GARNER'S BILL WASTEFUL--HURLEY

Frame Smashes All Records to Win Race Classic

Hits Speed of 104.14; Wilcox Close Second

Former Record of 101 Made by De Paola in 1925

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30 (AP)—With death defying speed, Freddie Frame of Los Angeles roared to victory in the twentieth international 500 mile automobile race over the Indianapolis speedway today, leaving a string of broken records in the wake of his tiny eight cylinder racer.

Frame, a 37 year old driver with 19 years of racing experience, smashed all existing records for the 500 mile race when he bounced his little racer over the finishing line in triumph.

Breaks 1925 Mark
He covered the 500 miles in 4:48-03.79 to average 104.14 miles an hour, breaking the former record of 101.13 established by Peter De Paola in winning the 1925 classic.

Less than 44 seconds back of Frame came Howdy Wilcox, Indianapolis youngster, driving his first major race, to finish second.

Cliff Bergere of Los Angeles, a former movie stunt man, finished third, about 2-1/2 miles back of Wilcox.

Carey Fourth
Bob Carey, a Hoosier from Anderson, was fourth with Russell Snowberger of Philadelphia, fifth. Zeno Meyer of Philadelphia, was sixth and Ira Hall of Terre Haute, Ind., was seventh.

Only 14 of the original 40 starters survived the strenuous competition of nerve, mechanical stamina and caring speed.

Billy Arnold, 27 year old Chicagoan and one of today's favorites, escaped dashing to death, just as he did a year ago, when his car, speeding at more than 100 miles an hour, crashed into the high retaining wall on the dangerous north turn, torpedoed to the top of the banked track, and hung there, a twisted wreck.

Arnold escaped with a broken collarbone while his mechanic, Spider Matlock, Chicago, sustained a broken pelvis bone. It was just a year

Many Die in Auto Mishaps Over Holiday

(By the Associated Press)
Despite crowded highways and an exodus of millions of persons from cities to the country over the triple holiday, the nation observed Memorial day with almost a minimum of deaths and injuries.

Fair weather made motoring popular over most of America, but deaths in automobile accidents, a survey indicated, did not number 100. There were no major catastrophes, the most serious being auto crashes that in no instance took more than two or three lives.

Four Iowans Add to Nation's Toll

Four Iowans were victims of automobile accidents in the state Sunday night and Monday.
The dead:
Carl Linbeck, 19, McGregor.
Arno Scheivelbein, 30, Elkader.
Mrs. D. O. Walsworth, 50, Greenfield.
Laverne Riggs, 5, Maquoketa.
Linbeck, son of a McGregor produce dealer, and Scheivelbein, farmer near Elkader, met death Monday when a light roadster left the road and overturned several times four miles west of McGregor.
Mrs. Walsworth died early Monday from injuries received Sunday in an automobile collision near Fontanelle. The Riggs child died Monday of injuries received Sunday evening when he ran in front of a car driven by Francis Manderfeld of La Motte.

Plane to Steamship

Temporarily abandoning the air in favor of the sea, Ruth Elder, noted aviatrix, who is Mrs. Walter Camp in private life, is shown as she returned to New York following a world cruise. Mrs. Camp was lavish in her praise of the recent transatlantic solo flight of her sister aviatrix, Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam.

U. S. Spurs Treaty Offer

America to Remain Away From Lausanne

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's plea that the Lausanne reparations conference on June 16 be turned into a general conference on world trade was said today by the state department to have left unshaken the determination of the United States to remain away from Lausanne.

The United States has never been asked to attend the Lausanne gathering, and if it were asked, state department officials said, it would not send delegates.

This government has held since President Wilson's time that the United States asked no reparations from Germany and is therefore not concerned about reparations. It expects to have European nations pay their obligations to the United States irrespective of whether Germany meets the reparations obligations imposed upon her by treaties and agreements settling the Great war.

After the European powers have reached some agreement on reparations and intergovernmental debts, the United States will consider proposals foreign countries may care to make concerning the debts they owe this country.

Boardman Wins Aviation Trophy in Stunt Contest

OMAHA, May 30 (AP)—Russell Boardman, transatlantic flyer from Springfield, Mass., was awarded the Charles "Speed" Holman trophy here late today following a thrilling contest with Roy Wilson and Frank Clark, Hollywood movie stunt flyers. The contest was the closing even of the second annual Omaha air races.

Boardman duplicated with his racing plane nearly every maneuver made by Clark and Wilson in their special stunting ships and his work was so clean cut that he was awarded the trophy. These three flyers were the only ones to compete for the award.

Trophy Honors Holman
The trophy is in honor of "Speed" Holman, famous St. Paul speed pilot who was killed here last year when his ship crashed in front of the grand stand as he was attempting to fly upside down past the stand at a height of 25 feet.
The official totals for prize winners showed that Johnny "Fistall" Livingston of Aurora, Ill., had duplicated his work of last year in winning the most first places at this year's meet.

Pope Pius XI Will Celebrate Birthday With Special Mass

VATICAN CITY, May 30 (AP)—The oldest sovereign in Europe, Pope Pius XI, becomes three quarters of a century old tomorrow.

He will celebrate his diamond anniversary with a special mass of thanksgiving in his private chapel. His sister, Donna Camilla Ratti, his niece and his nephew by marriage, Marquise and Marquis Persichetti-Ugolini, and a few prelates of the papal household will comprise his congregation.

The papal flag of yellow and white, with the tiara and crossed golden keys upon it, will be hoisted over vantage points in Vatican City. The Swiss guards and papal gendarmes will wear full dress uniforms. The band of the Palatine guards will give a concert.

Bonus 'Army' Joins Forces to Get Action

Senator's Bill Seeks $75,000 to Defray Expenses

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—In drab abandoned buildings, the "bonus expeditionary force" composed of World war veterans from the four corners of the nation, settled down today to see what congress will do about their demands for cash payment.

As the rest of the country joined in honoring the soldier dead on Memorial day, these veterans of '17 and '18 moved to consolidate their groups under one leader—Walter W. Waters, young Oregonian.

Who Will Pay?
Meanwhile, police argued over the responsibility of their care. Brigadier General Glasford, superintendent of police, held that the federal government should defray their expenses while here. As a result, Senator Costigan (D., Colo.) introduced a bill to appropriate $75,000 for that purpose.

Police estimated that 1,300 former soldiers are here—here to stay, they vow, until their bonus is paid.

More Coming
More are enroute. Three hundred from New Orleans reached Bay St. Louis, Miss., today after a 50 mile march about 200 started across the Nevada desert in box cars. Another group of 300 is preparing to leave Cleveland.

Representative Patman (D., Tex.), bonus sponsor, said today he would seek to have the enacting legislation attached to the Garner relief bill when hearings begin tomorrow before the ways and means committee. But Acting Chairman Crisp and Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, emphasized that so far as that committee is concerned, the bonus issue is dead.

Ocean Plunge Ends Pacific Flight Attempt

Aviator Escapes Death, Fails to Win $30,000

SEATTLE, May 30 (AP)—A spectacular dive into Elliott Bay here today ended the transpacific flight attempt of Nathan C. Browne, New York aviator.

Browne and his volunteer assistant in refueling operations, Frank Brooks, were fished out of the water by a party in a sea sled. Browne had a dislocated shoulder. Brooks was unhurt although he complained he "hadn't intended to take a bath until Saturday."

Wing Torn Off
"We both left the plane at the same time," Brooks said. "We couldn't help it. When the wing tore off, we were left sitting almost in the open air."

"It rained plane all around us as we settled in our parachutes to the water. We left the plane at an altitude of about 500 feet and the chutes opened about 100 feet before we lit."

Hose Nozzle Catches
Brooks said the wing was torn off in a steep dive caused when the weighted nozzle of the gasoline hose dangling from the refueling plane above caught in the stabilizer of Browne's plane and lifted the tail and smashed the rudder assembly.

