Haynes Defies Party Loyalty of Brookhart

Wants Iowa Senator to Declare Stand on Support

BURLINGTON, May 9 (AP)—A challenge to Senator Smith W. Brookhart's loyalty to the Republican party was hurled today by Col. Glenn C. Haynes of Des Moines, one of his five rivals for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Haynes demanded that Brookhart declare whether he intends to support the Republican party in the November election regardless of the outcome of the primary. He spoke before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions clubs.

One Man Party
He asserted that Brookhart is neither a Republican nor a Democrat but a member of a "one man Brookhart party," contending that the senator "carries the Republican label for convenience" because Iowa is a Republican state.

Makes Plea
Haynes said he intended to work for the Republican party in November and that he was a member of it because he believed in its principles. He pleaded that the voters "vote in your own party primary and for a man who believes, as you believe, in your own party."

Bishop Urges Destruction of Ecclesiastical Mason, Dixon Division in Methodist Church

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 9 (AP)—Destruction of the ecclesiastical Mason and Dixon line that has existed in American Methodism since 1844 was urged today by Bishop A. J. Moore of the Methodist church, South.

He told the Methodist general conference here that time had come for a unified church knowing no "north" and no "south."

The division between the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist church, South, has been "unfortunate," said the bishop. Without referring to the slavery question at which they split 88 years ago, he added:

"The prejudices of yesterday should be forgotten; whatever the differences of days gone by, they are now infinitesimal and should be buried in oblivion." The conference re-

Journalists to Stage Awards Presentations

Luther A. Brewer Keys, Best Story Prizes Included

Initiating a new journalism tradition, members of Associated Students of Journalism will stage their first annual Presentation day ceremonies in the news room of The Daily Iowan tomorrow at 4:10 p.m.

Three Luther A. Brewer keys, awarded annually to seniors showing most promise in the journalistic field, will be awarded in person for the first time by Mr. Brewer, first journalism instructor in the university, who will come here from his home in Cedar Rapids for the occasion.

Four certificates, awarded annually on the basis of scholarship by the Iowa chapter of Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, will also be presented to the winners, whose names were announced in last Sunday's issue of The Daily Iowan. Philip Stout, A2 of Iowa City, president of the chapter, will present the certificates.

In addition, two new prizes, $15 for the best news story of the year published in The Daily Iowan and $10 for the second best story, will be announced. The prizes will be awarded by Prof. Frank Luther Mott, director of the school of journalism, who is donating them. The committee for the awards consists of Prof. Fred J. Lazell, Prof. Edward F. Mason, of the school of journalism, and John W. Henderson, editor of The Daily Iowan.

Stock Trends Uncertain for Day's Market

Year's Dullest Trading Closes With Minor Average Loss

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Stocks backed and filled rather aimlessly today, content to stand by and await the issue of events at Washington where the tax bill was advanced to the senate.

In the year's dullest trading, market leaders edged up and down narrowly, easing a little in the afternoon when buying proved even lighter than offerings and closing with a minor fractional loss on the average. Sales totaled 636,707 shares.

The rails looked heavy. Central was off nearly a point net; they were slightly larger losses in Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe, while Baltimore & Ohio, Northern Pacific and Pennsylvania flirted with their old lows.

Eastman Kodak sagged 3 to a record minimum and American Telephone, after some forenoon firmness, fell back 1 1/2 net. Otherwise, pivotal issues closed with small changes.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

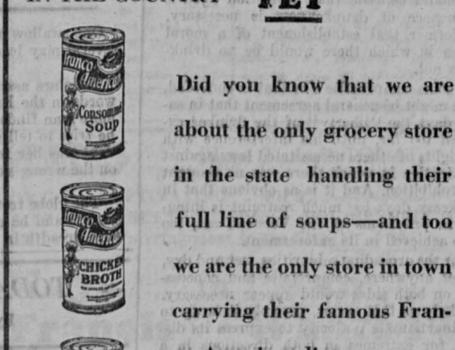

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!

"HERE'S HOW" TO ENTER "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" CONTEST FOR NATIONAL AND LOCAL PRIZES

- (Contest Closes May 16)
- You may submit as many "Believe It or Not's" as you wish. You do not have to submit any drawings or sketches. Write legibly on one side of the paper. Have your name and address on each sheet of paper if you send in more than one. Each entry must contain the explanation or proof of its truth. The Daily Iowan will not be responsible for the return of entries.
 - Ten copies of Ripley's "Believe It or Not" book will be awarded to the 10 best local entries which will be announced at the close of the contest.
 - The contestant agrees to accept the judgment of The Daily Iowan in the awarding of the local prizes. Only contributions winning local prizes will be forwarded to Mr. Ripley to compete for the grand prize. The contestant agrees to accept Mr. Ripley's judgment on the grand prize winners as final. Nine grand prize winners will be named in the order of the merit of his or her contribution. The first prize winner will have first choice of the nine grand prizes; the second prize winner will have his choice of the remaining eight prizes, and so on, until the grand prizes are all taken.
 - In case of ties the same prizes will be awarded all tying contestants.
 - You do not have to buy The Daily Iowan to compete in this contest. Files of The Daily Iowan may be found at the office of The Daily Iowan where the drawings of Mr. Ripley and the instructions of the contest may be consulted. Or, you may get ideas of "Believe It or Not's" by seeing Mr. Ripley's presentation of some of his best examples on the screen at the Englert Theatre every afternoon and night starting Sunday, May 8—for nine days.
 - Any person may enter except employees of The Daily Iowan and their families.

LOOK AT THESE PRIZES

This competition is open to all readers of Robert L. Ripley's newspaper feature "Believe It or Not" in the United States and Canada. Its purpose is to discover the best "Believe It or Not" facts for Mr. Ripley. The grand prizes are:

Why Prohibition?

EVERYBODY WHO takes an interest, crusading or otherwise, in the wet and dry issue ought to spend a few minutes now and then in thinking over the purpose and principles of prohibition.

