Postman Brown

Represents Hoover as Groups Plan for Convention.

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of stories about the men who will be outstanding characters in the Republican national convention at Chicago next week.

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — At the smoke wreathed conference tables where Republicans gather in Chicago to shape the policies of their party preparatory to the national convention next week, President Hoover will be represented by his close political adviser and long time friend, Postmaster General Brown.

Brown was the preconvention campaign manager for the president and went to Chicago as the recognized Hoover floor leader. He probably took to Chicago the views of the president on prohibition, but he told newsmen:

Prohibition

"Prohibition is a matter for the convention to decide upon. The prohibition plank will not be known until the resolutions committee has reported. The conference in Washington last week was held to obtain the views of senators who will not be able to attend the convention. They are party leaders and their opinions are valuable."

Within the last three weeks the postmaster general has spent much of his time trying to bring together the wet and dry factions of the Republican party. He has held many conferences with congressional leaders, representatives of wet and dry organizations and in between times reported to President Hoover the progress of his efforts.

Brown is said to have been instrumental in the selection of James R. Garfield of Ohio, as the head of the important resolutions committee which will draft the highly controversial prohibition plank.

Attended Conventions

The postmaster general was one of the Hoover convention managers at Kansas City four years ago and has attended virtually every Republican convention since 1930. In 1912 he bolted the regular Republican party and managed the Theodore Roosevelt campaign in Ohio. In 1916, however, he returned to the regular fold and has been there ever since.

He is adept at politics. His father was, before him, and handed on to his son a tradition of political leadership in the state which developed Mark Hanna and which has furnished so many presidents of the United States.

At the suggestion of the then secretary of commerce, Herbert Hoover, President Coolidge called Brown from Ohio to Washington to head the committee studying the reorganization of the government. Later Mr. Hoover made Brown his assistant secretary in the commerce department and from there he graduated to the postmaster generalship.

As the only man in the president's cabinet with a completely political background, Brown has been the president's chief adviser on matters political since 1928.

Lightning Strikes Nebraska Elevator

BANCROFT, Nebr., June 9 (AP) — Lightning struck a 40,000 bushel elevator here this afternoon and it burned to the ground.

Herman Heine of Pender, the owner, declined to estimate the loss but said it was covered fully by insurance. Not much grain was stored there at the time and a quantity of feed stored in an annex was removed. A feed mill in connection with the elevator was used by farmers over a wide territory. Fire trucks from Lyons, Pender and Rosalie answered the alarm.

Held for Murder

SIBLEY, June 9 (AP) — Henry Immens and Vera Leckband of Harris were bound over to the grand jury today on charges of murder resulting from the finding of a newborn baby buried under a garage in Harris May 31. Officers said Immens admitted burying the infant, which Miss Leckband claims was born dead.

WEATHER

IOWA: Party cloudy Friday and Saturday, a few scattered showers; cooler Saturday.

Former Emperor, as Did Napoleon, Girds for Battles

ADDIS ABABA, (Ethiopia) Abyssinia, June 9 (AP) — Like Napoleon, the former Emperor Lij Ijeasu of Abyssinia has escaped captivity, and is gathering an army about him to march on the present ruler, Halle Selassie.

But, unlike Napoleon, Jeasu fled garbed as a woman, it was revealed today, and is awaiting the end of the rainy season in the wilds of Gojam before he tries to settle his score with Selassie.

Emperor Halle Selassie announced he had sent his minister of war and an army into Gojam to settle the score now. It is reported, however, that the emperor's soldiers are deserting him in favor of the former ruler.

The former emperor has been in captivity for 15 years since he was deposed by Halle Selassie.

Records Open for Governor

Roosevelt Begins With Testimony in Case of "Jimmy"

Copyright, 1932, Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., June 9 (AP) — Governor Roosevelt tonight began a two to three week task of reading the Hofstadter investigation record on which Samuel Seabury bases his arguments for the removal of James J. Walker, Tammany mayor of New York city.

In the light of Mr. Roosevelt's remark today, "it is of course necessary to check all the testimony with the allegations," it is probable the Democratic national convention will be in session at Chicago before the governor completes a scrutiny of the 600,000 words of testimony.

Presidential Chances

And, if he follows the procedure of other ousted proceedings, Roosevelt will be the presidential nominee or will have been rejected by the delegates long before Walker faces Seabury at a public hearing in the capitol. Roosevelt said he would ask two outstanding lawyers to read the testimony and charge and give him their opinions.

As the governor began turning the pages of the volumes of questions and answers which Seabury, counsel for the legislative investigators, laid before Roosevelt last night, word came from New York that several reform organizations would prefer charges against Walker. Seabury's "analysis" of the testimony held Walker unfit to continue as mayor of the metropolis, but did not ask that he be removed.

No Quibbling

Roosevelt, however, said the Seabury letter and analysis constitute charges adding "I see no reason for quibbling over terms."

Seabury found 15 reasons for what he termed Walker's "unfitness." They included financial interest in a company holding a city contract, the acceptance of money from persons who might seek benefits and the possession of unexplained finances.

William J. Schieffelin, chairman of the New York committee of one thousand, wired Mr. Roosevelt his organization would prefer charges against Mr. Walker. The Citizens Union and the Society for the Prevention of Crime will join in the demand for Walker's removal.

Chicago Takes Wood in as Legal Tender

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP) — Royal C. Vilas, widely known in sports and society circles and a bridegroom of nine days, shot and killed himself today in his suburban Glenview home.

His body, lying on the floor with a pistol still gripped in his hand, was found by his wife, the former Miss Myrtle P. Hoglund, whom he married on May 31.

Vilas resigned as chairman of the board of the Pyle National company, railroad equipment manufacturers, 18 months ago.

V.F.W. Opens Meeting

DECORAH (AP) — The Veterans of Foreign Wars opened their annual convention here Thursday with 1,000 delegates in attendance.

Will Address Session

OTTUMWA (AP) — Arch McFarlane of Waterloo, Lieutenant governor, will address the formal opening session of the United Commercial Travelers' convention here Friday. McFarlane is past supreme counsellor of the organization.

Bonus Army Camp Seen as Unhealthy

Health Officer Calls Living Conditions "Frightful"

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — While leaders presented petitions at the White House and capitol urging immediate bonus payment, Dr. William C. Fowler, District of Columbia health officer, today pronounced the veteran army's living conditions "frightful."

A committee representing the former service men called at the White House and placed their communication to the president in the hands of one of his secretaries. Earlier it had delivered the petition to Vice President Curtis and left a copy at Speaker Garner's office. The message was read to the senate and incorporated in the congressional record at the request of Senator Thomas (D. Okla.)

City Menace

Dr. Fowler said the open air encampment at Anacostia flats was the worst menace to the city's health since he took office. A marine corps medical detail, after inspecting the camp, pronounced the quality of donated food "poor" and general camp conditions "fair."

The district commissioners sent telegrams to governors of all the states urging them to keep their veterans at home.

Police, cooperating with government agencies, made plans to send detachments of the veterans to obsolescent army posts in the vicinity of the capital.

At the man camp a village had sprung up. Crude huts, their roofs thatched with dried grass, supplemented the sheds erected as temporary shelter for a few hundred.

Odors of burning wood from the field kitchens, half-buried garbage and hastily constructed sanitary stations pervaded. The marine medical depot reported numbers suffering with the cattle pest.

Congressional Aids

To help them in their plight moves were made in congress to give the veterans food and shelter. A resolution introduced by Senator Brookhart (R. Iowa) would authorize the war department to furnish them army rations.

A resolution introduced by Representative Keller (D. Ill.) would authorize their being furnished with army equipment.

Good natured laughter greeted police when in the early morning hours they offered the veterans free truck rides from the city.

The veterans' uncrowned king of the day was the Rev. James R. Cox, Catholic priest of Pittsburgh, Pa., who some months ago led an unemployed army to the capital. Bare headed in the blazing sun, 6,000 veterans at the main camp heard the priest extol their cause.

He arrived from Pittsburgh by air. He wore the uniform of an army chaplain, in which position he served during the World War. He told the marchers to "stay until the bonus is paid." They cheered him with fervor and prayed with him with reverence.

The bonus issue will come before the house Monday for a vote.

Senate Approves Army Bill

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP) — Carrying 2,000 more officers than the 10,000 sanctioned by the house, the $389,000,000 war department appropriation bill was approved yesterday by the senate and sped to conference with the other branch of congress.

Fourth of the supply bills to pass both houses, it was sent on its way with a single day's debate, and final approval came without a record vote.

Upholding its appropriations committee, the senate rejected a house provision limiting to 10,000 the number of army officers, and agreed there should be 12,000, as now.

Reversing its attitude toward other appropriation bills, it turned down 47 to 22 an attempt by Senator McKeever (D. Tenn.) to send it back to the committee with orders to cut it 10 per cent from the $392,000,000 it carried as it came from the house.

Senator Norris (R. Neb.) assailed the training methods of the war department in the citizens' military training camps. Later in the day a proposal by the Nebraskans to eliminate $2,600,624 for the camps was defeated 45 to 11.

Other attempts to change various sections in the bill also were defeated as the senators, obviously anxious to get the bill to conference, approved the committee's recommendations.

