RAIN STORMS BREAK HEAT IN WEST

Myron Kelso Hurt as Car, Truck Crash

Thrown to Paving by Impact of Two Vehicles

With a possible skull fracture, received as a truck and sedan crashed at E. Burlington and S. Dodge streets, Myron E. Kelso, 421 E. Benton street, was reported to be in fairly good condition at Mercy hospital last night.

Kelso was riding in the truck box and was thrown to the street by the impact when the machine, driven by Robert Wright, 719 E. Walnut street, collided with the Buick sedan of Herbert E. Ash, 1311 Muscatine avenue, about 6 p.m.

Companion Not Hurt

A companion, Frank W. Clark, 1123 Friendly avenue, who was riding with him, was also thrown out but was not seriously injured.

Wright's truck was traveling south on Dodge street and Ash's car was moving east on Burlington. The two met near the center of the intersection.

Wright, in a statement to police, said that he had passed the center of the intersection when the sedan struck the rear wheels of the truck, turning it half way around, and throwing out Kelso and Clark. Harrison Wright, his brother, accompanied him in the driver's cab.

Strikes Bumper

Ash's statement asserted that his car was nearly at a standstill as that the truck ran into it, striking the left end of the front bumper. The bumper of the sedan was broken and the transmission housing was cracked.

Kelso was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, where examination disclosed the possible fracture. He was in a semi-conscious state. A taxi driver carried Clark to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were minor.

New Shipping Rates Go Into Effect Today

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Western farmers will ship their wheat to market this year at lower freight rates than heretofore.

The interstate commission today cleared the road for new rates, ordered under the Hock-Smith resolution and opposed by the railroads, to go into effect at midnight tonight.

The commission in a brief announcement disposed of all protests against the new rates.

The case was stubbornly fought. After a long inquiry the commission ordered the rates into effect early last June but the railroads went to court in an effort to prevent the change.

An injunction suit was filed in Chicago federal courts, the railroads claiming they would lose millions of dollars if the rates became effective. Recently the court vacated the injunction and the commission issued an order making the rates effective Aug. 1.

The railroads posted their rates and regulations 10 days ago. A number of big shippers and shippers organizations protested that the posted rates and regulations did not follow the commission's order. The commission overruled the protests today.

Hunt for Fire Bug Believed Responsible for Nebraska Fires

LINCOLN, Neb., July 31 (AP)—Deputy state fire marshals today were searching for an incendiary who they believe is responsible for six recent lumber yard fires in the state.

Last night the plant of the North Platte Sash and Door company was destroyed by fire with a loss of $18,000. A recent lumber yard fire in Grand Island caused a loss of $80,000, a Fremont yard burned several days ago with a loss of $75,000. Last Monday night lumber yards at Lexington, Gothenburg and Cozad burned. The loss at Lexington was placed at $70,000 and that at Gothenburg at $40,000.

L. J. Butcher, deputy state fire marshal said the fires apparently were started by exploding oil.

Owners of the lumber yards could advance no reasons for the fires.

WEATHER

IOWA—Local showers Saturday, followed by clearing and cooler Sunday.

Kidnap Prohibition Agent During Raid in Detroit Suburb

DETROIT, Mich., July 31 (AP)—Two federal prohibition agents were beaten and kidnaped while investigating suspected liquor violations in suburban Wyandotte this morning, and before nightfall, 20 agents were engaged in a counter-offensive which netted four stills and two prisoners.

Thomas H. Brennan, Michigan prohibition administrator, said the raids would continue until Wyandotte is "cleaned up."

Henry Schwartz and Gustave A. Wetzel, the victims of the attack, made their way back to Detroit during the afternoon from a place in the country where, they said, they were released from an automobile after "a dozen Italians" had attacked and abducted them. They were also warned to stay away from the district.

World Flyers Push Toward Siberian Goal

Plane Motors Roar on Over East, West Hemispheres

(By the Associated Press)

Outstanding events in aviation today:

Pangborn and Herndon flying toward Irkutsk, Siberia, from Moscow, which they left practically 10 hours behind the schedule of Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

The Lindberghs in Ottawa, hoping to get away by noon for Moose Factory on their leisurely vacation flight to the Orient.

Boardman and Polando still receiving the plaudits of Istanbul where they landed Thursday non-stop from New York to establish a new distance record.

Unfavorable weather holding the giant D-O-X at Rio de Janeiro but it was hoped to take off for the United States by Monday.

Amy Johnson landing in Siberia, bound to Tokyo from London.

MOSCOW, July 31 (AP)—Speeding after a new round-the-world flight record, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., left Moscow today approximately 10 hours behind the mark set by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty up to this point.

Expressing confidence they could reach New York in four days, barring accidents or unfavorable weather, they planned to make their destination in four jumps, the last of which would be non-stop from Nome to New York.

"Sure we can make it if we get any kind of break," said Herndon, "we'll make fewer and shorter stops and so make up the difference in speed. Our ship is slower than the one Post and Gatty used."

As they roared out of Moscow their next scheduled stop was Irkutsk, some 3,000 miles away in the middle of Siberia. Their route lay over the trans-Ural mountains, following roughly the trans-Siberian railway and almost the same course taken by their predecessors.

From Irkutsk they expect to fly to Khabarovsk, thence to Nome across the Sea of Okhotsk and the Bering sea.

They made up some of their lost time by remaining in Moscow only a little more than five hours today. Post and Gatty stayed longer.

Amy Johnson Forced Down

MOSCOW, July 31 (AP)—A special dispatch to the Tass agency says Amy Johnson, British woman flyer, made a forced landing tonight near the small village of Idyazelsk, 20 miles from Marinsk, Siberia.

She was flying from Omsk toward Krasnoyarsk, en route from England to Tokyo. The report said she landed at 7 p.m. (10 a.m., C.S.T.).

Turkey Flyers Seek New Conquests

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 31 (AP)—Rested, well fed and happy, John Polando and Russell Boardman basked in the adulation of Turkey today and began to look around for more worlds to conquer.

Finding nothing quite so hazardous and daring as their flight from New York to Istanbul—approximately 5,000 miles—which apparently established a nonstop record, they were somewhat undecided as to plans.

But the pair were considering a homeward flight, with stops, over

Committee Will Investigate Administration of V. N. A.; Association's Funds Withheld

Welfare Board Refuses to Advance Money From Community Chest Pending Inquiry Into Affairs

Investigation into the administration of the Iowa City Visiting Nurses association which is under the supervision of Mrs. Marcella McInerney, will begin this week in an effort to determine whether or not the association shall be advanced further funds from the Community Chest budget. The inquiry will begin at once by a special committee composed of three members each from the General Welfare bureau and the nurses association, its report to the former group being due Tuesday.

The bureau's representatives on the investigating committee will be selected by County Attorney F. B. Olsen, acting president, while the association will pick its members at a special meeting. An attempt was made to call the group together yesterday for the purpose, but a quorum could not be obtained.

Joint Meeting Thursday

The decision to iron out difficulties between the nurses and the welfare board was reached at a joint meeting Thursday night, called to discuss the nurses' financial predicament. They have received no funds from the Community Chest since the middle of May. Their customary allotment from this source averages about $200 a month.

E. H. Lauer, treasurer of the Welfare bureau, refused the association further funds when he learned that the supervisor had been granted by the association power to arbitrarily employ or dismiss assisting nurses. On May 19 Mrs. McInerney had discharged three nurses, Alma Carlsen, Alice Christensen, and Mrs. Lois Vedepo.

Lauer Refuses Funds
Mr. Lauer informed Mayor J. J. Carroll, ex officio president of the association, that since personnel of the Visiting Nurses was of prime importance, no further funds would be extended the organization from the Community Chest until it had assumed direct control of administrative matters of policy in the hands of the supervisor.

Although Mayor Carroll did not acknowledge this communication he called Mr. Lauer when the regular budget allowance was due, asking for the customary expense monies. Met with a reiteration of the statements contained in Mr. Lauer's letter, the mayor called a meeting of the Nurses association at which no quorum was present, no business transacted.