Students From Small towns Succeed (From the Daily O'collegian) A survey made by Temple university disclosed that students from small towns usually carry off the scholastic honors at colleges and universities, and that students working their way usually have a higher scholastic ranking than those whose expenses are paid by their parents.

There are too many students on this campus and other campuses of educational institutions in the United States that flunk courses, and barely get through college, merely because they do not have sufficient interests to occupy their time.

Scholars assert there are 200,000 useless words in the English language. And yet a mere man finds his vocabulary limited when he tries to tell a fair motorist that the accident was her fault because she was driving on the wrong side of the street.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFA

Spurred into action by President Hoover's verbal lashing of last week, non-partisan action in the senate yesterday assured early passage of the billion dollar revenue raising bill and the administration economy measure to balance the budget in 1933.

The general feeling, it seemed, after Hoover's scathing attack on lack of speed, postponements, and general apathy in connection with both measures, is summed up rather appropriately in a statement made by Senator Borah yesterday soon after things began to move:

"I do not care one whoop," he said, "who gets the honor, who gets the glory, whether the executive, the legislature, the Republicans or Democrats, or both, just so the country gets economy."

That, in effect, was the essence of Hoover's own declaration, in some quarters branded as just a campaign speech and not especially a governmental decree.

The senate, more thoroughly aroused than the house, plans now to take in hand the battered and unrecognizable omnibus economy measure prepared by the administrative forces and build it up from the 42 millions it carried when it emerged from the house to the 200 millions it must carry to supplement the tax bill.

Putting the matter up to the people may have served, at least, to throw a scare into the forces set to undermining any and all administrative propositions. If so, committee action may be forgone in a last minute attempt to please the constituents, who, after all, must be pleased.

Paul Painleve, former French premier who had such a tough time getting a cabinet together that would meet with the approval of the chamber of deputies, yesterday withdrew his name from the list of potential presidential candidates, leaving just one other possibility.

Not that it makes much difference who is president in France, because that strictly nominal head has little or no absolute power.

The present premier, Andre Tardieu, whose conservative government lost heavily in the recent chamber of deputies elections, will depart slightly from the usual French parliamentary procedure, as soon as a new president is selected, by presenting the resignation of his government, with a request that it be accepted.

As for the matter of French policy, the attitude of the radical socialist and socialist groups leans toward acceptance of the Anglo-American disarmament scheme, with the proviso that the security factor is satisfactorily handled.

In the earliest years of the government when issues formed parties rather than parties dominating the situation to the exclu-

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE Second Semester, 1931-1932 Wednesday, May 25, 8 a.m. to Thursday, June 2, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D and E, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (3), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

Table with columns for Examination Period (8-10 A.M., 10-12 A.M., 2-4 P.M.), Date (May 25-31, June 1-2), and Special Group (A, B, C, D, E) with associated course numbers and departmental instructions.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed (Read by columns, and alphabetically) within the particular group, who will arrange a special examination.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting.

N.B. All sections of freshman speech (2), (3), and (4) will meet in the buildings and rooms and on the days and at the periods designated below:

Table listing specific examination sections for various courses (e.g., Sections AA LA 7, AB LA 15, etc.) and their corresponding dates and times.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- 1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 25 to June 2, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D and E, since for such "odd" classes, these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "The instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd.," even though the student may have been absent from the final examination.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—No doubt, Florenz Ziegfeld will derive a passing satisfaction from the news that Virginia Bruce has just been assigned to play opposite Jack Gilbert in "Downstairs."

Miss Bruce, a tallish blonde with red gold hair, was chosen by New York's famous connoisseur of pulchritude as one of the three most beautiful extra girls in Hollywood.

The Gilbert picture will be the actress' best opportunity to date. Though under contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, she had made most of her recent pictures at Paramount, the very studio, oddly enough, which once let her go via the option route.

In "Downstairs," Virginia plays a housemaid in a foreign home. Jack Gilbert is to be a chauffeur, a part that will not be entirely sympathetic. That is his own fault, however, as he wrote the story himself and has aided in the adaptation.

Her daily gossip: Now that she's moving to Malibu, Estelle Taylor will auction the house and all the furnishings where she and Jack Dempsey lived on Los Feliz Boulevard. The sale will be public and will take place May 18 to 21.

New Buying in Grain Mart Aids Prices

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—New Russian purchasing of wheat led to a brisk return of grain prices today, but the rise was largely offset by stock market declines.

Wheat closed irregular, 1-4 off to 1-4 to 1-4 up, compared with Saturday's finish, corn at 1-4 decline to 1-4 down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

Corn shipping demand here was the best in several days, but weather over the corn belt was generally auspicious for field work. Corn and oats mainly followed the action of wheat.

Provisions were easy, guided by the course of hog values. Closing indemics: wheat—May 53 1/2, bids; July 1-4 to 1-4 5/8 to 1-4 5/8; Sept. 58 1/2, 59 1/2 to 60; Dec. 61 1/2, 62. Corn—July 32 1/4, 32 1/4; Sept. 34 1/2, 34 1/2 to 35; Dec. 34 1/2, 34 1/2 S.

W.A.A. Will Hold Spring Banquet; to Present "I" Letters

The annual "Spring sports banquet" of Women's Athletic Association will be held tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at Iowa Union. Major "I's" will be awarded to those who have successfully completed eight seasons. Intramural winners of the winter sport tournaments will be given cups.

Announcement will be made of those students who have passed the tests for basketball ratings, with the rank received by each. The class basketball trophy will be awarded.

Initiation will follow the banquet for those who have completed the membership requirements in basketball and swimming since fall.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the banquet are: Bertha Helen Anstey, A3 of Massena; Wilma Drake, C3 of Walnut; and Dorothy Byers, A3 of Omaha, Neb.

Students in Geology Will Do Field Work

Excursions into unusual field areas have been scheduled for summer students in the geology department.