Browne was clinging to wreckage when he was picked up some distance from where the fuselage of the plane dropped into the deep water. A total of 654 gallons of gasoline made Browne's plane weigh about four tons. He had planned to load 300 more gallons from the refueling plane and then make a dash for Tokyo.

Escapes Death Twice
It was Browne's second narrow escape from death in two days. Yesterday an oil leak in his motor developed after he had flown several hundred miles toward his goal. Blinded by hot oil, Browne managed to maneuver to a higher altitude until he could recover his vision. When he saw how much oil he was losing he dumped most of his gasoline and returned here.

Return Prize Money
Due to Browne's failure to complete the flight, the $30,000 prize fund raised by Seattle aviation enthusiasts five years ago will be returned to its donors.

One condition of the prize fund stipulates that the flight must be completed by midnight of June 1. Browne had only a few hours to spare in his quest for the goal. Unfavorable winds had held him on the ground here for the last week.

Bromley to Try Tokyo Flight

AMARILLO, Texas, May 30 (AP)—Harold Bromley, Texas flyer who set out from New York early today in an oil burning monoplane on a projected nonstop flight to Burbank, Cal., landed at the airport here at 9:35 p.m. (central standard time) tonight. He said he would resume the flight to Burbank tomorrow.

DALLAS, Tex., May 30 (AP)—S. A. Gulberson, sponsor of a transcontinental flight by Harold Bromley, announced tonight the aviator would attempt a hop from Seattle to Tokyo if his plane was in satisfactory condition on his arrival in Los Angeles.

Gulberson said the Dallas flyer would have the oil burning motor of his big monoplane checked at Los Angeles and granting it was in shape, would head for Seattle for a takeoff before tomorrow midnight. Bromley, before leaving New York today on an attempted non-stop journey to Burbank, Cal., denied he planned to attempt either a transatlantic or a transpacific flight.

Penn Official Dies
PHILADELPHIA, May 30 (AP)—Edward H. Senef, general solicitor of the Pennsylvania railroad, died today in a hospital at Bryn Mawr of pneumonia, following an operation. He was 65.

WEATHER
IOWA—Showers or local thunderstorms Tuesday, slightly warmer; Wednesday partly cloudy to cloudy, showers in east, somewhat cooler in extreme west.

Committee Spotlight Will Continue Probe of Walker's Affairs

NEW YORK, May 30 (AP)—The Hofstadter legislative committee's spotlight will be trained on the personal financial affairs of Mayor Walker again tomorrow.

The mayor, who remained in seclusion on Long Island over the week end, was cheered lustily by the 50,000 spectators who saw him unveil a tablet to Miller Huggins, late manager of the New York Yankees, during the Yankee-Boston game this afternoon.

Samuel Seabury, counsel for the inquiry board, whom Walker charged while testifying before the committee last week with trying to end his political life, was less active as he passed the day quietly on Long Island.

Sales Tax in Danger; Fight Bill in Senate

Measure Still Short of Balancing Budget

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—President Hoover called upon senate Democratic leaders tonight to support a further increase in taxes to meet new demands for government revenue.

The president refrained from urging any specific program, including the controversial sales tax levy, but he emphasized to the Democratic leaders the need for even more revenue than originally was estimated for next year's budget.

Owen D. Young of New York, financier and prominent Democratic leader, attended the conference.

Confidence was expressed by the Democrats that the demands of the government could be met on the lines along which congress now is working.

In other words, the view was expressed by the senate chiefs as they left the White House, that if the revenue voted by the house and those voted by the senate were all retained the budget would be balanced.

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—The sales tax seemed doomed tonight as the senate approached a decision on the issue by cleaning up odds and ends of the voluminous revenue measure.

More than 50 members—a majority—were announced as pledged in a round robin petition, against voting for the controversial sales tax at this time.

Advocates Undaunted
Advocates of the levy were undaunted, however, and announced they would still seek to write the tax into the bill. President Hoover after a series of week end conferences with the senate Republican leadership anxiously fingered a message to congress on the tax contest. Upon the advice of party pilots, however, he refrained from sending it to the capitol pending a hoped for break.

Driving rapidly ahead with the remaining sections of the bill, despite the Memorial day holiday, the senate approved the modified stock and bond transfer levies provided by the house. It did vote down, however, a recommendation of the finance committee excluding loans of stock—a transaction involved in short selling—from the four per cent stock sales tax.

Budget Remains Unbalanced
The house provisions placing minimum rates of one fourth of one per cent on stock sales and one eighth of one per cent on bond transfers were rejected without record votes. The present rates of two cents a share tax on stock and bond sales were boosted to four cents each in accordance with the house and finance committee votes.

A rate of three per cent on oil transported by pipe lines was approved without a record vote. The house had fixed a rate of eight per cent.

Hitler Hopeful as Bruening, Cabinet Quit

Nazi Chieftain Confident of Ultimate Success; Hindenburg Waits

BERLIN, May 30 (AP)—Dr. Heinrich Bruening and his cabinet stepped aside today, and the Nazis of Adolf Hitler hailed the resignation with the triumphant slogan: "Our hour has come."

But when President Paul Von Hindenburg accepted the resignation of the two year old cabinet there was no indication the Fascist Hitler would step directly into power.

As conferences progressed throughout the day the impression grew that the Nazis would not immediately cash in on their recent state victories, but that perhaps the next chancellor would be a man whom they could tolerate.

Then, after the Lausanne conference on June 16, there was some talk that the Nazis might assume power—but authorities agreed this was "another question."

At any rate, the little Nazi chieftain was ushered into the president's early tonight to confer on the complex of a cabinet, after hurriedly breaking off his election campaign tour in Mecklenburg. The outcome of the conference was not revealed.

Previously the aged executive had summoned Paul Loebe, chairman of

County to Petition Supreme Court to Forfeit Engel Bond

GRANTSBURG, Wis., May 30 (AP)—Burnett county authorities will ask to have forfeited the $25,000 bond given by Reinhold Engel of St. Paul when his case came before the Wisconsin supreme court next Thursday.

Engel last week was sentenced with three other men to serve 30 years in the South Dakota state penitentiary following pleas of guilty to robbing the bank of Ipswich at Ipswich, S. D.

Arrested in January, 1931, following robbery of a bank here, Engel subsequently was tried and convicted of the robbery. He appealed to the state supreme court and was released on $25,000 bond.

Swift's Death Will Not Affect Business, Firm Official States

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—Charles H. Swift, vice president of the company Swift International, today sent a letter to stockholders stating the death of Edward F. Swift, the company's president, "in no way affects the business or financial status of the company."

Edward Swift was killed Saturday in a fall from an eighth floor window of his apartment.

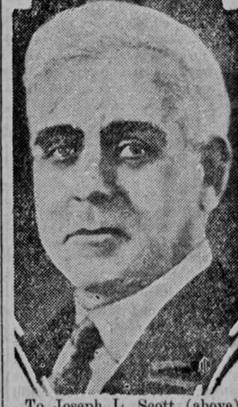

"Estimated earnings for the first five months of this year," the letter said, "compare favorably with those of the same period in 1931 and fully cover dividend requirements. Indications are that results will continue to be satisfactory."

"Christless Professors" Get Scorn of Church Assembly; Radio, Movies Also Targets

DENVER, May 30 (AP)—Prevailing trends of modern life were heavily scored at today's session of the one hundred forty-fourth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U.S.A.

Divorce, the radio, movies, prohibition and Sunday amusements were targets for speakers' darts of wrath. The entire scheme of things was summed up by the Rev. William Chalmers Covert of Philadelphia.

Hoover's Nominator

To Joseph L. Scott (above), Los Angeles attorney, will fall the honor of making the speech placing President Hoover in nomination at the coming Republican convention at Chicago. The actual selection of Mr. Scott was made by Mark Requa, Republican national committeeman for California, Mr. Hoover's home state.