Functions on Outside Aid
Meanwhile the association continued to function on the funds it had in reserve, receipts from Metropolitan Life insurance policy holder calls, and the money paid to Mrs. McInerney as city nurse.

Several weeks ago, faced by serious shortage of funds, the association called Mr. Lauer into conference and was told that since nothing had been done about matters of administration, the attitude of the Welfare board was unchanged. He also presented several other matters of policy which he asked to be investigated, explaining that Community Chest pledge cards included the stipulation that money collected was to be expended under the direction of the Welfare bureau.

Thursday night's meeting between Welfare bureau members and Nurses association members resulted. The committee which the joint group agreed to appoint is to report conditions in the Visiting Nurse office with recommendations as to further advancement of funds or changes in policy.

Investigate Dismissals
At the time of the dismissal of the three nurses, which action precipitated differences between the two groups, a meeting of the Visiting Nurses association was held in the course of which was mentioned some difficulty existing between Mrs. McInerney and her assistants. A committee, composed of Leo Kohl, Kenneth Dunlop, and W. P. Russell, was appointed by Mayor Carroll to hear the nurses' story of the altercation, but was adjourned to permit two of its members further time to investigate.

Following this hearing Mrs. McInerney discharged the three women.

Mr. Russell declared last night that he "had understood" that the nurses had come to the meeting prepared to resign. This, however, was denied by the nurses.

Mayor Carroll denied last night that he intended calling any special meeting of the Nurses association.

Pochmann Tells of Longfellow
Explaining the influence of Goethe on the works of Longfellow, Prof. Henry A. Pochmann, visiting lecturer in English, conducted the second of the series of lectures given during the second term of the summer session under the auspices of the school of letters last night.

Bill Asks Prohibition on Sale of Fireworks

A bill for the prohibition of fireworks displays was introduced by Glen Kenderline and given the first reading at the city council meeting yesterday evening. The bill asks that one must obtain a permit to buy fireworks and make a display of them.

Spencer was cited as an example of the effects of fireworks. The bill is endorsed by the State Fire Prevention association, the Parent Teachers association, and the Iowa Medical society.

Iowa City Boy Struck by Car

Martin Poland, 10, son of Mrs. Marie Poland, 817 Bowers street, was struck by a car driven by Alene Finch, 16, of Bath, Ill., at E. Burlington and S. Dubuque streets at 6 p.m. yesterday. The child was not injured.

Paving Assessments Receive Objections by Private Local Owner

Written objection to paving assessments was filed by Mrs. Ida L. Boarts at the city council meeting last night. Attorney Edward Rate appeared before the council in her behalf.

Rate stated that the property, which is situated at the junction of River street and former Templin road, was not worth the value assessed and suggested that real estate agents be allowed to judge the property's value.

The council moved that the objection be referred to the street and alley commission and reported upon at the meeting next Friday. Mrs. Boarts' objected assessment was $227.96.

Other assessments were levied without objection or opposition by the city upon the State of Iowa and the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City interurban company. The state was assessed $19,914.66 and the interurban company $1,709.74.

City Council Meeting Ends in Argument

Mercer, Mayor Disagree Over Reorganization of Committees

Heated discussion ended the city council meeting last evening as Alderman LeRoy Mercer asked that Mayor J. J. Carroll's reorganization of the council committees be rejected.

Mercer objected to being removed from the chairmanship of the airport and finance committees on the grounds that changes in personnel of the committees could not be made during the term of office. Mercer asserted that G. A. Kenderline, choice of the mayor for chairmanship of the finance committee and newly appointed council should assume only the duties of his predecessor.

Mayor Carroll replied that he could change the membership of the committees whenever friction impaired the efficiency of any one of them and that the appointment of the committees was not subject to the approval of the councilmen.

Argument Not Settled
The session ended with divergent views still maintained and no action taken as the other councilmen refused to commit themselves.

Dues were paid the Iowa League of Municipalities, which entitles the city to send two delegates to the convention of the League to be held in Council Bluffs, Aug. 18-20. A suggestion that Mayor Carroll and City Solicitor Will Hayek be sent as representatives of Iowa City to the convention was objected to by Mayor Carroll on the grounds that the city did not make such appropriation in its budget.

To Improve Streets
A bill was presented and passed for the improvement of the streets. Walks must be built by the owners before Sept. 3 on the east side of Third avenue from the south side of Friendship street to the south side of Court street, on Court street from the east side of Third avenue to the east side of Seventh avenue, the east side of Riverside Drive from the south side of Burlington street to the north side of Benton street, and from the south side of Benton street to the south line of the NW 1-4 of Section 15-79-6.

The north side of Benton street from the east side of Riverside drive east to Benton street bridge, and from the west side of Capitol street west of the Benton street bridge. The west side of Seventh avenue in front of lots 12-14-15, block 13, Rundell addition, the west side of Hutchinson avenue from the south side of River street south 160 feet to the walk in place at present.

The north side of West Benton street from the east side of Windham road, west to west city limits. The south side of West Benton street from a point 275 feet west of the west side of Orchard street west to the west city limits. The east side of Capitol street from the north side of Benton street to the south side of Lafayette street.

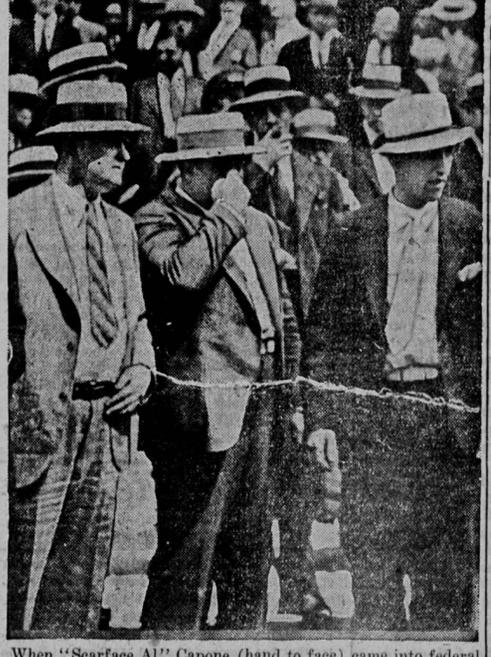

Owners Given Month
If the street improvements are not carried out by the individual owners before Sept. 3, the city council will let a contract for the building of the walks and the money will then be assessed by the city. Permit must be obtained from the city engineer before the walks can be built.

A bill was presented and passed for the repairing and resurfacing of the Iowa avenue bridge. A bill for the placing of a fire hydrant on the

Heavier Punishment Faces Capone Because of Change in Guilty Plea to Violations

Federal Judge Surprises Government, Defense With Sudden Summons to Morning Session of Court

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—Heavier penalties than he bargained for threaten "Scarface Al" Capone because he elected to withdraw his plea of guilty to liquor conspiracy and tax evasions.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson surprised government and defense with a sudden summons to a morning court session today and acceded to part of the gangster's request.

Capone, the court decided, may plead not guilty if he likes to the charge that he dodged the federal tax on his alleged $1,000,000 income. The trial date, probably late in September, will be set Sept. 8, but the judge withheld a ruling on Capone's change of mind on the prohibition indictment and ordered the grand jury to hear anew the evidence and decide whether more serious charges bringing more severe punishment cannot be proved.

Comes Under Jones Law
Prosecutors interpreted his statement as indicating Capone must be indicted under the Jones law, entailing maximum sentences of five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine on each of the specific offenses now alleged in the blanket conspiracy indictment.

Asks New Grand Jury
This was the court's answer to Capone's protest that the government had promised to trade a recommendation of leniency for his guilty plea. Capone was not in court to hear it. Only his attorneys, the prosecutors and the grand jury, hastily summoned at 10 a.m. to receive the charge, heard the ruling, read quickly by Judge Wilkerson as though he wished to dispose of the matter with the pother and ado of yesterday.

