Curtis Eager to Renew Hunt for Kidnapers

"Last Men" Meet Again

Two's Company — a Reunion, in This Instance.

ST. PAUL, July 19 (AP)—A couple of Civil war veterans in bright blue shirts—"The best men in companies B and T, of the old first Minnesota, by heck"—had a little tiff today. It wasn't serious — just a difference over whether they should hold more regimental reunions, like the one they alone attended today.

Wiry Charles M. Lockwood, 89, last man of the famous Last Man's club of company B., was left a bit sad and shaking his head, but he said he'd be here again next year if Newton Brown of company H., would show up.

Brown'll Attend
And Brown, also 89, who recently came from Washuona, Wash., for the annual regimental reunion at the L. B. Bassett home, said he certainly would be here for the big day that annually precedes the Last Man's observance at Stillwater, Minn. The latter takes place Thursday.

Lockwood wanted to make this the last one.

"I've a feeling we should call this reunion the final one for the old first Minnesota," he said. "Every year some of the boys drop off. There are only about eight of us left in the country the way I figure and I'm willing to have this meeting the end."

But Brown was for more. "The fact that he and Lockwood were the only ones able to attend of the once-proud regiment's 1,500 Civil war members daunted him not at all."

"Going to Hang Around"
"Say," he shouted, "I came way out here from Washuona, Wash., Charlie, and I'm going to hang around for a couple of years to get in these reunions. I made that trip and it took three days and three nights."

"Heck, we're the two best men of companies B and H and we're good for a bunch more reunions."

Brown pounded on the knee of his "bum leg" with a hard right fist for emphasis. Lockwood, visiting in Minneapolis since he came from his Chamberlain, S. Dak., home last week, said he would come back again.

So they parted tonight with a hand-clasp and a warm "I'll see you next year."

Chinese War Seen in Jehol by Observers

PEIPING, July 19 (AP)—Foreign military observers declared today that hostilities on a large scale may develop between the Chinese and Japanese in the province of Jehol, and perhaps involving northern China.

Tientsin reports today told of the movement of 21 trainloads of troops that belonged to the old Manchurian regime northward from their Chinese concentration camps toward positions in which they might defend Jehol from the Japanese.

Coach Bresnahan on Olympic Track Board

PALO ALTO, Cal., July 19—George Bresnahan, University of Iowa track mentor, was named today by Lawson Robertson, head Olympic track coach of the United States team, as one of an advisory board to assist him until after the games in Los Angeles.

The board will be made up of 21 coaches, selected by Coach Robertson, from all parts of the country.

May Indict 13 N.Y. Police on Murder Count

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Murder indictments loomed as the next step today in the investigation of Nassau county police treatment of a prisoner, Hyman Stark, 30, who strangled to death from a broken larynx after eight hours of questioning about an attack on a detective's mother.

The men who killed Stark are no less murderers because they are officers," declared District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards at Minnola.

Ready to Call Grand Jury
Edwards said all is in readiness to call the grand jury and ask return of indictments charging murder in the second degree, manslaughter and failure of policemen to do their duty.

This action awaits the report tomorrow of Justice Meier Steinbrink, who presided at an open John Doe hearing yesterday, and declared the mass of testimony of police and detectives "obviously contained perjury."

This was being sifted today to fix responsibility for Stark's death. Thirteen policemen, suspended from service, awaited the outcome of the probe.

Single Out Officers
Stark's three fellow prisoners, Alexander Drangel, Isse Stein, also known as Alexander Feldman, and Philip Cecala, yesterday singled out eight detectives and two patrolmen who, they said, beat them with rubber hose, a heavy ledger and a shoe.

Mrs. Valeria Hlzenski, mother of Detective Joseph Hlzenski, the woman who was robbed and beaten by four assailants in her Roselyn home, was able to return home today from the hospital.

Groups Listed for Direction of Music Fete

The personnel of state music festival committees whose duty it is to choose the required selections for the instrumental and vocal contests at the festival was announced yesterday by Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department.

Professor Righter will serve as chairman and adviser of both committees while Superintendent M. M. McIntire, G of Audubon, who is secretary-treasurer of the Iowa High School Music association, will also be a member of both committees.

The instrumental committee consists of Anthony Abbanat of Burlington, Bruce Lybarger of Osage, A. J. Sherman of Lorrimer, as regular members, and Raymond W. Jones of Des Moines, Paul Popejoy of Marion, and Milo Sorden of Wellman as alternates.

Boat Builder Fights to Null Jail Sentence

Lack of Funds Only Hindrance to New Investigation

FLEMINGTON, N. J., July 19 (AP)—Eagerness to make a renewed search for the Lindbergh baby's kidnapers was attributed today to John Hughes Curtis, who was convicted of obstructing the hunt.

The announcement was made by Lloyd Fisher, the Virginia boat builder's attorney, as he made plans for a flight to set aside the verdict of a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine against his client.

Anxious to Get Kidnapers
He represented Curtis as "anxious to bring about the kidnapers' apprehension," and pointed out that Curtis had repeatedly repudiated an alleged confession that all his previous work on the case was part of a hoax.

"Curtis is willing to pick up his old clues again," Fisher said. "He has no animosity toward Colonel Lindbergh. He still feels very kindly toward him."

Criticizes State Police
"His only criticism is of the state police and their mismanagement of the case."

The only thing holding the ship-builder from renewed activity in the hunt, Fisher said, was lack of funds.

"If Curtis is supplied with money, he will undertake the search immediately," the lawyer declared.

Returns to Norfolk
While this announcement was being made, Curtis himself returned to Norfolk, Va., to assist friends in raising funds for an appeal of his sentence. He is a liberty on $10,000 bail furnished unexpectedly yesterday.

As he was reunited with his wife, whom he had not seen since he left Norfolk on May 7 with Colonel Lindbergh, Curtis appeared cheerful, but showed the effects of his months of confinement.

Says Guilty of Contempt
Fisher's newest legal move on the Virginian's behalf will be based on a claim that Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck was guilty of contempt in permitting members of the jury that convicted Curtis to be followed by detectives.

The lawyer said he would apply immediately for an order to show cause why the verdict should not be set aside.

NO TROUSERS Nothing to Morris!

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—It takes more than the loss of his trousers to stop Morris Gruskin.

Three men held up Gruskin's pawnshop in Brooklyn today. They ordered him to open the safe. He pleaded that his son was the only one who had the combination. The robbers said they had plenty of time, divested Gruskin of his pants and sat down to wait.

The invaders made themselves at home and one entertained Gruskin on the store mandolin while they waited. When Joseph Gruskin arrived 20 minutes later they forced him to open the safe and departed with currency and jewels valued at $35,000.

ALL'S WELL! ROOSEVELT'S AT HELM!

Worries of state and strategy for his coming presidential campaign forgotten for the moment, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York is shown (with white hat) at the helm of his vacation yawl, Myth II, as she scudded along the coast of New England. The other members of the doughty crew, the governor's sons, Franklin, Jr., James and John, are shown taking it easy, content to let their competent dad do the work.

University Players Present Folk Play Last Time Tuesday

"Tread the Green Grass" the folk fantasy by Paul Green, with musical accompaniment by Lamar Stringfield, was presented for the fourth and last time by the University Players under the direction of Prof. Vance Morton of the speech department, in natural science auditorium last night.

Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the speech department, and Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department, were in charge of the entire production. Mr. Stringfield conducted the orchestra.

The play had its world premiere here Friday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Green attended.

Musicians to Give Concert

High School Groups to Present "Surprise Symphony"

Haydn's "Surprise Symphony," more formally known as "Symphony No. 9 in G major," will be the feature presentation of the concert given by members of the all-state high school chorus and orchestra in Iowa Union this evening at 8:15.

"It is very unusual," according to Prof. Charles B. Righter of the music department, conductor of the orchestra, for a high school orchestra to present the symphony in its entirety as is being done tonight.

The story concerning the origin of the name, "Surprise Symphony," dates back to a controversy between Haydn and his patron, Prince Esterhazy. It is said that Prince Esterhazy criticized Haydn's music as being "dull, monotonous, and conducive to sleep." So Haydn, when he wrote this symphony, introduced sudden fortissimo chords in the midst of soft passages in order that his patron might be kept alert.

The chorus, under the direction of Olaf Christiansen, guest lecturer in the music department, from Oberlin college, Ohio, will sing among other selections, "Welcome," which was written by Mr. Christiansen's father, director of the St. Olaf's choir.

Annis Ogilvie, a student member of the orchestra, will play Schumann's piano concerto in A minor, accompanied by the orchestra.

The orchestra's closing number, the march and procession from Debussy's ballet, "Sylvia," is in a lighter vein. Making use of all sections of the orchestra, the selection is strongly rhythmic, very colorful and very descriptive, according to Professor Righter.

Old Dobbin Ends It All After 18 Years Hard Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 19 (AP)—Old Dobbin, who used to pull a wagon for a Columbus street cleaner couldn't stand prosperity.

Retired to a farm after 18 years of faithful service to the city, Dobbin fell backward into a water trough today and was drowned in a foot and a half of water.