Jap Forces Rout Rebels

Chinese Irregulars 80 Miles From Harbin on River

HARBIN, Manchuria, May 30 (AP)—Japanese forces struck out north and south of Harbin today to break the encircling movement of insurgents, and were reported to have set fire to Halun, 150 miles north of Harbin on the Sungari.

General Li Hai-Tsing, the Chinese insurgent, and alleged successor to General Mah Chan-Shan, apparently working in concert with other Chinese irregulars, has been putting an encircling line of soldiers around Harbin for several weeks, and the Japanese have been hard put to get their war machinery in place to meet the various thrusts of the Chinese.

Russia Warns Japan Away From Siberia

MOSCOW, May 30 (AP)—The government organ Izvestia today charged certain Japanese elements with seeking an invasion of eastern Siberia to "facilitate Japan's preparations for war against the United States by making available for the Japanese military machine the rich natural resources of Asiatic Russia."

In a sharp warning to Japan not to try to lay her hands on Siberia, the vigorous editorial pronounced, "It is our duty to demand that the Japanese press for war against Soviet Russia."

"The soviet union does not demand anything of Japan except esteem of its borders," the editorial went on. "It wants to continue peaceful and friendly relations and to increase economic intercourse mutually beneficial to both countries."

1 Dead, 2 Injured in Collision at Fontanelle

GREENFIELD, May 30 (AP)—Mrs. D. O. Walsworth died early today from injuries suffered Sunday in an automobile collision about two miles west of Fontanelle.

Walsworth, cashier in the Greenfield Savings bank, suffered a broken left leg and chest injuries and J. H. Welcher of Fontanelle, driver of the second car, received a broken leg.

Joins Hoover in Condemning "Pork Barrel"

Two Billion Measure to Pass House, Say Leaders

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Secretary Hurley tonight aligned himself alongside his chief in a slashing denunciation of Speaker Garner's public works bill as a "wasteful extravagance."

Striking out vigorously at the unemployment measure which President Hoover has described as a "pork barrel" the secretary of war said it would substitute "wasteful extravagance for intelligent, well-balanced, productive construction."

Garner Prepares Bill
Hurley's formal statement came as Speaker Garner whipped his bill into final shape and prepared to go before the ways and means committee tomorrow in support of it.

With both Majority Leader Rainey and Republican Leader Snell forecasting favorable action, indications are that the bill calling for $2,500,000,000 will be sent to the senate next week. Its fate there is in doubt.

Secretary Hurley, as active director of army engineer projects, would be charged under the bill with expenditures of $37,825,257, in addition to moneys to be appropriated under the regular rivers and harbors program for the coming fiscal year.

Confers With Engineers
His statement was prepared after a conference with Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers, and Brig. Gen. George B. Pillsbury, assistant to Brown. The two generals are the federal government's two principal advisers on rivers and harbors and flood control works.

Hurley said the president in sponsoring the acceleration of public works to aid employment had confined these works to a "reasonable capacity" of the federal government to handle.

He said projects speeded up under the president's program were necessary and "without any taint of the pork barrel."

Under the Garner bill the secretary said the war department would be directed to spend during the coming year more than $500,000,000 of many of the same projects that the house recently excluded.

Speaker Garner will take an unusual course in going before the #### Author of "Show Me" Slogan Dies at Columbia, Mo.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 30 (AP)—Authorship of Missouri's "show me" slogan was generally attributed to Wilbard D. Vandiver, former congressman, who died here today at the age of 78.

The late Speaker Champ Clark credited Vandiver with originating the expression in an impromptu address before the Five O'clock club in Philadelphia in 1899.

"I come from the country that raises corn, cotton, cocklebur and Democrats," Vandiver said in the address. "I'm from Missouri. You've got to show me."

City Amusements Prove Costly for 5 Visiting Youths

One of Iowa City's more expensive amusements is driving on the gravelled run at the airport, from youths from near Farnell learned yesterday.

Circling around the ruins at 8 a.m. yesterday, the youths were arrested by Officers George Speck and Frank Burns, and paid $5 and costs apiece to Police Judge Charles L. Zager on charge to whom a divorce has been granted on "scriptural grounds" a year after the divorce has been granted.

He also stated that he would be in favor of all measures looking for a reduction in government expenses. The income tax, when used as a replacement of property taxes, he believes to be the most equitable form of taxation.

Stewart Home From Abroad

Visits With Physicists, Teaches in Foreign Institutions

Prof. George W. Stewart, head of the physics department of the university, who returned Sunday from a world cruise, conferred during his trip with physicists in many of the countries he visited, and taught classes in a number of foreign institutions.

While in Peiping, China, he taught in three universities, and in India, he talked shop with Sir C. V. Raman of Calcutta, winner of the 1930 Nobel prize in physics. He also visited research laboratories in Japan, Siam, China, and California, among other places, and discussed various problems with research physicists in these places.

Mrs. Stewart, who accompanied him on the tour, is visiting in the east, and will return to Iowa City Friday.

Included in the places the Stewarts visited are Madeira islands, Gibraltar, Monaco and the French Riviera, Naples and southern Italy, Athens, Jerusalem and the Holy Land, Cairo, Luxor, and India, where they spent two weeks.

Not in many years has the presiding officer appeared before a committee to advocate legislation. The Texan said that in order to obtain house action he might take the floor to debate it.

Labor Backs Bill

William Green president of the American Federation of Labor, and Chester Grey of the American Farm Bureau federation are to follow the speaker in advocating the legislation.

Acting Chairman Crisp had designated Wednesday for the opponents and Thursday for administration representatives, including Secretary McEis and Charles G. Dawes, president of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Crisp expressed belief the bill would be reported not later than Saturday.

May Suspend Rules

Rainey predicted in an interview that Speaker Garner would permit action on the bill next Monday under a suspension of the house rules.

Nation Honors Hero Dead; 'Keep Old Faith' Urges Reed

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—The nation's war dead today received the tribute and homage of its leaders and of thousands of persons who participated in the capital's Memorial day ceremonies.

The press of public affairs kept President Hoover at his desk and contrary to custom, he took no personal part in the ceremonies. He sent wreaths by his military aide, Col. Campbell Hodges, to the tomb of Woodrow Wilson at the national cathedral and the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington national cemetery.

Unknown Soldier Honored

Throughout the day long lines filed past the tomb of the unknown soldier. Each grave in Arlington cemetery was decorated with an American flag and a red poppy.

Among the tributes at the unknown soldier's tomb was one laid there by a delegation of German

Sales Tax

Hears stood on the estimate of Secretary Mills that it still was short $56,000,000 of balancing the budget.

Confer With Hoover

Secretary Mills and Under Secretary Ballantine conferred during the day with the president. Reports arose that a statement might be forthcoming from the treasury.

The position of President Hoover on the sales tax of 1.75 per cent proposed by Senator Walsh (D. Mass.), was not reported by the White House conferees but he was represented as willing to support it if necessary to balance the budget.

Circulate Petition

Senators Harrison (D. Miss.) and LaFollette (R. Wis.), circulated the round robin petition pledging members against the sales tax and early in the afternoon announced they had 51 signatures.—16 Republicans and 35 Democrats. This total was increased by later reports but 51 adverse votes would be sufficient to kill the levy.

The Republican signers included: LaFollette (Wisconsin), Blaine (Wisconsin), Howell (Nebraska), Norbeck (South Dakota), and Brookhart (Iowa).

Exploding Gun Shells Save Harlan Family From Blazing Home

HARLAN, May 30 (AP)—Exploding shot gun shells awakened the John Petsche family early today and saved them from being trapped in their blazing home. The fire started in a clothes closet where the shells were kept.