The judge smoothed over with a single sentence the discussion of District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson's treaty with Capone for leniency.

"As the cases are to be tried," he said, "the interests of justice require that there be no further comment upon the proposed recommendation or the arrangement that was attempted with reference to it."

"Cannot Bargain With Court"
Judge Wilkerson has expressed his confidence in the government attorneys, insisting only that Capone understand he cannot bargain with the court. The ethics of the pre-trial arrangement was brought in question by U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota who communicated with Washington authorities asking an explanation.

Col. Robert Isham Randolph, head of the Chicago Association of Commerce and its "secret six" crime committee, added his endorsement of District Attorney Johnson today, praising his "devoted public service," and asserting he acted with complete knowledge of the attorney general.

In passing the prohibition indictment back to the grand jury for reconsideration, Judge Wilkerson expressed himself as unwilling to believe the general terms of the conspiracy charges were used without cause to make Capone appear a flagrant lawbreaker. The government saw in this an opportunity to multiply convictions on the 5,000 specific offenses it alleges, while Michael Ahern of the defense regarded the ruling as favorable to Capone and requiring the government to prove each offense separately.

Asks New Grand Jury
Judge Wilkerson's ruling said: "The matters covered by that (liquor conspiracy) indictment should be presented by another grand jury. In the continuation of overt acts the defendant and others are charged with substantial offenses... for which a heavier penalty is provided than that possible under the conspiracy indictment. The court will not believe unless forced to do so that the language of this indictment was chosen, without probable cause, merely for the purpose of creating the impression that this defendant has been a flagrant law-breaker over a long period of time. This is a matter which must be inquired into fully."

If the trials go forward as scheduled, late September will bring exposure in detail of the operations of the Capone liquor syndicates over the middle west since 1924, as well as the trail, step by step, of his million dollar income from 1924 to 1929.

Hail, Winds in 5 States Break Wave

3 Lives Lost, Property Damaged After Cloudbursts

DENVER, July 31 (AP)—Torrential rains, hail and wind storms which combined to end a prolonged heat wave in five western states tonight claimed three lives and caused property damage tentatively estimated at more than half a million dollars.

Reports of severe storms were received from New Mexico, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming and Montana.

Indians Drown
Three Navajo Indians were drowned when they were engulfed in a wall of water in the storm which Tuesday night laid bare an 80 mile square area near Ft. Defiance, N. M. Traders seeking supplies to restore their buildings, required two days to reach Gallup, N. M., and relate an account of the storm.

Damage resulting from the flood was estimated at $400,000, crop losses were placed at $100,000. The federal diversion dam at Ganado, N. M., was washed out at a loss of $75,000.

Livestock Lost
In addition thousands of sheep and goats were lost. What was described as the most severe flood in the city's history was experienced last night in Butte, Mont. Water eight feet deep rushed through the city, washed out 300 feet of railway track and did considerable property damage.

High Winds Cause Damage at DeSoto

DE SOTO, July 31 (AP)—High wind with some rain swept this territory late today. Telephone and telegraph poles were blown down, two store fronts were caved in and trees were blown down. Farmers reported numerous outbuildings destroyed or overturned by the wind.

About one-half inch of rain fell. Light showers in Iowa City provided temporary relief from the heat wave when yesterday's temperature recordings failed to exceed 91. At 7 a.m. the thermometer registered 71, and at 7 p.m. it was at 86. The lowest temperature recorded for Thursday night was 68.

July Heat Makes Record for State

DES MOINES, July 31 (AP)—July's temperatures for Iowa as a whole were between four and five degrees above normal, Charles D. Reed, director of the federal weather bureau here, said today.

Rainfall, he said, was about 1.4 inches below normal, or between 60 and 65 per cent of normal.

These preliminary figures were taken to indicate that the month now passed was one of the hottest on record, with 18 days of broiling weather and almost negligible rainfall.

Light rain was recorded at Clinton this afternoon. Clouded skies added authenticity to a prophecy that Saturday would be unsettled and somewhat cooler in certain sections.

Boone had 102 degrees Friday, Mason City 101, Marshalltown and Ft. Dodge 100, Ottumwa 95, Keokuk 96, Des Moines 97, Davenport 91, Clinton 92, Council Bluffs 96, and Dubuque 88.

July Gasoline Tax Collections Grow Over Last Month

DES MOINES, July 31 (AP)—Gasoline tax collections totaled $1,160,076.97 during July, State Treasurer Ray Johnson announced today.

The July total was an increase of more than $101,353.00 over the same month last year when receipts amounted to $1,048,723.99. It was an increase also over the June, 1931 collection of $1,144,863.89.

The primary road account received the greatest share of the receipts, $583,358.99. The secondary road fund received $400,000 and a total of $166,717.98 was apportioned to the refund account.

Pay Inheritance Tax AMES, (AP)—An inheritance tax of $219.91 was paid on the estate of Mary Dangler of Clinton.

Ames Professor Resigns

AMES, (AP)—Dr. C. W. Knox, associated professor of poultry husbandry at Iowa State college resigned to accept a position as geneticist with the federal department of agriculture.

Roosevelt's Chances

IN ANOTHER year all doubt will be dispelled, but for the present it looks as if Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, has the Democratic nomination for the presidency virtually in his grasp.

National Democratic leaders at Washington frankly express themselves as little short of amazed at the tremendous gains suddenly achieved by the New York governor. Roosevelt's front seat in the campaign becomes even more apparent with the admission of a number of important Democratic organs, not particularly friendly to his candidacy, that he has practically clinched the nomination.

Two significant developments in furtherance of the Roosevelt for president cause were the prediction of Joseph F. Guffey, former Democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, and one of the leaders of the state organization, that the Keystone delegation will be almost solid for the governor when the convention opens next year, and second the statement of Mayor Anton Cermak, successor to the Thompson regime in Chicago, that Roosevelt is sufficiently wet to muster the Democratic support of Illinois. It is the consensus in leading Democratic circles that Cermak lost no time in getting aboard the Roosevelt band wagon on his recent visit to New York.

Roosevelt's strength in his own party seems all the greater because there is nowhere in the open any definite opposition movement. No anti-Roosevelt, as yet, has come to the fore. Favorite sons there are aplenty, and other leaders that have figured in the discussions, Ritchie, Baker, Robinson, Hull, Owen D. Young, and others. No combination, however, has yet taken the field to cast any serious shadow over the path of Roosevelt.

While there is plenty of time for many a storm cloud to gather on the horizon before the Democratic convention selects its 1932 candidates, supporters of the New York solon could not want a better strategical position for the Roosevelt than the one he occupies today.

The Time for Action

IN NEW YORK, where the volume of crime has gradually made citizens indifferent to tragedy, there is now a thoroughly aroused community as the result of the death of one small child and the injury of four others by a carelessly aimed gang gun.

Such an atrocious crime is symbolical of the condition which has developed in the organized crime sector of large metropolitan areas. It seems incredible that a single instance of this kind does not incite a horrid civilization to even greater drastic, concerted action.

However, it is encouraging to learn that New Yorkers have not become so utterly calloused to the ruthless tyranny of "the racket" that they are willing to ignore fearless machine gunning of babies.

Vigorously awakening of a torpid citizenry is the only effective solution to the gang rule problem, and if New York really means business, perhaps the day for action is at hand.

Adventure by Proxy

WILL THE public tire of "new" round-the-world flights and non-stop records?

Boardman and Polando have just hopped from Broadway to the land of the Crescent. The Graf is back in the home hangar after a loop into the Arctic. Pangborn and Herndon are somewhere in Russia on the New York to New York circle. Amy Johnston is on her way from London to Tokio. The Lindberghs are leisurely taking their aerial vacation tour. Why do the papers streak their pages with headlines and pack the columns with the latest "dope" on it all?

Probably most of the masses will never make such trips, at least until the pioneering days are over. But the spirit of it is in their blood. The more reason, therefore, to admire and applaud those who do engage in trail-blazing.