Butler Cheers Bonus Hunters at Washington

Urges Cooperation After Return Home From Capital

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—With the Anacostia river for a sounding board and a flaming sunset as a background, Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler tonight roared encouragement to the army of veterans in Washington seeking the bonus.

"Every man who ever wore the uniform of the United States is different from other people—you are better," he shouted as a beginning.

The ragged crowd of former soldiers yelled his approval.

Butler, who took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves, and opened his collar while he was being introduced by W. W. Waters, commander of the faction of the bonus army the retired marine officer addressed.

"I would walk across the ocean to associate with soldiers," he told the crowd, "and soldiers you certainly are. You are the best behaved segment of society in America today. You are as well disciplined as an army."

Peppered With "Hellos"
Butler, who some months ago was shut off the radio for saying "hell" in the course of a speech, was well aware there was no microphone in front of him tonight. The speech bristled with "hellos."

The first one was when he said he had run for the senate on a "bonus ticket and got the hell beat out of me."

He urged the men to hang together, even when they went home from their Washington visit.

Rare Cactus Plant Bears Single Bloom Then Fades Away

A night blooming cactus at the home of Mrs. Augusta Ruppert, 421 E. Davenport street, bloomed last night a solitary gorgeous blossom. At midnight it had withered away.

The night blooming cactus is one of the rarest plants in this part of the country. It is a species of cactus, comparatively common in the west, but rare and hard to propagate in temperate climates.

The blossom grows directly from a vein in the side of the long, waxy leaf. It is a pure, shimmering white cup about six inches across backed by narrow, salmon colored petals. In the center of the bloom, an ovary about two inches wide stretches out delicately, covered on the top with a forest of tiny, yellow capped pistils. On the end of the ovary, the stamen reaches out still further, with soft white arms like tentacles.

Mercury Still Hovers at 100

Report New Drowning as Blast Pushes Into Second Week

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP)—Another blast of heat near the 100-degree mark greeted parched Iowans as the heat wave pushed well into its second week.

One more drowning was reported in the state, that of John Jorgensen, farmer near Clermont, whose body was recovered from a creek after youths had found his trousers along the bank.

A. C. Ripley of Long Beach, Cal., was in a critical condition in a Mason City hospital from heat prostration, which has taken eight lives in the state during the current wave.

Hazy Promises

A steady furnace draft blew over Iowa City from the south yesterday, tempering the scorching 96 degree temperature little if at all.

The relentless rise to the 96 mark was swift; in fact it greatly resembled a high jump, for it rose in one leap from the cooling low of 62 degrees of the night before.

Once more the southern sky was thinly draped with lazy, long streamer of white clouds and once more they were only a hazy promise. Again the night was clear and the moon brilliant. At 7 p. m. the temperature had dropped to 85 degrees.

The weatherman's prediction of fair and continued hot remained unchanged for Des Moines, but he held slight hope for scattered parts of northern Iowa with possibly local thunderstorms to break the heat.

The mercury again pushed up to the century mark at Boone today and Marshalltown, Waterloo and Des Moines had tops of 98. It was 96 at Cedar Rapids and Clinton, while Ft. Dodge reported a mark of a half degree less.

Republican Convention Fills Auditorship, Railroad Post; Advocates Federal Farm Laws

Favors National Party Platform, National Ticket

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP)—Planks advocating federal farm legislation, governmental economy and tax reduction and a state income tax were among those approved by the state Republican convention today in adopting the report of its resolutions committee.

The convention also approved the party's national plank on prohibition but specified that in the event no changes are made by constitutional provisions and by state laws, the party and its nominees in Iowa shall be pledged to strict enforcement.

Resolutions adopted followed in a general line a group which had been approved by Governor Turner, but changes were made in the committee in various respects.

Need Far Reaching Land Policy
The party declared a conviction that national welfare demands the adoption of a wise, far-reaching land policy drafted "to insure the ownership and occupation of the soil by the small farmer as an independent producer."

"Such a program must include provision for proper financing the land at low interest rates, a withdrawal of marginal land from production, fair taxation and the effective application of the protective tariff to this great basic industry."

The farm plank called for federal legislation to prevent crop surplus from fixing crop prices and advocated legislation to require the federal reserve system to control moneys and credits so as to stabilize farm prices on a basis consistent with production.

Gas Thief to Face Charge in Muscatine
Ernest Hale, alias Earl H. Smith, alias C. E. Young, who was arrested Friday night for stealing gasoline and sentenced Saturday morning to 30 days in the county jail by Police Judge Charles L. Zager, will never finish his term here.

Within the next few days officers from Muscatine will arrive to take Hale and a model A Ford which he is alleged to have stolen back to that city, where he will face a charge of grand larceny.

When Hale was arrested by Officer Joe Dolezal he gave the name of Smith, said that he had just come to Iowa City, and that he did not have an automobile.

Sent to jail after failure to pay his $100 fine, he asked a fellow inmate whose term expired Monday to take his car, which was standing near the dental building, and keep it for him. Another inmate, overhearing the request, reported it to the police, who found the machine.

The automobile was stolen from Muscatine a few days ago, according to the police of that city. Papers found in Hale's coat, which he left in the car, show that he was sent to Brushy Mountain penitentiary at Nashville, Tenn., on February 16, 1930, to serve a five year sentence for forgery.

He was paroled on June 6, 1932, on condition that he get out of the state and stay out.

Jobless Stop Excavating

SIoux CITY (AP)—Jobless workers today protested the use of a steam shovel in excavating the site for the new million dollar post office and held up digging while a delegation lodged a complaint with Mayor W. D. Hayes. The jobseekers contended 200 men could be employed two months if man power were used.

Box Company to Open

WATERLOO (AP)—The Flour City Box and Crating company, recently organized here, will begin operations next month, it was announced today.

WEATHER

IOWA: Partly cloudy and continued warm, possibly local thunderstorms in north portion Wednesday or Wednesday night; Thursday local showers and thunderstorms and not so warm.

Also Seeks Government Economy; Income Tax for State

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP)—Working with the precision of a well-oiled machine, the Iowa Republican party today filled the vacant places on its slate and put the finishing touches on its campaign program.

Karl Fischer of Vinton received the selection for auditor of state and Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City was the choice for railroad commissioner as the perspiring delegates to the state convention carried out pre-convention forecasts.

1,863 to 6 Vote
Fischer was nominated by a vote of 1,863 to 6 over J. V. Lemley of Leon. H. A. Darting of Glenwood and C. E. Kringle of Atlantic withdrew prior to the roll call, while the other primary election candidate, J. W. Long, withdrew last night.

Lemley received one vote from Decatur county, his home county, and five from Wapello.

Unanimous for Martin
Martin was accorded a unanimous nomination when a landslide started in his favor during a roll call vote. Before the tally was announced Woodbury county started the shift by switching its 46 votes to Martin and other counties hastened to follow suit.

Other candidates whose names went before the convention for railroad commissioner were Starr E. Cogswell of Des Moines, C. W. Fenton of Sioux City, N. C. Gray of Beloeue and B. M. Richardson of Cedar Rapids, present member of the commission.

Harmony Prevails
The balloting marked the close of an afternoon session in which harmony prevailed throughout, despite several contests for state committee posts in district caucuses earlier in the day.

Following the lead of John Cross of Newton, temporary chairman and convention keynoter, other speakers before the afternoon session praised the national and state Republican nominees and the national platform adopted by the Chicago convention.

Hoover—Real Leadership
Cross told the 1,869 delegates gathered in the Coliseum that Hoover had offered the country real leadership and real constructive statesmanship in a period of general distress. Subsequent generations, he said, will come to a real appreciation of the president.

With equal fervor the keynoter condemned the opposition party for advancing "pork barrel legislation" in congress, the criticism they had offered and the Democratic liquor plank.

Iowa for Enforcement
While endorsing the prohibition plank the convention specified that in the event no changes are made in the prohibition law by constitutional provisions or by state laws, in Iowa the party and its nominees shall be pledged to strict enforcement.

Upon reconvening in the afternoon the convention adopted the report of its committee on permanent organization, making George W. Pritchard of Onawa permanent chairman and confirming other temporary officers as permanent.

Committees Focus Light on 4 Topics

Senate Groups Conduct Probes Through Summer

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—The powerful light of senate investigating committees was focussed today on the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, the New York stock exchange, the Reconstruction corporation, and the farm board.

Four committees set up by the senate to study these subjects, made plans to carry on their investigations through the summer recess in a manner promising competition with the political campaign for newspaper headlines.

Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee and Chairman Norbeck of the banking committee, named groups today to carry on the St. Lawrence treaty and the stock exchange inquiries.

At the same time, Chairman Coughlin of the special committee created to investigate Reconstruction corporation loans made a preliminary study of the relief organization's books—finding "nothing wrong"—and an agriculture subcommittee organized itself for the farm board inquiry.

The usually important senate committee to investigate campaign expenditures found itself in this election year of small outlays without a single charge to investigate thus far.