Mr. Petsche's feet were burned seriously, and his daughter, Agnes, was cut badly about the arms when she broke a window to escape.

When the alarm was spread fire extinguishers were brought to the scene and part of the house was saved.

One Killed, Four Injured in Crash

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—A young woman was killed and four others injured today in an auto crash at Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard.

Miss Jean Sable, 21, was killed and Police Sergeant Walter McGloin, excused from duty four hours early in order to visit his mother's grave at Clinton, Ia., was probably fatally injured. Bernice Sable, 23, sister of the dead girl, also in McGloin's car, was knocked unconscious.

Anthony Insaluto, 28, and Dave Levy, 40, riding in the other car, suffered fractured skulls and are expected to die.

MCKINNEY, Tex., May 28 (AP)—R. L. Riss, Dallas mechanic, was killed and Col. Art Goebel, Dole flight winner was injured severely in the crash of their biplane against a tree in taking off from the airport in a rainstorm late today.

"Rain on my goggles impaired my vision," said Colonel Goebel, who suffered a fracture of one leg and facial lacerations.

"We had successfully taken off and were about 35 feet off the ground when a gust of wind caused the plane to crash into the tree."

Riss was crushed in the wreckage of the plane, a ship powered by a motor of the Deisel type.

Massie, one of the defendants in the famous "honor slaying" case, photographed in Chicago where they arrived by plane from the coast. They were enroute to Winchester, Ky., for a visit with Lieut. Massie's family.

Charging that when he married her in 1930 he did not inform her that he was then legally attached to his first wife, Eleanor Post Hutton, $50,000,000 heiress and New York society beauty, has instituted proceedings against Preston Sturges, author and creator of the famous stage play "Strictly Dishonorable." FIGURES IN JAPANESE REIGN OF TERROR—The assassination in his Tokyo home of Tsuyoshi Inukai (center), Japan's 77 year old premier, and the wide spread bombing of the homes of other government officials is viewed in diplomatic circles as an attempt by the militaristic clique to get control of the government. Upper right is Finance Minister Korekiyo Takahashi, who was immediately appointed as acting premier upon the death of Inukai. Upper left is Count Nobukai Makino, lord keeper of the privy seal and adviser to Emperor Hirohito, whose home was bombed, as also were the homes of Foreign Minister Kenichi Yoshizawa (lower left) and Admiral Kantaro Suzuki (lower right), grand chamberlain to the emperor. Eighteen young military officers are under arrest charged with the crime.

MINER'S SON BEST—A Delta Sigma Pi scholarship key dangles today from the watch chain of the 21 year old son of an Illinois coal miner. The youth is Tony Alic (above), and the key marks him as the most brilliant student at the University of Chicago. The honor was bestowed upon him at the annual banquet of the school of commerce and administration, in which he is a senior. His parents, born in Yugoslavia, never had a formal education. They lived for many years at Gillespie, Ill., where the father worked in the mines.

MOTHER ENDS LIFE IN EFFORT TO SAVE BOY SLAYER—Mrs. Estella Michael (right), who ended her life in her cell in the Danville, Ill., jail, in a vain effort to save her 13 year old son, Thomas Michael (left), held on a charge of murdering Dr. Austin N. Lakin of State Line, Ill., Nov. 22, 1931. The state plans to push the trial of the boy slayer despite his mother's heroic sacrifice. "Heads Up—Javelin!"

AT THE STATE intercollegiate track meet here Saturday afternoon fans witnessed a reminder of recent criticism against some of the traditional field events. In the javelin throw Drake's lanky, shirtless King three times proved better at distance than direction, causing officials and others near the broad jump pit to duck and scurry at the warning cry of "Heads up—javelin!"

News magazine Time in its May 2, 1932 issue noted an instance of an athlete whose skull was pierced by a javelin, who ran a quarter-mile to the college infirmary, lived—and of an onlooker who did not live following such an accident.

Commented Time: "Accuracy has no part in the modern version of this ancient, useless sport." And in a footnote: "As sports, javelin, discus, hammer throwing, shot putting and archery cause a lopsided muscular development. The recent war rationalized shot putting and discus throwing for grenade throwing. Cudgeling and knifing, which have not survived as warlike sports, were also useful. But not archery or javelin throwing."

Therein are recorded two objections: 1) lack of utility; 2) unhealthful effect on development.

Lack of utility might also be charged against the pole vault, in spite of collegiate comedies where the athletic Romeo vaults to his Juliet's balcony or utilizes his catlike agility in landing right side up when a sudden exit from a second story window is the best way to avoid the dormitory matron.

But such events, not immediately translatable into the post-graduation activities of a bond salesman, contribute at least two things. They provide the individual with a sturdy physique and satisfy his natural desire for achievement and recognition. No more practical result should be expected.

The other charge is really serious. It deserves the serious attention of coaches and others who, in making their worthwhile contribution to the life of American youth, need criticism from outside once in a while to challenge their too ready acceptance of things because of long tradition.

A Slice of "Art Pie"

(Editor's note: The following reprint from News magazine Time for May 30 is of interest because it concerns an art gift to the University of Iowa, obtained through the efforts of R. H. Fitzgerald, director of the school of fine arts.)

In November 1916, Henry Ward Ranger, a self-taught and highly successful landscape painter, dropped dead of heart failure in his Manhattan studio. He left an estate of about $225,000 to the National Academy of Design for the purpose of buying paintings of living artists (or those not 12 months old) and presenting them to U. S. museums. Last week the Academy's committee handed out 13 slices of Ranger pie to eager museums all over the country, as follows:

Table with 3 columns: PICTURE, ARTIST, GALLERY. Includes entries for 'The Sermon' by Gari Melchers, 'The Offering' by Charles W. Hawthorne, 'Madonna' by Ivan G. Olinisky, 'Woman in Cloak' by Robert Henri, 'In My Studio' by Leopold Seyffert, 'Eagle Lake' by Jonas Lie, 'Frances' by Frederick Carl Frieseke, 'The Black Cloud' by Eugene Higgins, 'Summer' by William Lanson Lathrop, 'Joseph Pennell' by Wayman Adams, 'The Fall Season' by Bruce Crane, 'Street Shrine' by Jerome Meyers, 'Fisherman' by Eric Hudson.

It was a carefully chosen collection, soberly distributed. Even more interesting to business men is the record of the Ranger Fund itself. No trust company was ever appointed to guard it. The Council of the National Academy has had full control of the capital since 1919 when the estate was settled. Since then, when thousands of other estates have shriveled, these presumably unbusinesslike artists have built the Ranger Fund up to $400,000. This year they had $35,000 to spend. They make no promises, but confidently expect to have as much to spend in 1933.

A committee of 14 Academicians selects and distributes the pictures annually. None of their own canvases are eligible. A museum wishing to benefit from the Ranger largesse must apply to this committee, explaining what sort of a museum it is, what is already in its collection, why it wants another picture, and, most important, telling whether its building is fireproof and insured. The omnipotent Ranger Fund committee investigates, decides what sort of picture to send the humble applicant. Since 1919 they have distributed 95 canvases and evolved two rules not expressly stated in the will: 1) whenever possible, to send the work of an artist not otherwise represented in a collection; 2) to send the work of artists from one part of the U. S. to another part of the country.

They had to give my Aunt Tillie ether twice for one operation. The first time was for the operation, and the second was to stop her from talking about it. —Judge

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

A lot of things have been blamed on fate during the many years we've known about it but it's hard to pin this one on anything else. Samuel Seabury, the man who put Mayor James J. Walker of New York city on the spot, and who is rated as being the archfoe of Tammany hall, was born within two blocks of that organization's stronghold.

Judge Seabury, to boot, is a direct descendant of John and Priscilla ("Speak for yourself, John") Alden, and is the great-great-grandson of the Right Reverend Samuel Seabury, first Protestant Episcopal bishop of America.

