Treasurer Seeks $20,000 Shortage in County Funds

Gophers Rally in Wild Ninth to Get Victory

Four Homers Feature Loose Tilt; Series Final Today

By RON TALLMAN
Bill Rieke coasted along on a wave of heavy hitting for eight innings yesterday, and then, with victory in the offing, allowed two singles that led to a Minnesota victory in a ninth inning rally that culminated in a wild brawl as ball players and spectators stormed the diamond. With the 9 to 8 defeat went glimmering Iowa's hopes of climbing to the top of Western conference baseball. The second and final of the series will be played this afternoon.

Going into the last inning protecting a narrow 8-7 lead, brought about mainly through home runs by Glen Baker, "Ham" Schulteheiner and Capt. Jim Kenny and the steady hitting of Mike Riegert, Rieke was touched for hits by the first two men to face him.

Hein Relieves Rieke

Gay, the slugging first baseman for the Gophers, collected his second single of the game as he beat out an infield roller. Shannon, the only other visitor to find the Hawkeye pitcher for more than one safe blow, sent Gay to third with a sharp drive through shortstop and Coach Vogel sent Wayne Hein in to relieve the faltering Rieke.

Ascher, Gopher second baseman.

DAVENPORT, May 27 (AP)—Mike Talarico, reputed head of a Davenport bootleg ring, presented himself before Chief of Police Harry Ward late today following the chief's ultimatum that he must appear before morning for questioning regarding the killing Wednesday of Nick Coin, Davenport bootlegger.

Ward said he learned nothing of importance from Talarico. Others said to be connected with Tri-city liquor activities also were questioned without results. However, reports were current that a vice clean-up was in progress.

Diplomas were presented by W. N. Lepper, county superintendent of schools.

4 Youthful Robbers Confess Series of Thefts After Arrest

PT. DODGE, May 27 (AP)—A series of robberies in the southern part of Webster county in the past year today was believed solved with the arrest of five Dayton youths, four of whom are said by Sheriff Robert Waldburger to have signed confessions.

A part of the loot was recovered. Members of the group charged with the robberies are Joy Carlson, 17; Glenn Dagen, 20; Russell Blair, 20; Edwin Eastberg, 20, and Robert Patrick, 18.

Patrick is in police custody in Albert Lea, Minn., and will be returned here.

Small Leads Illinois G.O.P. to Wet Stand

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 27 (AP)—Led by Len Small, its nominee for governor, the Illinois Republican convention for the first time since prohibition went into effect in 1920, today adopted the "wet" side of the question in a platform which did not mention President Hoover by name.

The 74 year old former governor, who is seeking a third term, was roundly cheered as he declared for repeal of state and national prohibition laws and asserted that Illinois voters had plainly showed their sentiments on the issue in the referendum of 1930.

Prosperity to Return

Prosperity will return, Small—hitherto a "dry"—said, and "the reign of terror in crime syndicates" will end when prohibition is terminated.

Small and former Mayor Thompson of Chicago, his political ally, controlled the convention, which elected 11 uninducted delegates-at-large to the national convention in Chicago next month.

Urges Resubmission

The declaration of the former governor, who has had Anti-Saloon league support as a "dry" in previous campaigns, followed an address by Temporary Chairman Frank L. Smith of Dwight, who urged the delegates to approve a plank for resubmission of the liquor question to the states. Smith blamed the Democrats for placing the eighteenth amendment in the constitution.

Warns Against Cermak

Small also warned that Mayor Cermak of Chicago, Democratic leader, was attempting to extend his rule over the state.

Not a single "dry" raised his voice in convention. And when Small had concluded his address the convention by unanimous action adopted his entire speech as its platform.

Leaders Would Drop Liquor Plank

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—An attempt to lift prohibition out of the presidential campaign by having both parties adopt identical planks on this question has been undertaken by some prominent Republicans and Democrats.

The plan, broached in two conferences here and in New York, has met with wide approval, but a probable insurmountable obstacle is the broad and apparently uncompromising difference between militant wets and dries as to what the platform should say.

"The idea is great if you take our proposition," is the way leaders on both sides of the prohibition controversy have reacted to the proposal.

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Harrison F. Fossnacht, 27, of Omaha, Neb., was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident without giving aid in connection with a mishap in which Eileen Smith, 5, suffered a broken leg.

Under Police Guard

SIoux CITY (AP)—Archie Kelsey, former Sioux City baseball player who was wounded in Tokamah, Neb., was in a hospital under police guard. He will be questioned in connection with several holdups here.

Investigators Continue With Walker Probe

Seabury Would Link Walker, Sherwood Accounts

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP)—A newspaper publisher's explanation of a brokerage account from which Mayor Walker drew $246,000 profit without a cent's investment was given to the Hofstadter legislative committee today, after a city employe had contradicted some of the mayor's own testimony.

The aftermath of Walker's own two day appearance before the inquiry board ended with Samuel Seabury attempting to link the personal finances of the mayor and those of Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant.

Puts $1,000,000 Away

Sherwood, testimony had shown, put nearly $1,000,000 into his bank and brokerage accounts between the day Walker became mayor and the day the $3,500 a year accountant disappeared.

Seabury, committee counsel, opened the day's session by attacking the mayor's testimony and contending the committee had proof, in spite of Walker's denial, that Sherwood for years had been his personal business agent.

Documentary Evidence

The session ended with Seabury introducing documentary evidence by which he sought to show that the finances of Walker and Sherwood were intertwined and that the accountant drew checks for the mayor from funds Walker has said he knew nothing about.

