RECONSTRUCTION BECOMES REALITY

Announce 20 Per Cent Cut in Dormitory Rates

Ziegfeld Died Broke?

Billie Burke Hoped He Would Go in for Farmer's Life.

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (AP)—The genius of the Ziegfeld Folies has passed on leaving the theatrical world in mourning from Broadway to the movie lots of California. Florenz Ziegfeld, glorifier of the American girl, died unexpectedly at a hospital here last night.

Epoch of Light Drama

Since the day in 1907 when the Folies were first born out of his imagination, the great New York producer lived in a period of the theater which he made epochal by light drama such as none other ever before had conceived. And so he died.

He lay in a bed at the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, not far from the film plants of Hollywood, where many of his proteges—Will Rogers, Eddie Cantor, Marilyn Miller, Marie Dressler, Marion Davies, Lilyan Tashman, Ina Claire, Mae Murray—had come to continue the fame with which he first endowed them.

Hurried Call to Studio

Shortly after 10 o'clock sudden pains attacked his abdomen. A nurse summoned one of his physicians, Dr. Marcus Rabwin. The doctor knew Ziegfeld knew. There was a hurried telephone call to a studio, where his wife, Billie Burke, whom he made a star and whom he married 18 years ago, was making a motion picture. An automobile sped wildly through the streets of Hollywood. The pains increased.

"He knew that death was coming," Dr. Rabwin said.

Two Minutes Late

There were two sharp gasps and life was gone. Down the hospital corridor came the sound of running feet. Through the door plunged Miss Burke, ashen-faced. It was 10:33 p. m. and she came two minutes late.

Tomorrow private funeral services will be held.

One of the producer's dearest friends, a man he helped to the high road of fame, Will Rogers, arrived.

Council Will Name Choice of Appraisers

Must Choose Men for Evaluating Plant at Waterworks

Two appraisers to represent the city in the evaluation of the Iowa City water works will be appointed or the whole question of municipal ownership of the plant will probably be dropped at a special meeting of the city council Monday night, members of the council said yesterday.

The council water committee, headed by Edward Sybil, and the city solicitor will meet Monday afternoon to select two engineers from the 12 men suggested. The council will vote on their selections that night.

If the appraisers are selected they will meet with two appointed by the water company to choose a fifth, and this group will determine the value of the local plant. This estimate will be placed before the voters in March, when they will decide whether to buy the plant or not.

Views Differ at Conference

Australia Seeks Help in Marketing Products From Britain

OTTAWA, July 23 (AP)—The insistence of Australia upon effective assistance from Great Britain in marketing Australian products threw into bold relief tonight the differences of opinion on the manner of granting empire preferences.

At the outset the British delegates declared themselves for the general principle of lowering tariff walls for empire nations, as opposed to raising such walls against foreign countries.

Want Low Living Cost

Mrs. Walter Runciman, wife of the president of the British board of trade, has stated in interviews here that the English people would not agree to any move for an empire trade union which would result in higher costs of living.

The British delegation today was studying Premier Stanley Bruce's firm declaration, and evinced a good deal of surprise at the tone he had used.

Surprise Statement

Apparently they were surprised especially at this statement from the Australian:

"I may add that the unanimous view of the Australian people is that, while for a quarter of a century they have given preferences to Great Britain freely and unconditionally, they regard the British preferences granted under the import duties act as a somewhat tardy response for the benefits long enjoyed by British industry."

The import duties act permitted Dominion products to enter the United Kingdom free of duty until November to give the Ottawa conference a chance to negotiate for reciprocal preferences. This is the crux of Great Britain's bargaining point.

For the first time during the conference the United States was brought directly into the proceedings by a South African statement. After reviewing the fruit industry's

Button Plants to Offer Work

Will Employ 300 Men in Four Factories on Aug. 15

MUSCATINE, July 23 (AP)—Plans for a depression "antidote," embodying higher wages, a shorter week and capacity operation, were announced today by the Iowa Pearl Button company.

Beginning Aug. 15, the four plants of the company, two here and one each at Columbus Junction and Wapello, will be operated at capacity, employing about 300 workers at a 5 per cent increase above the present wage scale. The working week will be five days, between 45 and 50 hours in the various departments.

The plan will be given a trial for at least 60 days. O. A. Hammer, president, said, and the five-day week feature will be permanent.

"For at least that period of time we are going to forget about our profit and concentrate on the benefit that accrues in the community from added employment and increased buying power," Hammer said. "We believe it is better to give jobs than doles. Continual charity will weaken the fiber of the people who receive it, but the morale and self-respect of the country can be upheld by decent employment."

Accident Cause of Delay to Airplane

The eastbound United Air Lines plane due here at 7:50 p. m. was nearly four hours late last night because of an accident to its tail wheel when it attempted to land at the Des Moines field.

Jack Curtis, manager of the local field, said that the Des Moines airport was rough, but that the planes would soon have a new field to land on.

Borah Proposes Immediate Debt Parley

Says Revision in Interest of People of U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho proposed tonight an immediate world conference to consider revision or cancellation of war debts integrally with a program for settling other post war problems.

Welcome

LONDON, July 23 (AP)—Unofficial Whitehall opinion tonight welcomed Senator William E. Borah's proposal for a world conference to revise or cancel war debts as an indication of awakened American public opinion.

It was pointed out the suggestion indicated Americans were becoming interested in the significance of what Mussolini, the Italian premier, has called "the tragic bookkeeping" of the war.

Committees Make Out Premium Lists for 4-H Exhibition

Members of Johnson county 4-H Boys' clubs livestock committees drew up a tentative list of livestock premiums for the club show Aug. 17, 18, and 19, at the Farm Bureau office last night. The premiums, according to S. Lysle Duncan, county agent, will total approximately $800.

Starting Wednesday, local merchants and farmers will renew their attempts to solicit $1,000 in Iowa City for the financing of the show. Thus far contributions total $670.

Representatives of girls' clubs will meet next week to make out the premium lists for their club work.

OFFICERS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Here are the four members of the Nassau county, N. Y., police force who have been held on a second degree murder charge following the investigation into the "third degree" death of Hyman Stark, hold-up suspect who died during interrogation. The men, left to right, are: Detectives Charles Zander and Leslie Pearsall, Lieutenant Jesse Mayforth and Detective Charles Wessler. They are held in $10,000 bail each for the grand jury. Seven other officers are charged with assault.

July 31 Elections May End Unrest in German States

Verdict on Legality of Dictatorship to Come Monday

BERLIN, July 23 (AP)—While counsel for the state of Prussia was arguing before the supreme court at Leipzig today that federal dictatorship over his government was illegal, Chancellor Franz von Papen assured representatives of the south German states gathered at Stuttgart that the dictatorship would not interfere with the important Reichstag elections to be held July 31.

The court action at Leipzig, aimed at stopping the federal government's mailed fist in the state of Prussia, will not reach a decision until Monday.

Interference Unconstitutional

The Prussian argument was that there was no constitutional authority for federal interference in the state's affairs and even if there were the state's cabinet was removed without any opportunity for the members to answer whatever charges the central government had against them.

Several southern states joined in the Prussian protest to the court. The attitude of this section of Germany was further shown at the Stuttgart conference which grew out of the fears of the other states that dictatorship might be extended to them.

No Infringement

An official communique issued after the Stuttgart meeting said the southern representatives had received with satisfaction assurances from Chancellor von Papen that the Reich government did not intend to infringe on their rights.

Indications tonight were that from now until election day there will be little peace and quiet in Germany. As the campaign drew toward its final week all parties were determined to fight to the last ditch, and the events in Prussia have added fuel to the flames of hatred throughout the nation.

Hitler on Air Tour

Adolf Hitler, leader of the strong arm national socialist party, will spend the rest of the campaign in an airplane tour of the country.

The election was made necessary by the maneuver which resulted in the substitution of Von Papen for Bruening in the chancellorship. When Von Papen took office at the beginning of last month it was apparent the Reichstag would not give him a vote of confidence. For that reason President Von Hindenburg issued a decree of dissolution. The constitution provides that an election must follow dissolution within 60 days.

Keystone Bank Closed

KEYSTONE (AP)—The Iowa State bank of Keystone, Benton county, was closed Friday.

Today's Favorable Business News

(By the Associated Press)

Favorable business developments over the nation today included:

MUSCATINE, Ia.—The Iowa Pearl Button company announced effective Aug. 15 operations at its four factories will be resumed at capacity, a 5 per cent wage increase will be granted employees and a standardized five day work week will be adopted.

PHILADELPHIA—J. G. Brill and company announced receipt of an order for 40 electric street cars and trolley buses totalling about $600,000 from the Indianapolis Railways, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind.

WEST PALESTINE, Ohio.—The National Tire and Rubber company plant here will resume operations shortly after a shutdown of several weeks, it was announced.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—The Diamond Match company plant, which has been closed for two weeks, will be reopened Monday.

MALDEN, Mass.—More than 600 operatives will be employed at the Converse Rubber company plant which will resume operations Monday after a two weeks shutdown.

UNION, S. C.—Monarch Mills in South Carolina, including Monarch, Ottawa, and Lockhart plants, will begin a four-day-week schedule Monday after having been idle for seven weeks.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Seasonal upturn in the clothing manufacturing industry prompted Max Holtz, president of the clothiers exchange, to predict about 10,000 workers will have steady employment here within the next two weeks. About 7,500 are now employed on a part time basis.

WASHINGTON—Car loadings for the week ended July 16 totaled 504,094 cars an increase of $7,144 over the previous week.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn.—The Goodyear Rubber company will open its plant here Aug. 1, furnishing employment to between 150 and 200 workers.

IOWAN DIES AFTER FOURTH STORY FALL

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 23 (AP)—D. J. Costello, 25, a sailor stationed at the North Island naval air station, was fatally injured today when he leaped or fell from a fourth floor window of the army and navy Y.M.C.A. hotel here. He died soon afterward.

Costello had taken a room a few minutes earlier. After an investigation the body will be sent to Council Bluffs, Iowa, where Costello's parents live.

Quad, Currier Rates Slashed for Next Year

A reduction of 20 per cent in University of Iowa dormitory room rates was announced yesterday by President Walter A. Jessup.

With the opening of the university this fall, the finance committee of the state board of education has ordered that the minimum room rate at the Quadrangle, residence for 700 men students, will be $90 for the full academic year of nine months. This is a reduction of $22.50 as compared with the old minimum rate of $112.50.

Currier to Cost $85

Currier hall, women's dormitory, with a capacity of 315, will have a minimum room rate of $85 for the academic year, a reduction of $21 from the old rate of $106.

Restricted service will be applied as a means of lowering the cost of operation and the dormitories will thus continue their financial position as self-supporting units.

All room rates at the dormitories have been reduced. Accommodations above the minimum have been scaled down in rate in proportion to the degree of restricted service, and consequent saving, which meets the requirements of individual students.

Will Maintain Necessities

Curriculum is along the line of supplemental service and does not apply to any of the necessities listed in the approved housing regulations, officials point out.

The university has maintained dormitories since 1913, when Currier hall was completed. The Quadrangle was constructed in 1918-9 and enlarged in 1925. Success of the dormitory plan of residence is indicated by the fact that the residents of the dormitories continuously have a higher scholastic grade average than any of the other groups on the campus.

