sequence of "Beau Ideal" will be the voice of Herbert Brenon, the director. It seems that after half the company had walked and been rejected, Mr. Brenon himself produced a wail that shamed all predecessors. He coughed his own sound.
ARLEN'S LEAD
As soon as Paramount ties up the dialogue rights, "Night of 35," one of Emerson Hough's novels, goes into production at the Hollywood studio with Richard Arlen starring.
The dainty Fay Wray enacts the feminine lead opposite Dick.
Every day it becomes more apparent that the out-of-door story is in for a run at the studios. One reason given is that it brings the children back to the theatre.
RAMON DIRECTS
Ramon Novarro's versatility now expresses itself in directing. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star has just finished the Spanish version of "The Singer of Seville," in which he wielded the mezzophone as well as acted.
Next in line will be the French version, which Ramon also may direct.
He helped on the story of this picture, too.
When Novarro's name is mentioned, my first thought always is of the artistic Christmas cards he sends out. Strange, by what works a man will be remembered.
TAKES COURAGE
It takes proper nerve to dump $100,000 into the sink, but Samuel Goldwyn didn't hesitate to do it in the interests of fine pictures.
When the producer saw the opening sequences of "The Prodigal," he walked out of the projection room and stood leaning against a building. Finally, he called an assistant.
"Cancel everything as of tonight," he said.

Carl Menzer Installs New Radio Hookup

Equipment for remote control broadcasting of football games has been installed in the new stadium by Carl Menzer, director of station WS-U.

In design, this equipment is the most modern of its kind. Results obtained in the preliminary tests were very satisfactory.

The public address system was also installed. Both systems were constructed to last during the football season.

Since today's game will be played on Iowa field, the two systems will not be given a public trial until the Centenary-Iowa game on Oct. 11.

Plans are being made for a three station hookup to broadcast Iowa's contest with Centenary, Purdue, Penn State, and Nebraska. Stations to be included in the hookup are WOC, Davenport; WHO, Des Moines; and WSUI, Iowa City.

Contractor's bids will be opened in Washington, D. C., Oct. 10 for remodeling work on the Iowa City post office. Work will begin as soon as possible with contractors permitted 14 months for completion. Temporary location for postal headquarters is now being considered.

Westinghouse Employees Honor Industrial Leader

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 26—An impressive memorial to that titan of American industry, George Westinghouse, will be dedicated here on Oct. 6.

Funds for the memorial were raised by appropriations and subscriptions among the 60,000 employees of the Westinghouse industries in the United States and Canada. The movement is located in the most beautiful portion of Schenley Park.

One of the features of the dedication will be the unveiling of a bronze group of heroic proportions designed by Daniel Chester French, considered by many America's foremost sculptor.

The ceremony will mark the completion of five years' work to fittingly perpetuate the memory of Mr. Westinghouse, whose inventions and founding of tremendous industrial plants have marked him among the truly great Americans in his field.

Mr. French created the center unit of the memorial and the companion piece—the American youth. Henry Hornbostel, of Pittsburgh, nationally famous architect who designed the Hell Gate Bridge, Harding Memorial and the Carnegie Technical Institute buildings, designed the settings.

George Westinghouse started life as machinist in his father's shop in Schenectady, N. Y. He went to his work when 13 years of age. His father, George Westinghouse, Sr., was a strict disciplinarian and exacted the same obedience to rules from his son as from his other employees.

This early training young George found irksome and later in life when he planned the electric works in East Pittsburgh, the coming magnate declared, "If you want men to do good work, you must also provide them with the facilities and surroundings to enable them to do it."

All through his life of achievement, he always bore the comfort of his workers in mind, it is said. His invention of the airbrake revolutionized railway travel all over the world.

Conservative English railway men were skeptical about the feasibility of his new creation. For years Mr. Westinghouse tried in vain to sell it to them.

He finally grew so discouraged that he offered to buy one of the English railway locomotives, a tender and a coach to demonstrate his device. The officials of the British lines declared they would sell him the equipment but he wouldn't be able to use their railways to prove the worth of his invention.

Today, this airbrake is a standard part of the equipment of railroads on all of the five continents.

Hawkeye Gr Trample With D

Hickman's Dashes Top Heavy S

By GILBERT SCHANT

Flashing a hard driving and a fast charging line, Coach Ingwersen's Hawkeyes butchery Bradley Tech team up 38 to 12 score in the opening of the season on Iowa field day afternoon. A poor Iowa against forward passes enabled visitors to score two touchdowns the Old Gold forward wall hit Peoria eleven to a total of 42 gained from scrimmage.

Although all the Old Gold ans showed up well in the opener, Randall Hickman, halfback from Chariton, was star of the game. Sprinting the ends and driving off the in sensational style, he bids fill the shoes vacated by last hero and All-American, Bill Gow.

Sansen and Kriz Star
Hickman was not the only ball carrier that performed in ball fashion, for Oliver Sansen bone-crusher, smashed the B line to bits. He was capably aided by sophomore plunger, Jerome who was the leading scorer afternoon. Much was expected the former Cedar Rapids star made a creditable showing first appearance in an Old Gold form.

One of the most satisfying of the battle was the successful head game displayed by the eyes. Jim Hay, a reserve end, Leo Jensvold's flips in great and yesterday's showing indicated that he will give the veteran men, Mastrogany and Rogge, the for a regular berth. Iowa's more center, Ed Dolly, played a defensive game, but his passing not of high caliber.

Bradley Outpunts Iowa
Bradley showed a decided superiority in the kicking department also suffered but one penalty for the Hawkeyes. The Iowa repeatedly outcharged the gridders and Ingwersen's smart style of offense gradually wore the visiting eleven.

Gus Hauge, a two year minor winner, played most of the game right halfback and was one of most consistent ball carriers afternoon. Time after time he through the tackles for five yards and also played a consistent defensive game. Bud Miller, sophomore halfback, made a flashy runs, but did not quite as well as was expected. The Jensvold boys showed a improvement over last year, although Leo held the edge over his both passing and carrying the ball.

Galitz Awakens Hawks
Both of Bradley's touchdowns rear the end of a half when Hawkeye defense slackened. dished nearly 70 yards for the tors' second touchdown late game when the Hawkeye second defense went to sleep.

All in all, the 1930 machine added more powerful than was expected. Coach Ingwersen appears in his way to success in molding eleven after suffering most of aging losses through ineligibility graduation.

Harold "Dugs" Ely, veteran man, was appointed captain and the toss from the Bradley line. Weather conditions were ideal a crowd of 6,000 persons attended opening contest.