The city employe who was called to testify against his own chief executive was Park Commissioner Walter R. Herrick.

Walker had denied he ever owned, either directly or indirectly, any Interstate Trust company stock.

Herrick testified that he bought for Walker and with Walker's money, 300 shares of the stock, which was issued in the park commissioner's name and part of which was posted as collateral for a loan to the Equitable Bus company.

Sent from City Hall

After Herrick had told how the $39,000 for the purchase of the stock had been sent to him from the city hall, either directly from the mayor or his secretary, Seabury asked:

"And there was no misunderstanding on your part, was there, that this $39,000 was to be used to purchase the 300 shares of Interstate Trust company stock?"

Baker Faces Court Action for Violation

MUSCATINE, May 27 (AP)—Sought by the state on a warrant charging conspiracy to violate the medical practice act, Norman Baker of Muscatine today was confronted with additional court action.

J. C. France of Tipton, formerly attorney for Baker, obtained a writ of attachment against Baker's property, alleging that he believes the former operator of the local cancer treatment institute has absconded and is about to dispose of his property with intent to defraud creditors.

France's bill for $2,958 was understood to cover fees for legal service. France was associated with Attorney C. P. Hanley of Muscatine in Baker's $500,000 libel suit against the American Medical society.

Two bodies, those of E. L. Forest of Portsmouth, Va., second assistant engineer, and Charles Crowley, steward of Providence, R. I., were recovered. The others missing were Jim Merriweather of Philadelphia, mess boy, and Zanny Lowes of Portsmouth, Va., seaman.

The Chattanooga picked up the remaining 32 members of the Grecian's crew and proceeded for Boston. The vessel left New York for the Massachusetts port last night and reported her own passengers and crew uninjured.

Berry Claims Discrepancy in Bank's Record

County Treasurer Says Accounts of First National Err

In an effort to clear up the mystery of the disappearance of $20,000 in Johnson county funds deposited in the First National bank here Jan. 2, 1932, an Iowa City delegation conferred in Des Moines yesterday.

County Treasurer Charles L. Berry, County Attorney F. B. Olsen, and Attorney Henry Negus made the trip. They conferred with Attorney General John Fletcher and the acting state auditor.

Has Deposit Slip

Berry claims that on Jan. 2, 1932 he deposited approximately $25,000 in the bank and received a deposit slip. The transaction is also recorded in the pass-book in the possession of Mr. Berry.

After the bank closed the county was credited with $31,000 in deposits, while Mr. Berry claims $51,000 is due the county. However, Mr. Berry did not receive the bank's statement until several weeks after the bank closed.

The purpose of yesterday's trip was explained by Mr. Olsen as an effort to determine the procedure to be followed in taking action to recover the funds.

As soon as Berry discovered the discrepancy in the county's account, he requested a special check immediately by the state auditor's office. The check was postponed because of lack of available checkers and was not completed until yesterday. The check showed that Berry's office records were accurate and that the discrepancy, therefore, must be in the bank's records.

The total deposit made by Mr. Berry on Jan. 2 was approximately $25,000. On this date the bank record credits the county with a deposit of only about $6,000, leaving $20,000 to be accounted for.

A claim against the First National bank receivership will be filed by Berry in the near future, according to the county attorney.

Girl Wounded in Gun Fight

MORRIS, Okla., May 27 (AP)—Kidnaped by three bank robbers, Claire Aggas, 26 year old bookkeeper, was shot today in a gun fight that resulted in the death of one of her abductors and the reported wounding of another. Two of the men escaped unscathed.

Guns blazed as the robbers emerged from the first State bank of Morris with $800 in loot and the girl their captive. Alone in the bank, she had sounded the burglar alarm, although threatened with fire arms.

Forrest Bradley, whose store is across the street opened fire as the trio prepared to flee in an automobile, using the girl as a shield.

Miss Aggas was wounded in the exchange of shots with the robbers, but it was undetermined who was responsible. Neither she nor Bradley was able to explain. A bullet struck her in the lower jaw and penetrated her shoulder.

Marshal Thompson was wounded in the arm.

Bromley Lands in New Jersey on Try at Non-Stop Flight

CAMDEN, N. J., May 27 (AP)—Harold Bromley, who left Dallas early today to make a non-stop flight to New York, landed at the Central airport tonight.

Bromley flew a high wing monoplane powered by a Diesel-type motor. He said he met stormy weather all the way, but made it through without landing. He planned to continue to New York tomorrow and to attempt a non-stop flight from New York to Los Angeles as soon as possible.

Bromley has said he would attempt to fly non-stop from Seattle to Tokyo in his Diesel-type motored plane and win a large money prize. He had been in Dallas outfitting his plane.

Driving Finish Ends Revenue Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—In a driving finish, the senate approved virtually all of the rate schedules of the revenue bill tonight and reached the momentous dispute over the sales tax.

To speed the conclusion of the grind, Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, asked for a session on Monday—Memorial day—when a vote is expected on the contest to substitute the 1.75 per cent general sales levy for the numerous special excise taxes.

Almost $300,000,000 was put into the budget-balancing legislation in today's nine-hour session. Increases in the first and second class postal rates, involving $100,000,000 new revenue, and the two cents check tax, expected to yield $95,000,000, were accepted.

More than $40,000,000 was saved by a tie vote—the first of the session—on an attempt by Senator Howell (R., Neb.) to exempt checks of five dollars and less from the two cents levy.