LEADING LIGHTS AT G. O. P. CONVENTION

Here are four of the leaders of the Republican party who will play prominent parts in the nation convention at Chicago. Representative Bertrand Snell of Potsdam, N. Y., will be permanent chairman. Senator Dickinson of Iowa will be keynoter and temporary chairman. Both are ardent "drys." James A. Garfield of Cleveland, son of the late president, is in charge of drafting the platform and Senator Fess of Ohio, Republican national committee chairman, is entrusted with the job of keeping the delegates in line.

Demos Back Harry Byrd

Virginian Supported by Followers in Home Commonwealth

RICHMOND, Va., June 9 (AP) — Virginia Democrats today offered Harry Flood Byrd to the nation's Democracy as a candidate for the presidency and voiced the opinion that national prohibition should be submitted to the states for decision.

Thunderous applause and a parade greeted the resolution offering Byrd as the Democratic nominee. The resolution was adopted by acclamation.

The method of submission of prohibition to the states was left to what is deemed best by the national convention, but the Virginians recommended for consideration of the national body Byrd's proposal for another constitutional amendment which would make possible a direct vote of the people on retention, modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Deference was shown to the wishes of the former governor by insertion of a clause in the resolution of instruction for Byrd permitting the delegation to the national convention to shift its vote whenever the majority of the delegation believes such a move in the best interest of the party.

The delegation will always vote as a unit.

Mr. Byrd said that there is presented to the Democratic party "a rare opportunity to serve this nation if only it will unite on a liberal and intelligent campaign to make war on depression."

"I am utterly against introducing a new element of confusion by opening up any question of the form of the state to which I have sworn allegiance before the president. On this, the chancellor and other members of the government are fully agreed."

Cannot Cancel War Debts -Says Coolidge in Article

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP) — Calvin Coolidge, discussing international war debts in the July issue of the International-Cosmopolitan magazine, declares these obligations "cannot be cancelled."

The former president, after reciting the circumstances connected with the various debt settlements agreed upon at the time he was chief executive, writes:

"I know we were not trying to over-reach anybody nor trying to drive a hard bargain. The money we furnished we had to borrow. Some must pay it. It cannot be cancelled. If we do not collect it from Europe, we must collect it from our own taxpayers."

No Knowledge of Plans

Pointing out that he has no knowledge of what is in the mind of the present government regarding the debts, Mr. Coolidge states that, at the time the settlements were made, "we were seeking to restore faith in international financial integrity for the good of the world."

While calling attention to the various loans made Europe by the United States, he writes:

"But we get little help from specific figures or reasons for making the loans. In the main we furnished money to carry on the war. Others borrowed it for that general purpose."

Suspect in Lindy's Kidnapping Gives Up at Police Quarters

DETROIT, June 9 (AP) — A nationwide search for Harry Fleisher, dapper Detroit gangster wanted for questioning in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping case, came to a close today when Fleisher, pale and nervous, walked into police headquarters and gave himself up.

He refused to talk, but his attorney, Edward H. Kennedy, Jr., declared emphatically that Fleisher "had absolutely nothing to do with the Lindbergh case."

"Those people who identified Fleisher's picture in the Lindbergh case apparently identified doubles, if anyone at all," the attorney said.

New Jersey officials were notified and from Lieutenant Walter Coughlin of the New Jersey state police came a request for permission to question Fleisher. Detroit officials said the permission had been granted. Lieutenant Coughlin said that future action would depend on the results of the examination.

Harness Dealers See Trend Toward Horses

DES MOINES, June 9 (AP) — A trend from tractors to multiple hitched horses, resulting in increased business, was seen today by dealers attending the Iowa Retail Harness Makers association convention.

Frank Proeshold, secretary, said answers to a questionnaire mailed to 800 retail dealers and 125 jobbers and wholesalers throughout the country indicated the harness business is picking up and that farmers are now raising horses to provide their own power because they have foodstuffs feed with.

Other speakers included C. O. E. Trukken, president of the association, and Paul Sturgis, Sioux City.

Nearly Final Returns Head 3 Contests to Conventions

Auditor, Railroad Commission Posts Lack Necessary Percentages With Almost All Precincts Reported

DES MOINES, June 9 (AP)—With 2,113 precincts reported gave tabulation of nearly final unofficial returns from Iowa's primary today headed three contests for party nominations for state offices more definitely toward conventions.

Contestants for nominations for state auditor on both the Republican and Democratic tickets still lacked a 35 per cent vote and the posts seemed likely to remain unfilled until the party conventions make their selections.

The Republican contest for railroad commissioner has been headed conventionally ever since the tabulation of votes from Monday's primary got under way. Although leading, J. M. Richardson, incumbent, has been unable to boost his vote to the required percentage.

Long Leads Race

In the Republican auditorship contest, J. W. Long, suspended incumbent, continued to lead but his advantage was cut during the day. With less than 100 precincts unreported he had 412,294 votes and Karl Fischer of Clinton had 111,010.

The other candidates had polled: Darling 41,958, Krinke 40,322, and Lemley 34,936. Long's vote has been around 33 per cent of the total.

A recheck of the Democratic standing in the contest for auditor, State Senator C. F. Clark was assured of victory over State Senator O. P. Bennett in their race for the Republican nomination for the lieutenant governorship. With 28 precincts unreported he had 171,240 and Bennett 164,095.

Davila Junta Takes Bank

Chilean Socialists to Set National Banks Under State

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 9 (AP)—The socialist Junta of Carlos Davila began to practice what it preached to day when it took over the Central bank and started working out a plan to put national savings banks under control of the state.

Then the government ordered all deposits in foreign currency in the various banks to be turned over to the authorities. The banks were instructed to give depositors pesos at the "legal rate" in exchange for their deposits.

The peso in the open foreign market is valued at six cents.

The government took over the function of issuing currency and supervising rediscounted paper from all banks when it stepped into the Central bank.

Meanwhile, provisional authorities were ordered to suspend taxes where property owners are unable to pay, and school teachers were told to direct education toward socialism.

Police are receiving daily orders to suppress all propaganda and any attempt to subvert public order. They also have been instructed to protect all persons and property.

Various banks were allowed to open today but were permitted to pay out no more than 20 per cent of accounts running over 1,000 pesos.

Party Loyalty

"...you (the devil) I take to be, in cosmic politics, a leader of the party in opposition."

—James Branch Cabell.

SUGGESTION OF William Edgar Borah as the most mentioned presidential possibility for that third party which has been just around the corner for several elections brings up once more the question of the Idaho senator's party allegiance.

If any? Yes, almost that little. But there are what lawyers call "mitigating circumstances."

In the first place, objection to Borah's use of the Republican label at election time is not based on any failure to support other candidates as he is supported by the party vote. He is accused rather of climbing on the bandwagon, as in 1928, only to desert it after election.

It can be argued that Borah's name on the Republican ticket in Idaho helped Herbert Hoover more than the president's name did the senator. Seemingly unbeatable in the primary, Borah also has had the support of the great bulk of Idaho citizens considering themselves Republican, in whose eyes party loyalty has less narrow limits than in the view of the more select circle called "the machine."

In the second place, party loyalty of the more restricted sort means, to men like Borah, surrender of the right to think for themselves. By that definition, the best possible senator would be a Simeon D. Fess or an L. J. Dickinson. Party loyalty in them should not be sneered at, but attempts to force that party loyalty on the otherwise minded is a different matter.

For party loyalty as the old guard means it assumes the existence of two parties, one of which through control of its members dominates legislation. Rigid uniformity along party lines is the ideal. Keynoter Dickinson of the Republicans has even gone so far as to hint that a one party (Republican, of course) system is best.

Unfortunately, the interests and ideals of so large a nation of the United States are too vast and varied to be represented in even two political minorities. Yet by a two party system rigidly adhered to that is just what representation means, for aside from the necessity of getting votes from the general population both parties represent limited minorities of the population.

The clash of interests and variance of ideas out of which change, and progress, come, require just such men as Senator Borah. The most individual and best known members of the senate are likely to be in this group—Nebraska's Norris and Montana's Walsh, for instance — while the really outstanding "regular" senators are distinguished by the fact that they lead rather than follow.

There is an increasing minority in the voting public which pays more attention to the issues for which men stand than to the parties with which they are affiliated. In that direction lies a return to elections based on vital problems rather than on inherited loyalties.

Why Fight Pests?

THE STATE OF IOWA has turned over to its control committee $45,000 to aid in the fight against grasshoppers now infesting the western sections of its territory. The cash will enable farmers in those sections to purchase poison bran mixture at half price, to be used as a means of exterminating the pests.

Fifty cents per hundredweight, with the state bearing the cost of transportation on lots of more than five tons, will be the cost to the farmer.

Where did this money come from? It came from the pest control fund, and was a sum left from a former appropriation for corn borer eradication.

There hasn't been much heard of the corn borer in the last two or three years. The money used to fight him might as well be turned over to fight his remote relative, the hopper, until he disappears, as a crop menace.

Suppose all the pests are eradicated, and that the state of Iowa during 1932 yields one of its famous "bumper crops." Where can that crop be sold, and for how much? Well, for oats, as an example, about six to eight cents per bushel can be obtained at a local elevator. It costs all of that to cut and thresh the average oat crop from 80 or 120 acres of land.

With no cash return from the crop promised for the future, then, why should any attempt be made to fight a pest and insure a crop?