Water Claims Two Victims

Iowa City Gets Relief From Heat; 88 High Level for Day

DES MOINES, July 23 (AP)—Two more drownings were reported in the state today as Iowa's respite from the heat wave proved short lived and crowds turned to the water for relief.

Cecelia Bogelsang, 27 year old teacher in an Oklahoma Indian school, was drowned in Pine lake, near Eldora, while on an outing. Earl Ellis, 19, lost his life while swimming near Princeton.

Iowa City's prayer for just a day of comfort was realized yesterday when the temperature dropped to the lowest point in two weeks. The highest recording for the day was 88 degrees, eight points below the average of the last 12 days.

Early in the afternoon the sun bore down with just enough pressure to remind those who might be unaware that yesterday was just an interlude.

Last night a dark low bank of clouds hung hesitatingly over the western horizon, waiting and perhaps wondering.

Police Trial Date Aug. 15

13 Defendants to Face Arraignment First Part of Week

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Trial of 13 Nassau county policemen indicted on charges growing out of the third degree torture death of Hyman Stark was set today for Aug. 15.

The policemen, now free on bail, will be arraigned Monday on the first batch of indictments returned by the grand jury, which will resume the investigation on Tuesday.

Five Get Manslaughter

Five of the defendants, it was learned, are charged with first degree manslaughter.

Of the others, seven are accused of second degree assault and one of being an accessory to first degree manslaughter.

Stark's body was ordered exhumed Monday for a closer study, it was understood, of the marks left by the falling he suffered. An autopsy, performed before the body was buried, showed death was caused by a crushed larynx.

Dr. Otto H. Schultz, who performed the autopsy, has testified the fracture might have been caused by pressure of a thumb.

Stood on Neck

Assistant District Attorney Littleton, said he overheard Deputy Police Chief Tappen tell about standing with one foot on the neck of a prisoner and rocking back and forth. Tappen denied ever having said that.

Butler County Bank Closes

CLARKSVILLE—The Butler County State bank closed its doors Friday.

Relief Work Giving U.S. New Lease

Government Agencies Hard at Work on Aid Program

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Exploring pathways of economy and launching huge new enterprises is keeping the federal government high-keed as never before at the end of a session of congress.

The task of spreading federal relief for destitution and creating new employment is setting under way, and probably will be in actual operation before the next week is out. Plans are being fashioned to launch a system that will relieve pressure on that oft-dreaded ordinary American—the homeowner.

Bone-Deep Scrapping

But the biggest job of all for government workers from the cabinet to the rank and file, is shaking down to a regime of bone-deep scrapping and saving. Many are finding that it can be done without loss of efficiency.

Congress adjourned just one week ago today. The national economy bill was already legally in effect but its application, hampered by countless technicalities, is proceeding slowly. The $2,122,000,000 relief bill and the $125,000,000 home loan bank bill were left on President Hoover's desk and have since been signed.

Waste No Time

The president still has to appoint men to handle these tremendous tasks, but many branches of the government have been drawn into consultation to map out their execution, and little loss of time is in sight.

Into this already busy week was injected signing of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada, charter for a giant enterprise of still unmeasured significance in its eventual opening of the midwest to ocean commerce.

Bonus Problem

Less directly, federal officials have had to deal — and carefully — with the unprecedented occupation of the capital by the bonus-asking World War veterans who came to besiege congress and were reluctant to leave after their objective was lost. Efforts having their source at the White House, the veterans administration and the treasury, were bent on sending the men home.

As the week ended President Hoover still was deeply concerned with finding the right men to fill two places on the Reconstruction Finance corporation board. They must take the place of ex-officio members removed in the relief bill. Both must be Republicans to balance the Democratic component of the board and they must be chosen from scattered sections of the country. They must be in office 10 days from July 21, when the bill was signed.

Requests Pour In

Applications were already pouring in from states and cities for loans out of the $300,000,000 set apart for relief of destitution, but on even larger scale plans were afoot for launching self-sustaining construction by states, counties, cities, and semi-public agencies, out of the grand total of $1,500,000,000 which the reconstruction unit is empowered to raise and lend for the purpose.

Five men are to be chosen to head the directing board of the home loan bank system. This enterprise, designed to absorb real estate paper and release fresh capital for mortgages and new construction, probably will be linked closely either to the Reconstruction corporation or the commerce department. It is one of Mr. Hoover's long-time dreams, which he has spoken for perhaps as often as any new enterprise of government. He is expected therefore to give it much personal attention.

Economy Act at Work

The economy act already has resulted in merger of all Government radio activities under the radio commission, by presidential order. More of such are to follow.

It also has placed half a million government workers on a reduced pay basis. The farm board has gone on the five-day week and other branches which can do so, will follow shortly. Many will have to lay off employes for additional periods to stay within appropriations.

Seize Booze in Raid

SIoux CITY (AP)—Officers seized 450 gallons of liquor valued at $2,700 in a raid on a shed in the rear of the old police station and arrested Tony Santi, 20.

Judge Binds Pair to Grand Jury in Coin Death at Davenport

DAVENPORT, July 23 (AP)—Justice Merle F. Wells today bound over to the grand jury Louis Spridgen and Charles Elder of Muscatine on charges growing out of the slaying of Nick Coin, Davenport bootlegger.

Elder was released under $300 bond but Spridgen was held without bond.

Ballistics evidence regarding a shotgun shell found near Coin's body after he was shot down from a closed automobile May 25 was the basis for holding the men to the grand jury.

Second Term Classes Open at 7 Monday

Meetings Will Continue for Five Weeks; End on August 25

With registration completed, for the most part, during the formal two day period Friday and yesterday, second term classes in the university summer session will begin their regular schedules tomorrow at 7 a. m.

Classes will continue for five weeks, their sequence unbroken except for week ends, and will close Aug. 25 with the annual August convocation ceremony at 8 p. m. It is expected that the number of degrees awarded at the convocation will surpass the total of 294 granted at the July ceremony last Thursday evening.

Offer 363 Subjects

Thirty-two departments are offering a total of 363 subjects, the largest number ever listed for a summer session's second term.

A feature of the second term will be the broadcasting, for the first time, of three courses given by university professors. Prof. Walter R. Livingston of the history department will lecture on the British commonwealth of nations since 1900; the teaching of English will be explained by Prof. Millington F. Carpenter of the English department; and Prof. Harlan Hatcher, a visiting member of the English faculty, will discuss contemporary American and British literature.

Many Activities

Activities arranged by the university during the school term will include several lecture series, an open air concert once each week, beginning next week, by the all-state high school band, and at least one Saturday excursion sponsored by the extension division.

These will be augmented by the usual recreational activities afforded through university facilities.

Four More Couples Marry as Alumni Weddings Grow

Jiacoletti-Mousolite, Wilcox-Fansher Included in List; Turner-Hawley, Pyle-Carmody Announce Engagement, Marriage

Regardless of where a young man's fancy may turn in the spring, reports of mid-summer marriages indicate a trend of more serious thoughts as the seasons progress. Announcements of two alumni weddings and two approaching marriages bring four more University of Iowa graduates and former students into the list of the marksmanship of Dan Cupid.

Couple Plans to Marry at Local Church

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Mousolite of Cedar Rapids have announced the engagement of their daughter, Eileen, to James F. Jiacoletti of Kemmerer, Wyo.

Miss Mousolite graduated from Coe college in 1927, and later took graduate work at the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Kappa Phi sorority. During the last two years she has been teaching languages and journalism in the high school at Superior, Wyo.

Mr. Jiacoletti is a graduate of the University of Wyoming and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He was a member of the varsity basketball team for two years. For the last two years he has been a coach of athletics in the Superior schools and will return there this year.

Wed Helen Mayer Tomorrow

Veeder Shankland to Wed Helen Mayer Tomorrow

Helen Rosamond Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mayer, 313 S. Dodge street, will become the bride of Veeder J. Shankland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shankland of Ann Arbor, Mich., at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the First Methodist church. The Rev. Charles G. Fort of Vinton, former local Methodist student pastor and a Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity brother, will officiate.

Mr. Shankland has chosen Richard Allen of Ossian, the bride's cousin, as best man. Ushers will be Gordon Thatcher of Iowa City and Harold Springer of Royal Oak, Mich.

Following the ceremony, a four course bridal dinner will be served in the fountain room of Iowa Union.

Turner-Hawley
The engagement and approaching marriage of Rowena Hawley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Hawley of Corning, and Ned Turner, son of Gov. and Mrs. Dan Turner of Corning and Des Moines, has been announced. The marriage will be solemnized Thursday at Corning.

Miss Hawley is a graduate of Grinnell college and has since been teaching at Corning.

Mr. Turner received a degree from the college of law in 1930. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi, social fraternity, and Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, and is practicing law at Corning.

Pyle-Carmody
Evelyn Carmody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew E. Carmody of Melrose, became the bride of William Branham Pyle, son of the late E. J. and Mrs. Myrtle Pyle of Russell, July 22.

The bride attended Iowa State college at Ames for one year, and graduated from the University of Iowa in June. She is a member of Athena society, University players, and Newman club.

Mr. Pyle graduated from Iowa State college in 1931, and is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Miss Love Honors Elyne Lucky

Elyne Lucky, whose marriage to Cecil A. Roberts will take place July 31, was honored at an informal party Friday evening by Marjorie Love, at her home, 215 S. Johnson street.

The bride-elect was presented with a shower of gifts by Pattie Albaugh, dressed as Cupid. Games of bingo were played during the evening hours, with prizes for high score awarded to Ellen Fairchild and Monica Sanger. Other guests were Ardis Sanger, Nellie Argo and Miss Lucky.

Elks Ladies to Hold Bridge, Tea

Mrs. E. M. Hogan and Mrs. Lou Clarke will be co-hostesses at a bridge and tea to be given at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday under the auspices of the Elks Ladies. The party will take place at the clubhouse.

PERSONALS
Elyne Lucky, 331 S. Johnson street, left yesterday morning for Nevada, Mo., where her marriage to Cecil Roberts will take place July 31.

Louis J. Waldbauer, 111 Park road, returned to his home yesterday from a local hospital where he underwent an appendectomy.

Prof. and Mrs. Herbert Martin and family, 216 Melrose court, leave today by motor for the east. They will spend part of the summer in Prince Edward Island, Canada, the former home of Professor Martin.

Charles Kimmel, 21 W. Burlington street, and Matt Olansky, 515 Clark street, left last night to spend the week end in Des Moines.

Ione Hosman, instructor in the home economics department, left last night for her home in Omaha, Neb.

Mrs. O. H. Dunlap of Kalona spent yesterday with her daughter, Mrs. Bess Adams, 109 S. Summit street.

Mrs. John Beals, 726 Iowa avenue, is spending the week end at the home of Mrs. A. L. Broxam, in Maquoketa.

Prof. Paul L. Sayre of the college of law is leaving today on a business trip to Lakota, N. D.

What Shall I Serve--?