Inquire Into Waterway Borah appointed a sub-committee of seven headed by himself to inquire into the St. Lawrence waterway treaty signed with Canada yesterday, preparatory to considering ratification of it at the next session.

Those named were Senators LaFollette of Wisconsin, Vandenberg of Michigan and Glenn of Illinois, Republicans; and Robinson of Arkansas, Walsh of Montana and Wagner of New York, Democrats.

Brookhart Issues Statement Amidst simultaneous Senator Brookhart was issuing a statement predicting opposition to ratification of the treaty on the ground that it "not" only acknowledges the jurisdiction of Canada in Lake Michigan, but reduces the diversion limit by 8,500 feet without any consideration."

Brookhart contended the treaty would "nullify the power of congress" over the question of diversion and make it possible for congress to construct another canal and divert any more water without the consent of Canada.

Makes Stocks Inquiry Norbeck chose a committee of three members headed by himself to control the stock market inquiry during the summer. The other two were Townsend (R., Del.) and Glass (D., Va.).

Actual direction of the inquiry was turned over to James E. Stewart of South Dakota. Norbeck said only necessary hearings would be held during the summer and the chief work would be collecting evidence for hearings next winter.

Asks for Legislation In announcing the committee Norbeck called for federal legislation to curb "abuses" on the stock exchange. He proposed more publicity and regulation either of the exchange or corporations listing their stock on it.

Held in Connection with Death DAVENPORT (AP)—Charles Redden of LeClaire is held in jail in connection with the death of Jack Rainstadler, 37, also of LeClaire. He is alleged to have shot Rainstadler, who was said to have been annoying Redden.

Couzens spent two and a half hours going over the books of the Reconstruction corporation, but his only comment was that he had found "nothing wrong."

ROMANCE BROUGHT HER ONLY UNHAPPINESS

Three striking poses of Libby Holman, widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, whose tragic death at the family home in Winston-Salem, N. C., has aroused nation-wide interest. Following the verdict of the coroner's jury, charging "murder against some person of persons unknown," Miss Holman left the Reynolds to seek seclusion in her former home at Cincinnati, Ohio. She was accompanied by her mother and father.

Seven Killed, Nine Injured in Explosion

Dynamite Boat on St. Lawrence River Blows Up

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y., July 19, (AP)—Seven men were believed killed and nine injured late today when a dynamite explosion on the drill boat "America" blew the boat to bits and shook the St. Lawrence valley for miles around.

A ton and a half of dynamite which had just been packed in a drill hole on the rocky bottom of the St. Lawrence river exploded prematurely, hurling men, machinery and splintered remains of the 150 foot drill boat high into the air.

When the smoke and flying wreckage cleared, the America had disappeared. Only floating timbers and planks appeared.

Two Bodies Recovered A diver recovered two bodies, identified as those of Ivan Rush, 32, loss driller, and Joe Slusarski, 24, a "dynamite man," both of La Salle, Illinois.

Those still missing were: Arnold Freeman, 25, Alexandria Bay; Jimmy Priestly, 27, Alexandria Bay; William Alkin, Sr., 44, Alexandria Bay; Harry Barr, 34, Alexandria Bay; Willard Chase, 22, Alexandria Bay.

The nine injured were in hospitals at Ogdensburg and Brockville, Ont., most of them with leg injuries.

Near Other Catastrophe The America, owned by the R. D. Huffman Construction company of Cleveland, was removing rock from the federal channel, less than 10 miles from the spot where a Canadian government boat blew up in 1930 with the loss of 31 lives.

The cause of the explosion was not known, but as the injured were brought ashore one survivor said he thought the "loader" used for lashing the dynamite, had fallen on the cap which would have discharged the dynamite later when the boat had been towed to a safe distance.

Although no bodies had been found, survivors said they had little hope any of those missing had reached shore.

Eight Injured in Collision WATERLOO (AP)—Eight men were injured, three seriously when an auto driven by P. E. Crawford, 52, of Jefferson, S. Dak., sideswiped a truck containing 22 Black Hawk county workmen. Pending investigation Crawford and a companion, V. H. Farris, 72, of Sioux City were held in jail.

Hoover Again Postpones Signing of New Relief Measure

Allows Time to Credit Body for Organizing

Measure Will Provide Aid to Country's Jobless

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—President Hoover today again postponed signing the great relief bill but he probably will make it law tomorrow—opening the outstretched hand of the federal government to aid with $2,122,000,000 those in want and provide jobs by loans to states and otherwise.

His aides at the White House made known that the chief executive wishes to allow more time for reorganization of the reconstruction finance corporation—mandatory under the relief act within 10 days of its signature.

Must Appoint Successors
He has yet to appoint successors for Gov. Eugene Meyer of the federal reserve board and farm loan Commissioner Paul Bestor, who are taken off the board. He has given no indication of his choices but the names of Owen D. Young, the noted industrialist, and Wilson W. Mills, Detroit banker, have been discussed freely for the two places.

It is the reconstruction corporation which will carry the great relief task authorized by the new legislation. Already the preponderant majority of the states are looking there for help.

Majority Ask Help
In fact, less than 15 of the 48 were shown by an Associated Press compilation to intend definitely not to take full advantage of the relief act. Governors of another few are undecided as yet; but plans are underway in more than 30 states to utilize both the "distress loan" and "public construction" monies made available.

To be administered entirely by the reconstruction corporation, the legislation:

Sets Up Loan Fund
Sets up a $1,500,000 fund for loans for public and private construction, out of which regional agricultural credit corporations with a paid up capital of $3,000,000 will be created and some agricultural exporting will be financed.

Appropriates $322,000,000 for public works, of which $132,000,000 can go to states for loans to match regular federal aid highway funds; and allows $300,000,000 for emergency loans to states on certification that the cash is needed to offset destitution, and can't be obtained elsewhere.

Ask Maximums
Three states, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Arizona, are out to get the maximum possible under the direct aid fund—$45,000,000. In New York, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt plans to discuss the matter with the state unemployment relief committee Thursday before a decision is made; the expectation in fiscal quarters there being that the empire state also will seek the maximum.

If that is borne out, the total of direct relief loans already wanted by but 12 of the states exceeds $200,000,000 dollars, as follows:
Arizona—$45,000,000.
Idaho—$1,500,000.
Illinois—$45,000,000.
Indiana—$8,000,000.
Kansas—$2,750,000.
Michigan—$11,800,000.
Missouri—$2,000,000.
New York—$45,000,000.
Pennsylvania—$45,000,000.
Utah—$2,000,000.
West Virginia—$500,000.

Governor LaFollette of Wisconsin will apply, but has yet to decide the amount.

Will Not Ask Advances
While officials in a number of states still are studying the public building loans and road construction aid in the legislation, inquiries disclosed that in nine states a decision already has been made against asking advances for direct relief. These were Florida, Maine, Maryland, Nebraska, Nevada, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and Vermont.

No conclusions have been announced in Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Louisiana, Minnesota, Mississippi, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, South Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Virginia, and Wyoming—as to the destitution loans.

Some states probably will find restrictions against taking such loans, such as Florida which is prevented by its constitution from borrowing.

No Red Tape
The reconstruction corporation has determined there will be no red tape bindings on these loans. Officials said that governors and anyone else eligible can forward applications to Washington instead of to district offices of the corporation. These applications will be taken up as soon as possible.

The usual procedure in reconstruction loans heretofore has been to file applications at one of the 33 district offices. There the security was examined and the application forwarded to Washington with a report.

Many states are unable to match

Arthur Kreuger (above), one of radio's most popular band leaders, conducted the symphony orchestra which featured the dedicatory program of WISN, Milwaukee. The program marked the opening of the new studios of WISN which is owned by the Wisconsin News.

Bannister's Belle?

Persistent rumors making the rounds of Hollywood studios are to the effect that Nancy Lyon (above), lovely young film actress, has taken the place of Ann Harding in the affections of Harry Bannister, from whom Miss Harding recently obtained a "friendly divorce." Miss Lyon, 18 years old, and daughter of State Senator Charles W. Lyon, admits she is fond of Bannister, but denies engagement.

federal highway funds. To make up for this, the act permits states to borrow from the corporation and pay it back out of federal aid funds to be appropriated over a period of five or more years.

Will Ask $3,100,000
Governor Russell of Georgia will ask $3,100,000 and Wyoming plans to seek $2,900,000 for highways; while Arkansas intends to request a $2,750,000 loan for that purpose along with $350,000 to complete a state insane asylum, if possible.

North Dakota wants the maximum it can get under the roads provision. North Carolina, while a study goes on as to what is needed for direct relief, will seek $2,800,000 for roads. The Montana highway amount sought will approximate $1,500,000.

New Jersey plans to try to meet its relief situation by refinancing the great Delaware river bridge between Camden, N. J., and Philadelphia, Pa.

Carried on by Borrowing
This would be done by borrowing $35,000,000 to $45,000,000 to pay off the bonds of the Delaware river commission. The commission would then repay the state what it owes and the state would use $10,000,000 for relief work.

In New York, also, the Fifth Avenue association today started a movement to have the city borrow from the corporation to complete the Tri-Borough bridge and start work on a vehicular tunnel under the east river from Thirty-Eighth street Manhattan. The tunnel would cost $80,000,000 and the bridge a total of $37,000,000.

