

Y 16, 1932
ces
Tone
Week
Slowly;
Even 15 (AP)—Un-lines of 1 to 7 let drew fresh
the later deal.
some irregu-
prices on the on balance be-and losses and at the strong,
week had been tionary
ment bonds was to have was also asked at the market
end. Trading ends slackened, or dropping to ighly a million ursday.
to be dis-
s at starting employment es said news-to get under led the up-although top alled to carry
Farm imple-
Utilities firm-started; never-phone volubly
es and lost 1
Steel, which finished 14
ted down.
is Easy
ere distinctly es—equivalent 80 to 90 day
one per cent.
to 3-4 of a per cent figure, a ally corrected
ederal.
tizen's cted in nty Bank
ess of the rent in the John bank office.
of the bank
terday after for the Johnpany and the
are now to nder the direct mmerville, ex-idate
William Gala candidate atorial nomi-
at a dinner an get to-pens today
331-W
ROS.
10
15

Smash Records
Iowa Swimmers Break Three More
Mid-West A.A.U. Marks.
See Page 4.

FIVE CENTS 12 PAGES IOWA CITY, IOWA SUNDAY, JANUARY 17, 1932 VOL. XXXI NUMBER 220

VOLSTEAD CHALLENGES WET MOVE

Ohio State Cagers Trim Iowa in Loose Game 40-23

Visitors Hold Wide Margin From Start

Hawkeye Five Fails to Find Basket Eye in Rough Exhibition

Missing enough chances at the basket to win a couple of basketball games, the University of Iowa cagers received their severest defeat of the season and their third setback in the Big Ten campaign, 40 to 23 from Ohio State last night at the field house.

Their offense disorganized from the start and their defense loose through the game, the Hawkeyes trailed from the outset.

Rally Missing

The expected second half rally which the Old Gold has staged in its two previous conference encounters never materialized and the husky Buckeyes romped through the latter period in the same fashion as they did the first.

The victory enabled Ohio State to remain in a tie with Northwestern for the Big Ten leadership, and was the second win over Iowa this season.

At the half the visitors held a margin twice the size of Iowa's, 22 to 11. The Hawkeyes could not cope with the Buckeyes with any greater degree of success than they did in the first half. Fred Conrad started for the winners with five baskets and a free throw. Howard Moffitt was outstanding for Iowa with three goals and four gratis points.

Rough Game

The game was rough from the beginning, with the Scarlet and Gray quintet drawing a total of 15 personal fouls to the Old Gold's eight.

A several minute ovation of cheers, whistles, and handclaps called a temporary halt to between-the-half proceedings at last night's game when Coach Burton A. Ingwersen, recently resigned as head football coach here, was awarded an "H" blanket by A.F.I., senior men's honorary organization.

The roar of applause was only stilled after "Burt" stepped forward and spoke briefly to the spectators, wishing them "all the luck in the world" for coming seasons, and warning them not to "expect too much from the next coach."

The blanket was awarded to Ingwersen in recognition of his service here with those presented to all major "H" winners in football, an annual custom sponsored by A.F.I. and financed by proceeds of the "H" Blanket Hop. Ingwersen is the first Hawkeye coach to be honored by such a presentation.

Cups were awarded to the seven freshman athletes of last year who made the highest scholastic average while engaged in their respective sports.

The Buckeyes piled up seven points before Iowa tallied. Capt. Joe Hoffer started the scoring with a short field goal for the invaders. Fugitt, Ohio State forward, put in one free throw and Howard Mattison tipped his miss of the second try for a basket. Mattison added a long shot.

Jack Kotlow's free throw was Iowa's first marker. Fugitt rushed in to count a short shot. Conrad, the Buckeyes' giant center, flipped in a basket to make the State's lead 11 to 1.

Careless Passes

The flighty Hawkeyes bounced shots off the backboard and passed carelessly to keep far behind. Kotlow missed two free tries and then

(Turn to page 3)

Coroner Adjourns Inquest Into Deaths of Accident Victims

CEDAR RAPIDS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Coroner R. A. Vorphal announced today no further investigation will be made into the deaths of Mrs. A. A. Koppes and Mrs. William Fleming of Davenport.

The inquest was adjourned Dec. 29 after all witnesses had been subpoenaed. The two women were killed in an automobile accident near Marion Dec. 29.

The investigation was halted when Koppes and Fleming, upon advice of counsel, refused to testify.

Crowley Will Consult Board Here Tuesday

Athletic Officials Will Name New Coach Next Saturday

"Sleepy Jim" Crowley, Michigan State college football coach, will be in Iowa City Tuesday to interview Iowa officials in regard to a contract as head grid mentor here, E. H. Lauer, director of athletics, announced yesterday following a meeting of the university board in control of athletics.

Five other men, head coaches at various institutions, will also be asked to confer with Hawkeye officials during the next week. Mr. Lauer said, with a possibility that still another candidate will be invited if he proves available.

Director Lauer refused to disclose the names of the other candidates, but he admitted that they were among the original group which he recommended to the athletic board upon his return from New York.

Definite Arrangements

Crowley is the only man of those whom the athletic board wishes to interview, who has made definite arrangements with Iowa officials.

Director Lauer declared that final selection of Coach Burton A. Ingwersen's successor would probably be made at a special meeting of the board to be held next Saturday or the following Monday. He indicated, however, that no decision would be made until all of the candidates had been interviewed.

1932 Football Schedule Complete

The University of Iowa football schedule was completed yesterday when the athletic board of control accepted a game with Bradley Tech for Oct. 1 at Iowa City. The game will be the season opener for Iowa.

This game marks the resumption of the custom of playing a pre-season game with a school outside the Western conference which was discontinued last fall.

The complete Iowa schedule is as follows:

Oct. 1—Bradley Tech at Iowa City.

October 8—Wisconsin at Madison.

Oct. 15—Indiana at Bloomington.

Oct. 22—Minnesota at Iowa City.

Oct. 29—George Washington at Washington, D. C.

Nov. 5—Nebraska at Iowa City.

Nov. 12—Purdue at Iowa City.

Nov. 19—Northwestern at Evanston.

Thousands in Need of Help in Flood Area

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 16 (AP)—A cry for far-reaching national relief in the flood-stricken areas of northwestern Mississippi became more pronounced today as the Tallahatchie river broke additional levees, sent water over thousands of acres and made thousands homeless.

Ernest P. Kirick, director of disaster relief for the national Red Cross, estimated 1,500 families have been driven from their homes in nine Mississippi counties, but local relief agencies place the number at 20,000 to 30,000 people who are homeless and in need of aid.

Some relief workers were outspoken in their criticism of the Red Cross and the Memphis Evening Appeal in a front page editorial demanded more action and termed the situation "a major catastrophe in Mississippi."

Insurance Company Brings Suit Against Local Business Man

The American Surety company filed suit against Fred Racine yesterday in district court to the amount of $164.17 for checks cashed by Racine for Murley J. Otto, now serving sentence at Ft. Madison for obtaining money under false pretenses.

The surety company, through their attorneys, Wilson, Clearman and Brant, states that it issued a policy of forgery insurance on behalf of the University of Iowa and its officers to protect them against losses incurred by the forgery of checks and warrants.

As shown in the petition, Mr. Otto, while an employee of the university, procured and issued a series of checks drawn on W. J. McClesney, university treasurer. The checks were made payable, in amounts varying from $70 to $82, to Edwin B. Southworth, a fictitious name.

The checks were presented to Racine for payment by Otto, who used the name of Southworth when endorsing them. The case is docketed to appear in the February term of district court before Judge R. G. Popham.

WEATHER

IOWA: Mostly cloudy Sunday, rain or snow in central and east portions; generally fair Monday; no decided change in temperature.

Hoover Acts to Put Relief Bill in Motion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The emergency two billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation stumbled over parliamentary obstacles in the senate today but President Hoover went ahead with plans to put it into operation next week.

Mr. Hoover is selecting the board to direct this gigantic relief corporation and it seemed likely tonight that Eugene Meyer, the governor of the federal reserve board and chairman of a similar post-war organization, the war finance corporation, would be his head.

To Approve Bill

Congressional leaders informed the president of every confidence that the huge reconstruction corporation would receive final congressional approval within the next days.

From the corporation's two billion dollar capitalization new credit will go into the entire financial structure of the nation and ultimately, in the opinion of its sponsors, into all arteries of trade and business.

Two high points of difference between the senate and house must be reconciled. The house bill would make the paper of the corporation redeemable by the federal reserve system. The senate bill expressly prohibits this.

Would Allow Loans

The house bill would allow loans to "other bona fide financial institutions." The senate eliminated this provision on the ground that it would enable the corporation to take over the private $500,000,000 national credit association formed last fall by bankers.

Also, there is a disagreement between house and senate on loans to farmers. The senate bill carries a "rider" by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, authorizing $50,000,000 in loans to farmers for the 1932 crop. The house merely set aside 10 per cent of the funds of the corporation to be available for agriculture credit.

Meanwhile, the second measure on the emergency economic relief program—recapitalization of the federal land banks—was in conference and nearing final approval.

Arrest 200 in Portugal Plot

Allege Conspiracy to Assassinate High Officials

LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 16 (AP)—Police searched Lisbon tonight for a former priest sought as ringleader in what they declared was a plot to assassinate President Oscar Carmona and Antonio Oliveira Salazar, minister of finance.

Army Men Held

More than 200 civilians, army officers, non-commissioned officers and privates were arrested after the discovery of an alleged conspiracy to throw a bomb at the president. Few of the persons were aware of the roundup and the city, as well as the country, was reported quiet.

Those arrested are expected to be deported. They were understood to have met at the home of a high government official, whose identity was unknown to the police.

Arrest Ringleader

The ringleader, police said, was a Dr. Suarez. They said he had entered Portugal from Spain by means of a false passport, that he formerly was a priest in Portugal, but that he had been unfringed.

Among those arrested were 30 sergeants of an artillery unit, several corporals of the signal corps, two captains and two lieutenants. The commissioned officers, the police said, had figured in a revolt last Aug. 26, but had escaped from prison.

Convict 4 Alleged Chicago Gangsters on Robbery Charge

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Four alleged Chicago gangsters, identified by half a dozen social registers as the robbers who stole $150,000 worth of their jewels at a fashionable party, were tonight convicted on charges of robbery with weapons.

The verdict carries a penalty of imprisonment for one year to life. Defense attorneys were notified they might appeal for new trials after next Tuesday. The jury had deliberated about six hours.

Debutantes, society matrons, and wealthy business men from Chicago's north shore district had attended the trial for three days, listening to their friends tell about the robbery and identify the defendants.

Rules Committee Approves Bill for Study of Utilities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The house will decide next week whether it wants to spend $100,000 to find out who owns the public utilities of the country.

The rules committee today approved the Rayburn resolution for a study of the utilities, particularly holding companies, as a result, the measure will be presented to the house for action soon after the agriculture department appropriation bill is passed.

If the resolution is adopted, Chairman Rayburn of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee told the rules group it will permit a thorough study of all public utility concerns, including oil and gas pipe lines, telegraph and telephone, light and power and bus lines.

Oldest Resident of Cedar Rapids 100 Years Old Today

CEDAR RAPIDS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Ellsworth, Cedar Rapids' oldest resident, will be 100 tomorrow. Although bedridden since last May because of a fall, it is believed she will be able to receive friends at the observance.

Mrs. Ellsworth was born in Pennsylvania and came to Iowa with her parents in 1847. She has been a resident of the state ever since, living on a farm near Amara for many years, and in Cedar Rapids.

HAWAIIAN TRAGEDY PHOTOS

Mrs. Granville Fortesene, mother of Mrs. Massie, held as one of the slayers of Joseph Kahahawai. She was caught, it is alleged, as she was on her way to sea to dispose of Kahahawai's body. Lieut. Thomas H. Massie (top, right) is held with his mother-in-law for the slaying. Albert Jones (bottom, left) and Edward J. Lord (bottom, right), both sailors, are also held for the slaying of the Hawaiian.

Finn Cabinet Backs Repeal of Prohibition

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 16 (AP)—The cabinet's prohibition repeal bill, which would set up a government-controlled source of liquor supply without private profit, was made public today. It will be presented at a special session of the diet Tuesday.

The measure, drawn up in compliance with the wishes of the voters as expressed in the recent referendum, would set up an intermediate company, the affairs of which would be supervised by a governing board of seven members appointed by the cabinet for three year terms.

Limit Time of Buyer

It would permit the sale of wine, spirits and malt drinks to residents of hotels between the hours of noon and 1 a.m., and on trains and Finnish ships. Otherwise it would be forbidden.

Use Funds in Enforcement

After providing for a reserve sinking fund and for a 7 per cent dividend to stockholders, the measure stipulates that the profits of the government-controlled company be divided thus:

Fifteen per cent to an old age and unemployment fund, 15 per cent for the furtherance of temperance work; 20 per cent to be divided among cultural, temperance and benevolent activities in all communities; and the balance to be applied to expenses in the campaign against the illegal liquor trade.

Japanese in Manchuria to Get Revenge

(By the Associated Press)

A brigade of Japanese infantrymen marched westward from Chinchow, Manchuria, yesterday to avenge the slaying of 20 of their countrymen last week by Chinese irregulars.

The brigade had orders to clear 15,000 Chinese soldiers from the area between Chinchow and the border of Jehol province—and perhaps to press on into Jehol, Chinese sources said, although this was denied by Japanese authorities.

Seek Bandits' Aid

Mukden army headquarters of the Japanese relayed reports that rewards totaling $100,000 had been offered to Chinese guerrilla bandits for harassing the Tokio army.

Meanwhile, observers in Harbin expected General Mah Chan-Shan, emissary of the Japanese in the Nonn-Tetsihar campaign last November, to emerge as the leader of a new army that will cooperate with the Japanese supported regime in the province of Heilungkiang.

In Nanking the new government succeeded in bridging temporarily its financial crisis. Under threat of a moratorium on the interest on domestic loans, Shanghai bankers agreed to provide the government with $2,500,000 a month. This sum was expected to enable the government to get along providing expenditures were cut in half.

Possible War Declaration

It was learned that Sun Fo, who holds the post corresponding to premier in the Chinese government, and Foreign Minister Eugene Chen had strongly urged the severance of diplomatic relations with Japan and possibly a declaration of war. This news carried a threat against the life of the 16 day old government.

Averring that conditions in China have changed since the nine power treaty was signed, Japan's answer to Secretary Stimson's recent note was forwarded to Washington. China's reply, blaming Japan for "lawless acts" was also received.

Orders to Clear 15,000 Chinese Soldiers From Area

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 16 (AP)—The cabinet's prohibition repeal bill, which would set up a government-controlled source of liquor supply without private profit, was made public today. It will be presented at a special session of the diet Tuesday.

The measure, drawn up in compliance with the wishes of the voters as expressed in the recent referendum, would set up an intermediate company, the affairs of which would be supervised by a governing board of seven members appointed by the cabinet for three year terms.

Limit Time of Buyer

It would permit the sale of wine, spirits and malt drinks to residents of hotels between the hours of noon and 1 a.m., and on trains and Finnish ships. Otherwise it would be forbidden.

Use Funds in Enforcement

After providing for a reserve sinking fund and for a 7 per cent dividend to stockholders, the measure stipulates that the profits of the government-controlled company be divided thus:

Fifteen per cent to an old age and unemployment fund, 15 per cent for the furtherance of temperance work; 20 per cent to be divided among cultural, temperance and benevolent activities in all communities; and the balance to be applied to expenses in the campaign against the illegal liquor trade.

Ice Endangers Iowa Traffic

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Ice covered Iowa highways tonight and made them treacherous for traffic. Sleet and rain fell alternately during the afternoon, and when temperatures dropped slightly below the freezing point this evening, converted the moisture into a slippery film.

Mrs. Josephine Maganni, 35, of Des Moines, incurred back and hip injuries when she slipped and fell.

Heavy mist turning into driving rain yesterday at 9 p.m. threatened to wash off the thin coat of ice covering Iowa City for the last two days. Up to midnight approximately .17 inches of rain had fallen. The mercury soared above the freezing point yesterday reaching a height of 34 degrees where it clung until 7 p.m. Lowest reading recorded Friday night was 24 degrees and at 7 a.m. it made a 5 point rise.

The forecast was for continued precipitation over most of the state. Little temperature change is expected.

Sleet covered streets were responsible for numerous auto accidents at Fairfield, and many cars were forced to stay there several hours because of the condition of pavement west on U. S. highway 34.

Minor Count Brings About Death Probe

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Eula Eastin, held here on a minor charge and being questioned in connection with an entry in her diary implying that she killed an Otto Swan in Kewanee, Ill., denied that she killed a federal agent at Civil, Okla., three years ago, authorities said here tonight.

George Ebeling, special investigator for the state's attorney's office, said he had wired authorities at Civil early this week, but had received no reply to his telegram.

Mrs. Eastin also denied, according to officers, that she killed Swan and said she had not seen him for a year and a half. The coroner of Henry county said today that Swan's body would not be examined to search for traces of poison.

Mrs. Eastin was held to have told officers today that she strangled the infant son of a family named Creeley in St. Louis eight years ago, but this story has not been verified by St. Louis authorities.

County officials her said tonight that since none of the alleged crimes had been committed in Rock Island county they did not plan to carry their investigation further.

Promote 2 Iowans in Foreign Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Foreign service changes announced today by the state department included:

Maynard B. Barnes, Vinton, Ia., now second secretary, designated first secretary of legation at Sofia, Bulgaria.

Allan Dawson, Des Moines, Ia., now third secretary, designated second secretary of legation at Bogota, Colombia.

Solons Await Crime Report From Hawaii

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Before it does any investigating on its own account, the senate will wait to see what Seth Richards, and his justice department assistants find out about crime in Hawaii.

The senate ordered the department headed by Attorney General Mitchell to determine what caused recent outbreaks involving Americans there and Mitchell passed the task to Richards, an assistant attorney general.

No Hurry

There was still pending, however, the McKellar resolution for a senate inquiry into the situation in the islands but after hearing out cabinet officers today the territories committee decided there was no hurry about it.

Secretaries Adams, Hurley, Wilbur and Attorney General Mitchell said, in effect, that they felt the justice department could find out what was wrong.

Take Poll

An informal poll of the committee, after the four had testified, showed effort was being directed toward island law changes to improve conditions, showed a majority against a separate inquiry, at least until the attorney general has reported on his department's study.

Territories Committee Advises No Action on Resolution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The territories committee today advised the senate that it has no objection to the McKellar resolution for a senate inquiry into the situation in the islands but after hearing out cabinet officers today the territories committee decided there was no hurry about it.

Secretaries Adams, Hurley, Wilbur and Attorney General Mitchell said, in effect, that they felt the justice department could find out what was wrong.

Take Poll

An informal poll of the committee, after the four had testified, showed effort was being directed toward island law changes to improve conditions, showed a majority against a separate inquiry, at least until the attorney general has reported on his department's study.

Strict Program to Stay Crimes

HONOLULU, Jan. 16 (AP)—A special legislative program designed to purge Hawaii's "paradise" of high crime was rushed toward completion today by Governor Lawrence M. Judd.

Confronted by another Washington repercussion—consideration by the navy of plans to cut short the forthcoming maneuvers of the Pacific fleet in order to meet the request of naval men for an opportunity to protect their families—the territorial administration made ready for the special session of the legislature Monday.

Bills providing death or life imprisonment for criminal attackers of women and for reorganization of Honolulu's severely criticized police department were being drawn with all possible speed.

Wife Began Search

His failure to arrive home last night at the usual time prompted his wife to begin a search for him. She walked past the station, but it was dark inside, so she returned home, thinking he might have returned during her absence.

She then found her son, Robert Rinehart, 16, and sent him to search further. He found the door of the oil station unlocked and summoned police, who discovered the body.

$30 Loot

Jackson had been employed at the station for six months. The city purchased its gasoline there and two police officers said they had stopped there at 9 o'clock last night and were waited on by Jackson.

Officials of the Skelly Oil company, which owned the station, said they believed that the robbery loss was between $25 and $30.

Local Mercury Rises Above Freezing Point

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Ice covered Iowa highways tonight and made them treacherous for traffic. Sleet and rain fell alternately during the afternoon, and when temperatures dropped slightly below the freezing point this evening, converted the moisture into a slippery film.

Mrs. Josephine Maganni, 35, of Des Moines, incurred back and hip injuries when she slipped and fell.

Heavy mist turning into driving rain yesterday at 9 p.m. threatened to wash off the thin coat of ice covering Iowa City for the last two days. Up to midnight approximately .17 inches of rain had fallen. The mercury soared above the freezing point yesterday reaching a height of 34 degrees where it clung until 7 p.m. Lowest reading recorded Friday night was 24 degrees and at 7 a.m. it made a 5 point rise.

The forecast was for continued precipitation over most of the state. Little temperature change is expected.

Sleet covered streets were responsible for numerous auto accidents at Fairfield, and many cars were forced to stay there several hours because of the condition of pavement west on U. S. highway 34.

Minor Count Brings About Death Probe

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Eula Eastin, held here on a minor charge and being questioned in connection with an entry in her diary implying that she killed an Otto Swan in Kewanee, Ill., denied that she killed a federal agent at Civil, Okla., three years ago, authorities said here tonight.

George Ebeling, special investigator for the state's attorney's office, said he had wired authorities at Civil early this week, but had received no reply to his telegram.

Mrs. Eastin also denied, according to officers, that she killed Swan and said she had not seen him for a year and a half. The coroner of Henry county said today that Swan's body would not be examined to search for traces of poison.

Mrs. Eastin was held to have told officers today that she strangled the infant son of a family named Creeley in St. Louis eight years ago, but this story has not been verified by St. Louis authorities.

County officials her said tonight that since none of the alleged crimes had been committed in Rock Island county they did not plan to carry their investigation further.

Promote 2 Iowans in Foreign Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Foreign service changes announced today by the state department included:

Maynard B. Barnes, Vinton, Ia., now second secretary, designated first secretary of legation at Sofia, Bulgaria.

Allan Dawson, Des Moines, Ia., now third secretary, designated second secretary of legation at Bogota, Colombia.

Mexican, American Officers Hold Men, Planes for Alcohol

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 16 (AP)—Three airplanes and five men were held by Mexican and American authorities today in an investigation of a reported international aerial smuggling ring.

Mexican customs officers yesterday seized a monoplane south of El Paso, Mexico, 24 miles up the Rio Grande from Nuevo Laredo, and took into custody two men who said they were from San Antonio, and gave the names of Joe Roubert and Paul Davis. Officers said the plane was filled with cans of alcohol.

Earlier in the day other Mexican authorities captured a biplane and its three occupants, two men, Nuevo Laredo, but refused to give any information about the latter, other than that they had contraband goods in the plane.

Fingerprints Give Clues in Boone Killing

BOONE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Police today sought in vain for definite clues to the slayer or slayers of Grant Jackson, 37, oil station attendant, whose body was found sprawled against the door of the station's rest room shortly after midnight.

Harold Gessel, fingerprint expert of the state bureau of investigation at Des Moines, made a series of photographs of fingerprints found in the station, but, aside from these, the authorities had little to work on.

Jackson was shot in the side with a shotgun, the charge passing through his spine.

Robbery is Motive

Robbery appeared definitely as the motive, since the safe in the station and a desk had been ransacked.

Authorities believed Jackson had been surprised as he prepared to close the station at 10 o'clock last night. He had been shot at close range and powder burns were found about the wound.

From the position of his hands officers believed he had resisted the holdup attempt.

His keys, including those to open the small safe, were found lying on the floor. Jackson's body had been shoved into the rest room and it fell across the door, barring entrance.

Little Evidence to Solve Mystery in Death of Station Attendant

BOONE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Police today sought in vain for definite clues to the slayer or slayers of Grant Jackson, 37, oil station attendant, whose body was found sprawled against the door of the station's rest room shortly after midnight.

Harold Gessel, fingerprint expert of the state bureau of investigation at Des Moines, made a series of photographs of fingerprints found in the station, but, aside from these, the authorities had little to work on.

Jackson was shot in the side with a shotgun, the charge passing through his spine.