The increase in the first class rate from two cents to three cents was approved without a record vote and with a chorus of ayes.

The high second class postal rate schedule of 1921 was restored after a sharp contest, 43 to 32. Senator Moses (R., N.H.) and Chairman Oddie of the post office committee attempted unsuccessfully to beat this increase.

The bill tonight stood about $70,000,000 short of the budget balancing goal but a few rates, including the stock transfer levy and the oil pipe line tax, remained to be acted upon finally. Their expected approval will cut the shortage down to about $37,000,000.

Bank Robber Lauds Victim

IPSWICH, S. D., May 27 (AP)—M. Plin Beebe, president of the bank of Ipswich, shot and wounded when his bank was held up last week, "has lots of guts but is a fool," Sidney Rayercraft, the bandit who shot him, told Walter Gordon, a private detective from Minneapolis, today as he related details of the holdup.

"When I went into the bank," Rayercraft said, "I opened a door leading into what looked like a reception room. Three men were sitting at a table. I covered them with my gun and told them it was a stick-up and for them to put up their hands."

"One of the men swore and started toward me. He was so close I couldn't raise my gun so I hit him in the legs. Then I told him to get back and keep quiet. He swore again and kept coming. Then I hit him over the head and laid him out."

Claims Many Items Already Put in Discard

Labels Plan "Gigantic Pork Barrel" in Interview

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—In angry words and biting tones, President Hoover today denounced the public works section of the Garner Relief bill as "the most gigantic pork barrel ever proposed to the American congress."

The president said many of the more than 3,500 projects proposed in the bill had been discredited by congress because of "useless extravagance involved" and that many others had been authorized as justified only in the long distant future.

"I do not believe that 20 per cent could be brought to the stage of employment for a year," he said. "I am advised by the engineers that the amount of labor required to complete a group of $400,000,000 of these works would amount to only 100,000 men for one year because they are in large degree mechanical jobs."

"Not Relief"

"This is not unemployment relief. It is the most gigantic pork barrel ever proposed to the American congress. It is an unexampled raid on the public treasury."

The chief executive said detailed lists of the projects had been sent to every part of the country and "it is apparently expected that the cupidity of these towns and sections will demand the congressmen and senators vote for this bill or threaten to penalize them if they fail to join in this squandering of money."

The president's face was pale and his lips were drawn to a grim line as he came to the assertion:

"Our nation was not founded on the pork barrel and it has not become great by political log-rolling. Hopes for Opposition

"I hope that those many members of congress of both parties who I know will oppose this bill will receive the definite support of the people in their districts in resisting it," he concluded.

He virtually threw to his desk the typewritten statement from which he had been reading and turning to the assembled correspondents snapped:

"That's all."

Even as the correspondents were filling out of the president's office after his statement, an administrative senator, Reed of Pennsylvania, was making public a formal statement on Capitol Hill charging that Speaker Garner's relief proposal sprang from a political motive and that "in endeavoring to promote his personal prospects he would destroy the credit of the federal government."

"Complete Collapse"

The Pennsylvanian said destruction of the federal government's credit would "lead to complete collapse."

In the house, however, plans were going ahead for pressing the plan to action. Speaker Garner was ready to go before the ways and means committee, and the house itself, if necessary, to fight for adoption of the program.

Garner Desires Debate With Hoover

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—"The 'happiest moment' in Speaker Garner's life, so he said today, would be to meet President Hoover in open battle with the 435 members of the house as the jury.

Why No Referendum?

THAT OPEN letter of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., to members of congress should raise opposition elsewhere than in wet circles. For when he, like an increasingly large number of dry leaders, suggests the unconstitutionality of referendums he is welcoming criticism that has nothing to do with the immediate prohibition issue.

This attitude suggests that the most earnest dries, having won their legislative victory, now want to maintain the status quo constitutionally, and that other issues take second place to that of aridifying the nation. That this is not altogether true is apparent in the constructive demand for "vigorous, efficient enforcement" as a party platform plank.

There is no constitutional provision for a popular referendum, says Bishop Cannon. But the very means by which prohibition was written on the nation's statute books was by means of a variety of popular referendum — for the amendment process is just that.

In the beginning, there was recognition that the constitution might not remain suitable to the country's needs, or that change might be needed. For that reason, provision was made for amendment — by a process with enough barriers to sift out measures lacking general support. At first, like election of senators, confined to state legislatures, the process has become more popular through special election of conventions or special ballot on public questions.

And the referendum idea, more recent like the initiative and recall, is a means to bring the government back into closer touch with the public which it ultimately must serve and to which it is ultimately responsible. There is criticism of the United States government as not flexible enough, as too far removed from public opinion. The referendum method provides a means of sounding out public opinion for congressional action. And if it is not provided for in a constitution drafted before the idea was general, it at least is not unconstitutional.

There might be a referendum, for example, on the Volstead act and other legislation providing for prohibition enforcement. Without any thought of repeal there could be revision of enforcement procedure toward more liberal and more effective enactments.

Amending processes and referendums are intended to correct mistakes, to make government flexible to changes of the times and in its constituents. For anybody on any side of any question to deny their validity is to deny something higher in representative government than the question of prohibition ever will be.

Yale to Cut Expenses

YALE UNIVERSITY took a startling step Thursday in remodeling its program of sports so that stress will be placed on intramural competition rather than on intercollegiate competition. The new program will call for a five game football schedule, free admission of undergraduates to all contests, elimination of scouting, class teams and the lightweight football team. The program will go into effect in 1933.

