America Asks Arms Cut for Debt Relief

Hoover, Laval Will Discuss Project Soon

World Finances Object of Coming Visit of Frenchman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Drastic European disarmament is the price for which America is holding further relief from war debts owed by Europe. It became increasingly clear today that this understanding will be sought by President Hoover in his forthcoming conference with Premier Laval of France. It also became evident that disarmament and its related subject of a naval holiday will be linked with war debts and the world financial situation as the principal topic of the Hoover-Laval meeting.

World finances formed the basis for the conversation today between Lord Reading, British secretary, and Premier Laval in Paris, where it was stated "we do not know what will happen in the future." At the same time two high officials of the bank of France left for the United States. There were predictions they would join in the Hoover-Laval discussions. Second day reactions from the president's discussion of this subject with congressional leaders at Tuesday night's conference also indicated that congress is reserving judgment on an extension of the moratorium to see what may be gained in the way of disarmament from Europe.

Little Opposition
Senator Bingham, Republican, of Connecticut, one of those attending the White House party, emphatically asserted today that only two or three of the congressional conferees had definitely opposed any extension of the moratorium. It is agreed that many bankers, particularly those with foreign investments, are anxious for an extension of the moratorium. Aside from this, it is also true that many financial experts in the government and in congress believe Germany will be in little better condition next July to meet reparations than she was last July when the moratorium was put into effect. It is also realized that Germany has the right under the Young plan to suspend payments for two years at least. Thus, America's statesmen are preparing to get something in return for what appears to be inevitably necessary.

Complete Revision Doubtful
Whether the administration would be willing to enter into a complete revision of the European war debts is unknown. President Hoover emphatically recalled at Tuesday night's conference that in announcing the moratorium he had declared against cancellation of the war debts. Senator Bingham expressed the view today that congress would look favorably on a larger moratorium if some concessions were received from Europe and if it became increasingly apparent later next year that an extension was imperative.

Based on Ability
On the question of war debts, the settlements negotiated by the American debt commission and ratified by congress were based on the European nation's ability to pay. On that basis, probably, the argument can be made by the foreign debtors that they are less able to pay now than when they settled for the war loans. This seems to be true more of Great Britain than of the others. The British were the first to negotiate a settlement for their war debts and agreed on higher terms than did the other nations.

Scout Fraternity to Hold Programs on Week Ends at Cabin

Supervision of week end programs at the Rotary cabin will lie with Alpha Phi Omega, national scouting fraternity, with LaRue A. Thurston, assistant scoutmaster of troop 5 of the local Boy Scouts in direct charge, according to recent announcement. A member of the fraternity will be at the cabin from 5 p.m. each Friday until about 10 a.m. Saturday. The evening programs will consist of a council fire meeting and the Saturday morning meetings will offer instruction in specialized scout subjects. All registered scouts are welcome at these week end camps without registration at the local office.

WEATHER
IOWA—Generally fair, slightly warmer Friday; Saturday partly cloudy, warmer in east and south portions.

UNIVERSITY'S GUEST

"Fertile Personality; Nothing Bizarre;" So Say Members in Faculty, of David Edstrom

"He seems to have a tremendously fertile personality... has many ideas, thought out and lived out well. He is possessed of a very spontaneous way of talking, full of wit and humor, and has a wide stock of information." "One of the most stimulating personalities that I have recently met," is the opinion of Prof. Philip G. Ciapp, head of the music department. "Vigorous and courageous in his originality," says Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the speech department. The men met yesterday as guests of Prof. Christian A. Rucknick of the psychology department, for a luncheon at Iowa Union. Guest of the University of Iowa since last Monday, David Edstrom, sculptor, has enjoyed his stay, he says. Speaking today as he has at various times during the week, to classes and groups interested in art, Edstrom draws his visit near to a close. He plans to leave tomorrow for his home in Hollywood, Cal. Mr. Edstrom will direct an informal discussion in the psychology of art class conducted by Professor Meier at 9 o'clock this morning. At 3 o'clock the afternoon he will meet with a group of persons interested in art in the auditorium of the physics building. The photograph of the sculptor, shown above, pictures him with his creation of a bust of Joseph Von Sternberg, well-known motion picture director and master photographer. The original of the picture reproduced here was taken by the film director. A one-time Iowa resident, having lived at Ottumwa, Mr. Edstrom brought his art into the state with the construction of his Soldier's monument, located in the city where he lived.

Edison Sinks; Doctors See Little Change

Rugged, Resistant Heart Prolongs Life of Inventor

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 8 (AP)—Only a rugged, resistant heart, kept Thomas Alva Edison alive today. Dr. Hubert S. Howe, his physician, said the 84 year old inventor was slowly sinking into a coma. However, he was not beyond a stage which the physician has characterized as an almost continuous light sleep. Condition Weaker
"In ordinary individuals," Dr. Howe said, "it would be possible for me to predict how much time would elapse before the comatose condition asserted itself. But we are dealing with an unusual individual—a man with a super-heart. Outwardly it seems his condition is no weaker than it has been, but we know, of course, that actually, he is weaker." In place of the usual 4 p.m. bulletin, Charles Edison, a son, announced that Dr. William Williams of New York, has been asked to confer with Dr. Howe regarding his father's condition. Family Loses Hope
Realized that Edison are the immediate members of his family, who cling to the hope that he might recover. They are his wife, his daughters and his sons, Charles, Theodore and Thomas A. Jr. Weakened by an attack of pneumonia two years ago and the complications which arose from uremic poisoning last August, Mr. Edison has the odds against him, Dr. Howe said. Ford to Visit Genius
Henry Ford is expected to visit his old friend tomorrow. Harvey Firestone, the third member of the Edison-Ford-Firestone triumvirate of a long friendship, already has paid a visit, perhaps his last, to the inventor. The Edison family has been in regular telephone communication with President Hoover, who has requested that he be kept informed of Mr. Edison's condition. Dr. Howe's daily bulletins are transmitted to Cardinal Hayes regularly in answer to the pope's recent request.

Math Meeting Draws Over 200 Teachers Annual Conference Sessions Open at Old Capitol

TODAY'S PROGRAM
Senate Chamber, Old Capitol
Morning
9:30—Address, "Thoughts about thinking," Edith I. Atkins, Illinois State Normal university.
10—Address, "The Kansas City course of study in junior high school mathematics," Dorothy F. Briggs, Kansas City high schools.
10:30—Address, "The blackboard as a teaching device," M. L. Hartung, University of Wisconsin.
Afternoon
1:30—Address, "Points often overlooked in teaching geometry," Ruth O. Lane, University high schools.
2—Address, "The mathematics club of the junior high school," Miss Briggs.
Evening
6—Conference dinner, Iowa Union, followed by symposium.
More than 200 educators are expected to attend the sixth annual conference of teachers of mathematics, which opens this morning at 9:30 in the senate chamber of Old Capitol and ends tomorrow. The extension division, the college of education, and the department of mathematics will conduct the two day meeting in cooperation. The program is in charge of Prof. Henry L. Reitz of the department of mathematics. The conference will endeavor to consider the recent developments in the teaching of mathematics so that the facts presented may be of use to instructors during the current year. An informal symposium, planned for this evening, will follow the 6 o'clock dinner at Iowa Union. Teachers will be afforded opportunity to present any problems they may have. Another chance for individual questions and discussion will be given following the final address tomorrow morning. Presiding at the opening session this morning will be Prof. J. F. Reilly of the mathematics department. Prof. L. E. Ward, also of the department, will lead the afternoon session today.