Robbery is Motive

Robbery appeared definitely as the motive, since the safe in the station and a desk had been ransacked.

Authorities believed Jackson had been surprised as he prepared to close the station at 10 o'clock last night. He had been shot at close range and powder burns were found about the wound.

From the position of his hands officers believed he had resisted the holdup attempt.

His keys, including those to open the small safe, were found lying on the floor. Jackson's body had been shoved into the rest room and it fell across the door, barring entrance.

Mrs. Pinchot Talks on Liquor Interests

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Liquor interests and the administration at Washington were attacked today by Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, a tall, stately woman who seeks election to congress. The wife of Pennsylvania's governor is opposing Representative Louis T. McFadden.

She told reporters she would not place her campaign on a "support Hoover" basis because she differs with so many of his policies, "especially those which tend to concentrate power in Wall street, the public utilities and the international bankers."

Indian Crowd Stones Police

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 16 (AP)—One person was killed and two were injured when police fired into a mob that had stoned them at Berhampore, Bengal, today.

England also continued her onslaught of ordinances against Mahatma Gandhi's legion of non-violent nationalists throughout India.

Women Arrested

His feminine army of picketers, who previously had been relatively free from arrest, were being gathered in for urging the Indian public to boycott British products. The "commander-in-chief" of the congress forces, Dr. N. S. Hardikar, was arrested for his membership in Gandhi's nationalist congress, which has been outlawed. Jammala Bajaj, wealthy merchant-philanthropist, acting treasurer of the congress funds and a member of Gandhi's cabinet, also was arrested.

Thousands Held

Thousands of other nationalists throughout India, including a large number of students at Calcutta, also have been arrested.

Gandhi appealed to the nation just before his recent imprisonment not to export gold, but in a continuation to ship the metal to England. This is helping to lift, financiers said, the depreciated British pound sterling to a higher value. More than $9,000,000 in gold was shipped to London today. India has sent more than $100,000,000 worth since England abandoned the gold standard.

One Killed, Two Hurt; Arrest Feminine Picketers

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 16 (AP)—One person was killed and two were injured when police fired into a mob that had stoned them at Berhampore, Bengal, today.

England also continued her onslaught of ordinances against Mahatma Gandhi's legion of non-violent nationalists throughout India.

Women Arrested

His feminine army of picketers, who previously had been relatively free from arrest, were being gathered in for urging the Indian public to boycott British products. The "commander-in-chief" of the congress forces, Dr. N. S. Hardikar, was arrested for his membership in Gandhi's nationalist congress, which has been outlawed. Jammala Bajaj, wealthy merchant-philanthropist, acting treasurer of the congress funds and a member of Gandhi's cabinet, also was arrested.

Thousands Held

Thousands of other nationalists throughout India, including a large number of students at Calcutta, also have been arrested.

Gandhi appealed to the nation just before his recent imprisonment not to export gold, but in a continuation to ship the metal to England. This is helping to lift, financiers said, the depreciated British pound sterling to a higher value. More than $9,000,000 in gold was shipped to London today. India has sent more than $100,000,000 worth since England abandoned the gold standard.

Sentence Murphy

Ed Murphy was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on an old intoxication charge yesterday afternoon by Police Judge C. L. Zager. The sentence was made when Murphy was arrested yesterday and charged with intoxication.

Prohibition Anniversary Raises Issue

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 16 (AP)—National prohibition's twelfth anniversary today brought from Andrew J. Volstead a challenge to Senator Hiram Bingham to "unmask and tell us plainly that from a political standpoint the wets think beer more important than the constitution."

Replying to an invitation to testify during a Washington hearing on the Connecticut Republican's measure to increase the alcoholic content of beer, Volstead wrote "Your bill as drawn opens wide the old saloon doors, brass rails and all."

The author of the prohibition enforcement act now is legal adviser to the district dry law enforcement administrator here.

Ask Assistance

Volstead said the letter from Bingham referred to the bill allowing a maximum of four per cent alcohol in beer and some other beverages and asked his assistance in securing its enactment.

"Your appeal to me for help is misdirected," said today's reply. "I am staunchly for prohibition."

Anti-Saloon Men Laud Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—The results of prohibition were lauded tonight by speakers before the biennial convention of the Anti-Saloon League.

Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Detroit, retiring president, reviewed activities of the past and future plans and a sermon on "America's dry crusade" was given by Rev. H. H. Russell of Westerville, Ohio, founder of the organization, in observance of the twelfth anniversary of prohibition.

Simultaneously, in a formal statement making public a "1932 world prohibition map," the crusaders, anti-prohibition organization, said it was "happy to furnish for the information of the Anti-Saloon League, now holding its convention here, on the twelfth anniversary of prohibition, a graphic portrayal of the world prohibition movement which was going so strong a dozen years ago."

Little Evidence to Solve Mystery in Death of Station Attendant

BOONE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Police today sought in vain for definite clues to the slayer or slayers of Grant Jackson, 37, oil station attendant, whose body was found sprawled against the door of the station's rest room shortly after midnight.

Harold Gessel, fingerprint expert of the state bureau of investigation at Des Moines, made a series of photographs of fingerprints found in the station, but, aside from these, the authorities had little to work on.

Jackson was shot in the side with a shotgun, the charge passing through his spine.

Robbery is Motive

Robbery appeared definitely as the motive, since the safe in the station and a desk had been ransacked.

Authorities believed Jackson had been surprised as he prepared to close the station at 10 o'clock last night. He had been shot at close range and powder burns were found about the wound.

From the position of his hands officers believed he had resisted the holdup attempt.

His keys, including those to open the small safe, were found lying on the floor. Jackson's body had been shoved into the rest room and it fell across the door, barring entrance.

Wife Began Search

His failure to arrive home last night at the usual time prompted his wife to begin a search for him. She walked past the station, but it was dark inside, so she returned home, thinking he might have returned during her absence.

She then found her son, Robert Rinehart, 16, and sent him to search further. He found the door of the oil station unlocked and summoned police, who discovered the body.

$30 Loot

Jackson had been employed at the station for six months. The city purchased its gasoline there and two police officers said they had stopped there at 9 o'clock last night and were waited on by Jackson.

Officials of the Skelly Oil company, which owned the station, said they believed that the robbery loss was between $25 and $30.

Local Mercury Rises Above Freezing Point

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Ice covered Iowa highways tonight and made them treacherous for traffic. Sleet and rain fell alternately during the afternoon, and when temperatures dropped slightly below the freezing point this evening, converted the moisture into a slippery film.

Mrs. Josephine Maganni, 35, of Des Moines, incurred back and hip injuries when she slipped and fell.

Heavy mist turning into driving rain yesterday at 9 p.m. threatened to wash off the thin coat of ice covering Iowa City for the last two days. Up to midnight approximately .17 inches of rain had fallen. The mercury soared above the freezing point yesterday reaching a height of 34 degrees where it clung until 7 p.m. Lowest reading recorded Friday night was 24 degrees and at 7 a.m. it made a 5 point rise.

The forecast was for continued precipitation over most of the state. Little temperature change is expected.

Sleet covered streets were responsible for numerous auto accidents at Fairfield, and many cars were forced to stay there several hours because of the condition of pavement west on U. S. highway 34.

Minor Count Brings About Death Probe

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Mrs. Eula Eastin, held here on a minor charge and being questioned in connection with an entry in her diary implying that she killed an Otto Swan in Kewanee, Ill., denied that she killed a federal agent at Civil, Okla., three years ago, authorities said here tonight.

George Ebeling, special investigator for the state's attorney's office, said he had wired authorities at Civil early this week, but had received no reply to his telegram.

Mrs. Eastin also denied, according to officers, that she killed Swan and said she had not seen him for a year and a half. The coroner of Henry county said today that Swan's body would not be examined to search for traces of poison.

Mrs. Eastin was held to have told officers today that she strangled the infant son of a family named Creeley in St. Louis eight years ago, but this story has not been verified by St. Louis authorities.

County officials her said tonight that since none of the alleged crimes had been committed in Rock Island county they did not plan to carry their investigation further.

Promote 2 Iowans in Foreign Service

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Foreign service changes announced today by the state department included:

Maynard B. Barnes, Vinton, Ia., now second secretary, designated first secretary of legation at Sofia, Bulgaria.

Allan Dawson, Des Moines, Ia., now third secretary, designated second secretary of legation at Bogota, Colombia.

Society and Clubs

Kevil Motvani Gives Poetry, Indian Songs

Cosmopolitan Meeting Hears Perumal on India

At the regular meeting of the Cosmopolitan club, held last night in the drawing room of the liberal arts building, Kevil Motvani of Krachi, India, gave several recitations of Indian poetry, including some popular songs by Rabindranath Tagore.

Nilkan A. Perumal, speaking on "India and America" said that he was convinced the average American sympathized with India's struggle for freedom. He said that much nonsense about India has been printed in newspapers, especially in the metropolitan press and one should be careful before passing judgment on Gandhi's struggle for independence.

"It is to gain bread and butter for the starving millions of India that Gandhi fights" said Mr. Perumal, "and I am sure such a struggle will be viewed by Americans with sympathy. When Mahatma Gandhi sent a special message to America on the eve of his recent arrest, a New York paper wrote that the Indian struggle had no concern with America. That may be true if America had always maintained a non-partisan view in world affairs. But she has not been as such and it is high time that the nations of the earth got together rather than remain so aloof. Gandhi's message to America did not solicit financial help, but he merely asked for the sympathy of a nation which celebrates the fourth of July and sings 'sweet land of liberty'—a sympathy in the form of 'correct understanding' of India's struggle and the Mahatma's aims."

Prof. James Many of the philosophy department recited some Indian lyrics.

Marjorie Henderson was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Slavata to Entertain Club

"Pt. Sumter and early generals of the Civil war," a paper to be read by Mrs. W. F. McRoberts, will feature the program of the meeting of the Daughters of the Union Veterans at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Joseph Slavata, 620 N. Linn street, will be hostess. She will be assisted by Mrs. M. S. Day, Mrs. Ray Karnes, Mrs. A. J. Larwe, Mrs. Ray Lewis, and Mrs. C. H. Thomas.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Dinner guests today at the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority house are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Newkirk and son, John, of Iowa City.

House guests over the week end are Grace Clark of Moulton, Daisybelle Evans of Centerville, and Lucille Ritter of Marion.

Geraldine Hurd of Iowa City, was dinner guest last night.

Pi Beta Phi

Week end guests at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house are Kay Boettcher of Traer, who is visiting her sister, Margaret Boettcher, A3 of Traer; and Mrs. Royal of West Liberty, who is spending the week end with her daughter, Gabrielle, A2 of West Liberty.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Thatcher of Iowa City, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Henning of Iowa City, C. J. Stringer of Iowa City, and Mr. T. B. Mitchell from Kingsley will be dinner guests at the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity today.

Alpha Delta Pi

Darlene Hassler of Manning, a student at Iowa State college at Ames, is spending the week end at the Alpha Delta Pi sorority house.

Alpha Sigma Phi

Jack Duval, A2 of Davenport, and Larry Mason, A2 of Davenport, are members of Alpha Sigma Phi who spent the week end in Davenport.

Delta Delta Delta

Week end guests at the Delta Delta Delta house are Marcella Miller, Elsie Guthrie, Mary Blough, and Geraldine Gilmore all of Webster City.

Phi Mu

Mabel Kelsor of Keokuk, is a week end guest at the Phi Mu sorority house.

ROOSEVELT BRIDE

Here is a charming portrait study of the lovely bride of Elliot Roosevelt, son of New York's governor, wearing the gown in which she was married at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The bride is the former Elizabeth Browning Donner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Donner, of Villanova, Pa.

Strolling Through Fashion Lane

By CELIA GOLDBERG
Society Editor The Daily Iowan

Who'd have thought that the knights of King Arthur's day would be the inspiration for the latest costume trinkets? Armour bracelets like the coat-of-mail cuffs they were are being shown. The bracelet cuffs, which are about six inches deep, are made of beaten silver or polished tortoise shell. They are worn over the cuffs of a plain black crepe frock.

Occidental maidens have borrowed the design of hip sashes worn in Oriental harems. The sashes of soft crushable silk are wound around the figure from waist to hips and tied at one side. They're usually worn with chiffon frocks of the same color.

The vogue for fur has spread even to blouses and necklaces. One of the smartest afternoon costumes has a tunic blouse of fine black broadtail. The tunic, which is designed with a surplice neckline, is worn with a black broadcloth skirt and tiny black felt hat trimmed with a band of broadtail.

Fur necklaces are the last word in fur accessories. A new black frock is worn with a long loop necklace and narrow belt of panther. A panther beret and scarf and black gloves cuffed with the same fur complete the ensemble.

Formal frocks and cotas have taken on a close fitting line which makes the modish moderns appear taller and slimmer than in many seasons. Below the new waistline, which is several inches higher, skirts fit closely to the knees, from which they break in soft undulating lines.

Lighter colors are making their debuts. With the midseason beige, silver grey, greige (a cross between beige and grey) leaf green and coral red are being adopted for formal afternoon wear.

Too many coats button. . . So Milady, choosing to be individual, found her salvation in a "tie-on" coat. Fur coats that tie on via a satin ribbon that winds twice around the waist and ends in an impudent bow has been a big hit with more particular women, and now cloth coats with three bows to hold them shut down the center front have found favor as winter debutants.

Ribbons include a number of new types in which striped ombre effects are highlighted. These ribbons are not only of silk, but also of linen, silk and wool combinations and all wool effects. The linens and wools are gaily striped, sometimes corded and add novelty edges which adopt them for sports hats.

Corded silk berets are most attractive. Sometimes the beret is corded as a whole—sometimes the silk, already corded, is cut into melon sections and seamed together to make the beret.

Hyperions to Give "Prosperity Party" Tuesday at Varsity

Hyperion dancing club will have a "Prosperity party" Tuesday evening at Varsity ballroom. Music is to be furnished from 9 to 12 p.m. by the Varsity Rhythm Kings.

The committee has planned several feature dances, among which are to be, "A new car, absolutely free," "Balloon dance," "The Eddie Cantor prosperity dance," and "Money, money, money." Prizes are to be given in connection with these dances.

Those on the committee in charge are: Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rowley, chairman, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gipple, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ries, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McGovern.

Theta Tau

Members of Theta Tau who are spending the week end at home are Adolph Topinka, E2 of Cedar Rapids, and Edward A. Cerny, E3 of Cedar Rapids.

Gotch Marinello Beauty Shop OPERATORS

MRS. LULU GOTCH MISS NORAH NEWELL

Marinello Facials$1, $1.50, $2
Shampoo and Finger Wave$1
Hair Bobbing50c
Permanents$5, $7.50, $10

EXCLUSIVE MARINELLO DEALER

Phone 2675 17 1/2 So. Dubuque St.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

9:50 A.M.—Student Classes
10:45 A.M.—Morning Worship
"The Measure of Life"
Chorus Choir and Soloists
5:30 P.M.—Twilight Hour
Professor Philip Greeley Clapp is Guest
6:30 P.M.—Young People's Meeting
"Building an Adequate Philosophy of Life"
Leader, Miss Mary Louise Trundy

Old Gold Alumni Tidings

Dr. W. C. Allen, 75, of Morning Sun, Ia., died suddenly last week at Los Angeles, Cal., where he and Mrs. Allen were spending the winter.

Dr. Allen was born in Princeton, Ind., in 1856, and came to Iowa with his mother when he was three years old. He attended the Washington, Ia., schools and graduated from the University of Iowa college of medicine in 1881.

Zerelda Marie Leppla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Leppla of Escanaba, Mich., and James A. Little, Jr., of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Little of Keokuk, were married Thanksgiving day at St. Patrick's church in Keokuk.

Mrs. Little is a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers college. Mr. Little attended the University of Iowa where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The couple will make their home in Chicago where Mr. Little is connected with a brokerage firm.

The marriage of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson of Oxford Junction, which took place Dec. 24, at the Methodist church in Rock Island, Ill., was announced recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson of Ryan.

Mrs. Thompson is the daughter of Mrs. M. Yohaska of Oxford Junction. She graduated from the high school of that city in 1930 and has since been employed as a stenographer and bookkeeper at Clutter.

Dr. Thompson is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson of Hazel Green township. He is a graduate of the Hopkinton high school and the University of Iowa. While attending school here, he was affiliated with Xi Psi Phi dental fraternity. During the last three years he has practiced dentistry at Oxford Junction.

The couple will reside in that city.

Dr. Donald A. MacRae, 61, who gained national prominence as an army surgeon during the World war, died at a hospital in Council Bluffs, Jan. 11, following a two weeks' illness.

Dr. MacRae attended the University of Iowa for two years while studying medicine.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Kathleen Huntress, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Huntress of Newton Center, Mass., to Ralph Updegraff Heninger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Heninger of Sigourney. The wedding date has not been announced.

Mr. Heninger is a senior in the college of law at Harvard university. He received his B. A. degree from the University of Iowa and attended Culver Military academy, Culver, Ind.

Dr. Merle Palmer Braley, of Manson, a former university student, and Ida Miller of Ayrshire, were married Dec. 19 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Miller of Ayrshire.

Mrs. Braley attended Iowa State Teachers' college at Cedar Falls, and the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. Braley, while attending school here, was a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, and Psi Omega professional dental fraternity. Since graduating, he has practiced dentistry at Manson, where the couple will make their home.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Cloyce K. Huston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Huston of Crawfordville, and Elene Weeks of Fargo, N. D., which took place Dec. 18, in Genoa, Italy, where Mr. Huston is American Consulate general.

Mr. Huston graduated from the University of Iowa in 1922, after which he studied at the University of California at Berkeley. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and Sigma Delta Chi fraternities.

Alpha Chi Omega to Honor National Sorority Secretary

Honoring Mildred Blackledge of Indianapolis, Ind., national secretary of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, who came Friday to visit for several days, chapter members will entertain patronesses, and fraternity and sorority chaperons and presidents at a tea this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. William Holland and Mrs. E. J. Liechty will pour. Those in the receiving line will be, Miss Blackledge, Mrs. Mary Matthews, chapter chaperon, and Mrs. Shannon Fourt, alumnae adviser.

Green tapers and white narcissuses will decorate the tea table.

Frances Seidel A4 of Marengo, and Pauline Roche, A4 of Riceville, are in charge of the party.

Triangle

Dinner guests today at the Triangle fraternity house will be: Mr. and Mrs. John Hummer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lind, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Benish, all of Davenport.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hoskins of Chicago came yesterday to visit during the week end at the chapter house.

Erk Isgrig, J4 of Savanna, Ill., is spending the day in Cedar Rapids with his uncle, Joseph Spelman.

League of Women Voters Sessions to Take Place at Union

Mrs. Frank A. Stromsten, state president of the board of League of Women Voters, will preside at sessions of the board to be held in Iowa City Wednesday and Thursday at Iowa Union. Mrs. Dorrance White, state secretary; Mrs. Ralph Ojeman, state treasurer; Mrs. P. C. Jeans, social hygiene chairman; Mrs. Walter F. Loehwing, education chairman; and Mrs. George Martin, chairman of international cooperation, are Iowa City officers who will attend the meetings.

The program for 1932 and 1933 will be proposed and the possibility of adding the Illinois clause to the Iowa marriage bill is to be discussed as well as the radio programs of the organization.

Theta Epsilon Holds Initiation Dinner for 12 New Members

Theta Epsilon initiated 12 members at the Baptist student center last night following the initiation ceremony, a dinner was given in honor of the initiates.

Those initiated were Melva Gieseler, A3 of Kalona; Harriet Stull, A1 of Ferguson, Mo.; Beulah Walker, A2 of Le Mars; Mary Barlow, G of Des Moines; Ruthadele LaTourette, A1 of Muscatine; Faith Stamer, A3 of Muscatine; Mae Frazier, A2 of Camanche; Gertrude Brown, A1 of Fairport; Florence Fuller, A4 of Cedar Rapids; Esther Gregerson, A3 of Kirkman; Ruth Pfeiffer, A1 of Fayette; Audrey Humble, J3 of Washington, Ia.

Phi Omega Pi

Edna Patzick and Irma Young were faculty guests at the Phi Omega Pi house Friday evening.

Louise Case of Mediapolis, is spending the week end with her mother, Mrs. Cora B. Case, who is house mother of the Phi Omega Pi house.

Mureen Marble of the school of nursing was a dinner guest at the Phi Omega Pi house last night.

Phi Kappa Psi

Week end visitors at the Phi Kappa Psi house are Richard Pierson, and Samuel Brewer, who are students of Creighton university at Omaha, Neb. Clifford Hamblin, and Robert Welden, who are students of Iowa State college at Ames were guests also.

Chi Omega

Active members of Chi Omega sorority entertained the pledges at a cozy last night at the chapter house. Bridge was played. The committee in charge consisted of Mary Kathryn Wilms, A3 of Springfield, Ill., and Pauline Whicher, A4 of Burlington.

Allene Jarman of Newton and Margaret Sexton of Washington are week end guests.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Jane Rudd of Des Moines, is visiting friends at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house over the week end. Martha Jean Montgomery, A2 of Boone is spending the week end at her home.

DES MOINES, Iowa's politics and began to talk which brought out of a number of the well known candidate for An informal failed to find on the matter.

Parties With the four months major parties candidates in States senate. While Sen. Hart has made there is that he will primary ticket Cook of Des Galloway of his speaking ago, while Se a number of the state last.

The present for senator fl against two in this contest 2 Council Bluffs nomination v of Waverly a Harlan.

So far as ans are con but two avo Dan Turner to the Republica House of H nounced for at the third shallown.

Lieutenant The Republica governor find what muddled in the field, quite probably.

Rep. Leonard entered the ago. A short ter George V announced his week State S of Mapleton ment.

State Senat men of Burr I but has no Francis G. nounced he wo did not design

Rail E Pre To Pettit for W

CHICAGO, road president concerning was employment of today.

Daniel Will Baltimore and group representa road in the cot and union del agements cons the men accep wage cuts for David E. B firmen's brot the union del ly offered a average rail fe employment f would be exte work.

With the th ed, the confere thorized to rea two matters a give each side cus its memb suggestions of

Masonic I M

Presided ov who were inst Thursday nigh lodge No. 4, hold a regul night at 7:30.

The new of charge of the Meacham, ser

Bray, junior w ter, treasure, tary; W. W. C. H. Smoke, J. H. Maruth, s Rodgers, junie Iza J. Houston ler, tyler and

Byrd Reece NEW YORK

Admiral Richa presented with "Thomas Jerfe nition of his heroic service leader in the discovery.

Automobile 100,000 popula year were 13. 3.5 in 1921.

Do You Know How to Choose Between

The Ordinary
The Just Average
And The Superior

Naturally, you can't know all the technicalities that distinguish GOOD dresses and coats—

But—at OSBORN'S you can COUNT ON DEFINITE SAFEGUARDS—our dresses and coats are personally selected—selected not only for QUALITY but for NEWEST STYLE TRENDS as well.

When you select your garments at OSBORN'S you can select with confidence.

OSBORN'S
Corner Dubuque and Washington Streets

Now is The TIME

To bring in your watch for a thorough cleaning. Every watch should be cleaned once a year. Expert repair work done at moderate charge.

Geo. P. Hauser
"The Reliable Jeweler"
Across Street From First National Bank

Willard's DISTINCTIVE DRESSES
130 East Washington Street

FROCKS FOR THE MISS from $6.50 to $18.75

EXCLUSIVE MARINELLO DEALER
Phone 2675 17 1/2 So. Dubuque St.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
9:50 A.M.—Student Classes
10:45 A.M.—Morning Worship
"The Measure of Life"
Chorus Choir and Soloists
5:30 P.M.—Twilight Hour
Professor Philip Greeley Clapp is Guest
6:30 P.M.—Young People's Meeting
"Building an Adequate Philosophy of Life"
Leader, Miss Mary Louise Trundy

A STYLE INSTITUTION

Iowa Political Candidate Pot Boils Merrily

Major Parties Already Name Three for U. S. Senator

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Iowa's political pot ceased to bubble and began to boil merrily this week, which brought forth announcement of a number of major candidates. Attempts also were made by some of the administration Republican legislative leaders to center on a candidate for lieutenant governor. An informal conference Friday failed to find them of the same mind on the matter.