In natural laboratories, the students will investigate geological problems during both terms of the session. The Black Hills region of South Dakota and the Baraboo, Wis., district will be the sites of the work.

Camps will be made in these areas and each party will be in the field for four weeks. Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge will direct the Wisconsin party, and Prof. Joseph J. Runner is in charge of the Black Hills group.

Funeral for Aged Resident Will Take Place Tomorrow

Funeral service for Mrs. Barbara Machovec, 84, who died at her home at 632 Reno street early yesterday morning following a lingering illness, will be held tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. at the St. Wenceslaus church with the Rev. A. L. Panoch in charge. Burial will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

Mrs. Machovec, who was born Aug. 16, 1847, in Bohemia, came to the United States with her parents when she was nine years old. They settled on a farm north of Solon. When she was 16 years old she came to Iowa City and has been a resident here since.

Mrs. Machovec, a widow, is survived by three sons, Frank and James Machovec of Iowa City, and Thomas Machovec of Cedar Rapids; two brothers, Joseph Vrbra of Cedar Rapids and Thomas Vrbra of Schuyler, Neb.; and one sister Mrs. Katherine Plarick of Solon. The body is at the home of Frank Machovec, 618 N. Gilbert street.

Community Chest Drive to Close in Next Few Days

Reports from 80 of the 400 men in the community chest drive organization were turned in at a meeting of the campaign leaders following the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday.

During the next few days, according to W. J. Holland, manager, the remaining chest workers will be urged to complete their solicitations and report. The campaign, intended to close yesterday, will be extended until these reports are made.

Further community chest action will be decided at a meeting of the welfare bureau tonight at 5 o'clock in the American Legion Community building.

Shannahan Speaks to Class in Religion

"Jesus Christ is God. This is the edifice we call Catholic faith," said the Msgr. William P. Shannahan, pastor of St. Patrick's church, who spoke yesterday to the class in living religions of mankind on "Essentials of a Catholic faith."

Some of the facts on which the Catholics base their belief are that Jesus Christ founded a visible organization which He called His church, and gave it marks which distinguish it from others, he explained.

"These marks, unity, holiness, catholicity, and apostolicity, are found in the Holy Roman Catholic church and in no other," he said.

It is open to the public.

Maruth Finds Simple Form for Enrolling

Writer's cramp and frayed tempers no longer will afflict University of Iowa students as they fill out registration cards. Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar, has devised a new form which will be used for the first time next month at summer session registration.

Instead of writing 14 cards, the students will fill in only three of the same size as the former ones, and another of only a few lines. Duplicating machines now will perform the labor which formerly harassed the student, Mr. Maruth said. He believes that the new system will make the state university's registration the simplest of any American institution.

After being thoroughly tested during registration for summer session the plan will be used when the students enroll next fall.

V.N.A. to Hear Report
A report on the Visiting Nurse association's campaign for funds will be made at a meeting of the organization in the mayor's office in the city hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Cardinals Nose Out Brooklyn, 7-6, in Ninth; Senators Shut Out Indians, 3-0

'Sparky' Gets Triple, Collins Singles to Win

Dodgers' 6 to 3 Lead Fades Away as Cards Rally

ST. LOUIS, May 9 (AP)—Pounding the offerings of the veteran Jack Quinn for four successive hits after one was out in the ninth inning, the Cardinals pushed across three runs to nose out Brooklyn, 7 to 6, in today's opener.

Sparky Aams' triple, his third hit of the game, scored a pair to tie the count and, then, after two intentional passes, Jimmy Collins came through with a single to score Adams with the winning run. It also was Collins' third safety.

Up to the time of their big rally, the champions were behind all the way and it appeared the Dodgers would break their three game losing streak. Peeking away at Flint Rhem, the invaders had piled up a 6 to 3 lead going into the last of the eighth and, with Watson Clark pitching fine ball, looked like the winners but Clark gave way to Quinn when the Cards threatened in their half of the eighth, and the veteran couldn't hold his lead.

Rhem went the route and, though hit hard, pulled out his fourth victory of the year. Cuccinello found him for a home run in the second.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Brooklyn 6 12 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 12 1 St. Louis 0 0 1 0 1 3 7 13 1 Batteries—Clark, Quinn and Lopez; Rhem and Wilson.

Braves' Two Runs in 12th Beat Bucs, 6-5

PITTSBURGH, May 9 (AP)—Two runners crossed the plate when Fritz Knothe whacked a long single in the 12th inning today and the Boston Braves took the first game of the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5.

Subsequently the same peppy third baseman ended the game by throwing out Traynor after the Bucs had scored a run and had filled the bases.

"Huck" Betts opposed Larry French at the start, but Frankhouse was called from the bullpen in the sixth. The latter hurled brilliantly up to the 12th, when he was removed for Tom Zachary. Cantwell finished the game. French hurled a steady game.

Maranville started the rally that won with a single. Hargrave hit for two bases and Knothe slashed out his third hit of the afternoon to register the winning runs.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Boston 10 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 10 2 Pittsburgh 0 1 2 0 0 0 0 1 2 Batteries—Betts, Frankhouse, Zachary, Cantwell and Hargrave; French and Brenzell.

Reds Rally in Ninth to Upset Phillies, 4-3

CINCINNATI, May 9 (AP)—A ninth inning rally gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 3 victory today in the season's first tussle with the Phillies.

It was Cincinnati's fifth straight victory. Making it notable again was Ernest Lombardi, ball crashing catcher, who hit a triple and a home run. Until the ninth, he and Chick Hafey with two each, had recorded all Cincinnati's hits.