Mitchell Talks on Third Party; Wins in Speech Contest

Phillip Mitchell of Iowa City, a member of the all-state high school speech group in the public speaking-debate division, placed first in a contest between members of the group in the liberal arts auditorium yesterday. His talk was on "The third party."

Second place went to Ansel Chapman of Iowa City, speaking on "A solution of the reparations problem"; third to Virginia Boone of Vinton on "The value of speech training." Jean Hurd of Webster City, and Violet Miller of Cleveland, Ohio, tied for fourth place. Their topics were "The future of Great Britain," and "The future of the dance-drama."

About 20 persons participated in the contest. The final speeches were judged by Prof. A. Craig Baird's class in advanced debate.

SMEDLEY BUTLER

'Hells' Pepper Speech to Bonus Seekers

"If you don't hang together," he shouted, "you aren't worth a damn. They may be calling you tramps now, but by God in 1917 they didn't call you bums. The idea of people calling you tramps when you are the best behaved group of men in this country today, I consider it an honor to be asked to speak to you."

"Some folks say I am here after something. That's a lie. I don't want anything, and by God there is no one who can stick me now."

"Keep Your Leaders Here"

"If you do, go home," he added, "keep your leaders here to look out for your interests and when you get home go to the polls in November and lick the hell out of those who are against you. You know who they are."

Butler said the time had come to change the position of the soldier who "bled in war time and suffered in peace time."

"You can change it," he shouted, "there is a simple method provided in November this year through the God-given system of government we have. Now go to it."

Recalls Scenes of Battle

He peppered his speech with stories of battles in far off places and references to service in the last war, which brought cheers and laughter from the crowd.

After his speech Butler was taken on an inspection trip through the Anacostia camp.

Prohibition Officer to Remain Suspended Pending Investigation

ST. PAUL, July 19 (AP)—Robert D. Ford, district prohibition administrator, said today that W. C. Cooper, prohibition agent in Iowa for 10 years, will remain under suspension until an investigation of his case by the prohibition department board is completed.

He said the board is now working in Des Moines, to which office Cooper was attached until his transfer recently.

Ford refused to discuss the nature of the charges other than to say they were of a "serious nature" and that the offense took place before Ford became administrator here.

Perhaps the cleaners in your town do not have the facilities for excellent cleaning such as the Paris Cleaners have. Phone 55. We do the rest.

Dictatorship Looms Ahead for Prussians

Followers of Hitler, Hugenberg Press Government

BERLIN, July 19 (AP)—Dictatorship for Prussia, with a federal commissioner in the saddle, seemed inevitable tonight on the event of an important conference to which Chancellor Franz von Papen summoned Dr. Karl Severing and Heinrich Hirtsiefer, the interior and welfare ministers of the state.

Every effort of the newly elected Prussian diet to choose a premier who would have majority support has failed, and the government for several weeks has remained in the hands of the resigned Braun-Severing cabinet.

Under Insistent Pressure

The federal government has been under insistent pressure from the followers of Adolf Hitler and Dr. Alfred Hugenberg. At the same time there have been bloody political clashes throughout the state, and the Prussian government has been in conflict with the federal government. The result has been a situation considered intolerable by Chancellor von Papen and Baron Wilhelm von Gayl, the federal minister of interior.

On the other side, the Prussian government has felt harassment by federal decrees, especially the regulations permitting political groups to wear uniforms.

No Announcement

No official announcement has been made of the selection of the federal commissioner for the state, but newspapers conjecture that he will be Lord Mayor Franz Braelit of Essen, a member of the Centrist party and the state secretary in the chancellery of Dr. Wilhelm Marx.

The commissioner will serve until a regular government can be constituted. With the aid of the various state bureaus, he alone will govern Prussia's 38,000,000 inhabitants.

Similar Measures in Saxony

In 1923 President Friedrich Ebert resorted to similar measures in Saxony. At that time the appointment of a federal commissioner was enough to impel the parties in the diet to get together and elect a state government, whereupon the commissioner withdrew.

At present the situation is more difficult as south German states, jealous of their prerogatives, oppose such drastic action in pivotal Prussia, the largest state in the reich, and members of the Prussian cabinet insist that despite handicaps they are succeeding in functioning.

Hoover Puts Western Trip Plans Aside

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Any possibility that President Hoover might combine politics, governmental duties and pleasure in a swing out to the west coast to open the Olympic games today was definitely ended.

Concurrently with an announcement that the president had selected the national capital as the spot for the formal notification of his nomination, Mr. Hoover named Vice President Curtis to represent him as head of the nation in opening the tenth Olympiad in Los Angeles, July 30.

The chief executive set the date of his notification ceremonies tentatively between August eighth and fifteenth.

Naming the vice president was interpreted as almost certainly precluding a trip by the president to California, his home state, during the campaign.

Wife of Demo Choice Sides in With Wets

Mrs. Roosevelt "Dry" But Favors Move for Repeal

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the Democratic presidential candidate, who said she always had been a "personal dry," today agreed with her husband and the Democratic platform that the eighteenth amendment should be repealed and liquor control returned to the states.

Mrs. Roosevelt's statement, provoked by a report that she had refused to sign a membership card in an anti-prohibition organization, was issued about the time the governor was completing plans for his campaign. James A. Farley, national chairman, and Louise M. Howe, political secretary to Roosevelt, laid a program of organization work before Mr. Roosevelt.

Within a few days a national treasurer will be named, general headquarters opened in New York and regional headquarters in Chicago and probably on the Pacific coast.

Mrs. Roosevelt established her place in the prohibition controversy in a statement of 57 words. It read: "I am and always have been a 'personal dry.' I do not believe, however, that the eighteenth amendment has worked at all successfully and I favor its repeal, permitting the states to pass what laws they deem necessary. In the event of this happening, I shall always be on the side of those working for real temperance."

A Poughkeepsie newspaper quoted Mrs. Albert J. Aikin of Pawling saying she approached Mrs. Roosevelt at the Hyde Park home welcome to Mr. Roosevelt on July 9, and asked her to sign a membership card in the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform. Mrs. Roosevelt was said to have replied: "I am extremely sorry that I cannot do so because I am dry."

Mr. Roosevelt maintained today his silence of yesterday on the Canada United States St. Lawrence treaty which was signed yesterday.

Snubbed New York

It is known that he considers the federal government snubbed New York state which is interested in hydroelectric development of the international river.

When the subcommittee of the senate foreign relations committee commences an investigation of the treaty negotiations New York will have an opportunity to tell its story, Roosevelt is expected to appear before the committee.

Many of the Roosevelt leaders favor an intensive campaign, carried on largely by the state organizations, but with the candidates, Mr. Roosevelt and Speaker Garner, making extensive trips and few major speeches. They believe their candidates have personal appeal and they would capitalize on this by letting us many people as possible see them.

The governor's speaking trips are expected to commence shortly after Aug. 1 but the big swings likely will be held off until September and October. Mr. Roosevelt will not complete speaking arrangements until after the national organization begins to function.

Iowa Pop Corn Shows Slumps

Low Returns, Loss of Eastern Market, Cause Drop

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP)—Low returns have caused a marked decline in the acreage planted to pop corn in Iowa, the state department of agriculture has concluded on the basis of reports from assessors.

In 1930, the department announced, assessors reported 41,136 acres in pop corn. In 1931 this was reduced to 19,351 acres or only 47 per cent of the 1930 acreage, and for 1932 the weather and crop bureau estimated that only 10,000 acres were planted to pop corn.

The yield per acre indicated by reports of correspondents on July 1 was about 1,600 pounds of ears, the department recalled, but studies made by the bureau indicated that this would be reduced before the end of the year to 1,400 pounds per acre or a total production of 14,000,000 pounds compared with 23,450,350 pounds in 1931.

Noting an increase in recent years in the demand for pop corn at Atlantic seaboard resorts, the department officials said Iowa growers through lack of organized marketing effort have allowed growers of South American varieties to capture this market.

Stars Who Play Greatest Role In Marriage and Motherhood

Record of Film Queens Who Are Happy Wives and Devoted Mothers Discounts Charges of Marital Instability and Butterfly Frivolity.

MARY ASTOR and BABY
GLORIA SWANSON
MRS. MICHAEL FARMER

HOLLYWOOD, July 19—A lot has been written and said about the frivolous manner in which this city of stars regards the marital bond. It has been suggested on more than one occasion by the facetious-minded that the marriage vows ought to be amended to read "till death, or until I get bored with you, do us apart."

But in all fairness to the kings and queens of the screen who comprise the major population of Hollywood, it ought to be pointed out that the percentage of happy marriages in the film capital is just as high as it is in any other part of the country. It is merely the prominence of the parties concerned that results in a marital rift becoming front page news.

What is more, film stars are amongst the most devoted mothers in the world, despite the charges of frivolity that are all too often leveled against them.