Parties Name Three

With the primaries more than four months away, each of the major parties already had three candidates in the field for United States senator.

While Senator Smith W. Brookhart has made no formal announcement there is virtually no doubt but that he will go on the Republican primary ticket along with Louis Cook of Des Moines, and William Galloway of Waterloo. Cook started his speaking campaign some time ago, while Senator Brookhart made a number of economic addresses in the state last summer.

One Woman Contest
The present Democratic lineup for senator finds one woman pitted against two male opponents. In this contest Mrs. Donald Macrae of Council Bluffs is contesting for the nomination with F. P. Hagemann of Waverly and N. G. Kirschel of Harlan.

So far as gubernatorial nominations are concerned there have been but two avowed candidates. Gov. Dan Turner took out papers to enter the Republican primary and L. W. House of Humboldt yesterday announced for the Democratic honor at the third district rally in Marshalltown.

Lieutenant Governor Race
The Republican race for lieutenant governor finds the waters somewhat muddied with three candidates in the field, and a fourth entrant quite probable.

Rep. Leonard Simmer of Ottumwa entered the fight several months ago. A short time later State Senator George Wilson of Des Moines announced his candidacy and this week State Senator O. P. Bennett of Mapleton made his announcement.

State Senator George W. Patterson of Burt is in a receptive mood but has not determined his course. Francis G. Cutler of Boone announced he would enter the race but did not designate his party.

Rail Bosses Present Case To Petition Workmen for Voluntary Wage Cuts

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Railroad presidents presented their case, concerning wage reductions and unemployment on railroads, to employees today.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio and leader of the group representing every major railroad in the country, told brotherhood and union delegates why the managements considered it essential that the men accept voluntary 10 per cent wage cuts for one year.

David E. Robertson, head of the firemen's brotherhood and leader of the union delegation, had previously offered a program under which average rail forces would be assured employment for a year and relief would be extended to those out of work.

With the two viewpoints explained, the conference which is fully authorized to reach an agreement on the two matters adjourned this noon to give each side an opportunity to caucus its membership regarding the suggestions of the other.

Masonic Lodge to Meet Tomorrow

Presided over by new officers who were installed at a meeting last Thursday night, Iowa City Masonic lodge No. 4, A. F. and A. M., will hold a regular session tomorrow night at 7:30.

The new officers who will have charge of the meeting are: Frank Meacham, senior warden; D. W. Bray, junior warden; W. E. C. Foster, treasurer; John Springer, secretary; W. W. Norris, senior deacon; C. H. Smoke, junior warden; Charles H. Maruth, senior steward; W. J. Rodgers, junior steward; the Rev. Ira J. Houston, chaplain; L. P. Kessler, tyler and marshal.

Byrd Receives Honor Scroll
NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd today was presented with a scroll of honor as a "Thomas Jefferson guest" in recognition of his "inspirational and heroic service to his country," as a leader in the fields of science and discovery.

Automobile accident deaths per 100,000 population in Georgia last year were 13.4, as compared with 3.5 in 1921.

Hold Trial for Man in Connection With Fort Dodge Slaying

FT. DODGE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Edward (Red) Watson will go on trial Monday in the Webster county district court on charges of murder in connection with the slaying here four years ago of George McIntire. Judge Sherwood A. Clock will preside.

McIntire was shot to death in a garage adjoining his home the night of May 1, 1927. A few days later Austin Navin surrendered to police and told a story implicating Frank Bittner of Ft. Dodge.

Navin accused Bittner of formulating a holdup plan that led to the fatal shooting. Later, at Bittner's trial, he testified he brought Watson to Ft. Dodge at Bittner's request to Rob McIntire.

Basketball

(Continued from page 1)

came back to register a pair. Bobby Colburn's long shot restored the Buckeyes to a 10 point lead.

Moffitt dashed in to score the Hawkeyes' first goal. Fugitt's personal foul was the Buckeye's seventh penalty in the first 10 minutes of the game, Rogers scoring a point on it.

The pivot toss by Conrad gave the visitors a 15 to 6 edge. Koltow and Moffitt each heaved in a goal for Iowa. Mattison and Colburn counted from the field for the Buckeyes. Moffitt's basket and Conrad's goal and gratis point made the score 22 to 11 at the half.

Second Half
Hoffer reopened the scoring in the latter half with two baskets in quick order. Mattison's field goal ran the tally up to 28 to 11. Moffitt's three successive free throws brought Iowa's total up to 14. Colburn sank a free throw and Conrad a basket before Moffitt flipped in a basket for the Hawkeyes.

Hoffer left the game with four personals, Douglas Filkins, Hawkeye guard, hurled in a long shot. Conrad scored from under the basket. Filkins rushed back to count a goal as the score became 33 to 20.

Mattison's goal, Fisher's basket and two charity points, and Fugitt's gift marker ended Ohio State's scoring. Filkins' free throw and Alex Rogers', captain for the game, basket closed Iowa's counting.

Summary:	IOWA (23)	FG.	FT.	PF.
Koltow, f	1	3	2	0
Eshleman, f	0	0	0	0
Moffitt, f	3	4	1	0
Rogers, c (e)	1	1	0	0
Brecher, c	0	0	0	0
Swaney, c	0	0	0	0
Valett, f	0	0	0	0
Diwokey, f	0	0	1	0
Filkins, g	2	1	1	1
Totals	7	9	8	0
OHIO STATE (40)	FG.	FT.	PF.
Colburn, f	2	1	0
Fisher, f	1	2	1
Fugitt, f	2	3	0
Lively, f	0	0	0
Conrad, c	5	1	2
Thies, c	0	0	1
Mattison, g	5	0	2
Ferrall, g	0	0	0
Hoffer, g (c)	3	0	4
Brown, g	0	0	0
Totals	17	6	13

Score at half: Ohio State 27; Iowa 11.

Free throws missed: Iowa, 7; Ohio State, 7.

Substitutions: Iowa — Eshleman, Brecher, Valett, Diwokey, Ohio State — Fisher, Lively, Thies, Ferrall, Brown.

Officials: George Lewis (Wisconsin); Fred Young (Illinois Wesleyan).

Prison Guard Kills Sheriff After Quarrel

MT. VERNON, Ky., Jan. 16 (AP)—N. J. Tipton, 55, sheriff of Cook-castle county, was shot and killed tonight by Hunter Burchell, guard at the state reformatory, whom the sheriff had accused of not properly guarding a convicted banker brought here to testify at the trial of his brother.

Burchell had brought Floyd Miller, former cashier of the People's bank here, under sentence of 13 years imprisonment, from the Frankfort reformatory to testify at the trial of his brother, R. M. Miller, assistant cashier.

Sheriff Tipton had called Bailey P. Wootton, state attorney general, and told him Burchell was staying at the Miller home and permitting the prisoner to do almost as he pleased while here. This morning Burchell went to the sheriff's office and complained, he said, and the sheriff drew a pistol. Burchell left the office.

Tonight Sheriff Tipton was standing on a street corner talking with J. B. Griffin, former sheriff, when Burchell walked up and remarked,

Typewriters For Rent

Every Make Large or Portable Bargains For Sale
ROYAL
TYPEWRITER SHOP
122 Iowa Avenue
(Next to Daily Iowan)

OPENING THE QUALITY QUICK LUNCH

Under New Management
Courtesy — Service — Quality Foods
GEO. S. HOPPER
Across Street From Whets No. 1

SKIPPY—Cutting Some Figure

University Inaugurates New Conference; to Assemble Directors of School Bands

Directors of the state's school bands will learn solutions of instrumental and marching problems at the first conference of its kind ever held at the University of Iowa, it was announced Saturday.

The affair will occur Jan. 30. In addition to the sessions for band directors, there will be a meeting of the executive committee and the six district chairmen of the Iowa High School Music association.

Designed as Festival Aid
Management of the conference is in the hands of Bruce Mahan and Prof. Charles B. Richter, member of the festival committee from the music department. The program will be augmented by a welcoming address by Rufus H. Fitzgerald, director of the school of fine arts; and a talk on military bands by Lieut.-Col. Converse R. Lewis, head of the military department.

The affair's personnel also includes these men: Supt. W. Dean McKee of Shenandoah, vice president of the Iowa High School Music association; Supt. M. M. McIntire, secretary-treasurer of the association; Supt. P. C. Lapham of Charles City, president; Lloyd L. Swartz, principal of LeMars senior high school; and L. E. Walters, director of music in the Des Moines public schools.

Art Exhibition at Iowa Union Subject of Discussion Today
Twenty-five paintings now on exhibition at Iowa Union will be the subject of an informal discussion to be held in the main lounge at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Prof. Catherine Macartney, head of the graphic and plastic arts department, who will be the speaker, will talk on the artists whose work they are.

The paintings, which came from the Grand Central art galleries of New York, are the work of representative American artists. Most of them have been prize winners in recent exhibitions.

The discussion is open to the public. Invitations have been sent to all faculty members.

The artists represented and their works are: Herbert Nichols, "Autumnal Snow"; Chauncey F. Rydler, "Red Marble Gap"; Hovsep Pushman, "Evening Hours"; Enoll Carlson, "Chinese Porcelain"; Roy

"So you pulled a gun on me this morning," he then shot Tipton five times, Griffin said. Burchell was placed in jail, where he made no statement.

Ruth Gallaher Speaks to A.A.U.W.

Ruth A. Gallaher, associate editor of the state historical society, spoke to 60 members of the American Association of University Women which met yesterday noon for a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Mattill, 358 Lexington avenue. Miss Gallaher's subject was "Disarmament conference."

Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Jacob Cornog, Mrs. Minerva Knight, Dr. Kate Daum, Grace Cochran, Esther Leech, Dorothy Bradbury, Alice Kemp, and Lucile De Lano.

Stanley to Run for Senate
DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Selby C. Stanley of Beaconsfield today announced his candidacy for the nomination for the Republican nomination for the state senate from the district composed of Decatur, Union and Ringsold counties.

Clear Up Mystery About Baby Killing

FT. DODGE, Jan. 16 (AP)—A baby drowning mystery which was revealed to Ft. Dodge police a few days ago by an unnamed woman was cleared up today when the woman said she gave the infant to friends to care for when she was unable to provide a home for it.

She gave no explanation of her first story in which she said she rescued the baby from "its father who was about to drown it in the river."

Transfer "Turk" to Jail Pending Trial

PRIMGHAR, Jan. 16 (AP)—George White, known as "The Turk," will be transferred to the Polk county jail pending his trial on charges of robbing the Calumet State bank.

When arraigned today before Judge C. W. Pitts in district court here, White pleaded not guilty. He was recently arrested in California.

PERSONALS

Word has been received from Duluth, Minn., that Dr. J. J. Rouse, who graduated from the University of Iowa, is recovering from an appendectomy undergone Jan. 9. Dr. Rouse is a member of the staff of Nopeming sanatorium, Nopeming, Minn.

Clytia Svoboda, A2 of Cedar Rapids is spending the week end at her home.

Bernee Macken, A4 of Davenport, is visiting with her parents this week end.

Elizabeth Rouse, A4 of Rock Island, Ill., is at her home this week end.

Elizabeth Wilcox, A4 of Oskaloosa, has gone to her home for the week end.

Roberta Whittlesay, A2 of Davenport, is spending the week end at her home.

Lillian Olson of Waterloo, is a guest of Evelyn Kittlesby, 511 E. Washington street, this week end.

Marie Kelly, A3 of Cedar Rapids, is visiting at home this week end.

Amelia Pavlovsky is at Cedar Rapids this week end. She is a senior in the college of liberal arts.

W. G. Ruppert and Fred J. Seeman returned yesterday from a business trip at Chicago and Grand Rapids, Mich. They were gone 10 days.

Margaret Milder, 613 E. College street, and Margaret Fry, 509 S. Clinton street, are spending the week end in Chicago.

Mrs. Ray Kaufman is ill at her home, 906 E. Bloomington street.

Wes Sedlacek of Oxford, is spending several days at the home of his brother-in-law, Joe H. Shuppar, 607 Grant street.

Mrs. Lysle Whitmer, 514 Brown street, left today for Wilton Junction where they will visit this week end.

John Powers of Cedar Rapids, and Vern Powers of Davenport are visiting this week end at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Powers, 510 N. Dodge street.

Ray Nelson, A2 of Davenport, and E. H. Gunderson, C4 of St. Ansgar are visiting in Chicago this week end.

Ralph Harmon, A3 of Waterloo, Ward Williams, E1 of Waterloo, and Robert Miller, A2 of Waterloo,

Man Wounded in Le Mars Shooting Identifies Assailant

SIoux CITY, Jan. 16 (AP)—One of two men arrested here as suspects in the shooting of William Lammers, 47, near Le Mars a week ago, was identified by the wounded man as his assailant when brought before him in a Le Mars hospital today.

Roy McKim was the man identified. Ralph White, son of Al White, policeman here, who also had been held, was released when Lammers failed to identify him.

The arrests followed after the arrest of Albert Johnson, who, officers said, was the cooker for the still found on Lammers' farm. Police said that two men went to the farm for the purpose of hi-jacking moonshine whiskey.

Iowa Teachers Take Voluntary Wage Cut
LOGAN, Jan. 16 (AP)—School teachers, executives and janitors in Harrison are expected to take a voluntary reduction in salaries, as the result of a meeting here today. Advocates of tax reduction pointed out that residents were in a quandary how to meet taxes.

Representatives of the teachers indicated sentiment among their group of acceptance of an immediate decrease. The proposal will be placed before boards of education which have been asked to report to the county tax reduction committee at a meeting Feb. 6.

Beta Theta Pi
Robert Lambert of Chicago, and Henry Elcher of Washington, Ia., are week end guests at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

Elks Ladies Will Entertain Husbands
Complicating their husbands, Elks Ladies will entertain at a bridge party tomorrow at 8 p.m., at the Elks clubhouse. Reservations for the party must be made not later than tomorrow noon by calling Mrs. Harry Wiencke or Mrs. Julie S. Kasper.

Delta Tau Delta
Delta Tau Delta fraternity announces the pledging of John Lorenzen, A1 of Osgood.

Delta Theta Phi
George Severs of Des Moines is a week end visitor at the Delta Theta Phi house.

Chi Kappa Pi
Members of Chi Kappa Pi fraternity who are spending the week end out of town are: Harold Wilmes, E2 of St. Louis, Mo., and James Placatka, E2 of Davenport, who left yesterday to visit friends in Cedar Rapids; and Horace Smith, L2 of Davenport, who is visiting over the week end in Lost Nation.

Delta Zeta
Martha Norstrum, '30, of Colfax, is a guest this week end at the Delta Zeta sorority house.

Nu Sigma Nu
Dr. E. von Graff of the college of medicine, will be a dinner guest today at the Nu Sigma Nu fraternity house.

In Portage county, Wisconsin, school children were given a week's holiday in October so they could help harvest the late potato crop.

Loretta Schneberger Weds Roy M. Cox at St. Wenceslaus

Loretta Schneberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schneberger, of Iowa City, was married yesterday at 9 a.m. to Roy M. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cox, 517 S. Dodge street, in the rectory of St. Wenceslaus church. The Rev. A. L. Panoch performed the ceremony in the presence of Agnes Schneberger, sister of the bride, and Harry Graham.

After a short honeymoon the couple will reside at Cedar Rapids, where Mr. Cox is employed.

Miss Schneberger graduated from St. Joseph's Academy at Des Moines. She has been employed with Dutcher, Walker and Ries company.

Methodist Society Plans Spring Concert
Plans are being made for an annual spring concert to be given soon after Easter under the auspices of the seventh division of the Methodist Ladies' Aid. A "Seth Parker" motif will be carried out in the concert.

Members of the committee in charge are: Mrs. J. C. Grossman, chairman, Mrs. A. B. Sidwell, Mrs. W. W. Herrmann, Mrs. C. J. Lapp, Mrs. F. J. West, Mrs. O. E. Van Doren, and Mrs. C. W. Thompson.

Theta Phi Alpha
Audrey Underkofler of Newton is a week end guest of her sister, Juanita Underkofler, A3 of Brit, at the Theta Phi Alpha sorority house. She came Friday to attend the formal dance at the chapter house.

Ralph Neville of Albert Lea, Minn., was a dinner guest last night.

Gertrude Hoffman of Muscatine, and Benny Leonard of Rock Island, Ill., came Friday to attend the formal dance at the chapter house.

ARTIST'S SUPPLIES

We carry a full line of Artist's Materials and Plastic Art Supplies—brushes, oils, drawing instruments, boards, etc.

Stillwell Paint Store

Vern Bales Fred Novotny
Phone 433 Across from Englert

Do your clothes come back with a sweet smell?

How often have you sent your clothes to the cleaners to have them returned smelling of strong—dirty—gasoline? You won't have this trouble if you send your clothes to us. We use pure, clean naphtha made possible by our extensive filtering and clarifying process.

PARIS CLEANERS

Phone 55

IOWA UNION DINING SERVICE
"On the Banks of the Iowa"

Graphic Outlines of History

By CHARLES A. BECKMAN
St. John's Church, Richmond, Va.

It was in this church that the brilliant lawyer, Patrick Henry, delivered his famous speech, "Give me Liberty, or give me Death."

We observe the spirit, as well as the letter, of professional ethics. "The degree of our personal attentiveness is not governed by cost."

Beckman Funeral Home

PROGRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICE
216 E. COLLEGE ST. TEL. 2718

Hawk Swimmers Smash Three More Mid-West A.A.U. Marks in Last Night

McGuire Sets Another New Sprint Mark

Back Stroke, Medley Relay Marks Topple

By JOHN LANE
Hawkeye swimmers flashed into the spotlight again last night, when they broke three more records and easily won the team championship in the closing events of the mid-western A. A. U. swimming meet here last night.

A more-than-capacity crowd watched the performance, some of the spectators being forced to utilize standing room around the pool.

Jack McGuire, captain of the Iowa swimming team, again led the record smashing procession by setting a new mark of 54.5 seconds in the 100-yard free style event. McGuire had previously made a record of 54.6 for the sprint in the preliminaries yesterday afternoon, bettering the old record of 55.7 by more than a second.

Anderson Places Second

August Anderson, unattached Iowa freshman entry, came in half a length behind McGuire to place second, while Hogarth Freeland, unattached Hawaiian from Omaha, who set a new A. A. U. record of 24.9 in an exhibition 50-yard swim yesterday, finished a close third.

Ray Mohl, Iowa flash, bettered his own record of 1:47.5 in the 150-yard back stroke by negotiating the course in 1:46.7. Dick Westfield, unattached Cedar Rapids swimmer, placed second, while R. L. Bodine, of Iowa, took third.

The Hawkeye 300-yard medley relay team, composed of Jack McGuire, Ray Mohl, and Steve Nielsen, literally ran away with that event, setting a new record of 3:14.5. The former record of 3:21.8 was held by Iowa.

Lobdell Wins Diving

Wentworth Lobdell retained his high board diving championship by edging out Bill Busby, unattached Iowa freshman, for first place. Adolphe Ferstenfeld, of North high, Des Moines, placed third.

In the 500-yard free style swim, William McCulley, of Iowa, record holder and defending champion won easily in the fast time of 6:12.9. His teammate, Francis Pressler, finished second, while Bruce Grove and Chester Mohl, unattached Iowa entries, tied for third.

Summary of Events

100-yard free style: McGuire (Iowa) first; Anderson (unattached, Iowa City) second; Freeland (unattached, Omaha), third. Time—54.5. New record. Former record of 54.6 made by McGuire in preliminaries. Former official record of 55.7, made by Boyd Liddle, of Iowa, in 1930.

150-yard back stroke: R. Mohl (Iowa) first; Westfield (unattached, Cedar Rapids) second; Bodine (Iowa) third. Time—1:46.7. New record. Former record of 1:47.5 made by Mohl in 1930.

High spring board diving: Lobdell (Iowa) first, 136.2 points; Busby (unattached, Iowa City), 125 points; Ferstenfeld (North high, Des Moines) third, 109.5 points.

300-yard medley relay: Iowa (Iowa State) first; Creighton, third. Time—3:14.5. New record. Former record of 3:21.8 made by Iowa (A. Lowell, E. R. Evans, J. C. Crookham) in 1930.

500-yard free style: McCulley (Iowa) first; Pressler (Iowa) second; Grove (unattached, Iowa City) and C. Mohl (unattached, Iowa City) tied for third. Time—6:12.9.

McGuire Breaks Record in Prelims

Jack McGuire set a new record of 54.5 seconds for the 100-yard free style event, in the preliminaries of the mid-western A.A.U. meet here yesterday afternoon.

Summary of preliminaries: 100-yard free style (first heat): Freeland (unattached, Omaha) first; Anderson (unattached, Iowa City) second; Haskins (Iowa) third. Time—55.8.

100-yard free style (second heat): McGuire (Iowa) first, Blake (Des Moines Y.M.C.A.) second, Close (Iowa) third. Time—54.5. New mid-western A.A.U. record. Old record, 55.7, made by Liddle, of Iowa, in 1930.

150-yard back stroke (first heat): Westfield (unattached, Cedar Rapids) first, Weld (Iowa State) second, Lloyd (unattached, Iowa City) third. Time—1:51.

150-yard back stroke (second heat): R. Mohl (Iowa) first; Bodine (Iowa) second; Blackburn (unattached, Omaha) third. Time—1:49.8.

High spring board diving: Lobdell (Iowa) first, Busby (unattached, Iowa City) second, Smith (Iowa) third, Ferstenfeld (North high, Des Moines) fourth, McCloy (Iowa) fifth.

Missouri Remains Undeclared by 30-18 Win Over Nebraska

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 16 (AP)—The University of Missouri remained undeclared in the Big Six conference basketball race by defeating the Nebraska Huskers here tonight, 30 to 18.

Johnny Cooper, Tiger sharpshooter again led the local team to victory, sinking six goals from the floor. Jimmy Zinn and Barney Passer made three field goals each for Missouri to tie for runner up honors.

No free throws were converted during the game although six fouls were called, four on Missouri and two on Nebraska.

Max Collins, Tiger captain severely injured an ankle within the first eight minutes of play but George Stuber, sophomore from St. Joseph, ably held down his guard position. In fact so tight was Tiger defense the Huskers were able to score four baskets during the first half which ended 12 to 8 in favor of Missouri.

Sportively Speaking

By Matt Melchiorre

Crossed signals deprived Bill McCloy, varsity diver, of third place in the high board event last night.

For his first optional dive McCloy had elected to do the back flip. But somehow the announcer called out "back dive" just prior to the dive.

Naturally the judges were ready for a back dive, and when McCloy did a flip instead, he was judged on the back dive.

One of the judges raised the question of what kind of dive it was supposed to be immediately after, but the affair slipped by.

After the final swimming event the question was raised again and one judge was willing to raise his award for that dive.

But the official referee decreed otherwise. If the award had been allowed it would have meant third place for McCloy.

Seven records were smashed in the two day swimming meet. This includes Freeland's exhibition swim the first night of the carnival.

Sammy Ferstenfeld, former university diver, was kept busy in the high dive prelim giving brother Adolph points.

What was probably the greatest crowd to watch a swimming meet here gathered last night. The crowd overflowed the bleachers and spread all around the pool.

Boyd Liddle, freshman swimming coach, was going around with a huge smile last night, after the fine performances of the yearling paddlers.

One of the timers used a magnifier to note the time on his watch. He became so excited over something other at one time that he used the magnifier while reading out a name from a large sheet of paper held close to his eyes.

Boyd Liddle, of Iowa, in 1930.

100-yard back stroke: R. Mohl (Iowa) first; Westfield (unattached, Cedar Rapids) second; Bodine (Iowa) third. Time—1:46.7. New record. Former record of 1:47.5 made by Mohl in 1930.

High spring board diving: Lobdell (Iowa) first, 136.2 points; Busby (unattached, Iowa City), 125 points; Ferstenfeld (North high, Des Moines) third, 109.5 points.

300-yard medley relay: Iowa (Iowa State) first; Creighton, third. Time—3:14.5. New record. Former record of 3:21.8 made by Iowa (A. Lowell, E. R. Evans, J. C. Crookham) in 1930.