Elks Explain Student Loan Plan in Detail

Tell How to Borrow on Accounts Held in Closed Banks

Students who wish to take advantage of the Elks' loan, must follow a definite method of procedure in order to secure funds, according to an announcement made yesterday by the committee administering the loans. Appointment Necessary
Those in immediate need of money must first call their bank and make an appointment for receiving a certificate of deposit and for making out an assignment. According to the new Iowa banking law the assignment must be sent to the state banking department at Des Moines for approval before it can be used by the student in securing the money. The assignment may be taken to Elks lodge No. 590 on the evening of the day it is returned from Des Moines where a check up to 50 per cent of the amount deposited will be given. Insure Against Fraud
In order to insure against fraud in the matter of obtaining the money, each case and decide upon the advisability of the loan. Members of the committee administering the loans are: W. P. Russell, chairman, Henry Louis, James Hanlon, William R. Hart and Dr. J. Ward.

LOAN PROCEDURE

1. Get statement from bank showing amount remaining on deposit.
2. Get assignment blanks from bank showing amount remaining on deposit in bank.
3. Execute the assignment before a Notary Public.
4. If student is a minor, have legal guardian execute assignment before a Notary Public also.
5. Return the assignment, properly acknowledged, to the bank which will send the assignment to Des Moines for the approval and acceptance of the assignment, after which it will be returned to the bank.
6. Upon the return of the assignment, it will be delivered to the committee of Iowa City Loan to 590, B.P.O. Elks which will meet and consider the application for advancement and the committee will then decide (after consultation with the student if it seems to the committee desirable) the amount of the advancement to be made which shall not, in any event, be greater than 50 per cent of the amount of the deposit.
7. A check for the amount so decided upon will be prepared and signed by the committee and presented to the student.
8. If the student is satisfied with the amount, he will accept the check and the assignment will immediately be finally in force.
9. If the student is not satisfied with the amount, he may refuse to accept it, whereupon the assignment will be redelivered to the state banking officials in the bank for cancellation and return to the student.
10. For the convenience of the committee and the students and the state officials in the banks, these rules must be followed.
11. The provision for advancement of money applies, according to the motion, to all students in the city whether university, business college, high school, or grade school students.
12. After the bank officials have inserted the amount of the deposit remaining in the bank, the figures must not be changed in any event by the student. (Signed) W. P. Russell, Chairman.

Radio Contest for Musicians Starts Today

Beginning competition at 7:45 tonight more than 20 persons will vie for honors in the Iowa City district audition of the Atwater Kent foundation's national radio contest. The audition will be broadcast from WRCI. A total of $25,000 in cash prizes and a group of one and two year music scholarships are offered to the best amateur musicians in the United States through the competition. Prizes range from $5,000 and a two year scholarship to $1,000 and a one year scholarship with an American school of music or a recognized teacher. Mrs. Alexander Elliott, 1514 Muscatine avenue, is the local chairman for the competition. Eligibility rules provide that contestants must be between the ages of 18 and 25, Nov. 1, 1931; must be of amateur status musically; and shall prepare two selections for broadcast. Any musical selection may be used in competition. No fee is charged for entry.

Stores Damaged by Fire

BATAVIA, (AP)—Fire departments from Ottumwa and Fairfield aided in fighting a blaze which destroyed the S. C. Gorman hardware store and the Ben Duncan Cafe. An entire business block was threatened. AGENCY, (AP)—The Agency Savings bank closed yesterday. Deposits were placed at $274,000.

PLANE CRASH KILLS THREE

Three persons were killed and a fourth near death when an airplane (top photo), piloted by Kenneth Nagley, 27, circling too low, crashed into a telegraph pole and then plunged on top of an auto (bottom photo) at Columbia City, Ind. Kenneth Nagley is in a critical condition at a local hospital.

"Scarface" Capone Loses Confidence Under Fire of Double Barreled Charges

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Al Capone's unusual system of high finance, the division of profits in his underworld organization, and an attempt by the hulking gang leader to settle his income tax affairs with the government, were discussed today at his trial in federal court on charges of income tax evasion. The most important development of the day was regarded as a victory for District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson and his legal staff, who are battling to convict Capone on double barreled charges which would put him behind prison bars for a maximum sentence of 32 years and extract $50,000 from him in fines. Unceasing Opposition
Despite four hours of unceasing opposition from defense attorneys, Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson ruled that documentary evidence concerning the attempt by Capone to settle his income tax troubles in April, 1930, is admissible as evidence. The evidence tends to show Capone admitted that he had an income of $266,000 over four years from the profits of liquor, gambling and vice enterprises. Sombre Dress
Capone, dressed in garments more sombre since reporters twisted him about a flashy necktie and bright colored socks, lost his look of boredom when Judge Wilkerson ruled the evidence admissible. The scar faced gang chief glared at his attorneys, Michael Aher and Albert Fluk, toward whom he normally is most affable.

Student Directories to Appear Monday

First semester student directories for the University of Iowa will likely be ready for sale by Monday, according to announcement made yesterday by Ruth M. Pieper, executive secretary of the department of publications. The material has gone to the printers, and it is expected that binding will be started on the directories the latter part of this week.

Company Transfer, Suits

DES MOINES, (AP)—Transfer of suits asking a total of $18,437 from the Henry L. Doherty company was received by the federal court from the Polk county district court. The plaintiffs are Mike Yaroslavski, Carl Mansfield and Byron Jacobs, all of whom allege that when they purchased Citrus Service stock in 1929 the company was not registered under the Iowa law.

Giant Finance Corporation to Work With Nation's Banks in Loaning Operating Funds

MORE CHEER ON Finance Row

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Swift progress in that national program to mobilize credit for a revitalization of business was accompanied by eager buying of securities in Wall Street today. The uprush in stocks was almost as swift as that of Tuesday, prominent issues closing with average advances of $5 or more. Bonds also attracted enthusiastic buying, particularly the railroad issues. Cheer Spreads
The cheer quickly spread to the commodity markets, and wheat and corn futures were quoted 2 cents higher in the Chicago pit. Despite a large increase in the government's monthly estimate, cotton, finished the day with net gains of 40 to 50 cents a bale. Among the day's constructive developments were: Completion of plans for a $500,000,000 national credit corporation, proposed by President Hoover.