A Daily Hint to Hostesses on Tempting Appetites While It's Hot

- Two Seasonal Recipes
Remember the good old times you used to have when you visited Grandpa? And how she used to bring out all those good things to eat—pickles and bread and butter and jam and apple sauce cake?
- Today Mrs. Ernest L. Bright, 220 George street, has given us her favorite recipes for apple sauce cake and saccharine pickles—two very seasonal recipes. This week and next are probably the best for canning pickles, and apple sauce cake keeps softer and fresher at this time of year than any other kind.
- Apple Sauce Cake
1 c. sugar
3 teas. cinnamon
1 teas. cloves
1 1/2 c. unsweetened apple sauce
- Mixed with
2 teas. soda
1 c. raisins
3/4 c. flour
1 teas. baking powder
1/2 c. melted fat
Mix ingredients in order given. Bake in well greased loaf tin. Takes about one hour in a rather moderate oven.
- Saccharine Pickles
Wash small or medium pickles. Cover with boiling water and let stand over night. Drain and dry. Then fill jars and cover with following mixture, which has been previously boiled and allowed to cool:
1 gal. vinegar
2 tbs. mixed spices
1 scant c. salt
1 teas. alum
1 large tbs. saccharine

gold standard, the stabilization of silver in the Orient and possibly other questions.

But he also said the Versailles treaty "must yield to the dictates of conscience and the demands of justice."

"With the settlement at Lausanne," he added, "must inevitably go sooner or later the war guilt clause and other changes in the treaty will come along."

Struggle Near Close

Borah opened his speech with the statement that the "appalling struggle" which began 18 years ago with the opening of the World War "seems to be drawing to a close."

"Lausanne may be made the beginning of the end of this long period of human suffering and its beneficial effects may be carried into the homes of the harassed and tortured people in every country under the sun," he continued.

"That which gives hope, the promise of a new era, is the spirit which came finally to pervade the conference. The old deadly doctrine of 'strict executions' died at Lausanne, and for that, let the world rejoice."

Business Good in Air Travel

It may look like depression to some people, but to the airlines 1932 is just the opposite color, according to Jack Curtis, manager of the local airport.

All of the planes are flying with full loads and have been for some time, he said. Passengers are requested to give at least 48 hours advance notice of their intention to fly and even then many of them are disappointed.

Many Iowa City residents are taking advantage of the faster time possible in air travel, he said. Roy E. Maxwell, 114 E. Market street, arrived on the 6 o'clock plane this morning from Omaha and Dr. R. H. Volland, 4 Bella Vista place, left for Chicago.

Hugo Weyerrauch, president of the National Manufacturing company of Sterling, Ill., boarded the 6:30 p.m. plane here last night for Los Angeles. From there he expects to fly to San Francisco and back to Iowa City.

Alpha Xi Deltas Give Raising Party

Twenty local women were guests of Alpha Xi Delta sorority at an "Eskimo Frolic" last night at the chapter house. Various card games formed the diversion of the evening.

The committee in charge was Lucille Morsch, Mrs. George Frohman, Esther Bishop, and Blossom Henton.

Sugg Named by Turner

DES MOINES (AP)—Governor Turner today appointed Dr. H. H. Sugg of Clinton as a member of the state board of health to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. C. T. Lesani of Mt. Airy.

Competition Strong

"Competition, however, from foreign countries, such as the United States and some of the South American states, is becoming increasingly strong.

"Great Britain has granted 10 per cent preferences on fresh fruits, but it has already become patent that in the case of citrus this preference can not be effective.

Further Consideration

"The position is such that the union is forced to ask for further consideration of its fruit exports and also in regard to its wines and tobacco."

The Irish Free State delegation today clarified its position in view of the present Anglo-Irish tariff war by declaring it will participate to the fullest extent possible.

Order 60 Day Suspension for Chicago Board of Trade

Base Action on Refusals of Privilege

National Grain Group Refused Clearing House Rights

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Suspension of the Chicago board of trade for 60 days for violation of the grain futures act in refusing clearing house privileges to the Farmers National Grain corporation was ordered today by the cabinet committee created by the act.

The findings made public by Secretary Hyde, Attorney General Mitchell, and Secretary Lamont would make the suspension effective 15 days from today.

May Mitigate Penalty
 The commission reserved jurisdiction, however, to entertain an application for mitigation of penalty upon a showing that the board of trade had receded from its position in excluding the grain cooperative.

The Farmers National is a member of the board of trade but was denied the privileges of the clearing house. It contended that under the grain futures act specifying that cooperatives should have full privileges for trading facilities the board of trade was beyond the law.

"We are of the opinion," the commission held, "that the petitioner has sustained the burden of proof in respect to its qualifications for enjoyment of all privileges of the board of trade, including the clearing privilege; that the clearing privilege has been unjustly denied it, and that the denial is the result of rules established and action by the board of trade, including the clearing privilege, which is directly responsible for this denial, and by that denial it has violated the provisions of the grain futures act."

Will Go to Court
 It was indicated after the decision was made public that the board of trade would carry the case immediately into court to obtain a stay of execution. It was said board officials would meet today in Chicago to study the order.

Board Will Not Accept Corporation

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP)—Peter B. Carey, president of the Chicago board of trade, today said the organization would not accept the Farmers' National Grain corporation for clearing house privileges and would appeal the matter to "the highest court in the land, if necessary."

Carey's statement followed news from Washington of the board's suspension for 60 days for refusing clearing house privileges to the grain corporation.

"Barred by Rules"
 "The Chicago board of trade will not accept the Farmers' National Grain corporation for clearing house privileges of the association from which it is barred by rules governing the clearing association," Carey's formal statement said.

"The matter will be appealed to the courts at once. Under the grain futures act we are entitled to appeal any decision of the commission and we are prepared to carry the matter to the supreme court if necessary."

Suspension Expected
 It was generally understood in trading circles that the board of trade expected the ordered suspension.

Carey said the 15 days allotted the board before the suspension becomes effective would be ample time to effect an appeal and present the case to the United States circuit court here.

George Milnor, general manager of the grain stabilization corporation and a power in the Farmers' National Grain corporation, said officers of the corporation were gratified by the suspension order.

"The refusal of the clearing association to admit co-operatives to membership privileges has been a hardship," he said.

SKIPPY—The Chair Yields

Dictator's Aid

Franz Bracht, lord mayor of Essen whose appointment as Prussian minister of the interior and deputy to Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany, gives him practically unlimited power over the mighty state of Prussia. Though von Papen is the real dictator and gives the orders, it is Bracht that will have to see they're carried out.

WARM GREETING FOR BYRD SHIP

It was 95 in the shade and a whole lot hotter out on Chicago's lake front when Admiral Richard E. Byrd's famous south pole expedition ship, City of New York, was towed into Belmont Harbor of that city. The ship had been towed by tug via the Great Lakes from Montreal. The craft will remain in Chicago and be placed on exhibition during the world's fair next year.

While Hoover Gets "Help" on Prohibition, Democratic Leader Studies Economics

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Amidst uncertainties as to how far they will go, Herbert Hoover has accumulated a variety of suggestions on how to handle the prohibition question and Franklin D. Roosevelt goes ahead gathering advice on economics.

What will come from it all probably won't be known until the presidential campaign picks up speed next month; but in each case the decision may have a crucial bearing in the weeks from then until the November elections.

That is why the prohibition section of the president's speech accepting renomination here Aug. 11 is being awaited so widely; and why the New York governor's conferences with prominent financially-minded Democrats are causing speculation.

Keeps Own Counsel
 Apparently Mr. Hoover is keeping his prohibition intentions strictly to himself, while giving ear to proposals for and against making an open bid for support of the dry organizations.

He is aware of sentiment in the east, as it was shown in the Republican convention where big delegations were overcome only after a stiff dispute on their attempt to get a plank submitting the question of repeal.

The plank that won, proposing submission of a substitute allowing for retention of federal control to a degree, did so by virtue of speechmaking and votes by close allies and friends of the administration.

What Course?
 There has been no indication that he intends either to repudiate that plank or to defend the status quo. The platform took the position that "the progress which has been thus far made must be preserved, while the evils must be eliminated."

Having already had his prohibition say, in which he embraced the platform favoring repeal and Volstead law modification, Governor Roosevelt has directed his attention to cementing the party ranks in the east and conferences which gave him the chance to combat any fear of him in financial circles.

This week he selected New Jersey—a hotbed of opposition to him for the nomination—as the place for his next speech. At Seagirt Aug. 27, he and his convention foe, Mayor Hague of Jersey City, and possibly Alfred E. Smith, will be side by side.

Next week Governor Ely of Massachusetts, another Roosevelt enemy for and against making an open bid for support of the dry organizations.

New Governor?
 To top it off, Lieut. Governor Herbert H. Lehman, close both to Al Smith and to Roosevelt, is expected to announce for the nomination to succeed the presidential nominee in the governorship—with both Smith and Roosevelt backing.

The domestic economic troubles, the foreign situation, and the needs

Book Reviews

State Fair by Phil Stong; Century, $2.00. Reviewed by Alvin Coons.
 Phil Stong, a native Iowan, has apparently gone romantic on his old home state after an extended absence and so decides to write a book about it.

With the state fair as a setting, Stong takes one week from the lives of the Frakes and supplies an atmosphere and a flock of details that are partly correct.

There is Blue Boy, the world's finest boar, a really good character, who snoozes and grunts his way to the grand championship; and the storekeeper who is always so certain that the wrong thing will happen—a good character even though he didn't quite fit in with the rest of the book.

Margy and Wayne, the Frake children, who quarrel with their lovers and go to the fair to learn about life from a reporter and a gambler's daughter respectively, to supply the sex element, which with all of its philosophic saneness seems a bit amateurish, and not at all true of a girl of 17 and a boy of 18 or so.

Somehow, the fair itself doesn't ring quite true. I was looking for the dust, the heat, and the noise of the crowds—all so typical of Des Moines at fair time. And the smell—I don't care how fine a hog Blue Boy was, I'll bet he had the same smell as the rest of the swine.

But Stong has evidently steered clear of that sort of thing. Like the old grand who decides to write of his alma mater after all these years, he seems to have forgotten all but the romantic and the ideal. There are many who will welcome this sort of thing about Iowa—those who have felt all along that Iowa was getting a raw deal from the realists who seemed only to emphasize dirt, drudgery, hopelessness.

State Fair is easy reading, interesting, and colorful, but to me, it just isn't quite Iowa or the Iowa state fair.

of farmer and railroads have engaged Roosevelt in conferences with such men as Owen D. Young, Bernard M. Baruch and Col. E. M. House.

Of the talk at Hyde Park today with Young, the governor would say only that they discussed "facts, trends and needs."

Long highly esteemed in both domestic and international financial circles, Young roused much comment in the spring with his endorsement of a two billion dollar federal expenditure on construction, reciprocal tariff adjustments and a test of the equalization fee as a farm relief measure.

Long Conclaves
 At the White House meanwhile, President Hoover also has kept engaged in conference after conference, some lasting well into the night, with both political leaders and men prominent in private life. He will leave the Wife of Caesar by Berthe Mellett; Brewer, Warren, and Putnam, $2.00. Reviewed by Verna Emanuel.

Berthe Mellett writes a story of Washington and heaps it full of senators and representatives. The story begins before the war when Blount Marvel, a representative, and his wife, Leda, go to Washington. Then Leda is discovered by an old sweetheart who had deserted her to marry the daughter of a mayonnaise manufacturer.

He still loves Leda and she him, but she wouldn't leave Blount because she felt her husband needed her to be successful. Leda and her husband rise to fame and fortune through the friendship of Judith Webster and her husband.