500-yard free style: McCulley (Iowa) first; Pressler (Iowa) second; Grove (unattached, Iowa City) and C. Mohl (unattached, Iowa City) tied for third. Time—6:12.9.

150-yard back stroke (first heat): Westfield (unattached, Cedar Rapids) first, Weld (Iowa State) second, Lloyd (unattached, Iowa City) third. Time—1:51.

150-yard back stroke (second heat): R. Mohl (Iowa) first; Bodine (Iowa) second; Blackburn (unattached, Omaha) third. Time—1:49.8.

Purple Noses Out Michigan 21-20; Iowa at Indiana Tomorrow Night

Wolverines in Lead 10 to 9 at Half Time

Losers Count 3 Goals in Final 2 Minutes of Play

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Northwestern's basketball forces scored their fourth straight Big Ten basketball victory tonight, defeating Michigan 21 to 20, in a fierce battle.

BIG TEN STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	T.	P.
Northwestern	4	0	1	89
Ohio State	3	0	99	66
Michigan	2	1	77	64
Minnesota	2	1	84	79
Purdue	2	1	98	80
Illinois	2	1	86	72
Wisconsin	1	3	94	111
Chicago	0	2	32	46
IOWA	0	2	66	92
Indiana	0	4	110	145

Last Night's Results

Ohio State 40; IOWA 23.
Northwestern 21; Michigan 20.
Wisconsin 24; Chicago 18.
Minnesota 37; Indiana 35.

Games Tomorrow

IOWA at Indiana.
Northwestern at Wisconsin.
Illinois at Michigan.

The Wildcats scored seven points before Michigan got started, but the Wolverines rushed into a 10 to 9 lead at halftime. Northwestern took the lead at the start of the second half and worked it to 21 to 14, with two minutes left.

A desperate final rally, in which Daniels, Evedand and Garner scored from the field, left the Wolverines a point short of a tie.

It was Michigan's first defeat in three starts.

Summary: MICHIGAN (20)—

Player	FG.	FT.	PF.
Evedand, f	1	0	0
Daniels, f	2	2	0
Garner, c	2	0	1
Wells, f	1	0	1
Williamson, g	3	0	2

NORTHWESTERN (21)—

Player	FG.	FT.	PF.
Reiff, f	3	2	0
McCarnes, f	4	1	2
Johnson, c	2	0	0
Farber, g	0	0	1
Smith, g	0	0	0

Totals 9 3 4
Score at half—Michigan 10; Northwestern 9.
Referee—John Schommer (Chicago); Umpire—Justin Molony (Notre Dame).

Gophers Win 37-35

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16 (AP)—A second half rally after they had trailed in the opener, enabled Minnesota to defeat Indiana in a Big Ten basketball game here tonight, 37 to 35. It was the second win in three starts for the Gophers and the fourth straight loss for Indiana.

Just before the first half ended, Minnesota was eight points behind, but a rally cut it down and the Hoosiers led, 20 to 17, at the gun.

Minnesota continued its heavy attack and swung into an eight point lead after the final half started. Brad Robinson, reserve forward, was largely responsible for putting the Gophers out in front. Robinson, going in as a substitute, put new life into his mates with his three field goals and two free throws.

The game was exceptional—rough, 34 personal fouls being called and five men being ruled out of the game, Minnesota losing three.

While Robinson was the most brilliant of the Gophers, the sophomore forward, Red Sochacki, shone in the play. Sochacki shot two successive field goals following his free throw in Minnesota's stirring rally near the end of the first half.

Summary:

Team	FG.	FT.	PF.
INDIANA (35)	12	11	18
Campbell, f	2	2	3
Dauer, f	1	0	1
Hodson, f	1	4	2
Weir, f	0	2	0
Hoffmar, c	1	0	4
Dickey, c	1	0	1
Suddith, g	2	1	4
Reed, g	0	0	0
Zeller, g	4	2	3

Totals 12 11 18
MINNESOTA (37) FG. FT. PF.
Sochacki, f 3 3 4

Mel Out of Giants First 1932 Holdout to Sign for Season

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—Mel Ott, the former "boy wonder" of the New York Giants outfield, is the first of the 1932 holdouts to bounce back into line.

Ott's signed contract was received today by Secretary Jim Tierney of the Giants, along with that of Carl Hubbell, one of the club's star south-paw pitchers. Ott's was mailed from his winter home at Gretna, La., Hubbell's from Meeker, Okla.

Either Ott changed his mind suddenly or has done some fast negotiating with his owners the last few days. No later than Tuesday he was quoted as in thorough disagreement with the contract offered him and listed with his teammates, Bill Terry and Fred Fitzsimmons, as holdouts.

Conqueror of Loughran in 'Comer' Role

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—The faithful reluctantly gave up hope for a second time today and turned to hail the new, bulky Steve Hamas, most promising of all the young heavyweights.

Only Tommy Loughran, and the staunchest of his pals, could insist today that the end of the veteran's flistic road was not in sight, brought suddenly into focus by the crushing two-round technical knockout inflicted on him by Hamas in Madison Square Garden last night.

Apparently Loughran's speed, that once dazzled the light heavyweight division and kept him out of harm's way when he graduated to the heavy-weight ranks, has disappeared suddenly. Only a few weeks ago, boxing under the handicap of a wretched ankle, Loughran fought one of the most brilliant battles of his career in crashing Paulino Uzcudun, rugged, aggressive Spaniard.

But two weeks later, seeming suddenly aged, Loughran was felled four times by King Levinsky, the Chicago wildman, and soundly beaten by punches he would have laughed at in the past, and Hamas, raging from the fight, completed the job, downing Loughran at will to floor him twice before the referee intervened.

But it was Hamas today who had changed the fight aspect and offered promise of a unique career. The former Penn State football star is the first college graduate ever to reach the ring prominence that such a decisive victory over Loughran brings.

Player	W.	L.	D.
Wright, f	1	0	0
Robinson, f	4	3	3
Bethel, c	1	0	0
Chelusak, g	2	0	4
Mace, g	0	0	0
Licht, g	2	0	4
Engelbreten, g	0	0	0

Totals 14 3 16
Score at half: Indiana 20; Minnesota 17.

Badgers Beat Maroons

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Wisconsin broke into the Big Ten basketball victory column for the first time this season tonight, defeating Chicago, 24 to 18, in a rough contest.

Chicago held the Badgers close throughout most of the first period, but dropped back in the second half as Wisconsin cashed in on foul shot opportunities. The Maroons had an 8-3 lead midway of the first period, only to have Poser, Nelson and Oakes locate the hoop and move Wisconsin into a three point lead at halftime.

The contest was delayed several minutes near the end of the first half when Captain Mary Steen of Wisconsin protested against being ordered from the game because of personal fouls. The Badger leader claimed he had only three fouls against him instead of four, but lost the argument.

Night-flying carrier pigeons are being trained by the U. S. army.

Four Forfeits Close Play in Greek Circuit

Sigma Nu Pledge Five Beats Deltas 19-14; A.T.O. Wins

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
"A" League
Sigma Pi forfeited to Alpha Tau Omega.
Phi Chi forfeited to Phi Beta Delta.
Phi Epsilon Kappa forfeited to Sigma Nu.
Phi Delta Theta forfeited to Theta Tau.

Pledge League

Sigma Nu 19; Delta Tau Delta 14.
Alpha Tau Omega 14; Sigma Chi 13.

Yesterday's schedule, the final round for the "A" league, was practically all forfeits, there being but two games played, both in the pledge league. The Sigma Nu frosh team, playing their best game of the season, got away to an early lead which defeated the Delta Tau Delta team and placed the two in a tie for first place in the final standing of section 1.

The other game played was a close affair between the Sigma Chi and Alpha Tau Omega pledges, the A. T. O.'s eking out a 14 to 13 triumph. The schedule for the "A" league is now completed with the exception of some postponed games which are yet to be played off. However the Delta Tau Delta-Alpha Kappa Psi game is the only one which could alter the final standings.

The Sigma Nu pledge players in defeating the favorite Delta quintet displayed aggressiveness and spirited play. They started off with a rush and at one time had a 15 to 5 lead. Morgan and Burton, Sigma Nu forwards, figured in most of the scoring. Parker, tall Delt forward, was the only man of his team to locate the basket from the field, scoring all 12 points. The two teams have a post scheduled game for the first place title.

The lineup: Sigma Nu—Morgan and Burton, forwards; Vasey, center; Thornton and Gilderbloom, guards. Delta Tau Delta: Parker and Schoeneman, forwards; Cook, center; Work and Kelly, guards.

After piling up a comfortable lead at the start of the final period, the Alpha Tau Omega frosh were nearly overtaken by Sigma Chi, being forced to stall the final minute in order to gain the 14 to 13 decision.

The two teams were about even the first two periods. Benz, forward for A. T. O., was high scorer of the encounter, collecting 6 points.

The lineup: Alpha Tau Omega—Benz and Morgan, forwards; Teyro, center; Franks and Minette, guards. Sigma Chi: Parsons and Minkel, forwards; Bjornstad, center; Winery and Hessel, guards.

Drawings have been made for the playoff of the three-way tie in section 1 of the "A" league with Sigma Phi Epsilon and Delta Chi playing each other Tuesday night and Kappa Sigma drawing a bye.

The Delta Tau Delta-Alpha Kappa Psi postponed game will also be played that night.

Morrison Turns in 68 in Third Round to Lead Pro Field

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Jan. 16 (AP)—Playing as he never did before in his tournament golf, Fred Morrison, Culver City, Cal., a big, long driving pro, dropped putts from long distances today to shoot a 68, four under par, and resume the lead in Agua Caliente's $15,000 open golf tournament with a 211 total at the end of the third round.

Morrison, whose only bid to fame is the fact he is Southern California open champion, led the opening round Wednesday, dropped back on Thursday with a 74, two over par, to tie for fourth place, and then flashed back today with a record tying card.

Coggeshall Named Top Ranking Net Performer in Iowa

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines was ranked number one among the Iowa tennis players in state rankings announced today by the Des Moines Tennis association. Frank Brody and Joe Van Kinkel, both of Des Moines, were ranked second and third.

In the doubles Brody and Merle Robins were given the top position. Dorothy Day of Des Moines headed the women's singles ranking and Lucille Kautenberger and Marjorie Eaton of Des Moines were placed at the top in the doubles.

The junior rankings placed Dick Rugg of Waterloo first, and he was paired with Joe Weissman of Waterloo for second position in the junior doubles, topped by Bob Hammer of Ames and William Wheatley of Des Moines.

Rifle Teams Shoot High in First Matches

The University of Iowa R.O.T.C. and varsity rifle teams have completed the firing of their first post-match of the season.

The R.O.T.C. 10 man team's match is with Lehigh university of Bethlehem, Pa. A five man varsity team's match is with the University of Maine, while the 10 man team competes with Washington university of St. Louis, and John Hopkins of Baltimore. The results from these schools are not yet in.

For the first matches of the season, Capt. R. O. Miller, coach of the teams, reports that the scores were exceptionally high, prospects for a winning team again this year being the brightest.

The highest totals were turned in by R. C. Ellis and V. Allison, both shooting 383 out of a possible 400 in the four positions. A. W. Eckhardt, G. Martin, and G. Amman all registered perfect scores of 100 in the prone position. The R.O.T.C. score was 3,639, two points better than the varsity.

The complete individual scores of the R.O.T.C. unit follows. It should be noted, however, that in the varsity list the names of the entire team except for F. Higbee should be included with their foregoing scores, those nine being eligible for both competitions.

Player	P.	S.	K.	S.	T.L.
Ellis	97	95	97	94	323
Allison	99	98	96	90	383
Eckhardt	100	97	98	84	379
Palik	99	97	93	85	374
Heskett	97	99	87	90	373
Kanak	97	97	94	83	371
Martin	100	92	94	80	366
Amman	100	88	88	81	357
Higbee	96	92	86	80	354
Palik	99	90	88	74	351

Totals 954 945 919 841 3689
Varsity
Totals 99 91 89 73 352

Totals 987 944 923 834 3687
(Including nine totals transferred from the R.O.T.C. results.)

Both Teams Seek Initial Big Ten Wins

Coach Williams to Rely on Usual Lineup for Game

The University of Iowa basketball team will continue its quest for a Big Ten victory in its game at Indiana's court tomorrow night.

Either the Hawkeyes or the Hoosiers will leave the conference cellar. Indiana has taken four straight defeats to Iowa's three.

Coach Rollie Williams' hopes for his team's initial triumph are based on his admittance to his men to play a cooler and steadier game.

To Take 10 Men

The men who will make the trip to Bloomington this afternoon are: Centers: Paul Brecher and Alex Rogers.

Forwards: Howard Moffitt, Lester Glick, Jack Kotlow, and Harold Eshleman.

Guards: Harold Swaney, Douglas Filkins, Herb Valett, and Roy Diwocky.

The Hoosiers' showing to date has been one of the puzzles of the Big Ten race. Always ranking high in conference basketball, they have absorbed beatings from Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois and last night from Minnesota by a 37 to 35 score.

Campbell, Hodson Stars

"Peed" Campbell, midget forward, and Hodson, one of the leading scorers of the Big Ten, are the Indians' principal offensive threats.

The weakness of the Hoosier guards is shown by the fact that more points have been scored against them than any other team in the conference, 115.

Coach Williams is expected to continue his reliance on the quintet of Howard Moffitt and the alternates Jack Kotlow and Harold Eshleman at the forwards; Alex Rogers at center; Douglas Filkins and Harold Swaney at the guards.

Basketball Results

Oklahoma 37; Iowa State 32.
Augsburg 27; Hamline 30.
New York U. 37; Pittsburgh 32.
Notre Dame 32; Pennsylvania 25.
Columbia 49; Cornell 36.
Army 43; Lehigh 23.
Washington U. 27; Oklahoma A. & M. 21.

COLLEGE WRESTLING

Illinois 24; Missouri 8.
Cornell 26; Minnesota 6.
Army 25; Rutgers 3.
Iowa State Teachers 29; Chicago 3.
Kansas State 16; Iowa State 13.
Michigan State 14 1/2; Michigan 13 1/2.
Oklahoma 24; Kansas 3.

Cornell College Wins Wrestling Dual With Minnesota Grapplers

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16 (AP)—Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Ia., outclassed the University of Minnesota at wrestling here today, winning 26 to 8.

Cornell grapplers won six of the eight bouts, four by falls and two by decisions.

Summary:
118 pounds—Fry, Cornell, defeated Stern, Minnesota; time advantage 7:08.
126 pounds—Round, Cornell, threw Draheim, Minnesota, 14:50 (overtime).

135 pounds—L. Morford, Cornell, threw Segal, Minnesota, 3:55, head scissors and arm hold.
145 pounds—S. Morford, Cornell, threw Mattson, Minnesota, 5:12, cradle and half nelson.

155 pounds—Palmer, Minnesota, defeated Zavoriski, Cornell. Time advantage 2:31.
165 pounds—Ellison, Cornell, threw Wasson, Minnesota, 2:49, head scissors and arm hold.

175 pounds—Swatze, Cornell, defeated Ahlstrom, Minnesota. Time advantage 4:29.
Heavyweight—Kroll, Minnesota, defeated Haloupek, Cornell. Time advantage 1:37.

Illini Wrestlers Win

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 16 (AP)—Illinois won six out of eight bouts today to defeat Missouri, 24 to 8, in a dual wrestling meet. The Illini won three bouts by falls, Puerta, 113 pounds, tossing Leick; Emmons throwing Reese, Missouri, 125 pounder, and Dowell throwing Fleming, in the 145 pound class.

Alexander Signs Up

DAVENPORT, Jan. 6 (AP)—Gro

Student Loan Fund Accepts $175 Donation

Proceeds of Military Ball Presented by Committee

The sum of $175, net surplus from the proceeds of the Military Ball, was presented to President Walter A. Jessup last night to be used for the student loan fund. The gift was made in the name of the Military Ball committee and the military department.

The letter accompanying the donation follows: Dr. Walter A. Jessup, President, State University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa.

The members of the Military Ball committee, and the military department, in an endeavor to do their part in alleviating the present economic situation and in aiding the students of the State University of Iowa, wish to present through you the sum of $175, the net surplus derived from the proceeds of the Military Ball.

We wish the members of the board of trustees to accept this small contribution as an evidence of an effort on the part of the committee and the military faculty to assist in raising the $10,000 which was set as the goal of the financial drive on the part of the faculty of the university.

This sum comes to you through the action of the Military Ball committee and expresses the good wishes of the committee and the good wishes of the committee and the good wishes of the committee.

- Respectively and sincerely, Military Ball committee, Cadet Col. William S. McCulley, chairman, Cadet Lieut. Col. Robert C. Ellis, Cadet Lieut. Col. George L. Evans, Cadet Lieut. Col. Clara C. Hodge, Cadet Lieut. Col. James G. Moravec, Cadet Major Leo J. Aschenbrenner, Cadet Major Raymond L. Birkholz, Cadet Major Alto E. Feller, Cadet Major Harold E. Hantelmann, Cadet Major Thomas F. Murray, Cadet Major William R. Noland, Cadet Major Harold L. Slison, Lieut. Col. Converse R. Lewis, professor of military science and tactics.

War Veteran Dies in Blaze

Killed When Trapped in Cellar of Burning House

WATERLOO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Ray Miller, 52, World war veteran, died from suffocation today when he was trapped in the basement of a burning house.

Miller, a sign painter, had been sleeping in the cellar for the last six weeks. The fire is believed to have been started by an overheated furnace.

When the stairs burned, the means of his escape was cut off. The body was found in the opposite side of the basement from the bed, which was near the furnace.

The damage to the house, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Leet and Announce Second Showing of Film, "Eyes of Science"

Requests of a number of persons have caused Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department, to announce a second showing of the three-reel motion picture, "Eyes of Science" tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the chemistry auditorium.

Experiments with newly developed optical apparatus form the basis of the picture. Binoculars, microscopes, telescopes, and other apparatus are described and are shown in actual use in individual experiments.

The film is presented by courtesy of the Bausch-Lomb Optical company. The chemistry and physics departments are cooperating in the showing.

Market Rests, Stock Prices Given Setback

Reactions in Principal Issues; Trading Dull

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 (AP)—A combination of profit-taking and short selling, based on the theory that the market was entitled to a rest after its exertions of the last ten days, gave stock prices a setback today.

Reactions of 1 to 2 points were numerous in principal issues, but the trading was dull. Bonds eased, U. S. governments working lower, although their decline flattened out.

Stocks Lower With the reconstruction finance corporation measure on the way to conference after its passage by both houses of congress, speculative quarters doubtless thought much of the good news on the current budget was out of the way and that realizing on recent gains was in order.

Stocks were lower throughout the session. Ralls appeared to be disappointed by the prospective length of the Chicago conversations, Santa Fe, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific losing a couple of points, American Telephone, maintenance of whose $3 dividend rate is still being questioned by the skeptical dropped 2 but reduced the sag to a fraction.

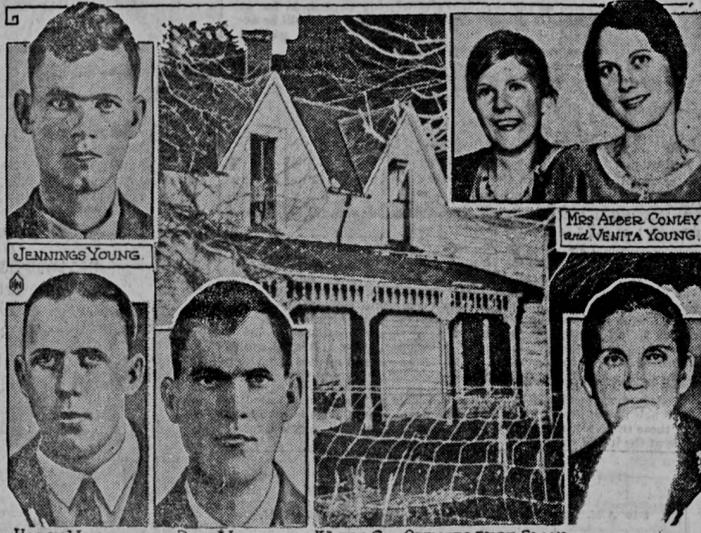

Drop 1 Point U. S. Steel, American Can, General Electric, Allied Chemical, General Motors and Du Pont were down in the neighborhood of a point. American Sugar declined 3 to a record low. Transfers totaled 731,615 shares.

Sponsor Legislative Bills DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa League of Municipalities legislative committee voted to sponsor two legislative bills in the next session of the general assembly. One would permit diversion of $2,500,000 from the primary to the secondary road fund and the other would provide the return to municipalities and counties of half of the license fees for trucks owned within their borders.

Three children, was estimated at $1,000.

Another blaze, shortly before the fire in which Miller was killed, resulted in a $2,000 loss. The cause was not determined. The occupants of the second dwelling, the R. C. Galspale and J. R. Tabor families, were away at the time.

Young Brothers Commit Suicide in Preference to Capture; Mother's Wish

HARRY YOUNG PAUL YOUNG WHERE SIX OFFICERS WERE SLAIN

HOUSTON, Tex. — What is probably the strangest wish ever made by a mother regarding her offspring was realized in dramatic manner when Harry Young and his brother, Jennings, slayers of six peace officers in Springfield, Mo., committed suicide, preferring death to capture.

The mother, Mrs. W. H. Oung, who was held for questioning after the terrific gun battle at her farmhouse, voiced the wish to authorities that they should allow the law to exact its penalty for their crimes.

Mrs. Young's remarkable attitude will seem strange to mothers of more worthy children. A woman's maternal instinct is to protect her child to the last ditch and even though the world may point an accusing finger at the being she brought into the world, she never ceases to regard her boy as a baby.

One finds it hard to imagine the Young killers as babies, but if one were privileged to look inside their mother's mind, the picture of her children which she treasures there would doubtless be as they were when they first began to utter baby words. Who could foresee at that time that such tiny morsels of humanity would one day write their names in blood on the history of their state as calloused murderers? Or who could see in those tiny tots desperadoes whose deeds rival the worst ever perpetrated by the notorious Jesse James gang, the Daltons of the Youngers, bad men in the real sense of the word whose deprecations are still a byword?

Mrs. Young had eight children altogether. Four were boys. Of that straight and narrow path, the other three, Harry, Jennings and Paul, were just naturally bad and soon came into contact with the wrong side of the law.

Maybe they had that mental kink that makes crimes such as those perpetrated by such celebrated outlaws as the Jameses seem epics of gallantry. But whatever the reason, the three Youngs didn't take long to acquire prison records and an unwholesome contempt for law and order.

The climax of their career of lawlessness, which finally rung down the curtain on their activities, was the gun battle at the Young farmhouse near Springfield, Mo. Harry, sought for a murder he was suspected of having committed two years ago, was run to earth there by the merest accident. His mother and sisters, Venita and Mrs. Albee Conley, were questioned regarding an automobile accident and inadvertently betrayed the fact that their wanted brother was at the farm.

What happened when the posse surrounded the house to arrest him is history. Harry and his two brothers opened fire, killing six of the officers and wounding three others. Their escape to Texas was nothing short of miraculous, considering the number of state police, deputies, special officers and volunteers who aided in the chase.

The fact that they reached the end of their criminal trail so quickly proves that the days of the Jesse Jameses and Daltons are over. No longer can a desperado just jump on a horse and gallop off laughing at the law. The Young boys utilized autos for their get-away, but they could not escape the meshes of the net justice had spread for them.

Their suicide was the last desperate act of trapped rats that knew that the hand of the law was approaching inexorably to exact retribution for their bloody lawlessness. In the light of what their mother had hoped, their self-destruction may also have been the only act of their brief but hectic careers that carried the stamp of maternal approval.

President Reappoints Hird U. S. Marshal of Southern District

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Fred S. Hird of Des Moines today was reappointed as United States marshal for the southern district of Iowa by President Hoover.

Hird was named to the position in 1928, succeeding Roy Gault of Des Moines.

An expert rifleman, Hird was a close friend of Senator Smith W. Brookhart and competed with him in several national and international rifle matches.