There are two answers. In the first place, as long as a farmer can grow a small crop, handle it without too much outside labor, and turn it to his own personal use, he simply won't starve. And he'll live mighty well in comparison to his brother in the town who is drawing more cash — and spending more.

Then, there is another year coming. Another year means another planting season, and there must be something to plant from the previous year. And there must be provision that few pests will return in another year.

That is the way the state sees things, evidently. Iowa has found a good use for its $45,000.

Milking the Consumer

(From The Kansas City Star)

The collapse of the Insull utilities structure has called public attention to the need of regulation of the practices of various holding companies. Such companies, in many instances, have been used to milk the operating companies. Various devices have been disclosed in public investigations.

Successful operating companies have been forced to make loans to the holding company, or to turn over earnings to the holding company to use before dividends were paid. Management and supervision fees have been collected by holding companies for work already paid for by the operating companies.

So the consuming public in many instances has been forced to pay prices that have not merely yielded a fair return to the operating company, but that have furnished profits to the holding company as well. Such practices have been exposed through investigations by public service commissions and condemned by them.

Certainly if there is no authority directly to stop such practices, the public service commissions can clamp down on them through the increased power of regulation of operating companies given them through recent court decisions.

TODAY'S TOPICS

By FRANK JAFFE

Within the next few weeks the nation will begin to feel the effects of the revenue measure. Levies will go into effect June 21, on sales of rubber tires and tubes, sporting goods, cosmetics and toilet articles, beverages and materials entering into their manufacture.

And after June 21, all bills for electric current supply, both domestic and commercial, will bear a tax. Radio, telephone, cable and message messages will carry the revenue beginning on that date, as will also amusement admission charges.

But, if you are going to buy a yacht or pleasure boat of any kind, you can have until the last day of this month, because that tax goes into effect July 1.

The other day, the bureau of engraving and printing got busy printing 4,000,000,000 three-cent postage stamps, at the rate of 100,000,000 a day to get them ready by July 6, when that tax goes into effect. From all reports, the same flavor of stickum will be used, for economy's sake.

But the taxes on the whole don't amount to very much for the individual who is used to leading a normal life. For example, the electric current tax won't amount to much more than $1.80 a year, telephone and telegraph not much more than $10 annually.

"Buy now" is probably the slogan most appropriate for vacationists. After another two weeks, you'll be paying $16.50 for the regular $15 cameras, and something extra on your new golfing equipment.

Maybe the good old summertime isn't a bad time to buy next winter's fur coat, because by that time you'll be paying $220 for the $200 variety. That is, unless you skin your own.

It may be a paying proposition to lay in a supply of the stuff that makes automobiles go because soon you'll be paying something extra to the government every time you have the gas tank filled. And if you buy a new $600 car you'll have to pay Uncle Sam just $18 for the privilege.

Of course, no one will take any of the above suggestions to heart because that would be like doing the U.S.A. out of its due. If everybody stocked up now for all next year, the old budget will topple over for lack of balance by June, 1933.

On the other hand, buying now to escape the excise levies will put a lot of money — cash money — into circulation. And that means basis for more credit and that means revival of industry and that might mean any number of things.

So, perhaps it would be better to just wait and pay. At least, it's the patriotic thing to do, as some would have it.

SO THEY SAY:

"The people themselves should be given the opportunity to vote through a national referendum, authorized by act of congress." —William Gibbs McAdoo.

"Every generation has suffered a depression. It's not the size of the dog in a fight, it's the size of the fight in a dog." —Will Hays.

"The sale of intoxicants through state agencies should be made lawful in any state of the Union where the people of that state desire it, and, conversely, the people of any state should have the right to prohibit the sale of intoxicants, if they so wish, within its own borders." —Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"To repeal the eighteenth amendment would be murderous. It would restore the old high death rate from alcoholic causes; it would be cowardly in that it would surrender to the liquor interests, which, regardless of the protests of the wet leaders, are bent on complete liberalization of liquor laws around the world." —W.C.T.U. bulletin.

"I had two sons on the firing line and a nephew decorated for courage, and it would be inconceivable for me to entertain any lack of sympathy for the veterans. . . This nation, far from dealing in a harsh way with the veterans, is paying out this year in relief 10 per cent more than all the other nations together." —Chairman Jones of the senate economy committee.

Former Kaiser's Son May Succeed to German Helm

BERLIN—Overshadowing the recent sensational fall of the Bruening cabinet and the appointment of Col. Franz von Papen as chancellor of the German republic comes the astounding report that President Paul von Hindenburg intends to retire on reaching his 85th birthday, Oct. 2, and to hand the reins of government to former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, son of the exiled kaiser.

According to the present rumor, the former crown prince is to be summoned to head the government as "Reichsverweser," or regent, which it is recognized, would be a long step towards the restoration of the monarchy and the return to power of the once mighty house of Hohenzollern. Observers of the German situation believe it well within the bounds of possibility that another year will see a Hohenzollern hand upon the helm of Germany. The German people, they say, are under the impression that the worldwide trade depression is not alone responsible for the chaotic state of their country today. They think, yearningly of the prosperous days of the monarchy and lay the present state of the Fatherland to the continual political bickering that was unknown when a Hohenzollern was in the saddle. Consequently, the belief is widespread that a return to the monarchy would not be too keenly resented.

Meanwhile, in his exile at Doorn, Holland, the ex-kaiser is giving a realistic impersonation of the Sphinx, refusing to comment upon the rumors affecting the crown prince. But it is felt that he would not offer any objection to the plan to put his family back in power.

HOLLYWOOD—Those two clowns, Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen, are to be reunited at last.

One-time teammates at the Fox studio, they will make their return at Paramount, where they have just signed to play in the mystery melodrama, "Riddle Me This."

Despite the fact that the film script called for him to be the master of a pack of 16 Great Danes, actor Leslie Banks was bitten in the seat of the pants this week when one of the dogs decided that one actor was as good as another. At the time, Banks was trying to set the dogs loose on another actor in the cast of the RKO picture, "The Most Dangerous Game."

The mishap occurred so quickly that Mrs. D. H. Hostetter, Jr., Pflanridge society woman and owner of the dogs, was unable to interfere. Mr. Banks may derive some comfort, however, from the knowledge that the teeth marks in his anatomy were inflicted by a blue-blooded canine named Oldo von Odenwald.

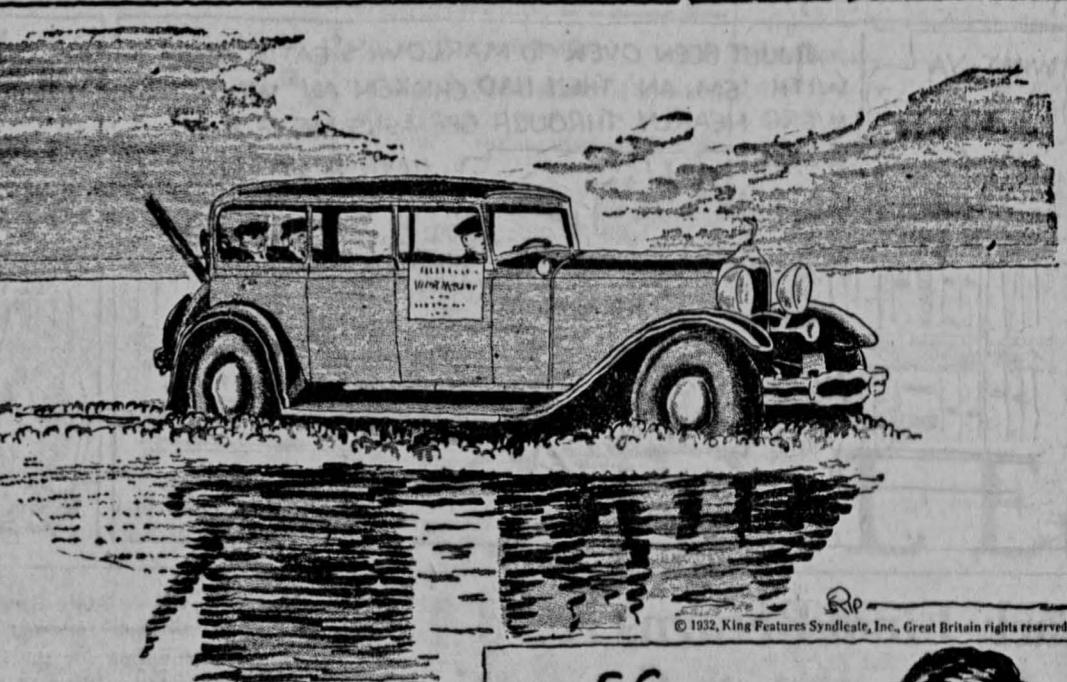

Over at the Biltmore theater, here, the cast of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is thick with English accents. They tell a story that a certain Hollywood producer (he's not Irish) came out into the lobby shaking his head.

"What's the matter?" asked a

Two Hurt in Stolen Auto, One Fatally

Car Smashes Bridge Abutment Near Northwood

MASON CITY, June 9 (AP) — Peace officers late today sought to learn the identity of two men who were injured, one fatally, when their stolen automobile crashed into a bridge abutment near Northwood this morning.

Sheriff G. E. Cress of Cerro Gordo county said he believes the dead man was Joe Callahan of Des Moines. The other said he is Bob McCarthy of St. Paul and that he is a bootlegger.