To Offer Debentures

The corporation will be authorized to issue up to $1,000,000,000 in debentures to subscribing banks, which are asked to contribute two per cent of their net demand and time deposits. Increase of the New York federal reserve discount rate to 2 1/2 per cent also had a buoyant effect. Confidence Grows
The Chicago association of stock exchange firms issued a message of confidence to its members and the public. Two of the highest officials of the Bank of France sailed for the United States ahead of Premier Laval to study President Hoover's international foreign proposals. Meanwhile Lord Reading, British foreign secretary, completed presentation at Paris of British financial proposals to the French government and said he was gratified.

Morgan in France

L'Information, a Paris newspaper, said that on the same train as Lord Reading was J. P. Morgan, who conferred yesterday with Gov. Clement Moret of the Bank of France and other financiers. Developments at Washington indicated that drastic reductions in armaments might be the price the United States will ask for further aid to Europe. Ask Large Debt Recess
Observers agreed that many bankers are anxious for an extension of the debt moratorium, which Senator Bingham of Connecticut predicted congress would approve if concessions were obtained. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, asked that the president call an extra session of congress to consider economic legislation. Home in New York
The home office of the corporation will be in New York city but its organization here will be comparatively small. "The corporation will lend or advance funds to banks or groups or associations of banks," the official announcement said. As security the debentures of the National Credit corporation will be secured by the notes of the various groups, the notes of the borrowing banks and the security furnished by them and cash on hand subject to the running expenses of the corporation. Bank Subscriptions
In addition to subscriptions from banks the corporation may receive subscriptions to debentures from other sources to which loans are not available. Mr. Buckner's statement pointed out. This will permit private banking firms to participate in raising of the capital. The debentures will be payable one year from their date with the right of renewal by the corporation not exceeding in the aggregate three additional years but subject to earlier redemption. The debentures will pay interest, if secured, up to but not exceeding 6 per cent annually payable only out of the surplus and net income. They will be issued in registered and non-transferable form.

Iowa, Texas Tilt Feature at State Fair

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 8 (AP)—University of Iowa's Hawkeyes, 35 strong, will arrive in Dallas tomorrow for their first intercollegiate football game south of the Mason and Dixon line. Likewise, their opponents, the Texas A. and M. Farmers, 28 of them, will roll into Dallas from an opposite direction to meet the Hawkeyes Saturday in one of the feature attractions on the state fair's grid program. The Hawkeyes, plan a light secret practice session tomorrow afternoon. The Farmers will not arrive in Dallas in time for an afternoon workout. Today it appeared a certainty Nolan, Farmer pivot man, who received a wrenched knee in the Tulane game, would not be in the contest. Hewitt, quarterback, who broke a bone in his left hand in scrimmage this week, was another who will be out of the lineup. Doubt was expressed about Domingue, scintillating sophomore backfield man. A severe cut over an eye received at New Orleans hampered Domingue all week.

Engineers Choose Krouse President; Fill Other Posts

Marion Krouse of Corydon was elected president of the junior engineering class at a meeting held in the engineering building yesterday afternoon. Other officers elected were Merrill Pote of Iowa City, vice president; Harry Bolton of Maconada, secretary; and James Nicholson of Canton, Ill., treasurer. Edward Cery of Cedar Rapids presided at the meeting. Fines Amount to $35,625.50
DES MOINES, (AP)—Fines paid by violators of the fish and game laws totaled $35,625.50 in the year ending June 30, the state fish and game department announced.

Conflict Rises in Fund Probe

Grand Jury Hits Snag in Bishop Cannon Investigation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A conflict between a rule of the house of representatives and a federal law today reared a legal obstacle before the District of Columbia grand jury inquiry into Bishop James Cannon's management of 1928 campaign funds.

William Tyler Page, clerk of the house, refused to present the expenditure reports filed by Cannon on his anti-Smith campaign. His action immediately was appealed to Justice James Proctor of the District of Columbia supreme court, for a ruling and taken under advisement.

Attorney Objects Earlier, R. H. McNeill, attorney for Bishop Cannon, filed a brief with the district attorney contending his client was not subject to legal prosecution for his 1928 activities because they dealt only with Virginia state officials not subject to federal laws.

"A long established house rule does not permit any officer or employee to remove from his files any papers without the express consent of the house," Page told the grand jury and Justice Proctor.

Suggests Method He suggested use of copies of the reports certified by him to be correct. He said the senate campaign funds committee, headed by Senator Nye of North Dakota, had followed this procedure, and added: "The house is very jealous of its prerogatives."

Japanese, Chinese Gather Troops for Manchurian Dispute

TOKYO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Warlike preparations in Manchuria by Japanese and Chinese troops were reported today in dispatches from Mukden to the Rengo news agency.

Gov. Chang Hsueh-Liang was reported concentrating two brigades of infantry and much artillery near Chinchow, 125 miles southwest of his capital at Mukden, which was seized Sept. 18 by Japanese forces.

Japanese airplanes were said to have flown over Chinchow dropping pamphlets which warned that if troop concentrations continued, the Japanese would begin military operations.

Ringsted Bank Closed RINGSTED, (AP)—The Farmers and Savings bank here was closed. It had deposits of $164,000.

Indict Five Kidnapers in Holding Business Man for Ransom

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 8 (AP)—Five members of one alleged kidnaping gang were indicted by the county grand jury today as police continued their investigation into another abduction, whose victim was released earlier in the day.

Those indicted were accused of kidnaping Leon Gleckman, St. Paul business man, and politician, who was released by the gang last Friday after being held for eight days.

They are: Albert A. Robins, former local business man awaiting sentence in state and federal courts on fraud charges; Sam Chin, hotel proprietor, recently released from federal prison after a liquor sentence, and alleged co-leader of the kidnapers; Albert Talerico, recently paroled from a burglary term; Anthony Scandals and Joseph Jurley.

A sixth member of the gang, Frank La Pre, alleged co-leader, was found slain near here Saturday night.

Bank Official Gets 10 Years; Charged With Embezzlement

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Walter E. Wolf, the bank official whose embezzlements of $3,691,000 from the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company were lost in the stock market, must serve a minimum of 10 years in prison for his speculations.

Chief Justice Harry M. Fisher sentenced Wolf today to serve from one to 10 years on each of the 10 counts of the indictment, the sentences to run consecutively. Application for parole cannot be made until one year of each sentence has been served. Wolf will be taken to prison after a 10 day stay.

"You have lived in crime for 12 years and your years of repentance should be longer," Judge Fisher told Wolf. "You have forfeited any right to consideration."

Senate in Arkansas Defeats Cotton Plan

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 8 (AP)—The Arkansas senate late today defeated the Long plan for a cotton holiday in 1932 after both houses of the legislature had passed identical bills embodying the main provisions of the Texas cotton acreage reduction law. The vote was 19 to 10.

One of two bills has to pass both houses before going to the governor. They provide for restriction of the cotton acreage in 1932 and 1933 to 30 per cent of the land in cultivation this year.

Man Killed in Shooting Fray at Des Moines

Find $1,600 in Pockets of Victim Shot in Gun Duel

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 8 (AP)—A man believed to be B. C. Case, Minneapolis, was fatally wounded, and Loren O. Miller, city detective, was slightly injured in a gun duel late today at a hotel here. Case died on the way to a hospital. Four bullets of the six Miller had fired lodged in his chest.