Their triples in the second helped the Reds to two runs. Lombardi's homer on the first ball pitched to him in the seventh put the Reds ahead. Lee's homer in the first half of the ninth evened matters and it took Gilbert's single after Herman's double, Lombardi's walk, and Hafey's bunt to end the game. The victory put the Reds in

Sportively Speaking

By Bill Rutledge

With a minimum of ballyhoo Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling are approaching their match for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world in the Madison Square Garden corporation's new outdoor arena June 16. To be sure the match is more than a month away; but it does seem that the pre-fight publicity is coming along with unusual slowness.

Of all sports, the realm of fisticuffs has undergone greater changes than probably any other form of athletics. However, many of the alterations have been slow and subtle with many fans missing them.

In the days of John L. Sullivan, "Gentleman Jim" Corbett, and Jim Jeffries the champion toured the entire country, and all the civilized parts of the world—taking on all comers with usually an offer of $1,000 to anyone who could knock them out. In those days champions were champions. Schmeling engages in a match on the average of one a year whereas the old title-holders would consider that they were getting out of trim if they did not have a hard scrap at least once a week.

To supplement their boxing the by-gone champs took up the drama and took the heroic role in smashing melodramas. Sullivan's starring vehicle was "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands." Corbett was the handsome hero of "Gentleman Jim."

Between the acts they put on exhibition bouts.

The present day champion skips back to Germany after each defense of his title and remains in seclusion there until about a year later—by which time a "suitable opponent" has been lined up for him. The fight public cannot hold in high esteem a titlist of this type.

This probably sounds like a "rainy day" column. It is.

Baseball Tops Competition for Hawkeyes

Slackening of the competitive pace of University of Iowa teams occurs this week, since only four contests, two below the average of the last month, are scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

The attempt of the baseball team to defeat Wisconsin twice at Madison and thereby continue to share the Big Ten lead—or to step into first place if Michigan loses one of its two games with Ohio State—is the center of interest.

Iowa tennis men will face Minnesota Friday in the second and last of the conference meets at Iowa City, while the golfers go to Evanston for a clash with Northwestern the following day.

Because of the cancellation of the tentatively-scheduled meet with Minnesota, the track team is idle for the second successive week end. Time trials for the Big Ten meet of May 20 and 21 will occupy the athletes.

third place in the league standings. Score by innings: R. H. E. Philadelphia 0 0 0 0 1 3 9 0 Cincinnati 0 2 0 0 1 0 4 7 0 Batteries—Holley and McCurdy, V. Davis; Carroll and Lombardi.

Hawkeye Tennis Team Loses to Wisconsin Netsters, 4-2

Reddig Cops Iowa's Only Singles Win

Theiss, Kinneman Take Victory in Doubles in 3 Sets

Iowa's tennis team failed yesterday in its fourth attempt to down a Big Ten rival. Wisconsin turned back the Old Gold netsters on the Iowa courts with a 4 to 2 score, winning three out of four singles matches and one of the doubles events.

Capt. Ron Reddig, Hawkeye number one player, uncorked a fast game of tennis to score the only singles victory over the Badgers. Silverman, Wisconsin top ranking man, was an easy victim for Reddig's smashing drives.

John Becker, playing number two position on Iowa's squad battled through three sets with Melklejohn of Wisconsin, showing the best brand of tennis he has played all season. The number two match proved to be the fastest on the card, with a doubtful advantage shifting both ways. Melklejohn, wielding a left handed racket, found a worthy opponent in Becker, and more than once found himself facing the play-off of a match point.

Two Clash Again

In the number three match Wally Theiss and Bill Erier, Wisconsin third ranking man, crossed rackets early in the season in the faculty-variety contests, with Erier carrying the faculty colors. At that time, Theiss was defeated, but this time the score was more one-sided—6-0, 6-2.

John Kinneman of Iowa and Kernjack of Wisconsin furnished another close match in the singles. John started the day in fine shape and apparently had the edge, but after forcing the issue in the first set and winning the second he suddenly slacked and lost the third set with a low score.

Erier Saves Day

The number one match was an example of the best style of tennis, composed of smashing returns, difficult shots and fast lofts. Erier saved the day for the Badgers—he managed to get under some shots that seemed to be slated for a "point Iowa." Reddig and Becker became unmoved by a series of bad breaks, and managed to lose several points which they were unable to recover.

Theiss and Kinneman were forced to exert themselves to win the first set in their two set match, but swept their way to an easy victory in the last set, allowing Wisconsin only one game out of seven in the final round.

Summaries

Singles: Reddig (I) defeated Silverman (W) 6-2, 6-3; Melklejohn (W) defeated Becker (I) 6-3, 3-6, 7-5; Erier (W) defeated Theiss (I) 6-0, 6-2; Kernjack (W) defeated Kinneman (I) 8-6, 1-6, 6-2.

Doubles: Silverman and Erier (W) defeated Reddig and Becker (I) 6-4, 9-11, 6-2; Theiss and Kinneman (I) defeated Kernjack and Melklejohn (W) 8-6, 6-1.

Javelin Throwers Compete for Rotary Club Trophy Today

Javelin throwers will vie today and tomorrow for the Rotary club javelin cup donated every fall and spring by the club of that name to encourage an interest in the sport.

Last fall the cup was captured by Merle Beauchamp, a freshman, who heaved the spear 152 feet. The record throw for this contest is 180 feet established by L. D. Weldon.

The throw is under the direction of Elmo Nelson, physical education practice teacher, and is open to any athlete who has not won the event before or who has not earned a letter in the javelin.

Pick-Up Nine Shutout, 11-0 by Ramblers

Gaulocher Allows Only Two Singles, Fans 11 Batters

The Ramblers continue to turn in one-sided victories behind extraordinary pitching and good fielding play.

Last night, the St. Mary's boys turned back a pickup Little Hawk outfit by a score of 11 to 0 in the first of two practice games in preparation for the next regular game with Cosgrove here Friday. Tomorrow night they meet the Mules for the third time.

Leo Gaulocher was working in perfect style last night and was never in trouble, as he held the Little Hawks to two singles, struck out 11 men and issued only one base on balls.