Identifies Man

A woman who said she is Naomi Millard of Des Moines, arrived later today and identified the man fatally injured as Richard (Jojo) Callahan of Des Moines. She said he worked in an oil station in Des Moines. Meanwhile his companion, who continued to claim he is Bob McCarthy of St. Paul, remained in a hospital here.

The man claiming to be McCarthy was quoted as saying he remembered nothing of what happened between the time he left St. Paul and when he found himself in a hospital here.

Two revolvers and a set of Wisconsin license plates were found in the wrecked automobile, which belongs to E. M. Klove of Northwood. Previously they had stolen the automobile of J. C. Kalstead at Gordonsville, Minn., abandoning at that time the machine a Humpmobile in which they are believed to have left St. Paul.

"Call Cedar 0187"

The surviving man, before he had completely recovered consciousness, mumbled to attendants to "call Cedar 0187." This telephone number was given to St. Paul police, who reported they could find no connection between it and the accident victims. They said it was the number of a man once suspected of bank robberies.

The dead man was described as being 35 years old, 5 feet 10 inches, and 165 pounds in weight. He was called "Jojo" by the other. He sustained a fractured skull, a broken back, and a deep scalp wound.

The survivor is about 27 years old, has dark hair, is 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 140 pounds. He suffered a gash on the chin and several bruises. Both were taken to the Park hospital here.

Stocks Take Wide Jumps Within Day

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP) — Stocks were subject to wide price movements today, but closed with changes that, on the whole, were small.

A dip at the opening was followed by a smart recovery, influenced by appearance of support for two or three pivotal issues, a short squeeze in Auburn auto and the much stronger tone of Brooklyn-Manhattan transit issues. However,

Report Hits Wheat Mart

Government Bulletin Hands Surprise to Operators

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP) — The largest surprise of the season was handed to wheat traders tonight in the government crop report. The official forecast of winter wheat production besides being one of the smallest in recent years, came unexpectedly. With the trade well liquidated and mostly short, having bought bids at the last, there was an unsettled feeling. An impression prevailed that Liverpool would open higher and that a rush to buy by all classes of traders was likely to send prices higher for a time, followed by increased offerings and a reaction.

All in all, a day of most uncertain markets was expected.

With wheat prices around the lowest known and the market regarded by close observers as showing less resistance from sellers on the weak spots and a little more support, with no air pockets in either Chicago or Winnipeg as for several days past, a few of the commission houses expressed belief that possibly there was a basis for starting a bull market.

The Chicago trade regarded the government estimate of 411,000,000 bushels winter wheat for this year's crop as extremely bullish. Not only did it fall materially below the average estimate of unofficial statisticians, 432,000,000 bushels, but showed a drop of 30,000,000 bushels from the official May returns.

Hack Wilson Leads Dodgers to 5-2 Win Over Cubs; Tigers Nip Yanks, 5-4

Accounts for All Brooklyn Runs in Win

Drives Out Homer in First With Bases Loaded

BROOKLYN, June 9 (AP)—Hack Wilson practically ruined his old teammates, the Chicago Cubs, today, driving in all the Brooklyn runs as the Dodgers turned in a 5 to 2 victory.

Wilson hit a home run off Pat Malone with the bases full in the first inning and singled home Brooklyn's final run in the eighth with Jackie May in the box. The homer was his eleventh of the season.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Chicago 020 000 000—2 4 0
Brooklyn 400 000 01*—5 6 1
Batteries—Malone, May and Hartnett; Mungo and Lopez.

Haines Holds Tribe to 5 Hits; Cards Win

BOSTON, June 9 (AP)—Bob Brown, the Boston Braves' 20 year old pitching sensation, suffered his first defeat of the season today, as the St. Louis Cardinals gained their second consecutive victory of the series, 2 to 1.

The veteran Jess Haines held the Braves to five hits, three of which were bunched in the ninth for their only score. In that session, the Tribe filled the bases with none out, on hits by Knothe, Urbanski and Leach. Knothe scored after Worthington's long fly and the other runners died on base.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
St. Louis 000 002 000—2 1 2
Boston 000 000 001—1 5 0
Batteries—Haines and Mancuso; Brown, Cantwell and Spohrer, Hartnett.

Pirates in 4-3 Win Over Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—French's relief pitching, coupled with timely hitting by the Pirates and the failure of the Phils to drive in runs with men on bases, enabled Pittsburgh to defeat the Phillies 4 to 3 today.

The Phils outhit the Pirates 12 to 7. Swetonic started for the Pirates but retired for a pinch hitter in the eighth, Brane, who relieved Swetonic, allowed two hits, but French replaced him and prevented the Phils from scoring.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Pittsburgh 100 100 020—4 7 1
Philadelphia 100 011 000—3 12 1
Batteries—Swetonic, French and Grace; Holley and V. Davis.

Out Homers Twice, Giants Win Again

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Due principally to the home run hitting feats of Melvin Ott, the New York Giants today won their fifth game in seven starts since Bill Terry became manager, turning back the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2.

For the second time in three games against the Reds, Ott provided the winning runs by hitting two homers.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Cincinnati 010 010 000—2 4 1
New York 011 001 00*—3 5 0
Batteries—Carroll and Lombardi; Mooney and O'Farrell.

Smith Hurls 3 Hit Game to Gain Win

Alley Errors Contribute to Triumph for Academy

Bet Hack Wilson sang at the clubhouse yesterday afternoon as he took his shower after the Dodger-Cub game. Revenge must be sweet to the husky outfielder who personally defeated his former mates, the Bruins, by driving in all five of the Brooklyn runs, four of them with his home run in the first inning with the bases loaded. Go ahead and laugh Hack, it's your turn.

One of the sweetest players to show up in the Twilight league so far is Astle, who plays shortstop with the Racine troupe. He covers plenty of ground in the field, and tosses 'em to first from any position. His legs may not stand the pace of organized baseball, but still, there's a lot of good baseball in that fella. He boasts experience with the Kansas City nine, and has played in the Three-Eye league.

Charles "Kootch" Smith, Academy hurler, returned to his 1931 form last night against Gasoline Alley, allowing but three hits, and striking out five men. Not only did he take care of the twirling assignment, but he was credited with four assists. Smith, in case you have forgotten, or weren't around last summer, was one of the outstanding chukkers in the local loop, leading the league in strikeouts.

As soon as the pitchers get a few more kinks out of their arms, indications are that the fans will see a better brand of ball this year than they did last. Wildness has been the biggest trouble encountered thus far, and hits have been pretty well scattered. Extra base hits have also been rather conspicuous by their absence. It may be a question of whether the batting eyes or the pitching arms round into shape the quickest.

Hawkeyes to Hold Annual Net Tourney

Tennis players, both men and women, will meet at the University of Iowa in mid-summer for the second annual Mississippi Valley tournament, it was announced yesterday by E. G. "Dad" Schroeder of the department of physical education for men.

Both outfitts were guilty of four miscues, but the Cigar Store nine steadied best in the pinches.

Flake hurled good ball for the winners, giving up five hits and allowing two bases on balls, while the others except Ernie Lombardi got a hit apiece, losing from one to seven points. The standing:

DETROIT, June 9 (AP)—Vic Sorrell, ace of the Tigers' pitching staff, today broke the spell the New York Yankees have held over the western clubs of the American league, and with considerable aid from the hitting department, he sent Detroit back into third place with a 5 to 4 victory over the Yanks.

It was the first game the Yanks have lost in 12 starts against the western teams, and the triumph put the Tigers a half game ahead of the defeated Philadelphia Athletics, who were third, and a few points above the Cleveland Indians.

Laundry Here for 20 Years

New Process Company Observes 20th Birthday

The completion of 20 years in the laundry business in Iowa City will be celebrated by the New Process laundry today.

Twenty years ago today Frank Irving Russell came to Iowa City and opened a branch of the New Process laundry of Cedar Rapids at 211 Iowa avenue, in the building which until a short time ago was used as a temporary post office. The new plant, at 213 S. Dubuque, was constructed two years ago.

At that time, Mr. Russell was associated with Dill Porter and Joseph Irwin of Cedar Rapids. In 1918, however, he relinquished his interest in the Cedar Rapids company and took over the interest of the other two men in the branch establishment here. Since then, the New Process laundry has been an Iowa City firm.

In the beginning, Mr. Russell kept eight employees busy and delivered in an old wagon. From that start, the business has steadily grown until now the establishment hires from 32 to 34 men and women and keeps three trucks busy making deliveries.

Since the death of Mr. Russell, Mrs. Russell has taken over the management of the laundry. Her sons, William R. Russell and Joseph L. Russell, are her assistants.

Two Meetings on June Lists

Child Welfare, Phys Ed Will Convene in Same Week

Two state conferences are scheduled to take place this summer at the University of Iowa, both having their meetings during the week of June 13-26.

June 21, 22, and 23 will witness the sixth annual Iowa state conference on child development and parent education, with eight guest speakers from the middle west and the east.

The most prominent speaker for the conference probably is Ralph P. Bridgeman, director of the National Council of Parent Education. He will come from New York City to give one lecture and to conduct a round table discussion.

Two other easterners are Karl de Schweinitz, executive secretary of the Community Council of Philadelphia, Pa.; and Dr. George K. Pratt, associate medical officer of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, New York.