This is what Oswald Garrison Villard (The Nation), thinks about Seabury: "He is no blind party hack, no man over whom any boss or set of bosses can crack the whip." Although a Democrat by birth and from it, Judge Seabury has always adured the evils of party politics, as many in his home town well know.

He was born in the rectory of his father's church, grew up in (and on) the rectory library, swallowed whole the English history that dealt with the fundamentals of human rights in the Magna Charta, Bill of Rights, etc. That supplied the groundwork for the philosophy he later picked up from Henry George.

"What the world needs," George told Seabury, "is unselfish leadership." The single-taxer "conceived that the only right of public office of any man was the willingness to serve."

Just to show what kind of man this Seabury fellow turned out to be, his biographer, Walter Chambers, relates an incident that occurred soon after the judge had been elected to the supreme court. District Attorney Jerome, who refused to prosecute an investigation into the street-railway jury-fixing scandal, was charged on 23 counts back in 1907, when he was arraigned on a request for removal. Chambers reports the following verbal encounter:

"Mr. Justice," Jerome asked Seabury, "will you be good enough to express your honest opinion of me?"

"Do you want my honest opinion?" Justice Seabury countered.

"I do."

"I find it impossible to raise you to the level of my contempt."

Seabury has no small record of achievement behind him. The most celebrated criminal trial over which he presided, his biographer states, was the second trial of Police Lieutenant Charles E. Becker, convicted and executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, Broadway gambler, who was shot down by the forerunners of the present day common automobile type of slayers. Seabury's charge to the jury in this trial, which came after the execution of the actual slayers, Chambers writes, remains a classic of American criminal jurisprudence.

In 1912, Seabury made a speech assailing the decision of the reactionary element in the state court of appeals, which held, in a majority opinion, that an employer's liability act violated the constitutional right of a master to be held responsible for negligence to which he did not contribute.

"We have in our court of last resort," Seabury said on that occasion, "some altogether estimable gentlemen whose views upon so-called social, economic, and industrial questions would have been somewhat behind their times had they lived in the time of Columbus."

That speech, says Chambers, caused the governor, Martin H. Glynn, to give to Benjamin N. Cardozo the appointment to an unexpired term on the bench—an appointment which he had previously promised to Seabury. Later, however, Seabury's Progressive and independent support elected him to a seat beside Cardozo.

In 1930, Seabury was called back from a vacation in London to take charge of the inquiry into New York city's magistrates' courts. His exposures in that inquiry precipitated the investigation into all the city departments with their 121,500 employees.

Concerning the present investigation, Chambers writes: "Judge Seabury's accomplishments in New York cannot be regarded merely for their local significance. They are applicable in every community where apathy and lethargy of the people permit the machine politician to grasp the power of the government. His philosophy on human rights has long influenced the administration of justice in the state where he was born and to the development of which his ancestors contributed so much.

"Within the coming weeks, and months, he will certainly make clear to honest citizens in every community methods by which they can do much to reclaim their local governments from the selfish control of those who use public power for their private enrichment."

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester, 1931-1932. Wednesday, May 25, 8 a.m. to Thursday, June 2, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have regularly meetings (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D and E, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (2), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation, in the case of any examination, from this schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D and E) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

Table with columns for Examination Period (8-10 A.M., 10-12 A.M., 2-4 P.M.), Day (Wednesday May 25, Thursday May 26, Friday May 27, Saturday May 28, Sunday May 29, Monday May 30, Tuesday May 31, Wednesday June 1, Thursday June 2), and Special Group (A, B, C, D, E) with their respective sections.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed (Read by columns, and alphabetically) within the particular group, who will arrange a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than regular class hour on May 9 and 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first recitation of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 22 meets for lectures T Th Sa 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8,—and the class will meet for examination Thursday, May 26, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Wednesday, June 1, 2 p.m.

N.B. All sections of freshman speech (2), (2), and (4) will meet in the buildings and rooms and on the days and at the periods designated below:

Table with columns for Course (1), Course (2), and Course (3) listing sections and room numbers.

"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- 1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 25 to June 2, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D and E, since for such "odd" classes, these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. — It must have been the truth about those big stellar casts this year.

R-K-O will make good its promise by co-starring Ann Harding and Richard Dix in one of the pictures on its new program. The presence of either one of these players is sufficient to assure a film a large audience. But David Selznick wants to give the entertainment shoppers a bargain they simply can't resist.

And while it may be a little premature, I can tell you the studio is considering "March of Nation" as the vehicle for this important cinema union. Writers have been assigned to whip the story into shape for a co-starring picture and Mr. Selznick and his assistants are scanning the schedule to see where it might be worked in.

"March of a Nation" is the much-discussed companion picture to "Cimarron" and will be a real special. The film was supposed to have been made last year, but was postponed because the waning season promised location difficulties.

Al Jolson was lurching with a fellow at one of the better Hollywood calory dispensaries.

Veterans Hold Services for Soldier Dead

C. S. Kringel, Dr. F. Love, E. Hinchliffe Speakers

Memorial day services, held in Oakland cemetery yesterday under the direction of local veterans groups, were witnessed by more than 1,000 persons.

Stores, offices, and university work was suspended for the day and large crowds visited the cemetery, where the decorating committee and the Boy Scouts had placed flowers on the graves of soldiers and sailors.

Open With Service
The program for the day opened with a service for the dead sailors at 8:30 a.m. Members of the Women's Relief corps scattered flowers on the river from Iowa avenue bridge.

Starting at 9:30, the parade to Oakland cemetery was led by Maj. Will Hayek, the R.O.T.C. colors, and the university band. Members of military associations as well as the Boy Scouts marched in the procession, which formed on Clinton street.

Arriving at the cemetery, the marchers gathered around the monument to the soldiers of the Civil war, where George Trundy was in charge of the service. Following singing by children of Iowa City high school and a flag salute, the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy gave the invocation.

Wraths were placed on the monument to the unknown war dead by the members of the Women's Relief corps. Following a rifle salute and the playing of taps by Bugler Vincent Lalla, the group went to the west gate.

Tributes to Dead
At the west entrance, officers from the American Legion conducted a service for soldier dead. Commander Francis Boyle was in charge of this service, which closed with the playing of taps.

Readings of patriotic selections were next on the program. At a service at which W. E. Beck presided, Prof. J. C. Marry gave the invocation. John Ray, Mrs. Ruth Crayne, and Bert Oathout gave readings.

Tributes to war dead by the veterans of the various wars completed the ceremonies. The speakers were C. S. Kringel, World War; Dr. F. L. Love, the Spanish-American war; and E. Hinchliffe, Civil war.

The university band played several selections during the program.

Cornell College Professor Surveys Sites of Old Indian Habitations Near Burlington

BURLINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Two tribes of Indians once had villages two miles apart, four miles from what is now Burlington, but they could not understand one another's languages.

They were strangers to members of the other tribe, but they left numerous bits of pottery, tools, and trinkets that tell a complete tale, and a revealing one, to the modern investigator.

Discovery of the two villages and interpretation of their relics can be counted on to open a new chapter in Iowa Indian lore, for the tribes previously have been thought to have lived farther north in Iowa and their habits varied distinctly from those of the other.

Dr. Charles R. Keyes, director of the archaeological survey for the State Historical society and professor in Cornell college, surveyed the sites of the two villages, and declared the tribes were the Siouans and the Algonkians. The latter lived in the wooded lands; the Siouans lived in the open lands— their site near here being close to the Mississippi.

Dr. Keyes' tour was of the ground where previously R. E. Sloan, custodian of the Flint Hills State park, and R. A. Friedel and his son, Roy Friedel, had found hundreds of stone arrowheads, hammers, tomahawks, axes and pieces of pottery.