Other suggestions included in its formation were cuts in the size of varsity squads, to promote intramural competition, elimination of organized football practice before fall registration, and the inclusion of several informal football games without gate receipts.

From a midwestern standpoint, it seems impossible that Yale will reach its goal, the reduction of athletic expense, under the plan. Football in the midwest and likely in the east is the supporting medium for all other branches of sport, and a cut in its revenue would so undermine other sports as to make an extensive intramural program an impossibility.

Yale's athletic board did mention the benefits of intercollegiate competition, but seemed in its statement to subordinate it to intramural play.

Intramurals are doubtless one of the finest forms of competition, in that they provide the outlet for "that athletic impulse" which any able student has at some time during his college life, but they do not show profits, at least from the point of paying off stadium bonds and similar expenses.

In another consideration, there exists a type of student who will never take any part in intramurals, no matter what facilities are offered. He can't be forced into it. Maybe Yale has none of those. There also exists the student who puts his competition on a par with his academic work, sometimes too much so. He in many cases is not interested in intramurals. The varsity or nothing is his motto.

Yale will likely gain its secondary goal of "sports for fun and informality," but it can hardly save money in so doing, and from the view of varsity excellence in sports the situation does not seem to be especially rosy.

A Farm Management Analysis

(From The Kansas City Times)

Although Iowa farmers increased their efficiency through producing larger litters of pigs, more eggs per hen, more butterfat per cow, tilling more acres per man, lowering investments in machinery and increasing acre yields in 1931, only seven out of a total of 651 who kept accurate records of farming as a business were able to show a positive management return. The average farm under consideration showed a loss of $818 in 1931, as compared with a net return of $768 in 1930, or a difference of $1,581 from the preceding year.

There are a few observations which may indicate a way out in the future. The high profit group received greater returns for the 70 per cent of the crops used for feeding purposes and recorded higher acre yields. The best management return was recorded by a group which had only 68 per cent of their land in crops; other less profitable groups farmed from 60 to 80 per cent of their total land area. They also had less than one-half as much capital invested with 91 per cent as much business.

TODAY'S TOPICS

BY FRANK JAFFE

Immediately after President Hoover began blasting away at Speaker John Nance Garner's two billion dollar plan for federal relief yesterday, Garner came right out and said that it was all Hoover's idea in the first place. And just as a sidelight, one of the subdivisions of one of the subdivisions of the plan calls for an allotment for a $55,000 project at Garner, Ia. West Branch, however, is out of the picture.

Garner's bill for relief of the destitute and expansion of employment will probably be the last chance of the Democrats to do something constructive before the Chicago conventions and probably their last chance this session. It is almost certain of the combined backing of all the Democratic members of the house—which, although a partisan movement, might be worthwhile.

The plan calls for direct federal relief, expanded reconstruction loans, and a huge program of federal building, in which hundreds of municipalities will share a billion dollars. Garner is making no bones about the method he proposes to use in order to get his project through and give the Democrats of the country something to think about.

First the bill goes to the ways and means committee to be reported back for action next week. Then, in a private conference of Democrats only, Garner plans to get a formal vote of support and to steamroller the program through the house. What will happen in the senate—already hard pressed for time—is something no one can decide. If the present state of affairs in the senate can be taken as an indication of anything, the proposed measure will peacefully expire.

The height of something or other—or maybe it's the depth—has been reported from Bulgaria.

Quoting Newsmagazine TIME: "Contending that 'the study of theology is essentially unjustified in times like these,' the Bulgarian government fired the entire Theological Faculty of the University of Sofia last week, threw out of work no less than 70 skilled theologians."

And from an Amarillo, Texas, paper: "Three years ago I never had time to go to church. I played golf all day Sunday and besides I was so darned smart that there wasn't a preacher in West Texas who could tell me anything. Now I am going to church regularly—never miss a Sunday. If this depression keeps up, I will be going to prayer meeting before long."

Maybe the Bulgarian government was justified in cutting theologians off the University of Sofia payroll, although Iowa's school of religion faculty might disagree. But the inference that religion should also be cut off in these times in Bulgaria's opinion appears woody. The other item, for all its jest, may be a little more in keeping with real needs.

For this depression is, everybody says, largely a matter of psychology. A change in attitude would work wonders on problems of hoarding, confidence, and the like. And ability to endure suffering is a quality that is more than physical. Q.E.D. on the proposition that there is an opportunity for religion.

But if religion — U. S. Protestant religion—had been vital and vigorous the Texas edict probably wouldn't have been off playing golf Sundays. Religion wouldn't be just a refuge of last resort in time of distress. Maybe religion will never again be taken as seriously as it was during the middle ages, but at least there is now a challenge to churches to prove that they have a real contribution to mankind.

From all appearances, it is once more the one church of a universal nature that is outstandingly a haven of refuge for the man and woman in distress. That is the church whose leader, Pope Pius XI, has said such pertinent things to the world on economic and other questions in recent times. His example and his church's example is a challenge to the other churches to go and do likewise.