Midwesterners who have accepted places on the program are:

Clifford R. Shaw, head of the department of research sociology at the University of Chicago; Wilma Walker, president of the National Association of Visiting Teachers, Chicago; Genevieve Fisher, dean of Iowa State college's division of home economics; and Dr. Fred E. Moore of Des Moines, who is chairman of section one, medical service, Iowa White House conference on child health and education.

Eleven lectures and six round table discussions are listed on the conference's program.

The second meeting, that of the state conference on physical education, will be June 23 and 24.

Music to Give Special Course

Students of High School Age Eligible for Enrollment

A special course in instrumental music will be offered during the summer by the University of Iowa through the music department, for Iowa City students of high school age and below, it was announced yesterday.

The course will provide group instruction upon orchestral and band instruments and rehearsals of these groups. The number of class meetings each week vary from four to six hour periods, depending on the degree of advancement of the individual student.

Students may register for the first term of six weeks, for the second term of five weeks, for the entire 11 weeks, or for any irregular period of time most convenient for them.

Instruction in the course will be administered chiefly by Gerald Prescott, special lecturer in the music department, for the summer session, under the general supervision of Prof. Charles B. Richter of the music department, who is in charge of the all-state high school music groups.

The course is affiliated with the all-state group as a junior organization, for the purpose of observation in the field of music, at all stages of development, by university students.

All students desiring to register for this special course will meet with Mr. Prescott at 9 a.m. Monday morning, in the south room of the music building on Gilbert street between Iowa avenue and Jefferson street.

Tuition fees are $5 for the first term, $4 for the second term, $7 for both terms, or $1.25 each week.

North Carolina's export trade totalled $43,075,734 in 1931.

Kucharo Construction Company Awarded General Work

Work was started yesterday on the construction of a new motion picture theater, on the site of the old Garden theater, at an estimated cost of $40,000. The new theater, which will have a seating capacity of 700 persons will probably open by Sept. 10.

The Kucharo Construction company of Des Moines has been awarded the general construction contract. According to W. F. Kucharo, president of the company, the general construction work will be completed by the middle of August.

Heating, Lighting

Following that, the Campbell Heating company of Des Moines will install the heating apparatus for the building and W. P. Russell and H. J. Williams of Iowa City will put in the electrical and plumbing fixtures.

Modernism will be the general theme in the design of the new building. The interior will carry out the modernistic note and lighting will be indirect. The stage will be 17 feet deep and will be equipped for stage productions.

The lobby will be 17 feet deep, with a large canopy over the side walk in front. The front of the building will be faced in brick.

Offices, Projector

The theater offices and the projection room will be located immediately over the lobby. The type of sound equipment to be used in the new theater has not yet been announced.

The building will be leased by A. H. Blank of Des Moines and Mrs. Dora Chapman of Iowa City. The manager of the new theater has not been announced. The names of Iowa, Hawkeye, and Garden have been suggested for the theater, but none has been decided upon.

Local labor will be hired by the general construction company, according to Mr. Kucharo. Five men are now at work cleaning away rubbish and more will be hired as building material arrives.

Brown Opens Crime Docket

University Foreman Charged With Forgery

With the completion of the first law assignment for the May term of court tomorrow, the trial of criminal cases will begin in district court Monday.

Heading the new law assignment is the case of the State of Iowa vs. Charles A. Brown, who is charged, in two indictments returned by the grand jury May 20, on two counts of forgery and uttering a forged instrument.

Brown, former labor foreman in the University of Iowa department of grounds and buildings, is charged with padding the payroll and obtaining money on checks made out to Joe Kiema, an allegedly fictitious name.

Arnold Cross, who was also indicted May 20 by the grand jury, will be tried on a charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance. He was arrested on the night of March 16 by Police Officers George Speaks and Frank Burns, who found eight half pint bottles of alcohol in his apartment.

The new criminal law assignment follows in the order in which the cases will be tried:

1. State of Iowa vs. Arnold Cross.
2. State of Iowa vs. Charles A. Brown.
3. State of Iowa vs. Charles A. Brown.
4. State of Iowa vs. Will Holland.
5. State of Iowa vs. Nathan D. Estes.

Rotary Hears Music at Luncheon Meeting

A musical program was given at the Rotary club luncheon yesterday noon in the Jefferson hotel. Bruce A. Mahan, head of the extension division, had charge of the program.

Mrs. Alexander Ellett, vocal soloist for the Iowa City municipal band, sang several selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Maude Whedon Smith.

Elmer E. Ziegler, director of the Iowa City municipal band, was a guest at the luncheon.

Final Plans Ready to Open Newest Mississippi Bridge

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Final plans for the three day dedication ceremonies of the new million dollar suspension bridge across the Mississippi at Prairie du Chien, Wis., and Marquette, Ia., were announced today by F. K. Ketler, president of the company which erected this bridge.

The gala celebration, formally opening the only suspension structure across the Father of Waters, will commence in Marquette Thursday morning, June 9, and will continue through Saturday evening.

The formal ribbon-cutting ceremony will be on the Iowa side at 10 a.m., and on the Wisconsin side one hour later. At 2 p.m., the speaking program, featuring President Ketler and his associate in the venture, W. H. Jackson, of the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company, will take place in the Prairie du Chien court house yard.

Program of Day

Then will follow a program of parades, aquatic events, ball games, band concerts, fireworks, drill-team and drum-corps exhibitions, dances, street carnivals, and the dedication of a memorial tablet to World War veterans in both towns.

The opening of the bridge is considered by some to be the greatest event in the history of the surrounding territory since the admission of the two states, for it opens a new era of motor transportation to an area of 20,000,000 persons.

The new structure takes the place of a ferry service which had been in operation at this point since 1826. It will afford the most direct route between Chicago, Rockford, or Milwaukee, and Rochester, St. Paul, and Minneapolis.

The reputed Davenport bootleg chieftain was arrested Wednesday by U. S. Deputy Marshal Harry Brown, and has since been held incommunicado in the Scott county jail.

His arrest made impossible his appearance in district court to prosecute his mandamus action in an effort to compel issuance of a city license to operate a beverage concern.

Merchants Bureau Will Meet Tonight

Members of the Retail Merchants bureau will hold the second of a series of sectional meetings at Domby's boot shop at 7:45 tonight.

Guests have been invited to the meeting and business problems of Iowa City merchants will be discussed.

Children Open Span

Little Adeline Koecke of Prairie du Chien will cut the ribbon officially opening the structure. Others taking part in this ceremony will be Miss June Ferrell of Marquette, and Miss Jean Amann of Prairie du Chien.

Important arterial highways tributary to the bridge include federal highway 18, extending from Milwaukee to the Black Hills; federal highway 55 from Prairie du Chien to Rochester and the Twin Cities; Iowa state highway 9 from Spirit Lake, connecting at Sioux Falls with federal highway 16 to Rapid City and Yellowstone park; Iowa state highway 10 to Oelwein and Humboldt, and connecting with federal highway 18 near Hawarden, and Iowa state highway 13 to Cedar Rapids and Ottumwa.

Rise to Face New World, Speaker Says

President Morehouse of Drake Addresses Graduates

An appeal to rise and face a new and expanding universe was made last night by President D. W. Morehouse of Drake university, before

137 Iowa City high school seniors assembled for graduation ceremonies on the stage of the natural science auditorium.

President Morehouse traced the knowledge of the universe from the earliest theories to modern concepts.

Contrary to the first beliefs that the earth was the center of the universe

it is now known that there are more than 100,000,000,000 solar systems, with countless planets and satellites, he stated.

Life Like Universe

Drawing a comparison between the growth of knowledge about the universe and life, he asserted, "Life is like the universe, becoming more bountiful in its possibilities. Arise from your adolescent dreaming and enter a changing world, grasping the changing concepts."

New discoveries, new philosophies, are being formed, he said, and people today must learn to adapt themselves to the great changes.

Prof. Morehouse warned the students not to become mere satellites, which depend on other bodies for light, or asteroids, the fragments of planets, or comets, which only flash and speed by, but to strive to be come suns or planets.

Summer Session Lists Record Number of Courses; 50 Profs Visit

Packer Starts Sixth Year as Session Head

Classes for All-State Groups May Set New Record

Nearly 1,000 courses, the largest number ever given during the summer months, will be offered at the University of Iowa's thirty-third summer session, the first term of which begins Monday.

About 600 of these will be offered during the first term, work ranging from graduate studies for those seeking advanced degrees, to special study opportunities for all-state high school groups.

300 in Faculty

A faculty of some 300 persons has been engaged to handle work in the 18 departments. Prominent among these will be 50 teachers from 14 other states, visitors for the summer who will bring fresh viewpoints in their specialties.

Paul C. Packer, dean of the college of education, is serving for the sixth year as director of the summer session. Under his administration, the session has increased 20.5 per cent, reaching its high point last year with a total of 4,926 students during the two terms.

75 Education Courses

The college of education has prepared to meet the demand for teachers' training by scheduling more than that of any other unit. Methanist of any other unit. Medicine, law, and engineering are the professional colleges in which work will be presented, with law offering the most diversified schedule.

More attention is being paid to students entering the university for the first time during the summer months, and the classes in first year law courses, which were inaugurated last summer, will be continued again this year.

Expand All-State Work

Scores of high school students will work in the university as members of the all-state high school groups in band, orchestra, chorus, chamber music, debate and declamation, and play production. The all-state project has been expanded so the number of registrants probably will set a record this summer.