Marquette First White Visitor
Marquette, the first white man known to have visited this region, reported seeing Algonkians at the mouth of the Iowa river in 1673. Nothing has ever been found since to indicate that this tribe ever lived south of Oakville.

The fact that the two tribes lived so close together is not unusual, Dr. Keyes said, since there are other records of such conditions. To the Mt. Vernon archaeologist, the pottery and implements are as readable as a book. Sharp eyes, trained to the work, find scores of things which the average layman's eyes pass over.

Regarding first reports of the finding of the villages, Dr. Keyes declared that "I was certain the pottery and other things had belonged to the Siouans, but was almost afraid I might be wrong. I was hoping my investigation would bear out my first views."

He added that "Villages of the Algonkians were small, usually containing an acre or two each, and were situated in the timber, on creeks, river terraces, or sandy regions.

"Good examples are the sites on terraces of Flint creek near the Flint Hills State park. The houses were doubtless like early historic Algonkian houses, cone shaped, bark or mat covered, over a framework of saplings. Some of the summer houses were of the ridge pole type, open on the sides."

Describes Tribe Characteristics
Distinguishing characteristics of the prehistoric Algonkian sites Dr. Keyes said include: Fragments of grit-tempered pottery (crushed burned granite, producing a sharp grit), generally fabric marked with impressions of twisted cords. The rims usually show rows of protuberances made when the clay was wet and still soft by pushing a blunt point of wood or stone from the inside partly through the neck of the vessel. Notched arrowheads of a great variety of forms and sizes. Grooved stone axes. Siouan sites are larger than those in the woodlands and generally are on an open prairie next to the large streams. Dr. Keyes pointed out the following characteristics of the Siouan culture:

Fragments of the pottery are shell tempered (crushed clam shells) and decorated in a simple way by shallow trailed lines and rows of dots, frequently with scallops on the rim made by pressing the thumb or finger along the edge.

Used Many Arrows
Great numbers of small triangular arrowheads, only a few showing notches.

Many snubnose scrapers, a flake of flint flat on one side, chipped to a bevelled cutting edge at one blunt end.

Many hand mullers or grinders about four inches in diameter, of a size to fit the hand. These were generally of granite and fitted into larger shallow mortars which serve as the lower millstone.

The two tribes lived near here as late as the eighteenth century or until the first whites settled the region. There is a possibility that both tribes lived in the villages only a part of each year.

The Siouans perhaps were a part of the group that comprised the Ioway, Winnebago, Missouri, and Otoe tribes and a branch of the Sioux, with which tribe they are

Hornsby Gets Four Bagger to Help Cubs

Cards Blast Grimes From Box to Win First Tilt

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby's bat led the Chicago Cubs to a 6 to 2 victory over St. Louis in the second game of today's doubleheader, after the world champions had mistreated their old mate, Burleigh Grimes, to win the opener 6 to 4.

The Hornsby war club cracked Tex Carleton for a home run and a double, the former blow being the first Cubs score and the latter starting a seventh inning drive that netted two runs and put the Cubs safely in front.

Grimes sailed along in great shape until the seventh inning of the opener, but the Cards opened up on him in that round and before the side could be retired, five runs had scored and the ball game was gone.

The split enabled the Cubs to increase their lead over the Boston Braves, who dropped two to the New York Yankees, to two and one half games, and the accomplishment was performed before the first overflow crowd of the season, more than 40,000 attending.

First Game Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Louis 000 100 500-6 9 0 Chicago 000 201 001-4 12 3 Batteries: Derringer, Stout, Lindsey and Wilson; Grimes, May, Tinning and Hartnett.

Braves Bow Twice to Giants, 6-2, 4-2

BOSTON, May 30 (AP)—Forty-thousand fans, pulling for the Braves to fatten their standing, had a painful Memorial day as they watched the New York Giants take a pal from the home boys 6 to 2, and 4 to 2, the second in 10 innings.

Carl Hubbell's tight pitching and Mel Ott's home run with two on featured the opening tussle. Sam Gibson had the Braves shut out in the nightcap until two were out in the ninth when Randy Moore delivered a pinch double and "Pinky" Hargrave hit a home run to tie the count.

First Game Score by innings: R. H. E. New York 000 201 300-6 15 1 Boston 000 100 001-2 8 1 Batteries: Hubbell and Hogan; Zachary, Cunningham and Sprober.

Second Game Score by innings: R. H. E. New York 200 000 000-2-4 12 0 Boston 000 000 002 0-2 7 2 Batteries: Gibson, Bell and Hogan; Betts, Cantwell and Hargrave.

Brooklyn Double Winner Over Phils

BROOKLYN, May 30 (AP)—Watson Clark and Van Mungo each pitched his fifth straight victory as the Dodgers swept today's holiday bill with the Phils, 13 to 4, and 5 to 3. Each allowed only four hits and Mungo struck out 12 batters in the eight innings he worked of the nightcap.

The first victory was an easy one, despite the fact the Dodgers made seven errors behind Clark, but it required a four man rally in the last of the eighth to pull out the second tilt. Klein, with a single and triple, batted in all he runs off Mungo.

First Game Score by innings: R. H. E. Philadelphia 202 000 000-4 4 2 Brooklyn 300 000 34-13 10 7 Batteries: Berly and V. Davis; Clark and Picinich.

Bucs Spill Reds in Second, Lose First

PITTSBURGH, May 30 (AP)—The Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds split a holiday doubleheader today, Pittsburgh winning the afternoon game 5 to 2, after dropping the morning encounter 4 to 2.

Bill Swift held a tight rein in the second contest, letting the Reds down with five scattered hits. Rixey nosed out Harris in the morning game.

Sportively Speaking

By Bill Rutledge

Eastern baseball writers have been much agog over the week end regarding the report running along the grapevine route that George Herman "Babe" Ruth is slated to become manager of the Boston Red Sox next year.

The Red Sox have been regarded as sort of a branch plant of the New York Yankees; so it is concluded that Babe's transfer would be easy and logical. Joe McCarthy is doing too well in his job of managing the Yanks to give Mr. Ruth a chance of directing his present mates.

The Babe has been labeled "all through" more than once in the past; yet he has kept right on. In 1925 he looked as if he was about done for in the majors. The year after he launched a remarkable comeback. The fact remains that he can't play forever. Indications point to his taking up the managerial reins at Boston.

The batting power of the Philadelphia Athletics is reaching the point where it is sufficient to offset the shaky pitching that has been rolling off the arms of Connie Mack's mound ace, Jimmy Foxx has been leading the haters of both leagues. Al Simmons is hitting his stride. The other A's are connecting regularly.

When Notre Dame track team edged out Army in a dual meet at West Point Saturday, it administered the first setback in five years to the Cadets in a two-way clash. The first dual loss for Army tracksters since Novak became coach. The three top-notchers of the National league remain fairly stationary. But below them the teams are juggled up almost daily.

Local Twilight League Race Gets Under Way Tonight

Odd Fellows, Academy 9's at Iowa Field

As the sun starts its rapid descent into the west at 6 o'clock this evening, the first games of 1932 Twilight league season will get underway at the City park and Iowa field diamonds, scenes of the annual struggle through the title race for the next seven weeks.

Racine's and Odd Fellows, the two outfits which battled through a bitter championship series at the close of last year's schedule which saw the cigar store nine come out on top, are among the first four to get away on their present season's schedule.

Sidwell's Meets Racines Sidwell's, although finishing in the second division last summer, has been considerably reorganized and strengthened for this year and should provide last year's titlists strong opposition as the two meet at the City park diamond tonight. Racine's will present much the same lineup as that which won, but so far this season has had considerable trouble in hitting its winning stride.

Academy, with a few new members and holding over most of its well-balanced 1931 lineup, engages Odd Fellows in the other first night encounter, playing at Iowa field. Charles Smith, one of three hurlers in the league to pitch no-hit games last summer, will probably be on the mound for the Academy.