Harding, who hurled the first three innings for the losers, couldn't get working and the Ramblers counted five runs off his slants. Four of their hits being coupled with four bases on balls. When Brown took over the mound duties he was nicked for three runs in the fourth because of his wildness. After his control in the fifth, the winners solved his curve and drove in three more runs in the sixth on a single by R. Lumsden, his other drive of the day, having been a triple in the first, a triple by Gaulocher and a double by Bradley. Two errors had a good deal to do with the run gathering in this frame.

Dusk League Makes Plans for Summer

General discussion of matters pertaining to the Twilight league this summer took up the most of the session of the team managers at Sidwell's last night.

While the big problem at hand is the signing of two more teams to supplement the six carrying over from last year's league, it was decided to postpone final decision as to the teams to be signed until the next meeting which is scheduled for Monday evening.

In the meantime, the teams now entered—Racine's, Sidwell's, Academy, Odd Fellows, The Daily Town, and Iowa Supply—have been working out evenings and Sundays in preparation for the opening of the league play which will probably be the first week in June.

In a practice game at North Liberty Sunday, Racine's lost a close decision to the Letts team. The score was 8 to 7, marking the second time

WHEN FERRELL MEETS FERRELL

Though they were on opposite sides, "Rick" Ferrell (left), catcher of the St. Louis Browns, and his brother, Wes, of the Cleveland Indians, found time to exchange brotherly greetings when they met for the first time this season at Cleveland, Ohio, when their teams clashed. Wes seems to be showing Rick how they juggle the ball in the Indian camp.

Another Win for Phi B. D. in Kittenball

Phi Beta Delta batsmen cracked out hits to all corners of the field Sunday to win over the Phi Epsilon Kappas, 13 to 4, and take the lead in the championship flight of the inter-fraternity kittenball race along side of Theta Tau.

The Phi Bets put on a general attack with four of their men getting three hits off of the pitching of Weit, who worked in the absence of Kronkholz. While his mates were punishing the horsehide, Martin Kronkholz had little trouble holding the Phi Epsilon Kappas in check. He struck out 11 men in hanging up his sixth victory of the schedule.

With Phi Epsilon Kappa having a game in the loss column, Theta Tau appears to be the team that Phi Beta Delta will have to beat out for the trophy. When these two tens meet up, a pitchers battle is bound to ensue as Kronkholz and Clearman are the two outstanding twirlers of the 25 teams which started the schedule.

Sigma Phi Epsilon applied the whitewash brush to Delta Chi yesterday, drubbing them 7 to 0. The game did not alter the standing of the leaders, though, as both are practically out of the race.

The Sig Eps garnered only eight hits, but they made them count, pushing over three runs in both the fourth and seventh innings. Rundell, with a home run and two singles, and Batty, with two one base blows, were the outstanding hitters for Sig Eps. Barper pitched a good game for the winners, never being threatened seriously. He was opposed by Conway.

The Phi Gamma Delta tennis doubles team of Dick Hanten and Bill Kearney advanced to the third round when they eliminated Delta Sigma Phi, last year's runnerup. The Phi Gams had little trouble in taking the first set, 6-3, but the Delta Sig's put up a stubborn fight in the second one and extended the games to 15-13 before losing.

Both the singles and doubles rounds are to be finished by today according to John Carlson who is in charge of the tourneys.

Sigma Chi yesterday eliminated Sigma Phi Epsilon from the round robin inter-fraternity horseshoe tournament. The Sigma Chi's took two straight games from the Sig Eps, the first by a score of 21 to 14 and the second 21 to 15.

There are now three teams without a defeat against them. The fraternity teams in the three way tie for first place are: Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta. The playoff for first place will be held sometime this week.

Peterson and Meyers composed the Sigma Chi team while Hoepner and Maloney pitched for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

BIG SIX

(By the Associated Press)

Carl Deynolds, fleet outfielder of the Washington Senators, slugged his way to the top in the big league batting race yesterday when he hit two doubles and a home run in propelling the Senators to a 3 to 0 victory over Cleveland. The three blows sent Reynolds average up to .420 in 19 games and enabled him to pass Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics who was idle.

Other Events of Wire Dual With Badgers This Afternoon

Seven events of the freshman telegraphic track meet with Wisconsin were run off yesterday at Iowa field. The remaining events consisting of the 220, 880, two mile run, 220 yard low hurdles, broad jump, discus throw will take place this afternoon, while the comparative results of the entire meet will be known Thursday.

None of the men reached their best marks as the weather was cold and drizzly but a better showing is expected today. Men who did not compete in yesterday's events will have the opportunity to do so today.

One of the best events of the day was the 440 yard dash in which Bob Cook, after a long lay-off, hung up the time of 51.2. Russell Henry was second, a scant half second behind, while Byron Bury was third in 52 seconds.

Summary of Iowa places in other events:

100 yard dash—Won by Harry Nehls; Smith, second; Bernstein and Henry tied for third. Time—10.3.

120 yard high hurdles—Won by L. Verne Schlar second. Time—43.6.

120 yard low hurdles—Won by L. Corcoran; Tabb, second; Morrissey, third. Time—16.2.

High jump—Won by Art Osland; J. Miller, second; Whinnery and Morrissey tied for third at 5 feet, 5 3-4 inches. Winning height—5 feet, 6 1-4 inches.

Pole vault—Won by Otto Whitmore; White, second; Oslund, third. Height—12 feet, 7 inches.

Shot put—Won by Clarence Hipp; Whinnery, second; Beauchamp, third. Distance—36 feet.

Quad Golfers Progress to Semi-Finals

The Quadrangle spring golf tourney has progressed to the semi-final round and the two matches that will determine finalists find Ekhdahl and Beckett paired in the upper bracket with Morrison and Cassil bracketed strokes to represent the lower.

Tennis enthusiasts have been slower in playing off their games but with the advent of warmer weather and better playing conditions there should be a rise in spirits.