Two conferences during the week of June 19-26 will swell the number of summer visitors. The sixth annual Iowa state conference on child development and parent education will meet here June 21, 22, and 23, while the physical education conference will take place June 23 and 24.

Social Work Experts

Five experts will appear in special lectures connected with the summer session training in social work, taking the place of the social welfare conference of other years. They will speak in June and July.

Various other lectures, appearing both as departmental speakers and university lecturers, have been secured to augment the academic program for the summer.

Other educational activities outside the classrooms include summer tours, under the auspices of the extension division, to the historic Amana colonies, to the penitentiary at Ft. Madison, to the Rock Island arsenal and the Davenport museum, and to the Mississippi river dam and power plant at Keokuk.

Geology Field Trips

Geology students will have opportunity for field study in rock and soil formations, both in local trips from Iowa City, and in the more extended trips from field bases at Baraboo, Wis., and in the Black Hills region in Dakota.

Monday night lectures on subjects related to chemistry and its application to everyday life will be continued this summer, to start June 20. These are talks illustrated by motion pictures, and are not of a technical nature.

Courses at Iowa Lakeside laboratory, under the direction of Prof. George W. Martin of the botany department, will occupy the time of the students during both terms.

Two twilight vesper services have been scheduled, one for each term, introducing speakers of prominence to university students.

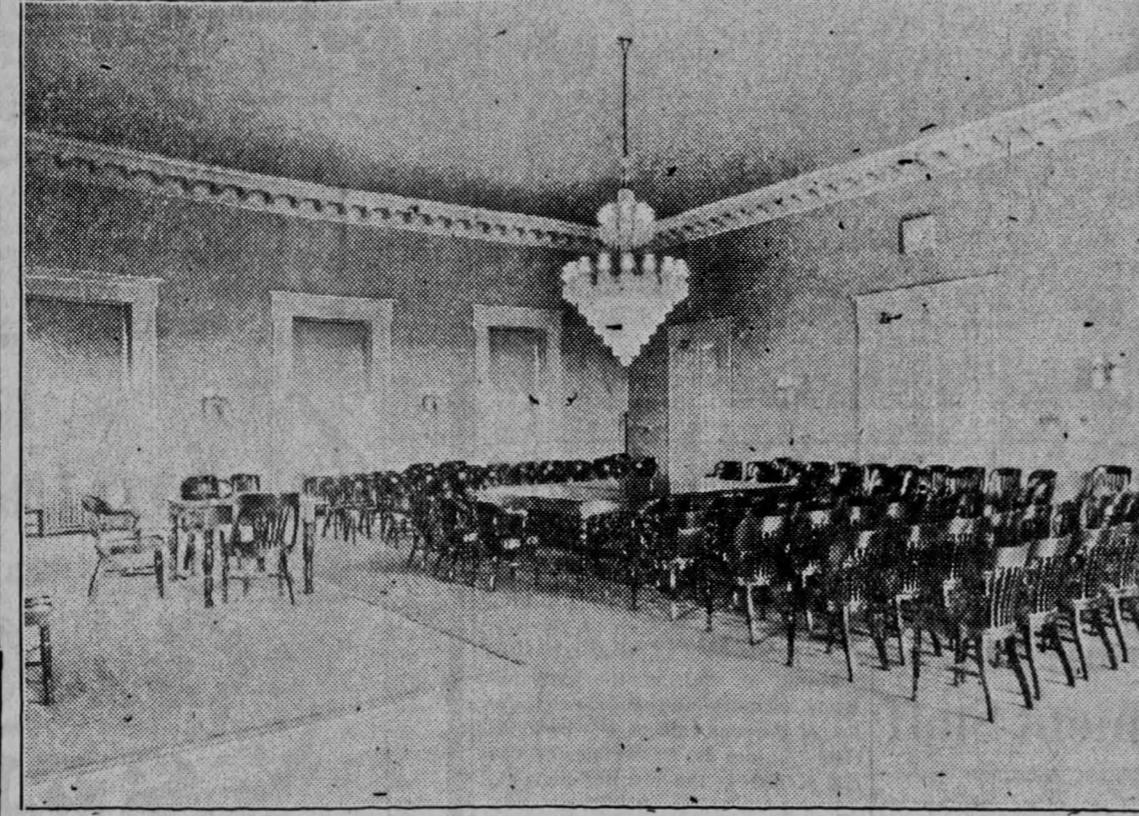

In the field of athletics, courses for camp counselors will be given in the physical education department for women, while a series of student tournaments in several sports have been arranged through the men's department.

Recreation will be found in the several opportunities for swimming, canoeing, picnicking, dancing, tennis, golf, and other diversions in which Iowa City and the vicinity abound. A constant guard is maintained along Iowa river to insure the highest possible factor of safety to those taking part in river sports.

Student Recreation

Iowa Union is the center of student recreation and social life. It is a library, a cafeteria, a grill, private dining rooms, pianos for the use of students, and offices of various student organizations. Some of the major events of the year are held at Iowa Union.

Research Problem Series Awaits Chemistry Students Here for Summer Session

A series of chemistry research problems connected with both human welfare and industrial progress await summer session students at the University of Iowa.

Twenty-seven problems are listed in eight branches of the science by faculty members between June 13 and Aug. 25, it has been announced.

The available problems in physical chemistry include cracking of oils and gases, and vapor pressure and freezing-point methods, as well as studies in the absorption of vapors by solids.

Principal Subjects

Treatment of industrial wastes and purification and analysis of boiler water are principal subjects in water and sewage chemistry, the lists show.

Investigations and diabetic management problems into the nutritional value of animal proteins may be undertaken by students in biochemistry, and metallurgists may seek methods of producing alloys of light metals heretofore known only theoretically.

50 Buildings, 400 Acres

The University of Iowa consists of more than 50 buildings on approximately 400 acres of land. Many of the buildings are new, and a number of them are built of limestone.

The 1932 course program gives emphasis to work in health education, individual sports, and recreational leadership. Prof. Elizabeth Halsey is head of the department.

Women's Phys. Ed. Adds 4 Instructors for Summer Staff

Four instructors will enlarge the summer staff of the University of Iowa's department of physical education for women.

The group is headed by Bodil Otto who comes from the Bertram school of gymnastics in Copenhagen, Denmark. The visitors include women from three states.

Those appointed are: Mrs. Elizabeth W. Southard, Illinois women's athletic club, Chicago; Florence Warnecke, University of Minnesota, and Grace Stafford, assistant supervisor of physical education in Gary, Ind., public schools.

Under the direction of Emma Felsenthal, regular staff member, and aided by five visiting instructors, seven courses will be offered. Instruction begins June 13 and ends July 21.

One of the annual library conferences will be held in July as one of the two conferences on the summer schedule of the university. Visiting speakers from several states will take part in the conference.

Idaho's road program for this year includes the oiling of 500 miles of highway.

Select Group of 64 Will Get Special Work

Special training will be given to a selected group of 64 high school speakers in debate and declamation work at the University of Iowa during the first term of summer session.

These students chosen from the ranks of outstanding juniors and seniors, will learn more about all phases of speaking technique during the first session of school.

The director of the Iowa High School Debating league, Prof. Arthur C. Craige Baird will be in charge of the debaters. He is the coach of the debate teams of the university.

Maria A. Park, a member of the speech department faculty, will handle the work of the declaimers. Neither of the groups ever before have been assembled at the university.

Eugene A. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, will direct the group of all-state high school players who will receive intensive training in dramatics. The number of pupils will be increased from 32 to 45 because of the success during the last two summers.

Wisconsin, S. Dakota Scene of Geologists' Work for Summer

Geology students will tramp through the Black Hills region of South Dakota and the Baraboo, Wis., district on work connected with their department during the summer session.

The students will spend the entirety of the two sessions investigating geological problems that exist in these sites.

Camps will be made in these areas and each party will be in the field during their stay there. Prof. Arthur C. Trowbridge will direct the Wisconsin party, and Prof. Joseph J. Rummel is in charge of the Black Hills group.

Will Show Exhibits in Visual Education During Both Terms

During both sessions of summer school, the visual education department of the extension division will present an exhibit of visual education equipment and methods of preparing the equipment. From June 15 to July 25 meetings will be held every afternoon, except Saturday, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

Latest equipment in sound and disc 16 mm. motion picture projection, silent 16 mm. motion picture projection, opaque projection, lantern slide projection, film slide projection, microscopic projection, and other new visual aids will be included in the exhibit.

Instruction will be given on different types of visual aids, including all types of projection, making of glass slides, use of pictures in different types of class work, and the general use of pictures in education.

Robert J. Bannister Named to Head Alumni Association; Wayne Foster Vice President

Prof. Frederic Higbee Announces Results of Mail Vote

Robert J. Bannister of Des Moines has been elected president of the Alumni association of the University of Iowa. Gordon C. Locke of Cleveland, Ohio, and Wayne Foster of Cedar Rapids are the newly elected vice presidents.

The 1932 alumni election results were announced recently by Prof. Frederic G. Higbee, executive secretary of the association. The voting was conducted entirely by mail.

Graduate of '03

In 1903 Bannister graduated from the college of law. He was a candidate for the presidency last year, but lost to Henry G. Walker.

Locke also holds a law degree having graduated in 1925. He was Iowa's all-American quarterback of the 1922 team and was an assistant Hawkeye football coach. Foster, also a football player, received a degree in medicine in 1917.