Award $6,000 Verdict OMAHA (AP)—A verdict for $6,000 in favor of Bernice Lezczowski of Omaha against James E. Noel and son of Macedonia, Ia., was returned by a federal court jury. She asked $25,000 damages for the fatal injury to her father who was struck by a truck driven by the younger Noel, Everett.

Name New General DES MOINES (AP)—Maj. R. A. Lancaster of Davenport was inducted as state assistant adjutant general.

NEVER In the History of Motion Pictures -- Has There Been One --

"To Equal This Cast!"

-8 BIG STARS-

WALLACE CLARK BEERY GABLE in HELL DIVERS with CONRAD NAGEL DOROTHY JORDAN MARJORIE RAMBEAU CLIFF EDWARDS MARIE PREVOST JOHN MILJAN Women will thrill to its swift romance... men will love its amazing drama! FIRST TIMES TODAY ENGLERT Ends Wednesday

Classical Journal Presents History, Language, Literature of Ancients; Flickinger Edits, Manages Magazine

By KNUD HARTOFT "Wherefore now do you too never be gentle toward your wife, nor make known to her every word that you know, but declare a part and let a part be concealed." Odysseus XI, 223f.

When not in Rome, read the Classical Journal. The ancients, their literature, language, history and habits make more captivating reading material than is commonly supposed.

Discussions by experts, covering the complete field of classical languages and the revelations obtained by study of them, are presented in the Classical Journal, a monthly magazine of nearly a hundred pages.

Bobbed Hair Since Candia in "Epodes" had brevis vipers entwined in her hair, and the serpents matched her locks, the latter must have been bobbed, in a conclusion drawn in one article in the February, 1932, issue recently published. In a more serious vein Prof. Edward G. Shau-roth of the University of Buffalo presents Aristotle's view of tragedy.

Book reviews, editorial comment, hints to teachers of Latin and Greek are other examples of the contents of this journal. It is published by the Classical Association of the Middle West and South, with the cooperation of the Classical Association of the Pacific states.

Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, head of the department of classical languages, is editor and business manager, having held that position for four years. Other editors are Russell N. Geer of Brown university, Arthur T. Walker of the University of Kansas, Arthur P. McKinlay of the University of California.

The roster of associate editors lists Frederic S. Dunn of the University of Oregon, W. A. Ellis, Lombard, Ill., Calla A. Guyles of the University of Wisconsin, George Howe of the University of North Carolina, Fred J. Lazell of the University of Iowa, Daniel W. Lotherman of East high school, Cleveland, Walter Miller of the University of Missouri and John Barker Stearns of Dartmouth college.

Nearly 7,000 Copies The monthly output of 6,300 to 6,900 copies is printed at Cedar Rapids, Ia., and mailed to subscribers in all parts of the United States and foreign countries. As official publication of the Classical Association, the membership fee of that organization covers the subscription.

A complete topical and alphabetical index for all volumes published during the 25 years of the magazine's existence has been prepared by Franklin H. Potter, professor of classical languages, converting the files of the publication into a source of information for teachers and students.

WSUI PROGRAM

- 6 p.m.—Dinner hour program, Iowa Union grill orchestra.
- 9:15 p.m.—Familiar hymns program, Congregational choir.
- For Tomorrow
- 9 a.m.—News, markets, weather, music and daily smile.
- 11 a.m.—Within the classroom, "History of the west," Prof. Louis Polzer.
- 12 a.m.—Luncheon hour program, Robert Manley.
- 2 p.m.—Within the classroom, "Classical music," Prof. Philip G. Clapp.
- 3 p.m.—Sidelights on astronomy, Prof. Charles C. Wylie.
- 3:20 p.m.—Musical program, Robert Manley.
- 3:40 p.m.—Musical program, Christian association.
- 6 p.m.—Dinner hour program, Iowa Union grill orchestra.
- 7 p.m.—Late news flashes, The Daily Iowan.
- 8 p.m.—Understanding your child, Iowa Child Welfare research station.
- 8:20 p.m.—Musical program, Mrs. Louise Gibbons Suplee.
- 9 p.m.—Late news flashes, The Daily Iowan.
- 9:10 p.m.—Department of speech.

Iowa Transit Issue Out Tomorrow

The January issue of "The Iowa Transit," publication of the Associated Students of Engineering, will be distributed tomorrow in the engineering building.

This is the special alumni issue and directory. A complete list of all alumni of the college of engineering that are known has been compiled and composes the largest part of the issue.

Three articles about prominent alumni are featured. "Engineering in another field" tells about Clifford Von Hoene, '24, who is now general training supervisor for the Southern Bell Telephone company at Atlanta, Ga. "An Iowa grad new head of Postal Telegraph," describes the career of Major General George S. Gibbs, '97. A mapping project completed by Lieut. James F. Phillips, '22, of the corps of engineers of the army, and Capt. A. W. Stevens of the air service is also described.

The Rev. W. B. Polacsek, priest of Menasha, Wis., raises hundreds of tropical fish as a hobby.

STRAND THEATRE

NEXT Wednesday

ANOTHER "SUNNYSIDE UP!"

DELICIOUS Is The Word For It!

Delicious

with JANET GAYNOR CHARLES FARRELL EL BRENDEN Music by GEORGE GERSHWIN FOX PICTURE

STRAND THEATRE

Now!

25c Bargain Matinee

TODAY Until 6 P.M.

All Star Dramatic Hit

Direct From Chicago's Leading Theatre—The Roosevelt!

Leo Carrillo

(Star of "Lasca" and "Homicide Squad")

Constance Cummings Robert Young Emma Dunn

Boris Karloff

(Star of "Frankenstein")

Mark this down: this will be one of the most talked-about dramas in years!

THE GUILTY GENERATION

"Laughing With Medbury in Borneo"

Scrappy Cartoon "Thru the Night" Comedy

Fox Movietone News

STRAND THEATRE NEXT TUESDAY PREVIEW One Day Only We Promise—As Fine a Show As! "Bad Girl" FIRST SHOWING ANYWHERE! JAMES DUNN SALLY EILERS Sweethearts of "Bad Girl" Dance Team Directed by Sidney Lanfield Story by Sarah Addington FOX Picture

STRAND THEATRE NEXT TUESDAY PREVIEW One Day Only We Promise—As Fine a Show As! "Bad Girl" FIRST SHOWING ANYWHERE! JAMES DUNN SALLY EILERS Sweethearts of "Bad Girl" Dance Team Directed by Sidney Lanfield Story by Sarah Addington FOX Picture

PASTIME THEATRE

COME NOW! Continuous Shows TODAY

Here is the Funniest Comedy You Have Ever Seen IT'S A RIOT!

WORLD'S GREATEST CLOWNS RUNNING RIOT IN RENO

WHEELER WOOLSEY

DOROTHY LEE... ZELMA O'NEAL... JOSEPH CAWTHORN

IN THEIR ROARING COMEDY PEACH O' RENO

Rampagin' Rollick... Whoopin' Fun... Sure Divorce From All Gloom as the Boys Turn the Town Upside Down!

Divorces $99.00 Now $74.99

Latest Pathé News Detective Thriller "Facing the Gallows" Krazy Kat Cartoon Comedy

"MASQUERADE" By Faith Baldwin

Copyright 1931, by Faith Baldwin
Distributed by King Features, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Lonely Fanchon Meredith is wanted by the San Francisco police in connection with a murder committed by her sweetheart, "Tony." Fanchon did not know he was a gunman. She escapes by airplane under the name of "Smith." About it Evelyn Howard, whom Fanchon had met on a voyage from Hawaii. Evelyn is going to New York to live with her aunt, the wealthy Mrs. Carstairs, whom she never saw. The plane crashes and Fanchon is the only survivor. To get away from Tony and the past, she goes to the Carstairs home as "Evelyn." A strong bond of affection grows between Mrs. Carstairs and her "niece," Collin Carstairs, the son, is at first antagonistic because of his "cousin's" Hawaiian escapades and her self-righteous attitude when his mother offered aid, but Fanchon's sincerity overcomes his objections. They fall in love. After a happy summer at Southampton, Fanchon makes her debut in New York. Collin, though realizing their relationship is a barrier, cannot resist professional success. Fanchon cannot acknowledge hers without revealing her identity. Later, Tony locates Fanchon and informs her that Evelyn is alive, but has lost her memory. He threatens to expose Fanchon unless she introduces him to Mrs. Carstairs as "Evelyn." She calls at the Carstairs home and is accepted by Mrs. Carstairs and Collin although they are skeptical of her. Fanchon has no alternative but to agree to Tony's demands that she induce Mrs. Carstairs to wear her emeralds to the Van Suydam Ball. Tony wears a Romeo costume similar to Collin's. On the way to the ball, Collin and Fanchon profess their love. Fanchon slips away and returns home with Tony. The latter stays on the terrace awaiting an opportunity to steal the jewels. Fanchon frustrates Tony's plans and has Mrs. Carstairs summon Collin. Tony reveals Fanchon's identity. The latter relates her story. Tony promises to disclose Evelyn's whereabouts if freed.

Collin leaped through the broken windows after him.

CHAPTER XXIX

Collin laughed. His face, worn and tired, lighted with authentic amusement. He said to Fanchon briefly, "Light him a cigarette, will you? And give it to him. Carefully. It is, of course, to remember that I am a good shot."

She did so. Tony inserted it between his lips and drew a long breath. Mrs. Carstairs had left the room. In another room they heard her say, "Long distance, please. What are they waiting for?"

"What did you say your name was—your given name?"

"Fanchon," she answered low, knowing he spoke to her.

"Tell me, Fanchon—I can't look at you, I have to keep my eyes on your friend. Tell me—why?"

"I have," she whispered.

"No, I understand all that. But, why? Remember our drive, through the park. Why...?" he urged her. His voice was something that pulled at her heartstrings.

She said, evasively:

"I don't mean to know, after the hue and cry died down to slip away from all of you, where no one would ever find me."

"Of course. But you stayed. And that brings me back to—why?"

She said, "I think you know."

"You do love me, don't you?" asked Collin quietly, his eyes still on Tony.

"Yes," said Fanchon, "I do love you, Collin."

Tony said something under his breath.

"I understand Italian," Collin told him. "I'm sorry to have to conduct this inquiry with an audience, but it can't be helped. That is all I wanted to know—Fanchon."

He spoke lightly. But he looked years younger. Mrs. Carstairs was talking; she had made her connection. It had gone through without difficulty, at that late, dawn-approaching hour. She was speaking eagerly. They could not hear her words. After what seemed a long time during which there was silence in the library, she came back to them. Her face was flushed and her eyes very sad.

"He lied," she said, to Fanchon. "Evelyn—died. And under the name of Miss Smith. She is buried out there. There is a death certificate. All necessary proof. We will go out," she said sadly, "and bring her home."

Fanchon screamed, suddenly, her hand clenched to her mouth too late, her nerves taut to the breaking point. "Tony—why did you do it—why?"

"He said, 'evening.'"

"I thought perhaps it would be a little hold over you, my dear. I wasn't sure of you. Later, if my little plan had worked out all right, I would have told you—"

"Then how did you find me?" she demanded wildly.

"By asking. By describing. I showed the doctor... your picture. Do you recall it... we had it taken one day together, at an amusement place?... 'This is the girl who died?'" I asked. He looked puzzled. 'No, that is Miss Howard,' he answered. 'It is a very good likeness.' I made further inquiries and slowly arrived at a little of the truth. The rest is as I have already told you, your photograph in the New York papers and so the pieces fitted into the puzzle and soon the whole thing lay in my hands."

"Now," he ended defiantly, "what are you going to do with me? With her?"

He looked at Collin as he spoke.

"Turn you over to the police. For attempted robbery," Collin answered pleasantly.

"They have my record here," said Tony. "I'll go up for a long stretch. I'm wanted badly in San Francisco. It will all break in the papers. Fanchon's part of it. Your part."

Fanchon said, wildly.

"You're not to think of me—Collin. Just of yourself and your mother."

"While you are thinking," remarked Tony suddenly, "I'd like a breath of fresh air!"

He rose, quite free. His hand was still holding the cigarette... he had burned through the cord about his legs. He plunged through the doors onto the terrace. There were fire escapes around on the other part of the roof. There was a crash of glass. Collin leaped through the broken windows after him, heedless of his bare feet. The women stayed where they were, held by shock. Fanchon, her knees breaking under her, slid to the floor and somehow got to Mrs. Carstairs on her knees.

"Will you ever forgive me?" she said softly. "I'm afraid for him."

"The other woman laid a hand on her hair.

"Hush... Collin is armed," she said softly. "Wait."

She rose and went forward to ring for Jameson, to arouse the night watchman also. But there was a scream. A high-pitched, terrible scream. Mrs. Carstairs stood still. Her hand was on the bell. Every vestige of color had drained from her face. Her face was gray and empty. "Not—Collin...?" she asked softly. "Not—Collin...?"

Fanchon could not speak. Her eyes were distended in horror. She held her throat with one hand. A moment passed. It was a year. It was eternity.

Someone stood at the shattered French window. It was Collin. He was white. He spoke hoarsely. The gun was limp in his hand.

"Over the parapet to the flat roof"—he said, dully—"I didn't fire... then... I waited till he was by the fire escape... he pulled a knife on me... I fired... He has fallen," said Collin, "to the street..."

The entire world went black before Fanchon's eyes. She was falling, too; it was like the accident, repeated in a nightmare... there was cold sweat on her body, she felt deathly sick... she lost consciousness... hearing exclamations... feeling an arm hold her, bear her up toward light. But there was no light.

Copyright 1931 by Faith Baldwin
Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Pool Reports Bring Grain Market Rise

CHICAGO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Abrupt advances of more than 3 cents in wheat and 2 cents in corn today accompanied reports of a big pool formed to buy commodities.

Houses with eastern connections purchased wheat future delivery contracts on a large scale and hoisted values to the topmost point since the middle of December. The basis given for these operations was belief that adoption of credit relief and other constructive measures at Washington would stimulate general buying of commodities as well as securities.

Wheat closed buoyant at the highest level reached, 1-7/8 to 2 1/2 above yesterday's finish, corn 1 1/2 to 2 1/4, and oats 1-2 to 3 advanced, and provisions showing 5 to 10 cents gain.

Corn showed almost as much strength as wheat. Numerous stop-loss orders for previous speculative sellers of corn were forced into execution. Oats followed wheat and corn.

Provisions responded to grain price advances and to a decrease in stocks of lard here.

Closing indemnities: wheat—May 57 3/4 to 7-8, 61 1/2; July 56 7-8, 59 7-8; Sept. 57 7-8, bids. Corn—March 41 1/2, offers; May 41 1/2, 43 1-2 to 3; July 42 1-2, 45.

Coralville News

Mrs. Carrie Fairchild and Mrs. Al Green visited Mrs. Fairchild's brother, Charles Koser at West Branch Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. D. W. Bowers is seriously ill at her home in Coralville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sterlane visited relatives in Iowa City Friday evening.

Mrs. Charles Kershner has been confined to her home for a week with illness.

Mrs. Argo Gaunt, who fell a few weeks ago at her home in Coralville and injured her leg, is recovering. Her daughter, Mrs. Emma Hinkley of Albert Lea, Minn., is staying with her.

Mrs. H. W. Fairchild has returned from the University hospital, where she has been treated for a broken ankle, suffered when she fell at her home a few weeks ago. Her

Resigning Post

After serving for over 21 years as president of the United States Steel corporation, James A. Farrell (above) has announced that he will retire from his position on April 18 next, at the time of the annual meeting of the stockholders. Farrell was selected for the responsible post by J. P. Morgan and took office in January, 1911. No successor has yet been appointed.

ankle will be in a cast for several weeks.

Seven tables of progressive euchre were played at a party at Coralville town hall Friday night under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association. Those who received prizes are: Mrs. Ray Bothell, Charles Skryer, Mrs. Delos Francis, B. F. Robinson, Mrs. Thomas Carl, and Frank Hemphill.

Psychologist Finds Slight Decrease in Ability of Smokers

DES MOINES, Jan. 16 (AP)—Only a slight correlation was found between smoking and non-smoking high school students and their attitude for law by Professor E. G. Lockhart of the Drake university psychology department.

Professor Lockhart submitted an aptitude test to 263 Nebraska students and Professor F. M. Gregg of Nebraska Wesleyan university sent them questionnaires on their smoking habits.

Non-smokers and occasional smokers, they found, had an average of 94 per cent. Students who smoked had a score of 92 per cent.

The law aptitude test consisted mostly of hypothetical questions concerning whether persons in certain situations acted wrongly or rightly.

Chicago's new municipal airport terminal cost $774,000.

Iowa Miners Make Record Coal Increase

CENTERVILLE, Jan. 16 (AP)—Officials of the McConville Coal company today pointed to a production record of one of their three mines in Appanoose county as "cause for optimism."

M. B. McConville said the 895 tons produced at the North mine Thursday bettered a mark of 135 tons a mark set by the now abandoned Streepyville mine during the World war.

McConville emphasized that this new production peak, made possible by "the fine spirit and cooperation" of the 475 employees, was made "despite a mild winter" in the Appanoose county coal field.

Two other mines belonging to the company brought Thursday's total production to 1,925 tons. A total of 22 cars included 15 carloads of lump coal, three of egg, and four of screenings.

Iowa Goes to New York
DES MOINES (AP)—Miss Frances Brophy, field worker for the Iowa Tuberculosis association, left for New York where she will become a staff member of the National association.

Phone 290 READ THESE CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified Advertising Rates

SPECIAL CASH RATES—A special discount for cash will be allowed on all Classified Advertising accounts paid within six days from expiration date of the ad.

Take advantage of the cash rates printed in Bold type below.

No. of Words	Lines	One Day		Two Days		Three Days		Four Days		Five Days		Six Days
		Charge	Cash	Charge	Cash	Charge	Cash	Charge	Cash	Charge	Cash	Charge	Cash
Up to 10	3	.28	.25	.33	.30	.43	.38	.51	.46	.59	.54	.68	.62
10 to 15	3	.28	.25	.33	.30	.43	.38	.51	.46	.59	.54	.68	.62
15 to 20	4	.39	.35	.47	.40	.62	1.03	.84	1.17	1.06	1.30	1.18	1.46
20 to 25	5	.50	.45	.66	.56	1.14	1.30	1.16	1.46	1.33	1.61	1.46	1.86
25 to 30	6	.61	.56	.81	1.10	1.39	1.56	1.42	1.74	1.58	1.91	1.74	2.22
30 to 35	7	.72	.65	1.43	1.50	1.63	1.48	1.83	1.66	2.02	1.84	2.22	2.62
35 to 40	8	.83	.75	1.95	1.50	1.87	1.70	2.09	1.90	2.31	2.10	2.53	2.50
40 to 45	9	.94	.85	1.87	1.70	2.11	1.92	2.35	2.14	2.40	2.30	2.58	2.58
45 to 50	10	1.05	.95	2.09	1.90	2.36	2.14	2.52	2.38	2.68	2.62	3.15	2.86
50 to 55	11	1.16	1.05	2.31	2.10	2.60	2.35	2.89	2.62	3.17	2.88	3.45	3.14
55 to 60	12	1.27	1.15	2.53	2.30	2.84	2.58	3.15	2.86	3.49	3.14	3.76	3.42

Minimum charge 25c. Special long term rates furnished on request. Each word in the advertisement must be counted. The prefix "For Sale," "For Rent," "Lost," and similar ones at the beginning of ads are to be counted in the total number of words in the ad. The number and letter in a blind ad are to be counted as one word. Classified display, 50c per inch. Business cards per column inch, $5.00 per month. Classified advertising in by 4 p. m. will be published the following morning.

Lost and Found 7

LOST—GREEN AND BLACK Schaeffer pen, Reward. Call 3208-W.

LOST—YELLOW ANGORA Kitten, Phone 3075-W, Reward.

LOST—SMALL BLACK CASE containing Oxford glasses—Finder call 1172.

LOST—BLACK CORONA TYPE-writer on Dec. 18. Reward. Call at Daily Iowan office.

LOST—GREEN WHITE GOLD wrist watch in east Iowa City, black ribbon band. Reward. Phone 1033.

For Rent or Sale 73

FOR RENT—SMALL FURNISHED home, 922 E. Davenport. Phone 558-J.

FEMALE HELP WANTED 30

WANTED—STUDENT GIRL for part time board job. Neatness essential. Apply Stemen's Cafe.

Transfer—Storage 24

LONG DISTANCE AND GENERAL hauling. Furniture moved, crated and shipped. Pool cars for California and Seattle. Thompson Transfer Co.

Wanted—Laundry 83

WANTED—LAUNDRY, 600 DOZ garments, Washed and ironed. We call for and deliver. Phone 1351-W

WANTED—LAUNDRY, PHONE 3516-W.

WANTED—STUDENTS' LAUNDRY, 19 W. Bloomington.

IT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE A BIG advertisement to be seen. You saw this one, didn't you?

Special Notices 66

WANTED—POSITION AS COOK in fraternity or sorority. Best of references. C. M. H., Daily Iowan.

Musical—Radio 57

PIANO TUNING, W. L. MORGAN, Phone 1476.

Apartments and Flats 67

FOR RENT—CLOSE IN, WELL heated furnished light housekeeping apartment, Dryers, 530 E. Washington.

FOR RENT—MODERN APARTMENT, Nicely furnished, Iowa Furniture Co., Phone 194.

FOR RENT—2 ROOM APARTMENT, Phone 1409 day, 2882 evening.

FOR RENT—APARTMENTS, Phone 2000.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED APARTMENT, Close in, Reasonable, 505 E. Washington.

FOR RENT—TWO ROOM APARTMENT, warm, quiet, comfortable, 512 N. Gilbert.

FOR RENT—THREE ROOM apartment, Also room and kitchenette, 419 N. Dubuque, Phone 2882.

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE APARTMENT, Close in 219 N. Capitol.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED apartment by day, week, or month. Inquire Iowas Drug Store.

Houses for Rent 71

FOR RENT—FURNISHED 3 ROOM modern house, 2nd semester or longer. Most desirable neighborhood. Close in, Phone 3607.

FOR RENT—TEN ROOM MODERN house, has been occupied by fraternity. Partly furnished or unfurnished. Call 1699.

FOR RENT—VERY DESIRABLE 6 room modern house, 1315-J.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED WARM room for one or two people. Call 1740.

Wanted to Buy 61

WANTED TO BUY—INEXPENSIVE chest of drawers or bureau. Call 2410-W.

Professional Services 27

PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER NOTES AND THESES TYPED accurately and reasonably. Mimeographing, Notary Public. Mary V. Burns No. 8 Paul Hesen Bldg.

Business Service Offered 16

Attention Graduate Students Thesis Typed Mabel J. Krofta Phone 195 Johnson County Bk. Bldg.

KEYS MADE, GUNS REPAIRED Russell Repair Shop, 23 E. College.

Musical and Dancing 40

DANCING SCHOOL—BALLROOM tap and step dancing, Phone 114 Burkley Hotel, Prof. Houghton.

DANCING SCHOOL—BALLROOM dancing by class Monday and Friday night, 7:30 p.m. Phone 114 Burkley Hotel, Prof. Houghton.

PRIVATE LESSONS—BALLROOM dancing, Phone 3628. Mrs. Walter E. Schwob.

Houses for Sale 75

FOR SALE—6 room home. Reasonable. Phone 988-W.

A BARGAIN Property at 633 Brown St. Phone 307.

Housekeeping Rooms 64

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM and kitchenette. Phone 1941.

For Sale Miscellaneous 47

FOR SALE—PRACTICALLY NEW new Remington portable typewriter. Very reasonable. Call 2269.

Heating—Plumbing—Roofing

WANTED—PLUMBING AND heating. Larow Co. 110 So. Gilbert. Phone 280.

Rooms Without Board 63

FOR RENT—VERY NICE ROOM for girl close in. Call 1531-W.

FOR RENT—BETTER THAN ORDINARY. Two-room suite, newly furnished, adjacent to bath, hot water heat, suitable for two graduate students or professors. No other rooms. Phone 3662.

ROOMS FOR RENT—COZY SOUTH room near hospital. Phone 395-J.

FOR RENT—ROOMS, FURNISHED for light housekeeping. Call 3658-W.