And if these are, as someone has reapplied the saying of Thomas Paine "the times that try men's souls," it might well be the business of churches to spend a little more time on men's souls. In frenzied appeals to men's minds and appetites for entertainment other than religious some churches have acted as if they were a bit in doubt,

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester, 1931-1932. Wednesday, May 25, 8 a.m. to Thursday, June 2, 4 p.m. The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D and E, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (3), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D and E) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

Table with columns for Examination Period (8-10 A.M., 10-12 A.M., 2-4 P.M.), Day (Wednesday to Thursday), and Special Group (A, B, C, D, E) with associated course numbers and exceptions.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed (Read by columns, and alphabetically) within the particular group, who will arrange a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than regular class hour on May 9 and 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 22 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8,—and the class will meet for examination Thursday, May 26, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Wednesday, June 1, 2 p.m.

N.B. All sections of freshman speech (2), (3), and (4) will meet in the buildings and rooms and on the days and at the periods designated below:

Table listing examination sections for various courses (AA, AB, BA, BB, BC, FA, FB, GC, GB, HA, HB, JA, JB, JC, KB, LC, LD, LE, LF) with dates and room numbers.

"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- 1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 25 to June 2, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D and E, since for such "odd" classes, these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs."; unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

ISIDRO RIBAS - Spanish billiard expert. CAN DRIVE A BALL AROUND THE TABLE AND HIT THE CUSHIONS TEN TIMES IN ONE SHOT. The ball travels a distance of 65 feet. - Chicago

The Blushing Vase — Standing among countless thousands of priceless porcelains, jades, and other relics of ancient regimes of the Chinese empire in the Forbidden City, the Peiping, China, is the famous "Blushing Vase." During the eleventh century, Emperor Sung ordered his chief potter, Chang, to make a vase so sensitive that it would blush at thoughts of disloyalty by his courtiers. Chang, after many unsuccessful attempts to model such a vase, was advised that only the sacrifice of his own soul could make it possible. The emperor honored the potter within the vase by creating the vase a high mandarin, and granting it wives and concubines as though it were a living member of the court, and that status has been maintained to this day.

I saw this vase only last month when I was in Peiping, and can testify that it still blushes. Brilliant reds pass through it with intermediate shades of purple to pale blue. It is of the style known as flange, the glaze of which contains unknown metallic oxides. Tomorrow: The Fitcher Who Lost a Game Without Throwing a Ball.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—That wistful expression on Harry Langdon's face is giving way to a grin—a little unbelievable but still a grin.

After being tossed about on marital and financial rocks, after seeing his motion picture career fade away, the comedian, by one of those strange tricks that occur in Hollywood, suddenly finds himself sought after by almost every studio.

Yesterday he signed a contract with Christie to make six two-reel shorts on any subjects he likes and absolutely at his own convenience. His name also is on a United Artists agreement to appear in Al Jolson's new comedy, "Living High."

Where, a few months ago, film producers ignored him, Harry now has offers from Paramount and from Warners and is negotiating with Bob Woolsey with the view of replacing Bert Wheeler as Bob's teammate.

After playing four shows a day for 30 weeks, Harry is delighted to settle down again in Hollywood. He has taken a house at the very top of a hill and is finding time for a few games of golf.

All this sudden change of front amazes and puzzles him, but he's not asking any questions. "It looks like I'm going to get a break at last," he says.

If you can believe Edward Anthony Brown, the familiar newspaper proverb should go like this: "When a man bites a dog, that's gin."

Perhaps he is thinking of the story they used to tell on a well-known actor and man-about-Hollywood. Always immaculate and usually in his cups, he was beset by a puppy one day as he was weaving down a Beverly Hills sidewalk, attired in faultless morning clothes. Though he kicked off lustily at

Iowa Track Team Defends State Collegiate Title in Outdoor Meet Today

Drake Heads Strong Group of Contenders

Grinnell, Iowa State to Menace Hawkeye Supremacy

By HARRY BURRELL
The University of Iowa track team, state champion since 1920, rules as a slight favorite to add still another victory as it faces the opening of the 36th running of the 40 year old meet on Iowa field at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Runner-up in the Missouri Valley meet last week, the Drake squad will lead six other schools as they attempt to halt the Iowa winning streak at eight. Grinnell and Iowa State will be the other strong menaces, although individual point winners from State Teachers, Luther, Iowa Wesleyan and Penn may figure strongly in the final standing of the leaders.

Saling Leads Hawks
Capt. George Saling will lead his men in what promises to be a record steeplechase meet, when he attempts to shatter both hurdle marks. Saling has bettered his own high hurdle mark. He is credited with a 23 flat in the lows but it was made with a strong wind at his back. Okerlin, Nugnig, Younserman, and Lagerquist are other probable point winners.

Iowa's other hopes for records rest with the relay teams, both of which are favored to eclipse the old marks. The half mile team ranks as the best bet to win, but the mile quartet is close choice over the entries from Drake and Grinnell.

Drake, the leading challenger, will make its bid with Fred Black, Don King, Sam Hyland, and Del Podrebarac in the leading roles. Black, Missouri Valley record holder in the shot is expected to add distance to the shot put mark, while Podrebarac will furnish whatever competition Saling will get in the hurdles.

Pilbrow Rates Well
Myron Pilbrow, conqueror of Clark Chamberlain, will top the Grinnell cinder men's bid for state supremacy. Hank Thomas, favorite in the 440, and Fred Graffund, who is given an outside chance of erasing Weldon's mark in the javelin, will give him strong support.

Iowa State presents Earl Labertov for a new record in the half mile run. Labertov can come under the present mark easily if he equals his 1:54 race of last week. Other Cyclone point setters will include Chapman, Miller, and Nelson, a strong sprinter.