Four Directors

Four directors at large, each to hold office two years, were also chosen. They are: Rush C. Butler, '33 liberal arts, Chicago; Marjorie E. Kay, '27, Swarthmore, Pa.; Karl S. Hoffman, '16 liberal arts, Washington, D. C.; and H. L. Van Metre, '15 medicine, Los Angeles, Cal. Butler is one of the three alumni members of the university board in control of athletics.

In five of Iowa's congressional districts, new members were also chosen. The new officers and their districts are: Mrs. Preston Coast, '91 liberal arts, Iowa City, second; W. Earl Hall, '18 liberal arts, Mason City, fourth; W. Keith Hamill '19 law, Newton, sixth; H. G. Dougherty, '24 commerce, Allerton, eighth; J. C. Schrader, '22 medicine, Ft. Dodge, tenth.

New Members

The eleven new members of the nomination committee who will officiate in the 1933 election and will hold office for one year are, by districts: Max A. Conrad, '22 law, Burlington, first; Mrs. Frank Whinery, '09 liberal arts, Iowa City, second; Henry A. Bender, '23 medicine, Waterloo, third; Charles E. Cornwall, '27 law, Mason City, fourth; Thomas B. Powell, '01 law, Cedar Rapids, fifth; Fred J. Jarvis, '01 medicine, Oskaloosa, sixth; Maurie C. Miller, '26 engineering, Des Moines, seventh; Myrtle E. Robinson, '31 liberal arts, Allerton, eighth; Hugh Tamisiea, '24 law, Missouri Valley, ninth; Russell I. Hess, '29 law, Humboldt, tenth; A. H. Bolton, '16 law, Sioux City, eleventh.

At the annual meeting of the association during Commencement, the officers formally assumed their duties. The president, vice presidents, and members of the nominating committee will hold office for one year, while the directors will remain in their positions for two years.

Student Employment

To help students who desire to work their way through school either wholly or in part, the university maintains a student employment service in Iowa Union. A new record of 2,228 jobs were secured for students through this bureau from Sept. 1, 1931 to June 1, 1932.

3 Professors to Broadcast Class Work

Writing, Psychology, Music Selected for Summer

Three professors of the university of Iowa will broadcast from their classrooms during the months of June and July.

Announcement of the 1932 schedule for the first term of summer session was made recently by Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division and chairman of the radio committee.

For several years, Christiansen has had charge of the high school choral training at Flint, Mich., and now directs a large chorus and smaller choral groups at Oberlin. For the last few summers he has directed the all-state high school chorus at the University of Missouri.

Mr. Christiansen replaces Thompson Stone, who is unable to serve because of illness.

Gerald Prescott has been appointed part time lecturer for the summer session. He was formerly director of the Mason City band which won the state prize for three consecutive years. This year he has been in charge of music at Iowa City high school. Part of his time this summer will be devoted to teaching in the local school.

During the summer session, Prescott will give individual and group instruction in wind instruments to members of the all-state high school orchestra.

Paul Green to See Production of Own Play Here in July

Paul Green, author of the play,

"Tread the Green Grass," and the composer of the music for the same play, Lamar Stringfield, will visit the university campus in July for the performance of their production.

The play is to be given by the University theater as one of its summer plays and the orchestra will be conducted by Mr. Stringfield.

In the past it has been the custom of the university to bring a playwright to the campus each summer to meet with the university actors and the members of the all-state high school casts.

New Record

A new record was set for the fifth consecutive year at the June Commencement exercises last Monday, when 1,112 degrees and certificates were granted.

University Will Institute New Registration Forms

University of Iowa summer session students will no longer be subjected to writer's cramp and frayed tempers as they fill out registration cards.

Charles H. Maruth, assistant registrar, has devised a new form which is now ready for its introduction.

Only three cards of the same size as the former ones, and another of only a few lines, will replace the 14 cards as were formerly used.

Duplicating machines will now perform the labor which used to harass the student. Mr. Maruth believes that the new system will make the state university's registration the simplest of any American institution.

After being thoroughly tested during registration for the summer session, the plan will be used when the students enroll next fall.

Missouri Valley college at Marshall, Mo., recently abolished hazing by a vote of the student body.

"Campus Course" to Aid Student Insight in Knowledge Field

In a single summer session course, a University of Iowa student may now receive insight into major field of human knowledge.

Prof. Benj. F. Shambaugh, head of the department of political science a number of years, will be in charge of the course which will be named "campus course." It will present approaches in liberal and cultural education and will be given during both the summer sessions.

"EMBERS OF LOVE"

By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

COPYRIGHT 1931 BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Young and beautiful Lily Lou Lansing aspires to an operatic career, but her moderate circumstances necessitate that she go to business and study music evenings. Wealthy Ken Sargent, whom Lily Lou loves, becomes angry when she insists upon practicing instead of seeing him and discontinues calling. Lily Lou grows listless and overworks trying to forget him. She goes to her parents' home in Woodlawn for a rest. Ken arrives and once again she is happy, but she assumes an air of indifference toward him.

CHAPTER EIGHT

Her father would reach down and put his slow, tough old hand over her. She knew what he was thinking . . . hoping she wouldn't be going out.

From the rocker her mother would say, "Dear, dear, the time goes so fast . . ."

That meant that soon Lily Lou would be leaving them again, and in the few nights that were left she oughtn't to slip away with Ken.

Lily Lou's soft heart ached for them. She wanted to shower them with love, to make up to them . . . they'd done so much for her . . .

But in the midst of her tender thoughts of them, the thought of Ken would come stealing . . . under her father's warm palm her hand would tremble, her whole body would begin to shake with silly, cold excitement . . . suppose he didn't come . . . well, what of it? Suppose he didn't? What was it to her? And the cold perspiration would break out on her forehead, on the palms of her hands. She'd be almost sick with the intensity of waiting . . . her ears straining to hear every sound . . . was that a motor? Was it turning down the lane . . . what if he didn't come?

And then he'd drive up to the gate. There'd be the sound of the motor being shut off. His step on the hard dirt path, his voice "Lily Lou?" questioning, in the dimness, and the glad warmth in it when he saw it was really she . . .

"Take your coat, Lily Lou," her mother would coo.

Coat? Lily Lou, all warm and glowing . . . a coat? It would smother her. "No, I don't want a coat, mother!"

"You'd better. It gets cool later," her father would urge.

"But we won't be long!" Lily Lou would never admit that they were going to be long.

They always started out the same way, a little silent and disappointed because she had promised to be right back . . . she cool and self-possessed, all slim and pale in her summer clothes, her dark hair sleek, pressed close to her head . . . and inside! Oh, inside, all breathless with excitement, all fluttery with what had happened to her . . . Lily Lou Lansing . . . Someone in love with her!

Ken Sargent was in love with her, Lily Lou knew it. Knew it with the unfailing intuition that tells the secret to every girl.

She used to study herself in the big mirror in her room, the room with the big feather bed and the marble-topped dresser and the two straight-backed chairs. The setting was all wrong . . . the cheap lace spread that someone had given to mother, the pink and blue silk cushions with the gold lace edging . . . but she was all right . . . pretty . . . she knew it . . .

"Darling, you're hurting yourself . . . let me see . . . Oh, what shall I do for you, Lily Lou?"

She'd take the little ivory-backed hand mirror she had brought with her, stand in a bright light and study her white, flawless skin, her finely-arched eyebrows, her long dark eyes, velvety soft . . .

It wasn't vanity. It was a sort of self-defense. She was thinking of it as part of her singing . . . her stage appearances . . . She was trying, oh, so hard to remember that she wasn't just the youngest Lansing, living in a funny little shed-like house, being squirmed around by the rich Sargent boy . . .

She was the girl who was going to be a star . . . a star who had a natural voice, and a dynamo of energy, and an iron will, and yes—a lovely face and figure . . . the girl who was going to see her name LILY LOU LANSING in electric lights, whose face would look back at her from magazines, from newspapers, from billboards . . .

When the soft, secret excitement, the thrill of Ken would sweep over her too strongly, she'd rush wildly to the piano . . . lift up her voice and sing.

The green roadster stopped.

Her ankle hurt so that she couldn't get up. She sat there on the walk, with it doubled under her, and bit her lip to keep from crying. It hurt so . . . it hurt so . . . and Ken was going away.

He had stopped the car, and was running back to her. "Darling, you've hurt yourself . . . let me see . . . Oh, what shall I do for you, Lily Lou?"

She saw his face, strained and white and terrified in the starlight . . . His face, all tortured, because she was hurt.

Warm tears overflowed her eyes. She reached up her arms, and buried her face on his shoulder. "I was running . . . to call you back, and I fell—"

Now that she was started, she couldn't stop . . . Lily Lou, who never cried . . .

"I didn't want you to go," she sobbed, "so I ran—"

He had her in his arms, and she saw his face, triumphant, exalted—it frightened her a little. She wiped her eyes, managed to say, "I'm sorry for making a fuss. I must go in."

She got to her feet. The ankle didn't hurt so much now. She must have imagined it—it was just a wrench. "It's nothing," she told him—"mostly fright."

"Goodnight, Lily Lou."

He didn't even try to kiss her again.

Camp Allows Escape From Hot Weather

Those wishing to escape the confining walls of city dwellings for the summer will find one solution to the problem in the University of Iowa's summer camp, which is maintained for the use of summer session students.