Psychologists call it "vicarious experience." What does it mean? It means the five-and-ten girl thrilling over her early morning edition on the street car, and imagining herself Anne at Lindy's side. It means the plutocrat chuckling over his noon edition and the picture of a pair of Americans surrounded by a flock of curious Turks. It means the dinner table council in the "average" family on "Boy, boy—what will they do next?" They all feel that they have been somewhere.

So long as new adventures and new heroes are to be found they continue their hero-worship and like it! So long as the ordinary human can be lifted out of his hot work-a-day world and for the price of a two-penny paper go a-zeppling with Eekener in the polar regions—so long will these feats of the air crowd the front page.

A Chance for Union

"Here once the embattled farmers stood And fired the shot heard round the world." THESE LINES from Emerson to commemorate the uniting of New England farmers to fight the redcoats express the present attempts of the farmers of Nebraska, South Dakota, and Iowa to combat a common enemy. The 1931 foe, however, is the elusive grasshopper instead of the conspicuously attired British soldier. Though elusive, these pests seem to be the common enemy which farmers have been needing all along to bring about a complete, united organization in a common cause.

True, the call of 1931 is one of agricultural survival; whereas the call to arms in 1775 was the call of patriotism. The immediate enemy is in the fields and pastures, up to the very kitchen gardens of the homes. An army of farmers must mobilize at once or face ruin not only in this season, but following ones. Poisoned bran will be the "shot" of this war.

County Agent Pim of Monona county already has this weapon in use in his fighting unit. Dr. George C. Decker of the Iowa agricultural experiment station and Dr. Carl J. Drake, state entomologist, represent a still larger group as they look over the field to plan the battle, while Dr. J. R. Parker comes from the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture to show that the grasshopper war is even federal in scope.

With this pressing danger at hand and an army rapidly organizing into federal, state, county, and neighborhood units it seems that the time has finally arrived for a true union of farmers. More widely scattered and heterogeneous than the miners and other laborers, the farmers have been slow in forming a strong, active organization for their common good. The war of 1775 assembled colonists of various types into armies of "embattled farmers." Cannot the grasshopper war of 1931 effect the same?

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

Appeals to President Hoover, Governor Roosevelt of New York; drafting of 100 crack New York detectives, calling of mothers' indignation meetings, and moves to further prohibit the sale of firearms are part of the aftermath of the baby slaughter that has seemingly rocked Manhattan Island to its very foundations. As five year old Michael Vengalli is lowered into his grave, a martyr to the cause of American freedom from American gangdom, unprecedented movements are under way to bring to justice the occupants of the death car who fired into a group of tenement children Thursday, killed one, probably mortally wounded another, and injured several others.

"This is eloquent evidence of the benefits of prohibition," is the wording of a telegram sent to President Hoover by Congressman Andrew L. Sommers of Brooklyn. "All foreigners who violate our laws should be deported," said Mrs. Lucille Zeuner, civit worker and former president of the Academy Civic association. "It is up to the mothers to carry the fight against gangsters to a successful termination," she added. "The most terrible crime in the history of New York," was the statement of Judge Samuel D. Levy, for many years justice of the Children's court. "It is a horror that should make every citizen shudder."

Perhaps now that gangsters have violated the unwritten code of the protection of children, even after they have invaded the rights of noncombatant citizenry, they may feel remorse stricken at their own atrocities. Perhaps, now, when six million people have risen as one to demand justice in the latest outbreak of unrestricted killing, they may be moved to cease their warfare on city streets. It is more likely, however, that the hardened criminals whose bullets ripped into the little bodies of six tenement kiddies, the tears and cries of their mothers will mean nothing. But it is about time that the forces of the law become engaged in the ruthless extermination of the blight on society, the cancer in the heart of America, to the end that mothers may no longer fear to send their little ones to play, that the breeding places of criminals be wiped out forever from the cities of America, the most enlightened nation under the sun.

"Most animals fight because their intelligence is limited," declares an eminent Japanese educator, therein suggesting that wars can be prevented because they are only an outgrowth of stupidity. But he admits he doesn't know at what stage in civilization men will be intelligent enough to settle disputes without war. He would be a fool to commit himself by definitely stating that we have now reached the stage where we have brains enough to meet and talk things over instead of shooting first and asking questions afterwards.

The waning popularity of transatlantic travel has forced ship owners to slash rates from 20 to 30 per cent. Proprietors have even gone so far as to agree that they will no longer distinctively mark baggage of passengers traveling to Europe in the cheaper classes. Although the trade has felt a crisis, the new rates will be advertised as being "in the spirit of President Hoover's proposal," to widen the popular appeal. Further evidence of the drop in European travel may be seen at hotels along Atlantic beaches, where "idle rich," who formerly departed along the Riviera, are now content to bask in the rays of a New Jersey sun and run out to meet the waves on this side of the ocean.

Observing his sixty-eighth birthday like any other in his busy and prosperous life, Henry Ford declares: "I am not interested in money, but in the things of which money is merely a symbol. The only right use of money is to capitalize industry." Coming from Henry Ford such a statement might seem to lack sincerity. But, considering the divers beneficial uses to which he has placed his huge wealth, there is a note of fidelity in it. At present, the auto magnate is spending large sums of money in developing an experimental farm project, aimed ultimately at the coordination of farming and industry. From him, despite his pet schemes for making more money, we can take the cue for at least the virtue of spending, with an eye to the return of prosperity, which Ford seems to be doing all the time.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON — When Representative George Graham of Pennsylvania died, newspaper accounts of the Bystander saw gave considerable space for two things about his 8 years in the house. He was, for one thing, the oldest member at the time of his death, nearing 81. He also was a noted battler.

KIRKE SIMPSON

But there were other things about Graham of Pennsylvania that could have been written. Not so long ago his name was very constantly in the papers. For months the doings of a special select committee he headed in 1919 were a major partisan political topic.

A 'SMELING COMMITTEE'

The "Graham smelling committee" as it was popularly known, was one of the first moves of practical politics for 1920 made by the Republicans when they recovered control of the house in the 1918 elections. Graham, who came to congress late in life, was still a junior with but two terms to his credit when opportunity knocked for him.

He was chairman of the house committee on expenditures in the war department, one of those minor jobs created more for the purpose of giving deserving juniors chairmanships and additional checks than for anything else. You rarely hear of them.

AN UNREAD HISTORY

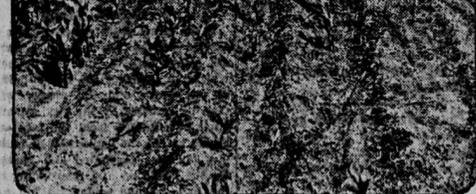

It took years of work to go through all the contracts. Literally tons of printed hearings were produced. They make up an amazing history of the United States at war, a history that probably no one ever has or ever will read.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS VOTED FOR THE PROBE SAYING, AND HOPING, SUCH WOULD BE THE CASE.

And when Graham died a dozen years later, the "Graham smelling committee" had been all but forgotten.

HUMAN NATURE BEING WHAT IT IS, THERE IS MATTER FOR NATIONAL PRIDE IN THAT, REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS.

FIELDS STRIPPED BY INSECTS

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD. — A. A. Milne's "The Dover Road" winds on forever. Paramount is producing it as a talkie with Eleanor Boardman playing opposite Clive Brook.

This will be Eleanor's second role at her new studio home. Recently, she appeared with Paul Lukas in "Women Love Once." The mediocre quality of the story did not overcast her clever performance, so there is every reason to believe she will regain her former popularity. People who have seen Cecil B. De Mille's "The Squaw Man" say it will help her along.

FACT VERSUS THEORY

An argument on the social system was raging at a Hollywood gathering. Paul Bern proffered the idea: "If a child is started correctly and properly fed until it reaches the age of 10, the body will take care of itself." "Yea?" came a mournful voice, "you haven't been around Columbia, have you?"