"It Won't Last"

For example, take the Barrymores. John and the former Dolores Costello. Dolores gave up a brilliant screen career to marry the great movie lover. Heads wagged lugubriously in the movie lots when she took up housekeeping as Mrs. Barrymore and predictions were freely made that it wouldn't last.

But the Barrymore marital barque sailed along quite smoothly, much to the surprise of the headwaggers. Again, when a baby daughter was born to the couple, whispered predictions of a split were made, as it was well known that John wanted a boy on whose shoulders would fall the purple mantle of the thespian royal family. But again the predictions failed to materialize.

Today, the Barrymores are the happiest couple in Hollywood. For John has an heir and is content, so that even the most pessimistic of the rumor-mongers are silenced. Dolores is the proudest mother in the United States and frankly ad-

With the close of the first term of summer session, plans are already under way for the Saturday class courses of the next school year, under the administration of the extension division. Classes will be held on 10 Saturdays between October and April, and university credit will be allowed for them.

While the complete schedule of courses has not been announced, definite plans have been made for courses in English, history, home economics, journalism, music, political science, psychology, sociology, and child welfare, all of which were given last year.

New courses this year will include philosophy, graphic and plastic arts, physical education for women, commerce, and religion. Further courses which are expected to augment the

Helen Dawson Joins Iowa's Welfare Staff

Helen Dawson, who received her Ph.D. at Washington university in St. Louis, Mo., has recently joined the staff of the Child Welfare Research station. Her major work is in physical growth and anthropology.

Last summer she was a member of a group doing research work on the island of Orleans in the St. Lawrence river near Quebec. The group made a series of measurements of the French-Canadian inhabitants of the islands. The Santa Fe laboratory of anthropology furnished a grant in order that the research workers might carry on their investigations there.

In commenting upon her experiences, Miss Dawson said that the island was an ideal place for research in physical measurements. The island native's ancestors have lived there for more than 300 years; during this time they have owned their own land and have kept isolated from the French and the English as much as possible.

They are said to be an interesting physical type, inasmuch as they have inter-married a great deal and have never mixed with other people on the mainland. Large families averaging from 12 to 16 persons are the rule. The research workers found some families with as many as 20 to 25 children.

Two to Take Up Duties in Law School

Dean James L. Parks of the University of Missouri college of law, and Prof. William L. Prosser of the University of Minnesota law faculty are expected to arrive today to take up their duties as visiting faculty members of the college of law during the second term of the summer session.

Dean Parks, who will teach a course on mortgages, is the editor of a case book on mortgages, and according to Dean Eugene A. Gilmore of the college of law here, is a well-known authority on the subject. A graduate of Columbia university, Dean Parks has taught at the Universities of Chicago, Minnesota, and Michigan.

Professor Prosser will teach a course in damages.

University of Iowa faculty members who will give instruction in the college during the second term, include Prof. Percy Bordwell, teaching a course in sales; Prof. Clarence M. Updegraff, a course in public utility regulation in Iowa, and Prof. Rollin M. Perkins, a seminar in problems of the administration of criminal law.

Ojemann Makes Study of Parent Education Articles

How much difficulty do parents have in reading parent education articles in books and magazines?

Prof. Ralph H. Ojemann of the Child Welfare Research station recently sought to find the answer by making a detailed study of the difficulty parents had in reading various parent education materials.

Partial Education

About one-half of the adult population have only a partial or complete elementary school education. Professor Ojemann analyzed the types of materials that could be read by this group and also the difficulty that the same material offered to parents who have had the advantage of higher education.

Some of the characteristics of simple material that nearly all parents could handle with little difficulty were: easy vocabulary; simplified sentence structure, as shown by a relatively large proportion of simple sentences; small number of prepositional phrases; and a small proportion of words in dependent clauses. Complex sentences and prepositional phrases were found to increase the difficulty of comprehension, even when the vocabulary was held constant.

209 Parents as Subjects

In this study conducted by Professor Ojemann, the difficulty in comprehension of 16 selections of parent education materials was established. In the experiment, with 209 parents as subjects, the selections which formed the basis of the research were given to parents in a residential city in Iowa of 18,000 population and to mothers in the maternity ward of University hospital. The tests were given by a trained examiner to individuals or to small groups where the conditions could be carefully controlled.

Factors in Difficulty

Conclusions reached were that the three factors most closely related to difficulty of comprehension are: number of simple sentences, number of prepositions, and average difficulty per different word.

Professor Ojemann also studied recent books written for parents, and

Dill Finishes Talk Series

Talk on Mexico Ends Addresses for First Session

Last night's museum lecture on "A zoological pilgrimage 800 miles into Old Mexico" completed the series of lectures given weekly during the first term of the summer session by Homer R. Dill, director of the university museum. The lecture was given in the chemistry auditorium.

The whole lecture series was based on the personal experiences of Director Dill while securing museum specimens for the university museum. Slides taken from photographs made by the director and his expeditions illustrated the lectures.

Began June 20 with a talk on the bird rookeries of Laysan Island in the Pacific Ocean, Mr. Dill continued the following week with an account of the wild animal life of the Louisiana Gulf coast, telling of the methods used in hunting alligators on the island of Chenier.

The sea lions and birds of the Northwest, experiences while living with the Quillayute Indians at La Push, and an account of an attack by a pack of sea wolves furnished material for the next lecture.

Expedition to Mountains

Last week's lecture was devoted to a description of Mr. Dill's expedition to Billy Goat Pass in the Rocky mountains, more than 150 miles from a railroad station.

The lectures were sponsored by the university museum.

Sportively Speaking By Gene Thorne

Just in case any of the baseball fans who failed to witness the bang-up game between the Odd Fellows and the Sidwell All-Stars think that the dairy nine indicated great weakness to enter the semi-pro tournament at Des Moines, let it be known that such an idea is wrong. Timely hitting by the lodge club, coupled with sparkling fielding back of stellar hurling by Lefty Coulter brought about the reverse.

Coulter marked himself as one of the sweetest pitchers in this section of the country when he let down the bunch of sluggers banded together under the Sidwell colors with five hits last night. If there was anyone who doubted his ability when he was pitching for The Daily Iowan during the Twilight league season and then saw the game last night, they will admit that the slender red head knows his job. Outside of his smoke, curves, and control, he fields his position next to perfect, and holds base runners close to the sacks. Incidentally, he got a hit and a walk out of three times at bat against Tommy Jacobs and Boney Clark. He should win some games for the All-Stars.

Joe Whiting, erstwhile Odd Fellow twirler, who was playing centerfield for the lodge club last night, and Bill Astle, playing third for the All-Stars, were the ones who handed the stands the fielding thrills. Whiting roamed the center pasture, picking off everything that was any where near him and making several great running catches. Astle, however, made a regular three ring circus catch of a bunted foul fly and doubled a man at first, to steal the show. The speedy little infielder was forced to make a running dive and slip his bare hand under the pellet when it was not more than a foot off the ground. No major-leaguer ever made a neater play.

After much determined and fruitful effort, the Mississippi Valley baseball league is finishing out the season, and so, will probably live on instead of dying, as many of the minor leagues are doing. If the fans around the circuit want baseball, and a good brand of the game, they should get it. Indications are that attendance will pick up. One of the biggest reasons for better crowds, is that the 'Bippi clubs will no doubt play better baseball. With so many of the leagues going out of business, high class players are easy to get, and the various managers are fortifying themselves for the battle for the championship of the last half of the season. Some one stands to make money, for good players can always be sold up.

Southwestern Iowa Golf Tourney Gets to Semi-Final Matches

CRESTON, July 19 (AP)—Four cities will be represented in the semi-finals of the southwestern Iowa golf tournament as the result of today's competition. In the quarter-finals Bernard Hogan, Council Bluffs, defeated George E. Larson, Council Bluffs, 4 and 3; Howard Lake, Bedford, beat George Robinson, Red Oak, 2 and 1; Ira Allen, Dunlap, nosed out Chris Bergwick, Council Bluffs, 1 up, and Doug Reynolds, Creston, won from O. M. Richardson, Bedford, 3 and 2. Hogan will meet Lake and Allen will oppose Reynolds in the 18 hole semi-finals tomorrow morning.

Sidwell Nine Will Conclude Season Tomorrow Night

The second place Sidwell nine will wind up its 1932 Twilight league competition tomorrow night at the City park when it plays off the game with the Odd Fellows. In the first meeting between these two teams, the dairymen turned in a 7 to 4 victory and then in the second game it took a big rally by the Sidwell boys to pull the game out to 2 to 2. The pitchers for the encounter will probably be Joe Whiting for the lodgemen and George Foor, the checker who has run up six defeats in seven starts this season, for Weber's outfit.

Cubs Nip Giants in 9th, 5-4; A's Fall on Browns Twice, 9-8, 16-6

14th Triumph for Warneke; 7th in Row

Two Singles, Sacrifice in Last Bring Win to Chicago

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—The New York Giants scored a run in the ninth inning today to tie the Cubs at 4-4 but Chicago came right back with another tally to win 5 to 4 and to present Lon Warneke with his fourteenth victory of the season and his seventh in a row.