Ken Stapley, last year's vault champ, will head the State Teachers' title search, with assistance coming from Willert in the weights and Grier in the broad jump.

Small Schools May Count
Although they have entered only a few men, Luther, Penn, and Iowa Wesleyan will probably all count first places in individual events. Espy, Wesleyan two miler, will have the biggest job when he matches strides with Pilbrow.

Mountain, a 145 foot discus thrower from Penn, should set a new record in this event, but if he is off form Wes Youngerman, Iowa's defending champ will be all set to step in and take first. Nasset, Luther's great sprinter, will come to the marks a favorite to win the 100 and fight it out with Nugnig in the 220.

Only two marks appear to be beyond reach, the oldest and one of the youngest. Thomas and Lagerquist do not appear able to touch the 440 mark set back in 1894 and equaled again in 1925. Ed Gordon's 23 foot 1 inch record in the broad jump also looks to be safe.

Preliminaries in the dashes and hurdles will be run off this morning.

Eliminated Champ

Making a sensational start in the first round of the British amateur golf championship at Muirfield, Scotland, Leonard Martin (above), of the Apawamis club, Rye, N. Y., eliminated the defending champion, Eric Martin Smith. Martin's victory was a surprise to the experts as Smith was a hot favorite.

Sportively Speaking

By Bill Rutledge

The spirit that goes with college football and basketball has been present to a marked degree in the University of Iowa baseball team this season. Yesterday's disturbance in the ninth inning, in collaboration with Minnesota, was the second of its nature this spring; they have resulted in the Hawkeye nine's two Big Ten setbacks.

It's a good thing that a portion of the state collegiate track and field meet this afternoon will be run off before the second game with Minnesota gets under way. The tracksters would have been endangered more than once by the long range slugging in yesterday's contest if the meet had been going on.

Ted Lyons, the ailing White Sox pitcher, is still far from himself. For two seasons followers of the Chicago Americans have waited for Lyons to return to form with confidence that he could win 20 or more games per campaign as he formerly did. But Ted isn't ready yet; not when the Detroit Tigers blast him out of the box with a three run rally in the fourth inning as they did yesterday.

For a brief spell during the June phase of the 1927 American league pennant race, Lyons and Tommy Thomas single-handedly kept the White Sox in first place. But that's been almost forgotten during the long second division sieges of the Comiskey men.

Below third place in the National league the teams were well shaken up by the results of yesterday's games. St. Louis went down two notches to sixth place; Brooklyn went up two to fifth; New York came down into the cellar from sixth, while Philadelphia came up to seventh from the bottom.

BIG SIX

(By the Associated Press)
With Paul Waner again in the lead, the National league members of the Big Six did some hefty hitting yesterday. Waner hit a single, a double and triple in four times at bat to shoot his total up above the 400 mark again with a 10 point gain. Chick Hafey and Don Hurst each hit twice in five times but Hafey gained only one point and Hurst two.

All three American league leaders were idle.
The standings:

Midwest Loop Will Hold Titular Field, Track Meet Today

GALESBURG, Ill., May 27 (AP)—More than 100 track and field stars from Ripon, Monmouth, Beloit, Coe, Lawrence, Carleton, Cornell and Knox will compete in the annual Midwest conference championships tomorrow on the Knox field.

Coe, defending champion, again was favored, with Monmouth, Cornell and Carleton ranked as threats. Conference titles in tennis and golf also will be decided.

The University of South Dakota football team this fall will travel 6,000 miles through 13 states in playing its 11-game schedule.

Big Hugh Rhea, University of Nebraska football star and recordholding shot putter, plans to enter professional boxing after his college days are over this spring.

3 Hawks Slated to Run Exhibitions at Ft. Madison Meet

Exhibition races will be run by three University of Iowa athletes Monday afternoon at the Ft. Madison high school relay carnival. Coach G. T. Bresnahan said.
Capt. George Saling, who has equalled the world's accepted high and low hurdles records this spring, will race through a flight of highs, along with LaRue Thurston, another Hawkeye hurdler. Walter Nugnig will run another exhibition race.
The meet will be refereed by Coach Bresnahan with John Everingham, former Big Ten 220 yard champion from Iowa, as starter.

Lon Warneke Hit Hard, But Lasts Contest

Bruins Increase First Place Margin to 1 1/2 Games

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—A six run blast in the third inning today gave the Cubs a 6 to 4 victory over Cincinnati and increased their margin over Boston for the National league leadership to one and one half games. The Braves failed to keep pace by losing to Philadelphia 8 to 5.

Lonnie Warneke was hit hard, yielding 12 hits, but was in serious trouble in only two innings and won his sixth victory of the season. He struck out six batsmen, and the Reds had men left on the bases in every inning.

The climax of the third inning splurge was a home run into the right field bleachers by Charlie Grimm with a man on.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27 (AP)—Continuing their slugging tactics, the Phillies pounded out an 8 to 5 triumph over the Boston Braves today for their second straight victory over McKeechlin's men.

Battering Ed Brandt from the start, they finally sent him to the showers in the seventh. Holley also failed to go the route, being replaced by Berly when the Braves threatened in the eighth. Klein hit his tenth home run of the season.

PITTSBURGH, May 27 (AP)—The Pirates continued their climb of the National league ladder today by capturing fourth place with an 8 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Larry French and Jess Haines were hit hard but the Pittsburgh slugger kept the enemy blows scattered. Grace and Barbee hit homers.