FOR RENT—ROOMS FOR MEN across from chemistry building. University heat, $9.00 or $10. Phone 596.

FOR RENT—NICELY FURNISHED rooms with private bath for girls. Close in. Available second semester. 328 So. Capital.

FOR RENT—THREE DOUBLE modern approved rooms for men. Reasonable. 430 E. Jefferson. Phone 2296.

FOR RENT—SINGLE OR DOUBLE rooms for men. 22 E. Court.

FOR RENT—ROOMS FOR MEN, close in, $10. Call 4435, 528 E. Washington.

FOR RENT—FRONT ROOM. Strictly modern. Phone 2824. 347 S. Governor.

FOR RENT—ROOM FOR MARRIED couple. Inexpensive. Woman can work for board. Call 3757.

FOT RENT—TWO NICE WARM rooms—approved for three or four girls. Very reasonable. Furnished kitchenette privileges included. Phone 3121-W.

FOR RENT—CLEAN, WARM room. Phone 1556.

FOR RENT—UNUSUALLY FINE room with private tile bath, private entrance, garage. Prefer business persons, instructors or graduate student. Phone 3564-W.

FOR RENT—VERY LARGE attractive room with phonograph, $20. Steam heat. Men. 14 N. Johnson. Phone 2338.

By J. P. McEvoy and J. H. Striebel

DIXIE DUGAN—

POOR DIXIE—WHAT A DISAPPOINTMENT—SHE MADE A DATE WITH A HANDSOME ELEGANT CUSTOMER SHE KNEW AS "REGINALD WARRINGTON" AND THEN DISCOVERED THAT HE WAS APPARENTLY A PAL OF HER DETESTED COMPETITOR, MIKE CRINGER—SO OF COURSE SHE BROKE OFF THE DATE, BUT—

MICKEY, I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT—HOW A MAN LIKE MR WARRINGTON COULD BE A FRIEND OF AN AWFUL LOW-DOWN CREATURE LIKE THAT MIKE—

WELL, EITHER MIKE IS MUCH NICER THAN WE THINK HE IS, OR YOUR MR. HANDSOME IS MUCH WORSE THAN WE THINK HE IS

HE SAID HE'D EXPLAIN—MAYBE HE CAN—I DID THINK I LIKED HIM, AND IF HE CAME IN AGAIN—OH, GEE, I WISH I KNEW WHAT TO DO ABOUT A MAN LIKE THAT—

DEARIE—IT ALL DEPENDS ON WHAT YOU KNOW ABOUT A MAN LIKE THAT—

IF YOU KNOW A LOT, YOU CAN DO A LOT—IF YOU DON'T KNOW MUCH, DON'T DO MUCH—

—AND IF YOU DON'T KNOW ANYTHING—DON'T DO ANYTHING—

YOU'RE A GREAT HELP—

WATCH FOR SPECIAL HOME DINNER MENUS CONTRIBUTED BY READERS.

Directory of Nationally Known Products and Services and Where to Purchase Them in Iowa City

Below you will find listed America's most famous brands of merchandise and well known services and the names of the Iowa City merchants that are able and willing to serve you. Read the list. Read it often. You will be happily surprised to learn that many articles you did not know were sold in Iowa City can be obtained without difficulty and without delay.

AUTOMOBILES—SERVICES

Automobiles

CHEVROLET sales & service
Nall Chevrolet Co., 120 E. Burlington, Phone 451

RADIO SALES & SERVICES

CROSLEY radios
McNamara Furniture Co., 229 E. Wash., Phone 208

MAJESTIC-GE-Victor & Philco radios
Spencer's Harmony Hall, 15 S. Dubuque, Phone 387

HOME FURNISHINGS

WHITTALL RUGS
Strubs, South Clinton St. Phone 88

ARMSTRONG LINOLEUMS
Strubs, South Clinton St. Phone 88

MARSHALL FIELD & SCHUMACHER
Drapery Fabrics, Strubs (second floor)

KIRSCH Drapery Hardware
Strubs (second floor) S. Clinton street. Phone 88

DU PONT Tontine window shades
Strubs (second floor) S. Clinton street. Phone 88

MEN'S WEAR

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX clothes
Coats, 10 S. Clinton, Phone 48

HOME APPLIANCES

Refrigerators

NORGE ELECTRIC refrigerators
Strubs—second floor. Phone 88

Washers

VOSS WASHERS
I. C. Light & Power Co., 211 E. Wash., Phone 121

MATTAG WASHERS
Strubs, South Clinton St., Phone 88

LOANS

$50 to $300
Families living in Iowa City and immediate vicinity can secure financial assistance on short notice. We make loans of $50 to $300 on very reasonable terms. Repay us with one small, uniform payment each month; if desired you have 20 months to pay.
We accept furniture, autos, livestock, diamonds, etc., as security. FARMERS—Inquire about our special Farm Loan Plan.
If you wish a loan, see our local representative—
J. R. Baschnagel & Son
217 J. C. Bank Bldg. Phone 195
Representing
Alliber and Company
Equitable Bldg. Des Moines

BATTERY CHARGING
Call 505
Goody's Tire Service
215 So. Clinton St.

Now is the time to enter Winter Term at IRISH'S BUSINESS COLLEGE
206 1/2 E. Washington St.
New Classes formed
Including U. S. Government Civil Service Course
House Phone 553

VeDepo's Barber Shop
423 E. Washington St., one and a half blocks east of New Post Office.
Hair Cutting: Adults—40c;
Children—35c
OPEN EVENINGS

Use the Daily Iowan Want Ads

KEEP YOUR EYE on The Daily Iowan Business Directory "You'll Save Money"

Kennett Asks for Funds to Help Jobless

Will Require $2,400 to Assure Aid for Unemployed

Setting $2,400 a month as its goal, the American Legion Unemployment association is appealing to all Iowa City organizations for contributions. So far, approximately $1,200 has been spent by the association, but it will require double that amount to assure employment for the 35 men and 50 women who are in need of help, according to Charles Kennett, chairman of the relief committee.

Letters appealing for cooperation have been sent to every organization in the city, stressing the urgency of the need for unemployment relief. Several have already responded with contributions.

City Engineer Donates

One of the first donations came from the city engineer's office, pledging a bi-weekly offer of from $8.50 to $14.50. A check for $25 came from the Elks ladies club. The Home Oil company responded with $12.50 and the Business and Professional Woman's league gave $14. An unexpected contribution came from the T. I. E. Circuit Breaker company of Philadelphia. This company is distributing two per cent of its gross monthly receipts among relief organizations throughout the country. Their contribution to the local cause amounted to $6.13.

Given Community Work

Men who apply for work are being given employment on various community projects. Ninety-six man hours of work have already been expended toward the cleaning of Ralston creek. The new cemetery addition has taken 43 hours. Other projects are the improvement of the airport and the construction of a children's playground on the west side.

The association emphasizes the employment of men for small jobs around the home. Men for such work as cleaning sidewalks, raking leaves, and other odd jobs can be obtained by phoning the unemployment committee headquarters, phone 4221.

Keep Walks Clean

The committee will keep a list of addresses of persons who want their sidewalks cleaned off and will send men around to do the work when it is necessary.

Work is being done at present on Ralston creek and will continue through the week.

C. of C. to Initiate With Farm Bureau

Newly elected officers of the Chamber of Commerce and the Johnson County Farm Bureau will be inaugurated at a joint luncheon meeting tomorrow noon.

New officers of the Farm Bureau are: Glen Hope, president; Glen Burr, vice president; R. N. Spencer, secretary; John L. Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Williams, home project chairman; Mrs. Dewey Swanson, girls 4-H club chairman; Mrs. Emil Meyer, boys 4-H club chairman.

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce who are to be inaugurated are: Herman Smith, president; E. A. Chappell, vice president; J. A. Padden, treasurer. New directors will be: Vern W. Bales, E. A. Chappell, William L. Davis, Harold L. Hands, Jay J. McNamara, George Nagle, F. E. Olsen, C. A. Phillips, A. B. Skidwell, Merritt C. Speidel and Henry G. Walker.

Charge 3 With Thefts

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP)—Three men giving the names of Harold H. Harris, Glenn Searey, and Orland Clements of Truman, Minn., were charged with robbing 15 oil stations between Spirit Lake, Ia., and Lewisville, Minn.

Found Romance

A romance that started to bud when Dr. Harold Barnes, of Whitehall, Mich., accompanied Commander Richard Byrd on his antarctic expedition, blossomed into flower when Dr. Barnes led Phillis M. Creig to the altar. The couple met at the bride's home in New Zealand in 1928, when the Byrd expedition was en route to the pole. The newlyweds are shown looking at a picture of the bride's native city.

Official Daily Bulletin

(Continued from page 6)

University Calendar

Sunday, January 17

3:30 p.m. Musical and Tea, University Club
6:00 p.m. Negro Forum, L. A. Drawing Room

General Notices

Baseball Battery Men

All varsity and freshman pitchers and catchers are requested to report at once for practice in the field house. Hours are: Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday at 4 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday at 5 p.m., and Saturday at 2 p.m.

OTTO VOGEL, baseball coach.

Quadrangle Association

The Quadrangle association will hold its weekly Sunday Forum, Sunday, Jan. 17 at 3 p.m. in the Quad lounge. The address will be given by Professor Haskell on "The middle class and capitalism." The public is invited. Forum committee

Fireshed Club Dance

There will be a dance for students in the parlors of the Unitarian church, Saturday, Jan. 16, at 8:30 p.m. Committee

Zion Lutheran Students' Association

The association will meet for their regular luncheon Sunday at 5:30 p.m. At the devotional following at 6:30, O. E. Nybakken of the classical department will present a paper on "Paul as an ideal." All Lutheran students and their friends are invited to attend. Program Committee

Fireshed Club

The Fireshed club will meet, Sunday, Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Masuoka will speak on the Japanese family. At 6 p.m. the club meets for a lunch and social hour. Everyone welcome. VALDO WEBER, president

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi will hold an informal initiation at the journalism building Sunday at 2 p.m. All actives and alumni are expected to attend. A regular meeting will follow at Iowa Union. GILBERT SCHANTZ, secretary

OFFICIAL NOTICE

To students who are registered on probation, and students who were not permitted to re-register, this semester:

Attention is especially directed at this time, just before the opening of the second semester, to the university's requirement that a student whose registration in any of the colleges of the university has been cancelled, or who has been permitted to register this semester, in any college, on probation, must not undertake to re-register, for the following session, in any of the colleges of the university, or even for correspondence study, without first filing a formal petition for re-registration, and receiving from the appropriate faculty or committee formal written official notice that the petition has been granted.

Such a petition will, of course, always be presented to the faculty, or its designated committee, of the particular college in the university in which any such student wishes to register for the following session.

H. C. DORCAS, registrar

Botany Club

Prof. R. B. Wylie, head of the botany department, and Prof. G. W. Martin of the botany department, will give a report to the Botany club of their experiences at the A.A.A.S. meeting in New Orleans. Botany club will meet Monday, Jan. 18, at 4:10 p.m. in 408 P-B building. Committee

Rev. Evans Worthley Leads City's Liberal Church Group

Leading the liberal element in Iowa City church circles, the Rev. Evans A. Worthley, is beginning his second month as the Unitarian church, Iowa avenue and Gilbert street.

Leading the pastorate of another denomination in Schenectady, N. Y., to take up the liberal philosophy of Unitarianism, he came to Iowa City at the request of the local congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Worthley's life has been marked by the liberal trend. Taking his master's degree in sociology at the University of Nebraska, he went soon afterwards to Ireland, where he conducted Y. M. C. A. stations for the United States navy men. For a year he studied theology at Northwestern university but gave it up for the more practical problems of sociology.

Several unique clubs feature the program fostered by the local Unitarian church. A Fireshed club meets each Sunday at 6 p.m. Informal discussions are conducted on subjects ranging from birth control to the organization of the family in Japan.

In addition to the women's club, a men's discussion group meets at irregular intervals throughout the month. Each Saturday night a dance is held in the church basement.

The Rev. Mr. Worthley's objective, he says, is to stimulate informal discussions, or "bull sessions," among the university students.

S. Lyle Duncan to Attend Annual State Farm Bureau Meet

County Agent S. Lyle Duncan will go to Des Moines tomorrow to attend the annual Iowa Farm Bureau Federation convention which is being held Jan. 20-21, in the Shrine temple.

Other representatives from Johnson county will be Glen Hope, president; Mrs. R. E. Williams, chairman of the girl's club; Mrs. Dewey Swanson, home furnishing project chairman; and Frank Crow, Oxford, winner of the 1931 membership contest.

A program in which R. M. Hughes, president of Iowa state college; M. G. Thornburg, secretary of agriculture in Iowa; and Arthur M. Hyde, United States secretary of agriculture will be the main speakers, has been arranged for the three day convention.

Rev. W. P. Lemon Takes Appointment for Social Service

The Rev. W. P. Lemon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has accepted an appointment to the board of directors of the local Social Service league.

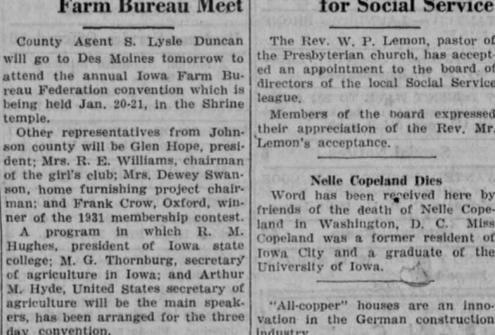

Members of the board expressed their appreciation of the Rev. Mr. Lemon's acceptance.

Nelle Copeland Dies

Word has been received here by friends of the death of Nelle Copeland in Washington, D. C. Miss Copeland was a former resident of Iowa City and a graduate of the University of Iowa.

"All-copper" houses are an innovation in the German construction industry.

It Had to be good to merit the name VOSS

ASK YOUR ADAMS APPLE

It Knows What Kind of a Laundering Your Collars Get.

Send Yours to the

New Process Laundry

Our Red Cars Go Everywhere

Phone 294

Soft Water Used Exclusively

Church Notices

Baptist

227 S. Clinton

Elmer E. Dierks, minister. 9:30 a.m., church school with Arthur S. Lyness as superintendent, classes for all ages. Special service to dedicate new hymnals. 10:45 a.m., morning worship and sermon by the minister on "The faith of the church." The chorus will sing "O Lamb of God." Harriet Otto will direct the junior congregation during the hour of the morning worship. 6:30 p.m., high school B.Y.E.U. at the church 6:45 p.m., Rogers Williams club at the Baptist student center. Alvin W. Hanson will lead on "The present condition of missions in China," first of a series of "world survey" meetings. Thursday 7:30 p.m., meeting of the church cabinet at the church.

St. Patrick's

224 E. Court

Masr. William P. Shannahan, pastor; assistant pastor, T. J. Lew. 7:00 a.m., first mass. 8:00 a.m., children's mass. 9:00 a.m., student's mass. 10:30 a.m., last mass. 2:30 p.m., vespers and benediction.

St. Paul's Lutheran

Jefferson and Gilbert

Julius A. Friedrich, pastor. Second Sunday after Trinity. 9:30 p.m., Sunday school. 10:30 a.m., divine service, text Hebrews 2:14-18. Sermon by the pastor on "Christ's victory over the tempter our comfort when we are being tempted."

Trinity Episcopal

College and Gilbert

Richard E. McEvoy, rector. 8:00 a.m., the holy communion. 9:30 a.m., children's church and school of religion. 10:45 a.m., morning prayer and sermon by the rector. 7:30 p.m., discussion group at home of the rector, 212 S. Johnson street. Students invited. Friday 4:30 to 5:15 p.m., the personal devotion hour.

Unitarian

Iowa and Gilbert

Evans A. Worthley, pastor. 9:45 a.m., church school. 10:45 a.m., morning service with sermon by the minister on "A four year presidential plan." 11:00 to 12:00 a.m., kindergarten hour. Parents invited to bring their children.

Zion Lutheran

Johnson and Bloomington

A. C. Proehl, pastor. 9:30 a.m., Sunday school and junior Bible class. 9:30 a.m., adult Bible class. 10:30 a.m., divine service. Sermon by the pastor on "Jesus attends a wedding." 5:30 p.m., Lutheran students association luncheon and social hour. 8:30 p.m., Lutheran students association devotional hour. O. E. Nybakken will read a paper on "Paul as an ideal."

Church of Christ, Scientist

730 E. College

9:30 a.m., Sunday School. 11 a.m., lesson-sermon, subject, "Life." Golden text from I John 5:11: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is his son."

Congregational

Clinton and Jefferson

Ira J. Houston, pastor. 9:30 a.m., Sunday school, 9:50 a.m., student classes. 10:45 a.m., morning worship with sermon by pastor on "The measure of life" and junior sermon on "A princess of Egypt." Mr. Folkers and the chorus choir will sing "Seek ye the Lord" and Mrs. Ellett and Katherine Smith, "I waited for the Lord." 5:30 p.m., twilight hour. Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp as guest. 6:15 p.m., Pilgrimage society, Van Phillips, leader. 6:30 p.m., young people's meeting. Mary Louise Trundy will lead discussion on "Building an adequate philosophy of life."

English Lutheran

Dubouque and Market

W. S. Dyeing, pastor. 9:30 a.m., church school. 10:45 a.m., morning service. Sermon by the minister, "The plumb line"; anthem, "O Lamb of God"; vocal solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd." 5:30 p.m., Lutheran student association luncheon and social hour. 6:30 p.m., Lutheran student association meeting. Clifford Johnson will lead the discussion. 8:30 p.m., intermediate league meeting. Ralph Lind will lead.

Methodist Episcopal

Dubouque and Jefferson

Harry DeWitt, Henry, pastor. 9:30 a.m., church school, all departments in session. 10:45 a.m., morning worship. Sermon by the minister on "Law—history—man." The choir will sing "Angels that around us hover." 6:30 p.m., Wesley league. 6:30 p.m., high school league.

Presbyterian

Clinton and Market

W. P. Lemon, pastor. 9:30 a.m., church school, Prof. E. B. Kurtz, superintendent. 10:45 a.m., primary and beginner's department of the

Girl Reveals Story of Drugging; Police Raid Lunch Stand

DES MOINES, Jan. 6 (AP) — A woman tonight was under arrest and police said they expected other arrests in connection with the story of a young girl that she was drugged Wednesday in a dance hall and held captive in the basement of a barbecue stand.

Police say Frances Chicelli, 47, who is in custody, is the wife of the proprietor of the barbecue stand on the outskirts of the city, where the girl told police she awakened sometime Thursday morning.

After the girl related her story, officials raided the place and said they found three quarts of alleged alcohol. Policewoman Jennie Manbeck, who verified the girl's story, declined to reveal the girl's identity pending further investigation.

POLICE NEWS

Gerald Rogers; parking on sidewalk, fined $1 and costs.

Kentucky Gun Fight Ends in Three Deaths

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 16 (AP)—The death tonight of Earl Johnson, brought to four the death toll of a quarrel between two mountain families at church services at New Salem this afternoon. The other dead are his brother, "Big Henry" Johnson, 35, and Homer Crook, 32, and Forrest Crook, 30, brothers.

Three men were reported shot to death and two others seriously wounded at New Salem, 12 miles south of here this afternoon in a gun fight between two mountain families.

First reports of the killings were meager but the names of the slain were given as: Homer Crook, 35; his brother, Forrest Crook, 32; and Henry Johnson, 35.

Henry Johnson, 21, a cousin of the older man bearing the same name, and Willie Johnson, both brothers of the two slain Johnsons, were wounded. It was doubtful, reports said, that they would recover.

Harvey G. Rodgers, Washington hotel, Chevrolet; W. W. Townsley, Iowa City, Hupmobile; Robert E. Neff, 1000 River street, Packard;

Chevrolet Leads Automobile Sales During Last Week

Chevrolet tops the list of new car sales in Iowa City with four sales in the past week. Two Fords, a Studebaker, a Franklin, a Hupmobile and a Packard make up the remaining list of new car registrations in Johnson county for last week.

New car owners are: J. E. Bowman, Tiffin, Chevrolet; Kolin Krall, Lone Tree, Studebaker; K. E. Leib, 55 Olive court, Franklin; Earnest E. Larew, 532 S. Van Buren street, Ford; Howard Ellis, 676 S. Governor street, Chevrolet.

Odd Fellows Lodge to Meet; Plan Dance

Eureka lodge No. 44, I.O.O.F., will hold a regular weekly meeting at the lodge club rooms Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. A. A. Rarick, noble grand, will preside.

A dance will be given by the lodge at 8:45 p.m., Wednesday to which Odd Fellows, Rebeccas, and their 78 families will be invited.

Commission Rests Case

DES MOINES (AP)—The state railroad commission announced that it had delayed until July 1, its decision on a petition requiring the Rock Island railroad to continue a regular station agency at Otley.

OPTI-COMICS

OH, DEAR! I HAVE TO WEAR GLASSES, AND I DON'T THINK I'LL LOOK VERY BECOMING IN THEM!

NONSENSE, BETTY! THAT'S A VERY SILLY IDEA! YOU JUST WAIT AND SEE!

SO BETTY GOT GLASSES?

GEE, BETTY, YOU LOOK SO ATTRACTIVE AND INTELLECTUAL!

YES, JIMMY, AND YOU'RE NOT THE FIRST TO SAY THAT! EVERYBODY IS TELLING ME HOW WONDERFUL I LOOK!

Griffith's Milk

contains all the FOOD ELEMENTS the body needs

A WINNER AT A BABY SHOW. BROUGHT UP ON THIS GOOD MILK, YOU KNOW

GRIFFITH'S DAIRY

Phone 11-F-3 or Tell the Driver

HANDS & SON

Jeweler Optician

He Thought He Could Stop LOVE!

ADELA MORALES

But Don Paco ruler of the border country didn't know the power of Cupid's emissary!

DON PACO MORALES

The Gay Bandit of the Border

by TOM GILL

a serial of love and high adventure

Coming Soon in

The Daily Iowan

ALYCE... brooding... nomics... bod... figure curi... the lounge... she wasn't... senior in t... What a life... to the floor... No, definit... With a cul... sought after... avoided ev... the floor. T... In fact, th... But the dev... was a man... major she l... ingly she p... herself put... were kissab... to protect t... effect was... With all... to a woman... to the door... top of her l... From som... answer. "Go... pudding, fo... tive. She w... wife had be... flected on... pounded at... much sough... "Come in... "Hello, Ph... gaged men... room and r... on the bed... "MAYBE... That... maybe the e... plunged into... I broke up l... "You did... and to thin... first. This... usuly. "My... purred. "T... "That doe... ly, Phyl, 'ca... long time... ed to hold r... think he wa... ingly at Ph... other; there... her. These... "But to p... disengaged... ruined all m... you see, Ph... pen." She... Surely Ph... lots of past... without a m... Parker, Mat... er, for she w... month or tv...

Kentucky Gun Fight Ends in Three Deaths

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 16 (AP)—The death tonight of Earl Johnson, brought to four the death toll of a quarrel between two mountain families at church services at New Salem this afternoon. The other dead are his brother, "Big Henry" Johnson, 35, and Homer Crook, 32, and Forrest Crook, 30, brothers.

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 16 (AP)—Three men were reported shot to death and two others seriously wounded at New Salem, 12 miles south of here this afternoon in a gun fight between two mountain families. First reports of the killings were meager but the names of the slain were given as: Homer Cook, 35; his brother, Forrest Cook, 21; and Henry Johnson, 35. Henry Johnson, 21, a cousin of the older man bearing the same name, and Willie Johnson, both brothers of the two slain Johnsons, were wounded. It was doubtful, reports said, that they would recover.

Chevrolet Leads Automobile Sales During Last Week

Chevrolet tops the list of new car sales in Iowa City with four sales in the past week. Two Fords, a Studebaker, a Franklin, a Hummobile and a Packard make up the remaining list of new car registrations in Johnson county for last week.

New car owners are: J. E. Bowman, Tiffin, Chevrolet; Kolin Krall, Lone Tree, Studebaker; K. E. Leib, 55 Olive court, Franklin; Earnest E. Larew, 532 S. Van Buren street, Ford; Howard Ellis, 676 S. Governor street, Chevrolet.