Becker, winner of the singles in the fall play has become ineligible because of his varsity rating now. In three matches during the last week, Baron won from Hekerson, Beckett and Jantzen each advancing to the second round by forfeits. The forfeit date for this round of games is May 8 and the date for the third group, May 14.

In the doubles, two matches have been decided in the top bracket and one in the lower. The Malatsky Druker combination, winner of the fall play, gained a place in the semi-final round by virtue of its win over Hekerson and Ridenour. Garner and Beckett defeated Nelson and Campbell in the other upper game finishing the play to date along with the Houston-Morrison victory over the Case-Lyford team in the lower grouping.

The forfeit date in the first round is May 8 as in golf, with May 14 set for the next one.

Six Hits Off Wes Ferrell Bests Tribe

Washington Now Leads League by Three Full Games

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Lloyd Brown held the Cleveland Indians to four hits today while his teammates pounded out six off Wesley Ferrell to give the Washington Senators a 3 to 0 victory over the Tribe in their first encounter.

The victory placed Washington three full games ahead of New York in the league standing. Only a few spectators saw the game, which was the only one today in the American league. All others had been called off because of cold weather.

Brown helped to put the winning run across the plate. With three men on in the seventh, he drove a hard grounder to Cissell, back of first. Cissell nailed Brown at first, but Reynolds was across the plate with the winning run.

In the eighth, Reynolds smashed one to the center field wall for a home run, scoring Cronin ahead of him, but the seventh inning had produced enough runs to win.

The Indians never threatened seriously, their hits being well scattered.

"THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

COPYRIGHT BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS
Pietty Mary Kennedy breaks her engagement to elderly Buck Landers, wealthy sports promoter, when she falls in love with his young ward, Steve Moore. Landers tries to force Mary to marry him by kidnapping Steve and threatening him, unless she does. He gives Mary twenty-four hours to decide. She enlists the aid of Carlotta, Landers' former sweetheart, who suggests that a flirtation with Bat Landers' henchman, may reveal Steve's whereabouts.

CHAPTER XXV

MARY sat up straight; her whole body was rigid, her face without color.

"But how could I?"

Carlotta Guido laughed softly at her. "Why it's the simplest thing in the world, kid—if you really mean business. I tell you where you can find Bat. Hunt him up and vamp him. Get him full of booze. If he knows anything about your sweetie, he's liable to spill it all—if you work it right. That's up to you."

A sickening horror overpowered Mary. This was too vile; besides, it seemed so extremely hopeless. All of her hopes, suddenly, were cold ash.

"If he knows anything about your sweetie, he's liable to spill it all—if you work it right," said Carlotta.

"No, that's the kind of work I'm—I'm not fitted for," she said slowly. "I thought you might be willing to help me, Miss Guido. You know these people and their ways far better than I do. It means just as much to you as it does to me to get Steve free. With those men, you could protect yourself—and maybe I couldn't. Can't you see—"

A strange flicker crossed Carlotta Guido's face. Nothing of its worldliness relaxed, but in the great dark eyes there was a fragmentary change of expression.

"On the level, you are a good girl, aren't you? You know what I mean?"

Mary's face colored rapidly. She nodded.

"Oh, better women than you have thrown themselves away on men before this. Kids like you are just a dime a dozen to me but, at that, I wouldn't want to toss you in with the wolves. You mightn't be just like you are now, after you get through vamping Bat—I really wouldn't want it on my conscience. But don't think I'm chickenhearted—I hit."

"But you want to be happy just the same as I do," Mary pointed out quickly. "Buck Landers means happiness to you—isn't that worth making a struggle for? We're both women—we both ought to fight together for what we want. If you would only do your best."

"Oh, you don't have to sell me on the idea," Carlotta shot at her impatient. "But it's not the cinch for me you think it is. I'm not a master mind myself, exactly."

"But the time is short," Mary reminded her. "Landers has given me until tomorrow to make up my mind."

"To marry him?"

Torment crept into Carlotta Guido's eyes; she was silent for a moment with her under lip bitten between her stony white teeth. She had suffered so keenly in her pride of affection that the tigress strain of desperate cruelty was barely hidden beneath the surface. Yet she was trying to force her mind to be mild and logical.

"What Landers needs is for me to give him about six inches of sharp steel between the ribs," she grated. "But there's no use doing that unless I have to. Your plan is better, kid."

Mary's eyes began to sparkle. "I know you can do it!"

"Yes, I will help you—but it's dangerous. Wait! I have a better idea—it is not easy to outsmart Buck. Maybe there is a better way to get him. When he sees you alone he's too much for you. When he sees me alone it is the same thing but—suppose the two of us go at him together. You argue him in favor of me and I argue him in favor of you."

Without telephoning, they got in the elevator and went up straight to Landers' quarters. They rapped at his door; he stared at them, surprise changing to anger.

"I thought I had made it plain to you," he said stonily to Carlotta, "that I didn't want you coming around here."

The woman mocked him with a flashing smile.

"Always kidding, aren't you, darling? What made you think I would run out on you, when you needed me most? Carlotta's big bad boy has got himself all messed up. If he's not careful, he's going to get in awful bad."

—he's only human, and maybe you can change him. It takes a good man to stand up against two women."

It seemed hopeless, despite the force of Carlotta Guido's coarse personality that now seemed to be definitely enlisted on Mary's side. She tried to estimate the intensity of Carlotta's importance to Landers. It was grasping at a straw to see Landers again, but it was worth a chance.

"Very well then," she said. "But don't let's waste any time. He probably hasn't left the hotel yet."

"They left the place immediately, and, outside, Mary caught sight of the sinister figure of Bat loafing at the corner. He had been keeping an eye on the door. Landers was taking no chances on her; this constant shadowing brought a hardness to Buck's heart. For the first time, the bitter venom of hatred began to poison her. Actually she had been so concerned with her own problem, heretofore, that she had thought of Landers without rancor. Now, at the first sight of the skulking Bat, she felt a shudder of detestation for his employer. A man who would stoop to such means was not only a bully, but a sneak.