AND IN THOSE DAYS, EVERYTHING WENT

News to me at least is the fact that Sessue Hayakawa played quarterback on Altonzo Stagg's University of Chicago's varsity in 1911 and 1912.

The Oriental star, now making a screen comeback with Paramount, entered the university in 1910 from a military school in Japan. During his sophomore year he made one of the quarterback positions. "In those days," he says, "there were no intercollegiate associations and games were scheduled two weeks in advance. "My football might have been all right had I not been trained in Japan in the art of jujitsu. Sometimes I forgot myself in games and used trick holds in tackling. It always brought a storm of protests from the opponents, and several times I was sent off the field by the referee."

In 1927, Hayakawa appeared on the stage in Chicago in "The Love City." At this time, the University Athletic Association gave a dinner in his honor. Afterwards he gave an exhibition in jujitsu and Japanese fencing. DID YOU KNOW That Joel McCrea was a cowboy for two years in Miles City, Mont?

Insect Menace Under Control

Farmers, Businessmen Move to Prevent Further Attack

DES MOINES, July 31 (AP)—Iowa farmers and business men alike tonight felt reassured that the grasshopper menace was under control but at the same time were taking steps to prevent their return next year.

Secretary of agriculture Mark Thoburn after a more complete check indicated that earlier reports of entomologists had exaggerated the gravity of the situation.

Plans were going forward, however, for the purchase by the state of poison and traps and their distribution. Secretary Thoburn said the use of airplanes in spreading the poison mixture was improbable.

The secretary said that Dr. G. C. Decker, assistant state entomologist, was making a survey in Monona and Harrison counties, the most heavily infested areas.

Seek Better Crime Laws

Prison Bureau Looks Into Juvenile Procedure

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The federal prison bureau is drafting legislation to enable the government to withdraw from the prosecution of juvenile delinquents.

Answering criticism by the Wick-ersham commission that the government is not equipped to handle the cases of child offenders against federal laws, the proposed legislation is directly in line with a commission recommendation.

Work for Improvement Sanford Bates, superintendent of federal prisons, in a letter to Senator Davis of Pennsylvania said the justice department was not waiting for adoption of the necessary laws but was already working to "improve the situation so far as existing legislation will permit."

It was learned that Bates has been in conference with officials of the United States children's bureau, seeking the help of that organization in the handling of young delinquents.

May Return Minors Describing the proposed legislation, Bates notified Davis it would "permit the government to undertake the work and expense of returning minors who have been arrested in some foreign jurisdiction, back to their own environment for whatever treatment the local community can exert."

Mystery of Slain Student Problem for Uncle Sam

TRIBAL MEETING OF APACHES.

WHITE RIVER, Ariz., July 31—Despite the untiring efforts of federal authorities, assisted by investigators of the state of Arizona, the brutal murder of Henrietta Schmerler remains an impenetrable mystery. Since the body of the 22 year old Columbia university student was found in a secluded ravine on the Apache reservation near here, federal investigators have followed clue after clue hoping to find one that would lead to the elucidation of how the young girl came to her tragic end.

Cannot Place Blame The very fact that the crime was committed on the Indian reservation does not mean that an Indian is the culprit any more than one could definitely blame another Columbian had the murder been done on her own campus in New York, but it does make the solving of the mystery a federal matter as Indian territory comes under federal jurisdiction.

Practically all the evidence collected so far supports a theory that Miss Schmerler was attacked as she walked through the ravine where her body was found on the way to a dance at Fort Apache. Several Indians have been arrested and released after they had proved to the satisfaction of the authorities that they had no knowledge of the crime, but one unnamed Apache is still under suspicion owing to a letter written by Miss Schmerler accusing him of making advances which she repulsed.

Jealousy of Squaws Another theory advanced is that the friendliness shown the girl student by the Apache braves aroused the demon jealousy in the breasts of their squaws to such a pitch that they plotted and encompassed her death.

Whatever be the ultimate explanation of the tragedy, it has given the old-fashioned "I-told-you-so's" a fresh batch of ammunition to fire at the modern girl. There are still people in our fair land who hold the contention that a woman or girl should be chaperoned when she goes more than a block from home and they thought of a young girl living alone within a stone-throw of a reservation inhabited by Apaches whose grandfathers' favorite sport was collecting paleface scalps.

Safe With Indians But these people fail to take into account that this is the first time in many years that a research worker has been molested, although a great many have actually lived in Indian villages and camps while studying the manners and customs of the American natives. Some of the people who have done so declare that a girl is as safe, if not safer, among the primitive tribes as in many a civilized city, provided she has a knowledge of Indian ways.

Miss Schmerler comes into that category. She had a knowledge of the subject of the study which took her to Arizona and her death. When only 19 she received her B.S. degree from New York university and entered Columbia in 1930 for graduate studies in ethnology and anthropology.

On Fellowship Research At commencement, this spring, Miss Schmerler received a Summer fellowship entitling her to a field trip among the Indian reservations of Arizona, so one can logically say that her tragic death was indirectly due to her scholastic brilliance.

At the moment everyone, white and red alike, in the vicinity is under suspicion by the undercover federal agents, who are determined to solve the mystery of the student's murder. Uncle Sam has a long memory and infinite patience and it is only a matter of time until the poor battered body in that lonely ravine will be avenged.

was read in which he said the dedication "commemorates a pioneer step in the maintenance of peace through disarmament."

Library Asks for Increased Appropriation

An appropriation of $14,500 was asked for the city library by Jessie E. Gordon, city librarian, at the council meeting last night. The city's necessary reduction of the budget placed the council's estimate at $13,836. The estimate presented by Miss Gordon was placed on file and will be open to discussion Aug. 14.

Of the $15,214.95 available during the past year $14,938.18 was expended leaving a balance of $356.98 on hand. Of this $3,652.15 was spent for new books, $329.21 for periodicals and the remainder for binding, repairs, heating, insurance, printing, stationery, lighting and miscellaneous.

Last year $14,060.50 was raised by taxation, $150 through a special fund, and $1,083.65 was cash on hand from the previous year.

A total of 2,465 books were added to the library during the last year, of the number 75 were donated, 2,327 purchased, and 63 magazines were bound. The books withdrawn from circulation numbered 1,894, leaving the net increase in number at 1,571 and the total books in the library at 28,771.

The largest daily circulation was 1,016, the smallest 202, and the average circulation was 476 books taken out each day. Of the borrowers 2,672 were citizens of Iowa City and 68 were from the rural districts outside of the city.

Departments Plan 3 More Fair Exhibits

Child Welfare, Alumni Office, Pharmacy, Add Displays

Plans for three more of the departmental displays to be shown at the Iowa state fair in Des Moines, beginning Aug. 26, were announced today with the completion of the details for the exhibits of the college of pharmacy, the child welfare research station, and the university alumni office.

Featuring the pharmaceutical exhibit will be a demonstration of the refining of crude iodine into the common household medicant, tincture of iodine, and a sample of the Chinese Ma-Huang, from which is obtained the alkaloid, ephedrine, a comparatively recently discovered aid in treating hay fever.

Show Turpentine Process Other articles in the pharmacy display which is being prepared by Louis Zopf of the pharmaceutical drug service under the supervision of Dean Wilber J. Teeters, include a demonstration of the method of obtaining turpentine from pine trees, several crude drugs from which active medicinal ingredients are prepared, and some antique drug containers from the pharmacy museum.

In the alumni office exhibit being arranged by Prof. Frederic G. Higbee, director of alumni service, are a group of enlarged photographs of the campus, a map showing the details of the acquisitions of land and buildings by the university since its founding, and a large colored panoramic view of the present campus with proposed changes.

Child Welfare Exhibit Ralph H. Ojemann, research associate in the child welfare research station is in charge of the plans for that department. The display, intended to give parents a comprehensive idea of the purpose, functions, and outstanding results of the research station, will consist of individual exhibits of the various divisions, and publications issued by the department.

All university displays at the state fair are under the supervision of Director Bruce E. Mahan and Lee Cochran, of the extension division.