Odd Fellows Lodge to Meet; Plan Dance

Eureka lodge No. 44, I.O.O.F., will hold a regular weekly meeting at the lodge club rooms Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. A. A. Rarick, noble grand, will preside. A dance will be given by the lodge at 8:45 p.m., Wednesday to which Odd Fellows, Rebecca, and their 78 families will be invited.

Commission Rests Case DES MOINES (AP)—The state railroad commission announced that it had delayed until July 1, its decision on a petition requiring the Rock Island railroad to continue a regular station agency at Otley.

MAGAZINE SECTION

The Daily Iowan

IOWA CITY, IOWA. SUNDAY, JANUARY 17, 1932

Why Girls Go to College

By William Howard Chase

ALYCE sighed again—and still again. Her brooding eyes stared through an open economics book and her lithesome pajama-clad figure curled disconsolately in the corner of the lounge. Two months until graduation and she wasn't even engaged. And every other senior in the house was practically married. What a life! Alyce deftly flopped a silken mule to the floor and gazed analytically at her toes. No, definitely, she did not have athlete's foot. With a cute affectation of anger so much sought after in women by unmarried men, and avoided ever after, she hurled the book to the floor. The floor was a good place for books. In fact, that's where she kept all three of hers. But the devil with books! What Alyce wanted was a man. With the strides of a Phys Ed major she leaped for a looking glass. Charmingly she pouted at herself and charmingly herself pouted back at her. Yes indeed, those were kissable lips, and she had always striven to protect that Adam's apple. All in all, the effect was good.

Of course, it wouldn't always be Phyllis Parker. And she saw a chance to rope in Tom Boyd who had practically jilted her in her junior year. Lovely, absolutely, everything was working out lovely.

All this thought took only an instant in the quick mind of Phyllis Parker, and she answered the question by another. "Alyce, do you know Tom Boyd?"

"Tom Boyd—Tom Boyd. Isn't he the fellow you went with for so long last year?" Why, the mean old hussy! Meow, she knows he is. But Phyllis controlled herself. "Yes, that's the one. You know, tall and very attractive. My dear, he's deliciously indifferent." Indifferent, eh? No wonder Phyllis couldn't hold him. It takes talent to hold an indifferent man. The very fellow!

"Who does he go with, Phyl? I think I'd like him." At this point the reader should bow for a moment of silent contemplation. The fate of a man is being decided.

"THAT'S just the point," Phyl answered. "He doesn't go with anyone now. In fact," she added as an afterthought, "he hasn't dated very much since I stopped going with him." Score one for Phyllis. "And Joe tells me that he hasn't a date for Sunday night. Shall I get in touch with him for you?"

"Yes, do. Thanks, sweet," Alyce answered while uncoiling herself. She danced lightly to her room, losing a mule, stumbling over a rug, and bumping her head in the process. "Oh, damn!" she breathed gently, and all the Kappa Beta's across the street looked up from their crap game and winked knowingly. But this Tom Boyd was worth falling for. He played football, had a car, a cauliflower ear and everything. Tra-la-la.

For three days Alyce coyly carried one of her three books over the peek-a-boo effect left by the vanished fraternity pin. This so astonished the professors (they have to enter a college story somewhere) that they stopped looking at her legs, temporarily, and conjectured on the recent renaissance of culture.

Friday night Alyce parked a while with an "alum" of two years back. He was married, so it didn't make any difference—her parking with him. It was just the renewal of an old friendship.

Saturday night she took a date to a dance so that Bob shouldn't see that she was fretting herself about him and the broken engagement. When she surveyed her wrecked coiffeur after the party, she remarked, "It might as well have been a sports roadster instead of an old Ford. Well, that washes him up."

And then came Sunday. There is a sonorous rhythm about those few words that pretends great events. Joe was to come for Phyllis, and the three of them, Joe, Phyllis, and Alyce were to drive around for Tom. Joe came early in the evening. Alyce was ready and Phyllis wasn't. "Listen, you two," Phyl shouted down the stairs, "go and get Tom and then drive back for me." Alas, little did she know—"All right, Phyllis," called back Alyce in her most tinkling voice. Joe looked at her admiringly. With a voice like that, she must be a right nice girl. He had often talked to her before, but never without Phyl around.

"H-M-M-M," he mused to himself. Now whether he really did this or not is unknown, but they almost always do, so "H-m-m-m-m," he mused to himself with a gleam in his eye, "She's nicer than I thought she was." That such a thought was traitorous to his beloved and faithful Phyl did not occur to him. And again, "H-m-m-m-m?"

Alyce probably merited these murmurs. It was with unusual care that she had arrayed herself for a night of conquest and plunder. Her gleaming dark hair swept rapturously over one soft ear, leaving the other temptingly displayed and ornamented by a simple gold pendant. Lustrous skin vied with the curved wine-red of her lips as delicate complements of her loveliness. A light and colorful spring outfit revealed the form of a modern Venus, a softly-breathing and very much alive Venus. Stockingless legs, and small sport slippers completed the symphony of vital, breath-taking charm.

With childish simplicity (the result of hours of practice) Alyce slipped her hand in Joe's. "Come, Joe, let's run." Hand in hand they dashed toward the car. Running has no effect on the activity of a woman's mind. Alyce was thinking. Aloud, her thoughts would have sounded like this: "This Joe person isn't half bad. I wonder why he goes with Phyl? I guess I'll have some fun."

Inside the car she still clung to his hand, panting just the tiniest bit, her well-shaped head against the back of the seat. Because of the exigencies of automobile driving which every man will understand and swear at, Joe had to release her hand. Already he was a bit woozy from delicious contact with such a sparkling person, and the lingering withdrawal of her fingers upset him entirely. The truth was that Joe had fallen out of love and in again in the space of five minutes. He didn't realize this yet. He did realize that he wanted to say something pretty and he wanted to say it badly. Take that any way you please. He did try to say something pretty, and he did say it very badly, but Alyce understood. "Do you really think so, Joe?" she was saying.

Joe thought so, and he thought of nothing else. Tom Boyd, good old Tom Boyd, and Phyllis Parker were completely forgotten. And Alyce didn't remind him. Instead the car sped on over a winding road. The curves only seemed to draw Alyce closer to the driver, strangely enough, even when all the laws of physics were against such action. But college students, college girls, that is, know no laws—not even natural ones. Hence, turn or bump any direction—the result is the same. Joe found this distinctly pleasant.

IT ISN'T surprising, then, with this trend in mind, that the car stopped, peculiarly

(Continued on page 4)

OPTI-COMICS

HANDS & SON
Jeweler Optician
Phone 11-F-3 or Tell the Driver

Griffith's Milk

contains all the FOOD ELEMENTS the body needs

A WINNER AT A BABY SHOW, BROUGHT UPON THIS GOOD MILK, YOU KNOW

DAIRY
Phone 11-F-3 or Tell the Driver

He Thought He Could Stop LOVE!

But Don Paco ruler of the border country didn't know the power of Cupid's emissary!

DON PACO MORALES

The Gay Bandit of the Border

by TOM GILL
a serial of love and high adventure

Coming Soon in

The Daily Iowan

Book Reviews

Edited by Harriet I. Mahnke

FANTASTIC TRAVELLER by MAUDE MEAGHER, Houghton, Mifflin, $2.50; Reviewed by FRANK JAFFE.

David Martin, quite different from other folks, was in one sense much more sincere to his own ideals because he could build, destroy, live, and die a thousand deaths—and come out unscathed—in imagery, and not be afraid to admit it. Anything could be for David—anything that everyone ever conceived, although that was not really necessary for him—anything from crystal hoofed unicorns to golden Aztec temples—and anything in between.

No psychological or pathological case was he, nor was any part of his brilliant mind warped or twisted. For him, the world was real enough, but there was so much else for his brain to busy itself with that it had no time to heed the passing show of life.

Because his sister Evelyn could not understand—no one else could until he followed Rona, a sister-dreamer out of the hospital into a happy marriage—he became estranged from the only thing in life he held dear, plunged deeper into his phantasma, drifted farther from reality, settled down into an illusory existence that knew not a dull moment.

But Rona understood—and dreamed—all about the unicorns and temples, oriental wonders and fabulous courts that fed David's blood with chimerical stamina. Yet his happiness on discovering after years of quiet, resigned solitude, a companion who sympathetically sat beside him on his magic carpet journeys was shortlived. And after that, only a startled white-faced truck driver was concerned when the bubbles burst.

The author is no less artificial about the story than David is in his dreams, and no less interesting. Quick moving, elaborate in detail, "Fantastic Traveller" commands a world of adventure that only a fertile, unrestrained imagination could travel. In an age of convention, this book certainly fills a crying need.

THE SILVER EAGLE by W. D. BURNETT; Dial Press, $2.00.

Frank Harworth was not satisfied with thousands of dollars—he wanted millions. He also wanted social approval and respectability. Then when this self-made son of a saloon keeper was well on the way to his millions; when he was accepted as respectable by socially influential persons; when he was just about to achieve his goal—death swept in.

The man's insatiable lust for dollars, silver eagles as it were, led him from his safer enterprises that merely fringed the ways of the underworld into the dangers of its calling. Ironically it was through his decision to tread those paths that brought him into contact with Joyce—and Louise.

Louise, to Harworth, desperately longing for all that she represented, symbolized perfection. He was awed by her beauty and her bearing. He wanted her too. If she would only marry him—the thought left him breathless. Helen Magnussen was in the same social set, but she wasn't the same kind of a woman he discovered.

The author has given fine expression to the thoughts, loves, hopes and fears of Harworth. The story is light and easily read, moving swiftly to an exciting close. But for all its seeming superficiality it touches the depths of the man's mind and gives you a feeling of pity for the meticulously dressed, formally polite Chicago gangster.

OLD MASSA'S PEOPLE by ORLAND KAY ARMSTRONG; Bobbs Merrill, $2.50.

Authentic tales of slavery days told to the author by the old Negroes as they recalled "way back when" comprise this volume. The whole existence of the pre-Civil war servant is described and explained through the conversation Mr. Armstrong had with Negroes from various plantations in all parts of the south.

The old people display much pride in the families who owned them as they tell their stories of slavery days. Thus Uncle William, whose picture appears in this column, tells proudly that, "Tse one of the Lee people, from Ole Virginny."

And Uncle Tony, who lived on the Louis Hampton plantation relates, "brother to Wade Hampton an' jus' as impo'ah-tant." Aunt Florida, retainer of the Jefferson Davis Family declares, "All de Davis people like ter wu'k. Dat what make 'em sech fine people!"

Work and play; laughter and tears; good masters and bad masters; births and deaths; all these subjects share in the tales Mr. Armstrong collected as he talked with the more than thousand servants whose stories he has so sympathetically recorded. They all had something to tell him about the plantation, or the food, or the children they tended, or a great wedding.

The result is an interesting, well-written, smoothly moving story of the Old South.

MATTHIAS AT THE DOOR by EDWIN ARLINGTON ROBINSON; Macmillan, $1.75. Reviewed by VIRGINIA MAXSON.

Again Mr. Robinson has produced a melancholy poem. One had thought, in reading "Cavendar's House," that the wrecking of two lives was calamity enough. With this volume, however, he out-Robinsoned himself and added four notches to his penhandle.

The victims here are Matthias, for whom "pride was more than life"; Natalie, who "did not hate him and had married him for reasons old as history, and as good as reasons mostly are when they are found"; Timberlake, "always a ruin, but never alone"; and Garth, "who had succumbed and fallen rather than work and climb."

They were supremely unhappy—these four. "There isn't so much to tell," Natalie had said, "more than to say we are three fools together, each in a crumbling foolish human house with no harm done—save two of them in ruins and one of them built happily on a lie." But houses built on lies have shaky foundations, and Matthias' beautiful structure was doomed to crash into fragments at his feet.

Garth found life too bitter to live—and so left life behind him. Still Matthias' complacency remained unshaken. Natalie and Timberlake found life too ironical for love; like Garth sought happiness in another world. Alone Matthias faced a void, meaningless future; and for the first time he doubted. In the doubting lay his salvation.

As usual, Robinson subjects his people to psychological dissection, stripping their emotions, baring them to minutest analysis. The study is peculiarly fascinating, if melodramatic. A sonorosity in the blank verse lends horror, almost, to the already oppressive theme.

Yet there is beauty in his lines—"moods . . . like summer clouds that make us ask if more are coming . . ."—which with his compact little philosophies, and the tone of the poem are typically Robinsonian.

Campus Jogs

SOMEbody is always taking all the joy out of life—and sometimes it is a university professor. At Ohio State university, under the leadership of Dr. John F. Lyman, students have developed a cracker that supplies all the essentials of the human diet except water and vegetables. A person could sit down with a pocketful of these crackers, a glass of water and a little spinach and have all the essentials. It is safe to wager that Dr. Lyman's favorite menu includes soup, roast turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, salad, apple pie and cheese and coffee. But what about a cracker, sir?

IN BERLIN, students are singing for a living on the streets and are said to be greeted with showers of coins. Street singers in this country would probably be greeted with showers, but the vegetables and old shoes would far outnumber the coins.

UNDER the new rules introduced by the interfraternity council at the University of Maryland, no more than four freshmen will be allowed in any one house during rushing season. There are those who would consider that an ideal situation, while others would prefer shall we say two freshmen, if not but one.

IT'S NEVER too early to start—that's the opinion at Syracuse university where a nursery school has been established for the development of personality in children of preschool age in order to prepare the prospective college students of 1944. Some college students of 1932 would benefit from a session at the school.

ALTHOUGH this is leap year, and tradition says that it is now the women's turn to pay, Southern California women sneered at a recent suggestion that they share the cost of dates. "If we want gigolos we will go out on the union scale of 0-100," the Trojan women declared. There have been no reports that dating has ceased at the Troy college.

APPARENTLY college women like to make away with signs as well as do college men. The comptroller at Barnard college recently issued a statement that read as follows: "If there is any sign which a student very much desires, please do not steal it, but apply at the office and a duplicate can be obtained at cost."

COLLEGE students always manage to find some way of evading official edicts. When the authorities at Smith college forbade the use of cars, the students began to ride around the campus on scooters. But sometimes the authorities get even. At Northwestern the head librarian has announced that the libraries will be closed Sunday since the majority of the students who study there on Sunday were out having a good time Saturday night.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" and "Gulliver's Travels" have been recommended to Ohio State university students by Prof. Joseph R. Taylor of the English department. "Such stories," the professor said, "would do much more good than detective and love stories now read. The nonsense in the present reading does more harm than a good fairy story would ever do."

GUM CHEWING "peps people up" about 8 per cent, according to Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of the Colgate university psychological laboratory. And here is more news, a headline in a Big Ten daily: "Military Course Open to R.O.T.C. Cadets." How unusual.

ACTIONS must speak louder than words at certain tables in Harvard eating houses where students studying foreign languages must speak French, German, Italian or Spanish exclusively.

What Is Your Opinion

After the Ball--Does The Melody Linger On?

TO THE EDITOR:

Every year the party question at the University of Iowa is discussed by members of the student body as being in a sorry state of affairs. The recent Military Ball, sponsored by members of the campus militant organizations is a vivid example of the condition of many of our student social functions.

The party was one of the greatest "flops" of the year from the standpoint of a real dance. The sidelines were littered with the many guests, military apparatus and lights while dancing time was taken to see the boys present some of their military knowledge before an uninterested student body. The place for military science and tactics is at the field house. Students get enough of it in their compulsory classes during freshman and sophomore years.

When the students of this university attend a college function, they believe they are attending a school function and not a state-wide invitation affair. Few students object to the admission price asked but at the same time it is expected that they shall receive what they have paid for. Who enjoys attending a dance to be mauled and shoved by a milling crowd? The number of paid tickets may have been limited, but how about the number of guest admissions? If dance space is limited, surely the same should apply to guest space.

The presentation of an honorary cadet colonel is a sugar coated appeal to win the hearts of the fair sex and a feeble attempt to create a false impression of honor to the girl chosen.

I read in the paper that the programs were of leather and bore the army coat of arms. But how many programs were there to be given to students who paid to dance? One to a couple as long as they lasted. Is the military ball committee trying to set a precedent for formal affairs of the future? Most students remember parties either by the orchestra or the beauty of the program, but as the orchestra was not of the highest type obtainable for the admission price asked, those who failed to receive their expected program will hardly remember the 1932 military ball as an example of a real university party.

It is gratifying however to know that military balls come but once a year and that the other class functions are not, for the most part conducted along military lines of strategy, or the social side of Iowa student life for 1932 would indeed be in a sorry state.

S.M.P.

"RING around the rosie" and "farmer in the dell" are becoming popular as appropriate games to be played at informal fraternity and sorority parties at the University of Washington. It isn't possible that the Washingtonians have heard of that old favorite game called "postoffice?"

TELEPHONE calls must have had a big increase at the University of Oregon when the Colonial theater started a unique publicity stunt. One ticket for the theater was mailed to each man's and woman's house and each of them had a duplicate. All that was necessary to get free passes was for the holder of the tickets to call the women's houses until he found the corresponding ticket. Then both the man and the woman could come to the theater free.

Your opinions are solicited.

Each Sunday this page of The Daily Iowan will be devoted to articles of controversy and opinion.

The best examples of college thought, selected from campus publications all over the country, together with the opinions of the Daily Iowan will appear each week. Write what you think and send it to Forum Editor, The Daily Iowan. No anonymous material will be printed but names will be withheld upon request.

This Course Wouldn't Lead to a Bachelor's Degree

(From the Athenaeum)

Marriage comes naturally in the life of the average person. The problems it presents are of major importance to the man and woman who face them together for 30 years or more in the average life span. They are intricately related to happiness, success, to the business of gaining a living, yet there is no course in the university which treats these problems or to any extent analyzes them. The intelligent high school graduate is as well equipped to enter into the business of marriage as the college graduate.

There has always been a need for the instruction of the young man and woman in these problems incident to marriage but in the "dark ages" of previous generations certain of them facing the married couple were studiously avoided and the others consequently disregarded. The liberal attitude of the modern generation has made more evident the need for a college course which will consider those problems. Women students who are majoring in home economics are given some instruction which assists them in coping with such matters but their coverage of the subject is not complete.

What should such a course include? First of all, perhaps, a consideration of the management of the home with a discussion of income, budgets, furnishing the home, menu planning and other matters incidental to the actual running of the home. Next, the position of the career wife. A discussion of sex relationship would be necessary to the purpose of the course. I should survey birth and raising and care of babies and older children. What is the position of the father and mother in relation to the children? There would be other matters appropriate for discussion in the course.

The subject should be required—just as physical education is compulsory—of every college student before graduation. Since the upper classmen are more mature and would realtaught in the junior or senior year. It could be given more the value of the course, it should be given two hours a week with a "round-robin" method of instruction being carried out, that is, a member of the home economics department could discuss the management of the home, the psychologist certain mental phases of married life, a member of the school of medicine, sex relations, birth, etc. The course could not be detailed on each division treated but references could be made to certain sources pertaining to that topic, sources of which the average college student is ignorant. That would be one of the greatest values of the course.

"A character is a completely fashioned will."

—J. S. Mills.

"The hell to be endured hereafter, of which theology writes, is no worse than the hell we make for ourselves by habitually fashioning our characters in the wrong way."

—James.

Book Reviews

by Harriet I. Mahnke

back when" comprise this volume. The whole existence of the pre-Civil war servant is described and explained through the conversation Mr. Armstrong had with Negroes from various plantations in all parts of the south.

The old people display much pride in the families who owned them as they tell their stories of slavery days. Thus Uncle William, whose picture appears in this column, tells proudly that, "Ise one of the Lee people, from Ole Virginny." And Uncle Tony, who lived on the Louis Hampton plantation relates, "brother to Wade Hampton an' jus' as impo'ah-tant." Aunt Florida, retainer of the Jefferson Davis Family declares, "All de Davis people like ter wu'k. Dat what make 'em sech fine people!"

Work and play; laughter and tears; good masters and bad masters; births and deaths; all these subjects share in the tales Mr. Armstrong collected as he talked with the more than thousand servants whose stories he has so sympathetically recorded. They all had something to tell him about the plantation, or the food, or the children they tended, or a great wedding.

The result is an interesting, well-written, smoothly moving story of the Old South.

MATTHIAS AT THE DOOR by EDWIN ARLINGTON ROBINSON; Macmillan, $1.75. Reviewed by VIRGINIA MAXSON.

Again Mr. Robinson has produced a melancholy poem. One had thought, in reading "Cavendar's House," that the wrecking of two lives was calamity enough. With this volume, however, he out-Robinsoned himself and added four notches to his penhandle.

The victims here are Matthias, for whom "pride was more than life"; Natalie, who "did not hate him and had married him for reasons old as history, and as good as reasons mostly are when they are found"; Timberlake, "always a ruin, but never alone"; and Garth, "who had succumbed and fallen rather than work and climb." They were supremely unhappy—these four. "There isn't so much to tell," Natalie had said, "more than to say we are three fools together, each in a crumbling foolish human house with no harm done—save two of them in ruins and one of them built happily on a lie." But houses built on lies have shaky foundations, and Matthias' beautiful structure was doomed to crash into fragments at his feet.

Garth found life too bitter to live—and so left life behind him. Still Matthias' complacency remained unshaken. Natalie and Timberlake found life too ironical for love; like Garth sought happiness in another world. Alone Matthias faced a void, meaningless future; and for the first time he doubted. In the doubting lay his salvation.

As usual, Robinson subjects his people to psychological dissection, stripping their emotions, baring them to minutest analysis. The study is peculiarly fascinating, if melodramatic. A sonorosity in the blank verse lends horror, almost, to the already oppressive theme.

Yet there is beauty in his lines—"moods . . . like summer clouds that make us ask if more are coming . . ."—which with his compact little philosophies, and the tone of the poem are typically Robinsonian.

Campus Jogs

SOMEbody is always taking all the joy out of life—and sometimes it is a university professor. At Ohio State university, under the leadership of Dr. John F. Lyman, students have developed a cracker that supplies all the essentials of the human diet except water and vegetables. A person could sit down with a pocketful of these crackers, a glass of water and a little spinach and have all the essentials. It is safe to wager that Dr. Lyman's favorite menu includes soup, roast turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, buttered peas, salad, apple pie and cheese and coffee. But what about a cracker, sir?

IN BERLIN, students are singing for a living on the streets and are said to be greeted with showers of coins. Street singers in this country would probably be greeted with showers, but the vegetables and old shoes would far outnumber the coins.

UNDER the new rules introduced by the interfraternity council at the University of Maryland, no more than four freshmen will be allowed in any one house during rushing season. There are those who would consider that an ideal situation, while others would prefer shall we say two freshmen, if not but one.

IT'S NEVER too early to start—that's the opinion at Syracuse university where a nursery school has been established for the development of personality in children of pre-school age in order to prepare the prospective college students of 1944. Some college students of 1932 would benefit from a session at the school.

ALTHOUGH this is leap year, and tradition says that it is now the women's turn to pay, Southern California women sneered at a recent suggestion that they share the cost of dates. "If we want gigolos we will go out on the union scale of 0-100," the Trojan women declared. There have been no reports that dating has ceased at the Troy college.

APPARENTLY college women like to make away with signs as well as do college men. The comptroller at Barnard college recently issued a statement that read as follows: "If there is any sign which a student very much desires, please do not steal it, but apply at the office and a duplicate can be obtained at cost."

COLLEGE students always manage to find some way of evading official edicts. When the authorities at Smith college forbade the use of cars, the students began to ride around the campus on scooters. But sometimes the authorities get even. At Northwestern the head librarian has announced that the libraries will be closed Sunday since the majority of the students who study there on Sunday were out having a good time Saturday night.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND" and "Gulliver's Travels" have been recommended to Ohio State university students by Prof. Joseph R. Taylor of the English department. "Such stories," the professor said, "would do much more good than detective and love stories now read. The nonsense in the present reading does more harm than a good fairy story would ever do."

GUM CHEWING "peps people up" about 8 per cent, according to Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of the Colgate university psychological laboratory. And here is more news, a headline in a Big Ten daily: "Military Course Open to R.O.T.C. Cadets." How unusual.