A bill in the dead man's pocket, bearing the name Case established identification when checked with the hotel register. In the pockets of the dead man were found $1,600 in cash and 16 cartridges.

Seek Case's Companion J. C. Shores, also of Minneapolis, with whom Case was registered at the hotel, was sought by police. The shooting occurred while detectives Miller and Fred Sillick were investigating a report that the two men were machine gun salesmen.

Miller was outside the door of the sixth floor room of the two Minneapolis men, while Sillick was in the lobby at elevator and stairway, when Case stepped out the door.

"I'm an officer; where are you going?" Miller asked.

"What business is it of yours," Miller said the man replied, and walked rapidly away toward the staircase.

The detective followed and as they reached the door leading to the stairway, he grasped Case's arm.

Fires on Detective It was then, Miller said, that the stranger whirled, drew two guns, and began firing. Miller returned the fire.

The stranger turned and staggered up the stairs to the seventh floor landing where he collapsed.

Police reinforcements arrived and an ambulance to take Case to the hospital where he was treated for a wounded left hand.

Case appeared to be about 23 years old. Beneath his body as he lay beside the corridor door was a .44 caliber revolver that had not been fired.

Police tonight were still seeking the second gun with which Miller said Case shot him. Search of Case's room failed to reveal any machine gun.

C. B. & Q. Applies for Permit to Lay Additional Roadbed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad today applied to the interstate commerce commission for permission to rearrange its service over the branch lines between Mount Pleasant, Ia., and Keokuk, and between Ft. Madison and Bataavia.

The application contained a proposal to abandon 35 miles of track and construct 1,140 feet of new line would connect the Mount Pleasant-Keokuk branch, on which traffic is light, with the other branch, permitting the same trains to service both branches.

The line to be abandoned would be between Moran and Hamill and from Salem to Mount Pleasant.

Japanese Drop Bombs

PEIPING, Oct. 8 (AP)—A report that 12 Japanese airplanes dropped 36 bombs over the town of Chinchow, 150 miles south of Mukden, killing at least two people and injuring others, was received here today.

J. G. Thomson, British manager of the Peiping-Mukden railway, reported the bombing to Chang Hsueh-Liang, Manchurian governor.

What Price Fame

BARBARA Stanwyck, film actress, sustained two sprained legs the other day when the horse she was riding during the filming of a picture, reared and fell in deep sand. Then after being revived when she fainted from pain, she swam fifty yards off shore and returned, to lose consciousness again as she reached the beach, and was removed to a hospital.

Only a few months ago, while on location, Miss Stanwyck suffered a permanent injury to her leg—all this in the glamorous films that seem like paradise to thousands of movie struck girls. She isn't the only one who has been injured in attempting thrills that flash for a brief moment on the screen and are gone forever.

Joan Bennett is still in the hospital with a broken pelvis, sustained when a horse threw her during the filming of a picture. Elissa Landi suffered a leg injury a few weeks ago, while Sylvia Sydney went on in a cast to remind her of an accident during her last picture.

Bebe Daniels once said she lost track of all the cuts, fractures and bruises she had sustained while on location. While Lila Lee, Renee Adoree and Dolores Del Rio have lost many months in Arizona sanitariums recuperating from the strenuous life in talkieland.

It is a heavy price these women have paid for the gold stars on their dressing room doors. And yet thousands of girls all over the country gaze enviously at the slim shadows on the silver screen, and wish they, too, were movie stars.

An anthropologist says the gap between the ape and primitive man was wider than has been supposed. That heavy silence is the united protest of the apes.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

"Russians are not to blame for the present condition of communism in their country. The blame rests on American capitalists who make it possible for the Russians to carry on the communistic ideal."

So declared Charles E. Snyder of Sioux City before the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon, speaking on "The Russian menace."

Naughty Henry Ford, to sell those bad, bad Russian automobiles! Naughty Alexander Legge, whose International Harvester company (he is its vice president) sold tractors to them after they had sold wheat on a market in which U. S. wheat was not being offered!

But why, Mr. Snyder, does wheat from communistic Russia hurt the U. S. farmer any more than that from republican Argentina or Canada? Business is business; competition is competition.

"Communism and capitalism must have the cooperation of the other countries of the world to succeed and this movement does not have that support," went on Mr. Snyder.

What of the French Revolution? Other countries in Europe fought bitterly against the things for which this upheaval stood... and their governments eventually fell before the force it represented, except England's, which was wisely modified without bloodshed, with shrewd insight.

Boycott economically and suppression of propaganda will only fan the flames of communism. Just as England learned from the American Revolution to rebuild its fences and alter the character of its monarchy, so capitalism must improve within itself instead of trying to remain on top of the world by merely knocking communism.

France's revolution, too, was characterized by bloodshed and terrorism. Nobles were rushed to the guillotine in tumbrils by the hundreds. And "atheism" was an epithet often hurled at the French revolutionists. They, too, wound up under a dictator—Napoleon—for a time, but their revolt freed the middle class in spite of reactionary monarchical governments.

France's revolution, like that of the English colonies in America, had worldwide reverberations. So will the revolution in Russia, a somewhat similar swinging of the pendulum to the opposite extreme from centuries of tsarism.

And the best thing for capitalistic nations to do is to watch carefully what Russia is doing and is trying to do and to profit by Russia's mistakes and achievements—as Russia is trying to do by capitalism's mistakes and achievements. With or without their support, Russia will go somewhere with her vast resources—and only by enlightened cooperation can her fellow nations hope to turn her from a menace into a neighbor.

Just among us girls, a recent survey at New York university by its Daily News indicates that women students do less "chiseling" for grades than the men.

Or, rather, it indicates that is what interviewed professors think... which is a horse of a different collar.

One psychologist divided professors into three groups in answering. One type, he says, grades on the basis of tests "and so gives them their true marks"—not, of course, knowing whose papers were whose.

A second type, he admits, falls prey to feminine wiles and gives coeds higher marks than they deserve.

And there is a third group of canny professors who "understand womanly ways and just lean back listening intently to what the woman student has to say. They usually mark the coed lower than she deserves so that they will not appear prejudiced."

Spain Seeks Separation of Church From State Affairs

MADRID, Oct. 8 (AP)—The future status of the Catholic church in Spain was taken up for debate today by the assembly as one of the leading problems in the creation of the nation's new constitution.

Discussion of the question, by which the republic intends to unravel the tangled threads that closely bound the state and church under the past monarchical system, is expected to last several days.

The galleries were jammed and hundreds, unable to enter, crowded around the doorways of the congressional palace as debate began upon the constitutional project to separate the church and state. Excitement was apparent as guards searched those who entered.

The debate was upon article three of the preamble of the projected constitution, which states: "The state will entertain no official religion."

Minister De Los Rios, minister of justice, in whose portfolio the religious question falls, declared that separation of church and state was necessary because the civil government must be supreme over other organizations.