Radio Club Plans New Set as Static Interferes in Work

Activities of the university's amateur radio club have been hampered during the last few weeks by lack of equipment, it was disclosed yesterday by John Ebert, operator of WSUI and a member of the club.

The 50 watt radiophone transmitter which members of the club assembled last month has been partly dismantled for the time being, leaving for radiophone work only a 10 watt transmitter which has considerable difficulty in combating the summer static, said Mr. Ebert.

Tentative plans for next fall, however, include the construction of a 250 watt phone transmitter, five times more powerful than the one which at present is dismantled.

In view of the fact that with the 50 watt transmitter nine states, including North Carolina, were reached Mr. Ebert anticipates new long distance records for the local club's radiophone communication, should the new apparatus be installed.

Miss O'Malley Wins First Match; Miss Poe in Finals

Schedule of Play for Today

9:00 o'clock — Mary Lee O'Malley (Los Angeles, Cal.) vs. Eve Gilbert (Iowa City) in semi-finals of women's singles.

1:30 o'clock — Bert Riel (Watseka, Ill.) vs. Merle Robins (Ames) for men's singles championship.

3:00 o'clock. Women's semi-final winner vs. Ella Poe (Cedar Rapids) for women's singles championship.

4:00 o'clock — Goepel and Reddig vs. Robins and Boyles for the men's doubles championship.

By BILL RUTLEDGE

An Illinoisan and an Iowan—Bert Riel of Watseka and Merle Robins of Ames—match their tennis wizardry this afternoon for the honor of being crowned men's singles titlist in the Mississippi Valley tournament.

Out of the series of upsets that have characterized the men's doubles play, the teams of Dick Goepel (Rock Island) and Ronald Reddig (Davenport) together with Robins and Dick Boyles (Iowa City) soared into the finals.

A California threat enveloped the women's single's event as Mary Lee O'Malley of Los Angeles flashed through to an impressive victory over Frances Eby, 16 year old Cedar Rapids girl, 6-1, 6-3.

Bleacher seats will be set up for the accommodation of fans. No admission will be charged.

Two More for Robins

Robins coasted into the finals with two impressive triumphs. Walter Theiss of Cedar Rapids, the only unseeded quarter finalist, was removed from the running by the Ames star's bullet-like returns, 6-1, 6-2.

His last barrier to today's finals was cleared by the top ranking participant when Robins mowed down Bob Chaffee of New York City, 6-2, 6-0.

Riel Wins Twice

Riel propelled himself into the finals by whirling over both Bob Conrad of Burlington and George Struble of Toledo. Conrad went under, 6-2, 7-5.

After plugging up an early lead of four games to two over Riel in the first set, Struble slumped and saw the former Northwestern athlete forge ahead. The Toledo entry presented weaker opposition in the second set to lose, 6-0.

The quarter finals brought upsets. Seeded number eight, Struble downed Ted Swenson of Cedar Rapids, 6-4, 6-3. Swenson was ranked below Robins.

Chaffee Upsets Reddig

Rated fifth Chaffee had to come from behind to spill Reddig, seeded fourth, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6 in the bitterest battle of the day.

Robins and Boyles thrilled the galleries by pulling their semi-final doubles contest with Swenson and J. U. Yessler of Cedar Rapids out of the fire.

The winners were hard pressed to take the first three sets, 6-4, Swenson and Yessler jolted their opponents to annex the second, 10-8. The final set went to Robins and Boyles, 6-3.

Mrs. Woods Loses

Struble ad Theiss played erratic ally to lose the second set of their doubles match with Goepel and Reddig, 6-0. They dropped the first, 6-4. Mrs. Andrew Woods of Iowa City won the plaudits of the spectators in slipping before Eve Gilbert, also a local player. Mrs. Woods put up a courageous uphill fight. She had victory within closing reach several times before losing, 6-4, 9-7.

Sportively Speaking

By Bill Rutledge

We expect to see some whirlwind tennis plays in the finals of all events of the Mississippi Valley tournament this afternoon. Merle Robins and Bert Riel have both demonstrated their consistency and stamina in battling their way through three rounds, the quarter finals and semi-finals into the last bracket.

Age made two astounding showings in yesterday's matches. Mrs. Andrew Woods fought stubbornly against Eve Gilbert through 26 games of the two sets. Mrs. Woods tied the latter set Fall J. U. Yessler of Cedar Rapids, teamed with Ted Swenson, played brilliantly only to lose in the third set of the match against Robins and Dick Boyles.

The Odd Fellows and Racine's certainly played a sweet game last evening. Everybody was expecting to see the termination of the championship series in favor of the lodge team. But that was before the rousing seventh inning rally staged by the cigar store men.

Regards the umpiring, which was the storm center of numerous controversies in the initial game — Chuck Seemuth, veteran arbiter from Williamsburg called "em from behind the plate. Not a complaint was uttered against the base umpiring of Mort Koser.

After having taken it on the chin with embarrassing regularity in their games in the east, the western clubs of the American league play host to their seaboard rivals in a long string of series which begin next week.

Before taking off the west, the Athletics will probably trounce the Senators in three or four tilts. An interesting foray for the right to the cellar will be held at Detroit between the Tigers and the White Sox in a series starting today.

Play Begins in New Loop on Thursday

Play in the newly organized kitenball leagues will get under way next Thursday evening it was decided at a meeting last night of twilight association. Plans were drawn to a conclusion except for the booking of one more team in the closed or club league.

Waldo Geiger and Irving Nelson, the committee on the location of playing fields, reported that an attempt is being made to locate two of the fields at the city park. The other two will probably be at the municipal athletic field south of town in view of the fact that football practice will begin on Iowa field before the completion of the kitenball schedules.

Teams which will comprise the schedule in the open league, which is filled, are Racine's, 18th Hospital company, Dees', Dewey's, Iowa City Wholesale Fruit, Alex' Rangers, under the management of N. J. Alexander, Hotel Jefferson, and Iowa Supply.

In the closed league, in which only members of the club can play on the respective teams, has yet to have one team. Those all ready lined up are, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias, Press-Citizen, Ford Service, Sidwell's Dairy Boys, Elks, and Odd Fellows.

In the drawing up of rules for the competition it was included that a player taking part on one team could not participate in the other league, thus giving more men a chance to play.

Islanders Beat Bunnies

ROCK ISLAND, July 31 (AP)—Cedar Rapids staged another ninth inning rally here tonight, but Rock Island did the same thing, with the result that the Islanders won the final game of the series 7 to 6. Smargissi tripled to deep center with two on base and two out in the ninth, and then scored on an infield hit by Fischer to produce three scores.

Dubuque, Waterloo Tie

DUBUQUE, July 31 (AP)—Dubuque and Waterloo battled 11 innings to a five to five deadlock here tonight and the game was called in the first half of the twelfth on account of wet grounds. It was a pretty pitchers' battle between Luther and Baker.

Davenport Whips Bees

DAVENPORT, July 31 (AP)—A six run rally in the sixth inning gave the Davenport Blue Sox a 7 to 2 victory over the Burlington Bees. In the final game of the series here tonight, Moore dashed home on Sulek's

Racine's Nine Trims Odd Fellows 5-4 to Even Championship Series

4 Run Rally Decides Wild Second Fray

Flake Starts Seventh Inning Spree With 3 Base Hit

By BILL RUTLEDGE

Stampeding four runs over the plate in the last inning, Racine's squared off its championship series with the Odd Fellows at one game apiece last evening at the city park before a record turnout of fans.

The fray was as thrilling as any that has been played in the exciting Twilight league race. The score was 5 to 4.

Two timely triples ruined the lodge team's hopes of capturing the crown with straight wins.

Astle Gets Tripple

Astle smacked the first three bagger in the opening round to score Don Brown and furnish the cigar store nine with a slim lead for three innings.

The second three-ply blow whizzed into the cars parked back of center field off the bat of Pinch Hitter Flake and drove in Flink to launch a victory-nabbing rally.