Leda, a half-breed Creole, is "wife" to Caesar. She is a soft-spoken, spineless creature who didn't possess the courage to turn out an alley cat that came to their apartment. Her husband, Caesar, gains his ends through his friends' help rather than his own power. He is anything but brilliant in fields other than politics. How he was not able to discern that the child his wife bore was Gary's rather than his, when the resemblance was so exact, is beyond the reader's comprehension.

A bright spot of the book is the characterization of Judith Webster. She made one think of Alice Longworth—she was a leader who cared little for conventions; a woman unafraid of critics.

The humor falls a little flat. Scenes like the one where Leda used a piece of material and made a dress for the evening by the use of pins, then forgetting and taking a pin out to fasten a curtain, should have been funny, but they were disgusting instead.

A long story at the end of which the reader is apt to feel ashamed of the cowardly Leda; disgusted with her stupid husband.

Arms Parley Resolves Cut in War Materials, Closes

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 23 (AP)—The international disarmament conference, which held its opening session almost six months ago, approved a resolution promising substantial reduction in armaments today and then shut up for an indefinite period.

The negotiators probably will get down to work again at a conference session in November or they may put it off until February. They closed the first phase of their work with scant pride in the past but with strong hopes for the future.

41 Nations Approve
 The final resolution, approved by 41 nations—including the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan—sketched the results of the months of labor and laid down a program of procedure designed to achieve agreement on material arms cuts during the coming months.

Both Soviet Russia and Germany voted against the resolution, explaining that in doing so they were supporting disarmament. Germany objected because the document omitted reference to equality of all nations in the matter of arming, and Russia considered the terms not sufficiently specific.

These were recorded as the results already attained: acceptance of the principle of abolishing all bombardment from the air; limitation of heavy mobile land artillery and the unit tonnage of tanks; prohibition of chemical, bacteriological and incendiary warfare and the establishment of an international commission to supervise execution of the disarmament convention.

Will Make Investigation
 Looking ahead, the conference declared that the reduction of effectives, the limitation of arms budgets, the manufacture of armaments, and naval reductions should form the basis of examination during the recess by special commissions of the conference or by negotiators representing the interested powers.

Experts of the great naval powers are expected to meet in London in August to begin discussions lead-

Warns Iowans Not to Invest Money in Jennings Estate Plan

DES MOINES, July 23 (AP)—The office of the secretary of state in Washington in a letter to Attorney General John Fletcher today referred to the William Jennings estate plan, in which Iowans had been invited to invest, as a "get-rich-quick" scheme.

Fletcher said he had sought information on the plan under which it was claimed the investors would seek to recover for American heirs an estate left by Sir William Jennings of England. Investors at Hamburg, requested his aid, he said.

The secretary of state's office classed the Jennings estate along with the "Sir Francis Drake estate," and other "estates" to which subscriptions have been solicited from Americans.

Woman Brings Suit for Injury to Hip

STORM LAKE, July 23 (AP)—Susie Carver filed suit today for $39,770 damages against the Skelly Oil company as the result of a fall last winter which she attributed to the negligence of a company employe.

She suffered a broken hip and was confined to a hospital 19 weeks, the petition says.

Returns Expenses
 DES MOINES (AP)—State Senator W. G. Patterson of Burt returned to the state treasurer $437.85 received under the legislative expense act and $52.42 interest. The law recently was declared unconstitutional.

The cost per person for police protection in towns of from 1,000 to 12,000 in Kentucky is $1.08.

Men's Faces

(From the Charles City Press)

King Camp Gillette, who has just died, may be said facetiously to have changed the face of civilization. He did more with men's faces than had been done since Alexander the Great introduced to Europe the quaint Persian custom of shaving, and more than all the armies of beauty experts have ever been able to do to women's faces.

His achievement is one of the romantic business strides of this century. It was only in 1903 that he started out to fight the old-fashioned razor blade entrenched by more than 2,000 years of use, with a revolutionary device which was patently ridiculous.

Fashions in facial adornment will still come and go. Men may still go bearded in varying degree and divers places for ages to come. But they will hardly return to the backwoods and medieval type more suggestive of the aboriginal cave man than of modern civilization.

Europe may not intend to give Uncle Sam a slap in the face but she is perfectly willing to give him a good whack in the pocketbook. —Boston Evening Transcript

Among the other surprising things connected with the adjournment of congress is that the senate apparently did not appoint an interim committee to investigate anything it would take a yacht or ocean liner to reach. —Cedar Rapids Gazette

TODAY'S TOPICS

Two children — one four years old, the other 15 months — hitch hiking with their parents along the road from Cleveland, Ohio, to Minneapolis, were killed the other day when an automobile plowed into the group.

Consideration for the less fortunate among us, as long as common rules of safety seem to have failed, might be made part of the code of auto drivers.

There may be some excuse for auto accidents on foggy nights, or in dense traffic where some drivers are bound to be careless; but on the open road and in full light of day, there is no excuse.

American occupation of Nicaragua from May 1926 to January 1932, reports the state department, has cost the lives of 45 U. S. marines.

Compared with millions of lives lost in the great wars 45 fatalities seems no more than a drop in the well-known bucket.

Nicaragua never asked for American occupation and protection. They were sent there by their government to protect the life and property of Americans whose lives and property were hardly in danger.

U. S. intervention all came about when a few dozen hot-headed and hot-blooded Liberals decided to stage a revolution early in May, 1926.

Previous to that time, the 100 U. S. marines stationed as a guard at the American legation were withdrawn in 1925, after 13 years of service.

James D. O'Reilly, municipal employe of Chicago for the last 25 years, owed the city $34 in taxes.

That made no difference to city officials who could see only one way. That way, of course, was the unfair one.

Book Bits — (From These Restless Heads, by Branch Cabell) I remark that as the flag moves thus restlessly above the unseen persons whose talking I hear every now and then, so do the heavens move inexorably in their old order above its demerited flutterings.

That made no difference to city officials who could see only one way. That way, of course, was the unfair one. Chicago will go down in history as being the prime example of municipal failure, and her officials will go down beside her as classic portrayals of blindness.

BEHIND THE SCENES

— IN HOLLYWOOD — By HARRISON CARROLL. STUDIO GOSSIP, FILM SCANDAL, SCREEN COMMENT.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Other rumors to the contrary, the person Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer really has in mind for "The White Sister" is Helen Hayes. # Democrats to Center Work on 'Doubtfuls'

Will Not Concede Any States to G. O. P., Says Chairman

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Democracy will concentrate many of its big guns this fall on certain "hopelessly Republican" states in an attempt to wrest them from the Hoover-Curtis forces.

Frequently in Democratic campaigns of the past, the electoral votes of such states have been conceded to the enemy and all the campaign fire has been directed toward states which held more promise of victory.

But James A. Farley, national chairman, made it clear today that such strategy will not be followed this time.

States like Pennsylvania, Ohio, Vermont, Michigan, and New Hampshire, which rarely go Democratic, will receive just as much attention as any others, he said.

Confident of Outcome

"All reports we have had from around the country are encouraging and we are confident of the outcome. I am predicting Governor Roosevelt's election by the greatest majority ever given a Democratic nominee in a two-party fight."

"But nevertheless we are going to make an aggressive campaign in every state in the union. Regardless of the fact that some states have been hopelessly Republican in the past, we are not considering any state lost yet and will do battle in each one of them."

Farley will go to Washington Monday night to consult with Democratic leaders over the detailed campaign plans he has drawn up.

Leaders to Meet

Upon his return, he will send invitations to organization leaders in every state to come to New York as soon as headquarters are formally opened on August 1 to go over their plans.

This gathering will bring together the 45 or more "key men" upon whose shoulders Farley has placed the full responsibility for running the ball-drive in their individual sections.

Farley returned today from a "good-will" trip on which he had sought to draw all of "Al" Smith's convention supporters into line behind the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.

He expressed confidence that Governor Joseph B. Ely and Governor Roosevelt would have a "satisfactory" conference next week. Ely is the only anti-Roosevelt leader not yet definitely committed to supporting the presidential nominee.

Roosevelt Confers

Meanwhile, at his Hyde park estate, Roosevelt himself was continuing a series of conferences which is giving him a clear insight into a variety of the country's outstanding problems.

Owen D. Young, industrial leader and authority on reparations, talked with the governor about "facts, trends and needs," as Roosevelt himself put it.

The governor said he had not asked Young to take any part in the campaign organization, "but I expect to see him fairly often."

Russell C. Ross to Occupy Pulpit Today for Baptist Church

Russell C. Ross, who for the last two years has been head of the speech and dramatics department, at the University of Dubuque, will be the supply preacher at the Baptist church today and next Sunday.

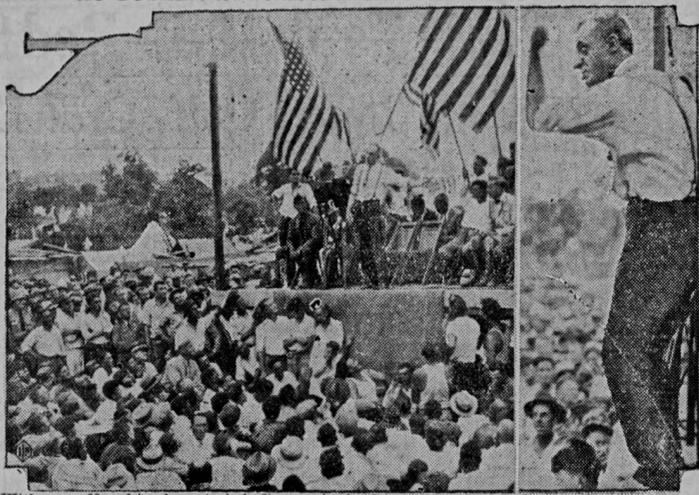

In addition to his teaching work, Mr. Ross had been supply preacher for a number of Iowa churches, including churches at Washington, Hawarden, and Dubuque.

The Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Dierks have taken a group of young people of the church to Iowa Falls for two weeks to attend the Iowa Baptist summer assembly. Those going to the assembly from Iowa City are Cleo Workman, Edna Walters, Ellen Grimm, Norma Dills, Ruth Richardson, and Lottie Webber.

AS BUTLER ADDRESSED CAPITAL BONUS ARMY

With coat off and in characteristic fiery attitude, General Smedley D. Butler, former commander of the United States marine corps, is shown as he addressed the ragged and destitute war veterans comprising the Bonus Army in Washington, during his visit to one of their camps. General Butler exhorted the men to stick until the government pays them full value of their bonus certificates, asserting that quitters were "no damned good." At right is a fine close-up of the fiery general as he warmed up.

Von Papen's Dictatorship Move Put Junkers in German Saddle

Ousting of Prussian Cabinet and Proclamation of Martial Law Seen as Death Blow to German Democracy — Hitler Influence Credited With Move.

OTTO BRAUN • FRANZ VON PAPPEN • ADOLF HITLER.

BERLIN, July 23 — In taking over, under virtual dictatorship, the vast state of Prussia and proclaiming a military state of emergency in Berlin and the nearby province of Brandenburg, the cabinet of Chancellor Franz von Papen has struck a hard blow at the roots of democratic government in Germany and once more put the junker party of pre-war kaiser days in control of the country.