"Spain today renounces the maintenance of the Catholic church," he said. Dimas Madariaga, leader of the Agrarian bloc, said his party would defend the church.

Minister De Los Rios warned Catholics not to attempt to resist the reforms, declaring: "You will only be conquered again."

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—A reader has asked me: "What about the second generation in Hollywood? Are the sons and daughters of the stars turning themselves towards any thing useful?"

This deserves an answer. Of course, in the majority of cases, the children of film people are too young to warrant any predictions. But there are a few exceptions.

Skipping such obvious examples as Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Carl Laemmle, Jr., and Phillips Holmes, there is, for instance, Patricia Rich, daughter of Irene Rich. Recently graduated from Smith college, she already is starting her career as an actress. At 17, Roscoe Ates' daughter has had considerable vaudeville experience under the name of Dorothy Darling. Walter Huston's boy, John, is a writer at Universal. Fred Kohler, Jr., is an actor. Robert Ames, Jr., is working somewhere in the east. Jean Hersholt's 16 year old son, Allan, wants to be an actor, but his fathers thinks he will be an engineer. Fred Niblo, Jr., is a writer.

Among the executives, Jack Warner's son and namesake is expected to step into the Warner enterprises. He is only 15, for the moment attending Beverly Hills high school. Executive Charles Rogers' 15 year old son, John, is in the same school, and also plans to enter film work. Maurice Rapp, son of Harry, is a freshman at Stanford, but he already has had a story accepted for production at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Eugene Zukor, son of Adolph, is an executive in the eastern offices of Paramount. Jesse Lasky, Jr., and B. P. Schulberg's son both are employed at this company's west coast studio.

As far as I know, Hollywood's second generation has an unusually fine record. There isn't a black sheep or a loafer in the lot.

IS THIS TELLING? Here are two entries from Helen Twelvete's diary, copied from her own handwriting and gotten into this column by fair means or foul.

"Thursday: Mr. Hays cut out my favorite line in the script. 'Go, throw your mother a bone.' Was told Bickford is revolutionist. So far have seen no signs of it. This picture (editor's note: 'The Second Shot') should be good if superstition counts. Lost my script the first day. Wore old shoes. Found pin sticking up on dressing-room floor. Very nervous in first scene—said a prayer.

"Friday: My fond husband's birthday. He expects a surprise party. The surprise is he's not going to get one. Paul Hurst told me he was born on an Indian reservation—learned to read and write from a Sears Roebuck catalogue and his old colored mammy taught him English. Go on, Helen. We just can't wait.

MORE GOSSIP It was 10 years ago, Jimmy Durante was playing the piano in the Alamo Cafe in New York, and a new singer was coming in cold. Her name was Jean Olsen. Jimmy had never seen the music of her number before, but he played it through. As she walked away, she told a friend: "That's the rottenest accompaniment I ever had." But Jimmy got his revenge. He married the girl.

What's more, they're still Mr. and Mrs. ... Charlie Richards, casting director at R-K-O-Pathé, is making sheep's eyes at Marjorie Peterson, heroine of the local stage version of "Bad Girl" ... The first night Ann Harding was gone on her New York trip, Harry Bannister had a gang up to the house and showed the picture, "Lonely Wives" ... Edna Murphy (the ex-Mrs. Mervyn Leroy) gets a job in "The Dove" ... They are saying that the stars won't send many Christmas cards this year ... Marilyn Miller's 14 year old niece, Lois Montgomery, is working in her picture.

DID YOU KNOW That Jimmy Durante's brother is a New York cop?

Labor Seeks Congress Aid

Says Conditions Unfair to Trades, Crafts at Hoover Dam

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 8 (AP)—Describing the Hoover dam project as a "$700,000,000 outrage project," representatives of many trades and crafts appeared before the resolutions committee of the American Federation of Labor convention here today and demanded a congressional investigation.

A public hearing of the resolutions committee was called to hear proponents of three resolutions protesting working conditions at the same project and demanding withholding of further appropriations by congress for the work.

The committee, after hearing reports of allegedly "inhuman" sanitary conditions at the project, decided to await a copy of the contract of Six Companies, Inc., builders, before taking any action on the resolutions.

Delegates testifying before the committee, charged Six Companies with lowering the water level on the project, refusing to give service men and United States citizens preference in employment and fostering "fearful" conditions among workers.

J. W. Buzzell, Los Angeles, complained the secretary of the interior let the Boulder dam project eight days before the Davis bill to regulate wages on government projects went into effect.

"It should be called the Hoover dam," he said, "so that responsibility for it will rest squarely upon the administration."

Nobel Prize Awarded to Nordic Poet

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Nobel prize in literature, won last year by Sinclair Lewis, was posthumously awarded today to Dr. Eric Axel Karlfeldt, Swedish lyric poet.

Dr. Karlfeldt is the first member of the Swedish academy, which selects the Nobel prize winners, to receive the literary award. He was permanent secretary of the academy and chairman of the Nobel prize committee. As long as he lived he refused to allow the committee to consider him for the honor, although his name was frequently suggested.

Dr. Karlfeldt died April 7 this year. He had long been considered one of Sweden's outstanding poets, his works being chiefly concerned with the folk ways and daily life of the Dalecarlian peasants, from whom he sprang.

Twenty-seven years ago he was elevated to the Swedish academy and in 1907 he became a member of the Nobel prize committee. He was the third Swedish writer to receive the prize in literature, the others being Selma Lagerlof, 1909, and Verner Heidenstam, 1916.

NBC to Broadcast Lecture Series on "Psychology Today"

Dean Carl E. Seashore of the graduate college, announced yesterday that a series of lectures on "Psychology today" will be broadcast over the NBC network for five consecutive Saturdays, starting Oct. 17 at 11:15 p.m. The lectures are planned by the National Advisory Council on Radio Education.

A radio will be placed in the psychology laboratory in east hall for those who care to listen. James R. Angell, president of Yale university, will give the first lecture. Walter R. Miles, president of the American Psychological association, will speak on Oct. 24.

The other speakers will be Prof. Edward S. Robinson of Yale university, Prof. Gardner Murphy of Columbia university, and Robert S. Woodworth, president of the Social Science Research council in New York.

Electrocute Slayer Today; Plea Denied for Rehearing Case

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 8 (AP)—John Preston will die in the electric chair at 4:45 a.m. tomorrow for the slaying of Mrs. Johnston, Chicago stenographer, two years ago unless a last minute staying order is issued by Governor Louis L. Emmerson from Chicago.

Irene Preston, sister of the doomed man, was reported seeking an audience with the governor.

Preston, a former Minneapolis resident, lost his appeal to the supreme court two days ago when he was denied a rehearing of the case. He was convicted of killing Miss Johnston after a Saturday night party that took them and another girl through roadhouses of two counties.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 8 (AP)—Marion Roberts, hunted for months as Jack (Legs) Diamond's companion the night the state says Diamond and his henchmen tortured a Catskill truckman, walked into the Watervliet police station today and surrendered. She was freed on $2,500 bail here tonight.