The pitching triumph went to Flake who held the Odd Fellows without a hit or a run in the last of the seventh. The Racine hurler hit the first two men who faced him, but the infield behind him uncocked a double play out of Rarik's fly. Sulek took three strikes.

Clifford Bright twirled for six innings and allowed but five hits. Errors made the going difficult. Each outfit was guilty of seven misplays.

Lodge Nine Halted

Two tallies counted in both the fourth and fifth innings gave George Krotz a comfortable lead that lasted until the wild seventh.

Here are the details of that raucous round that advanced the contenders into a third contest, which will be played Monday evening at the city park.

Flink led off with a single into left field. Flake was put in to pinch hit for Bright and forthwith pumped a triple into deep center, Flink scoring. Brown poked a single down the first base line into right field, Flake trundling home.

Knott Score 4-4

Gluesing followed suit with a single into center. Greene glammed a grounder to shortstop that Watkins could do no more than stop. Brown counting to tie the score 4 to 4. Astle laid a single straight down the third base line to shove Gluesing over the counter with the winning marker.

The crowd went wild with excitement. Greene was tagged out stealing home. Astle purposely ran to wards the plate for the third out to hurry up the play so that the Odd Fellows could get their turn at bat and the seventh inning runs would count.

Watkins and Moore were hit by pitched balls by Flake in the latter half of the seventh. Rarik popped into a double play. Brown to Flink. Sulek whiffed to end the encounter.

Racine's Count First

In the first chapter of Racine's Brown produced a single. Gluesing advanced him to second with a sacrifice bunt. Brown took third while Greene advanced him to second with a sacrifice bunt. Brown took third while Greene was being retired at first. Astle tripled over Whitting's head, Brown scoring. Then Geiger flied out.

The Odd Fellows wrenched the lead away from the cigar store men in the fourth by gleaming two runs. Rarik bounced a scratch hit off Astle's arm. Chelf raced in to grab Sulek's fly. The ball wandered around the infield while Rarik ran to second and then on to third. Whiting was deliberately walked. Krotz struck out.

body appeared to know where she was. Gus LeGrand, he suspected, knew—but would not tell. LeGrand seemed almost hostile. At length, B. B. Hummel got into communication with Flo and telephoned to Benny that he was acting as her representative.

And, swallowing his pride, Benny had made, through Hummel, pathetic overtures to her. They had all been rejected. He had made a final plea, hinting at the financial ruin that stared them in the face, if the dance team were dissolved.

Benny realized now that her flight had been no mere temperamental outburst impelled by pique. She meant what she said; she was never coming back. Dejectedly he returned to the lonely house at Easthampton.

Then had followed days of worry and depression. There were times when Benny could not make himself believe that the preceding gay summer had ever really happened.

they used this place as if it were a road-house. Now when they called he sent word by Mrs. Corey that there was no one at home.

And the fair-weather friends drove off gaily to some other hospitable house, where free drinks were to be had. His cellar, Benny had discovered, was dry: a calamity for which the thirst of Beecham, the butler, had been largely responsible.

Salomy, the bull pup, was his constant companion during these unhappy days. This afternoon, after the wolfhounds had been sold and taken away, Salomy celebrated her jubilee from jealousy, frisking in frantic circles. She was doing her best to please her master, but something was wrong with him; he did not play as in the old days.

when Benny could not make himself believe that the preceding gay summer had ever really happened. Everything about the place reminded him of Flo. He could not get her out of his thoughts. His first act, upon learning that there was no hope of a reconciliation, had been to let the servants go—all but the cook and the gardener. He could no longer afford to retain them. Flo had taken her maid, the chauffeur, and the car to New York. The cook was a stalwart, grim woman, whom Flo had been in the habit of addressing as "Cook," though Benny had always spoken to her respectfully as Mrs. Corey. After the departure of the other servants his respect for her increased. Mrs. Corey developed unsuspected kindness. She not only prepared and served delicious meals for him but she took complete charge of the great empty house and looked after him with the solicitude of an elderly aunt. She felt very sorry for Benny.

"It's always a poor lamb like him," she told Alphonse, the gardener, "that gets taken in by such trollops as her! He's grieved his heart out. I could wring her neck!"

In the ten days that had passed there had been many callers—Flo's new-found acquaintances who had, during the summer, found them "amusing," and who had enjoyed bathing in their pool and drinking their abundant liquor. Fair-weather friends. Benny had always felt that

Wheat, Cotton, Rail Declines Affect Stocks

Quotations Fall Nearly One Point in Short Turnover

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—With wheat and cotton making new lows and railroad bonds heavy stocks contributed to a general downward readjustment of values on the financial markets today. Unless it was the action of the leading speculative commodities, nothing came up in the news to influence the decline in stocks. Bears found numerous factors vulnerable and although there was an occasional rally the upward flurries lacked strength. Sales were smaller than yesterday's, only 1,173,910 shares changing hands. The average loss was less than a point. Steel Avoids Year's Low U. S. Steel had a narrow escape from reaching the year's low during the morning reaction, touching $33 where it was off more than two points. American Can was weak and American Telephone had to take considerable selling; both lost 2 points net. Westinghouse and J. I. Case were favorite targets for the bears, the former losing 4 and the latter 4 1/2 net, although the extreme top in Case was 6 1/2 points. Omission of the Nickel Plate dividends was bad news for the falls. The common shares were down as much as 6 points but came back one from the low while the 6 per cent preferred broke 20 1/2. Union Pacific, Atchafalpa and New York Central yielded in the neighborhood of 2. Miscellaneous Firm Spots Miscellaneous firm spots embraced Drug, Inc., and Bethlehem Steel, the last being helped by the earnings report. Tobacco softened in response to the federal trade commission's investigation of the rise in cigarette prices. In bonds, there was a reappearance of weakness among the foreign, especially German, although the Dutch government obligations were less affected than loans of private enterprises or some of the cities. It was, however, a thin market. The weekly trade reviews were reasonably cheerful. Merchandise is being moved, in the words of Dun's, "buying for replenishment" that permits no further postponement. Much of the activity appears to be in anticipation of fall needs, but many of the reports to Bradstreet's sound a more optimistic note, due in part to "an improved feeling about the business situation in general."

U. S. Mail Rides Planes Daily Thrice Around World

Day's Mileage Rises Thirty Per Cent During Year

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—America's air mail operators have cut into economically adverse winds with a 30 per cent expansion of mileage since Jan. 1.

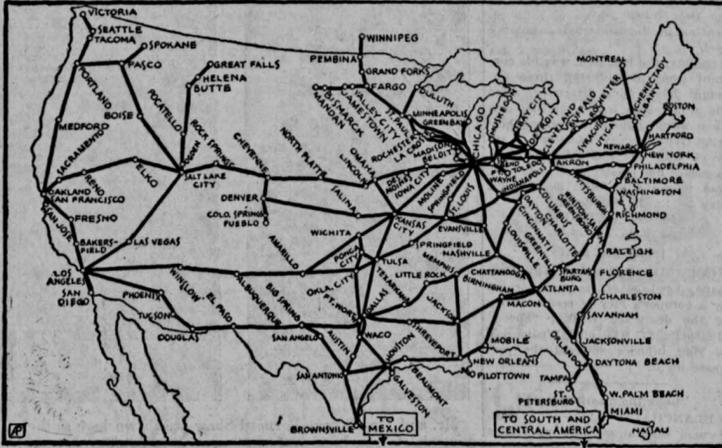

A survey of the situation by the Aeronautical chamber of commerce for The Associated Press shows that domestic air mail now is being carried almost 75,000 miles daily, more than three times around the world at the equator.

And the total length of air mail routes in operation has increased to 28,600 from 21,323 as of Jan. 1.

With the opening of new lines and the extensions of existing ones made in the last six months, the nation's air mail map now resembles a veritable honeycomb. One hundred and sixty cities in 41 states and the District of Columbia now receive service.