Von Papen's seizure of the government of Prussia is more significant than at first appears, for that mightiest state in Germany, comprising two-thirds of the entire country, had hitherto been under Socialist management and was regarded as a stronghold of German democracy.

Swift Move

The swift move, authorized by President Paul von Hindenburg, placed the Prussian police, numbering 90,000, the chief armed body in Germany after the regular army, directly under the control of von Papen and his ministers and automatically ousted Otto Braun, premier of Prussia, and his entire cabinet.

On the refusal of Prussian officials to comply with orders from Berlin, von Papen appointed a federal commissioner (himself) with supreme power and authority to use the troops of the regular army to enforce his orders if necessary. President von Hindenburg himself named General von Rundstedt of the German army as military commandant over the affected areas.

This martial law edict has brought on the gravest crisis which Germany has had to face since the World war. It abrogates the articles of the constitution which deal with freedom of speech, the right of citizens to assemble, the rights of private property and the privacy of telegraph, telephone and postal communications. All these essentials of national liberty may be curtailed by appointed military authority as necessity dictates.

Resistance to the orders of this military authority or of his deputies may be punishable by death. High treason, mob violence, arson or sabotage may also entail capital punishment instead of life imprisonment as hitherto.

Behind the drastic move political observers see the hands of Adolf Hitler, Fascist leader, and Alfred Hugenberg, leader of the Nationalist party, who are known to have demanded

B.E.F. Heads Toward Home From Capital

Only 3,500 Left Out of Probable 22,000 in Washington

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP) — On the cushions, on the rods, and on the broad highways, members of the bonus army today were heading home, leaving only a fraction of their original strength in the nation's capital.

Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, said today that only about 3,500 of the city's unexpected and indigent guests remained for officials to worry about, and kind hearted Washingtonians to feed.

Hines expressed the opinion that at no time had there been more than 8,000 of the bonus seeking veterans here but police by actual count on parade days set the number at 11,700. Leaders of the army claimed a total of 22,000 at the peak.

Most Use Free Tickets

Most of the departing guests went on "the plush," presenting railroad tickets furnished by the veterans administration. Others scorned to become "softies" and went out the way they came, on top of and underneath bus cars.

A third large group rode away in the automobiles they came in, motors propelled by gasoline furnished by the government and charged against the bonus certificates of the car owners.

The deadline for applications for transportation loans is midnight Sunday night.

The treasury department served notice on those remaining that they would have to get off government property, where they have dug themselves in, by Monday at midnight—or else.

Californian Leaves

One of the first to leave today was Roy W. Robertson of Los Angeles, crippled leader of the California contingent which staged a four day and four night march in front of the capitol. He went in his own car driven by a Negro member of his group.

A few of his followers left in town elected Arthur Scott of Los Angeles, as their leader. Scott said all of his crowd would leave by Thursday.

In his analysis of the bonus army, General Hines said investigation disclosed that at least 25 per cent of the veterans here were already drawing some sort of cash benefit from the veterans administration. He also found that between 500 and 800 of the men had no World war service record.

The cheapest police protection in Kentucky is in the town of Green-up where the cost is 33 cents per capita.

Ripley Explanations

YESTERDAY'S CARTOON The fire that lasted for 78 days—During the winter of 1906 spontaneous combustion started a fire in McCarthy's Rag Shop, Troy, N. Y., and actually burned and smoldered for four days before it was noticed. The building, which was filled with cotton waste, was entirely surrounded by a huge wall of ice, preventing passers-by from looking in.

Then, when the fire was discovered, the firemen were greatly handicapped by the immediate formation of ice from their water hose, which, after some days, gave the building the appearance of a huge ice block. For 78 days the fire burned despite the ceaseless efforts of the fire fighters, and on the last day it took a combined force of 15 streams of water to quench the flames.

Parties Work in Convention Through Week

Completion of Tickets, Drafting Platforms Comes to End

DES MOINES, July 23 (AP) — In their state conventions this week the two major state political parties completed their tickets and drafted the platforms on which they will seek Iowa votes this fall.

The judicial conventions this week and a gathering of Socialists in Des Moines Sunday remained to be completed before the convention season closed and the active campaign got under way. Two congressional conventions also are scheduled.

Judicial Meeting

The Republican judicial convention will meet Tuesday in Cedar Rapids and the Democratic Friday in Des Moines. Nominations for justices of the supreme court will be considered.

F. F. Faville of Ft. Dodge, Lawrence DeGraff of Des Moines and H. F. Wagner of Sigourney, the justices whose terms expire, are candidates for renomination in the Republican convention. Names mentioned for the Democratic posts include M. F. Donegan of Davenport and J. W. Kintzinger of Dubuque.

Democrats of the seventh congressional district will meet Tuesday in Council Bluffs to select their nominee for congress. Those in the field are John A. Green of Council Bluffs, James Pearson of Shenandoah, John F. Porterfield of Hamburg, Albert McGinn of Council Bluffs, Otha D. Wearin of Hastings and W. P. Welch of Logan.

To Decide on Whiting

First district Democratic representatives will meet Aug. 2 in Mt. Pleasant to decide between Max A. Conrad of Burlington, E. C. Elcher of Washington, Stanley Watts of Birmingham and S. D. Whiting of Iowa City.

Completing their state slate in the convention here Friday the Democrats selected N. G. Kraschel of Harlan as the nominee for lieutenant governor and C. W. Storms of Ft. Madison for state auditor.

The Republicans in their convention earlier in the week nominated Karl Fischer of Vinton for auditor of state and Thomas E. Martin of Iowa City for railroad commissioner.

The conventions also drafted platforms and witnessed the selection and organization of the new state central committees.

Sees Victim Buried, Then Leaves Town

Also Leaves Murder Warrant in Hands of Officers

BEDFORD, July 23 (AP) — Elza Jones, whose son-in-law, Thomas J. Allen, 26, was slain Tuesday and the body buried in a shallow grave on the Jones farm, was sought today on a warrant charging him with murder.

He disappeared late yesterday after attending funeral service for the victim. With other members of his family, Jones had gone to the office of his attorney, J. R. Locke. The other members of the family were seen to leave the office, but Jones was not with them.

Takes to Highway

Later he was reported seen with Harry Hartzler, his brother-in-law, driving westward on U. S. highway 34. Hartzler returned to Bedford this morning but Jones was not with him.

A midnight meeting of authorities led to the issuance of a warrant against Jones early today. County attorney William Melkie filed the information with Richard Campbell, county clerk, who was called out of bed. Judge George A. Thompson came to Bedford to issue the warrant.

Mr. Jones is Out

Melkie, former County Attorney O. J. Kirkette, two state agents and county officers then went to Jones' home to make the arrest. They searched the place but were unable to find him.

Jones was the last person known to

Adventurous Prince of Persia King in Parlor of Pulchritude

Scion of Royal House, Who Was Soldier, Aviator, Newsboy, Cartoonist and Movie Director, Found His Forte in the Beauticians' Art.

CHICAGO.—A wandering foot, a taste for adventure and a royal background—all have combined to turn Prince Francois Khan-Nazare-Ara, scion of the royal house of Persia, into Mr. F. Nazare, whose specialty is providing milledly with lips that lure, eyes that make poets grab feverishly for paper and pencil and skin like the delicate petals of a rose.

It is a long trail, this road traveled by the royal beautician, and it begins in Persia, glamorous land of the "Hundred and One Nights," where he was born, and winds through a veritable labyrinth of vicissitudes to his present position.

Among the many strange roles that go to make up the complicated pattern of this young man's life was that of soldier in the French Foreign Legion and later an aviator in the air service during the World war. He spent some time in a German prison camp and on the conclusion of hostilities was decorated with the French Legion of Honor for gallantry.

Popular in Paris

He was popular in Paris, where he worked as a movie director, but the gay capital lacked the action craved by the scion of royalty and he came to the United States. Here he struck a bad patch, and for a time was forced to earn his coffee and rolls selling newspapers on New York streets.

But Fortune smiled and the Prince, or Mr. Nazare as he prefers to be called, got a cartooning job in Hollywood, where he shortly secured an assignment to make a travel film in Central America.

Owing to his cameraman's addiction to the flowing bowl resulting in that worthy's missing the boat, Nazare found himself in Guatemala with a camera he didn't know how to use. But again fortune smiled.

An official of the Guatemalan Government solved his problem by exchanging his 20 feet of raw film for 35,000 feet of finished film left behind for some unexplained reason by a preceding movie man. So the Prince brought back the goods after all.

Though Nazare is only 36, there are many more interludes in his life, such as delivering milk and running errands to keep the wolf from the door. He went to work for a Parisian cosmetics firm and was asked to resign because of his inventing a new perfume spray. But evidently he found his niche in the beautifying business, for he is now general manager of a company that specializes in enhancing milady's pulchritude.

Strangely enough, this man of action is making a success of his job for he finds that the knowledge of human nature he has garnered in his wanderings invaluable in dealing with the complicated psychological problem called woman.

Own Philosophy

Out of the vast store of impressions, ideas and slants on life that he has accumulated in many parts of the earth, Nazare has built up a philosophy of his own. His remarks on the fair sex are particularly enlightening. No matter how she may look asserts the princely Jack-of-all-trades, a woman will never lose faith in her power to attract men. And regardless of how she appears on the surface, in her innermost heart a woman's interest lies in love-making. Therefore woman's eagerness to make herself more desirable, more seductive, transcends every other ambition of her sex.

Women, says this royal philosopher, will forego luxuries; they may even sacrifice some of the necessities of life, but they will never let go of the conviction that their attractiveness can never lessen. Of course being human, they are sometimes assailed by doubts, and it is then they realize they need a little help. That is when the beauty shop serves its purpose. Like an oasis to a traveler in the desert, it is there for the woman who reaches out for glamor, youth, romance—all steel filings that fly to the magnet of beauty.

To this end the royal beautician has dedicated his life, for he says when he gives a woman beauty, he's putting the world at her feet.

Florida Asks Prosecution of State Men

Demand Follows Probe Into "Torture" Slaying

RAIFORD, Fla., July 23 (AP)—Vigorous prosecution of two Florida camp officials for the alleged "torture" murder of Arthur Mallefert, 19 year old New Jersey convict, was demanded tonight by the board of state institutions.

The demand followed an exhaustive inquiry into prison conditions, during which approximately 80 convicts at the Sunbeam road camp near Jacksonville, where Mallefert died, were questioned.

Convicts Testify

More than a score of convicts testified they had seen Mallefert and other prisoners brutally beaten or mistreated while most of the others declared they themselves had not been cruelly handled and had seen no such treatment accorded others.

Nathan Mayo, head of the board, said results of the investigation led them to insist the prison camp authorities be prosecuted to the limit.

Capt. George Courson and Solomon Higginbotham, a guard, were indicted for first degree murder by the Duval county grand jury at Jacksonville following upon the death of Mallefert, who was found strangled in a "sweat box" with heavy stocks clamped on his feet and a chain fastened from his neck to a rafter.

Strangled in Sweat Box

"Mallefert met his death," convict Bob Blake testified, "because he was exhausted, fainted and fell forward in the sweat box and was strangled to death by the chain before help could reach him."

Convict James Travis testified he saw Courson beat Mallefert with a three inch water hose "until Mallefert sank to the ground."