The former Folies girl merely told the Watervliet police who she was, and that she was under indictment in Green county and wished to surrender.

Miss Roberts was indicted with Diamond and John Scaechio in connection with an attack on Grover Parks, a truckman.

Diamond, since sentenced on federal charges, was acquitted, but Scaechio was given 15 years at Dannemora prison.

Woman Sought as Crime Accomplice Surrenders to Cops

Under the auspices of Seals club, women's swimming organization, a novice swimming meet was conducted at the women's gymnasium yesterday. Entrance was restricted to those who never won a place in a regular meet.

Martha Jille won first place with a total of 21 points. Second place was won by Louise Philippott with 20 points, and third place was won by Thelma Keneff, with 15 points. Dorothy Ewers, Katherine Keefe, and Margaret Zaiser tied for third place with a total of 10 points. Maxine Conely in fifth place, won 5 points.

Hook Elected to Presidency by Journalists

H. Bernard Hook, 34 of What Cheer, news editor of The Daily Iowan, was elected president of Associated Students of Journalism for the coming year. More than 90 students took part in the election held yesterday afternoon in the Journalism building. Frank Jaffe, 33 of Paterson, N. J., managing editor of The Daily Iowan, was elected to the vice-presidency. Eloise Anderson, 23 of Ottumwa, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Hook is president of the Methodist Student council, member of Zeta-gathian literary society, and pledge of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. He is serving his second year on the editorial staff of the Hawkeye.

Jaffe becomes chairman of the Pica Ball, Journalism's annual informal party, by virtue of his new office. He is a member of the Phi Kappa club and a pledge of Phi Epsilon Pi fraternity.

Miss Anderson is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi sorority, a member of Epsilon Phi literary society, and on the Women's association council. She was also a member of the editorial staff of the 1931 and 1932 Hawkeyes and assistant society editor of The Daily Iowan last year.

Hikes Start Activities on Fall Program of Christian Societies

Fall athletic activity of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. groups will get under way this week end with two hikes. One group will leave the Christian association offices in Iowa Union at 5 p.m. Friday, and the second will leave from the same place Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The Women's Athletic association is cooperating with the Y. associations in sponsoring these groups.

A number of students, both men and women, have indicated their desire to engage in outdoor activity, thus the associations have planned an extensive program for this year. Complete programs have not been definitely formulated, but tentative activities include hiking, camping, nature study, canoeing and winter sports.

Volleyball Begins Series of Playdays

"Volleyball play day," one of a series of playdays for Iowa women, will be held tomorrow from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in the woman's gymnasium.

"Courts of ability will be a feature of the day," said Miriam Taylor, fifty thousand road signs were torn down in one month by the California state chamber of commerce.

SEIZED AS BABY KILLERS

Investigator Charges Walker With Obstructing City Probe

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Mayor James J. Walker was accused today by Samuel Seabury of obstructing the Hofstadter legislative committee's investigation into the New York city government.

The chief counsel of the committee made his charge in supreme court while arguing a case which both he and Tammany leaders regarded as a test of the inquiry board's powers.

Seeking a quick decision by the supreme court, Justice Seabury said: "I am being obstructed by every means possible. Even the mayor of New York is being obstructed."

Seabury had sought to question them in private about their incomes and bank accounts. This week all were heard in a public hearing and admitted having banked large sums during the past six years. One of them, Sheriff Thomas F. Farley, verified bank records showing deposits of $360,660 during a period when his annual salary was never greater than $15,000.

First Number of Transit Out

Members of the Transit staff are regarding with pride the first issue of the magazine for this year which is being distributed in the engineering building this morning.

"We take particular pride in our new cover design and the improved grade of paper that we are using this year," said Carroll Phelps, E3 of Iowa City, general manager in charge of the publication.

One of the features of the October Transit is the faculty-student directory. This is the only directory in which engineering students are grouped as such.

Short articles about each of the main departments of engineering, civil, mechanical, chemical and electrical by the heads of these departments, are grouped under the general title "Engineering development."

A complete alumni section, containing alumni news of last summer, is also contained in this issue. The frontpiece shows a view of the engineering building and Old Capitol with the physics building between them. It is taken from the west side of the river. Beneath the picture appear the words of "Old Gold."

Pi Epsilon Pi to Furnish Program for Home Games

Iowa football fans will be entertained with stunts between halves for the remainder of the home games according to Duncan Miller, president of Pi Epsilon Pi, pep fraternity.

A committee has been appointed to develop stunts and they are now at work on a feature for the Homecoming game with Indiana, Oct. 17. Those on the committee are: George Miller, chairman, Ed Clapp, Ralph Schultz, R. Pray and Edward Drew.

Riotous Rooters Maul Pepper Martin as Cards Return for Series Windup

Macks Bank on Earnshaw in Tilt Today

Cardinal's Homecoming Occasion for Big Celebration

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Another "We"—"Pepper" Martin and the St. Louis Cardinals—came home today to a heroic welcome as the "Spirit of St. Louis" once more rode high along the Mississippi.

At least 2,000 of the most rabid faithful stormed the railroad terminal, shouting, mauling, surging in to get their hands on the young man who almost single handedly routed the world champion Philadelphia Athletics to give the Cardinals a 3 to 2 lead in games and lift a national league champion to within one game of the first world series conquest for that circuit in five years.

They will see him tomorrow, these riotous rooters, eagerly taking his cut against the sweeping slants of "Big Jargo" Earnshaw in the sixth game at Sportsman's park, opening of the final act of one of the most thrilling baseball dramas of all times. But they could not wait to express their delight at the feat of the youthful hitting and base running dynamo, a demoralizing .567 hitter in his first world series.

The moment the special train of the Cardinals drew into the station here at 12:45 p.m. (CST) from Philadelphia, Martin's particularly brilliant play, the faithful burst through the guarding lines and swarmed over the platform.

—Meek and mild for the first time since the series opened, grinning sheepishly, "Pepper" stepped down into the throng that yelled his name, patted his shoulders until his big gray sombrero kept slipping down over his eyes, and made an effort to get him up on their shoulders for a parade of triumph.

"Where's Martin?" quailed, perhaps for the first time in his life, and he grabbed the arm of Mrs. "Pepper" Martin and hung on. Discretion prevailed, and the greatest baseball hero since Babe Ruth was in his prime was allowed to escort his wife through cheering lines to a taxicab.

Gabby Street, the old sergeant of the Cards, sat in a taxicab at the station exit and grinned while he puffed his briar pipe and watched the rest of his stars, including left handed Wild Bill Tatham and the gungacious spitballer, Burleigh Grimes, march through the lane that kept crying:

"Where's Martin? Lemme see Martin. Which one's Martin? He's the guy we want to see."

"Spirit of St. Louis" Not since the Cardinals won their first pennant in 1925 and Charles Lindbergh brought the original "Spirit of St. Louis" back here a year later has the Missouri metropolis been in such a state of excitement. The Cardinals, needing but one game for the championship, conquerors of both the great Robert Moses Grove and the even greater Earnshaw in the course of the "Pepper" Martin three-act circus, are 7 to 10 favorites as they go into the climax struggle.