ACTIONS must speak louder than words at certain tables in Harvard eating houses where students studying foreign languages must speak French, German, Italian or Spanish exclusively.

What Is Your Opinion?

After the Ball--Does The Melody Linger On?

TO THE EDITOR:

Every year the party question at the University of Iowa is discussed by members of the student body as being in a sorry state of affairs. The recent Military Ball, sponsored by members of the campus militant organizations is a vivid example of the condition of many of our student social functions.

The party was one of the greatest "flops" of the year from the standpoint of a real dance. The sidelines were littered with the many guests, military apparatus and lights while dancing time was taken to see the boys present some of their military knowledge before an uninterested student body. The place for military science and tactics is at the field house. Students get enough of it in their compulsory classes during freshman and sophomore years.

When the students of this university attend a college function, they believe they are attending a school function and not a state-wide invitation affair. Few students object to the admission price asked but at the same time it is expected that they shall receive what they have paid for. Who enjoys attending a dance to be mauled and shoved by a milling crowd? The number of paid tickets may have been limited, but how about the number of guest admissions? If dance space is limited, surely the same should apply to guest space.

The presentation of an honorary cadet colonel is a sugar coated appeal to win the hearts of the fair sex and a feeble attempt to create a false impression of honor to the girl chosen.

I read in the paper that the programs were of leather and bore the army coat of arms. But how many programs were there to be given to students who paid to dance? One to a couple as long as they lasted. Is the military ball committee trying to set a precedent for formal affairs of the future? Most students remember parties either by the orchestra or the beauty of the program, but as the orchestra was not of the highest type obtainable for the admission price asked, those who failed to receive their expected program will hardly remember the 1932 military ball as an example of a real university party.

It is gratifying however to know that military balls come but once a year and that the other class functions are not, for the most part conducted along military lines of strategy, or the social side of Iowa student life for 1932 would indeed be in a sorry state.

S.M.P.

"RING around the rosie" and "farmer in the dell" are becoming popular as appropriate games to be played at informal fraternity and sorority parties at the University of Washington. It isn't possible that the Washingtonians have heard of that old favorite game called "postoffice?"

TELEPHONE calls must have had a big increase at the University of Oregon when the Colonial theater started a unique publicity stunt. One ticket for the theater was mailed to each man's and woman's house and each of them had a duplicate. All that was necessary to get free passes was for the holder of the tickets to call the women's houses until he found the corresponding ticket. Then both the man and the woman could come to the theater free.

Your opinions are solicited.

Each Sunday this page of The Daily Iowan will be devoted to articles of controversy and opinion.

The best examples of college thought, selected from campus publications all over the country, together with the opinions of the Daily Iowan will appear each week. Write what you think and send it to Forum Editor, The Daily Iowan. No anonymous material will be printed but names will be withheld upon request.

This Course Wouldn't Lead to a Bachelor's Degree

(From the Atheneum)

Marriage comes naturally in the life of the average person. The problems it presents are of major importance to the man and woman who face them together for 30 years or more in the average life span. They are intricately related to happiness, success, to the business of gaining a living, yet there is no course in the university which treats these problems or to any extent analyzes them. The intelligent high school graduate is as well equipped to enter into the business of marriage as the college graduate.

There has always been a need for the instruction of the young man and woman in these problems incident to marriage but in the "dark ages" of previous generations certain of them facing the married couple were studiously avoided and the others consequently disregarded. The liberal attitude of the modern generation has made more evident the need for a college course which will consider those problems. Women students who are majoring in home economics are given some instruction which assists them in coping with such matters but their coverage of the subject is not complete.

What should such a course include? First of all, perhaps, a consideration of the management of the home with a discussion of income, budgets, furnishing the home, menu planning and other matters incidental to the actual running of the home. Next, the position of the career wife. A discussion of sex relationship would be necessary to the purpose of the course. I should survey birth and raising and care of babies and older children. What is the position of the father and mother in relation to the children? There would be other matters appropriate for discussion in the course.

The subject should be required—just as physical education is compulsory—of every college student before graduation. Since the upper classmen are more mature and would realtaught in the junior or senior year. It could increase more the value of the course, it should be given two hours a week with a "round-robin" method of instruction being carried out, that is, a member of the home economics department could discuss the management of the home, the psychologist certain mental phases of married life, a member of the school of medicine, sex relations, birth, etc. The course could not be detailed on each division treated but references could be made to certain sources pertaining to that topic, sources of which the average college student is ignorant. That would be one of the greatest values of the course.

"A character is a completely fashioned will."
—J. S. Mills.

"The hell to be endured hereafter, of which theology writes, is no worse than the hell we make for ourselves by habitually fashioning our characters in the wrong way."
—James.

Wanted: The Perfect Man--Don't Rush, Please

(From the Daily Illini)

Is there a man alive, who can be a perpetual thrill to a co-ed? Girls at the State Teachers college, Albany, N. Y., are looking for him—"but, he must pack a thrill." Other co-eds of the same institution ask nothing more than "toleration and morals," for that's their naive belief of what is important. And the next requirement is as follows: "He must either be younger and more innocent than I, or else old and more experienced."

Although these qualifications for the "ideal husband" were probably received from selected co-ed opinion, they may represent suppressed desires of our stolid co-eds. Then too its not surprising what an enterprising feature artist can imagine. Our answer to both co-ed and writer is, "Oh, Yeah?"

The girls would be as contented as the addensery if they could get a man who is ugly vertised cows of a certain large milk comb but good, substantial, but not thrilling, and who wears slippers instead of patent leathers after 7:30 in the evening. Ponce de Leon didn't find the fountain—so if you want to, girls, just look for the man who "packs a thrill."

We'd suggest the movies. He is there in everything from a cowboy's chaps to a tuxedo at prices ranging from 15 to 50 cents.

This Couldn't Happen At Iowa; No, Not Here!

(From the Oklahoma Daily)

She was a freshman and a pledge. Her father was principal in a small town school, and her mother taught in the same school. She was an only child. Last summer her parents gave up their vacation so they could buy her a fur coat. They drove her the 150 miles from home to the university in their Chevrolet six last fall, and sent her a pearl necklace when she pledged. It will be paid out in four more months.

She couldn't make things meet, so she took a part time job working in an office on the campus. One day while at the office a friend found her going through the list of boys enrolled in the university, and checking some of them.

"What are you doing?" the friend asked. "I'm checking off the boys I know who don't belong to fraternities," she replied. "I can't afford to waste my time with them."

TOWN will never learn to leave gown alone it seems. Dartmouth college students of voting age are required by the town of Hanover, N. H., to pay a poll tax. Enraged, they recently attended a town meeting en masse and passed legislation requiring the town to build a city hall a mile long and one foot high, and a wall around the town eight miles high. The citizens appealed to Washington.

FROM the Daily Illini: "Archaeologists have found a skeleton with a lower jaw that opened six inches. Evidently the club sandwich isn't new."

We are still trying to prevent crimes by various degrees of punishment. With every prison overcrowded, we should have learned by now that punishment is not prevention. We are like pagans. They punished a stone, instead of the enemy who threw it.

"With mere good intentions, hell is proverbially paved."
—James.

Benefit Program

Phys. Ed. Majors Will Present Charity Show in February. See Page 6.

FIVE CENTS 8 PAGES

Two Women

In Contrasting Modes

One Was Loved

THERE was no gathering in which she was not prominent or, usually, the leader. Hers was the word accepted as final. She saw what she wanted and went after it with the aggressiveness of a warrior. Poor? Well, yes; that is, as far as money was concerned. She was richly endowed, however, with a feminine intelligence of striking brilliance.

Physically, she was not quite so perfect. Her face was full and suggested stability. Her blue eyes snapped, mellowed, and sparkled at her wish. Her lips were full and naturally red, curving happily, morosely, or unconcernedly depending upon her mood. Above the sometimes aggravating lips was a nose that would have been rather artistic and dignified but for a hump, really very slight, at the bridge. Her cheeks were full and usually pale. Her eyes protruded a trifle from their sockets and were sometimes set out further by the dark circles underneath them. Dark, dusty brown, bobbed hair, waved, not naturally, covered her head and ears.

She was rather short and stoutly built. She was not plump but her bones were large. There was a certain softness about her that one could not resist. She was not vivacious, she did not have subtle curves to trick one to her, yet she was magnetic—she drew one gradually but with such constant power that could not be resisted.

When she smiled the world was a gay place. When she was morose the world was drab. And she cried ever so easily in that soft silent manner which was enough to crack a man's reserve.

There was one man that she saw, wanted and took, she thought. She flaunted her arrogant philosophy at him and he was subdued. Her literary reflections stood unchallenged before him. She made him love her and she returned that passion in a coquettish way. But he seemed so easy—so passive—not at all the hard to get kind that she had pictured; he did everything that she asked him to do. She did not know that Scotty was playing a game for the fun of playing with fire. She didn't see the real depth of those gray eyes. And Scotty enjoyed himself as he never had before. As he put it to me: "It's so much fun to play the dog, when one is expected to, and see the real person."

"Aye," he would say, dropping into his oft used Scotch vernacular, "'tis a bonnie fine lass she makes of herself, but naught she knows of 'uman naturr. And where does she think it will get her? Aye, she travels a plane, Larry lad, a plane on which she imagines all the intelligent ones trundle. 'Tis nau goot it'll do her. She's a werra fine lassie, but she'll rue the day she didn't larn 'uman naturr."

"I'm fer tellin' ye, Larry lad, she travels fast and she's sure she's right, but she's jist laak an army starting across the Sahara desert without rations. And, lad, she'll starve her soul all her life for the lack of knowledge of people. She's afraid of doin' the wrong thing. 'Tis always so. And when they're that way, Larry, they're niver happy. They can't be."

—By S. Philip Stout

One Was Hated

I KNEW her, and yet I knew her not, not even when I lived down the hall from her. Not until long after, when I was faced with the picture in that book, did I see all of the splintered soul behind those inhuman blue eyes. Beneath narrow lines of arched eyebrows those pointed weapons reminded me of the days and the nights when I wiped the hot tears from them, when I smoothed the frown away from them, and when I brought a smile to the pale set lips whose corners turned down so much of the time when we were alone.

Thoughtfully, I stared at the tightly knotted black hair and the thick lines of her powerless chin. But I saw only her eyes. And I could not help remembering the night I had avoided the pain in her eyes as I turned away from a telephone conversation with the man she loved, one of my best friends. I had seen her selfishness, that of a spoiled only child raised to have her own way, and finding it difficult among the 6,000 men and women in a small town who were many of them in the same situation.

There lingered in my mind her simulated gayety the night a man refused her invitation to a sorority party. That proved to me that her wit, sometimes shallow, and her sarcasm, often as futile, were the outward display and not the inner woman.

Her tragic attempts to flirt were not shown in that portrait but they were traced in my memory with a firm pen for she had not the ethics nor the honor of the ordinary huntress. No man was safe against her drooped eyelids if he were not strong. Pathetically she evaded the fact that her large-boned body and unbeautiful face would probably never bring her popularity with men. But the picture betrayed her disappointment.

I loved her as only the heathen worship their idols—but one day she fell, as images must fall, in the dust at my feet. That jealousy would ever go so far in her as to prevent joy in another's happiness I had never realized. And then, I hated her—with a hatred that was not lively nor quick-firing but that was a dull, thudding rage hardly alive at times but whose flame gnawed at our friendship. Her last deceitful trick changed my contempt to a fast burning touch and the embers hold a part of her and a part of me.

As I looked at the picture for the last time it almost frightened me. I turned away only to look back fascinated. The round wells changed from the eyes of a dying person to the sword of a maniac and from that to venom. They seemed to say I had taken her man from her, that I had robbed the darkest part of her heart of its secrets. The mockery of it appalled me. The narrow escape from unhappiness that I had made me place the somber cover of the album over her face and seek diversion more pleasant.

—By Lois Hinkle

(These sketches were written by students in the short story class instructed by Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism.)

Why Girls Go to College

(Continued from page 1)

enough, under a magnificent oak tree, and in the midst of other magnificent oak trees. There was no moon, but thousands of stars trembled precariously just above the dark masses of leaves. Just far enough away so as not to interfere.

Joe didn't make love. He only thought he did, and he thought he did it particularly well that night. Alyce knew, though. She knew that a tremulous yes would work miracles, and that a tearful, panicky no would make a man turn figurative somersaults. She knew the result of a soft wisp of perfumed hair across a man's forehead. You bet she knew! However, Joe still thought he was making violent love.

"Alyce," Joe whispered in unison with a breeze through the leaves of the oaks. Breezes always come at this time. "Alyce, I love you. Will you marry me?"

Alyce drew away from him in surprise. (Yeah.) "But, Joe dear, you love Phyllis!"

"No, darling, I don't. I never knew what love was before. I've only been kidding myself. And anyway, you're adorable and I love you." (The originality is what gets 'em.) "But, honey, what will Phyllis think? You know she loves you." There's nothing more subtle than a flattering woman.

"DON'T worry about her, Alyce. Suppose it is a blow to her for a year or so. She's young, and it'll wear off. I don't think, Alyce, I really don't think a man should sacrifice his real love for a mistaken dream, do you?"

"Well, Joe," slowly and with downcast eyes, "the way you say it, I don't think so either. But I know that if you were to leave me for some other woman, it would break—absolutely crush my heart. I just don't think I could bear it."

Poor Joe! He's now gasping all over the place. "Darling, you know I couldn't do that. Why—why—I love you. Your hair—your eyes like—like these stars above us, why, Alyce, I love you."

"Do you, honey?" She moved closer. She had conquered. Slowly she raised her dazzling eyes to his. "Joe," she murmured as she pressed her lips to his. Another moment of respectful silence, please, for a man's fate has been decided.

Sometime later the car drew up before the sorority house. "Gosh, hon', what'll we tell Tom and Phyllis?" Joe asked nervously.

But an hour later, a roadster topped by a pair of cauliflower ears halted beside them. A burly football player boomed, "Congratulate me, old man! I've just become engaged to the most wonderful girl in the world."

And from somewhere under his arm came another voice. "Yes, and we're going to be married as soon as Tom graduates and gets paid off, aren't we, dear?"

"I'll say we are!" And the cauliflower ears sunk below the horizon.

There's no getting around it. These college girls are darned clever.

In many ways China is the greatest country I have ever seen. It is not only the greatest numerically, and the greatest culturally, but it seems to me the greatest intellectually. —Bertrand Russell.

"One must first learn, unmoved, looking neither to the right nor left, to walk firmly on the straight and narrow, before one can begin to 'make one's self over again' . . . he who everyday makes a fresh resolve is like one who, arriving at the edge of the ditch he has to leap, forever stops and returns for a fresh run." —J. Bohannon.

"Alfalfa Bill" Turns Scotch Attacks Big Bankers While Sipping Over Coffee Mug

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The spare and outspoken Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma appeared today before a house committee and pleaded for a revival of the Scotch banking system to restore easy and safe currency and help the folk who live in the country.

Sitting at ease, and sipping black coffee from a white mug, he blamed the international and big city bankers, the federal reserve system, and Wall street for the present economic situation, and asserted the Scotch system of state banks in operation here until 1875 was needed to bolster the central banking system, or the federal reserve system.

"Next Winter Worse" In addition, he said the nation was just at the beginning of the business slump and predicted "next winter will be worse and the winter following worse than ever."

Murray was surrounded by Democratic members of the Oklahoma delegation as he entered the ways and means committee room. Representative McKeown explained that the governor would speak on his bill to repeal the act of 1875 imposing a 10 per cent tax annually on all notes issued for circulation by state banks and similar local financial institutions.

Sponsors Scotch System During his service in the house about 6 years ago, Murray sponsored a bill for the return of the Scotch system. The measure would permit state banks to issue notes on commodities held in warehouses and would require that a gold reserve of $1 for every $3 in notes be maintained.

Asserting that there were only two systems of banking in the world—central and Scotch—Murray said that the latter did not require "somebody to get into a warehouse and would require, he drawled, adding that the Scotch system bolstered the central banking system.

Regional Bankers Independent The Scotch system permitted regional bankers to be independent of international and big city bankers, he said, adding that it prevented the central bank system from draining dry the agricultural regions. He said this would happen if a change is not made.

Murray sat puffing at a fat cigar with his legs crossed, exposing white cotton socks and high laced shoes. He said England did not permit any bankers to direct her central bank. "We for the most part have speculators," he said, referring to the members of the federal reserve board. "It should not be left to them; for they deal with stocks and never produce anything."

The direction of our central bank should be left in the hands of the users of money.

Hits Federal Reserve One-fourth of the reserve board members, he contended, should be of producers, manufacturers, transportation men and marketers, including both exporters and importers. He added the opinion that credit should be extended to producers and manufacturers on the judgment of bankers, and not under the direction of the federal reserve banking system.

The Scotch system, he said, would decentralize the banking system, and would not make it possible for Wall street and big bankers to influence the people on every cross roads in the country as he said was done at present.

Outspoken Governor

"Alfalfa" Bill Murray—Loves Country Folks—

Man's Arrest Foils Plot to Extort Money

CLINTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—George Green, 30, of Clinton was arrested today following an attempt to extort $25,000 from Courtland H. Young, publisher of the Clinton Herald.

The man was seized at the entrance to the post office as he took the decoy package supposedly containing the $25,000 in cash from Eugene Cowles, a reporter on the Clinton Herald, the paper published by Young.

Bodily Harm Threatened The letter was received by Young Saturday. It threatened him with bodily harm unless he complied with the instructions to deliver the money in bills of specified denominations at 2:30 p.m. today.

Authorities were informed and a squad of city and county officers surrounded the entrance. Several, armed with rifles, were stationed in buildings across the street.

Cowles arrived at the appointed time to meet a man, as the instructions said, "who would have one hand in his overcoat pocket and a glove on the other hand."

Decoy Package When the man appeared, Cowles accosted him and said he was acting for Young. He pulled the decoy package from his pocket and handed it to the man as an officer across the street appeared brandishing a gun. Other officers appeared and took him into custody.

Green at first said he was the tool of a gang of three men, supposedly riding about the business district awaiting completion of the transfer, when they would pick him up.

Under grilling, however, he admitted to officers that he had planned the entire plot himself. Neighboring cities had been notified to be on the lookout for the three men and all roads leading from Clinton were being watched.

Senate Sends Relief Bill to White House

Confident Proposals Will Restore Credit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—One business revival measure was nearly ready to go to the White House tonight and the leader of them all—the two billion dollar reconstruction corporation bill—was not far behind.

Late in the day the senate sent it to conference and only the fact that the house had already adjourned prevented an attempt to have the first meeting of conferees tonight. House action will get it to conference tomorrow.

To Reconcile Differences The men named by the senate and the house to reconcile differences on the federal land banks bill completed their job today. The sponsors of the bills are confident the two proposals urged by President Hoover to restore credit and confidence for farm and finance, will be ready for his signature within a few days.

The $125,000,000 land bank legislation will be up for final senate approval tomorrow. Quick agreement on it in both houses is expected.

Senate Approves Amendment An amendment by Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, limiting loans from the reconstruction corporation to $100,000,000 to any single corporation was approved by the senate.

The conferees named by the senate on the reconstruction measure were: Walcott, Connecticut; Norbeck, South Dakota; Townsend, Delaware; and Brookhart, Iowa, Republicans; Fletcher, Florida; Glass, Virginia, and Buckley, Ohio, Democrats.

May Question Mellon Before House Group Judiciary Committee to Investigate Affairs of Secretary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Secretary Mellon may be asked to tell the house judiciary committee in person about some of his business affairs which Representative Patman claims make it illegal for him to continue in office.

While hearings continued today on Patman's resolution of impeachment, it was learned that several members of the committee are considering making such a request. Thus far at the hearings, Mellon's side of the controversy has been upheld by two specially chosen representatives of the treasury.

Says Mellon Used Influence Patman today reiterated his charge that Mellon has influenced in securing valuable concessions for the Gulf Oil company from the republic of Colombia. Although he said he was without definite proof, the Texan contended Mellon had exerted pressure upon the South American country by opposing credit extensions to it in the United States.

Just previously, Alexander W. Gregg, one of Mellon's representatives, concluded a comprehensive denial of all Patman's charges. He read a memorandum dictated by Mellon specifically denying ever having discussed Colombian credit with state department officials or bankers.

Tells of Personal Loans His argument was brief and devoted chiefly to answering questions. It brought out that Mellon had loaned personal securities to the Union Gulf corporation to use as collateral.

Police Nab Five for Passing Stop Signs; Two Receive Fines

Several persons were arrested yesterday when they failed to halt at the new stop sign at the west end of the Iowa avenue bridge, placed there when U. S. highway 6 was re-routed through Iowa City recently.

Five motorists appeared before Police Judge Charles L. Zager in answer to traffic violation tickets given them by local police, stationed at the end of the bridge. Two receiving fines of $1 and costs were James P. Kelly and Lee Travis. The other three were dismissed upon pleas of being out of town drivers and unaware of the sign's existence.

A warning of the attack upon "stop sign passers" was issued last week by Chief of Police Frank L. Smith. Further campaign against the violators will be conducted by the police today and during the near future.

Fire Destroys Car of Iowa City Man

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a 1928 Whippet sedan belonging to Fillmore Hain, 704 E. Ronalds street, last night. The car was in the garage at the side of Hain's home when the fire was discovered at 11 p.m. Firemen extinguished the flames with chemical. The garage, of metal, was slightly damaged. Hain reported that he had driven the car home at 8:45 p.m., but could give no cause for the blaze.

WEATHER

IOWA — Fair with increasing cloudiness, rising temperature Tuesday; Wednesday rain or snow, except mostly rain in south portion.

45,000 Affected by Flood Extending Over 80 Miles Fight Further War

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 18 (AP)—An inland sea extending over thousands of acres of fertile farm land stretched along a 125 mile front today and threatened to invade other northwestern Mississippi territory before it subsided.

Relief workers surveyed the situation and said approximately 45,000 persons had been affected thus far by the flood, but not all to a serious degree.

Invasives Eight Counties The water has invaded eight counties and threatens to enter two others.

Parola, Quitman, Tallahatchie, LeFlore, Humphreys and Yazoo counties form a backwaters eastern boundary area of north and apparatus and Issaquah.

Twelve n Quitman county last night, toward the Marks.

The flooded than a month ty, flood fil yet 48 hours 250 convicts sections of inundation.

Police Nab Five for Passing Stop Signs; Two Receive Fines

Several persons were arrested yesterday when they failed to halt at the new stop sign at the west end of the Iowa avenue bridge, placed there when U. S. highway 6 was re-routed through Iowa City recently.

Five motorists appeared before Police Judge Charles L. Zager in answer to traffic violation tickets given them by local police, stationed at the end of the bridge. Two receiving fines of $1 and costs were James P. Kelly and Lee Travis. The other three were dismissed upon pleas of being out of town drivers and unaware of the sign's existence.

A warning of the attack upon "stop sign passers" was issued last week by Chief of Police Frank L. Smith. Further campaign against the violators will be conducted by the police today and during the near future.

Fire Destroys Car of Iowa City Man

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a 1928 Whippet sedan belonging to Fillmore Hain, 704 E. Ronalds street, last night. The car was in the garage at the side of Hain's home when the fire was discovered at 11 p.m. Firemen extinguished the flames with chemical. The garage, of metal, was slightly damaged. Hain reported that he had driven the car home at 8:45 p.m., but could give no cause for the blaze.

45,000 Affected by Flood Extending Over 80 Miles Fight Further War

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 18 (AP)—An inland sea extending over thousands of acres of fertile farm land stretched along a 125 mile front today and threatened to invade other northwestern Mississippi territory before it subsided.

Relief workers surveyed the situation and said approximately 45,000 persons had been affected thus far by the flood, but not all to a serious degree.

Invasives Eight Counties The water has invaded eight counties and threatens to enter two others.

Parola, Quitman, Tallahatchie, LeFlore, Humphreys and Yazoo counties form a backwaters eastern boundary area of north and apparatus and Issaquah.

Twelve n Quitman county last night, toward the Marks.

The flooded than a month ty, flood fil yet 48 hours 250 convicts sections of inundation.