"He beat him from head to foot," Travis said, "and when Mallefert cried and pleaded for help, he laughed and cursed him and beat him some more."

County Files for Collection of School Fund

A petition, seeking to recover $1,500 on a promissory note for Johnson county to be added to the school fund, was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court yesterday by County Attorney F. B. Olesen.

The following persons were named as defendants in the petition: Daniel Leuz, Nellie Mable McCaffree, A. E. Maine, Hawkeye Lumber company, Samuel G. Hill, and the Ely Trust and Savings bank.

The petition stated that on Oct. 4, 1923, the sum of $1,500 was loaned to Alle E. Leuz, who gave the county a promissory note secured by a real estate mortgage. The money was to be used for school purposes.

Since the death of Mrs. Leuz, Daniel Leuz and Nellie Mable McCaffree have had control of the real estate which secured the promissory note. The petition also said that the other defendants had liens on the property.

3,015 in State Pans

DES MOINES (AP) — The state board of control reported that the population in the penal institutions reached a new high peak this month with a total of 3,015, an increase of 153 over the same date a year ago. The July 1 populations were: Anamosa reformatory 1,441; Ft. Madison penitentiary 1,470 and Rockwell City reformatory for women 104.

A steam heating system for airplanes has been developed at the army field at Dayton, Ohio.

Sportively Speaking

By Ron Tallman

Our co-worker and former conductor of this column, Gene Thorne, departed yesterday morning in company with Harold Vestermarck, Bert Brown and "Dutch" Schmidt for Los Angeles to cover the Olympic games for readers of The Daily Iowan. And so, for the next few weeks, we fill in as a pinch-hitter for Mr. Thorne.

Thirteen tennis stars withdrew from the famous Seabright Invitational tournament in the east the other day and it was all because the club officials refused to drop its rule withdrawing club privileges as soon as a player was eliminated—a strike for more expensive privileges as it were.

For years the "simon-pures," particularly of tennis and golf, have been getting by as amateurs while in reality, in some instances at least they have been gaining more reimbursement for their play than have their professional cousins. Large expense accounts and gifts have been added to their collections of trophies, but still they call them "amateurs."

While on the subject of tennis, we might make note of William T. Tilden II, and his defense of the world's pro championship. Seeded number 1 of the American entries, Big Bill will have a tough time indeed in defending his laurels, but most of his competition is expected to come from the foreign stars, Karel Kozelub, Czechoslovakia, and Hans Nusslein, Germany, members of the troupe which made several tours of the United States with the champion, including an exhibition in Iowa City last winter during one of these projected trips.

West coast football fans were accorded a serious blow, if you can label it as such, when Albie Booth, the diminutive Yale star, decided to capitalize on his grid ability rather than participate in the East-West exhibition game during the Olympics. The flashy star of the east, who beguiled followers with his exploits during three years of competition at Yale, accepted an offer to appear in a film starring all-Americans because he "could use the money."

Chicago baseball fans now have the privilege of witnessing two Mr. English's, both third basemen, play on the Windy City's two major league clubs. One is the veteran Cub infield star, "Woody," who has for a number of years thrilled Chicagoans with his diamond exploits. The other is Charley, a 29 year old addition to the White Sox squad, who made his major league debut yesterday by starting the twelfth inning rally which gave the Pale Hose victory over Wesley Ferrell and the Cleveland Indians. Charley collected two helpful hits and turned in some sparkling fielding plays.

U. S. Olympic Hope

Nothing short of an accident will prevent William Graber, shown above in action, from scoring for Uncle Samuel in the pole vault at the Olympic Games. Graber, who wears the colors of the University of Southern California, broke all records at the Olympic trials by topping the bar at 14 feet 4 3/8 inches.

Bucs Take Stormy Tilt From Cubs, 11-8; Yanks Nip Red Sox Twice

5 Run Rally in 7th Gives Pirates Win

Bruins Use 5 Hurlers in Attempt to Win Wild Contest

PITTSBURGH, July 23 (AP)—Pittsburgh's battling Pirates took one of the season's stormiest ball games from the Chicago Cubs today 11 to 8, to increase their first place lead to four and one half games.

Bickerings between rival players and between players and umpires dragged the struggle through two hours and 28 minutes.

The Cubs used five pitchers in a desperate effort to silence the Pirates bats; Pittsburgh called upon four moundsmen to clinch the victory.

Plet led the vicious Pirate attack with four hits, including a double. The Bucs put the game on the victory side when they scored five runs in the seventh.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Chicago 210 121 001—8 15 0 Pittsburgh 040 020 50*—11 16 1

Batteries: Root, Smith, May, Malone, Gudat and Taylor, Hartnett; Swift, Brame, French, Harrie and Grace.

Giants Climb With Wins Over Braves

BOSTON, July 23 (AP)—The New York Giants took sixth place in the National League today by defeating the Braves in both ends of a double header. They went 14 innings in the first game to capture a 3-2 decision then settled the second, 9 to 0 in eight frames, stopping because of darkness.

A crowd of 23,000 celebrating "Bob Brown day" saw the young hurler pitch eight innings of shutout ball and then weaken in the ninth and allow New York to tie the score. Cantwell was the loser. Gibson held the Braves to four hits in the second.

Score by innings: R. H. E. N. Y. 000 000 002 000 01—3 9 2 Boston 200 000 000 000 00—2 6 0 Batteries: Hoyt, Luque and Hogan, O'Farrell; Brown, Cantwell and Spohrer.

Cincinnati Reds Beat Cards in 11th, 3-2

CINCINNATI, July 23 (AP)—Cincinnati's Reds muffed a ninth-inning chance to whip the St. Louis Cardinals today but came back in the eleventh behind Crabtree's triple to win 3 to 2.

Two runs were in the ninth, two on and one out when Durocher hit into a double play. The triple, backed by Carroll's fly, won the game.

Phillies Romp on Robins, 10-2, 16-5

PHILADELPHIA, July 23 (AP)—The Phillies rode on the crest of their hitting wave to a double victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers today, 10 to 2 and 16 to 5. In the two games they pounded out 34 hits making it 54 blows for the three game series.

Home runs did much of the damage. Don Hurst hit one in the first game and two in the second while Lee and George Davis also hit homers for the Phils and Kelly, O'Doul and Frederick for Brooklyn.

ROYAL GREETING FOR OLYMPIC STARS

When representatives of the British Isles, South Africa, Canada and Hungary arrived in Chicago Friday on their way to the Olympic games in Los Angeles, they were accorded a hearty reception. In addition to Greeter Gaw, Mary Pickford also was on hand. Here is Colonel Gaw pointing out the sights to the famous movie queen, while to her right standing, is Lord David Burghley, captain of the British team.

Jimmy Foxx Falls Behind

But Only in Number of Tallies; Keeps 4 Places

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP)—For the first time since the American league batting race settled down to a steady gait, Jimmy Foxx has been pried loose from one of his many leaderships.

During the 14th week of the campaign, Foxx's teammate, Al Simmons, finally managed to break through, taking the leadership in scoring with 104 runs. Foxx, however for 95 games, including Friday's contests, still led the individual race and held on to four other leaderships.

Walker Runnerup His batting average was .368, a drop of four points, leaving him with a margin of 28 points over Gerald Walker of Detroit, who moved back into the runnerup position. He smashed out four more home runs for a total of 39, batted in 13 more runs to boost his leading total to 118, hit safely 10 times for a total of 135, and increased his total bases to 285.

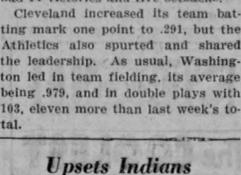

Roy Johnson of the Boston Red Sox, connected for another pair of two base hits, to break his tie with Dick Porter of Cleveland, and Bruce Campbell of St. Louis, and led with 28. Buddy Myer, Washington infielder, hit one triple to maintain his lead with 14. Ben Chapman had his best week of the season in stealing bases, collecting six, to lead with 24, ten more than his closest opposition, Lu Blue of the Chicago White Sox, and Roy Johnson.

Gomez Tops Pitchers Trailing Foxx among the leading regulars were: Walker, Detroit, 340; Manush, Washington, 338; Burns, St. Louis, 337; Jolley, Chicago-Boston, 334; Averill, Cleveland, 333; Cramer, Philadelphia, 331; Simmons, Philadelphia, 330; and Gehrig, New York, 325.

Vernon Gomez, the Yankee southpaw ace, added another victory to his string, to lead the regulars with 15 won and four lost. Johnny Allen, young Yankee right-hander, was credited with two more and had eight victories and two defeats, while Monte Weaver, who also won a pair, had 14 victories and five setbacks.

Cleveland increased its team batting mark one point to .291, but the Athletics also spurred and shared the leadership. As usual, Washington led in team fielding, its average being .979, and in double plays with 163, eleven more than last week's total.

Jacksonville Miller Wins Public Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 23 (AP)—R. L. Miller, a freckle-faced youngster of Jacksonville, emerged the winner today from the greatest field that ever competed in a national public links golf tournament.

The steady but at no time spectacular golfer that enabled him to qualify in 149, within four strokes of Joe Nichols, Long Beach, Cal., medalist, was maintained by Miller throughout the week's long grind for a 4 and 2 victory in the finals over Pete Miller of Chicago.

Other players flashed at times a more spectacular brand of golf, but none was able to drive, approach and putt round after round with the champion's consistency and he was within a few strokes of par in nearly every 18 holes.

Twilight League Season 4 Games From Conclusion

Only four games remain before the curtain on the 1932 Twilight League baseball race will be rung down, but the teams are situated in the standings in the positions where they will be when the season officially comes to a close except for the Odd Fellows.

The ladies nine, which has games with Gasoline Alley and Iowa Supply, has a chance to gain a tie with Sidwell's by winning both contests and on the other hand, if they lose, the Daily Iowan outfit can gain a third place tie.

Iowa Supply, in addition to its game with the Odd Fellows, has Racine's, the champions, and St. Mary's yet to play. The complete batting averages of the season will be published at the conclusion of next week's play in The Daily Iowan.

Diamondball Play Starts Tomorrow

Tomorrow is opening day for Iowa City's two diamondball leagues and until early September baseball's little cousin will furnish from 10 to 20 games a week.

The two leagues, the Municipal and the Hawkeye, will play four games each evening until August 3 when the schedule will be cut to two games.

After August 12 two new leagues will be formed. One will be composed of the three highest teams in the two leagues and the six lowest will make up the other.

A double round robin schedule will be played in each league and in the two late season loops if time will permit.

The Municipal league will play at the City park and the municipal athletic field, while the Hawkeye teams will use Iowa field and the women's athletic field.

The Municipal league is composed of the following teams: Coralville, T. Dell Kelley, K. C. Maldrite, Dewey's and Swansons' Dairy Mads. The Elks, K. P., Purity Bakers, Kublets, Bell System and the Press-Citizen form the rival circuit.

Plucky Play, 10 to 1 Shot, Surprises in American Handicap

ARLINGTON PARK RACE TRACK, Chicago, July 23 (AP)—Plucky Play, a 10 to 1 shot, defeated Equippoise, American handicap champion, by a neck in winning the $27,000 Arlington handicap today.

Pittsburgher was third and Tred Avon was fourth in the field of six. Plucky Play ran the mile and a quarter in 2:02 1-5.