The mileage scheduled daily by the domestic lines at the first of the year was 64,110. With the opening on July 10 of a new route from New York to Atlantic City, the figure increased to 83,248.

On the average, more than 90 per cent of scheduled mileage is flown by transport companies. Mechanical failures are negligible, but the weather still causes occasional cancellations.

America's air mail routes, expanded by 8,000 miles since Jan. 1, are shown on this map prepared for the Associated Press by the aeronautical chamber of commerce. With the exception of one route between New York and Atlantic City, all existing lines are shown as of July 1.

Since the first of the year, Eastern Air Transport has added another daily round trip flight to its Atlanta-Miami schedule, and has inaugurated a new round trip service between Richmond, Va., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Northwest Airways extended its service from St. Paul to Duluth, Minn., to Fargo, Grand Forks and Pembina, N. D., where connection are made with planes for Winnipeg, and from Fargo to Mandan, N.D. reaches San Francisco in 28 hours.

American Airways opened a new National Air Transport added one round trip schedule from New York to Chicago, another between Cleveland and Chicago, and two between Chicago and Kansas City.

Southern Transcontinental Airways added Birmingham to its Atlanta-Los Angeles line, meanwhile installing additional service between Memphis and New Orleans via Jackson, Miss.

Fifteen extensions of routes were authorized recently by the government. These lines will run from St. Louis to Memphis; Cheyenne, Wyo., to Denver; Ft. Worth to Amarillo, Texas; Boston to Portland and Bangor, Me.; El Paso, Texas, to Albuquerque, N. M.; Omaha to Sioux City, Ia., Sioux Falls and Watertown, S. Des Moines Man Held for Injuring State Park Custodian

DES MOINES, July 31 (AP)—Claude Coe, 30, of Des Moines, was in custody here today, accused of having driven the automobile that knocked down and injured Carl Fritz Henning, 62, Ledges State park custodian the night of July 15.

Inspector of Detectives A. H. Pedersen and Detective George Welsh quoted Coe as having admitted being in the park with a woman whom he refused to name. The authorities said Coe admitted that "he might have knocked Henning down" in backing his car, but claimed that Henning had struck him.

The detectives said Coe denied having run over Henning, and that he claimed he had no idea the custodian was hurt.

Iowa Trucks Hit Snag by Dakota Law

SIoux CITY, July 31 (AP)—An understanding between Iowa and South Dakota on the reciprocal licensing of trucks tonight apparently had ended after authorities in South Dakota sought to enforce a new license law.

Reports received here indicated that South Dakota authorities were stopping Iowa licensed trucks and forbidding the drivers to enter the state until they secured a South Dakota license. Previously a truck licensed in one state had been admitted to the other.

Iowa has not acted in the matter, according to statements made by Supt. W. A. Stevens of the state motor vehicle department in Des Moines today. It was believed here, however, that the state would follow South Dakota's example and bar trucks licensed in that state.

For the first week of July clearings amounted to $216,124.76; for the second week, $424,709.31; for the third week, $390,615.66; for the fourth week, $328,046.99 and for the fifth week, $269,541.70.

Stormy Term of Parliament Reaches End

Weary Members Hope for Vacation Until Fall

LONDON, July 31 (AP)—Both houses of parliament adjourned today after one of the most troubled and strenuous sessions in recent history.

The weary members, as they tramped out of the house of commons, hoped the holiday would last until Oct. 30, the date for official reassembly, but the motion for adjournment provided that parliament could meet before that date if the public interest required it.

This provision was made because it was felt that the still chaotic position of international finance, as well as the uneasy outlook for Europe in general, might make an extra session imperative.

May Term Extra Session The need just ended kept its reputation for sensations to the last. The illness of David Lloyd George, the liberal leader, was one of the main topics of conversation in the lobbies as the session broke up, and there was considerable speculation as to what might happen if he were unable to return to active parliamentary life.

Hope Lloyd George Returns While the majority were not optimistic regarding the future of the liberal party if the leader should have to retire, members of all parties expressed the hope and belief that the knowledge that his presence is needed would act as a tonic to restore the fiery Welshman's health.

Average Iowan Eats About 24 Pounds of Butter, Says Clark

DES MOINES, July 31 (AP)—The average Iowan at 23 and a half pounds of butter in 1930.

This was the estimate made by Chief R. G. Clark of the state dairy and food division, who said the annual per capita consumption for the country at large had been placed at between 17 and 18 pounds a year.

The state's total yearly consumption of butter was estimated at $5,500,000 pounds, representing the total creamery butter sold in Iowa during the year and 80 per cent of the farm butter produced.

Creamery butter sold in the state was placed at 29,266,611 pounds and the farm butter produced at 24,068,000 pounds. The creamery butter produced amounted to 216,318,540 pounds.

Ready Sales Sends Corn Price Higher

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—In accord with prearranged plans, leading long put all the corn on the market today that buyers needed at 72c and were willing to buy all there was for sale at 72c. The start was at 67c, or 1c lower than Thursday's close, and the finish was 72c to 72 1/2, net advance of 4c for the day. It was estimated that around 2,300,000 bushels of July corn changed hands today. The open interest at the start was 2,261,000 bushels. Early deliveries were 681,000 bushels, and the total for the day 1,852,000 bushels. For the month of July, the total deliveries were 8,468,000 bushels, an amount rarely equalled in July. It is understood that the leading longs paid for the bulk of this corn.

Most of the sensational fall of wheat prices today came in the last five minutes, the market dropping 1 cent at one time with practically no trading. It was the biggest surprise that the wheat trade has met with this season, because of the rapidity of the slump, and owing to dearth of apparent reason other than selling for brokers who were supposed to trade for the Farmers National Grain company. This created gossip about the latter being long July wheat and short corn. An official of the Farmers National, however, denied that they had any such spread. Expectations are for increased receipts of wheat next week, as a reduction of 15 per cent in freight rates in the southwest goes into effect tomorrow.

U. S. to Aid Stricken Area Says Hoover

Drought, Insect Ridden Sections Assured of Support

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Drought and insect ridden sections in the northwest and central states were told by President Hoover today they would have the help of the government in meeting the situation.

In a statement issued after he had left for his Rapidan camp, Mr. Hoover said he had directed the department of agriculture to cooperate in meeting the problems caused by lack of rain and a plague of grasshoppers.

It is the second time within two years that drought in some section of the country has impelled governmental assistance.

Survey Five States The president said the department was engaged in a resurvey in sections of Montana, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Presumably, necessary assistance will be given from the available residue of the $20,000,000 voted by congress early this year for farm rehabilitation as a result of the drought which devastated portions of the southern states. About $15,000,000 of this remains.

An apparently optimistic view of the situation was taken by Mr. Hoover. He said that the problem was minor compared with that last year and added it would be taken care of.

Hoover's Statement The president said: "I have directed officials of the department of agriculture to undertake, in cooperation with local and state authorities, such cooperation as may be necessary to meet the situation created by local drought and grasshopper destruction in the northwestern and central states. The department is engaged in a resurvey in the light of the changes in the last two weeks. The area affected embraces certain counties in Montana, North and South Dakota, and local sections of Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota.

"While suffering within the areas affected is acute, the extent of the drought and damage is comparatively minor to that which we confronted and surmounted last year. The federal government has already extended assistance in some portions of those localities and the Red Cross is actively engaged in relief work."

"Secretary Hyde is in touch with the situation. "National and local resources are available and the problem will be taken care of."

Short Survey The survey, under the direction of extension directors in the states mentioned, may be completed with a week or ten days. Its findings will be the basis for further action.

An encouraging factor today was report of rain in sections of North Dakota, Montana, and South Dakota. Pastures may be renewed for the summer if rain continues, although some aid probably would be needed in the fall and winter.

Relief loans from government funds have been made in North Dakota and Montana and a decision on requests from South Dakota may come soon. The loans outstanding, however, have a time limit of August 15 and their extension may be necessary.

Repeated requests to the agricultural department for funds to use in combatting the grasshoppers have been met by the statement that no money was available for that purpose.