Two New Outfits The two new entries in the league, St. Mary's and Gasoline Alley, open up at Iowa field. These two teams, who took over the places vacated by Bremer's and Dewey's, are reputed to be heavy hitting aggregations backed up by fair pitching. The Ramblers, the same team which won five regular games for St. Mary's high school this spring, getting its latest win at the expense of the Hills Independents yesterday, will be made up of the youngest players in the league, only Ralph Lumsden and Leo Gaulocher, pitchers, being seniors.

All of the teams have been practicing at the City park for the last several weeks, a few of them playing regular games as warm-ups for the opening of league competition. In practice games Sunday, The Daily Iowan line lost to Oxford while Racine's was losing a close decision to the Hills Independents.

Griffiths Gets Kayo Win in First Round

CHICAGO, May 30 (AP)—Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City heavyweight contender making his first appearance after an operation several months ago, knocked out Jack Roper of New Orleans in 41 seconds of the first round in their 10 round fight at White City arena tonight.

Griffiths, much faster than the ponderous Roper, dazzled the southerner with a barrage of left jabs and then shot a heavy right to Roper's head.

Roper, stung by this punch, tried to clinch but Tuffy danced away, and then smashed over another right cross to the chin that spilled Roper on the floor. Roper got to one knee at the count of seven, but fell back again and was counted out.

Griffiths, showing no ill effects from his layoff, landed almost at will, while Roper hardly laid a glove on Tuffy in their brief encounter.

Griffiths weighed 186 pounds to Roper's 200.

Hills Indies Lose, 7 to 6, to Ramblers

Gaulocher's Homer in Seventh Decides Outcome

St. Mary's Ramblers gave a good idea of what may be expected of them in the coming Twilight league race when they snapped the five game winning streak of the Hills Indies yesterday morning by a 7 to 6 score.

While their victory was marred by ragged playing on the field, the Ramblers being charged with seven errors, their timely hitting and the steady pitching of Ralph Lumsden, the big speed ball hurler, pulled them through to their fifth win in regularly scheduled games.

The blow of the contest that turned the tide in favor of the locals was Leo Gaulocher's long home run in the seventh inning with the bases loaded. Jerry Pooler was credited with a home run when he lifted one over second base in the fourth frame, reaching home before the ball could be located and retrieved. Vic Belger hit safely three times in four trips to the plate and accounted for three runs.

Both Lumsden and Knebel, the Hills moynsdmen, were wild, each issuing seven passes. Lumsden fanned six while his opponent was whiffing eight Ramblers.

Check Rally Hills scored in the third frame to open the run gathering, but St. Mary's knotted the count and brought in another marker in the fourth to take the lead. Two runs in the fifth and another in the sixth sent the Independents ahead, the preps collecting a score in the last of the sixth before Gaulocher's homer won the game in the seventh. A rally by the visitors in the ninth was checked before they could overtake the local's lead.

Phi Chi Nine Takes Greek Baseball Title

Defeats Kappa Sigma 2 to 1 in Sunday Contest

The Phi Chi medical fraternity won the inter-fraternity baseball championship by eking out a 2 to 1 victory over the Kappa Sigma nine in a game played at the city park Sunday morning.

Although getting only one hit off Sheaffer, Kappa Sigma hurler, the winners were able to mix passes and errors in the fourth inning for the two runs.

Anderson, Phi Chi pitcher, was nicked for six hits, but kept them scattered and with the aid of fine fielding support held the losers at bay. In the sixth inning he was reached for three straight hits, which brought Nelson in with the Kappa Sig's lone tally.

Anderson struck out eight men and did not issue a single base on balls in the seven inning contest.

The two deciding runs were scored in the fourth inning when Hogan got on base for the Phi Chi's with a walk. He advanced to second as Johnson filed out. He scored when Walton was safe on the first baseman's error. Danitz's single scored Walton.

United States Cup Netters Win Handily

PHILADELPHIA, May 30 (AP)—America's challengers for the Davis cup completed their rout of the Australians in the North American zone final by winning the two singles events which remained today and sending the visitors home without one victory in the five match tournament.

Frank X. Shields turned back Jack Crawford, Australian ace, in a duel that went the full five sets. Then H. Ellsworth Vines defeated Harry Hopman, dropping only one set on the way and that a 20 game affair.

Shields had bested Hopman in the singles Friday and Vines had out-quoted Crawford. When John Var Ryn and Wilmer Allison triumphed over Crawford and Hopman at doubles Saturday it placed today's events in the light of exhibitions as far as any bearing on the outcome of the contest was concerned.

Hopman drew frequent applause from the gallery of 3,000, although Vines defeated him 6-2, 9-11, 6-4, 6-4. The Shields-Crawford encounter, which resulted 6-4, 7-5, 4-6, 3-6, 6-2, saw both men in top form.

The 5 to 0 sweep of Australia leaves the United States with its 1932 Davis cup slate unblemished as it prepares to meet Brazil at Forest Hills, L. I., next month. The Americans dropped not a match in their previous encounters with Canada and Mexico.

Moriarty accepted the challenge, the players said, as other Chicago players gathered around him in the dressing room, saying he "would fight the whole bunch, one at a time."

Milt Gaston, Sox pitcher, stepped up, saying "you might as well start with me." Moriarty struck him twice, knocking him out and breaking his hand.

Cleveland players parted the batters, including Berry, Grube, a catcher, and Fonseca, manager.

THE LOVE TRAP by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

CHAPTER XLIII SHE was angry, as a first reaction, at the stupidity of the negro maid. How could the girl have failed to put the letter in its proper place? Of course, Steve had written—somebody had been careless. She went down the basement stairs and routed out her sultry-laden landlady.

"You didn't get no letter!" the woman declared stubbornly. "I handled the mail myself, personal, and no letter ain't ever lost in this house. It ain't a bit of good stewing and fretting—your letter ain't there."

Gradually, Mary was forced to believe that Steve had failed to write her. There was no chance of a delay at sea—the ship, from Cuba, arrived steadily as clockwork. He hadn't written her because he had been with Eileen Calvert. He always wrote on Sundays. Perhaps Eileen had occupied all his time last Sunday.

Another week passed and another Friday came, and, again, there was no letter from Steve. Alone in her room, the memory of his smiling love, his humorous tenderness, the embrace of his arms, rushed on her and she sobbed, face downward on the bed, with heartache and humiliation such as only a woman might know. It was a case of plain neglect. Had he been ill or injured, a cablegram would have reached her. It was unfair, it was mean for him to treat her that way!

In the midst of her disappointment, she had to dry her eyes and go down and answer a telephone call from Buck Landers. He wanted her again to go to dinner. Yes, she would accept the invitation—anything was better than shut up alone in her little room that had suddenly become a prison. With a grim desperation, she dressed in her most becoming frock—if Steve but knew it, other men would look upon her with admiration tonight! But her secret heart told her that this was insincere rebellion, that she was merely trying to bluff the blues away.

When she went downstairs, Landers was waiting for her in the hall. "Looks like Steve's getting mighty impatient," he said with a smile. "There's a cablegram on the table there for you."

A cablegram! Strange she hadn't been called down to receive it—how careless such people as landladies could be with such tremendously important things!

"Excuse me a minute, please," she said, her heart swelling as she turned at the envelope. Adorable Steve—this would explain everything—maybe he was coming home! She held the message under the electric bulb in the hall.

"Forgive me, Mary, and forget all about me. Our engagement was a mistake for both of us. I married Eileen Calvert yesterday because I always did and always will love her. He body turned to ice, then it turned to fire. All of a sudden her legs no longer supported her, and she would have fallen had not Landers caught her and guided her to a sofa against the wall. It was shocks like this that killed people—but while something vital perished, her body, her mind, stayed alive. Landers read the cable and passed it back to her. The words were before her eyes again, each one beating at her heart with hammer blows. Steve married to Eileen! Oh, it was too cruel—too hateful! For a minute, she wished ardently to die—to pass into oblivion where this pain could not reach her and tear her to pieces.