Plucky Play, owned by Norman W. Church of Los Angeles, led from start to finish with Pittsburgher furnishing the challenge most of the way, and with Equippoise running in third place.

Paul Waner Tops Batting

Chuck Klein Dominates Five Departments in National

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—The National League's best batters had their hands full maintaining their positions last week and no startling performances were recorded during the seven days which ended with Friday's games.

The topmost men on the list of leading "regulars" lost a few points apiece and some of those a little further down checked in with small gains. The slugging marks showed slight gains all around with Chuck Klein of the Phillies and Paul Waner of Pittsburgh, who held his position as league leading hitter, dominating the show.

Paul Waner lost two points from his batting average, finishing with a .365 mark but his hold on first place was not seriously threatened as the two Philadelphians who were second and third, Don Hurst and Klein, lost four points apiece.

Hurst had a .355 mark after Friday and Klein .349.

Klein, the all-around ace in slugging, passed the 100 runs as he continued to top the scoring list. He made it 101 while Hurst, Dick Randall of the Phillies, and Bill Terry of New York were tied for second at 66. Klein also topped four other columns with 91 runs batted in, 104 hits, 14 triples and 23 home runs. His place was in danger only from three-base hits where Babe Herman of Cincinnati had 13.

Second in Hits Paul Waner still was well ahead in doubles with 39, against 33 for Red Worthington of Boston, was tied with Stripp of Brooklyn and Frisch of St. Louis for the base stealing lead, each with 13 thefts, and was second to Klein with 133 hits.

Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati suffered the big batting slump among the leaders, dropping to sixth place and giving fourth to Frank O'Doul of Brooklyn, who had a .346 average. The rest of the "first ten" lineup was Traynor, Pittsburgh, .344; Lombardi, 340; Ott, New York, .330; Stephenson, Chicago, .333; V. Davis, Philadelphia, .330; and L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .329.

Warneke Second Steve Swetonic of Pittsburgh recorded his eleventh victory of the season against two defeats to take the undisputed pitching lead while Huck Betts of Boston, who had been tied with him, lost another game. Young Lonnie Warneke of Chicago came up to take second place with a record of 14 victories and three defeats.

Plays "Boomerang" Drive KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Playing on the South Ridge course here, Walter Jensen sliced into a row of trees lining a fairway. The ball struck a tree 75 yards from the tee, rebounded and was "fielded" perfectly by Jensen, who replaced it on the tee without so much as shifting his stance.

Recruit, 17, Looks Good OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Oklahoma City has a slugging outfield recruit who is attracting attention of scouts in Bruce Sloan, 17 year old ex-collegian and elevator operator. He has had little trouble in hitting over .300, facing class A pitching in his first year of professional ball.

Subdues Foe From Mason City Easily

Third Woman's Crown for Des Moines Champion

MASON CITY, July 23 (AP)—Lucille Robinson gave an exhibition of real championship golf today as she crushed the final challenge to her supremacy among Iowa links women with a record round that dropped Mrs. S. A. Repp of Mason City 12 up and 11 to play.

The local star never had a chance as Lucille collected birdies and pars all along the line for a sizzling 77 in the morning that left Mrs. Repp trailing 10 down when they went to lunch.

Mrs. Repp shot even with par for her first nine holes, but when she found herself 3 down at that point, her game wavered. She won only two holes out of the 25 played.

New Course Record The Des Moines girl was over par on only four holes and collected seven birdies. Her morning card was a new course record for women, beating by two strokes the mark she set in the qualifying trials Monday.

It was four under women's par and six above the best figures for men.

Miss Robinson started the defense of her title with a birdie 4 on the first hole, then won the second with a par 4. They halved the next two and Lucille captured the fifth and sixth to go four up.

Mrs. Repp's only hole of the morning round was the ninth when she shot a birdie 5 to cut the champion's lead to three up.

Four in Row The pace began to tell and Lucille won the next four holes in a row with par golf. They halved two more, then Miss Robinson collected two birdies and a par to capture three more in a row and go to lunch 10 up.

On the outward nine Miss Robinson shot a 38, three under par, then added a 39, one under par, coming in, Mrs. Repp's card for the morning was 41-46-87.

Faced with such a heavy handicap, Mrs. Repp could not get under way in the afternoon, and lost the twentieth, twenty-first and twenty-second to place Miss Robinson 12 up with 14 to play. The local woman's last stand was at the short twenty-third, where Miss Robinson dropped her tee shot in a trap and her recovery shot onto the green was wide of the pin.

Third Marked Bid The victory marked Miss Robinson's third successful bid for the state championship. She is the only woman to win the title three times, although two others, Mrs. C. D. Waterman of Davenport and Miss Elizabeth Curtis of Clinton, won the title twice in succession. Lucille's first victory was in 1929, when she dethroned the defending champion and her rival of today, Mrs. Repp, then Frances Drake.

In four appearances in the championship final in the last four years, Miss Robinson has won the state title three times. In 1930 she was defeated by Mrs. Dorothy Klotz Pardue of Sioux City, who was then rated among the best women golfers in the United States.

Miss Robinson's New Record 4th in 8 Days

MASON CITY, July 23 (AP)—Lucille Robinson's feat of breaking the women's course record at the Mason City Country club again today marked the fourth time course records have been broken there in eight days.

Miss Robinson's 79 Monday was a new women's record and she lowered that to 77 today. Alex Olsen, local pro, broke the men's record last Saturday with a 70, one under par. Dave Bonella, Ottumwa pro, broke Olsen's record Friday with a 69.

Plucky Play, 10 to 1 Shot, Surprises in American Handicap

ARLINGTON PARK RACE TRACK, Chicago, July 23 (AP)—Plucky Play, a 10 to 1 shot, defeated Equippoise, American handicap champion, by a neck in winning the $27,000 Arlington handicap today.

Plucky Play, owned by Norman W. Church of Los Angeles, led from start to finish with Pittsburgher furnishing the challenge most of the way, and with Equippoise running in third place.

Plucky Play paid $26.04 to win, $9.48 to place and $3.22 to show. Equippoise paid $3.18 to place and $2.78 to show. Pittsburgher paid $4.42 to show.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

She let her fancy slip ahead... saw herself, as she used to do, in the roles she dreamed of... ragged and lovely as Mignon, regal in crimson velvet as Tosca... she'd do Tosca soon, too...

Before her dreaming eyes the lights of the Paris Grand Opera blazed... she saw the magnificent white marble stairways, the glittering crystal chandeliers, heard the thud of the baton, saw the curtain going up...

Yes, and Vienna, too... the opera there that she never saw. She must sing there. The lovely, quaint place, with its magnificent approach, the winged horses, the Siegfried and Don Juan chandeliers...

The taxi jerked to a stop. She was home. With an over-generous tip for the driver, she ran up the stairs to Nahlman's apartment, singing softly to herself... stopped for a moment... heard the departing congerie whistling the Carmen aria too...

She wished that Madame Nahlman had come home... or that she could have stayed to have supper with her... She went into the kitchen to make chocolate, and find something to eat. How cold and barren European kitchens were... back home everything was handy. You could dip into the ice box and...

The baby... Lily Lou went cold all over. What kind of woman was she? To forget him. To come home, her head full of herself and her silly little triumph, and make herself chocolate...

In her room, the room with the big bed, and the little one in it, the Bonne sat dozing in her chair, crocheted lace cap a little askew. The room was warm and airless, the night light burned very low.

The tubben lay with his little head turned from her, sleeping quietly, his hair, light brown now, and slightly curling, brushed back to show the high forehead, cheekbones faintly discernible in the shadow.

Lily Lou stood very still, holding the light.

The Bonne was speaking. "It is not measles, the doctor said. Just nothing. Heaven only knows why it should have looked like measles. The doctor himself, Madame, said it was very like. But there is nothing to disturb you. You see, he sleeps, and it is time that you and I, Madame, should sleep..."

Lily Lou did not answer. She stood motionless still, looking down at the sleeping child.

A torrent of tears flooded her heart. She ought to fling herself on her knees... to thank God... but she could not move, could not stop looking at him. Such a tiny thing, to be so like... Ken...

The very bones of his baby chin. Her eyes blurred, blotting out the dim room, the sleeping child...

She was back in a little country town in northern California. The first pale morning light was coming through the open windows of the crude hotel room. And he was sleeping, the light on his fair head.

She sank to her knees, tried to stifle the sobs that were having their way with her, in the down of the baby's coverlet.

"Oh—of course!" But she felt that Nahlman had struck her.

"Go back to Gwin for a while." "Yes," Lily Lou promised. She let them plan. Watched Susanne Coin packing. Realized that she was drifting again.

And her own mind went racing ahead, back across the sea, to New York, to face the people she had known, with the tubben in her arms. She'd probably have to board him somewhere, she'd never be able to earn enough to hire a nurse. It had been so easy here... her comfortable rooms, the devoted Bonne, everyone's natural acceptance of her as Madame Lansing...

He was quite young, very English. He spoke in a high, affected voice, twirled his fair, waxed moustache.

Madame Nahlman became another being. She primed, she preened, adopted her grand opera manner.

One night Lily Lou surprised

Rodney, it appeared, was not only clever, but economical. There was no first cabin for this crossing.

Mr. Rodney Horton-Hale kissing one of the younger maids. There was something furtive and unwholesome about it. It sickened her. And now that she had surprised him in that, he became bolder in his advances towards her.

Nahlman began to twit her about Blumenthal. "If you let men alone for the next five years you'll be better off," she said bluntly. "You've had your lesson. For heaven's sake profit by it!"

Lily Lou was hurt, and she could not help being angry. It certainly wasn't her fault that Nahlman's husband looked at her. She began to treat him with something like rudeness.

Two days later Madame Nahlman said: "The tubben annoys Rodney. The English are so averse to anything natural, that a baby in the house..."

"Oh!" Lily Lou said, "Oh!" "So, since I have that big class coming up, and won't have any real time to coach you anyway, it seems to me that you might as well go back to New York. There isn't a thing for you at the opera house this summer. Nothing but Americans here in summer anyway. So you go on back to New York, and later, when you're a little better prepared, I'll plan something while you know you can trust me for that, Lily?"

"Oh—of course!" But she felt that Nahlman had struck her.

"Go back to Gwin for a while." "Yes," Lily Lou promised. She let them plan. Watched Susanne Coin packing. Realized that she was drifting again.

Defeats City Champion in 3 Set Match

Darkness Gives Junior Doubles Title to Texas Duo

DES MOINES, July 23 (AP)—Two championships were decided at the Iowa State tennis tournament today in an afternoon of exciting and extended matches and brilliant play. The week-long tourney will come to a close tomorrow when the four remaining titles are decided.

Dorothy Day of Des Moines, defending women's champion, defeated Betty Butler, city champion and seeded No. 1, in their strenuous duel for the women's crown, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. The winner staged a thrilling rally in the final set which netted her six successive games after she had been four down to her rival.

Darkness Brings Default The other title was decided by darkness which caused Bill Kiley, Kansas City junior champ, and Paschal Walthall, Austin, Tex., to default to George Dullin, San Antonio, Tex., and Jack Taylor, Austin, in the midst of their brilliant duel. The former pair had won the first set 8-6 and the second was tied at 9-all when they stopped play.