Robins Chase Giants Into Cellar; Move Up

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers moved into sixth place in the National league standing and dropped the Giants to the cellar today as they won their second straight game from the New Yorkers, 5 to 2.

A five run rally, started by George Kelly's homer in the fifth inning, sent Hal Schumacher to the showers. Van Mungo gave only seven hits in winning his third game within a week but walked seven. Mel Ott hit a homer for the Giants.

Sergt. Harry Cox, mechanic, member of the 113th Observation Squadron of the Indiana national guard, was instantly killed and Benny Benefield, 25, dirt track driver of Indianapolis, was critically injured Wednesday when the car in which they were practicing for the 500-mile race at Indianapolis was wrecked. The car was the same one in which Joe Caccia and his mechanic were killed while practicing for the race at Indianapolis last year. ## Hawkeye Net Team Loses Final 4 to 2

Iowa's tennis squad closed the 1932 season with a defeat on the home courts yesterday afternoon. In the final contest, played against Iowa State, the Hawkeyes lost four out of six matches, ending up on the short end of the 4 to 2 score.

Meetings the Ames quartet twice this season for the first time since 1920, the Old Gold team lost both matches. The first match was surrendered by the Iowans three weeks ago, when they lost to a 5 to 1 score.

Yesterday's match proves definitely that the Cyclones out-rank the Hawkeyes, and, with the exception of John Beckner, lone Iowa individual winner, each Hawkeye netster lost to the same man who defeated him at Ames.

Ron Reddig, number one man of the Hawkeye squad, played the best match of the series. Paired against Thomson he forced the match to three sets, and pushed the Cyclone ace steadily in the last set. Thomson played a close net game, which gained him the majority of his points.

Wally Theiss offered little competition for Johnson of Iowa State. Playing an erratic game, he had difficulty in placing his shots, and Johnson's accuracy proved too much for Theiss' return.

John Beckner won the only victory for Iowa, defeating Snyder in an easy two set match. Snyder presented some competition in the first set and managed to garner four games, but was shut down to only one in the last set.

John Kinnemann played a steady game for the first half, and forced Waller of Iowa State for several over-time games. In the second set he lost with only one game to his credit.

The number two double event was hotly contested through both sets, but Theiss and Kinnemann managed to hold a difficult lead. The number one match was not marked by any exceptional performance, and Iowa State held a steady lead.

Summaries:
Singles: Thomson (IS) defeated Reddig (I) 4-6, 6-4, 9-7; Johnson (IS) defeated Theiss (I) 6-3, 6-2; Beckner (I) defeated Snyder (IS) 6-4, 6-1; Waller (IS) defeated Kinnemann (I) 7-5, 6-1.

The Sox used three pitchers, Lyons and Faber yielding 10 hits. Vic Sorrell who started for the Tigers, was yanked in the ninth when the Sox started a rally with one out.

Detroit drove Lyons from the box in the fourth with four hits including a double for three runs, and added three more in the fifth. The Sox hit Sorrell for four safeties in the eighth but netted only two runs from the barrage.

THE LOVE TRAP by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

CHAPTER XLII

ONE week Steve's letters arrived filled with love and descriptions of Cuba. He was fascinated with the sugar business...

Eileen Calvert would be in Cuba with Steve. Oh, she was not really afraid that this former sweetheart would prove dangerous...

"It would be a fairly expensive trip to Cuba," Landers said. "Can you afford it?" "No, I can't."

"So, I've been wondering what your beams of you," Carlotta said.

"So—'I've been wondering what ever became of you,' she said. 'You got away from Buck Landers with your sweetheart—do you ever see him any more?'"

"Not for ages," Mary told her. "And you?" "Carlotta shrugged her curving shoulders. 'Oh, I see him now and then for dinner, maybe—but what is that? We are no longer lovers. It is not satisfactory, but it is better than nothing. At least, I know another woman has him.'"

"He had better be!" said Carlotta, crisply. "Some day he's going to wish he had treated me right. I've let him off darn easy, so far."

He said nothing for several seconds, but there was in his eyes that curious concentration that marked had Mary been able to read him—the cunning operation of a devious mind, grappling with a delicate problem. His thoughts moved as tentatively as a cat picking its way through broken glass...

"Probably—but I'm just warning you, Mary. Most people would consider it a pretty dangerous situation." He looked at her warily. "Why don't you go to Cuba yourself, in a month or two? Personally, I can't understand why you let this other girl have all the advantage if you want to marry Steve."

"Why do you make me this offer?" she asked, with a remnant of suspicion. "Because I don't want to see you unhappy. Maybe, because I've always wanted to do nice things for you, Mary. What harm is it, if I will always have a soft spot in my heart for you? When I first saw that I had lost out with you, I was furious—but now, I'm trying to learn to handle my hard luck in a different way."

North Central Loop Cinder Stars Qualify

BROOKINGS, S. D., May 27 (AP)—South Dakota State college captured an advantage today in the trials for the North Central conference track and field meet here tomorrow, qualifying 20 men in the 11 events against 13 for Morningside, its closest competitor.

Despite cold weather and strong winds, which hampered the athletes one new record was set up in the preliminaries when Meinhofer, giant University of North Dakota sophomore, tossed the shot 45 feet 5 7/8 inches. This was 2 7/8 inches better than the old mark made by Wilberg of Nebraska Wesleyan in 1926.

In outdistancing its rivals in the preliminaries, South Dakota State qualified at least one for each event, and managed to place three in two others, the 440 yard dash and the pole vault. Morningside also placed three each in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 yard lows.