A new harshness of mind began to fortify her confidence. The fact that Landers had her under surveillance was an indication not of strength or power, but of his own weakness. He wasn't sure of himself.

Back again to the Metropolis, Mary marched with Carlotta Guido at her side. She had come to detest the place. This revulsion of feeling included everything, the decorations, the furniture and carpet and the close, smug air of its interior. But she was on edge now, and ready for the battle of her life.

Landers shot a stern glance of inquiry at Mary. "You've been talking."

She was not afraid of him now. "Certainly I've been talking. I met Miss Guido and I've told her every living thing. Does it worry you?"

"You've made things worse for yourself," he snapped.

"You've kicked up a lot of trouble for all of us, Buck—but you are the one that is due to get the worst of it," Carlotta Guido told him swiftly.

"I'm surprised at you—a smart guy like you steering yourself into all this grief. Kidnaping this girl's sweetie. You must think you're a Chicago gangster or somebody! Honest, Buck, I'm astonished at you, and I can't keep a thing like this secret—suppose one of those rats you hire squeals? Do you think you're big enough in New York to get away with that stuff?"

Her words shot at him like bullets. This woman was no young and confused girl—she had been hardened in the same way school that had graduated Buck himself. For the moment, she had put aside her infatuation and emotionalism. Her voice, now, was as heavy as a man's.

"You're not acting like a bad guy, Buck," she went on witheringly. "You're behaving like an old fool—and I'm sorry for you. Actually, I'm sorry. Is it old age that makes you tatty, or what?"

Mary caught her breath—it seemed, for a fact, the tide was turning in her favor. At last, Landers was face to face with someone who could meet him with his own particular kind of logic. He stopped silently—as though he had come against a blank wall.

Washington U. Wins First in Hearst Match

Hawkeyes Second to Ohio State in Midwest

First place in the senior division of the annual William Randolph Hearst rifle matches this year goes to the University of Washington team by virtue of a total of 960 points. Greenbrier military academy of Lewisburg, W. Va., took first honors in the military school division, while in the junior division the Pasadena junior college team of Pasadena, Cal., was first.

Individual championship in the senior division was won by Don Cook, University of Washington star. Mavor Osborne of Greenbrier academy took individual honors in the academy division and Lawrence Strong of the Alameda, Cal., high school squad took first in the junior division. Strong fired the exceptionally high total of 199.

First place in the midwest section was won by Ohio State, whose total was 930. The University of Iowa team was second in this section with a score of 921. Kemper military academy of Boonville, Mo., took high sectional honors in the academy division.

Other section winners in the three divisions were: Western section: University of Washington, Kamehameha school of Hoolulu, T. H., and Pasadena junior college. Eastern section: Cornell university, New York military academy of Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y., and Gloucester high school, Gloucester, Mass. Southern section: University of Tennessee, Greenbrier military academy, and Western Kentucky Teachers college of Bowling Green, Ky.

Iowa State Netsters Beat Carleton Team for Second Straight

AMES, May 9 (AP)—Iowa State scored its second 5 to 1 tennis victory in two starts in defeating Carleton college of Northfield, Minn., today. The Cyclones played the University of Iowa to the same score Saturday.

Solem Gives Large Squad Speedy Drill

With an unusually large squad reporting, Coach Ossie Solem worked 65 University of Iowa football candidates through another short, brisk drill yesterday afternoon on Iowa field.

A forward passing drill served as an opener for the afternoon's festivities. With eight backs alternating at the tossing end, the remainder of the squad was sent down the field in an endeavor to get under some of the tosses.

Howard Masden, strong contender for the quarterback job, Jerry Kriz, George Ekdahl, erstwhile Minnesota Gopher, and Ted Mareah were shooting their passes with the greatest amount of accuracy, but none of the passers was able to attain the proper gauge on their heaves with any great consistency.

Cyclones Whip Carleton

AMES (AP)—The Iowa State baseball team capitalized on 10 Carleton errors today to beat the Northfield, Minn., nine, 10 to 5. The Cyclones fielded without an error in the first seven innings and hit safely 15 times.

Iowa Boxers Tie for Fourth in Intercollegiate Tourney; Plan Extensive '32-'33 Card

By GENE THORNE

University of Iowa boxers closed one of their most active seasons last week end when they won fourth place at the intercollegiate boxing championships in the Chicago stadium. They also have the distinction of being the first Hawkeye scrappers to represent the university in collegiate circles.

Coach Carl Kaufman entered five men in the meet who brought back a championship and a third place. Elliot Draine won the 112 pound title without dropping a glove when "Coach" Yonochi, Purdue entry, the only other man entered in the division, had an attack of appendicitis.

Dave Elderkin, Hawkeye 160-pounder, met Lynch, Illinois southpaw, and lost a decision after a hard fight. Elderkin could not solve Lynch's left-handed swing to the head, although he tried to counter with a body attack. Floored for a nine count in the third heat, the Hawkeye got up gamely to finish straight, but lost.

Elderkin Wins Consolation

In the bout to decide the third place winner, Elderkin boxed his way to a neat decision win over Pedersen, slugging Michigan catcher. Pedersen employed a brouch to escape body punishment, but could not reach Elderkin with his haymaker rights, Elderkin beating him to the punch time after time.

Al Bell, 147 pound Hawkeye, lost an "odd" decision to Kalonick of Michigan. Bell appeared to have a fair margin, but the judges ruled otherwise.

Fred Graeber, 135-pounder, was knocked out in the first round of his initial bout by Johnny Walsh, of St. Thomas college, St. Paul. Walsh was easily the outstanding man of the meet, taking the title with three knockouts. He displayed a two-fisted attack that opponents could not fathom, holding them entirely on the defensive.