The camp, located on U. S. highway 6 just west of the Psychopathic hospital, consists of sites for 90 tents, together with a permanent central building. Each site is a wooden platform over which the tents are raised.

In the central building are study halls, tables, telephones, stoves, and showers, while each tent is equipped with electric lights. City water taps are placed nearby.

Mail delivery and sewage disposal arrangements are made for the campers, and parking spaces for cars are also taken care of.

The governing body of the "tent city" consists of a council elected by the campers, which makes such rules and regulations as are found to be commonly beneficial.

Opportunity is provided for the care of the residents' children, both through the University elementary schools and through special hours of supervised play.

Law Faculty Adds 3 Men for Summer

State university law schools of Kansas, Missouri, and Minnesota will contribute faculty members to the University of Iowa's summer session. Dean Eugene A. Gilmore has announced.

Francis W. Jacob of Kansas, James L. Parks of Missouri, and William L. Prosser of Minnesota, will be on hand to start work Monday.

Each of these men are regarded as authorities in their field. Professor Jacob will teach a course in quasi-contracts; Professor Parks in mortgages, and Professor Prosser in damages.

Dean Gilmore announced recently a full schedule of summer session courses, so integrated that students will be able to begin the study of the profession or continue work of other periods. It is said to be the most extensive program of law school in the United States.

Offer Total of 52 Psychology Courses

A group of 30 courses in psychology conducted by a staff of 21 men and women will be offered during the first term of the summer session, and 22 during the second period, according to an announcement from the office of Dean Carl E. Seashore.

All phases of the science will be presented, with the courses including latest trends in such branches as mental hygiene, speech pathology, personality development, abnormal psychology, and psychology and aesthetics of music.

Other units of the university will cooperate with the department. The announcement indicates that various divisions will be aided by professors in speech, zoology, child welfare, psychopathic hospital and physics.

John R. Cronin, Li of Des Moines, was elected temporary summer session president of the university student council, and Erwin D. Zeman, M3 of Holstein, was chosen temporary secretary, at the year's final meeting of the student council recently.

The purpose of the temporary organization is to insure continuity of the council during the summer months, until next year's permanent officers are elected Oct. 3 at the council's first fall meeting.

Cronin Elected Head of Summer Council

Eugene C. Davis of Cleveland, Ohio, comes for the third consecutive year as director of the all-state high school drama group which meets at the University of Iowa.

Between June 13 and July 21, the Glenville high school instructor will coach some 25 young actors and actresses. In addition to receiving intensive instruction in dramatic art, the contestants will produce at least one long play and several one-act plays.

High School Students May Study Music

Department to Offer Practice, Theory Courses

The department of music offers a complete course in the practice and theory of music for selected high school students from all parts of the state during the 1932 summer session.

To members of winning groups and solo winners in the 1932 state and district contests membership in the all-state organizations will be offered. The membership may also contain properly qualified students enrolled in any accredited Iowa high school, and properly qualified students in accredited high schools of other states.

Courses

The courses to be given are: first term, chorus, orchestra, and chamber music; second term, band and chamber music. Supplementary courses in music theory, appreciation, and chamber music will be offered during both terms.

In addition to one major group (chorus, orchestra, or band), students will receive instruction in music theory, appreciation, and ensemble. During the first term those desiring to participate in both chorus and orchestra will have the opportunity to do so, providing this does not interfere with the balanced personnel in the respective organizations. Chamber music rehearsals and group instruction in practical music will be features of the instructional program.

Freshman Credits

All-state organization members who have completed the university entrance requirements may apply their work in music to anticipate freshman requirements in these subjects in the college of liberal arts.

A few soloist members of exceptional advancement will be given an opportunity to rehearse or perform one or more solo numbers with their organizations. Public concerts will be given by the organizations at regular intervals during the session.

Under the supervision and direction of the members of the staff, sports and recreation will have their places in the program.

Further Courses

Members of the 1931 organizations desiring to return for further study, and members of the 1932 chorus or orchestra desiring to remain for the band or special chamber music, will be offered further courses appropriate to their advancement.

Libraries

The libraries of the University of Iowa are to be found in nearly every building, the central ones being in the natural science building and the library annex. Volumes cover subjects ranging from rare technical treatises to popular fiction.

Convocation July 21 to End First Term of Summer Session

Terminating the work of the first term in the 1932 summer session, the University of Iowa will hold its July convocation at 8 p.m., July 21. The second summer convocation will be held Aug. 25, at the close of the second term.

Plans for the exercises are under the direction of Prof Frederic G. Higbee, director of university convocations. The names of the speakers will be announced, as soon as they are arranged for, in The Daily Iowan. Both services will be held out of doors, on the west approach of Old Capitol.

Pharmacists to Study 4 Years

Will Abolish Present Requirements on July 1

After July 1, 1932, every student in the University of Iowa's college of pharmacy will be required to study four full years before receiving a degree.

The present three year course will be abolished by this regulation imposed by the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

The four year course, culminating in the receipt of the bachelor of science in pharmacy degree, has been on the curriculum here for many years. Heretofore, the student had the choice of two courses, the three year one for persons desiring to become pharmacists or operate a drug store, and the longer one combining pharmaceutical and cultural studies.

The student, under the new plan, not only will receive more knowledge of pharmacy and chemistry, but also will delve into such studies as biology, English, economics, mathematics, physics, and foreign languages.

5 Librarians Added to Summer Staff

Five professional librarians have been appointed to the University of Iowa's summer staff of visiting lecturers, with each scheduled to contribute to the courses in library training.

From outstate come Grace Aldrich of Columbia University, New York; and Margery Doud of the St. Louis public library.

From Iowa libraries will come Janet Arie of Cedar Rapids, Letha M. Davidson of Ames, and Julia A. Robinson, executive secretary of the Iowa library commission, Des Moines.

A drive against automobile parking violators in Oklahoma City brought $20 additional daily revenue into the treasury.

News Letter Lists Summer Projects, Courses in History

The faculty, the courses, and plans in the history department for summer session have been announced in the form of a news letter.

During the last few years the history department has put into practice two principles in the offering of courses, the principles of continuity and change. A cycle of courses is presented through several consecutive summers with the purpose of avoiding the duplication of courses in the chief fields of history from one summer to another. Again, fractional courses given for one short term are avoided by offering courses running through one entire session.

Ten of the 14 courses offered this summer continue through both terms, and six of the faculty of eight

Former Instructors Returning to Teach High School Groups

Four musicians, all of whom will teach both terms. Among the continuous courses are: "American colonial history," Prof. W. T. Root; "American history 1783-1860," Prof. W. R. Livingston; "American history since 1865," Prof. Harrison J. Thompson; "History of Europe since 1870," Prof. George G. Andrews; "British empire since 1870," Professor Livingston; "History of education," Prof. Forest C. Ensign; "Teaching of history," Prof. Howard R. Anderson.

At 4:10 on Wednesday afternoons during the entire session a conference on history will gather in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Here the students of history will hear informal talks on problems of history and history teaching, and an opportunity will be given for discussion and exchange of opinion.

Olaf Christiansen of Oberlin college is replacing Thompson Stone, who is ill, as conductor of chorus and Prof. Charles B. Richter of the university's regular faculty as director will have charge of band and orchestra.

from June 27 to August 6, and is held in Los Angeles.

More than 800 communities in the 17 states of the midwest area of the Red Cross received 460,000 barrels of free flour within two months this spring.

Missouri state income tax returns were filed this year by 47,330 St. Louisans, a decrease of 6,465 from 1931.

The summer session there lasts

Old Capitol

Old Capitol, about which the university buildings center, was built from limestone quarried out of the cliffs on Riverside drive, just north of Iowa avenue. The spiral staircase leading from the basement to the second floor of the building is a much-mentioned example of architecture.

Four Units of Work Offered to Phys Ed's

Intensive Work Limits Students to Two for Term

A survey of camp craft, camping education, canoeing, and swimming will be offered in the women's physical education department from June 13 to 24.

Four units of work are being offered, each unit giving one hour of credit toward a B.S. degree in physical education. A student can take only two units, as intensive work with outside reading and projects is required.

Swimming Course

In the swimming course a well-rounded program is presented and actual practice teaching is done. Life saving is taken up, with opportunity to obtain or renew A.R.C. Examiners' certificates.

This gives an opportunity for examiners to comply with the Red Cross requirement that a swimming counselor in a summer camp take a theory course in teaching, as well as obtain the life saving certificate.

They are John M. Kuyper, member of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra, who will train the chamber music groups; H. C. Stump, University of West Virginia, woodwind instruments instructor; Asher Treat, University of Wisconsin, who will teach horn and trumpet; and Helen Stowell of Lincoln, Neb., high school instructor in chorus and vocal training.

Olaf Christiansen of Oberlin college is replacing Thompson Stone, who is ill, as conductor of chorus and Prof. Charles B. Richter of the university's regular faculty as director will have charge of band and orchestra.

Morning, Afternoon

Classes will meet both morning and afternoon, and evening. The meetings will be held to discuss general topics of interest to all counselors. There will also be a week end camping trip.

According to Charles W. Elliot of Harvard university, the modern organized summer camp is "America's most significant contribution to education." More and more camp directors are realizing that the possibilities of individual all-around development, and of social adjustment in group living can be enlarged and greatly facilitated by trained counselors.