The fact that Walthall had to leave the city tonight cost him and his partner the title, but they were not without amends. To decide which pair should have possession of the trophies which go with the championship they flipped rackets and the losers won.

Kiley Upsets McIninch Kiley also figured in the feature singles match of the day when he upset Nelson McIninch, men's finalist, in a semi-final junior match. The two Kansas City rivals fought long and hard, but Kiley was the steeper and won, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5. The victor will challenge Dick Ruzg, Waterloo, Ia., sensation, for the junior title tomorrow.

Kiley and McIninch ascended two rungs in the men's doubles today to reach the finals. In the morning they downed Dullin and Walthall, the Texas pair, 6-2, 6-3, and tonight won by default from Donald Cram and Jimmy Williams, Des Moines doubles champions.

Postpone Women's Doubles The latter match was scheduled for five sets, but was halted by darkness with the Kansas City youths leading, 5-3, 6-8, 8-6. The local players forfeited as business plans forced Cram, former Vanderbilt star, to leave the city immediately.

In the finals Kiley and McIninch, Missouri Valley double titlholders, will oppose Frank Brody and Bennie Beckerman of Des Moines. The local combination completed a two-day semi-final match begun yesterday afternoon by wining from Harry Coggeshall and B. J. Carney, a pair of Des Moines veterans, 3-6, 8-6, 10-8, 5-7, 6-1.

The women's doubles final, carded for today, was postponed a day because of the illness of Marjorie Mace, Waterloo girl. Miss Mace and her partner, Mary Heller of Dubuque, will face Dorothy Day and Betty Butler, the singles finalists.

The summaries: JUNIOR SINGLES Semi-Final Round Bill Kiley, Kansas City, defeated Nelson McIninch, Kansas City, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

at the hospital during the night and took Miss Burke, prostrated with grief, and the daughter of the couple, Patricia, 15, to the Rogers home at Santa Monica.

Rogers announced today that sometime tomorrow Catholic rites probably will be spoken and the body placed in a vault to await burial in the east at a later date when Miss Burke has completed her film work. The grief-stricken widow asked that the service be kept secret.

Other relatives unable to attend are a brother, William, and a sister, Mrs. William Buehl, both of Detroit, and his mother, Mrs. Florenz Ziegfeld, Sr., who is so ill in her Chicago home that she has not been informed of her son's death.

Ziegfeld came to Hollywood about a week ago after resting in a New Mexico sanitarium. He was suffering from pleurisy and a general nervous condition. He improved daily and although his physicians, Dr. Rabwin and Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh, reported he was still in danger, they held hope for a recovery.

The real purpose of his trip to

Hollywood other than recovery of his health was not disclosed, although it had been rumored that he might enter talking motion picture production and it was known that he had considered staging a reproduction of the famous Follies here during the forthcoming Olympic games. His wife had hoped that he might settle down "on a farm," ring true.

His newest production had been "Hot Cha," which had not approached previous successes. There were even rumors that he had "broke," for he was a prodigal spender in giving the public shows thousands of dollars deep in lavishness.

Ma Ferguson Leads Voting

Incomplete Total Gives Her Majority Over Incumbent

DALLAS, Tex., July 23 (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, former governor of Texas, took a comfortable lead tonight in her effort to win the Democratic gubernatorial nomination from Ross S. Sterling, the incumbent.

Incomplete votes from 123 of the state's 254 counties gave Mrs. Ferguson 44,315 and Sterling, 39,923. Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man, was third with 25,755 votes. Five other candidates trailed far out of the race.

Husband Impeached Mrs. Ferguson is the wife of James E. Ferguson, who was impeached as chief executive of the state. She was elected governor on a vindication platform.

Two years ago, Mrs. Ferguson led Sterling in the first primary only to lose in the run-off into which they went as the two highest in the race.

With some counties not voting on the subject of whether the eighteenth amendment should be repealed or retained, the wets ran up an early lead of 23,392 to 9,202.

She's in the Pink

College life is not all brain-racking study of abstruse subjects. There's a brighter side to it, and here it is. The young student so obviously enjoying herself is Anna Joan of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is demonstrating the method she used in winning the watermelon-eating contest at the campus frolic at New York university.

Stocks Close Steady, Firm in Short Day

Profit-Taking Makes Little Impression on Market Tone

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Little impression was made on the stock market today by profit-taking. There was some selling in the first hour, but losses were generally recovered and the list closed with a steady tone.

Traders who have been allowing themselves a dram or two of optimism on the strength of recent developments which have appeared favorable commented on the market's resistance, although it was pointed out that a Saturday session, especially at mid-summer, could hardly provide conclusive evidence.

Car Loadings Gain
With car loadings more than doubling what they had lost in the fourth of July week and steel operations displaying further firmness, speculators for the rise thought they had a fairly good case.

Some leaders dipped about a point after the opening, however. Losses of that amount in American Telephone, Westinghouse, Union Pacific, U. S. Steel preferred and half a dozen others were, on the whole, regained. Professionals pushed U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Commercial and National Distillers moderately higher. Oils were active, making fractional progress. Youngstown Sheet and Tube, U. S. Steel common and Bethlehem also finished with something to the good. Rails were very quiet, suggesting that most of the nourishment had been extracted from the consolidation news.

Sales Total 365,800
Sales totaled 365,800 shares. Youngstown district steel mills begin next week at 20 per cent of capacity, a rise of 3 per cent from this week's average.

Movement of revenue freight in the week ended July 16 rose 87,144 cars, or about 15,000 cars above the loss of the holiday week. This was encouraging, although its significance will become clearer when the next report appears.

Profit-Takers Slow Bonds

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Profit-taking by traders who wished to spend a care-free week end today slowed down the upturn in the bond market, but the averages, at the close, retained a small net gain.

A large part of the day's activity was concentrated on the United States government lists and in German securities. Elsewhere transactions were confined to small blocks of bonds. Sales totaled $5,713,000, par value.

While most of the treasury issues held substantial net gains, the Liberties eased off slightly. German 5-1/2's advanced 1 1/8 points, but the 7's were moderately lower. There were a number of small gains in the transportation section, but at the same time several issues recently in demand gave ground moderately.

The utilities improved mildly although issues of International Telephone and Postal Telegraph dropped around a point. The industrials resisted realizing, but were unable to show any great progress.

15 Bands Will Play at Fair

President's Escort Will Head List of Music Organizations

DES MOINES, July 23 (AP)—Headed by Cervone and his band, escort to President Wilson during his European trip, 15 bands, orchestras and drum corps will furnish music for the seventy-eighth annual state exposition which will open here Aug. 24. Secretary A. R. Corey announced today.

Cervone will play three concerts daily from Aug. 26 to Sept. 2, including two feature concerts on Sunday, Aug. 28. The latter date has been designated as "Music Day" at the fair.

Following a periodic shake-up in the cabinet of Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, it is reported that Signor Dino Grandi (above), youthful foreign minister who resigned his portfolio, may be named as Italian ambassador to the United States, succeeding Ambassador Giacomo di Martino. The latter has represented his country in Washington for more than seven years.

Conduct Probed

Here is Deputy Chief of Police Frank Tappen of Nassau county, N. Y., who is one of the principal figures in the investigation into the alleged "third degree" death of Hyman Stark, hold-up suspect accused of beating Mrs. Valeria Hizenski, mother of a county detective. Tappen and several other officers have been suspended pending the findings of probing authorities.

and junior bands have been engaged for appearances at the fair. They include the Thomas Jefferson high school band of Council Bluffs; the Hamilton county 4-H club band; Wilkens' Taylor county band; the Lorimer school band and the Newton municipal band.
War veterans organizations will also be featured at the fair. A special prize of $200 will be given by the fair board to the drum corps winning first place at the American Legion convention at Ft. Dodge early in August. The group will then appear at the state fair.

With Iowa City Churches

Prof. Russell Ross of University of Dubuque Will Supply Baptist Pulpit Today

In spite of the hot weather which is causing other organizations to curtail their programs in the interest of comfort, Prof. Russell Ross reports that they are planning no reduction in their schedules during the second session of summer school.

The Presbyterian church, after completing a series of lectures on "Blueprints of the world today" and "World trends in religion," is beginning a new double series on "A layman's religion" and "Religion of today."

In the absence of the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, who, with Mrs. Dierks, has taken a group of young people to Iowa Falls for two weeks to attend the Baptist summer assembly, Prof. Russell C. Ross of the speech department at the University of Dubuque will act as supply teacher at the Baptist church.

Congregational Jefferson and Clinton

Speaker will be Prof. W. H. Morgan of the school of religion, 9:30 a. m., student class; 10:45 a. m., morning worship; Catherine Smith and Mrs. Helen Payne Seashore, 6:30 p. m., student fellowship meeting; Catherine Smith will lead discussion on "Education for service."

AROUND THE TOWN with DON PRYOR

These Darkening Days
As a result of "hard times" the girl employed by the Boy Scouts to do secretarial work in the office of Executive Glen G. Fordyce has been indefinitely laid off.

The Fall of the Patriarch
Nelson Blied, an Iowa City institution, reported yesterday that he and Joe Yonsky of Iowa City and Sam Nately of Kalona cut down a cottonwood tree on the John Miller farm southeast of Iowa City that measured six feet across. It was supposed, he said, to have been one of the largest trees in this territory.

A Swedish Match?
A child playing with matches in the home of Francis Lehman, 934 Iowa avenue, yesterday caused the firemen a rushing excursion. The fire burned the lace curtains in an upstairs bedroom and caused other minor damage.

Nothing Like Promptness
Mrs. Joseph A. Parizek, 918 E. Market street, lost a diamond ring three weeks ago. She reported the loss to police yesterday.

Might Live Things Up
Five hundred persons are expected to attend the mid-eastern Baptist association of Iowa convention here Sept. 16, 17, and 18. Four churches will be represented.

Can I See It, Judge?
The application of L. A. Andrew, receiver for the Farmers State bank of Solon, for authority to sell real estate to George, Frank, and Barbara Tritel was set for hearing yesterday for Aug. 29.

Clever Peddlers
The five peddlers who were arrested Wednesday for selling "household necessities" without peddlers' licenses, left their sample cases with Police Judge Charles L. Zaser as security for their appearance. They have never appeared. Some persons doubt whether the bags or the samples are worth very much.

Going Down
Only three Iowa City residents applied at the office of Sheriff Don McComas for drivers' licenses yesterday. They are J. P. Gingerich, Mrs. Irene Reha, and Mrs. E. B. Phillips.

FOOD PROTECTION

PERHAPS you have just thought it an accident that your foods came to you in perfect condition from our store.

PERHAPS you didn't even think, you just knew you got them that way and let it go at that.

WERE YOU to walk in our basement, in one room you would find a large refrigeration machine. Larger than what is found in most wholesale houses.

THIS MACHINE controls the temperature of:

A moist refrigeration room, about 12x15 feet in size where the leafy vegetables are stored.

A dry refrigeration room about 10x12 feet where your lemons, limes, tomatoes, etc., are stored.

A large refrigerator at the back of our store where the fancy imported cheeses and other dairy products are kept.

A very large refrigerator at the back of the meat department, capable of storing tons of meat.

Two large show cases where the meats are kept in perfect condition and still displayed for your approval.

Besides this there is a constant flow of cool deep well water over our window to keep the fresh vegetables crisp and our store cool and comfortable.