Warneke pitched a fine game in an uphill fight after the first inning. He got off to a bad start when Mel Ott clouted his seventeenth home run of the season with one base in the first. But more hits up to the eighth. The homer followed a walk to Moore and a single by Critz.

Fred Fitzsimmons was not quite steady enough to hold the lead Ott gave him. He wobbled in the third and the Cubs scored twice on hits by Hack, English and Cuyler. Chicago put over two more tallies in the sixth as Warneke drove in the run that gave him the lead.

The Giants' ninth inning run came on Frank Hogan's double and Vergez's single that brought pinch-runner Gilbert English home.

Pirates Split Twin Bill With Phillies

PITTSBURGH, July 19 (AP)—The league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates lost a half game in the pennant race today by splitting a double-header with the Phillies, while the Chicago Cubs were downing the New York Giants.

Bill Swift won the first game, 5 to 2, his tenth win of the season and his seventh in a row. Pitcher Rip Collins tripled in the 11th and scored on Bartell's single to take the second game, 6 to 5.

Cards Rally, Trim Dodgers by 5 to 3

ST. LOUIS, July 19 (AP)—After being held to one hit in five innings, the Cardinals pounded Dazzy Vance from the hill in the next two frames and defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 5 to 3 today to even the series.

Brandt Hurls Braves to Win Over Reds

CINCINNATI, July 19 (AP)—A last minute flurry by the Cincinnati Reds willed away in the beat of the sun today and Ed Brandt pitched Boston to another victory, 2 to 0, over the National league's tall enders.

Davenport Captures 2nd Straight, 15-9

DAVENPORT, July 19 (AP)—Rallying six runs in the eighth inning, the Davenport Blue Sox made it two straight over Dubuque tonight, winning 15 to 9 after the visitors had tied the count in the first half of the ninth.

Coulter Checks All-Stars on Five Hits; Odd Fellows Win, 3-1

Ed Gordon First Hawk Athlete in Two Olympiads

Not only is Edward L. Gordon the first University of Iowa athlete to make two American Olympic teams, but he became one of 10 members of the 1928 squad to repeat four years later.

The Negro next month will represent the United States in the Olympiad at Los Angeles as the only veteran Yankee broad jumper. Four years ago, hindered by a foot injury, he was seventh in the games at Amsterdam with a leap just under 24 feet.

As Gordon achieved the distinction of a two-Olympics competitor, George Saling, the 110-meter high hurdler, became the fourth University of Iowa hurdler to place on the American team.

Saling's predecessors, however, each competed in the 400-meter hurdles—Charles Brookins and Chas Coulter at Paris in 1924 and Frank (Bab) Cuhel, winner of second place in the 1928 games.

Although eight Hawkeyes have earned Olympic berths since 1924, a victory in the final trials has evaded each of them. Brookins trailed Morgan Taylor, the Olympic champion, in 1924; Cuhel was second in Taylor's world record-breaking race four years later; Harold Phelps was second-best 5,000-meter runner in 1924; and last week Saling and Gordon each finished second.

First Round Match Easy for Champion

Lucille Robinson Wins by 8-6; Iowa City Girl Loses

MASON CITY, July 19 (AP)—A Des Moines contingent of eight golfers, evenly divided in the two brackets, romped into the second round of the Iowa women's golf tournament today, all but two of them scoring comparatively easy victories.

The toughest competition of the day was encountered by Mrs. George Whitmer, and Mrs. N. C. Nelson, both Des Moines women being forced to an extra hole before winning their matches.

Mrs. Whitmer conquered Virginia Eddy of Des Moines and Mrs. Nelson eliminated Mrs. C. D. Corey of Waterloo.

Mason City and Ottumwa placed two each in the second round, while Cedar Rapids, Davenport, Clear Lake and Webster City were represented by one apiece.

Lucille Robinson Wins Easily—Lucille Robinson led the capital city delegation in its drive into the second round by scoring an 8 and 6 victory over Wynn LaGrange of Storm Lake. She is scheduled to meet Day Waterman of Davenport in the second round. Miss Waterman defeated Mrs. K. D. Stone of Des Moines, one up.

Betty MacPeak, one of the Mason City survivors, was paired for tomorrow against Mrs. F. C. Byers of Cedar Rapids. Both defeated Des Moines women today, Miss MacPeak eliminating Mrs. Burton Joseph 7 and 6, and Mrs. Byers conquering Mrs. Givlin Chase one up.

Charlotte Ames, another of the local favorites hailing from Clear Lake, ousted Mrs. Howard Chandler of Waterloo 7 and 6, to earn the right to meet Mrs. R. M. Evans of Des Moines, who eliminated Helen Perkins of Iowa City 8 and 7.

VICTORS IN OLYMPIC TRIALS

Here are the three outstanding winners in the final tryouts for the women's Olympic swimming and diving team, which were held at Jones' Beach, L. I. They are, left to right: Helene Madison of Seattle, world record holder and winner of the 100-meter free style; Katherine Rawls of Miami, Fla., the new diving queen, who defeated the veteran champion Georgia Coleman, and Margaret Hoffman of Kingston, Pa., who won the 200-meter breast stroke and set a new American record for the event.

Outstanding Stars of State May Play in Valley Tourney

Walter Theiss, Hawkeye athlete, will go to Des Moines tomorrow where he will attempt to get the entry blank signatures of some of the best athletes. Entries for the university's second annual meet close July 26.

By RON TALLMAN Don Coulter, who had already achieved no small reputation as a left handed flinger of baseballs while actively engaged in aiding the Daily Iowan's Twilight league baseball team to rise from the depths to the first division in the last few weeks, further enhanced his standing among local fans when, at the City park last night, he whizzed them by his Sidwell All-Star mates so successfully that he and the Odd Fellows triumphed, 3 to 1, in a game which was billed as a warm-up for the clouting state tournament en-trant.

Banded together primarily because of their own ability in the offensive department, the All-Stars started nothing of consequence as the talk red head was in complete control of the situation. Only five hits were propelled to safe corners of the premises during the seven innings of play and only one of these, an exceedingly fluky home run, even so much as threatened to cause any damage.

Jacobs Shows Form Lefty, who is to do his performing for the All-Stars during the coming tournament competition, was "loaned" by Manager Sherman Greene to the lodge nine for the evening and the temporary transfer worked out all in favor of the "horror-works."

Tommy Jacobs, Durant pitcher, started the game for the All-Stars and turned in a creditable performance for five innings, some important hitting by Sulek, who had two out of three for the evening, and Dohrer coupled with two errors bringing about the winning margin in the fourth. Paul "Boney" Clark went to the hill for the last two innings and threw his fast one past the opposition after he had been nicked for a run in the sixth.

Cramer Leads Attack With 8 Hits Out of 10 Chances

PHILADELPHIA, July 19 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics slugged their way to two victories over the St. Louis Browns today, 9 to 8 in the first game and 16 to 5 in the nightcap. The A's had 29 hits in the two games.

Jimmy Foxx, with a home run inside the park in the second game, boosted his season's total to 29. Roger Cramer had four hits in five times at bat in the first game and duplicated the feat in the second contest.

The second game became Rube Walberg's ninth success of the year when his mates pounced on three St. Louis pitchers, making 16 runs out of 14 hits.

Earnshaw in the first game held the Browns to six hits and two runs in the first seven innings. Then, in the eighth, St. Louis belted out five consecutive hits, the last a double by Melillo, to send him to the bench.

For the second straight day, Grove was sent to the rescue. He was hit for a single and a double, the Browns putting across six runs in the inning to tie the count at 8 to 8.

Then Grove stopped further scoring, and received credit for his fourteenth victory of the season when the A's pushed across one run in the ninth. The deciding tally came after Foxx doubled and McNeil singled.

'Sam Rice Day' No Trouble for Detroit

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Unbothered by the fact it was Sam Rice day and Washington was paying tribute to the veteran outfielder, Detroit today fell on the Senators for the third time in a row and licked them 3 to 2.

Rice, being honored for his record during 17 years of baseball with the Senators, was the recipient of a special congratulatory letter from President Hoover as well as felicitations from thousands of less notable fans.

"You have given all of us who love baseball so much pleasure that you have richly earned the honor of a 'Sam Rice Day,'" Mr. Hoover wrote him. "I heartily congratulate you upon your 17 years with the Washington baseball club and wish for you every success in the future."

To show his appreciation, Rice got two hits in five trips up for a day's average of .400 but failed to score. Score by innings: R. H. E. Detroit.....000 000 210-4 14 0 Washington.....000 001 010-2 9 1 Batteries: Hogsett and Haworth; Thomas, Coffman and Berg, Maple.

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

Lily Lou tried to sit up and was a little surprised to see that nothing happened, she remained lying flat on the pillows. She felt if she sat up she could talk louder and then the sister would understand. She began again. "So if you don't mind, I'd like to hold him, for a little while. I would be very careful of him."

But they didn't speak English. "Bubchen—" She tried to hold out her hands, so that the sister would see that she wanted the baby. "No, no—schlafen sie—sleep, please!"