The world champion Athletics, their big guns silenced by the superlative pitching of Grimes and Hallahan, arrived three hours after the Cardinals, too late to practice. A's Not Discouraged There was no discouragement in the champions' fold, but undermining at all times their confidence in their own predictions, is the rampaging figure of Martin, who already has equalled the world series record for hits with 12, four of them doubles, one a home run, for a total of 19 bases, stolen four bases, driven in five runs, scored five himself, and in general personally ruined the Athletics. Furthermore, they still do not know how to pitch to him. The only thing they have not tried is bases on balls.

Saints Clout Out 9-5 Win Over Wings

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 8 (AP)—The St. Paul Saints strung out the little world series for at least one more day when they defeated the Rochester Red Wings 9 to 5 here today in the seventh game of the series.

The visiting club, champions of the American association, advanced to within one game of their international league rivals by the win. Rochester still leads, 4 to 3.

Today's contest, played before a crowd of less than 1,000 because of frigid weather and clouded skies, was virtually a repetition of yesterday's St. Paul victory. Every man on the visiting team got at least one hit. Saltzger, Saint second baseman, led with three straight base blows.

The series will be continued here tomorrow.

Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Paul—100 211 205—9 17 1 Rochester—000 020 005—5 11 4

Batteries—Rettis and Fenner; Judd, Foreman, Hill, Moss and Florence. Letter men for every position except fullback are available to Coach Madison Bell for the 1931 Texas league grid team.

Sportively Speaking

By Matt Melchiorre

Some things about Pepper Martin, the young man who has flashed across the sports horizon, and within the short space of a week, has earned a place with baseball's immortals.

He was born John Leonard Martin at Temple, Okla., February 23, 1904. Stands five feet nine and a half, and weighs 175 pounds. Has a scar on his forehead—a dog bite, and one on his nose. This one was the result of a friendly argument with his brother. The latter hit Pepper with a hatchet, according to reports.

You can easily pick him out in a crowd. He wears a large sombrero, the kind that our movie cowboys flaunt. The Cardinal centerfielder has played baseball since he was a youngster. Then his ambition was to play with the Boston Red Sox, as Babe Ruth, his idol, was a pitcher for that club. He, like Ruth, started out as a pitcher, and played his first professional game in the state league. He was paid five dollars.

Before he became a professional ball player, he was a jack of all trades. Among these—he clerked in a shoe store, delivered newspapers, worked with a tinsmith, and in the Oklahoma oil fields.

When baseball hibernates for the winter, Pepper works in a gas station in his home town. He likes to play football but since two of his ribs were cracked while playing with the picnickers, the Cardinals want him to take up a less strenuous sport.

He has been married four years to Ruby Pope. They were childhood sweethearts. The other member of the family is Alysie, two years old.

Pick Iowa Cross Country Team for Run at Mt. Vernon

Iowa cross country honors in the triangular meet with Cornell and Grinnell at Mt. Vernon Saturday will rest on the shoulders of six runners, Coach George T. Bresnahan announced last night.

Captain H. W. Wickey, L. A. Campisi, H. R. Klevin, E. H. Gunderson, E. G. Trot and N. Rosenberg have been named as the Iowa coach's choice for starters. All but Campisi have had intercollegiate experience.

Four other Hawkeyes will also run but will not be considered in the scoring. They are M. E. Naylor, D. Parrish, R. J. Mitvalsky and either H. S. Griswold or L. G. Yanatta.

The meet will open the season, which calls for three engagements with Big Ten teams.

Jerry Foster Will Start at Left Tackle

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 8 (Special)—The injury ledgers of the Hawkeyes and the Texas Aggies were somewhat unbalanced with the announcement that W. W. Howitt, Aggies' varsity quarterback, was definitely out of Saturday's state fair contest with a broken left hand.

The Iowa squad hustled through an afternoon workout here and entrained tonight for Dallas, where the finishing touches will be put on the Old Gold attack in a light signal drill tomorrow afternoon.

A strengthened line will be sought by the insertion of Jerry Foster at left tackle and Francis Merten at left end. Jim Graham will start at quarterback with Joe Laws at Randall Hickman's halfback position with Howard Moffitt alternating.

Couch Burton Ingwersen hardly knows what to expect from the Texans as the Aggies have not been scouted by an Iowa representative. An aerial offense is anticipated.

Aggies Hold Tulane Last Saturday the Lone Star seven made an impressive showing by holding Tulane to a 7 to 0 score.

The offensive burden for Iowa will probably be borne by the veteran Capt. Oliver Sansen and Jerry Kriz. Warm Texas weather is expected to make frequent replacements necessary.

Rangers Semi-Pro Football Team to Hold Opening Drill

Candidates for the Iowa City Rangers, semi-pro football team, will hold their first practice tonight at 5 o'clock at the municipal field.

The Rangers' first game will be against Davenport there Sunday night Oct. 18.

All local gridlers interested in playing on the team are invited to try out for the squad.

GOPHERS READY OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 8 (AP)—The injury bugaboo continued to trail Minnesota's Gophers today as the football men from the middle west finished training for the game with Stanford at Palo Alto, Saturday.

Whatever slight hopes held out that Rehsen, guard, and Stern, center, would be available for play were given up by Coach Fritz Crisler. Old leg injuries have failed to respond to treatment and the two linemen went definitely on the shelf to join Quentin Burdick, halfback, who was hurt in the game last Saturday.

Despite earlier reports to the contrary, Coach Crisler said Jim Dennerly, 169 pound guard would likely see some action. Dennerly sprained his wrist in Monday's practice and the injury had not shown much improvement yesterday.

Indiana Band Will Accompany Team to Hawkeye Game

Indiana university's 100-piece band, known as one of the finest marching organizations in the nation, will appear with the Hoosier football team at the Iowa Homecoming, Oct. 17.

As the Indiana eleven makes its first appearance before an Iowa crowd in 10 seasons, the band will come to Iowa City for the first time in history. Maneuvers in down town streets before the game and on the stadium field between halves are expected to feature the bandmen's visit.

Elk Bowlers Take Honors, Whip Racine's

Wallen's 608 High; Best Single Game by Frazier

The Elks, both as a team and as individuals, turned in the best bowling performance in the Recreation league rolling last night.

Wallen was high for three games with 608 pins, while his team-mate Beals ran a close second with 603. The team scored 2852 for the evening's session to take all three games from Racine's. Their 969 was high single game.

Frazier, Gasoline Alley keglar, was high man for single game with 240 maple sticks to his credit. His bowling materially aided his team in taking two of their three games with The Daily Iowan.

In the other event on the program, Dee's lost two to the Academy while winning one.

Seniors, Frosh Tracksters Beat Sophomores, Juniors

The senior and freshman team man found it to his liking and made the sophomores and juniors to win the annual fall track meet by a five places yesterday afternoon to win the annual fall track meet by a 86 to 39 score. They added five first place blue ribbons to their total amassed on Wednesday and allowed only Walt Nugris to break through for a victory in the 220 yard dash.