Iowa Loses

greeted the newcomer with a bunt on a perfect squeeze play which sent the tying run across the plate and the wild hubbub was on. Prange fielded the ball and threw to Baker who was playing in close. As the elongated Iowa first baseman chased Ascher back towards home instead of touching the bag and the winning counter scored. In the mixup that followed, the Minnesota hero sneaked around first and was tagged out by Schulteheinrich.

Gophers Score First

The contest started as if it would develop into a pitching duel, but after the sides had been retired in the first inning with Laws' single the only hit, the slugger match got underway with a vengeance. Gay reached second to open the second frame when Prange made a wild throw on his roller, and counted on Shannon's single. A double play pulled Ricke out of a hole to end the uprising.

The Hawkeyes opened up with a flurry of base hits that drove in three runs. Schmidt and Riegert singled, the Iowa catcher trotting home with the tying score as Baker singled to center. Schulteheinrich was safe on a fielder's choice which caught Baker at second and Kenny dropped a fly in right center to push Riegert across. Schulteheinrich was safe at the plate when the Gopher catcher dropped the throw from second on an attempted double steal.

Hawkeyes Rally

The sides were retired in order in the third and Ricke likewise set the visitors down in the first of the fourth. Riegert collected his second hit to open the last of this frame and big Glen Baker lifted a high fly to the track in deep left center which rolled out on the football field for the first home run of the game.

Score in Eighth

The run which put the winners within one point of Iowa was a result of Ascher's single, a walk and Shelo's drive to center in the eighth inning. What happened in the disastrous ninth has already been accounted for.

The final game of the series and the last contest in the careers of Captain Kenny, Gordon Prange, and Johnny Ingraham, who will probably draw the pitching assignment in opposition to Walfrid Mattson, will start at 3:30 this afternoon.

Farm Relief Plan Outlined for Congress

Norbeck Brings Out Idea for Control of Production

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—An explanation of the domestic allotment plan of farm relief sponsored by W. R. Ronald of Mitchell, S. D., and Prof. M. L. Wilson of the Montana State Agriculture college, has been placed before congress by Senator Norbeck (R., S.D.), by insertion of a statement in the Congressional Record.

To it Norbeck added personal comment on the allotment plan of farm relief such as is called for in the three fold relief program advocated by the National Grange, the National Farmers union and the American Farm Bureau federation.

Equalization Fee
The full program of the three farm organizations calls for the farm board to put into effect as necessary the equalization fee, export debentures or the allotment plan, or combinations of them if so desired.

"The main advantage claimed for the allotment plan is that it will automatically control production, because the producers will get an American price only for that part of his products which are for domestic consumption," Norbeck said.

"Of late there has been a fuller realization of the fact that the agricultural problem is the underlying difficulty of our whole economic depression—which has been aggravated by the causes," Norbeck continued.

Not Mandatory
The main objection to the three way plan of the farm groups, Norbeck said, was that "it was not mandatory, only optional" on the farm board.

Ronald, editor of the Evening Republican at Mitchell, S. D., is a member of the committee of five recently named at a conference in Chicago to advocate the allotment plan which Ronald contends would accomplish all of the objects sought in the bill backed by the farm organizations.

Spokesmen Express Confidence

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Farm aid spokesmen voiced confidence tonight a vote would be had in the senate on agricultural relief measures before congress adjourns. Although the day saw an attempt for an agreement to vote blocked, Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee, sponsor of a three fold farm relief program, told newspapermen he thought a decision would be reached on that proposal before the session ends.

state stock that the mayor asked you to purchase in an earlier conversation?"

"Not the slightest," Herrick replied.

Herrick added he asked the mayor or some time later if he still had the stock and Walker replied:

Up for Collateral
"No, I put it up for collateral on a loan and it's all gone."

Seabury read the following endorsements on certificates for the 300 shares, which Herrick said he delivered to the mayor's secretary with the understanding that they were going to the mayor:

Two 100 share certificates—J. Allan Smith, Equitable agent, who made the purchase of a $10,000 letter of credit Walker used on a European trip.

One 50 share certificate—Kineaid

Florentino & Co. (Herrick said federal agents told him State Senator Hastings, friend of Walker, who was interested in the Equitable, put this certificate up as collateral for a loan).

One 25 share certificate—Mrs. Mary A. Smith of Syracuse, wife of J. Allan Smith.

One 25 share certificate—Frank R. Fageol, Equitable broker.

Block's Story
This was Block's story of the joint brokerage account:

"The mayor telephoned me one day—it was Sunday—and asked if I would take a drive with him. I told him I had promised my youngster, who was about 10, to take him for a walk.

"The mayor said: "Why not have Billy go with us for a drive?"

Block said he and the boy were waiting for the mayor when Billy asked him what salary the mayor received.

"I told him it was $25,000," Block said, "and he asked: "Does the city give him a home?"

"I said, 'no,' and he asked: "Can he live on what he gets?"

"I said, 'Yes, he probably can, but it may be difficult.'"

The idea of opening the joint account occurred to him then, Block testified, but before opening the account, he discussed it with Walker saying:

"Jimmy, I'm going to try to make some money for you. I'm going to open a joint account for us and see if I can make some money for you."

He said Walker replied: "Ah, you ought not to do that, Paul."

Block testified that he never discussed with Walker the matter of the mayor's being responsible for a portion of any possible loss in the joint account. He said it was never his intention to allow the mayor to lose any money.