"But how could such a thing happen?" she said aloud, in a frantic voice. "I don't understand why he bothered. . . . to make me love him. I thought he meant everything he said—why, I suppose it was just a pastime—for Steve. And I took it seriously. . . . but he wouldn't be captured. Oh, my God!" . . . She covered her face with her hands—but her eyes were dry as stones. Oh, if she could only go somewhere and bury herself. . . . If she could only forget! Instinctively her bright head began to rear itself with her inherent pride. It was best that Steve should have done this thing to her! After she had given him all of her love. . . . to trample upon it brutally, was not the act of a real man.

"I reckon he couldn't resist all that Calvert money," Landers was saying. "Base as I am—you would have been better off if you had married me in the first place. But come—don't let him slay you. Where's your spunk, girl? We're going up to dinner tonight—you and I—to douce with everything else!"

A wild recklessness, as untamed as a jungle beast, leaped in her breast. "Yes, we'll go out to dinner Buck Landers! That's the only thing that matters on earth now—we're going out to dinner!"

Sitting with Landers at dinner, Mary marvelled that she could seem to be alive to other people when her living self was as dead as a mummy.

not going to let you flop, Mary. You're too attractive and game and beautiful. I'm the man to put you on your feet—to help you fight back. We'll do Europe together—Paris—there'll be wine, and lights, and music. Oh, I guarantee you that in a month you'll enjoy life as you never enjoyed it before!"

His patience was infinite; his strength, it seemed to her, was as Gibraltar. Through everything, his devotion had never wavered. The intensity of his voice, the pounding logic of his words, made her wonder if, after all, he had the power to show her the way to happiness.

"You'd be cheated if you married me," she said. "There's no love left in me to give anybody."

"Give me a chance, Mary! Give me the chance I've earned!" he demanded fiercely. "You made a mistake once before—when you picked a man who threw you down because you were poor. Are you going to let a he-gold digger rule your heart? Marry me, and get all there is out of life. I've earned you, Mary—don't be obstinate now at the last. I'll worship you and protect you forever!"

The idea of marriage that flamed in Buck Landers was without significance in her hazed understanding—whether she did, or didn't, would not matter either way. There was nothing to lose except the surrender of her dead, valueless self. "I've got to have you!" he implored her. "We'll find happiness together! Let's try it, Mary. Won't you trust yourself to me, dear?"

Brookhart Charges State Press With Seeking His Removal

Back Others to Oust Him, Says Senator

Declares Glenn Haynes "Real Candidate" of Newspapers

DES MOINES, May 30 (AP)—Senator Smith W. Brookhart attacked the American press as "part of a gigantic confidence game to despoil the public" in a speech at Pocahontas tonight.

Naming several newspapers, Brookhart asserted that the "most sinister part of the program is the intention to monopolize the field of publicity and control the trend of public sentiment."

Set Up Opposition

He charged that the papers were seeking his removal as United States senator by "bringing out a flock of candidates to defeat the will of the people and send the nomination to convention."

"Their real candidate," he said, "was Glenn Haynes" but they "could make more hay by giving the publicity to Henry Field."

Cosson Speaks

George Cosson of Des Moines, also a Republican senatorial candidate, delivered a Memorial day address today at Greenfield. He stressed the need of peace time patriotism to meet the country's internal dangers.

Most of the other candidates were idle during the day as Memorial day brought a temporary halt in the tenuous campaign.

the Reichstag and a power in its biggest party, the Socialist or Social Democratic group.

The Socialist and Nazi leaders, comprising the biggest two parties in the present Reichstag, were understood to have given their suggestions to the president.

Hear Other Parties

Tomorrow the Centrists (Catholics), German Nationalists and the Peoples party will be heard, as well as the remaining small parties.

Thus it was indicated that for at least another day President Von Hindenburg would remain both captain and pilot of Germany's ship of state.

There were many reasons assigned to the resignation of Dr. Bruening, which came after several private conferences between chancellor and president.

Not Will of People

Chief among them, however, were the president's impression that the Socialist-Centrist coalition of Bruening no longer represented the will of the people, and his reported conviction that the army was no longer behind the present government in case of uprising.

Despite the sweeping decision of the president today, it was semi-officially announced that no personal differences existed, and that the old field marshal would write a letter of appreciation and affection to Germany's leader since March 30, 1930.

Successors Mentioned

Those most prominently mentioned for the chancellorship are Baron Wilhelm Von Gayl, Count Kuno Von Westarp, and Oscar Von Der Osten.

Baron Von Gayl organized the anti-Bolshevik forces of East Prussia in 1919. Count Von Westarp is leader of the People's Conservative party. Von Der Osten formerly was East Prussia's representative on the federal economic advisory council.

Dr. Bruening will take a long rest. His friends said he was unwilling to accept the post of foreign minister.

Liquor Plank Again Subject of Conference

Hoover, Borah Discuss Probable Stand at Convention

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—President Hoover discussed with Senator Borah of Idaho, the dry prohibition plank that should be incorporated in the Republican platform.

The conference was held over the breakfast table and no word came from either. However, there was a very definite indication tonight that no change was contemplated by Borah in his plan to remain away from the national convention.

May Lead Fight

There was a growing feeling though, among associates of the senator that he could be induced to go to Chicago and lead a fight for a prohibition plank should his views find support from the president.

It was also accepted at the capitol that Mr. Hoover, in listening to the persistent pleas for a resubmission plank, is determined, too, to keep in mind the formation of a platform declaration the views of the ardent prohibitionists.

Has Secret Plank

Borah himself has drafted a secret prohibition plank outlining his own view of the situation. In that he is understood to have taken the position that any real referendum must be through the election of members of the house and senate to carry out the will of the people.

The senator gave no intimation after the parley that he had in mind any part for himself either in the national convention or in the ensuing campaign.

Pair at Odds

Borah and Mr. Hoover have been at odds on almost every major legislative issue since the Idahoan led a cross country campaign for the Republican nominee in 1928.

Political leaders are not surprised at the resumption of conferences between the president and his 1928 campaigner, but there is considerable speculation whether Borah will be found on the stump again this year. In fact, his name has been heard frequently in the persistent speculation at the capitol over a third party.

Demands Persistent

Meanwhile, the president is feeling the persistence of demands by the anti-prohibitionists and the "middle of the road" group in the party on the prohibition issue.

There is little doubt here that whatever is said in the party platform to be drafted next month will bear the approval of the president. But what it will be no one ventures to say with any degree of authority.

Reign of Terror Grips City as King of Yugoslavia "Rests"

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 30 (AP)—The palace of King Alexander and five other strategic spots in the capital were bombed today.

A short reign of terror gripped the city, until the police explained that the missiles were not extremely dangerous, and were intended more as a demonstration of warning.

King "Resting"

The king left "for several days' rest" at Niska Vanja, it was announced.

The bomb thrown at the palace injured a passerby.

The others inflicted no injuries, but caused slight property damage.

They occurred in a railway station near the military academy, at the senate building, at the ministry of the interior, in front of the newspaper Politico, and in the vicinity of the workmen's insurance office.

Four Arrested

Four persons were arrested, including a Hungarian, a Croat and an unidentified woman. The fourth prisoner was named as Jelisijs Ljubicic. He was intercepted carrying a package he said he found in front of the Danish legation. It proved to be a bomb.

There was no other explanation of the occurrences.

King Alexander has been reported in disfavor in several quarters of late, and rumors have been spread repeatedly that he had been forced to abdicate, or had fled the capital. All of them proved groundless.

Welfare Board to Meet

Members of the Iowa City welfare board will hold a business meeting at the American Legion Community building today at 5:30 p.m.