The track was slow but that did not prevent George Salting from attaining the fast time of 13.9 seconds in a preliminary heat of the 110 yard low hurdles. He was pushed all the way by Thurston, the time was three-tenths of a second slower in the finals. Both of the freshman squad led two of his teammates to the tape in the 800 yard dash as the yearlings scored a clean sweep.

Wesley Youngerman won both of the events on the west side. He tossed the discus 10 feet further than his nearest rival but was pushed by Cornog to win the hammer throw. Football was insecure in these events. However Youngerman

Soucek Stars as City High Beats Scrubs

The bright feature about Iowa City high's last hard scrimmage was the second stringers yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Dubuque contest, was the playing of Henry Soucek at right end.

This little wingman has improved rapidly and yesterday he snared passes, broke up plays and was a power on the defense. He caught a pass for a 30 yard gain that led to the only score, when Paul Reed ran 42 yards for a touchdown on the next play.

Against Fairfield and Davenport, Soucek showed a tendency to be "sucked in," but in yesterday's drill he appeared to have rid himself of this fault.

WOLVERINES CRIPPLED ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 8 (AP)—Two regulars will be missing from the University of Michigan lineup for the Chicago game Saturday. Stan Hoyer, guard, and Harry Newman, quarterback, both have leg injuries and will not start. Leslie Douglas, reserve guard last year, will replace Hoyer, and Louis Westover, sophomore, will call signals in Newman's place.

Otherwise the Wolverine starting lineup probably will be the same as that which started against Michigan State Normal college in the second game of last Saturday's double-header.

DIXIE DUGAN—

By J. P. McEvoy and J. H. Striebel

Synopsis of Preceding Installments

Lambert Colfax, a member of an aristocratic family, married Stella, a burlesque actress, and later deserted her and their child, Missie.

Thirteenth Installment

Missie went out a great deal that winter. Her invitations were stuck into the edge of her mirror, sat on the mantelpiece.

Stocks, Bonds Climb With Credit Plans

Statistics Reveal 6.6 Average Gain on Quotations

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Strong financial markets today reflected nationwide approval of measures now under way for the restoration of confidence.

Stocks, bonds and commodities rallied impressively as bankers sped the $500,000,000 credit corporation toward completion. Trading in most directions was quiet until late in the business day; then it picked up substantially and all markets closed strong.

Stocks Rise to 84.3

The Standard Statistics-Associated Press stock average rose 6.6 points to 84.3, contrasting with Monday's low of 79. There was no carry over of Wednesday's advance; buyers appeared to be waiting for stocks at even slightly lower levels and when the advance paused during the earlier hours new support was forthcoming. Transactions totaled 2,867,320 shares.

Rediscount Rates

The increase in the New York Federal Reserve bank's rediscount rate to 2-1/2 per cent from 1-1/2 took Wall Street by surprise. It was the first rise since August, 1935, when the central banks were endeavoring to curb speculation.

Welcome Outflow of Gold

Bankers expressed a hope that the outflow of gold, which they welcome, would not be interrupted by the rate rise; they saw no reason why it should be since most foreign rates are higher than ours and the domestic money market situation is still most favorable. One of the aims of successive rate reductions here was the discouragement of further gold imports and the tide has at last definitely turned.

Grain Higher as Supply in Russia Falls

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Broader demand, largely inspired by decrease of Russian wheat exports and by curtailment of estimates of Germany's wheat yield, jerked all grains upward today. Reported efforts to cancel vessel charters for grain shipments from Russia led to reductions that North American wheat would hereafter be bought more freely for overseas. Besides, primary receipts of domestic wheat today were the smallest in a long while.

Issue Marriage License

A marriage license was issued yesterday by Walter J. Barrow, clerk of the district court, to Robert W. Hemsted and Mary Kondora, both of Iowa City.

Indian Chief's Faith in Paleface Fades

WATERLOO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Even patience ceases after a time to be a virtue, in the opinion of Chief Big Winnebago.

Boy Asks Damage Against City Official in Halloween Case

Asking $5,000 for damages resulting from an arrest and a short time in jail last Halloween, Cletus P. Sherman, 11, with his father C. S. Sherman of Oxford, is bringing suit today against William Dostal, Oxford marshal, in district court. Jury for the case was chosen yesterday afternoon.

The plaintiff alleges in the petition that he was roughly treated by the marshal Halloween night and confined in jail. He further states that the rough treatment caused him to be sick for several days and also caused him severe mental agony.

Announce 23 as Members of State Bar

DES MOINES, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Iowa board of law examiners today announced the names of 23 new members of the state bar, admitted following examinations conducted this week.

William Sipple Dies After Long Illness; Lived Here Decade

W. M. Sipple, 75, died yesterday at 2 p.m. at his home, 714 E. Jefferson street, after an illness of nearly a year. He had been a resident of Iowa City for the last 10 years.

"Scarecrow Man" Identified by Brother in Colorado Hospital

DENVER, Oct. 8 (AP)—The "scarecrow man," who stands rigid and mute in a room at the Colorado psychopathic hospital with his arms outstretched, was identified today as Charles Mays of Beardsley, Kan. A brother, Wesley Mays, made the identification.

Issue Marriage License

A marriage license was issued yesterday by Walter J. Barrow, clerk of the district court, to Robert W. Hemsted and Mary Kondora, both of Iowa City.

Foshay, Aides Charged With Making Gifts

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 8 (AP)—W. B. Foshay, Minneapolis promoter, and six associates on trial on mail fraud charges, today were accused of concealing on the records of their companies payments totaling $1,000 made to members of the Arizona Corporation commission which licensed the sale of many of its securities.

In his argument to the jury asking conviction of the seven men, Fred Horowitz, special assistant attorney general, said the payments were gifts made to insure approval of applications to sell various issues of stock of public utilities consolidated corporation. Foshay subsidiary which carried on far-flung operations.

Lucile Bruner Heads Social Service Work

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of Lucile Bruner of Waterloo, to the position of executive secretary of the Social Service league and director of public welfare in Iowa City, by the Johnson county board of supervisors.

Governors Agree on Drought Loans in Relief Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A compromise regulation governing drought loan liens was prepared today by the governors of North Dakota and Montana after their fourth conference with Secretary Hyde.

POLICE NEWS

Ben Shea, indecent exposure, fined $5 and costs.

E. A. Martin, intoxication, fined $25 and costs. Took 10 days in the county jail in lack of payment.

Blind School Head Speaks to Rotarians

"Help the blind by making them conscious of their possibilities rather than despairing of their disadvantages" is the attitude that F. E. Palmer, superintendent of the Iowa state school for the blind, urged 60 members of the Rotary club, to adopt at their weekly luncheon meeting yesterday.

"I have seen blind eyes trying to see beyond the darkness and succeeding; blind men building a heaven in their hearts and in the hearts of others; blind children climbing the ladder of their ambitions."