Lily Lou made another attempt to reach out her hands. She wanted to push back the covers anyway. She was very warm. She had been too warm for a long time, but she could not tell them. They would not listen.

The pale sister had come in, and was pushing back her sleeve, to put the needle into her arm. But she did not want to sleep now. There were things she wanted to say. "No!" she cried sharply, but they paid no heed to her. The rosy sister brushed the wet dark hair from her hot face. Lily Lou tried to push her away, too.

"Bubchen... if you'd just bring him back to me!"

The sisters, the rosy one and the pale one looked at each other. The pale one shrugged. The rosy one pulled a big handkerchief from one of her many pockets, and blew her nose violently.

But they did not bring the baby. "Well then, bring the Professor," Lily Lou whispered, "Herr Doctor—I can talk to him. Herr Doctor—"

He at least spoke English. He would make them bring the baby. "Herr Doctor," the sisters echoed. They whispered. "Herr Doctor—"

But Lily Lou found she could not wait for him. Her leaden eyelids fell. Darkness came again.

There was no time, just light and dark. Sometimes they gave her cool things to drink, and then, for a little time she could float in the dark, and be at peace.

"Look at what you've done to that girl! She should be as well as I am by now," Madame Nahlman upbraided the doctor.

If she had felt better she would have told them not to lean over her so much, and the day sisters, flustered and respectful, kept breathing on her neck as they passed things to the doctors. But it was too much effort to speak. She just lay there. She was sorry that she was going to die, her mother would feel very bad... possibly she should do something about the baby... but not now... she was too tired...

Once she heard Madame Nahlman upbraiding Doctor Sanders. The loud, angry words seeped into her consciousness: "If this were in the States it would never have happened. Vienna! Don't talk to me about your wonderful surgeons! What good is a surgeon without a decent hospital and a respectable trained nurse! What do these cows know about nursing! Look at what you've done to that girl. She should be as well as I am by now, bunglers! That's what you are—bunglers!"

Madame Nahlman thought it was the fault of the sisters that she was sick! But no, they had been kind, even if they had brought her sausage when she wanted ice water. It wasn't their fault... Presently she heard the doctor blaming Madame Nahlman. "What kind of crazy business is it!" he was asking. "Bringing that girl over the country like that? With no medical attention. Nothing! What kind of crazy business do you call that? A girl all skin and bones, ready to get any infection that blows her way. Then you—you! You blame it on me. But you will not. I will write. I will cable her people. I will explain. The full medical report—"

"What? You dare to tell me—! Oh! Look here, you quack—!" They were shouting at each other. It hurt Lily Lou's head so that she screamed, "Oh, don't! Please don't!"

The rosy sister came to the bedside, shaking it so that Lily Lou cried out again. And presently it was quiet. Everyone had gone. Very slowly Lily Lou went over it in her mind. She was sorry for Herr Doctor Sanders. He would be hurt, not understanding that Madame Nahlman never meant all the mean things she said.

But he said... he said he would cable... cable... to her people... Lily Lou sat straight up in bed. Her mind was suddenly clear and keen.

"Get that man back!" she called authoritatively, to the gaping sister. "Professor! Herr Doctor! No, no—let me alone. Call him! Quick!" The rosy sister rushed to support her. "It is the end," she whispered in her guttural tongue. "Achi!" The pale sister fled.

Stock Market Moves Fail to Bring Revival

Closing Prices Show Draw in Gains, Declines

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Stocks dwinded today, responding so apathetically to professional operations in one or two groups that efforts toward a revival of the advance were abandoned. Closing prices represented almost a draw between minor advances and declines, with losses favored by a shade.

New York city tractions and the tobaccos gave a bullish tinge to the market for a time. The former received their inspiration from unification developments; the reasons for the latter's little flurry were not clear.

Weak Spots Hardened
Some of yesterday's weak spots hardened, notably Du Pont which seemed untroubled by its earnings report. Utilities were firmer. People's Gas rallied moderately as it became known that refunding operations for the Insull group's forthcoming maturities were to be undertaken soon.

American Telephone and Consolidated Gas improved fractionally. Ralls tried to be hopeful over the outcome of the executives' conference, but got little real inspiration therefrom. American Tobacco "B," Reynolds "B" and Liggett & Myers "B" held part of their extreme gains of around a point.

U. S. Steel was steady, although the preferred lost 1 3/8 net. Brooklyn Manhattan had a 2 point rise. It was the dullest day since June 20, sales totaling 461,800 shares.

Brokers Adhere to Opinion
Brokers adhered to their recently expressed opinion that that market was being influenced almost solely by current business reports. Second quarter earnings statements are on the whole so poor, at least in comparison with a year ago, that Wall Street realizes prospects for favorable changes in the current period; given a continuance of present rates of industrial activity, are discouraging.

Steel production, says "American Metal Market," held last week's betterment but registered no further advance.

Petrolle Wins Decision Over Bat Battalino

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Frankie Petrolle, younger brother of the more famous Billy, made it four straight for the Petrolle family over Bat Battalino, former featherweight champion by winning a 10 round decision at the Queensboro stadium tonight.

It was Frankie's second victory over the Hartford, Conn., battler who previously had lost two to Billy Petrolle.

The ex-champion, the aggressor most of the way, took the first two rounds easily and had an edge in the last third. They were flinging punches in the fourth when Petrolle connected and sent Bat to the floor.

Battalino, although trying to hold the offensive, did not get well under way again until the eighth and Petrolle was able to match his rally to a great extent.

Each weighed 141 pounds.

Iowa Graduate From India Founds Washington Society

"Bengali George Washington Memorial society celebrates George Washington's two hundredth birth anniversary and offers greetings to American people. (Signed) Ramanda Chatterjee."

Behind the movement told of in the above cablegram sent by the head of the society to President Herbert Hoover, is Dr. Randin Ahmed, a graduate of the college of dentistry of the University of Iowa in 1915 and an organizer of the society.

Returned to India
Soon after his graduation, Dr. Ahmed returned to his home in Calcutta, India, to take up his profession. Today he is the founder and head of the only dental college in India, publisher of the only dental journal on the Asian continent, a friend to all American students who visit his home, and an influential citizen of Calcutta, according to Sindhra Bose of the political science department, who is a friend of Dr. Ahmed.

"We are trying our level best to bring about a cultural understanding between America and India. A series of articles on Washington are appearing in the Indian papers, disseminating to a certain extent the wrong impression people have of 'dollar made America,'" Dr. Ahmed said in a letter to Mr. Bose.

Another Former Student
Associated with Dr. Ahmed in the organizing of the society was another former student of this university, Dr. Sudhir Kumar Majumdar. They have working with them more than 100 of the more prominent citizens of Calcutta, including bankers, attorneys, editors, and landholders, as listed in the letter.

On Feb. 22, a public meeting was held in Calcutta. Members of other organizations are invited to contribute letters and articles on Washington to the newspapers and magazines of India, and the society itself is planning a book on "George Washington and the United States."

It will be composed of contributions, not only on the life of Washington, but on the political and economic affairs of the United States.

Billy Wallace, crooning lightweight boxer, has made such a hit with his warbling that he now is featured with a dance band.

Adverse Crop Rumors Raise Grain Prices

CHICAGO, July 19 (AP)—Disquieting crop advices from spring wheat territory on both sides of the Canadian border did much to turn grain values upward today, contrasting with record lows.

Wheat encountered hedging sales in larger volume on advances, however, and buying power was not broad enough to push the market up much beyond 1 cent a bushel. A late stimulating factor was an unofficial estimate that Italian import requirements of wheat this season would be 75,000,000 bushels, against 32,600,000 imported last season.

Wheat closed firm 3 1/4-1 1/8 above yesterday's finish, corn 3 1/8-5 1/8 up, oats 1 1/8-1 1/4 off, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents down.

Many successive days of extreme heat, 100 degrees and above at various points, brought greatly increased complaints of crop deterioration northwest as a result of premature ripening. Advices at hand indicated large areas both of the American northwest and of Canada were deficient in subsoil moisture.

A decrease of 2,527,000 bushels in the world's available supply of wheat was announced, making the total now 352,000,000 bushels, 30,000,000 less than at this time last year. Another bullish factor was word from the southwest that the movement of domestic winter wheat appeared to have passed its peak, with country offerings generally light.

Drought complaints from various sections of the corn belt had a bullish effect on the corn market. There were advices that corn growth had been too rapid, and that the crop was not standing hot weather as it should. Under scattered selling, all deliveries of oats reached a new low price record for the season.

Provisions receded with hog values. Closing indemnities: wheat—September 47 3/8-1 1/2, 48 1 1/2-5 1/8; December 50 1 1/2-5 1/8, 51 5 1/8-3 1/4; Corn—September 32-32 1 1/8, 33-33 1 1/8; December 32-32 1 1/8, 32 7 1/8.

Two Get Life Terms in S. Dakota Murder

BRITTON, S. D., July 19 (AP)—Charles and John Swiden and William Sells, all of Waubay, were sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary by Judge W. H. Skinner, Watertown, today. They were convicted a week ago of the murder of August Peterson, Veblen, last December.