Gruber Wins in Third

Manny Gruber, another Hawkeye 125 pound entry, lost a decision to Huffman of Ohio State, in his first bout. Gruber looked good the first two rounds, but wilted in the third.

Illinois and Minnesota tied for first place team honors and rights to the travelling trophy with 12 points apiece; Wisconsin was third with 11 points, Iowa and Michigan tied for fourth with 6 each. St. Thomas scored 5 markers, Armour Tech 5, Ohio State 1, and Loyola 1.

When Bud Marcy, member of the Chicago Golden Gloves team, fighting for Loyola, lost a decision in his first bout to Oakley of Michigan, the fans became convinced that the college boxers knew the game, and when Oakley lost in the finals, the boys at the ringside were positive. The meet was crammed with action both nights.

The tourney, which was run off without a hitch, was staged by the American Legion. It was the first of its kind ever to be held.

Hantelmann Only Two-Timer

Previous to the Chicago trip, the Iowa boxers competed in two intramural meets, the all-university championships, and the Hawkeye open meet. Harold Hantelmann, heavyweight, was the only man to win two titles this year. Coach

Freshman Diamond Squad Gets Hitting Drill; Play Reserves

Hampered by the wet condition of the baseball field, the frosh ball squad was put through a fast drill in hitting last night by Coach "Pops" Harrison.

The first practice of the week saw few men out, but full strength will be on hand the latter part of the week when the yearlings clash with the varsity reserves. A game with the varsity regulars may be played before Coach Otto Vogel's crew steps back into Big Ten competition.

Kaufman held daily drills throughout the year, with a squad of 20 to 30 men reporting regularly.

Champion of the all-university tourney are: 112 pounds, Irvine Fleischman; 118 pounds, Charles Cline; 135 pounds, Manny Gruber; 147 pounds, Joe Schwartz; 160 pounds, Orville Orr; 175 pounds, Otis Wolf; heavyweight, Harold Hantelmann.

Hawkeye open champions are: 112 pounds, Elliot Draine; 126 pounds, Tom Barnard; 135 pounds, Fred Graeber; 147 pounds, Al Bell; 160 pounds, Dave Elderkin; heavyweight, Harold Hantelmann.

It was from this group of champions that the Iowa team was picked to box in the Windy City meet.

Plans are now under way to extend boxing to the various intramural groups next year, with tournaments for fraternity men, for O. T. C. members, and a Quad tournament. Medals will be awarded for all first and second place winners.

Prange High Among Iowa Baseball Men

Gordon Prange, University of Iowa third baseman, has a good start in his attempt to top Hawkeye hitters for the second successive year.

Of the regulars who have played in the majority of games, the Pomery athlete has a .332 average. He has cracked out 13 hits in 34 times at bat.

Capt. Elmo Nelson, catcher, has eight hits in 23 trips to the plate for a .347 average, while Frank Drager, shortstop, is third with .322, 10 hits in 31 times at bat.

Playing in four of the eight games, Joe Laws, right fielder, has compiled a .288 average with 7 hits in 18 times at bat to lead the athletes who have not appeared regularly.

Gasoline Alley Station Opens 6 Day Jubilee

Candy, cigars, chewing gum, and cigars are being given to all customers of Gasoline Alley this week as a feature of six days of Jubilee starting this morning in celebration of the service station's second anniversary.

Started two years ago by three brothers, Walter, Urban, and Jack Kelly, the station has grown steadily. Working on the theory that high quality merchandise and low prices coupled with consistently good service would bring customers, the brothers have developed the station until now it is one of the largest in the city.

"The Path that Became a Thoroughfare" was adopted in the beginning as a slogan for the station. Building their establishment in a location away from the business district, the Kelly brothers have succeeded in bringing customers from the entire community.

Gasoline tanks are filled directly from cars on a side track next to the station, saving the expense ordinarily caused by shrinking and aut trucking.

All three of the Kelly brothers were born and reared in Johnson county and attended school here. Their father, Charles Kelley, is also a member of the station staff.

Missouri Seeks Title
COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Jack Crangle, baseball coach at the University of Missouri has but to break even in the two game series with Iowa State here May 29 and 31 to give the Tigers their second straight Big Six conference championship. Last season Crangle's men tied for the title with the Oklahoma Sooners, but one more victory this year will give the Missourians undisputed claim.

Negro Wins Decision
SIoux CITY (AP)—Speedy Schaefer, Sioux City Negro, outpointed George Fritz, Ft. Dodge middleweight, in the six round headliner of tonight's boxing show. In other scheduled six rounds Earl Brown, Ft. Dodge lightweight, defeated Carl Wells of Omaha, and Johnny Conlon, Omaha, knocked out Johnny Burdas, Sioux City featherweight, in the third.

JUBILEE WEEK

A FREE Gift to Every Purchaser 6 Gala Days Starting TODAY

Starting TODAY
we are giving

to every purchaser a practical, useful gift. We are taking this means to express our appreciation of your patronage during the past two years--to develop new friendships, and to acquaint the public with our superior products.

NOTE CAREFULLY our six special offers. You can order by number. Specials No. 1 and No. 2 call for both oil and Rockilene. If you do not need the oil at the time of your purchase, you can pay for it and accept a coupon redeemable at any later date.

"The Path That Became A Thoroughfare"...

Two years ago this week, we opened Gasoline Alley to the public. Our beginning was a very modest one. At first only three people were employed. The public was quick to discover that Gasoline Alley was a place where bona-fide savings could be made in gas and oil purchases. Our business increased until now nine people are kept busy taking care of our customers' needs.

We feature Rockilene, the gas noted for its high anti-knock qualities, easy starting, added power and exceptional mileage.

We have made preparations for your visit this week. We feel certain our old customers will call and they will be thrice welcome. We want all the car owners who have never visited Gasoline Alley to come without fail. We guarantee to save everybody money who burns gasoline and we are sure you will appreciate our Jubilee gifts.