Art Professor Delivers Last of Talk Series

Free expression, as advocated by some art schools, was criticized by Prof. Edna Patzig, head of the graphic and plastic arts department of the University experimental schools, in a lecture given in East hall, yesterday afternoon. The talk was the last of a series sponsored by the college of education.

Professor Patzig supported her opinion by telling of an experiment conducted in the University experimental schools, Junior primary and first grade pupils were divided into two groups as evenly as possible according to intelligence and to results of art tests. One group had all kinds of materials with which to work, and many examples of art around the rooms; and the pupils were allowed to get help from the teacher whenever they wished. This was the free expression group.

With the other group, an attempt was made to guide the observations of the children, and the teacher gave them some help with their art activities. At the end of the year, the children who were directed in their work rated higher than the free expression group in the majority of the art tests.

"I am convinced that any intelligent person may learn to draw," continued Professor Patzig. "That does not mean that everyone may become an artist, however, any more than any student of literature may become a poet."

Race Prizes at Fair to Total Over $20,000

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP)—Prizes valued at more than $20,000 will be given in the seven day speed program at the Iowa State fair this year.

The program will open with auto races Friday, Aug. 26, closing the following Friday with another schedule of auto races. On the intervening days horses will occupy the half mile oval in front of the grand stand, except on Saturday, Aug. 27, when a full program of motorcycle races will be held. Previously this Saturday program was made up of running races.

The longest game in the last 30 years in big league baseball went 26 innings between Brooklyn and Boston in 1920.

Must Check Expansion in Government

G.O.P. Keynoter Warns Against Threat of Socialism

DES MOINES, July 19 (AP) — A warning that socialism threatens the country unless cost of government and expansion of government functions are checked was voiced today by John E. Cross, Newton attorney, in his keynote speech to the Iowa Republican convention.

He pointed to the steady increase in cost and scope of the functions of government to its present high point, and pleaded for consolidation of overlapping bureaus and elimination of all activities not essential to strictly governmental duties.

Explains Business Conditions
He dealt at length with an explanation of current business conditions and termed the question before the nation today is "not who is responsible for it, but what has been done about it and what do the two political parties propose to do about it."

President Hoover was praised as offering to the country "real leadership and real constructive statesmanship during these distressing years."

"The American people will show poor judgment," Cross declared, "if they consider at this time exchanging such leadership for an unknown quantity; for one who has given evidence of no deep seated convictions upon any public question; for one who has no constructive program to propose; for one who calls for economy in governmental affairs, and yet under whose administration the government expenses of the state of New York have steadily increased."

Costs $13.56 in 1890
Turning to public expenditures, Cross said that in 1890 the total cost of all government in this country was $13.56 per capita, in 1929 it was $107.37, and for 1932 it is estimated at $124.

"Among all persons over 10 years of age in this country gainfully employed, one in every 10 is directly employed in governmental service," Cross continued. "The cost of government in the country today is absorbing approximately one-fourth of the total national income. If this growth continues to spread and increase at the present rate, within 50 years we shall all be working for the government, either directly or to support those who are thus employed, and the total national income will be absorbed in governmental enterprises."

Trend Toward Socialism
"In other words, we will do everything collectively. This course is an unconscious drift or trend toward socialism. It must be checked and stopped. It can be checked and stopped. It will be necessary for us to give up certain governmental functions which are all right in themselves, but which are in the nature of public luxuries that we can no longer publicly afford. There must be a consolidation of all activities not essential to strictly governmental functions."

He suggested abolition of the state primary as one step in this direction, declaring that "it involves a tremendous expense to the state every two years and an almost prohibitive expense to a candidate for any office above a county office."

Must Restore Purchasing Power
Business, he said, will not recover until the purchasing power of the farmer is restored. Pointing out that "the hand of Providence" is the controlling factor in farm production, whereas the manufacturer can control his own output, Cross termed the farm relief problem as one of marketing and distribution.

"Regardless of the success of past efforts," he said, "additional plans that promise results should be considered and tried."

Better credit for farmers is one important need, he said. Shrinkage of outstanding credit through the calling of loans, selling of collateral and foreclosure of mortgages has been a vital factor in causing and increasing the depression.

Must Rebuild Credit
"This credit structure must be rebuilt and the benefits of it passed on down to the common man, including the produce of agricultural commodities," Cross said. "We need have no hesitancy in taking reasonable steps to expand the credit structure in this country and there is probably no sound economic objection to a reasonable expansion of the circulating medium of the country if done in a way that will permit full control and a reduction when the need has passed."

Maintenance of a home market for home producers is also necessary to rehabilitation of agriculture.

Boraas Talks to Kiwanians

Points Out Advantages of Small, Large Schools

There are advantages in both the large university and the small college, Prof. Julius Boraas of the education department of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., said in a talk at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club in the Jefferson hotel yesterday noon.

"The large university affords the faculty member an opportunity to do research work which the smaller college does not, but life is not dreary in the small college, because it allows a closer companionship between the student and the professor," he said.

Compares Enrollments
Comparing a university's enrollment with a liberal arts college, Mr. Boraas said it must be remembered that only the liberal arts college of the university should be compared with the small college, and one should not include the many other colleges and graduate schools.

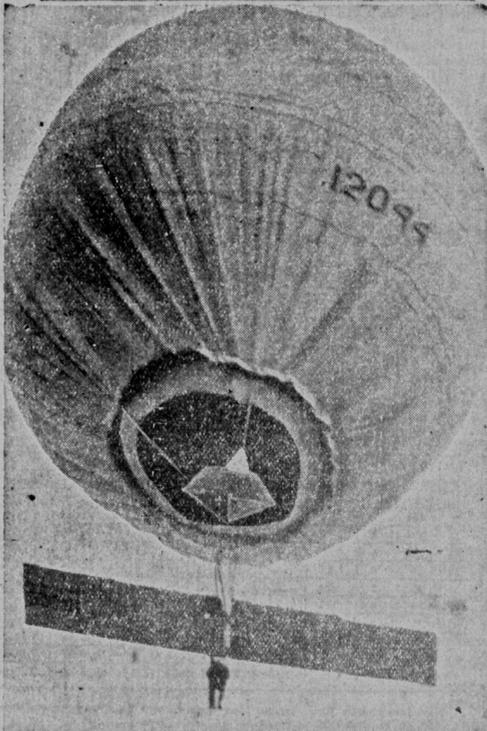

"In these trying days of depression," he said, "the liberal arts college which has a unique mission will survive, while some of the others are bound to go under."

Reports on Golf Tourney
Previous to the talk by Professor Boraas, Prof. J. H. Scott gave a report of the state Kiwanis golf match which was held last week in Ottumwa. Guests present at the luncheon were Wiley G. Brooks, Burlington, and Dr. E. A. Rogers of Iowa City.

OSKALOOSA, July 19 (AP)—The first of three district meetings of the Southeastern Iowa Retail Lumberman's association was scheduled to be held here today. Tomorrow another meeting will be held at Burlington and on Thursday at Muscatine.

LAUNCH GLIDER FROM BALLOON

The first recorded flight of a rocket plane released from a balloon was witnessed by thousands of persons near Aurora, Ill., Sunday. William G. Swan, 29 year old plane expert, was carried aloft in his glider by a hot air balloon, and reaching the desired height, shot off three rockets attached to the glider. Swan landed in four minutes. Swan said he hoped to perfect a balloon which would carry a glider into the stratosphere. At 40,000 feet, he said, it might be possible to fly the Atlantic with a glider.

No Campaign Expenses
DES MOINES (AP) — Charles R. Logan of Keokuk reported to the secretary of state that he had made no expenditures in his campaign for the Republican nomination for the legislature.
Evelyn Glass of Mt. Clemens, Mich., recorded a hole in one on her fourth game of golf.

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

They Will Do It
People seem to have no consideration for the new fire truck. To allow the truck to get out of the station and off to a fire without backing up, the city council passed an ordinance restricting parking in front of the post office for more than 120 feet. Police painted the curbing brilliant yellow and marked it with "No Parking" signs in large white letters. But dozens of people continue to park there, either unconscious of the yellow paint and the white signs, or indifferent.

This Parking Business
Whether cars should park in the middle of the street, at the curb, parallel, at a 45 degree angle, or whether they should park at all and where and how long will be discussed once more by the city council at a meeting Monday night.

Busy Hammers
Or rather, probably, busy wrenches, for most of the work on the new Varsity theater is being done with wrenches instead of hammers. Brick layers are swiftly nearing the top of the white faced front of the new building and most of the steel skeleton of the interior is completed. Even the floor beams are of steel.

Off to the Convention
District Judge Harold D. Evans attended the Republican state convention in Des Moines yesterday.

Start Memorizing
After July 30 persons who live at a telephone will have their world turned topsy-turvy. All the 7,000 numbers in the city will be changed with the introduction of the dial system. The new telephone directories will probably be issued Friday, July 29. They will have green covers to distinguish them from the old ones.

Just a Little One
H. S. Smith's automobile leaked gasoline yesterday onto a live electric wire. The car was parked in the Hudson-Exsex garage, 11 E.
